

C Of C Suggests Services

Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce members had several suggestions for building better relations between the city and their organization at last Thursday's meeting when Mayor Al Lormann, guest speaker, asked for individual ideas on the matter.

Included in services which the city could provide to aid the Chamber in its work were requests for a new city map, an area directory and an ordinance for some control over dogs.

The mayor explained that a new city map is being drafted but that it may take some time before it is completed since it is being done at a very low cost by a draftsman who generously offered to do the work in spare time.

As for an area directory, he advised that an alphabetically indexed book had been placed in the city hall some time ago for this purpose and requested all members to register and to urge their friends and neighbors to sign.

He reported that members of the City Council, at their monthly business meeting, had agreed to have a special meeting devoted solely to the matter of dogs and their control and that action on an ordinance would be forthcoming.

At the conclusion of general discussion, Elton Richards, president of the chamber, continued with the business meeting.

"This reminds me of the old-fashioned Town Meeting which helped build our country and which was the very groundwork of our democracy," he said, adding that he thought such meetings served as an open forum where those present could air their feelings, good or bad.

Richards read a letter from J. Russell Grant who declined the offer of serving again as chairman of the Annual Christmas Party and suggested that the Chamber of Commerce turn the event over to the Volunteer Fire Dept. this year.

Grant said that although he had been chairman of the party since 1958 and always had received excellent cooperation from all organizations and merchants, he felt that the decision by the chamber to omit gifts defeated the purpose of the event.

The chamber voted to accept Grant's suggestion and the offer of the firemen to serve as sponsors of the party. It voted to give $45.00 remaining from last year's fund plus a $25 donation for this year to the fire department and to "transfer to youth full shoulders the responsibility with no hard feelings."

Carl Lommier, in accepting for the firemen, said that plans would continue in the same manner and that the department would look for cooperation from everybody. He explained that the firemen, after the chamber voted to omit gifts, felt that they couldn't support the event under those circumstances and that they were willing to take over and also to arrange for the baskets provided each year to the needy.

Other matters taken under discretion included the purchase of membership signs, means of encouraging residents to shop at home and the importance of the Nova project to the area.

Lormann suggested that a standard sized printed card could serve business members for display purposes and that perhaps the area merchants could sign a cooperative program to attract more local business.

Richards reported that Longwood is included in a recent directory of electronics industries and that it has been predicted that the Nova project will bring 20,000 new residents to the Central Florida area in the next two months.

"I think it's time we got busy," he said, "for I believe that since neighboring counties already are so heavily populated, Seminole County will become the 'bedroom' of the Cape."

Announcement of upcoming meetings and events of interest to the organization concluded the evening.

Lake Mary Event To Aid Fire Hall Building Fund

Auxiliary members of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept. and the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club will sponsor a Bazaar and Ham Supper at the Fire Hall Saturday as their first contribution towards establishing a building fund to add a meeting room on the Fire Hall and to cover the large barbecue pit.

The Bazaar, which will begin at 1 p. m. at the Fire Hall, was chosen as the first in a series of planned money-raising events which the Auxiliary will sponsor as its annual project to aid the department, according to Mrs. Joseph Elth, chairman.

"Although there are many ways the Auxiliary could assist the department, the building program presents the most urgent need especially since, with the addition of the second truck, there is no room now for meeting quarters," she said.

"This added piece of equipment which was acquired, remodeled and fitted for use during the past several months, represents many long hours of hard work and planning by the volunteers in their efforts to serve the ever-growing area as well as the Lake Mary Fire District.

"Since the desired building additions cannot be financed with district tax money, the Auxiliary, this year, will aim all of its work towards providing a fund for this purpose," Mrs. Elth explained.

In conjunction with the bazaar, members of the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club who use the Hall for regular and special meetings, will serve the supper between the hours of 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. and will donate all proceeds to the building fund. Mrs. Olan Boutwell, chairman of this event, reports.

Members of both clubs invite all residents who receive fire protection from the Lake Mary Dept., including those in the district which covers voting precinct 10 and those of surrounding areas not embraced by the district, to give their support by attending the bazaar and supper.

Water Rate Hike Under Discussion

Members of the Casselberry Board of Aldermen met with officials of Casselberry Utilities Co. for some three hours last Friday for an informal discussion of ways and means for the company to receive added revenue without raising its water rates.

Lytle E. Swope, chairman of the board, reported that the matter still is under consideration and will be included on the agenda for the November meeting of the Aldermen.

"Friday's meeting was very informal and was held primarily for the purpose of acquainting the board with conditions being faced by the company which points out that its water rates have remained the same since it began operation in the early 1930's."

"The board has the matter under advisement and it still is under discussion. It is something that must be settled and no doubt will be brought before the board again at the next meeting," Swope said.

DeBary Glee Club Opens Season

The DeBary Glee Club presented its opening performance this season as a "request program" with Mrs. H. Whitaker as director and Laura Platt Brown as accompanist.

Fifty members and guests were in attendance for the program and following business meeting which was conducted with Sidney Swallow presiding.

Set Rummage Sale

The Auxiliary of DeBary's Herbert D. Gibb VFW Post 269 will conduct a rummage sale in Sanford on Friday and Saturday. Sale location will be in the 300 block of Sanford Ave. according to Mrs. Edmund Iovanna and Mrs. Alfred Newell, chairmen.

Osteen To Open Area Celebrations

Parents and teachers of the Osteen School will open annual celebrations of the eve of All Saints Day when they sponsor the first carnival scheduled in the area on Friday.

Mrs. Marvin Riggs, general chairman of the event to be held at the school, reports that Mrs. James Wallin, Mrs. Robert Williams and Mrs. Frank George will judge the costumes at 8 p. m. Some lucky person attending the 7:30 p. m. movie will walk away with a nice door prize which will be awarded at its conclusion.

Other events and chairmen include the fish pond, Mrs. James Nettles; the pick-pocket game, Mrs. Edward Pell; the country store, Mrs. Paul Brooke and the white elephant table, Mrs. Marvin Riggs.

The spook room will be managed by Miss Diane Jones and Miss Frances Riggs, flowers will be sold by Mrs. Hugh Gowan and Mrs. Helen Veino, cold drinks by Mrs. Gerald Housack and pies, cakes, hot dogs and hamburgers by the food committee made up of Mrs. Joe Masters, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Elmer Roberts, Mrs. L. W. Jones and Mrs. John Helms.

Iving Veino Jr. will bring his pony so that the children may have rides.

State Advisor Visits DE Chapter

William Danenburg, state advisor to the Distributive Education Clubs of America, spoke last Friday to the newly established DECA Chapter of the distributive education program at Lyman High School.

Danenburg complimented the newest chapter in the state for having its officers already elected and for having a civic project underway.

The chapter will sponsor a bake sale beginning at 10 a. m. Saturday in front of the Winn-Dixie Store in Matland, Felton Westbury, chairman, has announced that all donations towards the sale will be appreciated by the students.

Adult Fellowship To Present Play

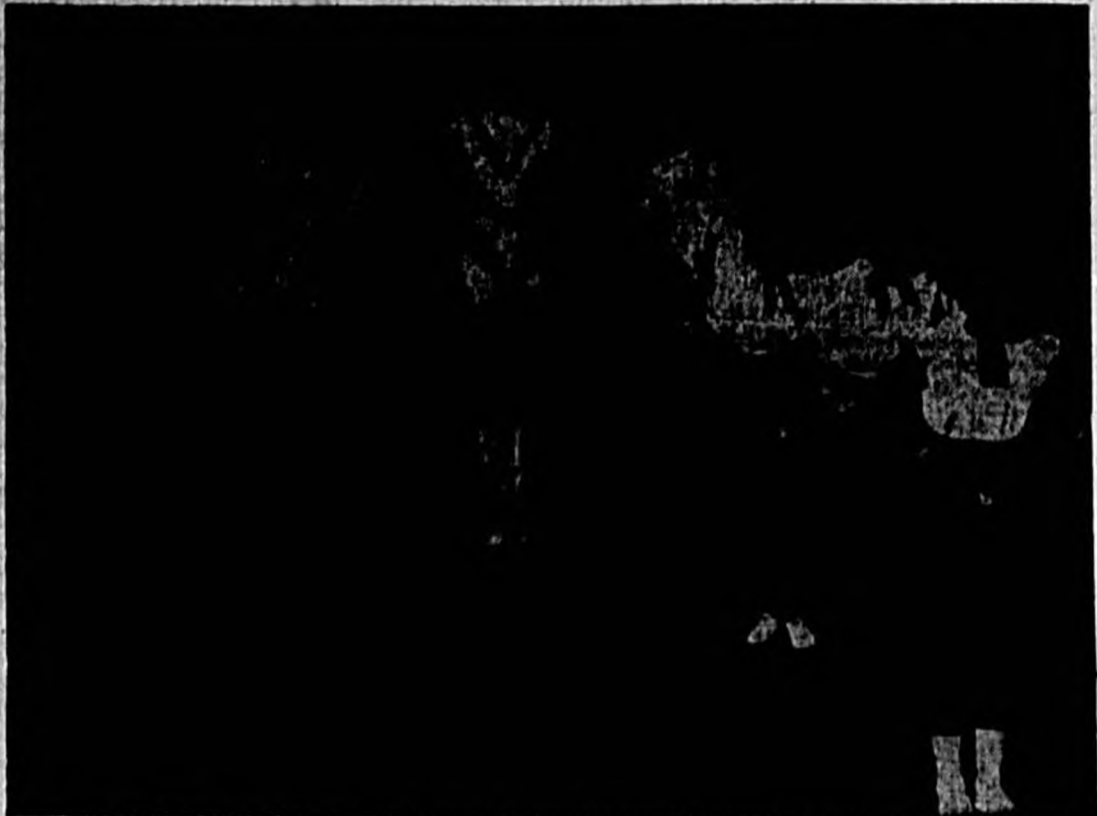

By HELEN SNODGRASS
The Adult Fellowship Supper of the Enterprise Barnett Memorial Methodist Church will be held in the school cafeteria at 6:30 p. m. Friday.

