Solicitors Must Post $1000 Bond With City

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams declared today that the City ordinance requiring the posting of a $1000 bond by all agents and solicitors canvassing Sanford will be rigidly enforced in the future.

This action was taken following the heavy influx of persons of this class who have caused the department no small amount of trouble, and directly followed numerous complaints of local residents of a troupe of "magazine salesmen" who started a house-to-house canvass of Sanford last Friday but were run out of the city by the department.

"We have had so many complaints from the residents of Sanford because of these agents and solicitors that some drastic action must be taken," the Police Chief said, "and from now on we are going to 'bear down' on them."

Senate Drops Filibuster On Lynching Bill

Consideration Given To Housing Legislation Advocated By President Roosevelt

Bill Liberalizes Mortgage Limits

Fight Expected Over Cutting "Prevailing Wage" Amendment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Senate today took up consideration of the Administration's housing legislation, temporarily laying aside the anti-lynching measure which has been debated since the session opened.

The conference report on housing previously approved by the House, was expected to provoke a controversy because of the elimination of the "prevailing wage" amendment which the Senate previously had voted into the bill.

The report is a composite of separate bills passed by the Senate and House.

Senator Bilbo, Mississippi Democrat, will have the floor to resume the anti-lynching debate when the housing bill is disposed of.

The legislation would liberalize the federal housing administration insurance of mortgages, permitting the purchase of small homes for a down payment of 10 percent of the total cost.

C of C Head Warns Citizens Against Fake Solicitors

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce today issued an urgent warning to Sanford and Seminole County residents regarding itinerant peddlers and solicitors.

"Several cases have been reported to us during the past few days," stated Chamber President T. E. Simpson. "Of magazine subscription solicitors calling on local residents and securing subscriptions through the claim that they are relatives of various Sanford people. Investigation of course has proved that they were racketeers and were in no way related, in fact unknown, to the people with whom they claimed kinship. This truth however was not known until several unsuspecting citizens had been duped."

"Don't give money to strangers—don't cash checks for strangers and don't sign an order or receipt until you investigate," cautioned Mr. Simpson. "When unknown peddlers or solicitors appear, immediately notify the Police Department or the Chamber of Commerce."

WHEEL VEISE FOR TODAY
 Abolish from all appearances of evil.—1. Thine, 6:22.

THE SEEKERS

One asked a sign from God; and lay by day
 The sun arose in pearl, in scarlet and Each night the stars appeared in bright array,
 Each morn the thirsting grass
 with dew was wet,
 The corn failed not its harvest,
 nor the vine
 And yet he saw no sign.
 One longed to hear a prophet;
 and he strayed
 through crowded streets, and by the open sea,
 He saw men send their ships for distant trade,
 And build for generations yet to be,
 He saw the farmer sow his acres wide,
 But went unsatisfied,
 One prayed a sight of heaven;
 and crowlde
 He saw a workman at his noontime rest,
 He saw one dare for honor, and die
 Of one who held a babe upon her breast:
 At last two lovers walking
 hand in hand;
 But did not understand.
VICTOR STARBUCK.

Have you seen Winter Haven's Cypress Gardens? They are well worth seeing at this time of year.

The State of Florida should finance a Panhandle Census. We believe it would show more than our fair share of panhandlers at this time of year.

Last year at this time the automobile industry had more orders than it knew what to do with but all the men were out on strike, and this year, with all the men working, or waiting work, there are no orders. Life is funny that way.

An eighteen thousand dollar appropriation for the improvement of Melbourne's harbor by this session of Congress has been assured, according to the Melbourne Times, which says that work is expected to start in the near future.

The depression is over and business is about to pick up again, in the opinion of E. E. Norris, president of the Southern Railway.
 "Very soon things will be humming up that the American people will hardly know they had had a depression, or a recession. Business is down as far as it will go and is on the upswing. If it can only get around that corner, everything will be all right.

Japan is not satisfied with one war on her hands which already apparently is too much for her.
 She is preparing for war against a third power. General Sugiyama, Jap war minister, tells parliament that "since Japan is fighting a long term war with China, we must prepare for a country other than China." He probably has Burma in mind, but Japan may have to fight England and the United States as well before she gets through with it.

President Roosevelt asks Congress for the biggest increase in armaments which has ever been requested in the peace time history of this country. More than $1,000,000,000 will be spent on new armaments and other naval equipment. Other millions will go for aircraft equipment, increases in the navy, army, air and coast guard, and for other military purposes.

