

71 Million Vehicles Tour State

Florida in 1965 had 5,744,396 cars from other states cross its borders to join a total of more than 71 million touring the roads within the state in that year, according to a traffic analysis just completed by the State Road Department.

Described as one of the most comprehensive traffic survey analyses in Road Department history, the report was issued today by Wilbur E. Jones, Road Board chairman.

Statistics in the report are based on results from 53 permanent automatic traffic recorders on roads in 37 Florida counties, 13 of which are located on arterial highways crossing the state's borders, Jones said. In addition, four eight-hour manual checks were maintained by Road Department crews during the year on those 13 "entrance" highways to determine the percentage of out-of-state vehicles entering Florida.

Data obtained by the counters, Jones said, covers vehicular movements within the state on weekdays, Saturdays and Sundays and all movements of traffic both in and out of the state.

A total of 11,008,420 vehicles crossed the state's borders in the year, nearly six million of those being passenger cars entering Florida from other states.

Based on a national average of 2.3 persons carried in passenger cars, Jones estimated that a total of 12,518,710 visitors came into Florida last year by car.

Reducing these figures to a percentage basis, Jones said, it is shown that of the total 11,008,420 vehicles crossing the 13 permanent recorders on state entrance highways, 82.3 per cent were out-of-state cars, 26.8 per cent were Florida cars and another 21 per cent was accounted for by commercial vehicles.

A grand total of 71,345,335 vehicles was recorded during the year by the 53 automatic counters located on 30 roads in the state. This total, Jones revealed, was broken down in the analysis to indicate traffic movement over each recorder on Sundays and Saturdays and a total for the five weekdays.

Largest movements of traffic occurred in the months of March and July last year, according to the analysis which revealed that 6,823,214 vehicles were recorded in March and 6,571,276, or 9.2 of the year's total, in July. "This indicates very clearly," the Road chairman said, "that our summer months, so far as state highway traffic is concerned, are rapidly overhauling, or passing, the winter months."

As an additional example of mounting summer traffic, Jones pointed to the months of January and February as compared to August.

In January, a total of 4,183,384 vehicles were recorded and in February 4,179,961 crossed the 53 permanent counters in the state. In August, however, 6,043,645 vehicles were on the move over Florida's roads.

Breaking traffic movements into portions of the week, Jones said the survey reveals:

Of the total 71,345,335 vehicles recorded in the 12 months of 1965, 10,996,605 were counted on Sundays; 10,580,043 on Saturdays and the balance of 49,768,687 on the remaining five weekdays.

General Education Classes For Adults Organize Tonight

An organizational meeting for adult general education classes will be held tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the music room of Seminole High School.

Adult general education classes are being offered for the purpose of giving an adult opportunity to continue or complete his formal education. A high school adult equivalency diploma may be achieved through this program or individual subjects may be taken that will keep adults in their work.

If there is a sufficient demand from veterans of the Korean Conflict, the course can become approved by the State Department of Education and Veterans Administration so that veterans can receive educational benefits under PL 808.

The purpose of the organizational meeting is to discuss policies, answer questions on the program, determine what nights and hours classes are to be held and to complete registration forms. There will be a $2.50 registration fee and the only other costs will be for workbooks or textbooks that might be required.

Any citizen who is interested in completing his high school education, learning to read or write, or taking an individual subject that will benefit him in his job is urged to attend this meeting. Any further information can be secured by calling Fred C. Murray, director of Adult and Vocational Education at 883.

Dixon line, could run it with cooperation from the Atomic Energy Commission.

2. To launch an information program to enlighten Southern industry or actual experience with atomic power.

3. To tell the public about the peaceful atomic use.

4. To back education programs aimed at training manpower for work in atomic plants.

Folsom said studies show there is in the South "a foreseeable need for one or more regional atomic energy industrial research centers for the 16 states."

Folsom did not mention it, but Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn is one of the institutions interested in getting such a center. Other possible sites mentioned here include the government's atomic center at Oak Ridge, Tenn.; the University of Florida, Georgia Tech, and North Carolina State College at Raleigh.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus, reporting yesterday on the South's industrial growth, said atomic energy in Dixie is already a three-billion-dollar industry.

"And the industry is still in its infancy," he said.

Eleven of the 16 Southern governors—the others sent word they couldn't make it—last night heard Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, call for more thorough education of American youth in what democracy is all about lest the Communists achieve world domination because of an ignorance of liberty.

"We seem either unable, or too lazy, to do enough to explain, teach, and most of all—demonstrate publicly before the world the fundamental, basic fact of liberty," Radford declared.

BURIAL OF HUMANS IN CARDBOARD BOXES REPORTED
JACKSONVILLE—Burial of humans in cardboard boxes was described today by the State Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers as "disgraceful and degrading."

The board said in a resolution yesterday that it had reports that bodies of indigent persons of Dade County are being buried in cardboard cartons by a funeral home under contract with the Dade County Commission.

VFW Hall Of Fame Citation Awarded Late J. Chittenden

Pre-arrangement activities of the 57th national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars high-lighted a luncheon ceremony honoring two deceased veterans and the present VFW director of the national rehabilitation service.

All three names are to be added to the VFW Rehabilitation Hall of Fame.

Citations were awarded the late Joe D. Chittenden, formerly of Sanford and who made his residence here, and who was the former national rehabilitation service director of Washington, D. C. It was accepted by Elmer P. Richter of Washington, technical consultant, and Mrs. Hilda Ball, former secretary to Chittenden.

Mrs. Joe D. Chittenden, widow of the honored veteran, resides in Sanford at 2108 Cordova Drive.

His sisters, Miss Laura and Miss Edna Chittenden are also residents of Sanford.

The citation, which names the late John Walker Jones, former Oregon service officer, was accepted by G. O. Pike, present service officer in that state. The third Hall of Fame citation will go to H. A. Calkins, Washington, D. C., present director of the rehabilitation service.

All of the citations were presented by Joseph W. Mann, service officer for the VFW in Michigan and chairman of the Hall of Fame Committee.

On August 11, the 200 service officers and their guests, including national VFW officers, honored Congressman Olin E. Teague, chairman of the House Committee on Veterans Affairs, but the Congressman sent his regrets because of his required attendance at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

The National Convention was held in Dallas, Tex.

Odham Asks Loan To Keep Project Staff Operating

Brasley Odham told the State Cabinet today that a new financing plan is pumping life back into the proposed Inter-American Trade and Cultural Center at Miami after six months of discouragement.

Odham, a member of the state authority supervising the project, made the statement in appealing for an additional $80,000 loan of state funds to keep the staff of the organization operating until February.

Because of the absence of Gov. Collins, the Cabinet deferred action until Tuesday. Collins is attending a meeting of the Southern Governors Conference in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Odham explained that the revised plan for financing the giant 70-million dollar project through a bond issue is being reevaluated with bond houses in New York.

The project, a sort of permanent world's fair with an objective of improving trade and cultural relations between the Americas, was originally set to start moving in December when bonds were validated but a tight money market set in and interest rates soared.

In four football games between Southern Methodist and UCLA the SMU team has been victorious each time.

Savings Bonds Offer Holders Many Services

The slogan "Safer Than Cash" now applied to United States Savings Bonds doesn't begin to tell the full story according to W. E. Patrick, chairman of the County Saving Bonds Committee.

"Not too many people know about the fine service the Treasury offers to bond holders," Patrick declared. "This service is one of the outstanding features that make the Saving Bond one of the best investments ever offered."

"A good many of us already know that we can get our lost, destroyed, or stolen bonds replaced without cost. But this is just the beginning. The Bureau of the Public Debt, which is the branch of the Treasury that handles all bonds records and redemptions, leaves no stone unturned to see that the original intent of the purchaser is carried out in the disposition of bonds."

Patrick called special attention to the provision allowing for bonds to be issued to co-owners. He cited the example of the man who died suddenly without an adequate will. He had several thousand dollars in Series E savings bonds, issued in his own name and that of his wife as co-owners. The estate seemed to be in for a long period of litigation. The widow, who needed funds badly, had been told that the savings bonds must become a part of the estate.

Upon advice of a friend, the widow wrote to the Treasury Department. She was quickly informed that the bonds were her property and could be cashed at her discretion. According to regulations, whenever a bond owner dies, the bond instantly becomes the sole property of the surviving co-owner.

"The Treasury has thousands of such cases in its files," Patrick said, "proving once again that savings bonds not only make a wonderful nest egg for future security, but are an excellent means of providing for loved ones after death."

