Farr has served on the board since July 1. 1990, having been elected twice.

"I just wanted to avoid any problems with conflict of interest," he said. "There could come a time when my board membership and job with the chamber could come in conflict, so I thought it better to pull out of the board."

He continued. "I talked it over with the Chamber President (Larry Strickler) and he agreed that there may come a time when it would be best for me to resign from the Civil Service Board, so I felt the best would be to do it now.'

Correction

Due to incomplete election information, a story in Thursday's Sanford Herald contained a misstatement about Sanford's District 1 city commission primary and runnoff results last year.

In the Dec. 8 primary, Bill Kirchner led incumbent Lon Howell by 8.7 percentage points. Following the Dec. 22, runoff, Howell retained his office with a 18.6-point lead over Kirchner.

In addition to two open heart surgical suites. The Center will have 12 surgical intensive care unit (SiCU) beds located adjacent to the surgical suites.

"The Heart Center will have a great impact in a number of areas," according to Dr. Lawrence Vallario, invasive cardiologist and director of the Cardio Catheterization Laboratory. "We will be able to climb another rung in the ladder in supplying the most updated care for our patients.

"It assures patients that one physician will be there for them throughout the entire procedure," he said. "We deal with a lot of elderly people and for them to get on I-4 and drive to Princeton will be no more. The care here in the community means we will avoid inherent problems of transporting patients. It provides a full scope of capabilities for our community.

'My patients are so excited about the new facility that I have had three of them say they wanted to wait for their procedures to be done after the Center opens," Vallario said. "Of course I explained to them that this may not be possible, but I was surprised by their enthuslasm. I thought only the medical community would react in that wav."

The structural addition has been planned with the help of not only architectural specialists in open heart projects but also with the physicians and surgical team that will be utilizing the facility.

"Everything here has been set up to maximize the quality of the center," Vallario said. "It looks like something out of 'Star Trek."

Cardiovascular Surgeons, PA, a leading Central Florida open heart surgical group, will provide surgical services. The group, led by Meredith Scott, M.D., who was raised in Sanford. performs over 3,000 open heart procedures each year.

"I grew up in Sanford," said Winsor. "This is a tremendous growth opportunity for the area. The impact of this kind of facility is going to make more people aware of the services available and open a lot of doors in that respect.

"Personally this is the most exciting thing that has ever happened to me," she said. "I've had 17 years of experience, 12 years open heart experience at Florida Hospital, it's really neat to come home to affect change in a community you were raised in.

"What I've learned at Florida Hospital will allow me to take that knowledge and apply it to a facility with the very best equipment, a customized facili-

"The nurses that will be directly affected by this unit are very excited about working and cross training." according to Winsor, "They all have open heart experience and critical care background.

"The nurses in the step down units are excited too because it will expose them to new opportunities," she said.

With the amplified expansion. renovations and additions the hospital has taken on the charges for service at the hospital will remain the same.

There will be no cost shifting of hospital services on other service levens," according to Vinson. "The state controls price increases," according to Vinson. "If I put $100 million into this hospital I can't up the cost of services because the State Legislature won't allow it. "Actually The Heart Center income is going to offset costs in other areas of the hospital," he added. "For example, one heart may help pay for two or three indigent cases.

'Floats for Funds' boost schools

By NICK PFEIFAUF Herald Stalf Writer

SANFORD - Winn Dixle, A&W Root Beer, and high school students from the area will be joining together this Saturday and Sunday to raise money for local school projects.

Students will be selling root beer floats at Winn Dixie stores between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. The 16 ounce floats will be selling for $1 each, with all proceeds going to the schools.

Called "Floats for Funds," the event was held in May of this year, at which time students raised approximately $9,000. The aim for this month's campaign is to top that amount.

Locally, schools and organizations which will be involved in the drive this weekend include: the Seminole High School dance team which will be at the Winn Dixle store at 1514 French Avenue in Sanford; the color guard from Lyman High School, at the store located at 951 S.R. 434 in Longwood, and Altamonte High's Cheerleaders at 7800 S. Highway 17-92.

In all, students from 38 separate schools will be fanning out throughout Central Florida, at 48 Winn Dixie stores.

According to Larry Beck, marketing director of Winn Dixie, "We try hard to support the schools in the communities in which we operate. Winn Dixie is pleased with this opportunity to show our support in helping out the students of our local schools. and we encourage the community to come out and offer their support."

Money raised will be used in supporting ancillary organizations such as marching bands and cheerleading squads, which depend heavily on external fundralsing to help with travel costs, uniforms, and contest

Winn Dixie and A&W have donated the ice cream, root beer, straws and cups for the event. "It's an effort to help the schools cut down on the event expenses and raise more money," Beck said. A third "Floats for Funds" program is already being planned during the weekend of Sept. 18 and 19.

With a November opening scheduled for the newly renovated Sanford Museum, Alicia Clark, curator, Howard Jefferies, grounds maintenance coordinator, right, and Larry White, of the parks department, scope out the remaining work to be done. Floridians ignorant of state government

By Associated Press

FORT LAUDERDALE - A survey suggests Florida residents are sorely lacking basic knowledge of state government, where 20 percent of those interviewed didn't know Lawton Chiles was the governor of the state.

