SHS

These boys of ours at Seminole High School, no matter how much they get, are always asking for more," the school principal added.

"Listen to this," Principal Bracken said, "Mrs. Hasty serves a quarter of a chicken for only 15c. Just the other day, he explained, I came down to lunch and had a large helping of turkey, rice and gravy, peas, a salad, and iced tea for only 30c, he said.

Lunch periods are 30 minutes. Principal Bracken and Lunch-room Manager Mrs. Hasty explained. Each student spends about 20 minutes eating. "We put through approximately 300 students in 10 minutes and serve a total of about 600 students in the two lunch periods.

There are six assistants to Mrs. Hasty in the lunchroom for serving and cooking, with 14 to 15 student assistants who help serve at lunchtime, and four teachers checking each student as the complete the serving lines.

Menus are prepared, said Mrs. Hasty, generally about two weeks in advance.

"Diet-conscious girls or husky football players, can eat to their heart's desire from what we believe is the finest food that can be found—we're proud of the way our boys and girls eat," said Mrs. Hasty.

At the Christmas Season the citizens of America pause to count their blessings and give thanks. It is a time for feasting and rejoicing, also for helping their less fortunate brothers.

Countless numbers of people in Florida already know of the work the Society has been doing for more than 54 years for Florida's very young citizens. Countless more SHOULD know about it. If you could see some of these children when they come to the Society, pathetic, neglected, ill-treated little ones—and watch the transformation as they respond to wholesome care and loving interest—you would be overjoyed to have a part in such a rewarding work. Health and well-being restored, hope and confidence replacing despair and distrust, hearts made happy, future homes of affection and security provided—can you think of a more worthwhile investment?

If you, the people, will provide the money needed, the Society can and will do the job. The record speaks for itself—one thousand and six children were made happier during the nine months of 1955 through their services. YOU can help by sending a donation to the Society, where it will go to work immediately in providing more services to children.

There is also a great need for clothing—all sizes from infants through teenagers—boys and girls. They can use to advantage any good outgrown clothing, too. Send your check or package to the Children's Home Society of Florida, 3027 San Diego Road, Jacksonville, which is the State headquarters for services extending over the entire State. And many helpless little ones will thank you!

Officials Arrive Today To Ready For PGA Open

The first contingent of PGA officials will arrive in Sanford today to begin preparations for next week's Mayfair Inn $15,000 PGA Open.

Manager Frank Mebane Jr., of the Mayfair Inn said this morning that Earl Cruse will arrive today to set up necessary materials and arrangements to take care of the details of the PGA tournament.

Mebane said today that Freddie Haas noted New Orleans, La. amateur who turned pro has indicated that he will be in Sanford for next week's tournament and play. Haas finished second in the 1955 Colonial Invitational tournament, tied for fourth in the Virginia Beach Open and tied for third in the Houston Open. In years past Haas has won the Miami Open, Long Beach Open and Portland Open, and for three years in a row was the winner of the Southeastern Amateur Championship.

Mario Carfagno, Mayfair Inn pro, said this morning that the 18-hole Mayfair Inn course is in "excellent good shape" and is in readiness for the tournament next week.

About 35 golfers have already arrived and have begun their practices for next Tuesday's qualifying round, Carfagno said today. "We are expecting between 250 and 300 golfers, both pros and amateurs, for next week's play," Carfagno remarked this morning. However, he said, only about 100 of them will take part in the tournament. The qualifying round on Tuesday will set up the list of those who will compete for the big money Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Doug Sanders, former University of Florida golfer who received his coaching from Seminole High School Principal Andrew J. Becken, will be in Sanford for the Mayfair Inn Tournament. Sanders, of Miami, has received many golfing honors around the state and is recognized as one of the leading amateurs.

Big names in the golf world who have already signed up and indicated they will play in the Mayfair Inn Open are: Gardner Dickinson Jr. who topped the West Palm Beach Tournament; Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, Ted Crooks, and Ed Furgol. All of these players entered last year's Mayfair Inn Open.

Carfagno, this morning, said "Gardner Dickinson Jr., is going to be tough to beat in the Mayfair Inn $15,000 PGA Open." Many golfers have passed up some of the tournaments around the circuit in order to get themselves in shape for the Mayfair Inn encounter. All indications are that the next week's top golf competition will be rough and tough from the opening swing.

"THIS IS THE ONE THAT'S GOING TO WIN," Porky Oliver told Mario Carfagno. "Porky" Mayfair Inn's winter pro, J. Mario, the Mayfair Inn's year-round pro, were discussing a golf's top subjects. Whether it was the club that will win or the entry that will run away with top money, is not known. (Photo by Jameson)

Report Shows Sales Uptrend In Sanford

Collections Continue To Rise

The continuing uptrend in Sanford sales is shown in the monthly report of State Comptroller Ray E. Green.

Both sales and gasoline tax reports are combined in the latest release released from the Tallahassee office of the state officer who collects and compiles the results of each month's sales.

Collections in Seminole County on gasoline sold during the month of October and collected in November of 1956 were based on 835,266 gallons pumped through Sanford and Seminole County filling stations. The tax for October (collected in November) was more than nine-thousand dollars higher than the previous month. Actual figures were $7,708.62 in comparison to $48,902.09 a year ago and $48,531.42 last month.

Of the total gasoline tax collected in the county $2,022.55 goes to the county coffers.

In sales tax collected in Seminole County during November (for October sales), there is a $5,000 increase over the previous month and a 3,000 increase over the same month a year ago.

Sales tax collected in Seminole County during November (for October sales) amounted to $29,295.57 during the same period one year ago.

Statewide, both sales and gas tax collections during November (based on October sales) showed substantial increases over the previous month this year and the same month last year.

The sales tax increase is exceptionally substantial and is the largest percentage increase one month over the same month in a previous year in the history of the sales tax. November, 1956, collections totaled $7,708,62, an increase of $1,405,848 over the $6,292,744 collected during November, 1955, a percentage increase of 22.3 per cent. It was also an increase of $777,810 over the $6,925,044 collected in October 1956, an increase of 11.23 per cent.

Gas tax collections in November totaled $7,708,613, an increase of $890,452, 13.1 per cent, over the $6,718,160 collected in November, 1955, and an increase of $791,508 over the $6,796,106 collected in October 1956.

Total gas tax collections to date this fiscal year amount to $37,824,302, an increase of $4,015,304 over the $33,810,998 collected to date during the previous fiscal year. This is an increase of 11.87 per cent.

