ARDINE LEADS NEW FIGHT TO HELP FARMERS

Agriculture Leader Works For The Enactment Of Co-Operative Marketing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(INS)—The Department of Agriculture has dropped its passive attitude in the farm relief controversy, and Secretary Jardine is now leading an active fight for the enactment of his co-operative marketing plan. Several members of Congress who have criticized the department bitterly in the past have been called into conference by Jardine.

The secretary is very enthusiastic over his own plan of farm relief, said one member who conferred with him. "He has raised an original proposal of a $250,000 revolving fund to be loaned to co-operative marketing organizations to $300,000,000 and would let the intermediate credit banks solve the other financial questions raised in marketing plans."

This is in direct contrast to the attitude of the department at the last session of Congress, when Secretary Jardine nor his aides appeared before agriculture committees of Congress when they considered various proposals of farm relief.

Chief on the part of the administration supporters of the Hays-Haugen plan can be shelved. He pleads that President Coolidge would again veto it, said one of the active supporters of the plan.

Charles L. McNary (R) Oregon, chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, and one of the chief instigators of the Hays-Haugen plan, is expected to be a guest of President Coolidge on the Presidential yacht Mayflower.

Wide disagreement has been revealed among returning western members of Congress on the McNary-Haugen bill, with administration supporters urging a compromise and most of the progressive standing pat on the bill.

Attorney General Charles C. Shelly Gregory first of those indicted in connection with the alleged floggings in Crenshaw County, was acquitted on a similar charge last week.

MINISTER DENIES THAT TROOPS ARE HELD ON BORDER

Balken Situation Appears To Be Clearing As Foreign Office Learns That Poland Will Place Dispute Before League

KOVNO, Lithuania, Nov. 28.—(INS)—War Minister Dautantes, of the Lithuanian Government, emphatically denied today that Lithuanian troops are being concentrated on the Polish frontier. In a statement to the International News Service Minister Dautantes branded as entirely false the reports that Lithuanian cavalry and infantry were being massed along the Polish border.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—(INS)—The Polish-Lithuanian territorial dispute, which threatened for a time to develop into an eastern European crisis, will be settled by the League of Nations, according to belief expressed today by foreign office officials. The Foreign Office discredited a report that troops were being massed along the Polish-Lithuanian frontier.

"We are certain Poland will not make any military move against Lithuania," it was stated at the Foreign Office. "It is the firmest intention of the poles to leave the entire matter in the hands of the League of Nations." Owing to the close relations between the French and Polish Governments the statement was accepted as an authentic indication of Poland's future course.

Mayor Housholder Fails To Appear In Traffic Law Case

The names of Mayor E. F. Housholder and Fire Chief M. M. Cleveland headed the Municipal Court docket this morning but both of them failed to make their appearance and their cases were postponed until the Wednesday session. Both of the officials were charged with parking their automobiles without lights in violation of a city ordinance.

Three other cases were on the docket in connection with the violation of the "no light" law. They were: Briggs Arrington, who was dismissed, and Mrs. M. S. Robins and Leslie Bryan, both of whom are fined $5.

James Jones drew a fine of $25 for assault and P. G. McDonald, charged with drunkenness, was fined a bond of $100. Robert Sanderson, facing charges of disorderly conduct, was dismissed, but H. Hunt, accused of the same offense had to pay $5.

Aaron Adams was fined $5 for drunkenness and an additional $10 for discharging firearms within the city limits. Adams is said to have imbibed too freely of shine and then for amusement he placed several small bottles on his front porch and proceeded to try his marksmanship with his favorite pistol.

SERVICE MADE ON BURNS MEN FOR CONTEMPT

International Detectives To Be Required To Appear And Show Cause Why They Should Not Be Held In Contempt

No Further Action Seen Until Trial

Burns' Attorney Will Ask Justice Siders' Not To Continue Contempt Trial Until The Grand Jury Reaches Decision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(INS)—Personal service was today made on William K. Burns, W. Sherman Burns and Charles L. Veitch, all of the Burns International Detective Agency, requiring them to appear in the District Supreme Court next Monday and show cause why they should not be adjudged in criminal contempt of court for their alleged part in the mistrial of the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy case.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Thomas R. East served the three men in the office of their attorney, Charles A. Douglass. Douglass indicated that his return to the rule of Justice F. L. Siddons probably would not be made until the opening day of the contempt trial.

It is understood that, with the federal grand jury still in session and in view of the possibility of criminal indictments against the Burns people and Harry F. Sinclair, their alleged employer, Douglass will ask in his return that Siddons not proceed with the contempt trial until the grand jury has reached a decision. The defense argument is that, whether it be called contempt of court or conspiracy to obstruct justice, the trial will be the same, entailing the calling of the same witnesses in each case. Therefore, the defense is expected to ask for a joint trial in the contempt charge and whatever of the grand jury may charge the defendants will demand a hearing before the Supreme Court "in general session." It was pointed out that District Attorney Gordon's petition for contempt citations was addressed to the "Chief Justice and the Associate Justices" of the court. A precedent for trial by general session has been found in the so-called backstove contempt case, in which the late Samuel Gomers, head of the American Federation of Labor, and certain of his associates were cited.

In any event, the general effect of the defense return will be to postpone any proceedings against Sinclair and Burns until after December 5, and until the grand jury has shown its hand.

Dry Chief Predicts Scarcity Of Booze During This Winter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(INS)—The Treasury is going to try to make the Florida millionaires winter colony as dry as the Sahara Desert. A new drive against liquor operators will start on Dec. 1, Seymour Lowman, dry chief announced today.

Land forces will be doubled. Several destroyers, cutters and small boats are already enroute to Florida waters. "Florida has been wide open," said Lowman. "It will be closed up this winter if we can do it." Dr. J. M. Moran, prohibition commissioner, has just returned from the southeast where he outlined the government's plans for federal authorities. He said the states were co-operating with federal agents. He warned federal officers to stay within the law in enforcing prohibition.

