

U. S. TV Programs For Cuba Beamed From Florida

MIAMI — The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. today announced completion of revolutionary new sending stations which will enable television programs to be broadcast 185 miles non-stop from the United States to Cuba.

The transmission based on a new broadcast principle—will permit the beaming of television about five times farther than the present 30 to 40 mile distances with "almost as good" picture quality.

The stations are set up at Florida City, about 30 miles south of here, and at Guanabo, Cuba, 10 miles out of Havana.

Fred Hollins of New York, general methods engineer for the AT&T's long lines department said the new network actually won't be able to transmit the TV impulses P-1 20.3 SENATE ART— for commercial use until Sept. 12. He said AT&T filed an application today with the Federal Communications Commission for a permit.

Hollins explained under the new transmission method, the TV signals are aimed from a 60-foot square transmission antenna much like the beams of a search light. With the curvature of the earth blocking a direct path to the receiver, the signals travel outward into the layer of air surrounding the earth known as the troposphere.

A small amount of the energy from these beams is reflected or refracted downward where it is received 185 miles away at the other station. This, said Hollins, enables re-creation of a television image "almost as good" as that seen on television screens from the conventional sending system.

Bedroom Slippers Save Life Of Man Bitten By Snake

WILDWOOD, Fla. 18 — William F. Ramey, 67, has a pair of battered bedroom slippers to thank for saving his life when he was bitten by a deadly coral snake.

Doctors said the World War I disabled veteran apparently did not recover from the usually lethal bite he received on the instep of his foot July 21.

Ramey said he felt "a nubbling on my bedroom shoe" and then felt "a stinging sensation on top of my instep."

He killed the 1 1/2 foot snake, washed the wound, went to a doctor and then to the Veterans Administration Hospital in Bay Pines, Fla.

Dr. A. H. Raymond, a specialist at the hospital, said Ramey's "mighty lucky" because a coral snake's victim usually dies within 30 minutes to two hours.

He theorized that Ramey's bedroom slippers saved his life. The coral snake sprays its venom on its victim, Raymond explained, then chases the poison into the flesh.

But this snake apparently sprayed venom on Ramey's slipper and when it chewed through into the flesh, there was no more venom.

15th Postponement Of Nuclear Test Bomb Forced Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — The Atomic Energy Commission just a battle with the weather early today and was forced to call the 15th postponement in the firing of its Shasta nuclear device.

The test was set for 5 a.m. p.m. but less than an hour before the device was to be triggered atop a 300-foot tower scientists decided that wind conditions could carry fallout over populated areas near the Nevada test grounds. The AEC will try again at the same time Wednesday.

The much-delayed test originally was scheduled July 29. Unfavorable weather led to the postponements, a record number for the 1957 test series. Two other tests will be delayed at least 10 days because of the setback in the AEC's schedule.

You Needn't Grow Old

YOU may not be as old as you think you are. As the years pass by, some physiological changes do gradually take place in the human body in all of us. The skin becomes wrinkled, the body becomes more susceptible to the chronic illnesses that beset the older members of our population. If you still feel like working, get a part-time job. Everyone can use a little extra income these days. Broaden your interests. Keep your thinking flexible. Take a bigger part in club and church activities. Get interested in something besides sitting around the house watching television. Mentally, and physically, too, you're most likely a lot younger than you think it is. It's all the way you look at it. A century ago you could expect to live 40 years. That was the average life span. Anything beyond that was borrowed time. Today the average is almost 70 years. And many, many persons live well beyond that. For those of you who must relive at the age of 64, because of company policy, let me give you a few tips on how you can remain young at heart and in spirit. Life can be fascinating or meaningless at any age. It depends upon you. It probably will help a great deal if you keep active. If you still feel like working, get a part-time job. Everyone can use a little extra income these days. It depends upon you. It probably will help a great deal if you keep active. If you still feel like working, get a part-time job. Everyone can use a little extra income these days. Broaden your interests. Keep your thinking flexible. Take a bigger part in club and church activities. Get interested in something besides sitting around the house watching television. Mentally, and physically, too, you're most likely a lot younger than you think it is. It's all the way you look at it. A century ago you could expect to live 40 years. That was the average life span. Anything beyond that was borrowed time. Today the average is almost 70 years. And many, many persons live well beyond that. For those of you who must re-

'100 Year Dream' Yesterday's Subject At Sanford Lions Club

John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, reviewed Sanford's "100 Year Dream" yesterday at the Lions Club noon luncheon meeting. "The 100 year dream," Krider told Lions Club members "is thousands of interested people to connect the St. Johns River with the Atlantic Ocean near Titusville. It is increasingly more important now, he said, since the development of the deep harbor at Canaveral. "Any future development in Sanford and Central Florida depends on just one thing," he said, "cheap water-borne cargo."