Researchers at Florida Atlantic University's Institute of Government in Fort Lauderdale also found residents didn't grasp Florida's tax structure.

About 74 percent correctly said the state sales tax is 6 percent, but 12 percent said there is no sales tax. Fourteen percent incorrectly answered yes when asked if the state has an income tax. Another 8 percent weren't sure.

Sanford budget $14 million

By NICK PFEIFAUF Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Only two workshop meetings were required for the Sanford City Commission's examination of the fiscal 1993/94 preliminary budget. It will be presented for formal hearings and adoption probably during September commission meetings.

By that time, a number of additional changes will be made in the budget request as a result of the commission work shops.

As presented at the beginning of the work shops, the Sanford General Fund budget request stands at $14,029,908. The amount is only slightly lower than the 1992/93 adjusted budget.

The first subject of this week's workshop meeting was the police department budget.

City Manager Bill Simmons had already examined and fine-tuned each line item.

prior to submitting the initial budget requests to the commission.

The total police budget recommended by the city manager for fiscal year 1993/94 is proposed at $4,555,958. Unless additional reductions are made, the amount is $165,000 more than last year's request of $4,390,955.

The budget recommendations submitted by Fire Chief Tom Hickson required only four minutes of discussion by members of the commission before it was accepted. Simmons had trimmed $55,503 from Hickson's original requests, mostly from reductions in operating expenses and the elimination of a request for a vehicle replacement, estimated at a cost of $22,763.

The total Fire Department budget for 1993/94 is presently estimated at $2.581,011, $54,000 above the adopted adjusted budget from this previous year.

The Parks and Recreation Department, along with grounds maintenance and cultural and recreational facilities was reduced by approximately $200,000 from the original request by Director Mike Kirby. As the commission discussed various line items, the budget was reduced by $9,644 more, with the elimination of a requested motor vehicle replacement.

The total Parks and Recreation budget stands at $1,426,783. The amount is almost $500,000 lower than the adjusted budget for fiscal year 1992/93.

In presenting the budget recommendations, Simmons had projected no reduction in city services, equitable compensation for city employees, and a balanced budget with no ad valorem tax increase above the present millage, but without accepting the roll-back rate.

Formal budget hearings are expected to be held in September.

SANFORD — Seminole County will take a cautious look at purchasing Katie's Wektva River Landing to provide the county's first public access to the river.

Commissioners said use of natural lands bond money would be unacceptable to voters for the business acquisition, but they agreed to review the $600,000 proposal under their parks and recreation program.

Russell Moncrief said he and his wife, campground namesake Katie Moncrief, are gaining in age and want to be free of the debt and responsibility of the 5.7-acre recreational vehicle camp and canoe launch they bought in 1974. Moncrief said the $600.000 asking price is the appraised value of the campground, less portable cabins and canoes, based on it's income potential.

But commissioners found the price a bit steep, especially compared to a nearby five-acre river-front site the county may buy for $176,000. The site is largely undeveloped and has a meeting hall but no boat ramp. Katie's has the boat ramp and dock, a residence, store and a restroom and shower facility. Logan said the tax value of the property and buildings is $277,000.

The county's Natural Lands Committee ranked the campground in their second-highest

Commission's decision wise

With an eye toward airport growth, Seminole County commissioners boldly spoke their minds this week, delaying three construction projects to focus on the connector road between Silver Lake Drive and the new entrance to the Sanford airport.

"Economic development has been on our minds as we look to moving forward on this project," County Manager Ron Rabun told commissioners, who agreed.

Good for them.

Building of the 3,000-foot strip was not scheduled to begin until 1996. The commission is to be commended for working with the Airport Authority to meet the construction schedule for the access road. County Engineer Jerry McCollum said design work will begin in about three weeks. The airport already has in place state and federal funding in excess of $3 million earmarked for two-and four-lane sections of the access road between the airport and the Silver Lake Drive extension.

Airport Director Steve Cook says the extension will make it easier to reach the airport from the expressway. He is encouraged that industrial development and commercial growth in the area will follow.

Traffic congestion along Airport Boulevard and Wylly Avenue, estimated at between 7,000 and 8,000 cars a day, is also expected to be eliminated.

Prioritizing projects, delaying three lessneeded ones in favor of extending Silver Lake Drive to the airport, will spur economic development: exactly what commissioners have ingping.

Little League shame

Another Little League season has ended with Sanford's Little Major League All Star team traveling to Ormond Beach for the second round of post-season play. The team did not fare too well, but the boys' courage, hustle, and behavior were exemplary; Sanford should be proud of them.

Not so with the adults. After only a few practices, the head coach and his assistant quit when confronted with self-serving adults maneuvering for position from which to satisfy their own egos

From there it was mostly downhill.

Blatant favoritism was the rule. Eighteen boys were selected as All-Stars. Almost half hardly played at all in five games.

The boys witnessed ugly, almost violent confrontations, between parents and coaches.

The Sanford Recreation Department was aware of these and other elements of this post-season flasco and has, in my opinion, failed to keep the best interests of the children at hand.

As a result of this, the kids come away somewhat tainted. Little League baseball is a wonderful thing. The purest form of a great sport. Children having fun. To those adults who would taint these pure ballplayers, shame on you.