The Dangers Of The Home

Did you know that you are safer out on the bloodspattered highways in the maelstrom of reckless and drunken drivers than you are in your own home? Did you know that actually there were more people killed last year in accidents which occurred in their homes than in automobile accidents? The figure for the former is 38,500, and for the latter 37,500. At the same time another 5,620,000 persons were injured in home accidents.

"The kitchen is the most dangerous room in the house," according to an article in a recent issue of the Rotarian. "Eighteen percent of the accidents studied occurred there, many to children. Poor connections on the gas stove, overheating or the use of kerosene in coal ranges, gas escaping when a boiling pot has extinguished a flame, stove petcocks without safety catches turned on by children, accidents while frying foods in deep fat—these are the coming kitchen hazards.

"More accidents," the report continues, "occur on steps than anywhere else in the home. Steep stairways, especially if the treads are highly polished or if the runners are frayed, are extremely dangerous. It is dangerous under any circumstances to walk on stairs with both arms loaded. It was found that one in four injured in the home fell down stairs inside or outside the house. Falls including those from rickety stepladders or weak chairs used in place of ladders, and from slipping on floors and in bathtubs, caused by far more than half the deaths and serious injuries. Scatter-rugs on polished floors cause many accidents. Such rugs should have nonslip anchors under them.

"Household disorder," the article continues, "is just as physically dangerous as it is psychologically disturbing.
 About one in six of the accidents leading to injury or death in the home is directly attributable to it, according to the Hospital study. Brooms on stairways, broken glass on the bathroom floor, and sharp edges of scattered toys do not begin to list the possibilities for injury due to neglect. Even the bedroom is the scene of many home accidents. A surprising number of children fall out of bed.
 Pillows, put into cribs for decorative purposes, have been known to suffocate babies. One should never go to sleep with an electric heating pad turned on.

"The combined shower and tub bath, though convenient in a small house, is the cause of many accidents. Keep the soap in a container! Medicants should never be sought out or administered in the dark. Poisons, if they must be kept in anything but a separate, locked container, should be plainly marked. The medicine chest should, of course, always be out of reach of children. The bathroom is also a dangerous place in which to operate electric appliances. One's body may easily touch a faucet and a faulty electric cord at the same time.

"Protection from fire hazards, orderliness, timely repairing, using tools and instruments for their intended purposes, a willingness to dispose of wornout appliances, and a little commonsense—every household needs "these things," the article concludes. "With them, the home remains the sanctuary we always believed it to be."

Dade County Agriculture

Miami and vicinity are not generally thought of as an agricultural section, but the Miami Herald points out in a recent editorial that the potato growers down there alone have produced a crop this year estimated at over $4,000,- 000 in value. That section also produces many millions of dollars worth of other vegetables as well as citrus fruits and other crops.

"Previous to 1891 Florida's chief crop was oranges, as it is now," the Herald says. "It was then said that nothing else could be profitably produced, especially in south Florida, because the soil was not fitted for growing crops. It was declared, and generally believed, that potatoes of the white variety and other vegetables could not be grown in the state.

"But there was one man, just previous to the turn of the century, who did not believe in the proposition that potatoes could not be grown in Florida. He undertook the cultivation of white potatoes in the region around Hastingings. He was wonderfully successful in his first adventure and in all subsequent plantings. His discovery that the old tradition was all wrong led others to become potato farmers. The movement spread and now Florida grows and ships millions of dollars' worth of the succulent tuber every year. And Dade county is doing its share in the development of that particular industry.

"Something similar occurred after the great freeze of
 '94-'95 in which the entire orange industry was wiped out.
 Many of those who lost everything by the freeze were compelled to take up some other form of industry, being convinced that the growing of oranges in Florida could never be resumed. They came to the East Coast, many of them, and started the development of the tomato growing industry. In that, in spite of all that doubters could say, they were successful, successful also in growing peppers, lettuce, celery, beans and other garden crops, millions of dollars' worth of which are shipped out every season, bringing prosperity and wealth to the southern part of the state.