City To Receive Inspection Soon By Underwriters

Sanford will soon get an up-to-date inspection by South Eastern Underwriters Association's municipal engineer, according to a letter received by City Manager Warren E. Knowles. The inspection is being made to justify the fire insurance classification of NB 3 Class which would, said City Manager Knowles, materially reduce fire insurance premium rates in the city. The last inspection made by the association was in July of 1954 and since that time, according to Knowles letter requesting consideration of the change in a higher classification, improvements have been made in fire defense improvements. However, the inspection would be primarily to prepare a list of recommended improvements for the "better classification desired" based on current conditions and experienced judgement. H. L. Gatewood, chief engineer of the underwriters association and Knowles in his letter "Since we have not inspected Sanford in over a year and changes have probably occurred during the interim which makes the present grading no longer applicable, we are listing your city for an up-to-date inspection."

Navy Will Drop 18,000 Civilian Employees Soon

WASHINGTON — The Navy announced today it will drop 18,000 civilian employees in the current fiscal year, the majority of them by Oct. 31. The economy order was the latest in a series of drastic measures to fit the armed forces into a $3 billion dollar spending budget for the year which began July 1. The Air Force has announced plans to drop 20,000 civilian employees by the end of October at a saving of 7 to 8 million a month. Army plans are yet to be announced. The Navy was unable to say immediately what it monthly saving would be after the civilian cutback, but it apparently will not be much less than the Air Force's. Reductions will run throughout the Navy's shore establishment, the announcement said. Naval shipyards, ordnance plants, overhaul and repair shops, and supply depots will be chiefly affected.

Anniversary Of Jap Defeat Sees U. S. Troops Leave Isle

TOKYO — Japan on its 12th anniversary of her surrender in World War II, is seeing the last American combat troops finally leaving her islands. To some Japanese, the withdrawal is a welcome erasing of signs of Japan's defeat. But the withdrawal means a loss of jobs to other Japanese, or a drop in lucrative businesses based on the U. N. Y. Champion Theatre Party Plan Already Completed

Plans for another New York Champion Theatre Party have been completed to leave Sanford on September 25th announced L. T. Sheppard, Ticket Agent of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

The all-expense package trip covers transportation, hotel accommodations at the new Hotel Manhattan (Eighth Avenue—44th to 45th Streets, in the heart of the theatre district), the four biggest Broadway hits, Radio City Music Hall, a tour and luncheon at the United Nations, tickets to television shows, and passenger and baggage transfers.

Top musicals head the list of attractions to be seen. "My Fair Lady", starring Rex Harrison, who is leaving the cast on December 7th, is still the number one attraction.

"Bells Are Ringing", the second musical, also is on the schedule. This comedy of a girl who works for a New York telephone answering service brings Judy Holiday back to the stage in a singing and dancing role. The service is for busy people who can't stay home to answer the phone. One of these is a young man, played by Sydney Chaplain. A romance develops between "Susan's telephone", Miss Holiday's telephone name, and young Chaplain.

The third scheduled play is "Auntie Mame", starring Rauling Russell. A fast moving comedy adapted from the famous best-seller, it has played to capacity audiences since its opening. Incidentally, Miss Russell leaves the company on January 15th to go to Hollywood to make a picture.

The fourth play will be one of the season's new productions and will be announced later.

A special feature of the trip will be a tour of the United Nations building, followed by luncheon in the delegates' dining room. The tour covers the general assembly and security council chambers and the building's educational exhibits.

Although the schedule is a full one, Sheppard assures there will be plenty of time for sightseeing, shopping and visiting places of interest.

Secretaries List Requirements

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK — It takes plenty more than being dictation to be a capable girl Friday.

A secretary may be required to laugh at her boss's jokes, funny or not; lend him cigarettes or money; see that he gets a mid-afternoon snack; do his shopping; and beyond.

Originally the girls gathered to honor Sadie Perlman, executive secretary to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California. Miss Perlman, who has been with Knight ever since his lieutenant governor days, is the 1957 "secretary of the year" selected by Underwood in a poll of 3,000 executives.

Contestants were judged on tact, personality, appearance, poise and on letters from their employers telling why they should be selected. Miss Perlman's reward: A week in New York. First time she has been east of the Rockies, she said.

The talk got down to bosses when a thoughtful soul from the typewriter company asked the secretaries to answer a few questions. Included were: "What do you like about your boss?" and "What do you do to keep your boss happy?"

If any secretary loathed the man she worked for, she didn't get a chance to say so. The man from Underwood didn't ask about dislikes, apparently on the assumption a good secretary knows when to keep her mouth shut.

"I like my boss because he's single," said one girl Friday. Personal Preferences Others liked their employers' sense of humor, fairness and understanding. "The fact that he lets me do the filing," answered Catherine Parsons, secretary to Julius Rudel of the New York City Opera Co.

