

PROGRAM FOR HELPING TRADE IS PUT FORTH

Group Of Outstanding
Economists Offer
Result Of Deliberations For Solution

NEW YORK, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—A group of leading economists of the United States after two months of interchange of opinion have agreed upon a program of economic action which they believe should revitalize business, restore values, increase employment and strengthen banks.

Warren Persons, prominent economist, in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press today said the program had been endorsed by trade associations, Congressmen, government economists, farm organizations, and prominent individuals.

The economists recommended the following four steps: enactment of a bill establishing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to deal more effectively with emergency situations; proper economy in municipal, state, and national budgets and increased taxation; liberal federal reserve policy designed to check credit contraction and encourage expansion; and a commercial banking policy cooperating with reserve banks in checking credit decreases and encouraging increases.

The plan's success, Persons said, depended upon wide cooperation of important interests, particularly industrialists and bankers and that it seemed assured.

PARIS, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—European participants in the World Economic Conference today agreed upon a program of economic action which they believe should revitalize business, restore values, increase employment and strengthen banks.

Confused from the beginning, the "reparations middle," as it often is called, is anybody's guess and each country is preparing its own figures.

Since the armistice Germany has paid $1,875,000,000, if the figures of the reparations commission are accepted, but Germany contends that she has paid something like $9,119,000,000.

The truth is that no official figures are available.

India Smoulders
With Bitterness
Over British Rule

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—While Great Britain is temporarily victorious in the "non-violent" struggle, Nationalist India is smouldering with bitterness and is threatened with commercial ruin of her own design.

Rice Mahatma Gandhi was snatched from his bed and imprisoned two weeks ago and the government's repressive ordinances have temporarily throttled the civil disobedience campaign without major liberty, but business has been temporarily paralyzed.

Of minor interest yesterday was the imposition of a fine of 25 rupees each on four boys under 16 years of age who had urged a strike in protest against Gandhi's incarceration.

The headquarters of the local branch of the Nationalist Congress at Lucknow was raided by authorities and 40 persons, were arrested. Mahatma organizations in the Bengal district to the number of 272 were outlawed by officials at Calcutta.

Putting patriotism above their monetary losses, Indian merchants have declared they will not rest until Gandhi is released from prison. The ordinance is regarded as the Nationalist demand for independence are granted.

Symptoms of the feeling against the British are the burning of the British flag and the burning of the British flag and the burning of the British flag.

Hoover's Name Formally Placed In G. O. P. Contest To Seek Re - Nomination

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—The name of Herbert Hoover was formally put into the Republican presidential field yesterday by his postmaster general, Walter Brown, of Ohio, in the face of threatened challenges from the party independents of the north-west.

In a terse statement Brown said the President "will stand for re-nomination" and whatever is necessary to get convention delegates for him will be undertaken.

Brown said no decision has been reached on the North Dakota primary of Mar. 15 which Senators Nye and Francis, of that state, are urging Brown Johnson of California to enter.

But Senator Johnson has given no answer and whether serious opposition to the President's re-nomination will be made was still uncertain last night.

Joseph I. Francis, former Republican senator from Maryland, has announced he is seeking the nomination, but the anti-Hoover forces have been looking elsewhere for a candidate.

Brown's announcement brought him forward as the campaign manager of the President with whom he conferred later in the day. He is expected to take over the chairmanship of the national committee.

Among other states holding primaries is California, home state of both President Hoover and Senator Johnson. Should Johnson enter the contest there, the state is expected to become the first important political battleground of the campaign.

The name of Senator Borah, of Idaho, has been brought back very definitely into the presidential picture but the Idahoan will say nothing whatever about his intentions.

One thing that is worrying the anti-Hoover group is the fact that delegates to the convention to be chosen by primaries number only about 300 of the 1100 total, a short of a majority even should all be won.

"The only way the President can be re-nominated," Brown said, "is to get delegates to the convention. There are about 20 or 30 different methods by which these delegates are selected and the President's friends will conform to these methods in the different states."

Political firecrackers bursting to all sections of the country last night reminded the nation that a campaign year had arrived.

In some 50 cities, the Democrats held a series of simultaneous dinners, launching their "victory campaign" for $1,000,000 to erase the party deficit and put it in position for a flying start after the Chicago convention.

Several thousand Democratic leaders gathered at the dinner in New York heard Governor Roosevelt, a potential candidate for the presidency, say the party "can never tolerate abuse heaped upon the person of the President."

Hand in hand with the campaign to spread knowledge and there was in the long run a "victory" he said, "we have a further task as a party in so far as that ourselves that we shall never be the subject of the accusation that we have dealt our opponents a blow below the belt."

MCBRIDE SEES WETS' MENACE TO DEMOCRATS

Says Party Has Good Chance To Win If It

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—Democrats were advised today by F. Scott McBride, Anti-Saloon League superintendent, if they would "avoid staggering" over the whiskey bottle and nominate an outstanding high class constitutionalist they have a good chance to win the 1932 elections.

In his report before the board of directors of the league he called upon the organization to "wake up and fight" during the coming 10 months. "We might as well face the fact there will be no landslide in 1932 in favor of prohibition as there was in 1928," McBride said.

The "contest will be in the territory where the wets have an advantage on account of the prevailing negative business situation."

He said no previous results would make secure prohibition at the election of 1932, '34 and '36.

