ORIGIN OF BAYONET

Invention of Prized Weapon of France Is Uncertain.

Women of Bayonne Said to Have Contrived Diminutive Spear for Use on the Ramparts—May Be Basque Invention.

Paris, France.—A Paris newspaper publishes the following:

"The bayonet continues to be pre-eminently the French weapon of war. In deeds of pure glory it goes side by side with the '76. Like the latter, it inspires our soldiers with confidence. Never has any troop, of any force, experience or valor, resisted our infantry charging with the bayonet.

which, if not rigorously true, is pretty.

"It was, so the story goes, during the siege sustained by Bayonne in 1523 against the allied kings of England and Aragon that the women of this city, courageously taking it upon themselves to defend its ramparts, invented the bayonet.

"Other historians assert that the Basques invented the bayonet in circumstances not less heroic. They had been fighting against the Spanish for hours. Their ammunition was exhausted, while their courage still held out. To conquer in spite of this they affixed their knives in the ends of their guns, and, thus armed, hurled themselves on the enemy, who fled in terror.

"General Marston used the bayonet in 1641 and Garrison in 1671.

"To relate the heroic charges in which our soldiers have immortalized the bayonet would be to mention almost all the battles in which the French army fought. It was Chevert who, in reply to a soldier who complained of being short of powder, said: 'What does it matter? Haven't we the bayonet?' It was Dupont, in 1801, who overthrew 45,000 Austrians with 14,000 men at the mill of Volta.

"In 1915, our infantrymen, perpetuating the glory won by their elders, continue to give the bayonet their confidence and their affection."

"There is more likelihood of truth in the narrative which mentions Bayonne as the home town of the bayonet. A tale from the South of France gives an account of its birth

which our soldiers have immortalized the bayonet would be to mention almost all the battles in which the French army fought. It was Chevert who, in reply to a soldier who complained of being short of powder, said: 'What does it matter? Haven't we the bayonet?' ### WOMAN PENSIONER AT 108

Widow of a Veteran of the Confederate Army Is Placed on First Class Roll.

Montgomery, Fla.—Mrs. Esther Dees of Montgomery county, one hundred and eight years old and widow of a Confederate veteran, has been placed on the first class pension roll of the state by Auditor M. C. Allgood.

Mrs. Dees is among the first to be placed on the first class roll under the law which provides that widows of Confederate veterans who are more than seventy years of age shall be entitled to draw a first class pension.

This law was passed by the legislature at its last session and Mrs. Dees is one of the first to qualify.

When Mrs. Dees' application was received, Auditor Allgood placed her name on the first class roll and requested Gardener Courtney of the capitol to send her a handsome bouquet of flowers.

MASS MEETING WAS HELD IN SANFORD FOR GOOD ROADS

OPINION IS POPULAR FOR A BOND ISSUE FOR THE ENTIRE COUNTY OF SEMINOLE

The meeting called here Friday afternoon to discuss the question of a bond issue for the entire county for hard surfaced roads developed the greatest spirit that has been demonstrated in the county for good roads since the new county of Seminole was formed.

Hon. Forest Lake presided at the meeting and it was one of the most enthusiastic gatherings of good roads boosters that has ever congregated here.

The new roads will connect Sanford with Ovidio, Geneva, the county line, the Lake county line and from these main lines good clay roads or shell roads can be built in laterals to every part of the county.

Thus again Seminole county demonstrates that whenever it comes to improvements the baby county is always in the lead.

HERNDON DROVE A GREAT RACE AT BEACH YESTERDAY

SANFORD CAR AND DRIVER WALKED OFF WITH BIG PRIZES

Daytona, July 6.—Immense crowds witnessed the races here yesterday morning. There was no mishap of any kind, and the course was in fine condition.

Osborn Herndon, of Sanford driving a Mercer, won one mile free for all, $100.00.

Herndon also won twenty mile free for all, big car race, cup from Orlando Auto Association and cup from American Supply Co.

W. C. Odom, of Orlando driving Studebaker, won ten mile small car race, $100.

Odom also won twenty mile small car race, $100. Ray Chapman in Buick won ten mile race (big car) cups.

At Jacksonville Atlantic Beach, Fla., July 6.—Jonathan Yerkes, in G. Nooney's 30-horse-power Mercer, won the 50-mile automobile race which began at Atlantic Beach at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. His time was 44 minutes, 9 seconds.

DeWitte, in a Buick, came in second, there being six entries in this event. Bennett, in an Abbott; Spicer, in an Overland; Emery in a Stearns; DeWitte in a Buick; Yerkes, in a Mercer, and Gerlack, in a Stutz. Yerkes made the first 30 miles in 26 minutes.

The judges were T. W. Dunck, E. P. Conroy and Striker Coles. The beach and tide were perfect for the races and the crowd was one of the largest that has been at the resort during the summer.

THE CLEARWATER MURDER REMAINS A DEEP MYSTERY

MENDENHALL REFUSES TO TALK IN FACE OF DIRECT EVIDENCE

St. Petersburg, July 5. The alleged murder and burning of the two bodies of the victims, Mrs. Charles W. Eliot, and her beautiful daughter, and the arrest of John J. Mendenhall, who is charged with the crime by the coroner's jury, continues to be the sensation of this part of Florida.

While the burial was taking place, the prominent and well known business man, charged with the murder of the two, retained his calm, deliberate composure in the county jail at Clearwater. He spent the day reading and in a quiet manner. He seemed to be absolutely without a care in the world.

Two rather startling discoveries were made today, and if they have any bearing upon the strange sensation, and it is believed by the authorities that they are significant circumstances, it will be a case, matter to which that effect was made to dispose of the bodies in burning in an effort to conceal a crime if a crime was really committed.

The theory advanced is that the murderer, if there was one, sought to cover up his tracks and all traces of his crime by saturating everything with gasoline, and then disposing of the can in the manner stated.

Mendenhall has retained John U. Bird, of Clearwater, and Tom of Tampa, one of the most prominent criminal lawyers of the South, to look after his interests.

