CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME" Even The Gate Post Not In It

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH, "HELL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER

DAMANOCKER, BEAROOSTER The dog sat in the midnight chill And howled at the beaming moon; His knowledge of music was strictly nil And his voice was out of tune.

I noticed in the Live Oak paper that a doctor up there signs his name in his advertisement, J. W. King, B. S., M. D. Now I know some doctors that are afraid to tell the truth about their business.

It does my heart good to see the bulkhead filling coming along so nicely, and when it is finished it will seem that part of my work in Sanford is finished. If the hotel will only come next I can leave here with a light heart and a light pocketbook.

I never was in favor of dispensing with the fire whistle unless they had something equally as good to take its place, and the fire last night demonstrated this fact. What this city needs is a good fire bell or whistle that will wake the dead and have every able bodied man get out and help when help is needed.

The burning of that building in the Hines block last night will call to mind to the old timers around here of the time when that building was moved from Palmetto avenue, Sanford, to the main street that is the same building that was moved down the main street to the accompaniment of the dago organ grinder on the top of the building, with Alcohol Mary and various other attractions all staged with the idea of raking it in on the people who objected to the building being moved from Sanford avenue to the heart of the new part of Sanford.

I reckon the folks who came here about the time I did some twenty-five years ago or more will recall that movement with many a laugh, for it afforded talk for the populace for many a day. I remember writing it up for the New York papers at the time but memory fails me in regard to the exact points. Maybe some of my old chums can supply the missing links in the story for the Herald.

The Miami Herald takes Ft. Lauderdale to task because the local school board of that place turned down a teacher in the schools on account of her religion being Catholic. The Herald cites that fact that when the information gets abroad that any community in Florida is full of such bigotry it will hardly redound to the credit of that particular section, with people who want to settle there, regardless of their religion.

The Herald is right. The Catholics pay taxes, are citizens and good citizens at that. They have as good right to hold a position in the schools as have the people of any other religion. We have teachers in the schools of Sanford, or did have, that were Catholics and they are good teachers and our school board and our people here are broad

YOUR CHILD!

What are YOU DOING when you take out an insurance policy on YOUR CHILD'S life?

Do you agree with the BEST CONSTRUCTIVE BRAINS of the WORLD, when they insist that a life insurance policy teaches YOUR child to save its pennies; teaches YOUR child the value of money; and develops in YOUR child the HABIT of THRIFT, which is of such GREAT IMPORTANCE in shaping the character of YOUR child for life's tense struggle?

Remember, fond parents, that in the doing of any act it is always the MOTIVE, the INTENTION that counts. In law, and in the morals nothing else does count, and nothing else should count. Then what higher motive; what higher intentions could you have than to mould the elements of good character in your child's life?

As parents, your very BEST PURPOSES find expression in the welfare of YOUR CHILDREN.

Teaching by precept HAS NOT the EFFECT upon the child and youthful mind that teaching by example and teaching by object lesson has.

By everyone of matured experience it is conceded that "Old Line" insurance carries with it three principles of practical, material value in life. These three principles are that of the "SAVINGS BANK"; INVESTMENT and IMMEDIATE FINANCIAL PROTECTION TO DEAR ONES. Though the third principle is not always applicable to MERE children, I dare venture the statement that there are few, if any, widowed Mothers who are not pleased, that their deceased husbands learned early in life the value of life insurance, and put such knowledge into practical effect.

To all such Mothers, and such Fathers as have learned the value of life insurance as a SAVINGS PLAN; an INVESTMENT plan; a sound PROTECTIVE plan; a CHARACTER building plan, I ask this question: "Can you really afford to delay teaching YOUR CHILDREN the primary elements of success and character which life insurance teaches? I think NOT for GOOD CITIZENSHIP DEMANDS alertness on the part of the parent for the child's welfare.

My phenomenal success in Sanford has proven to me, beyond doubt, that her citizens are keenly awake to many of the things which make for the progress and general uplift not alone for the immediate community, but for the state and nation.

Just the following word about our Convertible Savings Policy:

A child seven years old may apply ten cents per week for a period of ten years, and one week maturing a dividend paying life policy of $125.00 payable at death.

By the time the child is ten years old one week more is required for a child up seven, the entire amount of which is $52.10. At the end of the eleventh year the child may draw a total of $35.87, at the end of the 20th year $136.81 and so on. The child will be insured for the life of the parent, and the child's life insurance will be convertible into a life insurance policy for the parent.

And you will be the chief beneficiary of this policy. The child is to be insured for the life of the parent, and the child's life insurance will be convertible into a life insurance policy for the parent.

Nine-tive percent of the people who go into business fail at some time or other. The reason for this is that they do not have a plan for their business. They do not have a plan for their business.

BABY MYSTERY CLEARED UP BY MOTHER

DEMENTED NEGRO WOMAN KILLED HER NEW BORN CHILD

They mystery of the new born baby found beneath some guava bushes in the back yard of a vacant house on Second street last Tuesday has been cleared up, thanks to some shrewd detective work on the part of Dr. Miller, Constable Whitten, Judge Stringfellow and the coroner's jury.

When the baby was discovered, Dr. Miller was satisfied in his own mind that it had been killed from the appearance of the lips, being slightly bruised as if some acid or pressure of a hand would have made and this aroused his suspicions. He also noted footprints leading from the guava bushes to the house nearby, occupied by a negro woman named Hines. Upon investigation another negro woman named Bessie King was found to be sick although none of the inmates of the house could tell whether she had given birth to a child or not.

