Apathy And Ignorance

So what else is new? Here we have less than a month before the 1978 general election and — if a random telephone survey by The Evening Herald reflects at all on reality — most voters in Sanford and Lake Mary don't know for whom they can vote on Nov. 7.

Nor, the survey reflects, do they know in which congressional district they live. Distressing? Of course. Surprising? Of course

The cause? A combination of apathy, indifference — and just plain ignorance of the swirl of politics around them. They apparently just don't care to embrace the information available to them. "We really don't keep up with that sort of thing." replied one respondent

"That sort of thing," of course, is what keeps this nation the freest in the world. A lot of this apathy can be attributed directly to that lingering cynicism by so many of politics and politicians - "that sort of thing." It just won't go

And, unfortunately, continuing events tend to add fuel and rationale to this simmering cynicism. Take, for example, recent developments in the Florida gubernatorial contest. Here we have the specter of defeated Republican gubernatorial hopeful Lou Frey embracing his winning opponent, Jack Eckerd—the same Jack Eckerd whom Mr. Frey accused of misfeasance, malfeasance or worse in connection with the General Services Administration Mr. Eckerd once headed. He now believes in him, says Mr. Frey of Mr. And we even have some of Mr. Frey's ex-lieutenants joining the Democratic camp.

Then we had former Attorney General Robert Shevin putting his arm around and patting the back of his conqueror, Bob Graham-the same Bob Graham with whom he had exchanged accusations and charges of distortions and downright lies only a few days ago.

All of this can easily contribute to cynicism.

But it does not justify it. And it is essential that such developments be kept in perspective. They are only part of the overall picture, the political game, and should not be allowed to override voter deliberations and decisions on key issues and key personalities seeking public office. The best way to eliminate this apathy, indifference and ignorance is to take advantage of all the information being shared through the media on the candidates and issues.

We at The Evening Herald will continue to present our readers with information about all the candidates - local, district, state - in the remaining days leading up to election day, hoping you will read it, digest it and make your choices.

As for the disappointing survey results — if it is any consolation to residents of Sanford and Lake Mary - you are not alone. Survey results in St. Petersburg were similar.

And we would bet that the same would occur and re-occur in other areas throughout the state

This, of course, does not justify it. But there it

Casino gambling is being heralded as a boon for Florida by interests along the state's gold coast from Miami to Ft. Lauderdale and questionable interests in Nevada.

The behind the scenes story that is not being told is the influx of money from out-of-state organizations backing the casino gambling proposal that will appear as a constitutional amendment on

November's ballet. One Las Vegas hotel has donated $75,000 to support casino gambling, according to Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce President Tem

McDonald and all persons associated with the local chamber are to be commended for going on record in opposition to casino gambling.

Sanford's chamber voted unanimously recently to oppose casino gambling. That vote came in the form of a resolution sent to Gov. Reubin Askew, an avowed opponent of casino gambling.

The chemiser's resolution contended, "the introduction of casino gambling to the State of Florida is repugnant to many citizens who feel this will attract both understrable and illegal factions to this bling has been well documented as C. L. Porter, director of the governor's council on the control of organised crime, told a recent morning meeting of the local chamber.

Porter weaved a tale of a meeting of underworld figures in Mexico eight years ago that targeted Atlantic City, N. J. and Mismi, Fla., as sites for expansion of the casino gambling industry.

Florida has already suffered the abuse of organized crime from loss sharking operations in Mismi to drug smuggling along its vast constline.

There is no need to further encourage any activity that would support the activities of organized

According to Porter, casino gambling directly supports those activities. Casino gambling would also detract from the family oriented atmosphere created in central Florids. That could mean a siphening of tourists and money from this area. The chamber resolution addressed this point, noting casino gambling would be "counter productive, totally undesirable, and a real threat to the Florida tourist industry."

The local chamber deserves praise for its forthright stand against casino gambling. The amendment that proposes such gambling deserves a sound trouncing at the polls.

Hostage With Heart Trouble Listed 'Fair'

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)— A man held hostage for 31/2 hours by an angry, shotgunwielding Vietnam War veteran was being treated for heart trouble today and was listed in "less than fair" condition.

