GERMAN MINERS WILL STRIKE AS PROTEST

OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE PLANS NEW MOVE

GENERAL STRIKE PLANNED AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT DECISION TO END WAR

Of Passive Resistance That Has Been in Progress in Ruhr.

MINERS ARE OUT
Six Thousand of Them Quit up to Noon Today.

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Sept. 27.—The German Government has practically been handed over to a military dictatorship it is deduced at the foreign office from Berlin dispatches. Situation regarding as full dangerous possibilities but as furnishing no basis present for any action part on allies. Authorities of the occupation in Ruhr however, said to be prepared to meet any emergency which may arise as consequence proclamation issued in Berlin placing minister defense Gensler in full charge and authorizing him to take any measures to insure order. This action was considered as partly in response to Bavaria's action setting up dictatorship and in any case as solely related to Requirements of internal politics.

DUSSELDORF, Sept. 27.—Miners in the Gelsenkirchen, Vrecklinghausen and Wanne districts in the heart of the Ruhr mine fields declared a general strike as the first action in a protest against Berlin government's decision to end passive resistance and also against exploitation district by the French. It is estimated that 6,000 miners quit work up to noon today and others expected to follow.

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—Germany's Foreign troubles are just about to commence and the time to speak of "capitulation" has not yet exactly arrived, for the fate of the Ruhr and Rhineland is intimately interlocked with the impending resumption of the reparations problem.

This is the gist of a candid statement by a government leader to a private audience of Berlin editors who were frankly told that the government contemplated the immediate future with profound skepticism if not pessimism and that it is not deluding itself into the belief that daylight and freedom await Germany, now that she has relinquished passive resistance.

"Our troubles are only just beginning," he continued, "and we have yet to learn the Entente's attitude towards our abandonment of passive resistance and whether the occupying powers are sincerely desirous of co-operating with us in the complex task of restoring order."

The question of whether the administration of the German railways is to revert exclusively to German nationals and whether the evicted officials will be reinstated constitutes only one of the mooted points which the government is not in a position as yet to express an opinion.

The government's outstanding concern, said this official, occupies itself with the fate of the Rhineland, and it is a cardinal point on which clarity is demanded.

On the issue the government's spokesmen expressed himself with a frankness that amazed his editorial auditors.
"If France makes demands in this direction," he said, "it remains to be seen how the other allies will view such a procedure. Such an eventually would, of course, create a new European situation and it would then become necessary to choose between capitulation and a breach. The time to talk of this has not arrived, but the German government hardly looks for pronounced activity in favor of Germany in entire circles. Until England, Belgium and Italy have spoken it would be premature to mention breach.

"If, on the other hand, we have to deal exclusively with France it would be a simple matter to conclude, in favor of M. Poincare's last speeches, that negotiations would lead to nothing. The Rhineland and Ruhr problems concern the entire Entente, on one hand, and Germany on the other." He believed that all the creditor nations were entitled to have a voice in deciding whether the Ruhr and Rhineland were to remain under French sovereignty, and added that Germany did not propose to indulge in such dangerous international experiment as fully to go on record before the allies had expressed themselves.

OPENING OF 1ST NATIONAL'S NEW BANKING HOUSE

Vault Made by Mosler Finest in The State

Finishing touches are being put on the new First National Bank Building, especially the banking rooms, where skilled artisans and mechanics are erecting and finishing the metal grills and other interior work.

The bank is making its plans to occupy its new quarters the latter part of next week, and though the journey from its present home is a short one, nevertheless it is momentous when it is remembered that President F. P. Foster has transacted business in this same location for over 40 years, since 1883, and Cashier Whitner since 1888, 35 years.

It is the earnest wish of the bank officials that everyone have an opportunity to make a close inspection of the new banking rooms, with the modern vaults, safes and all the other up-to-date equipment for the safety and convenience of the banks customers.

In accordance with this wish the doors of banking rooms will be thrown open to the public on Thursday, October 4th, 1923 from four to ten o'clock and the citizens of Sanford, Seminole and adjoining counties are cordially invited to be the guests of the bank during those hours.

Sanford's best orchestra will furnish music for the occasion and Stewart the Florist will have charge of the floral decorations, and a souvenir of the occasion will be presented to each visitor.