Following the dinner, those attending will be treated to a play entitled "The Ole Man," which promises to be "quite a production."

Area residents who might be seeking an evening of entertainment and companionship are invited to bring a covered dish, table service and family or friends and join Fellowship members who are eager to share the evening.

Plans Car Wash

The Youth Christian Fellowship of the Chuluota Community Church will sponsor a car wash at Glen's Service Station Saturday for the church building fund.

By MRS. CLARENCE SNYDER

A large representation of the Osteen Parent-Teacher Assn. was present for the monthly meeting Tuesday to hear Herman Morris tell of the history of the community and of the school.

During the business meeting with Mrs. Edward Pell, president of the group, presiding, final plans for the annual Halloween Carnival were announced.

To be held on the school grounds beginning at 5:30 p. m. Friday an special feature of the carnival this year will be the sale of a cake, piece by piece, commemorating the 55th Anniversary of the school.

Cookies and coffee were served to conclude Tuesday's meeting by Mrs. James Welch, Mrs. J. C. Carpenter and Mrs. Edgar Sutton, members of 5th grade students.

DeBary Fire Auxiliary Hears Guest Talk On Patriotic Theme

By MRS. ADAM MULLER

Miss Kay Ryan, program speaker for the Auxiliary of the DeBary Volunteer Fire Dept. which met last Thursday, chose as her topic the commemoration of Columbus Day.

Comparing the 1492 explorer with Alan Shepard, today's astronaut, she pointed out the similarity of the two men in their bravery and determination and desire to serve their country.

Speaking of the importance to preserve such characteristics, she warned of the dangers being faced today by the nation's schools and students through Communist undermining. She read a poem praising and glorifying life under the Communist doctrines which narrowly escaped being included in American textbooks and pointed out a number of ways the Red teachings and practices creep into a person's way of thinking before he is aware of their actual purpose.

Members were reminded to attend the film program on this subject which will be sponsored by the Sanford-DeBary Patriotic Society next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. The program will be held in the Fire House, is free and is open to the public.

In other business at the Auxiliary meeting, the group received two new members, voted to donate $10 to the community's Emergency Committee and urged attendance at the United Nations Card Party to be held at the Fire House on Thursday beginning at 7 p. m.

Members also were reminded to place orders for fruit cakes and spices with Mrs. William Ogden so that delivery will be in time for holiday meal planning and baking.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Will You 'Treat'?

It isn't often that a program involving large groups of the nation's youngsters can receive whole-hearted endorsement.

However, Trick or Treat for UNICEF, which began in 1950 with "treats" totalling $34, received such spontaneous enthusiasm from parents and children's organizations that last year some 2,500,000 young people in more than 11,000 communities collected $1,750,000 for needy children and mothers in more than 100 countries.

The very theme of this program is such that it gives our youngsters the opportunity to celebrate the Halloween Holiday to the fullest measure for, in collecting gifts, they also are given the privilege to do the giving.

In Seminole County this year, children of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church and of the Lake Mary Community Presbyterian Church have announced that they plan to join the national effort in collecting for the United Nations Children's Fund... let's all "treat" generously!

Lake Mary Man Raps Area Lack Of Interest

Ed Zimmerman, chairman of the Lake Mary Fire District and president of the volunteer organization, reported today his keen disappointment in the lack of attendance at a CD instrument training meeting Tuesday night at the Fire Hall.

"The meeting was to be the first in a series to train men and women of the area, and particularly the firemen, to use and correctly read radiological monitoring equipment so that someone in all areas could be prepared in case of nuclear attack and resulting fallout," Zimmerman said.

"There were 10 men there... nine of them firemen."

"I don't know what it is going to take to wake up our people who seem to feel that it'll always happen to the other man," he continued.

"Ldr. A. R. Smith, who instructed the first such course for several weeks in Sanford and in much demand for his assistance in all parts of the county, was on hand Tuesday night to teach our class. He generously agreed to continue as instructor and we're going to offer a 'second chance,' so to speak, by changing the class location to the Lake Mary School where we'll have blackboards for illustrative purposes. The first class, then, will be conducted this next Tuesday at 8 p. m.," he reported.

"I can't do much more, individually, to spark interest and attendance at these classes but I can say this... Areas from Upsala to the Wekiva and across to Five Points aren't going to be magically transported to a desert island somewhere if a bomb drops and it's going to take more than a handful of men to do the work during the following fallout period," he concluded.

District Official Installs Chuluota Legion Officers

By CAROL JEPSON

Ken Moyer, district 6 commander, conducted installation ceremonies at the last meeting of Chuluota's American Legion Post for Ray Pents, new commander and Harold McBride, first vice commander. Also installed was M. Mello as finance officer and nominated as Legion chairman for the Saturday Carnival was Wendell M. Jepson with R. Warden, II, Boswell and McBride as his assistants.

McBride, who is the assistant civil defense chairman for the Chuluota area, appointed W. Crossdale and R. Hammond to assist him with the program.

He reported that he had talked to school officials in Oviedo regarding proposed plans for the safety of children in case of emergency and found that only two measures were possible... send the children home, which at this time is lacking in facilities to accommodate and protect the students for any prolonged period.

Stressing that panic will take place if the people are not prepared, McBride announced that a Personal Survival Course will be conducted for Chuluota residents in December. Classes will be held at the Community Building one night each week for four consecutive weeks with the date and time to be announced. He advised those interested to contact your reporter, Mrs. Virginia Chadwick or the Civil Defense headquarters in Sanford.

Shoe Workshop Set Tuesday

Mrs. Joe Wright of the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club will conduct a workshop next Tuesday on covering old shoes with fabrics to match the new wardrobe.

Miss Myrtle Wilson, agent, advises that only those interested in learning to cover shoes need attend the 9:30 a. m. meeting which will take place at the Home Demonstration Center on 25th St.

Equipment needed will include a pair of leather shoes, with closed toes and heels; a small turkish hand towel; sharp scissors; bias tape to match material, knife and nail file, a bottle of Elmer's glue and one-half yard of cotton print material for covering the shoes.

Miss Wilson also advises that if heels on the shoes need repairing, the work should be done before they are covered and that canvas or soft kid shoes cannot be used. Those attending should be prepared to remain through the lunch hour, she said, since the work may not be completed by noon.

Wilson To Head United Citizens

Graham Wilson, senior advisor of the United Citizens of Casselberry, agreed to serve as acting chairman of the organization at its first business meeting of the season Tuesday.

The chairman's seat has been unutilized since the resignation of Herbert R. Olson who moved away from the town several months ago.

In other business at Tuesday's meeting in the Women's Club, members planned a Halloween Party for 8 p. m. on Oct. 28 with Mrs. Milton Lady accepting the appointment as chairman for the event. This will be the second social meeting for United Citizens who opened the season with a barbecue in September at the Lady home.

A brief business session will precede the Halloween Party.

Women's Clubs Set Board Meeting

By JANE CASSELBERRY
The Executive Board of the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs will meet Friday at 11 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Albert Grimwood, 7 Lotus Lake Dr., Casselberry.

In a report from the local club, Mrs. Grimwood said that the women realized $125 from a recent two-day rummage sale held at the Super Value Store on SR 204.

The Sanford Jaycees presented their comprehensive Community Development survey to the City Commission Thursday afternoon in a special session. Jaycee spokesman Jack Wilber told the board that 25 percent of the people in the Sanford area were polled and questions ranged from the needs of government to the economy of the city.

Wilber urged the commission to plan a course of action and stressed the need to study the program which took Jaycees 450 man hours to compile.

"This is the pulse of the community," Wilber said.

The poll was taken several months ago and included homes in Sanford and surrounding areas.

The survey cites the need for more stores in the downtown section; more industry; additional youth guidance work; more schools and classrooms and better paid teachers, improving the courthouse, city hall and fire houses.

Results of the survey reveals:

1- 61 percent of the people polled feel that community leaders are planning for increased services and facilities;

2- 88 percent feel that newcomers to the area are readily accepted and made to feel at home;

3- 47 percent of the people feel that they are aware of the community's major problems;

4- 66 percent of the people are interested in solving community problems.

5- The majority of the people feel there is a need for more stores in the downtown section of Sanford;

6- Majority feel people should work for more industry;

7- 61 percent of the people feel that the Sanford city government is efficient;

8- 44 percent of the people think city hall, the courthouse, jail, fire house and waterworks are in poor condition;

9- 58 percent feel that there is a conflict and duplication of services between city, county and state;

10- 70 percent feel that the community has adequate protection in regard to police and fire;

11- Majority feel the need for more youth guidance work;

12- 53 percent feel the city's economy is secure and expanding;

13- 52 percent feel the community has adequate public utilities;

14- 84 percent feel that there are adequate facilities here for shipping, farm and locally manufactured products;

15- 66 percent feel the need for new industry;

16- 68 percent of the people shop at home;

17- 66 percent of the people feel that the central business district needs stimulation;

18- 69 percent feel the need for attractive approaches to attract industry;

19- 78 percent feel that parks and squares are kept up;

20- 88 percent feel that the local water supply is adequate;

21- 58 percent feel that sewage, garbage disposal and drainage is properly provided for;

22- 78 percent feel there is a need for a community child care center;

23- 88 percent were against a sewage treatment plant that would be paid for by an approximately 20 percent increase to the water bill;

24- 81 percent feel that there are not enough facilities for the aged;

25- The majority feel that the greatest single recreation need is playgrounds.

