

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL HAVE BIG MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT THIS WEEK

REGULAR MONTHLY NIGHT MEETING WILL DRAW LARGE CROWD AT THE VALDEZ

And Cattaneo Says He Is Making
Special Efforts for Big Dinner at Nominal Price

The usual weekly noon day meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held each Friday in the Valdez Hotel has been changed this week to the evening of the same day. Instead of having a prominent speaker as a guest of honor as has been done on previous occasions when the Chamber of Commerce held an evening meeting, it was decided to transact the usual business which forms the program at the noon day meeting.

The experience proves that a large attendance can be secured at the evening meetings and in order to acquire the membership of the Chamber of Commerce with the work their organization is doing and the plans for other development of Sanford under consideration, it is urged that the entire membership be present at the meeting. Friday night will be held at the Valdez Hotel and is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock promptly. Manager (Count) Cattaneo of the Valdez Dining room is preparing a dinner something out of the ordinary. The feature of the meeting will be an appeal to those of the members who have epicurean leanings. A number of civic matters will be discussed which will be of great interest, in fact nothing but matters of local and are handled by the Chamber of Commerce. City building is of interest, for it means a more prosperous Sanford.

The Chamber of Commerce was organized to work for those things which will make a greater and more prosperous Sanford, everyone in the Chamber of Commerce should be interested in making the Chamber of Commerce an efficient as a City.

The Chamber of Commerce, when affiliating with their local Chamber of Commerce, is that the payment of dues is all that is required of them as a member of the organization. This is not only true of Sanford but is general throughout the country. Membership in a Chamber of Commerce however, carries certain obligations of which the payment of dues is but a small part. An enthusiastic Chamber of Commerce member is an active worker in the community that have for their purpose the betterment of the community, one who attends meetings early and keeps informed of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce. A business man is not a real member of the Chamber of Commerce unless he has some knowledge of how the organization works. As a member of a fraternal organization, he is required to familiarize himself with the workings of such an organization. He can familiarize himself with the details and workings of such an organization before he can consummate the membership. Knowledge of how the work of development is carried on by his Chamber of Commerce is just as necessary a requisite as his knowledge of a ritual or obligation in a fraternal organization. A greater interest can be aroused if he participates actively in some progressive movement it has under way for the majority of individuals are recognized as being progressive. The weekly meetings of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce are held for just this purpose, to enable the members to acquire knowledge of how the Chamber of Commerce functions. Those who have made it a practice to attend these meetings regularly are recognized as Sanford's most active workers, and their interest in the organization has increased in proportion to the number of meetings they have attended.

Friday's meeting will prove an exceptional opportunity for those who have found it impossible to be present at the noon-day meetings to become acquainted with the method through which civic problems are handled by

ALLIED DEBT TO BE SETTLED IN DECEMBER

At Least The European Nations
Will Get Together
On It

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The opening of the conference for the discussion of the inter-allied debts and the German indemnity to be held in Brussels, has been tentatively set for December 1. The preliminary plans provide for a strictly European meeting without America's presence.

Premier Poincare strongly favors a meeting of the European nations first, for there is a growing feeling on the part of the Allied government at least one European conference on reparations and debts will have to be held before the co-operation of the United States can be expected.

Despite the anxiety over the Near East crisis, the Allied powers, especially Belgium, are beginning to give considerable consideration to the forthcoming meetings. Exchanges of views have already taken place between the French and Belgian governments over the questions to be discussed.

Premier Poincare's present plan is to offer to reduce the German indemnity to a figure between 10,000,000,000 and 50,000,000,000 gold marks in return for the cancellation of the French debt to Great Britain and the surrendering by the latter power of her share in the reparations, which amounts to 22 per cent.

One of the most important factors toward the success of the Brussels conference is thought to be the mission to Washington of Sir Robert Horne, the British chancellor of the exchequer. A satisfactory arrangement between the United States and Great Britain for the consolidation of the British debt would insure the success of the Brussels gathering, is the view of the Allied observers. The mission of Sir Robert's Washington therefore awaits the keenest interest.

