

JAPAN AND AMERICA MAY TAKE SIBERIA TO CONTROL THE RAILWAYS

RUSSIAN SITUATION REQUIRES HEROIC MEASURES OF ALLIES

London, Eng., Mar. 1.—A speech made Sunday by Viscount Motono and reports from Paris as to Japan's activities against the German advance in Russia are given prominently in London morning papers.

"The appeal to Japan and the United States to cooperate in confronting the Germans in Siberia is answered by Viscount Motono as far as Japan is concerned.

Washington, D. C., Mch. 1.—Japan's move to develop the feeling of the allies toward a proposal for joint military operations in Siberia to keep the vast stores at Vladivostok and the trans-Siberian railway from falling into the hands of the invaders was widely discussed today by diplomats and officials, but all were reluctant to give opinions for publication.

Opinion in London that the declaration by the Japanese foreign minister, Count Motono, in the Japanese diet could be interpreted only as a declaration that Japan was about to intervene was regarded as further evidence that the negotiation now proceeding between the co-belligerents are to make the action of international character, probably including the participation of American forces.

While officials were silent and disposed to minimize discussion of the subject, it is known that exchanges of opinion are going on with perfect understanding between Japan, the United States and the other co-belligerents, which would make the plan of joint action wholly acceptable to all, thoroughly defining its extent and duration.

Russian representatives oppose entrance of the Japanese in Siberia, but the co-belligerents are thoroughly alarmed lest the vast quantities of supplies piled up at Vladivostok, bought and paid for with American cash should fall into the hands of the Germans.

London, Eng., Mch. 1.—The council of people's commissaries, according to a Reuters dispatch from Petrograd has issued another call to arms, in which it is declared that the German invaders are arresting the workmen's and soldiers' councils, shooting captured Red Guards and arming German and Austrian prisoners in the Ukraine. The proclamation asserts that the troops at the front have now pulled themselves together and are resisting the invasion. It concludes:

"May the blood spilled in this unequal struggle fall on the heads of the German socialists, who are allowing the German workmen to be ranked among the Cains and Judases."

Enrollment of the new army is proceeding successfully, an exchange Telegraph dispatch says. Cossack regiments in Petrograd are being sent in the direction of Pskov and other regiments formed of mixed detachments are marching to the front.

Today's War News The American sector in France was again subjected to attack by gas shells which had little effect.

Tuesday's two gas attacks caused five deaths and the poisoning of about 60 American soldiers. The majority of those affected by gas are not in a serious condition.

German airplanes are still active over the American front, 27 having crossed the line Wednesday.

Aerial and artillery fighting on the British and French fronts is most severe. Eighteen German planes were brought down by the French and German airmen and guns while Berlin claims to have accounted for 15 entente machines.

British shipping losses for the week show an increase over the previous period. Eighteen merchantmen, 14 of more than 1,600 tons were sunk by submarines, or mines, as compared with 15, including 12 of the larger tonnage the week before.

RED CROSS WILL HAVE REAL CIRCUS

FEATURED HERE IN APRIL ON GIGANTIC SCALE

Yesterday afternoon the executive committee of the Seminole Chapter of the American Red Cross signed contracts with the Kirkland Society Circus to bring its entire equipment, band and big circus features for a three days' circus, April 11-12 and 13.

This will be a new and novel means of raising money to carry forward the work of the greatest of all war time charities. Much has to be done by Seminole county to carry forward the great undertaking she has assumed and hold her place among her sister chapters throughout the country.

The people have responded nobly to the Liberty Loan campaign and to the other numerous war time charities and to ask the people of this community to give further to this fund, without something in return seemed too hard a proposition to put before the people.

Imagine if you can Postmaster Elder as the dashing bareback rider in pink tights, Messrs. Arthur Yowell and George DeCottes in death defying exhibitions of the trapeze; Gene Roumillat and Dr. Puleston as real, sure enough clowns.

Remember a real circus has been leased for this engagement—a real circus complete in every detail, and the crowd that will find the tent these three nights will make Barnum and Bailey green with envy, for who would miss going to a circus anyway?

To make it a success it will have to be well advertised, so therefore the publicity committee is laying plans whereby every newspaper in the state, and every barn and cross road within a radius of fifty miles will herald the coming of the biggest and best.

NATIONAL SUFFRAGE NO PLACE

STATE COMMITTEE TURNED DOWN RESOLUTION

Jacksonville, Feb. 28.—By a vote of 23 to 6 the state Democratic executive committee, which convened here Tuesday morning to arrange for the primary election to be held the 5th of June, declined to adopt a resolution offered by W. B. Crawford of Ocala county, endorsing National Suffrage, but by a vote of 19 to 10 the committee placed for the first time since its creation the state tax commission in the primary. The office of juvenile judge of Duval county was also placed in the primary.

Stafford Caldwell, holding the proxy of C. D. Blackwell of Suwannee county, offered the resolution prescribing the qualifications of electors as follows:

That the terms and conditions of which legal electors shall be declared and taken as proper members of the Democratic party of the state of Florida and entitled to vote in the primary election for the nomination of candidates of the Democratic party in the regular primary election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1918, shall be as follows:

First—That such legal elector is a white man.

Second—That such legal elector shall upon participating in said primary election unqualifiedly thereby bind himself to vote for in the general election, and support all candidates of the Democratic party nominated in said primary election.

Third—That such legal electors do unqualifiedly declare his belief in the principles of the Democratic party and give his allegiance to the Democratic party both state and national.

That copies of this resolution duly certified by the chairman, and secretary of this committee be immediately delivered to the supervisor of registration of each and every county of the state of Florida.

The original resolution as offered by Mr. Caldwell contained a fourth provision which declared "That if such legal elector voted in the last general election he shall not have voted for the presidential electors of any other party other than the Democratic party." To this provision Crawford of Leala offered an amendment as follows: "Unless said elector shall have complied with the law regulating the changing of party affiliations."

On motion of Hal W. Adams, after considerable discussion the whole section was stricken out, the vote being 16 to 14, all members present voting.

Tax Commission in Primary The voters of Florida next June for the first time since the creation of the State Tax Commission by the 1913 Legislature will have an opportunity to vote on its members, the committee today by a vote of 19 to 10 voted in favor of placing the two members whose terms soon expire in the primary for nomination. The members whose terms soon expire in Tax Commission was included in the call for all offices to be voted on, but J. R. Hodges of Columbia, offered an amendment providing for the striking out of this commission, but this failed of passage.

