Sometimes the future looks black; we can't see a glimmer of light anywhere... and we ask for help without really expecting an answer. But we're wrong. Even that small word, "help" means that we have realized our own inadequacy and turned to something outside ourselves for guidance.

Called, or not called, "God is an ever-present help in trouble." And whenever we ask Him to intervene, our lives are filled with new hope and inspiration.

He does not ask us to worry about the future. In fact, He doesn't intend us to worry at all. Worry indicates uncertainty and fear, and these have no place in Christian living.

Perhaps you are thinking "That takes greater faith than I'll ever have!" But you forget God's help. Perfect trust... serene peace of mind... these are your birthright. And your Church will teach you to attain them.

Bob Doyle, director of the East Central Florida Planning Council, hung a label on Highway 1 that probably will jolt owners of business along the heavily-traveled highway. Doyle says the route is considered one of "the ugliest in the United States." And Doyle didn't stop there. He said the Orange Blossom Trail is "rapidly becoming so."

Appears some officials build a brick roadway to move traffic and then allow business to locate on both sides of it to slow it down. However, the interstates and turnpikes recognize this factor and you'll notice the clear sailing on all of them.

T. Sgt. and Mrs. Dewey McElereth of Longwood are singing praise for Deputies Rice and Charles Cockayne for their prompt action last week in recovering their station wagon which was stolen at 6:30 p.m. from in front of Eckardt Drug Store in Seminole Plaza. Two hours after the theft, the McElereths received word their wagon had been located on North Street in Altamonte Springs.

A campaign against pollution on the inland waterways and in the harbors was launched last week by the American Waterways Operators Inc. The kickoff was signalled by distribution of an Inland Waterways Operators pollution manual and the first of a series of posters. The manual is a handbook reminder to towboat, tug and barge personnel to help them take necessary precautions to control pollution during cargo loading, discharging and transfer operations.

New construction lending in July by the 133 savings and loan associations in Florida totaled $32,509,000 which was a record amount for the month. These construction loans accounted for the financing of 3,509 new dwelling units for families in Florida.

The first fall meeting of the Seminole-DeBary Division of the Florida Heart Association will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. Plans for the coming year will be formulated at that time. Merle Warner, secretary, reports.

Casselberry's Town Council goes back into session tonight to complete a meeting it is continuing from Aug. 10. The session will get under way at 7:30 p.m., according to Town Clerk Mary Hawthorne.

From the mailbag to Dottie Austin, city editor of The Herald: "I wish to take this opportunity to express for the boys and girls committee of the Kiwanis Club, our appreciation for the very excellent and timely coverage you gave us in connection with the 'Kids Day' program." A soothing balm to all scribes. The letter was signed by John W. Wilson, committee chairman.

Seminole County's Health Department director, advises that school personnel, nursing home operators and employees, food handlers, beauticians and teachers may get free chest X-rays for health cards and other purposes Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week at the health center, 900 French Ave. The mobile X-ray unit, provided by the State Board of Health, will be open from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. and from 3 until 6 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, and from 9 a.m. until noon and from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Friday.

Cleo's 140-Mile Wind Aimed At Jamaica

Civil Rights Plank OK'd

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — Democratic platform drafters approved unanimously a plank today asserting that the new civil rights law "deserves and requires full observance by every American and a fair, effective enforcement if there is any default."

They then went on to other sections of the party document, including an anti-extremist plank denouncing by name the Communist party, the Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch Society.

The civil rights plank was described as acceptable to delegates from both the North and South. It declared:

"We re-affirm our belief that lawless disregard for the rights of others is wrong—whether used to deny equal rights or to obtain equal rights.

"We cannot and will not tolerate lawlessness."

Meanwhile, the party was

Goldwater In New York To Woo Business

NEW YORK (UPI) — Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater flew here today to mend fences with eastern business leaders and left angry pressmen behind at the barricades.

Police and Goldwater aides kept reporters and photographers behind barricades at La Guardia Airport when Goldwater's private plane touched down after a flight from Washington.

The one question that Goldwater answered was whether he planned to see Mrs. Claire Booth Luce, who refused his telephone request last week to give up her plans for the senatorial candidacy on the ticket of the Conservative party of New York.

"No-o-o," shouted Goldwater.

Inland Waterways Attract Industry, Make Jobs

By Julian Stenstrom, Associate Editor

"Because of the heavy traffic the waterway bears throughout the year, a great deal of commercial activity, which gives employment to thousands, has sprung up along its shores," writes Frank A. Montgomery Jr., author of an extensive article entitled "Waterways Along the Sea" which appears in the August issue of "Southern Telephone News," published by The Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Montgomery traces what he calls the "grand canal" all the way from the Virginia line to the boundary of old Mexico. He calls it "A great and sheltered sea-level canal," and its better known as the Atlantic and Gulf Intracoastal Waterway.

"Along the Atlantic Coast section, from North Carolina to Florida," writes Montgomery, "the diverse nature of the cargoes, as well as their volume, is little short of amazing. These run from sand, rock, gravel, slag, pulpwood, paper, lumber, fertilizer materials and automobiles to sugar, fish, oysters, coal, iron, steel, tobacco and so on.

"Up and down the Gulf portion of the canal, reflecting the resources of that region, move endless 'toys,' consisting principally of crude oil . . . sulphur, shell, iron and steel, cement, salt, rice, industrial chemicals, and a multitude of others.

"Storm winds and waters pose little threat to the craft that transport this vital commerce, for the waterway at all times offers them a shelter passage to and from their ports of call.

"Such activity," Montgomery continues, "usually takes the form of some sort of terminal, or yacht basin, equipped to serve the needs of the various kind of craft and their crews.

"Restaurants, sleeping quarters, gas stations coupled with a wide variety of other facilities and services are offered at some of the stop-over points.

"Many of the more elaborate marinas have berthing spaces for several hundred boats, and voyagers upon the waterway will find when stopping at these 'shopping centers' . . . are equipped to satisfy their every need."

Montgomery goes on to say, "In some respects, the waterway's similarity to land-bound arteries of travel is strikingly apparent.

"For the hunter, the fisherman, or the picnicker the waterway offers choice spots to indulge his fancy. . . . As a result, numerous attractive resort communities have sprung up in such places, and their number is constantly increasing.

With the completion of the cross state barge canal and the Sanford-Titusville canal it seems that Sanford will have its golden opportunity to become one of the finest inland water resort communities in Florida—that is if Sanford will offer to the pleasure boatman facilities they need.

The answer could be the realization of the proposed marina and allied facilities along with the projected port terminal.

If Sanford doesn't support these projects and take advantage of this new trend in recreation and transportation, its children might someday stand on the banks of Lake Monroë and only be able to admire the hundreds of pleasure craft and barges ply the river to marinas and ports in other locations.

On the other hand, Sanford could become what no other city in the state could claim to be—Florida's only inland marine shopping center.

THIS WATERWAY "filling station" at Fort Lauderdale is one of the many marinas which have sprung up to provide motel, restaurant and shopping facilities as well as fuel and oil for boatmen.

Mobs Storm Four South Viet Towns

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—Howling mobs of anti-government rioters today stormed through at least four of South Viet Nam's biggest cities and stoned a hotel where 500 of the U. S. troops helping fight the anti-Communist war are billeted.

The American GI's took shelter behind the smashed windows of their rooms in the city of Da Nang while student-led mobs battled with Roman Catholic villagers armed with guns and hand grenades.

Crowds of demonstrators estimated at more than 15,000 persons surged through city streets as a nationwide wave of anti-government lawlessness threatened to boil over into religious warfare.

Ten thousand Buddhists burned Roman Catholic stores and houses in the coastal city of Qui Nhon, battering their victims with clubs and sending scores of persons to hospitals.

Students headed a mob of 4,000 to 5,000 rioters who roared through the oil imperial capital of Hue, overturning desks and furniture and setting it afire while police outside directed traffic and refused to interfere.

Humane Society Being Formed

First steps in organizing a county-wide humane society were taken here Saturday. R. T. Johnson of Sanford conducted a meeting of interested Seminole citizens and Mrs. Ruth Gottlieb of Pensacola, the immediate past president of the Florida Federation of Humane Societies, explained how to get the group established.

Mrs. Gottlieb was assisted by Mrs. Edith Sweetzer, president of the DeLand Humane Society.

"Our purpose," said Johnson, is to obtain the necessary land and funds to construct a shelter. Meanwhile," he added, "we will be seeking to obtain memberships in the organization and to arrange a feasible agreement with city and county authorities to enforce the Sanford dog ordinance and any wishes the County may have in this area."

County Board To Meet Tomorrow

The Board of County Commissioners will convene at 9 a. m. Tuesday for its bi-monthly meeting. Chairman James P. Avery said this morning that "As far as I know there's nothing on the agenda other than routine matters."

Two public hearings upon which action was tabled at the last meeting, will be continued.

Island Due To Be Hit Late Tonight

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI)—Hurricane Cleo, leaving 14 dead and mounting damage in Guadeloupe, raked the southern coast of Hispaniola today and aimed 140 mile an hour winds at Jamaica.

The coast of the Dominican Republic received a glancing strike from the small but violent hurricane when the center passed 40 miles offshore. But the southwest peninsula of Haiti took a pounding from the winds, torrential rains and storm tides.

The weather bureau warned Jamaica that the hurricane, first of the season, was expected to pass over the island late tonight and Tuesday morning.

Southeastern Cuba was expected to escape the brunt of hurricane winds but the Havana weather bureau warned by radio today that residents of southern Oriente Province should take precautions. Premier Fidel Castro ordered many farm families moved out of low-lying areas along the southeastern coast of Cuba.

Cleo's center was passing just south of the southwest peninsula of Haiti this afternoon. Forecasters predicted it would pass about 40 miles south of Les Cayes, Haiti, near the western tip of the peninsula, about 5 p. m. EST.

