Resident feuds with county over 'junk'

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — From prime time to jail time.

That about sums up Seminole County resident Alan Davis' week. On April 29, he was featured on CBS' 48 Hours. Eight days later Seminole County deputies arrested him for resisting an officer and disorderly conduct.

Davis' popularity stems not from his welding expertise, but rather the mounds of scrap metal and airplane parts stacked in his front yard at 349 Alpine St. near the city of Altamonte Springs. The news magazine program used Davis' front yard as a centerpiece for an exposé on problem neighbors.

Since Dec. 7 2000, Davis, 46, has accrued more than $250,000 in code enforcement fines. County officials contend that Davis' property is littered with "junk." Davis says its his property and he can store whatever he wants. The county is now trying to foreclose on his property. None of this phases Davis as he continues to fight for what he believes is his right.

Deputies responded to Davis' home on May 7 because a neighbor two doors down complained about a statue sitting in Davis' driveway. The statute is that of a partial person bending over bearing a naked butt.

Davis said the statue signifies his opinion on what he believes is government intrusion.

"It's the best possible thing that could have happened to me," Davis said after posting bond Wednesday morning. "This is the tactic they've been using all along. They're trying to get me to buckle under, but it's not going to happen."

Davis said Friday he's not giving up. He filed suit against the three deputies who arrested him. The sheriff's office maintains nothing went wrong at the incident, except

Agency approves five-year budget plan

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — The Downtown Community Redevelopment Agency approved Wednesday a five-year budget that sets aside $375,000 for improvement projects.

While board members established a list of 18 projects that could be funded by CRA money, no final determination was made. The list includes 1st Street redevelopment, linkages to the lakefront and improvements at Fort Mellon Park.

Board members expect to identify a priority list in the coming months, after consulting with the Sanford City Commission. A joint work session with the commission is scheduled for 4 p.m. Monday. While the CRA has final jurisdiction over how ad valorem taxes generated in downtown are spent, board member Larry Strickler emphasized that the CRA should work in conjunction with the city.

"This is not an arm's length relationship. It's closer than that," Strickler said.

City Manager Tony VanDerworp is developing cost estimates for the projects and determining how much funding is available from the city. For instance, VanDerworp estimates that 1st Street redevelopment will cost about $845,000. That's more than both the CRA and the city could fund without eliminating funding for other projects or delaying them.

VanDerworp suggested the CRA could contribute a portion of the money for 1st Street improvements once city dollars are identified.

Projects the CRA has identified

Changing of the Guard

National Guardsmen exited the Orlando Sanford International Airport Friday after being posted there for more than seven months following Sept. 11.

Sanford police in charge of airport security

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Nearly seven months after taking post at Orlando Sanford International Airport, the National Guard pulled out Friday.

By month's end, troops who scrambled to protect airports nationwide because of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks will all but disappear. More than 80,000 National Guardsman and reservists have been activated since the terrorist attack and most were assigned to local airports.

Replacing them at many airports, including OSIA, will be area law enforcement officers. Eventually by the end of the year, airports will see federalized security when the newly created federal Transportation Security Administration introduces its own passenger screeners and agents.

"We're taking over with detail officers working security checkpoints," said

Sgt. Greg Smith kneels next to Sanford's newest K-9, which is the department's first bomb-sniffing dog.

Cop takes to the ring for charity

SANFORD — Can you smell what the Mad Dog's cooking?

Mid Florida Wrestling owner and promoter Outlaw Tom Bass knows and he's anxiously awaiting Sanford police Sgt. Mike Taylor, a.k.a. Mad Dog, in the ring.

It's the second installment of a unique fund-raising drive named Wrestlers, Cops and Kids Against Drugs. The goal is to raise about $3,000 for a Daren the Lion costume. Daren is the official mascot of the anti-drug DARE program.

Wrestlers squared off at the Sanford Civic Center April 26 and raised close to $1,500. Event organizers are hoping a second match May 17, will help them reach their final goal.

Doors open at 7 p.m. and first bell is scheduled to ring at 8 p.m. Although not on the event card for the first bout, Mad Dog did make his mark in the ring issuing a clothesline and body slam to CB Kool. Mad Dog ended his night with his signature sleeper hold on Outlaw Tom Bass, but Bass was able to slip away.

Mad Dog will be matched up against his newest adversary in the semi main event May 17. The widely anticipated bout could translate into war between wrestlers and police officers. Don't be surprised if a few "special guests," that happen to be police officers, jump into the ring to help, Mad Dog said.

"He better not bring any of his buddies in blue to help because I have my boys in black to help," said Outlaw Tom Bass who is the ringleader of the Unchained Outlaws.

"It's going to happen so fast you're not even going to know

Abraham builds successful gourmet gift basket business in Heathrow retail district

By Michelle Jerla
Managing Editor

HEATHROW — In just a few years, Jeanne Abraham went from building homes to building baskets.

Today, she's the owner of a thriving business that produces gourmet gift baskets for all occasions. She's become a favorite among local corporations and individuals who want to send something unique to clients and friends.

"Gift baskets are a great gift for anybody," Abraham said. "They're great if you know what a person likes, and they're great if you don't know what a person likes."

For example, Abraham said if a person likes chocolate, a gift basket can be created with a variety of different gourmet confections. However, if a customer isn't sure about what to put into a basket, a combination of anything and everything can be added to the gift.

Born in New Orleans, La., Abraham didn't enter the business world as a basket entrepreneur. She worked for 20 years with her father developing and building houses. When her father passed away, she decided to change the office that housed the family business into a retail space and opened Baskets and Beyond in early 1998.

She got the idea of gift-basket creating from a friend.

"A girlfriend of mine made some beautiful creations and gave me one as a birthday present," she said. "I thought it was a unique gift. That's how it started."

The idea worked. In just a few years, Abraham's business has grown, and she currently ships gift baskets

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Not welcome at home: Despite meeting for its third special session since the regular session ended March 22, the Florida Legislature has yet to approve a state budget. That's not a sterling resume for any legislature, much less one with

Around the Clock

by Dan Ping

Republican majorities in both the House and Senate and a Bush brother in the governor's office.

So what was Speaker of the House Tom Feeney concentrating his efforts on Monday? It wasn't passing a budget. Word Around The Clock is Feeney was giving some long-distance tongue lashings to members of the Oviedo City Council. Four of the five council members and the town's former mayor endorsed Seminole County Commissioner Daryl McLain in his bid for the newly created 24th Congressional District.

Since Feeney and his lieutenants drew the district specifically for him, the Speaker is privately miffed that McLain is challenging him in the Republican primary. Then along comes a four-fifths majority of the Oviedo council members to pour salt in the wound. Oviedo is where Feeney calls home, at least since 1996 when he moved into the district to run for the house seat following Rep. Marvin Couch's resignation.

The city council members' endorsement of McLain left Feeney with egg on his face, particularly since the endorsements came less than a week after McLain made his announcement.

He no longer works here: The experts predict that Feeney will be able to solicit $1 million to stuff in his campaign war chest. That won't matter if he is as out of touch with the voters as he seems to be with local elected officials.

Word Around The Clock is Feeney called Sanford City Hall after hours to talk with the mayor. Tommy Boy must have thought his phone was a time machine because his message began, "Uh, Mayor (Larry) Dale, this is Tom Feeney ..."

Dale's been out of office for more than a year. I hope Tom isn't waiting for a return call.

Who's running: McLain's bid for congress has local politicians positioning themselves to fill the vacancy. At least a dozen names have been mentioned as possible candidates, including Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard. Petitions don't have to be filed until mid-July, at which point the picture Should Lessard make a run at the next level, the mayor's seat will be vacant. With a little less than three years left on Lessard's term, a special election would be held to select the city's next mayor. There hasn't been a lot of maneuvering for that seat publicly, but one name that has popped up is Bob Kuhn. The owner of Diamond Glass is a native of Sanford and has been involved on the civic scene for years.

Kuhn hasn't run for office, though his wife, Linda, did make a bid in 2001 for the city's District 1 seat. His civic activities have helped him develop ties to the political arena, most notably Lessard, Dale and former city commissioner Lon Howell. Would Kuhn run? Not sure. Any decision, of course, would depend on what Lessard does. If Lessard runs for county commission, expect the recruitment of Kuhn to intensify.

The Buzz: Starting today, the Herald will publish a feature called "The Buzz" that will highlight the activities of local campaigns (Page 7A in this issue). Candidates for local office are welcome to submit news about their candidacy, naming of key campaign officers, etc.

With the filing deadline still two months away and campaign activities not yet in full swing, The Buzz will be published intermittently as announcements come in. Expect it to run regularly as election season heats up.

Also, letter to the editor campaigns have become a mainstay in local elections. Supporters, usually at the request of candidates or their staff, send out letters proclaiming the virtues of their candidate.

The Herald will publish as many of these as reasonably possible. If 20 supporters of the same candidate write letters covering the same message, don't expect all of them to be published. In addition, keep letters short (under 200 words) and to the point.

E-mail (editor@seminoleherald.com) is the ideal and preferred way to submit items for The Buzz or letters to the editor. However, we'll also accept them by fax (407-323-9408) and good ol' snail mail (300 N. French Ave., Sanford, Fla., 32771).

Got an item for The Clock? Send an e-mail to TheClock@seminoleherald.com.

Dark shadows

Employees recently arriving for work at Lake Mary City Hall cast long shadows on the walkway to the City Hall building. Pictured are Lake Mary City Planner Bill Spivey and Denise Green, who works in the city's Account Payable Department.