While the Allies are said to realize that there is no possibility of cancellation of the British debt, any definite agreement for funding it would place Great Britain in a position to seriously consider a part of the French premier's proposal. The French government has made no announcement concerning any further debt missions to Washington, although it has been generally accepted that Jean V. Parmentier, who recently headed a French debt mission to America, and some other officials would return to Washington this fall with details which the United States refunding commission requested. It is not improbable that these details will be withheld until after the Brussels meeting, when France hopes to discuss her debts to the United States.

JUSTICE MORSCHAUSER RESERVED DECISION ON STILLMAN CASE

the Chamber of Commerce, so that when a non-member asks the question, "What is the Chamber of Commerce doing?" the inquiry can be intelligently answered.

In addition these meetings afford an opportunity for offering constructive suggestions or criticisms. No town or city has ever been developed by knockers congregating on the street corners. Real civic progress is made through organized effort and the Chamber of Commerce as being the premier organization for this purpose.

The price per cover for the dinner will be $1.25. Inasmuch as the Valdez Hotel accommodations are limited reservations should be made promptly. Phone the secretary's office, No. 51, for your reservations and bring a friend with you.

SOME BARS IN PATH OF PROSPERITY

BANKER NAMES OBSTACLES
YET TO BE OVER-
COME

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A picture of America, recovering from the "rude buffets and deep wounds of 1917 to 1921," and "with characteristic courage binding up her bruises, and slowly moving forward to new goals" was drawn yesterday by Thomas A. Lamont, associate of J. P. Morgan, in an address before 10,000 delegates at the convention of the American Bankers' association.

"But we have not yet cause for unbounded confidence," he cautioned the bankers. "We must not forget that before the race is won we still have some high hurdles to jump." The bars in the path to full prosperity he enumerated:

1.—Low prices prevailing for farm products; 2. Labor strikes; 3. The soldiers' bonus; 4. The new tariff act and the foreign situation with respect to reparations, allied loans and international trade.

Discussing reparations and the inter-allied debt Mr. Lamont raised two questions: "Do our former allies really owe us all the debt? And are we doing our full share to bear the tragic questions that are weighing upon the world?"

"One thing is certain," he declared "if someone on April 1, 1917, had been able to give us our choice as to whether we should give five billion dollars in lives of several hundred thousands of our sons, there would have been no hesitation as to our choice."

"But, however," he determined that choice. "It determined that Great Britain and France should give up the lives during that first year and that we should furnish, not a blood for our money, taking, however, in place of it the promise to pay of our allies."

"No other policy could have been followed at that time," he said, "but now that the war is behind us and we can take a long look back, it is wise for us, as it just is, it is generous to make so much of this matter."

"I shan't attempt to argue the point of lower prices," continued the speaker, "but I have known a country to go broke because of its abundant crop. So even though our former allies' disappointment in this respect has hardly the cause of our slump."

"Labor strikes are among the most serious obstructions to prosperity," Mr. Lamont declared, "even though the worst seems to be over."

He asked his audience to remember that even in this country there are traces of arrogance against the employers as there are manifest signs of arrogance against labor.

President Harding's veto of the bonus bill with its threat to his millions more out of the American people and distribute it in such a way so that probably no one would receive full benefits temporarily leaped that hurdle and temporarily created a feeling of relief, Mr. Lamont said.

Of the tariff he said: "We shall be fortunate indeed if we do not find that in practice it protects a number of industries that do not need protection and cuts off from our farmers and manufacturers a lot of foreign markets that are ready to buy our commodities."

"If there is any one motto which American producers and legislators should learn by heart, it is that of repeated one of the British merchant who over a century ago declared: 'He who will not buy neither shall he sell.'"