The center was located at 11 a. m. (EST) about 90 miles south-southwest of Port Au Prince, Haiti, near latitude 12, north longitude 72.6 west. This was about 270 miles east of Kingston, Jamaica. Cleo was holding on a course between west and west-northwest at a slightly reduced speed of 14 miles an hour.

Cleo's progress recalled the battering hurricane Flora gave Haiti, Cuba and Jamaica last year. That storm isolated the southwestern Haiti peninsula for weeks and killed an estimated 4,000 persons.

Flora also killed an estimated 2,000 persons in southeastern Cuba before moving into the Atlantic. Although Jamaica was on the southern "weak" side of Flora, flash floods accounted for 11 deaths and $12 million in property damage.

City Commission Meets Tonight

City Commissioners will consider 26 vacant buildings for condemnation at 8 p.m. today in City Hall and hear a request from Arsenia P. Constantine for an extension of time on two condemned structures belonging to her.

The Commissioners will also consider recommended changes and additions for adoption of part three of the Southern Standard Building code, concerning plumbing.

Commissioners are expected to authorize Bill Hutchison, city attorney, to prepare an ordinance for adoption of the 1964-65 budget; consider recommendations of the Zoning and Planning Commission.

Highlights Of Democratic Platform

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — Highlights of the national security and foreign policy sections of the 1964 Democratic platform:

Peace, Victory

"To this nation and to all the world we reaffirm President Johnson's resolve to... use every resource at the command of the government... and the people... to find the road to peace... The preservation of peace requires the strength to wage war and the wisdom to avoid it. The search for peace requires the utmost intelligence, the clearest vision, and a strong sense of reality. Because for four years our nation has patiently demonstrated these qualities and persistently used them, the world is closer to peace today than it was in 1961."

Risk Of War

"Responsible leadership, unafraid but refusing to take needless risk, has turned the side in freedom's favor. No nation, old or new, has joined the Communist bloc since Cuba during the preceding Republican administration."

Nuclear Control

"Control of the use of nuclear weapons must remain solely with the highest elected official in the country — the President of the United States."

More Guidance Needed

Juvenile delinquency is one of those complex subjects about which nearly everybody has an opinion, if not a solution.

It is a constantly recurring topic in magazines and newspaper articles by laymen as well as such experts as judges, sociologists and psychologists.

It is a matter of concern at all levels of government, including the federal, and now even threatens to be an issue in the forthcoming presidential election campaign.

It is not often, though, that we hear from the people who are most immediately concerned with young people when they get into trouble—the police.

A survey was recently made by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Thirty-two police chiefs and superior officers, plus 12 other persons engaged in police training and a judge, a state youth correction officer and a youth commission director were asked what in their experience were the major problems in police work with respect to juvenile delinquency. The results were printed in "The Police Chief," the association's official publication.

By far the most frequently cited problem was—parents.

According to the police, the responsibility for a child's misconduct very often lies with the child, but with his parents because they fail to provide proper guidance and adequate discipline.

Parents of children in trouble are often more involved in their own interests and pleasures than in maintaining a healthy family environment at home. Sometimes they are not only disrespectful of the law themselves, but in direct conflict with it.

In some cases, laboring under a heritage of poverty and ignorance, parents are simply not equipped to raise children decently.

Far too frequently, however, the "better" kind of parents cause the police their worst headaches. Usually overprotective—which is not to be confused with overstrict—they refuse to believe their children can do any wrong.

Indeed, the parents even accuse the police of "framing" their darlings—distorting the facts to make things look worse than they are. They refuse to co-operate with efforts to get their children to revise their attitudes of contempt toward persons and property.

Such parents, it has been found, have the attitude that the law is something to beat and that the police exist only to mete out punishment. This philosophy is passed on to their children, either deliberately or unconsciously.

Parental delinquency or parental failure is only one aspect of the whole problem, of course. There are shortcomings on the part of the community, the schools, the churches, the courts and the police themselves.

But if it cannot be said that juvenile delinquency begins at home, it is only because the home that it visits, whether it is a hovel or a mansion, is no real home.

Thought For Today

Six days you shall work, but on the seventh day you shall rest; in plowing time and in harvest you shall rest.—Exodus 34:21.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Special Forces captain and I were out in a small motor boat in the middle of the Mekong River in South Viet Nam just east of the Cambodian border.

He pointed to the river bank on our left. "Viet Cong forces are all along there," he said. He pointed a little ahead on our right. "The Viet Cong are also there," he added.

I didn't see any Viet Cong or hear any shots. I still have no way of knowing whether any Viet Cong were patrolling at the moment. That is the eerie part of this war. You don't see the enemy.

For all I could tell, I was as safe as I would be along a country river at home in the United States. Or I could have been in the sights of a Viet Cong rifle. Officers assured me I'd already been. I have no way of knowing whether that was the case.

"You see that little imitation houseboat over there?" asked the captain. "And that small landing craft. We have a recoilless rifle and a machine gun mounted on the houseboat and troops loaded on the landing craft. We have them slowly patrolling that side of the river close to shore—so inconspicuously that no one notices them."

"Then we take the motor boat we're in right now and run up and down openly on this side of the river. We're halt, you see. Then the Viet Cong attack and we duck and run."

"The houseboat and the landing craft push over fast from the opposite shore and attack the Viet Cong who have exposed themselves. If we're fast enough, we maul them a little."

The captain's Special Forces outpost has the job of defending a 20-mile section of the Vietnamese border against infiltration of Viet Cong troops from sanctuaries in Cambodia. Because the land is so marshy, his men do their patrolling in boats.

This Special Forces advanced detachment of 12 American officers and men had trained several companies (exact number secret) of native Vietnamese into special guerrilla detachments to constantly patrol their 20 miles of border area.

They were working day and night. But they don't have enough men to do a complete job. It was clear the Viet Cong were moving out of their Cambodian sanctuary, making attacks in Viet Nam, then moving back into safety in Cambodia. There they rest, regroup, refit and train.

This Special Forces outpost reminded me of an old Army staple in the West during the Indian fighting days. There was a wall around a small compound with machine gun emplacements every 500 feet. There was a watch tower in the center with a 75 mm recoilless rifle and a machine gun mounted to fire over the walls.

This Special Forces detachment was a sitting duck for Viet Cong to sit outside and fire in with well-aimed mortar fire.

"In fact," one officer told me, "you see this group of 100 or so Vietnamese lined up outside the compound for free medical care. Well, we know some of them are Viet Cong. We treat them the same as anyone else when they want to see the doc."

"When they come in, they carefully pace off the distance. Then, later, their mortar men know the exact range to set their weapons."

DAVID AND GOLIATH

Worry Clinic

CASE T-455: Lorna G., aged 28, is a former teacher.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I have been married for two years."

"And I am now very happy to be a housewife, except for one thing."

"I literally hate myself for always being far behind in my work."

"No sooner do I get the dishes washed and the house cleaned up than my husband gets home and everything is messed up again."

"And I never get all my tasks done! Am I just abnormally slow?"

"Maybe it is because I never was taught housework for my mother always did everything in our home when I was a girl."

"So how can I ever accomplish all the tasks ahead of me each day?"

Agenda Plan
Use the "Agenda Plan."

Each night before you go to bed, make a written list of the items ahead of you tomorrow.

Include minor chores like washing the breakfast dishes, as well as major tasks, such as the laundry.

But if you are in a house-cleaning mood and plan to wash the windows, don't list "Wash all the windows,"

"That's too big a chore!"

So break it down into smaller "bits," such as "Wash windows in living room."

Then you can also record "Wash windows in my bedroom."

Thus, you can cross out more items as you finish them and that will inflate your ego.

In my own case, I cross out every completed task with a thick red pencil, so it will look more striking.

You housewives should pin your daily agenda above the kitchen sink where you can view it easily.

Then, as you are finishing one chore, you can be picking up the next.

This will save you many valuable minutes when you might otherwise be wondering which task to do next.

Otherwise you can waste a lot of valuable time trying to decide. But if you already have your duties written down and hanging above the sink in front of your eyes, you will move from one item right along to the next.

And include minor chores that may not require even 5 to 10 minutes, for when you have an interval of 5 empty minutes, you can't tackle a 30-minute chore.

"Send a greeting to a sick friend," thus will be a fitting inclusion for a 5-minute item on your daily agenda.

"Write a letter to Mother (or son or daughter away at college)," can be a 15-minute item.

But be sure to break down your big tasks into smaller units.

Instead of listing "Do the ironing," divide it into "Iron the flat pieces."

Then list "Iron hubby's shirts," etc.

For one of the most discouraging things to adults (and doubly so to children) is the tackling of big items that require hours or days to finish.

Wives, send for my "Tests For Successful Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, and use it to zoom your rating!

than that the industrial South would prefer a conservative Republican to a conservative Democrat. No intelligent and forward-looking Southern leader, as George Wallace clearly is, would want his state and region to miss the economic uplift that a Goldwater victory would bring. Dixie is Barry's province, not only because he's a States' Rights man, 'ut because he's the Southern Investor's, banker's, borrower's, business manager's and plant worker's best friend. Even if he'd voted for the Civil Rights bill, instead of against it, the senator would still be all these things to all these people.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It would be fatuous to pretend that Gov. George Wallace, fiery petrel for racial privacy, did not get segregationist pressures to withdraw from the presidential contest — but that's a long way from being the whole story.

The governor's withdrawal, as I had opportunity to learn at the Republican Convention, was also motivated by color-blind economics. At a breakfast engagement in San Francisco, far from the maddening Convention crowd, two businessmen and this reporter discussed the possibility of Wallace's withdrawal, presuming Barry Goldwater should win the nomination. Discussion? Possibility? No, it was the statement of a sure thing.

