

Inouye Calls For Nixon's Resignation, Says We 'Have Suffered Enough'

SENATOR INOUYE ... Wants resignation

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Sen. Daniel K. Inouye today called for President Nixon's resignation, saying Americans "have suffered enough" and "must be spared this new pain and trauma."

The Hawaii Democrat thus became the first member of the Senate Watergate Committee to urge the President to step down following the firing Saturday of special prosecutor Archibald Cox and the ouster of the two top officials of the Justice Department.

In a speech prepared for the AFL-CIO convention, Inouye urged Nixon "to place our national interest and welfare above all other concerns and to resign from the office of the presidency."

The labor federation's executive council met in emergency session and recommended that the convention approve a resolution calling for Nixon's resignation or his impeachment if he refuses to step down.

Sources said there was only one dissenting vote among the 32 council members present for the emergency session called by President George Meany.

In his speech, Inouye suggested that if Nixon resigns, House Speaker Carl Albert, next in line of succession, should appoint as his vice president "a Republican of the highest caliber — not a caretaker or an agent, but one who can lead our people."

He said Albert should consider such Republicans as New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller or Elliot Richardson, who resigned Saturday as attorney general after refusing Nixon's order to fire Cox.

The American public, Inouye said, is "stunned and numbed" by the weekend events and warned "that this numbness could well progress into dangerous anger."

"If our democracy, as envisioned by our founding fathers, is to survive and flourish, public trust and confidence in our government and in our national leadership must be restored," he said.

"Like many of you," the senator said, "I have sadly concluded that President Nixon can no longer effectively lead our nation."

He said that the great majority of Americans are now finding it difficult to accept Nixon as the country's chief executive.

The senator said that Nixon's actions over the weekend show that he "is prepared to tear apart the national spirit and system to protect himself and his taxes."

Cox's Firing Brings Calls For Impeachment

MIAMI (AP) — President Nixon's firing of Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox has brought many calls from Floridians for Nixon's impeachment. In today's editions, the St. Petersburg Times said Nixon should resign or be impeached.

"Like most people in the country, The Times until now has sought solutions to Watergate that did not include the extreme step of resignation or impeachment of President Nixon," the newspaper said.

"But the President's unrestrained attempt to stop the independent prosecution of the Watergate crimes and his unreasonable purge of the Justice Department are so far outside the normal rule of constitutional government that the national interest now requires that Mr. Nixon resign, or if he refuses, that he be impeached."

The Times said that "by his own actions, the President has brought into question his own respect for the rule of law, the cement of every law-abiding society."

But Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla., a member of the Senate Watergate Committee, said impeachment proceedings will probably be filed and not get very far.

"There are always those in Congress who are more than ready to do such things, but I cannot see them meeting with great success," Gurney said Sunday in Nashville where he was to speak on executive-congressional relations.

Nixon announced Saturday that he had fired Cox and abolished the Special Watergate Task Force. Nixon also accepted the resignation of Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson and dismissed Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Ruckelshaus after he refused an order to fire Cox.

Egypt, Israel Have Agreed To Cease-Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel and Egypt announced they would accept the United Nations resolution calling for an immediate cease-fire today in the Middle East fighting. The Syrians kept silent but were expected to follow Cairo's lead in heeding the U.N. appeal for a halt to the fighting on the 17th day of the fourth Arab-Israeli war since 1948.

O-O-O-O-OOPS!
CARL EVERETT Winegard, 45, Sanford Route One, was westbound on SR 46 at 5:30 a.m. to his hauling job when he literally hit a snag — the Interstate Four overpass. Winegard told Florida Highway Trooper C. L. Tomlinson that he failed to lower the dump body after servicing it Sunday. The heavy steel body was longer than the 14 foot bridge clearance and caught on the bridge hurling the cab up to smash the underside of the overpass. "I kept thinking it would come down but it didn't," said Winegard, shown below as he climbed down unharmed after turning off the ignition. Traffic was rerouted for 90 minutes until a wrecker could free the stuck truck.

Sanford Reaction: Wait

By JEAN PATTESON
Herald Staff Writer
Only five out of the 17 persons interviewed in downtown Sanford this morning thought President Nixon should be impeached.

Several persons admitted they might change their favorable opinions of the president and support his impeachment if proof of his involvement in Watergate is brought to light.

