New Lyman High School Hits Snag

By BILL SCOTT

A snag has developed in the awarding of the contract for construction of the new Lyman High School which could mean an estimated $75,000 in additional costs to be borne by the taxpayers through the Seminole County Board of Education.

Reason for the situation as explained by Ted Pinard, State Education Department construction approval division, is failure of the School Board to insure approval of construction plans by the state before setting bid date and awarding contract to the low bidder.

Pinard, in a telephone interview Wednesday from Tallahassee, said plans as drawn by Watson and Company, an architectural firm with main office in Tampa, would have to incorporate a special door for emergency exit, a water closet, additional electrical apparatus, change lighting in specified area and install a liquidated damage clause.

Damage clause is necessary, Pinard said, to insure contractor completes the construction on a agreed time. Without this clause, Pinard added, "the contractor could take his time — before completing the school and there is nothing the School Board could do about it."

Graham Construction Company, of Orlando, was the successful low bidder two weeks ago, when school board accepted $2,700,000 bid to build the facility.

Pinard said if School Board decides to let Graham have the job now, the School Board would have to ante-up the additional money required to comply with the state's requirements.

This additional money could amount, some sources say, to $75,000 additional cost and would mean an overall $2,775,000 price tag on the Lyman school.

To avoid having to accept the additional cost, School Board could throw out all bids and rebid the job with the inclusion of the mandatory requirements.

According to Pinard, the damage clause would have to be assumed by the contractor regardless of whether the school system elects to keep bid as it and offers to finance other requirements out of other school bond money.

Pinard kept additional requirements could run into a lot of money, and, while not wishing to invest himself in the local situation, seemed to think it would be best if project was rebid.

This would take the School Board out of certain criticism which would follow if the board decides to accept Graham's low bid and elect to find other charges out of bond money.

The state officer said the problem developed from a situation of School Board waiting too long to submit plans, then doing it in a hurry so plans could be ready for a pre-set bid date.

Pinard said there should be an obligatory waiting period between plan approval and bid dates, so these situations would not crop up.

School Board will be discussing this situation Friday at regular meeting set for 3 p.m.

Pinard said schools take a chance whenever bids are accepted before final plans are approved by state.

VOL. 61, NO. 31 — AP Leased Wire — Established 1908 — THURSDAY, SEPT. 26, 1968 — SANFORD, FLORIDA — Price 10 Cents

Boon in the form of much needed roads will be forthcoming to Seminole County if the $6.1 billion program to construct new roads in Florida through 1985 is approved by the 1969 Legislature.

Under the program unveiled by the State Road Board in Miami gasoline taxes would be hiked one or two cents, depending on how much of a cushion the Legislature wants to give the SRB, to help finance the program.

Included in the recommendations for accomplishing the program is resurfacing of license tag fees from the state general fund to the SRB. State cost for the plan would be about $4.4 billion. Counties would contribute $10 million, cities $17 million and toll facility receipts $91 million.

State Road Department officials decided today to designate the roads Seminole would receive under the program but did admit the roads to be approved would include "all" of those in the 1985 transportation plan adopted by the County Commission on June 4 of this year.

Among those are the inter-county beltline to run around Orlando and extend into Seminole running between Longwood and Altamonte Springs, north of Cassberry and close to Goldenrod Road, with top priority.

Following construction of the inter-county beltline would be the Lake Jessup Causeway. The transportation plan insists that although Jessup Causeway is not feasible at this time, it will become not only highly desirable but also absolutely necessary and feasible with the beltline.

Other roads would encompass all those for which the county is preparing to float a bond issue for rights of way, including SR 438 from 14 west to Anopka; Orange Bridge and a new SR 415 (Continued on Page 2A, Col. 7)

Three Disturbances Kicking Up

Drenching Rains Hit S. Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Drenching rains were driven into south Florida today by one of three disturbances kicking up the tropics and ending weeks of comparative calm in the hurricane belt.

A depression over the western tip of Cuba with winds of 20 miles per hour in scattered squalls threatened Florida Wednesday, but did not reach the state.