Los Angeles Is Hit By Heavy Snowfall

PLANS DEVELOP
FOR ALL STATES
DINNER AT HOTEL

Large Throng Is Expected To Attend Affair Next Monday

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—Southern California awoke today to find its streets covered with snow. Even in the downtown business section of Los Angeles so thick was the fall that motorists were forced to drive slowly. Tops of automobiles were covered with more than an inch of snow.

The storm caused storm signals to be hoisted at all Southern California points and increased the Sierra Nevada Mountain snow pack to the highest point in its history. Highways were blocked and shipping and communication lines damaged. Traffic accidents in which two persons were killed were attributed to the weather. Meteorologists at the Mount Wilson observatory estimated the mountain snow pack there to be more than 130 inches. Below freezing temperatures were reported in several sections of Southern California. Growers, however, used enough pots and damage by frost is believed small.

The success of their membership drive proving that Seminole County and its citizens are interested in the endeavors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, heads of that organization today concentrated their attention upon the next feature of the trade body's yearly program, the All-State supper to be held at the Miami Hotel at 7:00 o'clock next Monday night.

At noon today, representatives of 17 states and four foreign countries had made reservations for seats at state and foreign tables, and the total reservation list was well over the 125 mark. An anticipated attendance of at least 350 persons promises to make last event one of the most interesting staged here in years, according to its backers.

The supper will be served by members of the Sanford Woman's Club, and it will be composed of Seminole County grown food products. An excellent program is being planned for the entertainment of the community.

The Chamber of Commerce was the scene of the announcement which indicated not only that the membership is second to that of Jacksonville, but also that the goal of 1000 members is within grasp.

Seven Are Killed,
At Least 5 Injured
When Tornado Hits

ATLANTA, Tenn., Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—Seven persons were killed and at least five injured by a tornado which struck Eaton and Lexington, Tenn., near here at 5:30 last night.

The first report of the deaths and injuries was communicated to the Home Telephone Company operator here by an undertaker who had dispatched several ambulances to the scene.

The operator said the ambulance driver reported that he was bringing in five injured persons and that six whose names he did not know had been killed. Two persons were reported to be missing.

Calls for help were delayed by broken lines of communication. The telephone operator said the line to Eaton was down but that her information had been received over a cross line.

Six doctors and an undetermined number of nurses were sent to the stricken communities.

Both towns are small communities. Two of the dead were Mrs. F. W. Rice, wife of a tenant farmer, and her 10-year-old son, who died at a Dyersburg hospital.

F. H. Crenshaw, a farmer, told of seeing the Rice home "picked up and jerked to pieces" by the rapidly moving funnel-shaped black cloud.

"While standing in my yard, I heard a roaring in the southwest and saw a black cloud, dipping down in the shape of a funnel, possibly a couple of miles away."

"It traveled very rapidly and its noise almost deafened me as it came near my place and then struck directly at the Rice home."

"When it hit, the air was filled with flying debris. I grabbed a lantern and ran my car to the place to find several other neighbors arriving."

Baptist Preacher Sees Civilization
Approaching Ruin

ATLANTA, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—Civilization, the Southern Baptist Young Peoples' conference here was told yesterday, seems to be stalled in the middle of a muddy road with a team of tired horses.

The speaker, Dr. Louis D. Newton of First Baptist Church, Atlanta, charged the condition of "the dangerous materialistic propaganda of the age" and added that aid must be found in the transformation of individuals in line with Christ's precepts.

He pointed to the prevalence of graft, and the overlooking of jails and asylums in this country as "indications of a civilization fast approaching ruin." He described the "pollution of human liberties in Russia" the strength of the Hitler movement in Germany and the cabinet difficulties in France as further signs of the necessity for a return to Bible principles.

Dr. Newton's address on world affairs followed a session devoted to the liquor question in which speakers denounced the traffic as criminal in itself and a breeder of crime.

The Rev. A. J. McMorris Jr., of Oakland City Baptist Church here told the N. Y. P. C. delegates that it is the duty of Christian people to help enforce the prohibition law by reporting violations.

The Rev. Robert G. Lee of Bellevue Baptist Church, Memphis, Tenn., told his audience "you can't find one good thing that can be said about the liquor traffic." He said the trade both before and since prohibition had always been the nation's chief law breaker.

He pointed to the conditions in England and Germany as refutation of arguments that beer would bring back prosperity.

Elaborate Plans Are Being Made To Aid Visiting Fliers

Seminole County Chamber of Commerce committee detailed to handle the coming of the All-American Air Tour to Sanford, today announced that elaborate plans are being made for the entertainment of the visiting aviators, and every possible source of assistance is being utilized to provide accommodations for the large number of Seminole County residents who are expected to visit the airport during the afternoon.

The tour, comprising 50 air planes and five automobiles, is scheduled to arrive here Tuesday at about 1:00 o'clock from Orlando, where it will have spent Monday night. Stunt flying and passenger carrying flights over the city will be the program for the afternoon.

The ships and their pilots will remain here overnight, and proceed to Deland on Wednesday morning.

Some of the most famous aviators in America are accompanying the tour, including Mrs. Betty Lund, wife of the famous stunt flyer who recently lost his life. Some of the most daring stunts will be performed for Sanford spectators, according to V. A. Spear, chairman of the trade body's committee on the affair.

The committee has announced that no one will be permitted to witness the most except those wearing admission tags on their coat lapels or on their dresses. The national guard and police authorities are assisting in enforcing these regulations so that those who witness the events will participate in the expense of financing the show, which runs well over $400.

Refreshments are now being served to the show, with prizes of airplane and automobile rides awaiting the child selling the most tickets.