To the "What do you do to keep your boss happy" question, one secretary quipped: "I don't try to keep him happy—just guessing."

"Do all, tell nothing and be on time," said Lillian De Gore, who works for comedian Ernie Kovacs. "Laugh at his jokes," replied Dolores N. ... whose boss is Jack Berry, quiz show M. C. "Always have cigarettes handy," said Rita Quinn, secretary to Mike Wallace. "He never is supplied."

And one secretary said she kept the boss on heel "with a double scoop of chocolate ice cream with chocolate syrup every afternoon."

Sanford Merchants Are Growing With Communitywide Expansion

Sanford, for many years, was a sleeping community satisfied with its beauty and natural resources—but never a thought that both could be put to work for a future benefit.

For a decade now, the community has been bursting forth into a full-fledged city faced with many problems of transformation.

The merchants of Sanford have been leaders in the transformation of a small, rural community into a city bearing the trademark of a metropolis but keeping the friendliness and community spirit intact. And there have been hundreds of problems doing such a job and doing it right.

There are changes every day for the better—air conditioning, remodeling, furnishing, new stocks, better trained employees—everything that is necessary to meet the demands of growth.

Only a few years back, merchants of Sanford were serving a community limited to less than 10,000 people—now they must serve more than 30,000 with population figures leaping every day. And to adjust to growth investment and work has been necessary.

Looking forward to an estimated population of over 50,000 in less than 10 years, merchants are planning to meet the demands of growth and progress with whatever is necessary to make a citizen modern in every respect.

One can see the change taking place as stores and buildings are being repainted, renovated, redecorated and modernized so that Sanford shoppers may have the advantage of metropolitan shopping yet feel the friendly atmosphere of shopping among neighbors and friends as well as shopping with neighbors and friends.

There is much to be done to educate Sanford shoppers that there is merchandise in Sanford stores to whet the appetite of any stylist or to fill the need of any business man. There are many loyal citizens who never trade in foreign markets but keep their money at home circulating among neighbors and friends. Sanford will continue to grow—but its growth would be stimulated many, many times by the impetus given home town trading by home town folks. The more Sanford people trade in Sanford, the greater the improvements to be made.

The next time you're downtown take a look around—you'll find the kind of merchandise you like and the kind of people you like.

It's just good business to trade at home!

The notion that hope triumphs over facts appears to be too widespread in this country. If this notion is applied to the London disarmament talks, we will be letting ourselves in for severe disillusionment. For it is, at present, inconceivable that the Russian leaders will agree to and permit a genuinely satisfactory system of air and ground inspection.

The Kremlin leaders will not permit their own people to "inspect" the Soviet system; in other words, they will not permit freedom. How then, and why, should we expect them to allow UN or NATO personnel to inspect Russia?

Without rejecting categorically the idea of any or all negotiations with the Russians, it is necessary to point out that if and when we conduct negotiations with the Russians for the major purpose of scoring assumed propaganda victories over them, we are in error. Geneva, with its so-called Geneva spirit, was hailed as a propaganda victory for this country. It confused some of our friends and bounced off the billiard ball dome of Khrushchev. The Russians leap-frogged into the Middle East after Geneva.

Also, when we seek to win assumed propaganda victories by offering proposals

Pay-In-The-Parlor TV Coming Up

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — The number of pay TV's to call in Bartlesville, Okla., is 5,616.

A simple order on the telephone will transport the screen of the downtown lyric theatre into any citizen's living room.

Bartlesville, a prosperous town in the heart of the Osage Hills, is the center of the first big thing into pay in the parlor TV. Subscribers will be able to view a number of uninterrupted movies on their TV sets for $9.50 a month starting in early autumn. They'll be brought in by shielded cable, an avenue over which the Federal Communications Commission has no control.

Bartlesville is not the scene of a test. It is the scene of a full-fledged business venture.

Too Late To Classify

Returning from my Canadian vacation last week I became interested in four young ladies who sat opposite me on the plane. They were secretaries in a Toronto airplane parts firm and were bubbling with enthusiasm and plans for a wonderful Florida vacation.

I was interested in learning how they happened to be visiting Florida in August, considering the general opinion so many folks seem to have, that Florida is too hot in summer. I also wanted to know why they chose Tampa rather than Miami, Clearwater, Sarasota or some of the better known resort areas.

It was not difficult engaging them in conversation for they were eager for information about things to do, places to go and things to see. Only one of the girls had visited Florida before, and then had only a few hours in Miami on her way to Nassau. She found her experience so delightful that she planned to return another time and see more of the state. Her three office chums were equally anxious to visit the state and the four of them began talking over their periwinkle and planning for their marvelous holiday. After seeing Dick Pope's troupe of aquamats perform at the Canadian National Exposition and witnessing Cypress Gardens scenes in Clearwater they determined to visit the gardens on their trip. On another occasion they saw some movie and television shots taken at Silver Springs and this famed attraction became a "must" in their vacation plans.

