Negotiations Break Between Rail Unions

CHICAGO (UPI) — Arbitration or appointment of a presidential fact-finding board appeared the only alternatives today to head off a possible nationwide strike of two large railroad unions.

Wage negotiations between major railroads and the unions, representing 97,000 workers, virtually all the nation's engineers and firemen, became deadlocked Thursday and no new sessions were scheduled.

Leverett Edwards of the National Mediation Board said bargainers for the industry and the 87,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (BLE) were sent home late Thursday night when talks collapsed.

Earlier, the 60,000-member Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers (BLFE) broke off negotiations with representatives of the 186-170 railroads affected.

NAS Men Find Similar Names Can Be Confusing

Confusion reigned supreme in the post office of Heavy Attack Squadron 2 last week over the intended receiver of an official letter from Heavy Attack Photographic Squadron 62.

The letter was addressed to a Lt. Talmadge S. Baggett. The only two men in the squadron with similar names are Lt. J. T. Talmadge and Lt. (j.g.) M. L. Baggett. Neither wished to open the letter because it was from another squadron and was official.

Returning the letter to the originator solved nothing because within the week it was back to VAH-3. It lay dormant until last Tuesday, when Lt. Talmadge S. Baggett of VAP-62 came to the duty office of VAH-3 looking for his letter.

Lt. (j.g.) Talmadge was on duty and quickly solved the mystery of the missing letter.

Lt. Baggett is at the Naval Air Station for temporary additional duty training in the ASD photo attack plane. His home base is Jacksonville.

Lt. (j.g.) Baggett and Lt. (j.g.) Talmadge are permanently attached to VAH-3 in the Aircraft Maintenance Department.

Neither Lt. Baggett nor Lt. (j.g.) Talmadge are related but have become friends through this strange coincidence of names. All three officers as well as the squadron itself received a good laugh from the incident.

Kennedy Hints He Won't Accept Humphrey Challenge In Primary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy appeared today unlikely to pick up Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's challenge to fight it out in the May 10 West Virginia presidential primary.

Humphrey (D-Minn.) said he still was weighing Kennedy's (D-Mass.) invitation to meet in the Nebraska primary the same day as the West Virginia contest. But he indicated his decision would be to stay out. Humphrey said West Virginia offered a better "cross section" test than Midwestern primaries.

Kennedy further showed that he will carefully choose his primary contests by formally withdrawing from the April 12 Illinois race in which he had been entered by Lar Daly, perennial candidate for various offices.

A Humphrey supporter, meanwhile, officially entered New Hampshire's March 7 primary as a candidate for convention delegate favorable to Humphrey. Kennedy already has entered the New Hampshire contest.

A Humphrey aide here said the New Hampshire action was taken without Humphrey's knowledge and "does not represent an effort by Senator Humphrey to enter the New Hampshire primary."

Kennedy supporters in New Hampshire took steps to remove Daly and hillbilly singer Elton Brit from the primary ballot there.

Crippled Jet Trainer Hits Home, Two Killed

MILLBROOK, Ala. (UPI) — An elderly Negro couple was killed before late Thursday night when a crippled Air Force jet trainer ripped through their frame house and disintegrated.

The pilot, Lt. Col. Roy H. Turnquist, ejected himself moments before the crash and was found staggering in the front yard of a home near here, dragging his open parachute behind him.

Maham Jones, 73, and his wife, Louise, 67, perished in their beds shortly before midnight when the T33 jet smashed into the ground in front of their home, exploded and disintegrated as it tore through the house.

Turnquist suffered a possible broken ankle and multiple bruises and abrasions. He was taken to Maxwell Air Force base hospital in nearby Montgomery, where he was reported in shock.

The officer, stationed at the Pentagon in Washington, was only able to give sketchy details. He said he was on route to Randall Air Force Base, Texas, from Washington, when his jet had a power failure and an apparent explosion in the engine compartment.

Turnquist said he was forced to abandon the aircraft and ejected himself at an altitude of about 300 feet.

Air Force officials said Turnquist "got into trouble as soon as he was airborne" after taking off from Maxwell where he had stopped to refuel.

"All he could do was bail out," an Air Force spokesman said.

French Grant DeGaulle Full Emergency Power

A FRENCH insurgent (face blacked out by request) gives a haircut to an army paratrooper alongside a street barricade in Algiers. A French revolt which had spread throughout Algiers was crushed today.

Rebellion Collapses

PARIS (UPI) — The French Cabinet granted Gen. Charles DeGaulle full emergency powers today and Parliament was summoned into special session Tuesday to ratify the decision.

An announcement to this effect was made by Information Minister Roger Frey following an hour and a half Cabinet session held shortly after the settlers' rebellion in Algiers collapsed completely.

Last to surrender against the overwhelming odds was Pierre LaGallarde, a red-bearded 38-year-old former paratrooper.

The end to the eight-day insurrection against DeGaulle came at noon.

LaGallarde marched out of the barricaded zone in the heart of Algiers followed by 500 members of his armed forces. Moments later, the barricades thrown up last week began coming down and army troops moved into the areas.

News of the surrender spread like wildfire through the streets of Algiers. Thousands of civilians gathered in the streets to shout for the insurgents and chant "Algerie Francaise" (Algeria is French) the insurgents' war cry.

Two army helicopters hovered over the barricaded zone while groups of stragglers dragged out stocks and equipment and loaded them into army trucks.

LaGallarde led his men out from the barricades behind a French truck. They boarded trucks and army officials said they had been taken to the 1st Foreign Legion Regiment's base at Seralda, 30 miles west of Algiers.

Troops who entered the Algiers bank headquarters of insurgent co-leader Joseph Ortiz found it empty. There were reports that he had gone into hiding.

Red-banded paratroopers moved forward to the main barricade, spanning Charles Peguy Street, at 11:30 a. m. but stopped short a few yards from the high wall of paving stones. They stood there waiting until a group of insurgents marched out.

The paratroopers and other soldiers facing the barricades wrapped in silence and presented arms as the insurgents fled through.

Moments later, other French settlers who had defied DeGaulle and the French army for more than a week, began dismantling the main barricade. Many had tears in their eyes.

Frey's announcement indicated that DeGaulle was not satisfied with the present working of the Fifth Republic's Constitution and the Cabinet.

It also was a strong hint that he would not stop in his drive to restore the powers of the legal authorities in all fields despite the collapse of the uprising in Algeria.

It was the first time since the outbreak of World War II that a French chief executive was granted emergency powers in peacetime.

Frey said the government will have full powers under Article 35 of the Constitution of Oct. 4, 1958, largely shaped by DeGaulle himself.

Israel, Syrian Forces Clash

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Israeli and Syrian armed forces fought a raging night-long battle that lasted until dawn today in the demilitarized zone south of the Sea of Galilee. There were casualties on both sides.

Several hours later fighter planes from the two nations clashed in a brief dog fight over Metulla on the Israel-Lebanon border.

An Israeli military spokesman said in Tiberias that three Israelis were killed in the battle for the Arab village of Yawfik. Seven more soldiers were wounded in the attack, launched against Syria after an Israeli border patrolman was killed and two more wounded in a border clash Sunday.

A spokesman in Damascus said two Arabs were killed and four wounded in the fighting at Yawfik.

News of the aerial dog fight came from an army spokesman in Tel Aviv. He charged that four Russian-built MIG jet fighters from Syria tried to penetrate Israeli air space and were chased off by two Israeli jets.

The battle at Yawfik was the most serious in a festering series of Israeli-Syrian border clashes that began last Wednesday. Israeli Chief of Staff Haim Laskov rushed to a cabinet meeting in Jerusalem to give a detailed report on the crisis.

Reports conflicted. The United Arab Republic spokesman in Damascus reported the Israeli attack on Yawfik lasted "almost all the night hours," and included tanks, field artillery and mortars. "Our artillery retaliated," the U.A.R. spokesman said. "The emergency lasted four hours, after which the Israelis occupied the unarmored village of Al Yawfik after their tanks and infantry had entered it."

Boy Hit By Truck Escapes Injury

A two and a half year-old Negro boy escaped injury when a truck threw him from his tricycle Saturday.

Little Ernest Hawkins rode his tricycle up to a truck stopped at Roosevelt Ave. and Southwest Rd. Willie Marvin Pope who was driving the truck started to back up and hit the tricycle beside him.

