Having dined sumptuously for the past three weeks on Sand Crabs, Wildcat meat, and Mullet, furnished by Seabrooks, Winter Park and St. Augustine respectively, the victory hungry Celery Feds are now grooming in preparation for some deep sea fishing this time with the New Smyrna Barracudas, a grid team of reported ferocity which lives up to its name.

The game will take place at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at New Smyrna High School field.

The Feds look forward for victory, nevertheless they will be somewhat handicapped by the absence of Bill Fleming, Sanford ace back, who sprained his ankle when he was tackled during the St. Augustine game last Friday. Bill has been a regular spark plug to the team, plunging

War Nerves May Be Soothed By Lawn Bowling

By SAM JACKSON
Wide World Feature Writer
San Francisco, Nov. 15.—Sir Francis Drake enjoyed a game of lawn bowling just before he went out to whip the Spanish Armada, and today some 60,000 Americans, more or less troubled by war nerves, are following his example.

The quiet, venerable game is so popular here that the city is building four new greens and will soon have accommodations to carry on 35 games simultaneously.

The country has some 229 greens in 60 cities. In Britain and its dominions, the game is much more popular, and in Canada it is even played indoors on carpet.

Its devotees believe bowls is the oldest ball game that is still being played. It originated 700 to 800 years ago in Scotland and is 200 years older than golf.

The plot is simplicity itself. Somebody rolls a white ball up the lawn a hundred feet or so and then the competing players roll their own apheroids to come to rest as near it as possible. The player, or team, scores a point for each ball that finally lies nearer to the white "jack" than any opponent's. Its same principle as horseshoes.

The fascination of the game lies in the fact that the display in the beautiful curves that can be bowled.

Skin Infection Comes From Steel Particles

MIAMI, Nov. 15 (FNS) One of the most serious health problems arising among workers in war industries is a skin infection caused by flying particles of steel which lodge in the workers' pores.

So many workers were affected at the plant of the Intercontinental Aircraft Corporation in Miami that a resident physician began a careful study of the problem and has devised an oil ointment that can be used on their hands and affords a protective screen against the dangerous steel dust.

The remedy should save the nation many thousands of man work hours in industrial plants.

British Bombers Fly Over Alps To Bomb Turin, Italy

U. S.-British Forces Strike Harder At Last Stronghold In North Africa

(By Associated Press)
As British bombers flew 1,500 miles roundtrip across the Alps last night to blast Italian war foundries in the city of Turin, site of the royal arsenal, backed by German bayonets, France's pro-German Chief of Government Pierre Laval was given life and death powers over the French people as a result of the Vichy regime's latest capitulation to the Nazi conquerors.

Counter-Attacking Reds Make Gains In Caucasus And Stalingrad Area

(By Associated Press)
Soviet dispatches reported today that the Red Armies have seized the initiative on both northern and southern fronts of the long-stalled Stalingrad, and scores of new gains were reported in the Caucasus.

The battle for the factory area of the ruined city represents the latest German attempt to gain a firm foothold in the Volga metropolis.

Only yesterday the Russians said the Germans had lost from 1000 to 4000 men daily for three weeks and from 80 to 75 percent of the personnel of the attacking divisions in a supreme but vain effort to carry out Adolf Hitler's orders to take Stalingrad by Nov. 6.

The German high command announced that a Russian detachment was cut off and annihilated northeast of Tuzovsk and that violent Russian attacks were repulsed by Nazi tanks in the Alagir area of the central Caucasus. The communiqué did not mention fighting at Stalingrad.

Pierre Laval Given Life And Death Powers By Nazis In Vichy, France

(By Associated Press)
Across 1,000 miles of arid desert, fighting French columns from Lake Chad were reported today to be driving toward the "back door" of Italian Tripolitania as part of the four-way squeeze on Axis forces in North Africa while American and British troops struck deeper into Tunisia.

Across Africa, German and Italian forces were reported converging against the last Axis stronghold on the North coast of Tunisia.

A British-American expeditionary force of 150,000 troops was thrusting into northern Tunisia along the Mediterranean coast from Algeria.

A second column was reported entering southern Tunisia in a drive to cut the Axis line of communications with the British Eighth Army in Egypt was rapidly pushing toward the Italian front.