The officers of the bank hope to welcome on this occasion everyone interested in the development of Sanford and our section of the State, as they believe the erection of this modern, fireproof, six-story building marks a great step in that direction.

The following invitation is being mailed to bankers and others residing in distant points, possibly not reached by our local paper.

The Officers and Directors of the First National Bank of Sanford, Florida cordially invite you to be present at the formal opening of their new Banking House at the corner of Park Avenue and First Street, Sanford, Florida on Thursday, October fourth nineteen hundred and twenty-three four to ten o'clock.

"SNOWDRIFT," JONES' FILM, IS VIRILE STORY OF NORTHWEST

Charles Jones shifts his scene of activities from the Western plains to the dazzling snows of the Yukon in his latest William Fox production "Snowdrift," at the Majane today. This is a virile story of the Northwest which should find instant favor with all movie fans.

In its original form this screen story was a novel by James B. Hendryx, and the leading role seems ideally suited for Charles Jones. Jones has the character of Carter Brent, also known as "Ace-in-the-hole," a mining engineer from the states who is in love with "Snowdrift," a white child who has grown up with the Indians. A French Canadian run-runner and the captain of a whaling vessel bribe the Indians to help them in their attempt to steal the girl and sell her into slavery in Dawson.

Johnny Claw, the run-runner exchanges his liquor for the furs of the Indians and then, seizing "Snowdrift" starts over the frozen trail to Dawson. Brent arrives at the Indian village some after and hurries to Dawson where he finds the girl held prisoner in a dance hall. Then follows one of the most dramatic fights ever made for the screen.

NEW YORK MAN IN STATEMENT ON THE ASYLUM

Said He Was Severely Flogged But Not Substantiated.

(By The Associated Press)
CHATTANOOCHEE, Sept. 27.—William G. Fetter who charged on his deathbed in New York Monday that he was severely flogged several months ago at the hospital here was never whipped or beaten or even had any trouble at the institution, Assistant Superintendent Harvell stated, in the absence of Superintendent Knott. Harvell said Fetter was admitted to the hospital June 17, 1922, and taken to New York and turned over to his brother by Superintendent Knott June 25, 1923. When he entered the institution he weighed 129 pounds and when he left he weighed 161.

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 27.—Records of the prison department show Fetter was sentenced in Duval county December 21, 1921 for six months for breaking and entering, not for riding train. He was released June 11, 1922, being allowed 12 days off for good behavior. He served at Convict Camp "22, and records of inspectors during that time his sentence show conditions good and no record of any punishment or complaints. Fetter entered the hospital at Chattanooga six days after his discharge from the prison camp.

Harry Kent has just returned from Jacksonville where the contract was signed with the pleasing news that Sanford is to have one of the most modern buildings in the state exclusively devoted to the automobile industry, as every department will be housed under the roof of the new building, which will be constructed of brick, two stories in height and covering a floor space 100x104. This building, which will open up a new business section for Sanford, will be absolutely fire proof, and will contain every modern improvement, with an extra large show room for the display of the new Oakland.

PALMETTO PLANS TO GO TO ORLANDO EN MASSE FOR HEARING

PALMETTO, Sept. 27.—The business houses of Palmetto will most likely close in protest Oct. 3, that the whole town may form a motorcade to Orlando on that date, to appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission and fight the proposed freight rate increase on porokishes that the railroads are now asking for.

The Palmetto Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting Wednesday night, passed a resolution requesting the mayor to issue a proclamation to that effect. Palmetto is the largest fruit and vegetable shipping point in the state, and the growers and others here are awake to the fact that an increase in rates, which are already exorbitant, would be a body blow to this section, and they are doing all within their power to prevent it. Hence the day of protest and the motorcade to Orlando.

PRISON SENTENCES ARE PROMISED ALL CHICAGO SPEEDERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Prison sentences at hard labor to solve Chicago's reckless speeding problem are advocated by Mayor William E. Dever, who has rejected the idea of having a special session of the legislature called to pass a bill requiring mental, physical and mechanical tests for motorists.
Automobile killers are not mentally, physically or mechanically deficient, the mayor said. They are deliberately thwarting the laws of speed and sanity and should be dealt with as criminals, he declared.