Air Conditioning Keeps Board Cool

Sanford City Commissioners were reaching for coats at last night's Board meeting instead of opening windows and turning on electric fans.

The air conditioning of the Sanford City Hall, even though not yet complete, provided cooling comfort for the commissioners and the audience last night.

Commissioners remarked: "There's no noise and we're very comfortable now."

However, as the meeting lengthened to just before the midnight hour Mayor F. D. Scott remarked: "Air conditioning or not, we can't let the meeting go beyond 11:30."

W. S. Evans of Evans Roofing Co., contractors for the City Hall air conditioning systems, attended the meeting too, as he told the commissioners, "the cool and comfortable tonight."

Board Examines Proposed Civic Center Sketches

Preliminary sketches for the proposed Sanford Civic Center were passed by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night.

Architect John Burton, III, assigned to the creating of the proposed capital improvement program's building, presented the sketches and explained, in detail, usage of the building.

Divided into two sections, one for use by the recreation program and the other by civic organization, city-wide usage, the typical Florida building met quick approval of commissioners.

Preliminary sketches reveal that the Sanford Civic Center will include an auditorium capable of seating an estimated one thousand persons, a dining area, kitchen, serving center and other necessary storage and service areas. Covered walkways would be predominant throughout and around the center.

The recreation area, as proposed would be divided into usable sections for planned programs both inside and outside.

Predominant was a roller skating rink for use by the recreation department.

Sketches on other projects, including a new fire department building and colored swimming pool, will be considered before the capital improvement program is set.

The Chicago Cubs signed Gerald Kiddall, a Minnesota infielder, to a bonus following the NCAA tournament in Omaha. Kiddall will be graduated in 1967.

Goldsboro Area To Get Sewer Lines By First Of Year

Sewer lines are expected to be installed by city crews by the first of the year, according to discussion last night when the Board of Sanford City Commissioners heard Herbert Cherry express the opinions of residents in the Goldsboro area.

"The Goldsboro area has been left out as far as sewer planning is concerned," said Cherry as he represented more than a dozen Goldsboro residents attending the meeting with him.

"We are here to ask for some relief — I think we have been overlooked completely," he said.

Mayor Scott Herbert Cherry that "we've run out of money." Cherry then asked "Why is it we give out of money just before you get to the tracks?"

Commissioners, discussing the possibilities of the sewer program in relation to the budget to be considered for the new fiscal year, told Cherry that the program of installing the sewer lines in the Goldsboro area can be underway by the first of the year.

Cdr. J. Miller Takes Command Of VAH-Nine

In a colorful change-of-command ceremony today, Commander John Meredith Miller, USN, assumed command of Heavy Attack Squadron Nine. He relieved Cdr. W. R. Haslett, who has been acting Commanding Officer and who now resumes his billet as Executive Officer.

Commander Miller has had a varied and interesting career. Graduating from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1940, he first served aboard the battleship Idaho. His early interest in aviation led to assignments at Pensacola in 1942 and 1943, after which he became a flight instructor at NAS Lake City. During the war he was Executive Officer of Bombing Squadrons VB-198 and VB-194, and was Commanding Officer of the latter squadron during the second half of 1945. He later served as Navigator of the carrier USS Badoeng Strait, then returned to the Naval Academy's executive department.

In 1950 Cdr. Miller had the rare experience of serving as an exchange pilot with the Royal Air Force, a practice which gives military personnel of NATO nations an opportunity to become acquainted with the differences and similarities between their operating procedures and ours. After this interesting duty Cdr. Miller went to Transport Squadron One, and later became Operations Officer of Fleet Wing Four.

As happens to most Naval Aviators sometime during their career Cdr. Miller returned to NAS Pensacola in 1953 where he was in the Administration Dept. until 1954. Before coming to HATU to prepare himself for the Heavy Attack program, VAH-Nine's new Commanding Officer was a student at the Air War College, Maxwell AFB.

In addition to his theater decorations, Cdr. Miller wears the Distinguished Flying Cross with gold star in lieu of second award, and the Air Medal, also with gold star. His home town is Hazlehurst, Miss. He and Mrs. Miller, the former Jane Elizabeth Gordon of Indiana, Miss., were married in San Francisco in July, 1945 and have two boys, John Meredith Jr., 11, and Charles Gordon, eight.

Adventist Church Elementary School Enrolls 9 Students

The Seventh-Day Adventist elementary school at Seventh St. and Laurel Ave., opened with an enrollment of nine students, according to Mrs. Fay Clark, teacher. This is the city's smallest educational unit, the school this year boasts a beautiful new building. Built to handle expected growth, the building has two large classrooms and is of modern design.

The teacher this year is Mrs. Fay Clark who recently came here from Panama City, Fla., where she was teaching in a similar school. Mrs. Clark, according to officials of the school, who have been teaching for 11 years takes special interest in each one of her students.

The school's curriculum, the officials say, matches that of public schools but with the addition of courses in religious instruction. In addition, it is reported, a spiritual slant is given other subjects where that is appropriate. Classes are offered in all grades with extra-curricular activities in crafts and nature studies.

The school here is one of a chain of 5,000 educational units operated by Seventh Day Adventists around the world, 23 of which are in Florida.

There are several openings for enrollment still available for the present year. Anyone interested in enrolling their child may contact the pastor, A. C. McClure, 1284 Palm Way, or call 2006-J.

Tigresses Maul Male Cagemate To Death in Fight

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two tigresses will live out their time at Cincinnati Zoo in splendor, but one male tiger will be mauling to death by his female cagemate in a savage battle Monday.

The zoo veterinarian, Dr. E. W. Bernard, said the jungle cat was to be mated to a female. "If we put another male in there now, the tigresses would maulate him," he said.

See officials said there was no way of knowing what caused the fight.

Keepers said the attack on 8-year-old Rajah was apparently a surprise, with one female going for his throat and the other attacking his hind quarters.

Demo Leaders Plan Hard Hitting Drive

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—State Democratic leaders here mapped a hard hitting campaign directed by a four-man strategy board in an effort to swing Florida's 10 electoral votes to Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver.

The strategy board will meet next week to designate a state campaign chairman.

Board members are Gov. Collins, State Democratic Chairman James Milligan, U.S. Rep. Bob Sikes of Crestview and Mayor Hayden Burns of Jacksonville.

The members were selected at a caucus of the State Democratic Advisory Committee attended by State Cabinet and representatives of Stevenson and Kefauver.

The meeting was open to newsmen up to the point where voting took place on the board members and campaign strategy was mapped. The Advisory Committee went into closed session of this.

Various Democratic leaders forecast that Stevenson would carry Florida this time but that a great deal of hard work would have to be done.

Dwight Eisenhower carried Florida over Stevenson by 100,000 votes in 1952 and Sikes said Florida was going to be "the toughest state in the South to carry" for the Democrats this year.

Sikes and State Treasurer Larson said Florida could be carried easily for the Democrats if all Democratic officeholders would get out and work. They proposed that the state committee adopt a resolution telling these officials to support the ticket.

However, Bralley Odham, who was twice an unsuccessful candidate for governor, said this was the wrong approach. He said the committee should appeal to them to work for the party on its merit rather than on a proposition of "Blindly voting party loyalty."

Odham said there was a great need to revitalize the party machinery with young Democrats and to play up Democratic accomplishments.

Dawson, executive committee, Seminole County Red Cross; Mrs. Audrey Speer, staff of local State Welfare; and Mrs. Mary D. Knox, executive secretary, Seminole County Red Cross, attended the Civil Defense Institute held at the Anseba Hotel, Orlando, Monday.

Purpose and objectives of the Institute, as set forth by General H. W. Tarkenton, State Civil Defense director, were to delineate responsibilities of all state agencies, such as Red Cross, State Welfare, Department of Public Health, Department of Agriculture, etc., in the event of war or natural disasters — with the common objective of survival.

Fred W. DeMotte, state field director, area five, presided, after the group was welcomed by Capt. C. Q. Wright Jr., director of Orange County Civil Defense, and local level panel as well as state and regional level panel were held for open discussion of problems involved.

The State Department of Public Welfare was represented by Miss Nellie Williams and Miss Roberta Williams in the absence of Charles O. Andrews Jr., chairman, State Welfare Board.

General Tarkenton's closing remarks laid emphasis on the importance of cooperation by all agencies in this common effort of survival.