Heavy rains stretched from Cuba to Florida and winds were expected to intensify as the unnamed patch of bad weather moved toward the north-northeast. Air Force planes were to check the position later in the day.

"They're all pretty weak in affairs with the highest winds only about 20 knots," said Raymond Kraft, a forecaster at the National Hurricane Center. "This one down west of Cuba probably has the most potential."

Kraft said the depression over Cuba had a "big, flat central area, a nice circular affair."

Such depressions sometimes pin into hurricanes. The center was about 325 miles southwest of Miami at 6 a.m. and moving at 10 to 15 knots.

Its position at 6 a.m. was near Latitude 22.5 North and Longitude 84.0 West.

Another depression was over the Windward Islands southeast of Puerto Rico. The third was in the Atlantic between the United States and Bermuda posing no threat to populated land areas, the Weather Bureau said.

The depression lashed rain on Cuba's western and central portion Wednesday, but Kraft said the moisture output was down somewhat today. Squalls were threatened for the Florida Keys today.

The same storm dumped up to four inches of rain in South Florida Monday night and forecasters said it could bring twice as much water today.

The other important depression was slugging into the Windward Islands. Hurricane hunters found it centered west of Barbados, 1,500 miles southeast of Miami.

Craft said the depression would make the Windwards "kind of windy during the day," and very wet.

"It's going into a poor area for storms, once it gets into the Caribbean," he said. "Storms do very poorly in that area and don't intensify at all."

As it skirted into the Windward chain, the storm carried winds of about 30 knots and rain.

Both depressions caused forecasters to issue warnings for possible flooding.

Slaughter 1,000 Hogs

Cholera In Orange County

ORLANDO (AP) — A thousand cholera-infected hogs were to be slaughtered with shovels today and burned on a huge farm pyre.

The doomed hogs belong to (Seminole County Agent Cecil Tucker II reported to today there has been no evidence of hog cholera in the county).

Agents hoped to have nothing to dispose of but ashes.

Seven herds containing 1,364 head of swine valued at $35,659 were slaughtered earlier according to Wilson Towell, assistant director of the State Agricultural Department's Division of Animal Husbandry.

Birds' Hallovers' herd, seven others including some 817 swine are due for execution.

Towell said 49 herds in 17 counties had been under surveillance, he said.

The 17 counties were Alachua, Bradford, Columbia, Duval, Gilechrist, Hillsborough, Orange, Brevard, Levy, Hamilton, Putnam, Baker, Flagler, Suwannee, Union, Herdando and Broward, he said.

Farmers whose hogs are slaughtered are reimbursed for the value of the swine, with the state and federal governments sharing the cost equally, added Towell.

"We're not getting as many reports of sick hogs as we used to, and the indication is that it is letting up," he said.

In Tallahassee, State Veterinarian Clarence Campbell theorized that the cholera was brought in by infected Georgia pigs and spread to Florida swine in north central Florida.

Cholera is highly contagious in swine, but is not communicable to humans. Authorities said meat from the diseased hogs can be eaten without harm.

The swine industry in Florida includes an estimated 200,000 animals at 8,700 farms, according to Doyle Conner, state agriculture commissioner.

Two Osteen citizens, Louis E. Noel and L. B. Jones, have appealed decision of the district 3 zoning board to issue a building permit for the proposed new post office.

The matter will be taken before the County Board of Zoning Appeals in a meeting scheduled for 2 p.m., Oct. 8, in the courthouse addition.

"Request in change of zoning for the building site from residential to commercial has been denied by Noel and Jones at 'spot' zoning and was denied on this basis at the board's August meeting, although petition signed by some 107 residents of the area in favor of the location was presented.

At this month's meeting, the board attorney ruled that the board "had no jurisdiction over the matter where a Federal building is concerned and order for a building permit was granted to Austin Development Company of Altamonte Springs, which has the Government bid to build the facility."

Permit was taken and posted on the site at New Smyrna Boulevard and Florida Avenue, with plans to start construction as soon as necessary legal and paper work was completed, according to William W. Austin, owner of the company.

Clayton is the second person this week to announce for two openings on city commission.