The hostage, Malcolm Young, 31, a veterans' counsel for the city, was being treated in the coronary care unit of University Hospital where he was taken for treatment Wednesday afternoon after his ordeal. Attendants said his condition "is stable but less than fair.'

Francis H. James, 29, of Jacksonville was ailed on charges of kidnapping, possession of a sawed-off shotgun and aggravated assault following a conference with news reporters that he had demanded in exchange for freeing his hostage and surrendering.

Citrus Prices Going Up?

LAKELAND (UPI)- Higher prices are on the horizon for housewives when they purchase any citrus products.

That was the blunt word Wednesday from Florida Citrus Mutual executive vice president Tom Osborne in the wake of a U.S. Department of Agriculture crop report which predicted Florida will produce a smaller crop this season than last.

Spenkalink To High Court

RAIFORD (UPI)—An attorney for John Spenkelink, who could become the first man to be executed in Florida's electric chair since 1964, said Wednesday he will ask the U.S. Supreme Court next month to review Spenkelink's case.

Andrew Graham, of Cocoa, told a dozen reporters who interviewed Spenkelink at Florida State Prison that he would ask the high court to review the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals' decision denying Spenkelink's

MIAMI (UPI) - The National News Council has agreed to hear a complaint that the Miami Herald and other Florida newspapers have attempted to influence the outcome of a referendum on legalized casino gambling by contributing more than $135,000 to a campaign

However, council chairman Norman Issacs said Wednesday the New York-based group rejected a proposal to schedule an emergency meeting to hear the complaint before Nov. 7. when Floridians will vote on Proposition 9 to Florida "Gold Coast."

All Eyes Off Juliet

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane forecasters wrote off tropical storm Juliet today and turned their attention to a tropical wave of squalls in mid Atlantic.

Juliet, never a powerful storm, dusted off the resort island of Bermuda with gale force winds and heavy rains late Wednesday then merged with a large high pressure front west of Bermuda. That was the end of the season's 10th tropical twister.

Court Orders Church Retrial

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)- Questions about policy making at a Jacksonville church has prompted the 1st District Court of Appeal to order a trial court to re-hear a case involving internal church affairs.

The unusual determination by the threejudge panel came in response Wednesday to a Duval County lawsuit in which six members charged another church faction with improperly relegating them to "inactive" status and effectively stripping them of any par-ticipation in church decision-making.

Hoover Will Fund Study

MIAMI (UPI-The Hoover Foundation will fund a $25,000 study to try to find out why parts of Miami's Biscayne Bay remain unfit for swimming or fishing, vacuum cleaner heir Herbert W. Hoover Jr. said Wednesday. Hoover said tests show some parts of the bay contain too much bacteria for swimming and others produce malformed fish. He says nobody knows why, and that's why the study was commissioned.

Scarborough Likely To Win

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)- The dissident Dophouse Democrats aren't giving up their fight to keep conservative Dan Scarborough of Jacksonville from winning the 1961-82 Senate presidency, but they admit Scarborough probably has the votes.

Miami Sen. Sherman Winn Wednesday

tropped out of the race to succeed Sea President Phil Lewis two years from now and promised to try to deliver the eight votes in the Dade County delegation to Scarborough.

Wednesday he described his lunar exhibition expedition for several Seminole County Community College students as a "Fantastic experience", predicting that space labs are a definite possibility but not as a means of relieving overcrowding on earth.

Mitchell, retired after 20 years, is now in private business living in Fort Lauderdale and is a consultant in the space program.

Mitchell also endorsed the candidacy of Jack Eckerd for governor and urged ecological and fiscal conservation. "The students were very impressed on the most part that an astronaut who had been to the moon would be willing to come here and share his experiences with them," said SCC Dean Robert Schreiber.

"We hope to have him back again some time when he is

Ship Blast Kills 20. Hurts 70

SINGAPORE (UPI) - An explosion today in the boiler room of a Greek freighter berthed in Singapore killed 20 people and injured 70 others, police said.

