McCarthy May Call Truman Before Group

Ex-President May Be Called As Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today a new investigation of suspected atomic spies may bring former President Harry S. Truman before the Senate Investigations subcommittee as a witness.

McCarthy announced he is asking the Justice Department for a report on whether it ever received from Truman a list of American members of an alleged atomic spy ring which he and Truman received in 1945 from the Canadian government.

Alfred Kohlberg, New York City attorney and member of a purported spy ring, was named today as a witness. It had been given to Truman by then Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Kohlberg asked in July 2, 1950, letter to Rep. Buchanan (D-Pa.) that an investigation be headed by the subcommittee in investigating Kohlberg.

McCarthy is asking why he planned to probe the story now but not then.

"If the Justice Department did not receive the report, I am going to ask the subcommittee to allow me to invite Truman to testify. I don't think it would be necessary to subpoena Mr. Truman," he said.

Great Jap Flood Leaves Thousands Dead Or Homeless

TOKYO (AP)—A great flood that left more than 2,500 persons dead, missing or hurt and a million homeless, is sweeping today on the southern Japan island of Kyushu, but dark rain clouds posed an ominous threat.

Seven days of torrential rains forced much of the population of Kyushu—an area about the size of New Jersey—into a vast lake. The hapless Japanese residents fled to any high ground they could find.

By late afternoon today, the known death toll stood at 409. It was expected to rise when those missing were accounted for at 1,178.

Police said several villages were washed away and 350,000 homes were destroyed or damaged.

Roads were washed to countless broken villages and cities. The U. S. Air Force dropped food and clothing to isolated groups of refugees scattered on islands of high ground hit by the flood.

Among those saved from the raging streams were American sailors, soldiers and Marines and their families. Some were taken from a stalled train near Mill and houses in the U. S. Army recreational facilities at that Northern Kyushu city.

A large pile of lumber, sawing machines and three trucks were burned in the blaze which was discovered about 3:00 o'clock.

Fire Chief M. Cleveland, who directed the fight against the blaze, employed eight firemen, two trucks and two fire trucks from the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station and seven Navy firemen.

The cause of the fire is undetermined. According to Chief Cleveland, the blaze started in the northeast part of the planing mill. He advanced the possibility that the fire may have started as a result of the concentrated rays of the sun reflected on the machinery, generating sufficient heat in

The safety program is second in a series conducted by police officers in conjunction with the City Recreation Department under the sponsorship of the Seminole Jaycees. Sheriff J. L. Hobby and State Trooper R. D. Harrison are taking turns with Sanford policemen in giving the safety lectures.

Boys and girls will form as they did last week at the municipal swimming pool. Arnold will lead the cyclists in a short parade to a shady part of the park for the talk.

The Jaycees Safety Committee will again put reflecting Scotchlite tape on the rear fenders of all bikes that do not have it, according to Don Rider, committee chairman.

These Women

It seems as though every day parenthood is becoming a greater, more nerve-wracking responsibility. Nowadays, there are very few traits—good or bad—about an individual that cannot be attributed by a competent psychiatrist to childhood experience.

If little Alice is too fond of chocolate creams and turns into big Alice, chances are she's an adult trying to eat herself out of some scarring childhood experience, according to psychiatrists. If little Willie is thin, nervous and shy, maybe he just wasn't born that way, but feels rejected and insecure, they say.

Parents must be towers of strength, read the latest books and operate 24 hours a day with a vast store of useful information and techniques. They must walk a fine line: too much attention, and their child develops into an unhappy adult because he is over-dependent. Too little, and he grows up to feel forever unloved, unwanted and unsure of himself.

A child's home situation, they tell us now, determines whether Willie will emerge from childhood driven by ambition, ruthlessly whipped forward by a tireless demon in fact, it sometimes seems that a successful adult, by our traditional standards of affluence and position, is really an unhappy, harassed grownup. And it's all his parents' fault he clawed his way up to be president of the company.

They tell us too much discipline makes for one kind of trouble, too little for another. The unaware general public deplores an epidemic of narcotic addiction among teen-agers, the experts are tracing the cause back to unhappy home situations. Special psychiatric work with badly adjusted, difficult children usually involves more attention to parents than the children themselves.