Earlier, Dr. W. Vincent Roberts announced for another term to succeed himself. Roberts is presently serving as Sanford mayor by vote of his fellow commissioners.

Jimmy Crapps Tosses Hat In Ring

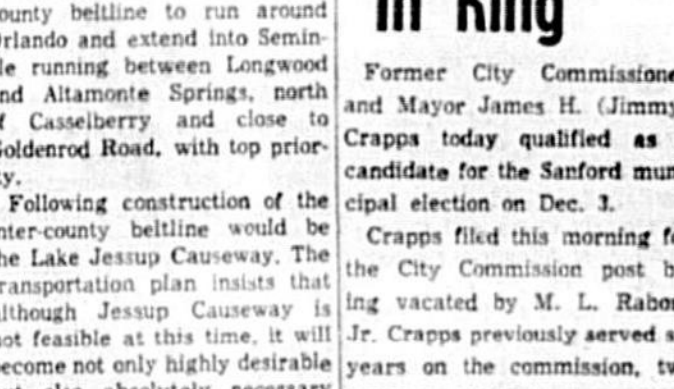

Former City Commissioner and Mayor James H. (Jimmy) Crapps today qualified as a candidate for the Sanford municipal election on Dec. 1.

Crapps filed this morning for the City Commission post being vacated by M. L. Raborn Jr. Crapps previously served six years on the commission, two years as mayor.

"I will be happy to have the opportunity to serve the people of Sanford again as commissioner and pledge myself to serve everyone as I have done in the past," said the former commissioner said.

Teacher Whips 8-Year-Old Son

Sanford parents of an eight-year-old West Side Grammar School student said today they would press action against their son's gym teacher, who they said, beat the youth with the sharp edge of a yardstick and left bruises along the calves of both legs.

Joe H. Wells Jr. told The Herald his son, Danny received three bruises from a yard stick wielded by Raymond Gaines, gym teacher at West Side School.

Wells reported the boy came home Wednesday from school with blue marks on his legs reportedly administered by Gaines, when the youth could do only 22 out of a required 25 jumping jack exercises.

Wells said his son informed him a total of four children were beaten in a similar manner during a Wednesday exercise period and at least one other parent had complained to Floyd Richards, principal of the school.

Wells said his wife had talked with Richards Wednesday afternoon about the bruises and explained her son had a blood problem, which resulted in bleeding under the skin at the slightest provocation.

Richards, when contacted by The Herald today, said he would take care of the problem and "it would not happen again."

Mr. and Mrs. Wells, after a meeting this morning with Supt. of Schools William J. Phillips and Richards, said they were assured the whippings "would not happen again."

The Wells boy returned to class today.

Cabinet Members Sued For 'Secret Meeting'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Four State Cabinet members were charged in a lawsuit Wednesday with holding a secret meeting before joining in a vote against a reinstatement of a moratorium on sale of submerged public lands.

James Redford, a past president of the Isaac Walton League, the suit alleged, was charged with leaking information to the press about the cabinet's actions.

The petition challenged the actions of Secretary of State Tom Adams, School Supt. Floyd Christian, Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner and Comptroller Fred O. Dickson as trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund.

"I don't know anything about a secret meeting," he added. "I certainly never attended one."

The cabinet voted 6-1, with Republican Gov. Claude Kirk in the minority, against reconsideration of earlier action lifting the moratorium on sale of the underwater land to private developers.

"We need some point of reference," he said, alluding to the phrase used by Cabinet Democrats in a controversial policy using the mean high water mark as a "point of reference" for setting bulkhead lines—the imaginary boundary beyond which land fills are prohibited.

A surveyor member of the group, Paul O'Hagen of Naples, reported that a study he did for the group shows a need for 45 additional tidal bench marks—permanent points used by surveyors to determine the high water mark.

"If we locate enough markers around the state," Adams said, "we're going to have permanent points from which a line can be set so we're going to have a line although it may fluctuate from time to time."

4-in-1 Shot Places Satellites Into Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Titan 3 rocket today orbited four military research satellites and sped them toward lofty outposts. One of the payloads, an experimental tactical communications craft, could hasten the day when battlefield troops can talk among themselves via satellite.

