Station Wagon Smashes Train

A 45-year-old iron worker was slightly hurt when the station wagon he was driving smashed into an A. C. L. freight train early today at the Park Ave. and 15th St. railroad crossing.

Damage to the 1952 Nash station wagon, which caught fire, was estimated at $1,100.

City Police identified the driver as William Edward McNair, a resident of Sanford Trailer Park on French Ave. He was summoned to appear in Police Court Friday to answer a charge of careless and negligent driving.

McNair received only minor cuts on his face in the accident.

Police said McNair was driving north on Park Ave. when the crash occurred at 1:45 a. m. The station wagon hit the seventh car behind the engine on the east bound train.

Owner of the station wagon was listed as Mrs. Mattie Bell McNair, 10400 Snug Harbor Rd., St. Petersburg.

The conductor on the train was C. W. Branley, Welaka Apts. F. E. Donaldson, Lake Mary, was the engineer.

Investigating officers were Patrolmen R. J. Hickson and W. R. Cochrane.

Judge Discusses Delinquency Cases At Police Meeting

County Judge Ernest Housholder was guest speaker last night at the monthly dinner meeting of the Police Benevolent Association held at the Pig 'N' Whistle Restaurant at 6:30 o'clock.

The topic of his speech was "Juvenile Delinquency and The Problems that Arise When a Police Officer Faces Certain Situations."

He reminded the group that a juvenile under the age of 17 is never arrested but "taken into custody." That is "he is turned over to his parents or if that is impossible, the judge is first contacted."

"A judge can issue two orders," he went on, "either a general order in which he tells you to use your own judgment or a special order in which he tells you what to do."

He also said that a person under 17 can have no fingerprints taken, no photographs, no entries made in the jail records and each report on an individual case is absolutely private. The records are at no time disclosed to the public and each case brought to him is held behind closed doors.

He told the officers present that it is "very important that the attitude sustained during the time you take a delinquent into custody is the right attitude because if not, it might lead the individual into believing that no good will come out of the situation even during the court period."

The question arose as to whether or not to mark an individual's name down on a traffic violation if he or she is under age. Judge Housholder suggested that "municipal" be marked off the subpoena and "juvenile" be written in its place at the suggestion of Arnold Williams. These cases are also taken care of by the judge.

He pointed out that there were 350,000 cases of juvenile delinquency brought to courts last year and that now there is a 5-point program for rehabilitating delinquent children; (1) training special police officers to deal with young people wisely, (2) establish suitable detention quarters with constructive programs, (3) provide juvenile courts with trained probation workers and other treatment resources, (4) staff and equip training schools adequately for treating seriously delinquent youth and (5) make a single state agency responsible for co-ordination and developing services.

Forest Fires Burn Destructive Path Into Timberland

RALEIGH, N.C. — Fire fighters and military personnel battled today to halt the largest forest fire in North Carolina history. It has destroyed more than 250,000 acres of timberland in two eastern counties.

The fire broke out in the swampy area near Lake Phelps in Tyrrell County last week.

Asst. State Forester P. W. Tillman estimated the fire had burned a distance of about 20 miles. He said it was the "largest fire we've ever had."

No estimate of the damage was available.

Three Employees Fired As Risks

WASHINGTON — Only three of the State Department's 11,323 employees were fired as security risks in 1954. Two of those were accused of Communist party affiliation.

Donald A. Fines, the department's security director, so advised the House Appropriations Committee in recent secret testimony made public today. He mentioned no names.

Under questioning by committee members, Fines said that, in all, 200 State Department employees have been fired for security reasons.

MARTHA RAYE BOONE DAMAGED BY FIRE — WESTPORT, Conn. — Two hot gas tanks exploded last night at the home of actress Martha Raye, setting off a fire that caused an estimated $5,000 damage to the house and kitchen. Mrs. Raye and three children escaped.

Nelson Interview Heard On Radio

Harry M. Nelson, M. D., was interviewed Friday by Marion Harman in a broadcast over station WTRB. He answered questions on cancer and how funds for the cancer drive are being used.

Dr. Nelson was born March 29, 1906 in Kane, Pa., is married, and has two children. He received his education at the University of Michigan and has a B. S. and M. D. degree. Beginning work with the American Cancer Society, he was ACS president in 1953-54. He was one of the men instrumental in achieving the Detroit Cancer Center and is on the board of the Detroit Institute for Cancer Research.

Dr. Nelson was greeted in Sanford by members of the board of the Seminole County Unit of the American Cancer Society and Forest Buckenridge, representing the Chamber of Commerce.

Flowers Victim Of Crash Mercury Sedan Is Total Loss

Thomas Hartridge Flowers, 55, of Osteen, was fatally injured today in a car-truck accident on Park Ave., just south of the 13th St. intersection. His 1954 Mercury sedan was a total loss.

Flowers, a merchant, died in Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital shortly after his car smashed into the rear of a Patrick Fruit Co. truck which had stopped for the traffic light.

The truck driver, Raymond King, of Route 1, was uninjured. City Patrolman Ben Butler, investigating officer, said Flowers' car had been weaving along the street and run off the road several times before the accident occurred at 12:01 p. m.

The officer said a half-empty whiskey bottle was found in the car.

Flowers suffered a fractured skull and crushed chest, and his right leg, broken in another car wreck, was rebroken. He carried a wheel chair in his car as a result of the injuries received in the other accident.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $250.

Mental Problems Research Needed, Delegates Are Told

ST. PETERSBURG — Mental health problems need scientific research and need it now, delegates to the annual convention of the Florida Medical Society were told at the opening session.

"Hospitals do not cure a patient," Dr. Elmer Hess of Erie, Pa., said. "It takes intensified research and the application of healing techniques to beat down diseases long thought to be incurable."

Dr. Hess, president elect of the American Medical Assn., said mental illness can seem to be the same scientific attack that has conquered such diseases as smallpox, typhoid and malaria.

In reported more than half the nation's hospital beds are occupied by persons who have disturbances of the brain.

"We cannot afford to dilly dally with their rehabilitation," he said. Dr. Peter B. Wright of the Medical College of Georgia urged that medical schools give more thorough training in first aid, noting that accidents rank fourth among causes of death in this country.

Hoover Announces Police Don't Match Higher Crime Rates

WASHINGTON — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the nation's large cities have not increased their police strength to keep pace with a higher crime rate.

Hoover expressed his views in a signed editorial in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, which is circulated to police agencies throughout the country.

"The average citizen runs far greater risk of being victimized by the vicious or stealthy criminal in the heavily populated cities than in the smaller urban communities," he said, asserting that a principal reason is "that the number of police officers in the large cities has not kept pace with the higher crime rate."

Texas Drivers Still Want Guns

AUSTIN, Tex. — Texas automobile drivers have told a state representative they don't want to lay that pistol down.

Rep. Charles Sandahl of Austin told reporters yesterday he'd decided not to ask State Legislature action on his bill requiring firearms to be unloaded, wrapped, cased or locked up when carried in trucks or autos.

Texas, he said, don't want to change their gun-totin' habits. He waved a bulky sheaf of telegrams and letters of protest.

Kelth Will Manage Sanford Ball Team

ALBANY, Ga. — Daniel Kelth, a veteran of the St. Louis Cardinals' farm system, yesterday was named manager of the Sanford entry in the Florida State League.

Kelth, a first baseman, played with Norfolk in the Piedmont League last year. He had a .272 batting average in 1954.

Army Manpower Cuts Are Unwise, Claims Sen. Chavez

WASHINGTON — Sen. Chavez (D-NM) said today he doesn't know what congressional critics of Army manpower cuts can do if the Eisenhower administration is determined to go through with them.

"We can't force them to spend the money, even if we give it to them," he said.

Chavez heads an Appropriations subcommittee which yesterday opened hearings on the administration's request for about $3 billion dollars in the fiscal year starting July 1. He said in an interview he thinks a majority of the 15-man subcommittee agrees with him the cuts projected in the size of the Army are unwise.

Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, assured the subcommittee yesterday there will be no more major cuts in the foreseeable future beyond those now scheduled. They stood pat on the cuts already planned.

Stewart Questioned In Kidnap-Slaying

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Miami detectives were on their way here today to question a 33-year-old hotel kitchen helper in the brutal kidnap-slaying of Judith Ann Roberts, 7, nine months ago.

Columbus Stewart, a Negro, was arrested on a vagrancy charge yesterday by Jacksonville police. He was held for investigation of murder.

Refugee Program Success Foreseen

WASHINGTON — R. W. Scott McLeod has told Congress he thinks President Eisenhower's program to admit 214,000 refugees can be completed successfully by the end of next year.

McLeod, whose administration of the program has been under fire in Congress, gave this estimate to a House Appropriations subcommittee at a closed session Feb. 9. His testimony was made public today.

China's Communist Party Heads Crack Down With New Discipline

TOKYO — China's Communist masters cracked down with harsh new discipline in party ranks today in the wake of their first purge of top men since they took over the country in 1949.

Peiping radio announced the startling story to the world today. It said the Communist party had purged Kao Kang, the "Maoist" Maoist, who bossed Red China's faltering five-year plan, and Jao Shu-shih, a Shanghai stalwart who ruled six big eastern provinces in the early days of the Red regime.

Kao committed suicide, Peiping said. Jao, former party secretary for east China, "has never shown any signs of repentance and now persists in an attitude of attack on the party," Peiping said. That seemed to indicate that Jao is alive.

Jaybees To Elect Officers Tonight In Civic Building

The Jaybees, an organization sponsored by the local Jaycees for young men between the ages of 18 and 20, are having the annual election of officers tonight in the Civic Building in Fort Mellon Park at 7:30 o'clock. Those present at this meeting will be charter members, Tommy Stringer, assistant, announced.

The purpose of the Jaybees is to promote civic interest among teenagers of our community, to train young men for active participation in Junior Chamber of Commerce work; to encourage and promote acquaintanceship, good will and fellowship among young men; to assist in developing community spirit; to encourage and assist young men to obtain better understanding of business principles; to encourage young men to cooperate with civic organizations and with each other at all times and to harmonize and mobilize the young manpower of our community by doing so to assist in the bigger better and greater place in which to live.

If there are any questions or if some don't have a way they are urged to call Joe Hunt at 2407 before tonight.

Vatican Newspaper Replies To Charge

VATICAN CITY — L'Osservatore Romano says Argentina is a totalitarian state. The Vatican newspaper made the charge in replying to Buenos Aires suggestions for an end to Roman Catholicism's favored position as the state church in Argentina.

"The church today is stricken in Argentina just because it affirms the existence of a moral law engaging all Christians," L'Osservatore declared yesterday.

The editorial was its latest on the five-month fight between the Catholic Church and President Juan Peron's government.

Boy Friend Takes Teeth Moline, Ill. — A woman called police to say she was hungry. She said her boy friend forced his way into her apartment and took her dog, some bedclothes — and her teeth.

Peiping charged the two with conspiring to seize "leadership of the party and the state" with Red army help.

Peiping announced the immediate creation of "party control committees" at all levels to "strengthen discipline and prevent a recurrence of so serious a case as the Kao Kang-Jao Shu-shih anti-party alliance."

"The remnants of counter-revolution and the reactionary bourgeois elements," Peiping said, "are accelerating their conspiracy to restore the counter-revolution."

"The enemy will use a thousand tricks to try to destroy our party," Peiping said in a broadcast of the text of a Communist party resolution. "Its greatest hope is that the Communist party of China might be split and degenerate."

Steve Allen Tries To Keep Feeling Of Anticipation

NEW YORK—What's Steve Allen's formula for keeping people in front of their television sets at an hour when they should be in bed?

The sleepy-eyed, lanky star of NBC's Tonight telecasts says he tries to maintain a feeling of anticipation so the viewer never knows what's coming next.

"Sometimes even I don't know what's coming next," he adds.

That's where Allen's versatility made it a case of the man for the job and the job for the man when NBC decided to pioneer after-midnight network TV last fall at hours previously relegated to local showings of ancient movies.

You name it and Allen can do it. Or he'll try it, and in failing he sometimes is more entertaining than if he succeeds.

He's no Jack Benny or Groucho Marx, but he can snap a fast quip. Hardly an illurbi, he pounds the piano more than passably well. He'll never be a threat to Perry Como or Eddie Fisher but he can and does sing, even his own compositions.

Steve has able help on ideas but the zany stunts on his show have the Allen stamp.

It has been a happy solution for Allen, who had enjoyed better than fair success on radio and TV but never really hit his stride until assigned by NBC to carry the ball on Tonight.

Born in New York city 33 years ago, Allen got his start on the air in Los Angeles a little more than 11 years ago as a late night disc jockey.

According to Scripture

PROPHECY: Yea, my own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel against me.—Psalms 41: 9.

And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my price, and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver. And the Lord said unto me, Cast it unto the potter: a goodly price that I was prized at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.—Zechariah 11: 12, 13.

FULFILLMENT: Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, And said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.—Matthew 26: 14, 15.

Then Judas, which had betrayed Him, when he saw that He was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that. And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself. And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood. And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.—Matthew 27: 3-8.

ISRAEL TO STAGE IMMUNIZATION PROGRAM
JERUSALEM—Israel says it is going to carry out a national immunization program against poliomyelitis this month, using 600 liters (634 quarts) of America's newly developed Salk vaccine.

The Health Ministry announced some 100 medical teams would tour the Jewish nation inoculating all children between the ages of 6 months and 3 years whose parents give permission.

The ministry said the vaccine was a gift from the U. S. National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Ford sells more because it's worth more

In 1954, more Fords were bought by the motoring public than any other make. That's because more and more people are discovering that Ford has more to offer!

FOR YEARS, Ford has been the trendsetter in all the features that make a car worth more... V-8 power... Ball-Joint ride... modern styling. And today, Ford brings you even more good reasons to buy.

First, Ford offers the reassuring response of new Trigger-Torque power in your choice of 2 mighty V-8 engines or the industry's most modern 6c.

Next, Ford for '55 brings you a new, and smoother, Angle-Poised Ride, made possible by Ford's advanced new Ball-Joint Front Suspension system.

And finally, in just plain good looks, Ford's farther out front than ever. With head-on styling inspired by the long, low lines of the fabulous Thunderbird, Ford is America's most beautiful buy!

Atomic Medicine Helpful

CHICAGO (AP)—Atomic medicine apparently works beautifully to save children with cancer attacking the thyroid gland, a State University of Iowa physician said today.

The medicine is radioactive iodine, produced in an atomic furnace or pile.

Seven of eight children with thyroid cancer are alive and apparently free of cancer four years after this treatment. The eighth, a girl, is still being given doses of the atomic medicine to burn out the cancer.

"We feel we can give these children a normal life-span," said Dr. Tulus C. Evans, professor of radiation research at Iowa.

One key is using small, not large, doses of radioactive iodine, he told science writers making a tour of cancer research centers under auspices of the American Cancer Society.

In adults, radioactive iodine is credited by other researchers with good results in only one in every seven or 20 victims of thyroid cancer.

But in children, doses smaller than those usually given adults seem to boost tremendously the chances of curing the cancer, Dr. Evans said.

When thyroid cancer is diagnosed, the thyroid gland itself is first removed. But some cancer cells often have wandered away, starting new cancer growths elsewhere in the body.

The thyroid gland has a tremendous appetite for iodine, from which it makes thyroxin, the thyroid gland hormone.

The runaway cancer cells also are hungry for iodine. The injected radioactive iodine atoms are garbed up by these little colonies of thyroid cells, and radiation from the iodine can kill them.