Pravda Airs Tension Between Red Chiefs

MOSCOW (UPI)—Pravda today printed details of the speech in which Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai chided Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for publicly airing the Soviet quarrel with Albania.

Chou took the floor Thursday at the third session of the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress after Khrushchev had spent two days delivering his massive report on Soviet and world communism.

The first Soviet press and radio reports stressed Chou's expressions of undying friendship between the Soviet and Chinese peoples.

Today Pravda, the party's official newspaper, carried more detail. It confirmed reports that Chou — without mentioning any names — had deplored Khrushchev's attack on the "personality cult" of Albanian leaders.

Chou said it was an unmarxist airing of a family quarrel.

Chou also attacked President Kennedy as "treacherous and adventurous," Pravda said.

Since no delegation from Albania is attending the congress, it was left up to Chou to come to the defense of the little Adriatic country's leaders.

"We consider that if between fraternal parties and fraternal countries arise, unfortunately, disputes and divergencies, they must be solved patiently, guided by a spirit of proletarian internationalism, principles of equality and achievements of identity of views, by consultation," Pravda quoted Chou as saying.

"Openly to place before our enemies the disputes between fraternal parties and between fraternal countries cannot be considered a serious Marxist-Leninist approach."

The Pravda text showed Chou spent a large part of his speech attacking the United States in language that Khrushchev had avoided in his 13 hours of speeches Tuesday and Wednesday.

Wallace Allbritton will probably be named county attorney at the next County Commission meeting Oct. 31.

Conferences (secret) were held with attorneys throughout the week and we suggest that the commission walk to the meetings and not take their caps . . . Too conspicuous.

The new addition to Seminole Memorial Hospital should be completed by June of 1962. Nobody asked me but, with a first class hospital shouldn't the board of trustees start thinking about a resident physician.

Speaking of attorneys as we were awhile ago, the annual Bar Association meeting will be high-lighted tonight with a giant feed at Gordon Frederick's home. We ran into Gordon shopping last night and his cart was loaded down with everything from sour cream to peanut brittle.

The County Commission committee on Civil Defense recommends a 100 man key operational disaster shelter for $150,000 and yet the city is building one to house 40 men at an estimated cost of $14,570 and this includes all radio equipment, ventilation equipment, two weeks supply of food for 40 men, bedding, first aid . . . Who's kidding who?

City Clerk Henry Tamm Jr. reports that 11,700 Sanford tax bills will be mailed out Oct. 31. Tax Collector John Galloway still hopes to have the county bills out by the first of November.

Mystery clue for Jaycee Day Oct. 28 . . . The celebrity has a mighty big political decision to make next year.

The city will start clamping down on parking around city hall. No more of these 30 minute stalls. Parking meters will be installed as soon as possible.

County Commissioner James P. Avery called us last night and said he wanted his Herald mailed to the County Commission state convention in Ft. Lauderdale for three days next week. Most happy to oblige.

The city of Sanford has applied for a permit with the corps of engineers to install a submerged sewer in Lake Monroe at the mouth of Mill Creek near the site of the proposed sewage treatment plant.

Jack Trim's Sanford-mar has opened temporary offices in the Kirk-Plaza Building.

Booster Club tickets will be on sale at the football game tonight. Membership in the Boosters is open to everyone and includes all sports and athletic activities at Seminole High School.

Things will be pretty dull here next week. The majority of the city and county commissioners will be convention bound. City in Jacksonville — County at Ft. Lauderdale.

Housing Project Opening Nov. 19

Grand Opening of the first section of Park Royal Homes, new 180-acre housing development south of Lake Mary on Country Club Rd., has been tentatively set for the week of Nov. 19.

Construction on three model homes will begin next week in the 126-lot section. The entire subdivision has FHA approval, will have its own half-million dollar water and sewage plant and will have paved streets, sidewalks and street lights.

Charles Seligman and Nelson C. Pick, developers, said today that financing will be through First Federal Savings and Loan of Sanford over a 35-year period with monthly payments to run approximately $60. Prices will begin at $10,500.

The residential development will offer Medallion Homes of masonry construction with three bedrooms, one-and-a-half baths and carports and utility room. Each will have a central oil heating system, all electric kitchens and built-in vanities in the main bath. Lots will range from 70 feet by 100 feet with corner properties to be 85 feet by 100 feet.

Drainage is assured by the developers who have opened Soldiers Creek west of the property and have provided for catch-basins on each street.

Gen. Trudeau For Renewed Air Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army research chief believes the United States should resume atmospheric tests of nuclear weapons to keep pace with Russia's super-bomb development.

Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, head of Army research and development, said Thursday night such U.S. tests could help determine whether the projected 30-megaton Soviet bomb could knock out America's underground missile bases.

Trudeau said this country had vastly expanded its knowledge in the atomic weapons field, but that "there are other vast improvements and increased knowledge that could be obtained if we resumed testing."

6 Nations Seek To Block Reds' 'Meg'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Six countries lying directly in Russia's fallout path today sought a General Assembly appeal for the Soviet Union to cancel its 30-megaton nuclear test blast.

A resolution sponsored by Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Iceland, Canada and Japan was to be put formally before the assembly's main political committee this afternoon.

It followed a clear warning that unless Russia stops nuclear tests in the atmosphere the United States will start such tests.

Britain, U. S. May Act Without France

LONDON (UPI) — The London Daily Mail said today that Britain and the United States intend to "go it alone" without France in seeking a Berlin settlement with the Russians.

The newspaper said in a front page story that the next steps in negotiations over the divided city will be taken in Moscow next week by U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and British Ambassador Frank Roberts.

Work Set On New Post Office

Construction on the new post office facility for Sanford, Congressman Syd Herlong told the Herald today.

The apparent low bidder was the Brown, Mason and McHugh Company of Jacksonville. The successful bidder will be awarded the contract next Friday.

Post Office officials opened bids on the postal facility Aug. 28.

The facility will be located between Sanford and Palmetto Aves., west of the Civic Center and will be three times the size of the present facility.

Specifications reveal that the building will consist of an interior of 14,160 square feet; a platform area of 2,385 square feet and a paved area of 32,000 square feet.

The terms of the contract will be for 20 years; one option of 10 years and four options of five years.

Radio Falls In Tub, Kills 2 Tots

CHICAGO (UPI) — The gleeful shouts of small children bathing rang through the home of the Georgy Schuler family in suburban Calumet Park Thursday night.

Then, suddenly, the happy noises became screams of pain.

Mrs. Mary Schuler ran to the bathroom. A radio had fallen into the tub in which 3-year-old Blane and 1-year-old David had been bathing. Five-year-old Debbie was sitting on the edge of the tub, shrieking with pain.

Mrs. Schuler yanked Debbie away from the tub, getting a shock herself. She called her husband, who raced to the room and jerked the radio plug out of its outlet. By this time, Diana and David were lying face down in the water, unconscious.

Firemen and policemen were called by Schuler, but were unable to revive the two small children. Mrs. Schuler and Debbie were reported in good condition.

Police Chief Karl Sawet said Debbie apparently had taken the radio to the side of the tub while she waited for her brother and sister to finish bathing.

Three Of Trujillo Family May Flee

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (UPI) — Three members of the long-dominant Trujillo family were reported preparing today to leave the Dominican Republic, where anti-government violence has been raging all week.

Reliable sources said temporary U. S. visas have been issued to Hector's wife Alma, Rismendi brothers of the assassinated ex-President Rafael Trujillo, and to Hector's wife Alma. Rismendi was said to be planning to leave by air for New York Sunday.

It was not certain whether a third brother, Pedro, also was planning to leave.

Governor's Shelter Construction Set

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The State Cabinet may give the go-ahead Tuesday to construction of a fallout shelter beneath Gov. Farris Bryant's executive mansion.

Allbritton-Williams, Inc., of Tallahassee, won a low bid against five competitors Thursday with an estimated $5,710 for the job. The bid included costs of a generator and communications equipment.

The shelter will contain working space for the governor and key members of his staff, as well as shelter for their families.

The Governor's Mansion Commission held a brief meeting Thursday and approved the proposed shelter as an emergency seat of government.

"We feel it makes good sense to have a designated area from which the governor and his assistants can direct the vital affairs of our state in time of emergency," said Commission Chairman G. Warren Sanchez, a Tallahassee attorney.

Hour Meters Being Put At City Hall

City crews today started work installing 22 one-hour parking meters around City Hall.

The City Commission, meeting in special session Thursday before taking off to Jacksonville for the Florida Municipal League meeting, voted to install the parking meters and do away with the 30 minute parking stalls.

The board tabled action on 30 minute stalls around on the east side of Park Ave. near the courthouse until the new jail parking lot is completed.

In other business, the board authorized city manager W. E. Knowles to get bids and specifications for a new garbage packer.

Winter Weather Spreads Wings Across Nation

The first snow of the season brought an abrupt end to Indian summer from the Mississippi to the Alleghenies today and another vast puff of Arctic air hovered just north of the Canadian border.

