Agents 'Sting' 8 In Crack Cocaine Deals

Police undercover work netted the arrests of seven Sanford men and a 17-year-old Sanford girl Monday on charges of possession and sale of crack cocaine.

A sting, set up by Sanford police in cooperation with the City/County Investigative Bureau earlier this month, culminated with the arrests Monday

The suspected street drug-dealers were picked up between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. Monday at the corners of Seventh Street and Cypress Ave., Sixth Street and Cypress and in front of Joe's Pool Hall, 13th Street and Olive Ave., said Sanford Police

The three areas were where the suspects had sold the crack to CCIB undercover agents on different occasions earlier this month, Harriett

The undercover officers bought small amounts of crack from the dealers, had it tested, then collectively made the arrests of the sellers Monday, he said.

The operation did not target quantity, but sought to round up some of the small dealers who receive cocaine from traffickers and sell it on the city's streets, the chief said.

"We sought to establish intent and then come in for the arrests." he said.

'The job is definitely not done," Harriett said. "We need to keep doing things like this to make any kind of impact. The 17-year-old girl was taken to the Seminole County Juvenile Detention Center after her arrest, while the seven adults were booked into the county jail. All seven remained in the jail this morning, five on $2,000 bond and two without bond, Harriett

Chernobyl Fallout Tops All

NEW YORK (UPI) — Long-term radioactive fallout from the Soviet Chernobyi reactor disaster equals the total from all the world's nuclear tests and bombs ever exploded. The New York Times reported today, citing a new study.

And the amount of radioactive cesium — the fallout's primary long-term component - from the crippled reactor could exceed by 50 percent the total cesium that has settled on the Earth from all the world's atmospheric nuclear tests, the newspaper said.

The study, by the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory in California, is one of several new examinations of the disaster by Western scientists since Soviet scientists disclosed their findings on the April 26 accident at internation symposium in Vienna a month ago.

City's Own Laws Frustrate Effort To Close 'Hotel'

Sanford's own laws prevented city commissioners Monday from using the Florida Hotel's unlicensed status to close it down until its owner corrects cited building and fire code violations.

Commissioners reacted with suprise and frustration when City Attorney William Colbert told them it would take a court order to close the hotel, although it does not have a city occupational license.

The city's Code Enforcement Board Sept. 16 imposed a $25-a-day fine against Florida Hotel owner Peggy Nestor until she corrects two cited violations involving fire safety. Commissioners had said at a Sept. 15 work session they wanted to discuss the Florida Hotel situation at their next meeting.

Families Say Grace Settlement Warning To Corporate Polluters

BOSTON (UPI) - Families who blame W.R. Grace & Co. for the leukemia deaths of five children and one adult say their out-of-court settlement with the company in a toxic waste case tells corporate polluters "they have to beware."

The eight families that brought the suit, charging Grace polluted the water supply of Woburn, Mass., by dumping potentially carcinogenic chemicals, agreed Monday to drop the case for a settlement reported to be worth $8 million.

A jury had found the company guilty of negligence in polluting the water, but still had to determine whether the contamination caused the leukemia cases.

"This settlement is never going to bring our children back, but it's all come to an end and we can finally maybe start living again," said Donna Robbins, whose 9-year-old son, Carl, died of leukemia in 1981.

Corporations nationwide "are really watching this case closely," she added. "They are concerned about it and they have to beware.

The suit was filed on behalf of five children and one adult who died of leukemia, as well as two others who suffered non-fatal cases of the disease.

Grace attorney Michael Keating said as part of the settlement, the firm denied any responsibility for contaminating the wells or causing any illness.

Gunman Eludes Night Manhunt

WRIGHT CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Authorities searched homes, set up roadblocks and combed eastern Missouri in helicopters early today looking for a gunman who killed two people, wounded two more, abducted at least five others and stole seven vehicles in a 250-mile crime spree. officials said.

More than 100 law enforcement officials joined the search for Mike Wayne Jackson, 41, who began his violent rampage across three states Monday morning when he gunned down his parole officer in Indianapolis.

Jackson, who has a criminal record going back 21 years and a history of psychiatric problems, then killed an indianapolis store clerk during a robbery and began abducting motorists to drive him out of the city.

He was spotted late Monday 250 miles away in O'Fallon. Mo., where he shot and wounded two people, including a police officer and a man whose car he stole, O'Fallon police spokeswoman Julia Grillion said.

In O'Fallon, 45 miles west of St. Louis, Jackson took a car at gunpoint from a woman in a parking lot, drove a short distance, then abducted an unidentified man who was waxing his Cadillac, Grillion said.

dozen radioactive satellites carrying more than a ton of uranium-235 and deadly plutonium-238 are orbiting Earth and pose a potential threat to other spacecraft and Earth's environment, it was reported

Monday. Aviation Week and Space Technology magazine said a study by a civilian analyst of the Soviet space program concluded that current techniques to store radioactive satellites in high orbits are not satisfactory.

The magazine reported that Nicholas Johnson, an engineer for Teledyne Brown Engineering, raid most of the radioactive space debris was launched by the Soviet Union, including 30 nuclear-powered radar ocean surveillance spacecraft launched since 1967.

The report said most of those nuclear satellites are in 600-mile-high orbits where the possibility of colliding with other spacecraft "is accentuated."

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Four supplies eventually will return to Earth and be distributed in the atmosphere," the report said.

Aviation Week said Energy Department officials are not as concerned about the potential hazards because the satellites in the high orbits will remain there for several hundred years, long enough for the radioactive elements to become less hazardous before they eventually return to

The only American nuclear reactor to be placed in orbit, the SNAP-10A launched in 1965, now appears to be breaking up in a high orbit, the report said. The United States has launched other spacecraft using nonreactor nuclear generators.

Aviation Week said concern over nuclear power sources in orbit could affect development of future large American spacecraft requiring large amounts of electricity. The Pentagon's Strategic Defense Initiative, or "Star Wars" program, is directing the development of an experimental space nuclear reactor.

On-Site Inspections For NATO, Warsaw Pact Countries

35 Nations Sign Security Accord

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Delegates from 35 nations formally approved new rules Monday for monitoring military exercises in Europe, successfully ending nearly three years of talks with the first East-West security accord since 1979.

The agreement requires mandatory advance notification, observation and verification of major troop movements in Europe to prevent the risk of war breaking out by accident or miscalculation.

Allowing unprecedented on-site inspections, the agreement also will give NATO and the Warsaw Pact unique insights into each other's military activities when it goes into effect Jan. 1.

Although the first conventional military forces agreement since World War II does not limit weapons or troops, it goes far beyond the current voluntary troop monitoring guidelines in scope and territo-

But Western delegates, while taking credit for most of the confidence-building measures in the final accord, complained the East was reluctant to agree on exchanging information on basic military structures, locations and forces.

"The conference has not achieved nearly as much in this area as we thought desirable and possible," U.S. chief negotiator Robert Barry told a final plenary session, the 178th meeting of all delegates since the conference opened in January 1984.

"It seems to us self-evident that an agreed understanding of what forces are routinely stationed in Europe," he said. "with what combat capability, is a fundamental requirement of true stability." Europe has the largest concentration of armed forces in the world with the standing armies of NATO and the Warsaw Pact facing each other on the divided continent. "The agreement is the maximum possible at present," Soviet chief negotiator Oleg Grincvsky said.

The delegates representing the superpowers. Canada and all of Europe except Albania agreed the Stockholm document will strengthen peace and stability in

It's 'Soviet Day' At United Nations

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) -Assembly looked to Soviet Corazon Aquino stole the show Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze today for clues on the future of U.S. Soviet relations.

Shevardnadze was expected to reply today to President Reagan's Monday speech, which brought an initial reaction of official who warned that it was bound to produce a "very negative attitude."

Reagan, in his 30-minute address to the General Assembly Monday, cited several instances in which the United States and Soviet Union have moved closer on cutbacks in intermediate and long-range missiles.

"All this gives me hope," Reagan said.