Florida is a big state and there were so many places they wanted to see, so many places they wanted to go, it would be difficult to do all they to do in a short two weeks. They decided the best thing to do was to fly by Trans Canada Airlines direct to Tampa which would enable them to start their Florida vacation four hours after leaving Toronto. They arranged with the Rent-A-Car service to have a car waiting for them on arrival. It was a wonderful day in Toronto when they boarded their plane, the sun was shining and the temperature was in the 70's. Everything looked rosy.

But they found Florida buried under a gigantic cloud bank. Ominous dark clouds made it necessary to fasten seat belts as they approached Tampa. The sunshine state provided a sorry welcome in the form of a driving rain and flooded runways. They hopefully accepted my assurance that the sun would soon be shining, but I am afraid they must be doubting my word by now for that was two days ago and it is still raining.

I am telling you about this group of girls because they are typical of thousands of others who are interested in Florida and are planning vacations here. Clerks, stenographers, waitresses, mechanics, are all making good money and putting aside tidy sums to pay for the vacation trip of their choice.

A few years ago such folks would only dream about such a holiday. Now they buy plane tickets, hire Hertz drive-it-yourself cars, stay at good hotels or motels and live it up, even if they have to work and save for another year or so to make up for it. Publicity and advertising released by the Florida Development Commission and by hotels and leading attractions are creating desires in the hearts of millions, and increasing year-round travel to Florida indicates how worth while such promotion is.

I sincerely hope these youngsters will have a thrilling, never-to-be-forgotten two weeks in our state. I hope they will meet with friendliness and courtesy during their stay and that they will return home refreshed and happy with their experience. If you should run into Jean Cronin, Olive Wurm, Norma Williams or Olive Gmys of Toronto give them a smile and a welcome and let them know how glad we are they decided on Florida for their vacation.

How Wire Will Work
The 38 miles of cable that Vumore is laying will cost about $104,000. Vumore will sell the cable to Southwestern Bell which, in turn, will rent it back to Vumore for $3297 a month. As a result for beaming its movies, Vumore will use the remodeled Lyric Theatre seating capacity of 700. The Lyric has been converted at a cost of $33,000.

There are 8000 TV homes in Bartlesville and Vumore hopes to sell to 4000 of them. Actually, the project can operate with 1500-2000 customers.

Originally, Vumore planned to give its customers 13 telemovies a month for $9.50. It has now upped the number of films to 30. It won't charge anything for installation. Some of the movies will be shown currently with the other conventional house in town, some before and some after.

Video Independent has permits from 35 other cities in the southwest, including Tulsa, Oklahoma City and Lubbock, Tex., according to C. O. Fulham, vice president of the theatre chain. He sees pay TV coming, but he doesn't think it means an end to the conventional movie house. "We'll continue to have movie houses," says Fulham, "as long as boys and girls want to hold hands."

Baptist Circles

The August meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church was held August 12. Mrs. E. A. Covington, president, urged all chairmen to submit their material for the new W.M.S. yearbook, that it might be issued on time.

Mrs. Thomas presented the visitors and guests. Mr. Walter Routh, a student at the Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Ken., spoke on community missions, told of student activities at the seminary, and offered suggestions for local missionary activities.

Mrs. Frank Bryant, nee Margaret Hunt and formerly of Sanford spoke on missions in California, where she now resides in the city of Berkeley. Mrs. Bryant said that the need for missions there is great. There are only two Southern Baptist churches for a population of 120,000, although these churches have a number of missions.

By the fall of 1959, it is hoped that the college will be moved across the bay to an abandoned location on Strawberry Point. Broiled Chicken

By Susan Christian, Assistant Nutritionist. One thing nicer than a glowing charcoal fire is a glowing charcoal fire covered with halves of chicken, slowly acquiring a beautiful coat of tan. This is wonderful food any time of the year, but especially this summer, since there is a big supply of broilers on the market. As you know, the big supply means lower prices. Broilers are down in price right now and are likely to remain so for a few weeks at least.

Whether you buy poultry whole or in parts, look for the signs of good quality that mean a good meal ahead! And remember that poultry is a very perishable food. Store it, wrapped loosely, in the meat compartment of the refrigerator. Fresh poultry will keep well only two to three days in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

To broil chicken in your backyard, try this recipe: 1 young chicken, 8 to 12 weeks old, weighing not over 2 1/2 pounds dressed, melted fat, salt and pepper.

Cut the chicken into fourths. Coat with melted fat. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place on a charcoal with the skin side away from the heat. Keep the heat moderate. Have the chicken three or four inches from the flame or heat element. Turn the chicken several times as it broils. Broil frequently with the pan dripping or other melted fat. Cook evenly to the bone—35 to 45 minutes. If more convenient, cook the chicken partly done in the broiler, then finish in a moderate oven, 300° to 350° F; or start on a moderate oven and finish under broiler.

