Touhy Speaks At CofC Coffee Club Today; Voting Machine Shown

President George Touhy of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce this morning told the Coffee Club, meeting in the USO Building "When we have our membership drive in the fall I hope you will remember what other communities are doing."

You don't buy a membership in the Chamber of Commerce," he said. "You buy cooperation and through our membership we build strength and improve the economic life of the community for progress," Touhy added.

He said "We have a good many projects going on around here. I hope that they will impress upon you the benefits we will derive from unified efforts."

Touhy spoke at the first anniversary of the Coffee Club headed by Don Bales who is chairman of the committee presented the monthly gathering of businessmen and Chamber of Commerce members.

Bales introduced newcomers to the Coffee Club which included: Mayor F. D. Scott, Robert Mahan of the Seminole Loan Co., Harold Kastner, A. F. Ramsey, T. V. Brown, and F. C. Winn.

Candidates for local political offices were guests of the Chamber of Commerce this morning and were introduced according to the office for which they were running.

W. A. Adams, custodian of the voting machines to be used in Seminole County elections, explained the use of the Shoup Voting Machines by using miniature replicas of the machine and later demonstrated the machine itself which was mounted on a truck just outside the Chamber of Commerce building.

Adams warned that the machines are so simple to operate that there was just one thing each voter must be sure of—that an "X" appeared beside the name of each person chosen.

Easter Seal Drive Report Is Revealed Today By Chairman

Easter Seals and the Easter Seal Campaign brought in a total of $2,316.91, Mrs. Harold Appleby reported today.

Mrs. Appleby, chairman of the Easter Seal Campaign in Seminole County, said that the sale of Easter Seals brought in a total of $1,583.41, the Lily Sale was responsible for $43.35, and the Easter Seal Banks produced another $18.68.

This, Mrs. Appleby said, was responsible for a total of $1,647.44. With postage for the mailing of Easter Seals paid out of this total, a check for $1,390.18 was mailed to the Central Florida Society for Crippled Children.

However, Mrs. Appleby revealed, as she announced the total amount contributed from Seminole County, there was $736.50 contributed directly to the Forest Park School.

This total was made up of $400 contributed by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners; $101.50 by the Sanford Rotary Club; $100 by the Sanford Kiwanis Club; $50 by the Florida State Bank; $50 by the Sanford Atlantic National Bank; $25 by Commissioner Olin Fouraker; $25 by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company; and $5 by Bert Chapman.

Combining the contributions direct to the school and the totals from the Easter Seal Campaign, Seminole County's contribution came to $2,346.94.

Morris Submits Resignation After 30 Years Of Service

Cancer Crusade Total Reaches $3,770.91

The general chairman of the Cancer Crusade for Seminole County, Don Hales, said this morning that the total of the local drive had reached $3,770.91 as of 9 o'clock this morning.

However, Hales pointed out that the drive will not be complete until April 30, and further contributions are expected to swell the total even higher.

Mrs. Gertrude Dingfelder, chairman of the Seminole County Unit, American Cancer Society said that the local unit is a member of the coveted Quota Toppers Club in Florida.

It was pointed out this morning at a meeting of various chairmen of the Cancer Crusade for Seminole County, that four of the big gifts group and four areas of the county have not yet reported their collections and contributions.

Don Hales, general chairman of the Cancer Crusade here, said this morning "This was the best organized drive ever conducted in Seminole County. The volunteers' response was excellent. I am proud to have had a part in this year's Cancer Crusade."

Irving Pryor, county liaison chairman expressed his thanks to "Longwood, Lake Mary, Eldo Springs and Lake Monroe for the wonderful job that was done during this year's campaign. The co-operation throughout the county was excellent."

Principal's Successor Unknown

Herman E. Morris, after 30 years of service in public schools, submitted his resignation as Principal of Seminole High School.

In a letter addressed to the Board of Public Instruction of Seminole County, Morris tendered his resignation to become effective at the end of the 1955-56 school year.

Morris told the Board of Public Instruction "After 30 years service to the Youth of Seminole County I humbly submit my resignation as principal of Seminole High School effective at the end of the school year 1955-56."

He further told the Board of Public Instruction "My family and I have enjoyed the association with this board, the board of trustees, parents and pupils."