Cannery Ordered to Hold Goods Washington, Feb. 27.—All cannery are advised today by the Food Administration to hold for war purposes until further advised all canned corn, peas and tomatoes, string beans and salmon now on hand.

The dance at the Elks Club last evening was a very delightful affair. Quite a number of out of town people were there. About twenty couples were present.

BIG ELKS CARNIVAL NEXT WEEK

KRAUSE SHOWS WILL FURNISH THE AMUSEMENTS

Next week the youngsters and the elders will have a chance to enjoy themselves as the big Elks Carnival and Jubilee will take place for one week only. There will be something doing every minute and for the purpose of keeping things moving the celebrated Krause Shows have been secured to furnish the amusements. The people here know what the Krause Shows are and they need no introduction here as they played the Seminole County Fair last year and gave general satisfaction. They are only different this year in that they have many new features and have added the Whip to the many amusements for the children and have also added many other new and novel features.

The Elks lodge of Lakeland contracted for the Krause Shows this week and they are holding forth to large crowds highly there and the Lakeland Telegram has the following to say about them:

"The Elks' Carnival opened last night with every indication of being a big success, judging from the large and happy crowd of Lakeland's pleasure seekers, for they started to come as early as 7 o'clock and by 8:30 it seemed as if everybody in town had made up their minds to see the sights at the one and same time. All shows and rides were doing a land office business. Lines of people were formed in front of the 'Pony Circus' waiting for their turn to get in, for as fast as one performance would end the crowd would file in and all seats would be taken and the big show would be on again.

"And it sure was some show." Twelve acts. Fourteen head of wonderfully and perfectly trained horses, ponies and mules. The Minstrel show played to standing room only, at all three performances and everybody was delighted with the calibre of the shows for there are some mighty clever singers, dancers and comedians and a ten-piece jazz band that can play the jazziest of jazz time syncopated harmony.

"The Whip," a new and sensational riding device, sure made a hit with the riders and spectators alike for it is almost as much fun looking on as it is to ride, and one could hear the joyous laughter and screams of delight some three blocks away as the happy riders were being whirled around the curves and along the zigzags of the "Ride of all Rides."

The ever popular Merry-Go-Round and the big giant Ferris wheel were doing their share also. In fact all attractions at 9 o'clock were doing capacity business and the committee is much pleased with the first results and the fact that the Krause Greater Shows made good all claims of their advance man. Egery member of the B. P. O. E. lodge will be pressed into service the next five days helping to take care of the crowds and seeing that everybody has a good time. All shows and rides open every afternoon at 2 and every night at 7.

Let's show our loyalty and patriotism by being at the Temple next Monday evening at eight o'clock. Let's do our part towards WINNING THE WAR. Remember, both of these lectures, by a most eminently qualified speaker, eleven years a newspaper man, thirty-three years a college professor on the greatest and most important subject of the day, are absolutely FREE.

SEMINOLE COUNTY EXHIBIT FLORIDA STATE FAIR AWAY AHEAD OF EVERYTHING

SECRETARY MARLOWE WRITES ABOUT THE MANY EXHIBITS

Jacksonville, Feb. 28, (Special).—The Florida State Fair is on and on in fine shape. The formal opening was Tuesday, the 26th, at 2:30 p. m. All counties having exhibits were required to be ready to check in ready at 10:00 a. m., of that date but only one county out of twenty-two was able to do this; that county was Seminole. As usual, the Seminole County Fair Association carried out their programme to the letter and their exhibit was in place and ready for entry exactly at 9:50 a. m.

Without doubt Seminole county has an exhibit surpassing any other at the Fair and at the opening, when the curtain was pulled up, visitors showered the exhibit with a rapid

DR. GIDDINGS TO LECTURE ON THE WAR

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT SECURES THIS GREAT SPEAKER

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 27, 1918. T. W. Lawton, Sanford, Fla. Yes, afternoon and evening, Mar. fourth. No charges.

Through the influence of the educational department of Seminole county arrangements have been made for two addresses to be given in Sanford on March 4th, next Monday afternoon and evening, by Dr. F. H. Giddings of Columbia University.

Dr. Giddings is on a tour of the country delivering patriotic educational speeches, without cost to the town or audience. He is working under the auspices of the National Security League, which is sending out over the United States men of exceptional ability to deliver lectures on the War.

"The winning of the war is the problem which today must take precedence of all other questions and a clear understanding of the meaning of the war, by the masses of our people is essential to victory.

"But after victory must come reconstruction, and the National Security League believes that MENTAL PREPAREDNESS for its problems will save us many and costly errors.

"The universities have provided men admirably qualified for this task. The League has provided the National, non-partisan organization which is necessary to give unity to their efforts and the funds which will enable them to travel widely."

Dr. Giddings will speak in the High School Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, especially to the pupils of the Sanford schools. However, every citizen of Sanford is cordially invited to attend this lecture, free of charge.

At eight o'clock, Monday evening, Dr. Giddings will speak in the Baptist Temple, and we hope to see a large audience there to greet the Doctor, and to learn more concerning the Great War, and its various problems, as they affect us in our daily life.

Let's show our loyalty and patriotism by being at the Temple next Monday evening at eight o'clock. Let's do our part towards WINNING THE WAR.

Remember, both of these lectures, by a most eminently qualified speaker, eleven years a newspaper man, thirty-three years a college professor on the greatest and most important subject of the day, are absolutely FREE.

fire of congratulations for the varied display; the growing celery field and the uniqueness of the patriotic arrangement of the exhibit. The big cannon resting on a bale of Seminole cotton donated by the progressive L. A. Brumley keeps up a fire of "food ammunition" shooting corn, potatoes, beets and turnips across the booth into a net just outside. On the barrel of the cannon is the wording "Elevation: Middle-o-France" and just above, a large Seminole county sign is suspended, while underneath, the legend "There Ain't No Mason-Dixon Line," indicates the broad national cooperation under the one Great Flag. The wonderful Wakefield display of marmalades, jams, etc., hold the attention and admiration of thousands every day. Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, in company with some of Jacksonville's leading citizens paid the Seminole county exhibit a personal visit yesterday and unhesitatingly pronounced the exhibit as unsurpassed by any on the grounds. The first Seminole county citizen honoring the exhibit with his presence was Col. Schell Malnes, one of the Fair directors and the second was Mr. H. G. Dieterich.