Nowadays, there aren't any naughty, problem children. When Tommy ties a can to the cat's tail and Jane insists on snatching her playmate's tricycle, the remedy no longer is the uncomplicated, old-fashioned spanking or lecture. It's the time when parents indulge in a bit of soul-searching and detective work to determine just what they've done to make Tommy cruel and Jane greedy.

Sometimes psychologist-talk sounds like a lot of precious nonsense. Much of the time, under the professional patter, it makes sense. So, for example, particularly when it can be backed up with statistics on delinquency and maladjustment among children from broken homes, strife-filled homes and with careless parents.

Modern parents are particularly aware of causes and effects never so much as suspected by their own mothers and fathers. Take, for instance, the production usually made on the arrival of a second child in a modern household. It's as carefully mounted as an opera, designed to ease the first-born through the difficult period of learning to share the affection of a mother who is going through a period of feeling

THE LAND OF THE PHAROHS changes its form of government, discarding the monarchy, as Lt. Col. nashed aside and ignored for the new baby.

All this and much more turns parenthood into a full-time demanding job whose success can only be judged many years later. At the moment everything adult from unhappy marriages to childhood sources. Even Mr. Certs is being tracked back to Shakespeare's thankless child, who though sharp as a serpent's tooth can't be blamed for the way he feels. Obviously, a thankless child suffers only from slings and arrows launched by his parents.

With all that's being discovered, it is pleasant to think that modern men and women are brave and generous—and daring—enough to keep the birth rate high. It's also pleasant to find so many children who are fond of their parents—not too fond, because that's bad—and who have recovered enough from psychic injury to be happy though adult.

But what gives you pause is a situation where every child can blame everything on his parents, who also take all credit. Nobody can feel proud of himself these days.

Stop-Gap Meeting Is Suggested By Briton

LONDON (AP)—Britain's acting cabinet boss, Richard A. Butler, said today Britain is negotiating with the United States and France for a quick stop-gap meeting on common problems in advance of the postponed Bermuda conference.

Answering a barrage of House of Commons questions launched off by Prime Minister Churchill's temporary replacement, Butler told Britain's representative at this "interim meeting" would be Lord Salisbury.

Salisbury, as head president of the council, has taken over some foreign policy responsibilities since the absence of Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Butler returned to see how the interim meeting would be held.

"As I cannot oblige other governments, I would prefer to defer a statement until the negotiations are concluded," he said.

Conant Given Title Of U. S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today that Clarence B. Conant has been given the personal title of ambassador to Dr. James H. Conant, U. S. high commissioner in Germany.

"This is a step toward resumption of full diplomatic relations between this country and Western Germany," the White House said in its announcement.

"This step has been taken in recognition of developing relations between the United States and the federal republic of Germany and the return of Germany to the family of free and equal nations."

"For the time being Ambassador Conant will continue his position as high commissioner but the United States government looks forward with anticipation to the disappearance of this function as soon as the other states concerned have completed the process of ratifying the contractual agreements and the European defense treaty."

"I'm not a showoff walker," he said, accompanying newsmen and photographers, "although you fellows have tried to make me look that way. I walk solely for the exercise. It will make me live longer."

The former President clocked off 19 midtown blocks — about a mile — in 22 minutes including stops for autograph signing, shaking hands and exchanging greetings with people who hailed him with "Hi, Harry" along the way.

It was a steamy morning and Truman left his Panavia near the end of the hike to drop his brief. Back at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel where he is staying, some of the newsmen that had accompanied him asked for autographs.

"This country is sure going to hell when photographers start asking for a lot of a p. h. s.," Truman grinned as he obliged.

Fiscal Agents Meet With City Manager

Fiscal agents from three companies were meeting today with City Manager Tom Lemon and Robert M. Angus, Jacksonville relative to financial matters in connection with the city's sewerage and water expansion program.

Representatives of Goodbody and Co., Tampa; Sullivan, Nelson and Guss of West Palm Beach, and Anderson Cook of Palm Beach were present at the session.