The next emergency welfare in Civil Defense meeting will be held in Tampa on Sept. 19 — as also one in Flagler County, date to be announced later.

Florida Should Stress Orange Juice Quality

LAKELAND (AP)—Florida should stress the juice quality of its oranges in developing European markets, an industry leader told an export committee meeting Monday.

If this is done, a good market can be built up in European restaurants, hospitals and other retail outlets, James C. Morton of Auburndale said.

Morton also forecast a long range market in Europe for Florida fruit. He told the Export Committee of Florida Citrus Mutual that this market probably would be built up principally around processed citrus but that prospects for fresh citrus also are good.

Martin Haern, export coordinator for the big grower cooperative, predicted the orange export market this season would reach five million boxes of fresh fruit. The committee asked the U.S. government to continue export subsidies on citrus. Last season the government paid 50 cents a box on fresh fruit shipped to friendly nations overseas and a similar payment for processed fruit.

CofC Manager's Post Still Vacant

No one has been selected to fill the vacancy in the Chamber of Commerce manager's job, it was said at the director's meeting of the trade body when the Board met at the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. last night. The opening was created when Forrest Breckenridge resigned earlier this month to accept a similar position in DeLand.

The screening of applicants is being done by President-elect Clifford McKibbin and his Executive Committee, according to President George Touhy, who presided at the session last night. He added that inasmuch as an appointee could not possibly take over the duties before Oct. 1, the incoming administration who assumes the reins on that date is most logical since they will be the first to work with the new manager.

A number of applications have been received both from local men who are interested and from others, both in Florida and from outside the state, who have learned of the vacancy. McKibbin said that so long as capabilities were equal or nearly equal preference would be given to a local person. Familiarity with situations here would save some time in his becoming effective, he continued, and his local background should add interest in advancing the Seminole County interests.

The choice would be made as soon as possible without lessening the chances of getting the best possible person," McKibbin added.

The Chamber of Commerce directors have been in close touch with developments that might affect the local Naval Air Station. The announcement from Washington a few months ago that an item of $50 million for development in Sanford and at the old Osceola landing field was included in the proposed budget for long range planning stimulated a great deal of interest and effort to have (Continued on Page Eight)

Church Christian Education Leaders Hold Supper Meet

The Christian Education leaders of the First Presbyterian Church met last night, at 7 p. m. for the first Workers Conference of the fall season.

The teachers of the Nursery Department of the Sunday School — Mrs. Harry Weir, Department Superintendent; Mrs. John A. Burton, Jr., Mrs. George Sires, Mrs. John Dumm, Mrs. Lee Hunter, Mrs. Al Wallace and Mrs. Howard Wheeler — served a delicious supper, carrying out the Chinese motif with chow mein supper with the tables decorated with red lilies and Chinese figurines.

The program of the evening was a preview of the teaching program each department in Sunday School is planning for the fall. Gordon Swann, Sunday School Superintendent presided over the meeting.

Trotting, Building Raceway Permits Approved By Board

CASSELBERRY—Ray V. Kilpatrick, secretary-treasurer of the Seminole Park Raceway, appeared before the Board of Aldermen Monday night, requesting a permit to conduct trotting horse races at the mile track, and to request building permits for 12 new stables, hospital, paddock and five-eighths mile track inside the one mile oval.

Approval of both requests were granted by the board, which will also enact an ordinance at the next meeting, governing horse racing in the town. Building permits are issued by the town clerk at no cost.

Removal of a barricade, obstructing passage over a 25 foot easement at the rear of lots facing highway 17-92, extending from Lemon Lane on the north to Normandy Rd. on the south, was requested by Ernest Lewand, who had occasion to use the easement when work on four-laning the highway blocked his drive.

A letter, requesting removal of the obstruction and authorized by Mayor John Allen, will be sent to Lewand's attorney, who is reported, accepts the barricade.

The board approved a plan submitted by Casselberry Gardens, Inc. for 15 lots on Queen's Mirror Circle, extending from Lake Tripoli Dr. to Winter Park Dr. Replat of lots on Talsman Trail and three lots on Quintuplet Dr. were also approved.

The street lighting fund showed a balance of $3,548.88 on deposit in banks, and $1,012.50 in the sewer account with the Florida Power Corp.

W. H. Kemp, president of the Seminole Park Raceway Association, spoke on plans for development of the track as a training center for 600 horses. Kemp stated also that a building program, including 12 new stables an emergency veterinary hospital paddock and five-eighths mile track inside the mile raceway would soon get under way.

Plans for a Ladies' Day buffet were outlined by Kilpatrick, to be held at the racetrack at a date to be announced. Women's organizations of this part of the county will be invited, according to Kilpatrick.

Parents Invited To Pinecrest P-TA Meeting Tomorrow

Mothers and fathers of children in Pinecrest School are invited to attend the first meeting of the Pinecrest Parent-Teacher Association to be held tomorrow night in the school auditorium. Many new classrooms have been organized and enrollment has increased until the school now has 21 classrooms. Parents will tour the classrooms and meet their children's teachers from 7:30 to 8 p. m.

Mrs. Mary Mann will address parents at 8 o'clock on the subject "Why I Attend P.T.A." There will also be a business meeting and refreshments will be served following adjournment. The executive board of the association met on Sept. 6 to discuss plans for the coming year. Parents are urged to demonstrate their interest in their children's education by a full attendance at tomorrow night's and all future meetings.

MAYOR REELECTED

CALLAHAN (AP)—L. D. Hodges was reelected mayor of this Nassau County town yesterday, defeating W. D. Copay, a write-in opponent, 25 to 17.

Stadium Is Scene Of Event

A gigantic pep rally and pow-wow was planned last night by the Seminole Chiefs Club for Tuesday night, Sept. 18, at the Sanford Memorial Baseball Stadium beginning at 7:30 p. m.

The pow-wow and rally will feature the introduction of members of this year's Sanford Seminoles by the coaches, which will include their weight, class and position; a description by Coach Bill Fleming of the offense and defensive setions, with the team running through a few of the plays.

Dr. A. W. Epps Jr., chairman of the club's program committee, said that the pow-wow and rally, coming just two days prior to the season's kick-off game, should attract hundreds of Seminole County football fans.

Thomas Binger, chairman of the membership committee, and vice president of the club, said that there are now more than 80 members of the organization which was formed primarily to increase interest in local high school sports activities. "We will be on hand the night of the rally to tell the crowd attending the pow-wow some of the real business of the organization and to accept memberships."

The Seminole Chiefs Club, at last night's meeting, headed by President John Schirard, set the policies of the organization relative to the spending of the club's funds. Seminole High School Principal Andrew Bracken recommended that the club's funds not go through the school accounts and that expenditures be made by the club membership. The policy was unanimously adopted by the club membership.

Several of the projects of the club were outlined which included building a stadium for high school athletic use, the taking of motion pictures of each game, and the purchase of an athletic bus to transport teams to their games.

Athletic Director Fred Ganas reported on the financial condition of the Seminole High School Athletic association. With a balance of $4.00 at the beginning of the 1955-56 season, Ganas reported that total receipts amounted to $9,041.04; expenditures came to $6,111.19, with $2,929.85 for football, $1,008.37 for basketball and $719.31 for baseball. ## Presbyterian Sr. High Young People Plan Beach Retreat

The Senior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church will have an overnight retreat at New Smyrna Beach, Friday afternoon through Saturday afternoon, Sept. 14 and 15.

The purpose of this retreat is for planning the fall program of the Senior High Fellowship. The Rev. Angus G. Melms, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, will open the retreat after supper with an inspirational message. Then the Flying Squadron of the Youth Council of the St. John's Presbyterian — Kathy Dillon, Susan Fischer, Arthur Young, from churches in Orlando and Beverly Teagle and Jamie Marsh from churches in Daytona Beach — will talk to the group on the work of the Presbyterian young people in the St. John's Presbytery. The young people will then divide into three commission groups and do the actual planning for their program for the fall, bringing their reports to the whole group at the Saturday morning meeting.

The young people have set up a varied program of recreation to accompany the planning session. The following Christian Education leaders will be at the retreat to help the group round out their program—the Rev. Angus G. Melms, Miss Rebecca Stevens, Senior High Departmental Sunday School Superintendent; Comdr. L. B. Libbey, Senior High Sunday School teacher; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crumley, Adult Advisors for the Senior High Fellowship, and Miss Katherine Brown, Director of Christian Education.