All told, twenty-two counties have entered but so far only eighteen are on the ground and up to last night, only five were complete to enter the contest. Besides Seminole they are: Clay, Alachua, Bradford and Washington. The counties checking into date are: Seminole, Clay, Columbia, Gadsden, Alachua, Brevard, Dade, Bradford, Monroe, DeSoto, Polk, Palm Beach, St. Johns, Washington, Duval and Broward. The State Farms have an individual showing in the Agricultural Building, as has also Tarpon Springs sponge industry. Only two counties, according to the general opinion have a chance of competition with Seminole, these are Washington and Alachua. All however are works of art showing the various products in a grand display.

Varied Industries Building

In this building various concerns have exhibits of their product. Notable among these being the Cuban exhibit of the islands products. Cheek-Neal with their famous Maxwell House Coffee are apparently in the lead. The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, true to its progressive spirit are maintaining a booth of service for the out of town visitor. The booth is in charge of R. W. Fearman, assisted by the exceptionally capable, Miss Rosa Goldman. It is asserted that Miss Goldman knows more people throughout Florida than any other lady in the state and to visit this booth one would be satisfied that this is true. Cohen Bros. are also there with a service booth. The progressive American Agricultural Chemical Company have a unique exhibit and prominent in their exhibit is Sanford celery and lettuce. Cumber Lumber Co., The Delco Light and Southern Cypress Company are in evidence with attractive exhibits.

Automobiles and Accessories

Every make of car in the country is in evidence in this building and among the attractive car exhibits can be seen the Hudson, Apperson, Cadillac, Dodge, Buick, Jordan, Oakland and Chevrolet. This exhibit will not be completed before Saturday.

Woman's Work Building

The complete school system of Duval county is in this building and in addition one of the grandest displays of manufactured home products, fancy work and dress material is in evidence. This exhibit is in charge of many of Jacksonville's leading ladies and they are untiring in their efforts to locate and make feel at home the Florida visitors at the fair.

Colored Building

The colored building has done itself proud by having for its care some of the state's most progressive colored citizens and all in all, nothing at the big fair excels the collection the colored folks of Florida have gathered to show their ability and energy. Noticeable in this building is the Fannin Academy of Marion county, showing wood work, fancy work and manufactured steel. (Continued on Page 4)

LETTER FROM THE TELEPHONE CO.

RAISE IN RATES ARE ONLY ACCORDING TO FORMER AGREEMENT

The following letter from David Laird, general manager of the Southern Bell Telephone Co., explains the raise in rates that will soon come before the Railroad Commission here: Mr. R. J. Holly, Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir: Referring to article in the Sanford Herald of Feb. 12th, I am sure our patrons in Sanford are laboring under a misapprehension with reference to our application to the Railroad Commission, State of Florida, for an increase in business rates in Sanford.

During January, 1915, the subscribers of the Sanford Telephone Company signed a petition requesting the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company to purchase, take over and reconstruct the physical telephone property of the Sanford Telephone Company, and agreed in that petition to pay certain rates after the property had been rebuilt by the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company. I enclose herewith copy of that petition.

On February 1st, 1915, the city council of Sanford, Fla., granted to the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company a franchise, and entered into an agreement with the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company as to rates to be charged after the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company had bought the physical property of the Sanford Telephone Company, reconstructed it and built a modern common battery exchange; those rates to be subject to the approval of the Railroad Commission, State of Florida. I enclose copy of the rate agreement of February 1st, 1915, between the city council of Sanford and the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company. The Florida Railroad Commissioners declined to approve the new schedule of rates agreed upon between the City of Sanford, the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company and the subscribers of the Sanford Telephone Company in advance of the reconstruction of the exchange, and on April 19th, 1915, the city council of Sanford as a body and as individuals passed a resolution requesting the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company to purchase the physical property of the Sanford Telephone Company, rebuild it and agreed to assist the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company in securing the approval of the Florida Railroad Commissioners of the rates that had been agreed upon with the city council of Sanford and the subscribers of the Sanford Telephone Company. I enclose herewith a copy of the resolution adopted by the city council of Sanford on April 19th, 1915.

Acting upon the agreement we had made with the city council of Sanford and subscribers of the Sanford Telephone Company, the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company purchased and took over the physical telephone property of the Sanford Telephone Company in April, 1915, built a new modern common battery exchange in Sanford and put the new exchange into service in December, 1915.

I would like to add that the telephone plant of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company in Sanford, Fla., is the best that can be built and equal to any in the world.

The agreement between the City of Sanford, the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company and subscribers of the Sanford Telephone Company provided for the following rates when the Sanford Telephone Exchange has as many as 400 telephone stations, and said rates are to remain in force until the Sanford Telephone Exchange has 850 stations:

- Unlimited Special Business Line Stations, $3.00 per month.
- Unlimited Duplex Business Line Stations, $3.00 per month.
- Unlimited Special Line Residence Stations, $2.00 per month.
- Unlimited Duplex Line Residence Stations, $1.50 per month.

The telephone exchange at Sanford, Fla., now has 552 stations, and the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Station has requested permission of the Railroad Commission, state of Florida, to put in above schedule of rates into effect, which will mean no increase in the residence rates and an increase of $1.00 per month on business stations.

This is strictly in accord with our agreement with the city council of Sanford and former telephone subscribers of the Sanford Telephone Company, and we bought and reconstructed the property in good faith based upon such agreements. We are not now earning a return on our investment in Sanford, Fla., at present rates, and we respectfully ask for the support of our subscribers in connection with our application to the Railroad Commission of Florida for rates as are named in the agreement between the city council of Sanford, Fla., former subscribers of the Sanford Telephone Company and the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. Yours truly, David Laird, Gen. Mgr.

Letter From Sailor Lad

The following letter is from Fred Mansfield to a friend in Tampa and was published in the Tampa Times. Mr. Mansfield is a nephew of Mrs. Jack Vaughn of this city:

Dr. J. F. Harkness of the Michigan Avenue Drug Store received the following letter from Fred Mansfield, who is on board the revenue cutter "Tampa" in the navy. The Tampa is named after this city which was formerly its chief port of call on the revenue cutter duties. Evidently the young man who enlisted here is having a great time, though he says the "U-boats" duck them." No hint of where the boat is or of where young Mansfield has been is given in the letter which follows:

"Jan. 7, 1915.