The coroner's jury grided the Hines woman for an hour or more, but she knew nothing and the jury brought in a verdict of "death by unknown causes," after Dr. Miller had performed an autopsy and found that the child was alive when born.

The next day Dr. Miller was called to treat the woman, Bessie King, who is mentally unsound, and after cross questioning her she told the story of the birth of the child in an out house, and that she had killed it by pressing her hand over its mouth. The deed of wrapping it in newspapers and placing it on the ground under the bushes is the act of a crazy person as one mentally sound would have buried the child and hidden all traces of the crime.

The woman will probably be adjudged insane by a lunacy commission and placed in the asylum where she really belongs.

Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Rivers entertained a few little folks on Wednesday the twenty-fifth, in honor of their little son, Everett's fifth birthday. Those invited to help celebrate his birthday were: Irma, Dora, Vernice Arnett, Edith McCorkle, Margaret McCorkle, Edna Stiles, Emily Billingsly, George Edward King, Mahle Woodcock, Etta Stiles, Thelma Tew, Estelle Moore, William Moore and Albert Rivers.

Delicious cake and ice cream were served. Those assisting Mrs. Rivers in entertaining the little folks were: Mrs. Alfred King, Mrs. McCorkle, Miss Ena Hodges and Mrs. Moore. Little Everett received lots of nice gifts and many good wishes.

Prof. Cate to Conduct Fall Party

Prof. W. B. Cate, who recently conducted such a successful special train party over one hundred and sixty people to the Panama-Pacific Exposition and the Golden West, is organizing a grand fall tour to leave Jacksonville on September 7th. A most excellent itinerary has been planned and a large number of the Floridians are availing themselves of this opportunity to visit the wonderful west in this ideal manner.

The party will be gone for nearly four weeks and will take many interesting side trips enroute. They will visit both expositions and stop in Chattanooga, St. Louis, Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and Chicago, taking sight seeing and side trips in all of these places.

The cost of the trip including railroad fare, Pullman, hotel bills, meals, admission to the grounds and in fact all necessary expenses is $175 from Jacksonville.

The party will leave Jacksonville over the Atlantic Coast Line using the Dixie Flyer Route and the well known Louisville & Nashville Railroad from Nashville to St. Louis on the going trip and from Evansville to Nashville on the return. They will return via Chicago and spend some time there.

David Garrick Made a Hit
"We must have Mr. and Mrs. D'Oize back again with the same cast to play something else this winter" is the general verdict of the playgoers over the city among those who witnessed the production of David Garrick at the Imperial Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. D'Oize and Edward Desforges arrived in the city last week, decided to put on David Garrick for the Elks and arranged their cast, printing and advertising campaign and put on the show Tuesday night which is going some for home talent.

The famous old English comedy is a general favorite and was truly enjoyed by those who braved the showers and turned out to see it. David Garrick, the famous actor of Drury Lane has seen and loved Ada Ingot, the daughter of a rich merchant. Ada loves Shakespeare and seeing David in the title robes, naturally falls in love with him. Her father has other plans, among them the marriage with his nephew, a dissipated follower of the ponies.

There is no cheap dyed villain, no weeping persecuted heroine, no stolen will, no slap stick buffoonery, but a sweet, strong pretty, wholesome romance with a strong vein of refreshing and refined comedy.

The parts of David Garrick by Mr. D'Oize, Simon Ingot by Edward Desforges and Araminta Brown by Mrs. D'Oize were anticipated to be good, but they were even better and their old time favorites added new laurels to their name. Mr. D'Oize is one of the best on the stage in any of these characters, having made Shakespeare roles his life work and has lost a fortune trying to convince the American public that the drama is the thing and Shakespeare is the best among them all.

The local cast could not have been better, for while they were amateurs on one sense of the word, they were perfectly at home on the stage, being some of Sanford's best.

Clarence Mahoney as Dicky Chivy, the dissipated young nobleman, was well handled, although Clarence is not familiar with jazz.

Miss Gretchen Schultz in the leading role of Ada, was up to her usual form, and this talented young lady was never better. While Miss Schultz has made a study of light comedy roles, she is excellent in heavier stuff, and as Ada, satisfied every requirement of the part.

The trio of comedy characters, Mr. Smith, the wine merchant, played by Chas. H. Dingee; Mr. Brown, the silk merchant, played by Sam Younts; and the stuttering bashful Mr. Jones played by Reginald Holly, kept the audience in a constant roar, and each and every one of them were admirably cast for their part.

Miss Lucy Whitner as Mrs. Smith, carried off the part to perfection, and the servants, George played by Hume Rumph and Thomas, the butler played by Ned Chittenden, were admirable.

The drawing cards on the program of course were the Lyman Twins, and Patti Rossi, and when the curtain arose between the acts and disclosed these universal favorites on the stage again, the house fell down. They were up to their usual high standard and were recalled time after time until they were forced to quit. Their "Memories is a favorite" with the people here, where they sang it several times in different homes. The Lyman Twins and Patti Rossi (Mrs. Herbert Lyman) have left the stage and gone in for oranges and now reside near Forest City where they have valuable grove property, but they will enjoy a momentary flash before the footlights again several times this winter.