Would Not Tell Names of Men Who Crossed Wires

(By The Associated Press)

K. Pomeroy, chairman of law committee of the New York Stock Exchange. He would not tell the newspaper men their names, but said there was a third member of the legislature whose name he could not recall, and these were parties referred to by President Cromwell of the exchange when he said certain persons threatened the exchange with adverse legislation unless their demands were met.

Tomato Growers of Western State Losing Big Money

By Leaf Spot or Blight Which Attacks Them.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 27.—Tomato growers of the Middle Atlantic and Middle Western states are losing approximately 250,000 tons of tomatoes annually from damage done by the tomato leaf-spot or blight, according to investigations by the United States department of agriculture, described in information received by the state agricultural authorities. This loss can be largely controlled by thoroughly plowing under all dead tomato vines in the fall to prevent the overwintering of the fungus, it is stated.

The tomato leaf-spot fungus, as shown by experiments, grows fruits, and overwinters on various kinds of dead plant material, such as weeds, grasses, cornstalks, wheat stubble, and remains of other crops.

IMPEACH WALTON

The Senate Will Not Convene Until Court Decision.

(By The Associated Press)
WAGONER, Okla., Sept. 27.—A party of fifty guardsmen arrived here unannounced. They declined to state their mission. Sixteen persons here have been named on grand-jury indictments for alleged participation in floggings.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—Undaunted by the result of their first skirmish with military forces of the state, members of the lower-house of the Oklahoma legislature prepared tonight for the next move in their attempt to meet to consider the official acts of Governor J.C. Walton.

Despite the fact that they were dispersed when they gathered here today before the barred doors of the house chamber at the capitol the legislators contended that the house formally was convened and that it is now in recess pending the call of the president officers. A statement by Representative W. D. McBee, a leader in the assembly move, declared that the proceeding constituted a meeting of the house, notwithstanding its interruption by troops acting under orders of Governor Walton.

With the statement, Representative McBee made public what he declared to be the official journal of the house.

It detailed the brief action which terminated in the clearance of the capitol corridors by the military.

Prevented from meeting or even caucusing, the house members tonight pinned their hopes for protection against the military authorities upon the efforts of a legal committee which mark the next stage in the conflict.

That there would be no immediate attempt to assemble again in defiance of martial law regulations was the promise made late today by house leaders to Adjutant General Markham. Observers predicted that the solons would await a court ruling before enacting another assembly.

JURY IN FLOGGING TRIAL APPARENTLY FAR FROM VERDICT

MACON, Ga., Sept. 27.—The jury considering the case of Dr. C. A. Yarbrough charged with riot in connection with the flogging of W. O. Barnett two and a half hours after taking the case had given no indication of agreeing on a verdict. City Judge Will Gunn, who presided last in the courtroom at 8:20 o'clock instructing officials to call him in the event a verdict was reported.

Judge Will Gunn late Wednesday issued a rule of nisi ordering Wm. Birdsong, deputy sheriff, to appear in court at one o'clock today to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of court for interrupting Special Prosecutor Wallace Miller while he was addressing the jury, in the trial of Dr. C. A. Yarbrough on a charge of riot. Birdsong's commission was revoked by Sheriff Hicks immediately after the incident.

A PLEA

My life is what I've made it, good or ill.
Let me forever know this, and be still.
I would not lay to destiny or fate
The failures that are mine, or over-rate
Those fruitless efforts made;
But looking on this life as but a grade,
I would with contrite spirit strongly strive
To let what good there is in me survive.

BEAUTIFUL DINNER PARTY AT HANNAH HOME

Mrs. Harry C. Hannah of Eustis entertained Thursday night with one of the prettiest dinner parties ever given in Eustis, honoring her husband, who passed his thirty-seventh milestone yesterday. The plans for this lovely affair were kept a secret from Mr. Hannah, and not until he entered his home for the usual dinner hour did he become aware of his birthday celebration. The Hannah home is one of the most attractive in the city and for this occasion was made doubly beautiful by the exquisite arrangement of the dining table, which was arranged for seventeen guests, members of the Eustis Rotary club, of which Mr. Hannah is president, and three visiting Rotarians from Orlando and Tampa. The center piece of the table was a floral mound of yellow and purple, carrying out the Rotary colors. Pink rosebuds and ferns, with soft shaded lights completed a picture long to be remembered.