The patient is given daily pills of thyroid hormone, to make up

Peale Says Spiritual Failing Originates In American Homes

NEW YORK (AP)—The No. 1 spiritual failing of Americans today, says Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, is right in their own households: "Marriage."

"Couples don't give each other essential respect and esteem any more," he said. "There's too much talk about 'lovin', and not enough about respect for each other in sovereign human souls."

Dr. Peale, the country's foremost counselor of self-fulfillment through "positive" faith, said more than half the approximately 6,000 letters he gets from people each week are about marital troubles.

"So many of them just haven't got moral stamina," he said. "Wives complain that their husbands are moody or mean, and they wonder if they have any obligation to stick with it. Or they say, 'He doesn't amuse me any more.' They need to realize marriage is a binding spiritual compact."

If they don't, he said in an interview, the institution seems headed into a forest of wreckage and heartbreak. He said one of the best remedies is "to bring the family altar back in the home."

Dr. Peale, whose printed sermons, articles, syndicated columns, books and busy lecture schedule already reach millions, starts a new project today to give advice to the worried and distressed—"to help people."

He will be on a regular commercially sponsored radio network show.

NBC has scheduled the program at 10:05 a. m. EST. Proceeds will go to the National Council of Churches, and to the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry, which he founded and whose staff of 20 Christian psychiatrists provide free counseling.

through difficulties, as the need of an anxious age.

Sometimes criticized as presenting Christian faith and "positive thinking" as a key to worldly success, Dr. Peale said any such interpretation is a distortion.

"Any minister who presents faith in God as a way of material success is not being compatible with Christianity," he said. "It is the way of being successful as a person, of surmounting inner weakness and pride and sin."

Any improvement in your earthly status that results, he said, is strictly incidental. But if that is your motive, he added, you don't have Christian faith anyhow.

Dr. Peale said he believes the great spiritual yearning now evident in this country will mean "this generation will go down as a tremendous spiritual milestone in the history of the world and the Christian faith."

Scelba Claims Aid Helped Italy Rise

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba of Italy said last night, "American aid that helped Italy raise itself from ruins was among the United States' best investments."

Scelba, on an informal visit to Philadelphia, said also that "we want the progress of the Italian people to coincide with the cause of the Western Allied nations."

"We remain grateful and faithful to America and Americans because we remember that the United States was the first country which came to offer help to us with open hearts. Your help was decisive."

Scelba spoke in Italian at a dinner in his honor.

LOSES $2, GAINS $5

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fred Glusman, 18, paid his check and walked out of a restaurant yesterday holding a $5 bill and three ones. A gust of wind whipped the money from his hand.

After an hour of chasing, Glusman and three teenage companions had recovered $6. They were about to give up finding the other $2 when Glusman spotted another bill. It was a $5 bill that someone else apparently had lost in the wind.

Iran Converting From Liability To Military Asset

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran is converting from a money-draining liability to a military asset to the West in terms of Middle Eastern defense.

The nation's military flabbiness—in contrast to the sturdy dependability of Turkey on the west and Pakistan to her east—has worried defense planners since World War II.

Iran stands between Russia and the Middle Eastern oilfields and Persian Gulf.

U.S. contributions to Iran's military potential—the figures are secret—have been stepped up during the past year, with the bulk of the increase going to the air force.

So far, Iran's air strength is negligible.

Ports along the Persian Gulf coast are to be deepened and fitted with modern docks and loading gear.

The railway through Tehran from the southern ports is being extended 300 miles—from Shahrud to Meshed, near the northern frontier point where the Soviet Union, Iran and Afghanistan meet.

Also planned is a linkup north with the Pakistan railway system to the south. Work has started on a rail extension in the northwest corner of Iran, taking the system another 100 miles from Mianeh to Tabriz near the Soviet-Azerbaijan border. Completion of these extensions will give Iran a rail belt nearly 700 miles long, paralleling the Soviet border and tied into the Pakistan system.

The government will construct a $2-million-dollar oil pipeline from the Abadan refinery through Ahwas to Tehran. This line will take the oil transport load off the railway system.

Airport runways are being extended to take heavy planes and a new airport at Fasse, near Shiraz, is being built to accommodate jet fighters. The U.S. Foreign Operations Administration is putting up some of the money for airport development.

A new apron repair deck at Khorramshahr, the Iranian navy's home base, has just been put into operation. A light network of radio and telephone connections is being laid over Iran.

Special efforts are being made to revamp the army, long dogged by traditional taboos that barred competent men from rising from the ranks to officer status. About 100 upper-rank officers have been retired—gently but firmly—and a 30 per cent pay raise to all officers boosted morale.

The Forgotten Great

Thomas Hardy is an unread author, William F. McDermott, a Midwest columnist asserts. Greatly admired since his stories began in 1869, he produced masterpiece after masterpiece for a quarter of a century. Then, stung by unjust criticism of one of his greatest books, "Jude the Obscure," he turned to poetry and surprisingly attained first rank in this difficult field. Between his two types of achievement he should still be read; but McDermott says he is not.

The remark may be truer of two more recent writers who are also said to lack readers today John Galsworthy and Arnold Bennett. Both achieved great books, Galsworthy in his Forsyte Saga, a series of novels about a prosperous English family, and Bennett with his "Old Wives' Tale" and other chronicles of the Five Towns. Galsworthy was also a playwright, producing bitter dramas of social injustice; but these are seldom produced now.

Writers do go up and down in popular favor. Rudyard Kipling, with a host of adherents in his life, is much less read now, though much of his work is part of our permanent literary heritage. Anthony Trollope was long almost forgotten, but has been steadily rising in popularity. Perhaps Hardy, Galsworthy and Bennett may have the same experience.

Fight Against Cancer Up To You

NEW YORK (AP)—The most immediate hope of reducing the cancer mortality doesn't lie with science. It lies with you.

"How can I cut down the death rate of cancer?" you ask. Simply by taking periodic tests to see if you have cancer.

"But why should I go to all that trouble?" most people inquire. "If I had cancer, wouldn't I at least suspect it?"

In many instances, yes; in many, no. Cancer has its warning signals, but often they are masked. A thorough physical checkup, however, will usually disclose them.

But are such physical examinations statistically worthwhile for people who have no real reason to suspect they have cancer? The answer to that, of course, lies strictly with the individual. How important is it to him to be sure he is free of cancer?

Here are a few figures from the American Cancer Society that might affect your own decision: There will be about a half a million new cases of cancer in the United States this year, and some 700,000 people will be under treatment for cancer.

During the year 325,000 Americans will die of cancer, or about one every two minutes.

But—note this figure—every seven minutes last year an American died of cancer who might have been saved if properly treated in time. The estimated number of deaths for 1954—75,000.

An equal number one every 7 minutes, 75,000 for the year—were probably saved because treatment had begun in time. There are now an estimated 600,000 living Americans saved from cancer who have remained free of further symptoms at least five years.

The situation now: Of every four persons stricken with cancer, two will die because they cannot pay for them, one will undergo treatment and survive, one will die who would have been saved if treated in time.

These are the hard inescapable facts. But what are your chances of being stricken with cancer? Technically, as medical men learn more about cancer, your chances of getting cancer increase. They used to be one out of 100,000. Now they are one out of 10,000.

There are a few of us estimate, based on the current situation: More than 10 million Americans are being well-served cancer, 30 million are not.

Teetering On Taxes

French Premier Edgar Faure narrowly avoided being turned out of office on the issue of tax collections.

French small businessmen, rallying around Pierre Poujade, want to put a stop to the activities of roving inspectors who check on tax frauds. They also advocate the abolition of penalties for those who submit fraudulent tax returns. The French national assembly was inclined to go along with this but Premier Faure threatened to resign if they did. It was decided to postpone a decision on the matter until after the debate on French Senate ratification of the agreements to re-arm Germany and settle the Saar question.

It is difficult to understand how the deputies can seriously consider yielding to the demands of Poujade and his supporters. Revision of the tax system may be in order but to move checks on the accuracy of returns and to eliminate penalties for violations would be to invite fiscal anarchy.