David Garrick was all right—and the only regret is that it was played in the midsummer season when so many were out of town. It really deserved a better house.

The Order of Eastern Star will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening, Sept. 7th at 7:30 p. m. All members are urged to be present.

SHOT WIFE BY MISTAKE FOR BURGLAR

R. D. BOSTWICK HEARD NOISE AND PULLED TIGGER TOO QUICK

Shot my her husband, who mistook her for a burglar, was the fate of Mrs. D. R. Bostwick, and luckily the wound was only a flesh wound and she will recover with no serious effects.

Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick reside at the corner of Tenth street and Park avenue, a district that, a few weeks ago seemed to be the haunt of the burglars, who were terrorizing that part of the city, and to be on the safe side, Mr. Bostwick had his revolver handy to the bedside, resolved that if he caught a glimpse of Burglar Bill it would be all over except the singing.

On Wednesday morning about four o'clock Mrs. Bostwick was awakened by her baby crying and took it to the kitchen for milk. Upon returning, she sat down in the front room for a few minutes to rock the baby to sleep, and the morning being warm, she opened the blinds. Mr. Bostwick did not know his wife had arisen, and hearing the noise of the blinds opening, jumped from the bed, grabbed his pistol and seeing a shadowy form at the window, fired two shots, one of them taking effect in the fleshy part of the hip of Mrs. Bostwick. The escape of the mother and baby are miraculous and when Mr. Bostwick discovered his mistake, he frantically summoned the neighbors and two physicians hastily responded to the call for help.

It was soon discovered that Mrs. Bostwick was not fatally injured, and aside from the scare to both Mr. and Mrs. Bostwick, there will be no bad effects from the accidental shooting.

Howard is Still Alive

Among the prominent visitors to the city yesterday was C. E. Howard, editor of the Orlando Citizen. Mr. Howard and family have recently returned from a trip to the beach at Ft. Pierce where they had a very enjoyable vacation. He was in the city on Monday the other night by accident and who did not grow with him on the Sunday closing.

Mr. Howard is a publicity man for the Orange county Fair and produces a rigger and better fair than ever that a thing is possible.

THE DAVIS PACKAGE LAW

THE NEW PROHIBITION LAW FROM SEVERAL VIEW POINTS

FROM PALM BEACH

This article is not written to defend the Davis Sealed Package Law or to condemn it. It is the most drastic liquor legislation, except statutory prohibition, ever enacted by any legislative body.

In several states legislatures can pass a prohibition law. In Florida the liquor law is part of the state constitution, being Article XIX, which provides for local option. The county is first unit, and a precinct the second unit. If a county should vote wet but some of the precincts should vote dry, liquor cannot be legally sold in precincts that vote dry.

The Florida Legislature has power under the state constitution, and what is known as a police power, to enact laws regulating the liquor traffic, and the Davis Package Law regulates it to a stand-still.

There are two kinds of prohibitionists, absolute and political.

The absolute prohibitionist offers no compromises. He is, as a rule, an honest man with a fixed principle; he is against liquor and its sale, because he thinks it is wrong to sell liquor, and that the traffic should be eliminated. He does not believe in persecution of liquor interests, but if by his vote the traffic could be wiped out of existence, he would walk through fire to cast it for that purpose. He may be termed narrow minded in his views by some people—but the facts are he is invariably an honest man, a good citizen, and has the regard and respect of all men—even those engaged in the liquor business.

The political prohibitionist will advocate prohibition with an ulterior motive. Politics is power, and no man can get power without influence. The political prohibitionist will in some instances be a leading church member, curse liquor and tell the dealer that he is too good a man to be engaged in that nefarious business and exhort him to go into another line and be a better man; but in itself usually before an ordinary conversation is ended. He will want support for himself or his friends, whereby he will be directly or indirectly benefited.

The absolute prohibitionist is of the opinion that the enactment of farther laws regulating the liquor traffic is illogical, for the reason that if the laws that have been on the statute books of Florida for the past ten years were enforced, very few liquor dealers in the state would be out of jail, therefore, farther laws are not necessary.

An opinion has just been prepared by Messrs. John E. and Julian Hartridge, attorneys of Jacksonville, in which they are of the opinion that the Davis Package Law can be contested successfully in the courts of Florida, and some of the sections declared unconstitutional. This opinion will, no doubt, be published in the newspapers of Florida, as it concerns a vital question and one of great interest to all the people in the state.

At the time this article is being written, this opinion has not been released to the newspapers. However it is probably that it will be soon—and that at that time the readers of the Post can read it for its full value. Not being an attorney or with knowledge of legal lore, the writer of this will not attempt to discuss legal aspects on the law or opinion.

The liquor interests are to fight the Davis Package Law to the last ditch. When any man's meal ticket becomes involved he will go to the front. They have retained Hon. John E. Hartridge, one of Florida's leading attorneys. He is a learned and astute man, and rights of liquor dealers will be fully protected, and there is no doubt that he will make every effort to protect the constitutional rights of the liquor interests in Florida.

The liquor question is to a certain extent a foot-ball for politicians, as the question is much kicked around at times. It is conceded that a senator from a county or city where the liquor interests predominate in Florida cannot attempt constructive legislation provided he is friendly to the liquor interests. All he can do is to traffic and trade his vote on measures that senators from dry counties or districts wish enacted into law and upon which they are divided among themselves.

