Crowd Braves Winds, Cold To See Stevenson On Yesterday's Visit

H. Rawls Is SNAAS Skipper For Five Minutes Tuesday

For a period of five minutes Tuesday morning, the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Sanford, had a new skipper.

This unusual situation came about as part of the ceremonies in which Hardy W. Rawls Jr., Chief Aviation Metallurgist, USN, was transferred to the Fleet Reserve after 21 years of Naval Service.

Captain R. W. Jackson, USN, Commanding Officer of NAAS, read Rawls a commendation in appreciation of the "outstanding manner" in which he performed his duties as Chief Petty Officer in charge of all Shore Patrol personnel and activities within the city of Sanford, its outlying areas, and the neighboring cities and towns.

Before reading the commendation, Capt. Jackson turned over the command of NAAS to Chief Rawls for his final five minutes of active service in the U. S. Navy.

A native of Ocala, Chief Rawls has served aboard 10 different ships and several shore establishments since entering the Navy in July, 1935. Before reporting aboard NAAS, he was with the 25-11th Fleet at Westville.

Among his decorations, Chief Rawls has five good conduct medals, the Asiatic Pacific Medal with two stars, Philippine Liberation Medal, Philippine Independence Medal, Navy Occupation (European Class), American Area, and National Defense.

He is a member of the Sanford Shrine Club, Florida Race Officers Association, Lions Club, and Elks Club.

He is married to the former Eva Belle Perry, of Elizabeth City, N. C. They have three children, Harry W. III, Michael Joe, and Terry Wade. They reside at 2011 Grandview Ave., in Sanford.

Cardinals To Open Season Tomorrow Against Apopka

Baseball returns to Sanford for the 1956 season tomorrow evening when the Sanford Cardinals open the year's play against Apopka in a Lake-Orange League fray, scheduled to get underway at the Memorial Stadium at 7:45 p. m.

Tonight the club will hold their first workout under the lights at the Memorial Stadium beginning at 7:30.

Either manager Lloyd Swain or veteran Buddy Lake will open on the mound for the Cards in the initial game. Swain was slated to take the hill against Tavares last Tuesday night but that game was postponed so he may start tomorrow night.

The club was strengthened to day when John King, now stationed at the Sanford NAAS, joined the team. King plays shortstop and has played many seasons in Seminole and has two seasons in professional baseball.

A large crowd is expected for tomorrow evening at the opening game and festivities for the occasion are planned.

A large number of prizes donated by "generous" Sanford merchants will be awarded to some "lucky fans."

Pre-game ceremonies featuring the Seminole High School marching band will begin 15 minutes prior to game time.

Charlie Morrison will emcee the festivities and will also award the free gifts.

John Kridler, President of the Florida State League, Frank Trean, President of the Lake-Orange League, and City officials will be introduced to the fans before the game.

The Honorable F. D. Scott, mayor of the City of Sanford, is expected to throw out the first ball.

Interest Mounting In Political Races

Tension is growing and interest is mounting in the local political races.

Candidates for local offices in Seminole County are making use of every opportunity to place their platforms before the people of the county.

The fourth in a series of 11 Democratic Rallies will be held tonight at Longwood where the biggest crowd so far in the local political campaign is expected to turn out to hear the candidates express their views.

The Longwood Chamber of Commerce is relinquishing its regular meeting night for tonight's Democratic Rally. The meeting will be held in Sunnyside Park with doughnuts and hot coffee served by the Chamber of Commerce.

The rallies, sponsored by the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee, will take the candidates into every section of the county and into practically every precinct.

There are 20 local candidates, four candidates for the House of Representatives and two candidates for the State Senate. Thirty-two candidates are scheduled to speak at each Rally.

So far, rallies have been held in Sanford, Lake Monroe and Lake Mary.

Tonight's rally, in Longwood, is expected to be held in the Park where speakers will address the crowds from the pavilion.

Charges and counter charges are appearing in the talks by candidates with opposition.

For the first time, voters will be choosing candidates for the Seminole County Board of Commissioners countywide instead of the districtwide election in previous campaigns.

Each candidate is allotted five minutes in which to place his platform before the people attending the rallies. They are introduced by James Lee, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee.

Merchants' Assn. Announces Citywide 3-Day Sales Jubilee

Street Resurfacing Program Finished; 7.18 Miles Paved

The City of Sanford's 1956 street resurfacing program has been completed with 7.18 miles of streets paved with asphaltic concrete.

This year's program, combined with that of last year, gives the City a total of approximately 10.3 miles of street resurfacing.

The State has resurfaced a portion of West First St. and Celer Ave. along with the 2.5 miles of French Ave.

Already, application has been made for the resurfacing and widening of Park Ave. The widening portion of this project is from 23rd St. south to the intersection of French Ave.

During the City's 1956 program, 6,502 tons of asphaltic concrete were laid at a cost of $47,594.24. 176 tons of this total were used for the paving of the Goldshore Recreation Area at a cost of $1,270.72. This includes the paving of two tennis courts and a parking area. The paved area will also be used for a basketball court, a volleyball court, and a badminton court.

The remaining 6,418 tons of paving material were used on the 7.18 miles of city streets at a cost of $46,323.52.

Affair To Become Annual

Sanford Merchants are joining hands for a three day event that is destined to become an annual affair.

Banner Days will be celebrated April 19, 20 and 21 next week with the Sanford Merchants Association announcing that plans are complete for one of the most exciting sales events ever presented in the history of Sanford.

Merchants Association Committees have been busy for weeks planning the unusual event. The citywide sales jubilee participated in by all of Sanford's merchants will offer merchandise at the lowest prices in Sanford's sales annals.

As the formal announcement of Banner Days was made by Sanford Merchants Association president B. L. Perkins Jr., preparation was underway by individual merchants to attract thousands of shoppers to the local stores throughout the three-day sale that will astonish shoppers throughout the trade area.

