CITY TO SELL LAND SECURED IN TAX SALES

City Bonds At Par To Be Accepted In Payment From Persons Interested In Land

Within a few days the City of Sanford will engage in the sale of real estate, and numerous properties scattered throughout the city which have been secured by the city in tax sales will be available to all persons interested.

That was the decision of the Sanford City Commissioners, meeting in regular session at the City Hall last night, to discuss real estate, aviation, golf, tennis, advertising and a host of other matters.

City Attorney Fred R. Wilson reported to the Commission a deed for all pieces of property upon which taxes became delinquent in 1931 and which were purchased at public sale on Mar. 7. He announced that another sale will be held on Apr. 7, at which time another large batch of tax certificates will be offered.

Believing that all interests will be benefited through the sale of the foreclosed lands, the Commissioners, acting mainly in the hope of having the property returned to the tax rolls by new owners, voted that "the property recently acquired in foreclosures will be advertised for sale for the amount of indebtedness the City holds against the property, and that City bonds at par will be accepted for the property, subject to payment of state and county taxes. No abstract will be delivered and the purchaser must pay for the deed and revenue stamps."

With Commissioner H. J. Labman voting "ay" because he believed the measure favors the taxpayer who "owns delinquent" tax certificates, the Commission voted to accept the City bonds at par, provided 1930 taxes are paid in cash.

Despite an extremely low collection of taxes, the Commission voted to order tax books, officially closed at sundown Mar. 22, with the publication of the lists of delinquent property owners hanging upon the willingness of the bondholders' Protective Committee to pay for the costs of publication.

Aviation came to the attention of the Commission through application for appointment as manager of the Sanford Municipal Aircraft of R. B. Scherer and G. A. Jones, and an application by a representative of the Standard Oil Co. that the firm be given a permit and lease to erect a dispensing station at the field. The permit was granted.

The Commission voted to pay R. J. Goodinger, former manager of the port, also released, $100 in cash for his equity in the harbor, and to assume the cost of the harbor.

Hardee Assails Statements Connecting His Name With Carlton's Administration

PERRY, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—Cary A. Hardee, native son of Taylor County, came home yesterday for the purpose of vigorously assailing "the series of oriented statements and oral declarations which have endeavored to show an alliance between the Carlton administration and the candidacy of the Live Oak banker for another term as chief executive of Florida."

Mr. Hardee's informal speech, following the scheduled addresses in the local courthouse by former Gov. John W. Martin and Stafford Caldwell, of Jacksonville, was enthusiastically received by his hearers, many particularly appreciating that portion of it which added a new touch to the present gubernatorial campaign, the absolute denial of any connection with the present administration.

Referring to Mr. Martin, the other former governor, declared: "I have no quarrel with the candidate who spoke before lunch, but as most of his talk was based on my candidacy, I thought I had better discuss some things he referred to."

"It is a reflection on the intelligence of an audience for a man to make charges against an opponent which are untrue. You were told this morning that Carlton's forces are supporting me. I don't know who Carlton will vote for. I hope he will vote for me and that the other folks up there do likewise. I want their votes as well as those who went for my opponent in 1928 when (Continued on Page Two)

ALABAMA SEEKS BOOST IN POSTAL RATES URGED AS REVENUE GETTER

Ways And Means Body Okeys New Plan To Meet Huge Deficit

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—Simultaneous with the approval by the House Ways and Means Committee of a substitute plan for the defeated sales tax bill, Speaker Garner today approved for support for the measure to balance the budget, new proposals, including a one cent boost in first class postage rates, estimated to give the bill a total of $1,293,000,000 revenue. The projected deficit of the Treasury in 1933 is $1,241,000,000.

The plan calls for reducing surtax and corporation tax exemptions; repealing several administrative provisions of the present law; and raising stamp, bond, and real estate conveyance, and numerous other special taxes.

President Hoover announced today that he is "absolutely opposed" to the statement by Congress of additional soldiers bonus legislation and indicated that he will veto such a bill if it is passed by the House.

The Judiciary committee rejected the floor bill to repeal the James Five and Ten prohibition law.

The revolt that raged in the House over the revenue bill for two weeks began crumbling yesterday and the steady influence of party leadership was seen in a determined drive for a measure that will balance the budget.

Speaker Garner and Representative Snell, of New York, the Republican leader, have realigned a majority of their forces despite the intransigent that swept the ranks last week, and caused the defeat of the sales tax proposal.

Taking an unusual course for a speaker, Garner went on the floor today to urge his colleagues to approve a bill that will meet the prospective treasury deficit.

The revived strength of the party leadership was evidenced in the overwhelming defeat of Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, a leader of the successful sales tax returns. He was defeated 123 to 18.

This was the day's chief action in the House. Eastern Democrats, led by Representative O'Connor, of New York, charged southern and midwestern Democrats with inserting tariffs in the bill and denouncing bowling alley next to local theaters.

SLANDER IS CHARGED IN SHOUSE TALK

Wood, Indiana, Terms As "Utterly False" Accusations Made In Recent Address

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—Representative Wood (R. Ind.), last night accused Joseph Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National committee of having made three "utterly false charges" against President Hoover in a recent radio address.

Speaking by radio himself, Wood enumerated them as follows: "First, that it was not until last Saturday that President Hoover made any appeal to the Congress or to the American public to balance the budget."

"Second, that the existing deficit was created by this Republican administration."

"Third, that President Hoover introduced part of an effort on the part of the House of Representatives to pass a tax bill."

Wood said he was speaking to answer what he termed "the slanderous statements made concerning the President of the United States."

"Mr. Shouse personally is not of sufficient consequence to warrant the distinction of being singled out for reply," Wood said. "It is a fact that his utterances were made in his capacity as the official spokesman of the Democratic National Committee that demands what he said to be given direct and positive refutation."

The body will be sent to Mrs. Matthews' old home at Barnesville, near Columbus, Ohio, for burial in the family vault.

Seminole County farmers who attend the regular meeting of the Seminole Agricultural Club at Seminole High School Thursday night, starting at 8:00 o'clock, will be given the opportunity of hearing one of Michigan's outstanding seed experts in a lecture on "Seed Experimental Work."

