The flood situation state by state:

Pennsylvania—Dikes burst along the rising Susquehanna threatening evacuation of Wilkes-Barre, Kingston, Sunbury and Plymouth. At least nine dead. Area of 200 miles flooded, extending from New York state line to southern Pennsylvania. Fire threat forces shutting off of gas, furnaces doused and smoking forbidden in some sections.

New York—Flood waters recede upstate after worst inundation in five years. Roads and bridges washed out. Traffic re-routed or blocked altogether. Four believed dead.

Connecticut—Housatonic river valley under acute flood conditions, with evacuation of New Milford lowlands area threatened if an ice jam breaks.

New Jersey—Deebar river rising to 14 feet above normal at Trenton. Rural roads closed.

West Virginia—The Ohio river created at 4:00 P. M., at Wheeling, reaching 38 feet, two feet above the flood stage. Wheeling Down, the race track on Wheeling island, was covered with water. About 800 residents of the island were prepared to flee, but returned to their homes when water flooded only basements. House #2 at Benwood, south of town, was inundated, and traffic was detoured.

Ohio—Entire southern strip expects floods. Empire and Stratton families ready for evacuation. Jefferson county Red Cross disaster committee prepared at Steubenville and neighboring towns on the upper Ohio.

California—More than 1000 families evacuated but clearing weather breaks flood danger. Two dead.

Farmers' Help Is Sought With Land Use Plans

The success of the Florida land-use program for improving the lot of rural people and conserving and enriching the State's soil and other resources depends upon a maximum of all concerned, particularly the farmers themselves, according to information received today from A. D. Spencer, vice director of the State Agricultural Extension Service.

A survey to determine the needs of Seminole County in the matter of rural development was made several months ago by experts of the Extension Service and from this survey a program will be inaugurated for the betterment of the farmer's condition. It will be under the auspices of the Extension Services with other state and federal agencies co-operating.

"The program," Mr. Spencer said, "is based on investigation of rural needs and conditions and a carefully planned procedure for satisfying these needs and improving unfavorable conditions. Trained workers of the agencies involved in the program may investigate and make recommendations, but satisfactory results must come through the co-operation of the farmer and his family."

Every phase of rural life—farm, home, health, food, and economic condition of the people—is included in the program. Conferences between farmers themselves and between farmers and representatives of the federal and state agencies will be necessary from time to time to study problems and work out ways of solving them, the Extension official explained.

Soil technicians, crop and livestock specialists, foresters, marketing and farm management specialists, home economics agents and supervisors, health workers, and other types of trained workers will take part in the program to cover all phases of farming and assist in solving rural problems.

"Investigation and study will reveal the things that need to be done, the changes that should be made, and the ways in which all around adjustments and improvements can be effected, but whether these changes and improvements are carried out successfully depends, in the final analysis, on the co-operation of the people who will benefit from them—the farm family," Mr. Spencer said.

WPA To Certify Persons Who Are First At Office

JACKSONVILLE, Apr. 2.—"First come, first served," is the rule that will be strictly observed in certification for WPA employment of those who have never been certified, according to announcement here today of State Welfare Commissioner Clayton C. Codrington.

Instructions of the State Welfare Board to make certifications in chronological order will be rigidly enforced, the commissioner said.

"When certification by the State Welfare Board was resumed on February 1, equal opportunity was offered all who sought certification to present themselves promptly at intake offices," the commissioner said. "It is only fair that those who applied first should be investigated first. Any other plan, in fact, would lead to untold confusion and unnecessary friction."

WPA social staff will certify those who have previously been certified, including persons who have been dropped from the rolls because of the 18-month rule, the commissioner explained.

Turkey Tells Britain She Wants Peace; Declares War In Balkans Unlikely

Goering Predicts Lightning War Similar To Polish Drive

By Associated Press Sporadic German-British air clashes today accompanied a German hint of "decisive" action to change Europe's war of nerves into a full-fledged conflict.

Turkey informed Britain she hoped to remain at peace, that there was "no danger of war" in the Balkans.