"Deviations from this path in the past have caused some trouble and agents are going to act strictly within the law," he declared. He said that Florida federal courts were so tied up with revenue cases that they had little time for prohibition matters. Senator Fletcher (D) of Florida told Duran that northern bootleggers were leaders of the illicit liquor trade in Florida.

Junker Plane Fails
In Fourth Attempt To Cross Atlantic

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(INS)—Another unsuccessful attempt to take of across the Atlantic to Newfoundland was made today by the Junkers Plane D-120, according to Western Union advices from the station at Horta, the Azores.

This was the fourth try made by the German hydro-aeroplane which has been at Horta for many weeks following its arrival from Germany via Lisbon. Besides its pilots and mechanics, the big plane carried an passenger Fraulein Lilli Dillens, Vinona, a woman who hopes to be the first to traverse the Atlantic by air.

Kresge Wins Suit Against Hutton Brokers For Huge Sum After Month's Trial

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(INS)—A verdict in favor of Sebastian Kresge, 5 and 10 cent store magnate of Detroit, against W. E. Hutton & Co., brokers, for $640,000, was returned today when the sealed verdict in the suit was opened and the jury polled to affirm the decision.

Kresge had brought action against the brokers to recover $685,000, which he alleged the firm had loaned in Kresge stock to J. Byrne & Co., defunct brokerage company, without his authority. The sealed verdict fixed the amount due Kresge at $550,486 with interest. The latter computation bringing the total to $640,000.

During the trial, which consumed almost a month, witnesses for the Hutton firm had attempted to show that Kresge had given verbal authority to the deal because Byrne was his personal friend. Kresge countered with the testimony that he was never informed of this special account as he had been of all other transactions made by the brokers in his behalf.

After several motions, including one for setting aside the verdict and for a new trial had been denied, counsel for the defense announced that an appeal would be taken.

CREW OF 27 MEN IS RESCUED WHEN FREIGHTER SINKS

Rose Murphy Hits Submerged Derelict And Immediately Goes Down Leaving Crew To Mercy Of Forty Mile Gale

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 28.—(INS)—The crew of 27 men of the American freighter Rose Murphy, who barely escaped death yesterday after their ship struck a submerged derelict and sank, and who fought a forty mile gale and high seas in open life boats for several hours were resting after their harrowing experience.

The crews of the tug Richmond, bound for Pensacola from Cuba, the barge Jackson and the tug Ballyho, saved from the sea also, were in the celebration today in honor of their rescue. The Rose Murphy was bound from Boca Grande, Fla., for Pinners Point, Fla., with 1,175 tons of phosphate when she rammed a submerged derelict shortly after midnight Saturday, just off Sand Key Lightship.

A five foot hole was torn in the bottom of the ship, water pouring into the engine room almost immediately. The engineering crew stuck to their posts in waist high water until the boilers were flooded, according to Captain George H. Wanson.

Throughout Sunday morning, with the winds raging a forty mile gale and mountain-high waves breaking over her deck, the crew stuck to the pumps while Capt. Wanson attempted to steer the fast sinking vessel out of the Gulf Stream to the Florida banks in the hope of beaching the vessel and saving it and the cargo.

Life boats were lowered and the first one smashed by the high seas, which crashed it against the ship's side. The second and third boats were lowered with difficulty. Tossed about in their open boats for two hours, a prevailing tide carried the crew to the Sand Key Lightship. A coast guard cutter brought them to this port last night.

BEACH IS SAID TO HAVE TOLD HE WAS GUILTY

Prosecuting Attorney Says Beach Confessed To Friend On Day After Warrant Was Issued. He Killed Doctor

Wanted To Raise Funds For Defense

Startling Charge Comes Near Close Of Attorney's First Statement As Trial Starts

COURTHOUSE, MAYS LANDING, N. J., Nov. 28.—(INS)—Willis Beach, alleged clandestine lover of Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl with whom he is jointly accused of murdering the woman's husband, admitted the murder on the day a warrant was sworn out for his arrest, Assistant Prosecutor S. Cameron Hinkle declared before the jury in his opening statement here today.

Beach, a poultry raiser and neighbor of the Lillendahls, confessed to a friend that he had slain Doctor Lillendahl, the prosecutor asserted. He was trying to raise funds for his defense when he went to his friend with the admission, Hinkle declared.

The startling charge came near the close of the prosecutor's opening statement and revealed a heretofore unannounced "ace" in the state's hand.

Moving with spectacular and almost unprecedented swiftness, the Lillendahl murder trial sped into action today and within little more than 60 minutes a jury, having for its foreman a woman and composed of five women and seven men, had been selected and sworn.

Challenging of the talesmen revealed only one outstanding development—the possibility that the state had abandoned its previously announced intention of asking the death penalty. When two quakers, Henry Q. Leeds, millionaire Atlantic City hotel man, and Nathan Jones asserted that, for religious reasons, they could not swear the death penalty, the state accepted them nevertheless and only their refusal to take the jury oath, led to their dismissal.

The completed jury, which will be asked to determine whether the widow and her alleged clandestine admirer, Willis Beach, murdered the aged Dr. William Lillendahl, consists of five housewives, a salesman, a banker, an automobile man, a bookkeeper, a clerk, a newspaperman and a boat builder.

There was a notable absence of the usual courtroom atmosphere of the defense in the famous Leopold Loeb case, was said to be the aim of Dr. Clarence A. Neymann, Noted Chicago alienist, who today is speeding toward New York.

Dr. Neymann conducted test on the two slayers of Bobby Franks. The Snyder defense, it was reported here, will attempt to establish through Dr. Neymann that Mrs. Snyder and Judd Gray comprise a supreme case of "folie a deux," insanity of two. It is said to be the rarest combination known to psychiatric science.