The speaker will be H. N. Coulter, superintendent of the experimental gardens of the Percy-Morse Seed Co., of Rochester, Mich., and he will bring with him several reels of instructive motion pictures.

He is the principal speaker at meetings in Deland, Leesburg, Lutz, Lake Wales, and Lakeland, and all meetings are under the auspices of the Florida Citrus Growers Clearing House Association. He left here early this morning.

BARTOW AREA QUIET AFTER TENSE DAYS

National Guardsmen Withdrawn From Jail Where Killers Of Police Are Held

BARTOW, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—With threats of mob violence dissipated, national guardsmen were withdrawn last night from the Polk county jail here where they protected two men and a woman brought from Lakeland for safe keeping after their arrest for the slaying of two policemen Sunday.

During the day the masses of machine guns poked out from nests of sand bags to command entrances to the courthouse building that houses the jail. Guards patrolled the courthouses floor to prevent entrance by persons who could not satisfactorily explain their business.

Perry Ayres, 24, who with Joseph E. Johnston, 26, is charged with first degree murder of T. A. Nicholson and W. T. Barnett, Lakeland policemen, maintained in jail here yesterday that he didn't "do anything" and stoutly denied having fired any shots.

Ayres was calm. He declared: "I didn't do any shooting. I haven't shot anybody. They can't do anything to me when I didn't do anything."

Ayres talked to Tribune reporters in the Polk county jail here about daybreak yesterday morning after they accompanied him and Johnston, and their national guard escort, here from Lakeland.

Parton Asks Property Owners To Lend Aid

City Sanitary Inspector G. P. Parton today issued an appeal directed to all home owners or others who have been in the habit of depositing wet garbage in paper and wooden boxes, crates and barrels that are uncovered, that they secure covered cans as soon as possible.

The coming of warm weather and thousands of flies who breed on the refuse contained in open boxes or crates makes this appeal necessary, he said, as does the elimination of all unsanitary conditions throughout the city.

Mr. Parton stated that all collectors have been instructed to remove all worthless receptacles, and, after giving due notice, and to notify the Sanitary Officer in case of a failure to comply with the law.

Clearwater Begins Six Day Jobless Aid Drive

CLEARWATER, Mar. 29.—A ready sale was found yesterday by the city unemployment relief committee for its labor certificates, as a campaign opened to raise $10,000 within six days for unemployment relief.

Representatives of justice and civic clubs, women's organizations and other groups yesterday started on a house-to-house canvass of all sections of the city.

The labor certificates present a new plan for unemployment aid. They are issued in denominations of 25 cents to $2 each and may be used by the purchaser to pay for unskilled labor at 25 cents an hour, the worker to be employed by the unemployment relief committee.

Mayor H. H. Baskin, chairman of the committee, yesterday afternoon said applications already were on hand for workers.

Mixed Marriage Plan Of Catholics Disputed

NEW YORK, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America disagreed with the Catholic Church's attitude on "mixed marriages."

APPEARS HERE SUNDAY

Jack Wood, noted Michigan outboard motorboat racing star, now a resident of Winter Haven, who will bring his entire fleet of fast outboards to Sanford for the races here Sunday afternoon, starting at 1:30 o'clock. Seven boats comprise the fleet. Wood has won nearly 10 races since coming to Florida, and is one of the most capable drivers in the state at the present time.

BANKERS ASSERT GLASS BILL WILL SLOW RECOVERY

Southern Men Among Group Appearing Before Senate Body

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—Bankers opposing the Glass bill designed to prevent use of federal reserve facilities for stock market speculation told a Senate committee yesterday its enactment now would "prolong the depression."

Emphatic in making this prediction were Leonard P. Ayres, a business journalist and vice president of the Cleveland Trust Company, and Rudolph Hecht, New Orleans, president of the economic policy commission of the American Bankers Association.

Members of the committee questioned the witnesses closely. Senator Glass, Senator Bulkin, and others took the position that legislation intended to prevent a repetition of the 1929 stock market collapse should not be delayed.

Both Ayres and Hecht contended the measure is "deflationary" and would tend to restrict credit.

Before the House Banking Subcommittee at the other end of the Capitol, Prof. Irving Fisher, economist of Yale University, gave strong stabilization as a first essential in restoring prosperity.

Ayres told the senators business is "still declining" and that since a study of past depression since recovery has been more slow than before, it appears that "we are not more than half way through this recession."

At the same time he noted "a better situation in banking."

W. R. McQuinn, of the Board of National Bank, Jacksonville, Fla., objected principally to a certain limiting real estate loans to 50 percent of the time deposits of a bank and to the power that would be given the federal reserve board to restrict collateral security loans of member banks.

The real estate loan limitation, he contended, would affect the banks in Florida which lend to citrus fruit growers on their land as security. He advocated an amendment which would permit exemption of such loans.

As to the collateral security loan provision he said, "I don't think that by legislation you should attempt to tell the banker what he may and may not do." He argued that "no board at Washington can know a situation as well as the banker on the ground."

Nearly 80 Women Golfers Of City Invited To Play In Tournament

The Blonde and Brunettes, teams of Sanford women golfers, will engage in a one-club tournament over the Sanford Country Club course Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock, according to an announcement from Allan H. Stewart, professional at the club, today.

A luncheon will follow the playing of nine holes, he said, and all reservations must be made by tomorrow night.

NORFOLK MAN CONFIDENT OF BABY'S RETURN

Clergyman Who Is One Of 3 Intermediaries Returns Home After Talk With Lindbergh

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—Declaring he is optimistic as ever, Rev. H. Dobson-Faucher, of Norfolk, one of the Lindbergh baby intermediaries, left for Virginia today by airplane. "As a result of this publicity," said the minister, "the happy ending may be delayed a little while but I am confident that there will be a happy ending."

On a mission he completed, the Rev. Dobson-Faucher came here yesterday to tell Col. Charles A. Lindbergh of a "contact made with the kidnapers" of the famous flyer's son.