Nothing was more inevitable

than that the industrial South would prefer a conservative Republican to a conservative Democrat. No intelligent and forward-looking Southern leader, as George Wallace clearly is, would want his state and region to miss the economic uplift that a Goldwater victory would bring. Dixie is Barry's province, not only because he's a States' Rights man, 'ut because he's the Southern Investor's, banker's, borrower's, business manager's and plant worker's best friend. Even if he'd voted for the Civil Rights bill, instead of against it, the senator would still be all these things to all these people.

The greatest cause for Republicanism in the South," I'm told by John Grenier of Birmingham, now executive director of the GOP National Committee, "is the demand of participants in the political process. The former no-faction system would not permit it."

Some heavy summer reading, where I have turned for documentation, would convince any honest doubter. Early last year the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta published a report on two epochal changes in the Southeastern states:

1. Referring to the Sixth Federal District, which embraces Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee, the report said: "Thus for the first time since the American frontier moved west of the Chattahoochee River (in Georgia) the district states increased their population at a greater rate than that of the nation."

And why did this population increase take place? Because, surmises this Federal Reserve study, "the economic opportunities were strong enough to attract people from other regions."

During the Eisenhower era of the 1950's, these six Deep South states underwent changes not often recorded in the general press. The ratio of high school attendance went up till, by 1960, it was 87 per cent of the national average.

Is it not strange that Mr. Petree avoided mentioning in his unkind criticism that, he, too, is a defeated candidate of the same primary? He took a drubbing, even though frequently extolled in the news as an "outstanding Democrat."

Is it strange that despite Bob's high party rating, the Democrat voters were very much unimpressed and virtually ignored him at the poll?

Clinging to unwavering party loyalty, Bob would as soon vote for a cross-eyed baboon if it won the Democrat nomination.

As for me, I'm proud to be a real Democrat who puts principle above party. I will always stand for a man who prefers principle to expediency. Barry Goldwater is such a man. Let us leave Bob to the other kind.

Editor, Herald:
With eager anticipation do I hereby accept the personable Mr. Robert G. Petree's challenge to my right to consider myself a real Democrat because I am voting for Barry Goldwater!

Although I am no match for Mr. Petree's trained speaking ability, his rhetoric, and his charm — I feel more than equal to the pleasure of debating with him anytime, anywhere, on the subject of real and phony Democrats.

I had a good laugh out of Bob's reference, in his Herald letter, to the fact that I am a defeated candidate of the primary election. I wish he had told everybody last May that I was a candidate, for now it seems that every Democrat in Seminole County knows of Goldwater, — but never heard of me, let alone that I was running for something.

Is it not strange that Mr. Petree avoided mentioning in his unkind criticism that, he, too, is a defeated candidate of the same primary? He took a drubbing, even though frequently extolled in the news as an "outstanding Democrat."

Is it strange that despite Bob's high party rating, the Democrat voters were very much unimpressed and virtually ignored him at the poll?

Clinging to unwavering party loyalty, Bob would as soon vote for a cross-eyed baboon if it won the Democrat nomination.

As for me, I'm proud to be a real Democrat who puts principle above party. I will always stand for a man who prefers principle to expediency. Barry Goldwater is such a man. Let us leave Bob to the other kind.

Danger Ahead For Greece

By K. C. Thaler
United Press International
LONDON (UPI)—Strongly anti-Communist Greece is anxious to counter any possible intervention by Russia in the Cyprus conflict.

This is at least one of the major aspects of the Greek government's surprise decision to withdraw some of her forces from NATO.

The move appears at least in part designed to discourage President Makarios from involving Cyprus in to close an alignment with the Soviet Union through Russian military aid.

The overt motive is Greece's intention to be able to deter any possible Turkish invasion of the Mediterranean island.

But diplomats here believe the scales in Athens were tipped by fear of Russia moving into the Mediterranean.

The Greek government appeared markedly aloof when Turkey raided Greek Cypriot positions in the island. There was talk subsequently of differences between Athens and Makarios that were patched up.

Russian designs remain obscure. Premier Nikita Khrushchev kept silent at the height of the Cyprus crisis a week ago. But when a settlement appeared in the making Moscow announced its pledge to stand by Makarios.

The aid pledge was carefully phrased, making it, in effect, conditioned on a Turkish invasion.

Whether Khrushchev really wants to get involved directly in Cyprus appears doubtful. He has given strong indications that he does not want to antagonize the Americans. But the prospect of getting a foothold on Cyprus in return for the supply of some outdated weapons might prove too alluring for the Kremlin to resist.

Greece cannot be pleased with this trend and Makarios' appeal for Russian aid, in the view of informed diplomats, has chilled the anti-Communists in Athens to the bone. This could turn out to be a danger to Greece of major proportions.

The Wallace Switch

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It would be fatuous to pretend that Gov. George Wallace, fiery petrel for racial privacy, did not get segregationist pressures to withdraw from the presidential contest — but that's a long way from being the whole story.

The governor's withdrawal, as I had opportunity to learn at the Republican Convention, was also motivated by color-blind economics. At a breakfast engagement in San Francisco, far from the maddening Convention crowd, two businessmen and this reporter discussed the possibility of Wallace's withdrawal, presuming Barry Goldwater should win the nomination. Discussion? Possibility? No, it was the statement of a sure thing.

Nothing was more inevitable

than that the industrial South would prefer a conservative Republican to a conservative Democrat. No intelligent and forward-looking Southern leader, as George Wallace clearly is, would want his state and region to miss the economic uplift that a Goldwater victory would bring. Dixie is Barry's province, not only because he's a States' Rights man, 'ut because he's the Southern Investor's, banker's, borrower's, business manager's and plant worker's best friend. Even if he'd voted for the Civil Rights bill, instead of against it, the senator would still be all these things to all these people.

The greatest cause for Republicanism in the South," I'm told by John Grenier of Birmingham, now executive director of the GOP National Committee, "is the demand of participants in the political process. The former no-faction system would not permit it."

Some heavy summer reading, where I have turned for documentation, would convince any honest doubter. Early last year the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta published a report on two epochal changes in the Southeastern states:

1. Referring to the Sixth Federal District, which embraces Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee, the report said: "Thus for the first time since the American frontier moved west of the Chattahoochee River (in Georgia) the district states increased their population at a greater rate than that of the nation."

And why did this population increase take place? Because, surmises this Federal Reserve study, "the economic opportunities were strong enough to attract people from other regions."

During the Eisenhower era of the 1950's, these six Deep South states underwent changes not often recorded in the general press. The ratio of high school attendance went up till, by 1960, it was 87 per cent of the national average.

Is it not strange that Mr. Petree avoided mentioning in his unkind criticism that, he, too, is a defeated candidate of the same primary? He took a drubbing, even though frequently extolled in the news as an "outstanding Democrat."

Is it strange that despite Bob's high party rating, the Democrat voters were very much unimpressed and virtually ignored him at the poll?

Clinging to unwavering party loyalty, Bob would as soon vote for a cross-eyed baboon if it won the Democrat nomination.

As for me, I'm proud to be a real Democrat who puts principle above party. I will always stand for a man who prefers principle to expediency. Barry Goldwater is such a man. Let us leave Bob to the other kind.

George Bobrow

Simultaneously there was a rise in productivity and personal income which caused the Federal Reserve report to note: "A more highly educated population is more adaptable to change, and its workers are presumably more efficient."

2. Something else happened to the South late in the summer of 1952 when Dwight Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson were tussling for the presidency. The Federal Reserve report, usually pretty pedantic, almost takes wings in describing it:

"We don't know exactly what that event was. Perhaps a young girl, recently graduated from a rural high school, stepped off a bus and started her search for a job in the city. A newly assigned branch manager of a New York firm may have moved his family into a comfortable suburb. Maybe a baby was born in a city hospital. We do know that the event was far more important than it seemed at the time, for it signaled the end of the South's traditional role as a predominantly rural area. Since that date, more Southerners have lived in urban areas . . . than in the country."

In fine, the Southern people, irrespective of race, have significantly gained in numbers, not because of a biological binko, but because of job opportunities. And the Southern people have left the farms in considerable numbers to take the skilled, well-paid work in industry.

— And There Are Democrats Who Didn't Go To Convention

Southerners Notable For Absence

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — Although this is billed as the biggest political convention in history it can't be said that everybody is here.

Some of the people who stayed away are as notable for their absence as those who came.

Harry S. Truman, for one, stayed home. At 80 he figured he had done his bit for the party. Unlike some others who figured they could pass up this boardwalk convention, the former president isn't mad, though.

Leander Perez, of course, is. Perez is the Democratic (and segregationist) leader of Plaquemine Parish, La. Perez' word is just about law in his home bailiwick and his word in this case was that the outcome of the convention was decided before it convened so he didn't see any reason to attend.

Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas, who doesn't care for the new civil rights law, discovered that "unfinished business" kept him at home.

Louisiana Sen. Allen Ellender, with whom President Johnson and Lady Bird shared a pot of gumbo at Ellender's capitol hideaway only last Friday, took advantage of the week's congressional recess to make a tour of his state. Louisiana's other senator, Russell B. Long, also professed to be busy.

The absentees in fact tended mostly to be from the South, where even some party officials supporting the national ticket figured it would be just as well if they didn't get involved in any possible shut-out, walk-out, or sit-in at this Democratic convention.

Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, for whom futile convention votes have been cast for president in the past, decided a prior engagement.

Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, a regular attendant in the past, was "extremely busy" in his private law practice and said that besides he no longer was a public official.

Gov. George Wallace came to address the platform committee — and went back to Alabama. Wallace's remarks sounded to some platform members like those of a Goldwater man.

Although Wallace left behind a full delegation, he would have company at home before the convention gets going. The Alabamians are faced with signing a loyalty pledge — namely, that they intend to support the party's candidates in the November election — and most of them don't want to do that. Some Mississippi delegates feel the same way.

City firemen Get 3 Calls

City firemen received three calls in 12 minutes during the night of Thursday's storm. At 2:26 p. m. they went to a home owned by the Alexander Real Estate firm at 1225 Randolph St. when a television set shorted.