Special parking areas will be made available for automobiles at the airport. These spaces can be obtained by purchasing car tickets at 25 cents each at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Bentley Quits As Member Of State
Road Commission

TALENT, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—Robert Bentley, Bradenton, today resigned as a member of the Highway Commission from the First Congressional District. Bentley was for three years chairman of the commission and head of the Road Department. He was succeeded in that office Wednesday by Harry Wells, Chipley.

His resignation was handled to Governor Carlton and was retained in the request that his successor be appointed immediately as the new commissioner may take part in the adoption of the department's final budget for 1932 at a meeting in Tallahassee Feb. 17.

The resignation offered no reason of Bentley's retirement from the commission. Governor Carlton said he would accept his resignation and appoint a successor soon. He did not comment on Bentley's placement of Bentley as head of the Road Department. Wells, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee was appointed to the commission a year ago.

SCHMELING AND WALKER BATTLE DEFINITELY OUT

Financial Condition Of Miami Blamed For Action By Officials

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(A.P.)—Plans for a heavyweight championship fight between Max Schmeling and Mickey Walker at Miami, Fla., in February, were definitely cancelled late yesterday.

The decision to cancel the proposed bout, after it had been considered almost a certainty for some time, was made by Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, after receiving reports from his partner, Billy McCarney, who is in Florida. The Madison Square Garden corporation, which was promoting the bout through a subsidiary, agreed to the cancellation.

McCarney's reports, Jacobs said, indicated that financial conditions in Miami were not good enough to ensure a profitable "rate" and the cancellation was made for that reason alone.

The cancellation of the fight followed some nine days of delay in signing the necessary papers after terms had virtually been agreed upon.

At first various complications arose in the organization of the Madison Square Garden corporation of Florida, which was to handle the promotion directly in order not to involve the New York garden in difficulties with the New York State Athletic commission. Then as late as this afternoon it was announced something wrong had been found with one clause in the contract to prevent the signing.

The garden was understood to have been opposed to the Miami bout throughout the proceeding but was willing to go through with it in order to get the champion's services for a title defense next summer.

Jacobs said his partner, McCarney, had reported a $100,000 "rate" about the limit for a Miami fight this winter, and that he did not intend to let Schmeling fight for a percentage of so small a sum. Previous estimates had placed the probable receipts at about $200,000.

I told Max conditions last night just as McCarney reported them," Jacobs said, "and he told me to go ahead and do as I thought best."

"Therefore, I notified William F. Carey that the fight was off this afternoon. I'm not going to let Max risk his title for a $100,000 gate; not when I can wait around and get Jack Dempsey or Jack Sharkey this summer."

"I think we tried our best to do right by the garden. We got no cooperation. Jimmy Johnston has been throwing ice water on it from the beginning, and I'm sick and tired of trying to make the fight all by myself."

Committee Of 50 Opposes Shipment Of Citrus In Bulk

VERO BEACH, Jan. 14.—(A.P.)—Measures to control or restrict the shipment of citrus fruit in bulk by rail or truck to northern markets occupied the attention of the members of the committee of 50 of the Clearing House yesterday.

A resolution was adopted approving the appointment of a committee to make a thorough investigation of results to the industry through uncontrolled shipment of fruit in bulk and report at the next meeting.

The committee adopted a motion requesting shipper members of the Clearing House to stop shipment of citrus in bulk. A committee was appointed to confer with the Florida citrus exchange and solicit their co-operation in the movement.

The committee of 50 held that establishment of packing houses in the large northern cities for washing, grading and packing citrus fruit shipped in bulk tends to demoralize the industry in the state. They declared that control of grade, pack, effect of distribution through regular channels of trade is lost as well as a large curtailment of the payroll to employees in the state.

Reports read from sales managers in the markets cited the demoralization of the retail trade in packed fruit caused by the competition of bulk fruit offered from trucks on the street to consumers.

WIDENER TRACK AT HIALEAH WILL GET UNDER WAY

Revamped And Beautified Oval Begins Its 1932 Season Today

MIAMI, Jan. 14.—(A.P.)—Joseph E. Widener's Hialeah Park race track, recently revamped and beautified at a cost of approximately $1,200,000, will inaugurate its 1932 season today as thoroughbred thunder down the stretch in the first seven races of a 39-day meet.

The six furlong Hialeah inaugural handicap, for $2500 added money, will bring 13 three-year-olds and up into competition of the day's feature race. Included among entries are John J. Curtis' Flying Heels, Vanderpool, recently bought by Wm. M. Moore of New York, Sand Grenada, owned by H. C. Phipps, and Cal Roper, competitor in several races at the Tropical Park meeting ending yesterday.

The Widener track will open its doors on the heels of yesterday's conclusion of the first half of Tropical Park's racing season at Coral Gables. The latter half of the Tropical Park meeting will start Feb. 23, while Hialeah's meeting will end Feb. 27, with the running of the $10,000 Florida derby.

An Australian totalizer, built for Widener at a cost of $300,000 and used in connection with pari-mutuel wagering systems legalized in Florida in 1931, will be a feature of the Hialeah race meeting.

Approximately 800 horses are stabled at the Widener track on the outskirts of Miami, ready to enter the seven race program. They represent the nation's most prominent stables. Among owners whose thoroughbreds will race here are C. V. Whitney, Mrs. John Hay Whitney, Joseph and George D. Widener, H. C. Phipps, John D. Hertz, Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Bud Fisher, Miss A. Pendergast, Willis Sharp Kilmer, John J. Curtis, H. T. Archibald, Marshall Field, Rudolph Spreckels, Mrs. G. W. Loft, Herbert M. Woolf, the Wheatley stables and Belair Stud.