"They were also mistaken who said that oranges would never come back. Florida recuperated from the great

REDS OF THE YELLOW RACE

REDS OF THE YELLOW RACE are these Chinese communist warriors, some of the thousands reported on the march from Yunnan, Szechuan province, to northeastern Faping and Kalgan. There they will join nationalist forces, whom they once opposed, against the Japanese. Above them is a Spanish inscription: "We salute the brave heroes of Spain," apparently a friendly gesture toward Loyalists. Note the portraits in the background.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
 By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—The "purge" of old heads from the British army council created quite a stir in London—but a system of pushing younger officers into the high command in the U. S. army and navy has been in vogue these many years.

For generations the seniority rule has governed promotion in the British army. It has had tremendous social and military implications. Now, as part of the British preparedness program, the seniority of a number of veteran officers is brushed aside by energetic Leslie Hore-Belsham, secretary of state for war, while younger officers replace them on the war council.

In the United States navy a progressive selection system has been in effect about 20 years. In the army advancement is strictly according to seniority up to the grade of colonel. Then the selective system goes into effect. The President, operating through the secretary of war, picks his generals.

Army Adjustment
 But even in the army a selective program of a sort begins away down in the ranks. The army maintains special training schools. Each year selected officers of various grades go to these schools. Those selected know they are on the way upward. Those not selected feel that their chances of becoming a general are slim.

The field and staff school is at Fort Leavenworth. Captains and majors go there from all branches of the army. They study military tactics and strategy intensely, burn lights past midnight and come out packed with military lore.

The next school upward is the war college. That is in Washington. It is a sort of upper military university. It teaches the last word in military methods and military policy of a broad nature.

There is nothing in the law which says that an officer who has not been to Leavenworth and the war college shall not become a general. But the odds are against it. When the list of colonels comes up for appointment to the grade of general, the list is usually a record of those officers in studied. Naturally the record of an officer who has not been to Leavenworth and the war college is not so good.

MISS NANCY ROSSETTER PRESENTS RECITAL AT THE WOMAN'S CLUB

By Frances Appinwall Hickson
As our own Mrs. Garner would say, "Way down in Sanford, Fla.," twelve years ago a little dark haired girl with china blue eyes, presented herself to Mrs. George Maffett for her first "expression lesson." Last Friday night, that same little girl, with the same dark hair and blue eyes, stood before a capacity audience in the Woman's Club and presented her Graduation Recital. No longer a chubby little youngster, but a charming and beautiful young lady.

Nancy Janette Rossetter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Rossetter, was born and raised in Sanford, and comes from one of the Pioneer families in this section. Her mother will be remembered as a teacher in the Sanford High School.

At the age of six, Nancy started in the Cary School of Expression, under the able guidance of Mrs. George Maffett. At that time she progressed the gradually became an accomplished reader, known to every one in Sanford and its vicinity. Her generosity in giving of her talent has been one of her outstanding points. Not content with the laborious hours spent with her expression work, she has studied piano, violin and haritone, the latter two of which she now plays in the High School band and orchestra. In her Junior year, she won the most coveted of all High School awards, the Mobley Prize, and this year was elected president of the Girls H-Y.

Before the program began, Mrs. Maffett gave a short talk, commenting upon the course completed, and expressing her love and appreciation for Nancy. The thoroughness of Mrs. Maffett's training was well shown in Nancy's readings, versatile from start to finish; she touched upon the tragic, the comic and the human sides of life. Her complete ease of stage presence, and obvious familiarity with her numbers, caused much favorable comment among the audience. To me, "The Music Master" was the most expressive number, with its high lights of dramatic moments. But when "Ezekiel" appeared, there was a noticeable interest and a half smile upon the faces of the audience, even before the number began. "Ezekiel" by Elvira Garner, is a new play, not yet published, and the audience was greatly interested to hear this new recitation of Ezekiel interpreted by such a talented reader. The highest group reminded us of the Nether that we have heard so many times in that particular style. The final number, "The Land of Beginning Again," left the audience with a sense of quietness and peace from which they seemed reluctant to part.

Miss Rossetter was assisted by her two friends, Miss Daphne Takach, pianist, and Miss Doris Jackson, violinist. Daphne, in her rendition of the difficult "Night- ingale" of Liszt's showed the marvelous technique and interpretation for which she is well known. Her encore was the eccentric "Clog Dance" by Dr. Hanson. Doris, with her violin, fully justified the expectations of those who are following the career of this young violinist and dancer. Her encore was Brahms' Hungarian Dance, No. 5.

