GREAT BRITAIN FEELS OUT AMERICAN GOVERNMENT ON ALLIED DEBT AND PAYMENT

POSSIBLE CANCELLATION OF FRENCH DEBT IS ASSERTED BY TELEGRAPH IN CORRESPONDENCE

French Delegation to Premier's Conference Say England Should Take It Up

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Dec. 12.—Belief that Great Britain intends to sound out the American government's willingness to take some action in reference to allied debts as possible cancellation of the French debt is asserted by daily Telegraph's diplomatic expert. The French delegation to the adjourned Premier's conference was represented last night as holding that the British might approach the United States before January second meeting of premiers to ascertain whether America would be willing to consider action.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—The London conference on German reparations, generally described as the critical conference, ended yesterday in agreement on another conference. The next link in the long chain of the will be forged at Paris, January 2. There will be a fortnight then left for the Allies to agree upon some program.

The moratorium granted the Germans expires January 15, and the next payment on account of reparations which Germany protests she is unable to meet, will be due on that date.

Another futile round table session of the diplomats, would seem to mean only fulfillment of the French plan for independent action, which British opinion believes would spell calamity for the tottering edifice of European prosperity and sow the seeds for a future great war.

The agreement to disagree—only temporarily, the diplomats asserted—was consummated in three days, embracing four meetings of the allied premiers. The rock on which harmony foundered was the British refusal formally to complement the French project for partial occupation of the Ruhr and the taking charge of important German industries. The British cabinet met this afternoon and registered its failure to co-operate with France in such measures.

Premier Mussolini's proposals for a settlement were treated courteously, as was due the head of a powerful nation, but were not taken seriously as a panacea to the German sick man of Europe. The German note was rejected unanimously, with the general comment that it meant merely stalling to gain time.

The British government submitted no general plan to solve the deadlock. It practically offers to cancel the French debt to Great Britain as an inducement for scaling down the amount of monetary demand upon Germany.

M. Poincaré will return to Paris today with the reparations problem as far from even a temporary settlement as when he arrived on Friday evening, although his determination to demand partial occupation of the Ruhr for customs collections was the chief contribution to the failure of the present negotiations.

There are many well-informed French observers who believe France will never go this far in exacting guarantees, and if a decision is eventually taken to act alone, such action to be confined to the administration of the Rhineland, it is regarded as not make one great generous offer to France before adopting a policy of isolation. This, it is thought, may take the form of offering to cancel the French debt, provided France accepts reasonable indemnity and gives up the idea of measures of force.

It is thought possible in French quarters that the British might approach President Harding's administration between now and July for the purpose of ascertaining if the United States would be willing to make possible European settlement of reparations by cancellation of the French debt, or at least entering a conference in which such a step would be considered.

OVER AN HOUR OF WRANGLING IN HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE OVER IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS

Brought Against Attorney General Daugherty by Representative Keller

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—After an hour and a half of wrangling the House Judiciary Committee voted in executive session to proceed with the hearing of impeachment charges brought against Attorney General Daugherty by Representative Keller in the manner insisted on by Keller. Keller objected to giving names of all the witnesses at this time he explained because of "fear" of the activities of Chief Bureau of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice.

JOHN WANAMAKER DIED AT EIGHT THIS MORNING AFTER MONTH'S ILLNESS

World Famous Merchant and Former Postmaster General

(By The Associated Press) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—John Wanamaker died at his home here at eight o'clock this morning. The world famous merchant and former postmaster general passed away after confinement since early in November with a severe cold contracted at his country estate near here.

John Wanamaker led in the creation of the department store as an institution in American life. At the outbreak of the Civil War in 1861 when he began business for himself in a humble way in Philadelphia, retail merchandising in this country was in a disorganized state, and, in the opinion of the far-sighted young merchant, it was suffering a rapid decline through practices that were then general. Aside from his ambition to make money, "my paramount purpose," said Mr. Wanamaker, "was to help save the mercantile profession from lowering its flag before other professions and occupations." There were in those days no fixed selling prices for goods. Business then demanded a thirteen-hour day from all its employees. Customers spent hours price-haggling with salesmen. Mr. Wanamaker was impressed with this waste of time and to eliminate it he became a pioneer in fixing a selling price for goods. It was one of the beginnings of many mercantile reforms which today are so generally followed that the present generation can scarcely find anywhere a trace of the old practices.