This defense was used for the first time in American criminal jurisprudence in the Leopold Loeb case, was said to be the aim of Dr. Clarence A. Neymann, Noted Chicago alienist, who today is speeding toward New York.

Ringleaders Of Jail Riot To Have Hearing

FOLSOM PRISON, Cal., Nov. 28.—(INS)—Six of the ringleaders of the sensational attempted prison break here on Thanksgiving Day, which resulted in the deaths of two guards and eleven convicts and the wounding of numerous others, will have their preliminary hearing Wednesday.

They will be charged specifically with the murder of Ray Singleton, a guard, who was shot and stabbed to death. Neil R. McAllister, district attorney of Sacramento County, said today he would bring charges of first degree murder and would ask the death penalty to be imposed.

SIX PERSONS DIE AND SCORES HURT WHEN TRAINS HIT

Montreal-Chicago Flyer Runs Head On Into Heavily Laden Freight Train; Passengers In Flyer Mostly Immigrants

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 28.—(INS)—Six persons dead and more than forty seriously injured was the toll today of a terrific head-on collision between the Montreal-Chicago flyer of the Canadian Pacific Line and a heavily laden freight train just outside Enterprise, Ont., late Sunday.

The injured were brought to the Western Hospital here early today. Search is still in progress in the wreck as many of the 144 passengers are unaccounted for. A fire resulting from the crash added havoc to the disaster. Passengers in the steel cars fared much better than those in the wooden cars.

The train was headed west and carried many foreigners, newly arrived immigrants to Canada. Both engines met head-on and rolled down the embankment. It is believed that the freight train failed to take its usual course of switching at Lens and that the engineer, realizing the mistake, unlocked most of his load and was proceeding to warn the oncoming Chicago Flyer.

Several of the thirty passengers injured, were in a critical condition today. William Burnett, of Kingston, Ont., the engineer of the passenger train, and three unknown immigrants, two men and a woman, were killed. Some of the injured taken to Toronto early today and others were brought here. Railroad officials were unable to identify the dead and injured owing to the inability of the immigrants to speak English.

Railroad officials said the crash resulted from the tardiness of the engineer of the freight in maneuvering toward the siding at Dockrill. The Chicago Flyer, speeding around a sweeping curve just ahead of the siding, smashed head-on into the locomotive of the freight train.

Noted Alienist To Launch Attempt To Save Ruth Snyder

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(INS)—An attempt to save Ruth Snyder from the electric chair by the application of psychiatry such as featured in the defense in the famous Leopold Loeb case, was said to be the aim of Dr. Clarence A. Neymann, Noted Chicago alienist, who today is speeding toward New York.

Dr. Neymann conducted test on the two slayers of Bobby Franks. The Snyder defense, it was reported here, will attempt to establish through Dr. Neymann that Mrs. Snyder and Judd Gray comprise a supreme case of "folie a deux," insanity of two. It is said to be the rarest combination known to psychiatric science.

BITTER LEGAL DEBATE TAKES PLACE IN TRIAL

Defense Attorney Introduces Race Track Timer To Testify On Affair Mrs. Remus

Prosecutor Taft Makes Objection

Says Shaws Testimony Has Nothing To Do With Remus' Sanity

COURTHOUSE, CINCINNATI, Nov. 28.—(INS)—A bitter legal debate broke out today at the trial of George Remus for the murder of his wife, Imogene, when Franklin Edward Shaw, of Washington, D. C., a race track timer, took witness stand to put into the records the defense's first "unwritten law testimony."

Shaw claims to know certain facts concerning Mrs. Remus and Franklin L. Dodge, her alleged sweetheart. Shaw knew them in Miami, Fla.

Defense attorney Charles H. Elston had hardly begun to question Shaw when Prosecutor Charles P. Taft rose to vigorously object on the grounds the testimony of Shaw had nothing to do with the sanity or insanity of Remus. The jury was excused while defense Attorney Elston and Taft fought it out.

Elston said the testimony of Shaw and many more witnesses to come was necessary to show what drove Remus to transitory insanity. Judge Shook finally stated that the defense would have to show further evidence of a diseased mind before it could proceed to show the alleged acts of Dodge and Mrs. Remus.

The judge ruled that no independent evidence of a diseased mind had yet been presented by the defense and that Remus could not proceed with his "unwritten law" testimony. Shaw was withdrawn as a defense witness. Remus made a motion asking that the three alienists who are observing him be permitted to visit his mansion on Price Hill. Remus also requested that the alienists inspect his law library in the county jail. The court granted the motion.

William Mueller, caretaker of the Remus mansion on Price Hill, the next witness testified Remus "started to rave and acted as if he was out of his mind" when he returned home from the Portsmouth, Ohio, jail last April.

"He would wave his hands, clasp them together and shout, 'I think that man would do that to me!'"

"Is that the only time you saw him act that way?" asked Elston.

"No, I saw him act that way on four different occasions. The very next day I became an alienist. I was going to leave his employ."

"What was your impression of his mental condition?"

"I thought he was completely out of his mind."

Mueller testified before Remus left for Atlanta prison he acted

Story Of The New Ford Will Be Told Here Next Friday

A public reception is to be held here simultaneously with similar gatherings at every Ford dealer in the United States, thus constituting a part of the greatest automobile show in the history of the industry.

While no detailed descriptions have yet been given out by local dealers, the Ford Motor Company, from its headquarters in Detroit, has announced that the new Ford car will be as far in advance of present public demand for speed, flexibility, control in traffic and economy as the famous Model T was in advance of public demand when it was introduced in 1908.

Dealers have not yet been advised as to the prices at which the new Ford line will sell, but definite assurance has come from Detroit that the prices will be in accord with the policy of the Ford Motor Co., to provide the "best possible automobile at the lowest possible price."

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the public reception here. City officials, County officials and prominent business men of Sanford and Seminole county have been invited and preparations have been made to give every caller at the show a thorough understanding of this car which is expected to make a new chapter in automobile history.