There were growing indications of an imminent shakeup in the British cabinet.

Goering declared that a "decisive blow" would be struck in the west when Hitler decides to end the war.

A lone German raider was shot down off the northeast British coast by an R.A.F. plane. British announced. The Germans reported a successful raid on merchantmen under British convoy in the North Sea.

Norwegians, particularly in the Scandinavian states, were fearful that British-French efforts to sever German lifelines would increase their hazards.

Goering, predicting a lightning war, gave no inkling when the blow might come but said it would compare with Germany's 18-day smash of Poland.

German bombing raids, particularly another attack on Tampa Bay, which was again by the British as proof the German machine is beginning to crack under the blockade. They said the raid injured only two civilians, and one Nazi plane was shot down. The Germans confirmed loss of the plane, but said several British ships possibly were damaged.

Whitehair Takes Campaign To Starkie

STARKIE, Fla., Apr. 3.—(Special)—The weakness of Florida's government is the principal but curable ill of the state, Francis P. Whitehair last night told a crowd from six counties in a state rally here.

"We must take care of our people on the sunnier side of life, raise our school standards and pay our teachers adequately, look after the health of our people and provide for the welfare of our needy families and dependent children first and foremost," he said.

"Whitehair is going to be hard to get along with until our Legislature performs these things which must come ahead of anything else."

Whitehair deplored the failure of the 1939 Legislature to face the facts and find the answers to the real problems of the state.

Longwood Dedicates New Municipal Park

Major George H. Bridge, chairman of the Park Commission, was among the guests who participated in the park dedication.

$290,000 Okeyed For Deepening, Straightening Of Channel

An appropriation of $290,000 was approved by the Senate Commerce Committee yesterday for the deepening and widening of the St. Johns River channel from Jacksonville to Lake Harney.

This action of the Senate committee followed the approval of the project by the Board of County Commissioners at its regular meeting in the Court House yesterday.

The action was taken at the suggestion of County Engineer Fred T. Williams who said that the Floyd, Dodd, Dike road is nearing completion as is the Big Tree road project and that unless this is given immediate approval a shortage of available projects may result.

On a motion by Commissioner F. A. Dyson, Mr. Williams was authorized to convert the proposed WPA project for the widening and resurfacing of Orange Boulevard into a project for the

Roosevelt And Dewey Win In Primary Vote

GARNER TRAILS IN WISCONSIN AS DEWEY POLLS 2 TO 1 LEAD OVER VANDENBERG

By Associated Press
Franklin D. Roosevelt and Thomas Dewey emerged as easy victors in Wisconsin's presidential primaries today, but a complicated balloting system may cut into their slate of National Convention delegates.

Followers of the two also won contests for district delegates in New York.

Roosevelt, still absent on a third term, led Garner for nearly 3-1 in Wisconsin.

On Republican ballot delegations-at-large pledged to Dewey ran 2-1 ahead of the ticket supporting Vandenberg.

Wisconsin, which has 24 votes each at the national convention, provided the first direct test of the third term sentiment at the polls.

Although Roosevelt didn't give or withhold consent, two rival Roosevelt states were entered. Consequently the vote for the third term delegates was split, raising the possibility that in the final return one or more Garner delegates might win.

Republicans polled a much larger proportion of the vote than they did four years ago.

New York contests applied to only a fraction of a big bloc of delegates.

In municipal elections, Daniel Hoan, Socialist Milwaukee mayor since 1918, was defeated by 32-year-old Carl Zeidler.

Kansas City voters swept out all remaining control by the Penobscot machine when a fusion ticket, headed by John Gage for Mayor, was elected.

Early returns from 233 precincts early returns from 233 precincts in the nonconventional primary last night gave President Roosevelt 11,478 votes against 4,072 for John Nance Garner in the state's direct preference vote on the Democratic ballot which provided the nation's first test of third term sentiment.

How To Plant Azaleas

In the short time remaining before the Sanford Garden Club's azalea sale begins, the best thing that anyone can do who is planning to buy any of these plants is to prepare carefully and properly the bed or hole in which they are to be planted, for if one expects to get the most out of his azaleas, if he wants them to live and to flourish, and to make the most possible growth, the most important work should be done before the plants are bought.