'Now more than ever," he said, "It is the responsibility of the Soviet Union to take action and demonstrate that they, too, are continuing the dialogue for an assemblage of foreign leaders peace."

Despite his upbeat tone on arms control, Reagan delivered a stern rebuke to the Soviet Union over the arrest of American reporter Nicholas Daniloff on espionage charges.

"Let me, in the tradition of candor established at Geneva, tell you that a pall has been cast over our relations with the Soviet Union," he said.

Shevardnadze declined to comment Monday on Reagan's speech saying. "I will speak tomorrow."

Soviet Deputy Foreign news briefing at the Soviet U.N. mission, "I must say frankly that I have been disappointed by what I heard today."

He said the "dialogue" in Washington between Shevardnadze and Secretary of State George Shultz last week was "overall constructive" and that he had expected Reagan's speech to reflect that.

'And what we have heard is bound to cause. I would sav. a very negative attitude," Petrovsky said. "And here I am referring both to the tone and the substance of that state-

He said the Daniloff case could be resolved "very quickly" but it was up to the United States.

Daniloff was arrested Aug. 30, one week after Soviet U.N. employee Gennadi Zakharov was arrested in New York on charges of trying to purchase secret documents.

Judging from the enthusiastic Diplomats at the U.N. General applause, Philippine President on Monday's opening of the General Assembly's political debate. She followed King Juan Carlos of Spain and Reagan. "No government can indefinitely resist its people united against it," Aquino said. "It may have guns, goons and jails, yet disappointment from one Soviet as we found in the Philippines. there is no government that can indefinitely resist its people determined to be free.

But despite his upbeat tone on arms control, Reagan delivered a stern rebuke to the Soviet Union on the Daniloff case and said,

"The world expects better." His flash of impatience - and renewed demand that Daniloff be freed - did not conceal a desire for movement on efforts to break an 18-month arms control stalemate and schedule another superpower summit.

"Now more than ever," he told and diplomats, "it is the responsibility of the Soviet Union to take action and demonstrate that they, too, are continuing the dialogue for peace."

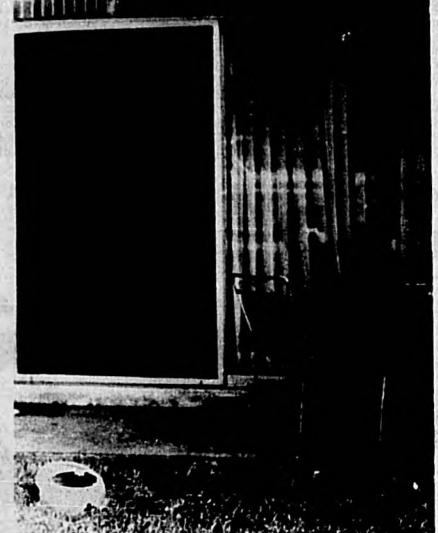

For the first time, Reagan publicly offered to negotiate curbs on his "Star Wars" missile-defense program, though less than those sought by the Soviets and without barring

His fifth speech before the world body also contained a repackaged approach to nuclear testing that still rejects the Soviet call for an outright ban. Minister Vladimir Petrovsky. He proposed "a step-by-step however, told reporters at a parallel program" of test limits combined with reductions in nuclear arsenals.

> Reagan called the arrest of Daniloff "a particularly disturbing example of Soviet transgressions against human rights" and asserted the U.S. News & World Report correspondent charged with espionage - was the target of "fabricated accusations and trumped-up charges" and treated with "callous disregard of due process and numerous human rights conventions."

> Reagan branded Daniloff's arrest simple retaliation for the carlier arrest on apy charges of Gennadi Zakharov, a Soviet U.N. employee, and vowed the two cases will not be equated for purposes of a trade.

"Gennadi Zakharov is an accused spy who should stand trial, Nicholas Dantioff is an innocent hostage who should be released," Reagan said.

Two Convenience Stores Hit By Robbers Sunday

Two convenience store robberies were reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies Sun-

In the first case, at about 8 p.m., two men entered the Lil' Champ, 2752 Country Club Road, Sanford. One took a beer to the register while the other stood by. When the register was opened by the clerk to take payment for the beer, one of the men cursed her and demanded the cash.

He grabbed the drawer out of the cash and ran southwest on Country Club Road. A sheriff's report said a tracking dog didn't find the suspects. In the other incident, a man entered the Cumberland Farms, 2550 W. State Road 434, at about 9:55 p.m. He took an ice cream sandwich from a freezer and paid 50 cents. When the register was opened the bandit pointed a gun at the clerk and demanded money.

The money was put in a bag and the suspect put his gun in the bag too. He fled and a witness saw him get in a car driven by a second man. They fled east on State Road 434, a sheriff's report said.

GUN THREAT ARREST Sanford police reported charging a 34-year-old man with aggravated assault, use of a firearm in a felony and carrying a concealed weapon. The arrest came after a man at the Sanford Police station reported the suspect had been at his home at about 5:30 p.m. Sunday and had allegedly pointed a gun at him and threatened to kill him, a police report said.

A policeman spotted the suspect on Seventh Street at Cypress Avenue at about 6:30 p.m. The man ran and finally surrendered. The policeman didn't find a gun on the man, but searched the area and on the ground near where the man had been reported finding a .38-caliber handgun.

Edward M. Duval, no address given, has been charged in the case and was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

ASSAULT CHARGE A Sanford man has been charged with assault after an

Body Found In Boxcar Identified

Through a match of fingerprints Seminole County sheriff's investigators have identified a body found in an abandoned boxcar west of Sanford on Sept. 16 as an Orlando man who was last seen when he was on his way to church the morning of Sept. 14.

William James Neville, 53, of 2913 S. Semoran Blvd., #215, was beaten to death according to an autopsy performed in Sanford on Sept. 17. His wife had reported him missing and Seminole County sheriff's deputies matched fingerprints from items taken from his home with those of the body, sheriff's Capt. Roy Hughey said, today.

Neville had been reported missing by his wife on the morning of Sept. 15, Hughey said. His car had been found abandoned on Church Street in Orlando, Hughey said.

The body was found by a Seminole County road worker at about 1 p.m. Sept. 16, in an abandoned boxcar, behind a burned-out ice house, off Rand Yard Road.

Neville worked for a clothing store. There was no identification on the body when found. The investigation into the murder continues.

U.S. Must Guide Repressive Right

Hopes for a peaceful transition to democracy in Chile darkened the other day under a state of siege reimposed by Gen. Augusto Pinochet moments after he survived an assassination attempt in his bulletproof limousine.

The military ruler's growing number of opponents could take no encouragement from the ambush on his motorcade. He used the incident which left five of his bodyguards dead and the dictator with only a scratched hand, as a pretext to widen a government crackdown on dissent.

Under pressure from the Reagan administration, Gen. Pinochet had lifted the state of siege last year. Now he again relies on the suspension of civil liberties to cling to power against the wishes of his countrymen.

To stifle opposition, Gen. Pinochet promptly closed six magazines critical of his regime, and ordered two foreign news agencies, Britain's Reuters and Italy's ANSA, to halt disseminating news in Chile or abroad. Meantime, scores of dissidents were arrested, including priests, journalists and political figures.

Magazine editor Jose Carrasco Tapia was dragged from his home by men believed to be government-security forces. His body was discovered later with 10 bullet holes in the head. Several hundred mourners at the editor's funeral were attacked by riot police with nightsticks, tear gas and water cannons.

Declaring that Chile faces a choice between "democracy and chaos," Gen. Pinochet seems intent on making his repressive rule the closest thing to democracy that Chile will know in his lifetime. His current eight-year term expires in 1989 but the dictator appears set to make himself the sole candidate in a plebiscite for another term that would not end until 1997.

The Reagan administration may have less influence with the Chilean leader than it did with Ferdinand Marcos in the Philippines, but stronger American pressure is needed to avert an increase in civil strife that will ensue if Gen. Pinochet does not step down.