He said, "No principal has had more cooperative teachers or finer pupils to work with."

In explaining his resignation, Morris said "About a year ago I had a heart upset but my doctor tells me that I am completely recovered." And he further explained "This has nothing to do with my decision to resign."

Morris stated in his letter that "Present conditions convince me that the school, and pupils would have better opportunity by a change at this time."

He concluded his letter of resignation with "Thanks for all that you have done in my behalf."

The resignation of Morris as principal of Seminole High School leaves some question as to who will succeed the present official who has headed the faculty and school for many years.

Biplinghoff and Sanders had decided to pass up the state tournament for the North-South Amateur at Pinehurst, N. C., but each registered here immediately after being eliminated from that tourney.

The entry of Sanders, who was medalist and tourney favorite at Pinehurst, was accepted by the state association late last night even though it came after the entry book had closed.

At that time by-laws will be discussed and adopted. All members of the above named Fire Departments should plan to attend, it was announced.

Movie On Flying Saucer Controversy To Be Released
HOLLYWOOD — A movie made as a documentary-type story of the flying saucer controversy is scheduled for release May 9.

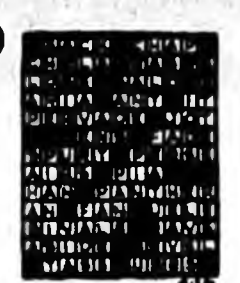

preview Monday that the film brings out "one indisputable fact, that flying saucers are here." However, Air Secretary Quarles announced last October that an eight-year Air Force investigation of nearly 5,000 sightings produced "no evidence of the existence of the popularly termed flying saucers."

The 90-minute movie, "Unidentified Flying Objects," is pegged to what are described as official, Pentagon film clips of unidentified objects in flight. The producers declined to say how the Pentagon shots were released to them.

71-Year-Old Man Says Bicycle Riding Is Fun

CLEARWATER—A 71-year-old man who says he doesn't intend to drive an automobile. R. H. Beck Sr. says 52 years of bicycle riding have made him strong enough to challenge any man "to a full day of manual labor. I'll work any of them down."

He said he has never needed medical treatment except for three accidents when motorists hit his bicycle. Each time the driver was a woman.

Occasionally he condescends to be a passenger in an automobile. He has a truck for his business but he has a helper drive it from job to job while he rides his bicycle.

"Bicycle riding is fun and it is much healthier for me," Beck said. "I can take short cuts and travel through downtown traffic faster than my truck."

"A lot of people would be happier if they left their cars at home and rode a bicycle," he advised.

Anita Ekberg Says Interesting Men In U. S. Claimed

HOLLYWOOD—Anita Ekberg, engaged to wed a British actor, failed to find a husband here because Hollywood men are "married, engaged or dull."

This will no doubt be a blow to the ego of movie males, but the sizzling Swede declares it's true. She says all the interesting men here are already claimed.

What about the rest?

"The men here are not very interesting," she said. "I never even liked to go out with actors, because they can talk about one thing only: acting. That is so very dull."

"I do not like to talk about acting all the time. I like to do my work and then leave it."

How come she is marrying an actor? The lucky fellow is Anthony Steel, well-known English player.

"He does not act like an actor when he is away from his work," she commented. "When we are together, we never talk about acting. We talk about anything else."

Obviously she is nuts about the guy. She said that they met in London quite by accident.

"I was asked to go to a premiere by Warwick Productions, for whom I was making a picture," she remarked. "I didn't want to go, but the publicity man urged me to."

She came to a small dinner beforehand in one of the suites of the Savoy Hotel. I was going to the premiere with him. One man went with me. So he took me. That's when we decided to get together. After that, we saw each other every night. When will it happen? "I came back here, and he had not followed about 10 days later, go to Florence to see him," she said.

Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster Are Happy Guys

HOLLYWOOD—It sounded like a great feud story, and there's nothing that sells better than feud stories. Unless maybe it's cheese-cake.

Kirk Douglas and Burt Lancaster were making a shoot-em-up Western called "Gunfight at OK Corral," and if that didn't have the makings of a feud, nothing did. Here were two rugged men, both with strong opinions and highly ambitious. It was a natural. So I dropped out to the set to watch the fireworks.