Ernest, who lives at 1331 Roosevelt Ave., was taken to Semtrole Memorial Hospital for a checkup.

A pile-up on French Ave. the same day brought $800 damage to the two cars involved. Emerson Franklin Henry drove into the back of William Thomas Toll's car when Toll slowed down to turn from French Ave. into 14th St., police said. Henry who lives in the Park Ave. Trailer Park was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control. Toll is from Myrtle Beach, S. C.

A single car had the same amount of damage Saturday evening when Emerson R. Dixon ran into the back of another car in the same spot. Joe Carr Hankins of Roosevelt Park, Sanford, said he stopped at French Ave. to turn into 13th St. Dixon's car received $800 damage when he ran into the back of Carr's auto, police said. Dixon, 308 Elm Ave. was charged with reckless driving.

In other accidents Saturday, Clarence Davis, an Octagon Negro, and David Pettrey, a Negro of 1508 W. 13th St., were charged with failure to yield the right of way. A car ran into a porch at 207 Parliament Ave. and Charles Beckly MacMillan of the Welaka Apartments was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control and driving while intoxicated.

Mrs. Bruce explained that those who haven't returned their cards must do so at once so their names will be retained on the voting list.

Chamber Honors Biting As Servant Of Community

The Chamber of Commerce today paid tribute to W. V. Biting, a leading citizen of the community who died Jan. 11.

In a resolution adopted by the chamber's board of directors and released today, Biting was honored for serving Sanford as a city commissioner, member of the housing authority, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and an active director of the Chamber of Commerce.

The resolution recognized Biting's "faithful public service to Sanford, Seminole County and the state of Florida."

The resolution states that Biting "throughout his years as a resident of Sanford participated in, organized and encouraged all types of civic activities, and gave unstintingly of his time and effort in the betterment of our community and state."

With those words, Kenneth A. Johnson, 36, explained why he stashed six persons, one critically, while walking through an afternoon crowd in downtown Minneapolis Saturday.

Johnson, a former mental patient with a past history of senseless violence, also tried to kill the throat of a policeman who tried to arrest him. He finally was trapped by three officers in a restaurant.

Like To Ask Space Money Increase

DENVER (UPI) — President Eisenhower announced today he would ask Congress to increase spending for the nation's space program by 115 million dollars, principally for the Saturn project.

The President, here on a brief stopover on route back to Washington from a West Coast holiday said the 1961 appropriation request for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration should be increased to $15 million dollars.

Press Secretary James Hagerly said the additional funds were requested "to accelerate progress on Saturn and other elements of the nation's super booster program."

The Saturn, a cluster of Jupiter rockets having an estimated overall thrust of 1 1/2 million pounds, is considered the nation's best bet to carry man on his first trip into outer space.

Space Race May Bring Missile Czar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new move for creation of a missile "czar" appeared likely today in the wake of statements by two military leaders on the short and long term dangers to the United States.

The short-term danger, according to Air Force Gen. Thomas S. Power, is that in two years Russia may have enough intercontinental missiles to launch a massive nuclear attack on this country.

Retiring Army Maj. Gen. John Medaris said that at the present rates of progress Russia may completely dominate space within 10 years.

Medaris, whose retirement from the Army became effective Sunday, said in a farewell interview with Missiles and Rockets magazine that all missile and space activities should be placed under a joint military command.

Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La.) of the House Space Committee disagreed with Medaris, but said: "We've got to have more one-man control. I don't want dictatorship - but something's got to be done about this bickering and back-biting that is still going on."

Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.), chairman of the congressional subcommittee on radiation, said figures developed by his group last year take on a new significance in the present situation.

Holifield said that if Russia launched 250 missiles with H-bomb warheads at 224 American targets, 50 million Americans would be killed and 30 million injured. The 250 missiles are approximately the number that Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command, believes the Russians could have sometime in 1962.

By coincidence, 200 is also the number of intercontinental ballistic missiles that America has "programmed" so far. But there is no chance that they could all be replaced before late 1963 or 1964.

Rules Committee To Hold Hearings On Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Rules Committee decided today to hold hearings, starting later this week, on the long-stalled civil rights bill.

No limit was set on the length of the hearings. But Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) told newsmen the committee "was of a mind to limit them to a reasonable extent."

The action was taken in closed session shortly after an open door scrap over a motion to clear the controversial bill for House action immediately.

The motion, made by Rep. Ray J. Madden (D-Ind.), was withdrawn after it became apparent it would be beaten.

Madden attended that hearing by the conservative-dominated committee could delay action on the bill, which provides new protection for school integration workers and for Negro voting rights.

But Smith, a bitter foe of the measure, promised that he would not "dilly, dally or delay" hearings.

Smith told newsmen he could "see no reason why" the committee would not clear the bill and send it to the House floor this month.

"It would take seven votes, in the committee and it looks like they have them," he conceded.

Smith charged that backers of the bill actually were not interested in passing it but were seeking to make it a political issue in a election year.

Specifically he aimed his blast at Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), chairman of the Judiciary Committee which drafted the bill. He said Celler himself had "dilly, dally and delayed" for seven months last year. He said Celler until today never had pushed for Rules action to route the bill to the floor.

Oregon Newspaper Trucks Blown Up

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — Eight trucks serving the Oregon Journal-Oregonian were blown up at two locations in the Portland area Sunday night.

The newspapers have had labor difficulty since last November.

Three sticks of dynamite, attached to a five-foot fuse that had frayed, were found on the floor of another truck. It was disarmed by a police officer.

Four of the trucks exploded in the downtown area of Oregon City 11 miles away, all within minutes of each other shortly before 11:30 p. m.

Two other trucks parked nearby in Oregon City were damaged by the explosions. The van-type Oregon City vehicles were owned by the Wynmore Transport Co., under contract in haul newspaper from the Crown-Zellerbach Co. to the Oregon Journal-Oregonian.

Mental Patient Stabs 6 On Street

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — "They were Russians, and we're at war with the Russians. I wanted to see if they could stand the pain."

With those words, Kenneth A. Johnson, 36, explained why he stashed six persons, one critically, while walking through an afternoon crowd in downtown Minneapolis Saturday.

Johnson, a former mental patient with a past history of senseless violence, also tried to kill the throat of a policeman who tried to arrest him. He finally was trapped by three officers in a restaurant.

4 Negro Youths Charged In Parking Meter Thefts

Sanford police charged four Negro boys with breaking into and stealing 11 parking meters Sunday.

All the boys are between nine and 12-years-old. Sunday's outbreak was the climax of a rash of meter vandalism that began Jan. 27. One of the boys, an 11-year-old, admitted breaking or taking nine other meters between Jan. 17-25 police said.

Money boxes were missing from all 11 meters in Sunday's episode. Most of the meter breakage and theft was on Second St. near Sanford Ave. and on Sanford Ave. between Second St. and Commercial Ave.

In some cases the meters were torn off and in others just the handles were broken off, police said. The names of the boys involved were placed on the juvenile court docket. Police told the boys' parents that they would have to appear in juvenile court with their children.

Two Sanford churches also had their troubles with the younger set Saturday. Three boys broke into Holy Cross Episcopal Church and broke a pipe off the organ and stole some crosses, police reported. The same boys were taken home after they were found sleeping in the First Presbyterian Church. The boys did not do any damage there but they tried to light the heater and left matches around, police said.

2 Boys Hurt In Gun Squabble

Two small boys were shot in a struggle over a rifle here Saturday.

Sanford police reported that Loney Bell Fleming and her mother, Lornee Reed were struggling over a rifle when the gun went off. Eight year old Jimmie Lee Fleming and five year old Pat Fleming both received arm wounds. Jimmie had a compound fracture and the other bullet went through Pat's arm, lodging in his side.

The accident happened at the boys' 1408 W. First St. home. Both their mother, Mrs. Fleming, and Mrs. Reed were charged with disorderly conduct and discharging firearms.

Russians Report Super Missile In Final Testing

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union announced today it fired a second super-missile into the Pacific Sunday to complete its present series of rocket tests in that area ahead of schedule.

The Test announcement did not give the precise point of the rocket's impact, but said the next-to-last stage with a dummy nose cone had "reached the intended region in the Pacific Ocean."