Some of the liquor interests are of the opinion that the political aspirations of those that they considered their friends and real protectors explain why the Davis Bill was enacted into law—but in this they are no doubt mistaken.

THOUSANDS FOR THE GOOD ROAD BONDS

Potash In Georgia

Atlanta, Sept. 3.—Potash fertilizers, impossible to obtain since the European war stopped commerce with Germany, will soon be supplied from rich fields recently discovered in Pickens county, Georgia, and on Saturday purchased by A. R. Oppenheim of New York, representative of a British syndicate, which is headed by Davis L. Thomas, multimillionaire Welsh coal operator and head purchasing agent for the British government in the United States. The price paid for the land is said to have been in the neighborhood of $400,000. It was owned by D. L. Pitner, a North Georgia capitalist.

The discovery of the potash bed was made a short time ago when officials of the U. S. Geological Survey were examining mica deposits. Mill and chemical tests show the beds rich in sericite, the best of the potash foods. Mr. Oppenheim states that it is the intention to develop the property immediately.

The German government has always controlled a monopoly on potash.

The Country Boy

AT THE STAR MONDAY

Marshall Nolan, widely known as a favorite star, is to make his debut under the management of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Co., in the photodramatization of Edgar Selwyn's famous play "The Country Boy." Mr. Nolan plays the title role and is supported by a company which included Florence Dagmar, Dorothy Green, Loyola O'Connor, Mrs. Lewis McCord, Horace B. Carpenter, Edward Lewis, Ernest Joy, Tex Driscoll and Al Ernest Garcia.

It will be remembered by all people familiar with theatrical events that "The Country Boy" ran for an entire season on Broadway and that it continued to tour as one of the most genuine and prolonged successes on record. The simplicity and appealing quality of the story fascinated theatregoers throughout the country and the theme of the boy from the small town who loses his way in the big city is eternally popular.

Tom Wilson is the name of the boy, who lives with his mother and has a very high opinion of himself. He is in love with the daughter of the local Judge, and finally confident of his own ability, decides to go to New York, win a fortune which will enable him to marry his sweetheart and take care of her in the manner to which she has been accustomed.

"The Country Boy" is an entertainment which can truly be recommended to the most refined theatregoers everywhere. See it at the Star on Monday night.

Gainesville Firefighter Here

Mr. and Mrs. James Moyer and Mrs. McKay of Gainesville were in the city on Wednesday morning, enroute home from Daytona Beach. They have been in Georgia and other points in an automobile tour, Mr. Moyer having a leave of absence from the Gainesville Fire Department of which he is the assistant chief.

They stopped in Sanford to see the editor of the Herald and renew old acquaintance. They were greatly impressed with Sanford and Seminole county, our good roads and fine city streets and left for their home with a feeling that they had not lost any time in going home via Sanford. Mrs. Moyer is a former employee of the Herald editor in the newspaper business in Gainesville and thought the Herald office was just about the best equipped office in the state.

Thanks For Firemen

I hereby wish to thank the Sanford Fire Department for their good work Sunday night when my fixtures were in danger and also the good people who so generously moved out the heavy pool tables when the fire seemed dangerous and moved them back when the danger was over.

Piellas County voted $715,000 for brick roads on August 18th.

What will Seminole County do next Monday

Essington Here

W. C. Essington, Business Manager of the Orlando Sentinel was in the city on Wednesday and took the Clyde Line for Jacksonville. He was on his way to Indianapolis, where Mrs. Essington is spending the summer and they will sojourn a few weeks in Hoosierdom and enjoy the frost on the pumpkin and a little sweet cider on the side.

Mr. Essington and his partner, W. M. Glenn, purchased the Sentinel about a year ago and are making a good paper in the capital of Orange. Both of them are young men and hustlers of the real type.

Mr. Essington was given a taste of Sanford hospitality and has promised the editor of the Herald that he will return some day, and take a trip up the St. Johns river and enjoy life as Sanford people do. We feel sorry for both Essington and Glenn and the other newspaper boys in Orlando because there is very little water to drink there and everything is closed on Sunday.

Dairy At Monroe

Mr. T. Wynn has returned from a trip to Live Oak, where he was treated royally as the prodigal son. Mr. Wynn went to Suwannee county to purchase some high grade cattle and returned with 21 head, 16 of which are milk cows. They are pure strain Jersey and Holstein and Mr. Wynn will start the Monroe Dairy and deliver fresh milk to Sanford people in a few days.

Mr. Wynn states that the Suwannee forks are among the salt of the earth and the farmers up there are prospering greatly. He was loathe to leave the land of promise, but had to hurry back with the cattle.

Notice of Meeting

The Frisell Club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. Price on Melonville avenue, Wednesday afternoon, September 15th at 9:00 o'clock

PAOLA POINTS

Twin Lakes Plantation was the scene of a jolly house party last week for the week-end. Fishing, boating, swimming and dancing were indulged in and the days passed all too soon for the happy crowd, which broke up Monday noon, much to everyone's regret. Those invited were, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pierson, Misses Lillian Booth, Helen Iserman, Frances and Flora Pierson, Messrs. Jack Booth, Jesse Kersey, John Gregory, Harold Henschen.

Miss Sarah Smith is attending a series of lectures pertaining to school matters in Leesburg this week.