The usual birthday cake with its thirty-seven candles was a feature of the dinner, which was served in four tempting courses. Mesdames Hannah, W. B. Powell, and Mrs. Joe McCormick of Orlando, acting as waitresses. Orchestra music was enjoyed during the dinner and the evening was one of the most delightful social affairs ever given here. Taylor, Charles Isted, C. A. Childs, George Williams, all members of the Eustis Rotary Club; Joe McCormick and Kendrick Guernsey of the Orlando club and Ex-Vice President John Turner of the Tampa club. Shortly after dinner the guests were invited to the back yard where a "prize fight" was staged between Harry "Toots" Hannah, Jr., and J. R. Ashmore, Jr. Many good wishes and hearty congratulations were showered on the honoree, and likewise to his charming wife, who arranged and carried to such brilliant success the beautiful and elegant affair. RUSSELL SISTERS AT MILANE THEATER

The first vaudeville road attraction of the season to appear at the new and beautiful Milane Theater, is the Russell Sisters, a Keith Vaudeville act, in a gorgeous scenic novelty, who were greeted with a packed house at their opening performance last night.

Their novelty is entitled "Visions of Splendor" and is staged with their own special scenery and electrical effects, requiring their own electrician and two assistants to handle the electrical scenic effects in the various transformation scenes.

The act opens with two young ladies in a pretty ballet, "Visions of Spain," surrounded by a tropical scene, which is followed by Miss Lucille Russell in a Hawaiian number. The two dancers are next seen in Ballet of the Grotto. Many brilliant lighting effects are taking place in this class number.

The next number is "Spirit of the Tempest." A storm approaches with flashes of lightning. At this instant as though coming out of the fast moving clouds, Nellie Russell appears on a large white globe and does a pretty dance while rolling the globe with her feet. As she is about to make her exit, a brilliant rainbow appears in the sky. The closing number is "Visions De Art," in which a transformation scene takes place, and before the audience are aware of the next surprise, the Dancing Models are seen in the distant background, beneath a plush canopy, in the most realistic scenic poses from paintings of art. The Russell Sisters will appear at the Milane today matinee and night and tomorrow night.

FOR CONSTIPATION

Black-Draught Recommended by an Arkansas Farmer Who Has Used It When Needed, for 25 Years.

Hatfield, Ark.—Mr. G. W. Parsons, a well-known farmer on Route 1, this place, says: "I keep Black-Draught in my home all the time. It is the best all-around medicine I have ever found for the liver and for constipation. We began using it 25 or more years ago and have used it whenever needed since. I have never found any other medicine as good for constipation, and that was what I suffered with till I began using Black-Draught. Black-Draught corrected this condition, and now we use it for the liver and for indigestion—a tight and sluggish feeling after meals, for bad taste in the mouth and sour stomach."

"My wife uses it for headache and biliousness. It sets on our shell and we don't let it get out. It has been a great help to us. I believe a great deal of sickness is caused by hurried eating and constipation, and Black-Draught, if taken right, will correct this condition."

Leatrice Joy needs no introduction to movie fans, since her adorable performance of Bunty, in the Reginald Barker production, "Bunty Pulls the String." From that delightful characterization Miss Joy started soaring star-ward, and remained with the Gldwyn Studios to make four more pictures, "A Tale of Two Worlds," "The Night Rose," "Ace of Hearts," and her latest, "Poverty of Riches."
John Bowers, the husband of Louise Lovely in "Poverty of Riches," has a charm all his own. His friends describe it as a quiet sweetness of character that shines through all of his screen roles. One of his most popular pictures was "Hulda from Holland," when he played opposite Mary Pickford. He was first on the speaking stage in Frohman's "Charity Ball," and later abandoned the spoken drama for the screen.

THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Last Thursday afternoon off—business will soon be on.

And at that we have had a glorious summer. Sanford has never experienced any better one.

You just have to hand it to Orlando. With their new skyline and more big buildings going up Orlando certainly is a real city.