When Guy Stemple, the driver of the "murder car", was being examined yesterday he declared that when he asked Mendenhall what he meant by striking Mrs. Eliot with a beer bottle and drawing a gun that Mendenhall replied, "I am doing this in self-defense."

What that remark may have if it was made as Stemple declares it was, may yet be cleared up. There are a number of things in connection with this case which have not been explained by the authorities, nor anyone else.

KISSIMMEE HOST TO LARGE CROWD; A BIG CELEBRATION

THE CAPITAL OF OSCEOLA COUNTY PULLED OFF A GREAT BIG STUNT YESTERDAY

Kissimmee has again demonstrated her ability to entertain her guests even if the number runs up in the thousands and yesterday the Beautiful city on Lake Tohopekaliga was in gala attire and ready for the occasion early in the morning and sped the last departing guests late at night.

There were not many from Sanford as the rate was too high to suit them and many of those who intended to go backed out upon finding that the A. C. L. had made no rate and the round trip special rate lacked only a few cents of being the straight fare.

The special train was well filled before reaching Kissimmee from the towns farther down the line as the fare was not enough to bankrupt them and everybody went. The city of Kissimmee probably never had a larger crowd and they were entertained by events of all kinds.

The one big time of course, was the barbecue and here the multitude was served at long tables, well laden with barbecued meat, pork and mutton and every one who had the time wanted to eat and plenty of water to drink.

The heavy downpour of rain interfered with some of the events and amusements later in the day but did not dampen the spirits of the excursionists and those who were at Kissimmee are of the opinion that the city and her people are among the best in the land.

THE NEW FLORIDA GAME LAWS AUTHOR OF BILL GIVES CHANGES AND SUGGESTS THE APPOINTMENTS OF WARDENS

Mayo, Fla., July 5.—A great deal has been said, written and published about the new game bill, which is now the game law, the governor having placed his approval thereto on the 14th inst., but, as its provisions may not be generally understood the general laws are published as the author of the bill I will appreciate the publication of the following brief outline of the act:

The first eighteen sections of the new law are practically the same as the old law; the most important change therein being the ownership and title to all wild birds and game in the state is vested in the respective counties, for the purpose of regulating and use, the open season for squirrels now begins October 1 and runs to following March 1, and the open season on birds, turkeys and deer begins November 20 and runs to following March 10.

Under the new law there are three grades, or kinds of hunters' license provided for, all of which must be issued in the county in which the hunting is done. They are resident

MORGAN SHOT; WHITE HOUSE SHOT; OTHERS HALF SHOT

NEWS OF THE WORLD-AT-LARGE BOILED DOWN FOR HOT SUMMER WEATHER

New York, July 6.—J. P. Morgan was shot, but not seriously wounded by an unidentified man at his home at Glen Cove, Long Island, Saturday morning. A statement issued by the Morgan company here said: "J. P. Morgan was shot by an unknown man, presumably a crank, at his home at Glen Cove. Physicians advise that the wound is not serious."

Morgan's assailant arrived at Glen Cove in the morning on a train and went to Morgan's home in an automobile. He told the butler he was an old friend of Morgan, but being refused admittance the man rushed past the butler Mr. Morgan, in the hall asked "What's the trouble?"

Washington, July 6.—A rigid investigation is on today to determine the cause of the explosion late last night which occurred the reception of the dynamite at the depot. It is generally believed that the explosion was caused by a bomb or internal machine set off by a crank who wanted to create a sensation.

London, July 6.—The British Government, through the Board of Trade, has warned all British commercial firms that they will be expected to exercise the most scrupulous care in the transaction of their business abroad, during the period of the war, so as to avoid any likelihood of making themselves agents for the supply of goods to hostile countries.

Petrograd, July 5.—The official Journal today published an imperial edict authorizing the Russian finance minister to make two issues of treasury obligations of $250,000,000 each, the issues to be five per cent short term notes.

VOLUSIA COUNTY WILL BUILD SOME GOOD ROADS

THE NEW SMYRNA DISTRICT WILL BOND FOR ROAD TO OSTEE FERRY

The following from the Daytona Journal shows the forward step Volusia county is taking in the building of good roads:

"The total bond issues voted and pending in Volusia county for good roads will go well over the million-dollar mark, if sufficient signers are obtained on the petitions now being circulated in New Smyrna district for the calling of an election to vote $250,000 bonds.

Mr. M. Leidersdorf is circulating the petition in the New Smyrna district this week and hopes to have it completed by Saturday night in that it may be presented and the election ordered at the regular meeting of the county commissioners on Tuesday. He has little doubt that he will find the citizens of the southern portion of the county as wide-awake and progressive as the other four commissioners' districts where elections have already been held or ordered.

With the $250,000 bond issue, if carried, in the New Smyrna district it is proposed to build a brick or other permanent hard surface road from Rose Bay, where the Daytona district road will end, south through New Smyrna and Oak Hill to the Brevard county line. Also a similar road west from New Smyrna toward DeLand to join up with the DeLand district road to that city. Branching off from this road north of Iriggaville, it is proposed to construct a road to the east coast ferry across the St. Johns, passing through

It is also rumored that the Clyde Line will erect several brick warehouses on their property for the benefit of their wholesale patrons and when this is done the lake front at the foot of Palmetto avenue will present a busy appearance.

Already the Daytona district has voted $400,000 bonds for this and other roads in this district. On July 13th the DeLand and Orange City districts will vote on $350,000 and $75,000 bond issues respectively to carry the road through from the connection with the Daytona district Daytona-DeLand road to the Seminole county line at Monroe ferry. The DeLand district will also build east to the New Smyrna district and other roads of minor importance.

Should all the bond issues carry, and there seems little doubt that they will, the total issue will amount to $1,175,000. The network of roads proposed to be constructed will give Volusia county the best and most complete highway system in the state, if not in the entire south.

Without such certificate all persons not actual residents of in which the application is filed will have to be regarded as non-residents of the state and required to pay $15 before the license can be issued. To procure either a resident county or a non-resident county license a person must have been a bona fide citizen of the state for the past twelve months; a resident county license cannot be issued to anyone who has not been a resident of the county for the past six months, thus

CLYDE LINE COMPANY IS MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

WILL ERECT MODERN FIRE-PROOF BUILDING SOON ON THE BULKHEAD FRONT

The Clyde Line with their customary foresight and forethought and with an eye to the future growth of Sanford are contemplating many improvements at this point that will not only assist in the appearance of the docks and other property but will give the company and their patrons much better service.