This is the fourth time that monthly sales tax collections have exceeded gas tax collections and although gas tax collections to date this fiscal year still exceed sales tax collections, it is apparent that the sales tax is increasing at a higher rate and will soon pass the gasoline tax as the state's number one revenue producer.

Family Sleeping On Floor

with no bed covering, no sheets, no beds or springs. And right here in the Yule season.

L. B. Perry — a slight 5 foot 9 inch Negro man — whom everyone knows as "L. B.", his wife Alice weighs nearly all of 300 pounds and is only 3 foot 2 inches tall — both need clothes badly. And the four boys — ages 11, 7, 3 and 10 months, as well as the two daughters, 10 and 6 years old — need clothing too.

Eight people with two sheets between all of them. There are no blankets at all for these chilly nights — no cooking utensils to prepare their meals — no beds to kneel down beside for their evening prayers and ask Santa Claus not to forget them this Christmas in their time of stress

Those returning to office are R. C. Carlson with 200 votes; James Reiter, 206; Samuel Johnson, 182. New Councilmen, Elton Williamson, 220; and Homer Bud Scott, 214.

Olin Elgin will return as Mayor, an office he has held four years ago. Elgin received 199 votes to incumbent, Daniel Screeney's, 115.

Mrs. Joy Hines Crocker was elected Town clerk — treasurer — assessor with a plurality over Charles Morrison, 188 to 121. Tax collector, Roger Crocker, 191; against Marguerite Morrison's 135. (Continued on Page 10)

Seminole Runners Have Best

As game time for the Annual Peanut Bowl draws nearer, more eyes are turned toward the players who will be competing on the field for top honors.

The "Seminoles", coached by Mrs. Robert Richards have been a had team to beat all season. They have good passing ability, and have the best running ability in the league. With the field being eight yards wider at Sanford Memorial Stadium, it may prove to the liking of these hard running backs.

Wearing red jerseys with white numbers there are seven players to watch tomorrow night as they take to the field for the Peanut Bowl competition:

No. 5 — Johnny Phillips: Center. A good center and line backer, Johnny pulls one of the most peculiar stunts that reporters have ever seen. After centering the ball, Johnny pulls out of the line and leads the interference on running plays.

No. 6 — K. W. Landrea: Offensive Back. On his toes all of backfield because of his blocking ability. A big boy, not many rushers get past him.

No. 10 — Chip Crawford: Defensive Back. On his toes all of the time and a good blocker for downfield blocking.

No. 11 — David McGillis: End and Backfield man. Fast and has glue stuck to his fingers.

No. 13 — Harry Colbert: End. Favorite target for the passers of the Seminole.

No. 19 — Gary Hishop: End. If a pass doesn't go to Harry Colbert, it is usually thrown to Gary.

No. 20 — Butch Riser: Every-one's All-American. Runs, throws and passes. He can follow his interference well and can kick or throw the ball with the best of them. (He is the son of former Peter Schaal Trophy winner, Jim Riser.)

School Policies Discussed At SHS P-TA Meet Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the Seminole High School P-TA was held on Tuesday night, in the High School Auditorium, with Mrs. Byron Smith, president, presiding. Mrs. Marian St. John presented the devotional. Mrs. Smith called the parents attention to the Christmas program being presented by the Glee Club on Dec. 12 under the direction of Miss Ollie Reese Whittle.

Mrs. Smith also reminded members that there would be no meeting in January, and on the regular meeting night in February would be the Founder's Day meeting which would be in connection with all schools in the County with Mrs. George Beckham as speaker.

Mrs. Mary Joyce Bateman and Mrs. Gerald Ryman presented the program for the night consisting of the entire audience breaking up into four groups and discussion on questions presented them in relation to school policies.

It was decided that the March meeting would have for its program a panel made up of teachers and parents who would discuss topics or questions given them by the audience.

The meeting closed after Andrew Brackel, Seminole High School Principal, thanked the attending parents for their interest and cooperation with the P-TA and High School.

Santa Claus Visits Hungarian Girls, Boys Last Night

CAMP KILMER, N. J. — Dozens of Hungarian children, uprooted in bewilderment from their homes only a few days ago, awoke today to find that the spirit of St. Nicholas lives around the world.

When they looked at their shoes polished to brightly in hope, they found a wonder of wonders — St. Nicholas had paid them a visit.

Even though they were thousands of miles from their homeland and living in an Army barracks, the old gen had found them.

He left them the traditional gifts: dolls, games, candy — and switches.

They were small gifts. In their tradition that says the big gifts come on Christmas Day, the small ones on Dec. 6 from St. Nicholas, whom Hungarian youngsters consider their special protector.

While the children were nestled all snug in their beds, volunteer workers from the Red Cross quietly delivered the packages last night to Hungarian refugee parents billeted here.

The gifts, all new, were donated by various organizations through the Red Cross.

The symbolic switches — another part of the tradition that calls for the youngsters to shine their shoes and set them out for gifts — were "pulled off some trees around here," a Red Cross spokesman said.

Howard Boteler Gets Promotion At Atlanta Bank

The Sanford friends of Howard Boteler who spent many years of his boyhood in Seminole County will be glad to learn of his recent promotion as assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Atlanta.

Boteler, the son of Mrs. Edward Zimmerman and the late Howard Boteler, following his graduation from Seminole High School and his discharge from military service in 1946, graduated from Emory University in 1950.

After a year in Sanford in his father's wholesale confectionery business, he accepted a position with the First National Bank in the accounting department. Several promotions have seen him attain his present office.

He is married to the former Madeline Johnson of Atlanta where they, with their son, reside at 1774 Shirley St., S. W.

State Officers Are Seeking Increase In Appropriations

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Florida motorists were put on notice that they can expect some rigid driving restrictions to be imposed by the 1957 Legislature in order to save lives.

Sen. Merrill P. Barber of Vero Beach said public demands for a "get tough" policy to reduce highway deaths had been clearly demonstrated at a series of hearings throughout the state.

The last of seven hearings conducted by the Legislative Committee on Traffic and Highway Safety was held here recently.

Barber, who is committee chairman, said the group would meet early next month to draw up its recommendations.

"In my opinion there is no easy way," Barber said.

"We are just going to have to change our driving habits. If we can weed out our defective drivers and vehicles and educate our drivers under uniform laws, we will be making a major step forward."