Mr. Wanamaker was 24 years old when he entered upon his career, in partnership with his brother-in-law, Nathan Brown, on a joint capital of $3,500, in a clothing business at Philadelphia. He had been born in that city, July 11, 1838. His father and his father's father had been brick makers, and John Wanamaker's first work was "turning bricks." He was the oldest of seven children and early in his boyhood he was obliged to give up schooling and earn his own way. His first wages were $1.25 a week as an errand boy in a Philadelphia book store, and then as a young man he was employed for a time at Tower Hall, a famous old Philadelphia clothing house, where his personality and business ability were developed for his venture in business for himself.

The Brown and Wanamaker store began business with a first day's sales account of $24, and ended its first year with a record of $24,000 business. Mr. Wanamaker and his brother-in-law were during the first few months of business unable to afford a horse and wagon for delivery, and Mr. Wanamaker himself pushed a two-wheel cart to deliver his goods. His partner's health failing, most of the details of the business devolved upon Mr. Wanamaker.

Aside from establishing his own price policy and making a shorter business day, Mr. Wanamaker established in the new store two systems, one of sales and the other organization. He learned it was cheaper to manufacture some classes of goods than to buy them from manufacturers and he became one of the first retailers to do this. He found it difficult to get employees who were properly instructed in their duties and he organized training schools where his workers were taught the "Wanamaker system."

Mr. Wanamaker interested himself in many civic activities. He was the first salaried secretary in America of the Young Men's Christian Association, in 1858; one of the founders of the Christian Commission during the Civil War, and one of the organizers of the Centennial Exposition in 1876. In the latter year he began the development of his department store, establishing the house of John Wanamaker & Company on Chestnut St., Philadelphia, and twenty years later established a similar business in New York as successor of A. T. Stewart. It is estimated that during his entire business career Mr. Wanamaker had distributed into American homes merchandise reaching nearly a billion dollars in value.

He was known as a great believer in advertising, in newspaper advertising above all other varieties. He spent millions of dollars in it. One of the features of his advertising campaign was his development of the "Store News Page" which he led with an editorial over his own signature, invariably written by himself, to keep the public in touch with the policies of his business. His friends often saw him writing such an editorial on his way to the store in the morning, scribbling it on the back of an envelope or any odd scrap of paper he had in his pocket.

GOVERNMENT GIVES WAY TO STATE LAW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Two cases, considered by the government of major importance in the enforcement of national prohibition, were decided by the supreme court yesterday. In one of them, coming from the state of Washington, the government scored a sweeping victory, the supreme court holding that both the federal and a state government can prosecute and punish the same unlawful act in the manufacture, possession, transportation or sale of intoxicating liquors.

The other case, coming from California, the government lost in its contention that in the enforcement of national prohibition an executive officer can impose and collect as taxes the assessments and penalties imposed by those sections of the revised statutes which remain unrevoked by the Volstead act and which became law while the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor was not prohibited.

The United States district court for Western Washington dismissed a federal indictment charging Vito Lanzetta, Dick Barto and others with manufacturing, transporting and possessing intoxicating liquors on the ground that they had been tried and convicted in the state courts for the same offense.

In reversing this action, the supreme court held that in the absence of special provision by congress, conviction and punishment in a state court under a law for making, transporting and selling intoxicating liquor is not a bar to prosecution in a court of the United States under the federal law for the same acts.

The effect of the prohibition amendment, the court stated in an opinion by Chief Justice Taft, was to establish production in every part of the United States and affecting transactions which are essentially local or intrastate, as well as those pertaining to interstate or foreign commerce. The power to take legislative measures to make the policy effective existed in congress, the court continued, "in respect to the territorial limits of the United States and at the same time the like power of the several states within her territorial limits shall not cease to exist."

States could not, however, authorize acts, the court added, which were prohibited by the amendment, but all prior state laws, not inconsistent with the amendment, remained in full force.

Referring to the contention by the defendants that they could not be placed in double jeopardy, the court explained that the meaning of the term double jeopardy as used in the fifth amendment to the constitution referred to "a second prosecution under the authority of the federal government, after a first trial for the same offense under the same authority. An act denounced as a crime by both national and state sovereignties the court said, "is an offense against the peace and dignity of both and may be punished by each."