"Even with the sick man of Europe, the Turk, suddenly alive and kicking the Greeks all around the lot; with Russia, Germany and Austria what they are, and with Ireland in a ferment, it is dangerous," declared Mr. Lamont, "to say that Europe has gone all to pot. Invisible forces are saving Europe," he said, adding that "politically Europe may be in the dumps or worse, but economically I for one, believe she is on the mend."

Reparations, said Mr. Lamont, has now reached a stage in the public opinion of both America and Europe, secondary to inter-allied indebtedness because, he declared, it is generally recognized that Germany "cannot or will not ever pay anything like the reparations total fixed in the Versailles treaty. Now let us as practical men, determine, what, if any, of these debts (allied debts to America) are in any event uncollectible and so should be

MINNESOTA IS BIG SEA SOMBRESMOKE

WHOLE FRONT AREA DOTTED WITH FIRES THREATENING DESTRUCTION

(By The Associated Press)
DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 4.—Northern Minnesota's forest area today continued veritable sea of sombre colored smoke dotted with fires. Some under control and some admittedly beyond control and the whole threatening a widespread destruction at the slightest provocation of elements. In St. Louis county alone 105 fires are burning according to the latest reports. Call for help was sent last night from Vineland, near Onamia, where it was declared the fire was out of control and one settler's home had been destroyed, and the entire town endangered.

President Believes Railroad Workers Are Important

PRESIDENT BELIEVES
Would Make His Work Attractive
And Prevent Strike

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, Oct. 4.—President Harding believes the railroad workers of such importance in our national existence that his wages and salary under which he works should be so attractive that strikes are impossible. Secretary of Labor J. H. C. Ladd here today in address at the convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, said that the government should do all it can to make the work of the railroad workers so attractive that strikes are impossible. "Saving wages" for American workers.

AMERICAN GERMAN CLAIM COMMISSION MEETS NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Preparations for the meeting early next week of the American German claim commission were said at state department today to have been completed. Democrats Win By Large Majority In Arkansas

(By The Associated Press)
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 4.—In complete returns received early today from state wide election in Arkansas yesterday, it was reported that the Democratic ticket headed by Governor C. M. Egan and elected by large majorities and that three constitutional amendments submitted to the voters had been defeated by substantial vote.

written off, in order to quit fooling ourselves," he suggested to the bankers.

"Let us decide what others of these debtors are good in part, but must be given ample time to pay; emphatically, let us figure whether the payment of these debts—which inevitably must mean a great increase in our import and a heavy decrease in our export is going to prove an asset or a liability for American business men."

"Finally," he concluded, "do not forget that, as the nations of Europe face great dangers, America too is facing a crisis, though of a different order. We have gained great power; with the power goes responsibility. Have we discharged it? For the period of the world war, my answer is yes, a thousand fold yes. For the period since the armistice, can any one of us search his heart and answer 'yes'? We have, it is true, offered criticisms to the nations of Europe. We have shouted advice to them. We have been timid of petty entanglement. Now we have, it would seem come to the parting of the ways. Shall we meet the responsibility that has come without power, or shall we fail? Shall you and I give our minds, our understanding and our sympathy to these problems or shall we stand aside and allow our national stock of gold to disappear? Shall we allow to pass the golden opportunity of councils with our mother country and Europe, or shall we keep silent?"

BANKERS FAVOR HELPING EUROPE TO PAY DEBT

REPRESENTATION OF 23,000
BANKS MIGHT CANCEL
SOME OF DEBT

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—An overwhelming sentiment favoring American abandonment of her policy of isolation from European affairs and the substitution of a policy which might even involve partial cancellation of the Allied war debt yesterday passed through the convention of the American Bankers' Association.