The Rev. Dobson-Faucher, started back home with the statement there probably would be another conference with Lindbergh within three or four days.

He declined to discuss the information he had passed on to the father of the child who was stolen 27 days ago from his crib, but twice to spoke of the "optimism" he and two other prominent Norfolk residents, acting with him as intermediaries, have that the missing baby will be returned to his parents.

"The conference was the result of a contact made with the kidnapers," he said.

"Did Colonel Lindbergh receive your information with optimism," he was asked.

"I cannot speak for Colonel Lindbergh," he replied. "All I can say is that we are optimistic."

His apparently referred to himself, John H. Curtis, Norfolk boat builder, and Rear Admiral Guy E. Burgess, retired, who have been associated since Mar. 9 in efforts to obtain the return of the child.

Over the weekend Curtis made a mysterious airplane trip for the purpose of meeting the kidnapers. His associates, however, did not make it clear yesterday afternoon whether the "contact" to which he referred had been made by Curtis on his trip or at some earlier time.

All further questions brought the same reply: "I cannot discuss the conference (Continued on Page Four)

Snarl In Congress Seen As Having An Effect On Markets

NEW YORK, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—Continued "snarl" of the American dollar in foreign exchange markets and of the United States government budget in the New York stock exchange yesterday were attributed to a snarl in Congress over balancing the national budget.

International banks and money lenders noted a distinct drift of funds away from the dollar to other currencies, some of which rose to levels in terms of the dollar which would make export of gold from New York profitable.

Gold movements yesterday were negligible, however, perhaps due to the lack of sailings of fast trans-Atlantic liners.

Reports of efforts to jam through Congress a new soldier bonus legislation which might require some $2,000,000,000 and further increase the public debt was regarded by many dealers as a contributory cause to weakness in government bonds. One of the sharpest declines was in the Liberty fourth four and one-half percent, which declined $7.50 to $98.12 per bond of $100 denomination.

Leading bankers felt that the selling of the American dollar in the foreign exchange market was but a momentary flurry.

Papworth, Haines On Committee Of Fifty

Harry Papworth, Sanford, and R. F. Haines, Altamonte Springs, were elected to represent Seminole County on the Florida Citrus Growers Clearing House Association's "Committee of Fifty" at a regional meeting held in Deland yesterday afternoon. Mr. Papworth presided over the meeting.

Karl Lehmann, speaking in the absence of L. H. Rhodes, commissioner of the State Marketing Bureau, who was prevented from being present by illness, placed the citrus industry as standing first in Florida commerce, and pointed out its importance in connection with other allied industries.

He stressed the need for greater unity and cooperation among the marketing agencies of the state as well as among the growers themselves.

J. C. Norton, Auburndale, E. H. Williams, Crescent City director of the association, and J. W. Starke, Sanford, made short talks.

Other committees named from Seminole County were: R. J. Goodinger, Deland; J. W. Starke, Sanford; W. H. Cross, Ocala; and R. B. Collins, San Mateo.

A Y. C. -Sanforded Lafayette Springs, Florida, reported for lunch.

City Milk Ordinance To Be Tested In Police Court Friday Afternoon

The City of Sanford's recently enacted ordinance prohibiting the sale of all pasteurized milk or milk products produced outside the county unless pasteurized in the county will be tested in Municipal Court at 2 P. M. on Friday afternoon.

That is indicated in information from yesterday's police court decision which sets a case against Jim C. Fisher, driver for the Daiton Dairy, Inc., who was arrested on Wednesday for selling pasteurized milk. The case was postponed on Friday.

GREAT BRITAIN DENOUNCED BY IRISH REBELS

to set up a republic, smash the Anglo-Irish treaty and remove British interests from Ireland.

At Cavan, a half-mile of republicans marched without arms to hear a speech by Madame Maude Gonne McBride, the Irish "Joan of Arc."

"De Valera is making a great stand against England, our only enemy in the world," she said. "So that we help him in every way."

Five brigades of Dublin men—about 2500—gathered on St. Stephen's green and marched through the city to that garden of bitter Irish memories, Glasnevin Cemetery. They were unarmed and without uniforms, but were well drilled.

Following the Irish republican army were members of the Eamonn Dail, republican party of the Fianna de Valera, new Free State president, who has notified Great Britain that he intends to abolish the oath of allegiance to the King, almost the last tie that binds the two countries.

Behind the Fianna Fall followed the Scouts, Girl Scouts, women's auxiliaries and smaller affiliated groups, who brought the parade to a total of at least 4000 persons.

Perhaps half of Dublin's half-million population lined the streets to see the marchers. They watched in a silence that was interrupted only by a few scattered cheers.

There were no smiling faces in the marching line, which included youths and gray-haired men.

At the grave of the men who led the rebellion—fifteen Irish rebels were executed for it, but a pack of street fighting cut other lives—lips were blown, the republican constitution of 1916 was read and Moss Towner proclaimed

Real Communism Seen As Far Away After New Decree

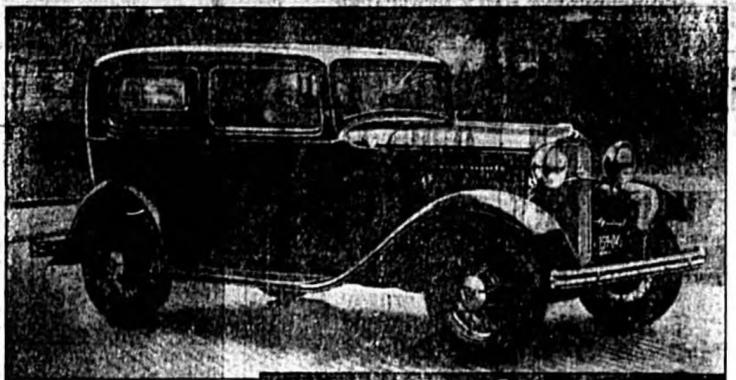

MOSCOW, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—Realization here that the soviet state still is some distance from real communism was indicated yesterday in a decree of the communist party's central executive committee that hereafter livestock privately owned by individual members of collective farms will be protected.

