

CIO Convention

both the Democratic and Republican parties are responsible for what is happening in the country today.

Loud applause by the delegates followed Quill's declaration that there is one independent voice in America today calling for peace and security and that voice is Henry Wallace.

Across the nation in San Francisco, two powerful union leaders emerged as undisputed bosses of the AFL convention.

And in New York, the National Maritime Union's sixth biennial convention wound up with President Joseph Curran declaring "the Communist party in this union is on its way out."

AFL leaders George Meany of the Plumbers and Daniel J. Tobin of the Teamsters won control of the big labor organization's convention with a maneuver which resulted in abolition of the 13 vice presidencies, and incidentally removed John L. Lewis of the Mine Workers as an AFL officer.

Meanwhile, the CIO convention, in a noisy demonstration, cheered right-wing speakers who shouted their support of American policy and who sharply criticized Russian and Communist methods.

In New York, the longest meeting in the National Maritime Union's history ended with President Curran commenting that despite "obstructionists of an organized machine, the rank and file was able to win control of the convention."

The CIO convention in Boston was told that the American labor movement cannot long exist unless it devotes itself to winning political battles with the same zeal it gives to economic battles.

Jack Kroll, director of the CIO Political Action Committee, addressed the convention just after Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr., called for a union of labor, housewives, farmers and war veterans to win the next election away from what he termed a "servile Congress intent on serving special interests."

Kroll frankly told the delegates that the CIO hasn't yet duplicated—in the field of politics—its success at economic organization.

Declaring this "is because we haven't sufficiently applied ourselves," Kroll called for 1,000,000 "block workers"—people who would organize their neighbors in a single block.

He said the CIO-PAC already had 100,000 such workers.

Gen. Vandegrift Says Aggression Not Ended

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 16 (AP)—General Alexander A. Vandegrift said today it is plain now that U. S. victory in World War II failed to make the world safe for fundamental freedoms "even for the present."

Without naming the nations he had in mind, Vandegrift said in an address prepared for the fall convocation of the University of Maryland that the situation which raises these questions:

"Are we attempting merely to preserve 'peace' in our time, understanding full well that a deluge will surely follow?"

And "Are we so terrified at the implications of atomic warfare that we will settle for any kind of peace at any price?"

Woman Found Dead In Automobile Trunk

CHICAGO, Oct. 16 (AP)—Law enforcement officers in Cook county joined with authorities in nearby Du Page county in a search for the slayer of a 35-year-old woman whose mutilated and nearly nude body was found stuffed in the trunk of her automobile yesterday.

The victim of the brutal attack was Mrs. Catherine M. Wasil, mother of three young children. The youngest, William, 17 months old, was found lying on the front seat of the car parked on a highway near suburban Chicago. He was not injured. Her husband, Stephen J., 41, a bricklayer, was quoted by police as saying his wife had been missing from home with William for two weeks.

Police said they were seeking for questioning a man named by Wasil as his wife's close friend, Sgt. Nick Reilly, of the Chicago homicide detail said the man named by Wasil had not been at home for a week. Police said Wasil told them his wife frequently disappeared without explanation and he did not report her absence when she left two weeks ago.

In the field of business practices, the committee:

1. Urged vigorous enforcement of the Robinson-Patman Price Discrimination Act, recommending particularly that the Federal Trade Commission place "limitations on sellers who require purchases of commodities in such excessive quantities that small enterprises are unable to purchase from them."

2. Recommended cooperation among small enterprises, including both retailers and manufacturers, in such activities as buying, selling and advertising.

3. Disapproved "any commercial standards and government procurement specifications that allow only one or a few supplies to conform with requirements" and condemned "discriminatory freight rates."

On the subject of labor, the committee recommended a federal study "to determine whether or not union contract designed primarily for large industrial units and imposed on small business, constitute a handicap to efficient production in small business."

FARMERS MAKE STRONG EFFORT TO COME BACK AFTER STORM TROUBLE

Tropical storms during the past month dealt heavy blows to growers of vegetables in the southern section of Florida, but the growers have been working with might and main to make a quick comeback.

Such setbacks are striking examples of the difficulties which the farmer must contend with in his job of producing food. More than any other workers, farmers are affected by the vagaries of weather. People in other lines of work usually can continue to produce, even though they may be slowed down a little, during extremes of weather such as drought, freezes, and storms, but the farmer may lose all his plants, much of his fertilizer, and weeks of hard work during a two-day storm.

Many farmers suffered heavy losses in young plants not yet set in the field, crops growing in the field, fertilizer, and time during the two storms in September. They also suffered losses or possible losses from failing to get their crops to early markets where good prices usually are paid for produce. Even though they have been able to replant quickly (and many of them have not), their crops will be smaller and later than they had intended.

As hard as the blows were, it is indeed inspiring to note how quickly and forcefully numerous farmers started their comeback efforts. The storm had not blown itself out completely before those whose soil was sufficiently drained to permit it had replanted plant beds; many had pumps working night and day to remove water from their fields; many were ditching and diking to take the water off their land; and practically all who could were getting another crop under way.

Those whose crops were ruined, plant beds destroyed, or fields covered with water that would delay their exacting time schedule for planting knew they had lost labor and money, but they didn't take additional time to moan over their difficulties; instead, they got right to work to make a crop if humanly possible. Such experiences are not new to most of them, and they took the trouble in stride. It takes pluck, initiative, energy, and lots of hard work to win a quick comeback after adversity, and Florida's vegetable farmers have shown they have those qualifications.

Truman Policy

said that exports pushed prices only slightly higher, adding that the nation always exports about one-third of its grain crop in normal times.

The conference was devoted largely to the food-saving campaign—and to other aspects of European aid.

Mr. Truman said an extra session of Congress to provide emergency assistance for Europe is still a possibility, but he is still trying to find funds from existing sources to provide stop-gap aid.

He said this effort has met with some success in recent days and cited the use of Export-Import Bank funds and a $50,000,000 purchase of French francs. But, he said, that does not necessarily mean an extra session won't be needed. He will call one if he finds it necessary, he added.

On other matters: He had no comment on the remarks yesterday by Henry A. Wallace who accused the Administration of being dominated by Wall Street interests intent on war.