The Oklahoma legislators shot their wad yesterday and were stopped at the door of the state house by the soldiers. They were not allowed to assemble but they will now take their case to the Supreme Court and it will be a long drawn out fight.

Tampa is now in the throes of a political fight and the Times and Tribune are filled each day with a bunch of political unbecome. It seems to us that much valuable time is being lost down there over an office that when it is filled will have no special bearing on the League of Nations, the Oklahoma Ku Klux or the Muscle Shoals plant. Some folks sure take themselves seriously when they run for office.

The New York papers have resumed publication after a week or more of suspension due to the strike of the pressmen. It just shows that when a bunch of men decide to strike they strike regardless of the inconvenience of the public. But we will bet a hat the striking pressmen will think twice before they pull such a head-on play again. It is just such strikes as this that makes the public thoroughly disgusted with the men who so completely forget their duty to the public as to quit work any time they feel like it. Strikes are almost a thing of the past. There are other ways of meeting the differences between labor and capital.

COMING DEATH OF THE MOTION PICTURE HOUSE.

If the plan now under consideration of charging two dollars for the viewing of a motion picture, as is now under contemplation in New York and Chicago, there will be many a country show-house that will close its doors. The projectors of these high prices, which they claim must be made because of the high salaries paid the performers, will demand from the country districts a relatively high price—and the manager of the theater knows full well that the public will not stand for it. If the contemplated high prices in the cities shall even demand one-half those prices there will have to be some new companies to supply the lower-priced houses which would otherwise be thrown out of business.—Palatka News.

READ THE NEWSPAPERS.

You would be amazed to know how many men and women there are who do not read the newspapers. Sometimes you find even opinionated people who are loud mouthed in their praise or denunciation of public men or public matters, who do not know the difference between the telegraphic or the editorial page of a paper. We have before us a syndicated editorial on this subject that we think worthy of use.

The most important reason why governmental functions are not better performed, why a democracy is so sluggish, why so many needed improvements lag, is that citizens do not take the trouble to keep themselves informed as to what is going on.

They read a headline or two, have a bit of superficial argument with a neighbor, and are merely confirmed in their established prejudices, without clearly finding out the facts in any given case. In these busy days no citizen can investigate at first hand all the matters taken in charge by his public representatives. What newspapers are for is to collect the most important facts about such activities and present them to the attention of the citizen.

The ability to vote intelligently and wisely, to talk usefully to one's neighbor who also votes, depends largely on the use made of the daily newspaper. Here the citizen finds news, local, state, national and international. Here are domestic and other features adding to one's information, and advertisements giving the news of what's good in a business way. Advertisements are an education in themselves. The editorial column, interpreting the news of the world, bringing the application of all kinds of happiness, domestic and foreign, down to their relations to the citizen at home, is the heart of the paper. In it he finds unbiased opinion on non-partisan subjects, and the editor's best judgment on partisan matters.

If you like the way your local paper handles things, you can learn from it swiftly and with no lost motion many things you need to know. If you do not like that way, at least you can learn how not to do things, and by careful observation you may learn why you do not want to do things that way. But if you do not read the paper, you might as well not be here. You may give an imitation of belonging to the life of your community and the world at large, but you do not really belong anywhere.—Gainesville Sun.

THE GOOD SENSE OF ZONING

Daytona has authorized the employment of an expert on zoning to lay out and plan for the future growth of that city. St. Petersburg is taking steps looking to the same procedure. The movement in St. Petersburg seems to have called for caustic comment from the editor of the Clearwater News, who jeers at the whole idea of zoning as foolish. It is foolish if it is a form of folly that is being very widely adopted.

The idea in this country in the past has been that cities, like Topsy, should be allowed to just grow. A person who is planning a home does not follow this method at all. If he is a sensible person he really plans. He calls in an architectural expert. He gives that expert full information as to the sort of home he wants, of the situation which it is to occupy, of the possible future needs. He asks that expert to take all these factors into consideration, and out of his superior knowledge to plan a house that will be adequate to present and future necessities.