Key West Girl Scribe Bumps Into Truman

NEW YORK (AP)—A Key West Florida newspaper reporter bumped into an old assignment at her first day of a two-week vacation in New York City Sunday.

Mrs. Susan McAvoy, 30, went to the river club for a swim and breakfast after arriving at La Guardia Airport.

She was still wearing a bathing suit when former President Harry S. Truman and his family were assigned to a table nearby.

"I was dazed by excitement than the waiters," said Mrs. McAvoy.

As a reporter for the Key West Citizen, she had covered Truman's vacation visits to the Key West Naval Station during his years as President.

Mrs. McAvoy said Truman told her, "Well, Susan, I'm not giving up Key West. You can tell the folks there that."

The former President, who lives at Independence, Mo., did not elaborate. He is now visiting his daughter, Margaret, in New York.

Rockefeller's Wife Seizes His Apartment

NEW YORK (AP)—Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller seized her estranged husband's Park Avenue apartment over the weekend after suddenly arriving here from an Indiana farm.

With her were their 1-year-old son and an unidentified woman friend.

Mrs. Rockefeller, blonde daughter of an immigrant coal miner, moved into the apartment while her husband, Winthrop Rockefeller, heir to Standard Oil millions, was in Little Rock, Ark.

She talked briefly last night with newsmen by telephone, indicating she was not impressed by a million-dollar trust fund being set up by Rockefeller for her, and then announced she would hold a news conference some time today.

The 35-year-old Mrs. Rockefeller and the oil heir were married in a storybook wedding five years ago. They were estranged shortly after the birth of the son, Winthrop Paul, who has since been in the exclusive custody of the mother.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Dixie And Southwest Continue To Be Hot

By The Associated Press
Showers continued today in much of northern and eastern United States, but in other sections it was mostly fair, and in the South and Southwest, hot.

Heaviest falls continued along the North Atlantic coast from Maryland northward. Lighter showers fell in the upper Ohio Valley, the eastern Great Lakes and middle Gulf states, Montana and North Dakota, and the far Northwest.

Precipitation in Sunday's thunderstorms ranged up to Baltimore's 4 1/2 inches in an hour and a half and Pittsburgh, but's unofficial 4 1/2 inches.

Baltimore's deluge was an all-time record. Streets and basements were flooded, and motorists macerated by floodwaters, and wind and lightning damaged property. Petersburg's experience was similar.

Stockton, Calif., experienced a weather freak Sunday. A tornado, virtually unknown in that state, wrecked a single building of a lumber mill, then lifted and moved on without further damage. No one was injured.

Kansas, and the Texas and Oklahoma portions of the country cooled off as much as 24 degrees Sunday, with maximums in the 70s. The South's heat and the Bay of Brazil sun, with temperatures ranging up to 100 at Pasadena, Tex. and 112 at La Brea, Ariz.

Prominent Carolina Jurist Dies In Miami

MIAMI (AP)—Alfred Wannamaker Holman, 72, well-known South Carolina lawyer and former county judge at Columbia, died today.

He was Richland County judge for 10 years from 1933 until 1945. He resigned to become city recorder, an office which permitted him to resume his practice of law.

One of Judge Holman's most celebrated cases was his suit against the South Carolina Legislature to test the legality of its quibblers voting themselves extra pay.

He won the suit in 1911 after legislators had voted themselves $700 each for a total of $119,000. A special Supreme Court ruled in Judge Holman's favor and much of the money was paid back into the state treasury.

Stassen Points Way To U. S. Leadership

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"This nation's successful leadership in the world depends largely on fairness and justice without discrimination to all citizens in America," Harold Stassen, Mutual Security administrator, said today.

Stassen told delegates to the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that "much more needs to be accomplished in the advancement of the colored people within America."

He said, "you also know that the rest of the world does not realize how much progress has been made by the colored people within America."

Misunderstanding, lack of information and "deliberate distortion by our enemies," combine to present a false picture to other nations, Stassen said.

Optimism Expressed For Eden's Recovery

BOSTON (AP)—The surgeon who operated on British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden for a bile duct obstruction said today "we are convinced that after a full period of convalescence complete recovery can be assured."