Some of the proposals advanced at the hearings were for maximum and minimum speed limits, compulsory periodic inspection of motor vehicles, reexamination of drivers and extension of the driver education program.

Florida's highway patrol director told the committee automobile drivers were being "pampered like a bunch of babies" and a program of "fearless suspension and revocation of driver's license must be started for those who disobey traffic laws.

Col. H. N. Kirkman said it had been proven that "people won't slow down to save their lives but they will slow down to save their driver's license."

To date 1,033 persons have been killed in Florida compared to 872 a year ago.

Leo Foster, Tallahassee attorney representing Florida Exchange Clubs, recommended legislation which would require all cars licensed in the state to install governors which would prevent them from going more than 10 miles an hour in excess of the legal speed limit.

And Paul Skilton, representing the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce, recommended legislation which would permit greater use of radar in highway enforcement work.

TEEN-AGERS INDICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

MIAMI (AP)—Teen-agers Victoria Gale Thompson and Patrick Joyce have been indicted on a first degree murder charge and were being held without bond for trial.

The 18-year-olds are accused of beating Jasper DeLullo, 61, in a robbery attempt Nov. 10. Authorities said he died of strangulation. The girl, who is mother of two children, came here from Las Cruces, N. M., and met Joyce, newly arrived from Boston, a few days before the death.

Senior's Sudden 'Longing' Feeling

It doesn't seem as if I have been in school eleven years! When I try to think back to the time I first started into school, it seems like yesterday. I don't think seniors realize at first that they have only a few months until they are out of school. At least we don't think until it's too late.

One of the first times that you stop and think is when they call you in to measure you for your cap and gown.

I know I've been a little rough on my teachers at times; in fact, I think we all have. But, most of us hate to admit it. Now is the time that you wish you had listened in those classes instead of talking your fool-heads off! You keep saying to yourself, "I've only got a few months to go. Boy, will I be glad when I get out of school!" But will you? I will! Maybe some of us will, but most of us won't.

Getting out of school means starting a life of your own. You can't depend on "Good Ol' Dad" and the family car, and the money Mother gives you for clothes. Why shouldn't I get a "longing" feeling? To tell the truth, I'm scared!

So seniors, this isn't a sermon, but I think we'd better get on the ball and get something done. It won't be long until we'll need everything we're earning.

Let's make the most of these last months we have in school. They may seem long now, but they aren't! We've got a lot to live up to! We can do it!

Sheriff's Bureau Seeks More Money

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Florida Sheriff's Bureau is asking $1,182,225 to finance and expand its operations for the next two years.

It was established as an experiment by the 1955 Legislature but was given no appropriations. It has operated on funds made available by other agencies.

Director Don McLeod said the bureau's investigation facilities and staff. He proposed making the bureau's crime bulletin a more frequent and complete publication, improving the criminal identification files and expanding the records on the methods of operation of known criminals.

McLeod said that if the Legislature grants sufficient funds he will assign an investigator to each of Florida's 13 judicial circuits. The bureau never has had more than six full time employees since it went into operation in October 1956.

The director said even with its short staff the bureau during the past 15 months has accounted for 79 arrests and participated directly in handling of 63 major criminal cases. Aid has been given in 142 other cases.

McLeod reported establishment of a statewide law enforcement communications network and said a central file with details on 29,000 criminals has been set up.

The State Board of Control asked $350,000 for repairs and reconstruction at the Ringling Museum of art, the Ringling residence and the general office. All are at Sarasota.

The Cabinet Board of Commissioners of state institutions requested $18,000 to pay off policing and maintaining the capitol center parking lots.

CONVICT CAMP GUARD CAPTAIN JAILED

Sheriff Maurice Linton said Rufus Keith Hughes, a former guard, was killed following an argument with Johnson over "personal matters."

Collins Seeks More Operating Funds

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Collins has asked for $61,800 more in operating funds for his office the next two years. He proposes $48,900 of the amount for increased salaries.

The budget request of $338,130 for the 1957-58 biennium was filed with State Budget Director Harry G. Smith.

Collins said the salaries "are those which are considered necessary to maintain a competent staff, in keeping with the scope of the matters handled, at both the executive and secretarial level."

A raise from $11,000 to $12,000 a year was proposed for Joe W. Grotgut, his administrative assistant in policy and program planning.

He asked an $11,000 annual salary for Bob Fokes, administrative assistant in the field of interdepartmental relations. That job now pays $10,500.

Collins requested $7,800 a year for John L. Parry, research assistant; and $5,950 a year for Rufus O. Jefferson, level assistant. Parry now is paid $7,200 and Jefferson recently was raised to $6,950.

W. E. Tindall, investigator for office expenses, an increase of $12,900 over the 1955 appropriation; a $25,000 annual contingency fund, the same figure appropriated in 1955; and $63,340 to staff and maintain the governor's mansion.

Collins' personal secretary, Mrs. Paul Shelley, would be raised from $6,980 to $7,200.

The governor also proposed to give all employees now paid at an annual rate of less than $6,000 a year a raise averaging $15 a month a year for each additional year of employment in the office.

Collins also asked $54,300 for

Welcome Mat Out For New York Giants, Mayfair Staff, Visitors

The winter season in Sanford will get into full swing Saturday night when the Mayfair Inn celebrates its annual formal opening. Saturday night's event will signal the 8th annual opening of the New York Giant's beach tourist attraction which has grown from a registration of a few visitors to an operation that boasts of full capacity.

Sanford is proud of the Mayfair Inn and the organization behind it.

Few people know what real importance the Mayfair Inn is to Sanford. For instance, it is estimated, on a per room basis, that as many as 18,000 people are brought to our community.

Estimating that each visitor spends an average of $10 per day in our stores, shops, filling stations and garages, the final total spend and left with Sanford Merchants runs up to quite a sizeable sum.

From among the visitors at the Mayfair Inn during the winter season there comes an avalanche of people who become interested in Sanford and its future growth. An ideal location—the friendliness of the people here, and all of these add up to future permanent residents.

On many occasions, as visitors go through our modern schools, watch the progress from year to year as the community grows, become acquainted with store owners, professional men, and commercial enterprise leaders, remarks are made that literally make local citizens swell with pride. Could they but hear these conversations and the boasts that are given Sanford!

And now, the New York Giants, along with Manager Frank Mebane, Jr., realize the importance of more room to take care of additional numbers of visitors. Under construction now and taking shape rapidly is an addition across San Carlos Avenue which will boast of suites and rooms in a motel, styling building.