Daniel Sperry Sanford

Editor's note: Rocky Ellingsworth, Sanford Recreation Department, responds: "Mr. Sperry is pretty much right." Ellingsworth says during Little League play, it is customary for all children to take their turn at bat to learn the fundamentals of the game, but in All Stars, the focus is to win. Although Ellingsworth said he personally dislikes the practice of playing a limited number of kids to win, because to him, all the kids are stars. All Stars functions that way.

One change Ellingsworth noted is that next year only 12 or 13 kids will play on the team instead of Coaches, parents and players did scuffle, as Mr. Sperry's letter indicates, but what Mr. Sperry did not know, according to Ellingsworth, is that coaches and parents were split up and ballplayers were told, on the field with coaches present, that what they saw was not right and was a poor example of proper behavior. Coaches were then talked to separately.

Ellingsworth regrets that Mr. Sperry did not come to him personally with his concerns, and assures him the door is always open when it comes to the kids and baseball. And Mr. Sperry is invited to become a coach and gain another perspective on Little League play.

times a judge's ideological predilections have been factored into his ruling.

At any give time in history, the law is ONLY what a group of judges or juries declare it to be. "The common law is not a brooding omnipresence in the sky," wrote Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., "but the articulate voice of some sovereign or quasi-sovereign that can be

But when a court rules that the law leaves little alternative, the court is treating the law as if it were indeed some "brooding" - and static -omnipresence in the sky.

Suppose Jessica had lived 16 years with the DeBoers, but had never been adopted. Would the courts seriously contend that the child should be returned to the biological parents, even though those parents had not seen or related to the child in any way for 16 years?

Would the courts order a child returned to her biological parents if they were demonstrably unfit or if they have a record of chronic child abuse?

The questions answer themselves. Because the DeBoers had demonstrated good faith by persistently trying to adopt Jessica, both the lowa and Michigan courts should have taken those efforts into consideration.

Did team seek personal profit?

Panetta have investigated the firing of the seven-member staff of the White House Travel Office. Their recently released 80-page report finds that four White House staffers acted "inappropriately." However, the actions of the four were said merely to be "mistakes of judgment, mistakes of inexperience."

While the report is strikingly self-critical, it also serves to exonerate higher-ups in the White House. More importantly, in the words of Panetta, it found "there were no criminal violations involved here." In order to reach this finding, however, the White House has interpreted the evidence in a clearly self-serving

However, without much of a stretch, the same evidence yields a much different conclusion namely that things were done for personal financial gain, that higher-ups were involved. and that laws were probably broken.

The two central players in the affair were Catherine Cornelius, 25, a distant cousin of the president, and her boyfriend, Jeff Eller, now White House deputy communications director.

Cornelius was involved in planning campaign travel for the Clinton camp. Apparently, during a Clinton transition-team visit to the White House, Eller discovered the Travel Office was staffed by career employees. He reported back to Cornelius that he had found her the perfect job.

The report confirms earlier press stories that the two met with David Watkins - then a transitional official, now White House director of administration - to urge that the Travel Office staff be replaced with campaign loyalists led by Cornelius. In fact, she authored three memos suggesting reorganization plans.

Finally, the Clintonites arrived at the White House. In a pace that has become the norm for this administration, days turned into weeks, then months, and still the Travel Office incumbents remained. It seems clear that, frustrated, Cornelius and Eller stepped up the pressure. Enter first friend, Hollywood producer Harry Thomason.

Thomason owns one-third of a charter airline booking company run by Darnell Martens. Thomason has said he became concerned the Travel Office was not being run in a businesslike manner when Martens was unable to bid for press charters. He passed along his concerns to a number of people, including Watkins, who began an entirely appropriate investigation.

Just as plausible an explanation, however, is that Cornelius - who had done business with Martena' booking company during the campaign - either went to him for help or the two found each other after Martens failed to get White House business. Martens then turned to Thomason, who seemed to have taken on the Travel Office as a crusade.

Thomason lobbled people in the White House

WASHINGTON - White House Chief of Staff about the situation, and sat in on several Thomas McLarty and Budget Director Leon meetings on the subject. Little happened until he got first lady Hillary Clinton interested. Reportedly, she spoke to both Watkins and to Deputy White House Counsel Vincent Foster, a former partner at her Little Rock, Ark., law firm.

Things began to move quickly. Watkins approved a plan by Cornelius in which she would be placed in the Travel Office to dig up evidence that could be used to fire the seven incumbents. Not surprisingly, she came back with tales of mismanagement and worse. She said that employees were living lifestyles far too lavish for their government salaries and must be stealing or getting kickbacks.

Foster turned the matter over to his deputy. Associate Counsel William Kennedy. Kennedy called the FBI and demanded it undertake a criminal investigation. When he didn't get a quick response, he went over the heads of those he called originally and demanded instant action. Meanwhile. Eller anonymously briefed reporters about dire things that had happened in the Travel Office, suggesting illegalities. The accounting firm of Peat Marwick was brought in, but, before its work was finished, the seven

Travel Office employees were fired. Cornelius was placed in charge of the office. A close friend of Martens, Penny Sample, was brought in as a "volunteer" to help run the

It now turns out that, while Peat Marwick found accounting problems in the Travel Office, it did not find enough evidence - let alone the rampant criminality suggested by Cornelius - to support dismissing anyone.