It added that this shot successfully ended the announced test series designed to develop a more powerful multi-stage rocket for launching earth satellites and to prepare for flights to other planets.

"In this connection," the announcement said, "Tass is authorized to state that the area defined by the coordinates given in the Tass statement of Jan. 31, 1960, is being freed from satellites and flights as from Feb. 15 that is, before the end of the year."

The Soviet Union announced on Jan. 9 that it was setting aside a 4,500-square-mile test area in the Central Pacific about 1,100 miles southwest of Hawaii for a month from Jan. 15 to Feb. 15. It warned shipping and planes out of the area during this time.

The Tass announcement that the tests have ended ahead of schedule and air travel may safely be resumed in the Pacific region two weeks ahead of time.

Tass made its disclosure of this second Soviet super-missile test shot in the Pacific in a special broadcast.

The announcement was extremely brief in comparison with the statement issued following the first shot Jan. 30. This time, it gave no distance the rocket traveled, nor did it say how close it came to its target point. Tass said the first rocket came within 1.5 miles of its target after a flight of 7,000 miles.

Gates Defends Missile Strength

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Thomas G. Gates today defended the idea that Russia has outdistanced or even overtaken the United States in military power.

Gates, testifying for the first time as defense secretary before the Senate military appropriations subcommittee, said emphatically there was no "deterrent gap" in American military strength.

Gates faced questioning on reports that intelligence experts have modified estimates on which he based his appraisal of U. S. military needs.

He conceded that the Russian "may enjoy - at times - a moderate numerical superiority" of intercontinental ballistic and sea-launched missiles during the next three years.

But he said the "versatility and strength" of U. S. overall retaliatory capability was much greater.

As support of this claim, he cited powerful long-range bomber fleets, a "clearly superior" Navy and better air defenses.

Ike Winds Up Golfing Holiday

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — President Eisenhower wound up his golfing holiday and headed for Washington today reportedly highly pleased by a hopeful forecast of labor-management peace in the steel industry. The forecast came from David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union who had breakfast last Saturday with Eisenhower at the La Quinta home of George E. Allen. Eisenhower scheduled an early jet take off from Palm Springs today, bound first for Denver where he was to pick up Mrs. Eisenhower. After a brief visit at the home of Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, the Eisenhowers were to continue on to Washington where they were due at Andrews Air Force Base between 5 and 6 p. m.

43 Miners Trapped By Explosion In One Of Japan's Largest Mines

SAPPORO, Japan (UPI) — A gas explosion early today trapped 43 coal miners half a mile underground in a blazing mine at Yubari, 35 miles west of Sapporo. Dispatches from the scene said a raging fire in the pit was hampering rescue work. It was not immediately certain whether the flames affected the area where the miners were trapped.

Press reports said there was "no hope" for the rescue of the miners, but this report was not confirmed immediately by officials of the Hokkaido Tanko Kisen Co., operator of the mine. The pit ripped by the blast is the biggest coal mine on Japan's northern island of Hokkaido, and one of the largest in the country. Reports from the scene said 35 miners originally were trapped by the explosion, but 22 had managed to work their way to safety. HTK officials said seven rescue teams were at work in the mine, trying to break through to miners who were still underground. Officials said it was "lucky" the accident occurred at a time when a reduced Sunday-night shift was at work. "If such an accident occurred on a weekday, more than 1,000 miners probably would have been in the mine and the tragedy would have been much worse," an official said.

It was the second potentially-tragic mine accident reported in less than two weeks. On Jan. 21, 440 miners were trapped underground by a cave-in in a coal mine at Coalbrook, South Africa. Their fate is not yet certain. In 1958, 180 miners were killed in a similar accident at Yubari, Japan.

Honey Bee Proves That Many Insects Can Be Beneficial

BY CECIL TUCKER, II
County Agricultural Agent

Some people have the mistaken idea that "the only good bug is a dead bug". To say that all insects are bad and should be destroyed is just as foolish as it would be to say that everyone in Florida should be put in prison because we have a few lawbreakers among us. Actually the proportions of bad insects and bad people are not very different. Only a small percentage of the thousands of kinds of insects are in any way injurious, and many of them are definitely beneficial.

Here are some interesting facts about useful insects. For example, consider the honeybee. Among the honey producing states Florida ranks third. In 1958, apiculturists in the State produced over 16 million pounds of honey with a value of $3,000,000. In 1957 Seminole County beekeepers produced over 187,000 pounds of honey valued over $2,000,000. Perhaps the service rendered by honey bees as pollinators of flowers is even more valuable. Bees visit blossoms to collect nectar or pollen. As they do, they also carry some of the pollen from one flower to another. They thus bring about pollination, which is necessary for the production of many seeds and fruits. The value of pollination by honey bees is estimated as least 20 times the value of their honey produced. If this is so then in 1957, the value of pollination by bees was worth over $60,000,000 to Seminole County growers. There are other less obvious—but none the less real—ways in which insects are beneficial. One is the part they play in helping to hold down harmful and destructive pests on crops and elsewhere. The damage insects cause on crops would be much more severe and wide-spread if these destructive pests were not checked by various natural factors, including beneficial insects.

To see how some of the friendly insects really help, let us think for a moment about one of the more common crop pests. Nearly everyone is familiar with aphids, or plant lice. When conditions are favorable aphids multiply rapidly. In just a few weeks an aphid may have thousands of descendants. But aphids are attacked by many kinds of insects, which we refer to as predators and parasites. The chief aphid predators are the lady-beetles and syrphid flies. A number of wasps also parasitize aphids. These insect enemies of aphids help keep these insects in check. Insects are useful in still other ways. For example, insects constitute practically the whole food supply of many of our song birds. If all insects were destroyed, many of our feathered friends would disappear. Even game birds like quail, dove and wild turkey include some insects in their diets. Not only the hunter but the farmer as well are affected for Florida's lakes and streams would not be so plentifully stocked with fish. If the numerous insects which serve as fish food were to disappear.

Bette Davis Show Is Termed Success

By LARRY VERNEHL

Bette Davis brought a breath of Broadway to Sanford Saturday night and a capacity crowd at the Civic Center seemed to enjoy every minute. Barry Sullivan and folk singer Clark Allen received a standing ovation after their dramatic presentation of "The World of Carl Sandburg." Mixing humor and pathos, the three stars brought Sandburg off the printed page and gave him a new dimension. His most popular verse from "The People, Yes," is selections from "Abraham Lincoln," revealed why literary critics call Sandburg one of the greatest of living American writers. The audience applauded each selection, even the brief poem, "Fog," as they were excited by the brilliant talents of Miss Davis and Mr. Sullivan. As a diversion, an integral part of the evening's entertainment, the young folk singer Clark Allen, presented selections from Sandburg's "American Grab-bag."

A. C. "DOC" McREYNOLDS

McReynolds Was On Same Corner Until Street Moved In On Him

A. C. "Doc" McReynolds opened his drug store on Sanford Ave. and 25th St. 36 years ago and it took a road widening project to get him off that same spot this year. Doc is open for business today in a brand new spot on Park Dr. The widening of Sanford Ave. will take all the parking space and maybe part of the building at the old McReynolds Drug Company site. This is his reason for moving. The 65-year-old graduate of Atlanta College of Pharmacy said, "We enjoyed a good business there and considered it one of the best locations in Sanford. But it is untenable because of the widening of the streets." "Doc" and his brother, Ralph, brought curb service to Sanford at their old site. Ralph now operates a sundry store in Longwood. Gene Roumillat, Bruce Anderson and the late J. O. Laney were the only pharmacy operators here when the McReynolds opened in 1924, Doc recalled. Doc has had some startling experiences at his pharmacy. He remembers the night burglars crawled through a grille into the store. The intruders found everything to their convenience. Plugging their electric drill into a wall socket right next to the safe, they bored through the metal door and "helped themselves."

