CASUALTY LIST IN CUBAN FRAY IS DISCLOSED

Federals Report Four Dead, 8 Wounded
While Rebels Lose
73 In Kill'd Alone

HAVANA, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Fighting in the hills around Gibara cost the Cuban army four dead and eight wounded, the army information office reported today. Forty-three rebels were killed in the first engagement and 36 more died in guerrilla fighting afterward, the army casualty list showed. Isolated victory at Gibara strengthened the belief of Machado adherents that the revolt is nearing an end and that President Machado is preparing to return from Santa Clara where he has been directing operations.

Twenty or twenty-five insurgents who took position in the Gibara railroad tunnel held up government troops for many hours, according to reports reaching here, and the counterrevolutionaries have been able to reappear outside the town. Skirmishing was going on yesterday between rebel bands and federal detachments along the short mountain range near Gibara.

Although the federal army seized much war material, including machine guns, rifles and ammunition in the assault on Gibara, the rebels were reported still to be well equipped.

Among them, according to information received here, are Germans, French, Japanese and Americans.

The little city of Gibara was damaged only slightly by bombs dropped from the time airplanes which bombed the government infantry. Most of the charges fell on the outskirts of the city.

At the height of the fighting 2,000 government soldiers and an estimated 1,000 rebels were in action, according to advice received here. Details as to the number of men involved in yesterday's skirmish along the mountain range near the town were not available.

Federal units detached to hunt down groups of revolutionaries in the hilly country found no one distinct because of the nature of the terrain.

After sporadic fighting in Gibara during the night, all residents and visitors were warned not to discuss names of the insurgents movement except on the basis of official government reports.

Violation of the order may be punished by deportation, imprisonment or fine.

Only 4 Cases Are Heard By Ware In City Court Friday

Only four cases of alleged insurrection occupied the attention of Municipal Judge R. W. Ware in police court yesterday afternoon.

Thomas Bank, colored woman charged with reckless driving, had her case postponed till Monday. Charles Williams made the arrest.

Charles Sheffield, alias Mike Sheffield, colored, charged with drunken driving and driving an automobile with improper lights, faced a $2.50 fine in the first charge, and a $1.50 fine on the second charge. Officer Gray made the arrest.

Henry Smith, colored man charged with parking an automobile in front of the home of W. W. Wilson, was fined $1.50. Officer Gray made the arrest.

MIAMI, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—The German flying boat DO-X arrived over Miami at 10:23 A.M. today en route from South America to the United States. The huge plane with its 12 motors roaring away from the Atlantic ocean and recently circled over the city as aircraft from several bases nearby took off to form an escort on a cruise about the area. ## BRAZIL AND U. S. WILL EXCHANGE SURPLUS CROPS

Two Countries Seek Partial Solution By Signing Agreement

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Two nations oppressed by excessive agriculture production yesterday sought a partial solution of a mutual problem by the simple expedient of exchanging portions of their surplus crops. An agreement was signed under which 25,000,000 bushels of Farm Board wheat will be bartered for 1,000,000 bags of coffee held by the Brazilian government.

Just as a huge surplus of wheat has accumulated in the United States a tremendous supply of coffee has piled up in the South American country. The wheat to be exchanged was bought by the Farm Board's grain stabilization corporation in the open market as part of a plan for stabilizing wheat prices. The Brazilian coffee involved was acquired by the government in a similar effort.

The agreement was signed at the Brazilian embassy by Ambassador de Lima and George S. Miller, president of the stabilization corporation, concluding negotiations already conducted for several months.

The agreement was signed at the Brazilian embassy by Ambassador de Lima and George S. Miller, president of the stabilization corporation, concluding negotiations already conducted for several months.

The Farm Board has been hard pressed to find markets for 200,000,000 bushels of wheat it has acquired. Thursday it authorized negotiations with the Chinese government for sale of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat for relief of flood sufferers in the Yangtze valley. President Hoover said today the board would not limit the amount of wheat to be sold at a sensitive index, showed the rate for the first five months of 1931 was less than for 1928.

The President said that relative statistics on communicable diseases had been taken into consideration in arriving at the conclusions.

When and where the committee will hold its first meeting was not known at the White House yesterday but definite information on the subject is expected after the President and Mr. Gifford return over the week end at the President's Rapidan camp.

Huge Rattlesnake Is Killed By Lundquists

E. F. Lundquist and his son, Lawrence Lundquist, residents of this section for many years, this morning reported that they had killed the largest rattlesnake they have ever seen in Florida. It was killed near their home on the Country Club road last night, and measured six feet, six inches in length.

There were no rattles attached to the snake, leading Mr. Lundquist to believe that a group of young snakes had been caught in a wire fence on his property about two years ago, belonged to the snake he and his son killed yesterday.

Furnished lunches to six under-nourished children throughout the school term.

Contributed $25 to the Seminole County Welfare Association for the purchase of text books for school children of poor families.

Purchased glasses for two young boys whose eyes were rapidly failing.

Mr. Jones said that presumably because of the increasing need for services work today, 2,106 more activities were reported for the past year than have ever been reported before.

'30 RAT STAR IS EXPECTED TO GO BIG ON GRIDIRON

Fountain Is Believed Headed For Great Year With Gators

By FRANK R. WRIGHT
GAINESVILLE, Aug. 20.—Football folks in these parts are inclined to believe that Johnny Fountain, the lad from New Jersey who looked so well for the University of Florida freshmen last fall, is slated for a colorful varsity career for the "Fighting Gators".