Neither would he comment on the book "Speaking Frankly" by James F. Byrnes in which the former Secretary of State tells of discussions with Mr. Truman before his resignation. Mr. Truman said he had read some of the book, but not all.

He said Secretary of State Marshall would have something to say in a few days on the findings of Lieut. General Albert C. Wedemeyer during an investigation of conditions in China. Wedemeyer's report has not been made public.

Bakers To Cut Down Size Of Bread Loaves

Food Committee Obtains Pledge For Program To Save 3 Million Bushels

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Citizens Food Committee said today that baking industry representatives have endorsed a program aimed at saving 3,000,000 bushels of wheat annually through cooperation of bakers, housewives and public eating places.

Charles Luckman, chairman of the committee, said that as part of the plan the bakers will feature smaller loaves of bread wherever possible and on Oct. 28 will cut down quantities of bread delivered to grocers.

In cutting down on deliveries to retail outlets, the bakers will abolish what is known as consignee supply. Under this system bakers supply more bread than is really sold in an effort to promote business.

Luckman said the savings can be accomplished only through waste control and education efforts in the use of breadstuffs.

Phillip Murray Is Re-Elected Head Of CIO

Both Labor Groups Denounce Lewis; U. S. Foreign Policy Is Endorsed

BOSTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Phillip Murray was re-elected president of the CIO by acclamation today and promptly rejected the latest invitation to return to the AFL with caustic remarks about John L. Lewis.

Commenting on the fact that AFL President William Green had issued a previous invitation to rejoin the AFL Murray said, "So did that bulging man," referring to Lewis.

Alluding to differences between the United Mine Workers' president and other AFL leaders, Murray said Lewis is "sitting by the side of the road, and he's lamenting his position."

Murray then declared: "Maybe in the spirit of ego or in a flourish of bombast, he might stick his over-sized chest out and say some unkind things about me. 'But who the hell am I? I just happen to be a simple-minded individual with enough strength in my forehead to make the sign of the cross.'"

Level Of St. Johns Is Continuing To Rise At Bulkhead

Lake Monroe continues to rise steadily and has now spilled completely over the bulkhead, even with an offshore wind.

The water level appears now to be even higher than that of several years ago during high water. Seminole Boulevard east of Sanford Avenue is covered by water hyacinths driven ashore by high winds, and water is up over both curbs on to the grass of Ft. Mellon Park.

At the old St. Johns River Warehouse planking has been laid over the flooded street in order to permit access to the offices of Tamiami Trail Tour, Inc. The water has become deep enough to prevent loading of heavy trucks. The company plans to move to its new location a block away at Palmtoe and First Street by Nov. 1. J. C. McFee, manager, announced today. They will occupy the north half of the one story brick building which is being remodelled by Strickland-Morrison, Inc.

The State Road Department is reported to be working to build up part of the Road 46 fill at the Geneva Avenue bridge where cars dipped running boards deep in crossing. The city has made repairs where the fill on Seminole Boulevard near the culvert was being washed away.

It was pointed out by a local grower yesterday that a canal from the St. Johns to the Indian River would not only lower flood levels here, but would relieve the Kissimmee Valley of flooding.

Antarctic Expedition Planned To Gather Weather Information

By BARBARA GONMLY
Sydney, Australia, Oct. 17 (AP)—Pinpointing the latest location of the ever-shifting south magnetic pole and gathering extensive weather data are the first-year goals of Australia's Antarctic expedition, scheduled to get under way in mid-November.

By placing teams of meteorological experts for a year on two lonely winnowed islands in the far south, the expedition hopes to get the first consistent records of Antarctic weather conditions. A team of scientists will carry on other research.

Chief geophysicist J. M. Rayner sources bureau said exact location of the government mineral reef of the South Magnetic Pole is very important to navigators. He expects the information to be gathered will recast the southern areas of the magnetic maps of the world.

Operation plans for the first stages of Australia's five-year Antarctic research and exploration program are being pushed under the command of air force group Captain S. A. G. Campbell, who traveled to the Antarctic with Sir Douglas Mawson's expedition in 1930.

First vessel of the two-ship expedition, the "LST 3501," will leave Melbourne in mid-November carrying scientific equipment, prefabricated huts and stores to Heard Island, 2,000 miles below the tip of South Africa, where a party of eight scientists and assistants will set up two meteorological stations.

Campbell will stay with this party until he is picked up five months later by the main ship of the expedition, the 400-ton Wyatt Earp. The rest of the party will remain on the island for another seven months, making weather observations and reports.

Heard Island, one of the loneliest places in the world, is continually swept by 70 mile-an-hour gales.

After returning to Melbourne for additional equipment, LST 3501 will make a reconnaissance of the conditions in the far south, and in March will drop another party of scientists and weather instruments to the island.

Three Candidates Building Costs Are Investigated By House Group

Three Trustees Will Take Place Of 18 Former Trustees

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—Raymond M. Foley, Housing and Home Finance Administrator, said today a basic reason for restrictive union labor practices in the building industry is the workman's fear that "there isn't going to be a pay envelope next week."

Testifying before a House Labor Subcommittee, Foley said labor's cooperation in doing away with such practices could be obtained if there was assurance of stable employment in the industry.

"We have to convince everybody," he said, that if prices of home building can be brought down "there will be a steady market and no reason for such fear."

The House group, headed by Rep. Tamm (R-Iowa), is investigating possible monopolistic or restrictive practices in the building trades.

While Foley was testifying, Gurnea interpreted a comment that the federal government, because of its "influence" on housing through FHA, G. I. and GI loan laws, may be one of the "worst" restrictive elements on the industry.

Rep. Lucas (D-Tex.) immediately took issue with him. "Gurnea made that statement of the federal government because it influences or finances a large share of that construction," taking the responsibility of encouraging present practices.

He said there are restrictive practices which are established (Continued on Page Eight)

"Jobs, Inc." Makes Many New Jobs In Albert Lea, Minn.

By HAL BOYER
ALBERT LEA, Minn.

Every American community has in abundance but is often without ideas for practical new projects—projects that produce jobs and profit.

But in many cases the projects stop in the dream stage because the man with the idea lacks the capital or "know-how" to put it into effect.

Not here—thanks to a unique organization known as "Jobs, Inc."

"Jobs, Inc." was set up for just that purpose—to abolish community unemployment by encouraging the launching of new job-creating enterprises.