Serve broiled chicken hot with the pan drippings or melted fat over it. A wedge of lemon or lime served with the chicken gives pleasing flavor.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor

Dot Powell and Ellen Beitz are back from their trip to Key West, and staying out at the camp where Adelaide Moses and her children have joined them for the week. Hear that Dot and Ellen have a beautiful new boat and are running up and down the river with it. The whole family of Powells are proud of nephew Mel Fleischer for winning the All Marine Golf Tournament. Mel is the son of Roy and Irwin Fleischer. He broke the course record at Camp Lejeune with a 41, and his score for four days of play was a one under par 281. Since the course is 3,000 yards, this is pretty darn good. Mel will play at Parris Island next week in the All-Service tournament. There we hope he will meet another Sanford golfer, Gene Wittzell, who won the Sixth Naval District golf tournament.

Tommy Peterson is commuting with Bill Hutchinson to the beach these days. Penny Peterson is in Flatrock, N. C. enjoying the cool weather there. She writes that she and the children are having a wonderful time. The Peterson's poolside Pierre was bitten fatally by a rattlesnake last week, which is very sad news indeed, as he was such a bright puppy and just like a ball of black wool.

Bo and Leo Postler, former Sanford residents have been back in town to see about their house, and are now staying at New Smyrna Beach for a few days.

Flo and Vic Knick from Jacksonville spent the weekend with Curtis and Jack Stribling. The Striblings always seem to have a household of company, and have Jack's family as their guests right now. It would take an awful lot of people to fill up their unbelievably large house though.

Mr. Wilburn of the B.O.Q. called to say that the Afterburner will be open five days a week from now on from 11:30 until 12:30 Monday through Friday. Great plans are in the air for entertainment at the B.O.Q. in the near future, and Sanford may have a bona fide officers' club yet.

Glad to hear that Ernie Mills is back home again after a bout with pneumonia, during which time he was a patient in the dispensary at N.A.S.

Frank and Martha Johnson, who will be on the Hawking Staff, have bought the Emanski house in Pinecrest. The Johnsons came to Sanford from Clarksville, Tenn.

Seminole High School Hopefuls Begin Pigskin Practice Monday

The Seminole High School football season gets underway with opening drills taking place Monday morning at 8:30.

Coach Jim Pigott will line up the football aspirants for Seminole High's 1957 pigskin assault to look over material for possibly one of the best "eleven" the local high school has turned out for many years.

It will be a twice-day drill for the "Seminole" hopefuls. In addition to the morning drills at 8:30 the prospective team will also get together for an afternoon drill at 4:30.

Before full uniforms are issued on Sept. 2, Coach Pigott will have selected a representative group of high school football players that will make up a rugged, fighting team for the 1957 fall conflict.

Line Coach for the Seminoles this year is Dave Laude and when the squad is separated into an A and B squad, Bud Leyer and Dick Silver will handle the B squad in addition to scouting for the A squad.

Seminole High School colors of Orange and Black will be flying high this year when the first game gets underway against Lyman on Sept. 20. This game will be played in Sanford.

The schedule continues, with Seabreeze away, on Sept. 27; Apopka here on Oct. 4; Cocoa away on Oct. 11; an open date on Oct. 18; Winter Park here on Oct. 25; New Smyrna Beach here on Nov. 1; Leesburg away on Nov. 8; and Melbourne here on Nov. 15.

The Seminoles will meet Lakeview at Winter Garden on Nov. 22; and DeLand away on Nov. 27.

The local Seminole High School football team will be playing in the Orange Belt conference.

The record last year was 2 wins, 7 losses and 1 tie. However, Coach Pigott said "We hope to improve this year."

Army Sgt. Defends Pistol Victory Against 1,300

CAMP PERRY, Ohio — Army M-Sgt. Huellet L. Joe Bener of West Point, N. Y., began defending his national pistol championship today against 1,300 other military and civilian sharpshooters at this Lake Erie post.

The marksmen and women open three days of hand-gun firing by shooting .32 caliber pistols at paper targets in the slow fire, timed fire, rapid fire, international rapid fire silhouette and national match course events. The shooters stand 25 and 50 yards and 25 meters from the targets.

Wednesday, the experts switch to .38 caliber pistols and Thursday use .45 caliber weapons with the total score determining the national pistol championship.

Other pistol contests are slated through Saturday, ending the first week of the 1957 national matches running until Sept. 16. Rifle tournaments, including muzzle-loading competitions, are scheduled for the remaining four weeks.

Shooting started Monday when U.S. Navy C.W.O. Offutt Pinlon of St. Barbara, Calif., successfully defended his international .32 caliber free pistol championship against 300 marksmen.