If you already have a rich acid soil in your garden there is not much work for you to do as almost any rich acid soil is made to order for azaleas. Make sure that you have good drainage, that water, in heavy rains or any other time, will not stand around the roots of the plants. Make sure that there are no roots from neighboring shrubs or trees underlying your bed, and your work is practically done.

If, however, your soil is poor, if it is dry and sandy, or if it is alkaline (sweet), your bed will require some preparation. Do not expect azaleas to do well in this kind of soil. The best thing to do under such circumstances is to dig out the soil to a depth of at least two feet, get rid of the roots, if any, and replace with a mixture of one-half peat, muck, or oak leaves, and one-half original top soil.

In order to make the soil sour, if it is still too sweet, mix in about a 4-inch potful of aluminum sulphate to a wheelbarrow load of soil. The best way to tell if the soil is right is to have it tested at the state laboratory but a simple home method is with the use of litmus paper. A good acid soil turns blue litmus paper red. If you are planting azaleas where azaleas have grown successfully before, or where gardenias, or camellias have grown, you can probably sure your soil is right.

It is a good idea to enrich the soil by mixing with it a generous quantity of cow manure, but be sure that it comes from lime-free barns. Lime is disastrous to azaleas, and equally as harmful whether found in the original soil or added through the use of fertilizers containing it. If good manure is not available, cottonseed meal which can be bought at any of the feed stores is an excellent food for these plants.

Azaleas are easy to grow if they are given the right start by providing them with the proper environment at the time of planting. You can dig them up, rearrange your beds, reset them to suit your fancy almost any month of the year and almost as easily as you can rearrange the flowers in your living room. Be sure to give them plenty of water at the time of planting, set them at exactly the same depth that they grew before, protect them from the sun for a few days and that's all there is to it. There is no plant more satisfactorily grown in Florida. Beautifully green in summer, gorgous with bloom in winter, untouched by freezes and immune to wind storms, they are made to order for this climate and these conditions.

The Path Of Progress

The world does move in spite of everything that is done to prevent it. Even the wars in Europe and the spots on the sun cannot hold progress back. The scientists are still busy and the inventors are working hard to make this a better world in which to live. Here is what they have invented recently, as indicated by U. S. patents recently granted:

Eyeglasses with a rear-view mirror attached.
A burglar-catching window which drops, catches the burglar around the middle when he is halfway over the sill.
A coffin with built-in illumination.

A wrist watch with an alarm device which taps the wearer's wrist at the hour set.

A bell device, to be carried on a golfer's wrist, which rings when he has finished his swing, signals him that he can now lift his head.

A gout club with an electric light in the head which flashes when the player makes a correct swing.

An abdominal exerciser equipped with a gong which rings when the wearer is breathing properly.

A dice cup which gives a signal when the dice have been shaken enough.

A nonstick flanjack turner.
A corset which stretches or shrinks, to conform with body movements, by means of telescoping sections.

A cigarette printed with advertising matter in invisible ink, which becomes visible when the cigarette is smoked.

An ice bag shaped like a hat, for headache sufferers.

A non-dripping hot dog, with a hole through the middle in which the mustard is deposited by a tube.

clared in reviewing his accomplish-said that he was in accord with the appropriation veto of Gov.

"I am in sympathy with the man who is going to pay the bills." The highlight of his platform for representative, he said, will be
"$30 a month for the aged."

Declaring that he had also some previous experience in the House of Representatives, L. P.
Hagan, second candidate in this group to speak, said that it is not new law that the people need but a safeguard against the enactment of bad laws. He said he was nominated at the expense of the taxpayer who must foot the bill. Stating that he is ready to serve the people and that he is qualified to fill their needs,
Mr. Hagan said that it will not be his policy to agitate new laws except when necessary.

J. R. Lyles, third candidate for a member of the 1928 legislature to Tallahassee he would fight to move "Lake City out of Tallah-for the reduction of taxes and adequate care for the aged.