The beautification program at Hialeah Park was undertaken by Widener after the Florida legislature legalized racing and pari-mutuel wagering last summer over the veto of Gov. Doyle E. Carlton. Twenty thousand tropical trees, shrubs and vines were planted to make the plant a tropic bower. The mile and a quarter racing strip circles an artificial lake, dotted with small islands, while walk and driveways are lined with Royal Palms and Australian pine trees.

City Liens Are Liability After State Tax Sale

Mr. Wilson bases this opinion on the court's decision, printed below, particularly on the last paragraph reading: "Amount due on state and county tax sale certificates being foreclosed are to be first satisfied; and if the lands sold under judicial decree do not bring enough to satisfy all state and municipal liens which by law continue until they are paid, the purchaser of the lands at the judicial sale takes title subject to any unpaid state and municipal tax liens upon the lands, including special assessment liens until they are satisfied or released."

SEMINOLE COUNTY. This appeal is from an order overruling demurrers to a bill of complaint brought to foreclose the lien of tax certificates for state and county taxes, the demurrers being addressed to allegations that stated liens of the city for special assessments "are subject, subordinate, junior and inferior to the lien" of the tax certificates for state and county taxes that are being foreclosed.

The Constitution contains the following: "The Legislature shall authorize the several counties and incorporated cities or towns in the state to assess and impose taxes for county and municipal purposes, and for no other purposes, and all property shall be taxed upon the principles established for Florida ranks third in attendance among all law schools of the South and has graduated 334 students since its founding in 1909. By recent action of the law faculty, Florida becomes one of the nine law schools in the United States requiring for admission, a college degree, except for students taking a combined course of six years leading to an academic and law degree. This forward step marks the University of Florida as the first Southern institution to place its College of Law upon such a significant basis.

In proceedings to foreclose tax liens under Chapter 14572, Acts of 1929, it is proper for the bill of complaint to set out all the municipal liens against the lands. AMOUNTS DUE ON STATE AND COUNTY TAX SALE CERTIFICATES BEING FORECLOSED ARE TO BE FIRST SATISFIED; and if the lands sold under judicial decree do not bring enough to satisfy all state and municipal liens, which by law continue until they are paid, the PURCHASER OF THE LANDS AT THE JUDICIAL SALE TAKES TITLE SUBJECT TO ANY UNPAID STATE AND MUNICIPAL TAX LIENS UPON THE LANDS INCLUDING SPECIAL ASSESSMENT LIENS UNTIL THEY ARE SATISFIED OR RELEASED, where such liens are for the benefit or protection of the municipality AND SUCH LIENS BY STATUTE CONTINUE UNTIL PAID. The general demurrer was not well taken and the special demurrer is too broad in its scope. AFFIRMED. TERRELL and DAVIS, J. J., concur. BUFORD, C. J., and ELLIS, J., concur in the opinion and judgment. BROWN, J., not participating.

"Special assessments for improvement, hard-surfacing, and paving of any streets shall be payable by the owners of the property abutting upon said street or streets assessed for said improvement at the times and in the manner stipulated in the resolution providing for said improvement, and said special assessment shall be and remain a lien superior in dignity to all other liens, except liens for taxes, until paid." Sec. 104, Chap. 9897, Acts 1929; Sec. 3080, C. G. L.

"Taxes and assessments, together with the interest imposed for delinquency and cost of collection, shall be and continue a lien upon the property assessed, superior to all other liens or claims until the same shall be paid." Sec. 79, Chap. 9897, Acts 1929.

Chapter 14572, Acts 1929, authorizes the foreclosure of the liens of tax certificates. Sec. 13, and provides that the lands may be "sold to satisfy the decree in the same manner, as in the foreclosure of mortgages on real estate, and such decree shall have the force and effect of a decree foreclosing a mortgage on real estate." Sec. 23; and "the purchaser at any sale in suits for the foreclosure of tax certificates or deeds shall be entitled to a deed and the same process and remedies to obtain possession of the premises as in suits for the foreclosure of mortgages. The title to the land conveyed by such deed shall be indefeasible as to all parties defendant in the action." Sec. 28, Chap. 14572, Acts 1929.

The last quoted section of the statutes, considered with the other statutes, contemplates that the lands sold under foreclosure decree will bring enough at the sales to pay all state and municipal taxes and all legal and not released municipal assessments against the property sold; and the title conveyed is "indefeasible" "as to all parties defendant in the action;" but state and municipal taxes and assessments remain a lien upon the lands until paid or released, when statutes

BABE RUTH GETS $10,000 SLASH IN YEAR CONTRACT

Owner Of Club Says He Believes Terms Are Eminently Just

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(A.P.)—Babe Ruth today received his 1932 contract from the New York Yankees offering him $70,000.00, a reduction of $10,000. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, disclosed the decreased terms offered Ruth.

He said the Babe was tendered a one-year agreement only. The former slugger received $80,000 yearly under a two-year contract that covered 1930-31 seasons. Ruppert indicated he considered the offer eminently fair under present conditions.

The business of Babe Ruth and his 1932 contract—and whether it will call for another $80,000—took on a mysterious flavor late yesterday.

The Yankees said they had sent the Bambino his "bad news" along with other members of the club. If so, it should have been delivered some time yesterday. But there was no sign of the document and the Babe, when last seen, gradually was working himself into a fine-lather.