During recent weeks the State Department has threatened to withhold U.S. support for $550 million in loans sought by Chile from the World Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank. The time has come to make good on that threat and to make future American economic support contingent on progress toward democracy, beginning with the legalization of political parties.

The Reagan administration has scored successes in steering rightist regimes in Haiti, the Philippines, El Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras toward democratic rule. Similar results in Chile will be more difficult, perhaps, but not beyond reach.

Border Beef-Up

Law-enforcement officials nationwide agree that the Southwest border area has become a giant funnel for illegal narcotics pouring into the United States. That's why President Reagan is correct in targeting nearly half of the funds in his $894 million drug initiative at this region.

Drug smuggling has come a long way since the 1960s and early '70s when aliens crossing the border carried backpacks stuffed with marijuana. Today, approximately one-third of the cocaine and heroin consumed in America arrives here via Mixico. Narcotics are carried in unlighted passenger planes sweeping over the border at night, in northbound ships hugging the coastline, and in streaming lines of cars leaving Tijuana in broad daylight.

Now, the president's comprehensive drug initiative adds $400 million to the antinarcotics efforts begun under Operation Alliance. The administration should also continue to press the de la Madrid government, politely but firmly, to crackdown on corrupt police officials, who pose as much a threat to U.S. agents as smugglers.

There are numerous fronts on which the drug war will be fought. We're pleased that the president has finally given the border the attention it deserves.

Do-Re-Meow - A Quest For High C Crown

WASHINGON (UPI) — Professional vocalists may have helped raise funds for Farm Aid, Live Aid and similar causes this year, but at the upcoming "Meow Off" all six singers will be amateur cats.

The one deemed most capable of hitting high C will be declared winner.

The finalists, randomly selected from more than 250,000 entries — bass, baritone, alto and soprano — will perform with a symphony orchestra at New York's Lincoln Center during an Oct. 30 rendition of a musical farce called "The Meow that Saved the Kingdom."

Opera star Robert Merrill and two other judges will select the feline with the best tonsils, and it will receive a $25,000 prize, plus a contract to star in a cat food commercial.

Will it be Blackie of California, Pidget of Arkansas, Detour of Minnesota, Puff of South Carolina, Spike of Ohio or Pumpkin of Massachusetts?

If the orchestra conductor, Joe Raposo, knows, he isn't saying. Raposo, by the way, is the composer of "Raggedy Ann," a Broadway-bound musical that opened in Washington this summer.

For what its worth, my money's on Puff, but I'm a notorious hunch player. Meanwhile, the do-re-meows of rehearsals are being heard coast

Some music patrons say the score of "The Meow that Saved the Kingdom," written by Raposo, "bears a schematic resemblance to much of Mozart's later work, especially 'The Magic Flute."

However flattering it may have been to Raposo to have his composition compared to Mozart. I have grave doubts about the ability of cats to sing Mozart's stuff, particularly his later work.

Cats seem to do better with Italian and Mozart's early operas —"The Marriage of Figaro," "Don Giovanni," etc. — were written in that language. But "The Magic Flute" has German words and we all know what a hash cats make of the Teutonic tongue.

Incidentally, the Germanic translation of the "Meow Off" fable is rendered by the sponsors as "Wie Ein Miauen das Koenigreich Rettete."

According to my World War II phrasebook, "wie" means "how." But I'll let Merrill atraighten that out.

straighten that out.

I understand he and the other judges will be blindfolded and will be guided by the "uniqueness, distinctiveness and musical resonance" of the cats.

Raiston Purina, the "Meow Off" sponsors, also will donate 20 tons of food to organizations that shelter homeless cats. Groups that will divide the donation include ARF! of East Hampton, Frankly, I never heard a cat meow with an "ARF!" sound but I never heard one hit high C either. As long as the East Hampton agency takes in strays, I'll not quibble.

I once knew a cat that habitually meowed a couple of octaves above high C, but it never sounded very melodious to me. That cat, regardless of how resonant the vocal chords, wouldn't have stood a chance in a national competition if the judges had been blindfolded.

Let's hope for their sakes the blindfolds come down over the ears, as well.

Capital Is Kinda Strange

By Steve Gerstel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In many ways, the nation's capital is a real city, not unlike others in this country.

Washington, District of Columbia, has buildings and streets, trees and lawns, statues and monuments, policemen and firemen, theaters and movies and rush hour traffic.

And, certainly, Mayor Marion Barry's administration can go up against any city in the area of scandal — past, present and under investigation.

But people in the rest of the country — at least those few who might give it a thought — fail to realize that their capital is also unlike any other city.

It is a feudal state ruled collectively by 535 kings and queens of Congress, who, in their largesse, permit one delegate to sit, but, of course, not vote with them.

The kings and queens, possibly knowing the eventual outcome, did some years back approve a constitutional amendment granting statehood to the District of Columbia. The thought raised an amazing tack of interest in the states and its ratification is now considered a dead issue.

As a result, the district, as it is most commonly referred to, operates on something called limited home rule. Loosely translated, this means that the citizens can elect a mayor and council and run the city — up to a point

Although the subject of dispute, Congress controls the purse strings, all the way according to some, part of the way in the thinking of others.

There are those who say that money the city itself generates is subject to the whims of the kings and queens, in addition to the money provided by the federal government.

The realization to what degree the District of Columbia is a chattel of Congress comes to light rarely, most senators and congressmen finding more rewards in weightier (a tax reform bill) or political (a public works project for their state) matters.

But come to light it does, as it did last week when the Senate had to act on the fiscal 1987 appropriations bill for the District of Columbia. Given its standing among priorities, the deed was unertaken at night and the bill passed by voice

But the committee's report outlined some matters the Senate would like the city to attend to, which is awfully close to an order.

U.N. Money Woes

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A nearcrisis atmosphere has gripped the new General Assembly session of the United Nations, and it can be traced directly to two pressing issues: politics and money.

Much of the political unrest comes from the arrest and subsequent indictment of Soviet U.N. employee Gennadi Zakharov on apying charges.

For months a number of influential anti-U.N. organizations, such as the Washington-based Heritage Foundation, have urged the United States to make changes at the United Nations. They claim certain sectors of the U.N. bureaucracy have become tools of Soviet propaganda and centers for Soviet espionage. The arrest of Zakharov has added fuel to this argument.

The Reagan administration accepts this view of the United Nations. Recently it demanded that the Soviet Union sharply reduce the size of its U.N. mission — by far the largest of any at the United Nations — and also demanded that the United Nations employ fewer Soviet and Eastern Bloc bureaucrats.

Aleksandr Belonogov, chief Soviet
U.N. delegate, says the U.S. demand that his delegation be lowered from 243 to no more than 218 by Oct. 1 is "completely illegal." Under U.N. rules, if the host country (the United States) and any member country cannot work out this sort of dispute, it goes to an arbitration tribunal made up of three other member nations.

Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar badiy wants to avoid this kind of confrontation and hopes for a quick resolution of the matter. But the Zakharov arrest does not make this likely, and the entire U.N. process could become bogged down in trying to settle this dispute.

An even more pressing problem for Perez de Cuellar is a major

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A nearisis atmosphere has gripped the in the U.S. Congress to reduce the U.S. contribution to the world body.

'In his annual report to the General Assembly, the secretary general says that in his view the body is all but insolvent and its continued existence is 'in jeopardy." Reportedly the United Nations may not have enough funds to meet its December payroll, and its bylaws prohibit borrowing money.

Many U.N. agencies and programs, including its overall administrative budget, are supported by assessments against member nations. Assessments are based on the gross national product of each country with a cap on any nation's assessment at 25 percent of the budget. The United States has been assessed at 25 percent since the United Nations started.

But under U.N. rules each nation has an equal say in how the money is spent — although the United States is paying a quarter of the tab it has only one of 158 votes on where the money goes. In fact, 80 countries, who between them contribute less than 1 percent of the total budget, can control how the money is spent.

Many in Congress think this grossly unfair. Last year they adopted the "Kassebaum Amendment" — named for its sponsor, Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan. — which cuts the U.S. contribution to 20 percent if some more equitable spending system is not created.