LAST CHORUS
BY FRANCES FROST

Here I am mending fence today Who shall be scolding men tomorrow
The thrush has silver words to say From upland woods of love and sorrow.

Here I am scuffing through the sun
My faded pocket full of staples Tighten and hammer; when it's done I'll leave the cows with tossed green apples.

Here I am walking with my bones Smoothly jointed, strong and limber Saying good-by to grass and stones While braver boys go down like timber.

Here I am walking in my flesh Lean and hard and tough as hickory
The hen in black-striped golden plush Annals blue-blossomed chickery

The thrush fence posts guard the line Between the pasture and the mowing
But more than these square fields are "mine"
And there are sterner needs for sowing.

The thrush has lovelier words to say Than I can make, of love and sorrow
But I who mend this fence today Fight fiercely for this earth tomorrow.

The DeLand Naval Air Station has been commissioned. Very soon it is said to be next on the list.

Day by day we are coming more and more to realize what is meant by an "all out war," one that leaves you all in, out and down.

We gathered from President Roosevelt's recent remarks that he thinks Admiral Barian is an SOB too but hopes to preserve him as our SOB.

There will be no gasoline for hunting this year, the OPA advises. You may hire a car to take you out to the woods, but you mustn't use your own.

You'd think to read the recent news from the United States Senate, that some of those boys were still fighting the Civil War instead of trying to whip Hitler and Hirohito.

We don't expect anything sensational to develop out of the election of glamorous Claire Booth Luce to Congress. Didn't Ruth Hogan Owen go up there and try to get those boys to spruce up a bit without much success.

The latest thing in evening dresses is Paulette Goddard's new idea, a halter, a neckline, a collar, a yoke, a bow, a waist, for the sake of the result. It is only fair to add that the thing does indeed something resembling a shirt.

Somehow, anxious to make every dollar go as far as possible these days of high prices, are studying the Herald's advertising pages and other advertisements. They are learning how to get the most out of their advertising and how far.

It may be wrong but it strikes me as fair to cut the basic rationing unit along the seaboard from four gallons while the rest of the state up to this time has been on the basis of five gallons. It seems fair to reduce the basic unit to three gallons unless politicians can find a way to keep the rationing unit at four gallons. It would be a pity to see the rationing unit reduced to three gallons. It would be a pity to see the rationing unit reduced to three gallons.

SEMINOLE DRY CLEANERS
(PLEASE RETURN HANGERS)

Unfair To Florida

The controversy currently raging over whether a hunter may drive his own car to the woods in quest of game is not unlike many others bedeviling the public these days.
One OPA official says cars may not be used in this manner.
Another says they can. Then the first issues a "clarifying announcement" admitting that they can but shouldn't. And so it goes.

It looks as if someone in Washington has it in for the people of the eastern seaboard, particularly the people of Florida. It is pretty well known that the principal business of this state is entertaining visitors and furnishing them with such amusements as horse and dog races, hunting and fishing, golfing and similar forms of wholesome recreation.
And yet these amusements have been pretty well abolished by the ban on gasoline.

The gasoline ration unit has been reduced from four gallons a week to three, not to save rubber, as the rubber situation at the moment seems vastly improved over what it was a few months ago, but to save gasoline, reputedly on account of the demands of the North African expedition.
And yet the plan to institute nation-wide rationing, which would really save gasoline in a big way, has been indefinitely postponed.

At the same time Florida is being discriminated against in the matter of fuel oil rationing. OPA officials in Washington take the position that because we have boasted for a good many years of our warm climate, we do not need artificial heat in our homes. That boast may have been premature, or all Chamber of Commerce talk. At any rate, everyone who has ever spent a winter in Florida, particularly in the northern half, knows full well that we do have some extremely cold weather.

Washington bureaucrats fail to take into consideration that because of our much boasted warm climate, the percentage of elderly people in this state is higher than in any other state in the union with the exception of California.
And that these elderly people require greater warmth than younger men and women. The OPA allows extra fuel for children under four, most of whom do not need it, but for women past sixty, nothing.

A widespread epidemic in which thousands of people suffer from pneumonia and many die would probably bring this lack of foresight to the attention of Washington officials. A better way might be to get our Congressmen and Senators to cut the appropriation for the Office of Price Administration.