"What are you trying to do?" the big fellow demanded, "make me look silly?" If they sent me a contract I would have gotten it by this time."

The day was a trying one for the Babe. From dawn to dinner-time reporters, anxious to record Ruth's reactions when he saw the figures suggested by Col. Jacob Ruppert, had trailed him. A couple of them played golf with him and others, as he put it, popped out from behind trees all afternoon.

By nightfall, when he returned to the city and ran into a new set of inspectors, all demanding to know how he felt about his new contract, the Babe's customary good humor was drawn pretty fine.

He called his home for about the tenth time and again was patiently assured by Mrs. Ruth there was no sign of the all important papers.

"There," he pronounced with finality, "I haven't got any contract and I don't think they're sent it. If they had I'd gotten it."

There was another and fresher rumor that the Yankees had decided not to mail the Babe a contract, but would discuss things with him personally today. They've been doing that in recent years.

"I don't know anything about such a meeting," Ruth declared. "All I know is they told every body they were mailing me a contract. I'd like to see it just as much as you fellows."

It wasn't necessary for the mighty man of sweat to say what he hoped would be in the wayward document. He already has expressed himself on the subject. He wants another one calling for $80,000. At least, he sees no reason why he should accept a cut after the great season he enjoyed in 1931.

The way salaries are being whittled, however, there is a growing feeling the Yankees will make a brave attempt to sign their big drawing card at a reduced figure. Colonel Ruppert recently asserted no player ever again would be paid $80,000 a year.

Two of Ruth's teammates, Lou Gehrig and Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, were reported already to have reached an agreement on their 1932 salaries.

The latest addition to the growing ranks of holdouts is Fred Fitzsimmons, Giants' pitcher, who announced yesterday he was returning unsigned the contract offered him. He is the third Giant to rebel at new terms. Bill Terry and Max Ott already having notified the club they wouldn't sign.

City Taxes Upheld

Of interest throughout Florida should be the Supreme Court's recent decision regarding taxes and paying liens in the city of Sanford. The Court held that the foreclosure of state and county tax certificates does not eliminate city taxes or paying assessments although the state and county tax certificates are superior to other liens and require first payment. City taxes and special assessment liens of all kinds remain a liability against the property if sufficient returns are not realized at the foreclosure sale to satisfy both state and county taxes and city liens.

Had any other opinion been rendered by the Supreme Court the City would have been throttled in the collection of taxes and liens. A veritable racket would have resulted in which all taxes would have been allowed to become delinquent, possibly even on best business property. Later state and county tax certificates could have been purchased, foreclosed upon, and City taxes and liens completely extinguished. The City might have been placed in the position of not having sufficient revenue even for operation.

Under the recent ruling the holder of a state and county tax certificate may foreclose and obtain title to the property, but he will still owe such delinquent City taxes or paying liens as may exist. If he does not pay them, the City may foreclose and take the property away from him. Or a third party might purchase a City tax certificate, foreclose, and obtain title to property acquired in itself through the foreclosure of a state and county tax certificate.

The Supreme Court has held, in other words, that a municipality, a component part of the state itself, created by the state legislature, has a right to existence and a right to enforce tax collection as a guarantee to its existence. Without funds no city can operate and in this country the commonly accepted method for a municipality to acquire funds is through taxation.

The Supreme Court has rendered a fair and intelligent decision in ruling that state taxes shall not restrict the collection of city taxes and liens.

The Finance Corporation

Opinion as to the solution of the United States' economic difficulties seems to be divided into two general classes of thought, one class urging expenditure of big sums by the government, the other urging economy as the way out of the present financial distress. The latter class, however, numbers among its adherents those who are advocating the proposed government Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The "spenders" as the first class might be called are led by Senator LaFollette, who has a plan for the government to advance five and a half billion dollars for public improvements, a plan which, there is no doubt, would temporarily improve the purchasing power of the people. But its effect would be only temporary. After a fleeting moment of rejuvenation there would come an even greater depression. We would have many fine buildings, highways, parks, and waterways, for which the public would have to pay by taxation, but the channels of business and trade would soon be clogged again. The building of public works is not a revenue producing enterprise and is not worth the financial risk the borrowing of such a huge sum by the government would entail.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, on the other hand, would come to the aid of business in a way described by Charles Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank, as providing the channel through which needed credit may flow to stabilize the economic structure and permit banks to perform once more their functions in assisting and encouraging industrial revival.

It would give the public added confidence in its banks increasing their ability to lend. The plan has the endorsement of leading bankers and economists and appears certain to meet success in Congress. With its adoption will come a restoration of confidence and elimination of fear which will be the long needed medicine for business recuperation.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

There will be two days of fete and exhibitions, Feb. 13 and Feb. 14 and aside from the field sports there will be a flower parade, an automobile parade and the grand horse show. The latter is one of the very newest wrinkles in this part of the country and will be under the direction of a competent official. Some of the finest stock in the state will take part in this horse show and the beautiful steeds and fine equipments and beautiful ladies will make a fine array. The program committee is busy arranging the attractions and a full account of the Field Day and Horse Show will be given later.

Work of removing 17 coconut palms from the property recently purchased by the government for the new Federal building, will be started today by city forces. It was learned yesterday from Fred M. The city is doing the work of transplanting the trees at the expense of the government, it was said. Fort Myers News.

HELPING ALL

When persons wish to fight a wrong, when they would reform society, when they would seek personal vengeance, when they would create public sentiment in a dispute, or tell the government what to do, they turn to the newspapers.