"Dear Doc: The good ship Tampa is still on top, and all well. Hope this will find you well and business good. I would like to be back in Tampa again, but don't think it will be long before we all will be back in the States. I have had a little excitement with the 'U-boats,' but they won't fight 'always duck. We have got a few shots at them, though. Doc, if there are any boys left there tell them they had better get in the game for it beats shooting quail and is great sport. Don't forget to tell the girls hello for me and wish them all a happy new year. We have had some rough weather lately, but the Tampa is some sea-going ship. I have some fun ragging the New York 'guys' we have on board. They are from the academy in New York. We rag them about the board sidewalks on Broadway. I would like to say where we are at and what we are doing, but we are not allowed to say anything about the movements of the ships. If you happen to see any of the parents of the boys we have aboard tell them we are all well and getting along fine. We are getting all the sugar we want and I'll bet you a half a crown that you are not, Doc. If you would call up the Times and have them put up a word or two in the paper to that effect the boys will appreciate it and will reciprocate your favor when we get back by bringing the girls around and eating your ice cream. Somebody is playing the piano, and you can guess they are making some fuss singing 'Home, Sweet Home,' and singing love songs. But it will be 9 o'clock soon and then they will have to pipe down and stand by their hammocks. Wish you could sleep one night in one of these hammocks when it is rough. You would never die happy 'till you did it again. We call them 'dream sacks.' We had a swell dinner Christmas and New Year's, and plenty of music, but no wine—you know we are all on the water wagon now. I have got a bad cold. Guess I will see the doctor tomorrow and get some 'black pills.' They give us them for colds, headaches, toe aches and toothaches. They say the army uses brown ones, but we all think the black ones are the prettiest and all the boys are foolish about them. Write me a long letter, and tell me the news. Yours, Fred Mansfield, N. S. S. Tampa, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y."

Qur. Rabbits.

The term rabbit was formerly more properly applied to the burrowing species of the old world, Lepus zuniculus (meaning to burrow), though by common usage our woolly cottontail has so long been termed a rabbit that the name will now stand; as will that of jack rabbit for the big western hare of the prairies and Pacific coast.

MEATLESS AND WHEATLESS
 These Days Will Be Observed Religiously
 Meatless and wheatless days are going to be real meatless and wheatless days in this state, if one can judge from the voluntary, patriotic effort of the dealers.
 During the past week the merchants of DeLand who handle meats got together and decided to close their places of business on "meatless" and "wheatless" days. On Tuesdays they will sell no meats, and on Saturdays they will sell no pork. This action was taken after they had been informed as to what had been done in Duval county, which leads the movement in Florida, and made it successful from the start.
 The plan was taken up by Hafford Jones, food administrator for Hillsborough county, and is being worked out successfully in that section of the state.
 J. Walker Pope, food administrator for Polk county has announced that his section, or at least, the larger towns have organized and will strictly observe meatless days.
 George P. Morris, food administrator for Alachua county had the greatest of success in getting the movement started in Gainesville and will extend it to other towns of Alachua county.
 Dozens of messages are received daily by Braxton Beacham, federal food administrator at Orlando, announcing a willingness on the part of meat dealers to cooperate fully by refusing to sell meats on Tuesday and pork on Saturday. The "wheatless" days are being observed very largely in all the big towns and cities of the state.
 Mr. Beacham is gratified with the responses of the people of Florida indicating that they are not lacking in patriotic spirit and energetic effort in support of the food administration.

All hotels and restaurants holding bakers' licenses will be required to print their license numbers upon all menu cards, the food administration announces. Bakers' licenses are required for all public eating places using as much as three barrels of flour a month.
 Office-Federal Food Administrator, Braxton Beacham.

PLANT THE GARDEN
 And Thereby Reduce the High Cost of Living
 To the People of Florida:
 United States Food Administrator Herbert Hoover has urged the Federal Food Administrators of the various states to make a special appeal to all farmers and stock growers, poultry growers and gardeners, to give greater effort than ever toward producing food supplies.
 In calling attention of the people of Florida to this most important work, as Federal Food Administrator, I strongly urge compliance with Mr. Hoover's suggestions. I want to impress upon all, whether they have a farm or merely a small garden that they should at this time determine to plant quickly and as extensively as is possible, confining their crops to the most essential food products, such as potatoes, corn, beans and other staple crops which can be depended on to maintain quality and wholesomeness for the longest period of time without expensive preservatives.

 Growers of cattle and hogs should go in for raising just as many animals as they can properly feed and rear to maturity. No young animals should be slaughtered. Herds should be increased. No productive hens should be killed. Egg production should be stimulated.
 Home gardeners who so nobly responded to the call for "war garden work" should add if possible to their efforts of the past year. Every successful home garden means much in the matter of food supply. Home gardening should be devoted to raising not only perishable vegetables, but especially, potatoes and beans which can be easily and inexpensively preserved. In every community where home garden committees have been appointed a new and more strenuous campaign of education and effort should be immediately inaugurated as the planting season is at hand. Where this work has not been developed, steps should be taken to institute home garden activity.
 Every foot of land converted into food producing capacity is that much aid to the country. Every ounce of vegetable or animal food produced helps to make us independent of other states, and also helps to lighten the burden of transportation. Plant early and plant as much as you can. Do it now or as soon as reasonable weather conditions prevail.
 Raise and consume as much fresh produce as possible and preserve your surplus.

Braxton Beacham,
 Federal Food Administrator, Fla.