Dr. Richard Cattell signed a bulletin on Eden's condition, which was issued by the Taber Clinic. Eden entered the New England Baptist Hospital June 5 as a bilious clinic patient. The operation was performed June 11.

McCarthy Will Call Authors To Testify
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) says he will call 10 writers before his Senate investigations subcommittee this week for questioning "the use of books by Communist authors in the U. S. to spread information program."

The 10, along with 12 other persons, will be subpoenaed to hearings to run from Wednesday through Friday, McCarthy said Sunday night, adding he still was having trouble finding some who "obviously are ducking."

McCarthy said those to be called include Dorothy Parker, Mrs. Paul Hollman, Carlisle Lamont, Lillian Hellman, Prof. Edwin T. Sledge, Prof. Frank Wilkinson, Anna Rich, Marguerite Stewart, Richard D. Boyer and Robert Kent.

Kent, primarily an artist and dramatist, said at his home in Asheville, N. C., he had received no subpoena and had heard nothing of any plan to call him.

Beauty Notes

Every baby is a potential beauty contest winner. In mother's eyes, that is.

Some mothers dream that their little girls will be great movie stars. Mothers of boy babies see and appreciate their children's common sense, racing down the field for the winning touchdown. It does a mother's heart good to dream the best for her young one.

Her personal ambitions for her baby, however, must be realized more in deeds than in thoughts. For it is through the love, affection, tenderness and training of her offspring that they develop into the beautiful, successful young ladies.

Good grooming is basic routine for a young lady. The little one's bath should start out by being a refreshing first time that is pleasant and delightful to the youngster. Delicate skin needs to be tended gently. Hands must be gentle in handling the bath-slippery body of a little baby. Soft wash cloths and towels and a tray of both essentials all contribute to a happy relaxed bath time.

Most mothers learn proper baby bath technique from their doctors and by observing hospital nurses. Instead of a chore, how to make baby's bath a pleasant event, mother should assemble all her necessities within easy reach. After the bath, having used a good baby soap, mother should apply a few drops of baby lotion in all the creases and folds of baby's delicate skin. If the lotion is a creamy oil and water emulsion it should lubricate and soften baby's skin. Apply it with a cotton ball with a gentle touch when using a baby towel which might irritate the little one. Whenever the diaper is changed, baby should receive the same careful and considerate treatment that mother offers during the bath period. The diaper period is hard on baby than it is on mother, apparently, so why not cater to the baby's whims? A gentle reassuring conversation is essential to his happiness at that point. Daily exercise may follow each bath period, with mother exercis-

Childhood Hints

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP News-features Writer

A child's mental balance, his emotional and spiritual well-being, his success in work in family and community life, all hinge on the way he is raised, brought up, other human beings.

I talked with Mrs. Victoria Wagner, principal of the Social Studies Society, Madison School, about the problem of human relationships. She is celebrating her 25th anniversary. She says, "The child has been brought up from the conception with this kind of education and the social understanding called for by the part of administrative leaders and parents. The child must develop these skills in the child."

This kind of education, she says, requires parents and teachers to be in contact with the child from the first days of his life. The child must be accepted and loved. He must be an active member of his group and the larger community. He must be given a chance to share. For example, in the Ethel Ross circle school, our "Shops" are actually social and educational in nature. Each child has a chance to share food and facilities, help one another with their work, and to be responsible for the needs of the group.

In addition, parents and teachers should learn the proper respect for materials and tools. They are taught to put things away, to handle them carefully and keep them clean and equipment in good shape not only making life easier for themselves but for the next class as well.

Spelling, writing and dictation are not the only things that should be taught. A child should be given a chance to express his own ideas and to be heard. He should be given a chance to be a leader and to be followed. He should be given a chance to be a follower and to be led. He should be given a chance to be a team player and to be part of a team. He should be given a chance to be a citizen and to be part of a community.

Teen Talk

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP News-features Writer

Now is the time to get your young ones ready for the future. Any of you who are looking for a way to do this, you should read this book.

It doesn't need to be a dreary one. It can be a great challenge. It all depends on you.