The four-in-one shot blasted off at 2:37 a.m. EDT to begin a space acrobatic act scheduled to last nearly 6 1/2 hours, during which the booster's last stage was required to make three orbital shifts for the four satellites to spring loose into separate paths.

Two tongues of flame from two Titan 3 strap-on motors lashed a predator sky in a launching that could be seen for miles along the east-central Florida coast.

The second radiation-studying spacecraft, along with the communications satellite and a fourth payload to research heat transfer in spacecraft fuel systems, later were to spring into orbital paths that would keep them permanently positioned over the equator west of South America.

The principal payload was the experimental communications satellite called LES 6 for Lincoln Experimental Satellite. Built by the Lincoln Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the 366-pound craft carried radio-relay gear powerful enough to link simultaneous conversations between 300 Strategic Air Command airplanes.

The fourth satellite was to help engineers learn how heat transfers in spacecraft fuel systems in the weightless environment of outer space. This information would help engineers designing fuel systems for future spacecraft, officials said.

Mexicans Still Riot

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Sporadic violence continued in Mexico City Wednesday night as students burned more buses and reportedly shot at shopkeepers who wouldn't support their demands against the government.

Police maneuvers sought a mysterious group of thugs who roamed the streets on two previous nights, shooting up six schools and beating up students.

A police motorcycle was set fire near the Mexican Olympic committee headquarters, guarded by troops. Striking students also burned at least five buses and two street cars.

Hypnotized Witness To Testify In Trial

PORT ST. JOE, Fla. (AP) — The chief psychiatrist at Chatham State hospital has reported that a key witness in a dramatic hearing here.

"I think hypnosis could be applied in this case. I think it would be for the benefit of the court," said Dr. I. Hanson Wednesday after he finished an examination of Willie Mae Lee, the Negro speaker whose testimony implicated Freddie Pitts and Wilbert "Slingshot" Lee in the murder of two service attendants here.

Circuit Court Judge Charles Holley has said he will have Miss Lee hypnotized today to try to take her back to the night of the murder and find out the truth. She has changed her story previously.

Pitts and Lee are trying to win a new trial, claiming police coerced their confessions to crimes actually committed by another man.

Dr. Hanson reported that Miss Lee told him that Pitts and Lee did kill Jesse Burkett and Grover Floyd Jr., after striking up Mojo gas station in August, 1963.

The judge said he would have Miss Lee testify under oath as to what happened, and then he will have her placed under hypnosis and asked the same question the second time.

Dr. Hanson and the psychiatrist representing Pitts and Lee will be in the courtroom when hypnosis is conducted, the Chatham doctor told Holley that he had "some reservations" about using a hypnotist in the case.

Submerged Land Sale Moratorium Replaced

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Despite all the claims of confusion, all the charges and counter-charges, the State Cabinet's action this week had the effect of replacing a statewide moratorium on submerged land sale with an unofficial agreement not to allow the land to be sold.

Cabinet Democrats sided away from the recommendations to put the ban back into effect in the nine counties where it had been removed because they reasoned this would have represented a reversal of last week's action.

Several Cabinet Democrats pledged to vote against any land sales until a legislative committee makes its recommendations and conceded that a formal declaration of a moratorium was not needed because "actions speak louder than words."

Information: Voters On Presidential Race

This is a time of aroused emotions, which is quite normal in a presidential election year. However, this phenomenon is taking place at a period of grave national and international tensions.