THE NEW FORD CAR

An announcement of unusual importance to every automobile owner

NINETEEN years ago we made and sold the first Model T Ford car. In announcing it to the public we said:

"We will build a motor car for the great multitude. It will be large enough for the family, but small enough for the individual to run and care for. It will be constructed of the best materials, by the best men to be hired, after the simplest designs modern engineering can devise. But it will be so low in price that no man making a good salary will be unable to own one."

"If I were starting in business today, or asked to restate my policy, I would not change one sentence or one word of that original announcement. In plain, simple language it gives the reason for the very existence of the Ford Motor Company and explains its growth.

IN THE last nineteen years we have made 15,000,000 Ford cars and added to the world nearly 300,000,000 mobile horse-power. Yet I do not consider the machines which bear my name simply as machines. I take them as concrete evidence of the working out of a theory of business which I hope is something more than a theory of business—a theory that looks toward making this world a better place in which to live.

"The Model T Ford car was a pioneer. There was no conscious public need of motor cars when we first conceived it. There were few good roads and only the adventurous few could be induced to buy an automobile.

"The Ford car blazed the way for the motor industry and started the movement for good roads. It broke down the barriers of time and distance and helped to place education within the reach of all. It gave people more leisure. It helped people everywhere to do more and better work in less time and enjoy doing it. It did a great deal, I am sure, to promote the growth and progress of this country.

"We are still proud of the record of the Model T Ford car. If we were not, we would not have continued to manufacture it so long. But 1927 is not 1908. It is not 1915. It is not even 1926.

We have built a new car to meet modern conditions

"We realize that conditions in this country have so greatly changed in the last few years that further refinement in motor car construction is desirable. So we have built a new car. To put it simply—we have built a new and different Ford to meet new and different conditions.

"We believe the new Ford car, which will be officially announced on Friday of this week, is as great an improvement in motor car building as the Model T Ford was in 1908.

Smart new low lines and beautiful colors

"The new Ford is more than a car for the requirements of today. It goes farther than that. It anticipates the needs of 1928, of 1929, of 1930.

"The new Ford car is radically different from Model T. Yet the basic Ford principles of economy of production and quality of product have been retained. There is nothing quite like the new Ford anywhere in quality and price.

"The new Ford has exceptional beauty of line and color because beauty of line and color has come to be considered, and I think rightly, a necessity in a motor car today. Equally important is the mechanical beauty of the engine. Let us not forget this mechanical beauty when we consider the beauty of the new Ford.

by HENRY FORD

"The new Ford has unusual speed for a low-price car because present-day conditions require unusual speed.

"The world moves more quickly than it used to. There are only so many hours in the day and there is much to be done.

"Fifty and sixty miles an hour are desired today where thirty and forty would have satisfied in 1908. So we are giving you this new speed.

Quiet and smooth-running at all speeds

"The new Ford will ride comfortably at fifty and sixty miles an hour. It has actually done sixty-five miles an hour in road tests.

"Since modern conditions demand more speed, they also demand better brakes to balance this speed. So we are giving you four-wheel brakes in the new Ford.

"The new Ford will be quiet and smooth-running at all speeds and you will find it even easier to handle in traffic than the old Model T Ford.

"The new Ford has durability because durability is the very heart of motor car value. The Ford car has always been known as a car that will take you there and bring you back. The new Ford will not only do that, but it will do it in good style. You will be proud of the new Ford.

THIS new Ford car has not been planned and made in a day. Our engineers began work on it several years ago and it has been in my mind much longer than that. We make automobiles quickly when we get in production. But we take a long time planning them. Nothing can hurry us in that. We spent twelve years in perfecting our former Model T Ford car before we offered it to the public. It is not conceivable that we should have put this new Ford car on the market until we were sure that it was mechanically correct in every detail.

"Every part of it has been tested and re-tested. There is no guessing as to whether it will be a successful model. It has to be. There is no way it can escape being so, for it represents the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the making of 15,000,000 automobiles.

The new Ford will sell at a low price

"The price of the new Ford is low in accordance with the established Ford policy. I hold that it is better to sell a large number of cars at a reasonably small margin of profit than to sell a few cars at a large margin of profit.

"We never forget that people who buy Ford cars are the people who helped to make this business big. It has always been our policy to share our profits with our customers. In one year our profits were so much larger than we expected that we voluntarily returned $50 to each purchaser of a car. We could never have done that if this business had been conducted for the sole benefit of stockholders rather than to render service to the public.

"No other automobile can duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do.

"We make our own steel—we make our own glass—we mine our own coal—we make virtually every part used in the Ford car. But we do not charge a profit on any of these items or from these operations. We would not be playing fair with the public if we did so. Our only business is the automobile business. Our only profit is on the automobile we sell."

WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs.

"We did not set out to make a new car to sell at such-and-such a figure. We decided on the kind of car we wanted to make and then found ways to produce it at a low price.

"The new Ford car, as I have said, will be officially announced on Friday of this week. In appearance, in performance, in comfort, in safety, in all that goes to make a good car, it will bear out everything I have said here. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

A WORTHY PURPOSE:—I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have my being. Psalm 204: 55.

PRAYER:—Great God, accept my soul's desire; And give me strength to live Thy praise.

IN A MUSEUM

We find little forms of jade, And at their touch I am afraid.

These planes and contours, softly move, Like plants in a crystal groove.

Final, impervious to change, They are more strange than we are strange.

They are the beautiful mystery, Complete in its own entity.

—Polly Chase. (From Poetry).

ICONCLAST

I oft indulge a deep desire, Despite cold burns, to play with fire.

Quite cheerfully, today, I shun What on the morrow can be done.

The stitch in time is never mine— Preferring, later, to sew mine.

Two birds appeal more in a tree Than one upon my palm, to me.

So much that's golden does not glitter, or instance, a banana fritter.

I love to care for pounds—content To see my pennies freely spent.