The Regal Drug Corporation of San Francisco obtained a permit to withdraw from bonded warehouses, sale under the prohibition act for non-beverage purposes. The permit was cancelled and the collector of internal revenue imposed upon the company, in addition to those provided in the prohibition enforcement act, certain taxes and penalties carried by unrevoked sections of the revised statutes governing the manufacture and sale of distilled spirits and wine prior to national prohibition.

The supreme court in an opinion by Justice McKenna, explained that the court had held in the case of Lipke vs. Ledser, collector, decided last June that a collector of internal revenue could not punish by fine and penalty for an alleged criminal offense without hearing, information, indictment, or trial by jury.

The function of a tax, the court said, "is to provide for the support of the government, the function of a penalty clearly involves the idea of punishment for infringement of the law. To impose a penalty notice must be given, it added, and there must be a hearing. Even though the imposition is considered a tax," it added, "if it has punitive purpose it must be preceded by opportunity to contest its validity."

When blockheads at last depose the ruling class, it isn't surprising to find them with chips on their shoulders.

SANFORD WOULD BUILD ATHLETIC FIELD AND LOCATE BIG LEAGUE TEAM HERE

SHIPPING BILL IS UNDER FIRE IN THE SENATE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The administration shipping bill was taken up today by the Senate and was subjected immediately to a baptism of fire at the hands of Democratic opponents.

Chairman Jones, of the commerce committee which reported the bill on Saturday after making several changes in the house draft, called up the measure. His opening statement in behalf of the legislation, however, went over because of the time consumed by the Democrats in several attacks upon the measure and by the reading of the entire bill and both majority and minority reports in compliance with a demand by Senator Fletcher of Florida, ranking Democratic member of the commerce committee.

The Democrats started their attack as soon as Chairman Jones made his first move in the legislative struggle which is expected to occupy the senate for weeks.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, led off in the attack with a criticism of the administration's course in postponing house action until after the elections on what he described as "concededly unpopular legislation," and then in bringing pressure to bear to hasten enactment of the legislation "before the members of congress have had a chance to reflect on the expression of the people at the polls in November."

The ship bill, Senator Robinson declared, entered into the full campaign in more than fifty congressional districts, and in every case he asserted, the candidate supporting the legislation went down to defeat.

Senator Harrison denied that he or any other Democratic senator proposed to filibuster against the bill. He criticized the action of the administration in calling the special session at which the house passed the shipping bill and at which he said the senate had done "just four things."

Sterling where a posse of fifty agents are seeking the slayers of two prohibition agents.

Mrs. Clara Phillips May Be the Woman Captured in Montana

(By The Associated Press) CASPER, Wyo., Dec. 12.—Casper police this morning are still without confirmation to their belief that the woman they arrested after she stepped from the train last night is Mrs. Clara Phillips, Los Angeles murderess, who escaped recently. It was stated the woman suspect spent the night quietly refusing to answer questions or reveal her identity.

BRITISH STEAMER ORTERIC ON ROCKS OFF COAST OF CALIFORNIA TODAY

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—The crew of the British steamer Orteric which is on fish rocks off the California coast ten miles south of Point Arena are being transferred to the steamer Cotton Plant this morning according to wireless messages. The Orteric is reported filling with water rapidly early, but fifty five persons aboard are regarded in no danger due to the presence of two rescue ships.

ROTARIANS PLEDGE THEIR SUPPORT TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GREATLY NEEDED

In Few Years Florida Will Be the Training Ground for All Major League Teams

Some time ago the Sanford Chamber of Commerce took up the question of an athletic field and ball grounds and showers where friendship and Rotarians pledged their support to the chamber of commerce.

Today this matter was brought up before the Rotary Club by Judge Householder and while nothing definite was decided by the Rotary club it is almost certain that the Rotas will bend their efforts to have something definite accomplished this summer regarding a "playground of this sort."

The Rotary meeting was a most interesting one today and filled with good talks. Major Wilson of St. Augustine brought the question of the mosquito to the Rotas and told about various cities that had started the campaign for reducing the numbers of the little pests and showed where the efficiency of any community is cut over fifty per cent by the mosquitoes and their attendant diseases.

Dr. Puleston was on the program for a talk on Friendship, and he gave the Rotas something to think about and showed that he is a deep thinker. He went back as far as the cave man and showed where friendship and Rotary principles of service and friendship must prevail in all nations and in all individuals before the perpetuity of nations and of races can prevail. As the genial doctor expressed it the old idea of "grab what you can for yourself and left the other fellow take what is left" never made a real nation and those countries that have tried to practice it have fallen.