The decree condemned some cases of compulsory conversion of such property into common ownership. It promised to prosecute those responsible, but went a step further and promised government assistance to those members of collective farms who were unable to acquire their own livestock.

There are three forms of rural property ownership under the present socialist scheme, namely: The agricultural association, permitting peasants working collectively to retain their own homes and other property. The artel, where only livestock can be privately owned. The commune, where everything is common property, the organization of communes has not been pushed and artels have been encouraged as the best form for the present stage of development.

Collective farms may be in any of the three categories.

1932 Model Ford To Be Displayed Soon

DETROIT, Mar. 29.—The new Ford V-8 will be shown to the public in 200 cities in the United States and Canada Thursday, Mar. 31.

Announcement of the date, made today by E. C. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, brought to a culmination months of preparation on the part of the Ford organization, which is giving employment to 100,000 Ford workmen.

Ford manufacturing and assembly plants are supplied by 5,200 other manufacturing plants throughout the country.

One of the chief factors in the Ford announcement is the confidence shown by Henry and Edsel Ford, that a measure of business revival is possible to the country at this time.

"We know exactly what the car will do," Mr. Ford said. "One of our objectives has been to develop an eight cylinder engine with plenty of horsepower and yet so simply designed that its simplicity will be as much a feature as its speed and power. That enables us to build and sell it at a price to fit the average present American pocket-book. I'll say candidly we have quit figuring costs on the car. The more you figure costs the higher the price goes, and this is no time for high prices. Time and money have not entered into our calculations. We have believed it our duty to do everything necessary to start employment again. Now we are ready to go ahead. Next Thursday the country may judge our work."

"In addition to our eight cylinder car of 65 horsepower, we are offering a new four cylinder car of 40 horsepower. Either may be had in 11 different body types. Except for the engines, there is but little difference between the two cars. Bodies and chassis are practically the same. There will be, however, a difference in price. For while the V-8 will sell at low price figures, the 4 will sell at still less. That is our conception of expanding service to the motoring public, particularly in the fact of present economic conditions."

Simultaneously with the announcement of the presentation of the new cars, the Ford Motor Company made public the following details: The new Ford is large, long, roomy, fast, powerful and about its V-8 engine develops 65 state horsepower.

The new Ford V-8 is capable of 70 miles an hour.

Fourteen body types of modern streamline design are offered. The four cylinder engine, developing 40 horsepower and capable of 65 miles an hour, also can be supplied with any of the body types at a lower price.

The new car embodies a number of outstanding features including a silent synchronized gear shift and silent gear, engine rubber mounted, down draft carburetor and carburetor silencer, automatic spark control, and a diaphragm type pump which drives fuel from a tank in the rear. There are also coil springs and a newly designed rear axle, a new front shock absorber, a new front wheel brakes, newly designed electrically welded steel body with large hubs and low caps and larger tires. The chassis and running gear are cushioned by rubber insulators in the spring shackles and shock absorber links. The body is insulated in the frame by rubber pads.

The bodies are fresh and modern from the gracefully rounded V-type radiator to rear bumper. The six-cylinders are carried out by the long hood, with its rustless steel center strip, the slanting safety glass windshield, and rounded roof line. The convex lamps, full cased fenders and long, low running board harmonize with the balance of the design.

Body interiors are roomy and richly furnished. Seats are of new style, designed for the utmost comfort. Driver's seats in all closed cars are adjustable. A large ventilator is provided in the top of the cowl. The instrument panel is oval and has a rustless steel mounting strip. Inside sun visors, which fold out of the way when not in use, are provided in all closed cars.

The new Ford V-8 engine is compact and remarkably free from vibration. Overlapping impulses deliver the power in a smooth constant flow.

The engine is of the 90-degree V-type, having an S. A. E. rating of 20 horsepower and developing 65 brake horsepower at 2400 R. P. M. The 65 pound crankshaft is of the 90-degree type with its four cranks at right angles to each other.

Hardee Assails Men Who Link His Name With Doyle Carlton

Park Trammell beat him for the Senate. No human candidate would miss trying to get all the votes he can.

"If my opponent wants to fight the present governor, that is all right with me. Let me say now and this will stand through the last speech of my campaign, I have made and will make no promises to anyone for appointment to offices.

"Doesn't achievement tell the best story? The man himself is the platform, not what a man seeking office may tell you or promise you. What a man did in private life he generally will do in public office.

"I turned the state over to the man you listened to this morning without a penny of indebtedness, with sufficient balances in every fund and over a million in the general revenue fund.

"You have heard much about his claims regarding the road department. If you listened to all he has said over the state, you think no one else ever built any roads. During my administration, we conceived the idea of a system of raising money for roads that would be least hurtful and so we established the first gasoline tax of one cent per gallon and in 1925, we raised it to three cents. The Miller bill of that year established the preferential system of highways connecting sections of the state. When I retired from office in 1925, 890 miles of this system had already been completed.

"I'll tell you what the records show. He did construct a thousand miles during his term but did you know an equal mileage was built in just three years of the present administration. It was easy for Martin to connect up gaps in main roads that were started during my administration and claim credit for the entire system. If all the roads he has already promised to build were to be built in four years, it would take the next quarter of a century to pay for them. I am going to think more of service than of being a ballyhoo artist about the state.

"An my opponent say that he retired from office without any debt? There was a deficit in state funds of nearly two and a half million dollars, in an old drainage fund of nearly two million, a large sum in the road department and although borrowed funds of other departments were transferred to the general revenue fund, it was still $750,000 in debt to Jacksonville, New Orleans, Tampa and New York banks. In addition, $600,000 from the state school fund, made inviolate by the Constitution, was dissipated. Statehood is to be found not only in solving our immediate problems but to take care of the boys and girls to come after us.

"I told one of his friends to tell him he was running four years too soon. Let me straighten up our debts first and then let him go there and have a good time.

"During my years, we maintained the state government on forty-eight million and during his it was one hundred and forty millions. Somebody will say the difference of ninety millions was clearly they would seek to eliminate both.

Boost In Postal Rates Urged As Revenue Getter

Without debate, the House adopted the committee's proposal for a slight revision on the capital gains and loss provision to permit the taking of credit for one year on losses in making income tax returns.

