

Game Fish To Be Shown At Florida Fair In Tampa

TAMPA, Jan. 13 — Using 21 species and seven large aquariums, the Florida Game Fish Commission will present the largest exhibition of game fish ever produced in Florida at the State Fair here, Jan. 15 to Feb. 16.

This is the contention of Dr. E. N. Kennedy, executive secretary of the commission and P. Lilly of Winter Haven, chief conservation officer of the first congressional district.

Every species of game fish indigenous to Florida lakes and streams will be on exhibition, all alive and representing every size from the minnow to the largest to be found in state waters.

Fresh water bass will be featured, for it is in Florida's lakes that this species find their natural habitat. The largest in the world are to be found in Florida, according to Dr. Kennedy. More than a million and a half are represented yearly in the state fish hatchery at Winter Haven and used for stocking lakes.

Practically every variety of predatory fish will also be shown and all aquariums will be labeled so that professional and amateur anglers can readily identify them. There will be educational features to the exhibit as well as the interesting display of the many varieties.

In the huge new outdoor aquarium where last year porpoises were shown in salt water, alligators, turtles and other denizens of the deep will be displayed in fresh water. Others and other mammals will also be shown.

Live game of every description, wildcats, deer, squirrels and many other species of fur bearing animals, will be displayed, all alive. There will be no mounted specimens presented by the Commission, according to Mr. Lilly.

Wild turkeys, quail, quail partridges and other hunters' delicacies will also make up an interesting exhibit framed by the State Fish and Game Commission.

Italians Vote For Biggest Military Budget Since 1918

Soviet Bombers Roar Over Helsinki In Raids While West- ern Front Flares

Death Of Borah Draws Attention

Swedish Airmen Re- port Destruction Of Six Russian Planes

Italy today bitwarked its off-proclaimed determination to be ready for all eventualities with the largest military budget since the World War. The cabinet approved an expenditure of half a billion for next year.

Soviet bombers roared over the south of Finland in a series of intense raids while the Western Front was a flare-up of activity with French penetration of German territory on a serious expedition.

The death of Borah drew international attention. He had led fights against the United States participation in the League of Nations, and the World Court.

The Russian army said it had "annihilated" a Finnish battalion on the Eastern Front, and had killed numerous casualties in the Karelian isthmus.

Russian bombers passed over Helsinki, but raids appeared to be confined to nearby cities.

The Pope, in a message to President Roosevelt, saw "light" in the possibility of immediate success for peace efforts. He said he was continuing his work.

Swedish airmen serving as volunteers in Finland reported they had destroyed at least six Russian bombers up to today.

German and British announcements agreed that the northwest of Germany had been scouted by air during the night.

The foreign ministers of Rumania and Yugoslavia conferred in Rumania on Balkan policy. Japan had two main concerns as Chinese reported two victories over the invaders, killing 8,000, and a Tokyo newspaper said Japan would levy no additional duties on United States imports when the 1911 treaty expires Friday.

Soviet Russia reported Saturday morning that Red Army troops had "annihilated" a Finnish battalion Friday in fighting north of Lake Ladoga and that Finland suffered "numerous casualties" in clashes on the Karelian isthmus.

The Russian communiqué, reporting important action for the first time in days, failed, however, to give the number of casualties in both battles. Twenty-six machine guns were reported captured from the battalion.

While Russia told of gains against Finland, the Finnish Army reported Russian attacks in the Baltic sector just above the deadly-old Arctic Circle. Three Swedish pilots helped the Finn's harass the retreat of 40,000 Red Army soldiers, who were fighting a rearguard battle.

The torpedoing of two Scandinavian steamers was reported. The 6,034-ton Falala was sent to the bottom Thursday off Sweden. These aboard—numbering 333—were rescued and taken to a Scottish harbor. The signal was on route to Sweden.

A trained and experienced instructor will be sent to Sanford to conduct classes each Wednesday beginning at 7:30 P. M. The sessions will last approximately two hours.

Miss Evelyn Beal, state coordinator for this area, has held several conferences with officers and directors of the Business and Professional Men's Association and is leading every cooperation toward local plans. Miss Beal will personally organize the Sanford class and is expected to arrive Jan. 24 for that purpose.

R. D. Dalley, supervisor of the State Department of Trade and Industrial Education, which is in charge of the course, said Public Instruction of which Collis English is superintendent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—

Nazis Would Halt Aid To Finland, DeWolfski States

Speaker Says Italy Is Open For Propo- sition From Allies

Europe's latest aggression scare by Nazi legions causing an almost general mobilization of Belgian and Dutch resources and armies, is, for the present at least, merely a move by Stalin's collaborator to prevent the Allies from giving effective assistance to the hard-pressed Finns in their fight against the invading Communist hordes, Capt. Constantine deWolfski told listeners in the Parish House of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church Thursday night during one of his weekly discourses on the latest developments in World War No. 2.

Faced with the possible threat of a flanking movement through the Persian Gulf, British and France will be forced to curtail their assistance to Finland in the fighting in the far North, according to the German viewpoint, he declared.

He asserted that Norway and Sweden have been slow in lending active support to their neighbor nations because these Scandinavian countries, too, lack sufficient planes to protect their cities and civilians from the horrors of attacks from the air. He predicted, however, that these nations will not let Finland stand alone in her efforts to stem the Communist invasion for he said from all indications, these nations are talking more and more of taking an active part in the war.