Judge Householder brought up the subject of entertaining the Sanford football team and it was decided to have them at a night meeting next Tuesday. The judge also brought up the idea of an athletic field and of bringing a big league team here to train in the spring of 1924 and gave some illustrations of what such a team would mean to Sanford in the publicity line.

B. F. Whitner explained about the work of the committee and what they were doing along this line of endeavor. Col George Knight spoke about the Rotary Club taking over one of the Boy Scout troops and the help they would give the Rotary club in the various campaigns.

It was also decided to have the people of Sanford collect all their old toys and playthings and the Rotarians will gather them up and take them to Britt & Maxwell's office in the First National Bank building and they will be distributed among the poor children of Seminole county and the state if possible. Arrangements were also made for looking after the kiddies in this county for Christmas.

level, the demand has continued very steady. There seems no reason to look for any marked change in the grapefruit situation immediately.

Tangerines: After having been very easy because of the relatively large volume of tangerine shipments the markets within the last few days have shown a tendency toward upward reaction. The demand is stronger than a week ago and at better prices.

The movement of California naval oranges began about November 19 and is now running considerably in excess of shipments to the same time last year. The volume of these shipments has been sufficient to depress prices considerably below those of a couple of weeks ago. Estimates from reliable sources indicate that the total California citrus crop probably will be second only to the biggest crop ever grown there, and is a factor which shortly must be reckoned upon.

Business conditions throughout the consuming territory are reassuring to shippers. Trade reports show a brisk holiday business in all lines with the employment situation in good shape and money circulating well. A factor to be considered is that the produce trade over the country generally has made very little money during the past eight months. This makes dealers inclined to discriminate sharply between the more desirable fruit and that of lesser quality.

NEW ANGLE DEVELOPS IN EAST COAST ROAD

ORLANDO, Dec. 11.—A new angle to the construction of the East Coast Highway developed yesterday at the meeting of the county commissioners. Some of them at least, were of opinion that it might be a good thing for the county to build its own roads and thus save the profit that the contractor would make.

It developed in the discussion of the bids at the meeting that there was a feeling that all bids submitted were too high, and it was felt that if the county would build the roads that thousands of dollars could be saved, and that the amount of funds on hand would be sufficient to construct all roads of brick with sufficient base to make them lasting. Thirty-nine thousand dollars which is the approximate cost per mile, according to the lowest and best bid, in the opinion of Commissioners Schultz and Bigelow, at least, is too high.

The decision of the commissioners was left in abeyance, but they are facing hard conditions, and it was not certain whether all bids would be rejected and thrown out or whether the commissioners would accept the best penetration road tain coin and proceed with the work. It was stated that even though they did that there would not be sufficient funds on hand for the construction of a road of this kind by at least $20,000.

Only one bid was made for brick on the East Coast road, and the project runs well up into the thousands. It was noted that a possible brick maker's combine might exist, and color is lent to the suspicion because others, including Major Charles A. Browne, highway construction engineer, in their discussion of the matter, hinted that such combine might exist. Major Browne stated that it was next to impossible to get competitive bids among brick manufacturers, that certain sections were tain manufacturers, and that rival companies would not include these. The companies bidding on rock penetration came in for criticism, also, on account of the apparently high cost.

FILIBUSTER TACTICS MAY BE UTILIZED TO DELAY SHIPPING BILL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Senate supporters and opponents of the administration shipping bill today measured their strength and laid their plans preparatory to the beginning tomorrow of debate on the measure. Everything pointed to a hard and long fight possibly continuing with interruptions until the end of the session next March.

Opponents of the legislation neither on the Democratic side or among the Republicans propose to show their hands prior to the motion to be made tomorrow by Chairman Jones of the commerce committee to take up the measure. The general belief is that filibustering tactics, perhaps similar to those employed so effectively by the Democrats recently against the Dyer anti-lynching bill, will be utilized but no definite announcement has come from either party group of opponents. Senators in discussing the matter today, however, recalled that Senator Underwood of Alabama, Democratic leader, declared during the Dyer bill filibuster that he personally would not participate in any move to delay a vote on the ship bill.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, one of the Republican opponents, early last week prepared some amendments to the measure including proposals for free tolls for coastwise shipping through the Panama Canal, and for regulation of railroad rates by interstate Commerce Commission, a long and short haul basis, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, who is looked upon as

RETAIL PRICES INCREASE IN MANY CITIES DURING LAST MONTH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Retail goods costs increased in twenty of twenty-one representative cities over the country during the month ended Nov. 16, says a review issued today by the department of labor. In New Orleans, prices showed a decrease, but it was less than one half of one per cent.