McReynolds often had to open the store at night to fill emergency prescriptions. He once got out of bed at midnight to get drugs for a boy critically ill with diphtheria. Mrs. W. W. Lies of Silver Lake said that Doc's prescription saved the life of her small grandson, Robert Schulz. The boy was about four years old at the time, in the late 1940's. The drugs kept Robert alive until he was operated on the next morning in Orlando, Mrs. Lies said. Doc figures that on an average day through his 33 1/2-year old business he served about 700 customers. This means McReynolds Drug Co. has served about 5,000,000 customers. "There wouldn't be standing room in the old store" if all the people who worked for him gathered there, Doc said. He estimates 250 persons have been his employees. Next to Doc, druggist A. C. Rector has been there the longest—10 years. Baseball players and political figures have visited his store. These include Sen. George Smathers, former Giant southpaw Carl Hubbell and old-time big leaguer Zin Beck. Doc said he expects to "have much more parking area and floor space with which to serve the public" at his new site in the Baggerly building. The McReynolds tradition of curb service soda, but no meals will continue. He plans a grand opening in about two weeks. The New York Coliseum, with more than 400,000 square feet of exhibit space, is the nation's largest exhibition hall.

Firemen Spend Busy Weekend Fighting Blazes

Fires have kept the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department busy this past week. One house was saved from flames last week when fire started in the woods around the J. E. Robinson home on the Longwood road and spread into the yard. Mrs. A. W. Teslo turned in the alarm. Mrs. W. Frank Griffin, a neighbor living on the same road, saw the fire and rushed over. She used a water hose to help keep the fire away from the car and the main house until the firemen arrived. There has been an average of at least one fire a day for the past two weeks. There were two brush fires to fight in one afternoon, Friday. One call came at 4 p. m. when an acre of land burned near the Hendricks Circle H Ranch on the Longwood road. The other call was about 6:30 p. m. from the other side of town at 25th St. and Lake Mary Road where approximately two acres burned. The Florida Forest Ranger Service from the Longwood Tower assisted the Lake Mary firemen in fighting these fires. All residents are warned, again, to be careful when they burn brush and trash.

Finch Slated To Take Stand In Own Defense

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The surgeon with the sincere eyes tells this week his story of how Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch was shot to death.

Dr. R. Bernard Finch is expected to take the witness stand sometime late Tuesday or Wednesday morning to give for the first time his version of his wife's slaying.

"We have heard a lot of stories in this trial," Finch told his correspondents. "But when you get down to it, I am the only eye witness to what happened. And I am not guilty of what they say I am."

What they say is that Finch, 42, and Carole Tregoff, 23, after a two year illicit love affair, killed the doctor's brunette wife because she had tied up all his money—estimated at $750,000.

The trial resumes today after a postponement since last Tuesday due to the illness of a witness.

Had Carole remained silent she might not be on trial as a co-defendant.

Not a single witness so far has even placed Finch's red-haired mistress at the scene of the July 18 slaying outside the cliff-top home in West Covina, Calif.

Prosecutor Fred N. Whichello expects to wind up the state's case at noon Tuesday. Whichello has said he will seek the gas chamber both for Finch and Miss Tregoff.

Probe Set On Sexy Movie Ads

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House investigators trained their sights today on movie ads regarded as too sexy.

A House Post Office subcommittee headed by Rep. Kathryn E. Granahan (D-Pa.) will launch hearings Tuesday on the movie industry's "self-policing" program—and whether it needs to be beefed up.

Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, will tell what the industry itself is doing to keep things clean in the movies, as well as in advertising of films.

Mrs. Granahan said she and other subcommittee members have received many complaints about movie ads distributed through the mail or published in newspapers, as well as about some movies.

"These complaints evidence widespread public concern with the serious and growing problem," the subcommittee said.

Young Teetotalers Run Into Trouble

GREENVILLE, Miss. (UPI)—Teen-agers trying to get their outlawed teetotalers' club reopened by trapping cafe owners into selling beer to minors lost their gamble and drew a judicial reprimand.

City Judge Earl Solomon dismissed charges against three cafes which Jimmy Giles, 18, and Kenneth Saunders, 16, said sold beer illegally to Saunders. The age limit here is 18.

The two boys—members of the closed club "The Hop"—ordered beer in three Greenville places and, then phoned police.

Solomon listened to Mrs. Tony Koury, operator of a store, testify the two boys had lied about Saunders' age. Then Solomon dismissed the charges against all three establishments.

He told the boys, "I don't know that you're not coming close to violating the law yourselves. You're on dangerous ground when you entice other people to violate the law."

Solomon told the boys there was not the right way to get reopened "The Hop"—which members said did not permit fighting or drinking.

Sheriff Al Hollingsworth closed the clubhouse between Greenville and Leland two weeks ago after a brawl occurred outside it. Members said non-members caused the fight.

Leland Alderman refused to let the group—mostly composed of non-school teen-agers—open a club in the city limits. Club members protested the city fathers were driving them to attend places where beer was sold to minors.

Authorities replied no such places existed in any county, and the youths set out to prove the city fathers wrong.

Brevard Senator Appears Likely

At least two members of the Seminole County delegation say that Bernard Parrish of Titusville likely will be the next state senator from the 57th district, representing Seminole and Brevard counties.

The incumbent, Sen. Douglas Stenstrom, who announced some time ago he would not run again, and Rep. Gordon Frederick said they think Brevard County residents like Parrish well enough to present "unified" support of him at the polls.

Frederick went so far as to say he doubted that another candidate would oppose Parrish, of the well known citrus producing family of the Indian River section.

It appears that Parrish, experienced as a county commissioner in his county and rated "a good man," will not get any opposition from Seminole County. Frederick pointed out that the big new Brevard population probably could elect its own candidate anyway.

Stenstrom has been praised by individuals, groups and newspapers in Brevard County for his service to both counties without prejudice while in the Senate. If Mr. Parrish, or some other Brevard County citizen, becomes our new senator, we hope to say the same about him.

However, it's a good while yet before the candidate roster will be closed out.

Look For A Ring Plumb Full Of Hats

The senator race may turn out to be a quiet one, but indications are that otherwise the local political ring will be running over with hats.

One man has announced he will qualify as a candidate for a county commissioner post and a new political action group has been formed to put up candidates in other races.

Now we come to the important factor—will enough of the right people get sufficiently interested to insist that the advice of Judge Vole Williams is followed and campaign on the question of WHAT is right for the county and not WHO is right.

NEW ALTITUDE RECORD?

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON—One of the nicest ways to ease your money worries, if turns out, is not to take a tranquilizer, but to invest in a tranquilizer company.

And it may help to select a drug firm that caters to the poor folks in state and federal hospitals.

Walter A. Munns, president of Smith Kline & French Laboratories of Philadelphia, never uses the calming capsules himself, he said. But, now in the caucus room hot seat for four hours, he looked like a likely candidate. The filter tip butts lying crumpled in his ashtray numbered 38.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D., Tenn.), his stiff crimson neck crowded into a tight starched white collar, kept after the witness, jabbing ques-

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Ignorance and fear have caused far more deaths and human misfortune than all the wars in the period of recorded history. If you are enveloped by fear, then write to me in care of this newspaper. I'll answer any question you ask, regardless of its frankness, if science has the information available. Your letters are forwarded, unsigned, so you have complete privacy.

CASE D—45; Rachel J., aged 27, is a charming and talented girl.

"I am in love with a wonderful man. Even my friends and family approve of the match most heartily," she said.

"But I cannot marry him, for I dare not tell him the truth! Oh, Dr. Crane, I lie awake nights in torment because I love him with all my heart, but I know I dare not accept his offer of marriage."

"I've thought of marrying, praying for success, and just taking my chance, but I couldn't work my happiness."

"Then I have debated telling him the truth in hopes he might forgive me, but I am afraid I might lose his respect entirely."

"Dr. Crane, please give me help! My life is ruined and I don't know what to do."

USE HORSE SENSE

It is high time we eliminated the salacious prudery of the past generations and applied a little horse sense to modern educational problems.

If you are in Rachel's situation, by all means send for my booklet on "Sex Problems of Young People."

If you are planning to get married soon, send for "Sex Problems in Marriage" booklet, always enclosing 20 cents and self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want any other questions answered, write to me in care of this newspaper. I'll tell you anything you want to know, providing science has the answers to your problems. Stop being a slave to ignorance!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long de stamped, addressed envelope and the to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

SELF INCARCINATION

What do you readers think is wrong with Rachel? She is beautiful, she has a good education and is an efficient secretary in a bank. Her boy friend has asked her to marry him. It would be an excellent match. But she has turned her offer aside. Why?