Majors' Home Runs Down In 1957 Over 6 Per Cent

NEW YORK — Major league home run production is off 6.18 per cent this year with only six of the 16 teams showing an increase over their totals at a corresponding point of the 1956 season.

A United Press survey revealed today that the National League's sluggers have hit 44 per cent fewer homers this year and that American League home run output is off 8.2 per cent. The figures are based on 41 games played in the NL and 439 in the AL, both this season and last.

The league-leading Milwaukee Braves, the St. Louis Cardinals, the Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Giants show increases in the National League but only the Kansas City Athletics and Boston Red Sox are hitting more homers than last year in the AL.

The Braves and Cincinnati Redlegs top the majors with 126 home runs each. That figure represents an increase of eight homers for the Braves compared to their first 110 games in 1956 while it means a loss of 22 for the Redlegs, who hit 138 in their first 110 games last year.

The most amazing increase in the majors has been accomplished by the Athletics, who have increased their home run production by 55 per cent. In 106 games last season the Athletics hit only 79 homers—45 fewer than they hit in their first 106 games this year.

The world champion New York Yankees—long synonymous with the home-run—has dropped off a surprising 24.2 per cent in homer production. They had hit 149 in 110 games last year but show only 113 this year for the same number of games. At that, the Athletics are the only team which has hit more.

Patty Berg Boasts Purse Of $15,768

CHICAGO — Patty Berg, with $6,000 first prize money World tournament at Tam O'Shanter in her purse today had a total of $15,768 in winnings for the year.

Miss Berg won the World Monday for the fourth time with an edge of two strokes over Fay Crocker, of Uruguay, in their play-off for the women's professional title.

The chunky titleholder's addition of the first prize money to her account put her nearly $5,000 beyond Miss Crocker, whose $2,000 in second-place money gave her a total of $10,768 for 1957.

Miss Berg, a Chicagoan, was even or ahead throughout the tournament with the challenging Uruguayan shotmaker.

Miss Berg's previous 1957 wins were the titleholders, the Western Open and the All-American at Tam O'Shanter.

B. VINCENT RICHARDS
Former Tennis Star
Written for the United Press
NEW YORK — Why don't they have an open tennis tournament?

One hears this question on all sides of the court from Forest Hills to Wimbledon.

I was thinking about this recently as I sat in a box at Forest Hills watching the Tournament of Champions, put on by Jack Kramer as a promoter.

We saw in this tournament such players as Pancho Gonzales, Pancho Segura, Ken Rosewall, Frank Segman, Dinny Pails, Jack Kramer, and Lew Hoad—the new bonus baby of professional tennis.

We witnessed an astounding sight. Hoad, acknowledged the No. 1 amateur champion of the world, was able to win but two single matches against these professionals during the 10 days of the tournament.

When Amateur Crown This happened only six days after Law won the so-called world's amateur championship at Wimbledon, where he had beaten Ashley Cooper in the final round in straight sets.

Hoad's performance at Forest Hills, and subsequently in the professional tournament held last week at the Los Angeles Tennis Club, where he failed to win a singles match, indicates clearly how low the standard of play has become in amateur tennis around the world.

There is only one answer to the whole subject, in my opinion, and that is an open tennis tournament.

During the past 40 years, it has been my good fortune to be connected intimately with both golf and tennis in this country and there is no good reason in my mind why tennis could not be put on the same basis as golf in the United States.

Golf, I might add, is the best run sport in this country.

In the golf game, we have the amateur and the professional playing side by side the year 'round and doing it by their own choice. This in itself eliminates all sham amateurism now connected with the game of tennis.

Group Suspends Star I read with amusement the other day a headline in the papers stating:

"The United States Lawn Tennis Association suspends Stewart indefinitely."

It seems Hugh Stewart, of Pasadena, Calif., the United States' 11th ranking player has been over in Europe doing nothing but playing in tennis tournaments. This, of course, violates the rules of the tennis association, so Harold LeDair, chairman of the international committee, suspended him. I quote Mr. LeDair:

"Stewart has been violating our policies for the past two years or so but most of the time he has made excuses so we let him off. This time he has gone too far in regard to our instructions."

What a farce and what a laugh this whole situation is to anyone connected with the game.

Not Interested In Davis Cup Play Says Dick Savitt

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. — Tall and husky Dick Savitt, who trounced America's two top tennis players in marching to the Eastern Grass Courts championship, told the U.S. Davis Cup Committee today not to get it hopes up.

The 30-year-old Savitt defeated Vic Seixas of Philadelphia in the championship match Monday, 6-4, 6-4, 8-6, after having whipped the U.S. No. 1 ranking player, Ham Richardson, in the semi-finals.

"I'm not interested in Davis Cup play," said Savitt after the final match. "As a matter of fact, I may not even play in the nationals at Forest Hills. It will depend on whether my business permits it."