KING GEORGE APPOINTS GOVERNOR FOR ULSTER

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 11.—The Duke of Abercorn has been appointed governor of northern Ireland by King George.

The appointment of the Duke of Abercorn as governor-general was expected, as he was the choice for that position several weeks ago.

The duke was selected by the senate of the Ulster parliament in 1921. He served in the imperial parliament for the city of Londonderry, 1900-13, and was appointed lord lieutenant of Tyrone in 1917.

The first earl of Abercorn was created in 1575. The title of Abercorn was created in 1750 and a dukedom in 1868. The second Duke of Abercorn was a prominent unionist politician and chairman of the British 'South African' company.

We do not like the attitude of some of our senators over the ship subsidy bill. We have always favored America having a fleet of ships and show the stars and stripes to the world.

What America needs is more ships. We need more ships on the Pacific and the Atlantic, on the great lakes and the gulf. We need more steamers on the rivers and lakes of Florida.

EXPLOITATION—THE POWER OF CO-ORDINATION

This is a Florida state—Florida! We who have made it our home certainly should consider it a privilege to live here, especially when those of us who have come down from the cold and snow stop to think of the comparison between past winters and those we now enjoy.

So much for Florida as a playground, so to speak. We need and welcome the class of pilgrimage from our northern states that come to look upon Florida as a winter "playground" but how many of those who come down to us to "play," and in fact, how many of us, who are and have been here year in and year out for several years, fully realize what this grand old state, still in its infancy from the standpoint of development of its natural resources, holds out from a commercial standpoint?

In this, it would seem at times, we are sadly lacking. We have our local organizations striving to accomplish results along this line and in this they are not only showing wonderful progress but are constantly striving to and accomplishing more and more efficiency by devising or adopting new and proven ways and means of production.

Very valuable data to accomplish this can be obtained from publications that come into our possession from time to time, but are so often put aside for future perusal and, in the majority of cases never read.

Believing this to have been the experience of many of us, the Herald proposes to give to its regular readers and to the many in the north to whom it will be sent by local board exploiting central Florida, information regarding this section that will have the desired "drawing" effect and will be easily assimilated.

Many of us know what individual boasting has done for California and that every Californian is a died-in-the-wool booster. This has been accomplished by residents of that state making boasting second to their business.

WILLIAM JENNINGS-BRYAN HAS THE RIGHT IDEA

For many years the Herald has contended that regardless of the fact that the Sanford section was the greatest vegetable section in the world and that we shipped more refrigerators than any other part of the world that we were not getting anywhere unless we could get better freight rates and more stable marketing conditions. In other words what was the use of all our wonderful sub-irrigated and well-drained lands here with the wonderful flowing water—everything placed just right by nature—what was the use of it all with no outlets for our stuff.

And to lower the freight rates and get something that is our own by right we started the Central Florida Water Traffic League and it was one of the greatest movements ever started in Florida. It doubled and doubled again the traffic on the St. Johns river until now few of the big firms in this part of the state ever think of shipping by railroads when they can ship by the Clyde line and come to Sanford, get their freight in the big trucks and haul it forty or fifty or even one hundred miles over the good roads of this section.

While looking over the advertisements in a magazine the other day I saw a strong man with big muscles and all that and he claims he can make any man in the world fat and athletic and all that. I am intending to give E. A. Douglass a course at this school the first of the year for a Christmas gift.

When the "Siamese twins" died recently it was said they left a big fortune. Now it turns out that the amount was only $400. Thus the theory that two can live cheaper than one is ever exploded.—Eldorado Times.

William Jennings Bryan is one of America's finest men. He is not a deep student of economics though he thinks he is. He is a man whose heart is invariably right but whose head does not always reason through. But his sympathies are always with the common man. And he is courageous. Notwithstanding his tendency to speak too freely on a too casual study, that heart impulse of his often advances a serviceable idea which has done economic foundation.