President of this unusual organization is C. E. Myers, civic-minded district manager of a power company, who has a conviction that every community can help its own commercial growth by stimulating talent now going to waste.

It's how the "Albert Lea Plan" began.

Back in 1948 this bustling small Minnesota city was chosen as the guinea pig by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce for a study in community post-war planning.

Canvassers checked consumers and learned what they wanted to buy, checked manufacturers on how many men they planned to hire.

As a result of the survey the city came out with a concrete estimate of its immediate future. That future was rosy, but it indicated 198 new jobs would have to be found to keep Albert Lea's returning servicemen employed.

"We decided that this was a community problem and could be met on the community level," said Myers. "Our idea was to coordinate the talent of the community for the sole purpose of increasing jobs."

He and 99 other businessmen put up $100 each to launch "Jobs, Inc."

Committees made a survey of what services were lacking in the community, and then set about encouraging enterprises to provide them. In this way a brass foundry was established; a cannery, milk machinery, a company and other new manufacturers opened plants here.

But the men behind "Jobs, Inc." are prouder of the organization's role in developing local ideas and talent. For example, scrap wood accumulated at a firm making wagon tongues, two young men had an idea they could use the scrap wood to make toys, "Jobs, Inc." helped finance them and find a building. The toy making firm soon had ten employees.

Womens Club Leader Urges Food Saving

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—(AP)

An American woman who lost five pounds per week during a recent trip to Europe, urged housewives today "to fight for freedom by saving food."

Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, of Richmond, Va., president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, declared "food is our strongest weapon in the fight for freedom throughout the world. It is a living token of friendship from us to those neighbors of ours across the sea."

Several hundred members of the Federation Board of Directors convene here today. Mrs. Ambrose N. Diel of New York, Federation Chairman of International Relations, said they would ask American women to "take the leadership in the national food conservation program and public support for the Marshall Plan."

Mrs. Buck, recently returned from a three-week tour of France, England and Denmark at a meeting of the International Assembly of Women for World Fellowship at Paris, told a reporter she lost about 15 pounds in the trip.

"I saw and felt the dire need on every hand," she said. "Food is the sole topic of conversation there. These people are on a starvation diet. Their crops have failed because of frozen fields last winter and drought during the past summer. They look to us for help. We must not fail them."

Mrs. Truman will be hostess to the club women at a White House tea Saturday afternoon.

Former County Attorney

Grateful to Retonga

Prominent Citizen Tells About His Own Case in Hope That Others May Regain the Joy of Living As He Did, He States. Felt Like He Was About At End Of Row.

"Retonga made life pleasant for me when it looked like I was about done for, and it would be impossible to express my gratitude to the medicine," states Mr. Ford P. Veck, Petersburg, Ind., former county attorney, publisher, and one of the most highly respected men in Southern Indiana.

"I suffered tortures from indigestion after every meal, and for four months in the summer I felt almost completely exhausted," continued Mr. Veck. "In the middle of each summer I had to stay away from my office for weeks, and I spent most of the time in bed. In '39 I had an old gentleman about 75 working in my garden. Neither the intense summer heat or the hard work seemed to bother him while I, as usual, was barely able to be up. He told he took Retonga and advised me to try it."

"Before I finished the first bottle of Retonga I felt so greatly relieved that I began to eat. After I finished three bottles I felt better and feel stronger. By the better and stronger than in years. I have continued to enjoy unusual strength and good health. Retonga was a blessing to me, and I hope this statement will enable someone else to regain the joy of living as I did."

Officials would not hazard a guess at the value of the jewels. They said only that the jewels were "valuable" and could not be appraised in their present setting. Unofficially their value has been estimated at 20,000,000 pounds ($40,000,000).

The regalia dates from the Seventeenth Century, fashioned as nearly as possible from the jewels of six centuries of the English monarchy which were sold or melted down by Oliver Cromwell.

Centered in the display is the British crown itself, known as the St. Edward's Crown, a replica of the one used by Edward the Confessor. It is used at all coronations but because of its weight is not allowed to rest long on the monarch's head. After a brief ceremony it is replaced by a lighter state crown.

Besides the various crowns, the collection includes orb, scepters, rods, spurs, bracelets and other regalia, all of gold and precious stones. A staff of four working two weeks to reconstruct the collection once a year. The Tower is well guarded day and night.

Admiral Byrd Says UN Is Not Answer

BOSTON, Oct. 17—(AP)

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Antarctic explorer, says the United Nations is "not the answer" to the world's "desperate" need for a peace organization.

He told a community fund gathering last night that the UN is "a tragic symbol of the obsolete thoughts and actions of yesterday which have always made the achievement of peace impossible."

"There is a desperate necessity," he asserted, "for a world organization powerful enough to hold in leash warlike world leaders until man can learn to control the evil within himself."

Home Town Of Paul Bunyan Likes To Be Called "Icebox Of America"

By HAL BOYLE
BEMIDJI, Minn. — (AP) — Chance lies behind the founding of many towns and cities, but in none more so than this community that likes to be called "The Icebox of America."

For Bemidji—named after a famous Indian chief—owes its existence to a man who thought he had found here something he hadn't. And the town has also made itself famous as the birthplace of a man who never lived—the legendary woodlogger Paul Bunyan.

The man who thought he had found something here he hadn't was a homesteader who picked up a brilliant stone in 1894 and thought it was a diamond. Well, it wasn't. By the time New York experts got around to deciding it was only quartzite, the town of Bemidji has been born. There were no diamonds but the whole area was a sea of emerald wealth—great stands of forest pine that made it a lumber center. Tales of Paul Bunyan, the granddaddy woodlogger of them all, became folklore of the region, and a number of years ago Bemidji staked out its claim as Paul's home town.

Townpeople built a 20-foot painted concrete statue of Paul and "Babe," his blue ox, on the shores of Lake Bemidji. The monument is visited annually by an estimated 20,000 vacationists.

In the adjoining colorful "Fire-side of State," built with stones from every state in the union, they hear tall stories of the mighty Paul, such as:

How his hotcakes were cooked on a griddle as big as a pond, greased by ten swamper who skated across it with slabs of bacon, tied to their feet.