Hit and Run

Sanford Officer Jeff Sabounji arrested Christopher Moreland, 38, of Sanford Wednesday for driving with a suspended license and failure to stop after a crash involving injury. Moreland reportedly hit another vehicle at the intersection of Airport Boulevard and State Road 600. He reportedly fled the traffic accident because he told police "I was scared, I knew you would take me to jail."

DUI

Sanford Officer Bill Crapps arrested Rubio Gutierrez, 24, of Sanford Wednesday for driving with no license, running a red light and his fourth or subsequent violation of driving under the influence. Breathalyzer tests at the jail revealed a blood alcohol content of about .116.

Sanford Officer Bill Erwin arrested Michael McIntyre, 40, of Sanford Wednesday for driving under the influence. Breathalyzer tests revealed a blood alcohol content of about .118.

Possession of Cocaine

Seminole Deputy William Smithey arrested Edward Tillman, 45, of Sanford Thursday for possession of cocaine. Tillman reportedly was riding his bicycle in the Goldsboro area when Smithey and Deputy Steven Sosa noticed he did not have proper lighting.

Sanford Investigator Christopher Serino arrested Durran Daniels, 21, of Sanford Tuesday for possession of cocaine with intent to sell and attempted homicide. Daniels allegedly beat a man with a metal pipe on May 3. When officers found Daniels driving in the area of 11th Street and Cypress Avenue, they pulled him over because the victim had identified him as one of the assailants. About 44 pieces or six grams of crack cocaine was found underneath the driver's seat.

Aggravated Battery

Sanford Officer Hector Avile arrested Yong Park, 40, of Winter Springs Wednesday for aggravated battery and firing a weapon. Park, the owner of Kim's grocery store at 1229 13th Street, reportedly threw a glass bottle at area resident Dontrial Jones. The bottle struck Jones in his left arm, although police noted in the report they could not see any visible injuries. Park contested she threw the bottle after Jones kicked his foot at her.

Aggravated Assault

Seminole Deputy Mark Conway arrested Gerald Hurley, 60, of Winter Springs Tuesday for aggravated assault. Hurley allegedly swung a solid wooden cane at someone's head three times.

Grand Theft

Winter Springs Detective M. Tracht arrested Christopher Baker, 24, of Winter Springs Tuesday for grand theft. Baker reportedly stole his father's credit card and made about $1,180 in purchases at the Sam Goody Music store in the Altamonte Springs mall. The majority of the merchandise purchased related to the Playstation 2 game console as Baker allegedly bought two systems valued at $299 a piece.

Seminole Deputy Larry Magee arrested Wednesday Alvin Kilgore, 23, of Sanford, Samantha Satterfield, 20, of Deltona and three other juveniles. A computer check of a license plate of a vehicle parked at the Super 8 Motel on State Road 46 in Sanford revealed it was reported stolen by the Daytona Beach Police Department. Deputies regrouped in order to map a plan to find the suspect, but the vehicle was gone when they responded back to the inn. The same vehicle was later noticed at the Denny's restaurant on State Road 46. Kilgore reportedly tried to run as the other four occupants of the vehicle were taken into custody. Authorities charged Kilgore with grand theft auto, resisting an officer and driving with a suspended license. Satterfield, one of the occupants of the vehicle who was not a juvenile, was charged with trespassing in a conveyance.

Sheriff's office investigators are reviewing a report filed Wednesday by an elderly Main Street resident. The victim advised authorities that her care worker removed Monday a large sum of money from her room. She knows who and when because she was standing in the hallway watching as the care worker stole approximately $3,000 from an envelope located at the right bottom corner of the bed. Deputies are inquiring information from the Community Care for the Elderly business located at 2100 Aloma Avenue in Winter Park. The suspect is reportedly an employee of the business.

Suspended License

Seminole Deputy William Irwin arrested Anthony Harris, 31, of Sanford Tuesday for driving with a suspended and expired license. A background check also revealed Harris had an active Lake County warrant for uttering a forged instrument.

Seminole Deputy Dexter Girard arrested Sandra Presley, 43, of Sanford Tuesday for driving with a suspended license.

Open Container

Sanford police Special Tactical Unit conducted an operation Tuesday targeting open containers of alcohol in Fort Mellon Park. Agents arrested Rosie Boone, 52, of Sanford for violating a city ordinance prohibiting open containers of alcohol in public.

Larceny

The Sanford Special Tactical Unit conducted Tuesday a decoy operation targeting bicycle thefts in the Georgetown area of Sanford. Agents arrested Dion Jones, 27, of Sanford for larceny. Jones reportedly walked up to the decoy bicycle in the area of 7th Street, checked the tires, looked around the area several times and then rode off with the decoy. Officers caught up with Dion and recovered the bike. The value of the bike is estimated at $400.

Sanford Officer Thomas Fransen arrested Melinda Crews, 22, of Sanford Monday for retail theft and possession of marijuana. Crews reportedly tried to steal two packs of Jerky Bites dog snacks, two packs of pictures, one remote control and a three-pack of Kenny Rogers compact discs from the Orlando Drive Wal-Mart. A small bag of marijuana was found in her left shoe.

OPINION

Barking up the right tree

It's been a year (seven in dog years) since Sanford Paw Park officially opened. More than 400 people turned out for last Saturday's celebration, but that's not unusual for Paw Park. Since its opening, Paw Park has become one of the busiest parks in the city. Weekends are the busiest, but on just about any occasion you can find dozens of dogs and their owners — some from as far away as Kissimmee — enjoying Central Florida's only off-leash dog park.

But Paw Park is more than just a great place for pets and their owners. It's also an example of neighborhood initiative. Residents of the area were concerned about a city park that was known more for its criminal activity than its serene surroundings. They also realized there was a need for an open area where dog lovers could let their pets run free.

Rather than complain about the problems and wait for the city to fix it, these residents began a fund-raising effort to recreate the park into an off-leash doggie haven. Their hard work paid off in several thousand dollars worth of donations.

They didn't stop there, however. Led by Mike Kripter, the group researched how a park should be built and operated and offered their idea — along with the money — to the city.

After some initial puzzled reactions, the city embraced the idea and in a matter of months — record time, actually — created Paw Park.

Kripter and his team of volunteers are to be commended for their vision and their willingness to invest their time, money and resources to make Sanford a better place.

Kudos also go to Howard Jeffries and his crew and the city parks department. Once the city bought into the idea, Jeffries was the man who made it happen.

It's encouraging to see citizens take the initiative to improve their community. It's even nicer when the city helps them do it.

Duffers need their own course

We need beginners' golf courses, places where those who don't know how to play can learn.

Yes, we have driving ranges and Putt-Putt courses, but neither is like a real par three or nice a four hole with a sand trap and trees.

The need is for those who don't know how to play. Perhaps you've watched golf on TV or seen an actual tournament and would like to find out if golf might be a game you would enjoy. Where would you go?

No duffer is appreciated on a regular golf course. Taking a dozen strokes per hole delays others and you would find folks who know how to play complaining loudly.

But why not a small course — perhaps nine holes — where a husband can take his wife and teach her what he knows. There are also the youngsters who need someplace to try hitting the ball and making that putt.

Many people would like to take their spouses along on a game — but wouldn't dare to do so on a regular course. Driving ranges teach you how to hit a long drive. Putting greens may give you practice on putting — but these are only a part of what people do when they play.

This is not to say that there are no such courses for duffers. But it is to say that if there are any — no one advertises them and the average person doesn't know where to go.

Then too, there are some courses like this — but they are generally in mobile home or housing developments and they are strictly private.

Golf has been one of the fastest growing sports in the nation for the average person. How much more enjoyable if there were places where a prospective golfer could cut his teeth on the links.

People would be willing to pay — we are not suggesting a free course. Some may never go back to a golf course again once they find out how difficult it looks. (Watching Tiger certainly makes it look easy). But others may be able to hone their skills to the point where they could go to a regulation course and play a real game. This will make golfing easier for those who can golf (or who THINK they can), as the duffers will not be on hand until they are familiar with the game.

I never broke 100 on an 18 hole course when I used to play. I'd still like to — but judging from the catcalls, insults and ridicule I had when I tried to play some of the finer courses in Central Florida — I won't do it again until I can go to some place where a duffer can play with other duffers.

Golf is fun and when done successfully — can be a real benefit. But where do we go?

Ferguson family appreciates recent memorial service

To the editor:
We, the Ferguson Family, would like to thank the pastor and members of the St. Matthews Baptist Church for arranging, per our request, a Memorial Service for our loved one, Raymond Bellamy. The service that took place on March 3 at the church provided a way for friends and family to express our proper good-byes to a wonderful man.

Raymond Bellamy was a very kind, generous person who deserved to be buried with dignity. To this date, none of his family members have been notified of his death or his cremation, but that's OK because we expected something like this to take place during the whole course of him being ill. We are very sorry that the pastor and the church were so wrongfully blamed for his depression and his illness, which lead to his death. The true family knows who to lay the blame on and it is definitely not you or your congregation members.

The long-distance Ferguson Family would like to thank all who participated and extended their kindness to Raymond Bellamy while he was alive. We know you love him, The Almighty loved him, and we his true family loved him.