"Mr. Bryan has declared that this state must grow great by drawing here tillers of the soil. We have a fertile state, a productive state. We have a state in which a farmer can require more wealth on fewer acres and with less labor than any state in the union. That's fine. That appeals. That will sell the state to literally millions if we make it TRUE. But you can't make that proposition true when the farm producers find either a shortage of railroad cars or are confronted with a profit-cutting freight rate.

"To correct this freight situation and to make a true story of Florida truthful he suggests that the state itself go into the shipping business; to buy boats and take Florida's products on Florida's bottoms to the ports where the market for these products are found. It is not altogether a wild and ill-digested idea.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

There were more windows locked and bolted in Sanford last night than ever before and if a hat had flown down the chimneys of some of the houses there would have been a case for an undertaker this morning. All on account of the "Cat" at the Princess last night.

They are raising a new kind of dog in Cuba says report from the Havana dog show. He is a big one weighing about 120 pounds. We suppose the new dog will be trained to hunt booze.

They say the fapper and the jazz music are disappearing. Who in the world can we lay the blame to now? Just about the time the Los Angels papers were getting ready for a big "raaz" about Charlie Chaplin and Pola Negri getting married they find out that Pola's contract says she shall not marry for a year. How romantic.

When we were young and in school we learned that "peace hath its victories" but living in this century we cannot see it just as clearly as we might.

Charlie Rock, of Orlando, told us yesterday to "Cast our bread upon the waters" and it would return in many ways. We told him that was all right for him to talk about. When he was casting bread upon the waters at Orlando many years ago he was in the banking business and could get his bread much cheaper than ordinary newspaper men. If we cut a newspaper upon the water it would return in the shape of a bill January first.

Judge Schelle Mahes said at the Shriner's banquet that he was a poor boy. He don't look like a poor boy to me. He looks sleek and fat and full of grits and bacon and other filling stuff.

While looking over the advertisements in a magazine the other day I saw a strong man with big muscles and all that and he claims he can make any man in the world fat and athletic and all that. I am intending to give E. A. Douglass a course at this school the first of the year for a Christmas gift.

Lonny McMullen asked a customer the other day how he wanted his hair cut and the customer said "in a hurry." You can't phrase Lonny any time and he replied: "Oh, I see. A short cut."

The pupils in one of the classes at the High School are taking up the study of foreign relations and the Review of Reviews furnishes most of the subject matter. Bill May has been busy playing football and when his teacher asked him "What can you tell of America's foreign relations?" Bill answered in a very truthful way: "They're all very poor."

DAYS OF WINTER BLOCKED RAILROADS PAST

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 11.—The day of blocked railroad lines in winter due to huge snow drifts, is gone. Where possible, weeks of stalled trains in the northwestern snow country in the late eighties, and only in the present century, snow plows have reduced the stoppage to a matter of hours, northwest railroad officials agree.

Plows and snowplows—wedge and rotary—are the most common of equipment used to keep the rails clear on all the various systems, although in the deep cuts and mountain territory in the Del Norte and Montana, snow gangs of half a dozen men or more are necessary to fight the frigid precipitation.

The Northern Pacific railway equips all locomotives with plows, attached near the wheels, which forces the snow from the rails to the wayside, the road superintendent states. At all terminals wedge plows are stationed, awaiting calls from any section. In the mountain districts, the rotary plow is used, which furrows through the snow, whirling it from the tracks.

Similar methods are used by the Minneapolis & St. Louis, the Great Northern, and the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie systems. The former road has most of its trouble in its 250 miles of railroad in South Dakota, says W. H. Brenner, president of the M. & St. L., but wedge plows are the fighting factors.

Snow gangs are employed in many cases by the Great Northern in deep cuts where the wind piles up drifts too high for the plows to penetrate. This road does not wait for calls to arrive, but keeps all plows busy during a snowstorm.

Railroad men declare that the delay occasioned by snow storms on main lines has become negligible, except in severe weather and terrific storms, but admits more work is necessary on the branch lines because of the inaccessibility of the plows. Some railway officials are inclined to believe that the winters in the northwest have been milder in recent years, while others declare that the use of modern equipment has made its mark on the weather had less effect on the railroads.