What is this terrible "truth" to which she refers? Well, one's early years would be an unfortunate sexual experience in the past, perhaps involving another man.

But the latter guess is incorrect. Rachel has been guilty of no such moral lapse. But she has engaged in state crime practices at various times, so she feels it is impossible to marry!

Such ignorance as hers is a criminal indictment against modern society.

If an intelligent woman of 27 has gone through your school and a college, and she has the benefit of Sunday School and church contacts since infancy, but still has not been correctly informed on sexual matters, then be glad you have access to this newspaper.

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The powers of the executive branch and the legislative branch of government will continue to be divided between the two major parties after 1960 as they have been since 1954. This is the belief of a surprising number of both Republicans and Democrats as they look forward to the campaign next fall.

With the party divided over a candidate many Democrats take a defeatist attitude about electing a president, while Republicans are increasingly confident that they can put over Vice President Nixon. But the Congress with its overwhelming Democratic majorities seems almost certain to remain Democratic. There is some reason to believe that the distrustful voter prefers it that way, making sure that neither major party can exercise full power.

Because of the geographical distribution of the vacancies it has been all but taken for granted that the Republicans cannot win control of the Senate even though they elect a president. The division today is 65 Democrats to 35 Republicans.

What has not been realized is the surfeit of the nature of chemical bonds. I recited the periodic table of elements. And when I thought I had run out of material, I ran over the Mohs scale of hardening minerals and counted in some languages—know—French, German and Italian.

WASHINGTON — Swiss scientist Jacques Piccard, stating that he and U. S. Navy Lt. Don Walsh saw no strange underwater monsters but only shrimp and baby fish when they plunged more than seven miles deep in a bathyscaphe Jan. 22.

"The terrors of the inky, crushing, frigid abyss would seem largely a figment of the imagination."

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — A veteran police sergeant, who asked not to be named, discussing the reported abduction of an unidentified Negro and his blonde companion from their auto Saturday night.

"We're afraid we might have a lynching, but we don't know. It could be a farce."

WASHINGTON — Frank A. Taylor, director of the Smithsonian Institution's Museum of History and Technology, commenting on the description of the Smithsonian as "the nation's attic":

"Please don't call us that."

Miss Jackson, L.J. Duda Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

BY MARIAN JONES

Miss Melanie Gale Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas H. Jackson of Oviedo, and Luther Joseph Duda, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Duda Sr., Slavia, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, Jan. 31, at 4:30 p. m. at St. Luke's Lutheran Church.

The impressive double-ring, candlelight ceremony was performed by the Reverend Stephen M. Tuby, pastor of the church, before a host of relatives and friends.

Forming the background for the wedding were pedestal baskets filled with white gladioli, carnations, mums and pom-poms, flanked by palms and branched candelabra bearing burning white tapers. Family pews were tied with white satin bows and white carnations. White aisle cloths were also used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her formal gown of white satin peau, reembroidered lace featuring a Queen Ann neckline, long tapered sleeves and a fitted bodice displaying a bow trim at the waistline. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was attached to a half-cap and was sprinkled with brilliant. She carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded by white roses and satin streamers interspersed with tiny white rosebuds on a Bible.

Her sister, Miss Patricia Ann Jackson, served as maid of honor. She wore a full length gown of turquoise peau satin, long tapered sleeves and a fitted bodice displaying a bow trim at the waistline. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was attached to a half-cap and was sprinkled with brilliant. She carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded by white roses and satin streamers interspersed with tiny white rosebuds on a Bible.

Little Beth Duda, a niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a full length gown of turquoise peau satin that featured a V-neckline, a fitted bodice and a very full skirt with a cummerbund and a large bow in the back of a daisy shade. Her headpiece was of white carnations and she carried a basket filled with mum petals.

The groom's three brothers served as his attendants. Edward Duda, of Belle Glade, was his best man. Walter Duda and John L. Duda Jr. of Oviedo, were usher groomsmen.

The mother of the bride chose for her daughter's wedding a street length dress of aqua chiffon with rose champagne accessories, and a corsage of roses. The mother of the groom wore a street length dress of slate blue with matching accessories. She also wore a corsage of roses.

Immediately following the service a reception was held in the auditorium of the St. Luke's Christian Day School. The bride's table was centered with a lovely arrangement of white carnations, gladioli and pom-poms. Three smaller arrangements of this design were used on the serving tables.

Cutting the wedding cake was Mrs. James D. Colbert, an aunt of the groom. Two other aunts, Mrs. Paul Mikler and Mrs. Joe L. Mikler, presided over the punch bowls, assisted by Miss Katherine Mikler and Miss Shirley Mikler, cousins.

Mrs. George Jakubcin Jr., another cousin, and Mrs. James O'Neal, of Belle Glade, poured coffee.

Mrs. Ferdinand Duda, the groom's aunt, was general hostess of the reception. Others assisting were Mrs. Andrew Mikler, Miss Sylvia Mikler, Miss Patzy Mikler, Miss Elizabeth Mikler, Miss Dorothy Duda, Miss Marion Fabry, and Mrs. W. V. Swenson. For travelling the bride chose a navy blue suit with white accessories. Following a week's honeymoon at an undisclosed destination they will be at home in Gainesville, Fla. where the groom is attending college. Many out-of-town guests from Florida and Georgia were present for the wedding. Prior to her marriage Mrs. Duda was extensively entertained. Among those entertaining were Mrs. John L. Duda, Jr., Mrs. Walter Duda, Mrs. George Jakubcin, Jr., Mrs. Julia Cizmanec, Mrs.

E. L. Bellhorn, Mrs. Jerry Arndt, Mrs. Dusan Lukas, Mrs. J. B. Jones, Jr., Mrs. W. V. Swenson, Mrs. George A. Kelcey, Mrs. Elsie Fleming, Mrs. Roy Weisenbarger, Mrs. James Parlin, Mrs. G. W. Alford, Mrs. Ralph Neely, Mrs. Donna Urey and Mrs. L. L. Faulk.

About 100 friends and fellow servicemen and their wives called during the evening to extend good wishes and goodbyes to the honoree. Games, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed by the guests.

Assisting Mrs. Clanton, and daughter, Kathy Carles, with the entertaining were Mrs. A. A. Roberts and daughter, Ginger, of Apopka; Mrs. Elaine Sessions and Mrs. Judy Cooksey.

Seminoles Gain 10th Cage Win

By JERRY COVINGTON

The high flying Sanford Seminoles continued their great basketball play Friday night by out battling the tough Apopka Blue Darters by a score of 51-51.

It was the 10th victory in 11 starts for Sanford and the second time this season they have defeated the Darters by a 10-point margin.

The Seminoles, who were hampered by the flu bug, found themselves trailing by nine points in the second quarter, but before the first half had ended they had closed the gap by two points. It was a great second half that accounted for the impressive victory. Big Cowboy Oravets went to work on the boards and literally cleared everything in front of him.

In the scoring department, sharp shooting Jim Gracey continued to pour through the points to the tune of 22 while scrappy Ray Lundquist was right on his heels with 19. Jim's one hander was exceptionally sharp as he constantly hit from 20 feet out.

Little Ray, who played the entire game with a bad case of flu, never let up and put on quite a show. In the final minutes of the game the Darters came out in a full court press and he dribbled through the entire team and went in for a layup and two points.

Little George Perides also played a great ball game and his defensive play was very sharp. The little youngster also kept the Apopka defense loose with his accurate set shot from the outside.

Tomorrow night the Seminoles travel to Winter Park for the big one. The Wildcats slapped them with their only loss this season, but since then the Seminoles are much improved and should be able to give Mike Mosher and Co. a run for their money—if the old flu bug has been chased from the starting lineup.

Coach Paul Mikler ordered a full court press and his team managed to have the ball well enough to go out front after Mike Duda sank a foul throw to tie it at 40-40.

Lyman's over-anxious efforts to catch the ball the rest of the way resulted in numerous fouls which helped the Lions who sank nine free shots in a row to pad their margin.

Ray Wainwright led the Oviedo scoring with 24 points. Mike Duda continued his accurate shooting with a total 23 and Johnny Tesinsky reached up 11.

Eddie Ballard scored 20 for Lyman and Martin Barwick netted 18 for the losers.