The Herald has been confidentially informed that Harry Sinclair, under indictment for defrauding the United States government out of millions of dollars worth of oil properties, is about to start a newspaper in Washington D. C.

The Herald is always glad to receive letters from its subscribers and will give them space on this page free of charge, providing of course that they do not indulge in personalities, and untruths and are reasonably to be of worth and benefit to the general public.

Some fights in Chicago are not only making life there unendurable but they are making the entire rest of the country pretty disgusted with its administration which allows such things. If the men at the head of Chicago's government really wanted to clean things up, they could put a stop to such promiscuous shooting in five minutes.

Pat Murphy was in to see us the other day. Pat is getting to be an almost habitual candidate for dele. He has been attending Democratic conventions almost ever since he was such a thing. According to the biggest mistake the Democrat could make would be to elect Al Smith because, he would suffer a defeat they could never recover from.

Where Sanford Gets Much Advertising

An interesting report of Florida's agricultural yield is contained in a recent survey compiled by the state Chamber of Commerce and reproduced by the Lakeland Ledger. The report is for 1926 and presents a comparative statement of the total farm production throughout the United States and that of this state.

Of the nation's total production of grapefruit, Florida produces eighty-one per cent.

Of the nation's total production of peppers, Florida produces sixty-one per cent.

Of the nation's total production of watermelons, Florida produces twenty-one per cent.

Of the nation's total production of cucumbers, Florida produces forty-one per cent.

Of the nation's total production of tomatoes, Florida produces twenty-four per cent.

Of the nation's total production of eggplants, Florida produces fifty-nine per cent.

Of the nation's total production of snap beans, Florida produces thirty-nine per cent.

Of the nation's total production of early Irish potatoes, Florida produces sixteen per cent.

Of the nation's total production of celery, Florida produces thirty-two per cent.

While the whole report is significant of the wealth in Florida's soil, the item that interests Seminole County most is that of celery. This county yields almost one fourth of all the celery produced in this country despite the fact that it is grown successfully in several other sections of the country.

Give Your Support

Beginning tomorrow morning the ten teams of the Chamber of Commerce will wage an intensive campaign to renew and increase memberships. The teams include the leading citizens of Sanford and the campaign will last four days.

While we have not always been in sympathy with some of the Chamber's policies and acts or lack of them, we do nevertheless recognize that it occupies a highly essential place in the community and fills a niche which could not be filled by any other organization.

It is the first place that a stranger in town goes in quest of information. It is a clearing house of foreign inquiries and local facts.

It serves as a common meeting place where strangers can easily become acquainted with us.

It is in one, an advertising agency and employment bureau. Without it we would be in the position of a ship without a rudder.

So when the various team captains or their men call upon you tomorrow or within the next few days, give them a welcome hand and sign up for at least one membership.

A city the size of Sanford should have a chamber of commerce of at least four hundred memberships.

At twenty-five dollars apiece, the Chamber would then have ten thousand dollars to spend within the next year.

That amount should see its needs amply taken care of and enable it to go ahead even more actively in its work for Sanford.

"DECREPIT MILLIONAIRES" EXCHANGE

The feeling between California and Florida over estate taxes is as sweet as a cocktail of gull, wormwood and aloes.

California long ago sang to the idle rich and you shall live to be centenarians, always shooting less than 100 on our peerless when the boom began; we are so sure that you will live forever in the sunshine of the only genuine inheritance taxes.

Since then it has been as ludicrous to utter the word "Florida" in California as it is to say "earthquake" there when you ought to say "fire."

In Florida they speak of California as a place where overcoats are worn.

At the hearing of the ways and means committee on estate taxes Chester Rowell of California bared his state's teeth, saying that it wanted to keep its own inheritance tax, and at a high rate, and for that reason desired retention of the federal estate tax to protect California against its competition Florida.

As every Tampa schoolboy knows, Florida is indignant because the federal law allows a large deduction to estates that have paid a state inheritance tax.

"California," added Mr. Rowell, "is the chief competitor of Florida for the residence of decrepit millionaires." Candid words, but rash, Florida will snap at them like a hungry tarpon.

Take it from the Floridians, a millionaire crossing into the state of Ponce de Leon, casts off decrepitude with his uster.

Rolling through Savannah he may seem in the last stages of galloping senility, but before he hits Jacksonville he is tossing 50-pound grapefruit like a Cinquevall.

At St. Augustine he does hand springs in the Fullman aisle. At Daytona he insists on firing the engine. At West Jupiter he steps off the train to tear up a royal palm by the roots.

At Miami he crosses the causeway in three jumps. Decrepit millionaires indeed! We'll bet the Okeechobee drainage canal against California interest in Boulder canon that Florida will make the golden state smart for Mr. Rowell's thoughtless phrase.

AL SMITH AGAIN EXCHANGE

We find the following paragraph in the Leesburgh Commercial: "A prophet is not without honor save in his own country. Al Smith as a political prophet seems to be the exception that proves the rule.

New York's election on Tuesday was an overwhelming Smith victory. Hot dog! There was about as much significance in the New York election as indicating the popularity of Al Smith as there was indicating the popularity of the Mayor of Leesburgh.

The foregoing paragraph of course refers to the defeat of the constitutional amendment making the Governor's term four years instead of two, which Governor Smith opposed. And as many Republicans opposed it as there were Democrats! Looking the State over carefully the election returns indicate that the Governor, and his friends, were badly whipped instead of winning a victory. For instance, 34 of the more important cities elected Republican Mayors while but eleven Smith men mere elected by reduced majorities.

Several cities elected non-partisan officials. In the city of Oswego, long a Smith stronghold and where the Governor's friends are in absolute control of the party machinery, the Republicans elected their candidate for Mayor by 2,480 majority, the largest majority ever given for a mayoralty candidate in the history of that city.