Seventeen people were killed instantly in the blast aboard the Liberian-registered Greek tanker "Spyros," and three others died on the way to hospitals in the worst shipyard disaster in Singapore's history,

Officials said more than 100 workers were in the boiler room of the 36,000-ton tanker when the explosion occurred. The cause of the blast was not

Yankee Manager Bob Lemon had run out of spare infielders so he couldn't pinch-hit for his light-hitting shortstop Bucky Dent. So Dent singled to start things off. Roy White's to uncer back to the mound moved Dent into scoring position at second. However, the next batter was Paul Blair and Lemon had no one to hit for him either. So Blair walked. And Dodger Manager Tommy Lasorda walked too, to the mound. He wanted Welch, the 20-year-old right-hander who became a professional only a little over a Weich is only 21. He never before had heard the kind of thun-derous rears from a crowd that he did from the $6,982 at Dodger Stadium Wednesday night after he struck out Jackson on a 3-and-2 pitch to nail down a 4-3 heart-stopper against the Yankees. The perspiration was still rolling down Weich's face when he got back to the clubhouse and peeled off his uniform in front of his locker. There was a chance this might be the Dodgers' last game at home this was also that are fam in the factor with these ocker. There was a chance this magnt be the Dodgers' last game at home this year since they are 3-up in the Series with three games scheduled over the weekend at Yankee Stadium.

"Don't forget to pack your bags," Nobe Kawano, the Dodgers' equipment man, reminded Weich.

The 6-foot-3 right-hander from Ferndale, Mich., frowned.

Weich hasn't won the World Series for them yet nor has he even gotten credit for a Series' victory, but he saved their skins Wednesday night with an eye-popping performance that im-pressed everyone who witnessed it.

He made only II pitches after taking over for Torry Forster, the Dedgers' second pitcher, with two on and one out in the ninth. Welch threw two of those pitches to Munson and nine more to Jackson in a confrontration, which had all the elements of that celebrated shootout at OK Corral. When the dust had settled, it was the Dodger rookie who was standing there triumphantly in the middle of the street with his gun still smoking and the mighty Reggie Jackson lying wounded on the ground.

Welch had never pitched to Jackson before. He admitted he was

I threw him all fast balls," he revealed. "People told me he was an excellent low ball hitter, so I tried to get the ball in on him and above his water." That was exactly where Welch got his last pitch, and Jackson, swinging with all he had, missed it.

Somebody asked Jackson how he felt when he struck out and heard the crowd go wild and he said, "I felt I got heat; I didn't do

Before that, Jackson had driven in all of the Yankees' runs with a two-run double off Dodger starter Burt Hooton in the third in-ning and an infield out in the seventh with Forster pitching. The Dedgers had getten to Yanhoe starter Catfish Huster for a run in the fourth and three more in the sixth when Ron Cey homered over the left field fence with two men abourd. As it turned out, Cey's blow provided the Dodgers with their victory margin but it could have easily vanished in the ninth, when Bucky Dent led off with a single and Paul Blair walked with

Gainesville and Seminole are undefeated in district games, and Brantley and Spruce Creek have one Big Four Take Even Bigger Step

So to speak, this is the last weekend of the really big games until the Nov. 17 meeting between Seminole and Brantley. Plasma denations are already being taken in preparation for that one. The biggie, however, is the Seminole-inesville centest, Gainesville would just about put a wrapper on the state playoff borth with a win here.

Prognosticators earn their bread and butter if they emerge this weekend with relatively decent percentages. This writer carries a 23-3 record. Let the games begin: Lake Brantley 21, Spruce Creek 14 — A case of the defense making the strongest when it means the Seminole 21, Gainesville 19 — Okay, I know... Gainesville is No. 1, but you gotta go for the upset metime and there was never a better moment for Oviedo 14, Bishop Moore 8 — Once that express starts rolling, it is tough to slow it down. A turn in the season makes the Lises smile.

Lake Howell 14, Lyman 13 — A real barnburner that finds underdeg striking again.