How the "Winter Of the Blue Snow" was caused by Paul swearing bluestreaks after hitting his thumb with a 16-pound hammer. Conversation froze in the air that terrible winter, and when spring came and melted it there was a terrific din of backed-up words.

How it took one man's full time to keep Paul's pipe shoveled full of tobacco. Every time he took a puff the loggers thought it was a new forest-fire.

How Bunyan built a bunkhouse so large the top stories were hinged in order to let the moon go by; and a gookhouse so large, one cook got lost between the flour bin and root cellar, and almost starved before he was found.

How the blue ox "Babe" once made the Mississippi River flow backward by taking too deep a drink and created "Minnesota's" 10,000 lakes by her stamping and pawing.

How Bunyan's ramp bookkeeper, Johnny Inklinger, ran a hose from a barrel of ink to his pen and thus invented the fountain pen. He saved five barrels of ink one winter by not erasing his "F's" or slotting his "I's."

And Babe's as big a lure as Paul Bunyan himself. The real diamonds of Bemidji turned out to be its winter icicles.

A. & P. Tea Co. Is Celebrating Birth

Local employees of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. are included among the 2,000 company employees in Florida in celebrating the 88th anniversary of the founding of the company, and completion of 52 years as a Florida business, it was announced today by Earl Evans, manager of the A&P store here for the past 10 years. R. M. Smith of Jacksonville, is president of the A&P's southern division.

Evans was born in 1877 when he started after school hours for the store here. He continued his after school work until at 18, he graduated from Seaside High School, following which he devoted full time to the work. He has worked for the company here for 29 years.

In a letter to Mr. Evans, it was stated by Mr. Smith that the first red-fronted A&P stores was opened on New York City's Vesey Street in 1859 by George Huntington Hartford whose entire stock was a hoard of tea purchased from China. The Jacksonville store, started 36 years later sold only tea, coffee, sugar, spices, baking powder and extracts. Today Florida is the center of A&P operations in the south and there are 130 retail food markets in the state. The southern division includes 860 stores and 10,000 employees.

Speaker Joe Martin To Hunt Big Game

SYLVAN LAKE, S. D., Oct. 17 (AP) — After he had downed two Buffalo on his first big game hunt in Cedar State Park, House Speaker Joseph W. Martin told newsmen yesterday "we will be shooting for even bigger game in 1948."

The vacationing speaker, in line for the presidency under the new succession act, has been the subject of talk about possible becoming a presidential or vice-presidential candidate of his Republican Party next year, and listeners linked his post-hunt comment with that talk. Martin is enroute home from what he called a three-week "fact finding trip" in the west.

Rep. Francis Case (R-S.D), Martin's host, reminded the speaker that before yesterday he had never shot anything larger than a sparrow. "I certainly started at the top," Martin replied.

On his first shot, Martin winged a 1,200-pound Buffalo, but the animal required a second shot by Harlan Means, state big game survey manager, to bring it down. The second best, a 900-pound bull, the speaker dropped with the aid of Case. The hunt was part of a calling program for the Park buffalo herd.

The five major causes of fires on farms are lightning, defective chimneys, sparks on roofs, stoves and furnaces, and gasoline and kerosene.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Winter Care of Evergreens

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Distributed by Central Press Association

AN IMPORTANT Autumn task for the home gardener is to make sure that evergreen plants—both the broad-leaved and coniferous—do not go into the winter dry.

While this precaution is important, it is one to be practiced with care. It is possible that too much water in early Autumn may promote growth which will be damaged in the cold months ahead. Thus, too heavy watering while the weather is still warm may not be entirely beneficial. But a thorough watering shortly before the freeze-up will help to offset the foliage burning so common among evergreens not properly prepared for winter.

All newly planted evergreens should be well mulched and protected on the exposed side by windbreaks the first winter or two. After they have become established, such protection is unnecessary.

The accompanying Garden-Graph shows how to set up a screen around an evergreen, or a planting of them, in a spot exposed to driving winds and burning sunlight. A screen of this type can be made from burlap and stakes.

Since drying out is the most common cause of losing newly planted evergreens, the roots should be protected by heavy mulching. The straw or manure mulch can vary from two inches to six or eight inches in depth depending on how severe the winters are in your region.

Evergreens also frequently need protection against having branches broken by the weight of heavy wet snows. The best way to dislodge the snow is to tap the branches with a stick, as illustrated.

Labor Legislation

It seems difficult to understand how the Taft-Hartley Act can be expected to enable workers who are organized to bargain collectively and to strike. Still, some labor leaders persist in calling it a slave act. The real reasons for their despair seem to be the provisions which protect union members from exploitation by the dictatorial type of leader. The best and brightest leaders are trying to make it work.

The picketing that met Robert A. Taft, one of the bills' framers, during his recent western tour, with banners of insulting language and outspoken epithets, merely inspires most Americans with distaste for the picketers. In many cases they carried placards proclaiming communistic affiliations. Communists who have infiltrated into union ranks are the cause of the trouble.

Let's take another look at the problem. The problem of these small nations which have been represented by a tough, middle-aged man well epitomized by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall in his loudly applauded address before the CIO convention in Boston.

It may take three or four more efforts to get a satisfactory labor law. Meantime, a little human fairness, friendliness and effort at co-operation between management and labor will do no harm.

Debunking Myths

A sport currently in vogue, particularly among intellectuals, consists in debunking all kinds of pleasant myths and legends with which Americans have fondly embellished the story of their country.

Now comes Princeton University's distinguished professor of history, Thomas Jefferson Woodrow Wilson, who says that the Pilgrim Fathers built no log cabins and knew nothing about such architecture. In his book, The Pilgrim Oligarchy, he further upsets tradition by stating that these same Puritans did not come to America to escape religious persecution, but to set up their own narrow sectarian way of life.

The professor also has a word to say about American democracy. It did not originate in New England, he believes, but in England, where it was expanded in Westminster and "defended on many an English battle field."

No Friendship There

The most devastating effect of the Soviet dictatorship, says Louis Fischer, who has a long acquaintance with Russia, is its extinction of friendship. Friendship, as Fischer says, is based on unrestrained confidence and on perfect frankness and honesty. How can these qualities exist when every acquaintance may be an informer, ready to report the most casual utterance which could be twisted into disclosure of the government?

Some day these chickens will come home to roost. No regime can stand up permanently whose sole basis is force, fear and sly informing take the place of mutual trust.