Transportation to the retreat will be provided from the church at 4 p. m. and again at 6 p. m. The retreat will begin with supper at 7 p. m. and end with a worship service Saturday afternoon at 8 p. m.

Fox Is Named Demo Executive Group's Campaign Leader

The Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee named John Fox as its campaign chairman for the forthcoming election in November, at their meeting this week.

Fox will serve along with other committee members which include Mack N. Cleveland Jr., Gordon Frederick, O. P. Hornod, Ernest Housholder, and Volie A. Williams Jr.

Campaign materials will be available in about a week, Democratic Executive Committee members were told. This material will include bumper stripes, campaign buttons and other materials.

James H. Lee of Oviedo, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee advised the members that a headquarters will be established at a later date.

The committee, it was revealed, will send a delegation to the forthcoming rally on Saturday in Orlando. The delegation will include: J. G. Blankenship, Mrs. Ava Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John Fox, Robert S. Bingham, Mrs. Roy Tillis and Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith.

Rainfall Spotty Throughout State During Last Month

LAKELAND (AP)—Rainfall was spotty throughout Florida during August, the Weather Bureau reported Tuesday, but generally was less than normal.

Much of North and Northwest Florida received less than they got during the previous two months. The drought which has plagued the Southern part of the peninsula most of the summer continued.

But some spots received above average rain. The main ones were West Palm Beach and Apalachicola and a four-county area made up of Highlands, Hardee, Polk and Osceola.

Localized thunderstorms were credited with drenching those spots at regular intervals. Wauchole in Hardee received 12.11 inches, the heaviest total recorded during August in the state.

Most other peninsular points received 2 to 3 inches, some 1 1/2 inches below normal. Coastal locations got 4 to 6 inches which is 2 to 4 less than normal.

The driest areas were west and northeast of Tallahassee, especially the counties bordering Georgia. Fernandina Beach north of Jacksonville was the driest reporting point, receiving only .96 inch.

Temperatures were near or slightly above average, the hottest weather being recorded during the first two weeks of the month. A mass of cool air descended on northwest Florida Aug. 31 and remained until Aug. 24, helping lower the average temperature.

Lightning killed one person Aug. 27 in Escambia County. Several funnel clouds were sighted but little damage was reported. Funnel clouds indicate tornado winds that do not ordinarily touch the ground.

Fire Engulfs 14 Rooms Of Hotel
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Fire swept through 14 rooms of the Seminole Hotel in downtown Jacksonville last night, and one guest died—apparently of a heart attack—in the excitement. Deputy Fire Chief J. J. Harvey blamed "smoking in bed" for the blaze, which broke on the eighth floor of the 10-story structure about 9:30 p.m.
The fire was quickly controlled; about 170 guests of the 240-room hotel were evacuated—some on firemen's ladders.
Several persons required first aid for smoke and cuts from broken glass.
James Demos, 70, a long-time resident of the hotel, was the heart attack victim.
William M. Nolting, hotel manager, estimated damage at $20,000.

Checking Automotive Equipment Big Factor In Traffic Safety

The nut behind the wheel still continues to be the biggest cause of auto accidents. Faulty equipment—poor brakes, headlights, tires and so forth—also play a major role in the highway toll, however.

About half the cars inspected for safety stickers in one of our principal cities, did not qualify the first time they were tested. The main trouble was headlights; which were either too bright or one-eyed or out entirely. Next came brakes; then followed trouble with the steering mechanism, rear lights, windshield wipers and the exhaust, in that order.

In one state, police report that during the first seven months of 1956 accidents attributed to tire failures killed seventeen persons on a famous turnpike. Cars are frequently ruled off turnpikes because of poor tires.

By no means all states are this careful about automotive equipment as a factor in traffic safety. Even where the law sets minimum standards, enforcement often is lax or non-existent.

Reproductions

Not many years ago, it was a rare thing for an American home to contain any reasonably good copies of first-rate art. Such reproductions as one found were apt to be dingy or garish prints that gave only a dim idea of what the original might look like.

Happily, this state of affairs is on the way out. Many so-called middle class homes now boast quite faithful copies of paintings that hang in the world's finest art collections. Numerous museums and galleries also rent paintings to homes, and more and more families are acquiring originals.

Despite this burgeoning interest, however, one of the most satisfying art forms is still generally neglected. In popular mind, sculpture is associated with parks and museums. Yet accurate reproductions of sculpture may now be obtained as easily as prints of famous paintings. We suspect, however, when word gets around, many a household will enjoy the special satisfaction of having a small but good piece of sculpture on display.

For the United States is growing up, culturally speaking.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Do not worry.—Matthew 6:25
 It is one thing to think things through from all angles, but having reached a final conclusion as to what is wise and best to do, worry gets you nowhere. Often we have known shattered disappointments turn out to be glorious successes. Do your best and wait calmly.

Overfeeding Affecting World's Health Says White

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's heart physician, said here that overfeeding may be affecting the health of the world more than starvation.

Dr. White spoke on what he called the "almost epidemic" increase of coronary heart disease among leading citizens of all nations. In a speech prepared for delivery to the second European Congress of Cardiology, he said:

"If overnutrition should be found to be an important factor in the increase of the universal threat of coronary heart disease in the leading citizens of the world it may play even more of a role in the destiny of the world than undernutrition of hundreds of millions of representatives of the common man."

Dr. White added: "Interestingly enough in some countries like the USA where prosperity has reached even the common man, the laborer, the forester, coronary heart disease follows along too.

"No longer is it limited to the business executive, the doctor, the lawyer, and the government leader."

Have You Heard About New Medical Services?

of HERMAN H. SCHUBERT, M.D.
 MEDICAL services and facilities, in which I believe many of you will be interested, have recently been made available to the public.

The Nephrologic Foundation of New York and New Jersey, for example, has established a Coelocent Bank. It will try to supply hydrocortisone at reduced prices or at no cost at all to victims of childhood nephrosis who are unable to afford the usual retail price of this costly drug.

Applications for hydrocortisone should be made in writing by the patient's physician. They should be sent to Henry W. Kessler, M.D., The National Nephrologic Foundation, 163 East 64th Street, New York 14, N. Y.

If approved, the hydrocortisone will be shipped to the patient.

Plastic Surgery of Face
 The Society for the Rehabilitation of the Facially Deformed recently established the Clinic for Reconstructive Plastic Surgery of the Face. It is located in the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, 150 East 64th Street, New York City.

The clinic is the first in the U.S. to be devoted exclusively to the entire field of facial disfigurements including those of congenital nature or resulting from accidents, injuries or cancer. These are identified as cleft lip and palate, abnormalities of the eyes, ears and nose, nerve defects, burns, defects of the skin, and malformations of the jaws, teeth and bones.

A group of six specialists staffs the clinic. This type of plastic surgery, I might remind you, has no relation to the cosmetic or beautifying type of plastic surgery.

Film on Epilepsy
 Anyone with epilepsy, or anyone who has contact with it, probably will be interested in seeing the new dramatic motion picture presentation of epilepsy, "The Dark Wave." The picture was premiered recently in New York and will be shown throughout the country.

Produced in cooperation with the Variety Club Foundation to Combat Epilepsy, it should help greatly to clear up many unfortunate misunderstandings that exist about this disease.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Q. E. L.: I have had a cracking on the side of my lips. What is the cause?

A. Answer: The most common cause for cheliosis is vitamin B<sub>2</sub> deficiency or riboflavin deficiency.

That is bad. For though the main responsibility for keeping an automobile in good mechanical order rests with the owner, city and state governments also have a responsibility. Just as they curb speed and punish violators, they ought to force compliance with vehicle safety standards. Faulty brakes or glaring lights make even a good driver a menace on the road.

Household Gadgets

Not long ago a newly-installed garbage disposer made what the lady of the house described to her spouse as a "strange humming noise" and then stopped dead. The spouse, a fellow short on mechanical talents, did know about fuses, so he went to inspect the disposer fuse. Nothing wrong there.

Then the housewife discovered another small fuse on the disposer itself. She thought it rattled; her husband thought it looked all right, though it was of a type unfamiliar to him. The electrician confirmed the wife's suspicions and popped in a new fuse. Result: one working garbage disposer; one embarrassed husband; one needless service bill.

All of which illustrates one of the pitfalls of the electronic age. We're acquiring so many household gadgets that merely to keep them going requires some specialized knowledge. Manufacturers do their best with directions—which many a householder doesn't read.