Window decoration plans have been completed — show cards will be stacked up ready to take their place on thousands of wanted items — sales clerk personnel are being advised of the big event — banners are being made to hang throughout the stores — and special price tags are in the process of being marked and attached to sale merchandise.

No shop-worn outdated merchandise will be featured in Banner Days according to officials of the Merchants Association. Fresh, clean, ahead of style merchandise, some especially purchased for the gigantic event, will be displayed and offered during Banner Days.

Sanford Merchants promise that this will be one sale that Sanford Trade Area shoppers will never forget and they're getting in readiness to take care of the enormous crowds during the sales event.

There will be thousands of items of merchandise for the home, the car, the garage, the wardrobe, for men, women, and children displayed in Sanford Stores during Banner Days.

"This will be one of the greatest sales ever featured in Sanford," Perkins, Merchants Association President, said today.

"Banner Days is not a stock cleaning event for Sanford Merchants," Perkins said. "It is a real sale with some of the most outstanding prices offered for quality merchandise."

Perkins added, "We think that Sanford shoppers are in store for a real treat during Banner Days next Thursday, Friday and Saturday."

Residents Invited To Ground Observer Corps Meet Tonight

A meeting tonight of the Ground Observer Corps, will be held at 7:45 p.m. in the American Legion, according to George Maybury, Commander of the Campbell-Losing Post, American Legion.

"This meeting is a very important one to Sanford and Seminole County," Maybury said.

"Various attempts have been made to get the local unit of the Ground Observer Corps into operation, a very necessary adjunct to the Civil Defense effort of our community," said Maybury.

Both men and women are invited to take part, regardless of the amount of time they have to spare away from their duties at home or business.

Sergeant Lund of the Air Force, assigned to organize and put into operation the Ground Observer Corps will be on hand tonight to coordinate the local efforts of the Ground Observer Corps.

Whether it is one hour a week, or several hours that patriotic citizens can spare, George Maybury said, they can be put to very valuable use in spotting unfriendly aircraft.

"We will welcome all of the help from citizens of the community," Maybury said, "and hope that they will turn out tonight to meet with us and set up the final plans for getting the Ground Observer Corps unit into action in Sanford and Seminole County."

Longwood Council Affirms Resolution

Longwood Town Council affirmed the resolution presented to them by the Winter Park Telephone Corp. and Southern Bell at a meeting held at the City of Sanford on April 11, 1956. This resolution affirms the Commission for the approval of increased rates to offset the expense of the extended service that will be put into effect.

The Town Attorney, Webber Haines, was to be instructed to draw up a new ordinance ordering a midnight closing of all alcoholic beverage establishments on each week-day night and all day Sunday. The new ordinance calls for 2 a. m. closing Monday through Friday with midnight closing on Saturday until 7 a. m. Monday.

Several new housing permits were issued for the erection of homes to be started at once.

Parents Register Children April 16 For First Grade

Lyman School at Longwood will hold a pre-school roundup and clinic for children entering the first grade next September. Parents may register their children Monday, April 16, from 9:30 a. m. until 12 noon.

Woman Walks Through Plate Glass Window

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Deputies say Mrs. Cecelia Tomp walked into the new Firestone sheriff's station — right through a plate glass window.

She was treated at a hospital for a gashed right arm and forehead.

Officers said Mrs. Tomp, 48, of suburban Downey, had been called in to get her 16-year-old son, picked up for a minor infraction. Apparently, in her excitement, they said, she didn't realize she was walking into the large, closed window at the front of the lobby.

To Control Your Weight Take Care Of Hypothalamus

DALLAS (AP)—To control your weight, stop counting calories and take care of your hypothalamus, an authority on nutrition suggested today.

Regular exercise and wise choice of all nourishing foods are ways to do it, said Prof. Roger J. Williams, University of Texas biochemist, and president-elect of the American Chemical Society.

Your hypothalamus — hype for short — is a vital area of the brain which is apparently one seat of "bodily wisdom" and automatic control mechanisms. The mechanism controlling appetite is probably located there, Dr. Williams said.

Some scientists also find evidence your hype area is a switchboard of the emotions, translating ideas and emotions into physical effects through nerves and hormones. This complex area may also be the part of the brain that controls sleep or wakefulness.

Dr. Williams told of finding new evidence indicating that if the hypothalamus area is well-nourished in every way, then your mechanism controlling appetite will work properly.

The bodily wisdoms include control mechanism over temperature, breathing, composition of the blood and "the wisdom to eat or stop eating," he told the A.C.S. division of agricultural and food chemistry.

The appetite control is so remarkably precise that it is not unusual for a middle-aged man to gain only 20 pounds very gradually between ages 35 and 55, never counting a single calorie, he said. This man might eat 20 tons of food in that time, but burn up 99.99 per cent of it.

If he gained only 4 pounds in 20 years, he would have burned up or discarded 99.99 per cent of all the food.

But if his appetite control mechanism was not so efficient, and he burned up only 99.8 per cent, he would gain 80 pounds.

Regular exercise increases this bodily wisdom of appetite control, Dr. Williams said, citing studies by Dr. Jean Mayer of Harvard University.

ENS. WILLIAM C. CLAUSE JR.

News Of Men In Service

PENSACOLA, Fla. (FHTNC)—Qualified as a carrier pilot March 21 was Navy Ens. William C. Clause Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clause of Route 1, Box 32A, Sanford.

He graduated from the University of North Carolina before entering the service.

To qualify he completed six landings aboard the light aircraft carrier USS Salpan in the Gulf of Mexico.

He is now undergoing instruction in instrument flying at the Corry Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Pensacola.