Others said things have moved so fast recently they haven't had time to formulate opinions, especially since the firing of special prosecutor Archibald Cox and the resignation of Attorney General Elliott Richardson.

"I'd like to see what's in the tapes before giving an opinion," said Jack Bringardner.

"I don't think he should be impeached until the evidence is out and he's proven beyond doubt, guilty of a crime calling for impeachment," said Ralph Larsen.

His opinion was shared by Bill Roffe, who commented, "He's not been proved guilty of"

AROUND THE CLOCK

By John A. Spolski

Maybe this will help to open the "relief valve" for many of us. It's funny, and yet it also carries a hidden message ...

"There's little chance for people to get together as long as most of us want to be in the front of the bus, the back of the church, and the middle of the road."

The following appeared in this column back on May 23rd of this year (and caused quite a few to "burn" my line as a result of writing it).

"The more we learn from grand jury testimony (and not to be confused with innuendo as the White House alleges) the more we are drawn to the conclusion that only Mr. Nixon could save the Republic."

"Save it by forestalling impeachment charges and resign instead."

Today I am pleased to see more than a few others accepting that posture as well. Senator Inouye and the influential St. Petersburg Times, as examples.

With each new revelation of the doings within the political arenas, I'm more convinced that each of us wants to rid the ranks of the dishonest.

It's not going to be easy, but now that we've made a beginning, it's imperative that we continue.

Federal, state and local government attorneys must copy the investigations conducted in Maryland of late.

These investigations should cover the official spectrum from congressmen, governors and high federal officials to state legislatures, city and county executives, contractors, real estate operators, zoning lawyers and the like who have extensive dealings in areas of public interest.

gold or cash for their purchases instead of the U.S. Government granting credits which may eventually be repaid with devalued dollars, or not at all. He says American taxpayers shouldn't be forced to bear the burden of such a great risk.

Bravo, Mr. Symms.

Sincerely,
C. C. Moseley.

United Fund Reaches Half Of $100,000 Goal

With the United Fund total at $50,351, half way toward Thursday's goal of $100,000, all volunteers are working all-out to bring in final gifts and pledges.

At the fourth report meeting last week campaign chairman Len Unitas congratulated everyone who had contributed at that time, especially Dynatronics for their fine effort in collecting $8,064; Southern Bell Telephone for their $8,887 contribution; and Montgomery Ward for their $4,100 total.

He made special mention of first-time contributors, particularly Clark Chrysler Plymouth for their $2,269 contribution, and Florida Hospital North for $1,637.

"We've just crossed the 50% mark," said Unitas. "Time is getting short and the hard part is still ahead so 'Go, Team!'"

The fifth report luncheon is scheduled for Tuesday noon at the Sanford Marina Holiday Inn. The Sanford Lions Club will host the meeting.

"Remember, this is the largest charitable civic undertaking in the entire county," said Unitas. He urged all Seminole citizens to play their part in supporting 11 worthwhile agencies which at some time could render help to every resident in the county in some way or other.

"It's your fund, and thanks to you it's working!"

Rams Battered Components Again

Chuck Knox and his battering Rams

LOS ANGELES (NEA)—Professional football isn't really as complicated as the savants pretend. The Los Angeles Rams, undefeated in season, have made every simple process again. They are physically whipping every team they meet.

Last spring, after the first Ram losing record in seven years, owner Carroll Rosenbloom elevated Chuck Knox to his first head coach job after 10 seasons as a Detroit, Rosenbloom had a very subjective reason for the change.

There remains some helium left in the 38-year-old Baylor, who is a rugged, hard-hitting player. He is, however, a player who is not a star but a player who is a star.

There are men on the roster who are not stars but who are players who are stars. They are the ones who are the stars.

During football's current phase of the lustreless field goal, the Rams have been a country-circuit by ripping strong opposition for 11 touchdowns in three games, while stifling the other teams with only three scores.

Tom Mack, the all-pro offensive guard of the Rams, late this summer and he gave them one overall command: "Put those helmets on."

That takes a little explanation. The helmet is the popular plastic helmet among professional football players. Using it as a battering ram is a prescribed way of inducing respect from an opponent.

And he means playing mean. It means putting players on the field who knock down other people. Now that sounds very elementary.

Baylor A Superstar At The Mike, Too?

NEW YORK (NEA)—"It was a real home run in the air so long," said Elgin Baylor, phrasing what smacks of an old but comely line. "I'd just fill myself with helium."