Residents are concerned about new development

To the Editor:
Mayor and Winter Springs Commissioners, previously, I appeared before your Commission on behalf of my Association (Stone Gable POA), for which I am the President. If you recall, a commercial developer is planning to build a 54K sq. ft. strip mall on our community's immediate western boarder. The developer plans to destroy the current tree buffer and expose our community to his commercial development; he also intends to utilize our one and only street (Stone Gable Circle) as a method for commercial traffic to ingress and egress for his development.

Aside from being completely apathetic to the needs of Stone Gable, this is extremely dangerous. I hope you recall the traffic studies that I presented. These studies clearly demonstrate that this access fails to meet D.O.T criteria for safety, but even more that a small residential street is not a channel for commercial traffic. As it is today, the intersection of Stone Gable Circle and SR 434 is very difficult to navigate for those familiar with its contour and traffic patterns, the addition of countless shoppers will devastate our community, destroy our residential setting, and endanger the 50 children that reside here. People are already moving out in fear of the results and eventual property devaluation.

Our community has extreme concerns and needs assistance. I had thought that the City Staff would have disapproved this site plan as it is unsafe, but apparently this is not the case.

The only reason the developer is seeking access to the Stone Gable community is to provide an access from both the east and west, this permits him to charge higher lease rates can be charged. Furthermore, in order to access his strip mall from Stone Gable, the developer must make use of Tract B, a recorded tract within Stone Gable. As presented in my presentation, this use violates the recorded covenants of the Stone Gable Association.

Our community would greatly appreciate any guidance or intervention that is permissible. It is clear that the developer has legal counsel and if necessary we are prepared to retain outside counsel. I only hope this is not necessary and the process itself will protect the residents of Stone Gable.

Sincerely,
Thomas J. Kearney
Winter Springs

Homeowners appreciate city's quick response

To the editor:
Dear Mr. Rudy Encarnacion, sewer foreman for the city of Sanford, recently my sister and I experienced a horrible mess at our home as a result of the sewer backing up in our bathroom. I must let you know how grateful we were to have received such prompt attention to our problem.

Reginald Braxton was dispatched to our home and he made a bad situation a little easier to accept. He was extremely polite, attentive and offered the right level of sympathy. Reginald is certainly an employee the city can be proud of.

We are indeed proud of our city and its fine employees. Keep up this exceptional service. We sincerely appreciate it.

The Way We Were: Early settlers

The following biographies were edited from "Early Settlers of Orange County" published by C.E. Howard in 1915.

J.B. Clouser

J.B. Clouser was born in Perry County, Pennsylvania, Oct. 15, 1838 and was raised on a farm. He became a carpenter, at which trade he worked until he entered the Northern Army during the Civil War. He was a member of the 149th PV Company D (Buck Tails). When he was discharged at the end of the war, he resumed his trade and was married November 1865.

Grace Marie Stinecpher

Mr. Clouser built a home in Center Township in Perry County, where he and his family lived until November 1881. At that time he, with his wife and two children, moved to Longwood, which had only been staked out in the woods and streets had not yet been cut out. The only hotel accommodations were a bale of hay and an old blanket in the upper story of a box board shanty.

Clouser will probably always be remembered for having built the Longwood Hotel for E.W. Henck.

Following this, he became foreman of the P.A. Demens Novelty Works, which at the time was the only planing mill and novelty works south of Jacksonville. During the 1880s, the public roads were mostly crooked trails with no bridges. The South Florida Railroad was under construction, having been completed from Sanford to Orlando. The train consisted of one coach, one flat car and a small engine called "The Seminole." There was no telegraph connection to the outside world until later.

There were no school buildings. Schools were held in private houses or shanties.

After four years in the employ of P.A. Demens, Clouser and his son, C.A. Clouser, and his son-in-law, E.J. Neimeyer, embarked in the mercantile business. When his wife died in 1911, he retired.

His son moved to New Smyrna Beach, where he was in the automobile business, so his son-in-law carried on the firm under the name of F.J. Neimeyer.

John Neill Searcy

Both of John Neill Searcy's grandfathers had fought under General Jackson in the War of 1812. His grandfather Robert Searcy was clerk of the Federal Court in Nashville and was the Second Grand Master of the Masons.

John's father, Dr. James Searcy, was born in Nashville in 1812 and married Miss Sara Neill. They raised seven children.

John was born in Bedford

County, Tennessee on March 15, 1842. In the fall of 1855, the family moved to Panola County, Mississippi, where they were living when the Civil War broke out. John and his oldest brother joined the Pettus Artillery in May 1861. The name of the company was changed to The Hudson Battery, after their captain, Alfred B. Hudson, was killed at the Battle of Shiloh. They fought under several other commanders and were involved in the Siege of Vicksburg. On May 12, 1865, they were paroled at Gainesville, Alabama.

John then moved with his father back to Bedford County, where he remained until March 17, 1873 when he started out for Florida.

He traveled on the steamer "Starlight" up the St. Johns River, landing in Mellonville on March 23. After dark, he went out to Fort Reid and the next morning he thought, "Have I left good old Tennessee to starve in the desert?"

On his way to Maitland, he met a Georgia Cracker who persuaded him to stop with him. He homesteaded land near what later became Longwood and enjoyed good sport with the Cracker, hunting deer where Longwood now stands.

When E.W. Herrick built the railroad from Sanford to Orlando, John was with the surveying party.

On Feb. 2, 1885, he married Miss Eva L. Muzzy, and they had three sons.

Oviedo council snubs Feeney, endorses McLain for District 24 congressional race

Four of Oviedo's five city commissioners and former Mayor Mary Lou Andrews announced their endorsement of Seminole County Commission Chairman Daryl McLain, in the race for the newly-created District 24 congressional seat.

McLain is opposed in the Sept. 10 Republican Party primary by Florida Speaker of the House Tom Feeney. Feeney took up residence in Oviedo in 1996 to run for a state house seat left vacant by the resignation of former State Rep. Marvin Couch.

McLain has served on the Seminole County Commission since 1992.

In a letter hand-delivered Sunday night, City Commissioners Phil Cloninger, Bob Dallari, Dominic Persampiere and Todd Russell, endorsed McLain. Andrews, the mayor from 1999 to 2001, also signed the letter.

"If you take the fact that Daryl has been a strong and effective leader in the county for nearly a decade, that record of accomplishment indicates he will be a strong and effective leader in Washington," said Russell. "Leadership at home equals leadership in Washington for all the citizens of our district."

"Daryl demonstrates the knack and the know-how to work with city and county officials in dealing with all aspects of quality of life issues," said Dallari.

For his part, McLain called Oviedo a "starting point," in his race for Congress, a special place that had helped launch his political career.

"I have been honored to serve the good people of Oviedo these many years," McLain said. "When I first ran for the county commission back in 1992, Barbara and I knocked on every door in Oviedo. Some twice. We've been back in the neighborhoods many times since; most recently last year campaigning for the penny sales tax extension.

"We've worked with elected leadership on Winter Miles, the trailhead, our natural lands program. These people are friends. These people are family."

Robinson seeks re-election to Seminole School Board

Sandy Robinson, a 12-year member of the Seminole County School Board, announced her intention to seek re-election.

During her tenure, Robinson has served six years as chairman and maintains involvement in community affairs through membership in numerous civic organizations and boards. She also is involved in helping her husband in his business.

Robinson cites her emphasis on accountability to both students and taxpayers as hallmarks of her tenure and points to countywide improvements, including:

- Increased SAT scores.
- Administrative cost among the lowest in Florida.
- Decreased tax rate for schools seven years in a row.
- Improvement every year in student FCAT scores.
- The number of students passing Advance Placement tests has doubled.

Robinson also noted that the school board, in cooperation with the county and seven cities, helped pass the extension of the penny sales tax with 72 percent of the vote. That initiative will generate $133 million in capital improvements during the next 10 years.

The three-term school board member said she will continue to focus on strong fiscal policies, increased achievement levels, decreased dropout rates and recruitment and retention of high quality teachers.

"Positive leadership, experience and a continuing commitment to improving student achievement while maintaining fiscal conservatism are the foundation of my service," Robinson said.

Lessard becomes the first elected official - and the first elected Republican - to publicly endorse the 10-year county commission incumbent since McLain's announcement that he was running for congress.

"I called Daryl to congratulate him," Lessard said. "I told him we'd miss him on the county commission, but that his brand of local leadership on a whole plethora of issues - from transportation to education - would benefit the entire region at the national level."

District 24 skirts the Sanford city limits to the east, Lessard said. But he added McLain had represented the city with distinction for nearly a decade; and his involvement with Sanford, and his family's, dates back far longer than that.

"Daryl grew up in Sanford," Lessard said. "He built a business here. He's sent his kids through public schools here. He understands the local issues, the local concerns, and the local priorities - like the need to pass the penny sales tax extension last year. That was an issue, a choice, which faced every elected official. Daryl didn't hesitate. He stepped out in front and led the charge."

McLain will bring that same kind of energy and enthusiasm to the Congressional campaign stump, the mayor predicted.

"I know Daryl will run a hard race," Lessard said. "He's an excellent campaigner. He's a personable candidate, and I'm confident that he'll get out and meet the people in the district. He won't just contact the voters by mail or pre-recorded phone bank, he'll be on their front porches and in their pastures talking about what's really important to them and to this community."

McLain said he welcomed Lessard's support and called the mayor a friend, a colleague and "truly a terrific public servant."

Lessard has served on the Sanford City Commission since 1997. He was elected mayor in 2001 with 54.4 percent of the vote in a four-way race.