Longwood PTO Carnival Oct. 26

By CAROL JACQUES
 Longwood Parent-Teacher Organization will sponsor its annual school carnival this year as the primary fund raising project, Robert Hasty, president, reported at the first PTO meeting of the year. Chairman and co-chairman of the event will be Mrs. Jeanne Mayhew and Mrs. Virginia Dei Villaggio.
 The carnival will be held on the school grounds, Oct. 26, beginning at 2 p.m. and continue until 6 at which time an auction will be held.
 Many new attractions are being planned, including the T. G. Lee clown, Lyman High Band, and a fish fry.
 Projects for the year include purchasing blackout drapes for five rooms at a cost of $425; set aside $75 for the clinic; mother's lunches and to air condition the administrative suite and clinic at a cost of $500.
 Other businesses include an open house for the school psychologist, report from Hasty that the office of first vice president is vacant due to the fact that Mary Warren resigned the position when her child transferred to another school, and report from Marcella Ollif, treasurer, that a balance of $319.48 is in the PTO treasury.
 Bruce Holliman, county school psychologist and guest speaker at the meeting, summed up his brief talk by saying, "The program of school psychology is an effort to bring together all people who provide an environment for the child in order to offer a more consistent and enriching environment."

No Bull Tale Of A Cow
 A cow is just a cow and that's no bull. A cow said to belong to the Longwood A.H. Club, caused some concern to a county patrol car—and its occupants.
 County reports reveal a cow had the nerve to plant her forehead on the roof of a patrol car that had stopped at the home of Larry Danford on Irwindale Road just off 17-92 near Longwood.
 Danford had complained about the cow chawing people in the area, and when he saw the patrol car occupied by Deputies Roy Rice and Ronnie Miller he approached to seek aid.
 The cow, seeing Danford, decided to have some fun and went after the man.
 Around the car the pair ran four times until Danford could run no longer and decided to seek safety in the vehicle. He leaped into the car's front seat on the fourth trip around and glared at his tormenter.
 The cow, seeing her prey escape, promptly placed her forehead for the second time on the auto's roof and dared anyone to come outside.
 Deputy Rice, not to be corralled by a cow, took the dare, came outside and grabbed the bull-excuse me, cow, by the horns.
 Rice managed to get a rope onto the critter and left her tied to a nearby tree while Danford went to the safety of his house.
 This tale is true and that's no bull, Mister!

Pope Paul VI Celebrates 71st Birthday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI turned 71 today facing the most serious challenge to papal authority in modern times.
 Instead of unquestioning obedience to Pope Paul's ban on artificial methods of contraception, numerous priests, theologians and even some bishops are advising married couples to do as their conscience tells them.
 Other bishops are suspending priests who take issue with the papal ban. Laymen and priests in Chile staged a strike in a cathedral. Public opinion polls show that a majority of Catholics in Britain won't observe the ban.
 Paul, the 32nd pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church, came to a turning point of his reign when he paused aside the address of the majority on a birth control commission he had appointed and issued his encyclical reaffirming the Church's stand against contraception.
 Since the encyclical "Humanae Vitae" (On Human Life) came out in July, the pontiff has been besieged by an unrelenting storm of opposition from all over the world.
 The wave of opposition has been so massive in the ranks of the Church itself that bishops all over the world rushed to message statements of loyalty to the Pope.
 The turmoil has obviously caused anxiety and grief to Pope Paul, who has often been reported brought to the point of tears by the formidable problems confronting his Church. Nearly every week he has decried his birth control stand.
 The uproar is a boon to the conservatives of the Vatican Curia, giving them new arguments against progressive theology as a danger to Church unity and papal authority.

 NEW DELHI (PA)—People of northern districts of Uttar Pradesh, which has a common border with Peking ruled Tibet, have complained of having caused by intruders from across the border.

American Troops Kill 312 Reds In Fast-Moving Battle

MORE THAN 200 guests attended the first in a series of coffees to be sponsored by the Seminole County Democratic Women's Club during the "Friendly Season" at the Coleman Circle home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowe. Among the Democratic nominees present were Dan Pelham, for County Commissioner, and Pat Bue, for School Board, (top left); County Commissioner Edward Yarborough and John Angel, for school superintendent (top right); John Polk for sheriff and Ernie Cowley for state representative with Mrs. Cowley (center) and County Commissioner W. Lawrence Swofford and Jackson Brownie, for state attorney, with Mrs. Brownie.