How to go about it is the key. What to say? How to say it? Many of these questions are answered in a timely new book called "Teen Talk" published by Oliver Boyden, a graduate of the University of Michigan and a contributor to high school students in the Cincinnati Ohio and Kentucky areas to help them formulate plans and ideas in respect to their future.

Information in the book is provided by some 50 prominent U.S. industries. They offer helpful information and brief statements on what training is needed for different jobs, the cost of education after graduation and what to expect from that job.

How to Be a Boy: Your Father's Career is an article in the book by Williams. It is an expression of confidence in the future and a challenge to the young man to be a man of the future. It is a book that you should read. It is a book that you should give to your young ones. It is a book that you should read.

Miss Marjorie Anderson Becomes Bride Of Samuel Charles Chapman

Miss Marjorie Alice Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Charles Arthur Anderson Jr. and the late Mr. Anderson, and granddaughter of Mrs. J. C. Hall of Lake Worth and Mrs. J. A. Anderson Sr. of Sanford, became the bride of Samuel Charles Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Chapman, in a double ceremony at the First Baptist church last Saturday, at 4:30 p.m. with Rev. W. P. Brooks Jr. officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with potted palms on the main and side altars and a large basket of gladioli and asters in the center. The pews were marked by ribbon and gladioli.

Miss Margaret Hunt, organist, rendered the traditional wedding marches, and during the ceremony played "The Old Churchyard" by Mrs. Evans McGee. Because of the double ceremony, the bride was escorted by her brother, Charles A. Anderson III, wearing a dress suit with a bow tie, and a stand-up collar, and a tall skirt over a starched skirt. A groomed groomsmen made of gold, more fresh cotton in a suit and white necktie.

Miss Betty Hall, maid of honor, wore a dress similar to that of the bride, but with a deep shade of blue. Robert Fries of Orlando was best man and Frank Anderson, brother of the bride, acted as usher.

The bride's mother, Mrs. C. A. Anderson Jr., wore a light blue and white dress with a white and blue patterned shawl. At her shoulder was a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Chapman's ensemble consisted of a pink tulle dress with a white and pink corsage.

Tommy Leonard Is Sanford's Hope For First F-S-L Batting Champion

Tommy Leonard, 24-year-old outfielder from Greenboro, N. C. who hopes to settle in Central Florida and teach school, is Sanford's lone hope of becoming the first batting champion of the Florida State League wearing a Celery City livery since the circuit was re-organized back in 1936. Not since Ralph Hyder narrowly missed copping the coveted title for another record in his Florida State League debut. The fielding sparkplug of this year's North-South All-Star game has smashed across 80 runs in the first 70 games he has played to rank second in the league only two short of leader Bama Rowell's loop leading total of 82.

Leonard, meanwhile, is third in the league with a robust 280 mark through games of last Thursday night. Only "Jolting Jack" Cade of DeLand with a leading .417 mark and Manager Red Treadway of Jax Beach at .384 are ahead of "Thumping Tommy."

Meanwhile, the Sanford Cardinals are maintaining their better than two stolen bases per game pace heading for a new Florida State League theft precedent. In games through Friday night, Sanford had amassed 147 stolen bases only 56 short of the league record of 213 set by Gainesville back in 1937.

Leading in the theft department are Manager J. C. Dunn, 21, closely followed by Bill Batty, 20, and Tom Leonard, 19. At the present projected rate, the Redbirds will filch 282 before the season ends

At the rate Cade is going, he may break the league record for hits, held by Bruce Barnes who got 217 while with Orlando in 1936. Cade had 118 and had 68 games to go for a new mark.

The week ending Thursday midnight was an action-filled one, bringing as a highlight President Jack Dempsey's decision to fine Chico Fundora of Leesburg $50 and suspend him for 30 days from midnight June 21 for laying hands on Umpire John Eich.

Leesburg officials have stormed his office with protests against the severity of the suspension, and have asked for a league meeting in Orlando Sunday afternoon, June 23, at 1 p.m., to air it and other matters. However, Dempsey has stated he will not consider the case at all during this season, or any other. "I will not lift the suspension," he said today.