Temple Heights 28, Trinity Prep 13 — Defense continues to be a problem for the Saints.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL GAINESVILLE at SEMINOLE FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13

Ah, but the element of pressure! As high school football season hits the pressure stage, Friday night's game between Seminole and Gainesville only adds to the flavor of competition. It's all riding on the line for the Seminoles in this 8 p.m. home game - prestige and a chance at making the state playoffs. Best advice is to come early and stake out a seat. You bring the stadium cushions, mom . . . and pop will buy the pop corn. It's going to be a barnburner.

"Miss Longwood,"

It Was An Ideal Day For Arts And Crafts

The second annual Arts & Crafts Festival attracted hundreds of visitors this weekend to Historie Longwood Village to browse through the many colorful displays by area artists and craftsmen. With ideal weather conditions prevailing, they enjoyed watching entertainment that included a variety of song, dance and music presented by

talented area performers.

Casselberry, who calls himself "the Poetry Man," won the best of show award at the festival. His exhibit of original color photos and poetry mounted on artistically cut wood were thought by the panel of judges to have been the most versatile entry.

First place in the art division went to Caroll and Eugene Weyant of Titusville. Second place in painting was won by Cannon of scenes, while Alice Spacher was third. Edward Zettler Longwood placed first in the crafts division with his wood and mirror wall planters. Irven Peckett, took second in crafts and Ann Adkins, third. Honorable mention was given Randall Spurgeon,

Meet Some Of The Displaying Artists

AURORA (GINGER) BENNETT

Aurora (Ginger) Ben-nett moved into oils only six years ago and, only six years ago and, inspired by outdoor children's activities, began capturing them on canvas. She will be displaying these along with other rural and nature scenes. She is vice president of the Sanford-Seminole Art Association—and this year's chairman of the "Fall for Art" show.

JULIA NUTTING Julia Nutting of Oviedo has been painting for about four years, beginning at an adult education oil painting class at Seminole Community College. Her favorite: country scenes, for which she has won several honorablemention awards and a second-place commendation in the 1975 Downtown

Other artists, Pages 4-12

Jim Shupe, Dean of Students at Lakeview Middle School in Sanford, received his Masters Degree from Stetson University in 1969. As a hobby, Jim makes tables and clocks from rough cut wood. He derives satisfaction from being able to envision a clock or a table in a section of wood, and then creating the finished product. Jim uses clear fiberglass resin to coat his works. The fiberglass provides a waterproof, resilient finish.

James L. Koevenig: Holds 2 Dozen Awards

James L. Koevenig, profeasor of biology at Florida
Technological University, has studied art at Cumming
School of Art, Des Moines,
Iowa and the John Pike Watercolor School, in addition to studying media illustration at the University of Iowa. He is vice president of the Florida Federation of Art, a member of the Artists League of Orange County,

the Florida Watercolor Society and Central Florida Art Association. He has collected about two dozen art show awards.

What started as a hobby for Paye Siler four years ago is now like a full-time activity. Most time is spent with watercolors and, spurred on by one of her teachers at SCC who told her it takes about 1,000 paintings "before you can master the medium," observes: "I have about 500 more to go." Her greatest joy: watching others enjoy her work. Her favorite now: soft pastels. In 1977 she placed first in the crafts division, but her goal this year is to place in the paintings division.

A. When looked upon historically this "ism" refers to the art of the last quarter of the 19th century represented by Monet, Pissaro, Sissley, etc. and its characteristics are as follows: plain air colors, that is colors such as found out of doors, seen in full sunlight. Secondly, the use of detached, short brush strokes, and neglect of details. In general meaning, impressionistic treatment refers to a sketchy treatment by means of loose, short brush strokes - minus the sunspecked coloration.

Q. I tried to paint with india ink on an extra-smooth canvas primed for the use in oil painting, but the ink would not go evenly over the surface - it "crawled." A. Rub the recalcitrant surface with a rag official recongition nowadays?

A. No. Today official recognition is given to no-art only.

Q. Is flake white (white lead) harmful?
A. Yes, when you eat it (regularly). Q. Could you tell me what is so unique about Picasso?