SAIGON (AP) — American armor, infantry and helicopter gunships of the Americal Division on Wednesday pushed their way to 312 in two days of fast-moving battle on South Vietnam's northern coast plain.
The American troops reported 92 of the enemy killed Tuesday and another 20 Wednesday in the fight which began when a North Vietnam missile rocket slammed into a patrolling armored personnel carrier.
U.S. casualties in the two days of fighting were four dead and 48 wounded, the U.S. Command said.
The enemy force was presumed to be from the North Vietnamese 2nd Division, which for many months has operated in the battle area of rolling foothills and rice paddies five miles southwest of Tam Ky, the capital of Quang Tin Province.
After the initial contact Tuesday, the Americal command rushed in reinforcements, artillery was called in and helicopter gunships went into action until the North Vietnamese broke contact.
Trooper Duane Harrell of Florida Highway Patrol worked the accident and reported the animal jumped in front of a car driven by Frank T. May, 205 Mirror Drive, city, as he traveled west approximately two miles from Geneva.
Harrell placed a value of $150 on the horse and reported he could not find the animal's owner.

The tanks, armored personnel carriers and infantry came on enemy positions again Wednesday about 11:15 a.m. The armor and infantry attacked behind a hail of artillery and aerial explosives which broke up the North Vietnamese formations.
The armor and infantry pursued the retreating North Vietnamese and caught up with them again in the afternoon. Fighting continued until about 4 p.m. when the North Vietnamese succeeded in pulling away again.

Mr. Jiggs Entertains
CHICAGO (AP) — Residents of a North Side neighborhood have been seeing a lot of moon keyshines lately.
Traffic comes to a standstill along busy Clark Street many afternoons as Mr. Jiggs—a 4-foot-tall, 90-pound chimpanzee—skates about on his daily errands.
"I thought it was a hippie," a startled woman pedestrian exclaimed Wednesday as Mr. Jiggs sailed past her in his red jacket and black trousers, carrying a bag of groceries.
Mr. Jiggs just smiled and waved.
Grocery shopping is one of his favorite errands. He likes to test the freshness of the fruit with a quick bite.
The chimp, whose home is in New York, has been living in a North Side apartment with his owner, Ron Winters, while he performs nightly in a downtown hotel.

S Spolski on Sports

You bet your sweet six-pointer that I'm going to the game tomorrow night. (After all, the White Elephant wouldn't know how to act if I didn't put in a personal appearance and feed it some peanut shells, eh?)

Actually, the real reason why I'm going on record for being at the Lyman-Crooms game is cause I'm convinced it's going to be a good and exciting football game.

I hope you get the same kind of thrill I've already received while listening to Band Master John Blair and his Greyhound Marching Band practice their part of the pre-game festivities.

They'll form to the playing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic and then the band and narrator will perform the Ceremony of Allegiance. From the opening drum roll to the blaring trumpets answering the call... until the voice begins "We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union..."

Get there early, cause parking space will be at a premium. Crowd estimates have ranged from capacity audience to S.R.O. — plus.

I know you're waiting for me to say it and I'm not one to duck an issue.

It's the same as was printed on Monday... "It Was Happen Here". In speaking with officials at both of the schools, they all realize that everyone is watching Seminole County to see if we can't act like reasonable, grown-up adults.

It'll probably even affect the gridiron gladiators. Why for goodness sakes, the fellows on the field might even ask the ball carrier's permission to see if it's O.K. to tackle him!

Remember, we can't all be athletes on the field... BUT WE CERTAINLY CAN BE GOOD SPORTS IN THE STANDS!

NOTEBOOK JOTTINGS... Did you realize that Detroit Tiger's pitching star Denny McLain just might decide not to pitch again next season. Figure it out for yourself... he's in such a demand that Las Vegas has already offered him more money for a two weeks "organ recital" than he could make by pitching for the Tigers all next season!

General George Touhy of the First Federal is always good for a graph or two. Dropped off another "matchless wrapper" for me to peruse with a notation that high school football games up in Maryland, as an example, start early in Sept. Yeah, but I'll betcha they don't have any fall baseball practice like SAC enjoys, Georgia!