He commended the Finns for their staunch resistance and expressed a belief that if they had 500 fast pursuit planes the little nation would be able to halt the only successes the Russians can claim against them, the air bombardment of their cities.

He interpreted Italy's latest actions as an invitation to the Allies. Italy desires to know what the Allies will offer for defense of the Balkan nations against Stalin's ostensible ambitions, he said.

The people of England and France are no longer talking of peace, he said, but are talking of a treaty with Germany when the Allies win this war that would make Germany's 1917 treaty with Russia and Rumania look like a mere toy in comparison. These nations desire to end forever war as a means for settlement of Germany's difficulties and thereby prevent the recurrence of bloodshed and armed camps in Europe because of over-ambitious rulers, he said.

Borah Rites Planned By U.S. Senate

President, Cabinet, Supreme Court, Di- plomatic Corps To Be Present At Funeral

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)— Senate leaders today arranged to hold a state funeral Monday for Senator Borah. The President, the cabinet, the Supreme Court, and diplomatic corps will attend. His body will be taken to his home state of Idaho for burial in Boise.

Eight senators will be chosen to escort the bier west. Borah left, unfinished, a speech he intended to deliver Monday opposing British interference with American mails, suggesting the denial of port facilities on British ships if continued.

Senator Borah, dean of the United States Senate, died at 8:45 o'clock last night. He was 74 years old.

His death followed a cerebral hemorrhage, with which the veteran statesman was stricken about the time he suffered a fall at his apartment here Tuesday morning. It was not known whether the hemorrhage caused the fall or resulted from it.

The Senator was unconscious when Mrs. Borah found him lying on the floor of his bathroom. He regained consciousness only rarely thereafter, sometimes calling for Mary, his wife, who was con-

Chinese Report Jap Defenses At Canton Failing

HONGKONG, Jan. 20.—(AP)—

Japanese counter defenses of Canton, south China's largest metropolis, were reported by the Chinese to be crumbling yesterday following one of the most serious setbacks inflicted on the invaders in the two and one-half year war.

The Chinese said a ring of steel virtually had been completed around Canton, normally a city of 1,500,000 population which fell to the Japanese in October, 1938, and which has since been used as a base for extensive operations in south China.

The Japanese have been pushed back 50 miles since a series of retreats in Kwangtung province forced them to begin a retreat from Yingkat, important communication center on the Canton-Hankow railway 80 miles north of Canton, the Chinese declared.

The pursuing Chinese were said to have established lines forming an arc, with their right, or western flank, only 18 miles from Canton and their center and left flanks only 25 miles away.

The Japanese for several days have maintained silence on their Kwangtung campaign. They acknowledged a week ago that some of their forces were withdrawing from the northern area of the province after completing what they said was merely a drive to mop up remnants of the Chinese army there.

High Chinese sources in Hongkong admitted their successes were achieved only by great casualties numbering between 15,000 and 20,000 Chinese troops. They said a moderate estimate of Japanese losses would be about 5,000 men.

Neutral observers said the Chinese admission of such a great population of losses over those of the Japanese and the silence of the part of the invaders gave considerable credence to the Chinese reports.

The Chinese declared the heavy toll they paid was well worth it because of losses of prestige suffered by the Japanese and because the Nipponese war machine could ill afford to lose 5,000 soldiers at this time.

These sources said the Japanese troops involved included the eighth and 10th divisions and one brigade of the imperial guards, a total of 50,000 men, while they estimated about twice that many Chinese were engaged—a much smaller preponderance than usual.

Procedure For Sale Of State Land Prepared

O.P. Herndon Will Be- gin Taking Appli- cations For Auc- tions On Monday

Beginning on Monday, O. P. Herndon, as agent for the trustees of the International Improvement Fund, will begin accepting applications for the sale of land in Seminole County, title to which passed to the State through the reversion clause of the Murphy Act.

Although various other phases of the Murphy Act are still involved in litigation, the Florida Supreme Court has rendered a decision upholding the legality of the reversion clause of the Act and later the judges unanimously reaffirmed their stand in a case testing the validity of municipal title, thereby leaving no obstacles to the sale of this property.

Mr. Herndon said that any person purchasing this property can be given a clear title since the tax liens of the City, county and district were automatically wiped out when the fee simple title reverted to the State.

No property will be sold except upon written application. In making application for the sale, a deposit must be made amounting to 25 percent of the 1932 valuation, the minimum amount that can be bid, together with a deposit of $100.

Swede Volunteer Airmen Bombard Red Armed Forces

HELSINKI, Jan. 20.—(AP)—

The Finnish high command announced last night, after three enemy aerial bombardments of Helsinki's outskirts, that Swedish volunteer airmen are raining bombs on Russian troop columns and bases along the eastern frontier where new victories over the invaders were reported.

The Russia air force, said to have sent 480 planes over Finland in mass attacks, dropped bombs on the city during the afternoon, but the planes were driven off before reaching the central part of the city.

The noise of bursting bombs was heard in Helsinki at 2:25 P. M., driving people to air raid shelters. Throughout the day they heard what the air raid alarm became clear weather in Helsinki, that the enemy planes would be driven off before reaching the central part of the city.

Along the eastern frontier above Lake Ladoga the Finns announced the capture of enemy positions in the wiping out of a Russian detachment of 50 men near Ilomantsi and the destruction of two Russian tanks in fighting in the Kullua sector.