Taking a stand against the demands of unreasonable people who want to avoid paying taxes may not be popular, may cost votes. But a politician who does not place the interest of the country above his own political fortunes is rendering the state no service. Premier Faure displayed courage in his stand. The same cannot be said of those deputies who tried to make him accept the destruction of the tax system as the price for remaining in office long enough to do the vital job of pushing through ratification of the Paris agreements.

Goodbye, Cinderella

Lady, if you have big feet, there may be compensations. Morton Hack, president of the Michigan Shoe Retailers Association, told his organization that women with large feet "are more pleasant, and as generous of character as their pedal extremities."

He more than made up these kind words by the rest of his message. "Our women have the biggest feet in the world, and they seem to be getting still bigger." A generation ago, Hack said, the average woman took a 6B shoe size. Today she takes seven and one half B.

This is much more sensible. If a woman's shoes are too tight, not only she but her friends and family suffer. It is time to give up the idea that by wearing uncomfortably tight shoes, a woman becomes as beautiful and lucky as Cinderella. On the contrary, she becomes cross and hard to get along with and ugly lines deepen in her face.

It's the women with neat but comfortable shoes who are nice to date and come home to.

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON — The British decision to help defend Formosa while conceding Red China's claims to offshore islands once again demonstrates the degree of difference in American and British foreign policy. Of course, these differences go back a lot further. The main issue between the two governments has been the recognition of Red China. While Britain recognized the Peking regime, the United States still has not.

There is also the question of Communist China's admission to the United Nations. Although the United States strongly opposes this, it is a known fact that the British feel the Reds should be given a UN seat. Despite these basic differences, however, the strong ties between Britain and the United States hold the two countries together and there is little fear of any open rift between them.

In the long run, the British may win on at least one point. There is a private feeling in government circles in Washington that Red China eventually will get into the UN.

Taxes — The new income tax in the Far East over Formosa is causing a lot of trouble. The Democrats had thought of trying to get the tax reduction through Congress this year to get the political jump on President Eisenhower, who has hinted at a tax cut next year — national election time.

However, the serious situation around Formosa has now complicated the Democrats' plan. They are publicly urging increased defense spending to make the United States stronger in the face of the war threat in Asia and can't very well recommend that view with a tax cut.

It's hard to say any one out with a gun in hand is a good thing. It's the same with a tax cut. It's the same with a tax cut.

Profits Show Optimistic Signs

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock prices rose much faster than corporate earnings or dividends last year. But profits show good signs of increasing at a better rate this year. And some see in this a vindication of the big bull market in stocks which worried some economists and puzzled some senators.

The Associated Press average of the price of stocks of 60 leading and typical industrial corporations, utilities and railroads rose 42 per cent during 1954.

At the same time, combined earnings after taxes of these 60 companies rose 7.8 per cent. Prospects for increasing the rate of profit climb in the first half of 1955, however, are excellent.

The stock price index—in spite of some sharp breaks on the stock market in the first three months of 1955—further rose 2.3 per cent from Jan. 1 to March 31 of this year.

During the first half of 1954, when business was slower and earnings declining, the AP stock price average, reflecting confidence instead of gloom, rose 17 per cent. In the second half, as business began to pick up, the stock price index rose 22 per cent.

According to the experts, investors in stock have been expressing confidence in the future of business, and looking beyond last year's profit reports, and even beyond just this year's prospects. Many in the market, however, have been interested less in future earnings prospects than in the expectation that the bull market momentum would keep prices rising, so that they could get in and out and make a fast buck.

But for the long-term investor the cheering thing is that business tional amendment to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections. This method would require ratification by three-fourths of the states.

However, some northern Democrats want to see the poll tax repealed by a direct act of Congress. This difference of method could be the stumbling block on which the whole issue will stall.

Stevens next? — The resignation of John G. Adams, a central figure in the Army-McCarthy hearings, as Army counselor revived speculation in Washington that Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens also will quit his post.

While both Stevens and Adams denied it, again that the secretary plans to step out, Washington still believes that his departure is just a matter of time and may come this spring.

The quarters predicting Stevens' resignation point out that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has been silent on Stevens' status. That, they say, is a significant tip-off.

Senator Spessard Holland (D), Florida, and nine other southern senators have sponsored a consti-

Matsu, Quemoy Gain Recognition

Associated Press News Analyst Washington (AP)—Until recently most Americans probably could not say whether Matsu and Quemoy were Chinese lands or the Chinese name for ham and eggs. They weren't in the news much then.

They are now. The Matsu and Quemoy islands, close to the Red China mainland, are held by Chiang Kai-shek whose main Nationalist forces are on Formosa 100 miles offshore.

The Reds have threatened to take not only Matsu and Quemoy but Formosa too. The United States is pledged by treaty with Chiang to help defend Formosa but is under no such obligation to protect the two smaller islands.

President Eisenhower's ultimate decision—to defend Matsu and Quemoy or abandon them to the Chinese Communists—may mean for this country war or no war.

There is wide difference of opinion in this country—and between the United States and its allies—over the worth of the islands and the wisdom of trying to keep them.

If Eisenhower announced today he would defend Matsu and Quemoy he would be doing so with the knowledge—because of the wide discussion and deep differences—that he did not have 100 per cent agreement behind him.

This knowledge may influence him in any decision he makes.

If Adm. Robert B. Carney's off-the-record remarks to newsmen 12 days ago served no other purpose, they at least alerted the country to the possibility of war and forced it into thinking and talking. Carney, chief of naval operations, was quoted as saying the Reds might attack Matsu in mid-April.

In this way the statements of Carney had the effect of a trial balloon for Eisenhower to test American thinking, although the President later expressed displeasure with Carney's performance.

Carney's statement shocked the country, which was unprepared for the imminence of war. Eisenhower's later statement — that he didn't have information about such probability of attack — may have soothed the nation, or caused even more discussion.

One thing was sure: Americans were now thinking and talking about Matsu and Quemoy as never before. Thanks to that, the President was in a position to learn what the country felt before he made his decision.

The farm group in Congress, which advocates rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity for basic agricultural commodities, has picked up support from a new source, organized labor, especially the CIO. This is a political development which bears watching.

In the last Congress President Eisenhower vigorously supported his Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Benson, in successfully opposing the continuation of 90 per cent of parity. The Administration took this position that the 90 per cent rigidity supports build up large surpluses. Since there is no market for these surpluses, the government must borrow money to pay the farmer for that which he cannot sell. The borrowing of this money increases the national debt, which sparks an inflationary spiral, which in turn increases the cost of food to the consumer.

To prevent this the Administration favored and succeeded in passing a new farm law providing for flexible price supports down to 82½ per cent. This new law does not become effective until the current crops, that is, the 1955 crops, are harvested. Consequently, its effect is yet to be tested and farm price conditions today are therefore in no way attributable to the Eisenhower-Benson program.

Nevertheless, the 90 per cent of parity group has pushed vigorously to restore the old parity formula. A bill has been reported by the House Agriculture Committee. Its sponsors are optimistic of passage and the story at the Capitol is that a deal is in the offing. The pending deal is to be this . . . labor members of Congress will support the 90 per cent of parity group . . . and the 90 per cent of the labor members of Congress minimum wage to $1.25 per hour. ded an increase from 75 cents to 90 cents.)

It has been expected that the 90 per cent of parity bill would be brought to a vote in the House late this week or the first of next week. Now, however, the 90 per cent of parity group favors postponing the vote until mid-April. This indicates that the 90 per cent group is not sure of the votes. But, regardless of that, the political importance of the pending deal is in no way diminished.

If the farm-labor groups combine in support of economic policy, this would forecast measures tending to increase the inflationary spiral over and over again.