'KIDS'

It is not foolish. It is, in fact, the part of superior wisdom, to do the same thing with cities. There are some nice, quiet towns, self-satisfied and contented, which do not expect nor desire any great growth. In such places it may be unnecessary to plan for the future. They are already finished. There are many other towns which give every evidence of continued and rapid growth. This is the case with very many Florida cities. Most of them were originally planned on a small town scale. The time has come when for most of them a zoning system is absolutely essential.

The present plan of the city of Miami will not fit a population of two or three hundred thousand. There is no doubt as to this. Before that number of people can live comfortably here there must be many changes. Some of these changes must come with the years, but some of them can be clearly foreseen now. They cannot all be made now, but a plan can be solved which will make it possible to regulate all future building with reference to the city that is to be. If any city needs a zoning system, Miami certainly does.—Miami Herald.

PUSHING THE HOMESEKERS' RATES MATTER HOME TO THE RAILROADS.

A letter has been sent to the presidents of the railroads whose lines serve the southeastern states, by the Georgia Real Estate Association, J. Clay Murphey, president, Macon, Ga., urging them to establish homeseekers' rates which have not been restored in this section since the World War, although the west and the southwest have them. As pointed out by the Manufacturers Record the railroads are missing their opportunities in not re-establishing these rates and also in not advertising the South in the liberal way that the West and the Southwest and the Pacific Coast railroads advertise their respective regions, the splendid results of which are visible everywhere.

There are some pungent sentences in the letter of the Georgia Real Estate Association, which is working hand in hand with the National Real Estate Association to have these rates restored. For instance:

"The railroads of this country moved 5,000,000 people out of the South following the Civil War, due to bad economic conditions, and by advertising the opportunities of the Middle West and the far West—always the land of the setting sun. Today that condition is reversed. The bad economic conditions (agriculturally) are in the West, with serious over-production of wheat, large debts and high priced lands. Their people are looking to the opportunities of the Southeast where every advantage of soil, climate, values and living conditions exist—free from blizzards, and free at last from a one-crop slavery. The best and the last of these are aplandshroenwesterner emf the cheap lands are in the South. The large plantations, never before available, are now offered for sale to the man in this country who is looking for real opportunity.

"Many negroes have migrated because they cannot farm cotton against the boll weevil. The intelligent white farmer practicing diversification, is getting independn. ofr every negro family that has left us many small white farmers could be brought in and adapted to a successful farming program. . . . What will the railroads of the South do to assist? We need leaders as never before—men of vision, courage and action. They are doing much, but we do not believe they have as yet fully realized the extent of the opportunity of today when everyone is looking southward—

"Every section of the United States has homeseekers' rates except the Southeast. It is easier to move out of the South and harder to move into it than to any other section of the country. Extensive advertising and homeseekers' rates on the part of the railroads can do much to develop the South."

Mr. Murphey's assertion that it is easier to move out of the South and harder to move into it than any other section embodies a strong arraignment of the railroads for their neglect to restore homeseekers' rates and it ought to spur them to action in the manner desired if nothing else will do so. The plea of the lines that in the past commercial travelers' took advantage of such rates, although they were not entitled to them, and thus caused the companies to lose fares which they ought to have received, is in vain, for the railroads could attach such provisions to tickets issued at homeseekers' rates that none could purchase them to advantage, excepting they were bonafide prospective settlers. In other words, the railroads, which make such a claim show their incompetence to deal with a few dishonest men and thus they use this as an excuse to make a whole section suffer.—Pah!—Manufacturers Record.

YOUR TOWN AND YOU

How thoroughly do you believe in your town? How real is your enthusiasm for the work that must solve her problems? How genuine your faith in her future?

A town is very like a man. It has hands and feet—feet to move with, hands to work with. It has veins and arteries—its streets and railways—through which its life blood circulates. It has nerves, which center in telephone exchange and telegraph offices. Its strength of bone and sinew is in its banks, its manufacturing and its mercantile establishments. And it grows, just as does the body. It has a brain, for a city must think. And it has, for it must have a spirit.

What is the spirit of your town? How truly are you a part of that spirit?

The answer to such questions is not found in any psychological analysis, but solely in what you are doing.

Every man is part and parcel of the body of his town. That body needs him. It gives him a great deal, and he is expected to give it something in return, and the measure of the unselfishness with which he and his fellow citizens give the whole-heartedness, the genuineness of the spirit of the giving is the thing that determines the spirit of the town.