The battle of Lake Marka, where the Finns yesterday announced a 28-mile advance, continued with the Russians struggling to cling to a new fortified line thrown up at Markajarvi, 48 miles from the frontier.

After driving 60 miles into Finland at one of the nation's most vulnerable points, the Russians narrowly escaped being drawn into another "death trap" such as wiped out the Red army's 163rd and 44th infantry divisions at Lake Kianta.

By a swift retreat from Lake Jouta, about 18 miles from the Semijarvi railroad and highway terminus that is a gateway to Kemel on the Gulf of Bothnia, the Russians escaped entrapment, according to advices from the Baltic front where the war is being fought in temperatures as low as 48 degrees below zero.

Describing heavy aerial attacks yesterday in which 450 Russian planes carried out bombing and machine-gunning attacks—300 of them inland from the fighting front—last night, communiques reported three enemy planes were shot down. There were reported only five casualties—one dead and four wounded.

Swedish volunteer airmen have participated with success during the past week in bombing enemy camps and columns," the communique said.

$69.05 Raised Here For Finnish Relief

Although there has been no concerted drive to gather relief funds for the Finns here in Sanford, $69.05 has been contributed recently.

An additional $10 was donated by a party who wishes to remain anonymous thus raising the total amount to $79.05. All funds raised were turned over to the Finnish Relief Fund Committee in New York.

Experiments With Flowers Outlined By David Burpee On Sanford Visit

By GLENN GOVOCER

Nature has done a fine job in supplying man with beauty as well as food for his existence but even Nature cannot keep pace with the demands of a modern civilization without assistance. Rendering this assistance is the work of the horticulturist.

David Burpee, official of the Burpee Seed Company and botanist of note, who has been a visitor in Sanford this week, has aided Nature in no small way in supplying the growing demands of man.

Mr. Burpee said that the horticulturist makes no effort to change the rules Nature has established for the reproduction of species but merely assists in making new applications of these rules.

A cousin of Luther Burbank, one of the greatest of all botanists, Mr. Burpee said that some of his accomplishments have been a mutation of the efforts of his predecessor whose research and experiments Mr. Burpee has continued.

The visitor said he considers as some of his greatest accomplishments the work he has done toward making the flowers that can grow in everybody's garden more beautiful.

"Why are flowers beautiful?" Mr. Burpee asked, because they desire to attract bees and other insects which are necessary to the fertilization of the flower with pollen and the reproduction of the species.

Flowers are merely Nature's way of advertising, he said. As an example of the importance of this advertising, Mr. Burpee told of one of his experiments with the development of a double nasturtium.

"Johnnie" Of Radio Fame, Is Visitor Here

"Johnnie" as he is known to radio listeners all over the country was a visitor in Sanford yesterday.

Johnnie Morris Jr., his full name, is the call boy on the Philip Morris program. Traveling in a small car especially built for his use, Johnnie and the district supervisor of the tobacco company, W. N. Bennett spent yesterday afternoon on local merchants.

Johnnie is 48 inches in height, weighs slightly more than 160 pounds and is 25 years of age. He not only rides in his own specially built car but hunts with his own small gun, he said. He told Herald reporter that he likes baseball and plays a "wicked" game of pingpong. In fact, he says, he likes all sports and is a big roofer for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Johnnie said that he has traveled all over the United States and during this itinerary he has been given the keys to several cities. He is radio's only star with a Holmes contract.

By a great little salesman and a grand fellow, said Mr. Bennett, Johnnie was the center of attraction at the Sanford-Orlando Road Club last night when he made his famous call and tonight he will give a blanket of roses to the day winning the feature event.

County Crops Are Not Hurt By Cold Wave

Mercury Fell To 26 Degrees But Cit- rus And Celery Escaped Damage

Icebergs Are Seen At Daytona Beach And At State University

LAKELAND, Jan. 20.—(AP)— Freezing temperatures extending to the edge of the celerades was predicted for tonight. The mercury will fall steadily, and the coldest will be at 8:00 A. M. The northern portion of the state will have frost again Monday. Predictions: New Smyrna 25; Sanford-Orlando 26.

Sanford and Seminole County have weathered the latest cold wave without appreciable damage, according to reports received today from local growers and shippers but with the weatherman's prediction of continued cold, citrus men are holding their breath and preparing for another night of watching beside the smudge pots.

Temperatures as low as 20 degrees in the Sanford District and 27 degrees in the Oviedo district were reported but "it is the consensus of opinion that no damage to the vegetable crops has been done," according to Allan Wilson, assistant manager for the American Fruit Growers, Inc. which receives weather reports from all over Florida.

Randall Chase, of Chase and Company, stated that although they kept a close vigil, reports from growers built fires in their grove smudge pots and that the damage reported to Florida's citrus was little if any.

Mr. Chase said that the mercury reached its lowest ebb between 6:00 and 7:00 A. M. today when a temperature of 20 degrees for Seminole County's citrus section was reported. The temperature must stay below 27 degrees for several hours to do any appreciable damage to the citrus.

10 Percent Have Filed Homestead Exemption Blanks

Only 10 Percent Of Seminole County's Home Owners Entitled To Exemption Have Filed Applications

Only 10 percent of Seminole County's home owners entitled to homestead exemption have so far filed applications for the exemption of their property from County operating tax levies in 1940, Seminole County Tax Assessor, Sanford Doudney reported today.

Only 222 home owners have signed the applications in his office up to now, he said, while the total number of file applications for the exemption last year reached 2152.