Douglas, wearing a mustache and genial grin, was the first to greet me.

"This guy Lancaster is really a tough customer to work with, isn't he?" I suggested slyly.

"Burt is the most wonderful actor I have ever come in contact with," Douglas replied. "He's the hardest working guy, too. And helpful. He's always trying to make you comfortable."

"All right, be a sorehead," I snapped.

Lancaster was in the scene. When he emerged, I insinuated myself into his confidence.

"How about that Douglas—a real ham, huh?" I smirked.

"He's a dream to work with," said. "He is making a picture in Italy."

THE SANFORD HERALD

Thurs. Apr. 26, 1956 Page 8

Lancaster contradicted. "Conciliatory, bright and loaded with talent."

"Yeah, I know. Now tell me what you really think about him." It was no use. Neither of them would budge from his high praise of the other. Some days you just can't make a buck.

I learned that Lancaster, still owing two pictures to producer Hal Wallis, was making the picture at his old salary. But Douglas is doing it as a free-lancer, at a much larger sum.

"Oh ho!" I exclaimed in Lancaster. "Doesn't that make you mad?"

"Quite the contrary," he replied slyly. "I'm delighted to get the commitment out of the way so I can make my own plans. It's Kirk who gets upset. I ask him why he needed the money. 'Okay, then, be happy,' I tell him."

What about billing? Lancaster's name goes on top, but Douglas' is printed in the same size type. Douglas didn't seem to care.

"All right, be a sorehead," I snapped.

Lancaster was in the scene. When he emerged, I insinuated myself into his confidence.

"How about that Douglas—a real ham, huh?" I smirked.

"He's a dream to work with," said. "He is making a picture in Italy."

Shoup Voting Machines Make It Easy To Cast Ballot—Be At Polls!

We've had an opportunity to take a close look at the voting machines—all 23 of them—on which the voters will register their choice for political offices in the coming elections.

They're so simple to operate that even a child can manipulate the levers which first close the curtain so that your ballot may be recorded in secret—second—the simplicity of moving the levers toward the candidate of your choice so that an "X" will appear opposite his name—and then—to move the lever, which reopens the curtain and registers once and for all your ballot.

In the first place, the Shoup voting machine makes possible the counting of all ballots—for there is no way that a curtain may open until a voter has made his selection—and even though you have made an error, it may be corrected and then re-registered. There will be no mutilated ballots and no mistaken "X's."

Through the simple method of voting with the Shoup voting machines that are now on display in the Seminole County Court House, there is no reason for even one person staying away from the polls in the coming elections.

Once you see the very simple and easy manner of voting, there will be no doubt as to your choice over the now outmoded written ballot.

The machines are locked, sealed, and are double checked by various methods so that manipulation of the ballot count is impossible.

The total of individual votes for the candidates listed on the voting machine must correspond with the total number of times the curtains are opened and closed, which in turn must correspond with the number of certifications used to allow machine voting, which again is tallied with a machine count that cannot be moved in any manner whatsoever.

If there is a way to make a mistake on a Shoup voting machine, we have not been able to find it.

The entire routine was explained to us as we watched the machines being put into readiness for the forthcoming Democratic Primaries.

There is even a way to vote on these

How Do You Overcome Tension?

By HAL ROYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbsome comments of a Piedmont Pilot: How do you get rid of your tension?

Do you bite your nails? Light up a cigar or cigarette? Chew gum?

Usually a person who has one of these habits is intolerant of one who has another of these nervous habits. The gum chewer looks down on the nail biter. There is a fixed gulf of misunderstanding between the cigarette smoker and the man who enjoys a good corona.

Now—thanks to an enlightened dentist—who us craven addicts have reason to be more tolerant of each other.

Dr. Maury Massler of the University of Illinois College of Dentistry says smokers, gum chewers and nail biters share one thing in common—they are all former thumb suckers.

A tolerant man himself, Dr. Massler sees no basic harm in these grownup replacements for the consoling thumb of childhood. They are merely, he says, needed methods of "relieving the tension that build up."

I cannot attest the general accuracy of Dr. Massler's thesis. But it is certainly true in my case. I was a stout thumb man myself until the age of 3, when I wore off forever.