Misses Helen Iserman and Flora Pierson spent a few days in Orlando this week, the guests of Mrs. L. F. Blankner.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Cleveland have sold their attractive bungalow on Banana Lake to a party from Sanford and they left for New York. They have made many friends while here among us and it is with regret we see them go. May success follow them in their new life.

Mr. George Garwood made a business trip to Orlando a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Potter and little Helen accompanied by Mrs. A. A. Hicks returned from St. Petersburg Friday evening.

Miss Helen Iserman leaves Friday for Lake Mary where she will open her school Monday for the new term.

Frank Taylor, who has been visiting his uncle, Jesse Thompson, here, left Saturday for Sanford where he will visit relatives.

Benjamin Jammes of Sylvan Lake has just returned from spending a month in Kentucky and other points.

Pearson's store was struck by lightning Friday afternoon, but no more serious damage was done than burning out the phone. Luckily no one was even shocked.

ANOTHER BIG BUILDING BOOM

Will Follow

Road Bond Issue

SEPT. 6TH

In all the arguments for and against the good roads bond issue ONE IMPORTANT RESULT seems to have been overlooked - and yet it is something that will vitally affect all men selling building material, all carpenters, masons, painters, decorators, plumbers and every other man whose calling depends upon the construction of houses.

The construction of the brick highways provided for in the present bond issue will necessarily be followed by THE GREAT-EST ERA OF BUILDING SEMINOLE COUNTY HAS EVER DREAMED OF IN ITS MOST OPTIMISTIC PERIODS. There won't be enough men in the building trades to begin to cope with the demand for artisans which will be created by the highways system. This BUILDING BOOM WILL NEVER GROW LESS, BUT WILL CONTINUE AS A STEADY CONDITION UNTIL ALL OUR VACANT LANDS ARE BUILT UP IN HOME SITES.

People who would like to have country homes do not build them now because of SAND ROADS and INCOMPLETE OR POOR HIGHWAYS. When a street is well paved it immediately becomes attractive for homes, and there is a rush to build on it long before the pavement is down. An unpaved sand-stretch is not attractive for homes in a city and it is much less attractive in the country districts.

We will not have to wait for the completion of the roads to feel the effects of this building boom. It will follow immediately on the voting of the bonds. Any man can reason this out for himself. As soon as these roads are assured people will begin looking for sites on some of these paved highways, and they will plan for construction. Driving a machine for five or six miles through SAND or over ROUGH ROADS is not attractive, but with PAVED HIGHWAYS INTO ALL SECTIONS OF THE COUNTY IT IS QUITE ANOTHER QUESTION. People who come in here to construct winter homes will NOT BE CONFINED TO THE CITY LIMITS AND ITS PAVED STREETS. They will be able to select any location that pleases them BECAUSE THERE WILL BE ROADS TO REACH THEM. They will build here and NOT go to some other county WHERE THERE ARE GOOD ROADS.

Thus the bond issue will have the IMMEDIATE EFFECT of stimulating the real estate market in Seminole county AND WILL BRING WITH IT THE GREATEST BUILDING BOOM THAT OUR MOST SANGUINE BOOSTERS HAVE EVER DREAMED OF AS THE FUTURE OF THIS COUNTY. The bond issue will revive and accelerate EVERY LINE OF TRADE AND EVERY BRANCH OF INDUSTRY.

Common sense must tell any man that this is a statement of a definite prospect. An immediate revival of all building trades is just as certain to follow the voting of this bond issue as if we already had a signed contract to this effect. IT CAN'T BE HELPED; ALL THE CARPING THAT COULD BE DONE IN A CENTURY WOULD NOT STOP-IT. Where there are good roads THERE WILL BE PEOPLE WHO WANT TO BUILD HOMES ON THEM.

How can ANY MAN, regardless of what his business may be get his consent to oppose this bond issue. It is the greatest opportunity that has ever been offered to Seminole county, and EVERY LINE OF BUSINESS IN THE COUNTY AND EVERY ARTISAN IN IT IS VITALLY INTERESTED IN SEEING THAT THE BOND ISSUE CARRIES.

During hard times cities often undertake large and unnecessary public improvements in order to furnish labor and stimulate business.

Isn't it about time that the Methodists, and Baptists, and Presbyterians, and Jews, and Masons, and Odd Fellows, and Pythians, and Labor-men, etc., we deal politically as American citizens and quit this action by classification.

BAD IN EITHER CASE

Hasn't somebody said the deceiver who would deceive himself is the worst kind? Powell is trying to make himself think because so many county weeklies quote from his editorial page they believe it.

ROAD COMPETITION

This brick road bond issue is a business proposition. Seminole county is in competition with other counties of the State.

The Good Citizen Says

1. RESOLVE

To keep so busy boosting that I won't have time to knock

That I will talk and work for a bigger better, brighter city.

That I will increase the value of my property by improving its appearance.

That I will invest my money in my home town, when I made it.

That I will keep my premises picked up and my buildings repaired as a matter of both pride and profit.

That I will never buy a thing outside my town until the local merchants have been given a chance to sell it to me.

That I will make friends with the farmers of a town man or with town folks if I am a farmer and help work together for the good of the community of which my town is the center.

Baptist Services Sunday Sept 5

The Sunday School will meet at 9.30. We expect to have present over 200 to celebrate the return of our superintendent from his vacation. Mr. Jno. D. Jenkins is the Superintendent.