Mr. Doudney's office in the Court House is open each week day from 9:00 A. M. until 5:00 P. M., with the exception of Saturday when the Court House offices close at noon. He requested that home owners visit his office when buying their auto license tags or at the Court House for any other official business and take care of this matter which requires only a few seconds but means dollars to every eligible property owner.

From the standpoint of geography this Finnish war is proving a wonderfully effective educational medium for many people in this country.

Pronunciation

Here are a few simple words with which everyone is familiar and of course nearly everyone knows how to pronounce, if not to spell. We found them in the Good House-keeping magazine where Mr. Archibald Rutledge says, "If a speaker fumbles for the right word, we have a fellow sympathy for him; if a writer misspells one, we feel a personal jolt; but when someone mispronounces a word, we are embarrassed by him and for him."

- Here's the list: 1. Quintuplet 2. Respite 3. Penalize 4. Incognito 5. Ignominy 6. Flaccid 7. Formidable 8. Theatre 9. Indictment 10. Polignat 11. Alias 12. Heinous 13. Coupon 14. Mausoleum 15. Mischievous 16. Robust 17. Corral 18. Secretive 19. Condolence 20. Khaki

See how many of them you can pronounce correctly. Give yourself 5 for each word pronounced properly and then add up your score. If you have made over 60, you have done very well. If you get 80 or better, you probably looked ahead at the following list of correct pronunciations as prepared by Good Housekeeping:

- 1. Quintuplet (QUIN-tup-let, not quin-TOOP-let or quin-TUPP-let) 2. Respite (RESS-pit, not re-SPITE) 3. Penalize (PEE-nal-ize, not PEN-al-ize) 4. Incognito (in-COG-ni-to, not in-cog-NEE-to) 5. Ignominy (IG-no-mi-ni-y, not ig-NOM-in-y) 6. Flaccid (FLACK-id, not FLASS-id) 7. Formidable (FOR-mid-a-ble, not for-MID-a-ble) 8. Theatre (THE-a-tre, not the-ATE-er) 9. Indictment (in-DITE-ment, not in-DICT-ment) 10. Polignat (POIN-yant, not POIG-nant) 11. Alias (ALE-ee-as, not a-LIE-as) 12. Heinous (HAY-nus, not HEE-nus) 13. Coupon (KOO-pan, not CUP-pan) 14. Mausoleum (maus-o-LEE-um, not mau-SO-le-um) 15. Mischievous (MIS-chee-vus, not mis-CHEE-vous) 16. Robust (ro-BUST, not RO-bust) 17. Corral (cor-RAL, not COI-ral) 18. Secretive (se-CREE-tive, not SEE-cre-tive) 19. Condolence (con-DO-lence, not CON-dolence) 20. Khaki (rhymes with stocky, not with wacky)

Just A Little Nutty

The old saying that all are queer but me and thee may not be literally true, but there are decided grounds for the suspicion that the dividing line between the nut and the genius is sometimes less than a hair's breadth. A few illustrations from the Punta Gorda Herald may serve to prove the point.

"Nothing is quite so mysterious," says the Herald, "as the workings of the human mind. A study of men classed as geniuses generally shows them to be a little 'cracked' in certain respects. Sometimes their peculiarities have been harmless, in others, they have led to positive insanity. A few examples will illustrate.

"Napoleon was afraid of a cat; Peter the Great was afraid to cross a bridge; Martin Luther imagined that the devil appeared to him and he threw his ink bottle at the fiend; Samuel Johnson, Beethoven and Lincoln at times contemplated suicide.

"Among the ridiculous antics of great men may be mentioned the occasional habit of Cardinal Richelieu to gallop around a billiard table, imagining himself to be a horse; Adam Smith, the great economist, once walked 12 miles to church, clad only in his nightshirt; Bentham, the philosopher, went bareheaded in winter and wore heavy leather gloves in summer. Many men of genius have been shockingly lax in morals as measured by adopted standards.

"All this does not mean, however, that being a bit nutty is an infallible sign of genius."

THE SANFORD FORUM

The Editor Sanford Herald Sanford, Florida Dear Sir:

Spessard L. Holland offers the voters of Florida the opportunity of securing a Governor who is one of the most tolerant and liberal minded men I have ever known. His record in the State Senate for the past eight years has attracted considerable attention, not only because of the unusual courage he has shown in taking positive stands for what he believes is right but also because of his ability as a clear thinker, a good debater and a clean fighter.

Seminole County and all of Florida needs such a man in Tallahassee, who knows state government. We need a man to handle the affairs of Florida who is not only a business man but has had previous experience in governmental problems. Holland is well equipped to meet such qualifications. After many years of personal acquaintance with Spessard L. Holland, and many important business transactions, I have not the slightest hesitancy in endorsing his integrity to the limit. He is the type of man that although there may be a difference of opinion on some questions one need have no hesitancy in confiding in him on all questions. He has never betrayed a confidence. He will be a credit to the community, County and State, and can ably represent Florida as Governor anywhere. He has had wide experience, not only in Florida but in national affairs.

It is not after that I publicly state a political opinion, but the candidacy of Spessard L. Holland for Governor is too important for the best interests of the State to go unmentioned.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY" BY RUSSELL KAY

That famed "little bird" that you "found" telling things I thought on my shoulder last week long enough to whisper in my ear that a genuine "nutty" dark horse candidate for the governorship would announce shortly.