This reflects an anti-U.N. sentiment that has swept Capitol Hill, a bias now being reflected in Congress's unwillingness to pay our U.N. assessments. The Reagan administration, which once seemed content to let Congress decide what the U.N. contribution should be, is now worried about how world opinion would view a massive cutback in U.S. support.

Monday Blues Are For Real

By Rob Stein UPI Science Writer

BOSTON (UPI) — Feeling depressed when the weekend is over is a common phenomenon, but a new study indicates the Monday morning blues don't just affect people who dislike their jobs.

"Certainly job dissatisfaction has a lot to do with it, but it's not the whole story," said Dr. Ronald Pies, a psychiatrist at the New England Medical Center in Boston who conducted a study on "Monday marging blues" morning blues."

While most of those responding to a survey who felt depressed on Sunday night or Monday morning were unhappy with their jobs, such feelings were also reported by retired people, workers who liked their jobs and even children.

"People who are retired or even people on their vacation may experience this," said Pies.

Pies speculated people who dislike their jobs become conditioned to feel depressed before their workweeks begin, and those feelings are sustained even after they retire or go to on vacation.

For children and people who like their jobs, the root of such feelings may be more complicated, Pies said.

"We think some people have become conditioned by a lot of cues in their environment to become depressed at this time," said Pies. Children may become upset before their parents workweeks begin if their mother and father dislike their jobs and express those feelings.

"A number of people told us their parents would tend to fight more on Sundays. The kids would grow up seeing their parents fighting every Sunday night. Every Sunday they would feel themselves getting anxious and depressed," said Pies.

"We had people say when they were younger that every time the Ed Sullivan show came on on Sunday night they felt depression wash over them. We were tempted to call this the 'Ed Sullivan syndrome."

About 76 percent of those responding to the survey reported some feelings of depression before work, ranging from mild feelings of let down to signs of severe depression — loss of appetite, fatigue, headaches and similar symptoms.

Most reported dissatisfaction with their jobs, especially the feeling they had no control over their work or their lives.

"It's definitely real. We have enough evidence to say it definitely exists," he said.

Let U.N. Resort To Budgetary Self-Help

of yet another financial crisis, and Congress seems likely to cut the U.S. contribution severely. One suggestion for self-help is circulating at high Reagan administration levels: Let the well-paid U.N. diplomats and staff pay a fair market ing at high Reagan administration levels: Let the well-paid U.N. diplomats and staff pay a fair market price for their parking spaces. Fees in downtown Manhattan run $300 to $400 a month for car owners lucky enough to get a space; the garage fee for U.N. diplomats is $60 a month.

The United Nations is in the midst

A SIP OF THE LIP: American travelers abroad are routinely advised not to drink the water, for fear of attack by unfamiliar organisms that can ruin the trip. Now an enterprising security equipment firm has suggested an even more compelling reason: The water may have been poisoned or doctored with knockout drops by terrorists. The company just happens to have a solution — a water purifier so compact it can be hand-carried to the hotel room to filter out both innocent and malign "revenge" microbes.

MINI-EDITORIAL: The elite establishment that runs the Smithsonian Institution evidently chases at its role of playing host to the hordes of tourists who visit the grand museums along the Mall in Washington. So the last of the Smithsonian's 947 off-street parking places are now being closed to the public and turned over to employee parking. This typical display of Washington "insider" selfishness is justified on the patently absurd grounds that it will make things tougher for terrorists who may want to blow up the nation's cultural heritage.

CHILDREN AT RISK: A confidential World Bank report on the Philippines discloses a shockingly high child mortality rate in rural regions: nearly 40 percent among 3-to 5-year-olds. The result is that many Filipino parents produce as many children as possible to act as "social insurance." Another problem in the Philippines is adult illiteracy. Official figures say 20 percent of Filipino adults can't read and write, but the World Bank, using confidential interviews with Philippine officials, says the true illiteracy rate is about 60 percent to 70 percent.

DIPLOMATIC DIGEST: Syria and Iran are supposedly solid allies, but diplomatic sources suggest that things aren't all that cozy, judging by the situation in Damascus. Several hundred Iranians are in the Syrian capital at any given time, their women ahrouded in the black chadors favored by the Ayatollah Khomeini, and their men frowning disapproval at Western-clad Syrian women. The Iranians have been allotted their own hotels, and they usually come armed with poster portraits of Khomeini, which they stick up wherever they can. Syrian police promptly rip them down.

MINI-EDITORIAL: If you sip sodas with trepidation these days, there's good reason: Depending on your brand, the sugar can make you fat, the saccharine can give you cancer (the medical jury is still out on aspartame), the casseine can jangle your nerves or the sodium can drive your blood pressure up. Now The New York Times suggests an alternative: carbonated water, or seltzer. "When you drink a flavored. carbonated water you are making a statement about yourself and your lifestyle," averred one expert. Maybe so, but frankly, we suspect that the fizz itself causes something terrible; we're just waiting for a spoilsport researcher to tell us what.

Special Breed: Sanford To Host Triathlon Sunday

The triathlete is a special breed. To be competitive in this new sport taking America by storm you must have a strong combination of sucugith, cadurance, and men, al tougliness.

The three different elements that make up a triation are running, swimming, and biking. All three test different muscles in the body and mind. All three usually cover long distances and take their toll on the mind.

Sanford will host its first ever triathlon this Sunday at the Holiday Inn on Lake Monroe. This triathlon, though, will have a different twist as it is being dubbed as the "Something Dif-ferent Triathlon." Athletes will have to canoe, bike, and run as compared to the usual swim. bike, and run.

The entire combination of events will cover a total of 15 miles, featuring a three-mile run to open the event, followed by a 10-mile bike ride, and conclude with a two-mile canoe race.

"Most competitors know about how well they can handle a three-mile run, and a 10-mile bike ride," triathlon race director John Boyle said."Few of these competitors though have ever ran, biked, and then followed up with a two-mile canoe sprint.'

The canoe race at the end may result in the competitors taking it a little easier on the run and bike ride. The athletes know they're is an event they haven't tried in recent races and may prevent the possibility of getting too tired. The lack of preparation on the canoeing may hold them back in the places where they have already displayed their talents.

"This really puts a new light on things" Boyle said."Usually you can look at a field of contestants and have a pretty good idea of the outcome of the race, but no one knows what's going to happen once these folks get in canoes.'

The triathlon itself will be the highlight of the first ever Seminole County Water Festival. which has been organized by the Seminole County Visitors and Convention Bureau.

In this triathlon another different approach has been set up. A team effort has been formed, as two-person teams can be formed consisting of a runner. biker and both canoe.

Another different team effort can be either three or four members. In the three-member teams a person bikes or runs and completes the course with a fresh canoer. The four-person team consists of a biker, runner, and two fresh canoers.

Age divisions in both individual and team efforts will be sorted out. The teams will have their ages added up and separated into divisions.

The organizer of the event will also be offering a pancake breakfast following the triathlon.

This type triathlon with the canoeing is the first to ever be held in the state of Florida. Winners will be elligible for prizes, as coporate teams are also invited. For more information contact the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at 834-4404, or Peggy Fondale at 869-9000.

Another event coming up on Oct. 24-26 is the Mt. Dora Bike Festival. Called "Florida's most popular bicycle touring event" by tournament director Lys Burden.

Mt. Dora has invited all interented bikers in the state of Florida. Rides of 60 miles and 100 miles have been scheduled for the more enthusiastic cyclists, as lesser distances have been set up for the beginner.

Bikers can register for one or all three days by writing or calling the Mt. Dora Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 196, Mt. Dora, FL 32757, (904)-383-2165.

Ed Juba and Dawn Mc-Cormick were the big winners Saturday in the The 8 Kilometers of Sanford, sponsored by the Sanford Recreation Department/Sanford Kiwanis Club.

Juba's winning time was 25 minutes and 14 seconds. Mc-Cormick finished in 32:39.

Then, in a lightning-like series of big defensive plays, the Bears broke the contest open and left the frustrated Packers still winless.