There followed 20 tense, painful, and restful years. Then at 34 I discovered the relaxing solace of a good cigar. It was like being reborn again. Since then my life has been one long smoke-filled nap.

But my enjoyment has been interrupted by many cigarette smoking hostesses who complained that the rich, dreamy aroma of my cigarettes reminded them of "soothing help."
 "Why don't you light up a cigarette instead they urged.

What could a polite man do but reluctantly extinguish his lone two-bit cigar—and quietly slip the stub back in his pocket when no one was looking?

It would be bad manners to tell them the truth: That cigarette smoke gives me a vile headache—that I feel anyone who actually enjoys smoking cigarettes ought to have his lungs examined.

Believe me, being a cigar-lover is no pipe dream. You are sometimes lonely and embattled. Even the airlines are against you—except on all-male flights. A cigar man has to sit and brood smokeless while the cigarette fans bludge the plane.

Have you ever noticed a fellow in an airplane absent-mindedly chewing on his thumb? He is probably a frustrated cigar man reverting to the solace of childhood. Take it from me—again thanks to Dr. Massler—the next party hostess who tries to shame me out of my cigar by holding out my cigarette is going to get a brusque answer.

"Listen, lady," I will tell her your daily living.

coldly. "You may not be up on the scientific facts behind this situation, but I am.

"The truth is that we are both reformed thumb suckers who, for social reasons, have turned to substitute adult satisfactions. You probably had a small thumb, so you turned to cigarettes. I had the largest thumb in the neighborhood, so I naturally turned to cigars.

"If I had wanted to grow up to be a cigarette smoker, I would have started off as a child by sucking my little finger. Now please let me enjoy my cigar in peace or, I warn you, right here and now, I may revert to real infancy and cram my whole hand in my mouth and make gurgling noises."

Faced with a threat like that, any hostess would back down and let a cigar man blow the smoke rings of his own choice.

That is the wonderful thing about science. The more you learn about it the more practical ways you find to use it to improve your daily living.

Newspaperman's Tour Report

This is the second part of the 19th in a series of articles written by Mrs. Carmage Walls who has been representing The Sanford Herald on a recent tour of foreign countries:

We spent one afternoon touring an elementary school which looked very much like one of ours insofar as the equipment, methods, etc. were concerned. It was interesting to us, however, to note that obviously we were taken to see the one of which they were most proud since we drove for about 30 minutes from the hotel before reaching the school which was situated in a neat new apartment house.

The really huge and new University of Moscow situated on Lenin Hills took another afternoon. Part of it is still under construction but 10,000 of the 22,000 students are already installed on the new campus with the others scattered about the city in other buildings. The new campus has at present 2,000 rooms, with 22,000 of these rooms in an enormous multi-story building. The University is a little city within itself with everything there for the student's needs. The corridors of the present buildings, if stretched out, would be 110 kilometers long.

Students that are found to be eligible through examinations are given 300 to 500 rubles (875 to $118) per month by the State in addition to various types of scholarships. Post graduate receive 750 rubles (about $118) per month. Great emphasis is apparently being put on the training and education of engineers.

We also visited a ballbearing plant in Moscow, which plant is one of their showplaces since it has taken several national awards for production goal achievements.

Half of the employees were women, who receive the same salaries as men in the Soviet. This plant has 10,000 employees and maintains on the premises nurseries for children, libraries, gymnasium, health clinic, a summer camp for youth, and a ten-year school for adults. One of the features which was quite interesting was one department which was fully automatic - from the raw materials straight through machinery to the finished and wrapped-for-shipping ball bearings.

We were told that there is no compulsory retirement age but everyone is eligible for pension at the age of 65 (60 for women). The person then can work and receive full pension plus his salary. Children under 18 are not allowed to work a full day but may work part time down to the age of 16. Below that they are not allowed to, according to our guide.

One cold, wet afternoon was spent going through the Kremlin, most of which tour was spent in the Great Kremlin Palace where we saw the room where the Party Congresses are held, as well as the ancient palaces which have been incorporated into the big one and restored as museums.

We were taken through the fabulous Armoury Treasury where the jewels, clothes, coaches and other possessions of the Czar are on display. There would be no way of placing a monetary value on

Lowly Key Is King In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Don't let anybody tell you that in Germany, beer is king. The real sovereign of the federal republic is the lowly key.