MISSIONARIES APPOINTED
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board appointed 18 missionaries for service in seven foreign countries. The appointees included Rev. Dotson L. Mills and Mrs. Mills of Fort Pierce, Fla., Argentina.

The human body can also become foolish about eating, said Dr. Williams, discoverer of the B vitamin, pantothenic acid, which promotes growth. Examples are the child with a sweet tooth whose sugar consumption crowds out the vitamins, minerals and proteins he needs, and the adult whose craving alcohol lets alcohol substitute for food.

He indicated the well-nourished hypothalamus could avoid or help overcome the cravings.

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am in the military service, and I am covered by $10,000 free indemnity. I recently was married, and I want to change my beneficiary. Am I supposed to notify VA?

A. No. Service personnel should not notify VA of changes in beneficiary. Instead, they should notify their branch of service, since that's where their records are kept. VA handles the records of veterans, and not, generally, members of the armed forces.

Q. I want to get a GI farm loan. How can I find a lender who makes such loans?

A. You should be able to get the information from your County Agricultural Extension Agent. You also should contact lending institutions in your community.

Q. I am going to school under the Korean GI Bill. Will I have the right to make one change of program for as long as I might train?

A. No. You have the right to change your program up to the third anniversary date of your discharge from the armed forces. After that, you may change only if you are not making satisfactory progress in your present course, due to no fault of your own, and your new course would be more in keeping with your aptitudes and abilities.

Q. I am eligible for VA outpatient medical treatment for my service-connected disability. May I simply go to my own doctor and tell him to bill the VA?

A. No. You must get VA's prior authorization for your doctor to provide the treatment at VA's expense.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their benefits should write the VA office at 42 E. Central Ave., Orlando.

Governor Collins Announces Annual Board Meet Date

The annual meeting of the Southern Regional Education Board will be held at Daytona Beach, July 13, according to an announcement by Chairman Roy Collins, Governor of Florida. The SREB meeting is usually held concurrently with the Southern Governors' Conference, Chairman Collins explained, but since that Conference is scheduled for Sept. 9-12 and would conflict with college and university opening dates, it "seemed advisable to hold the SREB meeting separately this year."

Governor Collins added that it is expected the 1957 Board meeting would be held concurrently with the Governors' Conference. A meeting of the Board Development Study Committee is scheduled for July 11 and the Executive and Finance Committee will meet on July 12 preceding the full Board meeting. Governor Collins will report to the Southern Governors' Confer-

Ike To Kick Off Campaign Tuesday

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower will kick off his reelection campaign with an address to 800 Republican party leaders at a Washington dinner next Tuesday evening.

The President's vacation headquarters announced this today as White House press secretary James C. Hagerity hit back at former President Truman's charge that Eisenhower has been a "disappointing president." Truman said further in a Des Moines speech last night that the President has compiled "one of the most amazing records of political betrayal on farm matters that he (Truman) ever has seen."

"I don't believe that Mr. Truman, by his own standards, can recognize accomplishment when he sees it," Hagerity told newsmen in response to a request for comment.

E. Presley Signs Movie Contract

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Elvis Presley, a rock 'n' roller who looks a little like Marlon Brando and sings like Johnny Ray with the St. Vitus Dance, was signed today to a long-term movie contract.

Presley, a 21-year-old Memphis blues singer with long sideburns and black denim trousers, is the current swagman among bobby soxers.

Hal Wallis Productions screen tested Presley a few weeks ago after his RCA recording of "Heartbreak Hotel" soared near the million copy mark.

However, the producer didn't sign Presley until he made three appearances in San Diego last week. The first was on the Milton Berle television show. The next two were in the San Diego Arena where turnaway audiences of 3,000 mostly teen-aged girls, paid $15,000 gross to hear him sing eight songs.

Presley sings with movements not unlike those of a burlesque queen. The effect on bobby soxers is such that the arena manager had to call out police and a platoon of shore patrol to help quell the mob which pursued Presley to a barricaded dressing room.

He also has been the subject of two acid take-offs by television comic Steve Allen and Sid Caesar. This hasn't hurt his jet-propelled climb to fame.

Elvis plays a savage guitar as part of his act and averages about three broken strings performance. Before he took up the guitar, he was a $13-a-week truck driver in Memphis.

Comments Elvis: "I'm afraid to wake up each morning I can't believe all this has happened to me—I just hope it lasts."

Wayne Anderson, trainer for the Cincinnati Redlegs, once was a clubhouse boy for visiting Pacific Coast League teams in Los Angeles.

ence on the Work Conference on Nuclear Energy which is scheduled by the SREB for August, as well as the actions taken by the Board at the July 13 meeting.

Election Time Is Coming Up; Know Your Candidate, Get Facts

The tension is growing—the issues becoming tighter and more significant in the local political ring.

There's no open fighting—or there's none so far that we can see—but each candidate is lining up his best statements and the most emphatic phrases to throw out at the prospective voters for vote-getting material.

And another good sign is—the candidates are not talking among themselves and trying to convince one another that their platforms are the best. Right now, they're corraling individual voters off to one side to sell them a bill of goods and

Ike Is Friendly Man

Political prediction is an art. Like other forms of art, it ranges from the ridiculous to the sublime and—back again, in an election year, everyone tries to get in on the act.

The ridiculous burst forth in all its downy glory on the occasion of the annual Easter egg rolling at the White House. President Eisenhower became the innocent cause when he remarked genially to the crowd: "It is good to see you all. See you next year."

The horses of conjecture galloped off in all directions. What did the President mean? Was he just being friendly? Or was what he said there on the sunny lawn significant? Was it a genuine, grade A expression of confidence in the November election outcome?

The fact is, it doesn't much matter. President Eisenhower is a friendly man to whom saying "See you next year" would be as natural as rolling an Easter egg, and Ike as both Republican and Democrat would attest, is a man who almost always radiates confidence in his personal destiny. So the prophets had better look for significance elsewhere.