He is a young man with an enviable business record, possessing a sound knowledge of law, an able speaker with a most pleasing personality who will have ample financial backing and strong support.

While fairly known in fraternal circles and in his own section, he will need to be sold to the average voter, but he plans a vigorous campaign and will "get around" to appear in every town and hamlet before election day.

WHO? —Well, you guess! So much for politics. I'll have little time to think about such for the next three weeks for I'm booked to help George Burr with the Orange Festival this week—which of course includes the "Press Breakfast"—and take my word for it that show actually singles the best letter stay away. But it is all in fun and is intended to teach the boys not to take themselves too seriously.

Then right behind that comes the Florida State Fair in Tampa—eleven big days and eleven big nights. Everything new and different. Bigger and bigger county exhibits than ever before. Three great name bands, including Eddie Duchin and Hal Kemp. A regular whoop-wow of a rodeo, hang-up automobile races, Lucky Teter with a new bill of heart-stopping thrillers that will keep your hair on end for two solid hours.

The Florida State Fair you know is the third largest in America and is located within a few blocks of Tampa's thriving business section. The grounds have been beautified with ornamental plantings and never looked better. Ever so many improvements have been made, including new buildings, new gates and additional facilities.

General Manager Strieder has been hard pressed to take care of all the exhibitors demanding space this year and they are bringing more beautiful, more elaborate displays than ever before.

It is the best balanced show ever assembled, with splendid exhibits in every department—a wonderful poultry show, a great cattle show, a marvelous art exhibit, more complete and comprehensive exhibits of State and Federal government departments, an outstanding display of women's work, a splendid school and educational exhibit, the finest cigar building ever presented, and numerous other features—too many to mention—twenty-two brand new modern exposition buildings juxtaposed to the show with interesting things to see.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK BY PRESTON GROVE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—Harry Hopkins has finished a year as Secretary of Commerce during which he has seen a start made toward his goal of increasing the national income. He is troubled now with faulty health which takes away the energy he would like to use in his work.

At the same time the second term of office of his President is drawing near an end, and he has only a remote prospect that a succeeding president would seek to continue him as secretary. Therefore, it is conceivable that Hopkins may be the first of the cabinet to get ready to shoulder off his job and move into a private occupation.

Nobody in Washington ever would say that Hopkins was backing away from his job under such circumstances. Of all the New Deal cabinet members, the top rankers for hard work and long hours. But a sample of his present state of mind popped up in a while back at the peak of the European emergency.

"What a hell of a time for me to be sick," was the gist of his comment. He has been confined to his home much of the time for the past several months, and for a year he enjoyed little of the vitriolic good health that made him the joy of headline writers in the early days of the New Deal.

He has just issued his first annual report in which he describes an increase in the national income of $1,000,000,000 during the year to a new total of $10,000,000,000. It is not quite so high as that of 1937 nor 1939, but is a comforting increase over 1938. Of course, it would be far too much for him to claim that he or his department or the government was responsible for it. In his first speech as Secretary of Commerce, he told a Des Moines, Iowa, audience that, increasing the national income was the way to bring back prosperity and preserve democracy.

"I have never belonged to the school of thought which holds that merely dividing up the present national income would provide a decent living for all," he said. "A rising national income—just a cold phrase in itself—is an objective worth striving for because it means a good home, a decent education and a genuine security for the families of America."

At the time he made the speech, Hopkins was being pushed forward by his friends as a presidential prospect. He helped along the movement by re-establishing a good, stable, off-sight, candidly—as his home state, he promised himself and the public he would make a bona fide attempt to win the little girl, Diana. His position as Secretary of Commerce was made there. Then came the deluge.

His health folded up and he was no longer in the game. He all does a goodly day's work at home, operating through a corps of confidential assistants to reorganize the department and direct at least part of its activities southward into the safer trade zone of the Latin America.

Finding an acceptable place in private industry should not be hard for during the past year many business men who once barked at his policies have since learned to come in to counsel. With increased responsibilities, probably his health would brighten. One thing, however, seems fairly certain. He has written the

Art Instructor's Mustache Plays Part In Drama

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 22—The mustache worn by William E. Lockwood, University of Florida art instructor on leave for graduate work at Columbia University will play an important part in "The Man That Killed Lincoln," which held its premier performance Wednesday night at the Longacre Theatre in New York City.

Lockwood, possessor of a mustache that is slightly on the post-war type yet reminiscent of the bristling Civil War period even though worn with 1940 hairdressing, was walking down Broadway last week with Bill McGuire, Florida graduate now engaged in advance study at Johns Hopkins, when both by coincidence were encountered by James Byrd, who also claims the University of Florida as his alma mater.

Byrd, playing the second lead in "The Man That Killed Lincoln," invited the two Florida men to walk around to the Longacre with him and sit in on a final dress rehearsal. Both men had secretly wished in front of the Florida artist by the "choultie" and shouted, "That's the mustache I've been hunting for six weeks."

Lockwood after recovering from his surprise readily agreed to go back stage with the Booth impresario and have his mustache typed.

Byrd's "John Henry" starring the greatest negro singer of the century, Paul Robeson, opened in New York during the past week and from all reviews is scoring a list with Broadway theatre goers.

In 1934, Byrd was voted the No. 1 actor of the American stage. Byrd spent three years in the University of Florida, coming here from his home in Sanford.