Keys are everywhere. You can't get into a mouse hole without one. The German housewife wouldn't know where to begin her day without her pack of keys.

She carries at least a dozen of them, sometimes a score or more. First there's the key to the front door. Sometimes there are more than one—for instance, the keys to the bolts.

Then, if she lives in an apartment, there is a key to the apartment door. In each door of the house, whether it be a two-room flat or a 20-room mansion, there is the familiar key. Many Germans still lock themselves into their bedrooms at night.

But this is only the beginning of the key cycle. There are keys to the back door, too; to the basement, to the attic, to the china closet, the desk, even to the fire box.

Strange as it may seem, Germans even lock up their refriger-tors at night. Beer, of course, is a German institution, too. The ministry of foods announced this month that 16 million gallons of beer was consumed in the federal republic in 1935.

This averages out, the ministry said, to 20 gallons per person, including women, children, old people and refugees.

And they all use keys, an indeterminate number, since there is not yet a federal ministry of keys to keep score.

If anybody happens to lock the key inside a room or a refrigerator, he'll send out a call for the "schlosser," or locksmith, a busy fellow in this country.

No self-respecting German motorist would ever leave his car unlocked, even for a quick dash into the grocery store. The quaint American habit of leaving motor running and the keys in the car shocks German sensitivity.

Not long ago an American businessman in Frankfurt bought a house and went on an inspection

Editor Sanford Herald Sanford, Florida Dear Marion:

There is no possible way to express how truly wonderful you were to us during the Easter seal campaign!

This year our campaign, from all indications is going to be a much greater success than the Easter Seal drives of former years, making it possible to carry on the vital work of helping our own handicapped youngsters.

We all recognize how much it means to have the proper kind of newspaper coverage which you have given to us during the past few weeks.

Please accept my personal thanks and the gratitude of the Central Florida Society for Crippled Children.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERV

ONE LAZY SUNDAY MORNING, Mr. Sweeney saw a man stand beside a car, telling his wife how to park it. She finally managed the task, after giving the cars both behind and in front of her a thorough going-over. Then the man drove the car out into the middle of the avenue, and the woman began trying to park it all over again.

"What's the idea?" asked Mr. Sweeney and the man explained, "Teaching the little woman how to park—or trying to, at any rate. We do it here outside the church because we know the owners of the cars she hits are sure to be inside for at least an hour."

A writer new to the ways of moviedom was working on the script for an epic. He showed it dubiously to Harry Ruby, saying, "I'm afraid they won't go for it; they'll read between the lines." "If they're anything like most producers I've met," observed Ruby, "they won't be able even to read the lines."

footnotes to fashion

If you've been wondering why your new hat doesn't live up to your expectations, perhaps it's because of that old makeup.

You wouldn't dream of wearing fashion colors that were popular seasons ago. Why wear makeup that's been kicking around that long?

A new hat and fur stole for instance, certainly justify a new wardrobe of makeup. Most women now also include eye makeup in their regular makeup kit. It has become just as accepted as lip stick and fingernail polish.

The look for warm weather will be the regal one. The hair is short in spite of what half-dressers have been plugging, and hats are large and ladylike. The silhouette is slim. Makeup is muted, except for the eyes, which seem to take more obvious decoration each year. The eye line may be just as apparent as you wish without causing undue comment.

The natural lip line is still with us, thank heavens, so lips will not cover the lower jaw or fall into an artificial rosebud for the rest of the season.

Lipstick shades are warm. Pink ones have more depth than ever before. One new shade, a pink fire, is said to be "pinkier than red and redder than pink."

That sums up the pinks — they're all aglow to new fashion colors from pink to coral to red. Pink takes to navy, beige and gray too.

The lovely thing about pink is that it is becoming to young and old. It gives a youthful complexion a radiance and the older complexion a real lift. A new rose blush foundation is a lovely under-tone of pink too for this time of the year.

When applying makeup, don't forget your neck. You'll find it you change to a new makeup skin tone shade your winter neck will show up like a totem pole unless you include it in when you apply foundation and powder.

It's just about time too, to treat your neck to a good oil bath. Apply a special neck cream, nourishing cream or any other good cream to your neck each night until you've finally put it back in the smooth bracket. The after-winter neck takes a lot of hard work.