At 2:15 p. m. they went to the home of Police Lt. Joe Hickson, 2520 Mellenville Ave., when an electric stove wiring caught fire.

Three minutes later, 2:38, another television set was short-circuited at the home of Rebecca Smith, 1117 Cypress Ave.

First Andrea Doria Treasure Recovered

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (UPI) — The first sunken treasure from the barnacle-covered hulk of the Italian luxury liner Andrea Doria was high and dry on shore today as the first installment of an enterprising salvage crew's attempt to eventually raise the ill-fated vessel from its watery grave.

Skipper Dan Turner and the crew of the salvage boat Top Cat returned here Sunday with a 700-pound bronze statue of Italian Adm. Andrew Doria which was taken from the main salon of the liner after a series of 34 dives.

The Andrea Doria, which sank July 25, 1956, after colliding with the Swedish liner Stockholm, is resting some 225 feet on the ocean floor about 40 miles south of Nantucket.

Turner, a native of Florida, said recovery of the life-size statue concluded preliminary salvage operations aimed at eventually re-floating the 29,000-ton liner.

Turner and his eight-man crew, which includes four experienced scuba divers, plan to resume the salvage project early next year.

First Mate Harry Leadbetter of New Bedford said the bronze statue of the admiral, for whom the liner was named, was covered with a thin sand-colored crust after eight years on the ocean floor.

Leadbetter said the Top Cat's divers were unable to detach the statue from its pedestal and finally sawed through its legs just above the ankles.

Turner and Leadbetter declined to discuss what other "salvageable" items still remain aboard the luxury liner.

Leadbetter acknowledged that "several other" items had been recovered from the once-sleek, $38 million liner.

"We've accomplished all we expected to do in the way of salvage operations this year," Turner said.

When asked what he intended to do with "Adm. Andrea Doria," Turner replied: "Nothing right now. He's not for sale."

Bear Lake Methodist Women Approve Projects For Year

Recommended projects for the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Bear Lake Methodist Church were planned and approved at a meeting of the group held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mickey Morgan in Sanlando Estates.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Leone Whipple, devotional chairman, who spoke on the new age of space, comparing it to newness of the circle. Miss Virginia English, president, conducted the business session.

Recommendation was read that 60 per cent of the circle's funds be used for mission work with the remainder going for church purposes. It was reported that $20,500 was given by 45 churches in the Florida area to missions last year.

It was agreed that the circle will present all new babies in the church with small, name engraved Bibles as keepsakes and that flowers will be sent those who are ill. In the event of death, either flowers or memorial fund contributions will be made, depending upon wishes of the family.

Announcement was made that a district workshop is planned for Sept. 14, beginning at 9 a.m., at Reeves Memorial Church in Orlando.

Those attending should bring a sandwich lunch. Beverage will be provided. Plans made at the workshop will include those of the four-year program being designed by all church circles.

Menu was reported for the Men's Club Dinner to be held Sept. 21 at the Bear Lake Church. Mrs. Jean Mueller, dinner chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Marie Salmi, Mrs. Edyth Griffith, Mrs. Margaret Brown and Mrs. Ruth Bowles. At this time the church will be host to clubs from Casselberry, Lockhart and Apopka.

Mrs. Morgan was appointed to be in charge of the church nursery on the day dedication services take place and volunteers were asked to help when the church observes its Six Nights for Christ which is scheduled as soon as the church is formally in use. Those attending last week's meeting, other than those mentioned, were Mrs. Eileen Bonjainin, Mrs. Nora Norris, Mrs. Ann Irwin, Mrs. Joyce Whipple, Mrs. Catherine Baird, Mrs. Luther Miles and Mrs. William Irwin.

Leukemia Drive Meeting Set

By Donna Estes

Adult leaders of the Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children annual teenagers march will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Syrian-Lebanon Building, Highway 17-92, Orlando.

The drive will take place Sept. 16 to benefit ALSAC's St. Jude Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., where children afflicted with leukemia and related diseases are treated.

Mrs. Sylvester Elgin, district leader for Seminole County, reports that area and platoon leaders, as well as teenage volunteers, are still needed.

Anyone in Seminole County wishing to work in the campaign is invited to call Mrs. Elgin at 838-3044.

Dance Class Is Success

By Mildred Haney

The first session of the Square Dance Class at the Deltona Community Center was an unqualified success. Thirty-six residents participated in the dancing with Harold Jenkins calling and Sally Gerrity assisting.

Most of the dancers had never participated in this activity before but soon were tripping along like veterans. Several of those present were overhead to say that they hadn't had so much fun in years.

The Seminole County Goldwater for President Committee has acquired the old Altamonte Springs post-office building on SR 436 as south county headquarters and is now recruiting volunteer workers to stay in the office from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m. daily.

Duties will consist of answering the telephone and handling sales of car bumper straps and campaign literature. Anyone wishing to volunteer some free time is asked to call George Bobrow of Druid Hills or Mrs. E. L. Cromartie, Casselberry.

White Sox Salvage One Of Four Contests With Baltimore

Yanks Trip Red Sox; Phillies Down Pirates

By Curt Black
UPI Sports Writer

All Lopez keeps insisting his White Sox can do it, and if they do it'll be with the same formula they used five years ago — pitching, speed and defense but hardly any power.

Chicago slugged, punched and sliced 18 hits in Sunday's doubleheader with Baltimore. Eleven were singles and the other two doubles but they still wound up with a split and saved themselves from a humiliating four-game sweep by the Birds to stay within reach of the top, 1 1/2 games back.

The series opened Friday with the Sox leading the Orioles by a half game. Brooks Robinson drove in the winning runs both Friday and Saturday and had three hits and two RBI's in the first game Sunday, which Baltimore won 7-3.

His first inning run producing single in the nightcap had Lopez groping for aspirin but Gary Peters took charge after that and went all the way for his 14th victory.

His teammates managed three runs off loser Steve Barber in the seventh for a 3-1 triumph.

In the opener, 19-year-old Wally Bunker, 18-8, allowed only six hits, coasting in after Baltimore scored twice in the fourth and four times in the fifth.

In other American League games, New York nipped Boston 4-3, Cleveland downed Los Angeles 6-4 and 3-2, Detroit defeated Minnesota 5-2 after dropping the first half of a twinbill 6-5, and Kansas City beat Washington 3-1 and then lost 8-5.

In the National League, Philadelphia registered a 9-3 triumph over Pittsburgh, Los Angeles tripped Cincinnati 1-0, San Francisco edged St. Louis 2-1, New York took two close ones from Chicago 2-1 and 5-4, and Milwaukee dropped a 7-1 decision to Houston.

Ron Hinson, Joe Farless And David Noell Are SHS Captains

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

Ronnie Hinson, David Noell and Joe Farless, three outstanding Seminole High School gridmen last season, have been selected by the SHS coaching staff for their leadership abilities and past varsity football experience to be the captains of the 1964 edition of the Tribe.

All will be seniors this season.

Hinson, a quarterback, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hart Hinson of Sanford. While attending Sanford Junior High School Hinson played three years of football as a quarterback. Ronnie is five-foot, nine and weighs 165 pounds. After one year with the Jayvees he was moved up to the varsity and has been one of the most valuable players for the past two seasons. Hinson is looking forward to this year's tougher schedule and to his senior year at SHS.

Joe Farless, guard and middle linebacker, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pickelstam of Sanford. Farless played two years of junior high football and one year of JayVee football at SHS. He weighs 185 and is five-foot, nine inches tall. Joe is ready for the grid season to get underway.

This will be David Noell's fourth season on the SHS Varsity. He is one of very few athletes ever to accomplish being a four year letterman. Noell also has lettered in track and currently holds the SHS track record for the discus. Noell is expected to be one of the toughest tackles in the Metro Conference this season.

At a meeting of the Boosters, officials and members heard a request that the SHS cheerleaders will need about $300 this year to carry out their program and that something like $500 will be needed to get the SHS baseball field at the school in proper condition the Metro Conference diamond race next Spring.

Also held was a discussion about the need for new press facilities at Sanford's Memorial Stadium and Booster Club President Roger Harris was instructed to confer with City Manager Pete Knowles about what might be done.

A lighting system, costing about $1,500, is needed to illuminate the SHS track, known as Buddy Lawson Memorial Field, for night track and field events next Spring. The track has been completed and has now been fenced. About $350 is needed for track equipment and another $300 was requested for basketball equipment.

Harris reported that the Club was well ahead of last year in membership and that the organization, he opined, will meet its quota of 1,000 members.

After the athletes concluded drills, Coach Jim Pigott emphasized the importance of "student first, athletes second". Pigott instructed the candidates to work out over the weekend.

Today a heavy practice session for the varsity squad was slated and equipment was issued.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stenstrom

At Seminole, Oviedo and Lyman high schools this afternoon the gridmen of these three teams donned the pads of practice uniforms for the season drills.

As the second week of workouts got underway the question of how these clubs will do this season still remains a big mystery.

It's really too early to tell. At Longwood, Dick Copeland and his aides have a big building job with a lot of inexperienced youngsters. The Greyhounds will be entering the strong Orange Belt Conference for the first time and face a schedule about as tough as Seminole has been facing in recent years.

We could be wrong—and we hope we are. But every now and then a club has to start almost from the beginning.

We think this is the case at Lyman, since Copeland has only five returning lettermen from last season's squad.

If the "Hounds" win three or more games this year Copeland and his aides will deserve a bouquet of roses and the finest of testimonial dinners.

If the Oviedo Lions can do as well this season as they did last year Head Coach Arthur Scott and assistant Dick Prater ought to be invited to the same dinner.

However, the chances are that Oviedo will fare much better this season than they did last year—and last season's record of four wins was a feather in Lion's mane because it was only the school's second year of football.

We're convinced that Scott and Prater will have the most improved ball club in the county because they only lost one man from last year's entire squad.