None of the sophomores of this season will be watched with more interest than Fountain, not simply because he happens to be a backfield man, but because he is a backfield man, plus. Fountain revealed lots of promise last fall, and indicated but few weaknesses. Some think him to be another Clyde Crabtree, but we must remember that the history of football has recorded many a freshman not destined to blush unseemly as a varsity performer, so it may be entirely too early, and equally unfair, to pick him as a successor to Crabtree before he is given an opportunity to show his calibre under varsity fire.

Fountain, however, played a jump-up game with the "Baby Gators" and those who saw his 50 yard dash for a touchdown in the game with Alabama saw about as pretty a run as they ever witnessed on the gridiron. Johnny had runs for tallies in high school as high as 75 yards, but none gave him the thrill that did his gallop a year ago.

Not only was Johnny an apt student player in the Moorestown high school in New Jersey, but a clever performer in other sports. He won 15 letters, four of which were rewards for gridiron excellence. He was picked on the all-scholastic team of South Jersey three times, once as a halfback, and twice as a quarterback. In 1929 he was chosen quarterback on the all-state eleven of New Jersey, and the following season was second high scorer. His reputation in New Jersey was that he was unequalled as a field judge, a passer, and broken field runner.

Whether or not Coach Bachman plans to use Fountain at quarterback in the event Shaw Buck does not return to school, has not been indicated, but Johnny's high school record shows him to have quarterbacking ability and it may be that the Florida mentor will utilize him at this position.

Fountain looks like an unusually promising player because the art that was his as a broken field runner in high school is apparently improving all the time. He was distinctly a superior ball carrier last fall, and responded well to added coaching. His passing ability can be a tremendous factor in the "Gator" offense this fall. Defensively, Fountain played well last year.

This summer the Jersey boy has been back at Moorestown putting in concrete roads through the state. He reports that he has dropped 21 pounds, but expects to weigh in this fall at 180 pounds.

Fern Park Fast Becoming Real Spot Of Beauty

ted with small lakes and situated on one of the highest points in the county into a quiet, restful spot where business cares could be forgotten and where small gardens, groves, and ferneries could be maintained.

Fern Park at that time, was merely a dream, a spot situated off the main road between Sanford and Orlando, and the site of an ideal's unfolding. Only a handful of persons resided in the area, and there were no modern conveniences.

Today the dream is rapidly becoming a reality. More than 30 homes dot the choice locations on small hills overlooking small lake. More than 75 white persons, most of them from northern states, practically all of them connected with the fern industry, call Fern Park home. Telephones, electric lights, and a modern water system which furnishes water with quality second to none in the state, are among the modern conveniences now available to the prospective resident.

Each home has been planned and built with an eye to locating it in the most picturesque spot possible, and the passing motorist sees on both sides, attractive homes, well kept lawns, gorgeous flowers, and apparently happy residents.

Fern Park's chief industry, that of raising ferns, covers an area of about 150 acres. This acreage is owned by several individuals and firms. Mr. Barnett, for some time a grower in his own name, recently joined forces with the Winter Park Ferneries, pooling his interests with theirs at a summing of considerable money.

He and his firm control about 30 acres of ferns with more than 1,000,000 square feet of the acreage up or laid. He employs a number of colored workers throughout the entire season, whose duties are to cut, sort, pack, and ship the products to northern markets. In recent years the firm has successfully marketed with gilding.

Among the interesting points discussed in connection with the rapid strides made in fern raising and distribution is the fact that a majority of the florists throughout the United States and Canada have gradually given up growing the ferns in their hothouses for the reason that they can purchase Florida ferns at almost half the cost. "Canadian florists, for instance," Mr. Barnett said, "used to raise ferns which cost about four cents a spray, counting tariff. Now they buy our products delivered to them for about two cents."

Fern Park's needs which may be satisfied by the remainder of Seminole county are few. Mr. Barnett declared that the important need was the resurfacing of the county road connecting the new Sanford-Orlando highway with the Lake Howell road, about one-half mile west. At the present time the road is maintained by the county, but in wet weather the materials used in construction are washed away, and the road becomes rough and sloughy.

A visit to the Winter Park Ferneries' office gives a person an opportunity of not only learning all of the details attending the growing of ferns, but also becoming imbued with the optimistic spirit of the man who believes in business-like and persistent efforts are bearing fruit rapidly.

Delicate children always suffer more than healthy ones when cutting teeth. Plenty of sunlight will not only help their little legs to grow straight and strong, it will make for health, teeth and give the tooth the least amount of trouble during this period.

The child who has been seriously ill during infancy, is especially in need of the health giving rays of the sun. And if such a child is late in coming, and they are very likely to be, there is no need for alarm if he regularly gets his cold liver oil and sun baths and has the family doctor look him over periodically, to see how he responds to the treatment.

TRAIN IN WRINKLE

PATRICK, S. C., Aug. 22.—(A.P.)—Three cars of Seaboard Air Line train No. 2, from Miami, in Hamlet, N. C., overturned here Thursday night when the train hit a washout during a heavy rain-storm. Seven negro passengers suffered minor injuries.

In New York Gilford issued a statement urging that voluntary organizations be created at once in communities where they do not already exist. Soon after returning from the Capital he will call together the national representatives of the various organizations dealing with relief to advance methods for supporting existing local groups and for establishing them where needed.

Meanwhile, Governor Roosevelt announced in Albany that he decided to recommend "certain definite and necessary measures for the relief of distress" to the special session of the legislature, which convenes Tuesday. His decision to do so came as the result of urging by the State Federation of Labor.

After building up an organization, Gilford said, the next effort should be to tabulate the agenda of the legislature, which convenes Tuesday, Aug. 25.

"May the day soon come when the Pilson signs appear in my home city. Although that sign has been removed for some years in New York, it has lost none of its flavor.