This delicious Purde Mongole is made by combining one can of condensed tomato soup with one can of condensed pea soup, to which is added 1 1/2 cups of milk or light cream. Heat well, stirring constantly. Remove soup from fire and as an extra touch, add two tablespoons of sherry, mixing well.

—but how it "touches the right spot" these sharp days
By Dorothy Greig

SOUP is a habit with us humans. In all ages, all countries, among all people soup has been eaten, is being eaten, and will doubtless continue to be eaten. Away back in primeval times the human race discovered that soup is comforting and nourishing. So we have eaten soup ever since and it remains one of the good things of life. That is especially the case now that the cold weather is with us once again. When you are chilly and tired there is nothing like good hot tomato soup to make the world look bright again. And—by the way—here's an unusual touch for tomato soup. Serve it with a thin slice of orange floating on top. Very good!

Thick vegetable soup seems to belong peculiarly to luncheon. It is light, easily digested and nourishing. It is recommended for ladies trying to stay slim and beautiful, for captains of industry with weighty matters on their minds (and possibly on their souls), for children, and for all the rest of us who just yearn for something that's good to eat and good for us. On all counts vegetable soup fills the bill.

There are all kinds of soup for all types of meals. For instance, clear consommé served very hot with crisp crackers or toast is an appetizer for a hearty roast and vegetable dinner. It starts the gastric juices flowing and actually "expands" the appetite for the heavier foods that follow.

Our own particular liking is for the thick soups with solid little chunks of meat, rice and barley and vegetables in rich stock—and the thicker they are, the better. These are soups to set you up and give you courage to meet anything that may have in store for you. Besides they are practically a meal in themselves, and that is something to keep in mind.

One hostess trick, worth remembering when unexpected guests turn up, relates to these same thick soups. A couple of cans of them whisked down off your emergency shelf make a fine stretcher-out for a meal. Being filling and substantial in themselves, they satisfy hunger and take the burden off the remainder of the meal.

Everybody is combining soups these days. We do not know who started it, but it is certainly an idea with possibilities with lots of leeway for the woman with imagination.

For instance:

To 1 can of condensed tomato and 1 can of condensed consommé add 2 cans of water, and garnish with tablespoon of whipped cream.

To 1 can of condensed tomato soup and 1 can of condensed pea soup, add 1 1/2 cups of milk or light cream. Heat, stirring constantly.

To 1 can of condensed cream of mushroom add 1 can of condensed chicken soup and 1 can of water.

To 1 can of condensed mock turtle and 1 can of condensed pea soup, add 2 cans of water and a tablespoon of cooking sherry.

Blend 1 can of condensed vegetable beef and 1 can of condensed tomato soup with 2 cans of water.

Also as a suggestion for making your own hot fresh onion soup we offer this: Saute 2 cups of sliced onion in butter, add a can of condensed consommé, an equal amount of water, and bring to a boil. Pour into onion soup bowls, place strips of toast on top, sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and place in the oven until brown.

Negro Southern Heavyweight Title At Stake In Orlando Bout Tonight

Tony Chesna Of Sanford And Ralph Welch Of Orlando, Both Heavies, To Meet In 4-Round Prelim

ORLANDO, Jan. 22 — With the disputed negro Southern heavyweight championship at stake, Ernest Ray and Frank Lamphorn met tonight at the Legion arena in a four-round fight that headlines the first bona fide attempt to rally interest in boxing in this section of the State.

Ray, 23-year-old Palatka negro and one of the South's most highly regarded negro heavies, and Lamphorn, younger and promising Palatka local hero, top off a two-hour, 20-minute fight card that will be presented in the new American Legion arena.

The spring bout is set to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Promoter Ernie Stephens, making his first promotional venture in the Legion's new plant, tonight begins his series of programs intended to revive boxing enthusiasm in Orlando.

In addition to the Ray-Lamphorn fight, only negro fight on the card, Stephens has announced four other fights to round out a popular fight program.

Interest in the fight has grown appreciably since the week-end and advance ticket sales were said to be moving at a pleasing rate.

A shirt was made yesterday in the program as Stephens signed 500 tickets and distributed them over the week-end in a move designed to make the card event more attractive for fight patrons.

Bob Williams, 41½, tonight takes the place of Hobby Holland, local valter, to face Tony Chesna, 172, also of Tampa in the eight-round semi final bout.

Holland, a 147-pounder, will meet Joe Rodriguez, boxing, in the six-round main preliminary.

The special fight line-up by Stephens, pulling Dick Hernandez, champion, who defeated Woodrow Chesney of Palatka, the main event of the Palatka fight card, and Hal Williams, the Florida champion, both of whom are main event fighters, with the one-to-two boxing fight in interest in the sport.

A controversial heavyweight fight later in the fifty box, who have been a willingness to set a fight in the ring will open the card.

Tony Chesna, 172, of Sanford, and Ralph Welch, 190, Orlando, meet in the quarter.

"I have gone to considerable expense in building up eight fights on this card in an effort to make the fight more interesting, and the boys will either put up a real fight while in the ring, or they will get any money," Stephens remarked yesterday.

Tickets for the fight, which will be held at the American Legion Club on the East Side, are $1.00 for the main event, $1.00 for the first round, $1.00 for the second round, $1.00 for the third round, $1.00 for the fourth round, $1.00 for the fifth round, $1.00 for the sixth round, $1.00 for the seventh round, $1.00 for the eighth round.