SURVEY SHOWS NATION'S EXTENSIVE MINERAL RESOURCES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Work of the Geological Survey during the last year in examining government lands has resulted in leaving now classified and reserved 65,000,000 acres of coal lands; 6,500,000 acres of petroleum lands; 2,100,000 acres of oil shale; and 2,700,000 acres containing phosphates suitable for fertilizer manufacture. This summary of activities was given in the Survey's annual report, made public today.

Dealing with the mineral resources contained in the government's own land holdings is but one branch of the scientific investigation work performed by the Survey, and its engineers and calculators also have turned out topographic maps covering 13,544 square miles of the country's surface, showing exact contours of the land, and stream flow investigations which entailed 11,000 measurements in rivers in 31 states.

It likewise completed studies of the radium bearing ore deposits in Utah, and measured underground water flows in Nevada sufficiently to designate 382,000 acres of land as suitable for utilization in reclamation enterprise.

JAP TRADE WITH CHINA IS RAPIDLY EXPANDING

TOKIO, Dec. 11.—Japan's trade with China shows a fairly steady expansion. Exports to that country, including Manchuria, during the month of October totalled 27,511,000 yen, an increase of 1,646,000 yen over October, 1921, while imports from China were 11,534,000 yen or 911,000 yen less than the same month last year.

For the first ten months of this year Japan's exports to China totalled 269,000,000 yen and imports 137,000,000 yen.

Prevention of the Remedy Against Tomato Wilt Tomato growers are cautioned to provide against the dangers of the fungous disease known as wilt before the winter crops are planted. Even before planting the seed the seedbeds should be sterilized, according to G. F. Weber, truck pathologist of the Florida Experiment Station.

Keen Interest Shown in Improved Method Boll Weevil Control Few developments in the agricultural field have aroused as much interest as the announcement a short time ago of the development of a very satisfactory and cheap method of controlling the boll weevil in fields of upland cotton grown under Florida conditions.

Both state and government officials have commented most favorably upon the simplicity and the apparent importance of the method developed by the State Plant Board. The offices of the Plant Board and the Experiment Station at Gainesville have been nearly swamped with requests for the bulletin describing this method. Information already received from various parts of North Florida indicate that the method will be used on thousands of acres of Florida cotton next season.

Ample provision has been made to supply every cotton farmer in Florida with the 72-page bulletin which fully describes the experiments by which this method of controlling the weevil was developed, as well as specific directions for making use of it. Further information may be obtained by writing to the State Plant Board at Gainesville, Fla.

Use Poison Bait to Kill Cutworms Every farmer in Seminole County knows that poisoned bait is the only effectual remedy for cut worms. Cold Wave Expected in Florida Tuesday Night or Wednesday WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The official weather man who, for the past week or more has been predicting semi-frigid temperatures for the South, promises the "actual appearance" of a cold wave on the Atlantic and Gulf states by Tuesday night or Wednesday. Following the first forecast for the South of a premature cold spell, a change took place, but instead of going down, the mercury rose to surprising heights and afforded some unseasonable though not unfavorable temperatures.

Latest official word was that the cold wave now over the northwest would spread eastward and southward over the plains states and the great central valleys during the next 30 or 48 hours, and by Tuesday night or Wednesday would touch the Atlantic and Gulf states.

Man and Wife Found Murdered at Middletown, Indiana (By The Associated Press) MIDDLETOWN, Ind., Dec. 12.—William Schaffer, 35, farmer, and his wife, were found murdered here today. Mrs. Schaffer's head had been cut off with a sharp instrument, presumably an axe. Mr. Schaffer's head was split wide open.

Two Midshipmen Dismissed from Naval Academy WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Midshipman Bruce H. Robinson, appointed from Arizona, and Stuart H. Hawkins, appointed from Massachusetts, were ordered dismissed from the Naval Academy, President Harding having approved court-martial sentences resulting from the recent hazing cases at the academy.

The accumulated hazing cases at the academy were taken up with the president yesterday by Secretary Denby and his recommendations approved throughout. Other cases of a similar nature await similar action.

On recommendation of Secretary Denby, the president approved modification of dismissal in the cases of Midshipmen Thomas J. Casey, Massachusetts; Thomas E. Boyce, Indiana, and H. C. Fish, New York, to loss of one year each in their academy course.