Only a few years ago the Clyde Line made many improvements here and added several buildings at the far end of the dock giving the public more adequate service. The bulkheading again changed their plans and as usual they are meeting the city more than half way and will erect suitable buildings on the bulkhead.

Capt. Lucas and force of men have been busy for several weeks here with dredges and pile drivers putting down the piling for the new buildings and S. O. Shindholer of this city has the contract for the buildings to be erected at once. The new buildings will be 56 by 102 feet and built of galvanized fireproof materials. The first idea of making the building two stories in height has been abandoned by the officials as they expect in the near future to add to the property and it is thought that the two story building would not answer the purpose.

It is also rumored that the Clyde Line will erect several brick warehouses on their property for the benefit of their wholesale patrons and when this is done the lake front at the foot of Palmetto avenue will present a busy appearance.

Riots in Paris

Paris, July 6.—An important riot of housewives and street vendor at the Central Markets recently has done more than the polemics of the press and manœuvres of politicians to advance the campaign against high meats. What angered the women was the seizure and destruction by sanitary inspectors of several tons of meat and poultry that had spoiled in storage while it had been sold the same day as received as required by the rules, it would have forced prices down to a reasonable figure.

ROADS AND ROADWAYS; THE WORLD LOVES SMOOTH PIKE

AND VERILY, THE WHOLE CREATED LOT OF HUMANS ARE ON THE GLIDE

Editor of the Herald—Never before in all history was there such a sane and insistent demand for the level-laid, planed off, sand-papered and polished highway. The one pertinent, pre-eminant and right to the front question, met everywhere, is, "How the road?" Tourist, prospector, investor or visitor may halt for a complete of notes on climate, soil products, folk class, town and county probabilities, but, ten to one, before he gets to these he'll ask you 'bout the pike.

To the touring car we may surely credit our present advanced and hoarded notions of what our arteries of public travel as well as Newspapers are speculating about what the entrance of Park Trammell into the senatorial race will mean. Probably means that Park Trammell will be elected.

Well, another glorious Fourth has passed into the history and a few of those who celebrated realized the deep significance of the day to the American people especially at this time.

Kissimmee did herself proud yesterday just as we knew she would do. You can always bank on those Kissimmee people doing the right thing in the way of hospitality.

The Herald takes pleasure in announcing that the Sanford Commercial Club will meet on Friday night July 16th for a smoker and general get together time. We were afraid that the summer sun had melted all the enthusiasm in the few remaining members but it seems that they are really alive after all.

It may have been a safe and sane Fourth but any one travelling over to the east coast on Monday, waiting the turn at the ferry, watching the automobiles races afterward and then coming home to wait again and arriving any old time probably thought that the small boy and his shooting crackers were about as safe and sane in the old days.

The man who builds a traction line from Sanford to Daytona Beach will probably look foolish at first but he will have a gold mine in the years to come and the traction line between these two points is not a long ways off at the present time. It is bound to come.

Military expert Bob Holly, of the Sanford Herald, says that the war in Europe is just fairly started and that it will last for several years yet. Hence make your plans to live in the United States and on the products thereof, and build a prosperity that is independent of any other nation.

As there was considerable speculation as to the reason why Bob Holly missed the recent meeting of the Florida East Coast Press association at West Palm Beach, it seems that the genial Bob ordered a chest protector from a Jacksonville firm so that he might wear it on the trip and the firm sent him a chest protector—a useless toy in a print shop.—Stuart Times.

St. Augustine will make an effort this season to interest the people of the interior in that city as a summer resort and in this respect St. Augustine should make good for it can offer as many and varied attractions as any other city on the coast. As we have never been to the Ancient City we expect to get over and see Harry Brown and Will Traer and all the other boys some time during the summer and have them make good all their promises of a good time in the oldest city in the United States. It ought to be a good place for a rest and quiet time.

HOLLY ON THE WAR

Editor Holly, of the Sanford Herald, has solved the question of how long the European war is going to last. His answer is that it will be at least three years longer, and that the victor will be the one who has the most men and the most ammunition within the next two years. Following this he tells the people of Sanford that the war is not in Sanford, and points out to them that the coming winter will see the great east rush of tourists to Florida ever known, and that Sanford should get ready for them and get her share. This is sound advice for every community in Florida, and they should not only secure the tourists but the homeseekers.—Florida Grower.

A SOUTH FLORIDA FAIR

All of the towns of South Florida are agitating a fair to be known as the South Florida Fair, which is to include all the counties in the citrus belt of the State. The proposition is being met with enthusiasm, and we know of no one thing that could do more towards the upbuilding of this section.

Fairs are educational and of permanent benefit. The Minnesota State Fair, the Texas State Fair at Dallas, the Tri-State Fair at Memphis and other fairs are exemplars of the great benefits to a country to be derived from showing what the soils will produce.

The promoters of this fair have the assurance that the Florida Grower will do all in its power to make it a success and every Board of Trade and every Improvement Association of every town south of Gainesville should address a letter to B. L. Hamner, secretary of the Board of Trade of Tampa, and let him know the extent of the exhibits they will furnish for such a fair. If the Tampa Board of Trade heads the movement, it can be depended upon that it will be well managed and a success, and that the premiums offered will be adequate and will be paid. There could be no better institution to head the movement, and every county in South Florida should insure exhibits and aid in this great movement.

See that your section encourages the move.—Fla. Grower.

SECRETARY GRAY

R. A. Gray has been appointed secretary to Governor Trammell which is good news to his many newspaper brethren over the state. R. A. Gray has not been in the newspaper business for several years but is still one of the boys. He was connected with the Live Oak Democrat in the early days when that paper was a daily and the plant was one of the best in Florida. He afterward published a paper in West Florida, but gave it up to become a member of the legislature and naturally drifted into action at Tallahassee as a valued employee in several of the state offices there. Recently he was assistant state auditor and was in Sanford a few days ago in his official capacity. In his new office as secretary to the Governor he will make good of course. It is but natural that R. A. Gray will make good wherever he may be placed and his newspaper experience will be of value to him in his new and important position. Mr. Gray is a young man in years and Florida will hear bigger things of him in the future. And whatever he may want at the hands of the people the press gang will stand behind him.