What's Age To Take Child On Ship?

By HAL BOYLE

ABOARD SS NASSAU At Sea
 —What is the proper age to take a child on a cruise?

Many parents ask this question. Homebound bound after a glorious two-week vacation tour of the Bahamas, I am a bit inclined to give this answer:

The proper age to take a child on a cruise is when it is 65 years old—and suffering from fallen arches. Then you can be reasonably sure of where it is.

Not that my wife, Frances, and I haven't been exactly unaware of the location of our young daughter, Tracy Ann.

We have always known exactly where she was. She has always been in one of three places:

1. Under the feet of the waiters in the dining room.

2. Fifteen steps ahead of our outstretched arms—and running in the wrong direction.

3. Trying to ride an upper rail piggy-back, with a rolling deck beneath her leg and maybe two miles of rolling ocean beneath the other.

This is the third cruise for Tracy. On the first one she was only 8 months old, and it was a breeze to push her around in a carriage. On the second cruise she was 18 months old, and still easy to handle. I put a leather harness on her and told her she was a pony. This more than pleased her, as at that age she would rather have been a horse than a grown-up.

But now she is 3 years and 8 months old and, like a cat settling down in new quarters, she has felt it necessary to explore may get another vote on their side of the ledger.

Hat-tipping and speaking to just any passerby is getting to be quite a habit among those seeking a coveted office.

We're not making any predictions—but we're going to go out on a limb and say that it's going to be one of the hardest contested races in a long time.

There are eight more Democratic Rallies in the schedule before the day for "casting ballots" rolls around, plus several "friendly get-togethers" to which the candidates are invited to attend and possibly have their say on a matter or two of the proper way to vote.

Still plenty of time is ahead where a voter may get all of the information he'd like to have to sum up the qualifications of a candidate.

Our advice is to "get all the facts," know your candidate, learn about his platform and his intentions. And often this—there's just one avenue to follow—vote as you please on the basis of the information you have secured from all of the candidates.

That way you'll be voting your own convictions and not as someone has dictated to you.

Traffic Accidents High

One hundred and thirty-one persons died on Florida highways and streets in traffic accidents last month, the largest statewide traffic death score for a one month period in the state's history. Delayed death reports will probably run up the total.

The previous record traffic death figure of 127 for one month was recorded by the Florida Highway Patrol in December, 1951.

Frankly, the figures worry us just a bit. With all of the warnings, nonvandalism literature, arrests for speeding, ignoring stop signs, and the rights of others the death toll keeps mounting.

Before our very eyes, here in Seminole County, automobiles have been demolished to the point where only space was left for the driver to sit.

Slaughter continues, one driver after the other, seemingly in a game of "I dare you to get me", up and down the highways. Seminole County, so far this year, is in the one-death total column as far as the records are concerned.

Our hopes are being centered on the total remaining the same throughout 1956 without going any higher. However, if drivers continue to burn up tires and highways there remains only one outcome—the total must go higher.

Could we be speaking to you, perhaps, and ask that you take just a little more care in your automobile driving.

We're proud of every person in Seminole County this moment—and we'd hate to see any one of them taken away from us because of a terrible automobile crash.

Remember—it can happen to you!

every cranny of the ship. She has tried to help the chef cook pastry, the engineer to fuel the boilers, the captain to rule his bridge.

With some ships this wouldn't do at all. But this ship has an Italian crew, many of them home-sick for their own families far away. Italians generally seem to have a theory that a child can do no wrong, and the crew members have so pampered Tracy that I'm afraid she'll be naïf way through college before I can unspoil her.

Right now I'm an ex-iron parent with the authority of a rubber band.

But the biggest blow has been to my athletic pride. Tracy is in the climbing stage, and every stairway is a challenge.

I didn't anticipate any real difficulty on that score, however, I come from a family of climbers—we rose from the coal mines to the swivel chair in only three generations. I have also climbed the dome of St. Peter's in Rome, the Eiffel Tower in Paris, and the Great Pyramid outside Cairo.

But these feats were as nothing compared with trying to keep pace with Tracy as she goat-leaped up one flight of ship's stairs and down the other. She's the lass who put the rope in ante-lope. After the first two days I started staying up to eat the midnight buffet so I'd have strength for the next morning's gallop. Do I sound like an old crane? After all, the fresh air and ex-

Multi-Million Dollar Project

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP)—The nation's largest facility for development of the shell or frame of an atom-powered airplane will be built in the sparsely settled north Georgia hills near Dawsonville about 60 miles north of Atlanta.

Plans for the multi-million dollar project were announced jointly last night by the Air Force and the Georgia division of Lockheed Aircraft Corp. at a dinner here. Gainesville is about 25 miles southeast of Dawsonville and the largest city in the area.

The Air Force in Washington also announced the awarding of a contract to Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. for continuing air frame development work that has been under way at Convair's Fort Worth, Tex., plant for more than four years.

As representative of the Air Force, Brig. Gen. B. E. Holloway, deputy commander Ninth Air Force, Shaw AFB, S.C., termed announcement of this development program for nuclear-powered aircraft "an historic occasion."

"A nuclear-powered aircraft is in some ways a bigger jump from the jet airplane than the jet was from the piston-propeller types," he said. "It will have tremendous advantages both in military and commercial applications; and it will enhance the value of United States airpower in its broadest sense, and in its prime role of promoting peace."

Holloway and Dan J. Haughton, general manager of Lockheed's Georgia division, both emphasized that the development will involve no hazards of any kind to the surrounding country or its people.

Haughton disclosed for the first time that Pratt & Whitney division of United Aircraft Corp. will be associated with Lockheed in the Dawsonville project.

He also said that "people from the Oak Ridge National Laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission" will be associated with Lockheed and the Air Force in the development program.