The voters of the same city voted 3 to 1 against the amendment referred to and at the same time gave the Republican Mayor a Republican Council to work with him. Instead of an "overwhelming Smith victory" the returns from all sections of the State indicate an emphatic repudiation of Smith.

A Mothers Dilemma.

Three Cheers for 1928. No Russian Break—Yet. A Horseless Godiva. By Arthur Brisbane Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

MRS. RUTH SNYDER, to be killed in the electric chair by the state of New York, some time in January, faces this problem. Shall she send for her 6-year-old daughter to see her in the death house once more before she dies?

THE CHILD'S grandmother feels that a meeting and "last kiss" would be unjust to the child, sending her through life with a horrible memory always in mind of her mother in the death cell waiting to be killed.

MRS. SNYDER'S problem is one that few mothers fortunately, have to face. How would you decide it for her?

Perhaps Governor Smith, who has great respect for womanhood and cannot but sympathize with the unfortunate little daughter of the condemned woman, will find a way out of the problem by deciding to let New York state send the guilty woman to prison for life instead of killing her in the electric chair.

HARVARD university's commission on "economic research" is predicting prosperity for 1928, sees nothing to worry business, finance or anything else well managed, no danger in "unwieldy inventories, over production or trouble in transportation."

JAMES SPEYER, an able banker, whose father, grandfather and great-grandfather were in finance before him says: "Why ask how long will prosperity last? This country's normal condition is prosperity. If we act like sensible men, prosperity should last indefinitely like health in a healthy man. Our national inheritance is incalculable, inexhaustible. Why should this nation be anything but prosperous as long as it retains energy and common sense?"

THE HARVARD university commission favors a continuation of an "easy money" policy by the federal reserve bank. A sane recommendation. In the world's richest country only unscrupulous money lenders would desire anything but easy money, which to prosperity, industry and new enterprises, is like water and fertilizer to the soil.

BUCHAREST WIRE news of a bloody rebellion and anarchy in the Ukraine, hundreds killed in street fighting, civilians fighting soldiers, "candids" fire all along the Dniester river, but this rebellion against the bolshevik government will amount, probably to no more than the rebellion of convicts in California's Folsom prison. A few killed, then surrender.

ABRAHAM CAHAN of New York, who knows Russian affairs as well as any man in America, says no rebellion against bolshevism can amount to anything now.

Sovietism gave the peasants lands on which formerly they were slaves of an extravagant drunkard nobility.

No successful counter-revolution can come in Russia without the peasants, and they haven't finished rejecting over their land ownership yet.

FOOTBALL NEW YORK WORLD

To many of us the outstanding thing in connection with the Caldwell moment at Yale was the realization which it brought of the importance which football has assumed in college life.

We had known, of course, that football was not exactly a minor sport. But here we saw things in a curious focus. We saw a sport that has become so important that it is the subject of formal national agreements almost as solemn as international treaties.

We saw grown men who regarded these agreements as so sacred that they must be carried out to the dotting of every i and the crossing of every t. We saw common sense relegated to the background. And when we saw these things we got some idea of the effect which football has had on the college mind.

The attendance figures for yesterday's game supply the reason. The number of persons who saw football yesterday ran literally into the millions. Professional baseball in its palmyest day has never seen such crowds.

They filled stadiums that make the average baseball park seem small by comparison, stadiums that cost millions of dollars, and they are paid more millions of dollars for the privilege. And when one thinks this over one can understand the reverence with which the agreements are regarded.

Money, big money, has appeared on the scene. And when money appears on the scene everything seems to change. Agreements are made which often are enforceable as legal contracts; and these agreements mean what they say, and are not to be trifled with merely to save the feelings of a boy who had trained for years for the sake of playing in a big game.

No, when money has appeared on the scene you may be terribly sorry but you must live up to the contract. And when you refer to the contract you must speak in hushed tones, as you do in a bank; and when you go to get it out of the safe you must tiptoe. In brief, you are in the presence of a deity and must comport yourself accordingly.

Well, this new deity which we have created, the great god Football, benign or malevolent? One has a notion that he is a little of both. To the spectator he is certainly benign, for he provides something that the spectator needs: romance on an autumn afternoon, fresh air, excitement. But to the colleges? One doubts. Many a president, some suspects, regards him uneasily and racks his brains to know what to do with him.

For he has certainly turned the average American college upside down and created problems that extend far past the last game in November. One of the most serious problems in the situation which has been created in regard to the alumni. It is now an open secret that the favor of the alumni must be courted by a winning team.

They ought to take an interest in the other things which their alma mater is doing, but they don't. What interests them is a football team; and if this is not offered them then contributions to the endowment fund fall off at an alarming rate. There is dissension, bad feeling, and a whole year is ruined.

Another problem which it creates is the feverish atmosphere on the campus for two whole months of the college year. The students are like the alumni; they ought to have their minds on other things, but they don't. They have their minds on the game next Saturday, and at night, by the time they have rehearsed the yells and songs that are to be rendered, and listen to the coach give a pep speech on good old Saturday, they are too tired and excited to study.

There are other problems too, many of them, and they all bring one to the conclusion that football in itself is a problem that our colleges will presently have to deal with in direct fashion. Of course, the large investment involved makes this difficult. But one has an idea that some colleges will do what Columbia once did; call a recess on football for a while and come back to sanity.

THE APPEAL OF ATHEISM GASTONIA GAZETTE

"Atheism Beckons to Our Youth" is the assertion of the title of an article in a recent magazine which tells about the spread of organized efforts to promote disbelief in a God and to eliminate religion from American life.

Certainly "atheism beckons to our youth." Youth is questioning wondering and full of doubts. And atheism is insidious, and makes the most of these doubts and questions.

Atheism makes little effort to beckon to age. It wouldn't be much use. Age has passed through the period of doubt, and for the most part has arrived at the reality of the things which are not seen, in spite of all the alleged logic of the doubters.

But we do not need to worry greatly about the appeal of atheism. Youth will attain to age in a little while and questions will be answered and doubts dispelled.