Star Photographer Receives Merchant Marine Training

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One of the nation's top glamor photographers got his training in the unlikeliest of places—the merchant marine. When Richard Avendon was a merchant sailor during World War II, his father gave him a camera. This prompted him to take special training to become a photographer's mate. The way over, he sought a career in photography. But how to start? He offered to take some photos for a New York women's store for free. The store liked his stuff, hired him. Now his studio is one of the most prosperous in New York, and he has photographed nearly all the top glamor queens of the stage and screen.

During his merchant marine service, Avendon became friends with another sailor named Leonard Gershe. Later Gershe, a writer, became intrigued with his friend's adventures with models and glamor girls and wrote a story which is now being filmed as "Funny Face." Fred Astaire plays a fashion photographer thinly disguised as Richard Avery.

"I'm out here as consultant on the picture," explained Avendon, slim and dark-haired who looks even younger than his 32 years. "I advise on color, design and other matters. We're trying to achieve some of the effects I get in my photography." Avendon spoke on many topics, including his experiences working with famous names. It may shock some people to learn he does not consider Grace Kelly an ideal subject.

He has photographed her three or four times and "I wouldn't do it again," he said candidly. "She brings only her eyes, nose and lips to the studio and says, 'There they are; photograph them.' She offers nothing of herself." "On the other hand, Audrey Hepburn is a dream. She has great inventiveness, and you get wonderful shots from her."

Campaign Tempers Flare When Issues Raised At Jaycee Luncheon

Dr. Dobson To Talk On Japan At Rotary Club Meet Monday

A man who, in all probability, is the best qualified in this area to talk on his subject, will speak to the Sanford Rotary Club at its weekly meeting Monday night at the Yacht Club on "Japan—After 10 Years".

Capt. John Dobson, M. C. U. S. N., Senior Medical Officer of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, who had two tours of duty in Japan, first during 1945 and again last year to schedule, among other things, to discuss the atom bombing of Hiroshima during World War II. Dr. Dobson, a native of New York, received his medical schooling at Columbia University and used his internship at St. Vincent's Hospital and his residency at the City Hospital, both in his home city. His degrees include those of A. B. and M. D.

He has been attached to naval aviation units since beginning his naval career at Pensacola in 1940 and has had duty aboard the transport carrier Ranger, Lexington, Munda, Roosevelt, Leyte and others and prior to reporting to Sanford shortly before the start of this year was stationed at the Naval Air Station, Atsugi, Japan as Medical Officer and as Medical Officer for Command, Fleet Air Japan.

It is expected that his talk will prove of great interest to members of the local Rotary and their guests.

Accusations May Come Out Tonight At Rally In Geneva

The 10th in a series of 11 rallies will be held tonight at Geneva at the Community House when the local candidates will be allowed five minutes to speak their platforms to the people of that community.

Rumors, and purely rumors at that, have not been substantiated, but it is expected that charged countercharges will come out tonight's rally.

In which group, or whether several groups are involved, has not come out of the circulated rumors that such charges will be raised.

However, it is expected that tonight's rally will be the last attended other than the expected crowd at the final rally which is to be held in Sanford at the Farmer's Auction Market Friday night, May 4.

The Parent-Teachers Association will serve dinner tonight prior to the rally beginning at 6 p. m. Speaking will get underway at 8 o'clock.

James Lee, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Party, said the candidates.

12 Complete Red Cross First Aid Instruction Class

Twelve members of a Red Cross First Aid instruction class held in the Oviedo City Hall under the direction of Ernest DeFalloff have completed the course.

The twelve members of the class have met the Red Cross qualifications of the standard course of instruction and will receive their certificates through the Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Those receiving certificates are: Theodore Aulin Jr., W. C. Schuchman, J. W. Evans, J. E. Brookshire, Katrina Brookshire, Jimmy Brookshire, Wesley Evans, James E. Pearson, Don R. Uray, Betty Duda, Katherine Duda, and Lillian Jackson.

Those registered in the class were from both Oviedo and Slavia.

Moss Bluff Lock Closed To Boats

A notice has been given that the Moss Bluff Lock, located at Moss Bluff on the Oklawaha River, is closed to navigation for dewatering and underwater repairs during the period extending through May 1.