Neither the Air Force nor Lockheed would give a specific figure for the Georgia development but it has been estimated at between 50 and 100 million dollars.

Haughton said the buildings and equipment near Dawsonville "will ultimately comprise one of the world's finest laboratories for aircraft nuclear research."

The Dawsonville laboratory will be constructed on a 10,000-acre site purchased by Lockheed from Roscoe Tucker of Dawsonville, a national Republican committeeman from Georgia, and others, and deeded to the government for $1. It will be owned by the government and operated by Lockheed.

Reviewer Recalls Good, Bad TV Fane

NEW YORK (AP)—In this waning television season a reviewer remembers some outstanding programming for the home screen—as well as many failures.

CBS-TV has brought us some excellent works via "OmniBus," "Ford Star Jubilee" and Ed Murrow's "See It Now" in addition to special events. ABC-TV has supplied "Disneyland" and some good special events.

While NBC-TV has had a share of failures, notably in some of its "spectaculars," a reviewer cannot help but be impressed by its programming philosophy. In actual attainment the month of January on NBC-TV was probably the highest level achieved by any network within a specific month. For example:

"Peter Pan," the best single program yet seen on television, was repeated to the delight of all. "Nightmare in Red," that excellent documentary film on the rise of communism in Russia, also was repeated to a large audience.

Moral: It's the best of ideas for a network to repeat its best programs occasionally.

In "Festival of Music" is noted musical artists offered some of the best of classical music. Mozart's "The Magic Flute" was presented by "NBC Opera Theatre" in a two and one-half hour production.

Moral: The idea that classical music has no place on television is a myth concocted—perhaps—by the radio industry.

"Conversations" was a weekly series dedicated to the idea that everyone has much to learn from men who have lived long and wisely. There were filled interviews with Dr. Paul J. Tillich, a noted Protestant theologian; Pablo Casals, the foremost cellist of our time; Marcel Duchamp, a French-born painter; Sean O'Casey, the Irish dramatist; and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Moral: It's good when television looks at life and art beyond our borders.

"Wide World" went visiting across America three times in January: on New Year's Day, in a portrait of an American winter, and in a contrast of north and

Administration Plan Not Clear

BY JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON (AP)—If the Eisenhower administration has a plan for preventing Middle Eastern war, it hasn't been stated. Nor, if war begins between Israelis and Arabs, is it clear whether this government will try to stop it with armed force or a debate in the United Nations.

This lack of clarity about U.S. policy may discourage the Israelis and Arabs from big fighting. Or it may have the opposite effect.

A careful reading of the White House statement issued after a conference between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles shows this country is not saying precisely what it will do. The key sentences said:

"The United States, in accordance with its responsibilities under the charter of the United Nations, will observe its commitments within constitutional means to oppose any aggression.

"The United States is likewise determined to support and assist any nation which might be subjected to such aggression. The United States is confident that other nations will act similarly in the cause of peace."

not wish to carry out the 1950 agreement. Britain and France have their hands full in Cyprus and in North Africa.

What neither the United States, Britain nor France is providing now—as far as Middle East peace is concerned—is leadership.

Driving Can Be Risky If You Are Very Upset

By HERMAN N. DUNHAM, M.D.

RUMAN failure rather than mechanical failure is the prime cause of auto accidents. No matter how well you may be able to handle a car, you are not a good driver unless you are always alert to what you are doing while at the wheel.

Daydreaming, emotional strain, inability to make immediate decisions, these are only a few of the conditions which can turn a potentially good driver into a Tremendous Force.

Most important, you've got to realize what tremendous force you have at your disposal.

Even at the normal driving speed of 25 miles an hour, it will take a car, under ordinary conditions, 48 feet to stop after the brakes have been applied. But your car will travel an additional 27 feet during the three-quarters of a second it takes you to touch the brake pedal after recognizing a signal to stop.

don't slam out of the house and into your car right after an argument with your spouse.

You're apt to seek vengeance by bullying your way through traffic. It's a juvenile thing to do, of course. But even worse, it may be a deadly thing to do.

Feelings of resentment also may capture the driving manner of a hapless husband or a too-obedient child. For these persons, especially, a gas pedal may be an exhilarator rather than an accelerator. A speeding auto gives them a sense of importance and power they do not otherwise possess.

Persons afflicted with various diseases should not drive, at least not without getting an okay from their personal physician. Some cardiovascular disabilities may interfere with driving ability. Among them are essential hypertension, carotid sinus hypersensitivity and severe angina pectoris. If you have a heart disease, you must learn the symptoms of a pending attack.

Q. U. I: What causes gallstones?
 Answers: The exact cause is not known, but infection of the gallbladder, overweight and lack of exercise are factors which may lead to this condition.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

MARK TWAIN was lecturing in the midwest, relates Fred Mathias, when a reporter barged into his bedroom, awakening him from a sound sleep.

"But I gotta catch the noon edition. Tell me: Who's the most interesting American you ever met?" "A man named Burr," said Twain promptly.

The reporter blinked, and said, "Hey, wait a minute. Burr died in 1838, didn't he? And you were only born a year before that. How would you know if he was interesting or not?"

Twain looked very pleased. "You've achieved distinction, you're man," he said. "It's the first time to my knowledge that fool paper of yours has discovered an error before publishing it."

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

ON MONDAY Lora walked up the hill to call on John Ambrose. They were sitting chatting comfortably when a great knocking sound at the door. John opened it for a moment, but no one was there. "The woods are on fire, the wind has come up and the smoke is blowing this way!" Morgan cried.

They followed her without question, hurrying up the driveway to the house. Morgan shouted to John to go around the back, and dragged Lora upstairs.