Gambling Vs. The Law

The Tribune prints today the last of a series of articles dealing with the political background of the direct and indirect influence of gambling on the economic and political life of the nation.

This article, written by Staff Writer Walter Dill Scott, should be read with attention. The author is fair, frank and objective. He does not attack gambling as such, but he does attack the law which has failed to curb it.

What are the remedies for the situation? They are simple. They are the ones which our elected officials control. They are the ones which we can demand of them.

Other officials have their responsibilities. Our judges, state attorneys, county solicitors, grand jurors and constables have their parts to play. They can seek information and file charges against gamblers, bottle operators and other law violators.

When "the syndicate" or any other group of men is engaged in gambling, it is the duty of the law to break it up. It is the duty of the law to see that no one is allowed to profit from gambling.

Swiss Mountain Climbing Takes 64 Lives This Year
By ERNEST G. FISCHER
AP Newsfeatures
ROSENLAUI, Switzerland—The winter season in the Swiss Alps has been marked by several notable facts, but an unusual one is that it has taken 64 lives.

The dead include 52 Swiss, eight Englishmen, two Frenchmen, one American and one Argentine. Victims ranged from amateurs to veteran climbers, from seven to 70 years of age.

In addition, some 30 persons were seriously injured. The unofficial death list of 64 compares with a toll of 67 reported for the summer of 1946.

Drought conditions which made the trails brittle and opened crevasses in glaciers were blamed for the increased toll. Reports from Mont Blanc, the highest peak in the Alps, indicate that the number of accidents there has increased.

The Swiss figures do not include those from other mountain ranges in the Alps. In the Mont Blanc area, just across the Swiss-French frontier, 10 persons were killed and 10 injured in accidents during the winter season.

The number of tourists who passed the figures for 1946 because of the winter season is estimated at 100,000. The number of accidents is estimated at 100.

Orlando Florist Speaks To Garden Club At First General Meeting At Mayfair Inn

C. J. Williams, well-known florist of Orlando, was the guest speaker at the first general meeting of the Garden Club of Orlando, held at the Mayfair Inn, Monday night.

The meeting was held at the Mayfair Inn, which is a new and modern hotel in Orlando. It was the first general meeting of the Garden Club since its reorganization.

Williams' address was well received by the members of the club, who are active in promoting better living conditions and in providing a means of social contact for its members.

(Continued from Page One) men on Macquarie Island, 600 miles south of Hobart, Tasmania. This party will remain for a year. The tiny Wyatt Earp, originally owned by the American Antarctic Explorer Lincoln Ellsworth, will begin its survey voyage to Antarctica early in December. It will search the Antarctic coast for a suitable base for future operations. The Wyatt Earp will carry the Mineral Resources Bureau, who will make observations to try to establish the exact position of the South Magnetic Pole. On a later expedition, a shore party will endeavor to reach the pole. The Wyatt Earp will carry magnetic and other scientific equipment for gravity research. Equipment for the expedition includes everything from scientific instruments to bulldozers and tooth brushes. Canned food will be supplemented by penguin eggs, seal meat, and whatever edible fish can be caught. Cold weather clothing will incorporate the latest ideas gained from research in Alaska and Canada. Comdr. H. C. Wright, Royal Australian Navy director of plans, said hundreds of ex-servicemen and civilians had applied to join the expedition. "It's a pity we only need 60," he said. Campbell said that in equipment Australia's expedition would be much in advance of anything attempted previously by any nation.

Riding Club

(Continued from Page One) Higgins had told members last evening that he will give all the support possible to promoting the event and in getting the track put down for the races. Prizes totaling more than $500 are to be awarded to race winners, said Sheriff Mero, and in addition, a number of winners will be presented with loving cups donated by local merchants who are reported to be taking keen interest in the program. The winner of the first tournament prize will get a large cup donated by Frank Pavlek. After the elimination runs, a first class race winner will be given a cup donated by Arthur Young. John Ivey has donated the trophy for the girls' race, and to the couple who win the escalator, a cup will be given by the Thorpe Furniture Co., said Mr. Mero. In addition, prizes are to be given to the boy and girl wearing the best cowboy costume.

Another Storm

(Continued from Page One) precaution was advised in that vicinity. The morning pressure was 29.80 inches in the town. Chief Forecaster Grady Norton said the storm is "bad" so far and "very intense" but a "potential troublemaker." He said airplanes and weather stations would keep a close watch on the storm and that it was too early to say what it would do. A hurricane with winds of 140 miles an hour struck the Florida coast exactly a month ago, crossed the state into the Gulf of Mexico and moved into Mississippi and Louisiana, causing great damage and taking small lives. There was a second "small" storm later and last Saturday's hurricane which hit the South Florida area bringing a deluge of rain. It crossed the state into the Atlantic and reentered the coast at Savannah Wednesday.

School Trustees

(Continued from Page One) election not later than Monday, Oct. 20. No two trustees elected may reside in the same County School Board District. In a letter to the 18 present trustees, Supt. Lawton stated that he had conferred with them. He pointed out that the recent Legislature had provided for consolidation of all school districts in the county to be known as Special Tax School District No. 1. There will be but three trustees for the entire county henceforth and these will be elected by county-wide vote and will serve in a county-wide capacity, he stated. The law provides for five County School Board districts which will necessitate appointment of two more board members by Governor Caldwell. The Board recently agreed to the Governor's request to adopt the same territory in their districts as in the County Commission districts. Number of these Board districts, however, will not be the same as those of the Commission districts, Mr. Lawton pointed out. The coming election will also involve for a vote on the number of mills to be levied as special school tax.

Yesterday in San Francisco, AFL President Green appealed to the CIO to "come back" into the organization. "Bill said that last spring," Murray commented, "So did that other bugling man." He added, "we want unity but a sacrificial goat out of itself. We don't want to go through the process of destruction." Murray again demanded a special session of Congress to restore rationing and price control and to place "every racketeering speculator" behind bars. The CIO chief said that in failing to call Congress into session "the Administration at Washington has been definitely derelict in the performance of its duties."