A. That for the past 40 years, with absolutely nothing to offer, he was able to make such a big splash.

Q. How can I make casein appear like oil? A. Varnish your painting heavily.

Q. 5 parts turps, 2 parts stand oil, 2 parts damar varnish. Is this formula correct for a painting medium? A. No. Damar resin has no business to be part of a painting medium. Q. Is genuine copal resin medium available in any of the America brands? A. Yes. In the formulations prepared by Permanent Pigments of Cincinnati, Ohio. Q. Can anyone use my painting for reproduction without paying a fee?

A. To my knowledge, if not otherwise specified, the artist retains the copyright of

A. As long as the no-talents will be coddled by the "know-nothing" boys, or by the "business first, and who the hell cares" manipulators. Q. When I stretch and then prime large-size canvases, the stretchers invariably twist. A. After sizing place the canvas on the floor and weigh it down at the corners. Do the same after priming. Upon drying, the canvas will remain flat. Q. In attacking the avant-garde art you seem to imply that all its practitioners are fakes. Don't you think that there must be come

A. Sincere yes, talented NO. In art we are concerned with talent, not sincerity. Be an "insincere" fake at your heart desire, but do it with genius, and your product will be great art. This may sound cynical, therefore I suggest reading my book, Modern Art Sweet and Sour and Abracadabra and Modern Art, where the subject of artistic creativity was treated along scientific lines.

Life in northern New York's dairy farming country inspired Lucille Rogers to sketch the farm hills through which she roamed and the animals she met. Bedridden as a high school senior with scarlet fever, her father gave her her first set of oil paints. After moving to Florida, she studied painting at SCC. Hanging in the Sanford City Commissioners' chamber is a 3x5-ft. oil painting by Mrs. Rogers. She is a member of the Sanford-Seminole Art Association and Orange County Art League and has won ribbons in five years in area art shows.

Lake Mary: New Plant, 2nd Near

Herald Staff Writer

One new plant has decided to locate in Lake Mary and a New England firm is considering relocating its entire operation in that

Numa Corp., an Orlando-based enterprise, is planning t construct a 19,000-equare-feet manufacturing plant on a site north of Stromberg-Carlson on Rinehart Road. Construction for the plant will begin in mid-November, according to company officials, with completion expected in March

Initially the firm will employ 40. However, by the end of the first year of operation, corporate officials expect to have doubled the size of the plant and increased employment to 100.

The work force for the plant will come from local people, said

Numa and its subsidiary, Zyyez International, which will also operate out of the Lake Mary plant, handle electronic assembly and research, according to company officials.

In addition, a Stamford, Conn., flight simulator manufacturer is considering moving its entire operation to Lake Mary.

Lake Mary is one of three or four central Florida sites being considered by Reflectone Inc., according to Ed Harversat, regional manager with the firm.

The firm would employ 200 to 250 initially and expand to 300 or 400 employees within the next several years, according to The engineering division of the firm is already located in Winter

Lake Mary is being considered as a site for the planned 120,000 square feet plant, because of the favorable cost of living and ready labor market, according to Haversat.

"The cost of living in New England area is extremely high and it is hard to attract personnel," said Haversat. Other considerations making Lake Mary a prime candidate for the plant is its nearness to Florida Technological University (FTU) and the firm's major account — the Navy Training Center at McCoy Air Base. "We're primarily an engineering firm and it is important to us to be near a university, because a lot of our people want to continue their educational training and we encourage that," com-

Heverset is part of Reflectors's search committee that will ecommend a site for the firm's relocation. He said that ecommendation is expected within the next few weeks. "Hopefully a decision on a site will be made within a couple of weeks and we can begin construction four or five months down the

But the Altamonte policeman wasn't there

No one knew about any jurisdiction problem until City Commissioner Dolores Vickers began receiving telephone com-plaints and forwarded them through channels rom city motorists that the city police officer was requiring motorists to turn right through a residential area of dirt roads to move the volume of traffic faster during the 8:15 to 8:30 "We were checking on some complaints," said Police Chief Justus East, "on the school traffic when it hit us between the eyes that that section of Palm Springs Drive is not within the city. The Christian School is in the city, but that section of the street is not," he