This will bring added hundreds to Sanford and the possibilities are that the addition will remain open the year round. In addition, the New York Giants are locating their permanent dormitory for the Farm System in which hundreds of young baseball players will be housed while training to launch their career as a "future great." This building, located at the corner of Mellonville and Celery Avenues, will be completed by the middle of January.

The Mayfair Inn and the New York Giants are beginning to form a center around which Sanford will grow to unestimated populations.

It can be said that the Mayfair Inn is one of Sanford's most important industries—employing a huge staff for its operation—releasing a payroll that is spent in Sanford stores, shops, and commercial establishments. Of course, there are taxes too that are paid annually into the coffers of both the city and the county—these are important.

Again, we welcome the New York Giants—the Mayfair Inn, its management and staff, the visitors who come to be with us temporarily, and all who have their share of enjoying Sanford during its best and biggest season.

Hundreds share in the big whirl of the season—drycleaning and laundry establishments, filling stations, merchants, professional people, wholesale houses which furnish merchandise for the Inn's operation, garages, drug stores, the telephone company and telegraph company—they all have a big part to play in the successful season ahead.

To Manager Frank Mebane, Jr., we say welcome—for we know that he will extend to all others the welcome for us as they arrive for their short or long visits—and we know too that he will extend to his staff the same greeting.

Salvation Army Bells

In every town and city across the country there are signs of Christmas. Streets and stores are decorated for the holidays; wreaths and lights and tinsel add a gay touch. But there is a more inspiring reminder that we are approaching Christmas, the annual reappearance of the Salvation Army members on the street corners, ringing their bells and asked donations to make Christmas merrier for the poor.

The ringing of the Salvation Army bells is a Christmas carol—a reminder that the spirit of Christmas is the spirit of giving. The Salvation Army laette on the corner, in her neat bonnet, is giving of her time and herself. The Army members spend long, weary hours on the corners. They are there in the rain and the wind, warm or cold. Those who pass and pause for a moment to drop a few coins into the kettle receive a warm smile in return, and a sense of Christmas.

There are many sights and sound associated with Christmas—the carolers, the recorded music, the Santa Claus that delight the children in the stores. These are all a part of Christmas and contribute to making it a wonderful season. But, somehow, Christmas would not be quite the same without the sound of the Salvation Army bells tinkling on the corners.

Here in Sanford the Salvation Army has a corps of helpers. The civic clubs, vying with one another to see who can induce contributors to give most, all pitch in to lend their bell ringing abilities.

There is a true spirit of giving—not only of ones material means, but of his or her time—so that others might enjoy the Christmas season.

Working hand in hand—the civic clubs with the Salvation Army—the churches, fraternal organizations and social groups, are all endeavoring to spread the "Message of Peace and Good Will."

GOING TO FIGHT ON THIS LINE IF IT TAKES ALL WINTER

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN
Cecil A. Tucker, II
Seminole County Agricultural Agent

December 5, 1936

The fact that owners of farms, ranch or grove lands were granted new benefits under the 1936 amendments to the Social Security law was pointed out by Dr. C. C. Maxley, Agricultural Extension Economist, in a recent report from his office. Landlords can now use farm rental income to qualify for Social Security, if they "materially participate" in producing farm products, or in the management of the farm.

Under the old law, to obtain Social Security coverage, a landlord had to either operate the farm himself, operate it with hired labor, or set up a farm partnership with another man as operator.

Now, under the 1936 amendments to the Social Security Law, landlords may qualify by materially participating in any of several ways.

To materially participate, a landlord may advise and consult regularly on the operation and management of the farm with the person who rents the land; inspect furnish all or part of the equipment, machinery, or livestock; or pay part of the expense of farm production.

It is not necessary for a landlord to do all these things to qualify. In most cases it will be enough if he has an agreement with his tenant that he will take some part in the management or production, and if he actually does take part in the management or production.

Even if the landlord does no physical work on the farm, he may share in the management of some area of the production program. This means that a landlord with any type of farm lease might participate materially. Therefore, he would be eligible for coverage in the Social Security program.

Exceptions would be an absentee landlord who seldom visits his farm, or landlord who employ a farm or grove management service to represent them in handling the management of their operations.

The boys' 4-H Club program seems to be developing along in good fashion, except for the need of local leaders. Another club was recently organized at Paola when Mrs. Luey Johnson volunteered to help lead the club program there. If our club program is to expand and prosper, we are going to have to have more "Mrs. Johnsons" to give of their time to the development of our youth.

SAC Has Edge Over Russia In Airpower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says that despite Soviet progress in airpower, his Strategic Air Command still has the edge.

But LeMay, who commands this country's long-range, nuclear-armed striking force, told a Georgetown University audience: "These Soviet gains are steadily narrowing our presently favorable margin."

The SAC chief said that five years ago he would have said a war with Russia could have been won without serious damage to the United States.

He said he still believes such a war could be won by the United States, "but this nation would suffer serious losses."

And, he cautioned, unless the combat capacity and readiness of American airpower continues to improve, "we will be still more vulnerable to still greater damage by the Soviet long-range air arm five years hence."

"Just so long as this nation's capacity to win war is clearly recognized by the potential aggressor, there will be no war," LeMay asserted. "But once the potential aggressor doubts this capacity, the peace of the world is in jeopardy."

Drive On Tight Money Underway

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-forbed drive on tight money — one on part of its cause, the other on part of its effects — is under way today.

One governmental agency aids the move to get people to save more money so it can be lent to those who need to spend.

At almost the same time another governmental agency is making it easier for one set of borrowers, home builders, to find money in a competitive market.

The first could increase the supply of credit, at least for one set of lenders, the commercial banks; the second doesn't.

On the other side of the financial street a group of economists forecasts credit will get still tighter before it gets easier. And consumers themselves, while pushing their installment debt, total to a new high, have cut the total amount they owe on their cars.

The net result may be mostly a shifting in the various factors in the tight money situation without any great change in the overall picture. The nation probably will have to get used to living with tight money for some time to come.

The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. will permit some 13,000 insured commercial banks with about 50 billion dollars in time and savings deposits to raise the interest they pay to savers from the present 2 1/2 per cent limit to 3 per cent, if they wish.

Commercial bankers here welcome this chance to lure savers who have been looking to other places to put their money where the returns are more liberal.