The press admits its duty and responsibility in giving the news of important events and in endeavoring to shape the course of officials and general conduct for the best interests of the community and nation. It strives to correct evils. It looks for solutions of all issues. It would turn the spotlight upon corruption and crime. It does accept the great task of trying to mould public opinion in line with what it believes to be right.

But the newspaper cannot expect to grind everyone's axe. It cannot open its columns to private controversies between individuals or with corporations, regardless of where its sympathies may lie. The newspaper is a responsible institution and must be held accountable for what it permits to be printed.

As a private enterprise, it probably does more than any other institution for charity, for civic welfare, for the promotion of worthy causes, for good government, for safety, for righteousness. Much of this work is little appreciated. The newspaper must operate completely in the open. Therefore any error or weakness is quickly noted and criticized. While the virtues are often overlooked.

The press is frequently misunderstood. It is charged with prejudice, with bias, with being purchased. That is all in the days' job. The journalists carry on just the same, struggling for the light of truth as they see it, less controlled, more free than workers in any other field.

Herndon Enters Race For County Court Judgeship

(Continued from Page One) hypocrisy should have no place in a tribunal of justice." Mr. Herndon said in further discussing his candidacy. "I feel that after the voters have been eminently fair to one person in public office, and the administration has been a miserable failure, it is nothing but fair to step aside and give someone else a chance. I have no great political aspirations, and have no other people to serve than those in Seminole County. If elected I simply promise to do the best I can, with a hard head and 52 feet of intestinal fortitude to aid me."

Answering several inquiries put by friends interested in his candidacy, Mr. Herndon states that the constitution and laws of this state do not require that a county judge be an attorney, and that there are very few county judges in Florida who are attorneys.

"The moulders of our Constitution undoubtedly felt that the cases coming within the jurisdiction of the County Judge should be carried to an honest, just, and fair conclusion rather than have justice miscarry at the hands of legal technicalities," he said, "and at the same time prevent an attorney from carrying on a private practice of law in the County House at the expense of the County."

Mr. Herndon received his education in Sanford schools, later attending the University of Florida. He was a successful theater owner here for years, selling his interests to engage as a farmer some years ago. He is a Past Exalted ruler of Sanford Lodge of Elks; a vice-president of the State Elks Lodge; a vice-president of the Central Florida Elks Council; a member of the Order of Commerce, and the Presbyterian Church.

CHARGES HEARD AGAINST MELLON AND ARE DENIED

Patman Says Secretary Was Active in Obtaining Oil Rights

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—Assertions that Secretary Mellon, in his private capacity, as a capitalist, intervened last June in negotiations to extend a loan to Colombia were heard and denied yesterday before committee of Congress.

A charge that the treasury secretary was active in obtaining a Colombian oil concession during the loan discussions was made by Representative Patman, Texas Democrat, before the House committee hearing his plea that Mellon sought to be impeached. The accusation was based largely on newspaper dispatches and a letter from an unnamed citizen of Colombia.

Patman quoted the letter from the South American saying President Olaya Herrera of Colombia had announced publicly Mellon would assist in the credit extension if petroleum difficulties were settled.

In the conversation the president of Colombia spoke about the situation of his country, to which Mr. Mellon said that if he would arrange the petroleum business difficulties in Colombia, that Colombia would develop itself into a much better credit condition, letting him understand that he in turn would help Colombia in coming out of the crisis it was going through," the letter said.

"In view of his position as secretary of the treasury and his connection with the Gulf Oil Company," Patman said, "if a foreign country has granted them a special concession you can see where the secretary of the treasury would reciprocate the favor."

Testimony before the Senate committee already has brought out that the state department sought to influence American bankers to make the loan to Colombia.

State department officials, appearing concurrently before a Senate committee investigating foreign loans, denied there was any connection between the Colombian credit and any oil discussions which may have taken place. Tomorrow Mellon's representatives will reply to Patman before the House committee.

The story of the state department's activities with reference to the loan and the concession was related to the senators by Francis White, an assistant secretary of state, and Freeman Matthews, assistant chief of the department's Latin-American division.

White flatly refused to give the committee for publication correspondence between the department and the Colombian legation regarding the oil concession. He continued to refuse, after Senator Johnson, California Republican, had drawn from him a statement that he had read one of the communications to a New York bank.

From Matthews, Johnson obtained testimony that the $4,000,000 Colombian loan was held up by American bankers for several weeks and finally granted after the state department had intervened.

During that time, Matthews said, the Colombian legislature was debating restoration of the Barro oil concession to the South American Petroleum company, which is chiefly owned by the Gulf Oil company, known as one of the "Mellon companies."

The reinstatement passed the legislature June 18, Matthews said, and was signed by President Olaya June 20. The loan was extended June 30.

"We will let the facts speak for themselves in that regard," Johnson replied.

Senator Walsh, Massachusetts Democrat, characterized the proximity of the events as "a strange coincidence."

White testified that the $4,000,000 loan payment made on June 30, was the final installment of a $30,000,000 loan contracted for a year previous. The fact of its payment ten days after the granting of the Barro oil concession he said was a coincidence.

Patman wants to establish that Mellon should be removed from office for taking part in private business while serving as secretary of the treasury.

Other major contentions in Patman's closing statement yesterday were:

That Mellon, a large holder in the Aluminum company of America, used his position as the head of the federal building program to further use of aluminum; that he authorized large tax refunds to himself and corporations; that international revenue bureau employees are afraid to make a ruling against one of Mellon's companies in a tax case.