My New York

By MEL BEIMER

NEW YORK — Things one New Yorker thinks about:

I've steered pretty clear of auctions ever since almost buying a horse at one, but I have in mind attending the 10-day sale of furnishings and miscellaneous articles in the recently-closed John Wanamaker store on the fringe of Greenwich Village, this month. I want to see O. Rundle Gilbert in action. At 48, the scholarly-looking Gilbert may be the top auctioneer in the country. He's peddled more than $16 million worth of other people's property and can boast that he once sold a penny for $5,300 — a rare, valuable 1853 American penny.

O. Rundle has plenty to work with at Wanamaker's ghost store. He will auction off a complete ice cream manufacturing plant, the fixtures of four restaurants, a barbershop, Gobelin tapestries, 300,000 yards of carpeting and even the celebrated $250,000 Wanamaker organ, that used to soothe one as you wandered around trying to find the boys' furnishings department. At O. Rundle's side will be his wife

Anne, who's been his "right-hand man" for 22 years — except during the brief periods when she took time out to bear him six sons.

A note in the mail from Beverly Putnam, the handsome girl guide, tells me she's going to take another group of 15 women on a safari after lions, buffaloes and elephants in East Africa's Nairobi area this June. Then in December, she'll fetch another group of dollars in India for a tiger hunt.

Meanwhile, Miss P. is holed up in West 58th street, eyeing the two-footed tigers adrift in New York's highways. If you've got $3,975 and want to blow it on a chance to put a bullet through a lion's head, drop her a line. I'm saving my hunting days for the time when the lion is given a gun, to make it a 50-50 contest.

Clicquenoi Home Scene Of Meeting For Circle No. 6

Circle No. 6 of the First Methodist Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Clicquenoi, 401 Elliott Ave., with Mrs. W. W. Tyre, co-hostess Monday.

Mrs. W. W. Tyre, circle chairman, presided over the meeting. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary Mrs. M. E. Baker and were approved. Mrs. Eva Harker presented a beautiful and inspiring devotional entitled "The Woman At The Cross", followed by prayer.

The regular Women's Society of Christian Service business meeting will be postponed until April 18 at which time conference reports will be given. Mrs. Tyre reminded the members to bring coupons to the next sister meeting as they may be sent to the Children's Home.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Daniels. Mrs. W. A. Hunter conducted an auction sale which proved to be quite successful.

Mrs. W. W. Tyre read to the group from the Book of Psalms chapter 139 after which the meeting adjourned.

Those present were Mrs. Dan Lamb, Mrs. M. E. Baker, Mrs. Eva Harker, Mrs. J. A. Calhoun, Mrs. J. L. Garrison, Mrs. Clark Leonard, Mrs. Bea Monroe, Mrs. W. A. Hunter, Mrs. G. B. Hudson and the hostesses Mrs. E. L. Clicquenoi and Mrs. W. W. Tyre.

Garden Nook

By SADIE B. GUT

A new month has rolled around but there is still plenty to be done in our gardens, including some of last month's chores for which we didn't find time. Many plants may still be pruned and shaped and then fertilized, including among others grape myrtle, ixora and plumbago. Branches of pencil size or more may be reserved for air-layering if desired. And don't forget that the lawn needs its spring tonic of 6-6-6 or 4-7-5 if not given last month.

When wisterias are thru blooming they should be cut back severely, as the flowers come from the older growth near the main stem and not from the rank new growth. If growth is too rank the plant may be root pruned by severing roots in a three foot diameter around trunk, cutting straight down with spade or shovel. Wisterias like a deep rich soil, plenty of fertilizer and water. Three form or "standards" are developed by pruning out suckers and side shoots to strengthen trunk and produce growth on top.

Cannas also like a rich soil and lots of water. Try the newer more delicate colors, and plant roots one inch deep. Spray plants often to control caterpillars. If flowering stalks are cut after blooming, new shoots will appear and flower. Air layering gives gratifying results now with the new spring growth and provides new plants much quicker than can be obtained from cuttings. Often lanky growth of axillate camellias, ixora hibiscus and other shrubs can be utilized for these air layers, and cut off later when well rooted, thus providing new plants and doing necessary pruning at the same time. Also many shrubs and trees that are difficult to grow from cuttings will yield to this method.

Ring a well shaped branch of pencil size or larger by cutting completely thru the bark and growing (cambium) layer, preferably just below an eye or bud and remove every bit of bark and cambium layer down to bare wood, completely around the branch for a distance of about twice the diameter of the branch. A notch cut in the wood just below the bud also aids in root formation at this point, and a rooting hormone may be dusted over the cut area for the same purpose.

A handful of moist but not excessively wet sphagnum moss is now placed around the cut and then wrapped with a strip of plastic film or aluminum foil and tied securely top and bottom with hard twine or wide rubber bands. When the sphagnum moss is well filled with roots, several weeks later, the branch should be cut just below the moss the covering removed and the new plant potted in a container of rich porous soil without disturbing the moss and tender roots.

Methodist Church Tells Of Monthly Family Nite Dinner

The First Methodist Church announces the monthly Family Nite Dinner on Wednesday at 7 p. m. The congregation is invited bring "family style" dinners.

For the program, the first section of a historic three-part sound film entitled "Our Bible — How It Came To Us" will be shown in McKinley Hall.

"Our Bible — How It Came To Us" traces the history and development of the Holy Bible from the first century A.D. to present time. It was produced by the American Bible Society and ranks as one of the most authentic Bible films ever made.

The first section of the film takes one back to the very beginnings of the Bible. After a brief opening in the modern day, the film flashes back to Nazareth in the time of the first century, and shows Jesus in the synagogue reading from the scroll of Isaiah. The film then unfolds the story of how the Old Testament was formed, and how translations of Bible into Greek spread throughout the eastern Mediterranean world and formed the Scriptures of the early Christians.

The formation of the New Testament is dramatically portrayed, first by showing how Paul working as a tentmaker in Corinth, dictates the first of the Epistles, and how the Gospels came to be written by Luke, Matthew and John. It comes to a close by showing how this collection of writings about Jesus and his teachings was added to the Scriptures of the Jews, making the Bible as it is known today.

It is hope of the American Bible Society and those who show these pictures that the films shall stimulate more widespread reading of the Word of God. The other two sections in the series are "The Bible Spreads Across Europe" and "The Making of the English Bible". The dates these are to be shown will be for the next two Family Nite Dinners, on May 4 and May 25. It is hoped that the teachers and workers of the Church School Staff will make a special effort to attend and share in these fine films. "All interested people are cordially invited to see these interesting, informational and inspirational films," it was announced.

Margie Warmoth Honored At Dinner Friday Evening

Miss Margie Warmoth, belle-eclect, was honored with a dinner and linen shower Friday evening by Miss Frances Cobb at her home on West 15th St.

Unknown Golfers Just Don't Win Masters Tourney

PC League Opens Baseball Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Pacific Coast League opened its 33rd baseball season today with three afternoon games, a night inaugural and the season's first two-timer tossed in for good measure. Defending champion San Diego, far from being a favorite to repeat, set up the two-game opener with San Francisco—one game in the afternoon and the other at night. Portland was at Los Angeles and Hollywood at Sacramento this afternoon and Seattle opens tonight at Oakland.

Roy Hamey Says He's Using Some Of Yankee System

(Roy Hamey, regarded as one of baseball's top front office men and now general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, presides especially for AP News-features his views on farm systems and why he suggested Mayo Smith as manager.)
By BOB HAMEY I would be silly if I didn't carry out some of the Yankee system. The biggest thing about the Yankees was the winning of five straight pennants. They were continually changing their personnel. Every year they made some change like bringing in established National League veterans and promising rookies.

The brought into the American League such stars as Johnny Mize, Johnny Hopp, Johnny Sain, Ewell Blackwell and more recently Jim Konstanty.

Well we have some good young players. Syracuse finished fourth in the International League and won the playoffs and faced Louisville in the Little World Series. Our working agreement with Syracuse could pay dividends this year or next.