Delegation Leader

Matt Moore, founder and chief executive officer of TEAM Information Services, Inc. in Lake Mary, will head a delegation of computer industry representatives to Washington, D.C. to meet with senators and representatives from May 8-10. Moore will be joined by Teresa Moore, president of Dragon Development, a major Washington, D.C. area based vendor that develops software products for clients who serve the U.S. Intelligence community.

Matt Moore serves as president-elect of the National Association of Computer Consulting Businesses (NACCB), a major U.S. trade group, and chairs NACCB's government affairs committee. "America's information technology industry has many major concerns that extend way beyond Microsoft and AOL-Time Warner," said Moore. "Big computer companies are certainly the most recognized elements of the IT industry in the U.S. but the center of IT is the hundreds of smaller companies that aren't so well known."

Among the topics on the agenda, Moore said, are clarification of the computer professional exemption, IT training and education, workers classification and immigration and IT Visas.

"Maintaining America's world leadership in information technology is one of the most important jobs facing our national leadership," Moore explained. "If we give up that lead, it may take a generation or more to recover."

Florida Solar Technology, Inc., the world's largest contractor of pool heating systems, pledged to contribute $25,000 over the next five years to the Foundation for Seminole County Schools, a private group that supports public education in Seminole County.

Skip West, founder and president and Scott Kacic, chief executive officer at Florida Solar made the presentation to the group.

"Florida Solar has seen enormous growth in the 20 years since we opened," said West. "This is one way we can give something back to the community."

New Contract

Longwood-based Geneva Development Group has been awarded a $1.5 million landscape and irrigation contract for Trend West Resorts, a $50 million timeshare development in Las Vegas. Established as a natural off-shoot of Talbot Environmental Inc., an ecological consulting firm based in Longwood, founder and CEO Tim Talbot said the firm provides planning, design and

Davis became uncooperative.

"Before the deputy could really do much, Mr. Davis was very angry," said sheriff's office spokesman Steve Olson. "If Mr. Davis had not reacted this way it probably wouldn't have wound up this way."

According to the police report, Davis began yelling obscenities at the deputies and then jumped in a vehicle in which his wife was driving. Deputies stopped the car three blocks later and Davis refused to get out of the vehicle. Authorities had to remove him from the vehicle.

Davis agrees most of this is true. However, he believes he was falsely arrested and illegally detained. Davis also contends the deputies were wrong to report he repeatedly used profanity. A particularly offensive four-letter word is attributed to Davis on seven different occasions in the police report. On one instance, the deputy attributed Davis saying the word to his wife.

"My wife was floored," Davis said after he read the report to his wife.

Being arrested is usually a public image killer, but for Davis it's just the opposite. Since Tuesday, Davis estimates he's been a guest on at least 40 different radio and television stations. From Chicago to Pittsburgh, Davis' fight against Seminole County is being heard loud and clear.

The most unusual request for Davis comes from Dartmouth College in Hanover, N.H. School officials have agreed to pay for Davis' visit to the school to talk the student body about the issues he's facing in Seminole County.

Davis has started a Web site to get his message out. The site, www.kiss-my-ass.us, features a picture of his statue.

Adoptive mother salutes birth mom for giving up child

DEAR ABBY: Twenty years ago I decided to place my child for adoption. I was 19, unmarried, and did not have the means to support a baby. Your Mother's Day column that year included a tribute to mothers who unselfishly placed their children for adoption. I cut it out and have carried it in my wallet ever since. I know other birth mothers would also find comfort from reading it. Would you consider printing it again?

This year, write your mother a letter telling her how much you love her and what life-lessons you have learned from her example. I'm sure if you do so, she will treasure it as long as she lives.

Dear Abby

JULIANA IN BOISE, IDAHO

DEAR JULIANA: With pleasure.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will use my letter on Mother's Day as a tribute to those brave, unselfish mothers who have placed their babies for adoption.

I am a new mother whose heart is overflowing with gratitude to a 15-year-old girl I have never seen. I understand that she is a beautiful, intelligent person who became pregnant accidentally and decided on her own that her baby should have a better life than she was able to provide, so she agreed to allow her baby to be adopted.

As soon as our son is able to understand, I shall tell him about his "real" mother and what a courageous person she is.

In the meantime, I pray daily for her well-being and good fortune. Sign me ...

BLESSED

DEAR BLESSED: Thank you for an appropriate letter for Mother's Day. I agree that placing a child for adoption for his or her own good is the ultimate in unselfishness. God bless those mothers who do.

DEAR ABBY: My mother just finished reciting the same speech she gives every year as Mother's Day approaches. It begins, "Now please don't throw your money away on a gift for me ... I don't need a thing."

Abby, I know my mother doesn't "need" anything, but I enjoy giving her presents, and it takes the pleasure out of it for me when she displays this attitude. I wish you'd tell mothers that children of all ages enjoy giving gifts on Mother's Day, so please accept them graciously.

SOMEBODY'S DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Your mother's attitude is typical of many other mothers. She would probably prefer that you use the money to buy something for yourself. However, that doesn't mean Mother's Day should not be celebrated with a gift.

DEAR ABBY: What is the significance of wearing a single carnation on Mother's Day?

FLOWER CHILD

DEAR CHILD: A red carnation is worn to signify that one's mother is living. A white carnation signifies that one's mother is deceased.

There should also be an identifying flower worn by those mothers who choose motherhood by raising a foster child, adopting a child or raising a stepchild.

And a special place in heaven awaits those mothers who choose a child with an "imperfection," knowing that children with physical or mental challenges not only have special needs, but also require a superabundance of love, understanding and patience.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I have friends who are being married in May. After sending out invitations in late February, they decided to inform each guest (either by phone or in person) that they would be charging $120 per person to attend. We would like to go, but not if we're going to be charged admission in addition to a wedding gift.

Have you ever heard of such a thing, Abby? Is this tacky or what?

NOT-FOR-PROFIT WEDDING GUEST IN CHICAGO

DEAR GUEST: Tacky? Very! At that price, their wedding will be the most expensive show in town. I wouldn't blame you if you had "an unavoidable change in plans." But let them know quickly so they can sell your seats to someone else.

Pauline Phillips and her daughter Jeanne Phillips share the pseudonym Abigail Van Buren. Write Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

To order "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send a business-sized, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $5 (U.S. funds) to: Dear Abby - Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included in the price.)

'Stuffed With Hugs' next Saturday

Children in the Orlando area will join children around the country in the second "Stuffed with Hugs" event slated for 10 a.m. Saturday, May 18.

Hosted by Build-A-Bear Workshop, Stuffed With Hugs invites children of all ages to come into The Florida Mall location and make a bear for free. All 76 Build-A-Bear Workshop stores across the country will participate in this special event, donating an estimated 17,000 bears to local firefighters and law enforcement agencies in cities across the country.

The purpose of "Stuffed With Hugs" is to give children a chance to help others according to Chief Executive Bear Maxine Clark.

"We hope children of all ages will join us on Saturday May 18 for this event because we know that the hug of a teddy bear will bring a smile to any child when faced with difficult circumstances, she said. "Build-A-Bear Workshop is honored to be supporting firefighters and law enforcement agencies across America-they are everyone's heroes."

Build-A-Bear Workshop donated more than 24,000 bears to children in need during 2001 as part of the Stuffed With Hugs program, including those affected by the events of Sept. 11.

The first 200 people to visit a Build-A-Bear Workshop in Orlando on Saturday May 18 will be invited to stuff and fluff teddy bears for free. All the bears made will be donated to local firefighters and law enforcement agencies in Orlando.

Each participant in the "Stuffed With Hugs" event will be rewarded for donating their time with $3 off coupon. In addition, Build-A-Bear Workshop will hold this event in each new store as it opens during the rest of the year.

 what happened," Mad Dog quipped.
 Matching up in the main event is the star Outlaw tandem of Mullins and Mace accompanied by Sapphire against Nightstalker, Slasher and Angel. Other events include Badd Boy versus Sapphire, El Diablo against Destruction and Bones matching up against Jumpin' Jack Flash. Two tag team matches slated for the evening are Prowler, Miss Olivia and "Lighting" Tim Conlon against The Alliance York Brothers and Bill Crude, and Josh Rich, CB Kool with Miss Jade versus Kempo Kid, Deathrow Jethro and Bill Crude.

 To promote the May 17 event, the group of Wrestlers, Cops and Kids will help sponsor a DARE to eat pizza night May 16 at CICI's Pizza located at the Wal-Mart Plaza on Orlando Drive. A percentage of pizza sales from 5 to 8 p.m. will be donated toward the DARE fund-raiser.

Outlaw Tom Bass, left, plans to square off against Mad Dog Sgt. Mike Taylor at the May 17 wrestling event to benefit DARE. Standing with the men is Ann Paladino, who is attempting to hold the wrestlers back.

 include: 1st Street redevelopment, Memorial Park, design and construction for marine expansion, Riverwalk/seawall additions, parking garage, preparation work for a condominium site, relocation of the Sanford Armory, design work for the second phase of the Riverwalk, linkages to the lakefront, improvements in Ft. Mellon Park, Lake Corola hard-scape, purchase the Imperial Palace building on Magnolia Street, purchase the vacant lot across from the Sanford Chamber of Commerce Building, and renovating the Holler building.
 Strickler suggested that the five-year budget remain flexible, especially when estimating the fourth and fifth year.