The subject was broached by Thomas W. Lamont, associate of J. P. Morgan, whose plea in behalf of American "unselfishness" turned the convention into an arena for the 10,000 delegates to discuss the 23,000 banks of the United States, some of them representing the movement gained momentum when Mr. Lamont's plea was seconded by Thomas H. McAdams, president of the bankers' national organization, Myron F. Herrick, United States ambassador to France, and other nationally known figures. Financial leaders who asserted that until recently the question of debt cancellation had brought only protests from small and large banks, as through the industry expressed great surprise at the changed attitude evidenced yesterday. A year ago they considered it impossible to suggest that was turned down by the association. Formal action on the question of European debts to this government or the formulation of a definite program of new trade contracts is not expected to pass convention, however. These delegates they are satisfied with their success that bankers of the United States are members to American more active in the development of their own financial and industrial and will depend upon the early development of public opinion which will justify the administration in making overtures to the former nations concerning the possibility of a basis for readjusted settlement.

The subject will be resumed today when Right Honorable Reginald McKenna, of England, will address the bankers on "Reparations and International Debts." Having defined its attitude on foreign affairs the convention last night prepared to tackle an issue which, according to the leaders, promises to dominate remaining sessions. This is the question of "branch banks," forcibly brought into the convention by bodies of "independents" representing four mid-Western state bankers' associations, who have brought to a head their opposition to the further increase of such institutions, on the ground that they tend to centralize capital and economic powers.

Andrew J. Frame, of Waukesha, Wis., appears in the convention as the champion of the anti-branch bank element, which last night is conceded to have gained considerable strength since the convention opened.

The "pro" element was headed by Waldo Newcomer, an Eastern banker. The importance of the issue yesterday caused President McAdams to upset the schedule of the convention so that a resolution adopted by the anti-branch men may be put to a vote today.

Prospects are good, as business statistics show, providing a few workers can withstand the temptation to strike.

Rotary Club Meeting At The Valdez Hotel Was Very Enjoyable

The Rotary Club meeting yesterday at the Valdez Hotel was well attended by an even stand off between the two sides, and it is to date they are exactly even and that turkey dinner is yet in the balance. The gang were merry with songs and as they attacked the Cattaneo dinner they took up many important subjects, among them being the communication of the Kiwanis Club about a county Chamber of Commerce, but those present did not seem interested except in the matter of having the entire county join the present Chamber of Commerce and have a publicity tax from the entire county, advertise the entire county and make the Chamber of Commerce as it now stands the strongest organization in the county. The Rotarians were also called upon to help the High School Athletic Association and every member present pledged himself to give two dollars a month to the association.

Mr. Slater, of the firm of Slater & White, of New York, was present as the guest of President D. L. Thrasher and C. A. Goodrich, of Orlando. Rotary was present from that city. The Rotary Club is arranging an interesting program for the winter months in which the members will go into details concerning their particular line of business and it will have a tendency to bind the members closer together in the real bonds of Rotary.

XENIA, O., Oct. 4.—Walter W. Culp, former Spring Valley minister whose sensational elopement several months ago with Esther Hughes, 18-year-old boarder in the Culp home resulted in his arrest was indicted today and charged with removing mortgaged property from the state.

CHARLES H. CAMPBELL PASSED AWAY TODAY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

The city was shocked today to hear of the death at 11:30 today of Charles H. Campbell, who had been very ill for several days but whose recovery was hoped for by his many friends. He had been a sufferer from heart trouble for many years and had several bad attacks but had always rallied from them and bravely fought the battle against great odds. One of the most cheerful of men at all times, his illness was never mentioned to his friends and few of them were ever aware of his condition for he attended to business every day and almost up to the time of his last illness was at his post as manager of the Montezuma Hotel of which place he and his wife were the hosts and ever ready to look out for the comfort of the guests.