Lynn Lovenguth (31) is the right age for a relief job. He worked 58 games last year at Syracuse. John Meyer (23) and Jim Owens (21) are definitely major league pitching prospects. Meyer won 15 and Owens 17 in a tough league.

Joe Lonnett (28), a catcher, hit 21 home runs, Merv Blaylock (25) hit 22 homers and batted .303. A first baseman, he should be ready. Bob Bowman (22) hit 20 homers and batted .282 as an outfielder. If he can hit the curve ball he's major league all the way.

These are the boys we brought up from Triple A. If some of these boys make the club it will be a healthy thing. As far as Mayo Smith is concerned I had a chance to watch him at work four years, the last two at Birmingham in the AA Southern Assn. Before that he won two pennants at Norfolk in the Class A Piedmont League.

I know he can get along with men. He never had a tailor-made club. I think a young manager will make a good major league manager. He's 40.

I think we'll see a young trend in managers. It's beginning to happen now with fellows like Walter Alton, Smith Birds Eye, Marty Marion, Pinky Higgins, Eddie Stanky and Stan Hack.

Mayo Smith is coming in cold in his major league debut. Before this spring the only Phillies he ever saw play was first baseman Earl Torgerson who was with Seattle in 1946 when Mayo was an outfielder under Jim Turner at Portland. Incidentally, Mayo was recommended for a manager's career by Yankee coach Turner.

We have some good young ball players and with coaches like Wilk Wyatt Moore and Benny Bangough I know we can make them better ball players.

Greyhound Derby Slated Friday

The 20th Annual Central Florida Greyhound Derby will be run at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club Friday, April 8. Dogs taking part will be Stylish Bomb, Perico, Woodside Rub, River Ice, Middleboro, Amend, Harmony Peak and Doris L. The consolation derby will be run the preceding night, Thursday, April 7, with the following field: King Gold, Shirl, Braggart, Sooty, No Can Do, Stylemark, and Brandy.

Only seven dogs will be in the field of the consolation derby, because Ed's Carbon Copy, scratched just prior to the second elimination race last week, will not take part.

The biggest night of the year, both in anticipated crowd and handle as well as in calibre of the racing will be on Tuesday, April 12, closing night for the 1935 season. The featured race closing night, as usual, is the Au Revoir Handicap which will show the top dogs of the year.

The field of about 80—there were 65 contestants registered Monday night—is expected to include three two-time winners, Nelson, Hogan and Horton Smith, and one triple winner, Speed. Jimmy Demaret, the only other golfer to win the Masters three times since it was inaugurated in 1934, is recovering from a recent operation and won't be on hand.

Baseball Men Fearful Of Relationship Between Owners Of Yankees, Athletics

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK (AP)—Among baseball men, as they gather this spring in Florida and talked off the record to their friends of the press, there was evident a growing feeling of disquiet over the interlocking relationship between the owners of the New York

Yankees and the Kansas City Athletics, both of the American League.

This feeling will not be dissipated to any extent by the latest offering of Arthur Mann, an author who has had long experience in the game's inner circles. In an article entitled "How to Buy a Ball Club for Peanuts," appearing in this week's Saturday Evening Post, Mann supplies the previously unpublished details of how Arnold Johnson, owner of the new Kansas City franchise, purchased Yankee Stadium from Del Webb and Dan Topping late in 1935.

Eddie Mathews Socks Three Homers, But Braves Lose To Brooklyn, 10-8

By ED WILKS The Associated Press NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Mathews, the Milwaukee County Stadium is within hailing distance, Eddie Mathews, the Braves, muscular young man with the powerful wrists, is warming up for a robust introduction to the park's reduced confines.

With opening day just a week away, Mathews didn't have a home run to his credit until yesterday. Then the 23-year-old third baseman, who led the National League with 47 homers in '33, cut loose for three, although the Braves lost the game to Brooklyn 10-4.

The Braves management revamped County Stadium last winter with just such things in mind. It was the second toughest home run park in the league last season. A mere 72 home runs were hit there. Only Pittsburgh's Forbes Field had fewer.

Kucks Is Rookie With Top Ability, Casey Discovers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS "This boy's going to make the roster like Bob Grim and like Bill Skowron," Yankee Manager Casey Stengel began early one morning at Miller Huggins Field in St. Petersburg.

Brazle Seeks 100th Victory

By FRANK ECK AP Sports Editor Alpha Brazle is the Enos Slaughter of pitchers. Neither wants to quit playing.

Signed as a free agent in January after being released outright by Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals, Brazle is working hard to fill a relief pitching role for the Chicago White Sox.

"Harry Brecheen (now a Baltimore coach) is five days older than I am," began Brazle. "I knew I'd stick around longer than old Harry. He had more starts than I did. I haven't started a game in four years.

"I got three more years left before I take up coaching, or any job in baseball for that matter. I worked 58 games last year and 118 the last two years.

Stengel fell in love with this 6-foot-3 blue-eyed blond the first time he saw him pitch in a pre-season Yankee school game. When Kucks pitched three scoreless innings against the St. Louis Cardinals in the second exhibition game of the spring Stengel had a hard time concealing his emotions.

"I averaged 3,000 pitches a month. Stanky always had somebody counting the pitches.

"To me he didn't treat his players like people. He wants young players and it makes you feel bad. He let Slaughter and Brecheen go and I was next.

"It kinda hurts after being with one ball club 11 years and 75 days."

Two three-run innings gave Boston a 2-7 victory over Philadelphia. Cleveland beat the New York Giants 9-5 as Wally Westlake and Vic Wertz homered. Westlake's, good for three runs, came off starter Marv Grissom. Larry Jansen gave up the Wertz homer with one on.

"I think we'll see a young trend in managers. It's beginning to happen now with fellows like Walter Alton, Smith Birds Eye, Marty Marion, Pinky Higgins, Eddie Stanky and Stan Hack.

"I think it would be nice to get 100. I got one year to get in better shape to be a relief pitcher. One game last year I threw 240 pitches in the bullpen before I went to the mound in Pittsburgh and made one pitch. I got my job done. Stanky had Coach Bill Praxel count the pitches.

Chicago's White Sox paired Sandy Consuegra and Mike Ferrelly, who relieved in the eighth, to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2.

Cincinnati player representative, was reportedly ready to ditch the March 1 date but anxious to keep the March 10 mark which permits the beginning of exhibition contests.

Ed Lopat, a master at keeping a hitter off stride and a fellow who does on studying pitchers, has this to say about Kucks: "He has plenty of natural ability, good arm, good leverage and his fast ball is alive. He has a fair curve and a good slider. He's the intelligent sort in that he picks things up quickly.

"When some fellows mature they mature all the way. This boy may be one of them."

Kucks was scouted by Frank O'Rourke and Paul Krichell when he won 32 and lost 9 during four years at Dickinson High. He also played the outfield. In the Army his record was 25 and 8.

In his only year of organized ball—1932 at Norfolk, Va., in the Class B Piedmont League—he had a 10-6 record.

Specifically, the players as representatives of all major leaguers debated the March 1 starting date for spring training.

In his only year of organized ball—1932 at Norfolk, Va., in the Class B Piedmont League—he had a 10-6 record.

The club instituted the date at the request of the players. Commissioner Ford Frick had objected but when he observed the rule was being evaded, he fined the Milwaukee Braves and the Kansas City Athletics.

Ed Lopat, a master at keeping a hitter off stride and a fellow who does on studying pitchers, has this to say about Kucks: "He has plenty of natural ability, good arm, good leverage and his fast ball is alive. He has a fair curve and a good slider. He's the intelligent sort in that he picks things up quickly.

"When some fellows mature they mature all the way. This boy may be one of them."

Kucks was scouted by Frank O'Rourke and Paul Krichell when he won 32 and lost 9 during four years at Dickinson High. He also played the outfield. In the Army his record was 25 and 8.

