Three Asian diplomatic missions in the neighborhood and hundreds of sleeping residents were shaken by the 6:58 a.m. explosion, which shattered windows for blocks

While firemen worked in the building, an anonymous caller telephoned police and said a bomb was set to go off in the building. Fire Commissioner John O'Hagan cleared his men out as a precaution. O'Hagan said 59 persons had been taken to hospitals. He said he saw about two dozen treated at the scene but did not know whether they were hospitalized afterwards.

The blast ripped the 26-story commercial structure and touched off a fire. But the injured persons were neighboring residents, prin-cipally the dazed occupants of Envoy Towers, a luxury apartment house adjoining the blast site.

O'Hagan said there were three possible causes of the blast — gas, inflammables or explosives — but train Sunday collided told newsmen: "Evidence points to natural gas as the cause of the ex-

Adams Jumps Into Governor's Race

.Public encouragement

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)- Lt. Gov. Tom Adams today announced he would oppose Gov. Reubin Askew in the Democratic primary for Adams, who had previously announced he would run for the secretary of state post, said he had decided to switch at the urging of Floridians who were disenchanted with Askew's leadership

"I have never been given more encouragement in my 18 years in public service to seek election to any office" than he has had to run for governor, Adams said Adams said he represented Democratic party supporters of Alabama Gov. George Wallace. Wallace "stands today, in many important ways, for so much of what is needed to put America back on the track," Adams said.

Adams, 57, has been hinting for weeks he wants to drop out of the race for secretary of state and run for governor, and Askew said last week the announcement would come as no surprise to him.

After his dairy farm in Clay County went broke in 1956. Adams was elected to the Florida Senate where he was honored as "the most outstanding In 1960, after spending almost all his time on his Senate job, Adams was elected secretary of state and within a year the legislature named him the "most effective administrator of a state The first blow at his reputation came when Auditor General Ernest Ellison reported that Adams had been using state furniture in his private apartment. Adams called the criticism And then while still secretary of state in 1970, Adams took a state airplane and disappeared for 18 days on a junket to Columbia, Venzuela Mexico and Puerto Rico in what he later called a That same year, Adams began preparing a campaign for governor, but suddenly announced he was dropping out and then revealed he was $100,000 in debt. Over the next three years, Adams held numerous fund-rasing dinners to pay off the debt, which he claimed grew to more than $160,000 because of bank interest. He finally announced last year it was all paid off. After Adams dropped out of the race, then-Sen.

Askew asked him to become his running mate and after they were elected, Askew named him secretary of commerce.

But Askew asked him to resign from that job in February 1973 after news reports that Adams used state employes to work on another farm he owned near Quincy.

The Commerce Department problems also led to a House investigation. An effort to impeach him failed by 17 votes, but he was censured.

Warships Leave Indian Ocean WASHINGTON (AP) - U.S. Navy warships are leaving the Indian Ocean for the first time since last fall's Middle East crisis. Pentagon sources indicate it probably will be several months before the American Navy returns to that ocean, where its presence has been protested by India and some other countries, including the Soviet Union.

Bleak Prospects

SILVER BAY, Minn. (AP) - Two Minnesota communities face the prospect of becoming almost welfare towns as the Reserve Mining Co. was shut by a court order. Silver Pay and Babbitt, respective homes of a Reserve plant and taconite mine, have 3,100 of their combined 6,500 population unemployed with the shutdown of Reserve because of pollution into Lake Superior. Reserve was ordered closed Saturday by U.S. District Judge Miles Lord. He said dumping of 67,000 tons of rock wastes a day into the lake was endangering five communities in Minnesota and Wisconsin that draw drinking water from it. The company said it will appeal.

Reporters To Testify

NEW YORK (AP) - The criminal conspiracy trial of John N. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans is expected to go to jury this week. Two Washington newspaper reporters are scheduled to testify today at the trial of former Atty. Gen. Mitchell and onetime Commerce Secretary Stans as part of a government effort to offset Mitchell's sworn statement that he did not see former GOP fund raiser Daniel Hofgren at a Republican affair in March 1972 or tell him to "stay away" from discussing a secret $200, 000 campaign contribution. Hofgren has testified Mitchell told him that at the affair, which the two reporters owered, Mitchell and Stans are carged with conspiring to obstruct a government probe of financier Robert Vesco in exchange for the contribution.

Volunteers May Be Called

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - City officials may call in civilian volunteers to man police stations to free officers for duty in the " Zelwa" killings. Meanwhile, the American Civil Liberties Union planned to file a federal court suit challenging the policy policy of stopping and searching young black men thought to resemble a composite drawing of one of the killers. Twelve whites have been killed and six injured in the "Zebra" case, which takes its name from a police radio channel. In all the cases, the assailant has been a black man and the shootings appeared to have no motive, police said.