At 11.00 a. m. the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed, and a unique service will be carried out. The subject for the morning service will be "Close to Jesus."

The Sr. B. Y. P. U. will hold a most interesting meeting at 6.45

under the direction of Mrs. Ed. Cameron and M. L. Wright. The program will be carried out through letters given each one present. The letters being read during the evening.

The Jr. Union will meet at 6.45. Mrs. F. E. Gatchell is the leader.

Mr. Hyman's annual address in connection with Labor Day will be delivered Sunday night at 7.45. All the people interested will be urged to come. The subject will be "Appeal to Reason, or Should the United States enter the Present European War."

You are always welcomed at the Baptist Temple, corner Park and 6th street. Come every time.

The Boy Scouts and Sparrows

For the past fifteen days, the Boy Scouts of America in Troop One, have been busy killing sparrows. The offer of a Cooking Outfit by the Mayor to the boys provided they would kill 500 by Sept. 1st has brought the boys out with their rifles, traps and deadfalls. They have accomplished the undertaking and have killed 1000 sparrows, or near this amount. These accounts have been strictly kept by the Scout Master.

The Hill Hardware company offered to give a Steven's Crack Shot Rifle to the Boy Scout killing the most sparrows, during the contest. Quite a bit of competition has been manifest in this matter. It did not take long however, before the contest to stand between two boys. Their standing at the close was as follows:

Israel Kanner.....284
Edwin Millen.....235

The people of Sanford feel under many obligations for this excellent band of boys who have rallied to the call of the Mayor to rid the city of the sparrows. There are many here yet, but the boys have thinned them out considerably. It would be nice for some good enterprising citizen to present a gift to the boy who came second in this contest for the rifle. The boys spent between $15 and $20 for ammunition.

Property Changes Hands

On Wednesday the 25th of August the Cleveland place on Banana Lake near Paola was purchased by F. A. Johnson and wife and on Monday the 30th this same property was resold to Joe Fernandez of Sanford. Paola is getting to be quite renowned for its real estate transfers.

WEST SIDE ITEMS

The Misses Willie and Gladys Robertson spent the day with Miss Georgia Walker on Friday.

Mrs. Alfred King and son George Edward, spent Wednesday in town with Mrs. Charlie Rivers.

Farmers Sell Crops

On account of over production they could not ship products to the large cities.

Baltimore, Tuesday
A number of farmers living along the boulevards in Anne Arundel county have hit upon an ingenious plan of selling parts of their crops. This year there has been an abundance of peaches, watermelons, cantaloupes, apples and all kinds of berries. In many lines over-production caused gluts on the market and the farmers let the crops decay in the field or orchards rather than ship them to the city and receive poor prices.

One enterprising farmer living along the Baltimore-Annapolis Boulevard inaugurated a plan of selling berries and apples from stands along the roadside. In the course of a day hundreds of tourists would pass the stand, and many made purchases. It was not long before the automobilists who frequented the road bought regularly from the roadside merchants. Soon other farmers established stands and now one may purchase any reasonable fruit or vegetable from the farmer-merchants.

By using these stands the farmers have been able to sell a considerable amount of fruit that would otherwise have gone to waste in the fields. Besides, the farmers have received prices for the fruit much greater than could have been obtained if the fruit was sold in the city.

For Sale

Two good horses; thoroughly safe, sound and reliable—one an all-round farm horse, also riding and driving horse. Also have for sale an orange sorter, practically new. 70-egg Cyphers incubator.

ROAD BONDS CARRY BY A LARGE MAJORITY IN SEMINOLE COUNTY

GIVES COUNTY $450,000 AVAILABLE FOR BRICK ROADS IN THE COUNTY

The good roads needed in Seminole county are now assured. At an election held yesterday, the people decided to vote for bonds for brick roads and they voted for them in no uncertain terms.

At an early hour in the day, it was seen that Sanford would carry the bonds by a large majority and while there was some opposition, many of those who opposed it did so from the standpoint of higher taxes.

The vote yesterday means that Seminole county can now join the other counties with hard roads. That there will be a brick road from Sanford to Geneva; from Sanford to Oviedo, from the special district lines to the Lake county line and from the special district line south to join with the Orange county paving.

It means that Seminole will keep her rightful place among the progressive counties of the state, for while Seminole was among the first counties to vote for bonds for brick roads, it was done by special district act and the rest of the county did not participate in the paving thus leaving several stretches of clay roads between the brick.

PEOPLE LOST IN SANFORD AND VICINITY

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF THREE MEN IN THIS SECTION OF THE STATE

In there a strange fatality attached to the atmosphere around this city? In the past two weeks no less than three people have disappeared in this vicinity. They were either thinking of coming to Sanford, had come to Sanford or had just left Sanford when they disappeared and have not been heard from since.

With the large population of this section and the cosmopolitan composition one can easily lose their identity here and these lost ones are probably wandering through the celery delta or have taken positions with the growers in this section. Secretary Haynes of the Commercial Club has received the following letter and if any one can throw any light on the subject the same will be gratefully received by Mr. Haynes and forwarded by him to the relatives of the lost ones.

Table with 3 columns: Precinct, For, Against. Rows include Sanford No. 1, Sanford No. 3, Longwood, Oviedo, Geneva, Chuluota, Altamonte, Monroe, Lake Mary, Gabriella, Paola, and Total.