She ran toward the empty rear bedroom and Lora followed her on to the balcony and stood beside her looking out over the tree-studded hill. As was the custom on Staten Island, the wind had come up and the smoke was blowing this way to the valley, leaving a black path behind it. A great flaming area was visible.

Lora shrank as a gust of wind blew the white smoke their way. Morgan twisted her hands together.

"If this wind holds, my house is in the fire path! And we're nothing but brush around. Something must be done!"

She was already running toward the stairs and Lora hurried after her. "I'll get work."

"Get Adam too. Every man you can find. I'll have the stable boy give the alarm."

Lora plunged breathlessly down the hill, tripping now and then over a root across the path, spurring herself not at all. The smoke had not yet crept down the hill. Mother Tyler sat at the open window where her chair had been wheeled.

"There's a fire coming up through the woods toward Morgan's house!" Lora cried as she ran into the yard. "Peter must go up there, and I'm going to fetch Adam."

"Lora!" Mrs. Tyler cried from her window, and the girl turned impatiently in mid-flight.

"I can't stop now," she told the old lady. "If Wade comes home you'd better send him right up there. They may need every man."

they can raise. I'll come back as soon as I can."

When she reached the Lord's she did not wait for the polite ringing of the bell to be heard, but pounded on the door and shouted for Adam.

He came at once, with his sister behind him. He still looked low from his recent attack of fever, but at least he was well again.

"There's a fire coming up the hill toward Morgan's house," she told them. "If the wind stays as it is now there may be real danger."

Adam answered her that there was nothing she could do and came with Lora at once. Together they started toward the hill path and Lora had to trot to keep up with Adam's longer stride.

"You'd better go home," he advised. "And keep a watch-out. If this thing gets out of control it could burn its way down this side of the hill, too. Though the Channing grounds and the upper survey of Dogwood lane make a natural fire-break which may help."

"I'm going with you," Lora said. "There'll be things I can do at Morgan's and they'll need every hand."

He threw her a quick look, but offered no objection. They saved themselves for fast climbing and did no more talking until they reached the level of the pool and stopped a moment for breath.

Adam did not look too fit, and Lora regarded him doubtfully.

"Perhaps you shouldn't be doing this. After all, you've been ill and—"

"Don't trouble being sorry for me. I'm not right," he said shortly. "Let's get on." They hurried upward again.

Ambrose and Peter were already at work. Clothilde, the French housekeeper, and the other women servants were drawing water from the well, while men stood on ladders throwing pails of it on the roofs of stable and servant's quarters nearest the danger. Over everything hung the ominous white haze and the air was uncomfortable to breathe.

The bells of rival fire companies could be heard clanging up the hill and in a few moments the horses of the Zephyr Co. appeared pulling the heavy engine up the drive, while volunteer firemen overran the grounds. A few were equipped with red hats and shirts but most of them had come dressed as they were when the alarm sounded. Hose was quickly lowered into the well and volunteers manned the hand pump.

Lora stood for a few moments watching the single, thin stream of water begin the doubtful task of watering down the space of brush back of the Channing grounds. The second fire company had arrived shortly after the first, but its men stood idly by, watching the progress of the fire up the hill. It was likely that they would not lift a finger unless the first company agreed to share the insurance company's reward. The sight made Lora indignant, but she knew there was no way to oppose this ridiculous system. Not even if the house burned down.

She went to work in the kitchen, setting a huge coffee pot on the stove. The reviving powers of the brew would be needed in the hours ahead while all hands worked at the emergency.

Through the kitchen window she could hear the not too distant crackling of the flames. The stinging smell of the fire now pervaded the entire house and her eyes smarted constantly.

Morgan came up from the cellar carrying a stack of gunny sacks to be taken outside and soaked with water, in the event of hand-to-hand fighting with encroached flames. She glanced at Lora, apparently taking her efforts for granted, and ran outside at once with her burden.

Lora found big china cups kept for the use of the servants and filled them with the steaming liquid. These she set on a tray and carried outside to serve to whoever needed a respite. Again and again she made the trip, for the coffee was accepted gratefully wherever she went.

Tigers Beat Giants

In the closest game of the Rotary club league this season, the Tigers edged out the Giants yesterday evening, 3-4. Boreas' bluster kept plenty of hustle in the contest, even though the high winds made the fly balls cut didoes.

Lester Bush drove a fly deep into left center field for a homerun in the final effort of his team to pull the game out of the fire.

In the see-saw affair the Tigers went out in front in the first frame when George Harriett took life on a walk, stole second and came home when Jimmy Gracey bobbled Cecil Dandridge's grounder.

Trailing by this lone tally, the Giants came to bat in the third and Johnny Emerson led off with a single and stole the next base. Alex McKibbin punched out a double and Johnny streaked across with the tying run. McKibbin was trapped in a run down and went out when Dandridge tagged him after fiddling Bruce McCoy's grounder and throwing to Bramlett who took part in the chase.

Jimmy Cordell with a clean cut crashed the ball into the outfield for two bases, took third on a passed ball and tallied a moment later to put his team in front by two runs. Lester Bush was safe on an error in left field, but as he tried to score on Butler's infield smack was caught at the plate. The side went out when Koke was down, Dandridge to High.

The Bengals roared back in their half of the frame. Harriett, Dandridge and Bush all walked to load the bases and the first two of them turned no run. Bush was caught in a run-down. Dave Bramlett and Bruce McCommons hit the base paths on a fielder's choice and a single and later raced across the plate with two more tallies. Joe High's rap bringing in McCommons.

Behind 3 to 5, The Jints bounced back when Bush lined out the homer. Butler popped to Dandridge, Koke was out, Dan-

Spieser Wins Fight With Joe Rowan

DETROIT (AP) — Referee Lou Handier, a veteran Detroit ring official, said today he was afraid for a moment that he had helped set up a punch that might have cost Chuck Spieser his fight with Joe Rowan here last night.