Garner and Snell met with members of the Ways and Means Committee and discussed behind closed doors a substitute for the defeated sales tax program.

Besides excise levies on selected industries, the program is expected to carry an increase in first-class postage and a levy on short sales of securities and commodities. The subgroup had before it yesterday Secretary Mills, Assistant Postmaster General Tilton and J. W. T. Duvel, chief of the Agriculture Department's grain futures administration.

When Speaker Garner took the floor, he told his colleagues of the financial condition of the country and the imperative need to re-establish the stability of government finances.

At a conference with newspaper men he said:

"It is my view that the budget must be balanced. It has come to a point now where the worst kind of taxes are better than no tax at all.

"I advocated the sales tax because I thought it was the easiest way to balance the budget, as a temporary measure. But the House did not care for that kind of a tax.

"Unless the budget is balanced foreign exchange will depreciate and I don't know what would happen. You would find the dollar would be affected in foreign exchange."

Acting Chairman Crisp of the Ways and Means Committee, pleaded with the House to cooperate in expediting action on the bill.

"Word has just been brought to me that stocks and other things in New York are dropping," Crisp said. "They dropped last week. It is imperative for the welfare of this country that this House of Representatives determine what it is going to do in trying to balance the budget.

"If you love your country, you can show it by refraining from speecmaking and by passing a bill that will balance the budget. Majority Leader Rainey served notice he would demand another ballot on the high surtax rates bill before the House.

When LaGuardia was defeated on his amendment to give publicity to income tax returns as was provided in the 1924 Republican revenue bill that was written on the floor under the leadership of Garner, then a member of the Ways and Means Committee, the New Yorker assailed the House for its action and Rainey, who voted against it along with Crisp, said he saw no good through publicity and that it merely would satisfy curiosity."

His terms were accepted over those offered by A. B. "Pop" Wallace and Sid Rive, well-known local players, who, with Barnes, sought the managership. The new manager announced that first practice will be held at Municipal Park Wednesday afternoon from 4:00 o'clock until dark.

Several players, including Roy Harrison and John Edward Higgins of last year's team, were on hand, and declared themselves as ready to enter the field this year. The Tillis brothers, and Walter "Bookie" Bach, former diamond ball stars, and at least 10 more players will be on the field tomorrow afternoon.

"I want every man or boy in Sanford who wants to play ball on the club this year to bring his glove or mitt to the field tomorrow, so that we can get under way in good shape and be among the winners on the opening day," Manager Barnes said at the conclusion of the meeting.

He added that every player in the city will be given an equal opportunity to make a place on the nine or on the roster of 15 men allowed under league rules. Practice sessions will be held daily, and exhibition games with nearby clubs will be played as soon as a creditable team can be whipped into shape.

The directors voted to begin a ticket selling campaign late this week, with the hope of selling at least 2,000 tickets good for 10 home games during the first half, before the season begins. Admission prices were cut down to what manager Barnes termed "common sense prices." The new scale is as follows: Men, 35 cents; women and children over 10 years of age, 15 cents, and colored fans, 25 cents.

"The price asked for a season ticket is unusually low," President Ludwig said this morning, "and our directors feel that every merchant and baseball fan in this city can well afford to purchase at least one of the tickets. They not only insure baseball here this year but entitle the holder to all home games during the first half. We have no intention whatever of 'milking' the merchants every few weeks for baseball funds. All we ask is that they buy one or more tickets just now."

Capone Aided Marked For Death, Says Newspaper

CHICAGO, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—The Herald and Examiner says it has learned Frank Nitti, chief lieutenant of Al Capone, who returned here last week after serving 15 months at Leavenworth, has been marked for death by his erstwhile associates.

The diminutive gangster, who won the title "The Enforcer" because of the stern discipline he meted out to rebels in the Capone camp, had expected to take charge of the syndicate during the incarceration of Al, the paper said.

Murray Humphries, the present leader, was to have been relegated to a subordinate post, under Nitti's plans.

Humphries led a revolt, according to the paper and was joined by such tribal chiefs, as "Red" Barker, "Three-Finger Jack" White, Klondike and Spike O'Donnell, Frank McElrane, "Red" Bolton and "Bubs" Quinlan.

The paper interprets the controversy as foreshadowing disintegration of the Capone syndicate and as a possible precursor to a bloody gang war.

Col. Henry Barrett, Chamberlain, director of the Chicago Crime Commission and officials of the police department admitted they had heard whispers predicting Nitti's early death.

NOTED RABBI DIES

JERUSALEM, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—Rabbi Chaim Sonnenfeld, world-famous leader of the extreme orthodox Jewish organization, Agudath Israel, died here yesterday. He was 86 years old. More than 10,000 Chassidim Jews attended his funeral.

ENTIRE DELAWARE TOWN SOLD TO PAY MORTGAGE

LAUREL, Del., Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—An entire village nine homes, a general store, a sweet shop, a storehouse, an abandoned backyard and an assortment of barns and outbuildings went under the sheriff's hammer Saturday.

It was the village of Hearn's X roads, and it was sold for $8,500 to satisfy a $16,000 mortgage on it held by the Sussex County Trust Co.

Hearn's X-roads was a thriving community until the main highway was re-routed five miles to the east. Then it all became the property of William F. Wainor, who lives in the biggest house in the village.

Sweet potatoes supported the residents until the market declined.

Spencer, Allen Sweep Honors In Golf Meet

ORMOND BEACH, Mar. 29.—H. T. "Pug" Allen, DeLand professional, and G. W. Spencer, Sanford amateur, teamed Sunday to win the season's final Central Florida golf league amateur-pro four-ball tournament when they circled the Hotel Ormond course to post a best ball of 65 for the 71 par layout.

Bill Goldbeck, Daytona Beach, and Jack Dunn, Buffalo, former Dartmouth College athlete, finished second for the third time during the season, garnering a 67 for their trek around the 18-holes.

Cy Young and John Pierce, both Daytona Beach amateurs, copped the third award, the pair collaborating to finish with a sub par 66. All amateurs were allowed one-third their club handicaps which gave Young three strokes and his partner four.