A telephone scene repeated quite frequently... "Hey, S.O.B. (we did they call me sound?)". "Hey, S.O.B. . . if they really want to save some money at the municipal stadium during the JV game, they ought to turn off the lights in the press box CAUSE NO ONE WAS ON HAND TO "WARM UP" NOR WELCOME THE FANS."

The caller went on to relate how "cold" it was... no playing of the national anthem... no announcements of any kind... the game was underway before many realized what was going on.

Chalk up another one to the stadium or the school board, folks!

AND BY THE WAY, how come some of those kids are being permitted to play against WITHOUT FOOTBALL INSURANCE? Could it be that the Booster Club has been helping by their absence?

Even had the first talking about any boosters ticket sales or anything like that to help build up the "pot" to pay for these kid's insurance. Come on you boosters... ah, I don't have the heart to even type it — Be a Booster, you boosters!

They're Killing The Umps... How many times have you gone to a game and hear that expression?

Leave it to the "big boys" in baseball to mess it up. I mean, here it is a time when they need every gimmick to spruce up their overall image (nowwithstanding World Series time)... so, what do they do but go out and fire two ump's!

And then they expect us to swallow that story that they were "inefficient".

To Mr. Joe Cronin - American League Pres I say, "It may be so for all we know, BUT IT SOUNDS LIKE BULL TO ME!"

If Al Salerno and Bill Valentine weren't up to the AL standards, then how can they be permitted to serve the cause since 1961 and '62, respectively?

Middies Set Pace For Bunnell Eleven

By BEN WINFREE
Herald Sports Staff
The blue and gold Middies of the Sanford Naval Academy will go into action again this Saturday night in hopes of bagging their first victory of the 1968-69 gridiron season, as they meet Bunnell on their home grounds in the Sanford Municipal Stadium. This will be the academy's second game of the new season.

Bunnell, being a very tough contender for the Academy eleven, lost to Crescent City last year's Class B state runners-up, 20-6. The Bunnell gridder has an experienced pigskin squad and their atti-

Orlando Panthers Host Arkansas

ORLANDO Fla. The Arkansas Diamonds, the Panthers' best football foe, will be a vastly improved team over the one defeated at the hands of the Panthers in the opening contest of the season by a score of 12-20 according to Panther football coach Dick Peason.

Peason concludes, "We're going to have to come up with a good all-around effort. This game can not be taken lightly; remember this a team that is coming off its first victory of the season, a 24-13 nod over Las Vegas, and only a week earlier gave Ohio Valley, then undefeated, a real scare allowing them to score after a series of miscues. We'll have to be ready," concluded Coach Peason.

"Arkansas is a solid team every department," Peason says. He adds, "They have a fine passing attack featuring a scrambling quarterback and two excellent receivers." The Diamonds are not monstrous in size according to the Panthers' mentor but they are quick and have excellent timing.

The Arkansas attack is led by quarterback Bobby Tiner, a 6-10, 170 lb. Arkansas State scholar. Peason says, "Tiner is an outstanding quarterback... he runs the rollout well and can throw well both short and long."

There's favorite targets are Plankster Paul Becton, former Baylor great who has sure hands and good speed, and former University of Arkansas ace Tommy Trastman, 6-8, 198 lbs., at Split End. Both receivers possess great balance and are hard to bring down. Trastman is regarded as extremely quick.

Running back Charles Killett, 5-7, 150 lb. charger is the man who keeps quarters. The Panthers' scouting report. Killett is a power-type back, one who gains a couple of yards every time he carries the ball.

Defensively, the Arkansas front seven are "... a hard-charging defense." In the words of Peason, who adds, "They use a lot of stunts and

Sterile Ice

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A local firm is exporting purified tap water for use as sterile ice in open heart and other operations. A company executive said the commercially purified water fetches about the same price as good table wine.

About 250 parts in every million are removed to make the water completely sterile. It is distilled and any remaining minerals are extracted electronically.

The water is packed in plastic flasks holding a litre which are frozen and then cut away from the ice in the operating room.

DELTONA

By MILDRED HANEY

IRIS CIRCLE

Mrs. McClain Post, president, presided at the September meeting of the Iris Circle of Deltona Garden Club. Members met at the home of Mrs. Carl Johnson, 1255 W. Wellington Dr.