NEWSPAPER SUPPORT

The Tampa Times has twice, and the Sanford Herald has once taken this Herald to task for saying that, in political campaigns, newspaper support of candidates does not count. Elsewhere in these columns will be found their latest remarks on this subject, which are reprinted chiefly for the purpose of calling attention to an error or two contained in them. One error consists in the supposition that the Herald editor holds an appointment from Governor Trammell, but this is immaterial and irrelevant. A serious error, however, is the assertion of the Sanford paper that the editor of the Punta Gorda Herald "is the campaign manager" of Albert Gilchrist for the senate. We wish this corrected, because Governor Gilchrist is not responsible and must not be held responsible for anything which the editor may print, say or do. Gilchrist is his own campaign manager, a task to which he is fully equal.

Now as to the value of newspaper support. The expression of this paper we confess, was rather sweeping and it should have been given with qualifications. But, at the time of writing it, we had in mind the fact that Senator Taliaferro, in his last race, had the support of two-thirds of the state press; nevertheless, he was beaten. Later on, a majority of the newspapers supported Hon. W. A. Blount, who undeniably was and is one of the best and ablest men in Florida, but he was beaten by Hon. N. P. Bryan, the present senator, who was advocated by a minority of the papers.

Surely, neither the Tampa Times nor the Sanford Herald will assert that all the newspapers which supported Taliaferro and Blount were merely "near-newspapers," venal, not respected, and without influence. Most of them, to say the least, were and are papers of high character, but the voters paid little attention to what they said.

There was also the campaign of Hon. Robt. W. Davis, who ran for governor and was supported by most of the newspapers. He was defeated.

Notwithstanding these instances, to which more might be added, we will beg to change the Herald's expression to this: Newspaper support of candidates sometimes proves unavailing. And if the Punta Gorda Herald is the only newspaper in the state that is supporting Gilchrist as alleged by the Tampa Times and by the Sanford Herald, and if Gilchrist, with this insignificant support, should win out, it will prove that this little sheet is the most influential paper in Florida as well as that Gilchrist is the most popular man.

Gilchrist's friends, by the by, are not making any noise, but they are by no means terrified by the canonade for Governor Trammell and Perry Wall. If Gilchrist cannot win neither can the governor nor Mr. Wall.

By the way, how many governors have ever run for United States senator and been elected? Broward had passed out of office when he won.—Punta Gorda Herald.

HOW LONG WILL IT LAST

Almost dully some one asks "how long will the European war last? And just about as often as the question is asked someone else tries to explain why it will continue for several more years or why it will end within a few months. The following editorial from the Augusta Chronicle, of Augusta, Ga., may throw some light upon the matter:

"As the war drags on without any decrease of intensity or any promise of the end, military experts are figuring on how long the available supply of human material will last. The latest casualty reports give a pretty good basis of computation.

The British dead, wounded and missing up to May 31st numbered 258,000. The total had almost doubled in seven weeks, and the figures will run up still more rapidly as the army is brought to its full strength and assumes its share of the fighting. Serbia has lost about an equal number of men. Belgium's losses are given as about 200,000. German casualties are estimated by careful observers at perhaps 2,000,000. There can be little doubt that German and Austrian losses together up to the end of May aggregate at least 2,750,000. Russia's losses are thought to be about 2,300,000 and those of the Turks, South Africans, east Africans and others, 100,000.

This gives a grand total of 7,350,000. It is reckoned that about 1,500,000 have been killed, 4,250,000 wounded and the rest—given as "missing"—are for the most part prisoners of war. Russia particularly has lost an enormous number of men as prisoners. This estimate means that for the first ten months of the war the average loss has been 735,000 a month. It is easy to see that but little more than two years of such warfare—say until the fall of 1916—will eliminate all the regular military forces existing in the belligerent countries when the war began. After that if the war continues they would depend on their "unorganized strength," consisting of all the men of any age able to perform military duty in extreme need. That would provide enough men to keep the death mill grinding for three years longer. Then, in theory, there wouldn't be a single able-bodied man left in any of the warring countries.

Of course this reckoning takes no account of the large number of wounded men who return to the front after convalescence, and of the missing men who rejoin their colors to appear in later lists and are counted twice. The growing fierceness of the struggle, however, in the next few months may more than balance whatever discount must be allowed in these particulars.

Seven hundred and thirty-five thousand men a month—thus the manhood of Europe is being cut down by bullet, bayonet and shrapnel, every victim suffering keen pain and leaving a train of anguish and sorrow. Seven hundred and thirty-five thousand families, every month, grieving for a man killed, wounded or lost. Seven hundred and thirty-five thousand strong male bodies swept away in fire and blood, and another 735,000 coming forward to take their places.

our lesser pleasure and business thoroughfares should be. The automobile has abolished distance, made close neighbors of towns heretofore far apart, and in many ways obliterated the line of demarcation between city and country.

Wide awake, aggressive Seminole, with her splendid contingent of enterprising citizens and exceptionally capable public spirited leaders, is thoroughly alive to conditions, as the enthusiastic mass meeting of Friday last gratifyingly demonstrated. The excellent accomplishment in road building already achieved, we are sure will be supplemented by completed connection with Orange county and similar construction Geneva-ward, as also to Oviedo and Chuluota. When the committee appointed for the purpose, shall have laid before the County Commissioners the well thought out and matured plan and the proposition shall be submitted to the people, every voter in Seminole County will feel it not only a pleasure able duty but a matter of personal pride to go and cast his ballot, in support of same.