Thomason has raised a "too rich to steal" defense of his actions - that he is too wealthy to worry about money his company might have made from White House business. The report finds this defense "entirely plausible."

However, just as plausible is that what happened here was a financial coup aimed at taking over the Travel Office and putting money in the pockets of the participants -Cornelius, by giving her an important, highpaid job: Martens and Thomason, by giving them charter business.

Republican cruise doesn't leave dock

WASHINGTON - Sen. Bob Dole, R Kan., who has spent months trying to torpedo the Clinton administration, was recently forced to abandon ship himself.

Dole had been planning to set sail down the Potomac River for a fund-raiser aboard a luxury cruise liner. He even took a jab at President Clinton by christening his floating fund-raiser "The Kansas Boat House Cruise!" an allusion to a joke that backfired on Clinton and emboldened Dole earlier this

We called Dole last week to inform him that his cruise was on the verge of violating two federal laws. Within 24 hours, he abandoned ship. Dole is still having the July 30 fund-raiser, but it will be aboard the American-flagged Dandy, a dinner boat that holds just 200 passengers.

Ed Didion, who was the intermediary between Dole and the owner of the cruise liner, told us that he didn't think this law applied because Dole's guests were "just boarding the ship for the function" instead of taking a full cruise and were not staying "in rooms." But Dole offered a "special overnight package." In exchange for a $5,000 donation to his personal political action committee. Campaign America, a couple could stay overnight in one of the ship's deluxe suites.

Otherwise, the PAC charged $1,500 a person for just cocktails, dinner, Broadwayshow entertainment and the chance to mingle with Dole and other members of the Republican leadership. Campaign America collects contributions and then distributes them to various Republican candidates across the country. It's a time-honored way of winning friends and laying the groundwork for perhaps another Dole run for the White House in 1996.

For Dole, the fund-raiser does not come a moment too soon. The Senate recently passed a campaign-finance reform bill that would ban such PACs, so the cruise down the Potomac may be one of Campaign America's last hurrahs.

The second law the cruise would have violated, the Passenger Notification Act. states that "all promotional literature ... through any medium of communication in the United States offering passage or soliciting passengers for ocean voyages anywhere in the world" has to mention which country the vessel is registered in. Dole's PAC failed to make this disclosure.

JoAnne Coe, executive director of Campaign America, told our associate Ed Henry that the PAC would have made a clarification in its follow-up correspondence for the event. "Neither Sen. Dole nor his guests would (participate) in any event that would not comply fully with the appropriate federal regulations, so that's why I pulled the plug on the Crown Monarch," said Coe after our motion claimed the state had not presented sufficient evidence to convict Mahone of first degree murder. When all of the testimony was finished, another defense motion was submitted and the judge ruled favorably.

Regarding the surprise ending to the case. Stone commented, "I think that Judge Dickey substituted his personal judgment for that of the Jury. It is something that should have gone to the jury. It was a jury question all of the way and I just completely disagree with Judge Dickey's ruling as a matter of fact and as a matter of law."

The judge's ruling is the equivalent to a not guilty verdict. No other charge will be illed against Mahone in the case.

Stone explained, "If the judge felt so strongly about the case, he could have let the case go to the jury, if the jury had found him not guilty, fine. If the jury had found him guilty, the judge could have thrown the case out after the jury verdict. If he did that, I would be able to appeal that. Since he did it before the case was given to the jury. I cannot appeal it. If he did it after the case was given to the jury and they came back with a guilty verdict and then he threw it out, I could have appealed it and the Appellate Courts would have made the decision. They would have said. Judge Dickey was right for throwing the jury verdict out or he was wrong for throwing the jury verdict out. we'll reinstate the jury verdict." Making the ruling as he did.

WASHINGTON - Gay rights advocates say they will sue quickly if President Clinton's policy on homosexuals in the military provides anything less than "full equality."

"We will be bringing a lawsuit against a policy we believe is unconstitutional." William Rubenstein of the American Civil Liberties Union's lesbian and gay rights project said Thursday. "If the president doesn't grant full equality, this ultimately could end up in the Supreme Court.'

Clinton is expected to announce a new policy soon, perhaps today, to replace the military's 50-year ban on homosexuals

Sources in the gay community say Defense Secretary Les Aspin has told White House officials that the Joint Chiefs of Staff will accept only a policy allowing homosexuals to serve as long as they refrain from public declarations of their sexual orientation.

That's similar to the "don't ask, don't tell" policy suggested by Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

That's not good enough, gay rights advocates say.

'Such a policy is an unconstitutional restriction on free speech and a violation of equal-protection rights, because it both prohibits you from speaking and forces you to lie. The government can't say you can be Jewish and serve in the military as long as you don't tell anybody you're Jewish. We believe the same rationale applies here," he said.

About an equal-protection claim, Rubenstein said, "The military cannot ban homosexual sodomy without banning heterosexual sodomy as well."