Green Bay's swarming defense limited nemesis Walter Payton to 57 yards in 18 carries and, with Al Del Greco equaling a team record with four field goals, the Packers had their chance to pull off the with 1:58 gone in the fourth quarter. however, Chicago regained the lead on a 52-yard field goal by Kevin Butler and the Bears defense took over.

Chicago defensive end Dan Hampton broke through to block yet another field goal try by Del Greco - one that would have put the Packers in front.

Then, after the Packers regained the ball at their own 5-yard line. Chicago tackle Steve McMichael recorded a safety by grabbing quarterback Randy Wright in the end zone.

Although McMichael had Wright in his grasp for only a split second, referee Fred Wyant ruled it was long enough. That put Chicago in front by three and sapped the Packers' spirit.

"It looked like the guy grabbed him," Gregg said. "But I don't know if he had him. It was temporary, if anything."

After receiving the Green Bay free kick. Chicago quickly produced a touchdown on a 42-yard throw from Steve Fuller to Keith Ortego to give the Bears a 22-12 advantage. Butler then added a 27-yard field goal, following an interception by Bears safety Dave Duerson.

Chicago had scored 10 points in the first half on a 2-yard run by Payton and a 34-yard field goal by Butler.

Del Greco's fleld goals were of 22, 46, 45 and 50 yards. The third one came with three seconds left in the first half to leave the Packers trailing at intermission 10-9 and the last one gave Green Bay the lead five plays deep in the second half.

Wright had his best game of the year. completing 22 of 41 passes for 242 yards, and flanker Phillip Epps had a career-high nine catches for 99 yards.

Chicago quarterback Jim McMahon sat out his second straight game with a separated shoulder and, when starter Mike Tomczak struggled, Ditka replaced him with Fuller.

Tomezak completed nine of 13 passes for 74 yards. Fuller was good on eight of 14 for 109.

A sellout crowd came to cheer the Packers, but a steady light rain during the second half took some of the enthusiasm out of the throng.

The fans were also stunned into stlence on the final play of the third period when Packers cornerback Tim Lewis collapsed after colliding with Chicago flanker Willie Gault.

Lewis did not move while medical attendants applied a neck brace and carried him off the field.

Although Lewis temporarily lost feeling in his arms, doctors later reported there was no fear of paralysis.

Poised Shula, Bama Reverse Domination

GAINESVILLE - The sweat poured rapidly from the face of Mike Shula. He had not faced this much pressure since the opening half of Saturday's game against the Florida Gators.

Still, the Alabama quarterback displayed the poise that has him in the running for the Heisman Trophy.

"We came together as a team in the second half and that's the mark of a great football team," Shula said as some 150 media representatives scrambled to get within earshot. "We did what we wanted in the second half. We eliminated the mistakes."

The place was the hallway leading to Alabama's locker room at Florida Field. It was a claustrophobic's worst fears realized as the hallway was transformed into the interview room. Saturday's game drew the most media - 460 credentials were distributed - in Florida football history. And, after the Crimson Tide disposed of the host Gators, 21-7, most of those 150 headed for the Bama locker

But Shula, who guided the Tide to three second-half touchdowns, and coach Ray Perkins endured the mass of media. It wasn't too difficult for the two after the fourth-ranked Crimson Tide had just dominated a strong Florida team in the decisive second half.

"Needless to say, I'm very proud of this football team, Perkins said, "We haven't had a better half than the second half since I've been at Alabama. I think we fringed on greatness roughing the punting penalty today." Alabama, 4-0 overall and 2-0 in the Southeastern Conference. has this Saturday off before returning to action Saturday. Oct. 4 against non-conference nemisis Notre Dame. Florida, 1-2, will try to regroup from its worst start since the Charlie Pell 0-10-1 season as it travels to the vastly improved Bulldogs of Mississippi State.

The first half saw the Gators forcing three Alabama turnovers. But the usually potent only one of those turnovers, a 52-yard interception return by Ron Moten to the 'Bama 1-yardline, into points. Placekicker Jeff Dawson missed a pair of field goals that would have given the Gators a more comfortable 13-0 halftime lead. Instead, it was 7-0.

Humphrey came out of the backfield to take a 10-yard scoring strike from Shula and Van "Automatic" Tiffin connected for the extra point.

"I had one-on-one coverage in the open field and Mike (Shula) threw a perfect pass." Humphrey, who also ran for a game-high 114 yards, said. "All I had to do was catch it."

The Alabama defense, which held its own to limit Florida to just seven points in the opening half, punished the Gators in half number two. Florida, which had minus seven yards rushing in the second 30 minutes. stopped cold on its first possession of the third quarter.

After a clipping penalty, the Alabama was backed up to its 9-yard-line but that just meant some additional turf for the Tide to roll over. Alabama put together a nifty 91-yard scoring drive which culminated in David Casteal's four-yard plunge with 51 seconds left in the quarter. Tiffin's kick made it 14-7.

Alabama's defense got only tougher as the fourth quarter progressed. The only thing Gator fans had to cheer about was a against the same 'Bama linebacker who was called for two pass interference penalties in the last seconds of the opener against Ohio State. But, after the penalty, the Tide's defense once again rose to the occasion and stopped the Gators.

Alabama added an Insurance TD late in the fourth period on Jackson, Miss., Saturday to face Humphrey's one-yard run. Tiffin added the PAT for a 21-7 lead. It was the 108th consecutive successful point after by Tiffin and practically dominate on defense, ran Alabama's national record for consecutive PATs to 135. # Lady Rams Fall To Creek; Howell, Oviedo Also Lose

Herald Sports Writer

Lake Mary's Lady Rams got off to a slow start Monday, recovered temporarily, but could not come back all the way in a 15-1, 8-15, 15-11 loss to Spruce Creek's Lady Hawks at Port Orange.

Lake Mary, 1-1 for the season, returns to action Wednesday at Kissimmee Osceola. The Lady Rams will also compete in the Lady Trojan Tournament Saturday at Orlando Evans High.

'We weren't playing with any intensity in the first game." Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said. "And Spruce Creek isn't bad so you can't sit back against them."

In the second game, Henry said the Rams came back strong led by the defensive play of Angela Capps and Marnie Frey and the hitting of Lora Splatt.

The third game was tight all the way until, with the score tied 11-11. Spruce Creek pulled away. The Lady Hawks got the 13th point when Henry said the Rams were called for an overlap. An overlap was called again on the 15th point, but after Henry argued, the point was replayed. "I've never been called for an overlap before." Henry said. "I'm not sure about the first time, but I was watching the second time and there was no overlap. I argued and we replayed the point but we lost it.'

Henry said missed serves once again hurt the Lady Rams as they had 14 of them for the match. including three straight with the score tied at 10-10 in the third game.

Capps was the only one who did not miss a serve," Henry said. "It's such a let down when you fight to get the ball back and then serve the ball into the net.'

LADY HAWKS DROP TO 0-3

Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks dropped their third straight match with a 15-2, 15-9 loss to Orlando Boone's Lady Braves Monday at Orlando.

Lake Howell has yet to win a game in three The Lady Hawks return to action Saturday in the single-elimination Winter Park Tournament. Lake Howell opens with Boone at 11 a.m. We haven't established that cohesion as a team yet." Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano said. "But we're not giving up." Luciano said Boone didn't have an overpowering team, but hustled. "The ball almost never hits the floor on their side," Luciano said of the Braves. "They just chase the ball down and put it right back at you. They have six very good athletes out there."

ST. CLOUD DOWNS OVIEDO Oviedo's Lady Lions could not get their usually potent offensive attack going as they dropped a 15-10, 15-5 decision to St. Cloud Monday night at St. Cloud. Oviedo, 1-1, returns to action tonight in a tri-match with Melbourne Central Catholic and Orlando Luther. Since neither Oviedo or Luther has a home gym that is ready for play at this time, tonight's match will be played at Trinity Lutheran Church near Lake Eola in Orlando. Oviedo will play at 6 and 7 p.m.