Hurricane winds pounded two Texas Towers off the New England coast as tropical storm Gerda moved up the Atlantic with stepped-up fury.

The Weather Bureau said the storm "intensified" while blustering along a course paralleling the Eastern Seaboard.

The center of the storm at midday was located 220 miles south-southeast of Nantucket Island. It was traveling north-northeast.

Warnings of four or more inches of snow were posted in parts of Montana.

The first snow flurries of the season were reported from Wisconsin and Illinois along the Great Lakes and into the mountains of Pennsylvania, Virginia and New York.

Cold rain fell from the corn belt to Dixie. The temperature dropped into the 20s in Iowa and Wisconsin early today after high readings in the 40s from Chicago to Duluth, Minn., Thursday.

Herald Conducts CD Straw Poll

The Herald today is starting a straw poll of its own to determine just what the people want in the way of Civil Defense.

Earlier in the week the County Commission agreed to get a ruling from the Attorney General on whether or not the board can expend money budgeted for Civil Defense for the purpose of mailing double postal cards to all the registered voters on their approval or disapproval of spending on a half million dollar Civil Defense program.

It was suggested to the Herald that many people favor civil defense but think the people should be allowed to determine whether they wish to go "all the way" as Commissioner John Fitzpatrick stated or, for just a "beginning" program as CD director A. B. Peterson requested.

The accompanying coupon will be published on the front page of the Herald for the next two weeks.

"FROM HERE"

...It appears our world needs a lot of 'fix up.' Too often, too many of us do our day-to-day job in a half-hearted way. We lose our perspective... our relationship to the world. We get to feeling our importance. Right there is our undoing. When a man loses humility, he is on the way out. This man, with his wrench, looks at the world from way up. He wonders if he did his best on the foundation underneath him... If the high walls will support the structure he is atop. Both are basic to good building. The church, too, is necessary in the building of character, in the transforming of souls. It will help us greatly in the training of people to help fix our world. It will make good stewards of us who will be more anxious to share the fruit of the vine. So let us attend church or Synagogue every week. Let us, in earnest, help this man 'fix up' our world.

Downhill In Laos

Laos, thrusting part way back into the spotlight that for months has so steadily shone on Berlin, seems no more promising for the West than when it first slipped onto the back page.

Major negotiators discussing a settlement at Geneva meet again and again in what appear to most observers the fruitless sessions typical when Communists are participating.

On the military side, ample evidence exists that the Reds have used the rainy season "cease fire" to build up their forces enough to support a new offensive against shrunken government territory.

This fits the classic Communist pattern, seen before in China and Korea, of exploiting "truces" for new military build-ups.

For a long time the Reds have used their soil for transit of guerrillas and supplies to South Viet Nam. Now they are reported using government areas for this purpose, which helps to explain the rising threat to that country.

Despite this spate of poor news, some high White House sources declare it premature to write Laos off. This counterjudgment is based on:

The continuation of the Geneva talks are making small but distinct progress and promise still more.

Belief that the cease fire has been generally effective and can be maintained, the Communist build-up notwithstanding.

These high administration sources accept the unhappy prospect that at best a negotiated Laotian settlement would produce a wobbly neutralist government.

King Savang Vathana has agreed to receive "neutralist" Prince Souvanna Phouma, choice of the three rival princes of Laos to lead a coalition government. Souvanna's reliability is unproven and he is sometimes labeled a disguised Communist.

Still it is argued by Kennedy administration sources that anything is a gain which somehow keeps Laos free of the Reds' tight final grip.

These points fail to register in many hardheaded quarters. The conviction is strong among veteran observers that a shaky neutral Laos would be doomed to a downhill slide to Red control, that attempts to establish an independent army would falter, and that it would be virtually impossible to enforce a ban on transit of Viet Nam-bound guerrillas through Laos.

It would indeed be a modest score for the West if the rosier view proved correct. But the consensus of the realistic appraisers is that what looks like rose to some is more likely to turn out to be Red.

Fay Henle's

Your Pocketbook

Shopping for a product is daily becoming more of an art.

Take the price factor. You admire the product. You look to see how much it costs. Often so price is listed or you find that the manufacturer's "suggested" price is so much.

Immediately the thought flashes, "I can probably buy it for less." More often than not you can.

Next consider the expectation of quality or performance. Here I've been noticing something interesting. There is a strong trend on the part of manufacturers to offer you new or extended warranties.

My observation on this score is confirmed by a study just made by Lippincott & Margulies Inc., design and marketing consultants.

This trend toward longer warranties—warranty means the same as guarantee—was initiated during the past year by the automobile manufacturers. It is usual now for a new car to have a warranty for 12,000 miles or one year, against the previous 4,000 miles or 90 days.

Some appliance makers are extending warranty policies to include labor as well as parts. There is now a shirt guaranteed to last a year, a bowling ball guaranteed for life and ladies' hats guaranteed not to run from tea or beer.

What is the reason behind these longer warranties? This is what the consultants report:

—To build greater consumer confidence.

—To get an edge over competition.

—To capitalize on engineering improvements in products.

—To fight foreign competition.

The net result to you should be fewer repair bills and less inconvenience.

What about style, design, color? In the hard goods lines—anything from cars to toasters—there is the trend to concentrate more on improved engineering performance than on meaningless design changes.

Design changes are growing to be more a part of improving product performance than mere changes for the sake of change.

Finally what about credit? I note a greater awareness on the part of consumers that credit, like a product, should be shopped. And why not, when the executive of a major mail order house confesses his company made a higher profit last year on the sale of money than on the sale of merchandise?

MOON IS ON THE RISE!

From Rome

Henry McLemore

Christmas comes but once a year, and in the past that was ample.

But now, thanks to the wonders of electronics, it could come twice a year, or even once a month, and be welcome.

The only bothersome part of Christmas—the deciding of what gifts to give friends, relatives, and loved ones—is a thing of the past. Or it is in Texas, anyway.

There, a large and famed store has installed an electric brain which will tell you, almost as fast as you can whisper in its metallic ear, the suitable present of Tom, Dick, Harry Uncle Jim, or the milkman.

This is an absolute blessing, and to my mind far and away the most helpful application of electronics ever made. What man wouldn't rather know what would please his wife for Christmas than, say, the proper insurance rate to charge motorcycle riders, or the trajectory of a rocket shot to the moon?

I read a description of the Christmas machine and it sounds like simplicity itself. One tells it — or feeds it on a slip of paper—the name, age, sex, glove size, height, weight and disposition of the person to get the present.

Also, the hobbies of the person, what he or she got from you last year, telephone number, street address, whether the person is a light or heavy sleeper suffers from coffee nerves or not, and preference in reading matter.

The machine no sooner than whirrs its brain, cocks its head for a second to help its thinking, and then hands out a slip of paper with the perfect present printed on it.

Unless my home town store puts in such a machine, I am going to Texas a couple of weeks before Christmas and use the machine. I already have my first questionnaire ready. I want to know what to give Aunt Deda, who lives in Statesboro, Ga.

Aunt Deda is a woman who has almost everything, including a recipe for pecan pie that is the best in the world. What to give her always presents a problem. Last year I gave her a doorstep I made out of brick and a thick scrap of carpet, but I don't think she really needed it, or cared much about it.

Here is the information I am going to give the machine on Aunt Deda, and if you want to use it as a guide for your own questions, you are welcome.

Name: Aunt Deda McLemore

Age: 60

Shape: Aunt-like. Plump

Hobbies: Making everyone happy in her home, and feeding them to death with superb cooking.

Weight: Comfortable if not fashionable.

Gift last year: Carpet-covered doorstep (house-made).

Reaction to gift: A nice thank-you note saying she didn't know how much she loved doorsteps until she got mine.

Children: Whole flock of them.

Grandchildren: Two flocks of them.

Great-grandchildren: Hoping.

I just hope the machine doesn't let me down. What if it should think and think and then answer —brick doorstep.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE K-428: Anne R., aged 10, was a problem in school last term.

"Dr. Crane, she seems to be a bright girl," her father informed me.

"But she is terrible in her spelling. So the teacher asked my wife and me to help tutor her a little at home.

"We haven't done much about it thus far, so what would you advise us to do.

"For Anne now hates spelling, probably because of her low marks in that subject."

SPELLING STRATEGY
Good spellers are simply people who are good detectives! They have paid closer attention to the internal make-up of words.

Many people react to words as general visual patterns. For example, they see "window" as a long word with a hole ("o") near the end.

It contrasts with such a word as "door" in that "door" is short and has two such holes.

But they may not pay further close attention to the exact inner arrangement of letters.

"Then how can we get Anne to look more closely at the 'insides' of her spelling words?" her father asks.

One simple way is to give her a typewriter. You can purchase an old upright typewriter for possibly $25, which will be adequate for her to use.

Then encourage her to write thereon to her Grandparents and her cousins, or girl friends away on trips.

For the very act of looking over the keyboard to find the keys, thus stimulates a child to notice how words are spelled.

Besides, the act of typing helps inflame her ego and that will make her enjoy herself. Thus, spelling will lose its former distaste.

DETECTIVE GAMES

You parents can also add zest to spelling lessons by making a detective game out of the process.

For instance, type or write in long hand, a list of 20 to 25 words taken right out of your child's spelling book.

But purposely misspell five or six of these words. Then give your youngster three minutes to study the list and detect those five or six culprits.

Call the misspelled words the villains. Anne can thus imagine that she is the detective whose task is to find the villains in the crowd of honest, correct words.