Missing Photographer, Known Here, Is Found

Word was received here today that Frank Bell, Miami newspaper photographer who disappeared last November the day after he visited in Sanford, has been returned to his family in Jacksonville.

Suffering from a complete loss of memory, Bell was found in Winston-Salem, N. C., and was returned to Jacksonville. Physicians in that city say that he probably will recover his memory, but they cannot say definitely how soon it will be. He evidently suffered a severe blow on the head, judging by a scar, physicians said, which probably caused the loss of memory.

Dimply Dumplings

Dimples and dumplings should have dimples. That's an undeniable fact. Perhaps this similarity and the further fact that both are delicious is why babies are sometimes called dumplings. But you should keep your dumplings and babies carefully separate because the former should be steamed or baked, but the latter never.

Here are recipes for a couple of dumplings guaranteed to have dimples and full of delicious fruit which are just the thing to fill the cracks and crannies with a sense of warmth and comfort these cold winter days.

Use The Axe

While Congress is floundering desperately around in an effort to find new methods of taxation for the admittedly important job of balancing the budget, cries continue to be heard from all parts of the country to use the axe. Congressmen and administration leaders seem to have completely overlooked the fact that a budget can be balanced as well by reducing one end as by increasing the other. Practically their only efforts have been in the direction of additional revenues.

The Tampa Tribune insists that the high cost of departments and bureaus have aided the non-collection of foreign debts in making necessary the levying of additional taxes. When the suggestion is made that these federal costs be reduced, the answer is that they are essential to the proper functioning of the government, that the people demand such functioning. The Tribune then goes on to show how federal expenditures have increased during the past twenty years, as follows:

In 1911 the Department of Agriculture cost $13,916,000, and in 1931 it cost $296,385,000, a 18-fold increase. In the same period the country's agricultural business expanded by only about one-third.

The cost of the government's independent offices jumped from $165,500,000 in 1911 to $1,306,000,000 in 1931—an increase of more than one billion dollars.

The Department of Commerce quadrupled its budget in that time, going from $15,200,000 to $160,400,000.

The cost of the Department of the Interior nearly doubled, increasing from $40,580,000 to $71,500,000.

There was almost a five-fold increase in the Department of Justice, where expenditures rose from $9,500,000 in 1911 to $44,835,000 in 1931. The cost of the Department of Labor in 1911 was $3,200,000, and in 1931 it was $12,100,000, or almost four times as much.

The Navy Department's expenses jumped from $120,700,000 in 1911 to $354,000,000.

Whereas the Postoffice Department showed a small profit in 1911, it had a deficit of $145,700,000 in 1931.

The cost of the State Department increased from $4,900,000 to $18,000,000.

The budget of the Treasury Department mounted from $122,400,000 in 1911 to $1,346,800,000 in 1931—an increase of more than one billion dollars.

In the War Department expenses went from $187,700,000 to $489,200,000.

The cost of maintaining the District of Columbia, only $12,300,000 in 1911, was $48,300,000, or nearly four times as much, in 1931.

Legislative expenses increased by $10,000,000 in the 20-year period.

Everyone who has been in business during the past five years knows how difficult it is to cut. Every housekeeper, who for years was maintaining her family on three hundred a month, knows how difficult it is to reduce these living expenses to the one hundred mark. But they have done it, not in one case, but in hundreds of thousands. Everyone has had to cut down. But the government goes merrily along insisting that its expenses are necessary and that it must have additional revenue to maintain them.

After there has been a vigorous use of the axe in trimming federal expenditures, then will there be ample time to talk of new forms of taxation.

The Rochester Plan

During the past few weeks there has been quite a little local activity in what might well form the basis of a lively "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign. A number of residences which for several years have obviously shown the need of a fresh coat of paint are now receiving treatment. A number of others which were gradually approaching the status of wrecks are being renovated and put in a liveable condition.

Just what can be done along this line when an entire community wholeheartedly goes after it is illustrated by what is now known as the "Rochester Plan" invented by a retired manufacturer who for a long time had intended to build a formal garden in the rear of his home but who, as a result of a rather human characteristic of procrastination, had never gotten around to it. He bought one day for a contribution to the unemployment fund, he decided to build the garden, thus doing his part for employment and at the same time obtaining his garden.

He told his friends about the idea and they passed it along after following his example. It wasn't long before an organized campaign was under way getting housekeepers, business men and industrialists, to pledge themselves not to wait any longer before having needed repairs or construction work done, but to do it now. The city and county were divided into districts and over a thousand patriotic solicitors went to work securing pledges.

The results were surprising. Porches were built on houses which had needed them for years. Floors were repaired. Garages were constructed or enlarged. Roofs were fixed. In at least one instance a $33,000 home was built which might not have been built for several years. Many much needed improvements in factories were made. Before the campaign had ended, 10,771 persons had pledged themselves to spend $6,036,251 within the next three months on painting, repair work, and construction which otherwise would likely have been postponed indefinitely.

The indignant boast of the unemployed workman is that he doesn't want charity, he wants work. How much better it is to put him to work by pledging one's self to have that repair work done now, than by contributing to an unemployment fund!

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Navy department officials are greatly pleased with the result of the speed trial of the great dreadnaught battleship, Florida, queen of the United States Navy, made yesterday afternoon off the coast of Maine. The Florida made an average slightly in excess of 22 1/2 knots per hour on the run. She is commanded by Capt. Harry E. Knapp. The Florida's test trip ended at Provincetown, Mass. today, shows her to be the fastest craft of her type in the world.

Now that it is certain that Judge James W. Locke is to resign the federal judgeship of the Florida circuit and district courts within the next few months, many have

WHAT SUBSTITUTE?

Let us get the straight of the issue now concerning the lower House of Congress and soon to convene the Senate. The rejection of the sales tax yesterday by the House only makes it more acute.

The income tax of the government from import duties has fallen into insignificance. The sales tax has killed the goose that laid the golden eggs. The tax on incomes has taken a tremendous header, due to the leader which incomes have taken. The expenditures of the government, due to the fact that three-fourths of its obligations are, in substance, the dead horses of old wars, can be reduced in no such measure as the government's income has been cut.