Charles Campbell was born in Georgia about sixty years ago and while a boy in years moved to Jacksonville with his parents and afterward coming to Sanford to reside. He worked here as a youth in the grocery stores of DeForest and Doyle and other pioneer grocerymen and embarked in business for himself when he was about twenty years of age. From this business he went on the road and became one of the best known travelling men in the state having been on the road for twenty-five years in continuous service for the Jacksonville firms of John Christopher, Edom & Co., W. J. Lewis, Lewis-Chitty & Co., and others. He was also engaged in the business of selling here for many years and was among the first to sell the new automobile. For the past ten years Mr. Campbell was off the road and was manager of the Somerville Valley and Montezuma Hotels. He had one wife and two children, a son and a daughter, and a large family of grandchildren. He was a member of the Methodist church and was very active in its work.

Mr. Campbell was a very kind and generous man and was very popular with all who knew him. He was a very successful business man and was very well known in the city. He was a very kind and generous man and was very popular with all who knew him.

A GREAT REVIVAL

"Never in the history of our church or any other church, has a people had the privilege of hearing more spiritual and uplifting sermons than have been delivered the past week in our own church. Great crowds are coming out both morning and night to hear Dr. S. W. Walker, pastor at Sanford, Florida, and we urge you, if you happen to be in the city, to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to attend these services. The song service led by Mr. Boyd is a most interesting part of the service, being entered into by all present whole heartedly. So come early, do not miss this part of the service. Dr. Walker is doing the highest type of revival preaching. It is sane and sound. It is the old gospel he is giving to us in our own language, application to human life. He does not talk with the light things, but in a way that is very practical and very helpful. He is a man of God and his message is one of hope and life. He is a man of God and his message is one of hope and life. He is a man of God and his message is one of hope and life.

BIG BEREAN BROTHERHOOD HAD LARGE CLASS SUNDAY MORNING

The Big Berean Brotherhood (formerly the Boethian Class) of the First Baptist Church, was very proud of its attendance last Sunday morning. All told, there were nineteen young men present, which was a big increase over the eleven or twelve usually present.

The Brotherhood is planning to further increase their attendance by getting out a neat little card to advertise their class, and every Sunday they read the list of absentees, and each member takes one absentee to see during the week. This is the secret of their success—keeping after the absentees.

New officers have just been elected, and the class is planning big things. Willard N. Lumbley, Class Reporter.

ANNIVERSARY DAY

The Herald force is so busy getting in new equipment that we could not celebrate our anniversary date with a big edition but this will come later after we have installed all our new machinery. Two years ago the Daily Herald resumed publication under the present management after the first daily paper had been started the year before and lived from October until April and only suspended then because the power was so uncertain that the daily could not be sustained with any hope of being printed on time. Since the time it resumed daily publication it has never lost an issue and has been getting bigger and better with each year. Our new plans call for one of the best equipped news paper offices in the state for the size of it and in fact there will be no better in the south anywhere. The Herald has been boosting Sanford for fifteen years stating all the time that this city had a glorious future before it. We said that because we meant it. We never once over on this assertion but in our own business have led the procession and have always kept abreast of the growth of Sanford. We started the Daily Herald before the city was ready for it but the Herald has been a constant factor and has done so much of the remarkable growth of Sanford in the past few years that the fact that the Herald has been a factor in the business growth of Sanford is a fact of which we are proud. Now that Sanford is ready to fulfill our prediction of a city of ten thousand people here in the next three years, we are setting out to do it by putting out a new paper and a new press that will print and fold 5,000 daily papers an hour. This is a big thing and the Herald is proud of it. We are adding another 15,000 words and our fact is that we know no hard times, no delays, no disasters, no hard times. We intend to go ahead and build a city of our dreams and when that time comes maybe we will be ready to relinquish the reins into other hands and take a rest. But for the next five years the Daily Herald will give the people of Sanford and adjoining territory one of the best daily papers that money will buy. Many new features will be added and the Daily Herald will be a daily news paper in every sense of the word. As usual we can depend upon the public to see us through. They believe in their Herald and the editor and have believed in them for the past fifteen years. When the Herald first started in business in Sanford it was a weekly but a good weekly and all the time it was published as a weekly it was the best we could make it. The big Weekly Herald will now be better than ever and will contain from twelve to sixteen pages of good matter every week. All those subscribers who do not want the daily happenings take the Weekly Herald and get satisfaction out of its pages for it is a compendium of daily and weekly happenings and is the kind of paper to go into the homes of the people as it has always been. The present editor of the Herald established a paper in Sanford in 1908 and has been printing a newspaper here ever since. Whatever of success that has come to the Herald has come with the undivided support of the people at all times. The Herald has been frank and fair and square with them at all times. It has been the people's paper and not the organ of any clique or clan or political factions. Our sole aim is to give the people the news and our editorial opinions are not framed to cram any views down the throats of the readers in a burdensome manner. We have our own views and are not afraid to express them at all times, but we are fighting measures and not individuals and this will continue to be our policy. With the continued support of the business men and the subscribers of Seminole county we shall continue to climb upward and onward with the one thought uppermost in our minds of giving "Service" and that service above self always.