Chai Feldblum, a Georgetown University law professor and legal adviser to the Campaign for Military Service, a gay-rights group, said an equal-protection challenge could succeed.

"There's a trend in the courts to granting gay people greater rights under the 14th Amendment's equal protection provision," she said. "The Supreme Court in 1986 foreclosed challenges based on personal privacy so a new route was needed.

The high court ruled seven years ago that states may make homosexual sodomy a crime.

The court for years has ducked ruling on the constitutionality of the military's ban on homosexuals, despite plenty of litigation over it in lower courts.

A federal judge in California struck down the ban as unconstitutional in January, ruling that it violated equal-protection by Keith Meinhold, a Navy sonar down the road.

"It violates free speech operator who was discharged after he announced on a television program that he's homosexual.

8 skinheads arrested in alleged violent plot to foment race war

By LINDA DEUTSCH AP Special Correspondent

LOS ANGELES - Eight skinheads were arrested in an alleged plot to foment race war by blowing up a black church and assassinating Rodney King

The suspects - members of a neo-Nazi group called the Fourth Reich Skin Heads - were arrested in raids in four Southern California counties Thursday.

The plotters wanted to "help start a race war." FBI agent Charlie Parsons said. "We prevented despicable and violent acts from occurring." The alleged ringleader, Chris Fisher, and his young followers discussed assassinating King on Aug. 4. when the two policemen convicted of violating the black motorist's civil rights were to be sentenced, law enforcement officials said. "Fisher said he had been thinking of targeting a baseball player or Rodney King," according to court papers. "Fisher said he felt King would be a better target." No ballplayers were mentioned by name in the court papers.

The white supremacists also allegedly planned to bomb the First African Methodist Episcopal Church in South Central Los Angeles and mow down its members with machine-gun fire. They also talked of assassinating such figures leader Louis Farrakhan and rap music star Eazy E, the FBI said. At a news conference, federal agents displayed Uzi machine guns, pipe bombs, rifles and handguns, as well as Nazi uniforms and pictures

as New York activist Al Sharpton. Nation of Islam

"I never feel safe," King told reporters Thursday. The acquittal in state court of the four white officers charged in his beating touched off last year's riots.

"I, like many other persons, do feel a little frightened when threats are made." King said. "but this is one chapter in my life that I'd like to shut the door on."

In a 14-year investigation, an undercover FBI agent was introduced to Fisher's group by an informant posing as a clergyman for a white supremacist church. The agent was so convincing that he persuaded the skinheads to entrust him with their guns and bombs for safekeeping. authorities said.

Fisher, 20, of Long Beach, was the only one charged specifically with conspiring to attack the church, a major hub for South Central's black

Five other adults were charged with weapons offenses: Geremy Rineman, 22, and Jill Scarborough, 22, both of Orange County; Josh Lee, 23, of Costa Mesa; and Chris Nadai, 35, and

Two unidentified minors also were arrested, but the charges weren't disclosed.

Fisher, Lee and Nadal were held without bail. Mrs. Nadal was freed on $25,000. Rineman and Scarborough were released without bail.

Nadal is a flight engineer for Continental Airlines and was suspended Thursday without pay. His wife is a real estate saleswoman. The other suspects' occupations were not immediate-

Fisher was arrested as he and two juveniles were preparing a letter bomb intended for an Orange County rabbl, authorities said.

Court papers said Fisher boasted of a Feb. 12. pipe bomb attack on the home of a member of the Spur Posse, the Lakewood high school gang of athletes accused of sexually assaulting girls for points. The bomb damaged the home but injured

Fisher said the posse member was targeted because he was half Asian and half Mexican and ... he embarrassed the white race," court papers

Fisher also told undercover agents he had thrown a Molotov cocktall at a synagogue without causing damage, and bragged of a pipe bomb attack on a black man in the city's Paramount district, according to court papers. It was not immediately known if the man was hurt.

Despite their bloody plans, the group was 'unsophisticated," Parsons said. For instance, Parsons said, members didn't know, despite weeks of publicity, that Nelson Mandela visited the church a week ago.

Byars becomes a Dolphin Associated Press

DAVIE - Suddenly needing help at fullback. the Miami Dolphins turned to a favorite source of players — the Philadelphia Eagles.

Keith Byars became the latest Philly free agent to join the Dolphins when he signed a two-year contract for an estimated $2.4 million.

Thursday's acquisition came simultaneously with the retirement of fullback Tony Paige. Byars rejoins former Eagles — running back Mark Higgs, offensive tackle Ron Heller, defensive tackle Mike Golic and tight end Keith Jackson.

Heller and Golic were free agents signed in the off-season, and Jackson came over last year after being designated an unrestricted free agent. Higgs was a Plan Bacquisition in 1990.

"Keith brings a lot of versatility to our offense as well as durability." coach Don Shula said. "He's missed one game in the last five years. He'll carry the ball, block for the other back, and shift to outside receiver" in passing situations.

The 29-year-old Byars wasn't happy when the Eagles moved him to tight end after the departure of Jackson. He chose Miami for three reasons.

"Money is one of the three, but how I fit into the offense is No. 2 - feeling comfortable with the role coach Shula asked me makes me feel right at home," said Byars, who has pirchased a home in Boca Raton. "Third is my family. I wouldn't go to a team where my family wouldn't be happy.