The questionings of youth are the inspiration of progress. Always the world will be full of wonder of there is not something better beyond.

But doubt is chilling, enervating, depressing. It makes no great appeal to the spirit of youth, which is joyous in the midst of its inquiring.

And so while this effort of atheism to get a foothold is not to be ignored, it is not greatly to be feared.

Moreover, it is not new. It is one of the periodic evidences of the

Southern California Beaten By One Point While Army Is Pressed To Win From Navy

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service
Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Two abiding facts were on the record today, self-evident and without contests, as the last will and testament of intercollegiate football for the season of 1927 was about to be admitted to probate. One of these was that, given sufficient time, it will be necessary to award the national championship to the Smithsonian Institute by acclamation; the other that Howard Jones, of Southern California, must have the rules changed whereby the goal posts will be moved forward to midfield.

These facts are stated in the order of their importance to every one with the exception of Howard Jones. On Saturday against Notre Dame the trojans did exactly what they did in the same circumstances last year, meaning that they did what they didn't do. They failed to score the point after touchdown and one of the few remaining unbeaten records, went into the ash tray with the other dead ones. If memory serves, U. S. C. has blown a coast title or two by this jolly old method, so the thing must be part of the curriculum like freshman latin and bell baton pants.

Anyhow, Notre Dame's 7 to 6 victory reduced the field of undefeated teams to seven, namely, Georgia, Illinois, Pittsburgh, Wake Forest, Minnesota, Tennessee and Texas Aggies, and not all of these really belong. Georgia and Pittsburgh have the best records but, before one starts placing halos and awarding sleeve grafts, one would do well to await until the complete testimony is in.

This cannot happen until Georgia defeats Tech next Saturday, if at all, and Pittsburgh disposes of Stanford in the annual Pasadena inter-sectional affair. It is possible that both Georgia and Pitt will muffle these contests, in which case the national sweepstakes simply will become a claiming race.

Among those who will be eligible are the remaining unbeaten teams, mentioned above, and Yale and Army, which just about lets in every outfit that lost only once during the season.

The army won its annual game from the Navy on Saturday, 14 to 9, a fact that neither aids nor impedes any argument it might care to start. Other teams have beaten the Navy but they didn't have to be as good as the Army found it necessary to be on Saturday.

Still, the cadets really are poorly placed in any national debate, even more so than Yale is. For they lost to Yale who lost to Georgia, which to date has lost to no one. Frankly, the greatest teams may be the greatest ever but the records persist in making a couple of tramps out of them.

The records also deprecate the importance of Illinois, Minnesota, W. and J. and Tennessee. The Illinois were tied by Iowa state, which lost to marquette by a large majority and what can one do about that? Offhand I would suggest that one can accept the big ten title and be proud of it. Minnesota also suffered several ties and one of them was with Indiana, which ends that story rather abruptly.

Washington and Jefferson finished the season in a dead heat with West Virginia, this being an extremely close finale, West Virginia having lost to Pitt, Georgetown, Carnegie Tech and Missouri. As for Tennessee, it was tied by Vanderbilt, which lost to Texas, which lost to Texas Aggies.

A little more of this and I will have the Tennessee doctors and Gustavus Adolphus in a play off for the title.

Junior High Quintet Defeats Oviedo High

In a return game played Friday night on the Junior High School court, the quintet representing that institution defeated the Oviedo High School by the score of 12 to 10. The game was hotly contested throughout with both teams almost evenly matched.

Following are lineups with the points scored:

Sanford (12) R. F. T. Parrin (7) Kinlay (3) L. F. Brooker Ponder (2) C. Kelsey (2) Lanier (1) R. G. A. Partin (1) Cressell L. G. Jones

Referee, Craig Thompson; time-keepers, Clarence Priest and Everett Ishie. Substitutions: By Sanford, Hester for Harper, Harper for Ponder and Ponder for Hester. Oviedo, none.

Dartmouth Half Is High Point Scorer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(INS)—Myles Lane, Dartmouth halfback, is the leading individual scorer in Eastern football for 1927 with a total of 125 points, the highest ever made. North of Georgetown is second with 98 points and Cornell of N. Y. U. is third with 94. Georgetown is the high scoring team with 377 points. Next in order are Temple 351; N. Y. U. 345; Vanderbilt, 241; and Dartmouth, 228.

Gators Given Rest After Hard Battle On Thanksgiving

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Nov. 28.—(Athletic News Bureau)—Florida's fine victory over Washington and Lee in Jacksonville Thanksgiving Day earned the Gator gridmen a two days rest, Coach Tom Sebring excusing his proteges until Monday afternoon when they resume practice in preparation for the Maryland contest in the Gateway City December 2—the concluding football engagement of the season for both Southern Conference rivals.

Defeating the Generals 20 to 7 in most impressive fashion, the Florida eleven retained its high standing in the conference, holding the sixth position and topping sixteen conference members who have met one or more reverses this season.

The play of the Sebring coached machine drew plaudits of 12,000 Jacksonvilleans Thursday and the fine victory served as a delicious desert for hearty Turkey dinners. Rising above his mates with great brilliance was Dale Vansickel, sophomore end, who registered each of the three touchdowns, two on forward passes accurately tossed by the crafty Clyde Crabtree, and the other on one of football's rarest plays where he went back and lifted the ball from a Washington and Lee passer, tucked it under his arms, and scooted 25 yards across the General's goal line.

Maryland will bring to Jacksonville perhaps the heaviest team the Gators have yet faced. Coach Curley Byrd and party hope to bring their season of ups and downs to a fine conclusion at the expense of the Florida eleven, but if Mentor Sebring and party have anything to say, the Old Liners will be in for a tough afternoon and will have to be prepared for a real scrap. Florida coaches look upon the Maryland conflict as a much more rugged test than was encountered against the Generals.