In the route to Oviedo, Mr. C. R. Walker, who is always studying out good things for Seminole, makes the suggestion, strongly endorsed by others of practical and level headed judgment, that line adapted be adopted, running directly south on Sanford Avenue, and on across Lake Jesup, thus shortening the distance between above village and the county seat fully seven miles. It is estimated that this would cost, if brick be used for the road, at least $15,000.00 less than to build around the lake. The lake fill could be made very cheaply, as compared with brick cost and laying in detouring or circling above body of water. This plan would create one of the most picturesque and beautiful drives in all this locality. The scenic feature of this route would alone and of itself, be a distinct asset to the county. We hope to see Seminole avail herself of this nature-provided opportunity for one of the most charming driveways, especially as it can be done, according to the estimations, at a handsome saving in cash outlay.

The Herald and Editor Holly, always liberal with valued space in what concerns the public good, will keep the people informed of the road constructing status, from week to week. No one, by the way, can af-

Got Back at Judge Jeffreys. The correspondent writes that of Jord Jeffreys, noted for his heartless cruelty, it is recorded when he was Chief Justice, he had a witness before him whose evasive answers aroused the judge's ire. The witness wore an exceedingly long and bushy beard. Said Jeffreys: "If your conscience is as large as your beard, you'll swear anything." Unabashed, the witness retorted: "If your lordship measures conscience by beards, your lordship has none at all."

Wind Watch Regularly. Concerning the importance of winding a watch regularly the bureau of standards states: "Even the delay of an hour in the time of winding may cause considerable variation in the rate in some instances. The winding should not be done jerkily, but steadily, and not too rapidly, and its conclusion should be approached carefully to avoid injury to the spring or winding mechanism."

A Truly Co-Operative Body

"Co-operate," according to the Standard Dictionary, is "To operate together or jointly for a common object or to a common end or result."

There can be no real co-operation wherein the motives or interest impelling any of the parties to the endeavor are different from those which move or control the other parties to it.

The Florida Citrus Exchange is a truly co-operative organization in that it is exclusively composed of and operated by growers of citrus fruit who aim to secure for themselves fair returns on their labor by producing good fruit, picking and packing it with care, sending it only to markets that are in position to use the supply offered and telling the consuming public by means of newspaper magazine and other forms of advertising abouts the merit of this fruit.

Every grower who is a member of the Exchange is on a par with every other member. Three or more growers in any community may form a local association and the members thereof elect its officers and determine its policies. They choose one of their number to represent them in the Sub-Exchange, composed of three or more such local associations, usually all located in the same county. These directors of the Sub-Exchange elect a grower, who is a member of one of the local associations, to represent the interest of these associations on the board of directors of the Florida Citrus Exchange. This board meets monthly or oftener at the general offices in Tampa. All the business of the organization is conducted on lines laid down by this board and under its supervision.

No member of the Florida Citrus Exchange has any possibility of profit through the organization except from the sale of his fruit. All moneys secured by the Exchange are accounted for to the individual growers, and remitted, less previously agreed upon deductions for selling and advertising expense. Neither the State organization nor the Sub-Exchange can own property other than necessary to the conduct of its business. The packing houses and machinery are paid for and belong to the local associations and are the joint property of the members who built and equipped them.

The Florida Citrus Exchange is composed of none but growers, controlled and managed by growers, operated in the interest of growers. The fruit of its members goes to market under such conditions as to prevent that of one grower competing with the crop of another. Without such an organization and co-operative handling as the Exchange gives, the fruit of every grower competes in the market with that of every other. The Exchange already has accomplished much for the citrus industry of Florida; with its rapidly increasing membership it has even greater and more important work to do. If you want to get prices that will make your grove profitable, the Exchange offers you the means of doing so. Get in touch with the local association, if there is one in your community; if there is none, write the general offices of the Florida Citrus Exchange at Tampa.

B. Y. P. Notes

The B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist Church had its installation of new Officers for the ensuing six months on last Sunday evening. This was a very impressive service. First on the program was a Flashlight by D. Union as they sang that beautiful song "Let the Lower Lights be Burning." Next came a report from the Baptist Assembly which was held at Lake City June 21-30. This report was given by Mrs. Geo. Hyman our delegate to this Assembly. Mr. S. I. Kennedy, our ex-president, next gave a talk about our work the past six months, he also installed the new officers as the closing part of his talk.

The new officers that were installed are as follows:

- Miss Minnie Stewart, Pres.
Mr. W. C. DeCoursey, vice-pres.
Mr. F. E. Gatchel, Sec'y.
Mrs. Loretta Brotherson, Reporter.
Mrs. S. L. Kennedy, Librarian
Mrs. E. E. Cox, Efficiency Leader.
Miss Clara Miller, Bible Reader
Mr. R. H. Davis, Treas.,
Mr. S. G. Kennedy, Usher,
Miss Jimmie Laing, Leader of Soc. Com.,

The four Captains are: Miss Lucille Rines, Leader of the Romans. Mrs. G. A. Radford, Leader of the Corinthian, Miss Mary Gatchel, Leader of the Philippians, Miss Maude Jenkins, Leader of Galatians.

This service was very impressive. As each officers name was called they responded and explained the duty of their office.

Next on the program was a short talk by our incoming President Miss Minnie Stewart. At the close of this talk she presented our Ex-President S. G. Kennedy a New Testament a gift of the Union given in appreciation of the work he had done for the Union in the past six months. We hope to do more work for our Union in the next six months than ever before. We invite every one who will to come and enjoy these meetings with us. We always have good music. The next six months will be under the able leadership of Mr. M. I. Wright with Miss Edith Stewart at the piano.

Our meeting next Sunday will be in charge of the group called The Romans under leadership of Miss Lucille Rines. Again we invite you to come with us. We are quite sure if you once attend these meetings you will surely come again. L. B. Reporter.

Printing the News

We often hear some thoughtless fellow say, "If I was running a paper, I would print News. I don't care who it might hit. If they don't want to get into the paper, let them stay out of trouble."

We remember one particular instance in which a similar remark was made.

We had, through the pleadings of an old mother and tearful sister, "killed" a good story concerning the escapade of a rather worthless young fellow. But to his mother and sister he was not worthless, and they prevailed upon us not to print the item which would disgrace them forever. And we did not print it.

So we were accused of cowardice by this certain critic and were told that we did not know how to run a paper.