A writer of holy writ reminds us in striking language that no part of the human body can declare its independence of the other parts. The hand can hardly say that because it is not the foot "it is not of the body."

And the merchant cannot say that because he is not the banker he is not of the body of the town, nor can the manufacturer say that because he is not the doctor, the lawyer or the public official, he is not of the same body.

The truth is that all men who live in a town are inter-dependent. No one of them could live in the town—no one of them would be willing to live in it—if there were no others to keep him company, buy of him, sell to him, help him and be helped by him. He would have incentive neither to work nor to plan.

And, speaking of work, it matters not whether a man sells his labor to another or buys it from another—whether he works for another or has that other work for him—they work together.

And the beneficiary of their working together is society—their town or city, their state, their country, the whole world.

Do you believe in your town? Do you look ahead to a time when your town will be bigger, wealthier, more progressive, better equipped to serve its own people and its neighbors? Do you see, through your mind's eye, the town you'd like your town to be?

What are you doing to help make your town just that—what you want it to be?

Your town will be just what its people make it, and it is no more the duty of your fellow townsmen to make it what it may be than it is yours. It is the duty of all of you. It is a collective duty.

Don't forget that you are a part of the body of your town. You are one member, and the other members are just as dependent on you as you are on them. You are all inter-dependent.

Have faith in your town—supreme faith!

Show that faith in it by what you do for it.

For, to use the language of holy writ, again, "faith without works is dead."—Palatka News.

WEEKLY WEATHER AND CROP BULLETIN

For the week ending September 24. The chief features of the week's weather were the locally heavy rains in the northern and central divisions, and the entire absence of rain in some portions of the same divisions. The rainfall was most frequent in Madison, Gadsden, and portions of Duval, Columbia and Franklin counties; and it was heavy over portions of Pasco, Hillsboro and Polk. The week's total was generally less than an inch in Atlantic coast counties south of St. Johns; and it was generally light in the interior south of parallel 28. While soil moisture is ample over the greater portion of the section, there are localities where moderate rains would benefit recently set strawberry plants. Temperatures were near the seasonal, except over the northeast, Jacksonville averaging 3 degrees above the normal for the week—unseasonably warm for the period.

As a whole, the weather was favorable for farm work, and the planting and growth of truck, except some dry areas on uplands. There was much sunshine, and the harvesting of corn continued in some northern and western counties; much hay was saved. Cane and sweet potatoes made fair to good progress; peanuts are mostly fair to good. The picking of cotton continued locally in northern and western divisions, but the bulk of the crop has been harvested; as indicated in previous reports, the crop is very short. The setting of strawberry continued; local showers would prove beneficial in the central division. Fall truck, such as beans, peppers, okra, onions, and some Irish potatoes are in fair to good condition; moderate quantities are in local markets. Rice, one of the minor crops, is doing well. Citrus trees and fruit, both in the peninsula and west of the Suwannee river, are in good to excellent conditions; moderate rains would be beneficial on uplands.

Never worry about how late it is because it never is as late as it will be a little later.

THE MEASURE OF A KNOCKER

When you hark to the voice of the knocker,
As you list to his hammer fall,
Remember the fact
That the knocking act
Requires no brains at all.
When you list to the growl of the growler,
As you hark to his ceaseless growl,
You will please recall
That a dog is all
It takes for an endless howl.
As you watch for the kick of a kicker,
As you notice his strenuous kick,
You'll observe the rule
That a stubborn mule
Is great at the same old trick.
The knocker, the growler, the kicker,
Fault-finders, large and small,
What do they need
For each daily deed?
No brains, no sense—just gall.

POVERTY OF RICHES

There are so many fine things in the new Goldwyn picture, "Poverty of Riches," by Leroy Scott, that opens at the Princess Theater today, that it is difficult to say what its strongest impression is. The story is one of family life, simply told, yet replete with drama, as real life is. The acting of the all-star cast leaves nothing to be desired; and the story shows an actual progression in the unfolding of the characters of the people in the photoplay. At the end of the story, life has taught them something, and they are different people from the young married folks we met at the beginning of the first reel. It would be unfair to disclose the plot of the story, but it is gripping, entertaining and delightfully told.