Oviedo held onto a slim lead most of the first game until St. Cloud tied it at 10-10 and kept the momentum going right through the second game. "We couldn't get our offense going at all," Oviedo coach Lisa Carlson said. "Our hitters either hit the ball out or into the net. The second game we really fell apart and couldn't get anything going. But we'll bounce back." Carlson said Kelly Davidson was the Lady Lions' top player Monday as she served 100 percent and also set well.

Bosox Cut Magic To 3

United Press International

Two questions remain concerning Boston's imminent clinching — when and where.

The Red Sox's magic number for securing their first American League East title fell to three Monday night when the Tigers defeated the Toronto Blue Jays 2-1 at Detroit.

Boston, which opens a twogame series tonight in Milwaukee, could clinch by Wednesday night. The Red Sox could also do it Thursday, when they are idle and Toronto plays Detroit again. If not, the Red Sox should do it during a 10-game season-ending homestand at Fenway Park. Friday, Boston hosts Toronto.

Jack Morris, whose strong second half is being overshadowed by Roger Clemens, aided Boston's cause by besting Jim Clancy to notch his 19th victory. Morris, 19-8, tossed a six-hitter. while Clancy, 14-10, allowed only three hits. "Give up three hits, no home runs and lose," said Toronto Manager Jimy Williams, whose club fell 10 games behind Boston. "That's tough to do in this park. But Morris pitched great, too. "He's the kind of guy that when he smells victory he wants to finish the game. That's why he's got the kind of numbers he has over the years."

Run-scoring hits by John Grubb and Darnell Coles in the first inning proved to be enough for Morris. "I kind of had a hunch two runs better be enough," Morris said.

The only run Morris allowed was Ernie Whitt's homer. Whitt, a native of Detroit, has nine career homers at Tiger Stadium and 19 in his career off Tigers

Morris, a 20-game winner in 1983 and the winningest major leaguer this decade, has two starts remaining in his bid for 20 victories.

Mexican Feast: Fernando Posts 1st 20-Win Year

United Press International

Fernando Valenzuela threw a birthday party for his manager Monday night and the Houston Astros paid for the festivities.

On the same night Los Angeles Manager Tommy Lasorda turned 59. Valenzuela pitched the Dodgers to a 9-2 victory over the Astros, firing a two-hitter to become the first 20-game winner in the National League.

"This was my way of saying 'Happy Birthday' to Tommy Lasorda;" said Valenzuela, 20-10, who became the first Mexican ever to win 20 games in a single season. "All this season, my team stayed behind me.

I like to pitch in this ballpark," Valenzuela said of the Astrodome, where he hurled his seventh career two-hitter and third this year. He allowed only a two-out single to Dave Lopes in the first inning and a triple to Phil Garner in the seventh.

Valenzuela, whose previous scason-high win total was 19 in 1982, is the first Dodger to win 20 games in a season since Tommy John in 1977.

Lasorda enjoyed the birthday present and believes his star left-hander has earned a prestigious postseason award. "It's a great birthday present for me for Fernando to win his 20th." Lasorda 'said. "Fernando for me, no doubt, has to be the Cy Young winner. He's one of the greatest competitors I've ever had." commended in the broads Steve Sax drove in three runa with a pair of doubles and Ralph Bryant, Pedro Guerrero and Franklin Stubbs each hit a solo homer to support Valenzuela, who posted his major leagueleading 19th complete game. Valenzuela walked three and struck out five.

Despite the loss, the first-place Astros lead the second-place San Francisco Giants in the National League West by nine games with 12 remaining.

Los Angeles sent 10 batters to the plate in the fourth and scored six runs off loser Danny Darwin, 3-2, five of them uncarned.

"When you give up five extra runs and they have a pitcher like Valenzuela going, you're going to lose most of those games,' Houston Manager Hal Lanier tie-breaking homer in the fourth inning to beat the Cubs. Youmans, 13-10. walked two and struck out eight before being relieved by in the ninth by Jeff Reardon, who finished for his 35th save. Tim Raines singled and drove in two runs in five at-bats. Raines (.330) is two points behind Tony Gywnn (.332) and one ahead of Steve Sax (.329) in the race for the N.L. batting average title. Sax was 2 for 5 and Gywnn 1 for 5 Monday. Casselberry's David Martinez was 0 for 3 and made his first major-league error for the Cubs. Mets 5, Cardinals 2

At New York. Darryl Strawberry and Wally Backman hit home runs to back the two-hit pitching of Dwight Gooden. Gooden, 16-6, struck out eight and walked one in pitching his 12th complete game in 31 starts this season.

At Pittsburgh, Mike Schmidt hit his 37th homer of the season and winning pitcher Jeff Bittiger, 1-0, homered for his first major-league hit in leading a four-homer attack that powered Philadelphia. Glenn Wilson and John Russell also homered for the Phillies, who tagged Bob Kipper, 6-8, with the loss. Giants 10, Reds 7

Perez Retires But Won't Say Goodbye

CINCINNATI (UPI) - Tony Perez begins his retirement in two weeks but refuses to say goodbye to baseball. "I would like to stay with the team." Perez said Sunday after the Reds honored him at Tony Perez Day, "I just can't walk away from baseball, I love it so much." Reds owner Marge Schott and General Manager Bill Bergesch hinted there may be a job for Perez with the Reds. "It's my hope you always remain a member of the Cincinnati Reds," Bergesch said. Perez said: "I don't know what the Reds have in mind, but what I've been hearing lately is good. I think we will talk before I leave town (at the end of the season). I think I will be with the Reds."

Johnny Bench, a teammate of Perez's on the Big Red Machine teams of the 1970s, said Perez should remain with the club as a coach, instructor or scout. "It's a sad day for baseball fans to see Tony leave baseball," Bench said. "But hopefully Tony will stay around and help the club with his expertise and knowledge."

Perez, 44, has played 22 major-league seasons. He started in the minors in 1960 as a

N.L. Baseball

17-year-old out of Cuba.

"I would love to be in the Hall of Fame and I think I have a chance," said Perez, whose 1,639 RBI place him 13th on the all-time list. "I think I had a good career, but it was a career that I dedicated to the teams I played on. I never played for myself."

Perez played in five playoffs and four World Series with the Reds. The 1975 and '76 World Series champion Reds are considered among the greatest baseball teams in history. Perez, who played for Montreal, Boston and Philadelphia, also was with the 1983 Phillies National League championship team.

A crowd of 38,747 - the biggest in Cincinnati this season since Opening Day - honored Perez at Riverfront Stadium.

"I never thought this would happen when I started my career back in 1960." Perez said. "I feel very, very good about this."

After praising his teammates and family. Perez concluded by telling those in the stands, "I love you, my fans, I love you. What can I say? Gracias, amigos."

Bennett: Wilder Has Help

TAMPA (UPI) - Workhorse tailback James Wilder no longer represents the extent of Tampa Bay's running game, Coach Leeman Bennett said Monday.

The Buccaneers unveiled rook ie Nathan Wonsley against Detroit Sunday and the free agent from the University of Mississippi received a game ball after a 24-20 victory that snapped Tampa Bay's 19-game road losing streak.

"I don't have any problem now putting him in the ballgame," Bennett sald Monday, reflecting on Wonsley's 138-yard effort on 18 carries. Including touchdown runs of 22 and 55 yards. "I don't think any of us expected Wonsley to run for that many yards."

Wilder, who rushed for 129 of Tampa Bay's 174 yards through the 0.2 start, didn't play against the Lions because of a bruised chest. He is listed as questionable for Sunday's game against 3-0 Atlanta. Since James Owens rushed for 121 vards against Green Bay in 1981, Wilder was the only Tampa Bay player to crack the 100-yard plateau until Wonsley's surprising perfor-

"Overall, our offensive line play was very good," said Bennett, "but we've got to get more than 39 yards passing. You won't win many games like that."

Steve Young started ahead of veteran Steve DeBerg at quarterback and scored on a 9-yard run. Young completed just 6-of-15 attempts but was not intercepted. DeBerg threw a club-record seven interceptions against San Francisco and was picked off twice against Minnesota.