The dismissal from the academy of Midshipman Robinson, whose home is in Chandler, Arizona, results from his court martial for hazing. Midshipman William H. McGregor, of Pennsylvania, was taken to the academy hospital for treatment afterward. The other cases bear on different hazing incidents, but the dismissal of Midshipman Hawkins also is one of those in which physical injury or excessive humiliation was caused to the man hazed.

The three cases where the commandant of the academy recommended dismissal but the department modified punishment to the loss of a year in standing, involved charges of neglect of duty in that these midshipmen were "in charge of tables at which the midshipmen were hazed," according to the department's announcement.

Action in these cases represents a departmental policy under which the anti-hazing law is to be enforced rigidly where physical violence is a portion of the hazing incident or where there has been an attempt to cause public humiliation of an under classman. It is apparent that the department makes a distinction between hazing of this character and those hazing practices of a much less serious nature which have no harmful results.

GAINESVILLE WILLING TO MEET MIAMI

(By The Associated Press) MIAMI, Dec. 12.—Miami will claim the Florida High School football championship if Gainesville again refuses to accept a challenge sent the Gainesville faculty manager yesterday.

In an effort to get a chance to play Gainesville either Saturday or a week from Saturday, the Miami University of Florida alumni association has wired P. L. Reed, chairman of the faculty committee of the University of Florida as board of control of the Florida high school athletic association an appeal to use his efforts to force Gainesville to play Miami or forfeit all claim to the state title.

Miami offered Gainesville $1,000 and expenses to play here, in the challenge yesterday and the alumni association has underwritten the entire amount. In a statement issued last night Coaches Wods and Heyl said: "Miami High will not hesitate to claim the title should Gainesville continue to refuse to play us. Miami high is expecting to win by a close score, but whether we win or lose, we will be good sports. On with the game!"

Red Sox Decide on Frank Chance as New Manager

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Frank L. Chance, former manager of the Chicago Nationals and the New York Americans, yesterday signed a contract to manage the Boston American League Club for 1923. Official announcement of the consummation of the deal was made by H. H. France, president of the Red Sox, from his New York office. Both France and Chance refused to reveal details of the financial terms involved. President France, however, stated that Chance's salary would compare favorably with those of highest paid managers in baseball. The Boston owner also said that the engagement of Chance marked the first step in the reconstruction of the Red Sox. Every effort will be made to strengthen the tea ruby trade and

ALL CARDINALS MAY BE SOLD—KEEP HORNESBY

(By The Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 12.—Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, plans a wholesale shakeup in the lineup before the beginning of the 1923 pennant race, announcing that every member of his club, with the exception of second baseman Roger Hornsby, home run "king" and leading batter of the National League, and the catching staff, were on the market either for sale or trade. Daily in need of pitchers, the Cardinal pilot declared his intention of buying and trading players in order to build up the hurling staff, which for several seasons has been the club's weakest point. Rickey has signed up a dozen recruit twirlers, who are to be taken on the spring training trip to Bradenton, Fla. A number of players also have been recalled. The new hurlers include: Sweet, McKee, Wright, Ferguson, Manley, Sell, Dyer, Stewart and Riviere, right handers, and Ward, Bailey and Lovich, left handers all from smaller middle western leagues. Barring power was given credit for carrying the Cardinals into a tie with Pittsburgh for third place last season. Regarded fielding and inferior pitching were declared the main drawbacks of the team, which during the early part of the season forged into the league leadership. Rickey has asserted that Hornsby, for whom sales ranging up to $200,000 have been offered, was not for sale at any price and even trading, was out of the question. He declared also that his catching department, consisting of Vernon Clemens, Eddie Aversmith and Terry McCusky, was not on the block. Rickey and Samuel Eason, president of the club, refused to make any predictions as regards the prospects of the Cardinals for next year, but are hopeful the team will equal and better the showing of 1922.

FOR THE MOVIE FAN.

Who was the "Bat"? And who of you will see Betty Blythe in "The Fair Lady" at the Princess tonight. A gentle wham at mere men will be seen in "Woman's Place" at the Princess Wednesday night. House Peters in "Human Hearts" Friday and Saturday. This is one of the big features of the week. Supporting House Peters in "Human Hearts" is Edith Hallor, Gertrude Claire, Mary Ohlbin, Russel Simpson, Ramsey Wallace, and Geo. Hackathorne. One moment laughter—the next moment tears—that's the kind of a play "Human Hearts" is. It is a story the whole world loves and the movie goes that miss it, miss one of their best bits.