To those of us who have watched these three young girls grow up together, there was a touch of sadness in this recital. Every year, but two, since they were seven years of age, these three girls have given a recital together. Now they must part, for also Doris will be with us another year, Nancy and Daphne graduate and go forth to other schools and still greater accomplishments.

The stage was unusually attractive, with an almost solid banking of palms, off set by two tall baskets of gladioli.

The guests were met at the door by a receiving line consisting of Mrs. A. M. Phillips, president of the Woman's Club, Mrs. A. K. Rossetter, Mrs. George Maffett and Miss Rossetter.

Nancy was her own demure self in a gown of blue flowered taffeta, made with puff sleeves and style reminiscent of colonial days. Doris was lovely in royal blue moire taffeta in princess style, while Daphne wore royal blue chiffon velvet as a contrast to her fair complexion. Mrs. Maffett was charming in brocade crepe and net of navy blue, while Mrs. Phillips was attractively gowned in black crepe with net accessories.

Many gifts and flowers were received by Nancy from her many friends, all of whom wish her continued success in her career.

The program was as follows: "Home of Happiness"—B. Y. Williams
Dramatic reading, "The Music Master"—Charles Klien
Violin solo, "Liebesfreud"—Frits Kreisler
"Ezekiel"—Elvira Garner
Piano solo, "The Nightingale"—Alabiell-Liszt
Dialect group, "Da Sweeta Soil (Italian)—T. A. Daly
"The Fidgets (Child)—Strickland Gillilan

Size Of U. S. Warships May Be Increased

Admiral Leahy Tells House Group Plan Hinges On What Other Nations Do

World Conditions Called Dangerous

Expansion Program Seen As Essential To National Defense

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Navy's top ranking officer told Congress today that the United States would build battleships larger than the 35,000 ton limit fixed by the 1936 London Treaty if other powers disregard the limitation.

"It is almost certain," Admiral William D. Leahy said, "that treaty nations would invoke the escape clause and build larger ships if it were determined that other countries were doing so."

The Chief of Naval operations made the statement to the House Naval Committee during the second day of hearings on the legislation to carry out $300,000,000 naval expansion program proposed in response to President Roosevelt's recommendation for a 20 percent increase in the size of the fleet.

Emphasizing the need for immediate expansion of the Navy because of "anomalous increases" in world political conditions are "far more threatening than at any time since 1918 and there is no improvement in sight."

The construction program, estimated to cost about $300,000,000, would provide 47 additional combatant warships and 22 auxiliary vessels. Chairman Vinson (D. Cal.) of the Naval Committee said the ships would require 1200 more officers and about 20,000 enlisted men.

Leahy declared the proposed increase would make the fleet "largely adequate to protect us against attack" and emphatically denied it would permit an aggressive foreign war.

For a war of aggression, Leahy said, the Navy would require an expansion three times the size of the one proposed.

Contrasting the Navy's strength with that of major foreign powers, Leahy said completion of the proposed program would give the United States 21 capital ships—battleships or battle cruisers—compared with Great Britain's 25, Japan's 14, France's 11, Germany's 8 and Italy's 8.

Deadline Expires For Purchase Of New Auto License

The green and white automobile license law you used for a year has expired. Its legal life expired last midnight.

You should have had a new country yellow and blue plate when you drove your car into the street this morning. That's the color scheme for 1938.

Gov. Fred P. Oke made no further extension of the time to acquire licenses. He previously advanced the expiration date of the 1937 plates from January 15 to February 1, but had legal authority to extend the time as late as February 15. He was away from the Capitol today, and there was no notice to the Tag Commission to other agencies about any extension.

The Motor Vehicle Commission reported by a committee to new Monday night (1938) plates. Some 43,000 additional will come to Sanford this year. Motor cars during the year and will be last-minute car licensees. Licensed drivers in Sanford are used to the old license law. The Commission will be notified of the new law by the State Department.

Fort Mellon Park To Be Dedicated On Tuesday, Feb. 8

Ceremonies Will Be One Of Highlights Of Founders' Day

The official dedication of Fort Mellon Park, Sanford's newest park for which a $10,000 WPA improvement project was recently approved, will be held Tuesday, Feb. 8 at 4:00 P. M. and the ceremonies will be one of the highlights of the Founders' Day program scheduled for the day, according to officials of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce who are in charge of the arrangements.

All city and county officials, local W. P. A. officials and the public are cordially invited to attend the ceremonies to be held on the park premises at the corner of Sanford Avenue and the corner of the park.