ERROR IRKS SHULA

MIAMI (UPI) - When Miami Coach Don Shula pushed for the NFL to implement the new instant replay rule, he wanted to prevent a team losing or winning a game on an official's error.

Sunday against the New York Jets, an apparent error by replay official Tony Veteri on the overtime kickoff cost the Dolphins a chance to win the ame. New York's Harper appeared to fumble the kickoff and Miami's Mike Kozlowski recovered the loose ball, but the field officials ruled Harper was down and Veteri did not overrule the decision.

Replays showed Harper did fumble before his knees hit the ground. The Jets scored on that drive to defeat Miami 51-45.

"I talked to the league office about it," Shula said Monday. "They felt that the replay official should have gotten word down to the field to at least call a conference. That didn't happen.

"It was very evident it was a fumble. He (Veteri) made an error in judgment, that's how I interpret it (the NFL's statement).

In other news, Shula said linebacker Hugh Green had his right knee examined by team doctors, but had decided to seek a second opinion from a doctor in Gainesville. Dolphin team physician Dr. Charles Virgin found Green to have a fractured kneecap and either ligament or tendon damage.

New Documents Tie Waldheim To Nazi Hate Propaganda

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Austrian President Kurt Waldheim, as an intelligence officer during World War II, approved a package of Nazi propaganda leaflets that included a call to "Kill the Jews," the World Jewish Congress charged today.

The leaslets, discovered by researchers at the National Archives, were turned over earlier to Justice Department investigators who are expected to brief Attorney General Edwin Meese this week on a department recommendation that Waldheim be barred from the United States because of his Nazi past.

Sources said the final recommendation in the matter from the department's criminal division is that Waldheim's World War II activities more than justify his placement on a U.S. "watch list" of aliens who can be denied entry to the

Soviets Report Bloody Hijack Try

MOSCOW (UPI) - The Soviet Union gave an unusually speedy and detailed account of a bloody hijacking attempt in which two "drug addict" air pirates killed two policemen and two passengers before being slain by security forces.

The announcement Monday by the Tass news agency and the nightly television news program Vremya said the drama began Saturday night in Ufa, deep in the Ural mountains some 700 miles east of Moscow.

Two armed men, identified as N.R. Mantsev and S.V. Yagmurzhi, commandeered a taxi and demanded to be taken to the airport. They killed two policemen who tried to

At the airport, the men seized an Aeroflot TU-134 airliner with 76 passengers that was en route from Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, to Nizhnevartovak in Siberia. Ufa is midway between the two points.

"During their capture of the plane, the criminals opened fire and killed two passengers," Tass said. "The criminals were later found out to be drug addicts.

Infant Gets New Heart, Lungs

LONDON (UPI) - A 21/2-month-old boy, believed to be the world's youngest heart-lung transplant patient, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Harefield

Dr. Magdi Yacoub, who performed the 64-hour transplant operation on the 7-pound London boy, said Monday the procedure was delicate but "fairly straightforward.'

The operation was performed during the weekend. "It was the child's only chance. Without it he may have lived a matter of days. There was no alternative. It's difficult to say what the chances are of survival," Yacoub told a news conference.

Yacoub flew to Belgium Friday and picked up the heart and lungs of a baby - who died of severe brain damage five days after birth — for use in the transplant. He said the transplanted heart was the size of a golfball and the lungs about the size of a pack of cards.

Mueller Kidnap Suspects Set For Pre-Trial Hearing

NAPLES (UPI) - Two men charged with kidnapping a 9-year-girl and demanding $1.5 million in ransom are being held pending a bond hearing, while their young victim, who identified them for police, returned to school.

Peter Farrell 37, and his brother, Paul, 22, suspected of masterminding the elaborate scheme to kidnap Amanda Mueller, an heiress to the Mueller noodle company fortune, went before U.S. Magistrate Harvey E. Schlesinger for their initial hearing in Jacksonville Monday. Both were ordered held pending a bond hearing Wednesday.

U.S. District Magistrate Samuel J. Smargon ordered two other defendants in the case, plumbing contractor Edward Eugene O'Brien. 38, of Naples and Richard Louis Sais, 29, of Bonita Springs, Fla., to appear before him Thursday to determine if they should be given ball.

Police said O'Brien and Sais, who were arrested in Naples Saturday, were assigned to pick up the ransom money but bungled the job. They were given until Wednesday to find attorneys to represent them.

Court Upholds Lottery Vote

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida lottery initiative has passed its first legal hurdle, but may have a date with the tate Supreme Court.

Leon County Circuit Judge J. Lewis Hall Jr. ruled Monday that the proposed constitutional amendment to establish a state lottery meets Florida's "single subject" rule and may remain on the November ballot.

Hall also ruled the summary of Amendment 5 that will appear on the ballot is a "fair and straightforward articulation of the meat of the proposal and thus passes statutory muster."

Lawyers for opponents of a state lottery said before Monday's ruling they would appeal a negative ruling to the Supreme Court.

People Against Legalized Lotteries, a St. Petersburg-based organization, had asked Hall to strike the amendment from the Nov. 4 ballot. Lawyers for the group said language in the amendment and the summary linking the lottery to education funding was misleading and pertained to more than one subject.

Condemned Men Given Stays

STARKE (UPI) — The Supreme Court granted temporary stays for two condemned killers eight hours before they were slated to become the first in at least a decade to die on the same day in the same electric chair.

Justice Lewis Powell Monday night ordered the executions of Kenneth Hardwick and Allen "Tiny" Davis stayed until 3 p.m. today. The ruling came after both trial judges and the Florida Supreme Court rejected appeals of the Hardwick, sentenced to death for the Christmas Day 1960 slaying of a retired school teacher, and Davis, condemned for killing a pregnant woman and her two young daughters in 1962, had been scheduled for execution starting at 7 a.m. today.

The state Supreme Court had been expected to reconsider their appeals at 6 a.m. today but canceled the session. A court spokesman said another ruling probably would be issued by noon but no hearing was planned.

"We've now come up with a recommendation for a space station that's safer." said NASA spokesman Mark Hess. "It's built into a less robust rate of launches. We can put this one together with five or eight flights a year.'

Before Challenger's Jan. 28 destruction, plans called for 10 to 12 flights each year for station construction, with a target for the start of permanently manned operations sometime in 1993 or 1994.

Three options currently are under consideration by Fletcher, Hess said. In one, the station could be built using techniques to reduce the number of shuttle flights required.

She lived at 2198 Spring Landing, Longwood, and her body was found in her Oldsmobile, by a security man, behind the Altamone Cinema, 403 E. Altamonte Drive.

ACS Unit Helps Out

Vivian Buck, center, past president of the Sanford/Lake Mary Unit of the American Cancer Society, presents a check for $520 to Charles and Sue Phillips, managers of Hope Lodge in Gainesville. The Lodge, dedicated in July, was built through the combined efforts of the American Cancer Society and Winn Dixie Stores, and is expected to provide free housing for cancer patients and their families. Although funds were available for the basic structure, the Lodge managers had a "wish list" posted during the Open House which members of the local unit attended. One of their wishes was for ceiling fans for the screened in porch. The members of the local unit passed the hat at their recent meeting and contributed far more than was actually needed for that one

Son's Visits To Dad Were Gifts No One Could Steal

DEAR ABBY: I read those letters in your column about all the stealing that goes on in nursing homes. So many said they finally gave up and quit bringing gifts because they were stolen immediately.

While my father was in a nursing home, the gifts I gave him could not be "lost" or stolen. They were something he needed, and wanted more than anything else. What were they? My visits!

Jim Talmadge, director of The Actors Workshop, holds Greek masks depicting drama and comedy.

Train For Acting Career At The Actors Workshop

Whether you are a beginner wanting to develop self-confidence in speaking before an audience or you are wanting to break into TV commercials or acting. The Actors Workshop is for you.