George H. Bridgeman of laws the Legislature in the past he would attempt to maintain the respect which the County Court has attained during this time by fair, honest and forceful prosecution of the laws.

Edward Nelson, Jr., declared that the office of County Prosecutor had been used in the past to give a young attorney a chance to get started. If elected, he pledged himself to a vigorous prosecution of every case in the County Court.

G. A. Speer, Jr., invited an investigation of his record as a lawyer and as a citizen in Seminole County. He gave this record to the government for his qualification for the position of County prosecuting attorney.

"Justus to everybody" was the campaign slogan of B. C. Dodd, six-foot-five dynamy from Goldenthal in placing his candidacy for Sheriff before the public at the rally last night.

"It has been proven that in qualifications and experience, I have given the people of Seminole County value received for their ballots," said G. M. Hand, incumbent sheriff, declaring that during the past three years he has made every effort to improve the standards of the office.

"If elected I will serve you to the best of my ability," declared J. F. McClelland, who said that his record in the past speaks for itself, in offering his candidacy for another term.

George W. Gray, another of the candidates for Sheriff, declared that his past experience qualified him for the office he is seeking. After attending the University of Alabama for three years Mr. Gray said he came to seek a higher office. Since then, he said that he had done his utmost to conduct the affairs of that office conscientiously and efficiently and in view of the record "I believe that I have the right to ask the people for a vote of confidence," he said. He added that he had served for 23 years as an attorney and 15 years as a school teacher before becoming a County Judge.

Edward F. Lane said that the office of supervisor of registration is the first public office he has sought in Seminole County although he has lived here all of his life.

The incumbent registrar, W. J. Thigpen, placed his record before the people as his right to seek another term in that position.

The candidates for the Board of County Commissioners from the various districts were introduced by Chairman Fred Bender.

WHITEHAIR'S FORMAL OPENING — Admirers from Florida's 67 counties crowded Daytona Beach's Municipal Auditorium Thursday night, as Francis P. Whitehair of DeLand, candidate for Governor, sounded a "United Florida" keynote in his formal opening campaign ad-

Beautiful and attractive as was the Florida State Exhibit at the New York World's Fair last year, its beauty and attractiveness will be greatly enhanced this year through the development of a palm fringed, umbrella studded beach with real Florida sand, cabanas, tables and everything to make a real Florida pleasure ground, the entire length of the Florida building on the shores of Liberty Lake. In addition there will be a commodious restaurant with tables for 80 guests, in which Florida foods will be served. The Florida building with its beach will be one of the features of the entire fair, it is believed by the Florida management.

Susanna Foster, dainty, 15-year-old Paramount singing star, will be the central figure in "Golden Days of '40," opening production of the 1940 Golden Gate International Exposition. Miss Foster is spending much time on Treasure Island, rehearsing her role for the fast-moving revue, to be staged opening days, May 25-26.

The two current "fastests" in Florida met at Tinker Field this morning. Francis P. Whitehair, the fastest moving candidate for Governor, stopped for a moment with George "Casey" Case, probably the fastest man in the American League. Whitehair, active in baseball thru his sponsorship of the DeLand baseball club of the Florida State League, knocked off from his strenuous campaigning long enough this morning to watch the Nats work out. Baseball is his hobby.

Pepper, Andrews Introduce Measures
For Federal Help

WASHINGTON, Apr. 4.—(AP)—The Administration's reciprocal trade program survived another major Senate test today when that Chamber defeated, 44 to 38, an amendment to require congressional approval of future trade agreements.

The amendment would have subjected the agreements to approval of a majority in both Houses.

The pending legislation would continue for three years the executive's power to alter tariff in exchange for foreign concessions.

The House worked meanwhile on a War Department appropriation bill.

Congress has been asked to authorize federal participation in the 1940 exposition marking the 100th anniversary of Florida's admission to the union. Resolutions for this purpose were introduced by Senators Pepper and Andrews.

Pepper's measure would authorize federal expenditures up to $1,000,000. Andrews named no amount.