And, a glance at the schedule indicates to us that—unless we've misjudged the Lions' competition—Oviedo "strong" schools as they did last season.

We believe it's safe to say that Oviedo should have a winning season.

At Seminole, Jim Pigott, Dick Williams and Jim McCoy have their work cut out for them.

Last year the Tribe grabbed 10 of the 11 contests it played. It could have easily lost a couple of those they won but it should have won the one it lost.

SHS has 21 returning lettermen this season plus a potentially fine crop of youngsters from the highly successful JayVee eleven last season plus four or five Sophs up from the top notch Sanford Junior High Braves.

But we don't care how thin or thick you slice it, Seminole High is going to miss the late Buddy Lawson and his ability to "explode" at any moment with a TD.

We haven't come right out and talked with Pigott on this one point but we believe Jim knows it and we're convinced that most of the changes in his offensive plans from last season to this are geared to adjusting to this promise.

Frankly, we don't believe SHS will go undefeated, we don't believe they'll win as many hits as they did last season, we don't believe they'll be as "explosive" this year as they were last year, but we do believe they'll have a winning season.

To us that represents meat on the table, if they do better, well—that'll be the gravy.

Hurricane's Clark To Place Big Emphasis On Defense

By Jim Macchus
Herald Sports Writer

Despite heavy rains, Coach Jim Clark of the South Seminole Hurricanes began working his squad on defense in preparation for the season's opener against Sanford Sept. 24. With the same 30 youngsters who comprise his varsity squad, he drilled each man on defensive assignments. Prior to the workout, Clark gave the Hurricanes a 45-minute skull session.

Throughout the day, Clark emphasized the fact that "defense is the key to football." It appears that Clark will concentrate on defense this year. At the moment, he is just beginning to mold his team into a semblance of efficiency. Most of the key positions will be filled by ninth graders, with only a few newcomers taking over starting roles.

Either returns Jim Lucas or newcomer Mike Hargis will run the team from the quarterback slot. Lucas played behind Danny Kiser last fall, and will probably get the nod as starter because of his experience. Hargis is coming up to the big team from the Jayvee squad.

Likely backfield starters are big Richard Rubright at fullback and Dennis Garrett at the left halfback slot. Both gained a lot of playing time last year. Rubright will play middle guard on defense and Garrett will hold down a linebacking post. A number of candidates are competing for the other halfback positions.

The "Cane line" will be anchored by Bruce "Red" Stuart. Stuart was one of South Seminole's outstanding performers throughout the 1963 campaign and will most likely be even better in '64, due to the year's experience. "Big Red" will be at one of the tackle posts for the Hurricanes.

Overall, the South Seminole football situation is one huge question mark—for the time being, anyway. It does appear, though, that this year's representatives from the "Southern Wind" will be a strong defensive club which will concentrate on keeping their goal line barren of opponents' spikes. Clark, it seems, agrees with most other "skin coaches" on at least one matter—"if the other guys can't score, you can't lose."

Packers Top Bears; Detroit Defeats Eagles

United Press International

A pair of veteran second string quarterbacks might have won their starting berths back on the strength of fine performances during the weekend.

Milt Plum, passed for two touchdowns, one a 50-yarder to Gail Cogdill, as the Detroit Lions edged the Philadelphia Eagles, 17-13, Sunday.

Jim Ninowski, who played second fiddle to Plum when Milt was with Cleveland and now is ranked behind Frank Ryan, tossed five touchdown passes as the Browns romped over the Pittsburgh Steelers, 42-7, Saturday night at Akron, Ohio.

Paul Hornung made his 1964 debut, after sitting out the 1963 season, and rushed himself back into the hearts of Packers' fans, by scoring all of Green Bay's points as Vince Lombardi's crew walloped the NFL champion Chicago Bears, 21-7.

Mike Mercer's field goal with 14 seconds remaining climaxed a 20-point fourth quarter and gave the Oakland Raiders a 34-31 victory over the Buffalo Bills in Sunday's only American Football League tuneup. In other NFL exhibitions Saturday, the Washington Redskins edged the New York Giants, 27-24; the Los Angeles Rams beat the Dallas Cowboys, 25-16; and the Minnesota Vikings remained unbeaten by downing the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 24-21.

Evolution Revolution

The world-famous army 'Jeep' vehicle started it all. Then came the evolutionary changes. Sensible changes. Like more ground clearance. Stronger suspension. Weather proof tops. Fun changes. Like pink and white striped upholstery. Fringed sunroof tops. Lively colors. A sports roadster. A station wagon — rugged, durable, designed for work and play.

Then came the 'Jeep' Wagoneer. A revolution! The Wagoneer is an evolutionary, it's hard to recognize your old 'Jeep' friend. It's a station wagon. And a looker! You'll be stunned. Slide into that luxurious interior. Beautiful. Comfortable. Visibility unlimited!

Turn the ignition key. You've got an overhauled cant engine purring for you. The only one in any American production car. Try that steering. Power. The brakes. Power again. The transmission. It's automatic. Feel that ride. Pure luxury.

And the 'Jeep' heart and spirit are still there. Put one simple lever and you're in 'Jeep'—'Jeep' 'Drivespower.' Then there's hardly a hill that can keep you down... hardly a mud hole that can bog you down. In fact, there's scarcely any driving situation that can get you down. You're free to go anywhere with the traction to put you through.

Job Demand Heavy At Business School

The Seminole County Business School receives so many demands from employers in Seminole County for trained, knowledgeable office workers

Business Briefs

Eugene Meadors, of Meadors Marine, local Mercury outboard dealership at 2401 S. French Ave., has been named one of the 125 U. S. and Canadian dealers who will attend the annual Mercury National Dealer Congress at Bigwin Inn, Lake of Bays, Ontario this week.

The dealer congress is composed of leading marine dealers with an exceptional record in the marketing, merchandising, and servicing of Mercury outboard motors. The motors, as well as MerCruiser stern drives, and Quicksilver accessories, are manufactured by the Kiekhaefer Corporation of Fond du Lac, Wis., celebrating its 25th year of specialization in marine propulsion.

Meadors will participate in sales seminars with industry leaders, and see the preview showing of the 1965 MerCruisers and MerCruisers.

Miss Marilyn McDaniel, David King Wed In Impressive Church Ceremony

Miss Marilyn McDaniel, lovely daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Fincher McDaniel of this city, and David King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Orin King of Cookeville, Tennessee, were united in holy matrimony on Saturday, August 22, 1964 at 8 p. m. at the First Methodist Church of Sanford.

Rev. James Edward McKinley of St. Augustine, officiated at the most impressive double ring ceremony. Potted palms enriched the natural beauty of natural wood of the altar, accented on either side by splendid arrangements of white glads in pedestal baskets. Six standing spiral seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers were at the altar with white candles glowing in the candleholders along the e-choir rail. Beds of greenery formed the base for the window candles. An elevated platform covered in rich red velvet led to the altar, with the exquisite hand made kneeling pillow at the foot. The reserved pews were marked with pew corsages.

Mrs. Ben Wiggins, organist, played the traditional nuptial hymns with Mrs. Randolph A. Richardson of Atlanta, aunt of the bride, singing "I Love Thee," "Perfect Love" and the solo selection from "I Shall Lift Up Mine Eyes."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was breathing in a formal gown of white satin overlaid with imported Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured an oval neckline re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent with short scalloped sleeves. The magnificent detachable square lace train was banded in white satin and was attached to the gown with a large satin rose, cascading gracefully over the bell-skirt. The veil of imported silk illusion fell from a sparkling tiara of lace, re-embroidered with iridescence and tiny seed pearls. The lovely bride carried a cascade of white flowers.

Mrs. Eddie Clark Waldheim of Maitland, attended the bride as matron of honor and was crowned in crystal aqua chiffon, featuring an empire waist with an oval neckline. A short modified train of gathered chiffon was attached at the empire waist back, and her headpiece was an aqua tailored bow from which the short aqua veil fell. She carried a cascade of carnations tinted a deeper shade of aqua than her gown.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Ellen Waddle of West Point, Georgia, who was crowned identically to the matron of honor, and carrying an identical bouquet.

Miss Rosemary Richardson and Miss Sybil Anne Richardson, cousins of the bride from Atlanta, Mrs. William Bryan Park, Orlando; Mrs. John Thomas Bowden (Frances Strickland) and Mrs. Ronald Dean Lindsey (Kay Ivey), Sanford, attended the bride as bridesmaids. Their gowns, headpieces and flowers were identical to the maid and matron of honor.

Lester King served his brother as best man and ushers were Dr. Eddie Clark Waldheim of Maitland; William Bryan Park, Orlando; Leonard Crawford, Cookeville, Tenn.; Bill Carrington, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Richard McCord, Atlanta, Ga.; Robert Stodols, Cookeville, Tenn.; Sam Odum, Lebanon, Tenn.; and Winston Tierney, Sanford.

Little Miss Laura Tolar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tolar of Maitland, and granddaughter of Mrs. J. N. Tolar and the late Dr. Tolar of Sanford, was flower girl.

Her sheer silk organza frock was accented with petal collar and sleeves and her headpiece was a halo of white carnations. She distributed white rose petals from a basket adorned with aqua carnations.

Master Ben Dyal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Dyal of Sanford, was ring bearer and dressed in white, he carried the rings on a heart-shaped handmade white satin pillow.

Mrs. McDaniel chose for her daughter's wedding a striking misty orchard green chiffon creation covered with ribbon and lace embellished with clusters of dainty green beads. Her hat was of the same material with identical heading, and her shoes and bag were matching. Her corsage was a cluster of small white orchids.

The mother of the groom was attired in a smart dusty pink frock, featuring an oval neckline. She wore a pink hat with white shoes and bag, and her corsage was a pink orchid.

Immediately following the wedding, an elaborate reception was held in the Civic Center. The entire reception area was a profusion of palms with white wrought iron screens placed at vantage points. The receiving line formed in front of a background of palms.