Facilities Arranged For Coast Guard Dogs

MIAMI Nov. 19, (Special)— Housing and feeding facilities and veterinary service for a force of dogs to be used in connection with guarding the Florida coastline are being arranged by seven naval district coast guard headquarters in Miami, it was revealed Tuesday.

An undisclosed number of dogs,
principally German shepherds, have already been received. The coast guard engineering office is designing practical kennels for the canine guards.

Forgetting Themselves

Despite its many evils, war brings some beneficial changes, among which is a reduction in the suicide rate, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company which points out that a war-time decline in suicides is now apparent in this country, as well as in England and Germany, and even in some neutral lands. In proof of the drop here the experience of industrial policyholders whose mortality from suicide for the first nine months of 1942, with a rate of 7.2 per 100,000, was next to the lowest on record for that period of the year, is cited.

"It is commonplace in mental hygiene," the Metropolitan explains, "that it is healthy for the individual to forget himself by immersion in issues transcending his own petty, personal complaints. So comes about the singular paradox that in times of war a symptom of worry, discouragement, and despair—suicide—is actually found to be more rare than in peace times."

Noting that the suicide rate in England in 1941 dropped 15 per cent from that for 1939, while the decline for the same period in Germany reached 30 per cent, the company says: "This decline in suicide during wartime has been observed in practically every country at war, and it is a rather curious fact that, in some instances at least, neutral nations neighboring on the belligerent countries shared in this same phenomenon."

Recalling that in this country, in the period affected by the first World War, a decline of 50 per cent occurred in the suicide rate between 1915 and 1920, and that the rate has never returned to its pre-war level, the Metropolitan remarks:

"The lowering of the suicide rate in war is so marked and so universal that the list of instances could be lengthened considerably. The interest, however, is not in such a list of figures, but in the evidences which they bear of one favorable psychological effect of war: A national calamity acts as a uniting force.

"The needs of the country become of paramount importance, and the petty interests and difficulties of the individual tend to be forgotten in the urgent desire to aid the Nation in a time of crisis. Many sensitive individuals whose lives seem to lack purpose become absorbed in rallying to the defense of their country."

TEA SUBSTITUTE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19, (AP)—With war interfering with tea imports, the Retail Grocers' Advocate has directed merchants' attention to yerba mate,

F. D. R. Requests For Tariff Power Refused

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19, (AP)— President Roosevelt's request for blanket authority to suspend existing tariff, immigration and espionage laws where they hamper the war effort, was rejected flatly Wednesday by the House ways and means committee, which contended that the powers sought were broader in scope than warranted.

The committee agreed, however, to appoint a subcommittee to write a specific but sharply restricted substitute.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton, (D-NC), who introduced the bill, "by request" of the White House, said it was generally agreed that the proposal was so broad it would be defeated in the House even if committee members voted their approval.

Facilities Arranged For Coast Guard Dogs

MIAMI Nov. 19, (Special)—
Housing and feeding facilities
and veterinary service for a force
of dogs to be used in connection
with guarding the Florida coast-
line are being arranged by seven
naval district coast guard
headquarters in Miami, it was revealed Tuesday.

An undisclosed number of dogs,
principally German shepherds,
have already been received. The coast guard engineering office is
designing practical kennels for
the canine guards.

Edith Doris Miller Weds Sergt. Adams

Among autumn weddings claiming the interest of a host of friends was the wedding of Miss Edith Doris Miller and Sergt. Roderick Edwin Adams which was solemnized at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Alexandria, La. on Thursday, Nov. 12 with Dr. H. H. Hobbs, pastor of the church, officiating.

A background of Southern vine, potted palms and seven-branch candelabra was used for podestals of large pompano chrysanthemums and smaller baskets of spoon chrysanthemums and potted ferns.

Miss Doris Gates, pianist, played the nuptial music. Miss Mary Moore and N. C. Alsop, Jr. sang a duet, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert. Miss Moore's solo was "At Dawning," by Cadman, and Mrs. Alsop sang "Because," by d'Hardelot. "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" announced the bride who entered with her father.

The bride's natural brunette beauty was enhanced by her bridal gown of cream brocade tulle. The fitted bodice had a sweetheart neckline and long tight sleeves, trimmed with tiny self-covered buttons and ending in rilly points over the hands. She wore a single string of seed pearls and carried an arm bouquet of white American Beauty roses. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held with a wreath of orange blossoms.