In vain we tried to explain that many things besides our own personal likes and dislikes entered into our weekly labor.

It was no use, he said we should print the news.

Six months later the same man came sneaking up to our home in the dead of night to plead and beg with us not to print a much worse story in which he himself was mixed up.

We had the story but had no intention of printing it, for it was one of those things that it is best for all concerned and for the public, to suppress.

But our critic had heard that we knew the details and, with the unfairness that characterized his first utterance, at once jumped to the conclusion that we would chuckle with joy over a chance to flaunt such a choice bit of gossip in the faces of our readers.

Remembering his attitude on the other occasion we let him squirm a bit.

We reminded him of his former statement and intimated that he had at that time opened our eyes. We could publish the news if anyone did not want to get into the paper let them keep out of trouble."

He remembered.

He admitted that he had so expressed himself.

But he was wrong, he said. And this case was different. Moreover, he was a prominent man and married and he had a family and all of the same stuff that every editor hears when someone gets into trouble.

Well, the story was not printed. It never would have been. But we feel sure that our critic believes that the only thing that kept it out was his "prominence" and "influence".

No, dear friend, about the only element that was totally ignored in coming to our decision was you, your self. Titusville Advocate.

THE NEW FLORIDA GAME LAWS

It will be seen that transients as well as non-residents of the state must pay a license of $15 in each county or do no hunting.

The new act provides that county judges shall retain of the money received by them for licenses 25 cents for each resident county license; 50 cents for each non-resident license, and $1 for each non-resident license, and that they shall pay to the county game warden 25 cents, 50 cents and $3 for such licenses respectively, paying the balance into the county treasury, to the credit of the county school fund.

All blank licenses and other printed matter necessary to carry out the provisions of the act shall be furnished by the respective boards of county commissioners upon and in such form as shall be recommended by the attorney general of the state, whose duty it is made to immediately make up such forms, the same to be uniform throughout the state, and furnish copies to the counties.

It is also provided that upon the passage and approval of the act the board of county commissioners of the several counties shall employ a fit and competent person, resident of the county as county game warden, fixing his salary at not less than $100 nor more than $600 per annum, the same payable out of the fine and forfeiture fund. Such warden shall enter into a good bond in the sum of $1,000, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties enjoined upon him. Such warden is required to appoint a deputy in each precinct if necessary to enforce the law regarding the game, such deputy to be paid by the county warden out of his salary, fees and commissions. The county game wardens first employed shall remain such until Tuesday after the first Monday in January, 1917, unless sooner removed for cause; their successors, as well as all future game wardens shall be employed upon the recommendation of the people as expressed in the primary elections thus placing the selection of such wardens directly in the hands of the people of the several counties.

As the act is now a law, the several boards of county commissioners should at once employ the game warden so that the actual enforcement of the law may be commenced for by a proper enforcement of the law the game will be protected, the several counties benefited financially and the continuance of the law assured.

London, July 6.—Berlin papers which reach here give further details of Thursday's stormy debate on peace of the Prussian Diet, regarding which the Vorwarts, in the last number issued before its suppression said:

"The debate leaves no more doubt of the direction which the masses of German people desire the war to take."

The Social Democrat view, as uttered during the tumultuous sitting, was that the nation wanted early peace and the abandonment of all annexation plans. Although there are only ten Social Democrats in the Prussian Diet, they contrived to raise pandemonium.

Charleston, S. C., July 6.—It is announced today that Charleston has been selected by the Executive Officers of the Southern Commercial Congress as the place for holding the Seventh Annual Convention of the Congress, December 13-17, 1915. The invitation was extended on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, the city of Charleston, and for the State by Governor Richard I. Manning. The city council of Charleston made direct appropriation of $15,000 to guarantee the expenses incident to the holding of so large a convention.

Government Envelope. Many merchants use government envelopes. They are a little cheaper and eliminate "licking the stamp." The newspapers are continually hammering away at their subscribers, urging them to patronize these same merchants. They fail to recognize the fact that a goodly percentage of the money paid for these government envelopes goes to large printing concerns outside the town and state and that the government is entering into competition with an enterprise that does more to benefit the merchants of a town than any other factor. If the government were to enter into a contract with some large concern to put up coffee in individual packages, each package holding just enough for a "drawing", what a howl—those merchants would put up. And the newspaper man would be the first one to whom they would appeal to start a movement that would put a stop to it. Are you users of government envelopes consistent?—Zolfo Truth.

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HELL PRENT 'EM"---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

Mr. Henry Ford has published a brochure, which is an indictment against the cigarette made by the leading business interests of America.

For instance, the Cadillac Motor Car Company posted the following notice in its factories: "Boys who smoke cigarettes we do not care to keep in our employ. In the future we will not hire anyone whom we know to be addicted to this habit. It is our desire to weed it entirely out of the factory just as soon as practicable. We will ask anyone in our factory who sees the seriousness of this habit to use their influence in having it stamped out."

The J. C. Ayer Company, Lowell, Mass., has just put the ban on cigarette smokers: Believing that smoking cigarettes is injurious to both mind and body, thereby unfitting young men for their best work, therefore, after this date we will not employ any young man under 21 years of age who smokes cigarettes."

Marshall Field & Co., the greatest department store in America, has adopted the policy for years, of not engaging boys who smoke cigarettes.

Mr. Wanamaker's stores in New York and Philadelphia invariably reject applicants for position where there is evidence of excessive use of cigarettes.

Mr. Thomas A. Edison employs no person who smokes cigarettes. He says that degeneration of the brain, which results from this habit, is permanent and uncontrollable. Victims of the habit become unreliable. The leading scientists, as well as the great business men agree in their opinion that the young man who makes a practice of smoking cigarettes soon becomes a slave to the habit. In many business offices where men are employed the fingers of applicants are first examined and if the tell-tale signs of cigarette smoking are evidenced the applicants are rejected at once. Apopka News.

"There are so many of my friends here in Sanford that cannot swim especially men and the following article is given to them in the hopes that they will repent and endeavor to master this art that should be known to every man, woman and child in the world:

The popular idea that swimming is a dangerous art and should be shunned because if you can swim you'll get in the water and if you get in the water you will probably drown is characterized as "rubbish" by G. H. Corsan, swimming instructor.