He said an 11-point program was outlined by the association and by the Associated Retail Bakers of America. He said these two groups promised to seek "full compliance" by all bakers. Sallent points in the program include two-layer cakes instead of three-layer cakes, one-crust pies, fewer varieties of cakes and pies, and the use of more non-critical ingredients in bakery products. Prices edged generally lower on many major cost-of-living commodities in early trading today, following a two-week long upward trend that established several new peaks. Wheat, corn and oats registered on the Chicago Board of Trade, however, were lower in major mid-west markets, with cattle unevenly strong in most prices, jumped somewhat in the major markets.

(Continued from Page One) decide on the future status of Palestine. The two Arab countries submitted separate resolutions, each proposing that the International Court of Justice be asked to determine the legal authority of the Assembly to act on the Palestine question. The Egyptian resolution, proposed that Assembly action can be held up pending receipt of an advisory opinion from the court, which might take many months. The Syrian proposal, in addition to asking for a court ruling on the Assembly's authority, also asked the court to decide whether the League of Nations' mandate for Palestine, was consistent with the League Covenant and whether "a forcible plan of partition" is consistent with the objectives of the mandate and the UN Charter. Previously, in a speech dripping with sarcasm, Shawcross accused Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky of making an "excursion into the realms of phantasy" in opposing the American plan for a continuous year-round sitting of the 87 nations as a sort of "Little Assembly."

("Featherbedding" is a term commonly applied when union leaders require employment of more workers on a job than necessary to do it.) Lucas said he disagreed with Gwinn's conclusion. Lucas said the federal agencies "stimulate building" by lending money at a cheaper rate than do private sources. He said these loans eventually are repaid and added "I am afraid we have different philosophy. I am a great admirer of the Federal Housing Administration." Gwinn said that "we don't need government credit," adding that private enterprise is "burning with sufficient loan capital to finance a building program. He said that with government entering the credit picture "the banker, the lender, the private spender is relieved of the responsibility." Foley said he did not agree with that statement but did not elaborate. Foley estimated the country will need 1,000,000 residential units a year for the next ten years. Lucas blamed "arbitrary building codes in many cities" for the present high cost of construction. The same source blamed in all two newspapermen for testimony as to why the builders and construction unions are conspiring to keep costs up and production down. plan was a "flagrant violation" of the UN Charter but added that "more regulation, however arbitrary, is necessary, does not lend substance to an empty argument." Shawcross said he feared that world opinion should have an opportunity of expressing itself more than is absolutely necessary. "Why is it," he asked, "that our friends - for we want them to be our friends - are so frightened of discussion - or discussion is, after all, all that we contemplate here?"

At the same time, however, he urged Vishinsky to meet the British half-way in trying to put an end to "vehement and inflammatory speeches" and in finding a middle-of-the-road approach to the "Little Assembly" proposal. Declaring that he was unable to understand Russia's bitter opposition to the American proposal, Shawcross told the General Assembly's 57 member political committee: "Mr. Vishinsky conjured up a blood curdling picture of paramilitary and Fascist beasts, goblins and ghosts, engaged in some dark plot, some deep machination, to subjugate and set aside the Charter of the United Nations in order to prevent the Soviet delegation exercising the veto in the altruistic way it always does, for the protection of I am afraid, most ungrateful small powers." "That exciting excursion into the realms of phantasy was not of course intended for the benefit of this committee, but for that of an audience as far removed from this committee as it is from the realities of the exciting world situation." He said Vishinsky had declared no less than 17 times, by actual count, that the "Little Assembly"

CAB FINDING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board said today that use in flight of a device locking the control surfaces caused an American Airlines plane with 53 persons aboard to flip over on its back and go into a near-fatal dive over Mt. Riley, N. M., on Oct. 8. The 48 passengers and five crew members were tossed about and bruised before the craft was brought back to level flight after diving from 8,000 feet to around 800 to 400 feet altitude. None was seriously hurt.

Patricia Trial

(Continued from Page One) her by a Cuban prison mate. The prosecution has demanded a 20-year prison sentence. Throughout Havana, many Cuban girls wore fan-shaped hair-dresses which they called the "Patricia Mode," prompted by pictures of the American girl who danced in Caribbean hot spots before the shooting in Havana harbor. Charles Jackson, who was aboard the yacht when Mee was shot, was almost excluded from the small audience court by the crush of the crowd. A court attendant finally spotted him and ushered him in. He has been charged with concealing facts. Patricia opened her fifth day on the stand by asserting all aboard the yacht had access to the pistol with which he shot Mee. Answering her attorney, she said she weighed 110 pounds and was five feet, three inches tall, whereas Mee was six feet, two inches tall and weighed 185. "Jack (as she calls Mee) sold one of my dancing costumes for $100 for money to live on," she testified. "I did not know about it until later. He pawned my typewriter and camera and two watches." The defense lawyer returned to the shooting. "I tried to leave the boat two weeks before the shooting," she said. "I signed a contract with a Cuban theatrical agency which was broken by my arrest." Once again she tried to illustrate what happened in the cabin of the yacht before the shooting. "I was between the beds and beside the drawer (containing the pistol) which was open," she said, indicating the positions she and Mee were in when the gun was fired. She said she saw Mee reach for something, which she could not see, "but I knew it was a sword," which was one of my dancing props. Patricia was asked by her attorney to describe Mee's movements when he was about to attack her. She made a pantomime resembling a man about to die, and then sat down in a chair, jumped to her feet and then hopped on one foot indicating that a bullet had hit. "He told me he was going to kill me," the girl said. "I took the gun only for the purpose of getting out of the cabin," she continued. "I did not intend to shoot Jack. The gun went off in my hand." She said the wounded Mee pleaded with her to commit suicide.