 "This is not set in stone," Strickler said. "We need to have the ability to adjust some of these items as things change. We can't say for certain in Year 5 that we will spend this amount money on this project."
 In other business, the CRA:
 • Approved a $10,000 payment to Sanford Main Street for the completion of a market survey.
 • Received an update on the Main Street Façade Grant program. Director Marlene Frith said projects have been approved, one at 120 N. Park Avenue and a second at the southwest corner of 1st Street and Palmetto Avenue. No applications were filed in April, Frith said, but Main Street expects to receive three or four applications in June. Frith said her organization intends to become more proactive by meeting with downtown building owners and encouraging them to submit an application.

 • Heard a brief presentation by Sara Jacobson, chairman of the Sanford Advertising Co-Op, concerning an image campaign her organization wants to conduct.

 throughout the country. Her website, located at www.basketsandbeyond.com, gives anyone in the nation access to the world of gift baskets.
 On the local level, various businesses and corporations regularly place orders for the gourmet fare. It's not unusual for Abraham to receive an order for 100 baskets or more.
 "This is a great retail area," she said. "There's a lot of things happening here, and there's a lot of corporate business."
 Nevertheless, her services aren't limited to orders of quantity. Popular gift baskets include baby and birthday arrangements.
 "Our most popular are the thank you baskets," said Lori Rice, who has worked at the business for the past four years. "Everybody always has somebody to thank."

 Including Mom. For people who may have waited until the last minute to buy their mother a Mother's Day gift, plenty of pre-made baskets are available at the business, located at 120 International Parkway in Heathrow. Gourmet food, candles, wine, champagne, stuffed animals and a variety of other items can be added to make a personalized gift for Mom, and prices range from $20 to $350.
 The gift baskets aren't just for women. With Father's Day just around the corner, the business has a variety of items created for men, including the Titleist Den Caddy with a golf mug, golf balls, cheese, cookies, crackers, pretzels and 19th hole theme snacks.

 Abraham is also already planning for the Christmas season. With business thriving, she may rent a kiosk in a local mall during the holidays. If that's successful, she is considering the same at other locations throughout the year.
 Success has made the former home builder never regret the move to retail.
 "I'm very happy," she said. "Things are going very well, and I really enjoy the creative side to the business and dealing with a variety of people."
 For more information about Baskets And Beyond, call the business at 407-444-2811.

Baskets And Beyond Owner Jeanne Abraham, left, and employee Lori Rice start fixing a gift basket at the Heathrow store.

Security

 Three officers that are already stationed at the airport will help oversee day-to-day operations. That group includes Sgt. Greg Smith and the newest addition to the department's K-9 division, a bomb sniffing dog.
 The National Guard's exit from OSIA actually began Wednesday, said airport public affairs official Diane Crews.

 "This is something all airports are doing in the month of May," she said. "We chose to do it over a three-day period."
 Although visually a big change from the camouflage to blue, Crews said, she doesn't expect the operation of the airport to be effected by the transition.

 The change is not too terribly different, explained Crews, as Sanford officers were stationed at the airport before the National Guard, U.S. marshals and other federal agents arrived after Sept. 11.

Eagles garner gold and silver

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

LAKE BUENA VISTA — A good start to the summer got even better for the Orlando Eagles the past two weekends.

The 15-and-Under AAU basketball team that is coached by Lake Howell High School varsity assistant Mike Scutero and made up mostly of Seminole County players traveled to Houston and Walt Disney World and came home with a runner-up and championship trophy, respectively.

First the locals competed in the prestigious Houston Kingwood Tournament and came in second, losing the Championship Game by two points to the Indiana Hoosier Hoops.

"It was still a great weekend of basketball for us," said Scutero. "We lost our first two games to the #2 team in the nation (Indiana Hoosier Hoops) and #1 team in the nation (Dallas Mustangs). We then went on to win four games in a row, including a 74-61 revenge victory win over the Mustangs, before losing in the finals to Indiana."

The Eagles dropped the opening game to the Hoosier Hoops, 81-71, with Trinity Prep's Omar Qazi scoring 19 points and Edgewater's Quentin Thornton netting 13.

The Dallas Mustangs then knocked off the Eagles, 75-68 with Winter Springs' Brett Hodges tossing in 22 and Lake Howell's Mike Caulfield tallying 16.

With their backs to the wall, the Eagles got 24 points from Lyman's Marquis Johnson, 14 from Qazi and 12 from Edgewater's Mike Dunn to top Louisiana Select, 71-64.

The Eagles kept the momentum going as Qazi scored 22 in a 62-58 nailbiter against the Illinois Wolves.

The Eagles then earned their spot in the eliminations as Johnson scored 17, Thornton 16, and Dunn 12 in a 60-53 triumph over the Kansas City Knights.

The locals then got vengeance in the semifinals, thumping the Dallas Mustangs, 74-61, with the 6-foot-8 Thornton throwing down 14, Hodges and Johnson 12 each and Qazi 11.

Because of time restraints, it was decided to play the final with a 30-minute running clock and the Hoosier Hoops held off the Eagles, 41-39. Thornton was again the leading scorer with 10 points.

The Eagles then returned to Disney's Wide World of Sports complex last Friday to take part in the AAU 2002 Spring Fling II Tournament.

The team was looking for a sweep of the 'flings' as they won the Spring Fling I Tournament last month at Disney.

And sweep they did, rolling to four victories without a loss and earning their fifth Championship in six tournaments.

On Friday (May 3), the Eagles outscored Florida Elite, 80-70, with Hodges leading four players into double figures with 19 points. Qazi chipped in with 15, while Caulfield and 6-foot-8 Mike Potvin of Lake Brantley added 10 points each. Lake Brantley's Kyle Fowler also had a good game with nine points.

The Eagles then won its pool on Saturday by crushing Butler Basketball School, 83-31.

Thornton dominated inside, scoring a game-high 25 points. Also in double figures were Johnson (15), Qazi (13) and Dunn (11).

The Eagles really showed how good they could be in the eliminations on Sunday, winning two games by a combined score of 198-102.

The semifinals saw the Eagles romp to a 97-37 thrashing of Palm Coast, made up of players from Bunnell and St. Augustine.

All 10 players scored with Lake Howell's Andy Hampton leading the way with 19 points. Also in double figures were Johnson (14), Fowler (12), Dunn (11) and Lake Brantley's Todd Stamp (10).

The Championship Game was another rout as the Eagles coasted to a 101-65 triumph over Gold Coast, which had upset Team Florida in the semifinals.

The Eagles showed good balance as big men Thornton and Potvin scoring 17 and 12 respectively, and guards Qazi (16), Fowler (14), Johnson (10) and Caulfield (10) combining for 50 points.

The Eagles are now 25-4 and were to have taken part in the AAU State Tournament in the St. Petersburg/Clearwater area this weekend (May 10-12).

The team will then take a week off before heading to Columbus, Ohio on May 24-26 to take part in the Nike Future Stars Showdown at Ohio State. See Basketball, Page 2B

Right mix advances Oviedo to Final Four

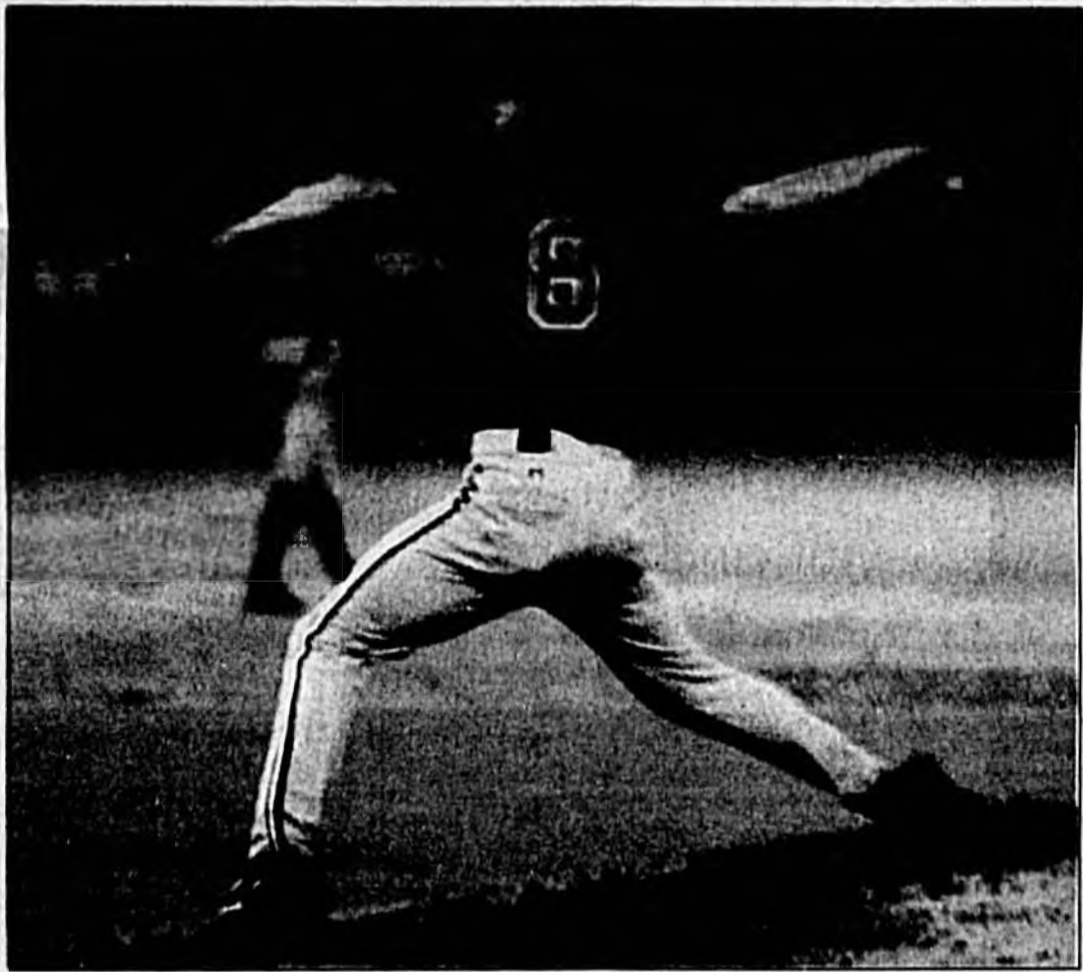

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

APOPKA — And the saga continues.