The only remedy that comes to mind is a high school course on how to keep appliances contented.

We know some adults that could profit by it.

Former Presidents

Both of our living former presidents are still active men. They made speeches at their party conventions this year. Despite the great strain of the office they once held they continue to be men of energy and dedication.

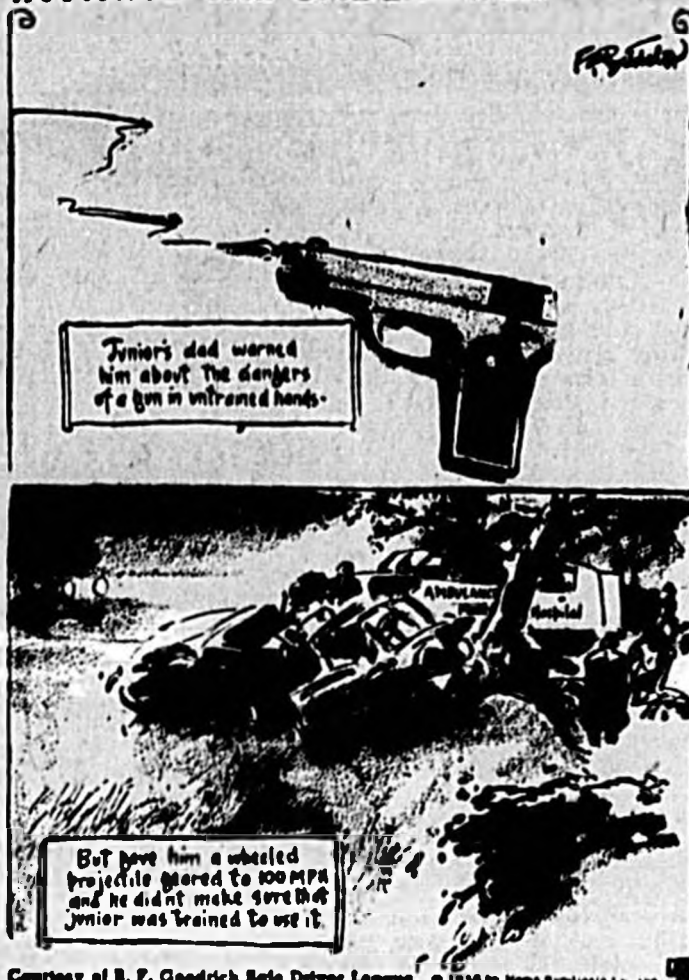

It has frequently been suggested that some official use be made of former presidents. One suggestion has been that they be made honorary members of the Senate, with the right to sit in that body and make speeches, but without the right to vote. This would allow the senators to take advantage of the former presidents' knowledge of legislative processes from the executive point of view.

The office of president of the United States is one of the most important any man can fill. Whether or not one agrees with the politics of the man who occupies that office, one cannot help but agree that in a sense he leaves a great many useful things. It seems too bad that men with experience in that sort are allowed to depart from Washington. Surely some place suitable to their abilities and status could be found for them.

Congress would do well to consider the matter. A democracy works best when it takes advantage of the talents of its most able citizens. Letting the knowledge and experience of former presidents go to waste seems foolish.

Today's politicians don't ask audiences to "lend us your ears." They behave as if they held both the first and second mortgage on them.

Many Adults Envy School Children

By HAI BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP)—As millions of school children troop off to school again, many adults know a moment of sadness and almost envy.

They are swept by a passing desire to be young themselves, and an old phrase tugs at their mind: "If I had my life to live over again."

Well I know what I'd do, I certainly wouldn't rush through kindergarten if I had a second chance. I believe I'd stay on in kindergarten, year after stubborn year, until the school crumbled in ruin.

A return to my pimply and boisterous high school adolescence holds no appeal to me. If I had to live through the teen ages again I'd certainly demand double pay and time off for good behavior. Nor do I pine to live again the rah-rah years on a college campus amid the climbing ivy.

But kindergarten? Ah, that's a different matter. What man wouldn't like to live again the year of his real prime, the time when he stood on his first real summit and knew the thrill of feeling he was king of the hill?

This week, seeing scores of scrub-faced urchins being led by their mothers, I felt a wild wish that I could remake that journey again myself, and recapture the feelings that went with it.

A boy on his way to kindergarten when I was young was a Christopher Columbus, adventuring into an uncharted world. Most children didn't attend nursery schools. Kindergarten was a strange new continent full of rumored terrors and uncertain dangers.

Remember how clammy your palm felt in your mother's hand when you asked along the way?

"Mama, if you do something bad, do they really shut you up in a dark cloakroom all by yourself and close all the doors?"

"Mama, will there be anybody there I know?"

"Mama, what if you do something bad but don't know it's bad when you do it. Do they still make you hold out your hand and hit it with a ruler?"

"Oh, hush child, I'll never get there if you keep asking questions."

Remember how awesome the teacher looked, and how, as she bent down to greet you, you could count the crinkly wrinkles around her warm kindly eyes?

She seemed 1,000 years old, and she may have been all of 45.

Remember the blind panic you felt when your mother went out the door and left you standing there, silent amid the flock of other silent lonely children?

But soon the strangeness began to wear off as the teacher started a game. By the time your mother came to take you home, you had made your first flight from the nest. You had learned of another world outside the world of home, a world full of wonderful adventure and shining excitements. So many things to do. Every day something new—drawing a white sheep on a green field, learning to gallop to music, discovering the magic realm of poetry by listening to the teacher read "Little Boy Blue," making your first lifelong friend, falling in love with your first red-haired girl.

What other year goes by so swiftly? In what other year does the mind leap so far as it does in kindergarten? None. If I had my way, good kindergarten teachers would get the same pay as top college professors. They are more important guides on the royal road to learning.

My wife, Frances, who gets a bit fed up with hearing me ramble on like this, sometimes says: "You know, Rover, I think you've been homesick all your life for kindergarten. Why don't you go back sometime and spend a post-graduate year in one?" Believe me, if I knew a kindergarten that'd take a pupil who shaves, I might be tempted.

World May Become Full Of Genes

By BEM PRICE
 Associated Press News Analyst
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians keep testing nuclear weapons in Siberia. From time to time the United States lets go with a few on a mid-Pacific island. The British plan to do a bit of testing in Australia.

Some scientists are worried that the radioactive fallout from these experiments is going to produce a world population just loaded with crazy, mixed-up genes.

Genes are nature's built-in gaugers for determining whether children are going to have brown eyes or blue, two heads or one, and whether they are going to be pilots or geniuses.

As it now stands, the situation is enough to make a pessimist smile—a pessimistic smile, of course.

The latest news from the world-is-going-to-pot from comes from Atomic Energy Commissioner John von Neumann.

Von Neumann said in a week-end world broadcast that within a few decades mankind will utilize global climate control and raise the awful prospect of weather warfare.

Can you imagine sending lightning bolts hurtling down on your enemies? Or maybe aiming a hurricane? Or perhaps causing drought or floods?

Coupled with atomic and by drogen bombs, this weather warfare business has fascinating possibilities for utter world destruction.

But there is a ray of hope—the silver lining in the mushroom cloud.

The same day that Von Neumann predicted weather warfare in a few decades, the Los Alamos, N.M., atomic energy laboratory disclosed it had been working for the past year on atomic powered rockets.

Presumably, if and when these A-rockets are perfected, mankind will have the means to blast off for Mars, Venus, Jupiter, or any of the other assorted planets knocking about in space.

Who knows but what mankind will be able to find and colonize another planet somewhere in that mysterious void now known as the universe?

By the time mankind succeeds in making this planet totally uninhabitable, perhaps he will have perfected the means for leaving it.

And this, naturally, raises an interesting subject. Since accommodations in space ships probably will be fairly limited, who will get to make the journey to salvation?

Under the Democratic system everybody should have an equal opportunity. Under the Russian

BURGLARS BREAK INTO SCHOOL
 JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Burglars, believed to be juveniles, broke into the partially completed Ocala Forest School during the week-end and stole some pellets that look like 22 cartridges.

Gene Griffin, chief criminal investigator, said he would like to warn the thieves not to try any target practice with the pellets. They are highly explosive powder charges used in a special type gun to shoot bolts into concrete and can explode a rifle or pistol with enough force to maim or kill.

system there will be no argument since the losses will make the selections.