Oviedo's JV team had less trouble in defeating the Lyman Juniors leading all the way for a 24-10 victory. Mickey Tesinsky had 11 points and Jimmy DeShazo 20, and a newcomer to the squad, Walter Holland, scored seven.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON

Seabreeze may boast of their Duncan Dowling and Cocos may boast of Danny Tharp, but Sanford also has a youngster who rates as high, to me, as any player in the state.

Last year, as a junior, six-foot forward Jim Gracey established himself as new record holder in every department at SHS. This season he has maintained a 20 point per game average and should easily shatter all of his own marks.

Although, at the beginning of the season, his rebounding and defensive work were very shabby, he has made a personal effort to improve in these phases of the game and has been very successful. His one-hander is the best I have ever witnessed by a high school ball player and, if he continues to improve in his rebounding and defense, he should be a bright prospect for some college.

Jim has not only established himself as a great basketball player, but he was also a standout on the football and track teams. As a freshman, he went out for football and played a little on the Junior Varsity but, because of his size, he decided to drop the game and concentrate on basketball. However, while running on the track team during his junior year, he picked up a good bit of weight and, because of his speed, was persuaded to come out for football in his senior year.

Well, most of you fans know the rest of the story. He amazed everyone with his pass catching ability and his blinding speed.

On the basketball court, Jim moves very deliberately but, when the occasion calls for it, he pours on that extra burst of speed and plays a big part in the successful fast break.

In present day history of SHS, no one recalls a young athlete with a greater pair of hands and such an abundance of natural ability. After graduation this June, I feel that we will hear a great deal more from Jim because, with his talents, he should go a long way.

Congratulations, Jim, on a great year. May you continue to pour through the points.

Boston University Star Tops World High Jump Mark At Games

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Thomas, the space age's self-propelled human rocket, appears to have an all-expenses-paid trip to Rome this summer elinched if he can avoid such man-made lifts as elevators.

Thomas produced the top high jump in track history Saturday night — indoors or out — when he cleared seven feet, 1 1/2 inches at the Millrose Games.

The feat, topping by a quarter of an inch, the mark he set in the same arena last Feb. 21, led the sellout crowd of 16,000 to give the 18-year-old Boston University youth one of the loudest ovations ever heard in Madison Square Garden.

It was a cheer that probably will be repeated in Rome when the world's top amateur athletes gather in August for the Olympic Games. About all John has to do to win a berth on the United States team is avoid injuries such as the elevator accident of last March 27 that almost wrecked the left foot that may become, the most famous in high jumping annals.

John's leaps of 7 feet, 1 1/2 inches and 7 feet, 1 1/2 inches cannot be submitted for recognition as official world marks because they were produced indoors. The International Amateur Athletic Federation recognizes only records set outdoors.

"I don't know if I'll ever clear 7-3. I'm not even sure if I can do 7-2 1/2," Thomas said after his Saturday night display. "I'm just going to keep on jumping and see what happens."

"I can only do one of two things—make it or miss it."

The "Jaspers" stole the Millrose show. Don (Tarsan) Bragg, who won the pole vault by clearing 15 feet, 4 inches, barely missed becoming the first man to clear 16 feet when he brushed off the bar.

Builders Boost Kegler Loop Lead

B. Edwards Builders Supplies added three more wins to give them a seven game lead in the Thursday Night Mixed League.

This puts their total wins at 38 1/2, with Steinmeyer Roofing in second slot with 31 1/2 wins. Florida State Bank has third spot this week with 29 wins, Sunland Estates and the Furniture Center are tied in fourth with 28 wins, while South Pinecrest has 25 wins.

The entire supply team was in there pitching, as the suppliers took all three games from South Pinecrest, winning the first game by just one point and the last one by over a hundred. All of B. Edwards bowlers were within a few pins of each other. Ponce Elmore was high bowler for Pinecrest, making the 5-8-10 split along the way.

Sunland Estates upset the fast rising Furniture Center last week, as the subdivision team took two by a wide margin. Ken Stone picked up the 4-3 split, Bob Hudson made the 2-7 twice and George Conkin rolled high series for Sunland. Furniture Center's Jess Carruthers had high series for the league with a 505 scratch.

Florida State Bank won two games from Steinmeyer, after the roofers took the first game by 108 pins. Spills were plentiful on this pair of lanes as Miles Hudson made the 2-7 twice, Don Stetler topped the 4-7-10, Grace Mallo topped the 4-7-10 on the 2-4, and Lil Ogden felled the 7-4 while turning in high series for the roofers. Bob Hodford was high bowler for the bankers.

Blistering Pace Set In Daytona's Stock Car Race

DAYTONA BEACH, (UPI)—Colton Owens of Spartanburg, S. C. and Jack Smith of Atlanta, who finished one-two Sunday in the fastest stock car race ever run here, have earned the first two positions for the Valentine's Day 500-mile race at Daytona International Raceway.

Owens drove his 1960 Pontiac at a blistering average of 149.962 m.p.h. to win a tight 35-mile qualifying race for late-model stock cars Sunday. Smith, in a 1960 Pontiac, lost out on the 10th and final lap and came in second. But the veteran Georgian came back to win the No. 2 position for the Feb. 14 race by leading the field in the second qualifying event.

In other events of the most complete automobile racing program in the history of the elaborate Daytona raceway Sunday, Marvin Panch and Ed Rahal won two races each and Barbara Bundy of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., won the La Mans compact car race for women.

Panch, from Daytona Beach, drove a 1960 Valiant to victory in the two featured events of the day—10 and 20 lap races—for the new compact cars that have invaded the American road race scene.

Rahal, of Savannah, Ga., driving a silver D-Jaguar, won the two sports car events, a 12-lapper and a La Mans tryout. His decisive win came before a national television audience.

Four cars wrecked on the east bank during the 20-lap race won by Panch, but there were no injuries.

Miss Bundy averaged 49.432 m.p.h. in a Valiant to edge Vickie Wood of Detroit, in a Valiant, and Denise McCluggage of New York City, in a Volvo.

Souchak Takes San Diego Open

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—The slimmer he becomes, the faster his bankroll gets.

That's how Mike Souchak, the heavy-weight golfer from Grosvenor, N. Y., by way of Duke University where he played quite a bit of football.

Mike came from one-stroke behind Sunday to win top prize of $2,800 in the 72-hole San Diego Open, beating out young Johnny Pott, the former Louisiana State collegian who led at the end of three rounds.

Souchak's 72-hole total of 289 was a record for the San Diego Open as was Pott's 270. The old record was 271.

Pott collected $1,900 for his second place. He won about $12,000 last year and his biggest jackpot was in the Chicago Open when he took second place and won $4,408.

He had led for three rounds before Ken Venturi nipped him by one stroke. So history repeated itself in a measure here.

Oscar Robertson Expected To Break All-Time Cage Scoring Mark Tonight

United Press International Tonight's best basketball bet is that Oscar Robertson will climax a weekend spree of team and individual record-breaking by setting an all-time major college career scoring mark.

The Cincinnati All-America has been sub-par—for him—lately but would have to collapse entirely to fail to pass Frank Selvy's three-year scoring record of 2,536 when Cincinnati entertains Drake. Oscar has 2,338 and needs only four points against Drake to erase Selvy's standard.

If Robertson hits anywhere near his average per game of 35.8 points, he will move within easy range of the major college four-year scoring high of 2,587 set by Dick Hemric at Wake Forest.

Robertson with 573 points in 16 games this season, is rolling toward his third straight national crown but Tom Sitt is setting a hot pace in second place. The 6-3 St. Bonaventure junior set a Buffalo (N.Y.) Memorial Auditorium record of 44 points Saturday night while sparking a 92-80 triumph over Marshall (W. Va.) College Sittis, who has 427 points.

The old auditorium mark of 42 shared by Larry O'Connor of Canisius and John Clunde of Navy.

The William and Mary Indians and Ohio State Buckeyes enjoyed record-smashing Saturday games while the Marquette Warriors gave fourth-ranked Bradley a scare before bowing in overtime, 62-59. Capt. Mike Owens scored four of Bradley's last five points before a record 11,140 fans at the Milwaukee Arena.

Second-ranked California, the defending NCAA champions, fell behind Oregon State in the opening minutes but the nation's top defense began clicking and the Bears posted a 67-45 victory at Berkeley, Calif.