Every year Mr. Corsan travels around the North American continent—his home is in Canada—giving short courses in swimming in the larger cities. In the last five years he has had one month's vacation. He has taught more than 100,000 persons how to swim.

The way to avoid drowning, according to Mr. Corsan, is to learn how to swim. Good swimmers don't drown. They might die of chill or starve to death, but as for drowning—pooh!

How about cramps, he was asked. Even good swimmers have cramps that bugaboo of those who aren't at home in the water.

His answer was reassuring.

"Cramps needn't cause a moment's worry. I've seen thousands of good swimmers seized with cramps and never a one was drowned. All they did was to turn on their backs and either wait for help or paddle in with their free limbs. I've never heard of a swimmer having cramps in both legs and arms. Even then his case would not be hopeless.

"There never was a case of drowning that was caused by cramps. That may seem surprising after the countless water tragedies that have been blamed on cramps. Death in the water is caused by chill or strangling.

"People strangle to death because they are ignorant of the proper method of breathing. When they sink beneath the water they hold their air passages shut. When they come to the top they have to breathe out the air they've used while under the water. As breathing out takes fifty times as long as breathing in they have no time to get a fresh supply of air before they go under again. This keeps up until they breathe in under the water and thus strangle to death.

"This process should be reversed. Breathe in for the second you are above water, then breathe not through the nostrils while under the water and you can keep it up until you starve to death. A knowledge of this reversed process of breathing would have saved hundreds who died when the Lusitania sank.

"When you know all the factors in the case you will wonder how any one ever drowned. Only a deplorable ignorance can explain it. Look at the buoyancy of the human body. After the Lusitania tragedy hundreds of bodies were found floating hours after they had died. The body weighs but a few ounces in the water. What then is needed but a little common sense, a cool head and a knowledge of swimming to keep afloat indefinitely? "Recently Great Britain started a campaign to teach the methods of life saving. I say, teach them to swim properly and they will get better results. Let every man be his own life saver.

To swim properly, however, as Mr. Corsan admitted, is different from mere swimming. Many swimming experts in the past have drowned. People argued that if experts drowned, an ordinary swimmer would have no chance at all. Mr. Corsan explains that they weren't experts at all and when they were seized with cramps they lost their heads just like inexperienced swimmers and were strangled to death, because they didn't know how to breathe properly.

This business of breathing is very important, according to Mr. Corsan. "Nine-tenths of swimming is breathing and movement is only one-tenth, he says.

This in spite of the fact that when he illustrated the Australian crawl, breathing occupied nearer one than nine-tenths of the time he was in the water. Most of the time he kept his head completely submerged.

Another point in breathing emphasized by Mr. Corsan is the way to avoid that disagreeable experience of getting a mouthful of water instead of air when the swimmer encounters short, choppy waves, spray or splashers. When breathing in, he holds the tip of his tongue just behind the upper front teeth as a sort of curtain. This is so effective that Mr. Corsan is willing to lie flat on his back and let fifty persons throw buckets full of water on his face.

Not a drop will get in his mouth. Women should be the greatest swimmers in the world, Mr. Corsan asserts, because of their greater buoyancy. A woman's feet will not sink below the surface of the water. That is why many women who couldn't swim have drowned in shallow water. They couldn't get their feet to bottom.

An example of how well a woman can swim was mentioned by Mr. Corsan. One of his pupils had another pupil, a little fourteen-year-old girl, who was on the Empress of Ireland when it went down in the St. Lawrence. The little girl swam around in the water and swam so well that she had to try to get on nine lifeboats before they would rescue her. She almost died of chill.

"Swimming should be the easiest thing in the world," he said. "It ought to be less tiring than walking. It's nothing but a one-step on the horizontal anyway. By learning the proper movements and method of breathing you can swim for almost indefinite periods."

Bullet Did Its Work.

During the Boer war an Irish private on one occasion had a bet with his comrades that he could hit a tin mug from which a Boer in a distant encampment was drinking. The soldier won his wager, for from a range of 600 yards he knocked the tin from the Boer's hand. Later on the incident had an astonishing sequel. The shock of the bullet hitting the Boer's tin caused a crust to slip down his throat, which actually suffocated him.

Uses of Tongue.

Grandfather, sitting in his old armchair by the fireside, picks up from the hearth with fire tongs a glowing ember wherewith to light his pipe. Grandson, working on the New York elevated extension, picks up with a pair of blacksmith's tongs, from the portable forge used for heating rivets, a live coal wherewith to light his cigarette.

Filibustering.

"Why does the senator keep talking in that rambling way? I don't know what he's aiming at, do you?" "Sore I do. He's filibustering to keep his daughter from singing."—Puck.

And There Are Many Such.

"What I hate to see," said Uncle Eben, "is a man dat kain't stand up for his own rights wifout lookin' fob everybody else to lay down as he walked on."

MODERN MEDICAL PRACTICE

(State Board of Health)

Throw physic to the dogs!

In other words, avoid the doctor excepting in cases of extreme emergency and let every man, and woman be the judge of what constitutes an emergency.

That was a kind of motto whose observance in the past has brought premature obsequies in many a saddened family, in the times when doctors were fewer in proportion to the total population than now, and when they were not so well equipped for the battle against disease and death.

In the good old times our grandmothers were fairly good doctors themselves; probably they were better equipped than we in these days with first aid remedies. But they applied their remedies to the treatment of injuries and disease far beyond the first stages, and too often with serious results.

There must have been a large element of faith helping these dear old ladies in their amateur practice. From their individual experiences from their inheritances of the past and from the neighbors they accumulated vast stores of "sure cures", and the more disagreeable their concoctions of mustard and pepper and turpentine and the herbs of the field, the worse they smelled and tasted, the more certain was their efficacy in the minds of their much-suffering patients.

Is the practice of medicine a more exact science than it was fifty years ago?