And to inject further zest, pay her one cent to five cents for each villain that she detects. This will help her earn her spending money.

You can repeat this game several times each evening. In a few weeks, you'll be surprised at the way your child improves.

SUGAR-COAT TEACHING

The more "sugar" we can place around educational topics, the more readily children will accept them.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If South Viet Nam is lost to the Communists it will be because the United States frittered away eight months' time in bureaucratic red tape and indecision.

What was going to happen in South Viet Nam was clear by late 1960. It was no secret that the Communists—once they had a good chunk of Laos—would use it as a corridor for sending their organizers into South Viet Nam.

A major build-up of Communist organizers in South Viet Nam began in 1960. In March there were about 2,000 organizers. By the end of 1960 there were 9,000.

In the fall of 1960, it was clear that these 9,000 organizers would have laid their groundwork and be ready to roll by the fall of 1961. This was known at the State Department. It was known at the Pentagon.

It was so well known, in fact, that by late 1960 officials at the State Department and the Pentagon had worked out almost identical programs to meet the crisis anticipated in late 1961. By early 1961 the plans had been rolled out of these plans.

These plans, in fact, were considered so urgent in early 1961 that even during the Cuban crisis, a key White House presidential adviser, Walt Rostow, was kept busy working on South Viet Nam.

Both State Department and Pentagon plans called for vigorous instituting a crash program in South Viet Nam along the lines of the famous Communist-crushing program that President Mag-saysay carried out so brilliantly in the Philippines a few years ago.

This meant, above all, the urgent training of South Viet Nam army units to help the local citizens build roads, schools and sanitation facilities and help with medical care, harvesting and teaching.

The purpose: To use close army-civilian co-operation to win the friendship and confidence of the people in the military and in the government and thus draw their loyalty away from the Communists.

These plans meant, too, the quick training of military units to move into an area, round up the local Communists, offer amnesty to those who were willing to renounce communism, train the local citizens to defend themselves. Cadres of troops were to be left in each region to spark-plug the community defense forces.

Otherwise, as government troops moved out, the Communists would move right back in.

These plans called for a rapid speedup in the training of South Vietnamese army communica-tions personnel and a vigorous improvement of their intelligence-collecting methods.

They called, too, for a reform of the South Vietnamese army organization, to give local commanders the independent freedom of action necessary if action against the Communist guerrillas was to be effective.

If these plans had been put into effect vigorously in the spring of 1961, the stability of South Viet Nam would have been increased so greatly by now that the current Communist drive would have been made very difficult.

Instead, the planners dawdled. A small start was made. On paper, most of the plan was effected. A little was actually done here and a little there.

Considerable sums were spent on parts of the plan, but progress has been slow. Vigor was lacking. The heavy push that should have begun when there was time is just now beginning, when it may be too late.

How did this happen? So far as can be traced in talks with State Department and Pentagon officials, key parts of the plan were delayed in the bureaucratic red-tape shuffle in securing agreement back and forth between State Department, Pentagon, and the White House.

Decisions were postponed. Officials who should have been making decisions about Viet Nam were busy worrying about the Berlin crisis. They postponed speedy action in Viet Nam.

Seminoles Shoot For 5th Win Here Tonight

Lyman Hosts Strong South Sumter High Eleven

Locals Play
Winter Park
At 8 P. M.

By PETE LEVEQUE
Still undefeated and unscathed for four games in the greatest football year in Seminole County history, the bonecrushing Seminoles of Seminole High School risk their ninth-in-the-state rating as they host the powerful Winter Park Wildcats at 8 p. m. today in Memorial Ball Park in a gridiron contest that could produce the Seminoles' fifth pigskin victory of the season.

Seminole Head Coach Jim Pigott feels that the Winter Park Wildcats are a "good, rugged ball club that will give the Seminoles a hard and tough game" here tonight. The Seminoles varsity players have "a great desire to get their hands on the ball carrier and to stop him," said the coach in attempting to explain the drive ability which he hopes will once again carry Sanford to undefeated.

The Seminoles currently rank second in Central Florida in the Dunkel high school ratings, out-ranked only by Haines City, number one. The Seminoles are behind 2.3 points with a point rating of 58.2 compared to the Dunkel rating of Haines City at 60.4. A good four or five touchdown victory margin over the Wildcats tonight could possibly place Sanford in the number one slot for Central Florida.

In the Orange Belt Conference, the Seminoles this week retain their number one conference rating with a 25.1 point rating edge over Conference-ranked sixth Winter Park with the Wildcats' Dunkel rating of 33.1. The Seminoles' lead is by no means a decisive indication that the Seminoles will win tonight's contest, as the Dunkel ratings are often upset. Dunkel derives his rating levels from a formula which merely gives a progressive index of difference by score.

The Winter Park Wildcats have played five games this season. Except for a 13-13 tie game with Evans in the Wildcats opener of the season they have not won a game. One aspect of the game that the Wildcats have been able to manage to a small degree is their passing offense. This factor could prove a threat to the mighty Seminoles as the Seminoles defensive backfield could have a task well out for them in attempting to remain an unscathed club and preventing successful completion of Wildcat passes.

On the Seminoles end of the attack, passing is still a problem for the bone crushing One-eyed Jacks. More time and initiative have been devoted to whipping up an adequately-powerful forward passing attack this week in the Seminoles practice sessions than to almost any other aspect of their offensive strategy.

The Seminoles, however, are in little need for a more-adequate passing attack with their existing explosive-packed punch of the backfield, stocked with Seminoles High's Big Three who are in tonight's backfield starting lineup: Bud Butch Riser, the Varsity's powerful right halfback; springy Bubba (Jackrabbit) Davis, Pigott's top-scorer and elusive left halfback; and tall, lanky Bill Phagan, the team's fast-acting fullback.

Jim Pigott says of his boys in the backfield, "Our backs are big, fast, agile, and plenty smart enough to take advantage of holes our linemen can open." Taking a look at the Seminoles victories this season and the various plays, there have been very few holes which Pigott's line hasn't been able to open.

Herein lies the key to the season's successful rampage of the Seminoles. Standard offensive tactics of the Seminoles boast a powerful single-wing attack. Without a strong, long forward pass, the offense relies mainly on gaps that the linemen open for the backfield runs.

Presenting: SHS Cheerleaders

Seminole High School's pretty cheerleaders are one of the biggest attractions at the football games.

Pert, lively, attractive and full of seemingly boundless energy, they shout and clap, dance and jump and go through dozens of intricate routines to give "body English" to the school cheers, and incidentally provide a fascinating show to the crowd in the stands. Sometimes the onlookers even forget to watch the football game.

Rigorous practice and training goes on behind the scenes before these girls get out there in front of the crowd. The eight girls are chosen from a large field of try-out contestants, and the ones who win out then begin a strict workout of drills to synchronize the various gestures used to illustrate the cheers.

Head cheerleader this year is Miss Anne Crapps, and she is ably backed up by Bonnie Gielow, Susan McCall, Sharon Riser, Judy Bunten, Debbie Scott, Diane Beasley and Linda Williams.

Teacher sponsor for the cheerleaders is Miss Ann Samuels.

Seminoles Honor Parents Tonight

Tonight's football game has been designated as Parent's Night for the football players.

In the past, a Dad's night has been observed but this year Mothers are being invited, too.

"We feel that many sacrifices have to be made on the part of parents to enable your sons to participate in the football program. This is one way that the Seminole High School can show appreciation," said Fred Ganas Athletic director.

Parents are asked to meet near the dressing room at the Stadium no later than 7:45 p. m. today so that they can walk across the field with their sons.

A special reserved section has been designated for the parents near the player's bench.

Hounds Shoot For 6th Win

With five games and five wins stacked safely in Lyman Coach Proctor's tallyroom, the undefeated, fighting Greyhounds of Lyman High rally at 8 p. m. today to entertain South Sumter High School at Lyman Field for a pigskin party that should start off the second half of the gridiron season for the big, bad Greyhounds with an interesting clash of tactical football strategy.

Lyman Head Coach Proctor expects his top-notch Greyhounds to be up against "one of the best games we have played to date and a good, tough ball club." After a hard steady week of practice sessions," said Defensive Backfield Coach Buck (Junior) Metts, "the boys ought to be in pretty good shape for tonight's game."

The Lyman High Greyhounds presently rank fourth among the independents in the Dunkel high school ratings, outplaced by Seabreeze in first place, Vero Beach in second place, and Bishop Moore in third place. The Greyhounds are removed from the third place independent rating slot by an 8.1 point rating edge as Bishop Moore has a point rating of 45.3 as compared to Lyman High's 37.3 point rating.

The starting offensive lineup for Lyman in tonight's game is practically the same as in last week's game, with the following exceptions: 150 lb. sophomore Dennis Fietler will replace Richard McCanna at offensive guard; 150 lb. sophomore Bill Toonk will occupy Roy Lisk's starting position at offensive tackle.

With an average 170-180 lb. line facing them, Lyman's Greyhounds will have to beef up their linemen to offset the situation. Lyman had the same type of difficulty in last year's game with South Sumter when the Greyhounds turned the tables 13-0.

Big College Grid Weekend Set

United Press International Navy and Detroit will be trying to crash the ranks of college football's elite top 20 when they clash tonight in a blue-ribbon affair that kicks off a big weekend on the nation's gridirons.