The only other two teams in the top 10 which saw action Saturday posted impressive road triumphs. Sixth-ranked Georgia Tech clobbered Alabama, 60-48, and seventh-ranked Villanova downed Canisius, 75-66.

William and Mary struck a blow for all the Southern Conference teams that have taken West Virginia's dust for years when it upset the third-ranked Mountaineers on a neutral floor at Norfolk Va., 64-68. The defeat snapped West Virginia's conference victory streak at 36 games. Jeff Cohen, a 6-5, 225-pound junior from Los Angeles, collected 34 points and 20 rebounds for the winners. Jerry West, West Virginia's All-America star, fouled out with 5:18 to play after scoring 48 points.

The idle Virginia Tech Gobblers replaced West Virginia in first place when the Mountaineers suffered their first league defeat since bowing to Richmond on Feb. 4, 1956.

Ohio State ranked fifth by the United Press International Board of Coaches, set a school scoring mark while crushing Michigan State in a Big Ten game, 111-79. The Buckeyes, with Jerry Lucas scoring 25 points, cracked the team high of 109 they set recently against Delaware.

Police Hunt For Suspect Who Posed As Minister To Cash 'Bum' Checks

MIAMI (UPI) — Police were searching for a one-time swimming pool attendant today as a suspect in the case of the minister's double.

The husky impostor, who bears a striking facial resemblance to the Rev. B. Ellis, has cashed 21 bad checks in Miami in the reverend's name. The impostor has a duplicate of the minister's driver's license.

The Rev. Ellis, an Episcopal minister at the University of Miami's Canterbury House, said the impostor had just about ruined his credit reputation.

"I have a hard time proving that I am me," he said.

The Rev. Ellis said that after warning university authorities about his double the school book store refused to cash his own check.

The Miami police record shows Daniels left Miami Beach in 1957 saying he was going to try out for the Philadelphia Eagles professional football team.

Police almost caught the man once when a banker grew suspicious of him. The banker got the man's automobile license number. The car turned out to be a hired vehicle rented to Donald Daniels.

A check of Miami Beach police records showed a Donald Edward Daniels, 29, once registered on the Beach as a pool attendant. The

Youngster Loses Life After Prank

VERO BEACH (UPI)—A teenage prank cost the life of a 15-year-old girl here Saturday night. Gloria Jane Lassater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lassater of Vero Beach, was killed when the pick-up truck in which she was riding with four other youths skidded off a bridge into the Indian River.

Police said the truck drove onto the Wabasso Bridge and one of the youths threw a grapefruit at a nearby fisherman. The driver of the truck, Floyd Savare, 19, gunned the motor with the intention of speeding away. The wheels of the truck slipped on the wet boards of the wooden bridge and the truck ripped through the railing and fell into the river.

Savare and Carolyn Isaacs, 15, of Churchville, Va., and James Emory Sherman, 17, of Fellsmere, Fla., were injured.

Amateur Hunters Nab Sea Cow

MIAMI (UPI)—A band of amateur big game hunters ribbed a net on a crane on a Miami River bridge Sunday and captured their quarry—a 600-pound sea cow.

The hunters were Jim Korn, a real estate man, Mrs. Korn, Judy Johnson, an ex-newspaper reporter, Capt. Bob Lewallen, a skiff diver, and Leonard Lott, a crane operator.

The hunters estimated they would get $600 for their catch from an aquarium.

Sea cows, or manatees, are protected but the group said they had special permission from the State conservation Department to trap one of the air-breathing aquatic mammals.

The number of permanent injuries is nearly twice as great for younger workers as for older workers, according to the U. S. Department of Labor.

Nuclear Reactor Ceremonies Set

GAINESVILLE—The state's first critical nuclear reactor will be dedicated in ceremonies on the University of Florida campus Saturday, Feb. 13 at 2 p. m.

The reactor facilities were constructed with a grant from the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and help from industry and an appropriation from the state legislature.

Governor LeRoy Collins will accept the facilities for the state of Florida and University of Florida President J. Wayne Reitz will accept on behalf of the University of Florida.

Following the dedication ceremonies, the building will be open to the public for a first-hand look at the facility.

The University's training reactor is termed "critical" because it reaches a point of operation where the reaction will sustain itself without need of further power input.

The reactor will provide the first step needed in training technical personnel and in nuclear research.

THE SANDS OF TIME ARE RUNNING OUT
 There are only three homes left in exclusive SAN SEM KNOLLS. This means that only three more happy families will be able to say:
 "In looking for a home we saw many with MANY of the features of SAN SEM KNOLLS, but none with ALL of them. For instance there were many with 3 bedrooms, 3 or 1 1/2 baths, electric kitchen, terrace doors and etc. Like SAN SEM KNOLLS, and some even had the same FHA financing with low down payment and low monthly payments. But there was always SOMETHING wrong - like not having city water and sewers, or not having the large, covered patios you see in SAN SEM KNOLLS, or being located in a noisy neighborhood."

That is one thing we love about SAN SEM KNOLLS - it is QUIET. Another thing, we can let our children play in front because our home is on a dead end street and we don't live in constant fear that a speeding car will run them down. IT IS LIKE A NEAT, CLEAN LITTLE VILLAGE WITHIN A CITY! And, last but not least, the construction is guaranteed to be the very best because every bit of it was personally supervised by the builder, Philip Zeul!

SAN SEM KNOLLS is four blocks west of Franch Ave. on Texas. Each Street, A Bumper to Bumper on the premises daily.

SAC Chief Sticks To Guns In Soviet Power Dispute

Gates Still Disagrees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Thomas S. Power, head of the Strategic Air Command, refused today to back away from his grim warning on Russian striking power despite the insistence of his civilian boss that he was "unrealistic."

Power also told senators investigating the nation's military posture that future defense plans are inadequate. He asked that Congress provide funds to keep "the highest possible percentage" of his bombers airborne at all times.

The SAC commander said he stands behind "every statement" of a recent speech in which he warned that Russia could knock out the U.S. striking force in 30 minutes with 300 ballistic missiles—only half of them intercontinental in range.

Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. Monday disputed this as "unrealistic."

Power testified at a combined hearing of the Senate Space Committee and Armed Services subcommittee, called by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

At the same time, Army Secretary Wilbur M. Bricker, appearing before the Senate military appropriations subcommittee, said the United States should not give all its attention to the Soviet threat in the missile field but also should concentrate on ground strength.

Power was the lead-off witness at public hearings by the Senate groups on how long the Russians may hold their missile superiority over the United States.

Seven Crewmen Die In B52 Crash In Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — A U. S. Air Force B52 bomber crashing on a runway Monday night at Ramey Field, killing all seven crewmen aboard.

The victims included Col. Samuel G. Porterfield, 53, of Shreveport, La., vice commander of the 72nd Bombardment Wing.

The Starlight Promoters of the Sanford Recreation Department are forming a new class of beginners. Last week was the opening registration and Wednesday is the closing date. Anyone interested in the new class should be at the Civic Center at 7 p. m. ready to begin.

A beginner class runs 10 consecutive Wednesdays and upon graduation members are invited to join the Starlight Promoters, one of the largest and most active square dance groups in Florida.

Two Fishermen Rescued At Sea

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Two young Pompano Beach fishermen arrived here safely today aboard Coast Guard cutter after spending nearly two days at sea in a 17-foot open boat.

The youths were picked up Monday by a merchant vessel and transferred later to the cutter. They were expected to fly back to Pompano Beach this afternoon in a private plane.

Education Expert To Speak Tonight

Dr. Sara Lou Hammond, president of the Association for Childhood Education International, will speak at the Pinerich School Auditorium tonight.

The meeting will be at 8 p. m. The local ACEI board will have a supper meeting preceding Dr. Hammond's talk.

JOE STARNES

International Head Of Civitan Clubs To Speak Here

Sanford Civitans will hear their international president speak here Feb. 8. Starnes of Gulf Shores, Ala., will speak to the Civitans at the Mayfair Inn. Starnes, the international president for 1959-60, is visiting Civitan clubs in eight Florida cities. Starnes is the top official in the U. S. and Canadian Civitan Clubs. He is the 40th Civitan president and is a former congressman from Alabama.

Civitans are invited to bring their wives to the 7 p. m. meeting.