As it was Spieser won handily, chopping away at Rowan's left eye until it closed completely in the fifth round. Dr. Joseph Cahalan stopped it between rounds but under Michigan rules it was classed as a sixth-round technical knockout.

"He (Rowan) hurt me just that once," Spieser admitted. "back in the second round. We'd been in close and I thought the ref was going to break us."

"I dropped my hands and what! He caught me with a left hook and then pushed me into the ropes."

Handier said he actually shouted to the fighters "fight out of it."

"But the minute I said it and saw Spieser drop his hands I knew he thought I was going to say 'break.' I felt awful."

Associated Press Licensed Wire

No. 73

Weather
Fair today and Saturday, little temperature change today and tonight, a little warmer Saturday.

THE FIRST LIGHTS-ON CONTRIBUTION is made by Mrs. F. D. Scott, wife of Sanford's Mayor as two of the local volunteers visit Mrs. Scott's home. Mrs. Fred Ganas accepts the check while Mrs. Don Bales explains the importance of the current campaign for funds. (Staff Photo)

Lights-On Campaign Slated Monday Night

Local Men May Now Make Appointment To Have Hair Cut

Something new has been added for busy business men who find it practically impossible to sit and wait for hours on end to have their hair trimmed.

No—it isn't a specially designed hair clipper that can be operated while you sleep.

Next to it though is a barber shop that will operate by appointment only.

Garfield Walker has conceived the idea and has opened a separate shop apart from his present barber shop in the Valdez Hotel, where you may call and make an appointment to have your hair trimmed, get a shampoo and tonic, at your own convenience.

Walker said "I had experience in a similar shop in another part of the State and I believe the men will like the idea."

The shop, separate but immediately to the rear of his present three-chair barber shop at 115 North Park Ave., is completely equipped with the latest barber tools and sterilizer, and is air conditioned.

It is to be operated from 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. with appointments made by phone. "I'm expecting the idea to catch on quickly," said Walker as he pointed to his newly installed telephone which has been assigned No. 482.

Walker emphasized that his present three-chair barber shop will be operated normally as before.

Rotary Speaker Will Give Confidence, Growth Connection

Notarions and their guests at the meeting Monday noon at the Yacht club will hear Joseph S. Guernsey, president of the Florida Savings and Loan League, discuss the relationship of confidence and progress.

Because optimistic viewpoints of the leaders of an economy based on free enterprise are essential and because the local club membership is made up of business officials and professional men engaged in the "American way of business," it is expected that the visiting Orlando speaker's topic will be especially interesting.

Mr. Guernsey is president of the Orlando Federal Savings and Loan association, owner of the Hotel Wyoming, a Director of the Orlando Executive Club, trustee of the Orlando Junior College.

The diversity of his business interests that also include insurance and real estate development, provides a broad background from which Mr. Guernsey will draw his deductions and form his opinions on the significance of confidence in progress.

Simultaneously, the county communities are having their lights-on drive, under the direction of each Health Chairman, Seminole County Home Demonstration Club. This is being organized by Miss Myrtle Wilson, R. T. Milwee, and Irving Pryor.

The colored section of Sanford is being headed by Miss Katie Robinson.

The receiving station for contributions will be held again at the Florida State Bank, where a number of volunteers will be stationed to count money. Radio Station WTRH has volunteered to broadcast the names of volunteers and their collections every night.

Ball Game Tonight

Baseball, entertainment and free gifts await the fans at the Sanford Memorial Stadium tonight when the Sanford Cardinals meet Apopka in the opening game of the 1956 Lake-Orange season.

Pre-game ceremonies featuring the Seminole High School band and the majorette corps will begin promptly at 7:45 p. m.

The honorable F. D. Scott, mayor of the City of Sanford is expected to throw out the first ball to officially open the local baseball season in Sanford.

President John Krider of the Florida State League, and Frank Treen, president of the Lake-Orange League, will be present to make the opening remarks.

Special Charle Morrison will emcee the pre-game festivities and will also give away the many prizes donated by some of the leading merchants in Sanford.

Prizes to be given away include a can of car polish from the (Goodyear Service Store) five gallons of gas from the Sanford Ave. Amoco; one quart of paint from the Sherwin-Williams Paint Co.; two free dinners from the Touchton Drug Store; Free Dry Cleaning from Phillips Colonial Cleaners; five quarts of oil from Merlo Warner's Gulf Service; $2 in cash from O. D. Farrell's Package Store, and a season ticket to the remaining Sanford Cardinal home games.

Scheduled to take the mound for Sanford is either the old veteran Buddy Lake or left hander Lloyd Swain. Playing manager Swain says he won't decide on a pitching choice until just before game time.

Last night the Cardinals held their first work-out under the lights at the Memorial Stadium.

The tentative starting line-up for tonight's game as announced by Swain after last night's practice session is: Nat Males of John Keeling 2B; Bill Crabtree 1B; George Kenis 1B; Fulton Haxley rf; Jimmy King ss; Hugh Carlton 3B; George Burroughs c, and Buddy Lake p.

18 Tourist Editions Going Out Today To Future Dwellers

Eighteen copies of The Sanford Herald's annual Tourist and Mail-away edition are going out today from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at the request of Harry W. Wolfe of Harrisburg, Pa.

Wolfe, one of hundreds of prospective Florida residents to receive a paper from the Chamber of Commerce, wrote a letter of thanks and included a long list of friends who would like to know more about Florida. He said, "These people are the type who will contribute a lot to any community where they settle."

Wolfe spent two months in Sanford and vicinity this past winter and expects to locate permanently in the area sometime next year.

Campbell-Lossing Post Will Elect Officers Monday

The Campbell-Lossing Post, American Legion, will elect officers at its meeting Monday night at the American Legion Hut on Lake Shore Boulevard.