When Patman said tax cases in the treasury had been marked "this is a Mellon company," Alexander W. Gregg, present as a representative of Mellon, said:

"One of the subordinate engineers marked one case. As soon as any one responsible saw it, it was erased."

Posses Searching For Robbers Who Held Up Two Banks

CASTLE, Okla., Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—Posses searched Eastern Oklahoma last night for unmasked robbers who yesterday looted banks at Paden and Castle, 10 miles apart, kidnaped officials of each bank and escaped with approximately $5000. Machine guns were used by the robbers at Castle.

Shortly before the robberies, which officers said apparently were executed by different gangs, the National Rating Bureau of New York notified the Oklahoma Bankers Association that daylight holdup insurance rates for the state had been doubled, effective Jan. 11. The increased number of robberies was given as the reason.

Efforts to capture Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, the most sought criminal in the state, were redoubled after he was identified by witnesses as one of three machine gun robbers who looted the State Bank of Castle. The Castle robbers forced two bank officials and two customers to accompany them to the outskirts of the city as protection against gunfire.

T. Elliott, cashier and H. H. Gray, assistant cashier and Glenn Hill and George Morzett, the captives, were released unharmed.

Canadian Mounted Police Close In On Fugitive From Law

AKLAVIK, N. W. T., Jan. 15. — (A.P.)—Mushing through the twilight of the Arctic's six months winter night, a determined squad of red coated mounted policemen is believed on the trail for a third attempt to dislodge a hermit trapper from his isolated Rat River cabin.

Twice the trapper, who is well supplied with ammunition and rifles and pistols, has withstood the attack of police.

The hermit, Albert Johnson, is accused of shooting and wounding Constable A. M. King of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, when King and Constable R. G. McDowell trekked to his cabin to question him concerning complaints of Indians that their trap lines were being robbed.

Through a raging blizzard, McDowell mushed — due team the 80 miles to Aklavik with King on the sled, seriously but not fatally wounded.

With the arrival of the two officers, a posse was formed and retraced the long trail to the lonely hut. The posse was met by rifle and pistol fire when they attempted to approach the stronghold, which Johnson, believed demented, had built on a brush-covered promontory.

Bombs and rifle fire failed to dislodge the trapper, who found safety in a tunnel beneath his cabin when bomb explosions broke in the door and tore large holes in the roof. He returned to his loopholes, a few inches above the ground, in

New York State is leading in reservations for the supper, with 25 tickets purchased. Chairman H. L. Maltbie, Alabamonte Springs, declares that his representation intends to remain at the head of the procession in this event.

Massachusetts is second with 13 reservations, and the foreign table is third, with 12 reservations, including six from England, three from Canada, two from Scotland, and one from Germany. B. F. Pennsylvania is fourth, having 10 reservations, with Chairman H. R. Stevens declaring that his table will pass all others before the supper begins.

Nine reservations have been made by Indians who are joining with Chairman H. J. Lehman in making the Hooleers' share of the program an interesting one.

Florida is sixth in reservations, with Chairman T. W. Lawton announcing unique and interesting features from the assembled time to stave off another advance by the eight troopers and hurl verbal taunts at them, punctuated by the staccato barks of pistols.

"Crack!" A special table, grouping persons born in Seminole County, will feature the Florida delegation's representation.

Georgia and Wisconsin are tied for seventh place, with Chairman S. O. Shinkholder, Georgia, and Mrs. Emma Abbott Lyman, of Alabamonte Springs, chairmen of the Wisconsin table, reporting that they have several reservations to add to those already announced.

Chairman Ray Fox, of Illinois, eighth in the list, stated today that his state will pass at least four of those now leading it; and Dr. W. T. Langley, chairman of the Alabama table, now ninth in the standings, urges all Alabamontes to come to his aid in placing the colors of that table at the head of the list.

North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Vermont, and Virginia are tied for 10th place in reservations. Chairmen of those tables are: North Carolina, S. F. Long; Ohio, R. J. H. Hoyle; Oklahoma, S. D. Highmyan; South Carolina, H. M. Watson; Vermont, S. P. Smith; Geneva, and Virginia, B. L. Perkins.

Delaware, Missouri and Tennessee are tied for 11th place. Chairman Dr. Elizabeth Tracy of Delaware, S. G. Gay of Missouri, and Dr. H. W. Rucker, of Tennessee, are busy planning novel features for their tables.

Roosevelt Says Abuse Of Hoover Is To Be Avoided

"for the purpose of presenting to the public information regarding our national affairs."

"To Mr. Raskob," said Governor Roosevelt, "we owe a debt of gratitude for making this work possible."

In approaching his remarks on party conduct the governor said: "Campaigns in the United States have at times been won by an appeal to prejudice, by an appeal to ignorance, by the picturing of principles in false colors, by the presentation of candidates dressed in borrowed clothes. Prejudice cannot be kept alive if the facts are known; secrets cannot be hidden if they are shouted from the hilltops."

"Hand in hand with the campaign to spread knowledge and thereby in the long run eliminate prejudice, we have a further task as a party—to conduct ourselves that we shall never be made the object of the accusation that we have dealt our opponents a blow below the belt. I refer especially and specially to many men and women in the United States, members of both great parties, who have forgotten their sense of fair play and at the same time the fact that their victim of the moment is the President of the United States."

Reviewing tax situation, the governor said:

"The time has come for the 18 sovereignties which have created the federal machinery of government to say to Washington: 'Let us follow the original principle established in the Constitution in 1787. That the states give to the Federal Government certain specified powers and reserve to themselves all other powers.'"