FREZZES AND BOLL WEEVIL
 No Reason to Believe That the Cotton Pest Has Been Exterminated
 Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—It is extremely unwise for cotton farmers to assume that the freezes of the last few weeks have exterminated the cotton boll weevil, says the Department of Agriculture, in answer to many inquiries from the south.
 During the past winter the temperatures have been lower than at any time since 1899, and there can hardly be any doubt that this extreme cold has reduced the numbers of weevils in many sections of the south. The impression has been gained by many planters that the weevil has been reduced to negligible numbers, if not altogether exterminated. It is too much to expect that the temperatures have been uniformly cold enough to absolutely exterminate the weevil from large areas. The records of the Department of Agriculture indicate that there is at least from 1 to 5 per cent survival of the weevil in those sections which have been thoroughly studied as against a normal of 7.6 per cent survival. This percentage of surviving weevils is sufficient to re-stock the cotton fields of the south before the end of the growing season.
 There is always a possibility that there may be some specially sheltered spots in the more northerly infested regions where some weevils will be able to survive. The instinct of the weevil leads it to seek the warmest shelter available in the vicinity of its breeding ground. It will shelter itself under the bark of trees, or in thick hanging moss upon the trees, under the thatch of roofs and in straw stacks, in seed storehouses and gins, and in other buildings. It is therefore quite easy to see that no matter how cold the external temperatures are there is always a probability that there will be weevils surviving in each field sheltered securely enough to carry them through the winter.
 The experience of 25 years with the boll weevil in this country has shown one or two weevils surviving in a field can easily produce enough offspring to destroy all but the earliest portions of the crop.

OUR HOME GUARDS

Three years ago we laughed in scorn at the alarmist who tried to point to our state of unpreparedness. "America needs an army?" no such thing was the sentiment of two-thirds of the people. Now we are compassing heaven and earth to equip an army that should have been equipped years ago.
 We are sending raw troops to France where we should already have veterans in the trenches.
 And so it is with the Home Guards. When the local branch was first organized in the city of West Palm Beach many laughed, yet all know that German spies are within the states and may be right right here among us. Every day witnesses some act of vandalism traceable to that source.
 How many times in recent years have disturbances broken out in this country of too great a magnitude for the state constabulary to handle?

It is of frequent occurrence. Can we say that we have seen the last of such? And if not, when they do occur, to what force will we look to restore order? The troops will be across the waters, or at least out of the states' control and otherwise busily engaged.

Palm Beach county has an organization of able bodied men, patriotic, as any who marched away, who were too glad to enlist in the Home Guards and be ready for Home Defense. These men are either, above the draft age or have a home with loved ones depending on them, but are none the less making efficient soldiers.—Palm Beach News.

THE RUSSIAN TRAITORS

Now that the Socialists, the soldiers and workmen and all the rest of the so-called Bolsheviks of Russia can see where their lunacy has brought them it should be a lesson to the rest of the world in regard to this haphazard idea of reform in government by the rabble. The chimerical ideas of allowing two anarchists like Lenin and Trotsky to rule Russia and under the guise of ruling to betray her into the hands of the Germans is enough to sicken the world against that bunch of traitors and anarchists and to forever bury the hope that any such rot will ever become popular in a civilized country.

And after witnessing the dirty tactics of these Russian traitors we would turn our attention to our own country and ask you to remember that those people who are tying up the industries of the country at this time are also of the Bolshevik, class and that they should not be tolerated. We want none of the anarchistic spirit in this country and while we are at war is a good time to get rid of them.

If there are any in Sanford like a can to them or tie a rock to them and dump them in Lake Monroe. Either a man is an American now or a dirty traitor and it makes no difference who he is or where he came from he is just that and no more and no less. It is high time that the Bolshevik methods were wiped out and America and Americans have stood for these tricks long enough. The man or woman who is not with the government is against it and the person who is against it is a traitor. There is no other angle to which you can adjust your glasses.

You can see where the Russians have gone in their anarchistic evolutions and maudlin sentiment will lead any country into the maelstrom of disruption if allowed full sway.

THE AUTOCRACY OF SELF

A human clod!
 Clod-like he gazes without understanding or belief when he listens to words of truth that burn and spar their hot way into the hearts of the responsive intelligent, loyal Americans that stand about him.
 Clod-like, he can only roll down hill—repeating parrot-wise that damnable treason of some mouthing slacker whose mushy excuses for slacking are puerile, sneaking subtleties to cowardice and laziness of mind and body.

Whom?
 Do you need to ask? Look about you! Look at the man who thinks he has made his fight for humanity when he has contributed a paltry dollar to the Red Cross!

Look at the man who, out of his abundance has bought a dozen Liberty Bonds because he knows they are a safe investment, and pits that bit of business against the life of his neighbor's son who is fighting in France that his own country across the ocean shall not suffer bloody wounds tomorrow or a decade hence.

"Shudder for the time who refuses to sacrifice his time for the nation's work because he's too busy. BUSY! God save the mark! One man, accepting a responsible part in the Second Liberty Bond drive because it seemed to be the easiest way to serve but having done absolutely nothing to help during the drive, told a field man one day last week that he would not have time to prepare his county for the drive in the next two weeks because he was "going to be too busy." Inquiry among the man's friends disclosed the nature of his business. He had PLANNED FVOR A TWO WEEKS' FISHING TRIP!

These clods constitute an autocracy as devilish as the Kaiser's hated power-lust. They constitute the autocracy of self. Selfishness lowered in increasing ratio to the very reverse of monumental, but as deep as monuments are high!

God in heaven, men! Are your brains dead? Are your hearts cold stone and still? Do you not know that Russia has disarmed against the Germans and that the Kaiser's shouts are echoed by his minions and his millions of blind followers? Do you not know that vast storehouses of food and vast fields of productive land have been opened to the enemy in Ukraine? Do you not know that to neighbors of the war lust maddened country ruled by the imperial murderer of Europe it begins to look like their day of vassalage is close at hand and that they may at any time cast their lot with his in order to save themselves from fancied total destruction!

Oh, the pity of it! That freethorn men should so little understand their relationship, one with another and their common dependence, that they can hesitate and parley and excuse themselves from a duty for which life itself was given them as a ransom.

Oh, the pity of it! That American men can pinch and hold the dollar that liberty needs—nay, pinch and hold and dole out only for shame the minute or the hour their country calls for.

Oh, the pity of it! That men and women in this moment of ennoblement should set up their puerile and feeble protest against the little inconvenience of economy in the grains and meats needed by the real Americans who have reared a bulwark of their devoted breasts between us and slavish, moral death.

Oh, the pity of it! That heroes' blood should spill for love of neighbor and of friend and yet must save the cankerous clod that lies inert and ugly in Liberty's narrow pathway!—Leesburg Commercial.