The Orange and Blue warriors emerged from the W. & L. clash in good physical condition. Captain Bill Middlekauff, Florida's plunging fullback, who saw the Turkey Day game from the sidelines, hopes to be in readiness for his final game with Florida. Cecil Beck, "Horse" Bishop, other backs, who likewise concludes their football careers on December 3, but didn't get into action against the Generals, are also expected to be in good physical shape for the test from Maryland.

Reservations for choice seats to the concluding engagement may be made with Frank Rogers, 329 Laura Street, Jacksonville, or with the University Athletic Department at Gainesville.

Tech-Georgia Game Next Saturday Will Terminate Season

ATLANTA, Nov. 28.—(INS)—One of the most important and colorful football games of the year will be staged at Grant Field here next Saturday between Georgia Tech and Georgia University to decide the southern conference championship.

Tech has a record of no defeats and one tie in the conference, while Georgia has won every one of her nine games played this year. Supporters of the two teams also recall that Georgia beat Yale but Tech lost to Notre Dame in her inter-sectional clash.

All but a few tickets, those calling for seats in the temporary stands have been sold for the game and it is expected that a new attendance record will be set. More than 3,000 will see the game, according to advance indications.

All of Georgia's victories this year have been decisive ones, and only such teams as Yale, Auburn, Mercer and Alabama scored against the Bulldogs. Virginia, Furman, Tulane, Clemson and Auburn were beaten by five touchdowns, Florida and Mercer by four and Alabama by three.

Regardless of the outcome of the Tech-Georgia game it is not likely that Georgia will engage in any post season battle. Centenary, undefeated in the S. I. A. A., has challenged the pride of the southern conference, but H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at Georgia, has made it known that he is opposed to the idea of a post-season game.

Sebring, with the material he has at Florida, has done remarkably well and deserves great credit. Middlekauff has proved a splendid captain, and as a fullback, rate's leader in the south.

Maning And Godale Will Clash Here In Feature Bout On Wednesday Night

Mel Maning, Pacific coast scrapper who gained a draw decision here last week in his fight with "Gob" Sharpe, will again be in the headline attraction Wednesday night at the Municipal Athletic Field. Maning will meet Henry Godale, Orlando boxer and matchmaker, who has a good record behind him.

Maning was given a draw last week when in the opinion of many ringside critics he should have had the decision. Maning is one of the cleverest boxers that have been seen here this season, but was handicapped somewhat in his fight here by the fact that he was sick. He entered the ring against the advice of his handlers and made a good impression with the fans, many of whom believe he would have had little trouble in disposing of Sharpe had he been in the best of condition.

Maning is the lad who holds six-round draw decision against Fidel LaBara, world's champion. In addition, Maning has fought many of the leaders of his division and has emerged from these scraps with a record that is good. Local fans will look for him to put up a corking exhibition when he faces the rugged Godale.

The Orlando scrapper's record speaks for itself. His last bout in the City Beautiful was against Kid White whom he disposed of in three rounds. Godale has engaged in 109 fights and has yet to be knocked down or out. Godale has not been seen in action in Sanford and local ring followers are looking forward to his appearance Wednesday night with much interest. Godale is a puncher par excellence and will give Wednesday night's crowd their money's worth in action.

The semi-final card will see Kid Levitt of Sanford in action against Batling Penden of Orlando. Both boys are pronounced in good condition for their affair. Each weighs around 147 pounds.

Two other bouts of six rounds each are on the program which as usual will be under the auspices of the American Legion and for the benefit of the drum and bugle corps.

Regardless of the outcome of the Tech-Georgia game it is not likely that Georgia will engage in any post season battle. Centenary, undefeated in the S. I. A. A., has challenged the pride of the southern conference, but H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at Georgia, has made it known that he is opposed to the idea of a post-season game.

State Licenses Are Taken Away From 6 Florida Doctors

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 28.—Six Florida physicians were today without the title of "Doctor" and were forbidden to practice as a result of the revocation of their medical licenses by the state board of medical examiners, according to a report in the hand today of Secretary of State H. Clay Crawford. C. C. Faiman, who figured in the trial of William G. Shepherd for the murder of Shepherd's foster son, William McClintock, was included in the sextet of physicians who lost their licenses. Faiman was alleged to have illegally obtained his medical diploma and license.

The ousted physician was alleged to have furnished Shepherd with germs which caused the death of the latter's wealthy stepson, with a view of obtaining his fortune. Faiman was acquitted and moved to Florida. He has since disappeared.

W. H. Pratt, of Orlando; C. W. Page, of Chipley; Eugene Hoffman, of St. Petersburg; Edward Roach, of Vero Beach; and W. H. Stippach, of Madison, also lost their licenses on grounds of obtaining them fraudulently.

That's what they're saying about "Red" Bethea, who has been tarring in the backfield for the University of Florida freshmen this fall. Bethea, a native Floridian, was for the past two years the pre-school sensation at Riverside Military Academy and now it would be hard to find his all-around superior in freshmen grid circles. His future work at Florida will be watched with unusual interest.

this city and a friend of the family of one of the flyers. In the winter of 1918-1919, when the naval airport and training school at Dinner Key near here was still humming with war activity, the two young men with many other were learning the intricacies of seaplane piloting. Following the Armistice, with discipline slightly relaxed, the boys were casting about for something to break the monotony of camp life, hit upon the notion of flying their training plane to Nassau.

Carefully tuning their motors, they approached their immediate superior officer and asked if there was any reason why the thing couldn't be done. He consented and the pair hurried to their planes, headed them out to sea, and were gone over the eastern horizon before the officer had a chance to change his mind.

Meanwhile the officer had interviewed his superior, who considered the stunt foolhardy and altogether inadvisable and furthermore, Nassau is in a foreign country, so they wouldn't have a right to land there. It was too late to do anything to remedy the matter.

The two planes arrived safely at rest on the waters of the British port, their occupants were ferried ashore by native boatmen.