If the Democratic system is chosen with its interminable arguments, talk about the rights of man and justice, then life will continue on planet "X" as it has on earth. Mankind, in brief, can go on being contrary.

But if the Russian system with its planned economy and thought control is selected, it wouldn't be worth the trip anyhow.

Wouldn't it be nice if we never had to make the choice?

MR. AND MRS. PAUL DROPCHUK

Miss Lois Ann Dobson Is Wed To Paul Peter Dropchuk, Sunday

Miss Lois Ann Dobson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Dobson of this city, became the bride of Paul Peter Dropchuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dropchuk of Hamtramck, Mich., at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the First Christian Church.

Potted palms, baskets of white gladioli, pompons and chrysanthemums and two seven branched candelabra, bearing tall lighted cathedral candles formed the background for the double ring ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Perry L. Stone.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. N. V. Farmer, organist. Mrs. Richard Galloway sang "I Love You Truly", "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a ballerina length dress of chantilly lace over nylon net and bridal satin. The basque bodice came to a point at the front and back. The short sleeves were tucked, and the wide yoke, banded by three rows of satin, was set off by the tiny Peter Pan collar also edged in satin. The bride's short lace mits complimented her dress. A halo of satin encrusted with seed pearls and iridescent held her fingertip length veil of silk illusion. She carried a white orchid topped Bible showered with white satin streamers and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a diamond set white gold cross and chain, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. William D. Hawkins served as her cousin's matron of honor, and only attendant. She was gowning in a ballerina length dress of Nile green net over green taffeta featuring a scooped neckline and short green taffeta bolero. She wore green lace mitts and her head piece was a small halo hat, of green taffeta. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and roses accented with greenery.

Jimmy L. Horton served as best man, and ushers were William D. Hawkins and Richard Butler.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN PAUL BRADY

Candlelight Service Unites Miss Pat Dunn, Paul Braddy

Miss Patricia Ellen Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. San Dunn, and John Paul Braddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brandt, of Geneva, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 4:00 in the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Angus McInnis officiated at the ceremony, which was performed against a background of fern, white gladioli and white pompon zinnias, softly illuminated by the glow of 28 burning tapers.

Mrs. Joe Corley, soloist, sang the traditional wedding songs, "I Love You Truly" and "Because". She was accompanied by Mrs. George Touhy, organist, who also played the wedding march and other bridal selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her unusual gown of shimmering white taffeta, which was shirred all over, from its strapless top down to the wide, wide ruffles at the bottom, which stood out beautifully over a crinoline petticoat. Over this was worn a lace jacket, featuring a tiny pompon and a Peter Pan collar, which was scattered with seed pearls and edged with nylon lace.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was fastened to a half hat of ribbon tulle and seed pearls. She carried a satin-covered bouquet with a purple-throated orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Margaret Moore, who served as maid of honor and only attendant to the bride, was lovely in a melon-colored gown of crystalite, featuring a basque waist and a very full skirt. She carried a white lace fan with a cascade of carnations and wore a bandeau of carnations.

Robert McGill, of Geneva, served as best man and ushers were Walter Graham and Lloyd Reynolds.

Mrs. Dunn chose for her daughter's wedding a blue silk print with which she wore white accessories and a beautiful corsage of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Braddy wore a light pink linen with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately after the wedding the friends and relatives of the bridal couple gathered at the educational building for a reception of which Mrs. Earl Summerall was in charge. Mrs. Hugh Braddy served at the punch bowl and Mrs. William Tindal served the cake. The bride's book was kept by Miss Gracie Smith and receiving at the door, was Mrs. Donald Dunn. Floating hostesses were Mrs. John Dunn, Miss Mary Rose Beyer, Mrs. Martin Dyer and Miss Jackie Davis.

White gladioli, varicolored hibiscus and fern were used extensively throughout the educational building. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and featured the traditional wedding cake, with a miniature bride and groom on top.

The new Mrs. Braddy chose for her going away outfit a sheer yellow nylon which featured the long torso line with a sleeveless, scoop neck top and a full skirt. This was complimented with a charcoal duster with a raised pattern of yellow daisies, which matched the yellow of the dress to perfection. Black accessories completed her ensemble.

After a brief honeymoon trip to Daytona Beach, the newlyweds will make their home at 2108 Palmetto Ave.

Mrs. Braddy is a native of Sanford, attended Sanford schools, where she was a member of the H. Y. Glee Club, and Rainbow Girls. Her husband was born in Dublin, Ga., but also attended school in Sanford. He served overseas in Germany and at present is employed by the Atlas Sewing Center in Orlando.

Personality Most Important Asset Says Popular Young Male Student

How important is a good personality?
"It's the most important asset a girl can have" according to one popular young male student. "If she happens to be good looking with a nice figure too, more power to her. But my experience is that beautiful girls depend on their looks to carry them on to social success."

Pretty girls, he says, are not always the most popular because they think the world owes them some sort of special adoration.

"Take a girl I dated recently," this 18-year-old student says, "she delayed us 15 minutes at home even though we were late for our date with another group, waiting somewhere for us. Then she pouted because she didn't like the evening's schedule, although she had nothing more constructive to suggest in the way of entertainment, even if we could have changed our plans."

When you are out with a beauty she is likely to spend a good deal of time glancing in the mirror, powdering and re-fitting her makeup. She worries about her looks constantly, this young man says.

He insists too, that pretty girls are usually bad sports. "The very fact that they are good looking," he says, "seems to make them determined to shun any form of entertainment that will even muss their hair."

His examples include swimming, skating, skiing.

"Oh, yes they'll sit around in a bathing suit and look pretty but they don't want to get their hair wet or ruin their makeup," he says. "Also they may curtail the most tremendous wardrobe, riding clothes, ski stuff, skating skis that are worn like a fashion show rather than to contribute to the activity planned for them."

This young man seems to feel that a girl with a winning personality automatically is entertaining, that she makes a sincere effort to be gay on a date, and that it just sort of goes with her type.

She is likely to be a better sport too, he says, enjoying any entertainment planned by her date, he says.

What does the average male dater like to do, this young man was asked "and whatever happened to the idea that when a man dated a girl he was sup-

Lyman Boasts Good Starting Lineup

By B. HUGH ANSLEY
Lyman Greyhound head coach Jim Payne faces his first season leading an independent ball club by fielding the best starting eleven in several years, backed by the simplest bench of reserves in several years. Out of a hoped-for 25 playable griders only 15 are returning lettermen, and nine of the starting lineup are graduating seniors. The strongest points of this heavy hard-hitting varsity are the tackle slots. Manning left tackle is the bruising, mammoth 353 pound Pete Van-Horn, last year's All-Conference selection in the now defunct Central Florida Conference. At the other tackle post is a speedy 185 pound Alton Boone.

When the Central Florida Conference closed last year, coach Payne enjoyed a great deal of success. He anticipated a head-to-head struggle with road trips all over the state in order to fill out his game schedule. Reflecting on this today, Payne said he had been much too pessimistic. Actually he was completely wrong. "We have a wonderful schedule with some scrappy teams," he said. "In fact, we have had more offers from better schools than previously, and even though we were unable to work in some of the games we have wanted for years, we anticipate bigger and better schools as competition as we grow. We haven't even made application for another conference."

"Sure, our starting line is championship caliber," coach Payne said. "And naturally they're unhappy that they don't have a crown to aim at. But they're in high spirits, and they'll be in better physical shape than they have been in previous years. They're working hard to get in shape and keep in shape. They understand that they'll necessarily have to be a team man all season. They also know that top physical condition cuts down injuries, and if we get a single one we'll be hurt bad."

But even the ultra-conservative Payne is optimistic enough to feel certain of at least 50 per cent of his games. Payne's new assistant coaches, Frank Gora, formerly of Oviedo and Bill Frazier, formerly of Winter Park feel that St. Cloud and Umstead will be the traditionally tough teams to beat.

The Lyman Greyhound open their 1956 football schedule Saturday week, Sept. 23, on their

SHS Offense Not Materializing

By B. HUGH ANSLEY
The 65 member squad of the Sanford Seminoles has a problem. The offense has not materialized. All of the 14 backfieldmen gunning for a number one slot have approximately the same problems. The timing is off and the ground machine has failed to crank. The razzle-dazzle looks tired and the boys are tripping over themselves.