Special attention is given to the fact that this temporary closure prohibits through passage on the Oklawaha River between the St. Johns River and Lake Griffin.

Navigation interests are urged to take this closure into consideration in planning their operations. Every effort will be made, it is reported, to reopen the lock to navigation at the earliest possible time.

Due to the number of persons of the immediate Sanford area using this water route special attention is brought to this notice.

Clerks, Inspectors Instructed In Use Of Voting Machines

Clerks and inspectors who will be in charge of the forthcoming elections in Seminole County were instructed last night in the use and operation of the Shoup Voting Machines.

All of the clerks and inspectors have been appointed for the 10 Seminole County Precincts, the list of which is published elsewhere in today's Sanford Herald along with sample ballots that will be used on the voting machines.

C. E. Ripple, representative of the Shoup Voting Machine Company, instructed the election officials as to the use and operation of the machines and in the tabulating of the final report of the election results.

The voting machines, 23 of them to be put into operation and used in the Seminole County elections, were demonstrated yesterday at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club by W. A. Adams, Custodian of the machines appointed by the Seminole County Commissioners.

Today, J. T. Landon, a representative of the voting machine company, is in Sanford demonstrating the use of the machines on the corner of First and Park. Since early this morning, hundreds of Seminole County voters have availed themselves of the opportunity to learn the use of the machine and to become familiar with its operation.

Samuel E. Shoup, son of the inventor of the Shoup Voting Machine, was in Sanford earlier in the week. He said here "The Shoup machine is the simplest machine to operate and absolutely fool-proof."

He said, "No one should stay away from the polls this election because of the machines since they are so easy to use and clerks and inspectors are fully informed as to their use."

"In every place that the Shoup Voting Machine has been used," he said, "the number of voters has increased because of their simplicity."

Herald Endorses Sen. Stenstrom

The Sanford Herald is proud to endorse the candidacy of Senator Douglas Stenstrom in his bid for re-election to the Florida Senate.

We do this, not simply because he is our fellow citizen, but because we believe him to be the better qualified of the two candidates for the office.

On his record, Senator Stenstrom has earned a full term in the Senate. In 1955, his Senate colleagues selected him from 18 new members of the Senate as the outstanding first term Senator. In the traditional St. Petersburg Times poll of Capitol correspondents, Stenstrom was voted among the top six most valuable members of the Florida Senate.

These tributes from the men with whom he served and from those who watched the workings of the Senate day by day are evidence enough of his effectiveness, ability and integrity, and of his consistent vote in the public interest.

Let's set the record straight!

The record shows that Senator Stenstrom did not vote against an increase in old age assistance grants and did not vote to decrease old age assistance grants. Senator Stenstrom has supported Florida's assistance program for our elderly citizens. The Senate Appropriations Committee in 1955 included in the general appropriations bill over 30 million dollars for the old age assistance program. The entire membership of the Senate, including Stenstrom, voted in favor of the appropriation. In addition, he supported a Senate resolution providing for a thorough study of the problems of financial assistance to our older people by the State Development Commission for recommendations to the 1957 session, realizing that proper planning was necessary in order to sustain the old age assistance program in the years ahead.

Senator Stenstrom's record shows conclusively that he favors separate but equal school facilities for Negro children in our state. Along with the entire membership of the Senate, he voted for a senate resolution to Congress, requesting Congress to over-ride the decision of the Supreme Court by passing a proposed constitutional amendment, to be submitted to the several states for ratification providing the states with exclusive jurisdiction over their public school systems. He also voted with the entire membership of the Senate for a bill to permit the County School systems to have exclusive jurisdiction in determining which schools children shall attend.

The record shows that Senator Stenstrom has supported revision of Florida's antiquated constitution, the 1955 Road Code to put road building in our state on a basis of determined need, the Florida Development Commission for the attraction of new industry to Florida, the Civil Service Merit bill providing job security for competent state employees, water conservation and flood control, adequate appropriations for our state hospitals for our mentally ill, the Farm Colony for our retarded children, and the Florida Industrial Schools for boys and girls.