NAGGING AT THE SOUTH

Last year it was Carl Vrooman and this year it is Clarence Ousley talking nonsense about the south. Last year it was asserted that the south imported three quarters of a billion dollars' worth of foodstuffs from the north, the implication being that this section lacked this enormous sum of feeding itself. It is not improbable that the south did import from the north three quarters of a billion dollars' worth of foodstuffs but it exported to the north rather more than that amount. But we hear over and over again that the south must feed herself as if the south were not entirely doing this and had not been doing it for many years. The Wilmington Star has been caught by this chatter, and says:

"The government certainly must be getting tired begging the south to do what it ought to be wise enough itself to do as a pure matter of self-protection. We ought not to be willing for the west to feed us while the country is fighting the war of its life, and it certainly ought to humiliate us to have to eat out of the government's hands."

The Times-Union has published time and again figures taken from the Year Book of the department of agriculture showing that while the south did not produce all the grain her people used she did produce enough more than her share of other foods to more than make up her part. If the south is urged to produce all the grain her people use she can do it, but if this is the idea why not say so instead of pretending that she is not producing her share of the food. In addition to food this section produces all the cotton and tobacco—the first as much of a necessity as food is. She is able to produce her share of the food in addition to this because while this section has only one-third of the population of the country it has very much more than one-third of the agricultural population.

The south has been denounced for profiteering because of the high price of cotton. To the extent that this price has been increased by a combination to hold cotton so as to force up the price the act has the strongest condemnation of the Times-Union. But the price has been due almost if not entirely to the smallness of the crop and this in turn has been due to some extent to the appeals that have been made to the people to raise more food. This has reduced the cotton acreage, reduced the production and increased the price. If the south is actuated by pure people her people will plant more foodstuffs and less cotton this year and get a still higher price for cotton. But it will come with poor grace to complain of the price if it is caused by the use of lands for food production at the request of the government.—Times-Union.

ONE REMEDY SUGGESTED

Elmer White formerly of Gainesville but now editor of the Douglas Island (Alaska) News, suggested a remedy for the present railroad congestion. Mr. White says:

"One way in which the government could greatly facilitate transportation and lend valuable aid in breaking freight blockades would be to eliminate from the mail service thousands of tons of worthless literature with which the country is being flooded these times—literature, the nine-tenths of which is seldom read, the nine-tenths of which is seldom read. If half the mail cars were ditched and the locomotives required to move them were hitched up to freight cars, the congested conditions in freight circles would be remedied in a short time. About the only organization which is not already flooding the country with literature advo-

British Government
 The British Government have on display an exhibit that requires five baggage cars to handle it. Trench warfare and the guns used are interesting; especially so since these same guns have been in actual use in France. A big tank that has seen two years of service fighting the Huns is present and, in looking at this giant one is impressed with the grim determination of the allies in the great war. The Tommies have charge of this exhibit and hours must be spent in order to appreciate this wonderful attraction.

ment seeking to embarrass the present Governor.
 The committee couldn't see it that way, however. The terms of J. V. Burke and John Neel will expire with the meeting of the next senate.
 In the resolution declaring the qualifications for electors in the Democratic primary, H. S. Glazier of Manatee moved to strike out the words "that such legal elector is a white man." His own vote was the only one-cast in favor of it.

The Davis, of Orange, resolution placing all offices in the primary includes all of those mentioned in the Metropolis Saturday.

To see the fair at its best it is suggested that Seminole county people postpone their visit to Jacksonville until next week, say Monday or Tuesday and it would be well for all to wire or write their hotel for reservations, as Jacksonville today has no vacant space in any hotel in the city. In case accommodations cannot be found, if the home folks will call at the Jacksonville Tourist Bureau on Bay Street, and iron tools. Daytona colored schools have an excellent exhibit showing the untiring effort of that section's leaders. An especially attractive and unique exhibit is that of the Old Folks Home. This exhibit is in care of Eartha White and the design is touched by nothing to be seen at the fair. Uncle Tom's Cabin, as pictured by Harriet Beecher Stowe is the theme of the exhibit; this being built in three days by Titus Tillman, eighty four years of age. The old well and moss covered bucket is there just inside the miniature rail fence, the old frying skillet is in place and beside the wall, an old banjo more than one hundred years old together with the old flint lock musket, tells one of the original days of Dixie. It is hoped that all Seminole county visitors will look up this display when they visit the fair.

SUPT. LAWTON HONORED
 First Alumnus of Rollins to be Elected Trustee of His Alma Mater
 A policy of electing a trustee of the College from the Alumni has been adopted by Rollins and our own superintendent of public instruction, T. W. Lawton is the first to receive this distinctive honor.
 Some time ago a "post ballot" was taken among the Alumni of the College to decide who should be trustee from Rollins' Alumni. This resulted in the nomination of Thomas Willingham Lawton, Rollins '03, for the place on the board. Yesterday Mr. Lawton received the following letter notifying him of his election on the board.
 February 23, 1918.
 Mr. T. W. Lawton, Sanford, Fla.
 Dear Mr. Lawton:—I take pleasure in advising that at the annual meeting of the trustees of Rollins College held February 20 you were unanimously elected a trustee of Rollins College for the term ending February 20, 1919.
 Yours very truly,
 W. R. O'Neal, Secy.

This election is truly an honor to be bestowed upon any man and Mr. Lawton is today receiving many congratulations in which The Herald most heartily joins.

Entered Apprentice Degree
 At the next regular communication of Sanford Lodge No. 62 F. & A. M. which will be held on March 5th at 7:30 p. m., the Entered Apprentice Degree will be conferred. Every Mason in this community is cordially invited to attend. Twenty-two visitors representing eighteen different states attended our last meeting, which shows that the field of Masonry may be defined with these expressive words:
 "From pole to pole,
 Its sacred law expands,
 Far as the mighty waters roll,
 To bless remotest lands."

Mrs. W. P. Wallis and Miss Jessie Walton of Eaton, Ga., are registered at Hotel Carnes.

Second Draft in April. Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—While War Department officials reiterate that no date has been fixed definitely for the calling of the second draft for the National Army, all available outward signs would seem to indicate some time in April, or at the latest, early in May.

Such an estimate is based on the known preparations for equipping and housing the men. It is no military secret that equipment and supplies for men of the second draft will become available soon after April 1, and careful observers expect the first increments to be called soon afterward.