For a team that was not given much chance of winning even its first district game, the Oviedo High School baseball team is doing just fine.

Wednesday night at J. Barnes Field in Apopka, coach Kevin Wainscott put together the perfect recipe for a win...a cup of good pitching, a dash of superior defense, and just the right amount of timely hitting...as the Lions edged the homestanding Blue Darters, 3-1, in the Class 6A-Region 1 Championship Game and earned a spot in next week's FHSAA State Baseball Championships at Legends Field in Tampa.

Oviedo (25-8) will take on No. 4 nationally-ranked Apopka, 3-1, in the Class 6A-Region 1 Championship Game at J. Barnes Field. Irvine has allowed up no earned runs on six hits in two complete game starts in the regionals.

Oviedo's Colin Irvine hurled another masterpiece Wednesday night, scattering five hits as the Lions knocked off No. 4 nationally-ranked Apopka, 3-1, in the Class 6A-Region 1 Championship Game at J. Barnes Field. Irvine has allowed up no earned runs on six hits in two complete game starts in the regionals.

SCC baseball team finishes fifth

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

VIERA — The Seminole Community College baseball team made its return to the state tournament a successful one, finishing tied for fifth in the tournament.

The Raiders lost their opening game in the FCCA State and NJCAA Region VIII Tournament, 8-3, to No. 1 state ranked and Panhandle Conference champion Chipola Community College from Marianna, 8-3, Sunday night at Space Coast Stadium, the Spring Training home of the Florida Marlins.

But the team bounced back in a big way on Monday, crushing Southern Conference foe Palm Beach Community College from Lake Worth, 11-2. The win was the first in the state tournament for SCC since the 1980's.

The Raiders just missed making the final four, being eliminated on Tuesday, 3-2 in 10 innings, by Pensacola Community College.

SCC finishes the season with a 32-27 record overall and a second place finish in the Mid-Florida Conference.

Chipola Community College got all the way to the finals, but Manatee Community College from Bradenton bounced back from a loss in the semifinals to defeat the Indians, 8-0, to win the state title.

The Lancers, led by Oviedo High School graduate Larry Grayson, will now represent Florida in the NJCAA National Tournament in Grand Junction, Colorado starting May 25th.

It was also announced during the tournament the SCC third baseman John Michael Howell was named to second team All State for the 2002 season.

The 6-foot-3, 200-pound lefthanded hitting freshman from Winter Springs hit .361 (69-for-191) with 20 doubles, 11 home runs, 35 runs scored and 50 RBI during the regular season.

In M-FC play, Howell hit a team-high .347 (35-for-101) with nine doubles, seven home runs, 21 runs scored and 25 RBI.

Of local interest, Grayson, a 5-foot-9 outfielder who was drafted in the 13th round by the Oakland Athletics out of Oviedo, was named to the First Team All-State squad.

Ban on wildlife feeding in effect

Special to the Herald

OCALA — Effective May 13 it will be against the law to intentionally feed bears, raccoons, foxes and sandhill cranes in Florida. The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) passed the new rule in April to help reduce problems that occur when wild animals become too comfortable around humans.

"Feeding wild animals is becoming a significant problem in Florida," said Joy M. Hill, public information coordinator for the FWC's Northeast Region office in Ocala. "When people feed wildlife, the animals become less wary of humans in general. When this happens, they lose that natural fear and can become dangerous, or cause considerable property damage."

Usually, the people who are responsible for causing the problem to begin with are not the only ones affected by it. One person feeding wildlife is likely to cause problems for many others in a neighborhood because wildlife doesn't understand fence lines or boundaries. See Outdoors, Page 3B

University.

With the "prelims" out of the way, the Eagles will get down to business June 7-9 as they return to Orlando to play in the State YBOA (Youth Basketball Organization of America) Tournament, before competing in the 15-and-Under AAU National Tournament at Clarksville, Tennessee, July 6-13, and the YBOA National Tournament in Lakeland.

Scutero is aided by fellow Lake Howell coaches Andy Sarasty and Cliff Rogers.

Another Seminole County AAU squad, the Seminole Shooters, also did well in the Spring Fling II, going 2-1 in Pool Play in the 16-and-Under age group, but just missed the eliminations.

The Shooters, made up entirely of Seminole County athletes and coached by Spencer Torbert with assistance from former Seminole Community College men's coach Bernard Merthie and current Seminole High School coach Sylvester Wynn, will also be taking part in the AAU State Tournament in the Clearwater/St. Pete area this weekend.

Lake Mary High School's Darryl Merthie led the Shooters to a 75-63 victory over the Kingwood, Texas Smurfs in their first game last Friday. The sophomore-to-be poured in a game-high 23 points with Seminoles High School's Cy Wynn also in double figures with 10 points. Mike Torbert and Robert Duval chipped in with nine points each.

The Shooters then ran into Team Florida on Saturday and were nipped, 72-64, despite Merthie scoring 23 points against the team he played for last summer.

"We just didn't come to play today," said Bernard Merthie. "It (the loss) cost us the tournament. If we had been ready I feel we would have won the tournament."

Oviedo's Pat Kiscaden was the only other shooter in double figures, scoring 15 points. The Shooters then came back later on Saturday to get past the O.S.A. Panthers, 64-52, to finish second in their pool.

Unfortunately, second place only got you an "atta boy" as only the pool winners advanced to Sunday's eliminations.

Merthie again was the high scorer with 22 points, while Wynn had 12 points and fellow Seminole High player Raleigh Pinkney added 11.

Also scoring were Duval and Jeff Hartzler (eight points each), and Sean Jackson (three points). Other Seminole Shooters players are Scott Moradzan and Robert D'Erno.

Once the animal gets used to getting food at one location, it will come back again and again. In the course of these return trips, the animal will traverse other yards where it may come across garbage cans, bird feeders or pet food. Food is food and it doesn't matter if it has been set out in a nice clean bowl, or is in the form of trash waiting to be picked up.

Even worse, some animals, such as raccoons, will bring along all the other raccoons in their neighborhood and soon one cute raccoon munching cat food turns into 25 destructive raccoons tearing into screens, ripping into pet food bags and turning over garbage cans to get a meal.

Also, when wild animals are in such close proximity to humans, it is easier for them to transmit disease to humans and pets through bites or scratches.

Last year, the FWC Northeast Region office received more than 500 complaints about nuisance bears in its 14-county region. That's in addition to the hundreds of calls and E-mails it receives regarding other wild animals that have gotten too close for comfort.

"Unfortunately, people who feed wildlife are not only exposing themselves to safety and health risks, and property damage, they are likely killing the critters with kindness. Very often, habituated wildlife ends up being euthanized because, in most cases, it cannot be successfully relocated," said Hill.

When the rule becomes effective on May 13, it will be a 2nd degree misdemeanor to intentionally feed raccoons, bears, foxes or sandhill cranes (it's already against the law to feed alligators). Enforcement efforts will be based on complaints the FWC receives about people whose behavior is causing these animals to become health, safety and property damage risks.

"We are not as interested in writing tickets as we are in educating people about how their actions affect wildlife behavior, which in turn affects other people," said Hill. "However, once someone understands that by feeding wildlife they are causing these animals to destroy property or become threats to human safety and welfare, they will be cited."

The bottom line is that it doesn't benefit anyone - human or animal - to feed these animals. Everyone pays in the end. The wild animals usually pay with their lives.

If you know of someone who is intentionally feeding raccoons, bears, foxes, sandhill cranes or alligators, please report them to the 24-hour Wildlife Alert Hotline at 1-888-404-FWCC. The call is free and you could be eligible for a reward.

Baseball

Miami-Southridge (31-1), ranked No. 1 in the state and No. 4 nationally by Baseball America (through games of May 4), at 10 a.m. on Friday. Southridge will be the third nationally-ranked and fourth state top 10 ranked team the Lions will have played in the playoffs.

Oviedo has already beaten No. 5 state-ranked Cypress Creek, No. 6 nationally-ranked and No. 2 state-ranked Apopka and No. 16 nationally-ranked Lake Mary.

The other Class 6A matchup has Valrico-Bloomingdale (16-15) taking on defending state champion Hialeah (22-10) at 5 p.m.

The winners will meet for the state championship on Saturday at 7 p.m. Check the FHSAA website at www.FHSAA.org for more information.

The game against Apopka (30-3) pretty much followed the same script as the Lions' win over Sandalwood, only the score was much closer. Colin Irvine hurled a masterpiece on the mound, Brett Murphy hit the game-winning home run, and the defense made several spectacular plays.

Irvine, who pitched out of a first and second, one out jam in the bottom of the seventh inning, allowed no earned runs on five hits and struck out six. In the bottom of the sixth inning, with the score tied at 1-1, Oviedo's outfield made two crucial plays to preserve the tie.