As the new half opened, all players appeared to be treating it as their big chance to cash in on the $1,120 purse that goes to the pennant winning players. Unlike last year when the combined standings over the season figured in the play-off proceedings, this year the procedure has been simplified.

The team winning the first half meets the team winning the second half in a three out of five game play-off, first game to be played on the grounds of the team winning the first half. Winner of the Bama Rowell, 1935. The players on this team divide $1,120, and get their regular season salary, too. The clubs take the gate receipts, with the first half winner getting the odd gate as an extra incentive. If Daytona wins both halves, however, there'll be no play-off, its players dividing the pot before heading for home.

Orlando Slaps Fourth Straight Defeat On Cards, 4-2

Errors Wreck Ingram's 7-Hitter; Sanford Plays Leesburg Tonight

By KENT CHELAIN

For the first time in Sanford's career at four games losing streak, the Cards came up with a well pitched game only to lose when Tom Leonard committed two fielding errors that permitted three Orlando runs to score last night in the fatal fifth. Despite Clarence Ingram's seven-hit effort, Orlando won 4-2 in the Memorial Stadium before a small gathering of 374 fans.

Tonight, ace Ernie Palmeri is slated to go to the slab against the Lakera in Leesburg. "Earnest Ernie," whose 19-inning string of consecutive scoreless innings went out the window in Cocoa's five-run ninth inning eruption last Friday night, will be seeking his 10th victory of the season in 14 decisions.

Sanford had its first glimpse of Sonny Wise, phenomenal Orlando southpaw, since the All-Star game a week ago. Wise lasted but five innings, yielding two runs, both of which were unearned, before bowing out.

Reliever Bill Loftin held Sanford in line by blanking the locals the rest of the way. Meanwhile, Ingram went the distance in Cocoa's seventh loss of the season as against 10 triumphs. The 19-year-old from Albany, Ga., turned in his finest job since the 11th of the second half opened. Clarence Fannon seven, passed four all in the first frame — and allocated seven hits.

After a shaky start in which Orlando parlayed four walks and a double by Bill Shores into a run, Ingram settled down and retired the next 10 Senators in order. However, the visitors bunched four hits while Gary made errors on two plays to produce three more Orlando tallies that led the pitching duel.

The roof caved in when lanky first baseman Ed Whiteley doubled to lead off the fifth for Orlando. Wise hit a blooper behind third, which Gary had hit out on only to drop the ball. Whiteley holding second, Ingram whirled around and picked Whiteley off second. Gary making the tag. Ed Houseknecht stepped and then Gary bobbed. Bobby Nole's grounder leading the bases.

Jim Sloan singled home Wise and Houseknecht. Bill Shores singled home Nole to cap the uprising. Sanford scores its first and only run in the initial stanza when Whiteley dropped Sloan's throw on Tony Barone's grounder. Bill Batty reached first on Houseknecht's wild throw. Wise then leaved a wild pitch to advance Barone to third and Batty to second.

FASRON-51 Presses Only 1/2-Game Back

The close race for the City Men's Softball League pennant tightened up last Friday night as both leading Salvation Army and second place FASRON-51 won their games from bottom rung opponents.

Sal Army's warriors hung a top-sided 3-5 defeat on the hapless tail end National Guard at the Lakewood diamond last Friday night to keep a half game ahead of the determined sailors of FASRON-51.

Meanwhile, FASRON-51 stopped Robson's winning streak at two straight by whipping the Sporting Goodsmen, 8-1. Bill Wilson-Maler, which just a week ago was the toast of the league, fell a game behind the pace.

FASRON PLAYS WILSON'S

Third place Wilson-Maler could be first for place by beating FASRON-51 in the opener of tomorrow night's softball twin bill at the Lakewood diamond beginning at 7:30 p.m. Fourth place VC's will oppose the loop downrats—National Guard—in the nightcap at 9:00 o'clock.

In last Friday night's game, Sal Army exploded for 31 runs on 21 hits off the slants of Frank Kept the Guardians in line with a masterful flyball performance for the win. John Keeling hit a homer for the losers, but his feat was more than made up for by circuit bloopers off the bats of Pennington and ex-Seminole High School star Dil Sheffield.