Flash Fire

(Continued from Page One) fireman at Auburn, and Corliss C. Richardson, Ozark, Ark. Colonel Saliba named the three critically injured guardsmen as: Ray F. Green, Enterprise; Eugene Crier, Cullman and Carl Dennis, Enterprise. The victims were taken to the Opelika City Hospital where blood plasma was administered. The plasma was brought to the hospital in a 6-mile, 45-minute dash from Montgomery by Brig. General James S. Saliba, adjutant general of the Alabama National Guard, and several aides. Their way was cleared by a detail of the Alabama state police. Nine of the more critically injured were taken early today to Fort Benning, at Columbus, Ga., for further hospitalization. The fire broke out about 8:00 P. M. National Guard officers and fire officials considered two theories as to the cause of the explosion—that the pilot light of a gas heater ignited gasoline fumes as Guardsmen cleaned their rifles or that a rifle butt caused a spark as it struck the concrete floor. Guardsmen had the fire well under control by the time fire fighting apparatus arrived at the scene. An ambulance, a fire wagon, an army truck, and a negro taxi were used to carry the injured to the Opelika Hospital. Two physicians from Auburn and about a dozen volunteer nurses aided the hospital staff in treating the victims. Lieut. Col. W. H. Matsuka, chief of surgical service at the station hospital at Fort Benning, brought additional physicians and medical supplies to the hospital here. Between 40 and 50 persons were in the Armory when the fire broke out, according to Capt. G. M. Wakefield, the officer in charge. "I was in my office on the first floor of the Armory," Capt. Wakefield related, "when an enlisted man raced in shouting, 'Get another fire extinguisher quick—there's a fire in the locker room.' I rushed to the head of the stairs, then down into the room, and together with one or two of the less

Navy To Review Its Sailors Discharges

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Navy today invited 340,000 former sailors and Marines who failed to receive honorable discharges to apply for a review of their cases. About 14,000 discharges already have been investigated by a special board and 30 per cent of them changed for the better, the Navy announced. Not eligible for review are discharges given as a result of a general court martial. The best discharge issued by the Navy was the honorable discharge that "in meritorious order of merit were: under honorable conditions, undesirable, had conduct and dishonorable." The Navy gave out more than 300,000 under honorable conditions, 17,000 undesirable, 32,000 had conduct, and 3,000 dishonorable. An official pointed out that under the G. I. Bill of Rights any discharge since the founding of the Navy may be reviewed except general court martial discharges. critically burned, began to remove the injured. "In some cases, all the clothing had been burned off the men, and their hands and faces were severely burned." Lieut. G. A. Rice seized a fire extinguisher and aided in fighting the blaze. He received minor burns.

Citrus Shipments Total 90,211 Cars

LAKELAND, Oct. 17 (AP)—Florida citrus shipments for the 1946-47 season totaled 90,211 cars, 6,624 more than the previous season, the annual report of the Federal-State Market News Service said today. The report, prepared by Director Harry F. Willson, listed shipments of 64,716 cars of oranges, 10,779 of grapefruit and 5,716 of tangerines. A car contains approximately 500 boxes. Florida canners processed 85,620,582 boxes of citrus last season, including 19,828,855 boxes of oranges, 15,860,246 of grapefruit and 930,571 of tangerines. More oranges and tangerines went to canners than the previous season, but much less grapefruit. Fresh fruit shipments were made for 51 of the 52 weeks last season, and canning plants operated for a full 11 months, the report said.

Victory is Won In French Vote By De Gaulle

New RPF Party Leads Communists Tho Red Vote Strength Is Not Weakened

PARIS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Candidates nominated by General Charles De Gaulle's six-month-old Rally of the French People (RPF) were leading 29 out of 37 major municipalities today as returns from yesterday's balloting rolled in from all over France.

De Gaulle's party held a substantial lead over all other parties, including the Communists, in the early returns.

"There's no doubt about it, De Gaulle has won," said Maurice Schuman, parliamentary leader of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP) which lost ground heavily in yesterday's voting. De Gaulle's RPF, although leading the Communists, did not appear to have decried Communist voting strength in any substantial amount.

Running an anti-Communist platform, and competing in a French election for the first time, RPF was averaging between 38 and 40 per cent of the total vote, as against 30 per cent for the Communists, 19 per cent for the Socialists and less than 10 per cent for MRP.

A tabulation of the first 348,266 votes counted showed: RPF—1,588,784, or 38.4 per cent; Communists—1,108,843, 30.6 per cent.

Socialists—698,467, 19.5 per cent; Popular Republican Movement—337,690, 9.8 per cent; Various—84,492.

Disaster Predicted From Petrillo Edict

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP)—James C. Petrillo's newest edict, banning again the making of recordings by his 226,000 AFL musicians after Dec. 31, was described as the mould of disaster for some segments of the radio and recording industries.

One disc jockey for a Chicago radio station said that eventually the directive will mean oblivion for the many recording programs mastered over by some 2,500 sound masters of ceremony "as a major part of the entertainment industry."

With new recordings shut off, he said, "the public will be so sick and tired of hearing the records on our shelves, we'll have to fold up."

Band leader Ted Weems expressed the belief the edict might "boom" on musicians of this country and result in popular favorites being replaced by foreign, and in California a spokesman for one recording company suggested the making of master records might be done in Mexico.

Secretary Marshall Given Freedom Award

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall—elected particularly for projecting a plan for European reconstruction and praised by President Truman as "great in war and great in peace"—received the 1947 freedom award presented by the Freedom House last night.

In a brief response at a dinner at which more than 1,000 guests heard him praised by international figures, Marshall said the world needs more of the American brand of friendship.

He said it is "a very tragic consideration" that the people of the United States have difficulty in convincing those of other nations of the Americans' "real sincerity and desire to be friendly."

New City Budget Shows Costs Nearly Double Pre-war Period

Total expenses of the City government, as indicated by the 1947-48 budget recently adopted by the City Commission and published in a full page advertisement in The Sanford Herald today by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, are nearly double those of the pre-war year of 1941. During 1947-48 the total expenses are estimated at $446,025, whereas from Oct. 1, 1940 to Sept. 30, 1941 they were $270,575.

Total anticipated revenue from all sources is estimated at $446,025 for 1947-48 as compared with total revenue of $270,575 in 1941. During the coming year, $250,025 is to be raised from taxes and other sources for general government. Of this amount, $122,925 will be miscellaneous revenues, $75,000 will be raised by the 1947 ad valorem tax roll, $37,500 from utilities tax, $20,000 surplus in the department of general government during 1947-48 and prior years' operating expense funds, $1,600.

Gross revenues from operation of the water utility are anticipated at $85,000. Profits estimated at $31,750 are used to meet expenditures in the department of general government.

For debt service $105,000 is to be raised by taxation. During 1941, the sum of $96,000 was required for this purpose.

Value Of Florida Forests Is Told At Rotary Lunch

Industry Brings In $100,000,000 Annually, Says Moore

Forests, which are one of Florida's most valuable resources, support an industry valued at more than $100,000,000 a year, Ed Moore of the State Forestry Service, who was introduced by Program Chairman A. C. Sims, told the Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon today.