Neither is rated among the top 20 teams of the country but an impressive triumph could catapult either Navy or Detroit into national prominence. Navy has beaten William & Mary, Miami (Fla.) and Cornell after an opening loss to Penn State while Detroit has scored successive victories over Western Michigan, Xavier, Ohio and Boston College.

Navy has a neatly balanced at-

Dazzling Runs Spark Brave Win

In a dazzling display of gridiron talent, Coach Ralph Mays' undefeated Junior High Light Squad Braves trounced the Eau Gallie Titans 13-0 here in Memorial Ball Park Thursday night in a gridiron contest that was highlighted with thrilling touchdown runs by the Junior High backfield.

Held scoreless in the first quarter, the Light Squad bounced victoriously back in the second with a tremendous 80 yard touchdown run by starting offensive quarterback Ronnie Ineson in a feat that held spectators gasping, bringing the score at halftime to 6-0.

In the third quarter on a kickoff by the Eau Gallie Titans, the receiver, Seminole Junior High's star left halfback Chuck Scott received the pigskin on the Light Squad's 30 yard line and ran a spectacular 70 yards for the final touchdown of the game, bringing the score to 12-0. Scott ran right for the extra point and the final score of the ball game, 13-0.

Mays said that Eau Gallie was the "best team by far that his boys had come up against." The Braves put on a good blocking ball game with the backfield pushing real hard," said the Coach. Junior High Offensive Fullback Bernie Harbour played good backfield support for the Braves as did right tackle Ricky Walston, a good player for the Junior High Light Squad this year.

tack but their key to winning or losing in a game that starts at 9:15 p. m. in Detroit, is more likely to be its pass defense. Jerry Gross passed Boston College dizzy in Detroit's 20-3 victory last week and his arm is cranked and ready to go again.

A Southern Conference game between William and Mary and George Washington is the other highlight of the Friday night schedule. Each team stands 1-4 for the season but George Washington's 20-6 victory over VMI makes it a two-touchdown choice.

One of those old fashioned meetings of the unbeaten is on tap Saturday, meanwhile, when Notre Dame takes on Michigan State in East Lansing, Mich. Both teams are 3-0 for the season with Notre Dame ranked No. 3 in the nation and Michigan State ranked No. 3. Michigan State is a 7-point favorite on the strength of its runaway victory over previously unbeaten Michigan last week.

There are three regionally televised games on Saturday — with Penn State a one-point choice over Syracuse, Alabama a six-point pick over Tennessee and California a six-point favorite over Southern California. The winner of the California-Southern Cal game and the winner of the Washington-Stanford game likely will fight it out for the Rose Bowl bid.

Mississippi, which has rolled up a 4-0 record and is the nation's No. 1 ranked team by the United Press International coaches board, is a 28-point favorite over Tulane, Texas, also 4-0, is only four points over Arkansas, however, despite its No. 3 national ranking.

Holy Cross is rated six points over Dartmouth, Princeton is seven over Colgate, Villanova is seven over Boston College and Cornell is one over Yale in other top Eastern games.

In the South, it's Florida by six over Vanderbilt. North Carolina by six over South Carolina, Georgia Tech by seven over Auburn, Duke by six over Clemson, Mississippi State by seven over Georgia and 10th-ranked Louisiana State by 22 over Kentucky.

Indiana is rated three over Washington State, Michigan seven over Purdue, Ohio State, No. 7 in the nation, seven over Northwestern and sixth-ranked Iowa is

Braves Undertake Reorganization

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—A sweeping reorganization of the Milwaukee Braves front office was announced Thursday by President John McCall, who said the change would provide "a more successful and stronger operation."

Under the new setup McCall will retain the job of general manager, delegating some of the general manager's non-baseball functions to others.

"This way I can circulate on all sides of the Braves' operations," he said.

McCall first announced the resignation of traveling secretary George (Duffy) Lewis, 73, who has been connected with baseball for more than half a century as a star player, minor league manager and front office executive.

League Lead Won By Nationwide

Nationwide Insurance won three games this week to put them in first place with 10 wins and 12 losses. The Sanford Herald team lost three games and is now in second place with 15 wins and 13 losses.

Karns Insurance, Sinko's Tavern, Wieboldt's Camera Shop are tied for fourth place with 14 wins and 14 losses each. Thriftway won three games with 11 wins and 17 losses.

The Thriftway team has a 538 game and a 1545 series and sub Dot Button of that team had a great 505 series with high game of 170. The Wieboldt's team has a high game of 644. Mary Jane Gordon of the Herald team had a 184 game and 466 series.

Other high games were Jeanne Hlickart and Pat Bernebert, 147 each. Splits were made by Margaret Moore and June Gasman, 4-5; Jean Bickart 2-7; Pat Bernebert the 4-5-7 and she also made a turkey. Last but not least Marie Mitchell, 3-10.

Golf Tourney Schedule Set

The Mayfair Men's Golf Assn. is planning a point tournament October 29th at the Mayfair Country Club.

There will be an entry fee and prizes will be awarded. Coming up Nov. 26 is the Navy-Civilian get-acquainted golf tourney.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Why should women knock themselves out trying to keep slim and trim while their husbands let themselves go to the dogs? When we were married, Ron weighed 155. (He is only 5 ft. 6 in.) Now, only 15 years later, he weighs over 200 and looks like an overstuffed pig. He is ruining the furniture by dropping his weight on the chairs and sofa with a thud. He puffs and pants his way to the table, and burps his way back when he is through gorging himself. Any suggestions? FAT MAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you love your husband, you'll shame, bribe or scare him into sloughing off the aet and joining the human-looking race. For a clincher, your insurance agent will gladly tell him about the correlation between calories and coronary.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I moved into my aunt's house so I could take care of her. She is an invalid. She has a very nice house and she pays all the bills, which makes it easy for us. I forgot to tell you we have four children—5, 6, 8, and 9. The reason we went for this set-up is because she told me that if I moved in with her and took care of her, when she died she would leave her house and everything else she had to me. She is 82 years old, and her health is poor. My husband says I should ask her to put her promise in writing. Should I? A DEVOTED NIECE

DEAR NIECE: It seems to me that you, your husband and four children have a pretty good deal while your aunt is living. But if you are caring for her now only because of what she has promised you after she passes on, you had better ask her to speak to her attorney about making a will.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do. I am a grandmother in love with a grandfather. He is a fine gentleman, in good health, and we are of the same faith. I know he cares for me, but he keeps telling me that "we are too old for marriage." He has no family obligations as his children are married and well off. I am in the same situation. He doesn't need my money, and I don't need his. We like the same things, and have a wonderful time together. Should I propose? GRAY HAIR—BLUE FUTURE

DEAR GRAY: Yes. If you are young enough for "love" you aren't too old for marriage.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JERRY: If you can't get RID of her—get USED to her.

SANDRA DEE in a scene from "Tammy Tell Me True" coming to the Movieland Drive-In Sunday.

Comedy Film Set For Drive-In

Enchanting and perfect screen entertainment—with a nostalgic look at a way of life that used to be—the pleasure-filled "Tammy Tell Me True," the warm and delightful romantic comedy which opens Sunday on the screen of the Movieland Drive-In.

The title role is played by that remarkably-talented young star, the blonde and beautiful Sandra Dee, as lovable a hair-braided little gal as has ever been seen on both land and water. Sandra's costar is the tall, dark and very handsome John Gavin, who is rapidly emerging as one of Hollywood's foremost leading men.

"Tammy Tell Me True," a Ross Hunter production for Universal-International, is that studio's sequel to their outstanding successful "Tammy and the Bachelor," and the new picture, in color, recreates on the screen the heart-warming Tammy characterization which captivated audiences the world over.

The other feature on the program is "The Lawless Breed." Both films will play through Tuesday.

On Wednesday and Thursday, "The Last Voyage" and "A Bullet Is Waiting" will play.

Three films are set Saturday. They are "Sword Of Sherwood Forest," "Gidget Goes Hawaiian" and a special Halloween midnight show.

SPENCER TRACY and Frank Sinatra in a scene from "The Devil at 4 O'Clock" coming to the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

Tracy Film Set For Ritz

Spencer Tracy and Frank Sinatra, two of the screen's most important actors, are paired for the first time in the Merryyn LeRoy-Fred Kohlar production, "The Devil at 4 O'Clock," in Eastman Color at the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

Playing a Pacific island priest and a cynical convict, respectively, the stars reportedly give performances so filled with entertainment fireworks that they almost outshine one of the most explosive of all possible natural phenomena: an earthquake and volcanic eruption which completely destroys the South Seas island of the film.

"The Devil at 4 O'Clock" is set in the South Pacific, on the island of Talua. Here, on the side of a dormant volcano, Tracy has built and is maintaining a jungle hospital; here, as a stopover while en route to an island prison elsewhere

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Believe it or not, there's a new book out called "A New Treasury of Names for the Baby"—designed to help parents decide what to name the little new comer.

Parents, supposedly, can go through the book and choose just the right name for his or her girl—avoiding all such pitfalls as having junior's initials spell out R.A.T. or sister's spell out D.U.D.

Also, by careful attention to the book, parents can steer clear of names that have an odd-ball sound, or that are likely to beget unfortunate nicknames, or that might be confusing as to sex.

Sounds simple doesn't it. Unfortunately, naming a baby usually isn't as simple as just drawing a name out of a hat or from a book of names for baby.

There is the "junior" business to be considered. Should or should not the first-born son be named for his father and, perhaps, his grandfather before him? The arguments for and against the use of "junior" can keep a couple arguing for nine months.

Then there is the question of which grandmother the first girl child will be named for. This one—and often does—end in a draw.