With no disparagement to the grand old men who rode their endless rounds, who carried the sufferings of their patients very close to their hearts, who brought cheer and comfort into hundreds of homes and who took their long-delayed pay in potatoes and bacon, or never collected it at all, medicine and surgery have made wonderful strides. The old time doctor had to be surgeon and physician and dentist and occasionally had to prescribe for the cow. His time was too full of his never ending daily work to keep track of the general development of his profession, excepting through the journals he was too busy to read. He had no opportunity to become a specialist.

The difference between the old time and modern practice is the development of the specialist and the growing importance of preventive medicine. The idea of these days is that the prevention of disease is quite as important as its cure.

The education of the people to the value of cleanliness, of proper sanitation, is the keystone of prevention. Whereas, medicine used to be classed among the mysteries and its operative effects a secret that the public had no right to know, the theories of the causes and spread of disease and the operation of remedies are now put into language stripped of technicalities, so that the man of ordinary intelligence may understand.

The day of the doctor, of the specialist, has come in a new and larger sense than ever before. His work, with the cooperation of the sanitarian and of the people themselves, is bringing lower sick and death rates, higher standards of living, through cleaner surroundings and better personal hygiene. More than this, the importance of the doctor, his necessity to the community are being recognized as never before.

The remedies left over from the time when Pa was sick two years ago, are not kept to be administered when he or some other member of the family shall have another attack.

Nice Distinction.

John Drew once had occasion to mention to a Frenchman, with whom he engaged in conversation in the hotel lobby, that a certain public speaker, whom they both knew, was a good deal of a bore. "Ah," said the polite Frenchman, "rather let us say he is a raconteur."

ASSAILANT OF MORGAN COMMITS SUICIDE WHILE IN JAIL

MYSTERIOUS TAKING OFF OF THE MAN WHO TRIED TO MURDER CAPITALIST

Mineola, N. Y., July 9.—Frank Holt, the Cornell University professor, who shot J. P. Morgan in his home near Glen Cove last Saturday, committed suicide in the jail here Tuesday night.

The jail authorities declare that Holt killed himself by climbing through the opening at the top of his cell door and then plunging to the narrow court below. The attendant said he was positive Holt killed himself in his own cell, where he found the body. Though there are conflicting reports as to the manner in which Holt met his death, it was definitely established through Dr. Cleghorn, the jail physician that Holt died of a fractured skull.

Several of those about the jail said they heard an explosion, the report coming from Holt's cell. This noise, it was believed, was due to the fall of boards from the top of the cell.

Jeremiah O'Ryan, the keeper detailed to watch Holt, said he was fifteen feet away from the cell when he heard a loud report. He looked in the direction of the cell, but it was dark. He said he found Holt's body in a pool of blood in the corner.

The excitement that followed the noise brought Warden Hulse and other jail authorities to the scene. District Attorney Lewis J. Smith and Dr. Cleghorn, together with several constables, were soon on the scene and immediately began an investigation. Dr. Cleghorn denied a report that Holt had killed himself by chewing a percussion cap.

He reported that death was caused by a fracture at the top of the skull. An explosion would have blown his head off would have followed an attempt by Holt to chew a percussion cap, the physician said.

A thorough examination of Holt's cell failed, according to the jail authorities, to disclose any weapon or implements of any kind which Holt could have used to kill himself.

Coroner Walter R. Jones, after viewing the body said:

"Undoubtedly a suicide, and undoubtedly the man jumped. I cannot give an official version until autopsy is performed by the jail physician, Dr. Cleghorn."

The body was then taken to the morgue in Hempstead, where Dr. Cleghorn was prepared to perform an autopsy immediately. The autopsy disposed of a report current here immediately after the finding of Holt's body that he had been shot and killed from the outside. This was only one of a number of reports.

New York, July 9.—Frank Holt, Morgan's assailant, had planned to destroy the liners Saxonia and Philadelphia by dynamite which it is believed he had placed aboard the vessels before they sailed from New York to Liverpool July 3. Holt so advised his wife in Dallas, Tex., in a letter which was transmitted to the navy department in Washington.

Wireless warnings were sent broadcast over the Atlantic from the eastern seaboard, advising the Saxonia and the Philadelphia to steer toward each other.

The Philadelphia captain advised the American Line offices today that everything on board had been identified and that all is well. At both the Cunard and American Line offices it was said that it would be virtually impossible for anyone to pass the lines of guards at the pier to place explosives aboard the ships. It is believed the Saxonia is beyond the zone of wireless communication.

Three Massachusetts citizens today positively identified Holt as Erich Muentzer, who was wanted for wife murder.

Tornado Hits Cincinnati

Cincinnati, O., July 9.—Twelve persons are known to be dead and eight buildings were blown down and destroyed as a result of a fierce tornado which swept over the city late Wednesday night. A dozen persons are missing in the debris left by the storm.

Owing to the fact that all wires were blown down and traffic paralyzed throughout the Ohio valley the extent of the damage and the destruction of life is impossible to discover.

The ruin wrought in the towns along the rivers in this section is yet impossible to know. From the last reports it is known that much damage has been done in Dayton and Bellview, Newport, Covington, Ludlow, on the Kentucky side, and Lawrence, on the Indiana side.

THE WIRELESS STATION AT SAYVILLE HAS BEEN SEIZED

GERMAN STATION SENT MESSAGES HEN UNCLE SAM WAS NOT LOOKING

Washington, July 9.—The government today took over the Sayville wireless station, the only direct means of communication between the United States and Germany.

Secretary Daniels announced that Captain Bullard, in charge of the naval radio, had gone to take over the station, and would continue its operation with naval forces.

There will be no change so far as the public is concerned. Messages will be accepted as heretofore. The only difference will be that naval operators instead of commercial employees will man the keys. The charges collected by the navy will be paid to the owning company.

Today's action was deemed necessary because of alleged violations of neutrality by the Company's operators. It has been charged that when the navy censors had left the wireless room for a minute or two, unneutral messages had been sent.

The wireless station at Tuckerton, N. J. was taken over last September by the government. Both stations now are able to communicate directly with Germany.

Originally the object of the censorship was to prevent communication with belligerent ships at sea and the censorship has been continued, it was said, in naval quarters, because of a conviction that German submarines were able to receive wireless messages from Sayville.