The park, which is a green park, a new era for the city of Sanford, is being named in honor of no one person either living or dead," stated T. E. Simpson, president of the local trade body. "Instead its name, Fort Mellon Park, shall perpetuate the important significance of the historical fort and the early settlement which developed into Sanford today."

Dedication of the park to the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the City of Sanford is a part of the annual Founder's Day activities to be climaxed with a dinner in the Woman's Club Building in the evening.

The annual Founder's Day was inaugurated last year by the Founder's Day Committee of the Sallie Harrison Chapter, D. A. R. of which Mrs. H. J. Johnson is General Chairman in celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the City's founding.

Japs And Chinese Clash In Struggle For Vital Terrain

SHANGHAI, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Chinese and Japanese armies clashed hand to hand in a struggle for a 190 mile wide corridor separating the areas which the Japanese have conquered in nearly seven months of unrelenting warfare.

Chinese and Japanese reports of the battle were at odds, both sides asserting they had taken a heavy toll of enemy lives. Independent reports indicated the Chinese were holding their own along the main railroad line which is the center of the battle zone.

Chinese forces, throwing all at the spearhead of the Japanese attack, yesterday smashed new advance near Mingkwan, slaughtering more than 1000 Japanese according to Chinese reports.

The battle was reported to be the bloodiest since the fall of Shanghai, with slaughter on both sides already running into thousands. Observers believe the turning point in the Japanese inland campaign south of the Yellow River.

Severe Cold Still Holds U.S. In Grip

Colder Weather Predicted For Central Florida Tonight; No Frost Is Expected

By Associated Press
Extreme cold weather continuing over most of the country with heavy snow and rains in the northwest and temperatures of 20 below zero in the northern states. The severe storm that held the Pacific coast in its grip for 48 hours has abated.

Heavy snow and rains fell in northern California, Washington, and Oregon but the gale that menaced shipping off the Pacific coast subsided. Additional snow was forecast in the vicinity of Pinecrest, Calif., where 37 persons were snowbound in the mountains.

Shifting of winds to the northeast prevented temperatures from falling to below freezing in several sections of the southeast.

A drop to zero weather stopped the breaking up of ice in the Niagara River and halted the plunge of "honeymoon brides" into the river. The ice jam knocked the bridge into the gorge on to the ice last Thursday.

While slightly colder weather was predicted for Central Florida tonight, there apparently was no danger of frost. Scattered frost in the northwest portion of the state was expected, with occasional showers throughout the central and south portions of the peninsula.

Italy Is Charged With Sinking British Ship

England Rushes Four Warships To Scene Where Endymion Was Sunk By Sub

Ships Ordered To Destroy Sub

Italians Accused Of Furnishing Flotilla To Spanish Rebels

LONDON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The British admiralty rushed four destroyers today armed with depth charges in search of the mysterious marauding submarine which sank the British merchantman Endymion off the southeastern Spanish coast yesterday with a loss of 11 lives.

The Spanish Government, through its ambassador in London, charged Italy had assigned four destroyers and two submarines to the Spanish insurgent fleet and said an Italian submarine sank the Endymion.

The British destroyers, each 1375 tons, were under orders without hesitation to drop depth charges if the attacking submarine were sighted and attempted to resist capture.

The Nyon Accord against "piracy," signed last Sept. 14, established that any such submarine be "counter-attacked and, if possible, destroyed."

The destroyers' flotilla entered its patrol about the Cape Verde area where the Endymion was following the submarine which may have signaled a general recurrence of such so-called "piratical attacks," which disrupted Mediterranean merchant shipping in the summer of 1937.

The 880-ton steamer, Endymion, out of Gibraltar, sank in four minutes off Cape Tino, 14 miles southwest of the loyalist naval base of Cartagena to which (Continued on Page Three)

Ruby Lee Barry, negro, one of the occupants of the auto that turned over Sunday at the Altamonte Springs Road on the Orlando Highway, died in the local hospital yesterday from injuries sustained when the Chrysler coupe in which the five Winter Park negroes were riding turned over, killing William McDowell instantly as he was flung from the car.

John Jones, driver of the auto, was also injured but has been lodged in the County Jail on charges of reckless driving. It was intimated, however, that more severe charges may be preferred against the negro who is responsible for the death of two of the passengers of the auto which he was driving according to County Sheriff C. E. Hand, too fast to make the attempted turn into the glide road.