Reginald Barker directed "Poverty of Riches," and injected many subtle bits of action that are rarely seen in photoplays. In the cast are Leatrice Joy, Irene Rich, Louise Lovely, Richard Dix, John Bowers, and half a dozen wonderful children.

SUICIDE ENDS MAN'S LIFE

"Come and See" Day

First Baptist Sunday School Has Greatest Year in History.

Next Sunday is "Come and See" day in the First Baptist Sunday school. The records of the school show that the average attendance for the year has been the largest in the history of the school, and other achievements mark this as the greatest year the school has had.

The First Baptist Sunday school is composed of six distinct departments and each department is managed by a full corps of officers and teachers. It is the purpose of the management to constantly supply the school with capable officers and teachers.

The school has enjoyed a fine summer's work, and the workers are looking to the fall and winter with keen interest. The most thorough training school which the church has conducted is now being planned for the early fall, and the new students who are enrolling give evidence of a great fall's work.

Sunday is "Come and See" day, and all who have been away on vacation, and all who have not been attending the summer are asked to come and see the work of the school next Sunday. The program will be full of interest.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all who do not attend other schools.

CELERY SEED

ATHLETICS IN SANFORD THIS COMING YEAR

Many people have been asking lately what is considered by themselves a very puzzling question which is in reality a very simple one but at the same time requires a lengthy answer. Did you ever notice that there are four main sections to a newspaper? They are well known as the Front page (news), Editorial page on which the editor or special writers voice their different opinions of the days happenings, the Society page on which all of the social functions of the immediate community and those in which they are interested and now, last but not least the Sporting page. In the past few years the sporting page has been taking up more than either the editorial or society and is surpassed only by the front page. This is due to the fact that at least half of the subscribers to a newspaper are very much enthused in the happenings of the sport world and usually, after seeing the front page, turn immediately to the sporting columns which holds their undivided attention for most of the time which is spent in reading the entire paper. Now to come down to the question! What good are athletics to the growth of a town? The answer is this: Besides making the younger generation a stronger and healthier part of the human race, athletics are the biggest advertising assets a town can have! The sport page of every live, wide awake newspaper devotes at least half of its space to the local sporting teams and affairs! And if every town will back its athletic teams to the utmost they will soon have accounts of their sporting affairs in the pages of the leading papers of the day which are read by people all over the world. All that athletic teams of a town ask is your support in its games. They will do the rest! Summing it up athletics are one of the biggest if not the biggest advertising assets a small town can have. Now take for example the football team. A number of people seem to think that this game is only a rough and tumble sport which injures Young America, while it is one of the most hardening games there is. A real sport fan who sees a game of football and catches on to the game will tell you that it is the best game going. But at the same time a football team is the most expensive of all athletics! It needs more backing and more encouragement than most any other sport. Coming down to our own town we find that Sanford has some of the best football material in the state and has one of the best if not the best, of coaches Coach Wilkinson is striving to put out a football team this year that will capture the state championship which will mean a lot of advertising for Sanford whether they win the championship or not. Last year Sanford High won the Central State championship and there is no reason what ever why they should not do the same if not better this year. But backing is needed! We have a fair athletic field now—but a whole lot better one is needed! Next year we expect to have a regular athletic field but until then we must use Hood Field which has no fence or any thing whatever to keep out all cheap skate sports who will not pay their admission price to see the game. So in the mean while we must depend on the good spirit of the people to support what is expected to be Sanford High's best football team in the past ten years. Come out and support your school team by purchasing a ticket or donating to the athletic fund which must be close on to $3000 this year to put over the High school athletic program. The students are showing their good spirit by giving five afternoons a week to a most gruelling practice—just to put Sanford on the map. Just think of the advertising this means to Sanford! Wouldn't you like to pick up one our largest state dailies or a national daily and upon turning to the Sport page find big, glowing accounts of Sanford's football team. Now wouldn't you feel proud to know that your city and it's schools were being broadcaster over the whole United States? Of course you would! Now lets see what a great backing citizens of Sanford and Seminole county can give to the football, basketball and baseball teams this year! Come out to every game!