Deadline for making reservations for the supper meeting is noon tomorrow according to the notice mailed to each member of the veterans' organization.

Supper will be served at 7:30 with the official meeting slated to get underway immediately following.

Missionary Will Talk At Methodist Church Sunday Eve

Sunday evening at 7:30, Miss Virginia Chanman, a missionary to Cuba for seven years, will speak at the First Methodist Church.

She is now a teacher and counselor to girls at the Evangelical Seminary at Matanzas Cuba.

This past week she was the principal speaker at the Florida Conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church at Daytona Beach.

Miss Chapman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Chapman of Sanford. She will speak on "The Program of the Methodist Church in Cuba."

Re-Evaluation Issue Turns Discussion Into Uproar

THIS IS THE SIGN you will see all over downtown Sanford as merchants begin promoting Banner Days. Merchants Association Chairman Gordon Sweeney shows Jack Hall of Yowell's the sign that will be used throughout the giant celebration next week. (Staff Photo)

Lumber, Supply Yard To Be Sold At Auction Soon

A Sanford lumber and supply yard will be sold at auction Tuesday, April 17, at 1:30 p. m.

The Security Lumber and Supply Yard, located at the corner of Sixth St. and Maple Ave. and its complete stock of hardware, doors, windows, lumber, plywoods, cement, plaster and other building materials will all go to the highest bidder in the auction to be conducted by the Hansbrough National Realty and Auction Company.

The stocks of millwork, frames, and supplies may be purchased separately and privately at a special price, according to officials of the auction organization.

According to the description of the property to be sold it fronts 180 feet on Sixth St. and 180 feet on Maple Ave. with an interest of 180 feet of railroad siding and access to the entire railroad spur of 1282 feet.

There is a fully equipped office building on the property which has a safe, cash register, desks and cabinets. Buildings include a lumber shed with a 250,000 foot lumber capacity and three iron clad warehouses.

The equipment includes two trucks, one a 1916 Dodge two-ton and the other a 1918 one-ton Chevrolet.

Security Lumber and Supply yard is owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Truluck.

Big Savings Feature During Banner Days

Banner Days, sponsored by the Sanford Merchants Association, and participated in by citywide merchants, will be one of the most exciting days of the year, according to the chairman of the committee heading up the plans for the event.

Gordon Sweeney said yesterday that the three day sale which will get underway at 9 a. m. Thursday April 19 will feature thousands of items at the greatest savings ever experienced by Sanford Area shoppers.

"This is going to be a real sale," Sweeney said as he began the distribution of "Banner Days" streamers for store windows.

Merchants, in their first planned cooperative event in quite some time, are readying stocks of brand new spring and summer merchandise which will be offered at amazingly low prices.

"People are going to flock to Sanford from the trade area," said Sweeney, "just as soon as they hear about some of the spectacular prices on brand new merchandise that will be offered during this three-day spring event."

Why, some of the merchandise being offered by Sanford Merchants is so new that it hasn't arrived yet," explained the Banner Days committee Chairman.

Assisting Sweeney on the Banner Day Sale Committee are Bud Hamberger, Don Bales, Hugh Grier, Herman Jacobson, and Charles V. Atkinson.

Passengers 'Shook Up' In Accident At Intersection

An accident, yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Sanford Ave. and 27th St., "shook up" two passengers, said Florida Highway Patrol Trooper T. Mark Mack who investigated the collision.

A 1952 Ford Coach, driven by Mrs. Jean Cecilia Ellmore, a Navy man's wife, was traveling south on Sanford Ave. shortly after 2:30 yesterday when a 1954 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Claude C. Howard, traveling north on Sanford Ave., cut in front of the oncoming car.

According to Trooper Mack's investigation, the left front fender and light of the Ford was damaged an estimated $235 and the Chevrolet truck damaged an estimated $75.

The truck, traveling at a speed of approximately 10 miles per hour started to turn west into 27th St. when the collision occurred.

Mrs. Joyce Ann Balton, a Navy wife and passenger in the Chevrolet car, and the small daughter of Mrs. Ellmore were "shook up" said Mack and were taken to the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station dispensary for a check-up.

Jaycees Hear Candidates

Two questions turned the Jaycee discussion period following their luncheon meeting yesterday into a round of explanations from four candidates for the Seminole County Tax Assessor's office in the local contest which will climax May 8.

Four of the candidates spoke for their allotted five minutes in behalf of their candidacy or the office. Miss Mary Earle, another candidate who could not be present because of illness, submitted her platform in writing which was read by Toni Russel, program chairman for the Jaycees.

Other candidates speaking were Rudy Sloan, Jack E. Stemper, John W. Melach, and Raleigh King.

Rudy Sloan stuck to his guns in proposing a new and permanent Homestead Exemption system by a ballot method. He said "the following counties use this method successfully—Dade, Duval, Orange, Escambia, Pinellas, Polk, and Volusia."

Jack E. Stemper told the Jaycees "I am basing my campaign strictly on taxation. I will be for no destruction of the tax structure we now have. We are only out for the full representation of the tax dollar."

County Commissioner John Meisch emphatically stated "I, for one, am for reapportionment of all of the property in Seminole County. Unless we have a change the schools are stifled. We have almost half of the property in Seminole County exempt from taxation. Reapportionment will not hurt anyone."

"A tax Assessor—if he does a good job," said Raleigh King, "must so allocate the county for every road, paved or sand, leads to taxable property. Consider well whom you will select as your tax assessor."

Miss Mary Earle, outlined in her qualifications, read by Toni Russel of the Jaycees, "I am fully qualified with the work of the Tax Assessor's Office," as her service of 22 years was reviewed.

A question from the floor threw the discussions, participated in by each of the candidates in turn, into (Continued on Page Eight)