Each table was picturesque, overlaid in elegant white embroidered organza cloths with pale pink liners. The coverings featured frilly skirts, and a color scheme of pink and white was carried out in entirety. The cake table held two handsome antique silver epergnes with cascade arrangements of pink roses and the branched candelabra contained tall pink tapers. Long low arrangements of white glads and roses centered the two punch tables with the sparkling pink punch flowing from a punch fountain.

Centering one table was the bride's book accented on one side by the bride's candle and on the other side by an arrangement of roses. The bride's book was kept by the Misses Rose Kratzert, Mrs. Crapps, Pat Wight and Mrs. Curtis Fisher (Judy Herron).

Assisting at the reception were the Misses W. A. Kratzert, Robert A. Williams, Harry Woodruff, Sterling H. Richardson, E. Ogden Richardson, John D. Ivey, M. R. Strickland, Albert Jarrell, J. M. Leonard, Harold Appley, Bess Herman, Ray Herron, W. B. Kirby and H. Wade Rucker. Also assisting were the Misses Ted Williams, Robert W. Williams, James H. Crapps, M. W. Tyre, Marvin Dyal, W.

M. Phillips, Henry Wight, Russell G. Pearson, Hugh Wheeler, Roy Mann and Leroy Anderson.

Floating hostesses were Mrs. Frank Voltoline and the

MRS. DAVID BILBREY KING

Misses Anna Lea Herman, Margaret Jarrell, Joy Duggar, Bette Wiggins, Sherri Lee, Helen Mann, Linda Williams, Sylvia Williams and Miss Carol Greene.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a blue silk linen two piece ensemble with hat of the same material. Her shoes and bag were dark blue lizard and she wore a corsage of miniature white orchids.

Following a wedding trip to the east coast, Mr. and Mrs. King will reside in Nashville, Tenn., where he will complete his senior year at the Vanderbilt Law School.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Dr. and Mrs. Sterling H. Richardson; Sybil Anne, Gene and Sterling Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Ogden Richardson, Rosemary and Ogden Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Randolph A. Richardson, Rachel and Sally; Mrs. Sanford McDaniel; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDaniel, and Mr. and Mrs. William Pafford, all from Atlanta, Ga. Also Mr. and Mrs. Ed Buhman, Tallahassee; Rev. and Mrs. J. E. McKinley and Barbara, St. Augustine; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clinton and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walker, Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. Al Lyon, Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. P. K. ## The Paul Mikler Family Visits Historical Site

By Evelyn Lundy The Paul Mikler family has just returned from a vacation trip to Washington D. C., and other places of interest.

They stopped enroute and visited Mrs. Mikler's sister, Mrs. J. W. Strong in Griffin, Ga., where they visited for a week.

In Washington, they saw many interesting and historic places. They were most fortunate to visit the Capitol while the Senate was in session. The lines were so terrific at the White House that they had to wait until the next day. Virginia said the guard told her that between seven and eight thousand tourists come to the White House every day.

While touring Mt. Vernon, the guide told them that more than 250,000 visitors there than had last summer. He thought this was due to the fact that so many people from the south are stopping in Washington going to and from the World's Fair.

They also visited historic Roanoke, Va. and then went over to Charlottesville, Va. to see the magnificent "Monticello", home of Thomas Jefferson.

In Baltimore, they visited with relatives. They were fascinated by the historic quaintness of Williamsburg.

On the way home, the Miklers visited Ft. Bragg and went sight-seeing. They stopped at Camp Jackson to visit with Robert Olliff from Oviedo. Upon inquiring for him, they found that he was on leave visiting in Oviedo. Making this delightful trip with their parents were Billy, Martha, Mary Jane and Christine.

Surprise Bridal Shower Honors Miss Tracy Hegg

Miss Tracy Hegg, bride-elect of Wayne Albert, was complimented with a surprise miscellaneous bridal shower last Friday evening at the lovely Cedar Avenue home of Mrs. John McClosky.

The buffet table, covered in white damask, was centered with a floral arrangement of lilies of the Valley and a single orchid in an antique footed urn.

Miss Glenda Albert, sister of the prospective groom, poured the sparkling punch from a large cut glass bowl. The unusual white frosted cake was decorated with a miniature bride and groom, silver wedding bells and other silver ornaments. Complementing the punch and cakes were assorted dainty ribbon sandwiches, relishes, chips, dips, minis, brownies, marble cake and date-nut loaf.

Party games and contests were held and the guests enjoyed admiring the lovely gifts as they were opened by the honoree, including a surprise gift from her mother, Mrs. Celia Hegg from Mankato, Minn.

Invited guests were Mrs. Tom Albert, mother of the future groom; Mrs. Gordon Albert, sister-in-law, who is spending the summer here with her husband from Stuttgart, Germany; and the Misses Joe Andrews and young son, Jody, Clarence Barlow, J. E. Best, Peter Bukur, Sr., Bill Carter, John Carner, Harold Davis, W. M. Colbert, Jr., Roy Carlson, Boyd Gaines, Jimmy Henderson, Russell Kitner, J. T. Knight, Ralph Penold, and Fred Yeakle.

Tuberous begonias planted in red clay pots are increasingly popular as bright red indoor decorative touches for shady windows. The plants thrive in shade, and bloom continuously.

Fifteen miles from Washington, D. C., is Rockwood—a national Girl Scout program center which serves as a hotel, sight-seeing base, and wonderful place for Girl Scout troop camping.

Cedar Lining Proves Effective To Rout Moths

NEW YORK (UPI) — Before packing clothes for the youngster's return to college, inspect all garments for moth invasion.

One sure way to protect woolen garments is to convert a closet into a moth-repellent storage area. This is done easily by lining the closet with cedar lumber especially cut and packaged for handyman use.

Industry spokesmen report that the average closet can be cedar-lined in a weekend project at a cost of about $50. The only tools required are a saw and hammer. A woman capable of handling these basic tools can do the job herself.

The closet lining is applied directly over any wall surface. It comes in pre-cut, easy-to-handle pieces which are tongue-and-grooved along the edges and at each end to simplify fitting. The chief appeal of a cedar closet lies in its ability to repel moths. The fragrance of the cedar wood, while pleasant to humans, is deadly to moth larvae.

CORNY NEW YORK (UPI) — Here's the recipe for a handy asparagus and corn bread dish.

Crumble enough leftover corn bread to make 1 1/2 cups. Toss lightly with 1/4 cup shredded process American cheese, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, and 3 tablespoons melted butter. Prepare 1 1/2 lbs. fresh asparagus, then partially cook it. Place half of asparagus in shallow 1 1/2 quart casserole. Sprinkle with half of crumb mixture; top with remaining asparagus and crumb mixture. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Serves six.

Party games and contests were held and the guests enjoyed admiring the lovely gifts as they were opened by the honoree, including a surprise gift from her mother, Mrs. Celia Hegg from Mankato, Minn.

Surprise Shower Compliments Mrs. Miller

By Jane Casselberry A surprise baby shower was given Tuesday night for Mrs. Chester Miller of 556 Queens Mirror Circle, Casselberry. The Executive Board of the Young Woman's Club of Seminole County hosted the shower at the home of Mrs. Knowlton Harrell on South Triplet Drive, Casselberry.

Party games and contests were enjoyed and the honoree received many lovely gifts. An unusual stork served as the table centerpiece and refreshments of chocolate cake, tea and coffee were enjoyed. Guests attending were the Misses Victor Brandes, J. W. Huggins, Robert Marsh, David McCoy, D. E. Mount and Charles Williams.

Intelligent Back-Seat Tips Aid Driver

CHICAGO (UPI) — This news will come as a shock to husbands — but intelligent back-seat driving can be a big help, reports the Chicago Motor Club.

The club said there are certain rules the back-seat driver must follow in order to do the job intelligently. —Never startle the driver. Don't shout "look" to call his attention to some scenic attraction.

—Don't irritate the driver by continuously pointing out hazards, traffic signs and driving conditions that are obvious to him. Sound off only if you're certain some point has escaped the driver's attention.

—Learn to read maps and take the full responsibility for navigating on long trips. —Stay awake and keep the driver awake.

—Talk with the driver but don't argue, shout or get him angry. —Be helpful. Light his cigarette, tune the radio and unwrap the candy bars.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine and I were looking over some magazines in a drug store. I am 14 and so is he. When we found two we wanted, we put our money down. The owner looked at the magazines and then he gave us a big lecture on how suitable the magazines were for decent people. He said they were nothing but trash and he wouldn't want any son of his reading them. He made us feel so cheap we didn't buy them. We want to ask you, Abby, if those magazines were nothing but "trash" and "unsuitable for decent people," what were they doing in his store in the first place?

GOOD QUESTION DEAR GOOD: The question is better than "good." It's excellent. Why don't you go back and ask him.

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised at your answer disagreeing with the young couple "WILLING TO WAIT," who preferred buying their furniture as they could afford it, instead of using a lot of cast-off junk from their relatives' attics. They should have been commended for their attitude in this day when young couples buy everything on credit.

When my husband and I were married, we moved into an empty apartment with two suitcases. We slept on the floor until we could afford a bed. When so-called well-meaning relatives offered us old pieces of old furniture, we politely refused. We enjoy our love nest all the more because we built it stick by stick together. Yours truly.

GLAD WE WAITED DEAR GLAD: I don't know how long you and your husband slept on the floor, but if you were offered a bed and turned it down, it's nothing to brag about. I agree, young marrieds shouldn't go into debt in order to have everything immediately. But to refuse furniture because it is "old" is snobbish and impractical. Some "odd pieces" and cast-off "junk" have been transformed into handsome and useful furniture with a bit of sandpaper, paint and ingenuity.