David Showers of St. Augustine and Gary Flynn of Holly Hill from the race and knocked pole sitter Joe Kump of Hollywood from the lead. George took the lead and Purvis took to chasing.

But then on lap 17, as George and Purvis were closing in on lapped Bill Kopka after the front straightaway. George tried to turn the nose of his car inside Kopka, while Purvis took the high road around both Kopka and George.

Kopka, trying to get out of the way, slipped to the top of the track on the backstretch, but stayed in George's way long enough for Purvis to build enough of a lead to nail down his second VCS trophy.

George held on for second, with Kump. Rob Underwood of Pierson and Mark Paternitt of Daytona rounded out the top

Chuck Bossinger of Jacksonville was looking like another double-winner for the track in the South Eastern Mini-Sprint Association main event, running from the pole position to lead for all but the last two laps of the 15-lap feature.

But Denton, second to Bossinger a week ago, pushed the nose of his car tight into turn three on lap 13 and flew around Bossinger on the inside coming out of turn four ot beat last week's winner back to the start/finish line and held on for the final two laps.

"I was just having fun." Denton said, trying to make light of the serious way he attacked the track and the rest of the field.

Denton and Bossinger led Bob Shaffer. Tom Misuraca and Mike Thomas to the checkered flag.

Layman, running the Bishop's Automotive/All Florida Fence/Layman Waste Well Construction Buick, powered his way from the outside of row three on the start to the front by the end of the first lap, then proceeded to run away from the rest of the pack for his first victory on the track.

But it wasn't all roses for Layman.

'We picked up a bad vibration in the motor," Layman said. "I backed off the last five laps trying to save the car."

Layman led the way as Brian Bales of Holly Hill, last week's winner, finished second. Stacey Mathen of Bunnell, Jimmy Heffner of Holly Hill and Johnny Westfall, also of Holly Hill, completed the top five.

Scott Nelson drove his Nelson Plumbing of St. Augustine Special to the head of the pack by the end of the first lap of the Mini-Stock feature to race to the checkered flag for his second win ahead of Ronnie Ponce of Palm Valley, Marvin Taylor, Chuck Smith and Scott Lawson.

Kriser sat on the pole and led from start to finish in the Hobby Stocks, with train of Alan Moore, Scott Stevens and Jerry Poffenberger to the checkered flag.

Dirt track racing continues tonight at Volusia County Speedway, with gates opening at 5 p.m. and racing starting at 8 pl.m.

Hunter's win in the 30-lap Volusia Performance Late Model Stock feature was his second of the season, but the big winner in the division was bson, who placed second be ehind Hunter but earned enough points to take over the lead in the Winston Racing Series by one point over Tony Ponder.

Ponder, of DeLand, blew his engine half-way through the race and ended up last among the nine cars taking the green flag. Gibson now has 1,875 points to 1874 for Ponder. Hunter, from DeLeon Springs, is third with 1,799 points.

"I could have used some more bite late in the race." Hunter said of his Fabco Manufacturing/Fieser Dairy Products Pontiac Firebird that got very loose in the final 10 laps. "But other than that, I don't have anything to complain about. We're going to keep on trying. Hopefully, we'll come out on top a few more times.

Hunter and Gibson led the way across the start/finish line with Jim Grotha, Kenny West and Mike Luddeni rounding out the top five.

Clegg, turning in his fourth win of the season. led the way over Rusty Ebersole, Sanford's Karl Stairs, Bill Morris and John Warrington in the Kinco Windows & Doors Sportsman Division. Points leader David Ponder had a horrible night. losing his own car in the hot laps, then blowing up a "loaner" car from Mark Stevenson to wind up sixth in the feature.

Ebersole's second place finish and Ponder's misfortune's tightened up the points race in the Sportsman Division as Ponder only leads Ebersole by six points now.

Laughlin had his Your Season Ticket Sports Pub Chevrolet Camaro of Port Orange on a rail in the Budget Mobile Homes Street Stock feature. getting some heat from runnerup Todd Stevens.

but leaving the rest of the pack to battle for third. Ray Fulford paced the second pack ahead of Jeff Miller, Roger Wrenn, Chris Lawrence and Robert Young. Gilliard ran ahead of Rodney Butcher, Phil Orr.

Chad Pelfrey and Rick Fairbanks to complete the top five in the Ranken Repair Mini-Stocks, while Debenedictus was a second time winner in the

J.L. Hags Hobby Stock feature, ahead of J.D. Clark, Jim Butler, Robert Milam and Mike Heckle's win, his fifth in the Pate's

Drywall/Benny's Racing Equipment Florida Modified feature for 1993, came quick as he moved from the outside pole position to the front of the pack before the end of the first lap and led the rest of the 20-lap event. Heckle wound up leading Ray Mark, David

Indivert. Ted Richard and Wayne McCall across the finish line. Tyler powered his 99T Power Machine around

Thursday. He died Tuesday of head injuries suffered Monday when his new helicopter crashed as he attempted a landing at Talladega Superspeedway. The crash injured the lone passenger, veteran driver Red Farmer. who attended the funeral in a wheelchair.