All this may be a little exaggerated, but when compared to the smoothness of the defense, the offense can't get started. That scoring substance has failed to jell as yet. The defense has materialized well, however, and points toward the strong part of the team this season. Head coach Bill Fleming continues to back up assistant coach Dave Laude's yesterday's statement that the keen competition has brought out the best potential in all the boys. "This is especially true on defense," Fleming said. "The defense is already good, and while the backfield is bogging down now, we have a great deal of protection in a powerful defense, and that takes considerable pressure off us."

This week's nod for outstanding players both go to linemen. As a matter of fact, to two centers. Brantley Schirard and Jack Stotsky have turned in stalwart defensive play. They spearhead the slick Seminoles defensive ball game. They are largely responsible for the very much noted lack of scoring during the game scrimmage between two very closely matched squads.

The Seminoles leaders have a good thing if they can hold onto it. Not a single position has been filled for the starting lineup of the season opens against Cocoa, and the Seminoles field two teams of almost equal merit. This of course, could possibly cause some of the pressure responsible for the roughness in the operation of the offense and at the same time account for the toughness of the defensive teams.

Coach Jim Jenkins will bring a powerhouse Cocoa club to Sanford Sept. 21, to open the season as the Sanford Seminoles crash into the Orange Belt Conference for the first time. Cocoa shares the rating spotlight in the conference by virtue of its veteran club that turned in an excellent season last year. The Cocoa club boasts power and precision, and they run equally well from the Single Wing and the Split-T.

This is an all-important game for the Seminoles. If they edge Cocoa their chances for the OBC championship will be good. It seems that the Seminoles defense will be counted on to slow down the Cocoa drive. But assistant coach Bud Leyer warned, "We can't play defense all night and expect to win. We're proud of our defense, but our offensive headache has got to be relieved. We're looking for a combination that will give us a scoring punch. If Cocoa breaks loose to score we'll have to be able to stay in the game."

Friday night, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. in Memorial Stadium the Seminoles kickoff the season in the Orange Belt Conference. In the meantime the members will be working hard with their griders to solve their problems.

The GOLDEN WITCH

By ZOLA ROSS

CHAPTER FIVE: LIGHTS BLAZED from the Court house and Jason waited for Michael in the dining room.

"Where the devil have you been?" Jason demanded. "They say the case may go to the jury tomorrow. I've got four men ready to swear they saw Meg down before Jenny and Nathan found her with the body."

"And how much did this fancy testimony cost you, Jason?"

Jason glowered. "None of your business. I'll have 'em in court tomorrow."

Michael shook his head. "No." "Too noble? Let Meg hang for your nobility?"

"No," Michael sank wearily into a chair. "Too smart. Perjured testimony like a mad dog. You never know when it will bite. You can't be sure who'll be bitten. If one of your boys breaks down, Meg would hang instead of getting life."

"Maybe you should let her take the stand."

"She doesn't want to do it."

The prospect of that decision was still scary. He knew Meg's refusal to testify was a final count against her, yet he was aware she would make a poor witness in her own defense.

Jason stormed off and as Michael headed for the stairs, he heard the back door open. Gretchen emerged from the kitchen.

"Coffee, Michael? I just got some from my daughter's but I can't say I'm ready for her."

He understood and shared her wish for company. He followed her into the warm, bright kitchen, accepted some milk. Gretchen's hand shook as she poured the coffee.

"Seems to me I smell death in the air—and things do go in a hurry."

"Threat?" he said absently. "Kemp? Who else?"

She sat opposite him, her shoulders hunched together as if warding off cold. "I-I guess a body can't rightly count a cat dying—but Jacob being with Meg so long and all—"

"Jacob's dead? What happened?"

"I don't know. Found her under the front porch day after the murder—"

Gretchen shuddered. "I've seen some strange things since that day—"

TV Programming Moves In Cycles

NEW YORK (AP)—Television programming moves in cycles. But statistically it does more.

A television programming cycle is a kind of combative process in which one popular idea kindles similar ideas—until nearly all the coals and a large part of the viewing public are burned out. Because television burns up ideas quickly, cycles change.

A suspense history is a dangerous simplification, but here is one separate view of TV programming:

In its first years the industry was experimental with a wide variety of subjects, showing an interest in content of program. Finally it moved into a melodrama cycle with an ensuing period of quiescence—the inevitable sign that programming is catching its breath for a new cycle.

Now there appeared a preoccupation with form. The hour program was introduced and became an accepted as the half-hour show. Again there was a period of quiescence. Then came the innovation of the 30-minute program—and that is the cycle in which we find ourselves in this coming season.

For it appears that this will be a season during which the public digests the fact of the regular 30-minute program.

The most dramatic example of this is Playhouse 99, the first regular, weekly 30-minute drama program to come on the home screen—on CBS-TV beginning Oct. 4.

Yet there are signs that the mere fact of a 30-minute program is not enough to satisfy viewing demands. There is growing concern with the content of 30 minutes. For example:

The sponsors of the 30-minute Ford Star Jubilee are grappling with CBS over the cost of "You're the Top," the Cole Porter story which is currently planned for the program's debut Oct. 4. The sponsors believe the program demands state with such drawing power as Ethel Merman and Fred Astaire—names long associated with Porter tunes. How it will end is anyone's guess. But the basic idea is: "It's big, it has to be really big."

The most important measure for replenishing the nation's wood supply, according to the U.S. Forest Service's Timber Resources Review, are reduction of losses from fire, insects, and diseases, planting idle acres, improving understocked timber stands, reduction of wood waste, and cutting to maintain productivity.

Scientists Seeking To Harness Atom's Power For Rockets

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—Scientists in this atomic city are seeking to harness the power of the atom to drive rockets across continents or into space.

First word that such a project existed—and has existed for more than a year—came buried in a brief routine news release announcing the employment of a new engineer.

It said that William F. Carlson of Bristol, Conn., had been employed to work with the N Division. A later paragraph explained the N Division was "concerned with the research and development of nuclear rocket propulsion."

Neither Atomic Energy Commission spokesmen nor the University of California, which operates Los Alamos for the AEC, would say anything further.

One laboratory employe said news of the project may have been released in order to attract top scientists to the work.

It was disclosed that the head of the N Division is Dr. Homer Schreiber, a native of McMinnville, Ore., a Ph. D. from Purdue, and one of the scientists who helped develop the first atomic bomb under the Army's Manhattan Project.

Lane Home Scene Of Shower Feting Mrs. Cassidy

A stork shower was held for Mrs. J. D. Cassidy Jr., Monday evening at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. J. C. Lane on the Old Orlando Highway. Mrs. Lane was assisted by Mrs. J. R. Dunaway.

One of the four games played during the evening was one in which a plate was placed on the head of the contestant and she attempted to transfer peas from a dish to the plate on her head. The only catch was she had to pick up the peas with a knife. The winners of the games were Mrs. Hanner, Mrs. Ergle, Mrs. Warmack and Mrs. Lane.

A large basket was decorated in which all the gifts were placed and presented to Mrs. Cassidy. After she had opened her many lovely gifts, refreshments of cake, punch, potato chips, and milk were served to the guests.

Those present were: Mrs. W. C. Gay, Mrs. G. C. Warmack, Mrs. Ralph Kuhn, Mrs. Clarence Ergle, Mrs. W. O. Nolan, Mrs. R. E. Soderblom, Little Miss Linda Soderblom, Mrs. W. H. Hanner, Mrs. C. C. ## Reardons To Hold Ceramics Classes For Cub Scouts

BY MARY FOWLER
DE BARY — To one who confessedly stands in awe of all art, the lovely ceramics of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reardon present invitations to learning. The Reardons are so genuinely enthusiastic about the modeling, tinting and glazing of their designs, that callers remark wistfully, "I wish I could make something half as pretty" and the hosts ask them to stay and watch the process.

In Pittsburgh, the Reardons taught this work, themselves first having taken it up as a hobby, being instructed in schools of the East and the West, with some of their best inspirations coming from a visit to California. In De Bary, to the utter delight of the Cub Scouts, they are going to hold classes once more, for these young men. "It will be as rewarding for us as for them," smiled Mrs. Reardon. "We were surprised in Pittsburgh when we taught the Brownies, by their innate sense of proportion and their inventiveness in characterization. For instance, one made a Santa Claus that was so lifelike I always think of him as the real Santa. Children can teach us all."