The Actors Workshop, under the direction of Jim Talmadge, is located in Betty Vaccaro's World of Dance and Performing Arts, 2585 Park Drive, Sanford.

Group acting classes are now being held 6-8 p.m. on Friday and a workshop is held 1-5 p.m. on Saturday for all age groups September to June. Summer courses are planned for next year. Jim said particpants can come from two to four hours for the workshop depending on their schedule. The purpose of the workshop is to sharpen acting abilities, learn how to do TV commercials, learn how to do a monologue, how to present a biographical sketch for an audition, read poems, and do improvisations. Participants will learn by doing.

The workshop will not be just a class, but people can come, practice and work with others. As an outgrowth from his classes and workshops, Jim hopes to start a little theater group to present plays and attract those familiar with various aspect of theater arts — playwrights, directors, set builders, costume designers, dancers, and sound and lighting technicians as well as actors.

Jim invites local playwrights to submit their new scripts for the actors to try out. He wants to form an acting group to do good one-act plays and eventually even a musical in Sanford.

"I want to attract people serious about performing as a career," Jim said.

With the build up of the TV and movie industry in Florida, Jim said, there will be more employment opportunities for models and actors. When opportunity knocks be ready. Now is the time to get training.

Jim said he will be in touch iwth talent and modeling agencies and will be able to recommend individuals taking the workshop and acting lessons. Jim has been teaching voice off and on for 20 years and acting for several years. He has been performing since he was 14 years old. Even while serving 21 years in the U.S. Navy, Jim was active in little theater, choral groups, church choirs, and as a soloist. He has directed choirs aboard ship and in Sanford churches. He was stationed at the Naval Air Station in Sanford and retired here in 1964. It was while Jim was stationed here he was active with the Sanford Mavy Players and the Roundaliers, two little theater groups. He also did bit parts and character roles at the Dock Street Theatre in Charleston, S.C.

He acted at the former Orange Blossom Playhouse in Orlando for three years and has sung on television in Charleston and Orlando. He has done six TV commercials and a speaking role in a film done for a Clearwater church.

Jim has had a dream of a cultural center in Sanford for 25 years.

Dance and modeling lessons are also available at Betty Vaccaro's and Jim hopes to add voice lessons in the future.

Europeans To Relax Steel Market Controls

BRUSSELS (UPI) - The European Community's steel industry situation has improved sufficiently to allow partial diamantling of market control measures imposed six years ago, the community's commission said Monday.

A first partial liberalisation was decided at the end of 1985, when it became clear that the European steel industry was recovering from its long illness, Karl-Heinz Narjes, commissioner for industrial policy, told a news conferenc.

"But a patient cannot be sent to work right from the operating table and needs time to recuperate." Narjes said. "We are now in this transition period of phased removal of production quotas."

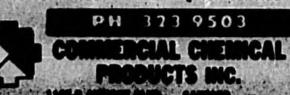

In October 1980, the Europeans declared a "state of manifest crisis" in the steel sector, faced with an enormous overproduction, large deficits, flagging prices and a market glut.

The community imposed strict production quotas, covering 85 percent of the industry's output. At the same time, it agreed on a drastic restructuring of the industry, allowing state aids, which had to be phased out by the end of 1985.

In practice, restructuring meant the closing of surplus capacity and the regrouping of profitable units in competitive companies.

Commission figures showed that since 1980,

We Specialize In Installation & Repairs Including Pumps - Motors - Filter - Heater Tile Repair - Remarcite - Re-Deck Automatic Pool Sweeps FREE ESTIMATES QUICK SERVICE

the community's steel production capacity had been reduced by 31.2 million tons. As the first results of the operation became visible late 1985, the community proceeded with a first reduction of the production quotas to about 65 percent of the output. The commission now proposed to the council of ministers a further reduction by 20 percent of products still under the quota system. The system does not include Spain and Portugal, which entered the community only Jan.

1 this year. Narjes said the proposed liberalization would affect wire rods, merchant bars, galvanized sheet and certain types of small sections.

"We have never said all the structural problems would be solved" at the end of 1985, Narjes said. But the industry has recovered to such a degree that further restructuring measures can be taken under its own responsibility.'

A commission paper acknowledged that many large steel companies wanted a continuation of the quota system.

"Some overcapacity still exists." the paper said. "The companies should take advantage of the breathing space offered by the few quarters in which the quota system will remain partly in force to undertake possible restructuring still needed to achieve a level of competitivity enabling them to survive without outside help as of 1988."

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) - Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp., which recently fought off a hostile takeover bid by Wickes Cos., Monday announced a new organizational structure that consolidates its operations into three divisions.

Owens-Corning also announced an early retirement program to help cut expenses incurred as part of the recapitalization plan needed to fight the takeover plan.

No Surgery Necessary, It Depends On Patient

55-year-old woman with a cystocele (dropped bladder). The gynecologist suggested surgery, but the urologist felt this isn't urgent. What is your advice? Does this condition make sexual relations harmful?

DEAR READER - A cystocele. if mild, produces no symptoms and requires no treatment. However, as the bladder's ligaments of suspension weaken — as they may in middle-aged women who have borne children — the pa-tient may experience difficulty controlling urine flow. Typically, women with moderate to large cystoceles tend to wet themselves when they cough, sneeze or strain. Under these circumstances, surgery to resuspend the bladder often will relieve this unpleasant loss of control.

An operation is not necessary for good health, however; the decision to undergo surgery is best left to the patient. All normal activity, including sexual intercourse, is permitted in 32 Mets women with cystoceles, both before and after surgery.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Like some of your other readers, I suffered from liver spots. For other reasons, I added PABA, B complex and niacin to my-diet. After 40 Adenosine trisix months, I now have only a faint discoloration on my left elbow. It may not work for everyone, but it worked for me.

DEAR READER - PABA (para-amino benzoic acid) is useful in treating some skin diseases. I cannot see why combining it with B vitamins would be harmful, so I am glad that your home remedy worked for you. I'd be interested in learning if other readers have used this combination with success. Liver spots are caused by normal aging of the skin and are notoriously difficult to treat, so you may have discovered a new method.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Other men have written to ask you how they can regain their ability to get an erection. I have just the opposite problem: I can't get an

DEAR DR. GOTT - I am a orgasm. I'm crowding 90, but am still alive. I've been taking medicine for angina and had prostate surgery 25 years ago.

DEAR READER - As men age, they usually experience increasing difficulty in having orgasms. Unfortunately, this can often culminate in an inability to achieve sexual fulfillment. The reasons for this decline in ability are complex, because orgasm

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY SEPTEMBER 24, 1986

There is a strong likelihood that in the year ahead you will be more independent than you have been in the past. This is admirable, but don't unwisely dissolve alliances that have proven advantageous.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This may not be the time to implement complicated concepts that are unproven. Stick with tactics that have worked successfully before. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be on guard today if you are associating with someone you know from experience is a taker rather than a giver. This person may think of your resources as his or hers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your present course of action has hopeful possibilities, yet you might be influenced by a companion to make an unwise change in direction.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan.

19) If you need work or service performed for you today, be sure to check out in advance any unfamiliar company you're thinking of hiring.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today, you might not be as lucky as you lead yourself to believe you are, especially in ventures that have strong elements of chance. If you win, it may only be temporary.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If the outside world doesn't treat you as kindly as you think it should today, leave your experiences on the doorstep instead of taking your ire out on innocent family members.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your productivity will suffer today if your logistics are poorly planned. Conceive ways to save time and steps, and then follow them to the letter.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It isn't wise today to count on finances that aren't currently in your hands. They could be delayed, so work with what you

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Indecisiveness, as well as impulsiveness, could lead to your undoing today. Study situations carefully, have faith in your judgments and act accordingly. CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Guard against tendencies today to sweep your responsibilities under the rug, hoping they will take care of themselves. Wishful thinking won't get the jobs done.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Unnecessary dissension within your group can be avoided today if you don't go against the will of the majority. Subdue your individualism and join in.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In an important competitive involvement today, there's a chance you'll be tripped up by your own erratic behavior. rather than being bested by the opposition.