Keeling and Pennington led the 21-hit onslaught with four hits each. Seminole High School stars

The Sanford Cardinals have made one little change in the playing roster after losing four straight games. . . Bill Samuels, ex-collegiate star from St. Louis who has been on the disabled list for the past three weeks, has been returned to active duty. Samuels suffered a muscle separation in his back as the result of throwing too hard when he first reported.

The blonde shortfielder was hitting .300 when he left the Cardinal lineup. He probably will take over Lou Gary's post at shortstop. Gary committed two costly errors last night that enabled Orlando to score three runs and defeat Sanford, 4-2.

Gary was hitting only .150 in his 40 games with Sanford.

Meanwhile Walter Mitchell, a 2-2 pitcher, has been called home and placed on the inactive list. . . General Manager Jim Fields is conferring with lower Cardinal Farm Director George Silvey for player help. . . It has been rumored that Sanford will receive two pitchers within a week. Mitchell who returned home because of the illness of his father may not report.

The slender righthander has completed only one game since coming here last month and has lost his last two games, also failing to deliver in relief roles.

The big problem on the Cards this second half is the lack of adequate pitching. . . Ingram, who has been sick and in a run-down condition generally turned in two poor performances and a bad relief stint before finally looking like his old self last night. But Gary's errors and the Cardinal batting impotency coupled to the Senators' victory.

If Silvey and the Card Organization can answer Fields' distress signal in time, Sanford should live up to expectations in this last half.

Speaking of the Cardinal organization, here are some St. Louis farm club notes compiled by the meticulous publicity director, H. Ralph Buxton:

"The Rochester Red Wings completed a recent road trip of a sweet note, thanks largely to the booming bat of Philadelphia's Charlie Kras. The big, lefthanded-swinging first baseman smashed a triple and home run, scored three times himself, to help down the Baltimore Orioles, 5-3. Kras, who has a .280 clip in A-A International League competition so far this season. He played 124 games at Columbus, O., last year and hit .287, driving in 87 runs.

"Rapid Robert Hauber helped the Hamilton, Ont., Cardinals celebrate the raising of the 1932 Pony League pennant flag by tossing a four-hitter at the Olean Yankees while his teammates set off their bats like giant firecrackers in racking a lopsided 19-3 win. Hauber, who won a no-hit, no-run game against Olean Aug. 19 last year, fanned 11 Yankees while giving the route Outfielder John Stachta provided the big guns of the evening for the Class D contingent with four safeties.

"Righthander Charlie Forrest of Boulder, Colo., scattered eight singles by the Stockton Ports as he fent the July 10-innings to give the Fresno, Calif., Cardinals a hard-earned 4-3 win over their Class C California League rivals. The victory was the fifth for Forrest against just two losses. He has fanned 14 batters in 68 innings work this season.

"Fans who see Outfielder Billy McGehee and Pitcher Jack Roberts of the Columbus, Ga., Red Birds chatting with gusto in the dugout dugout between innings, should be surprised. The two have plenty to talk about. McGehee and Roberts probably are talking over old times in their hometown of Gainesville, Fla. Both played on the same American League team as youngsters in the northeast Georgia city and now are teammates again. Roberts is a former University of Georgia hurler who just recently entered the professional ranks in the Cardinal organization.

"Little Mo Mozall from Louisville, Ky., put on a one-man hitting show recently in St. Paul as he helped the Columbus, O., Red Birds and Fibelbacher, Wilbur Schmidt down the Saints, 3-1. Mozall, who has been hitting near the .310 mark, accounted for all three Red Bird RBIs."

"Classy Righthander Billy Joe Bowman recorded his tenth win of the Class D Appalachian League season as the Johnson City, Tenn., Cards edged out Wytheville, 4-3. Bowman, a native of Johnson City struck out six batters in a row in the third and fourth frames. The former University of Tennessee moundman is scheduled to be inducted into the Army on June 30. Bowman holds the rank of reserve lieutenant in the Transportation Corps.