But the commercial banks will watch to see if their new competitive position will need the mutual savings banks to seek higher rates than the 3 per cent most of them now pay.

To help people find money to borrow, the Federal Housing Administration this week is raising the limit on interest on FHA guaranteed mortgages to 8 per cent. It says this will help some builders to find money. But this may make it still harder to find money for a Veterans Administration guaranteed loan, which is fixed by law at 4 1/2 per cent.

It may be well into next year before there's any real easing of the money situation, 16 economists at a National Industrial Conference Board forum agreed. Before that, possibly early in 1937, even tighter conditions will be found, the group believes.

Make Bathtime Easier For Baby And Mom

By MERRIAM B. DUNSMUIR, M.D.

BATHING a baby is often a real chore for a new mother. Sometimes, it presents a great danger to the infant. It needn't be that way, if you just remember a few fundamentals.

For one thing, make sure the water isn't too hot for baby's delicate skin. Best and simplest method of testing the water's temperature is to dip your elbow into it. The water is safe if it feels neither hot nor cold.

Always support the back and neck of a young baby when he is not lying flat. Remember, too, that an infant covered with soap-suds, is pretty slippery. You've got to grasp him firmly so he won't wriggle out of your hands.

Safety pins removed from diapers should be placed in a pin cushion or some such thing well out of the lot's reach.

The bathtub, tub or whatever you use to bathe him should be on a firm support. The sliding table should be against the wall.

Talcum powder is fine for preventing chafing. However, I caution against using any powder containing stearate of zinc. Be vitamin B deficiency, most often careful, also, not to let the baby's breathes in the powder while you are tending him. When powdering his chest and neck, place your hand between the baby's face and the powder can.

Baby oil can be used instead of talcum if you wish. Many mothers prefer oil since it protects a baby's skin from the urine and stool. In warm weather, however, talcum is preferred as a rule.

If you use oil, place a few drops on your hand or on a small piece of cotton. Then pat it gently into the folds and creases of the infant's skin. Be sure to wipe off any excess oil.

The more often you bathe the baby the earlier and safer it will become for both of you.

R. T. My lips get sore at the corners of my mouth. Could nail polish have anything to do with it?

Answer: It is not likely nail polish is the cause of your condition. Soreness of the corners of the mouth is usually due to a vitamin B deficiency, most often riboflavin or vitamin B-2.

Study To Predict Super Hurricanes In Making Starts

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—The stage is set for the growth of a major hurricane when a small tropical storm blunders in between two strategically located high pressure areas, and below a low pressure area a weather researcher said today.

Banner Miller, research forecaster for the Miami Hurricane Warning Center, said five great storms of 1954 and 1955 all encountered those conditions before they roared forth as destroyers.

The problem of the well behaved storm that for no apparent reason intensifies has long baffled weather men. Little research previously has been done in this field. The center hopes to develop Miller's findings to the point that forecasters can predict hurricane growth beginning next fall.

Speaking at the second annual Hurricane Research Symposium, Miller said the following conditions seem necessary before a small tropical storm can become a big one.

A high pressure area to the east of the storm center, another to the southwest, and a low north-west. This combination blocks off winds that would slow down the circular storm winds while permitting the escape of heated air from the storm. The hot air is pulled into the low pressure area. The five storms he studied were Hazel and Edna of 1954 and Connie, Iona and Janet of 1955. Several other storms which did not find these conditions failed to grow to major force, Miller said.

Janet was one of the most intense storms known, comparable only to a 1935 storm which hit the Florida Keys on Labor Day, and the "Great Atlantic Storm" that struck Cape Hatteras in September 1944.

Janet, which knocked from the sky the only hurricane hunter plane ever lost in a storm, developed winds estimated at 200 miles an hour. She crossed the Caribbean Sea, destroyed the weather bureau facilities on Swan Island and hit Mexico. The upper circulation of the storm survived a 200-mile trip over mountainous Mexico and emerged into the Pacific with 40-mile winds.

Miller said one aim of the research is to enable forecasters to predict when superhurricanes are in the making.

Gordon Dunn, head of the center reported that the 1953 season was below normal in both number and intensity of tropical storms.

Dunn said one cause may have been the fact that the prevailing westerlies—high steady winds from the west—extended far to the South from late June to late September and dampened the formation of storms.

Another theory discussed at the symposium was that surface temperatures of tropical waters remained too low for storm growth.

Dunn suggested a systematic re-

Cancer Victim May Not Live To See Another Christmas

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP)—Albert Klein, a 15-year-old who likes music and model airplanes, may not live to celebrate another Christmas.

The boy is suffering from a swiftly progressing type of bone cancer that, to his doctors' knowledge, has never been cured.

Last August, Albert's leg was amputated after the boy agreed it was worth the risk to save his life.

But the disease spread and now has affected both lungs and his right side.

He has been told he may die, and his mother Mrs. Wilhelm Klein, said he told her that if something had to happen to him, he is glad it happened before he was older, when it might be more of a burden on the family.

Albert's father is a boring-machine operator. They have three other children, Elizabeth, 13, Henry, 11, and Mary Louise, 3.

Seminole Launch Cage Season Against FMA

The Sanford Seminoles moved into the cage season this afternoon, launching a season Bud Laver, SIS basketball mentor, labeled as one filled with "growing pains".

"We're in the process of building," Laver said just before game time today when his young charges were to face basketball-minded Florida Military Academy.

"We'll be much improved by midseason, but right now we're having our hands full with fundamentals," Laver remarked. He faces a season opener today with only one letterman returning on the squad.

"We were almost murdered last year by graduation," was a terse comment by assistant coach Dick Silvers.

Only one senior, Jim Warner, is out for the winter cage sport. Warner has no basketball experience behind him, but the coaching staff is hoping that he makes a repeat of his football career.

Warner came out for football at mid-season, having no experience, and turned into one of Seminole's most serious threats before the season had progressed much further.

The junior-sophomore-freshman student team will have a hard row to hoe to keep in competition with their new conference—the Orange Belt. They will face many case-minded schools on their way, but conference foes and independents.

One-Fifth More Fishing Licenses Sold During Year

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—One-fifth more fishing licenses were sold in Florida during the past fiscal year but fishing revenues were down about 6 per cent from the year before.

Director A. D. Aldrich of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission reported today that 155,330 fishing licenses were sold during the 1955-56 fiscal year, an increase of 84,134 over the preceding year.

License revenues totaled $218,819 a decline of $83,642.