On a drive to deep center, Murphy made a diving, over the shoulder catch just inches from the wall on a ball that would have easily gone for a triple and moments later, with runners on first and second and two out, rightfielder Charles Parker made a running, diving catch on the rightfield line to end the inning.

Then in the top of the seventh inning, with a runner on and one out, Murphy, who was 2-for-3 in the game, blasted a Zack Greinke fastball over the left-center field fence for a two-run home run. Greinke, a four-year star for the Blue Devils and a sure first round pick in the upcoming major league draft, missed with a pair of curve balls before trying to sneak the fastball by the Clemson-bound senior.

This was the third time in four years that Apopka has been eliminated in the regionals by Oviedo.

The Lions, who only got three hits in the game, took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third inning one an RBI single by Justin Stines.

Apopka evened the game in the bottom of the third inning with the help of Oviedo's only error in the game.

Special meal for a special mom

Mother's Day is time when children eschew store-bought gifts in favor of hand-crafted presents.

Whether you brought mom breakfast in bed (she lovingly ate it no matter how burned the toast was or how muddy the coffee), or you gave her that hand-made card, at least once a year you have taken time and effort to show your mother how much you love and appreciate her.

If you don't know by now, there are two unwritten Mother's Day laws. First, you love and respect your Mother. Second, there is nothing you can do to ever repay her for all she has done for you. She was there when you took your first steps and picked you up when you fell.

As you bravely went off to school that first day, had you looked back you would have seen your mother's face with tears of pride and sadness as she realized she had to share you with the whole world. Her heart filled with joy as you brought home your first report card, went on your first date and attended your first prom. Her heart ached for you when you struggled through the ordeals of dating or had your first fender bender. Her eyes misted with tears of joy as you walked down the aisle. There is no emotion stronger than a mother's love for her children.

Celebrating Mother's Day is not new. The ancient Romans and Greeks celebrated Mother's Day in early spring. Anna

Jarvis, whose Mother died in 1905 in Philadelphia, so loved her Mother that she campaigned for a national day to honor all Mothers in America. On May 8, 1914, Congress passed a joint resolution designating the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day.

Nothing says "I love you" to your Mom as much as you preparing a special meal just for her.

I have designed a meal plan for you that is elegant, sumptuous, and fun. You're guaranteed a smile before your Mom even picks up her fork.

For starters, your Mom will enjoy a chilled Strawberry Soup. This soup has the elegance of Vichys-soise but a light Spring taste. Served cold, this fruity soup is sweet and perfect on a sunny Florida Mother's Day. No one will ever guess the secret ingredient is actually a dash of cayenne pepper. Topped with a dollop of whipped crème and a sprig of mint, this is a delightful way to begin your tribute to your Mom. You can relax as this dish is prepared a day earlier and takes no time away from the celebration.

When you bring out the Poulet Amusant Salad, get ready for the smile. This is a delicious chicken salad that is artistically plated to look like a child's drawing of a chicken.

Rustic Tomato and Goat Cheese Tart

The elegant taste is created by using tarragon and real Dijon mustard (not the commercial variety knock-offs). You may have to look a bit in the grocery store (I use Maille), but if you are going to be preparing gourmet meals, this is what gourmets use. When you start using it in your other recipes, you will wonder how you ever used that other stuff. I promise.

The main course is the Rustic Tomato and Goat Cheese Tart. Designed to be served at room temperature, this meal can be prepared that morning and leisurely served whenever you and Mom are ready. Rustic style recipes are great to prepare. You get all the gourmet flavors with none of the overly time-consuming, detail-oriented preparation.

Take some time this weekend to listen to Mom. You KNOW she knows best anyway...

Chilled Strawberry Soup

- One quart strawberries, quartered
- One half cup powdered sugar
- Pinch of cayenne
- One quarter cup water to thin mixture, if necessary.
- A dollop of whipped cream, if desired for garnish.

Blend strawberries, sugar and cayenne in food processor until smooth.

Chill until serving time. Serve in small soup bowls with garnish.
Serves 4

Poulet Amusant Salad

Meat from one boiled chicken, shredded.

- One half cup to three quarters of a cup of mayonnaise
- One teaspoon fresh tarragon, chopped.
- One TB Dijon mustard
- Salt and pepper to taste
- A few drops of lemon juice
- One blanched red pepper
- Two large, pitted black olives
- One blanched portobella mushroom
- Four slices, hard boiled egg
- One bunch fresh chives

Combine mustard, tarragon and mayonnaise with salt and pepper and lemon juice. Add shredded meat from the boiled chicken (discard bones, skin etc).

Place a slice of boiled egg on plate. (See picture.) Then place one fourth of the chicken salad where indicated. Use paring knife to fashion legs from mushroom, beak and feet from olive and comb and feet from pepper. Use chives for tail feathers.
Serves Four

Rustic Tomato and Goat Cheese Tart

- Two sticks butter
- Two cups flour
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Two eggs
- One quarter cup cold water
- One half cup parmesan
- Four ounces goat cheese
- One half cup cream
- Two yellow tomatoes
- Two red tomatoes

Cut very cold butter into small cubes and place in food processor. Add flour and a pinch of salt. Pulse until mixture looks like small peas. In small bowl mix one egg and ice water. Add to processor and mix just until mixture starts to come together, but still crumbly. Empty mixture onto plastic wrap. Wrap up forming a disc and chill for thirty minutes.

Slice tomatoes about one quarter inch thick. Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Roll out dough to about one eighth of an inch in a generally circular shape. Leaving a two inch border, put half of the parmesan on the dough. Then arrange sliced tomatoes on top. Cover with rest of parmesan. Crumble goat cheese over parmesan.

Then fold up edges over tomato mixture. Mix together cream and an egg with salt and pepper to taste. Carefully pour over tomato mixture, watching for possible leaks. Place tart in oven and bake for 35 to 40 minutes until golden brown. Let cool and serve.
Serves 4 to 6

Sanford's Paw Park is 1 year old, and more than 400 people and their canine friends gathered last weekend to celebrate the milestone. With a challenge lure course, a doggie wash, and T-shirt sales, the fundraiser netted more than $1,000, which will go toward park expansion and improvements. However, according to Paw Park co-founder Mike "Gordy" Knipler, raising money wasn't the main reason for the birthday bash. "I didn't look at it as purely a fund-raiser," Knipler said. "I looked at it as a goodwill event. We wanted to have fun." Various events and raffles were held throughout the afternoon, but Knipler said the favorite — at least for the dogs — was the doggie wash. It gave them a chance to cool down during the 90-degree day. Despite the hot weather, Knipler said the park's birthday celebration was a tremendous success. The organization, Friends of Our Paw Park, is already making plans for the park's next big event, the second "Howl-O-Ween, which will be held in October. More than 100 women attend Excellence Conference

The Women of Excellence Conference 2002 was sponsored by Women of Grace Apostolic Temple Inc., located at 1712 Southwest Road and 18th Street.

The general session began Friday with Angela V. Young as conference administrator. Grace Apostolic Young Adult Choir presented the opening musical fellowship of worship. Rendering further worship in musical song was LaTiesha Carter Dixon. Ministering to the guests was Evangelist Sharon Byrant.

The anointed speaker for the evening was Pastor Barbara Gainey of the New Jerusalem Church of Osteen. The mighty message will always remain in the hearts of the guests.

At the 5 p.m. session, "In the Middle," Phyllis Tyson, a registered nurse and administrative assistant at a nursing home, was the speaker, along with Thelma Mike, administrator of the Good Samaritan Home. The attendees were given information on how to care for, and when to accept the fact that, elderly parents and family can't continue to take care of themselves and have to be admitted to a nursing home.

At the 7 p.m. session, the coordinator for the evening was Gloria Washington. Presiding over the worship service was the dynamic evangelist, LaVetti Williams of the Gospel Train, which is heard Sunday mornings over

The spirit of worship and Christian fellowship was indeed present, as the spirit flowed with singer Lucy Wyatt of Orlando. The guest musical group was the talented young people of the University of Central Florida Gospel Choir.

Pastor Carol Ruth of the Word of God Apostolic Church of DeBary gave the message of the evening, which was one of wisdom, faith and love for the Lord. After words of appreciation and honor for many of the women of excellence, the session closed with

When, how to water plants depends on species

The demand for water in Florida is always increasing due to a steady population growth. We must learn how to make better use of the limited water resources available by practicing water conservation.

Rainfall in Florida is about 52 inches of water per year, which could be considered adequate if we think that one inch of rain per week is sufficient to cover the needs of most plants. Most of the rainfall occurs during the months of June through September, with little rain occurring the rest of the year. During this period, supplemental irrigation is necessary to maintain good growth for most landscape plants.

When to Water

Frequency of watering depends on plant species, soil type, time of year and weather conditions. That makes it difficult to establish a general rule that will apply to all cases. There is only one rule that never fails, most plants will show their need of water by wilting.

Some plants will not show obvious symptoms of water stress but sometime other types of symptoms will appear such as leaf drop, browning of leaf tips or leaf margins.

How Much Water

As a general rule, plants in full sunlight will need watering every three to five days. Most Florida's soils will hold about 3/4 inches of water per irrigation period. Irrigation of landscape plants is usually done with sprinklers, which must be calibrated to deliver the 3/4 inches of water required for most plants.