During the eulogy, the Rev. Louis Glardino talked about the strong bond between NASCAR drivers and their fans, particularly in the South. It comes, he speculated, from the way so many drivers start out working on cars with neighbors as 'shade tree mechanics.'

Allison rose far beyond that level, with 19 Winston Cup victories since capturing his first checkered flag in 1987. He always said his greatest thrill was finishing second to his dad In the 1988 Daytona 500.

'He never let fame come between him and anyone," sald Giardino, the family's priest at St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Bessemer, just minutes from their hometown of Hueytown.

The church was packed with an estimated 750 people, including prominant racing figures like Roger Penske, Nell Bonnett. Michael Waltrip, Rusty Wallace, Mark Martin and Hut Stricklin. who was related to Allison by marriage.

After the funeral mass. Liz Allison, dressed in black with her blond hair pulled back, walked out stoically behind her husband's polished wooden Allison's father and mother wept openly. It was only 11 months ago that they buried their other son, Clifford. He died in a racing crash.

Fellow drivers were at a loss to talk about the Allison family's hurt. Driver Dale Jarrett said Allison's death was a "tremendous loss" for NASCAR. The circuit saw another young star, Alan Kulwicki, killed in an airplane crash only four months ago.

Waltrip said Allison's death "makes it obvious there are a lot of things more important than driving a race car."

Four jet fighters flew over in formation as the graveside service began.

Country singer Joe Diffie strummed a gultar and sang Allison's favorite song, "Ships That Don't Come In." Diffie volunteered to perform after

Protecting valuable records

Many of us assume that flood. storms, hurricanes, or other disasters will always happen to someone else. Many people dislike thoughts about death and consequently postpone the tasks of taking care of family papers. Protecting family papers is just one part of being prepared to deal with natural disasters.

An up-to-date household inventory is a very valuable resource. When making the inventory, do not overlook tools stored in the garage, lawn furniture or food in the freezer. You may want to include a video or photographs of your inventory. An accurate inventory will help you determine if you have enough insurance to cover the contents of your home. Keep the inventory current.

Additional copies of valuable papers lists should be in the care of a lawyer, the administrator of wills, business associates or trusted family member residing outside of your home. The need for greater care of valuable papers increases as your estate size and family size increases and family goals and life patterns become more complex.

Table 1 is a list of the valuable papers that need to be in a safe deposit box especially during a disaster such as a hurricane. Table 2 is a list of valuable papers that need to be in your possession at home at all times in a water-proof, fire-proof, locked box.

VIOLENCE

Violence is ugly. It is a termite. gnawing steadily away at the framework of our society.

This insect is fed by hate. ignorance, and evil. The termite eats and cats and cats - it never stops. It increases in size with every meal, gaining in strength and destruction.

What is needed is an Orkin man, a hero, dressed in white, to exterminate the enemy. Who is this man? In reality, he is not one man - he is many people. He is all people.

We need to arm ourselves with insecticides of kindness and unselfishness, and spray the termite, choking him with that which is good.

DEAR ABBY: I am still fuming about that "contest" dreamed up by some dim-witted program chairman for the annual mothers and daughters banquet at their church, no less.

First, they asked all the women who were mothers to stand up. Then they asked all the mothers who wore dentures to sit down. I have never heard of anything so insensitive in all my life!

I have a suggestion for their annual banquet next year. How does this sound?

"Will all the mothers please stand?" (Does this include the women who have had only miscarriages or stillbirths? How about the foster mothers - and stepmothers who have borne no children but mothered many?)

Now, "Will the youngest mother present please stand?" (Does this include the 14-yearold victim of incest, and the woman who gave up her child when she was 15 and has no idea where that child is?)

In your local supermarket, you may find several facsimiles of "Grandma's apple pie." They are tasty, no doubt, but there's nothing like the real thing cooling on the windowsill.

Of course, times change and so do Grandmas. One thing about Grandmas doesn't change, however, and that is their capacity for love. It may still be expressed in apple pies or when sharing long walks and talks with their grandchildren. Some Grandmas have traded in their rustling aprons for rustling walking suits, but the benefits are nurturing. They are wise, patient, and great listeners. Those attributes are still the real thing.

God is a great listener, too. Take a walk to your neighborhood church or synagogue this Sabbath. He is waiting patiently for you to share your life with Him. Whether God is found in a country chapel or a crystal cathedral. His capacity for love is unchanging and boundless . . . the real thing.

IN BRIEF

Life as a monk

The monks of St. Leo Abbey will conduct their seventh annual monastic Experience Summer Program from Aug. 15-22. The monastic experience is for single men who want to learn about the monastic life.

The program offers participants the opportunity to spend a week enriching their spiritual life through an appreciation for prayer and solitude in community. While living in the monastery they will join the monks for prayer, meals, work, and recreation.

A number of monks will give the group talks on vocation and monastic topic. One does not need to be considering a monastic vocation to participate. Young men, 18 years of age and older, are invited to apply. For more information and application material, write to Fr. David Draim, O.S.B St. Leo Abbey, P.O.Box 2081, St. Leo Florida 33574.

SANFORD - Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, 2525 Oak Ave., expressed its thanks for two memorial gifts in connection with the celebration, of its congregation's 40th anniversary.