Mrs. Anna Well Glass, Enterprise, To Celebrate 95th Birthday Friday

On April 3, Mrs. Anna Well Glass, the oldest citizen of Enterprise, will celebrate her 95th birthday. Neighbors and friends are invited to open house at her home, "Thornby" between the hours of 3 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Glass was born in Johnson, New York and lived there until she married Dr. James H. Glass and moved to Ulica, New York. In 1914 she made her first trip to Florida. She and the Doctor went to Merritt Island answering an ad in the "Country Gentleman", where a place with large citrus acreage and home etc. was for sale. While Dr. Glass was out with the real estate agent, Mrs. Glass was fighting mosquitoes using both hands. Dr. Glass came back with his arms loaded with fruit, but by then the mosquitoes had gotten the best of Mrs. Glass, so Dr. dropped the fruit and the idea of buying on Merritt Island.

The next year, 1915, Mrs. Glass came to DeLand to visit her sister, Miss Sarah Margaret Wells. They spent some time also at the Orange City Inn, and took several trips by horse and buggy to Enterprise. Mrs. Glass was enchanted from the first visit by the Old Hotel (the once famous Brock House) the waters of Lake Monroe with its lovely sunset views, Green Springs and Benson Springs, visits to the children of the Orphanage (as it was called in those early years). When she joined Dr. Glass at New Smyrna, she got him to drive over in a rented car. He too, loved the quiet charm of Enterprise. So they came back by bag and baggage. Dr. Glass only spent a few days but next year, 1916, he needed no urging to return. This time they sailed from New York to Jacksonville by the Clyde Line Ocean steamer, taking the river boat "Osceola" with Capt. Lunn to dock at the hotel.

On the day of their return to New York, they were walking up the picturesque wooded road they came to the property of the present "Thornby." There a long row of beautiful lilies caught the eye of Mrs. Glass, so they climbed the fence and going up to a small cottage, (which is still in use) they disturbed an old man sleeping in the sun, and after much questioning it was learned the fruit was shipped by a man in DeLand. Upon their return from the cottage, Mrs. Glass said to the Doctor, "If I were you, I would buy this place if I didn't do anything but go north and think about it." He said in her "Is that the way you feel about it?"

From an old fence post he extracted a rusty nail and with his knife cut off a small oak sapling and drove in the nail with his shoe saying "There, that's the southeast corner of the house." They ran to catch the boat which was then blowing at the turn into the dock. A few letters back and forth, soon returned a deed for the old grove and small cabin and many beautiful live oaks.

Dr. Fowler, who then had a big interest in the hotel, recommended Jessie L. Prall, a builder, to build the house. So in August 1918, Mr. Prall, who was a visiting physician in Connecticut, called at Ulica and took over the plans and, coming back to Enterprise, to build the lovely house of Dutch Colonial design. Mrs. Glass named the place "Thornby" for a dear friend and the many thorns then growing everywhere. At that time Spanish hayonets, a beautiful but very dangerous thorny shrub, was growing everywhere. Mrs. Glass dug the little ones up and made a hedge from the front pine needle road to the big white cement post, up house. The fence was covered with wild Cherokee roses, an "Thornby" was truly an appropriate name.

Dr. and Mrs. Glass spent the winter months in Enterprise after his retirement, taking a great interest in civic affairs. In 1931 Dr. Glass died leaving Mrs. Glass "Thornby" which she has made her home. She has endeared herself to everyone in the community. She has many friends, boys and girls, returning to the annual homecoming of the children's Home always ask "Where is Mrs. Glass?"

Episcopal Church Celebrates Holy Week

The Holy Cross Episcopal Church is now holding its services in celebration of Holy Week. There are daily celebrations of Holy Communion in the Chapel at 7:30 a. m. The Gospels for these services recount the Passion of Christ.

On Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. the service will be Evening Prayer, Litany and a Sermon by the Rector, the Rev. H. Lytleton Zimmerman.

On Maundy Thursday the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a. m. and again at 10 a. m. Maundy-Thursday is a popular corruption of the Latin for the "Day of Command". It is the Thursday in Holy Week commemorating the Last Supper of our Lord with His Disciples when He instituted the Holy Communion with the command, "Do this in remembrance of Me" and also the commandment, "That ye love one another as I have loved you."

From 12 to 3 p. m. on Good Friday there will be a service which commemorates the three hours of darkness when Christ hung on the Cross. On Good Friday we commemorate our Lord's death, from the blessed results of the atoning sacrifice of the Saviour. There is no celebration of the Holy Communion on Good Friday as the Church remembers when Christ was taken from us. Communion from Reserved Sacrament consecrated on Maundy-Thursday at 7:30 a. m. The sermons by Father Zimmerman will be the seven last words from the cross.

On Holy Saturday Morning Prayer and Holy Communion will be at 7:30 a. m. and Holy Baptism (by appointment). From 5 to 6 and 7-8 p. m. Sacrament of Penance in the Peace Chapel. At 8:15 p. m. the Blessing and Lighting of the Paschal Candle. The Paschal Candle is a large white candle placed in a large candlestick at the Gospel side of the Altar symbolizing the risen Christ and is lit on Eastern Even and remains lighted throughout the Great Forty Days of Eastertide until Ascension. Paschal Feast is from the Greek word Pascha meaning "Passover", the original name for Easter.

On Easter Day the Holy Eucharist is celebrated at 7:30 a. m. The Choral Family Eucharist and Presentation of the Mite Boxes will be at 9 a. m. The Festival Choral Eucharist and sermon by Father Zimmerman will be at 11 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The Women's Auxiliary of Holy Cross Church set aside April 1 as its time to celebrate Quiet Day. This service presents an invaluable opportunity for the silent and thoughtful realization of the meaning of Lent and an aid to the preparation of a glorious Eastertide. Quiet Day has, through the years, become increasingly popular because it enables every woman to experience a personal and growing knowledge of God through worship and meditation.

The Quiet Day Service was held from 9 a. m. 'til 3 p. m., and silence was maintained throughout the entire period. The services were conducted by Father Zimmerman. The service opened at 9 a. m. with the celebration of Morning

Did you ever wish books could talk? Well, now they can, thanks to the efforts of a book-loving couple named Bernard and Darlene Geis, who decided somebody had to do something to give books addresses during the meditation periods were on the Passion of Our fighting chance in the battle for children's interests waged by television, movies and radio.

Lord, the betrayal, the trial, and the scourging and humiliation of our Lord.

"We had been working on a new series of books for preschool children," says Darlene, who is the mother of two sons, Peter, 11, and Stephen, 5. "That's our field, Bernard edits children's books and I write them. We worked hard getting the kind of pictures that would appeal to nonreading readers, and tried them all out on our boys."

"But my husband kept saying it wasn't quite enough—the books should be able to speak for themselves."

One evening he rushed home with a strange-looking book. It had a round piece of grooved paper glued on the front cover and a hole punched in the middle.

They read the book to Peter and Stephen, then Daddy said nonchalantly to the boys:

"Now put this on your phonograph and play it."

The youngsters stared in disbelief, but obeyed, and suddenly the room was full of sound. The book was talking.

Mr. and Mrs. Geis now have 10 such books in process of publication.

The record is not just a repetition of the text, but is coordinated with it, with musical arrangements by Jimmy Carroll and a 16-piece orchestra. When the story has to do with a farm, the sound track has the voices of real farm animals. When it's about the zoo, children can hear a real lion's roar.

Buying Right-Of-Way Hopes Lie In State Advance Or Bond Issue

An advance from the state or a bond issue are the only two ways Seminole County has any hope of buying right-of-way for the four-laning of U. S. Highway 17-92, the County Commission was told yesterday.

Action by the State Road Board last Monday seemingly ruled out the chance of an advance this year, and the Commissioners said they thought a bond issue would never pass.

Commissioner B. C. Dodd estimated the right-of-way would cost the county $750,000 and Commissioner Otis Fournaker added "At least that much."

The Road Board, in the action Monday, denied an advance to Santa Rosa County for the purchase of primary right-of-way. The money would have been repaid from gasoline tax money due the county.