Aldrich said the revenue drop was attributed to a combination of low water levels in some lakes plus the popularity of the new non-resident three-day $1.25 license.

The revenue decline will prevent the commission from doing as much lake and stream improvement work as it would like, Aldrich said.

LIVE BUFFALOES

are difficult to find these days, even out here in the Southwest. West Texas State's football team, which will play in the Tangerine Bowl Jan. 1, has adopted a full-blooded boxer dog for a mascot. His name is Mike and the three-year-old dog spends as much time around the football field and dressing room as Buffalo players. There's a good reason for it too—he belongs to the coach Clark Jarnagin, who breeds boxers in the off-season. "All the boys treat Mike as they would their own dog," says Jarnagin. "However, that poses a problem when we go on field to work out. When the boys are running, Mike thinks they are playing with him and it's pretty tough to block him out of the play."

Sales For Peanut Bowl Are Expected To Top 3,000 Mark

The Second Annual Peanut Bowl, sponsored by the Sanford Grammar School P.T.A., continued reamrrolling on its royal road to success as pre-season sales were expected to top the 3,000 mark before game time tomorrow afternoon.

All this, and not one Sanford Grammar child has solicited ticket sales in the downtown area.

The overwhelming popularity of the novel sport, featuring sixth graders giving their best on the gridiron, bids strongly to be one of the highlights in the school year in Sanford.

With the prediction of warmer weather for the event, the hoped for goal of between 2,000 and 4,000 fans in Memorial Stadium seems a possibility.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the revealing of the Peanut Bowl Queen. Two girls were selected from each of the four sixth grades at Grammar School, then the entire school pupil body cast secret ballots for their choice as Queen. One person knows who this Queen is, and the identity of this person has not been revealed. Even the young-lady candidates don't know who is Queen, and the announcement will be made during the halftime of tomorrow night's event.

Harold Heckenbach, principal of Sanford Grammar, said this morning that the half time show would be the best ever. "The intermission spectacle will be amusing, interesting, and informative," he said. "We will have every pupil in the school participating if possible, and we'll have the additional attraction of the Seminole High and the Sanford Junior High bands. Those attending will be well pleased with the outing."

Top on the list of Peanut Bowlers is the Routh Bulldogs. The Routh squad will be attempting to better their last year's record. At that time they had to accept a tie for Peanut Bowl Championship with the Jones War Eagles.

"Last year was an experimental thing," Jim Buckler, chairman of the Peanut Bowl committee, said. "We will put on a vastly improved show this year, both in fringe activities and in the brand of football the boys will play. From personal witnessing I can say that the Peanut Bowl teams this year would have little trouble outclassing the squads of last year."

Heckenbach affirmed Buckler's statements. "The boys learned a lot by observation over last year's season," he said. "This year they are more experienced in all departments, and they are particularly vicious in their blocking game."

Game time is tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in Memorial Stadium.

PGA Open Defending Champ Al Balding Will Be Here For Tourney

Al Balding, defending champion of the $10,000 PGA Mayfair Inn Open, will definitely be here for this year's nationally publicized event, it was learned yesterday.

Prior to this time Balding's plans were only as tentative, but with the well-tanned Canadian's third place in the West Palm Beach Open last week, Balding will come up from the Havana Open to make the last of the "big ones" for the year.

Balding wrote a page in the record book last year when he came to Sanford and became the first Canadian ever to win a major U. S. golf tournament.

Dow Finsterwald is another of the name pros that have been placed on the "for sure" list by the Mayfair Inn. Finsterwald will have particular use for the Mayfair Inn Open this year. Presently he is the second leading money winner for the 1955 season. If he should happen to take this one he could surge into the lead.

The smallest man in stature on the PGA tour will also bring his dynamite to Sanford. Bob Toth, one of the nation's leading golfers and 1954 World Golfing Champion, will be among the guests in the local tourney. Toth gained world recognition when he made $80,000 on the last hole of the championship course.

More names will pour into Sanford over the weekend, and Harvey Raynor, PGA Tournament supervisor will arrive at the Mayfair Inn Monday to get things officially underway.

One of the greatest names in modern baseball is expected to be an additional pre-tourney attraction for the Mayfair Inn opening on Saturday. Horace Stoneham, head of the New York Giants sprawling organization, said last year that he was more than pleased with the initial PGA Tournament here, and it was his generosity to Sanford that has made the greatest sporting event in Sanford's history an annual one. Stoneham is presently in Jacksonville attending the minor league meeting along with Carl Hubbell, general director of all the New York Giant's minor leagues. Unofficial speculation is that the party will arrive in Sanford this weekend.

Three Tennessee Players Win Berths On All-SEC Team

ATLANTA (AP)—Johnny Majors, a back without a weakness, and two other Tennessee players won berths on the 1956 All-Southeastern Conference football team.

Kyle Buddy Cruise, a 6 feet 3, 194-pound end who was Majors' favorite receiver, and John Gordy, a tackle on defense and a guard on offense, are the other Sugar Bowl-bound Vols stars who made the honor team.

Majors and Kentucky tackle Lou Michaels, an outstanding line-man who also handled all phases of the Wildcat kicking game, were named alternate captains of the all-star team. The squad was selected for the Associated Press by a regional All-American Advisory Board of sports writers and broadcasters.

The All-SEC line boasts size, speed, agility and stamina. Averaging 207 pounds per man, the line is composed of ends Cruise and Ronald Bennett of Mississippi State, tackles Michaels and Billy Yelverton of Mississippi, guards Gordy and John Barrow of Florida and center Don Stephenson of Georgia Tech.

Operating with Majors behind that fine forward are three more talented ball-movers—Billy Stacy of Mississippi State, first sophomore to make an All-SEC team since 1933; Paige Cothren of Mississippi, like Majors a repeater from last year; and Ken Owen of Georgia Tech, backbone of Tech's running attack.

That backfield includes three fine punters in Majors, Owen and Stacy; a conversion and field goal expert in Cothren; fine blockers in Cothren and Owen. All are adept defenders.

The board selected a second backfield of Gene Newton and Ronny Quillian of Tulane, Tommy Lortino of Auburn and Paul Roten-

FSU Athletic Head To Hold Volleyball Clinics In Europe

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Dr. Howard G. Danford, athletic director at Florida State University, has received and accepted an invitation from the Adjutant General in Washington to conduct volleyball clinics in Europe this winter.