OLD SEA PORTS COME TO LIFE

Revival in Shipping Brings Prosperity to American Seaboard Towns.

ONCE BUSY MARTS OF TRADE

Same Spirit That Made Old Salem Rich Now Seen in Merchant Marine's Development—New Ports Springing Up.

Washington.—One effect of the present rapid expansion of the American merchant marine is a sudden and unprecedented revival of business at certain American ports which a few years ago were thought to have passed their zenith.

Bath, Me., is cited as an example. In the prosperous nineteenth century days of sailing ships Bath was the country's leading shipbuilding port. It declined steadily after the introduction of steel as a building material.

Now Bath, building both steel and wood vessels, is so prosperous that the housing of the workmen taking jobs there is a pressing problem. The same is true of several other North Atlantic ports, while in other seaports ports are springing up where none existed before.

Close observers of the present revival in shipping say that before the United States shipping board's present construction plan is completed—a plan by which a vast new merchant fleet is to be brought into being—the development of American ports will parallel on a larger scale that which took place in the "good old days of the square riggers."

In earlier times, as at present, everybody in a port touched by the prosperity of seagoing was keenly interested in shipping. Present-day secrecy about contracts, sailings and dividends, had its prototype in the secrecy that enveloped such matters more than a hundred years ago, in a score of American ports, notably in Salem, Mass.

In those days, we are told, "rival merchants sometimes drove the work of preparation for voyages night and day. Ships which set out for foreign ports were watched when they slipped their cables and sailed away by night."

Personal Touch in Voyages.
In those times there was a more personal touch in voyages than now, as every man making a voyage was allowed a certain space in the hold for goods of his own. People in the home port of a ship outward bound intrusted their savings to their seafaring neighbors for ventures in far countries.

This spirit of commercial adventure is finding expression today on a larger and less personal scale, say the experts of the shipping board; and these students of conditions trace the present enthusiasm of the nation for seafaring to beginnings in definite periods in which our old-time ports were at the height of their prosperity. In so doing, they cite Salem as a good example of what a venturesome people may gain upon the sea.

Salem at one time stood at the head of the cities of the United States in the value of its imports.

In 1812 it had 125 ships in the deep-water trade, and of these, 59 were East Indian. These vessels brought home cargoes of fabulous richness—silk, indigo, spices, ivory and other products of the far East.

There are old people living in Salem who remember when the city's ancient warehouses were full of "hemp from Luzon, pepper from Sumatra, coffee from Arabia, palm oil from the west coast of Africa, cotton from Bombay, duck and iron from the Baltic, tallow from Madagascar, salt from Cadiz, wine from Portugal and the Madeira, figs, raisins and almonds from the Mediterranean; teas and silks from China; rum, sugar and molasses from the West Indies; ivory and gum-copal from Zanzibar; rubber, hides and wool from South America, whale oil from the Arctic and Antarctic and the sperm from the South Seas."

Pioneers in Commerce.

Salem ships were pioneers in opening new routes of commerce. Salem merchants were the first to bring pepper from Sumatra, rubber from South America and coffee from Mocha. The Salem ship Recovery, Capt. John Ropes, was the coffee pioneer, and between the landing of her first cargo of the fragrant berry in 1798 and 1805, Salem imported not less than 12,000,000 pounds of Mocha coffee.

Salem men were perhaps no more active than other American deep-water sailors of the period but their records were better kept. They abound in stories of their adventures.

Examining the causes of Salem's great fame won upon the sea, a recent historian of the merchant marine found that it was "not in her harbor nor in her store of shipbuilding timber. . . . It was Salem men. . . . Americans of the Americans who built up the romantic commerce that left no sea unvisited, no land unexplored. . . . Their business required iron will and iron nerve, a noble imagination, belief in themselves and in their fellow man."

The case of old Salem, and of the newer ports now flourishing under the impetus of the country's present commercial expansion, convinces the maritime specialists that the quality which won in both cases is a constant one, being nothing less than American enterprise.

HELP! SEND FUEL! PET CANARY HAS YOUNG ONES

(By International News Service.)
Detroit.—"Please, sir, oh, please, if you are humane, send coal to my home at once."
This was the agonized appeal of a woman over the telephone to the fuel administrator's office.
The coal was produced and, when pressed for explanation, the woman added:
"My pet canary is hatching young ones."

GETS HIS FURLOUGH

Private Rambo Sets Fine Example in Contentedness.

Letter to Parents Pleases Camp Commander and Private is Given Leave of Absence.

Camp Meade, Md.—Private D. E. Rambo, Three Hundred Fifteenth Infantry, was spared for the first time since he left his home to fight when he was ordered to appear before the "old man," as Brig. Gen. William J. Nicholson is known throughout the brigade.

"Private Rambo!" the General suddenly barked forth. "Did you write this letter?"

Private Rambo looked, cleared his voice of some of its huskiness and admitted he had. It read:

"Dear Mother and Father:

"Am writing you a letter to let you know I received your letter and also the box (Christmas box). You sent the box by express. Why don't you send them things by parcel post? Everything was fine, but the honey got warm, and ran through the box. The cake was good, too. There's a fellow here I knew up in the city. He thinks your cake can't be beat. We had a fine time yesterday, entertainments and turkey dinner. Now all I want is to get home for a week and then I'm ready to go anywhere. Maw, I never felt better in all my life than I do now. This is sure a healthy life. Plenty of work and all you can eat. Now don't forget to send a cake once in a while, for a box of things like you sent makes life better. You can write and let me know when you send more cake. With love for all, your son, D. E. Rambo."

"Well, Private Rambo," the general boomed again, "you can have that week's holiday home. I like boys who don't grumble all the time."

PERILS OF BIRD SLAUGHTER

National Association of Audubon Societies Points Out Danger of Relaxed Game Laws.

New York.—Grave perils threaten the agriculture of the United States through the indiscriminate slaughter of birds and of wild life, according to a statement issued by the directors of the National Association of Audubon Societies.

Mr. T. Gilbert Pearson, the secretary of the association, in making public resolutions adopted by the board of directors, said that unless every effort is made to enforce all game protection laws, the resulting unrestrained activities of gunners and pot-hunters would soon destroy the natural foes of insects and of rodent pests and of weeds.