As Chairman of the Senate Citrus Committee he handled on the floor of the Senate, in the closing days of the last session, a bill providing for adequate funds to combat the new citrus disease known as "sprawling decline" which threatens Florida's citrus industry. He supported bills providing funds for the construction of diagnostic laboratories for Florida's growing cattle industry.

Serving on the important Education Committee, Senator Stenstrom took a leading part in the strengthening of Florida's school program, working for the teachers' pay raise, the drivers' training program, the Junior Colleges and other important bills affecting education in Florida.

Douglas Stenstrom has served the people of Seminole County for the past eight years and the people of the 37th Senatorial District for the past 18 months in a conscientious and able manner. His influence and thinking have always been on the side of the growth and development of this county and this district. He was a leader in the fight for our hospital and has been a leader in the fight for primary roads so needed in both of the counties of his district.

The people should place their stamp of approval on Douglas Stenstrom's splendid record on May 8 and return him to the Senate for a full term.

Christensen Chosen Bicycle Club Head

Officers of the Seminole Bicycle Club were elected at a recent meeting of the organization. Ed Christensen was named president of the group; Mrs. Frances Murray, vice-president; and Mrs. Leda Peterson, secretary. Sidney Vihlen Jr. accepted the appointment as Senior Road Captain.

For further activities of the members of the Seminole Bicycle Club, which numbers several hundred, boys and girls will be divided into age groups for such events as hobnob parties and treasure hunts.

Slips will be sent home to parents or guardians of the children, from school, asking permission for the boys and girls to ride in the groups at the various events sponsored by the club.

The Elks Club of Sanford has volunteered to sponsor the next event planned by the Seminole Bicycle Club.

Attending the meeting were: Mrs. G. Hamberger president of the Southside School P-TA; Mrs. Ray Murray, Safety Chairman, Southside School P-TA; Mrs. Alice Willink, co-chairman of the Southside School P-TA Safety Committee; Mrs. Margie Hill, Navy Officers Wives Club; Mrs. Gene Pitten, Navy Wives Club; Mrs. Harvey Swanson, Pilot Club; Mrs. C. M. Flowers, Woman's Club; Ernest Cowley, Kiwanis Club; Ben Karnes, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce; Chief Roy O. Williams, Elks Club; Patrolman Ben Butler, Sanford Police Department; Dr. Charles L. Park Jr., Rotary Club; Rayburn T. Milwee, Superintendent of Public Instruction; Mrs. W. B. Brinson, Sanford Grammar School Safety Committee; and the Girl Scouts.

Brought to the attention of the Seminole Bicycle Club members was the fact that bicycle riders of today are tomorrow's motorists, so if they learn habits of safe, lawful and reasonable driving, they will continue those habits when they begin to drive automobiles.

It is expected that many safe bike riding events will be planned throughout the coming summer months.

Friends' Aid Needed

Bralley Odham spoke for LeRoy Collins last night in a television address seen and heard in the Sanford area.

Odham defended Collins against charges of opponents that the Governor favors segregation and in a press interview forecast that Collins would win in the first primary — "if his friends work hard enough for him."

The pressure of the stretch drive in the governorship campaign brought forth sharp criticism and name calling among the four major contenders yesterday.

Bonnie L. Lowry, who has been engaging in a verbal slugging match with Gov. Collins over their views on segregation, called the governor a "hoax on the people of Florida and just a small time politician."

Collins, in a speech to the annual Cracker Day celebration at Deerfield Beach, warned his audience against exchanging "good government for 'buffoonery and demagoguery'."

Earlier in Pinellas and Pasco counties, Collins spoke out against "bale campaigning" by opposition candidates and said "We have a state to build and not a state to destroy."

Former Gov. Fuller Warren told an audience at Tallahassee last night that if Collins is re-elected, he is likely "to make a strong effort" to get the constitution amended to permit him to run for governor again in 1960.

The same suggestion was made earlier by Farris Bryant, another of the governorship candidates. Bryant said the Constitution Advisory Commission was getting ready to propose a constitutional change to allow the governor to succeed himself one time.

Collins had said he agreed with commission chairman Wallace E. Sturgis who labeled Bryant's statement an "outright fabrication."

"Too much power for too long is a very dangerous thing," Warren said. "Give anybody too much power for too long and he's liable to abuse it and mistreat the people he has power over."