Al Ferrer

A simple method used is to place containers in the area covered by the sprinklers to determine how much time it takes for the sprinklers to deliver 3/4 inches of water. Simply, measure the depth of the water level in the containers until it reaches the desired amount of water, and record how much time it took to reach that level. Adjust your timer accordingly if you have an automatic watering system or if you do it manually, remember to turn on the sprinklers for just that period of time.

It is recommended that if you have an automatic watering system you should install a shutoff device when it rains.

Watering Methods

Sprinklers are one of the most popular methods of watering your landscape plants. Sprinkler systems are versatile and can be operated automatically or manually to deliver the necessary amount of water. A hose-end sprinkler can be used in small areas to cover the water needs of your landscape plants. This method requires more labor to move the sprinkler around but it is very economical.

Micro irrigation is a very efficient method of delivering a small amount of water to the root system of the plants. By wetting only the root zone, the amount of water used is minimal and it also limits weed growth.

Micro-sprinklers can cover areas of three to twenty feet in diameter and are an excellent way to deliver water to specific areas in your landscape. Watering plants with a hose is not an efficient way to deliver water to plants. Usually water is applied faster than the soil can absorb it, resulting in soil erosion and exposing plant root to direct sunlight. Time of

Watering

The simplest rule is to water early in the morning. In the mornings, there is minimal evaporation, since wind and temperature are low, and the time that plant surfaces remain wet is also minimal. Maximum water losses occur when watering during the day due to evaporation.

Watering at night increases the amount of time that the plant remains wet, creating a good environment for the development of diseases.

Water Saving Practices

There are some other practices that result in water conservation.

- Mulches — The use of mulches will reduce evaporation and consequently reduce watering.

- Drought Tolerant Plants — By landscaping with plants adapted to low soil water levels, you can conserve water because these plants require less water to maintain good growth.

- Windbreaks — Windbreaks, by cutting wind velocity, decrease evaporation. Trees, fences, hedges, and shrub beds will function as windbreakers in the landscape.

60th Anniversary

Congratulations to Clayda and Ashby Jones who celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on May 3. The couple were married on that day in 1942 in the First United Methodist Church of Sanford by the Rev. W.P. Buhrman.

The Joneses have lived in Sanford during their entire marriage except for four years Ashby spent with the railroad in Waycross, Ga., and another three years in the Navy. The death of Clayda's brother on their anniversary brought much sadness to the occasion. The couple celebrated quietly with their family.

Clayda was employed by the Seminole County School Board when Bill Phillips, John Angel and William P. "Bud" Layer were the school superintendents. She later worked in the business office at Seminole Community College.

Clayda and Ashby Jones

The son of a pharmacist,

Ashby worked for Doc McReynolds in his popular Sanford drugstore for several years.

Ashby got his start at the courthouse when he was employed as Deputy to the Clerk of the Circuit Court Arthur Beckwith Jr. where he remained until his retirement.

The Joneses have been very popular in the community they love. Both were singers in the church choir until this year.

Ashby is an accomplished artist and still teaches and studies art. Until her back flared up awhile back, Clayda was a star tap dancer when she strutted her stuff with the "Happy Hoofers."

The couple are the parents of two children, Glenn Jones of Daytona Beach and Leslie Vanlandingham of Memphis. Clayda and Ashby were honored at the First United Methodist Church on May 5 when their daughter-in-law, Tara Jones, sang "How Great Thou Art" and a prayer.

Today, in their retirement years Clayda said they just "do what comes naturally." They keep in shape by walking a lot. Clayda contributes their successful and happy marriage to "Our faith in God, our love for each other, commitment and our work in the church together."

Woman's club salutes officer, firefighter of year

History repeated itself for the second year in a row at the May meeting of the Sanford Woman's Club. Annually, the club honors the Sanford Police Officer of the Year and the Sanford Firefighter of the Year.

Doris Dietrich

Last year, for the first time, a woman received the coveted title of Officer of the Year. And this year, another deserving woman was awarded the city's top cop honor. Statuesque Cynthia Littles did her full-dress uniform proud and was all smiles when club President Betty Jack presented her with a congratulatory plaque.

Sanford Police Department Chief Brian Tooley cited Officer Littles for her dedication and said, "She's one of our stars. She can do just about anything." Since assuming her duties as investigator with the Special Tactical Unit for the past 16 months, Chief Tooley said Littles has performed her duties in an outstanding manner.

"Investigator Littles regularly goes beyond the required duties and excels at customer satisfaction without hesitation or direction," Chief Tooley said.

Recently, Investigator Littles assisted Sgt. Ned Golden in solving a homicide case involving the brutal death of a 13-year-old female that occurred in 1988. She performs undercover clandestine investigations involving prostitution and buying and selling illegal drugs and "performs these tasks admirably," Chief Tooley said.

Investigator Littles spends a lot of time and energy helping solve some of the historic problems in the Goldsboro Community. She provided counsel recently to the family of a young mother who left her newborn baby at a local restaurant to be discovered by Sanford police.

Chief Tooley concluded his summary saying, "Investigator Littles personifies the finest traditions found in law enforcement today."

Her reply upon receiving the plaque was, "I am honored to receive this award from the Sanford Woman's Club. Chief Tooley is the best chief I ever worked for."

Deputy Fire Chief Gerald Ransom nominated Lawrence "Larry" C. Piediscalzo as the Firefighter/Paramedic of the Year per the recommendation of SFD Lt. John C. Smith. In telling about how busy Firefighter

Piediscalzo is and his accomplishments, Deputy Chief Ransom said, "If you want to get something done, give it to Larry."

Ransom told the women that "Larry has given hours of his off duty time over the past two years to become a State of Florida Certified Paramedic." He volunteers for extra duties and special assignments and his most recent project was helping build a new Battery Chief office and personnel room. Most of the work was done on duty and down time. Ransom said, "This effort from Larry and others helped save the Fire Department and the City of Sanford valuable tax dollars."

Firefighter Piediscalzo was recently selected as a member of the SFD EMS bike team which will work special events in downtown Sanford and was commended for his consideration of co-workers and the public.

A veteran of the United States Marine Corps, Firefighter Piediscalzo, spends his off-shift time as a member of the SFD Honor Guard Colors and Drill Team which serves at funerals, parades and civic events.

Upon receiving his plaque, Firefighter Piediscalzo thanked the club and said, "It is team effort. We all do it together."

Attending the event with his father and standing tall as a staunch supporter was Justin Piediscalzo who said he was real proud of his dad and wants to walk in his shoes one day. Firefighter Piediscalzo said the award and ceremony "brought tears to my eyes."

The club was honored to have the Sanford Police Department Color Guard to

Old Truths for a New Day

St. Mary Magdalen church members help build Habitat house

St. Mary Magdalen Roman Catholic Church, Altamonte Springs, joined hands for the ninth time with Habitat for Humanity in Seminole County Inc., to help build a home for a local family in need.

The Seminole County Habitat for Humanity Inc., is a non-profit, ecumenical Christian ministry that replaces poverty housing with decent, affordable homes.

"Seminole Habitat does not offer a hand-out, but rather a hand-up," said Helen Funk, director of Habitat for Humanity in Seminole County. "Homeowners undergo a stringent selection process, and once selected, must donate 300 or 400 'sweat-quity' hours before and during the construction of their homes.

"They must also attend training sessions on home maintenance, budgeting, home safety, legal issues and other such topics."

The affiliate depends on community involvement from local civic groups, churches and local businesses, such as Living Quarters Furniture.

"It's important to remember and help those not as fortunate as we are — the strong help the weak, right? Well, that's what we're doing here," said John Scribner, owner of Living Quarters Furniture and parishioner of St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church.

In addition to receiving generous donations from the local community, Habitat for Humanity in Seminole County Inc., also operates a thrift store and builder's supply store located in Sanford at 1100 Americana Blvd. For donation pick-up, call 407-688-8874. These storefronts supply revenue to run the organization and help in funding the building of homes.

Since its incorporation in 1991, Habitat for Humanity in Seminole County Inc., has built more than 47 new homes and helped more than 250 very low-income individuals and families escape poverty housing and change their lives for the better.

For more information or to volunteer, contact Susie Millonig at 407-328-9717.

Father worried son misinformed about the effects of marijuana

QUESTION: My son has recently begun running around with some tough kids who have introduced him to marijuana. He doesn't deny what he is doing because he says it is harmless. Can you give me the facts?
DR. DOBSON: Your son has been given some very bad information that is being passed around by those who are promoting the legalization of marijuana. It is a lie. Dr.

James Dobson
 'Focus on Family'

Harold Voth, the senior psychiatrist for the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kan., has set the record straight. He said, first, that five marijuana cigarettes have the same cancer-causing capacity as 112 conventional cigarettes. Second, the part of the brain that allows a person to focus, concentrate, create, learn and conceptualize at an advanced level is still growing during the teen-age years. Continuous use of marijuana over a period of time will retard the normal growth of those brain cells. Third, a study conducted at Columbia University revealed that female marijuana smokers suffer a sharp increase in damage to DNA, the genetic code. Fourth, a second Columbia University study found that people who smoked a single marijuana cigarette every other day for one year had a white blood cell count that was 39 percent lower than normal, thus damaging the immune system and making the user far more susceptible to infection and sickness. Smoking marijuana is a dangerous hobby. I doubt if your son will be satisfied with this answer, even though you should share it with him. His motivation is probably related more to peer pressure than to his belief in the harmlessness of marijuana. If I were you, I would bring all my energies to bear on getting my son away from the gang he is now running with, even if it required us to move. Dr. Dobson is president of the non-profit organization Focus on the Family.