The result is a government deficit which last year amounted to nearly $1,000,000,000 and which this year will be enormously larger still, hardly less than $2,500,000,000. This means that this year the government is spending $5 for each $2 which it receives. How does the government get along?

There is only one way to get along. It must borrow. From whom must it borrow? It borrows, in the first instance, from the banks. Every little while the Treasury issues and the banks are obliged to take securities, the government's notes, to cover the running costs of the government. To float these securities the government, as its obligations rise, must from time to time increase its interest rate. The banks understand that further loans wait ahead for them to float.

To be in readiness for that call, the banks, instead of letting their liquid capital float out for the stimulation of business, must hold it ready for loaning to the government. From serving the needs of business, the banks are diverted to serving the needs of the government. As long as the government's deficit continues, the dividends of the country's business capital must continue. Credit extended to business makes jobs, produces wealth. Credit diverted to the government sustains activities which, in the main, create no wealth, make no jobs. Business is stranded that government may float.

Ahead, on this course, ruin lies. In Washington and out of Washington this is seen and anticipated. Smaller deficits could be borne. So huge a deficit, if persisted in, will shortly sink the strongest government. Firm-minded men agree that the deficit must with all speed be wiped out. Expenditures must be

Smith, Boyle Conclude Throughs Attend Last Rites For Crawford

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 29.—(A.P.)—The Spring term of the circuit court, presided over by Judge Millard E. Smith, Titusville, came to a conclusion Friday afternoon in so far as criminal cases are concerned, when nine of the 12 persons indicted pleaded guilty. Two persons under indictment have not been arrested, and one, ill in jail, is said ready to plead guilty to charges against him.

Mr. Boyle's preparation of charges to be investigated by the grand jury, and his leadership before that body met with the approval of the jury, which declared in its final pronouncement:

"We wish to thank the Hon. Millard E. Smith, Judge of the circuit, for the courtesy shown this body and the able instruction given us. We wish also to express our appreciation of the patient effort and courteous manner in which Hon. L. F. Boyle, state attorney, co-operated with the jury in the discharge of its duties."

The following plea of guilty in criminal indictments were entered when prisoners were arraigned before Judge Smith Thursday: Ed Pasco, alias Ed Wiggs, entering a forged instrument. A. K. Brown, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony. Angelo Sparr, John Tull, Donald Bathan, and John Musch breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor.

and were beaten in a cleanly played and interesting game by a score of 5 to 4. Even though it was the first game of the season for the Sanford outfit they both battled and outplayed the Kissimmee team and were only beaten by that old baseball luck, "the break."

Mr. Joe Cameron has come forward with his usual generosity and given two lots on the part of Sanford and Cameron Avenue for a M. E. Church and parsonage.

Mr. E. S. Gray and family have moved to Sanford from South Carolina and will make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Alice Messinger.

Sanford business men ought to call for a good hard round between here and Orlando, running via Rock Hammock, as the great development contemplated in that section will mean an increased trade for Sanford.

NOFOLK MAN CONFIDENT OF BABY'S RETURN

(Continued from Page One) once, if Colonel Lindbergh chooses to, that is all right. I can say nothing more than we are optimistic," said the man.

He did, however, deny three reports in saying he was not taking back any ransom money, that he had not seen the kidnaped child, and that he had not brought to the Lindbergh home a piece of the baby's clothing as proof of the identity of the child held by those with whom the negotiations have been conducted.

State police, who have not been included in the past in Colonel Lindbergh's personal negotiations, at first denied the Virginians had been here, and later said the famous aviator did not see any "specific" significance in the information they had brought.

Gradually came bits of information about the Norfolk angle of the nationwide hunt for 21-month-old Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

From one or another of the three Virginians came these facts: That they had been involved in negotiations about the return of the child since Mar. 9, eight days after the abduction.

That they were drawn into the case when they were approached by representatives of those claiming to be the kidnapers.

That the plan had been to carry out negotiations with the utmost of secrecy, and that the success of their endeavors depended to a considerable extent on their not discussing what they were doing.

After Curtis returned Sunday from his mysterious airplane trip, he said he believed the negotia-

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police superintendent, made no mention of the Norfolk phase of the case in his morning and afternoon bulletins.

His 3 P. M. statement was a repetition of many others that have come from his headquarters in the last few days. It read: "Many new leads have been received. No reports have been received from any of them. No further information has been received as to the whereabouts of Harry Fleischer and Abie Wagner."

In his earlier bulletin he said many police agencies throughout the country are hunting for Fleischer and Wagner, whom he has described as "known kidnapers," and whom he wishes to question about their activities, before, at the time of, and since the child was stolen.

Schwarzkopf also said a nationwide investigation is being made of the Purple gang, to which Fleischer is said to belong.

Married Life Pictured In New Milane Movie

Married life with a husband "who does not understand." In the lonely wife justified in turning to her husband's best friend for consolation? Is the husband wise in fostering this companionship of his wife with a man who can offer her a more pleasant congeniality?

These psychological questions, reflecting intense dramatic situations, prompted Philip Barry to evolve the theme of his absorbing drama, "Tomorrow and Tomorrow," which held the Broadway stage for a long run and will be seen at the Milane Theater Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Paramount adapted Barry's drama to the screen and now Ruth Chatterton, admirably directed by Richard Wallace, personifies a woman who recognizes her own hand and faces dramatic situations that are vivid, gripping, pathetic, almost tragic, yet in the end bring a ray of sunshine.

In Paramount's "Tomorrow and Tomorrow," Miss Chatterton, recognized as an actress of finesse and great emotional talent, plays the part of the unloved and childless wife of Robert Ames. She chooses to become the unconventional companion of another man.

Paul Lukas, one of the screen's major personalities, plays the role of a Doctor of Philosophy and a lecturer on the "science of emotions." Miss Chatterton becomes impressed with his theory that women should recognize reality, truth and ignore "social taboos."