Danford will leave the United States February 1 and return on the 25th of the same month.

This invitation marks the third consecutive year Danford has been asked to conduct volleyball clinics in Europe, and the success of his two previous expeditions prompted the Army to extend this third invitation.

Danford revealed that the Army has more than 28,000 men engaged in the volleyball program in Europe, and his clinics the past two years were extremely well attended.

Florida State will have two members of its intercollegiate and physical education staff overseas in February.

In addition to Danford's volleyball clinic in Europe, head baseball coach Jimmy Livshiller will be conducting baseball clinics in Japan during February and March.

The high degree of success both men have achieved in their respective fields has prompted the Army to turn to them for clinical instructions overseas.

Florida Beauties To Vie For Santa Claus Bowl Queen

LAKELAND (AP)—Young beauties from cities throughout Central Florida's citrus belt will vie for the title of Santa Claus Bowl Queen on Dec. 28 in Lakeland, Bowl Director Bert Lind has announced.

An estimated 50 cities and towns are expected to have representatives selected by Dec. 15 to take part in Florida's biggest youth spectacle, Lind said. The two-day event will feature football games between boys' teams from Washington, D. C., Ft. Lauderdale, Chicago, Ill., and Chickasha, Okla.

Highlight of the bowl activities will be a beauty contest on the opening day between young girls from the various participating cities. Each contestant will take part in the Santa Claus Bowl will feté the queen candidate, and she will be a part of the Friday festivities, including a parade, football games and a lot of wholesome fun, Lind said.

The bowl queen will be selected by the captains of visiting football teams. The winner will hold the title Miss Santa Claus Bowl of 1957, and will be crowned by last year's winner, Jill Ropicki of Abundant.

In addition to a full two-day schedule of festivities, the bowl queen through the courtesy of Minute Maid-Snow Crop Corporation of Florida, in the company of her mother or a designated chaperon, will go to Mass Brothers of Lakeland to select anything her heart desires up to $350 in value.

Contestants must be 11 years of age on or before December 25, and not have reached her 15th birthday as of Jan. 1, 1957. All queen candidates will be 11 or 12 years old. Civic or fraternal organizations in Central Florida cities are invited to sponsor a beauty contestant, and to notify Bert Lind, Chamber of Commerce, Lakeland, as soon as a local beauty is selected. Entries must be in no later than Dec. 15.

BEAUTIFUL ASSIST—Tommy Coffey, extra-point kicker for West Texas State's Tangerine Bowl-bound Buffaloes, doesn't mind practicing when his assistant is pretty Carolyn Keith, West Texas sophomore. "Only one thing bothers me," says Tommy, "I find it difficult keeping my eye on the ball."

Coffey Is Buffaloes' No. 1 Kicking Artist

CANYON, TEX.—A husky 195-pound end who didn't play high school football is developing into West Texas State's most proficient extra-point and kick-off specialist in history.

A sophomore playing only his second year of football, Tommy Coffey took over as the Buffaloes' No. 1 kicking artist this season and appears to have landed a steady job for the duration of his college days.

Although extra points haven't been necessary so far, Coffey has booted 14 of 18 attempts for the Tangerine Bowl-bound Buffaloes, an efficiency of 78 per cent. On kick-offs, the red-headed end consistently boots the ball into the opponent end zone.

The story of Coffey's quick transition into an outstanding football player is unusual.

The son of a Baptist minister, he attended a high school—McAdoo, Tex.—that was too small to play football. However, he was an excellent basketball player and it was his spirited play in a post-season tournament at Canyon that attracted the attention of Coach Frank Kimbrough.

After the West Texas football coach offered him a scholarship, Coffey took it on himself to develop his kicking talent. Last summer, he spent every free moment on the football field with a kicking tee and ball.

"Tommy isn't the first outstanding college player I've had who never played high school ball," remarked Coach Kimbrough, a 30-year veteran of the coaching business.

Kimbrough recalled that a young man named Bulldog Turner graduated at Hardin-Simmons University without any previous experience when he was coaching at the Abilene school in the mid-thirties. Turner developed into an outstanding college player and graduated to the Professional ranks where he became one of the finest centers of all-time with the Chicago Bears.

Cloyce Cox, an outstanding position catching end with the Detroit Lions in the early fifties, was another Kimbrough-coached product who had not played high school football. He came to West Texas State on a basketball scholarship but gained national recognition on the gridiron.

erry of Tech. The second team line has Jimmy Phillips of Auburn and Jerry Nabors of Tech at end, J. T. Frankenberger of Kentucky and Dalton Truax of Tulane at tackle; Allen Ecker of Tech and Paul Ziegler of LSU at guard; and Dave Kuhn of Kentucky at center.

Through the first nine games of the season, Majors and Stacy were first and second in the league in total offense with 942 and 900 yards, respectively. Owen and Cothren were top ground gainers on their teams. All four backs averaged 4.5 yards or more per carry.

Board members who selected the team are Ed Ashford, Lexington Ky. Herald Dan Hardesty, Baton Rouge State-Times; Ed Pope, Miami Herald; Fred Russell, Nashville Banner; LeLand Childs, radio station WBRC; Birmingham, Ed Danforth, Atlanta Journal; and Carl Walters, Jackson Miss. Clarion-Ledger.

Operating with Majors behind that fine forward are three more talented ball-movers—Billy Stacy of Mississippi State, first sophomore to make an All-SEC team since 1933; Paige Cothren of Mississippi, like Majors a repeater from last year; and Ken Owen of Georgia Tech, backbone of Tech's running attack.

That backfield includes three fine punters in Majors, Owen and Stacy; a conversion and field goal expert in Cothren; fine blockers in Cothren and Owen. All are adept defenders.

The board selected a second backfield of Gene Newton and Ronny Quillian of Tulane, Tommy Lortino of Auburn and Paul Roten-

Complete Weapons System Is Being Built By Air Force

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Reporter
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force, apparently confident of success in building an atom-powered plane, has started organizing a complete weapons system for the operation of such aircraft.

It's still cloaked in secrecy, but available information indicates that the Air Force already has let contracts for development of some of the equipment.

In charge of this phase of the atomic aircraft program is a "director of nuclear systems," an office of the Air Research and Development Command. The identity of the system is concealed behind a code designation of three numerals and a letter combination.

The aircraft nuclear engine program itself includes two separate reactor development projects, one under contract by the General Electric Co. at Ohio plant and the other by Pratt and Whitney at Hartford.