"The crops will save the nation," says the official statement, "and the birds will help to save the crops." In this national crisis, America is looked upon by our allies as the granary of the world and the source of food which must sustain the fighters in the months of struggle yet to come. Therefore every effort should be made to increase the yield of our fields.

"This association points to the grave peril which attends the relaxing of the wise statutes enacted for conserving the wild life of this country, which is more and more recognized as an important economic factor."

FIRST NAVAL ORANGE DYING

Parent Tree of California Citrus Orchards Planted 44 Years Ago, Seems Near End.

Riverside, Cal.—The original Washington navel orange tree, planted here forty-four years ago, producer of the first navel oranges grown in the United States and parent of millions of trees now growing in California, is believed to be dying.

Horticultural experts are studying the disease that threatens it in the hope of prolonging its life.

This tree came originally from some point inland from Bahia, Brazil. It was planted here in 1873 by Mrs. C. L. Tibbets, who obtained it from the botanical gardens in Washington. Efforts to discover in Brazil other navel orange trees have so far failed.

Wild Geese Break Glass.

Two Rivers, Wis.—During a severe storm that swept over Lake Michigan a large number of wild geese were sighted. The largest flock was seen at Twin River Point lighthouse. The flock consisted of more than 300 geese. The geese were confused by the flash of the light and broke the tower glass, one-half inch thick. One of the geese killed in the impact with the tower glass weighed over five pounds.

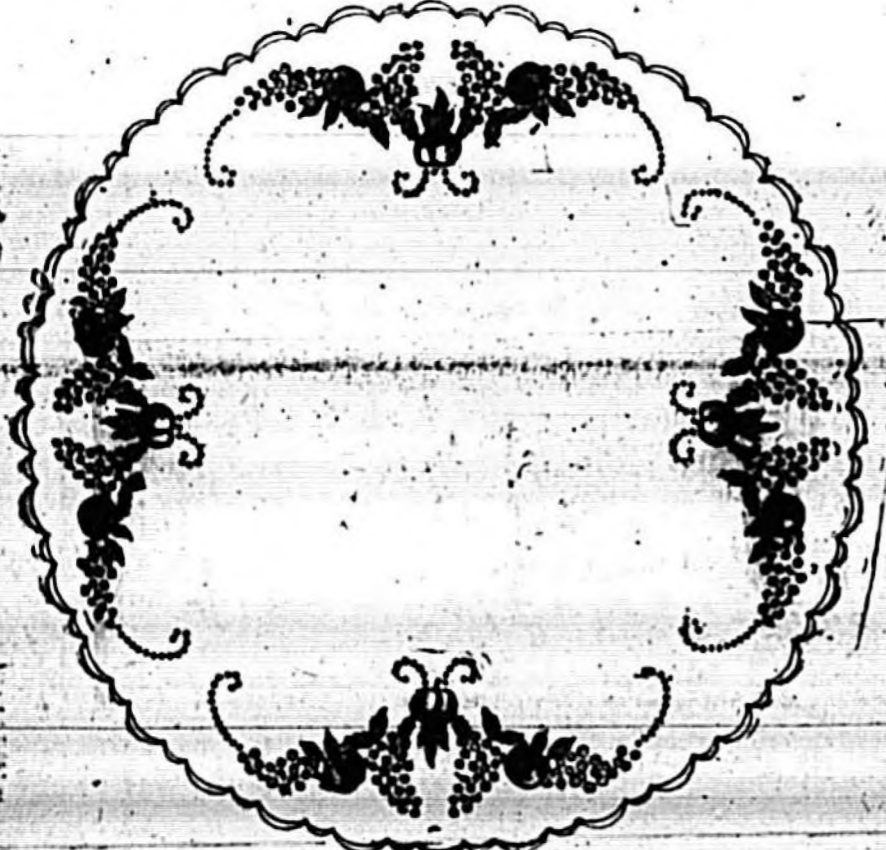

LESSONS FOR THE Home Embroiderer

Specially prepared for this Newspaper by Pictorial Review.

A Feast For the Eye is this Fruit Centerpiece.

By KATHRYN MUTTERER.
New embroideries for the dining table include this exquisite centerpiece in fruit design. Grapes, apples and peaches compose the feast for the eye, for they are done in natural colors upon a background of ecru lin-scallops.

For the woman who prefers the round table to all other shapes because of its traditions and conviviality, there is nothing more novel than this centerpiece. It may be used between meals or for a luncheon

Centerpiece in Fruit Design.

The centerpiece is 54 inches in diameter. The design is worked out in French knots, eyelet, outline and buttonhole stitches.

Embossing A Scallop.

The fruit is first outlined in black or dark blue cotton, then filled in with large French knots in their natural colorings. Blue, purple, light green or dark red may be used for the grapes, red and yellow for the apples and red, pink and rose for the peaches. The leaves are in raised satin stitch in two shades of green. White is used for the eyelets and or tea, for the clusters of fruit are easily transferable to napkins to complete a set.

Nowhere have such happy possibilities been realized as in the attractiveness of the new dining room linens. Although pure linen is hard to secure there are many substitutes which are giving complete satisfaction to needleworkers. Serim and cotton poplin are perhaps the most popular, the former being liked especially for centerpieces, dollies, etc., with hem-stitched borders. Cotton poplin not only takes all forms of embroidery, exceedingly well, but the latest offerings imitate linen so perfectly that it is hard to distinguish them from the genuine material, especially when in tan or ecru. Fine repp is also excellent for dining room and library linens decorated with hand embroidery.

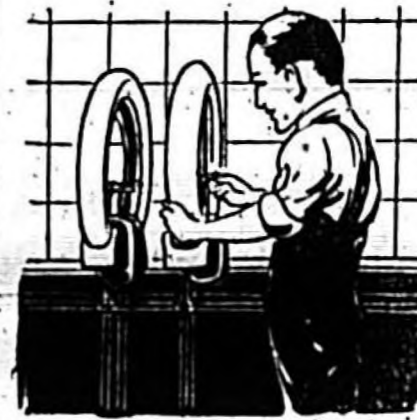

Pictorial Review Embroidery No. 12450. Transfer pattern of 54-inch centerpiece, 40 cents.

On numerous occasions Yost, Trainer Tutbill and other chiefs of the training squad have informed ambitious young football candidates that they never would get to the front unless they showed considerably less consideration for "Gertrude's" feelings.