DEAR ABBY: I laughed to myself when I read about the bride who said she would rather buy one "good" piece of furniture, as they could afford it, than to set up housekeeping with a lot of "junk" from her relatives' attics. When my husband and I were married five years ago, we furnished our home with discarded items from our relatives' attics. But I'm glad we did. Now we have three healthy, lively youngsters, all under four years of age. We don't have to worry about any of them getting jelly on our $60 living room sofa because we don't have one. Sign me—

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

One of the first conventions a bridge player learns is Blackwood. This invaluable convention allows a player to find out how many aces and kings his partner holds. The procedure is to bid four no-trump whereupon partner shows aces as follows:

Bridge bidding chart showing North and South hands, aces shown, and opening lead.

the bidding is given. The rest is not necessary. After South bids four no-trump he will bid five spades if his partner shows no aces, six spades if he shows one and seven spades or even seven no-trump if he shows two. Blackwood has one conspicuous weakness. There are occasions when you faint to use four no-trump as a strong bid in no-trump and not a demand to show aces.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Mothers, like fathers, get tired of being parents all the time, says a psychiatrist. And he says women must rid themselves of the guilt complex that if they don't like diapers and don't always find the conversation of a three-year-old mentally stimulating something must be wrong with them.

the cookie jar filled, having the neighbor's children in and out all day long and rarely finding a quiet moment to call their own. Even when mothers confess to each other that they are ready for school to begin — weeks before it is time — they sound a little ashamed of themselves.

For they have psychiatrists word for it that they have a perfect right to get tired now and then of being a parent and to feel a need of adult companionship, adult conversation, and adult interests. So now when you confess to another mother or to your husband that the summer months with all the children at home have left you a bit weary and you're looking forward to the first day of school and you won't have to preface the remark with, "I'm ashamed to say so but..." that doesn't mean you're a poor mother — but just a human being in need of being something more than a mother.

Horoscope Forecast

TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1964
GENERAL TENDENCIES:

A whole new plan of action enters your mind and it should certainly be carried out in accordance with the suggestions below for your own sign, since you can make far more progress than has been possible for some time past. Show you are the one able to please others by exercising your brain power wisely.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Although you can see your way clear in some project ahead, it is best you are specific in detail with those concerned. Make use of magnetism personally you possess. Be more aggressive.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Any plans you make must be made quietly, whether alone or in company of some real authority on particular interests. Make surroundings more ideal. Strive for comfort as well as beauty.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Friends can be trusted to do what you desire, but you must give more detail. Get out more socially and make new contacts, too. Backing you desire can be forthcoming.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can get right into the projects you have planned as soon as you get support from higher-ups. Be sure you attend to civic duties. This is a steppingstone in the right direction.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Gleaning information that will lead you into more profitable outlets should be your first concern now. Be grateful to one who gives fine ideas. Show intellect, acumen.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) By getting rid of bills you now have, you open new horizons in new directions. Talk over ideas with close ties or a good friend. Be progressive, show you have real ability.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Complete accord with partners is possible now, whether in personal or business life. Get down to matters of policy first. Clear up misunderstandings quickly, sanely.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Bettering modus operandi is possible now if you start early and work with energy, intellect. Get rid of whatever is obsolete, a millstone around the neck. Be sensible.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Much luck can be yours today, provided you are not so serious and smile more with others. A friendly, charming attitude brings fine results. Don't be so imperious.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Listen to what close ties suggest for your advancement, since they have very fine ideas. Get your feet on the ground. Then you will have an abundance in the future.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) Using a positive approach is best manner in which to garner the information you need now. Loyal associates can be very favorably inclined toward you. Be alert.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Good day to look into new outlets that bring in greater profit for some time to come. Be sure you get in touch with individual who gives best advice. Listen carefully.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those fascinating persons who come up with fine suggestions for modernizing accepted methods or with projects that can be made more profitable, idealistic. Combining what is best in the past and most practical in the present brings fine success. Give schooling that specializes in both. Experimentation is the keynote here.

"The stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Sanford Canal Could Serve Cape Well

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor
The day may not be too far away when many of the space vehicles fired from Cape Kennedy may be transported to the launching pad by specially built barges which will ply the St. Johns River through Lake Monroe and thence to Titusville via the Sanford-Titusville Canal. The idea of shipping space vehicles by connecting waterways is nothing new. The fact is they are now being transported via water and specially constructed barges. But the idea of utilizing the St. Johns and the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal is a probability. For example, the present route from Huntsville, Ala., to Cape Kennedy is 2,261 miles of water via the Tennessee River, the Mississippi, the Gulf of Mexico, the Atlantic and the Intracoastal Waterway from Fort Pierce to the Cape. With the completion of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, using the sea route from Mobile to the Cape the distance would be some 1,417 miles—or 844 miles shorter than the present route. When the Cross Florida Barge Canal is completed, and using connecting waterways such as the St. Johns and the Sanford-Titusville canal, mileage to the Cape would be reduced to a mere 963 miles. Further, movement of space vehicles from New Orleans to the Cape, now a total of 1,016 miles, would be reduced by Florida's connecting waterways to only 650 miles. The completion of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal would put Sanford on the main street of America's entire inland waterway system. For example, from Sanford this city would be connected by direct waterway route to Savannah, Charleston, Wilmington, Norfolk, Baltimore, Trenton, New York and Boston as well as Port St. Joe, Panama City, Pensacola, Mobile, New Orleans, Beaumont and Houston. Also, Sanford—and this is what makes the canal, the port terminal and even the proposed marina so important—would be directly connected with such inland cities as Columbus, Ga., Birmingham, Huntsville, Vicksburg, Natchez, Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, Little Rock, Memphis, Nashville, Knoxville, Louisville, Evansville, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Sioux City and even Minneapolis and St. Paul. To boil it down, Sanford would be on the main inland waterways consisting of 29,000 miles and connecting 29 states. Does Sanford need the St. Johns-Indian River Canal? Does it need a port facility? Does it need a marina? If it wants to become the major center of inland transportation for Central Florida's 18 counties, it does. If it wants to attract industry to Sanford and Central Florida, it does. If it wants to serve the nation in time of national emergency, it does.

Lake Mary Teachers Assigned

Floyd C. Richards, principal of the Lake Mary Elementary School announced today that teachers have been assigned to their grades and rooms for the 1964-65 school year. Pupils have been notified of the room to which they are to report, but have not known the names of their teachers, Richards said. Grades, rooms and teachers are as follows:
First grade — Room 401, Mrs. Jo Bobblitt; 402, Mrs. Geneva Cochran; 403, Mrs. Margaret Reynolds; 404, Mrs. Joyce Roberts.
Second grade — Room 101, Mrs. Irma Craig; 102, Mrs. Faye Stason; 103, Mrs. Mary Taylor; 114, Mrs. Alice Hook.
Third grade — Room 405, Mrs. Mary Hornaby; 305, Mrs. Martha Smith; 304, Mrs. Margaret Mangre; 303, Miss Frances Cobb.
Fourth grade — Room 302, Mrs. Carrie Frye; 301, Mrs. Barbara Hartwig; 505, Miss Mary Maxwell; 504, Mrs. Marion Ryman.
Fifth grade — Room 501, David Sawyer; 602, Mrs. Mildred Lind; 603, Mrs. Helen Bagley; 115, Mrs. Edna Humphrey (5th and 6th).
Sixth grade — Room 501, Mrs. Mary Sewell; 502, Mrs. Helen Richey; 503, Stanley Pierce.
The Lake Mary School district includes Loch Arbor, Little Venice, Greenbrier, Park Ridge, Sunland, Country Club Heights and the Lake Mary area. Any children living in these areas who have not previously registered with the school are asked to check with the school office Tuesday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. in order that room assignments can be made as soon as possible, Richards requested. There will be a full day of school starting August 31, with the lunchroom in operation and buses following last year's schedule, Richards said.

Adult Courses To Be Offered At Lyman

Adult classes in bookkeeping, business English, typewriting and U. S. History, and shorthand if demand is sufficient, will be offered at Lyman High School beginning Sept. 8 when an organizational meeting for those interested in enrolling is scheduled for 7 p.m. Classes will be held from 6:30 until 9:30 p.m. each Monday and Tuesday. Instructors will be Roger Harris and Mrs. Evelyn Hoberg. Registration fee will be $2 and books will be sold to students at cost. Information on these and other courses available may be had by contacting E. S. Douglass, director of vocational and adult education, School Administration Building, Sanford, or calling 322-4165.

Seminole Group At Citrus Meet

Several persons from Seminole County attended the annual Citrus Institute at Camp McQuarris and which has ended a three-day program. Citrus leaders from throughout the state heard many talks of interest. Attending from Seminole were: Mrs. Henry Simpson, Col. Paul Bissell, Curtis Green, Fred Blittine, Jack Schirard, Carl Liod, Archie Coleman, Venancio Adrialico and family, Bob Simms, Ernest Lundberg, Myrtle Wilson, E. H. Zimmerman, S. O. Chase and Robert Enoch.

No Tax Increase For Fourth Straight Year

1964-65 City Budget Completed

Commission Holds Line On Finances

Sanford City Commissioners, holding the line against tax increases Monday requested City Attorney William Hutchison to prepare the ordinance for adoption of the 1964-65 budget, which is set at $1,291,863. This is the fourth successive year that we have managed to work out a satisfactory budget without raising taxes or falling into deficit financing," City Manager W. E. Knowles said.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham commended the city manager for his preparation of the budget saying that "this is the best budget I have seen in the 12 years I have been on the Commission."

Noting that "we just don't have the money," the commission left the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce appropriation at the budgeted $10,000, and made no appropriation for the Sanford Chamber.

"We'll try to help them out of contingency, if we can," commissioners said.

Included in the budget is a two percent across the board raise for all city employees, increase of $3,400 for the police department and $4,000 for the fire department. Most of the extra money in the police budget will go to pay the salaries of two more men; and the fire department increase will pay for air-conditioning installation.