First, a steeple for the church is a gift from Mrs. Rachel Ale. The steeple is given in loving memory of Stanley Ale and Alfred Kirschstein, members who died in 1974 and 1990 respectively. The congregation had earlier selected a steeple as the 40th anniversary project. Mrs. Ale remembers a time some years ago when beging new in the area she looked for our church but couldn't find It-a reason behind Rachel's memorial gift. We thank her for her generosity! And we pray that the steeple will 'guide many to our church location" in the decades to come.

Second, an anniversary gift was given by Mr. and Mrs. Bill and Edna Southward in loving memory of John and Katherine Senkarik. John and Katherine are Mrs. Southward parents. They were charter members of our congregation and very instrumental in getting the congregation organized back in 1953. The Southward donation was used to purchase four adjustable height tables and 58 folding chairs for the fellowship hall (other members made it possible the purchase of 84 additional chairs).

Franks take command of Salvation Army

By KELLEY MITCHELL Herald Stall Writer

SANFORD - With the sparkle of a new adventure in their eyes. Capt. Greg Franks and his wife, Lt. Sylvia, have taken on the challenge of commanding the Salvation Army here.

Fresh out of the two year Salvation Army School of Officers Training facility in Atlanta, Capt. Franks has some very ambitious goals for the Seminole County area.

"The facility here in Sanford has a fully equipped gym that I would like to see utilized, namely by the Boys & Girls Club," said Capt. Franks. "I have already sent off for the information package on how to set up a partnership with the organization and start one here at the Capt. Franks' goals are not only for the young members of the community. He has aspirations for the older adult population and of course most importantly for the chapel and its membership.

"There is a program that the Army offers called Young at Heart for 40- to 50-year-olds to come together and fellowship," said Capt, Franks, "The Army has done a need survey for this area and what they found lack-

"Of course the main objective for my wife and I is to build up the strong membership base that exists here at the Army." he ing the most is in child care and said. "We need dedicated dents to know that the Army

"It's very important for resi-here in Sanford is for all of Seminole County," he said. "Alot of people have the Impression that since it is in Sanford It is only for Sanford residents, that is just not so. This facility is for everyone.

"I'm really a very casy going guy," he added. "I'm Just highly motivated.

Lt. Sylvia Franks has served with the Army as an officer for six years. She has been stationed in Dallas Grove, Wichita Falls. Houston and Austin, to name just a few.

"We really like Florida," she said. "We are just now getting settled in our new house, but everything is coming together. slowly but surely.

"The only thing that is unusual for us are the violent afternoon thunderstorms," she said. "The lightning is really something. but I guess we'll get used to that

"We're here to spread the good news of the Lord Jesus Christ." she said. "He will guide us and teach us as we go along. We're really excited about being here." The Salvation Army is currently accepting canned goods and non-perishable food for the wearing perfume" signs be joining "Thank you for not smoking" signs?

Where do you like to sit in church?

The First Unitarian Church in San Francisco has reserved four pews on Sunday mornings for people who don't use perfume and don't like to be near those who do.

I saw the problem developing 15 years ago when a woman told me the reason she didn't go to church was that she couldn't stand the perfume some churchgoers wore.

Under the headline "Perfume: Whilf of Controversy," I wrote: "I thought I had heard every reason people could give for not going to church. This was a new the same gripe. Some women wear so much perfume they hold you smell-bound,' said one. "I am sympathetic. I some-

"Then I discovered others had times am forced to change my seat on the bus or in a theater because somebody near me is wearing perfume I find offensive. But, of course, you can't get up and move in church without the risk of hurting somebody's feel-But churchgoers don't like to be told what to do. They want, for example, to sit where they please.

Ministers would prefer that people sit together and closer to to see what their neighbors are the front. It is easier to speak to a group that isn't scattered and off in the next county.

Some churches put cushions on only the front pews in an effort to get the congregation to sit up close.

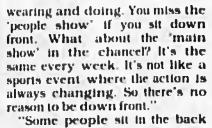

The only other place besides church where people make a dash for the back seats is in the college classroom. Professors speculate this is because students feel they are less likely to be called on there.

The back-benchers are usually not the better students. Students who sit in the front rows have been found to have a higher grade-point average. They are the ones who are interested in the subject.

This may apply also to the up-fronters in church.

Who are the people who make a run for the back seats on Sunday morning? Listen to a couple of guesses from pastors: "They are the ones who want because they want to be close to the door where they can get out quicker. They don't like to have to rub elbows with others after the service."

When people sit in the front of the church, you know they are naid up to date. It is life small of delinquent contributor who hides in the back."

Whatever reason people have for sitting in the back, those who sit in the front probably get more out of the service. There are fewer distractions within their range of vision, for one thing.

Not only can those up front hear what the preacher is saying, they also can see him up close. This is important.

The farther away you are from a speaker, the less you absorb of his message - no matter how good the sound system is. A study has indicated that for those in the back of an auditorium less than 50 percent of what the speaker says sinks big givers or their pledges are in even though they can hear every word.

> Despite this, people will sit wherever they want in church.

So I don't imagine there is much hope of segregating the perfume-wearers in a section of their own.