The Atomic Energy Commission recently completed a big nuclear aircraft propulsion test facility, including a runway as well as static test equipment, at its national reactor test station in Idaho.

There are a number of other little-known projects related to the atomic aircraft engine project, including several referred to only under such names as "Pilot" and "Pied Piper" programs under direction of the AEC's San Francisco office and another identified only as "Project Rover."

In an obvious reference to atom-powered aircraft, Secretary of the Air Force Quarles said during an ABC-TV interview yesterday that "we have the development of such a plane in the research and development" stage, but that it is several years away from realization.

His reply was to a question whether the Air Force is working on a plane which could make a flight to Russia and return without aerial refueling.

Quarles said the U. S. Air Force has "substantially greater striking power" than that of Russia and predicted that development of guided missiles "the manned aircraft will still be our mainstay."

Quarles said also that the Air Force goal of 137 wings by next June 30 "will undoubtedly be met."

CHAPTER 43

VAL MOVED over to a lamp on the verandah and read the letter Eileen had written to Bruce shortly before she was killed:

Darling, darling Bruce. I am writing this in a terrible hurry but I must tell you I do something stupid and publish the announcement of my engagement to Dirk. I hope to Heaven she doesn't, but you know Mummy. And the poor dear is so delighted about this pious engagement she's like a dog wagging six tails. You know her heart's been acting up lately, and the doctor implores me to do everything I can to keep her calmed down, until the danger is past. We know what is really upsetting her is me, darling—her terror that I'll dash off and marry you, which I shall do directly in twenty-one. But for the moment I've hit on the bright idea of a pretended engagement between Dirk and myself. He's always been a good friend of mine, as you know, though he isn't one scrap in love with me. He has agreed to let me tell Mummy that he and I are engaged. And goodness, it was the best tonic she could have had. She literally got out of her sick bed and almost danced a jig.

I think the main reason Dirk consented to my plan is that he's always been really fond of Mummy and is concerned about her health. You know he lost his own mother when he was a kid and Mummy and he have always understood each other. He has understood her much better than I ever have, but then Dirk is the sort who always makes allowances for everyone. If he likes people, he doesn't seem to mind how badly they behave.

Anyhow this is just to warn you that should you hear anything about this fake engagement, there's nothing to it, just a device to keep Mummy quiet until we can be secretly married. You know, my darling, my very own darling, I'd never marry anyone in the world but you.

Yours always,
Eileen

There were tears in Val's eyes as she finished reading the letter, but she made no comment.

After a few minutes Bruce cleared his throat rather noisily and said, "That letter alters everything for me, as you see. I realize I owe Mummy an apology." He looked toward her. "Will you apologize to him for me, Val?"

She nodded. "If you want me to, I know just how you're feeling, Bruce," she added slowly. "Don't show Cynthia that letter." Val said impulsively. "Try to forget it."

"I shall never be able to forget it, Val. That's asking the impossible," he said sadly.

The Carraways drifted out on the verandah, and they all said goodnight. John and Jane asked Bruce to drop in and see them whenever he had the time. He thanked them and left the house.

The small ship, half-passenger, half-cargo, sailing down Southampton Sound, it was raining, but Val, glancing through the portholes, didn't mind the rain. Dirk was meeting her. She had his redogram crumpled in her apron pocket.

She saw him immediately the ship docked. He was pacing up and down the dock in the gray, persistent rain. It was easy to distinguish him from the others who were also awaiting the arrival of the ship. He was so tall and thin, and in his closely belted raincoat he looked almost emaciated. She saw that his eyes were searching the passengers—gathered on the main deck intently and eagerly, but when apparently he couldn't find her face among them, she saw a look of blank dismay cross his face.

Suddenly she sensed his disappointment as though it had been her own personal hurt, and she knew she had to do something about it. She went quickly down to her own cabin and slipped a white raincoat over her uniform. Then she ran up the stairs to the purser's office. He was a nice elderly man, a good friend of here, and he agreed she might go ashore for a few minutes before winding up her duties.

Almost as soon as she'd left his office she was running down the gangplank. Dirk, who had caught one glimpse of her posed at the top of the gangplank, rushed forward to meet her, his thin face breaking into a happy grin. He caught her in his arms before she had reached the bottom step, and lifted her slight body down onto the dock, holding her so closely she could scarcely breathe.

But presently he held her a little away from him, his eyes looking gravely down into her pretty face. What he saw made him frown, for when he spoke it was in a rough, uneven voice, quite unlike his usual voice.

"My darling, my darling," he said hoarsely, "you've decided, haven't you?"

She nodded and said breathlessly, "Yes, Dirk, yes."

But he held her away from him for several long moments before he drew her sharply toward him again and kissed her lips hungrily.

"I love you, I love you, my darling," he said in a low voice that had become suddenly gentle.

"I love you, Dirk."

She again he caught her to him, holding her close, and again he kissed her wet, flushed face.

"You've come home at last, my darling," he said presently.

"Yes, thank heavens I'm home, Dirk," she whispered.

And it was good to be home, to be sure of her own heart at last; to have buried her doubts and her heartaches, to know so surely where her real happiness lay.

She was too happy even to be aware that many of the passengers were looking down at them from the main deck, some smiling with sympathy, others cynically. She didn't even know that her brother Tom was standing almost directly behind them, grinning his congratulations.

TOSSES TO PASS IN FIRST BIG TEN GAME

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—The first Big Ten game in which sophomore Bill Offenbecher played for Illinois saw him complete a screen pass to Abe Woodson who ran 82 yards for a touchdown. The play helped Illinois upset Michigan State, 20-13. Offenbecher is 19.

diffed" somewhat but its strength will not be cut. He said the force now has 131 combat wings.

GOVERNMENT REJECTS REQUEST

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The federal government has rejected a request by Gov. Collins that six Central Florida counties hit by floods several weeks ago be designated "major disaster areas" so federal funds might be had for road repairs.

President Asst. Sherman Adams yesterday said the situation was not sufficiently acute.

The counties involved are Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River, Orange, Osceola and Brevard.

MIDDLE OF ROAD PLAN

DETROIT (AP)—A way to eliminate catch-as-catch can use of the middle lane on three-lane highways has come from the Auto Club of Michigan.

It would give the middle lane to drivers moving one way for several miles, then to drivers in the opposite direction for several miles.

Painted lines would designate when the change takes place. The auto club thinks the plan would cut head-on crashes.