Campbell Thornal, fifth district road board member, said this has been the policy of the board since January.

He said the state cannot advance money to counties for right-of-way purchases because of the depleted condition of the primary road fund which must be used entirely for construction at this time.

The board has budgeted $850,000 for widening of 17-92 from the Orange County line to Big Tree Road.

Thornal said he did not know the condition of Seminole County's road funds and could not therefore comment on Meisch's statement to the commission.

The commission decided to advance its part in the project as fast as possible. John Fox, county right-of-way agent, was directed to secure cost estimates on title searches of the property to be acquired. The search is required by the State Road Department.

Proposal Termed 'Unfair'

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—An election law proposal requiring voters to swear they voted for no opposition party candidate in the preceding general election ran into a legislative bummer.

This party loyalty oath was put to the House Committee on Elections last night by the State Democratic Executive Committee which also proposed the same kind of oath for party candidates. The committee studied both ideas again today.

Rep. Tom J. Johnson Jr., of Hillsborough called the proposal "unfair" and said he believed it would disenfranchise Republicans moving to Florida from the North by keeping them out of the state's Democratic primaries.

Rep. Peterson of Pinellas, a Republican, didn't like the proposal either.

Rep. Belsor of Holmes said he was "100 per cent" for the plan. Ervin P. Ray of Lakeland, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee's Legislative Committee, told the House Elections Committee the plans were designed to correct changes in loyalty requirements set up by the 1933 Legislature.

The House Elections Committee also asked House members to adopt a regulation prohibiting committee action on bills by polling of committee members instead of members' actually voting on the measures.

By proxy voting, a committee member can be absent and yet turn his vote on a bill over to another committee member. In this manner it is possible for a bill to be passed or defeated in committee by absentee votes.

The idea of doing away with proxy voting is the idea of Speaker Ted David. The rules group also agreed to another David proposal by which a committee could give advice on parliamentary matters however, the speaker would not be bound by the committee's decision.

The runner-up was Carolyn Nichols, eighth grade student at All Souls Parochial School, third place, Patricia Clark, eighth grade, Sanford Junior High School; fourth, Betty Duda, St. Luke's Christian Day School, Slavia; and fifth, Katherine Mikler, St. Luke's Christian Day School.

The prizes were, first, ten dollars and a medal, Miami Herald; second, five dollars, Miami Herald; third, ten dollars, Miami Herald; fourth, ten dollars, dictionary, Sweeney's; and fifth, box of candy, Touchton Drug Co.

The first and second place winners will go to Miami on April 29 to compete with spellers from 24 other counties.

Stevenson Termed As Demo 'Shoo-In' For Presidential

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan said today Adlai E. Stevenson is a shoo-in for the Democratic presidential in 1956.

Sparkman, Stevenson's 1932 vice presidential running mate, said he is convinced Gov. Averell Harriman of New York "will not be a candidate for the nomination against Stevenson."

"Stevenson is the only candidate we have right now," Sparkman declared.

There have been reports some New York party leaders would like to get Harriman in the race, despite the governor's statements he favors Stevenson.

Wilson observed wryly: "My wife must still think I work for General Motors."

Medical Society Convention Closes

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—The Florida Medical Society winds up its annual convention here today with election of officers and reports by three prominent physicians.

Reports will be heard from Dr. Bernard J. McCloskey of Jacksonville, Dr. Victor H. Knight Jr. of Tampa and Dr. George E. Morris of Boston.

Dr. Dusan T. McEwan of Orlando, president of the society, told members yesterday that they need to take a more friendly and personal interest in their patients.

Man's Body Found At Daytona Beach Identified Today

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A man whose body was found on the beach Monday today was identified as Ben W. Daniel, 22, owner of a pharmacy in Moultrie, Ga., and a former member of the city council there.

Daniel owned a house and cabins on the oceanfront here, and came here for a vacation several days ago with an 18 year old son, Lucien.

The son was found this morning in Orlando, where he reportedly sought the aid of friends after becoming frightened at his father's disappearance.

The son knew nothing of his father's death until this morning Sheriff's Deputy Bob Slyde said he was told.

Daniel's wife, Mabel; another son Ben Jr.; a brother and a friend were reportedly on their way here from Moultrie this morning. Daniel also has a married daughter Jane.

ATOM-POWERED CAR RESEARCH CONDUCTED

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. is conducting research on an atom-powered car. William M. Schmidt, Lincoln-Mercury engineer, said atomic energy is "definitely the coming thing" in the automobile industry but an atom car won't be marketed "in the foreseeable future."

Successor Appears Nervous

Trumpet Fanfare Greet Statesman

LONDON (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden, who once walked out of the government rather than appease Continental dictators, became Britain's Prime Minister today. He is the 42nd man to hold the nation's highest political office, and the youngest in three decades.

The 57-year-old diplomat—first discussed in history to be named premier—kissed the hand of Queen Elizabeth II and accepted her appointment to succeed his long-time political mentor, Sir Winston Churchill, who retired yesterday at 80.

Trumpets of the Horse Guards band sounded in the distance, like a herald of the new political era, as the handsome, debonair statesman in frock coat left Buckingham Palace under pale sunshine to drive back to his new duties.

The gray official, with all its newspapers on strike, got news of the historic changeover in a palace communique read over the British Broadcasting Cor. The text: "The Queen received the Right Hon. Sir Anthony Eden, MP, in audience this morning and offered him the post of Prime Minister and first lord of the treasury. Sir Anthony Eden accepted Her Majesty's offer and kissed hands upon his appointment."

Churchill's political crown prince of more than 13 years flung himself nervously into his new role and frequently smoothed his gray hair as he arrived at the palace—12 minutes early for his 11 a. m. appointment with the sovereign.

The public hearing before the Senate investigation subcommittee may provide a test of a "peace" agreement reached Monday between Stassen and Chairman McClellan (D-Ind.).

McClellan previously had accused Stassen of tossing "roadblocks" in the path of the subcommittee's search for the facts about complaints that the Foreign Operations Administration was preparing to award a contract for Pakistan grain elevators to a California firm whose bid was $200,000 or more higher than the low bid U. S. foreign aid funds are to pay for the plant, estimated to cost about two million dollars.

McClellan had ordered a subpoena served on Stassen, calling on him to testify and produce documents the senator said Stassen's office previously had withheld.

Sen. Harry King Senate President

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Sen. Harry E. King of Winter Haven today was designated president of the 1935 Senate.

The 19 senators from even numbered districts, who will hold over for the 1935 session met in caucus during a brief recess and voted to nominate King for the presidency of the next session.

King, a lawyer, citrus and melon grower, has served continuously in the Senate since the 1941 session.

Safe Guard Ordered For Ballot Boxes

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's ballot boxes and voting machines were ordered safeguarded today as recounts appeared likely in several of Monday's election contests.

Of the six educational and two Supreme Court seats at stake, four Democrats and one Republican appeared to have safe margins on the basis of nearly complete unofficial returns.

Only 76 to 81 of the state's 4,700 precincts still had not reported in the various races.

Day Of Triumph' Special Showing Reviewed At Ritz

A special showing of "Day of Triumph" was reviewed at the Ritz Theatre yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in which a select group of people from each church in Sanford attended. Comment sheets were given out which the audience was asked to fill out in accordance with its own opinions of the picture regarding its entertainment value, authenticity, and acting.

Herb Haller, manager of the Ritz, announced that the picture will be shown in Sanford on April 26 and 27 as a regular show. "However," he said, "the churches are being given discount coupons in which a church member may obtain a coupon from the minister. A percentage of each adult admission when the coupon is used will be received by that church."

N. M. Addison, representing Select Pictures Corporation, travels with the film to introduce the picture and relate some of its history.

"Day of Triumph" he commented, "is Hollywood's first major screen depiction of climatic events in the life of Christ since H. B. Warner played the role in Cecil B. DeMille's silent film "King of Kings" in 1927.