"We must say to each other and to the Federal Government: 'Let us establish for times of peace a definite apportionment of the whole field of taxation. To the Federal Government we will give adequate sources of taxation to meet the administrative needs of the Federal Government as a government of definite delegated powers. All other sources of taxation we, the states, reserve unto ourselves."

"When this is accomplished it will be possible for the state sovereignties to scan this reserved field of tax sources and to determine which elements in that field can with propriety and justice be allocated as tax sources to local government."

John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate in 1924, detailed the objectives of the fund-raising campaign of which the "victory" dinners are a part and said: "Our campaign has no connection even the most remote with the aspirations of any possible candidate."

"We are out to fill the war chest—not to choose a commander, dictate strategy or map the battlefield," he said.

"Praising the leadership of Chairman Raskob and Executive Chairman Shouse, Mr. Davis said: 'If this constructive work is carried forward actively in a militant fashion, as it has been carried forward during the last two and a half years, we will score a still greater triumph next November.'"

Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, majority leader of the House, asserted: "We have enacted into law during the present session more major propositions than any other Congress ever enacted in a like period of time during all our period of service in the House of Representatives which extends now over almost 30 years of time."

He praised the Democratic tariff bill, which was passed by the House last week and said: "We can charge to Republican politics and Republican Presidents and Republican cabinets the distressing conditions under which we labor now."

"It is our problem to reopen our factories. It is our problem to restore to our government bonds the market value they ought to have."

quarters, throws the furniture out the window and the party ceases to function except for its representatives in Washington until the January before the next presidential election—three and a half years."

"Then, in a solemn way, they meet to talk about Jefferson, hold dinners, celebrate Jackson's birthday and then all get together and give the convention to the highest bidder. See what a distressing effect this has on the party. And if you have any doubt, get yourself nominated for President and afterward find out what happens to you. I've had that experience."

He described the organization formed after the 1928 campaign and to those preparations he attributed much of the success of the Democrats in the 1930 elections.

The party entered the 1928 campaign with a deficit from 1924, he said, and to this was added the expense of that campaign and the maintenance of the organization since and preparations for the campaign about to start.

He referred to the large amount loaned by John J. Raskob, national chairman, and said: "none believes the party should subsist

It is our problem to save the railroads and banks from threatened ruin and disaster. It is our problem to bring back to us the country as many as possible of the 2200 American branch manufacturing plants now operating back of the tariff walls of other countries utilizing their cheaper labor and using their raw materials."

"Hope for the future depends upon the ascendancy again and the control of our national affairs by the party of Jefferson."

at the North Dakota state Democratic convention.

"Also addressing the New York meeting, John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee in 1924, said the fund raising campaign has 'no connection even the most remote with the aspirations of any possible candidate.' He added:

"We are out to fill the war chest—not to choose a commander, dictate strategy or map the battlefield."

Both Roosevelt and Davis praised the leadership of John J. Raskob, chairman of the national committee and of J. J. Shouse, chairman of the national executive committee.

At Boston, Alfred I. Smith, the 1928 nominee, had the platform for an extemporaneous address. He forebore to express a view similar to that of Davis. Asked if he intended to announce his stand on one man, he said the rank and file should finance the party.

Turning to the coming campaign, he launched into a discussion of platform planks.

"If there was ever a time when the party should give the American people a clean-cut, straightforward, honest declaration of what it intends to do if entrusted with the government during the next four years, it is this year," he said. Most of the past platform, he added, have been concerned with tiding fault with the other side.

"Let's make a frank, open and honest declaration of what we intend to do with the prohibition law," he said. "We owe it to the country and the people. There is no need of looking to the Republican party. The President is in accord with his own commission. They don't intend to do anything about it and hope we don't."

becoming a presidential candidate, he said:

"No! That issue is not before the House tonight. This is a fund raising campaign."

The New York Evening Post said Wednesday that Smith would have no objection to the use of his name in state preferential presidential primaries.

Shouse sounded a warning against over-confidence in a speech at Chicago, at the same time predicting victory in next November's election.

"The victory is ours if we take together and do not let our enthusiasm wane," he said. "If on the contrary we take it for granted that we are going to win, if we permit individual rivalries, individual pride of opinion to divide us, I am not sure."

At Columbus, Ohio, Senator Lewis of Illinois said the Democratic party will ask the voters of the nation for support in November so that it can "cut from power the syndicate of special interests that have taken possession of the government."

At the same meeting Senator Bullock of Ohio, criticized the present administration, asserting it had failed to recognize the business slump until a few months ago. At Richmond, the Virginia gen-

50-foot section of levee Wednesday near Eden, 11 miles north of Yazoo City, pouring a shallow flood over the country around Eden. Eight thousand fertile acres were flooded but residents of Eden expected no trouble in the city itself, although water several inches deep covered several streets. No livestock was lost and property damage was believed relatively small.

Unless there is more rain, the Tallahatchie River here is expected to begin falling today. It rose an inch Wednesday night, but fell five inches during the night, damaging bridges. Glendora was practically isolated by the Tallahatchie and Black Rivers.

tion out to higher points. The Yazoo at Greenwood rose 10 inches but was rising more slowly. It stood there within two feet of a foot of the 1927 flood level. Greenwood was practically surrounded, but expected no water to enter the city itself. Residents of Grenada, a suburb, had to move into the city proper.

Rail traffic, seriously hampered Wednesday, was in somewhat better case yesterday, although some lines were still under water at points.