She falls in love with him and they are developed many gripping and highly dramatic situations.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Mar. 27.

The Golden Text was from Isaiah 64: "Since the beginning of the world man have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, besides thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Let them praise the name of the Lord for he is our God, and they were created. He hath also established them forever and ever; he hath made a decree which shall not pass" (Ps. 104: 24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and indomitable quality, except as infinite spirit or Mind" (p. 431).

BARTOW AREA QUIET AFTER TENSE DAYS

Johnston told reporters, "He was shot on Perry and Mrs. Acee, and she was hollering: 'That was the first I thought of a gun. I didn't notice he was an officer until too late!'"

Asked if he didn't shoot the officer from the rear, Johnston bent over, pointing with an imaginary pistol, demonstrating how he fired at the back of the officer's head.

Others held in the double murder are Perry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Acee. Mrs. Acee was brought to the county jail here Monday night by automobile after a sudden heavy rain shower had scattered a mob which gathered at the Lakeland city jail.

The elder Acee remained in the Lakeland jail. His son and Johnston were brought here under heavy guard in a special baggage car attached to the Fort Myers Coast Line train.

The two prisoners, during the train ride, squatted on the floor of the car and talked to each other, apparently unconcerned. The train was met at Bartow by deputy sheriffs and the prisoners were placed in an automobile and surrounded by troops were taken immediately to the county jail.

Both prisoners were questioned by Trial Judge Johnston in the jail. Perry said on a small table during the talk, "I had killed, he recalled his confidence that he would escape punishment. At no time did he show any concern over the mob in Lakeland and the future the killings created there."

Talking how the shooting happened, he said: "We were fighting and when I got up I ran to where Johnston and Barnett were tussling. I saw then they had a gun I heard a shot and I ran around the car. They house and Barnett shot at me I went down through the grass and then to the house, and over to Mrs. Barley."

"Some people had already called the officers. They had no right to come to my house and search for someone without a search warrant."

Here he launched into a vitriolic denunciation of the officers, claiming they persecuted him. He said the officers caught him on the porch of his home and started to beat him. He did not show any bruises or cuts from the alleged scuffle, with the exception of a small "scratch" on his left shoulder.

State Attorney J. C. Rogers began an investigation of the shooting almost immediately after it happened. After a conference with officers, he asked Governor Carlton to call out the national guard troops. Working quickly, Rogers had the coroner's inquest called shortly after the killing and also obtained a court order from Judge H. C. Petteway calling a grand jury session to consider the case. He promised if true bills were returned the defendants would be tried as quickly as possible.

After interviewing witnesses at the inquest and the prisoners in the city jail at Lakeland, Rogers said: "I find this one of the most brutal murders on our record and instigated by the lawless element we have to contend with in this community. The full resources of my office will be used to prosecute those responsible."

used a public statement calling for unity of action in balancing the budget asking the nation to support Congress in the difficult task, and giving courageous assurance to the world that the financial structure of the U. S. government would be sustained.

"He uttered no word of partisanship, he spoke highly of the Democratic leader, he pitched his appeal to save hardship to millions in lofty terms of patriotism. His words gave stability in a world greatly shocked by the failure of the Democratic majority in the House to stand by its own measures, which failure threatened the entire fabric of public confidence."

"The President's statement appeared in the pages of the 'Daily News' morning."

Noted Hygiene Worker Talks Here Tomorrow

Dr. Valeria M. Parker, director of field extension of the American School Hygiene Association, will deliver an illustrated lecture on "Social Hygiene and the Community," at the Milane Theater tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Dr. Parker, a national authority on social hygiene, appears here under the auspices of the P. T. A. council of the county, members of which have been conducting an intensive drive for attendance during the past few days.

Young men and women are particularly invited to attend the lecture, although Dr. Parker will be heard before pupils of Seminole High School at 2:00 o'clock.

Dr. Parker will stress the importance of the development of ideals relating to clean living through the institutions of the home, the school, the church, and the law, each said to take a place in a well rounded program of education and protection for the child.

Political Pot To Boil At Chuluota On May 5

N. C. Jacobs, pioneer resident of Chuluota, today announced that he has invited all state and county candidates to speak at a free luncheon, which he will prepare, and a basket picnic at the Jacobs estate on Gore Lake, Chuluota.

It will be free to the public, and will be served at 1:00 o'clock, Thursday, May 5, followed by public speaking. Mr. Jacobs and S. F. Long of Chuluota, are joint sponsors of the affair.

HONOLULU, Mar. 29.—(AP)—Until the prosecution discloses its hand, defense attorneys for Mrs. Granville Fortescue and the three naval men accused with her of murder will not definitely draft their case.

This was the expressed belief of competent observers who were close to the case yesterday, but one week before Apr. 1, the date the trial is scheduled to begin. The four defendants are accused of lynching Joseph Kahanawai, one of five alleged attackers of Mrs. Fortescue's daughter.

Clarence Barrow, famous Chicago attorney summoned to aid in the defense, was recovering yesterday from a stomach ailment he suffered Friday.

Because of Barrow's age, 75, the defense has taken precautions to prevent him from overtaxing his strength. His work and the hours he will spend at the trial will be lightened as much as possible by younger assistants.

ADVERTISING brings a new world to your door-step

Judge and Mrs. J. M. Beech entertain at luncheon today.

"Work starts on new road." "New York bank seen strength to Britain." "Library share in large bequest." "What an interesting, moving, provocative world the newspapers bring us! News of our friends, of our town, of every-day happenings all around us, and of events that strike the world. Imagine a people without newspapers! We'd be lost."

And imagine trying to live intelligently without this other kind of news: "Sport shirts at reasonable prices." "Hugs, a new lot from Persia." "Six days to Montreal and back, at special rates." "Wicker chairs, as low as $7." "News of food and motor-cars, of ginger ales and pianos, of leather goods and carpet lining."

The intimate, important news is the advertising that influences and charges our whole manner of living.

Make it a daily practice to read the advertisements in this newspaper. Read them carefully, just as you read the news articles. For advertisements, given a chance, will make your life more comfortable, more enjoyable, more productive of good for others and for yourself.