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Miss Joyce Lea Miller, Junior bridesmaid, who wore blue; Miss Jean Cavitt, maid of honor, choose pink; and Kay Francis, Elsie, flower girl, who was gowned in white. Their costumes were alike except as to tone and fashioned along lines similar to that of the bride.

Master Sgt. James T. Smith served Sergt. Adams as best man and ishers were Master Sgt. Robert A. Ballard, Master Sgt. Aubrey L. Wampler, and Sergt. W. B. Wall, all of Camp Beauregard, La.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, after which the young couple left on a brief wedding trip. Upon their return they will be at home at 1803 Elliott Street in Alexandria.

Mrs. Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Miller, is a graduate of Bolton High School, attended Alexandria Business College and has been employed the past year by an Abstract and Title Co.

Sergt. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Best Adams of Sanford, is a graduate of Seminole High School and attended the University of Florida at Gainesville where he was member of Lambda Chi Alpha, national social fraternity. He has been in the United States Army for the past 20 months and is now stationed at Camp Beauregard in the office of the inspector general of the 4th Army Corps.

WAR NEEDS COME FIRST

The long distance telephone lines of this war-busy nation must be kept clear of non-essential civilian calls to insure dependable and speedy service for war industries and the armed forces.

We can no longer expand our facilities because materials are more urgently needed to equip our fighters. Therefore, to help keep long distance telephone lines clear for urgent war messages, Uncle Sam is depending upon you to make only absolutely necessary long distance calls.

There is urgent need now for a special effort to avoid making "long haul" calls. The greater the distance you talk the greater the likelihood of delaying vital war calls, because the "long haul" lines are the most heavily crowded with the nation's essential war business.

Please also remember that war takes no holidays and forgo the pleasure, this year, of exchanging Thanksgiving greetings by telephone. Help keep the lines clear for war calls.

WAACS At Daytona Act As Lifeguards

DAYTONA BEACH, Nov. 19, (AP)— Army-trained lifeguards now patrol the Army area on Daytona Beach, keeping a vigilant eye on the WAACS who stream from office, classroom and other duty centers every afternoon to frolic in the Florida surf.

Frances Sternstein of New York City, one of the first appointed WAAC lifeguards, said she is thankful for her rigorous training.

"Only expert swimmers are chosen as lifeguards and we are taught thoroughly the ways of the ocean. We have to know and recognize all the currents and washouts and to cope with them," said Auxiliary Sternstein, who in civilian life taught physical training and swimming to blind and crippled children.

CONVICTED OF TREASON
NEW YORK, Nov. 19, (AP)— Anthony Cramer, German-born mechanic charged with treason in aiding two of the Nazi saboteurs who were landed in the United States from submarines, last night was found guilty by a jury that deliberated two hours and 17 minutes.

Allies Wipe Out One Third Of Nazi Column In Tunisia

Victorious British Army Scores New Gains North And South Of Bengali

By Associated Press—Allied headquarters reported American and British troops have destroyed about a third of the German armor column in the first heavy fighting in Tunisia and forced two other Nazi columns to retreat. The opening battle for the control of the strategic North African buffer state developed between 15 and 16 miles north of the German armor column, which had advanced 50 miles eastward from the Algerian frontier toward climactic assaults on Bizerte and Tunis, the capital city.

French troops from Oran were reported moving east in full battle dress to join the Allied drive across the Mediterranean. The commander, Gen. Barre, was said to have ordered a general offensive of his own at dawn yesterday against the German and Italian occupying forces.

The Moroccan radio, which took the first tank clash, said it occurred Tuesday, after their losses were withdrawn after their losses. "A few British anti-tank guns and heavy guns were put into action," the radio broadcast added.

Evidence that the Axis was trying to pour as many troops as possible into Tunisia was seen in the Moroccan radio broadcast that the Nazis had loaded several light tanks and heavy guns on the railway to Bizerte.

The command reportedly was aimed at blocking all American southern Tunisia toward Gabes to column reported fighting line an effort to encircle the Axis troops in the Bizerte-Tunis area and also strike directly at Bizerte, the radio broadcast added.

The Germans also were reported to have landed a few heavy tanks at Bizerte.