Approval of the legislation would amount to an authorization, making the project eligible for subsequent appropriations.

Directors Unanimously Approve Group's Recommendations

The recommendation of the nominating committee that Edward Higgins, former mayor and City Commissioner, be appointed to the unexpired term of Ralph Lewis as secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce was given unanimous approval at a special meeting of the Board of Directors in the Chamber building last night. Eighteen of the directors were present.

In accepting the position, Mr. Higgins told the directors that it would be his endeavor to coordinate the different groups in the city and county for a cooperative effort to build up the trade body as the various committees in the County.

He requested the support of each of the directors as well as the co-operation of every citizen in Seminole County in making the trade body a more active unit. Declaring that Seminole County will grow when it recognizes its natural resources and attempts to develop them to the fullest extent, Mr. Higgins declared that he would consider it his task to make the residents mindful of resources.

The selection of a secretary to succeed Mr. Bagwell who resigned to accept employment with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in Orlando, on Apr. 1, and serving as secretary for six years, was approved by the Board of County Commissioners at its meeting Tuesday.

The auditor's report, dated May 20, summarizes the activities of the Tax Collector's office as follows:

"The Tax Collector has properly reprinted all conditions of record. Commissions of $2,350.00, earned during the audit period, are due him.

"All reports of income and expenditures were filed and the excess income shown due thereon was properly paid to the State Marketing Board which must be known that there is a demand for such an addition before it is authorized.

"All records were found nearly and accurately kept. It was evident that the collector exercised care in maintaining such a system."

The auditor reported that the collections for the years 1936-1939 as follows: 1936—90 percent; 1937—83 percent; 1938—88 percent and for the two months in 1939 covered by the audit, 94 percent. The collection of intangible taxes since 1934 ranged from 91 percent to 97 percent in 1939.

"It appears from the above tabulations that the collection of taxes is diligently enforced and levy and rate consummated when necessary and practical," the report says.

The report shows that for the period covered by the audit Mr. Jenkins collected a total of $154,329.67 for auto licenses and that over-remitted $10 to the Motor Vehicle Commission which was subsequently refunded.

"The collection of the income and sales tax for 1938 and 1939 was as follows:

Receipts for 1938 were $1,603.67; for 1939, they were $12,779.45, the expenditures in the same order were $5,473.16 and $5,853.70. The net income for the office in 1938 was $6,130.52 and in 1939 it was $6,325.25. The collector's compensation in 1938, after subtracting excess fees amounting to $462.21 which were returned to the County, was $5,678.31. In 1939 a total of $770.30 was turned over to the County Board, leaving a compensation of $6,185.45.

Mr. Jenkins has been tax collector for Seminole County since it was formed in 1913. He was appointed to the office in that year and has been re-elected in each subsequent election.

Spessard Holland
Brings Campaign
To City Tomorrow

Spessard L. Holland, state senator and candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Florida, will speak to citizens of Sanford and Seminole County tomorrow at 8:00 o'clock at the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue. Earlier in the day he will speak at Winter Garden at 12:00 noon at the County Board of Control.

The regular meeting of the Board will be held in connection with a P.T.A. supper in Oviedo on Tuesday night, Apr. 9.

Holland Is Making His Race

Holland is making his race for Governor on his record as a statesman who has spent eight years in the Florida Senate working for measures which have been of general benefit to all people and all sections of the state. He sponsored and supported many of the measures which have become law, including Workmen's compensation, unemployment insurance, old age pension, free school books, teachers' retirement, welfare services and measures for the improvement of agriculture, live stock and industry.

Holland has been a constant force of the sales tax and three times passed repeal of the gross receipts tax in the Senate. Taxation problems are given first priority in his platform which also includes matching federal funds for old age assistance, 9-month terms for schools with certain pay for teachers, an enlarged road patrol, home rule in counties and a "liberal-minded" policy toward tourists.

Holland is a veteran of the World War, having seen service on four fronts in France with the famous 32d Aero Squadron. He went into the war as private and came out a captain with the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism. He married a Florida girl and they have four children.