We wandered about, amazed and openly curious when our hosts gently paraded moulds and from each matrix brought out artistic bits that were just being "born." "Some of the larger and more intricate figures," explained Mr. Reardon, "are poured into separate molds and reassembled after they are baked. One must learn to handle them gently, too. If the pupil doesn't want to stain them one of the 77 colors and tints available, they will come out bluish. Otherwise they go back into 1850° heat. (We have a huge 220 volt kiln coming in from Texas any day now). If gold touches are desired or delicate features are to be modeled, this is done and then they go in to mature, at 1200°."

We can see that the Cub Scouts are going to delight their parents with charming gifts from this series of lessons learned at the Reardon home during the autumn.

One White, 2 Negro Pupils Attend Class

CLAY, Ky., (AP) — Only one white and two Negro pupils and seven of a teaching staff of 17 showed up for class today in the face of this community's passive resistance against integration.

The mayor said whites would boycott the school.

In sharp contrast to past days, no crowd showed up at the school where the enrollment is 500.

The two Negro pupils, James Gordon, 10, and his sister, Teresa, 9, arrived an hour and a half before class was to start. They played in the school yard and talked to newspapermen and National Guardsmen posted in the area.

Several students came to school but quickly left after they had picked up books and personal belongings. Seven appeared ready to stay but six left before the assembly bell. One unidentified white student was still in the school.

Mayor Herman Z. Clark outspoken integration foe, said: "I'll not rest until James and Teresa Gordon return to a school where they belong. We will follow a policy of passive resistance by keeping our children out of school until the Gordons leave."

Police Find Boy Reared Like Chick

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Police discovered today a boy—apparently about 7—who they said has never bathed, cannot eat human food, who grunts like an animal and roosts like a chicken.

Sgt. Hugh Ross said the "pitiful little boy" was found in a hen house at Down Patrick, County Down, 15 miles from Belfast.

He has been taken to a home in Belfast and turned over to a team of physicians for examination.

Sgt. Ross said a group of children playing "hide and seek" ran into the hen house, which adjoins a cottage occupied by a widow and her two grown daughters.

The children found the boy perched on a roost with the hens and roosters.

"He cannot talk. He cannot walk and he cannot eat human food," (Continued on Page Seven)

SES Office May Open In Sanford

A survey that will be started next week will determine whether or not a State Employment Service office will be re-opened in Sanford, according to Tom Lawton Jr., manager of the Florida State Employment Service office in Orlando.

Two representatives of the agency will spend three or more weeks calling on business firms and farmers employing 10 or more people and investigating other phases of employment possibilities in this section. Lawton pointed out that should the office be established, it is probable that it would serve the fringe area of Volusia county that borders Seminola county. The program is designed to provide the service for economic areas rather than limit the functions of the office to a political subdivision, the Orlando executive said.

Today letters are being sent from Tallahassee in which William Norwood Jr., Director of the Florida State Employment Service is asking persons employing 10 or more people to cooperate fully with the team of surveyors in supplying accurate information. It is pointed out that the data are confidential.

Should any business or farm not get one of these letters, they should phone the local Chamber of Commerce office, Lawton said.

It is estimated that the field work for the report will take at least three weeks, after which action must be taken both in Tallahassee and Washington.

The growth of the number of workers in this area was called to Lawton's attention by the Chamber of Commerce here. Since the area was served to a large extent by the Orlando office and the facts were known to him, Lawton quickly made a preliminary review of conditions and was pleased to make the recommendation for the survey which it is hoped will lead to an office in Sanford, he said.

George Tonby and Clifford McKibbin, Chamber of Commerce officers urged the enthusiastic support of this effort. Business houses with a minimum of 10 on the payroll — and farmers who work 10 or more people should make sure that statistics from their operations are included. If the survey team fails to call in the next two weeks, the local Chamber of Commerce should be told of it. It means much to the county and to employers to have the office in Sanford, the trade body officials said.

Hobby Attending Special Meeting

Sheriff J. L. Hobby is attending a special meeting of the FBI School which is being held today at the Angel Hotel in Orlando.

The meeting, according to reports from the Sheriff's office, is a one-day called session.

Schoolteacher Charged With Unfair Discipline

The parents of three Seminole County children walked out of the meeting this morning of the Seminole County Board of Education saying, "We will await your answer."

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Cammack, residents of the Geneva area, were told by the board that "The Seminole County Board of Trustees has recommended that your children be transferred to Sanford schools, provided that you furnish transportation for them."

The mother and father of the three children told the board that their children were not now attending school and needed an immediate answer.

The discussions this morning at the regular meeting of the School Board grew out of charges made by Mr. and Mrs. Cammack that one of their children had been "spanked frequently by one of the teachers in the Geneva School, had been punished for going to the rest room outside of regular periods, and had recreation periods withdrawn because of disciplinary measures."

Cammack told the board that "it has been an unhappy situation from the first because of the reported whippings and unusual punishment."

"My children said that they didn't want to go to the Geneva School because the teacher didn't like them," said Cammack.

Chairman of the Board of Education, John Bramley, told the Board this morning that it is "the policy of the board not to furnish transportation for children (Continued on Page Seven)

Truck, Greyhound Bus Ram Head-On; 3 Persons Killed

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — A Greyhound bus and an auto hauling truck crashed head-on near Monroe early today, killing three persons and injuring 22, State Police said.

Troopers of the Erie post said the truck driver and two bus passengers were killed. Two of the dead were identified as Francis G. Pesko of Detroit, the trucker; and Mrs. Frankie Mae Semple, 38, of Detroit. The other victim was not identified immediately.

Six of the injured—one of them in critical condition—were admitted to Monroe hospitals, police said. The others were treated and released. All were bus passengers.

Sheriff's deputies said the bus, bound from Pittsburgh to Detroit, and the truck, outbound from Detroit with a load of new automobiles, collided at 3:30 a.m. on U. S. 24 just north of this southeastern Michigan community.

Deputies said the truck burst into flames and set the bus afire. Bus passengers escaped by crawling out through windows and an emergency exit, deputies said. Interiors of both vehicles were destroyed by flames.

The bus driver, Charles Kier of New Kensington, Pa., was reported in "very bad" condition at Mercy Hospital here. He suffered severe burns over most of his body.

Vessels Would Go Around

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States has no intention of shooting its way through the Suez Canal if Egypt blocks the passage of ships.

Dulles told a news conference the United States would favor diverting its vessels around Africa under such conditions, regardless of the extra cost involved.

He said the U. S. government is ready to consider dollar loans to friendly countries who might be unable to withstand such a financial burden.

Dulles appealed to Egypt to reconsider its initial violent objection to a plan for setting up an association of Suez canal users.

British Prime Minister Eden disclosed Britain, France and the United States would organize such an authority in a speech yesterday.

While Dulles' meeting with reporters was still in progress, the Egyptian Embassy announced that Ambassador Ahmed Hussein had called on Dulles a few minutes earlier to give him "the urgent message that the scheme which Sir Anthony Eden wants to impose on Egypt is an open and flagrant aggression on Egyptian sovereignty and its implementation means war."

The embassy said the ambassador told Dulles: "If the United States desires war then she may support this scheme but if her desire is to work for a peaceful solution, the scheme has to be abandoned."

Dulles' statement today apparently had the personal backing of President Eisenhower.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told reporters at Eisenhower's Gettysburg, Pa., farm that the President had conferred on the Suez crisis with Dulles by telephone before Dulles' news conference. The President was resting at his farm today.

Hagerty announced too that Eisenhower will fly here tomorrow afternoon for a White House conference with Premier Robert Menzies of Australia. Menzies headed the commission which failed to reach agreement with Egypt's President Nasser in recent Suez discussions in Cairo.

Dulles made no reference at his news conference to Hussein's visit. In response to questions Dulles said he hopes other nations will join the users' association. But he said the United States would go it alone with Britain and France if necessary.

Dulles said repeatedly the United States is not seeking to provoke war by helping set up the new Suez association.

This in effect, was the reply to Cairo denunciations of the association plan.

Dulles also said he could not recall that Eden ever had said Britain intends to shoot its way through the canal, if Egypt tries to stop British vessels from going through.

If Egypt refuses to allow vessels through, Dulles said, it would be in clear violation of the 1888 convention which promised access by all ships to the canal in peace and war.

It would be up to each country to decide what to do in such a case, Dulles said.

If Egypt halted any ships, he said, members which signed this 1888 convention would be free to take steps through the United Nations or take what Dulles called other appropriate action under the circumstances.

Dulles declined to spell out what he meant by other action. He said that if the questioner told him what the circumstances were at that time he could then tell him what the appropriate action might be.