Then, of course, begins the search for a name that can't be credited to either side of the family.

If it were as simple as choosing a name out of a book, parents could just consult the telephone directory.

What's the word on "going steady?" See Ruth Millet's new booklet, "Tips on Teen-Agers." Mail 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 400, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 10, N. Y.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

When you hold little or nothing in the major suits you should be careful about your fourth hand openings.

East has a 14 point hand—12 in high cards, plus 2 for the doubletons. And as such is a proper opening bid in any system except common sense.

Common sense should tell him that there is little chance that this side can make game and that it is likely that his opponents can get together in a major suit and outbid him if he opens.

In this case East decided to open and you can see what happened to him. South overcalled. He did not have an opening bid, but he had a good overall. West jumped to three diamonds. He held a singleton spade and close to the maximum pass. North went to three spades; East to four diamonds; South continued to four spades; and when this got back to East, he elected to pass.

As anyone can see, four spades is a lay down. South loses one diamond and two clubs and that is all.

East could have gotten off with a small loss if he had elected to go to five diamonds. North and South can only take three tricks against that contract.

However, that wasn't his real mistake. His real mistake was to open in fourth seat.

Salvation Army Notes Service To 'Needy'

CAPT. CLARK

Capt. Richard Clark, Commanding Officer of the Seminole County Unit of the Salvation Army said today that he welcomes the opportunity to join with the other participating agencies in endorsing the United Fund of Seminole County.

The theme of the Salvation Army is "Hand to Man and Heart to God."

To the needy of Seminole County, the Salvation Army in Sanford stands ready to serve. The record for the first nine months of 1961 shows that with "Hand to Man" aid applied to this agency for their needs to be met. This breaks down into 137 grocery orders, 12,819 garments distributed with 190 pairs of shoes. Various other services were given such as visits made, rent, fuel, medicine orders, and others.

Also in this capacity, they serve those transient individuals who come through Seminole County. There were 179 homeless who applied with 148 for lodgings, 193 meals, plus transportation, garments, shoes and other aid being given.

With "Heart to God" the Salvation Army has provided 239 religious services for adults and 436 services for young people.

Salvation Army's share of the United Fund is $7,900.

THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH of Sanford will be host for the World Community Day Services in the area on Nov. 3. Attending a meeting Monday of the Christian Women's Fellowship which is taking a large part in preparing for the observation, were, from left, Mrs. J. L. Horton Jr., president of the group; Rev. Ernest Bolick, pastor of Good Shepherd United Lutheran Church and president of the Ministerial Assn. and Mrs. K. K. Ring, program chairman for the evening. (Herald Photo)

World Community Day To Aid Education

Observance of World Community Day on Nov. 3 will be sponsored in the Sanford area by United Church Women of the First Christian Church.

According to Mrs. Bart Hinson Jr., chairman of all events planned in conjunction with the worldwide observation which this year is based on the theme "Freedom to Know," the UCW members hold a strong belief that freedom must be buttressed by knowledge and that the building of a world at peace is strongly related to critical educational needs of women and children in developing countries.

In keeping with the emphasis on education, church women are making school bags and equipping them with basic school supplies for distribution in Latin America where increased effort is being made to provide better educational opportunities. Mrs. Hinson said.

She continued by advising that church women also are sewing clothing suitable for school and are collecting used sweaters and coats to fill the urgent needs reported by mothers of Central America and South America who, at present, must keep their children at home from schools in the more crowded urban areas because of lack of clothing.

The offering received on World Community Day will be used to help train Latin American women in adult education programs and to further the United Church Women's International Relations Program.

Statistics show, Mrs. Hinson said, that there are 44 million illiterates and approximately 15 million children of school age who are unable to attend in Latin America. Primary schools are lacking and secondary education and adult education are far from sufficient in areas where such programs are most needed. It is this need which the United Church Women seek to help fill on World Community Day.

Bahia Dedication Set Saturday

The Bahia Temple will dedicate its new building on Gore Ave., Orlando at ceremonies beginning at 1:30 p. m. according to A. F. Horton, a Temple official. The program will celebrate the completion of the Shrine Mosque.

A parade will be staged in downtown Orlando at 11 a. m. Saturday and the principal speaker at the ceremony will be Past Imperial Potentate Thomas C. Law. Also taking part in the program will be Aubrey G. Graham, past imperial potentate of Hedive Temple.

An initiation and Temple Ceremonial Friday night will precede the dedication.

Time Changed

Rev. Paul E. Shultz, vicar of the All Saints Episcopal Church in Enterprise, has announced that during the winter months the hour of the second service each Sunday will be changed from 9:30 a. m. to 11 a. m.

Mrs. Weeks Dies In Sanford At 94

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Weeks, 94, died at 5 a. m. today after a lingering illness. She born Feb. 6, 1867, in Wilmington, N. C.

She had made her home with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Weeks, 211 South Poplar Ave., for the past two years. She had been a resident of Sanford for 42 years and before going to her son's home resided on Cameron Ave.

Mrs. Weeks was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford and was the wife of the late Daniel Weeks. Surviving are one daughter, Miss Annie M. Weeks; one son, R. O. Weeks, both of Sanford.

Funeral services will be at 3 p. m. Saturday at Brison Funeral Home, with the Rev. Thomas Makin of First Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

It has been estimated that one of every four consumer dollars in the U. S. is spent in restaurants.

Ebenezer Methodist Church Plans Initial Services In New Building

Dr. Joe A. Tolle, DeLand district superintendent of the Florida Conference of Methodist Churches, will conduct the 7 p. m. Sunday worship service at Ebenezer Church in the first of five Sunday services of gratitude and consecration to be held in the new church building.

Program for the special services, as announced by the Planning Committee of Ebenezer Methodist Church, designates the first as the Inaugural Service to be followed by Dedication of the Rev. J. W. Austin Memorial Fund with Dr. R. C. Holmes conducting the 11 a. m. service; The Community Challenge with Rev. John T. Adams conducting the 11 a. m. service; Laying the Cornerstone with Rev. Hugh Booth of Ebenezer Church conducting the service and consecration service with Bishop James W. Henley conducting the service.

During the Inaugural Service, and with cooperation of Dr. Tolle, the Ebenezer Service Commission on Missions will express its gratitude to the Board of Missions for assistance in making the new building a reality.

The evening worship also will commemorate World Service Sunday, which places emphasis on Home Mission Building, with the local church a fitting example, and will be celebrated as United Nations Sunday when the Ebenezer Commission on Christian Social Concerns will take an active part in the program. Special acknowledgements to be made Sunday evening include recognition of the building committee, architect, contractor, the church's official board and of the trustees.

Clifford Johnson, chairman of the building committee, will introduce this group and will deliver an expression of appreciation for services of each. A symbolic key to the building will be presented to Dr. Tolle from the contractor and in turn will be handed over to Harold P. Clark, chairman of the Board of trustees.

A record of the Inaugural Service and the symbolic key will be placed in the cornerstone when it is laid on Nov. 12.

Four Candidates Enter Race For School Trustees

Two Sanford residents qualified just under the wire last Friday to enter the board of school trustees election Nov. 7.

The two are Donald Bales and Mrs. Margaret Echelberger. Incumbents seeking the post again will be Ray Slaton and Fred Distilio.

Those elected Nov. 7 will serve two-year terms, beginning Jan. 1 on the three member board. The three candidates with the highest number of votes will be elected in the county-wide election.

The trustees, who receive no salary, act largely in an advisory capacity to the school system.

Perhaps their most important function is in nomination of instructional personnel, in which they act as a sort of screening committee.

They receive the superintendent's recommendations and either nominate the personnel for ultimate appointments by the school board or reject the recommendations for good cause.

The trustees also supervise use of school facilities for other than school purposes and may recommend dismissal of instructional personnel and repairs and alterations to the schools.

7.5 Million Seen By '70

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., urged city leaders today to start community and area wide planning immediately to meet a population increase of 2.6 million by 1970.

Speaking before the League of Municipalities here, Smathers also asked them to anticipate the needs of expanding federal military and space age facilities.

He said the federal government

City Opens Bids On Cars, Trucks

The City Commission met in special session late Friday afternoon and opened bids on two police cars, one compact vehicle and four pick-up trucks.

The apparent low bid for the two police cars was turned in by Strickland-Morrison with a bid of $4,312.

The apparent low bid for the compact car, to be used by the city manager, was by Strickland-Morrison for $2,023 and the Sanford firm was also apparent low bidder for the four trucks for $6,540.

The bids will be awarded at the next city commission meeting. Bids were also opened on gasoline. Apparent low bidder for Premium, City Service; Regular, Gulf, and Diesel, Sinclair.

United Fund Lists Pledges Of $100

United Fund drive officials here announced today that many contributions of $100 or more have been received from individuals and companies.

The list made public today included the names of Harold H. Kastner and Co.; Chase and Co.; Florida Power and Light; Florida State Bank; Sanford Atlantic National Bank; First Federal Savings and Loan; Southern Bell Tel. and Tel.; the 400 Club; All Saints Church, and Seminole County Laundry.

Also, Randall Chase; R. J. Bauman; Gen. J. C. Hutchison; Sidney Ives, III; W. E. Kirchhoff; R. F. Mann; Mr. and Mrs. George Touhy, and T. E. Tucker.

Bolivian Schools Closed In Riots

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — High schools and universities throughout Bolivia were shutdown today by official order to put a stop to student participation in anti-government riots.