Married at Baptist Temple. This morning at six-thirty, Miss Clara Elizabeth Harvey of Orlando was married to Mr. L. L. Boynton, also of Orlando. The ceremony was read by Rev. Geo. Hyman in the office of the Baptist Temple.

Just after the couple was pronounced husband and wife the party motored to Daytona Beach for an outing of several days.

Census Almost Ready

Census Enumerator H. E. Tolar will be ready to hand in his report in another week and wishes to inform the public that if there are any people or data that he has missed, he would appreciate the efforts of such people in sending him the information at Sanford.

Arthur Yowell left last Saturday for New York where he will buy fall goods for the store of N. P. Yowell & Co.

The following disappearances were noted in the Times-Union from two different towns.

Eden, Sept. 1.—F. P. Wilson of this place left there two weeks ago with a Jacksonville travelling man, leaving him at New Smyrna. From there he went to Sanford and thence to Tavares. He wrote his wife from these points and from Tavares, saying he was going to Eustis. That was the last heard from him, and he was supposed to return home from Eustis. It is thought that Mr. Wilson either lost his identity or he is somewhere. Inquiry has been made at various places, but no trace of him can be found.

When he left home he was suffering from headache and dizziness, and he has come on very gradually, and he has probably lost his identity. He is rather tall and slender, skin brown, very brown by the sun, deep circles under his eyes, small mustache, hair very gray, about 45 years of age, well educated, very gentlemanly, formerly connected with newspaper work, slender in build. He was not well when he left home, in fact was not considered quite right mentally, he has not been heard from since writing his wife from Sanford stating that he had visited you and I and writing to ask if when he was with you there was anything apparently wrong with him? His wife is in great distress and anything that you suggest would be appreciated.

Deland, Aug 31.—Searching for her missing business partner, whose name she gave as Jacob Hardink,

Chief-Loper Here

Among the visitors to the city Sunday was Chas. Loper of Tavares, better known among many people who know him as "Chief" Loper, on account of his long service as marshal of Eustis and other cities in Lake county. At present he is marshal of Tavares, where he now resides. He is an old engineer of early days in Florida and for many years has been an employee of the Seaboard and A. C. L. as a tank filler.

While marshal of Eustis, he arrested the biggest bully in the county—a man who weighed about 250 pounds and Chief Loper, a small man of about 135 pounds used his club at the last moment and subdued the bully after a nasty fight that is still the talk of Eustis and Lake county. Charlie is an old Confederate veteran and served full time in a Georgia regiment. He is about 80 years old, but is spry as a youngster.

FROM PALM BEACH POST

The Davis Package Law was introduced and brought up at a physiological moment. Just a few days previous to its introduction constitutional amendment for prohibition had been defeated in the senate by one vote, which exasperated the prohibition element to such an extent that when the Davis Bill was introduced under pressure, and under the direction of the superintendent of Florida, Rev. C. W. Crooke, who, in addition to being a minister, is also an eloquent speaker and an astute politician, thousands of telegrams poured in to members of the legislature. The result was, to satisfy their constituents, the Davis Package Law was enacted.

In their hurry to enact law it was thought for a while that all constitutional requirements had not been complied with and those representing the liquor interests were full of glee. The constitution requires that when a bill is under consideration in each branch of the legislature that it shall be read three times on three separate days, before being passed on a majority vote. However, the constitution also provides that a two-thirds vote can pass a bill or law instantly—this provision being provided for emergency cases to pass laws when great expediency is necessary.

The Davis Package Law does not enter clubs. This is explained by stating that under the club license law of Florida the service of supplying intoxicating liquors to members and non-residents guests does not come under the definition of sale. This probably means that if the Davis Package Law is upheld as constitutional in the courts, that liquor clubs would without end will spring up, and prove to be such a nuisance, and on account of their membership having votes of political power, it will be found difficult to enforce the law if they are not orderly conducted. The history of liquor clubs is that they invariably produce prohibition, becoming such a nuisance that, to eliminate them counties or precincts vote dry.

Years ago there was a state law known as a "Liquor Petition Law," which provided that if one wanted to sell liquor, that he would have to secure a majority of the registered voters in the precinct in which he desired to conduct business—which petition when presented to the county commissioners, and if they found it in order, or in compliance with the law and the same had a majority of the registered voters in that precinct, and each signature was witnessed by two people, a permit was granted. This law had one good effect. It kept the liquor dealer out of politics, for if he failed to get a majority of the registered voters

SEMINOLE TOURISTS ON THE CLYDE LINE WILL BE HERE WEDNESDAY

Birthday Party at the Beach

Mildred Holly, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, of this city, was nine years old last Friday and as a guest of the Daytona Beach Hotel, was given a birthday party by Mrs. Ayers, the wife of Proprietor Ayers. The party was a six o'clock dinner affair consisting of a whole chicken, creamed potatoes, patties, salads etc., and then were served ice cream and birthday cake, a beautiful affair with nine little red candles and nuts and candies for embellishments. The little honoree served her guests and in turn was the recipient of many presents.

The little guests were: Margaret Zachary and brother, Arthur Jr., Kinchen Powers, Sara Evelyn Williams and Frederick Williams and May and Robert Holly.

Mrs. W. W. Brady has returned home from a pleasant visit to friends and relatives in Tennessee.