Mrs. Joseph Moore of the Amoryville Circle, guest speaker, showed colored slides of the gardens at Windsor Castle, Hampton Court Palace, as well as the more modest gardens of smaller English homes. The Aubusson Gardens, a replica of the Aubusson Rugs were of particular interest.

The slides showing gardens in Ireland and Scotland proved that they are almost as beautiful as their hills and lakes. A reconstructed village being built in Ireland is similar to our Williamsburg and Sturbridge, the difference showing in the thatched roofs on the farm buildings and the bunty cars and tinker wagons.

Mrs. Moore also showed slides of the Royal George Bridge at Cannon City, Colo. This bridge is better known as "the bridge that goes nowhere." It is strictly for sightseers so enable them to look at the gorge. A toll bridge, it is owned by Canon City.

The next meeting of the Iris Circle will be held on Oct. 16 at the home of Mrs. Alcide Poirier, 1167 Deltona Blvd.

The meeting will be followed by a lunch and splash party.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Miss Thompson, J. E. Oglesby

By CAROL JACQUES

Miss Brenda Gail Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thompson of Longwood and John Edward Oglesby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawley Oglesby of Orlando, were united in Holy Matrimony, Saturday, Sept. 21, 1963, in a candlelight ceremony at First Pentecostal Church of Longwood.

Rev. E. Ruth Grant, minister, officiated at the double ring ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Two seven-branched candelabra decorated the altar, flanked by baskets of white gladioli and white mums. Lace fern entwined with daisies were placed in the windows of the church and atop the altar rail.

Mrs. Walker, organist, presented a recital of nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. V. van Poland, soloist, who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride was radiant in a gown designed and created by her grandmother, Mrs. Louise Knight. It was made from bridal satin featuring a lace bodice with scooped neckline and long tapered sleeves with tiny buttons. Her long slim skirt was highlighted by a lace train and a beaded buckle in front.

Her shoulder-length veil was crowned with a lace headpiece accented with crystals and she carried a nosegay of white gladioli.

Miss Hilda Thompson was matron of honor for her sister and the groom's sister, Doreen Oglesby was the bridesmaid. They were attired in formal gowns of olive green brocade featuring scooped necklines and sash-type belts. An open crown held their circular nose veil of matching green tulle and they carried nosegays of yellow mums.

Mr. Oglesby served as his son's best man and ushers were Phillip Thompson, brother of the bride, Herman Seavers and Howard McCallister.

Flower girl was petite Cheryl Ann Sickle, niece of the groom. She was attired in a yellow brocade dress with a green sash and carried a basket of yellow daisy petals. Ringbearer was Tommy Crowe.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Thompson chose an ensemble of soft pink brocade enhanced with deeper pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Oglesby, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a tangerine ensemble and a white carnation corsage with orange tips.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held for the couple in the church annex.

Centering the bride's table, overlaid with white lace, was a three-tiered wedding cake, featuring white sugar bells and low birds. The cake was accented with tall tapers glowing in crystal candelabra.

The gift table, covered with white lilies and adorned with lace fern, was presided over by Janet Gigandt.

Mrs. W. T. Parrish cut and served the cake and Miss Debby Parrish passed the punch. Floating hostess was Miss Vickie Clark from Cocoa, and Miss Patsy Ruth Grant kept the bride's book.

After the reception the couple left for wedding trip to Daytona Beach. The bride chose for her going-away outfit a light gray dress with black accessories and the corsage from her bride's bouquet. The couple will make their home at 9055 Sausalito Blvd., Orlando.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 22, and my friends told me I'm attractive. My husband is in Viet Nam, and we have a very nearly a year old...

Abby, I am so embarrassed to be with her. She wears a combat boot, boys' work pants, and a short, dark hair...

CONSTANTLY BOTHERED DEAR BOBBER: I am a man, not a woman. I have had to change my seat in a show many times, and there have been times when I had to get up and leave...

When two people run up to the ticket window and shove money at me to buy tickets for themselves and somebody else, who am I supposed to take?