Savitt's game was not quite at its peak against Seixas, and he had trouble with his service, but his ground strokes and volleys at the net were too strong for 33-year-old Seixas, who has yet to win the Eastern championship in 10 years of trying, although he has taken the Wimbledon and Forest Hills titles.

Mary Ann Mitchell of San Leandro, Calif., won the women's singles with a 6-2, 6-2 conquest of Jessie Arth of St. Paul, Minn., and Barbara Davidson of Milwaukee and Mrs. Pat Todd of La Jolla, Calif., won the women's doubles over Janet Haygo of Seattle and Diana Wootton of Santa Monica, Calif., 6-1, 6-1.

CHAPTER 31
MULLER TURNER'S wagon was not far downstream from the pool where Nels and I had spent so many of our Sunday afternoons. He was not in sight. Neither were his horses, but a campfire was burning between the wagon and the creek.
 I hesitated, a prickles running down my spine; he might be back in the brush taking a load on me now. But Ned had told him I wouldn't be back until evening, so maybe he'd cooked a meal here, then gone downstream to one of the other camps.
 I was balancing the possibilities in my mind when Curly said: "Secore's got his cabin started. Will Turner might be down there."
 I nodded and swung down from Roanie. "Keep your eyes peeled," I said, and gathering a handful of burning sticks, teased them into the wagon. I had started to pick up some more, but then I saw it was Secore's. Beside a straw tick had caught and blazed up.
 I stepped into the saddle, saying, "Better move."
 We went down the road on the run. I saw the smoke of Secore's campfire, then his wagon as we rounded a turn, the outfit at the other end of a straight stretch. A pile of peeled logs lay on the bank above the creek. Secore was watching one of them. Turner was on the other side of him, using a draw knife.
 They didn't hear us coming until I fired a shot over their heads and yelled: "Harmless up! You're telling. Move!"
 Secore jumped toward his rifle leaning against a wagon wheel, but he didn't make it. Red threw a shot that splintered a spoke next to the rifle barrel. Secore fell flat on his belly and lay there, his hands palm-down in the mud.
 But Turner was another story. He dropped his draw knife and pulled and yelled: "Harmless up! You're telling. Move!"
 He turned his head toward me, his eyes wide, his mouth open. He held out his hand and took a shot at me, the bullet slicing through my coat just above my left shoulder. We were close then, all three of us shooting at him. He was driven back on his heels and on down to the ground, dead before he fell.
 I raised up and dismounted. Secore hadn't moved, probably thinking I was going to shoot him. I kicked him in the ribs. "Up!" I said. "On your feet."
 He struggled to his hands and knees and whimpered as he gripped the wheel behind him.
 "You're a stout one," I said. "Didn't you think of this when Turner talked you into it?"
 "No." He wiped a sweat across his mouth. "We figured on you coming tonight. We was gonna

JACKY FENWICK

The Carlo's are gone! They left Monday night, around seven o'clock, after a farewell dinner given by Lorraine and Frank Deama. Mike got in from Texas last Wednesday, in time to help with the packing, etc., to take Jackie and the children back with him. They're gone, but only for one year. At the end of that year, Mike returns, and Sanford will be their permanent home.
 Ruby Jordan and her three daughters, Pam, Lelani, and Sheila, have been having themselves quite a trip! They've been gone for about two weeks visiting friends and relatives in Bristol, Tennessee; Johnsville, Virginia; and Lynch, Kentucky. Her husband didn't get to go along this time. After all, someone has to stay home and care a living! (Keep telling MY husband that, but he isn't easily persuaded!)

THE OUTBOARD PORT ENGINE of a giant double-engine C-97 has no propeller and the inboard engine is knocked out by flying metal, but the craft is safely down at Hill Airport in Hawaii. The military Air Transport Service plane, with 87 persons aboard, flew on two of its four engines for 600 miles. The pilot, Air Force Maj. Samuel Tyson, reported that he was past the "point of no return" on the flight from San Francisco when the engine quit. He flew only 100 feet above towering waves to conserve the dwindling fuel supply as Navy and Coast Guard vessels were alerted. (International)

South Seminole Dial Tones Remain In Changeover

Most of the various dial tones and ringing signals with which telephone users have become familiar will still be in effect when Metropolitan Service is inaugurated next month according to an announcement from Winter Park Telephone Company. The only exceptions will be two new features which are recorded voices used in transmitting calls to a party on the same line and in notifying subscribers when they dial an unassigned number.

The several signals and ringing calls with Metropolitan Service are announced as follows: THE DIAL TONE when a call is dialed. No change. THE RINGING SIGNAL when a call is completed by dialing. No change. THE BUSY SIGNAL when a line is busy. No change.