There will be no meeting of the club next Monday, as Secretary R. W. Ruprecht announced, but instead a Ladies Night entertainment beginning at 7:00 o'clock will be held at the Seminole Country Club on the following Thursday night.

Charles Morrison announced that Rabbi Morris Skop of Orlando will be the speaker on Nov. 10.

Chinese Communists Take Strategic Post

PEIPING, Oct. 20 (AP)—Chinese Communists, completing a wide encirclement of Changchun and Kirin, Manchuria, have captured Nungang and Tehweil, strategic cities which had been Changchun's northern defense outposts, pro-government dispatches said today.

Nungang is 45 miles northwest of Changchun (Manchurian capital, Tehweil, 50 miles northwest of Changchun, provides a base from which the Communists might mount a direct assault on Changchun. Its successful defense last winter was credited with blunting the Communists' fourth offensive.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 20 (AP)—Two persons drowned early today when the yacht Lone Star was rammed by an oil barge and sent to the bottom of the harbor in a matter of seconds, the Coast Guard reported.

They were Mrs. Frances Girard of Jacksonville, wife of the yacht owner, A. H. Girard, and crewman Dick Barl, New York.

The Girards and Barl were asleep when the collision occurred at 4:40 A. M. about 200 yards off the grain elevator pier. The yacht was enroute from New York to Florida.

Jack Warner Testifies In Movie Probe

Film Producer Says There Are Persons With "Un-American Leanings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Jack L. Warner, Hollywood movie producer, told the House Committee on Un-American Activities today that people "with un-American leanings" have infiltrated into the movie industry.

But he carefully declined to say under questioning from committee members that these people are communists and insisted on using the description "un-American."

When Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee, wanted to know where Communists have invaded the film capital, Warner said:

"The answer is that there are people with un-American leanings. They are mostly in the 'writing division.'" Warner added.

"I know they're un-American in their method. I've seen, explaining that they endeavor to put into scripts 'certain things which in my

Atlantic Storm Is Reported Hovering In Bermuda Area

HAMILTON, Bermuda Oct. 20 (AP)—A tropical hurricane of howling, 100 mile-an-hour winds, with gusts up to 155 M.P.H., caused considerable property damage to Bermuda before noon today and then veered on in a northward direction, imperiling ships in its path.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Reconnaissance planes from Hamilton, Bermuda reported early today that high winds had been encountered 200 miles from the center of a tropical hurricane moving northward toward Bermuda from the South Atlantic.

Latest reports are that the hurricane was expected to pass some 200 miles south of this British island colony early today.

Civil and military aircraft, including U. S. service planes, have been evacuated from Bermuda and two ships of the British fleet have steamed 40 miles to sea to ride out the approaching storm. Other ships have been made secure in the dockyard.

Throughout the United States the weather was fair with temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 degrees above October normal, again in prospect for virtually the entire nation.

The Weather Bureau at Chicago said the mercury would climb to near 80 in all sections of the country except parts of Washington and Oregon where a shower period has prevailed for several days.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, the skies generally were clear, the Weather Bureau said, following readings last night no lower than 35 to 40 degrees in the midwest.

"This very beautiful weather appears to have settled down on an indefinite stay," the forecaster said, adding that there was no immediate change in sight.

President Seeks New VA Administrator

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Truman is hunting for a top-flight civilian to head the Veterans Administration when General Omar N. Bradley succeeds General Dwight D. Eisenhower as Army Chief of Staff.

The well-posted associate of Mr. Truman who disclosed this today said the big difficulty will be in finding a man willing to make the financial sacrifices the appointment will entail. The VA post pays $12,000 a year.

Asking that his name not be used, this associate said the President already has the problem of filling three vacancies created by the resignations of men who said they could no longer afford to work at $10,000-a-year government pay.

Spending Policies Of Bureaucrats Hit By Governors

Texas Governor Pans Court Decision In Tideland Oil Case

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 20 (AP)—Two blasts against the federal government—one aimed at its spending policies and the other at its position in California's tideland case—were sounded today by southern governors at opening business sessions of their annual convention.

Presiding over the conference during a discussion of National Guard re-enlistment and veterans affairs, Virginia's Governor William M. Tuck termed the federal government's appropriations in the last 15 years as a "wild orgy of spending which will eventually lead to a national bankruptcy if not curbed."

An even more defiant note was sounded by Governor Beaufort J. Hester of Texas in speaking on the tideland case.

The Supreme Court's decision in the case, he declared, will "become a potent weapon for proponents of the nationalization of the entire oil and gas industry as well as other vital natural resources and industries. Oil is merely in the lead-off position in the line-up of nationalization of vital natural resources."

The case, Governor Hester asserted, "lightens what he termed 'the strangling loop of super-federal control at the throats of mere property owners, the sovereign states of the union.'"

Analysis Shows Reds Have Low Income

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The New York Times says, "A month's analysis of official Russian statistics, portraying the Soviet Union as a country with a 'dreadfully low level of welfare.'"

The analysis, initiated by Prof. Seymour E. Harris and done by a group of statisticians, indicates that the Soviet report is a "grossly distorted" picture of the nation's economic progress, the Times says.

The story continues that Russia has a greater outlay for military purposes than the Soviet industrial position might indicate.

"A distressingly low level of welfare" reported in the survey, the Times says, "is indicated by an average consumption, measured in 1940 dollars, of $111 a year, against $600 in the United States (where, unlike war-devastated Russia, average consumption now has risen to 1,500 such dollars)."

Farmers To Meet At City Hall Thursday

All farmers and shippers of this district who are interested in a co-operative plan for operating the USDA Farm Labor Camp here are requested by C. R. Dawson, county agent, to meet at the City Hall Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

The annual meeting of the Seminole County Farm Bureau will take place on Oct. 31 at which time officers will be elected and delegates to the State Farm Bureau convention at Miami will be named. It was announced by Harry Thurston. He reported also that the Farm Bureau Insurance Corporation of which H. E. Cordell is local representative, is doing very well.

The County Agent's office and the Seminole County Health Unit are making plans for a rat control program on farms, and either office can give information to growers who are interested in the program.