ROBERT (RED) ROLFE, selling third baseman, asks a substantial price for the $10,000 he reportedly was paid in 1932, and expects to have a little trouble about it.

A City ordinance designed to protect local contractors from outside competition and an ordinance regulating the construction of sidewalks, residential driveways and filling station approaches were placed on their final reading and unanimously adopted at a meeting of the City Commission in the City Hall last night. The ordinance which would require contractors "not a resident of the City of Sanford," to pay an annual license fee of $100 was the first such municipal ordinance passed by the City Commission since the City was incorporated. The ordinance was introduced by City Attorney Fred E. Wilson and was supported by a number of local contractors and dealers. It was placed on its first reading at the last meeting with a request that any opposition to the ordinance be voiced at that time. No objections were voiced and the ordinance was placed on its second reading at the meeting last night. It is expected that the ordinance will be passed and become law in a few days.

Solons Hear Of Subs Off U.S. Coast

Admiral Says Coast Guard Aviator Saw U-Boat About 200 Feet Under Water

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Congress learned today one of the submarines reported off the Florida coast in the early days of the neutrality patrol was spotted 200 feet below the surface of the ocean by a coast guard aviator. Admiral R. R. Waesche, coast guard commandant, told the House appropriations sub-committee the report "caused some excitement" and that the aviator was called subsequently by telephone for a detailed account. He said the aviator gave an accurate description. He did not identify the submarine. Waesche said the coast guard's neutrality patrol work had been hampered by lack of underwater sound detectors on surface vessels. He included $1,800,000 in estimated expenditures for the year to install the devices on 70 vessels. He said the equipment's details were a closely guarded secret. The request for funds to equip the boats with detectors was turned down by the committee.

Earl Browder Is Sentenced To Four Years In Prison

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Earl Russell Browder, the Communist Party leader, was sentenced today to four years in prison and fined $5,000. The jury of 11 men and a young woman deliberated only 45 minutes on the verdict after hearing Browder himself in a singular, unopposed plea for his freedom for more than 10 years. No other defense was offered. Browder's attorney, George Gordon Battle, Browder's brother, made a motion for his freedom. It was denied. It specified that two-year sentences on each of two counts must be served consecutively. The maximum prison sentence would have been 10 years. Browder, a perennial candidate for political office, was the Communist Party candidate for president in 1936 and is now a candidate for the recent death of Representative Sirovich, Democrat, New York. He was scheduled to speak last night at a Communist rally in New York. Browder presented a defenseless case after acknowledging at the outset that he had traveled incognito to and from conferences with Soviet leaders in Moscow. He was accused specifically of borrowing the names of three other men and affixing them to passport visas. This was done, his attorney explained, because as a widely known agent of the Soviet Union, Browder's travels through Europe would be less likely to attract attention if his true identity became known. Browder's court case only several weeks after Fritz Kuhn was found guilty in a state court and sent to prison for stealing funds from the German-American fund which he headed. The Communist leader anticipated his conviction in an authorized statement last week in which the Communist party said he might receive the votes of his followers while languishing in prison. His late Eugene P. Dubé Socialist leader, who ran for president from an Atlanta prison cell. Browder served a sentence in Leavenworth federal prison after refusing to register for the World War army draft on the ground that he was a conscientious objector. At the sentencing yesterday, Browder, whose official position is that of general secretary of the Communist party, U. S. A., stood silent before the bench, his hands clasped behind his back. His bail of $7,500 was continued until next Monday when he must appear for approval of a new bond which would allow his continued freedom pending appeal.

Larger Building For Hospital Is Sought By Association Committee

A committee has been appointed to investigate the possibility of procuring a larger and more conveniently arranged building for a hospital. President T. W. Lawton of the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital Association said today in making the annual report on the operation of the institution. In his annual report as chairman of the executive committee, C. C. Dullos pointed out that the institution lacks the facilities to meet the growing demands. "Let us not forget," he said "that we are still seriously lacking in adequate facilities to meet the growing demands and in and out of season let us continue using the utmost of our influence and abilities toward stimulating the public conscience in this direction." He also stated in his report that "I am able to report at the close of the past year that it has been crowded with unusual success and no time during the year were we unable to meet all demands promptly. To accomplish this during such a period is something of which we are all proud." Mr. Lawton revealed that one of the directors of the association had offered to contribute $500 toward the purchase of a new building for the institution, cost approximately $2,000 if the remaining $1,500 can be raised. Mr. Lawton's report showed that a total of 721 patients were treated at the institution during 1939 and that a total of 250 operations were performed. There was an average for the year of 8.6 persons per day at the hospital and the average length of days per patient was 5.8. The financial report of the president revealed that a total of $17,178.28 came from all sources during the year and with a balance brought forward from the previous year of $214.52 made the grand total of $17,392.80 on which the institution was operated. The expenditures for the 12-month period totaled $17,045.58, leaving a net balance of $347.22. The report disclosed that the collections for the year amounted to 96.9 percent of the amounts charged. The county paid $1,740.25 to the institution for the treatment of indigent patients during the year. This amount, however, was considerably less than the $3,325.55 paid by the County in 1938. Improvements made at the institution during the year included the following: Two able lights and two lights in the colored wards, also double doors in the colored ward. A trash chute and work table in the diet kitchen. An in-laid linoleum was also installed. The hall floors and the stairways were covered with rubber runners. Three new metal spring mattresses were placed in the private rooms. Three adult and one children's position beds were placed in the women's ward. One over bed table was placed in the kitchen. A vacuum cleaner was purchased for the chart room.