The recorded voices which will be heard by a caller will be as follows: When a subscriber with a MID-way telephone number calls someone on his own line, a voice will inform him that he is calling someone on his own line and advise him to replace his receiver until the party he is calling has a chance to answer the call. Another recorded voice will be heard when a subscriber inadvertently dials a number that is unassigned. In this case the voice will inform the caller that he dialed incorrectly, advise him to hang up his receiver, and look up the correct number desired in the new telephone directory.

NIKITA S. KHRUSHCHEV, Soviet Communist Party leader, waves to crowds in East Berlin before opening attacks on West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who will be up for re-election in a few weeks. At right is Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, who reportedly may soon replace Premier Nikolai Bulganin. In center is East German Premier Otto Grotewohl. (International Radiophoto)

However, for subscribers living in Longwood, Altamonte, Fern Park, Casselberry or Forest City, who will have either the prefix TEmple or Valley included in their new number, the method of calling a party on the same line will not be changed from the method now used. Subscribers with Valley or Temple prefixes have a slight advantage since they will know a party is on their own line if the prefix and first four figures of the number are the same. Since Midway prefix subscribers will not be able to determine by the directory number if a party is on the same line as their own, the recorded voice is to be used. Another change to be in effect with Metropolitan Service is in calling a long distance number outside the Winter Park and Orlando Exchange areas. Instead of dialing the number 110, as at present, subscribers are asked, with Metropolitan Service, to dial "0" (Operator) to make an out-of-town call. As in the past, long distance calls will be made through the Orlando telephone exchange for Winter Park subscribers. Since all calls with Metropolitan Service will be toll-free in calling between the Winter Park and Orlando exchanges, the optional extended service under which calls to Orlando are made first by dialing the number 9 will be eliminated and calls to any number in the Orlando exchange area will be made by dialing the desired number direct from the subscriber's own telephone set, without first dialing "9". Orlando exchange subscribers will have new numbers which will include prefixes. These will be either Garden, Chestwood or Cherry. All telephone numbers of Winter Park subscribers will be changed to include prefixes which will be either Midway, Temple or Valley. With Metropolitan Service the "two-five" dialing method goes into effect. This means simply that a caller will dial the first letters and all five figures in the number he wishes to call.

Try and Stop Me
 By BENNETT CERF

A REAL ESTATE salesman in Denver was trying to sell a big tract of Colorado property right unseen to an eastern operator. "My client wants a piece that's pretty high up," said the easterner. "How high is this property?" "I couldn't say exactly," admitted the salesman, "but it's just 800 miles to Pike's Peak—and it's downhill all the way!"

A cannibal mother and her child scanned the heavens while a big airliner roomed by. "What's that?" demanded the child. "It's something like a lobster," explained the mother. "You only eat what's inside."

A colonel, disturbed at a bridge game, barked at an intruding sergeant. "In civilian life, do you think you'd come to me with a 'No. 6,'" said the sergeant. "I'd send for you."

Newer Methods Help Curb Hypertension

By HERMAN M. BUNDELMAN, M.D.

LOW blood pressure, generally, is difficult to select. The best is an asset. In fact, some authorities on the subject term it the "ideal" blood pressure. Low blood pressure simply means that it requires less effort for your heart to push blood through your arteries.

But while you might not have anything to worry about as far as "ideal" blood pressure is concerned, high blood pressure or hypertension, sometimes is quite another matter.

Consult a Doctor

An estimated 5,000,000 Americans suffer from hypertension. Every one of them should at least consult a doctor for his advice.

Many persons, women especially, are able to stand high blood pressure better than others. If you are one of them, it is quite possible that your doctor will advise no treatment at all. If such is the case, consider yourself lucky.

Specific Treatment

But even if your doctor does recommend specific treatment, you are still a pretty lucky person. Science and Medicine have advanced so far in recent years that the future for a victim of hypertension is more favorable than ever before.

Still you've got to be a bit patient with your doctor. We have developed so many new drugs to deal the person with high blood pressure that it sometimes is a help.

Response to Drugs

Response to these various drugs varies greatly with individual patients. Consequently, your doctor may have to test several drugs and combinations of them to find just the right one for you.

In addition to drugs, your doctor probably will advise you to: Get plenty of sleep, don't become involved in competitive sports, don't worry, and keep your weight about normal.

Reducing Program

About this latter problem, don't embark upon any reducing program without seeking your physician's recommendations. Reducing and low-sodium diets might be harmful if not properly supervised.

If you have hypertension, I think you might be interested in a new booklet, "High Blood Pressure," prepared by Dr. Edgar V. Allen, president of the American Heart Association. You can probably obtain it from your local AHA office.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. A.: My child is now recovering from a liver infection. Should I disinfect his room?

Answer: It is not likely that the infection can be spread by objects in the room. Therefore, disinfect the room would not be of help.

AN UNMANNED NAVY BLIMP, used in military effects experiments on its blast and heat, rose into the ground at Yucca Flat, Nev., four miles from the detonation of an atomic device, which forms the customary mushroom cloud over the desert.