"Managerial Oil's St. Joseph, Mo., Cardinals are rapidly gaining the reputation of spoilers of competition. When the Topeka Owls drove to win only two games of the Cardinals' first place slot in the Class C Western Association race, the Owls promptly swept a double-header from the Kansas, stopping the Topeka Express in its tracks. Fred Koenig, 6-foot-3, 216-pound first baseman from St. Louis, helped give the Red Birds the victory in the first game as he smacked three double batters in a 5-2 win. The second game was decided in the twelfth on Outfielder Bob Smith's solid single scoring Teammate Glenn Zimmerman with the winning tally in a 10-9 game.

"Frank DeMichele of New York City has the distinction of being the youngest player in the Cardinal organization. The Paducah, Ky., first baseman celebrated his seventeenth birthday Apr. 16. He is 6-foot-1 and weighs 181 pounds.

"The Cardinals' Ardmore, Okla., farm club went on a rampage winning 15 consecutive games, coming within one victory of tying the all-time Class D Sooner State League record of 16 straight. The Cardinal Sooner State Leaguers started their drive while in fifth place and are now in first place by two full games. Ardmore's consecutive streak ended as they were edged out by Lawton, 6-5, in 10 innings.

Samuels Returns To Active List; Mitchell Leaves

Bill Samuels, star prep and collegiate shortstop who was signed this spring by the St. Louis Cardinals and assigned to Sanford, has been returned to the active list following a three-week lay-off due to a muscle separation in his back. Samuels, who was hitting at a torrid .300 clip, incurred the injury while throwing too hard following a nine-month rest during the winter. The lanky six-foot blonde was taken off the disabled list this morning. It was announced today by Card General Manager Jim Fields.

Meanwhile, Fields reported that 4-foot-4 righthander, Walter Mitchell, had returned home because of the illness of his father. Mitchell was placed on the inactive list.

The tall orthodox flinger, who has completed only one game since coming to Sanford in early May, won his first two games and has been charged with two straight defeats in the last two weeks. He has failed to impress Manager J. C. Dunn in his last three relief roles.

Fields refused to comment on the reported rumor that Mitchell will be released. The Sanford GM did say that St. Louis has promised to send pitching help in the next 10 days. Fields conferred with Cardinal lower farm director George Silvey via long distance phone, requesting a pair of pitchers immediately.

Sportsmen To Elect Officers Tomorrow

The Seminole County Sportsman's Association will hold its annual election of officers in the Court House tomorrow evening. It was announced last Saturday by Mrs. James S. Ekern. The election was originally slated for last Thursday's meeting, but was postponed until tomorrow night.

President R. Z. Johnson will preside at the meeting beginning at 8:00 p.m. Also on the agenda will be a discussion to decide what the members want to recommend for the 1953-54 hunting rules and regulations. Mrs. Ekern urged all members to be present.

Most of the hour and 15 minute meeting was occupied with exchanges of words between the Husbos and Dempsey.

FSL Prexy Refuses To Change Decision

ORLANDO — Heated words were about all that came of a special meeting of Florida State League directors here Sunday.

Leesburg owners Paul Husbos and Wendell Husbos, who asked the meeting, protested to Jack Dempsey, league president from St. Augustine, his 30-day suspension of Chico Fundora.

Fundora was suspended for reportedly laying his hands on an umpire in a game at Sanford.

Dempsey refused to review the Fundora case.

SOME MORE

In answer to the old question of "who has more fun than humans," we'll have to reply that monkeys and dogs do. Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Somers Timmer dropped out to Myers' Fishing Camp on the shores of Lake Jessup. There we saw quite an act put on by Mickey, the monkey, and like the dog he was being hounded by a persistent flea, but didn't waste time in chasing it himself. No sir, he just added it to his list.

McInnis, pointed out that religious faith is but an honest effort to find out what life is all about. He declared that everything in life that is worthwhile requires discipline. In answer to those persons who go fishing on Sunday mornings instead of attending church in the belief that when they are out-of-doors they are close to God, the chaplain said: "When I go fishing, I'm afraid that I don't have some thing on my mind—I'm just wondering if the bass under the lily pad is going to go for my bait or not. The bass comes up and the lily pads talk and also sidestep talk to listen to the First Methodist Church program broadcast each Sunday night with Charlie Morris on doing an excellent job of leading the singing.