Protest Note To British Is Made Public By Hull

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull last night made public the text of a stinging note to the British government charging that American ships passing through the Straits of Gibraltar are being delayed three times as long as Italian vessels by the British blockade. The charge was contained in an aide memoire handed to Lord Lothian, British ambassador here, last Saturday. In it, Hull demanded assurance the British government will cease discriminating against American vessels. The note was made public by Hull only a few hours after he had summoned Lothian to another conference at which they were understood to have discussed the British embargo on American tonnage and the controversy over British interference with United States mails on the high seas. His note on Gibraltar asserted this government had information that the delays caused to American ships averaged 124 days each compared to an average of only four days for Italian ships passing through the same control zone. The government must express that the British government will at least take suitable and prompt measures to bring about an immediate cessation of this unjustified interference with the shipping of the United States. Hull's note was made public by the State Department last night. (Continued on Page Two)

New Cold Wave Is Sweeping On Toward Florida

Prediction Is For 'Much Colder' Temperatures Tonight Than Previously

Frost, Freezing Seen On Jan. 25

Small Coast Craft Are Warned To Expect High Winds

LAKELAND, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Another cold wave will pass over Florida during the next 36-48 hours, the frost warning service today announced. Temperatures tonight will be "much colder" than those during the brief respite following the three-day frigid period over the weekend. Tomorrow morning the temperature will be "slightly above the danger point for truck in central and southern districts" and Thursday morning frost and freezing may extend into the mucklands of South Florida, the warning said. Small craft all around the Florida coastline were cautioned against strong winds today and tonight. Extreme northwest Florida forecast for tonight was 20-24 degrees on the coast, and to 18-22 in the interior. For peninsula Florida it ranged from near 26 at the Georgia line, to 28 in Gainesville, and 35 in Central Florida. Snow whipped across the deep south of the nation with paralyzing force today. Wind-blown flakes piled up over regions where even the slightest fall was a novelty, from South Carolina to Louisiana. Although many areas enjoyed moderation, subzero readings were recorded in a dozen states, subfreezing lows were reported in 29 others and subnormal temperatures were registered at 100 other points outside the frigid zones. A compilation of death statistics shows cold moved east attributed to the severe weather and cold from the northwest 10 days ago showed 257 had perished in 39 states. The heaviest snow in a decade swept most of Texas. It ranged from three to seven inches. It was the first fall in 10 years in San Antonio and Houston. An inch an hour piled up in Texas. The storm reached Little Rock, Ark., on its eastward fling. Existing conditions, tempered somewhat by rain, chilled the citrus fruit groves in the lower two-thirds valley for the fifth consecutive day. Crop damage in Texas was reported to be extensive, particularly to fruits, vegetables and small grains, but E. R. Castleman, plant superintendent for the Rio Grande Citrus Exchange, opined the citrus damage would be slight. Temperatures rose during the day in most of the east, New England and the midwest—but not north of the Ohio river. Marguerite Savareux, adjudged 50 cases in New York City because his court room was too chilly. Ice hindered shipping on the Cape Cod canal on the direct route from New York to Boston. Watertown, N. Repairs For Clubhouse Get City Approval

Nordgren Returns $100 Appropriated For Kiwanis Meet

Upon the recommendation of the committee directing the activities of the Sanford County Club the City Commission at its regular meeting in the City Hall last night, authorized the expenditure of a sum not to exceed $300 for the repair of the clubhouse. The Commission received a report from the committee which met on Saturday afternoon, recommending that improvements be made to the living room and the dining room of the club so that ladies may hold bridge parties and other affairs there. The golfers also requested that immediate action be taken on the purchase of equipment to provide adequate hot water for the golfing enthusiasts using the course. The purchase of a small tractor to be used in maintenance of the links was also requested and H. H. Coleman, a member of the committee, volunteered to assist in the approximate cost of remodeling the club house. Superintendent of Parks James Moughton was authorized to obtain prices on the cost of the improvements to the building and to proceed with the work if the amount does not exceed $300. Mayor Walter B. Coleman and City Clerk H. N. Sayer were given the required authorization for the signing of revenue certificates as security for local bonds to be used in financing the purchase of cast iron pipe for the replacement of the water line from the wells to the pumping station. President Karl Nordgren of the Kiwanis Club tendered a check to the Commission for $100, the amount which the City had previously donated to assist in financing the cost of the Kiwanis mid-winter conference held here Jan. 11-15. He expressed appreciation on behalf of the club for the cooperation of the Commission but said that the expenditure of the amount was not required. H. H. Coleman, local manager of the Florida Power and Light Company, tendered a plan to the City which included the furnishing of electric power for the water works and the purchase of the diesel engines now being used for pumping water. He said that a saving could be afforded the City but the Commissioners tabled the matter for future consideration. The Commission agreed to contribute $35 monthly toward the sponsorship of the Seminole County sewing room project after the local supervisor, Mrs. Curtis Smith and the area supervisor, Mrs. Mary Fennell, declared the amount is needed to meet the increased demands upon the sponsor. The sale of seven lots in the Bel-air Subdivision was authorized, three to Mrs. Frances D. Woodruff, two to Mrs. C. A. Parlin and two to Mrs. TenEyck. The price fixed for the lots facing the street were $100 and $75 for the others.