Dixie Get-Together On Politics Urged

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI) — Gov. Ernest F. Hollings said Monday he favored southern governors "realistically" getting together prior to the 1960 Democratic convention. The South Carolina governor said at a press conference that southern governors are in a position to wield "real political leadership."

When asked if he would seek the leadership of his state's convention delegation, he answered: "I wouldn't shun any opportunity to take the leadership for southern unity."

Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi also said he wanted southern governors to "get together" before the convention. However, Barnett said that since he was the junior governor he would wait for someone else to call such a conference.

But Barnett said he last Friday night that if the conference is not called, he would invite southern governors to meet with him to discuss "southern unity."

Don't Worry About Registration Slip

Residents who have returned their voting registration cards will not receive their receipts until all the cards are in and processed, Supervisor of Registration Camillus Bruce said today.

"Voters need not worry about their receipts — we are making them up and will send them all out at one time when the registration cards are complete," Mrs. Bruce said.

Casselberry Street Lights Requested

Casselberry's lighting committee will recommend street lights for the Golden Days Dr., Plaza Oval and Pine Tree Dr. area at Monday's Town Council meeting.

Casselberry Mayor William H. Benson said today that several requests for street lights have come from this section.

Large Tree Goes Down Fighting

One of Longwood's oldest trees put up a hard struggle when it came down today.

The tree broke a Baker Bros. crane which tried to ease it down. The broken crane extension and fallen tree lying across Eastlake Ave. blocked traffic on the street for more than an hour. The tree was about 50 feet tall.

No Property Tax

Casselberry's charter board agreed Monday night that the town will not have any property tax.

The agreement of the board was complete, board member Donald Willson said today. This was the first issued decided by the five man board elected last September to draw up a new Casselberry charter.

Board members are Lytle Swope, chairman; Ben Evans, Ray McCord, Herman Joyce and Willson. Right now Casselberry gets its income from utilities and cigarette taxes and from building permit fees.

County To Study Bridge Hazards

The County Commission today agreed to investigate the condition of the Econlockhatchee Bridge near Chuluota after Commissioner Vernon Dunn said that the bridge may be a traffic hazard.

Dunn told the board that many big trucks are afraid to go over the bridge and the board should put some kind of load limit on it.

He said that the bridge was "rotting" in many places.

"I believe a check should be made of the bridge to see if there is any traffic hazard there," Dunn said.

The board authorized County Engineer Robert Davis to check the bridge.

The board authorized Chairman John Krider to negotiate an option agreement to purchase a 20-acre tract adjacent to the Econlockhatchee bridge.

The land would be used for an additional city street to be built by the Deere street Land Co.

County Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. informed the commissioners that he is working out details for use of surplus gasoline tax money for roads.

Cleveland had been authorized by the board to contact state officials on the financing of the program. Money from the surplus funds would go to the purchase of right-of-way for road projects in the county.

County To Study Request For Land

The Sanford Humane Society today asked the County Commission to appropriate approximately two acres of land for a shelter for stray animals.

Mrs. Ernest Cowley, society president, told the board a two and a half acre tract has been offered outside Sanford "but the land was low."

The commissioners informed Mrs. Cowley that they would check county maps to find a suitable location for an animal shelter. They also asked Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. to check whether the board had the right to appropriate the land.

In other business, the commission agreed to purchase a spray machine for weed control at a cost of approximately $250 and told County Engineer Robert Davis to go ahead with plans on a county-wide weed control program.

The board also authorized Cleveland to proceed with condemnation proceedings against four property owners on South St. The board plans to acquire the property for right-of-way purposes.

Council To Meet

Longwood's Town Council will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Town Hall.

We're Waiting On Groundhog Report

By United Press International
The nation's groundhogs had a hard time finding their shadows today, a sure sign—according to those who believe in groundhogs—that winter is on the way out.

The sun was bright in Sanford this morning, but local groundhog watchers had made no reports at noon.

Groundhogs who ventured out today met rain, snow and overcast skies in much of the country.

Rain, which reached more than three inches in parts of California, lagged over most of the West Coast states today. Occasional rain or snow was forecast through much of the plateau region and some of the north and central Rockies.

Commission Asks More Data On Promotion Effort

The County Commission today denied a request by the Southeast Seminole Chamber of Commerce for $1,000 to be used for promotional materials until the organization presents a budget and more details on how it plans to use the money.

Chairman John Krider told Jones and his delegation, which included Oviedo Mayor Leo Gaty, that the board "does not want to be unreasonable." It just wants to know where the money is going.

Jones said that he believes about 500 have been collected thus far. He said that his group would make up a budget and present it to the commission.

Commissioner Lawrence Woodford told Jones that he would be in favor of giving the money if an idea of the scope of the project were presented.

The board heard Gary on the need to take down 13 trees on SE Dunn to go over the area with County Engineer Robert Davis and report their findings to the board.

Longwood Mayor A. R. Lermann also appeared before the board to get help on paving Orange Ave. between Hwy. 170 and the old Dixie Highway. The board agreed to study the matter.

Syrian-Israeli Crisis Continues

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Machine guns riddled across the Syrian-Israeli border again today in the deepening crisis over farming rights in the demilitarized zone south of the Sea of Galilee.

The explosive situation, heightened daily for the past six days by border clashes between Israel and the United Arab Republic's northern Syrian region, threatened to plunge the Middle East into another war.

The United Arab Republic was reported to have ordered Egyptian troops to proceed across the Sinai Peninsula to Israel's south-eastern border.

The semi-official Middle East News Agency reported Egyptian troops were placed under a state of emergency Sunday and Monday were dispatched toward the Israeli border.

In Jerusalem, Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion told the Knesset (parliament) that "if there is no other way of safeguarding the lives of our citizens, we will use force as we did last night."

Man Gets Jail Term For Robbery

A nine-year prison sentence was imposed on James Henderson of Sanford Monday. The sentence was given in circuit court. Henderson, a Negro who lived on Route Two had pleaded guilty to robbery and receiving stolen goods.

In county court, a jury found Henderson guilty of receiving stolen goods in the amount of $100. Henderson was fined $20 for the accident which happened last June.

Harold Jackson Examines New Fertilizer Mix

Longwood Student At U of F Gets New Type Field Training In Citrus Program

A Longwood student at the University of Florida has received unique training in the citrus fertilizer field under a new program sponsored by the university.

Harold M. Jackson Jr., has been employed by the Fasco Packing Company at Dade City for the past eight months in a training program initiated by Dr. John W. Snee, head of the university's fruit crops department.

Under the Cooperative Student Practical Training Program, a student who has completed his junior year in the fruit crops department may go into the field for an eight-month period and gain practical experience.

Snee says the voluntary program enables the student to work his way through all departments of the cooperating firm, learning what it takes to make a successful application. Jackson received a monthly salary of $200 during his training period. He also will receive a number of college course credits, determined by what he has learned and by the details of his final report to the College of Agriculture.

Jackson not only gained the usual practical experience with the firm, but was also able to get in on the ground floor of a new process which the plant has put into operation.

Fasco is presently converting their fertilizer operation to granulated fertilizer. The process, utilizing liquid instead of solid nitrogen, is designed to make each granule a complete fertilizer within itself.

Morton Howell, fertilizer division plant manager, says the new granulation process includes several important benefits for Florida citrus growers. "The finished product is less expensive than dry-mix," says Howell, "because liquid nitrogen costs less than solid material."

Another important feature of the new process is the fact that granules do not need to wait until groves are completely dry before applying fertilizer. With the granular form, there is less dust caused by the application. Jackson is an enthusiast about the new process as he is about the training program in which he learned of and worked with it. "When I return to the university to complete my senior year," says the student, "I will have a better idea of what the Florida citrus industry aspects of agriculture students."

While he has no definite plans for a specific job following graduation, he feels the training program will make him better equipped to enter almost any phase of the vast Florida citrus industry.

Jackson is the second College of Agriculture student to participate in the new program. The first was Larry Bates of Sanford, who worked with Growers Fertilizer Co. operative in Lake Alafia last year.

Moore, of Columbus, Ga., had served about 30 days of a four-month term when he escaped from the Sanford jail last October. He was convicted of drunk driving, having no driver's license and hitting a police officer.

"I'm tired of running and it's too cold up there in Georgia," Moore said.