The government clamped a "state of siege"—modified martial law on La Paz Saturday night after 18 persons had been injured in riots protesting an increase in bus fares and decontrol of taxi fares.

Film Leader Dies

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Joseph M. Schenck, 83, one of the motion picture industry's foremost producers during the 1930s and 40s, died of a heart attack Sunday at his home. He had been in poor health for the past six years.

has chosen various sites in Florida to locate installations for the nation's security. He said these projects plus health, welfare and educational services rendered Floridians contribute $2 billion annually to the state's economy.

The Nova Moon project at Cape Canaveral will give Florida an even larger income from federal sources, Smathers added.

"Funds totalling $835 million for this project will be spent over the next few years," he said, "which will create thousands of new jobs in Florida."

He said the U. S. Census Bureau predicted Florida's population would rise from 4.9 million in 1960 to 6.2 million by 1965 for a 25 per cent increase. By 1970 it would increase more than 50 per cent over the 1960 figure to 7.3 million, according to the bureau, he said.

Smathers urged city leaders not to encourage such large industrial complexes that the tourist image of the state becomes blurred, such as he said was done in California.

"We should strive for balance in encouraging industry," he added, "but never failing to remember our tourist attractions and to foster these attractions in harmony with our industrial growth."

Gun That Wouldn't Shoot Kills Mate

A woman's jury today cleared an Oviedo Negro woman of killing her husband Sunday night and ruled the death of Phillip Johnson "justifiable homicide."

The woman, Amanda Johnson, 34, told deputies she shot her husband, after a fight in their home at Morgan Quarters in Oviedo.

Mrs. Johnson said that her husband gave her a pistol and said, "here, shoot me, this gun won't shoot anyway."

Mrs. Johnson said she scrappered with her husband and the pistol went off hitting him in the stomach.

"He died immediately," Duncan said.

Chapter Plans Tuesday Meeting

The Seminole County Chapter of the Crippled Children's Society will have their first meeting of the year at 8 p. m., Tuesday at the County Health Dept., Dr. Vann Parker, president of the Society announced today.

All persons interested in the society are invited to attend the meeting when plans will be made for the projects of the year which will be undertaken by the group.

Advanced Polaris Fired By Navy

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The Navy today fired an advanced model Polaris rocket from the depths of the Atlantic Ocean for the first time.

The USS Ethan Allen, America's largest missile — launching nuclear submarine, triggered the 30-foot-tall Polaris A3 rocket from a firing tube in its deck at 60 seconds past 11:22 a. m. The firing appeared generally successful.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHEL
Nobody asked me but, doesn't that sign on Hwy. 17-92 reading valuable property near Circumland seem a little out of place now?

Why all this talk about access roads to the cape, Orange County an everywhere else in the state. How about someone recommending an access road in Sanford?

Things sure do change. One county commissioner complained last year that the school board was getting too fancy and spending too much money on one school. "Why do we always have to have the best," he said. Now, this same commissioner was one of three to suggest a half million dollar CD program.

The grand jury will reconvene at 9 a. m. Thursday.

How about some civic organization inviting the three candidates for the city commission post to speak within the next two weeks.

The final day to register to vote in the city election is Friday.

Memo to the Democratic committee: If you don't get together and endorse a candidate pretty soon, the Republicans will.

The 33 county voting machines were moved out of the dusty old County building and into the spanking new bonded warehouse. Cost per year won't exceed $300.

Still another clue to the mystery celebrity for Jaycee Radio Day Saturday: Who put the olive in his sour cream?

Speaking of the Jaycees, how about stopping by Saturday and getting a pancake before you head to Gainesville for Florida Homecoming.

And speaking about football — How about those Seminoles.

Rumors from out Geneva way have it that there'll soon be strong movement under way to get a rural mail route which would operate out of the community's new post office.

No Prospects Of Talks, Says Rusk

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk sees no prospect of immediate negotiations with the Soviet Union over Germany and Berlin.

Rusk made the statement Sunday shortly before U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson left for Moscow where he eventually is expected to resume exploratory talks with Soviet officials on the Berlin issue. Thompson is scheduled to arrive in Moscow Tuesday.

In a television interview (ABC) Issues and Answers Rusk made it clear the West is negotiating from a position of strength. He said that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "must know that we are strong."

Blaze In Garage Is Extinguished

Sanford firemen extinguished a garage fire early Sunday morning at 214 E. 18th St., Chief Mack Cleveland said.

"Considerable" damage was done to the contents, Cleveland added. Cause of the fire was not known, he added.

2 Nations Detect It; U. S. Doubts It's 50 Megaton

By United Press International
Swedish and French detection stations reported today that the Russians had exploded a gigantic nuclear device in the Arctic which "probably" was Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's promised 50-megaton bomb.

There was no immediate confirmation from the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission. On the basis of preliminary reports, U. S. officials said they were skeptical that this actually was Khrushchev's 50-megaton bomb.

One well-informed Washington official advised that the report of a 50-megaton explosion be treated with caution. He said the Russians set off a nuclear device today but it was believed to be far less than the equivalent of 50 million tons of TNT.

"Khrushchev said the 50-megaton explosion was coming at the end of October, didn't he?" the official reminded.

The test report caught the United Nations delegates in the midst of a debate on a "solemn appeal" to the Soviet Union not to explode the super-bomb.

A vote had been expected this afternoon in the General Assembly's main political committee on a seven-power resolution containing the appeal.

Danish Ambassador Aage Hesselund-Jensen said the sponsors of the appeal awaited more information before deciding how to proceed with the resolution. The measure was sponsored by Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Iceland, Canada, Japan and Pakistan.

Reports of the blast came first from Sweden's Uppsala University astronomical institution and then from the French atomic energy commission. Both have recorded and announced previous Soviet nuclear explosions in the current series.

The Uppsala institution recorded the explosion at 3:35 a. m. EST. It was set off in the Russian's testing zone at Novaya Zemlya.

Several hours later the French agency said it had detected a "very, very powerful" explosion which was "probably of the 50-megaton size."

Sanford Man, 80, Hurt In Collision

An 80-year-old Sanford man was hospitalized Sunday afternoon after his car was hit "broadside" by another vehicle at 23th St. and Hardy Rd., police reported.

Barney Beck of 2142 Laurel Ave. was hospitalized with two cracked ribs and cuts and bruises shortly after the mishap.

The driver of the other car was Ethel Lee of Monroe Corner. No charges were filed, police said.

Blast Wrecks Ship; 2 Dead; 18 Hurt

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (UPI) — An engine-room explosion wrecked the 8,127-ton Italian liner Bianca C. in Grenada Sunday, killing two crewmen and injuring 18 others among the 600 passengers and crewmen aboard.

So far as was known there were no Americans aboard. Fire raged through the ship, causing intense heat.

The ship exploded and caught fire as it was entering the harbor of St. George on the British island of Grenada.

An Oviedo man and a DeLand resident were listed in "critical" condition today "hanging to life by a thread" after a two-car smash-up in Geneva early this morning, the Florida Highway Patrol reported.

Listed in critical condition at Orange Memorial Hospital are Harley Cox, 33, of Oviedo and John William McCormick, 19, of DeLand. Both have severe head injuries.

A passenger in the McCormick car, Frank Duval, also of DeLand, was listed in fair condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital suffering from a shoulder injury.

Trooper J. L. Sikes said the accident occurred at the intersection of SR 426 and SR 16 in Geneva. McCormick, driving a late model sedan was attempting to make a turn into SR 16 and slammed into a foreign car driven by Cox.

The small car was knocked off the road while the sedan was revolved in flames. Both cars were declared a total wreck, according to Sikes.

A slow-moving cold front which brought snow and day-long near-freezing temperatures to North Dakota Sunday advanced into the corn belt, dropping the mercury 10 or more degrees as it passed.

Franchise Law Report Ready For Commission

The County Commission Committee firming up a franchise law for Seminole County has completed its report and will ask the commission to adopt a 15 point program at its meeting Oct. 31.

The committee is comprised of James P. Avery and John Fitzpatrick.

Three companies have already put in applications for franchises here and initial investments will total over a million dollars.

According to the report, franchises will not be granted for a period exceeding 20 years and will be granted for defined areas within Seminole County outside corporate limits of municipalities.

Other recommendations, according to Avery are:

- A permanent water and sewer committee established consisting of one county commissioner, county engineer, county sanitarian and zoning director;
- All designs must be prepared by a competent engineer registered in the state and approved by the Florida Board of Health;
- Should any municipality annex areas be served by a franchise, it will have the right to purchase the franchise and facilities;

- Sewer connection will be mandatory but water connection will not;
- Rates will be established by the commission only after public hearing;
- Fire hydrant installation will be required. This will almost surely result in lower fire insurance rates;
- The board may require a 100 percent surety bond for performance within a specified time;
- Sewage disposal plants shall conform to state regulations but shall be of a design to produce optimum results under all conditions;

All plants will be required to have auxiliary equipment in the event main equipment breaks down;

A system of rigid inspection is outlined and will be financed from the franchise fees. Any surplus fees shall be turned into the county general fund.

Discussing the need for a franchise law, Avery said that of a public health viewpoint "it is absolutely imperative that plans be made to stop the contamination of our lakes and streams by septic systems and package disposal plants that are not as efficient as our state and local health officials would like."

Avery added that the alarming rise in the number of infectious hepatitis cases in the county this past year was in part attributed by health authorities to ineffective sewage disposal.

"This law," according to Avery, "will be a tremendous step in the growth of the county."