The City Library will also be air-conditioned, with an increase of $1,000 in that budget item.

Savings of nearly $20,000 were effected by the city manager by combining the Parks Division and the Cemetery Division under one supervisor, and eliminating overlaps in personnel.

Total budget expenditures for 1963-64 were $1,296,700. This year's anticipated budget is set at $1,291,863.

RFK Announces

NEW YORK (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, announced today he will seek the New York democratic senatorial nomination.

Kennedy said he had talked to Democratic and liberal party leaders in the state during the past few weeks about becoming a candidate and added: "I deeply appreciate their encouragement and their support, particularly that of Mayor Robert F. Wagner."

Cleo Slaps Cuba's Southeastern Coast

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UPI) — Killer hurricane Cleo clawed the southeastern Cuban coast today with 110 mile an hour winds and sent farmers fleeing into the Oriente Mountains.

The storm, which claimed 14 lives in sweeping across Guadeloupe Saturday, chalked up another victim in Cuba early today. Havana authorities reported one man drowned and three rescued when their boat overturned at El Santo, Oriente.

As Cleo veered slightly away from Jamaica during the night and headed toward the Cape Cruz Peninsula, Cuban authorities rushed military vehicles to Oriente and Camaguey Provinces to evacuate peasant families from low lying areas.

NEW SANFORD INDUSTRY will be in operation at this site and will be known as the American Hickory Co., dealing in resin and hickory products. The property was owned by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company and was made available to James H. McLemore of Orlando, owner of the company. Checking plans above are, from left, Scott Burns, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Industrial Committee chairman; McLemore, LeRoy C. Robb whose construction firm will ready the premises; and W. T. Hensley, commercial agent for the ACL Railroad.

New Plant To Begin Operations Monday

By Harry I. Johnson
Managing Editor
The Sanford area's newest business — the American Hickory Company — will be in operation next Monday with a staff of 11 workers.

The firm has purchased an Atlantic Coast Line building off Grapeville Avenue and west of Sanford. The deal was completed Monday and, according to the firm owner, James H. McLemore of Orlando, the production schedule will begin Monday.

The company will deal with resin and hickory products, taking advantage of the increasingly popular hickory products used at most home barbecues sites.

The business is located on a tract of land 150 feet by 200 feet in size and a quonset type structure measuring 40 feet by 60 feet will house the equipment. It is located on an ACL Railroad siding.

McLemore says he has orders now for prompt delivery and the preparations will be expedited on the building.

LeRoy C. Robb of the construction company bearing his name has been retained by McLemore to prepare the building for the work.

Seminole County Chamber of Commerce officials, headed by Scott Burns, industrial committee chairman, called the new firm as a "breakthrough" in getting other industry located in that section.

Burns and other Chamber officials inspected the property yesterday afternoon and noted the minimum amount of rehabilitation which will have to be done in order for the firm to begin operating.

McLemore said he will have 11 employees on the site by next Monday with most of the applicants being screened by the Florida State Employment Service with the final selection of employees being made by him.

Fishing Rodeo All Set: Hook, Line, Sinker

The Sanford-Seminole Jaycees are all set for their fourteenth annual Fishing Rodeo Wednesday at Lake Carolina in Ft. Mellon Park, 2 to 4 p. m., Jaycee President Clyde Long, said today.

Chairman Jim Rowe and his crew have rigged poles with hooks, lines and sinkers. The bait will be furnished by the Seminole County Sportsman's Association.

Rowe said that the children will be divided into the following age groups, one to three years, four to six years and seven to nine years. Contestants will not be allowed to use rods and reels. All poles will be provided by the Jaycees.

The Jaycee Wives will have some of their members in attendance to help register the children. Refreshments will be served following the event to the tired young Isaac Walltons.

Prizes will be given for the largest fish caught, smallest fish and the most fish.

More young drivers are sitting behind the wheel today than ever before and they've been piling up an accident and death rate nearly double the average for the entire U. S. population, according to statistics compiled by the National Safety Council.

This is the grim picture the 4-H automotive clubs are trying to change. In an attempt to educate club members in safe and sane driving habits, interested groups are pooling their knowledge and resources. The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company sponsors the program nationally.

Bill Vincent Sr. has two older homes in the immediate Sanford area he'd like to nominate for the title of oldest home. He says one is the old Dr. Carwell home off Mellonville Avenue and the other a two-story home at Third and Oak. He believes the Carwell residence was built in the 1870's and the other place about the same time.

Here's something to think about: In the seven county area making up the East Central Florida Planning Council, two-thirds of all homes are FHA approved. That's just one of the maze of statistics gathered by council members as they gird for the explosive growth in the area.

Firemen Answer Four Alarms

The Sanford Fire Department answered four calls last night and this morning, but damage in all four instances was negligible.

The first was at 16th Street and Southwest Road at 11:48 p. m. last night, which proved to be a false alarm.

At 9:56 a. m. a defective light fixture at 201 South Elm in the offices of Credit Adjustment Service did no damage. The building is owned by H. L. Foley.

A coffee pot boiled over and caused a smoke scare at 2808 Central Drive at 10:30 this morning. The residence is owned by Charles Collins.

Small damage was done to the building and contents of a dwelling at 214 East 15th Street, owned and occupied by Bill J. Wootley. The blaze was caused by children playing with a cigarette lighter.

Holier Reports

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Republican gubernatorial nominee Charles Holier reported today that he has received campaign contributions of $18,250 and $15,687.

Driver Charged

A motorist identified by police as Zeke Southward was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to have his vehicle under control late Monday night after his car collided with one owned by G. R. Pierson of 418 S. Summerlin Ave. Police said the mishap occurred near 450 Elliott Ave.

Held In Assault

A charge of assault with a deadly weapon was lodged against a woman identified by police as Pauline Moore following a cutting of Eva Mae Collier at 906 W. 11th St. late Wednesday afternoon. The victim was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital, police said.

GOODBYE LITTLE FISHES. Fishes now swimming merrily in Lake Carolina in Fort Mellon Park will have a hard time Wednesday escaping 500 or more hooks, on lines held by eager youngsters at the Jaycee Annual Fishing Rodeo. Lines and poles are being prepared by Chairman Jim Rowe, Frank Finch, Jim Smith and President Clyde Long.

All Delegates May Have To Sign Loyalty Oath

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — Georgia Gov. Carl Sanders said today a move is afoot to require new loyalty pledges of all Democratic National Convention delegates in a bid to pacify dissident Alabama delegates.

"It would keep (Alabama Gov. George) Wallace from getting what he wants — to put all of the (Alabama) people out of here," Sanders said.

Alabama delegates are risking ouster from the convention by refusing to sign new loyalty oaths being required by the credentials committee because the state's electors are not pledged to support the party nominee for president.

Wallace once was to have been a favorite son nominee of the Alabama delegation but bowed out when the Republicans nominated Sen. Barry Goldwater, also a conservative.

The Alabama delegates who refused to sign the new oaths said they resented being singled out with the demand for a d d d loyalty assurances since this was not being required of delegates from other states.

"We felt that if the entire convention made a new commitment they would not feel discriminated against," Sanders said.

Piero Pelham, Alabama member of the convention platform committee, was understood to have mentioned the plan to several fellow delegates who refused to leave their seats when they were asked to stand aside temporarily until their status could be sorted.

There was no immediate word how many delegates would be willing to sign a new loyalty oath if all other delegates were required to do so. There was speculation that many of the non-signers wanted to be thrown out of the convention.

Several Alabama delegates said last night that they arrived expecting to be thrown out immediately and had planned to return to Alabama without further argument.

Casselberry Rejects Bid For Theatre - Restaurant

Casselberry will not have a Bavarian-type theater-restaurant.

The Rackenspergers purchased the property several months ago and immediately asked the zoning board to approve the change and grant a use permit. The zoning agency approved and sent it to the Town Council three months ago.

After several delays, the board acted last night in an indirect way when Councilman Art Lego's motion to accept the zoning board's recommendation died for lack of a second.

The Rackenspergers planned a theater-restaurant which would seat from 150 to 200 for theater presentations and as many as 250 for banquets.

Rackensperger told the Council he planned to put from $50,000 to $100,000 into the project.

Several Casselberry citizens objected to the rezoning but none resided within 500 feet of the property. However, a host of persons, including a group from the Young Women's Club of South Seminole, spoke in favor of the rezoning, primarily because of plans for little theater productions.

Councilman C. L. Overman stated that "We have seven establishments already licensed to serve liquor and it seems that the only people who want to come into Casselberry want to serve alcoholic beverages."

Following the meeting, Councilman L. E. Woodhams said he failed to act in favor of the rezoning because "I'm not in favor of permitting commercial zoning in residential areas."

Councilman George Howard explained his position by declaring, "We have more beer licenses now than the town should have and I'd never stand still to let Casselberry be made into a little white way."

Reapportioning Issue Debated

Whether the County Commissioners should adopt a resolution directed to Florida's congressional delegation to lend its support to a measure to limit the Supreme Court's power on matters pertaining to apportionment was tabled today.

The discussion, however, did lead to an exchange of opinions between Chairman James P. Avery and Gen. J. C. Hutchinson.

"I agree that the Supreme Court's authority in this area should be curbed. However," Avery added, "I personally can't see anything wrong with equal representation."

His remarks brought Gen. Hutchinson to observe: "Under such a plan it's possible that the five large counties in the state should control the other 62 counties."

"The pork choppers," Avery countered, "have been in control of state politics as long as I can remember. Take a look at the beautiful four-lane highways through the smaller counties and compare them with the congested two-lane thoroughfares in the larger counties."

"I agree," said the General "that the Supreme Court should not be a legislative body, but we should remember that Seminole, being a small county, could be among the pork choppers but we would not be among the five larger counties."

"I concur with the resolution," said Avery. "I do, too," said the General. "But I'll withdraw my motion that we adopt it so we can let our attorney look into it and report to us at our next meeting."