Impressions of Sanford

Sanford, Sept 2nd. Editor Herald. Impressed with the advantages here that are hidden, in a measure, I offer a few thoughts for your columns. North it is five to six months winter. Here two months summer no idle season. Compare the living expenses. I see more gardens in your city than in rural districts. Seems we need to learn, it is no waste of land to grow vegetables for home above those produced for market. We have the habit of living out of paper bags. Why not devote a little more time to growing stock and chicken feed. Would it not save dollars?

Sanford has rich surroundings lands that grow better with cultivation. Where north virgin soil is best and it requires constant effort to retain productivity.

Your streets and future lake front are the prettiest I have seen in the State. The location of Sanford, with rich environments are enough to make "Life Worth Living" to any one desiring a city or country home. I find farmers here who "made nothing and sometimes report a loss." How is it? Ship winter and spring, meet living expenses and often "go north in summer." Then if a surplus is not in the treasury at the end of the season "I lost!"

In other states, men often come out without a dollar, the same as the man on a salary. True, some articles of food are dear. Then climate eliminates so much expense. Compare advantages and disadvantages; see if the zephyrs of the ocean sweep over a better place than Sanford on Beautiful Lake Monroe. KENTUCKY

Alderman Davison returned yesterday from Daytona Beach where he has been having excellent luck fishing. He came back long enough to cast his vote for bonds and will return to the beach tomorrow.

FIRST SEASON'S TRIP OF THE OSCEOLA WILL BRING A LARGE CROWD HERE

One of the largest summer excursions from New York to Sanford via Clyde Line is that on the steamer Lenape that left New York last Friday. The passengers will change at Jacksonville to the Osceola and come to Sanford. This will be the first trip of the Osceola for the winter season and was made necessary by the unprecedented rush of the summer tourists to see Florida while the cheap rates were still good.

These summer rates on the Clyde Line are bringing hundreds of people to Sanford and this large crowd coming here on Wednesday should be taken over the good brick roads in automobiles and shown the farms and the seed beds and the big crops of corn and many other attractions. They may not want a home in Florida but there is no telling just what they might do if they were properly shown the many advantages of the Sanford section. The Clyde Line excursions are bringing a good class of business men to Florida—business men who cannot get away in the winter time, and are interested enough in seeing Florida to come down in the summer instead of taking a trip to Canada and other northern points.

After a pleasant stay here of several days on business and pleasure, S. Maxwell, a well known resident of Sanford, has returned to his home. Mr. Maxwell, while here, stated that business is improving in his section of the state and the business men there are expecting an early return to prosperity. He says that the farmers are busy harvesting their large corn crops and are now preparing to plant their winter celery and other vegetable crops. Times-Union

ST. JOHNS RIVER INLAND CANAL FOR FLORIDA

NATURAL WATERWAY THAT HAS BEEN RECOMMENDED BY ENGINEERS

In the discussion of the purchase of the present East Coast Canal, by the government, with the purpose of making it a part of the Inland Waterway to Key West, several things should be considered. First let us consider the feasibility and cost of construction and maintenance of a water way from the mouth of the St. Johns River to Key West.

Under former instructions of Congress a board of engineers has made a full investigation of the various routes and unanimously reported in favor of the route via St. Johns river to Salt Lake and a canal into the Indian River as being, in their opinion, the best and by $2,000,000 the cheapest. This report was approved by the Chief of engineers and submitted and unless it can be made to appear that there are paramount reasons why this most desirable and feasible route should be set aside, it should stand and no doubt will.

I take it, therefore, the "burden of the proof is on the defendant," which in this case, are the owners of the canal, who, it appears, are desirous of selling their canal to the government. It is legitimate to suppose they do not find it profitable, as it now stands, to continue to own and operate it. The reason urged is that improvement by the government would make it of real service to the public.

In order to do this, Congress will be urged to abandon the approved route over the St. Johns river with its navigable tributaries, accessible to the most populous section of Florida from Jacksonville to Ocala, Leesburg and Orlando, to run through uninhabited sand dunes and marshes by St. Augustine, Daytona and New Smyrna. Each of which is accessible by inlets from the ocean, with sufficient harbor for all their needs, and if the access to ocean traffic is not sufficient they have, or should have, ample canal accommodation. I say they should have canal facilities, because the State paid for it by grants of vast acreage of what is becoming our most valuable lands, and while these lands were donated by the government for the reclamation, I know of no acre that they reclaimed.

Be that as it may, the State paid the canal company in land, to cut and maintain this canal and I with other citizens approved it. The East Coast people got what they asked for at the expense of the State and government. Would they now call what the State paid for back to the Government, the original donors? If so, to whom should the proceeds of purchase go? If this did not interfere with the rights of others, I would not complain, but in the selfish desire to accomplish the above deal the rights and interests of a large number of counties on the St. Johns and contiguous is proposed to be sacrificed.

The carrying out of the St. Johns river canal idea, will accomplish one of these projects provided for by the legislature of 1855 before the Internal Improvement lands, amounting to over 20,000,000 acres had been touched. Space does not permit of further argument, nor does it appear necessary, in view of the disinterested and unprejudiced judgment of the Board of Engineers and the incontrovertible fact, that a vast area and many times the people will be served by the use of the historic St. Johns river as part of this waterway. In addition to its utility, economy and safety, it will give to the citizens of Florida and an ever increasing number of tourists, the pleasures of travel by this matchless stream.

Respectfully submitted, J. N. WHITNER.