The Turks and the Greeks and the other small fry in Europe will have to take a back seat now while the "World Serious" is taking place in New York. Now is the time to keep up with the boys every afternoon in the special sporting page of the Herald. Charlie Britt is the sporting editor and he intends to have everything in that line if it breaks the Herald. Watch our sporting page.

The readers of the Daily Herald can rest assured that they will have the news of the world as it happens in these columns. We are adding some of the best equipment that can be purchased for the printing of one of the best daily papers in the state and when this equipment is installed the Daily Herald will be enlarged and will be on the street earlier and make many changes that will give the readers quicker service and a better paper. Watch for the Daily Herald and if you do not get it promptly let us know.

Seminole county is fortunate in having a county agent again and is also fortunate in having Benjamin Whitner as agent. He is a Sanford boy, a product of the Sanford High School, of the University of Florida and of experience in Sanford farming and fruit growing. He is a young man of fine moral and intellectual attainments and he should make good in his profession. The Herald always takes great pride in the Sanford boys making good and the new county agent is another instance of our boys coming into their own. The Herald has always been in favor of an agent in this county where there is so much in the fruit and vegetable and stock raising lines and we congratulate the county commissioners, the county at large and the new county agent in this great work of getting together for the things useful.

A PLAN TO DEVELOP FLORIDA

Twenty years ago California had a population about equal to Florida's. Today California's population is more than four times that figure. California has developed a big city in Los Angeles. That city is only thirty miles from the coast and is one of the most important cities in the world. California has purchased land and is selling it to settlers on a long time making the interest low and the payments so easy that it is a moderately successful business. The settlement of this kind has been the basis of California's success. Another and another at Del Rio in the San Joaquin Valley. The undertaking is being conducted under the supervision of Dr. Elwood Mead, of the California University. Dr. Mead visited Florida a few years ago and had several Florida audiences about the plan concerning this enterprise. What he said was intensely interesting. He said that no more has been made in California in the past few years. There are reasons why this plan for increasing population and taxable values might be more successful here than in California. The State of Florida own much land, whereas California had to borrow money to buy land. In California it is necessary to irrigate and in Florida there is no such extra charge to be taxed against the revenue produced from the soil. Much of the land owned by the State of Florida is in the Everglades and has been sufficiently drained to make crop production profitable. The cutting of internal ditches and other work usually necessary in farming constitute the most formidable obstacles to be overcome by the settler. The state could extend long time credit to settlers without using its own credit to further such development enterprise, and at the same time build up waste places that would return large sums in taxes to the State. It would be more ideal if the State of Florida would set aside certain sections to be homesteaded, as the federal government has done. Such action would bring a horde of earnest, hard-working people to Florida who would become valuable citizens. —Florida Real Estate Journal.

FLORIDA CITIES ADVERTISING.

Florida cities must advertise if they are to get the people that are coming to Florida this season and the cities that advertise will be the cities that press them at all times, but we are fighting measures and not individuals and this will continue to be our policy. With the continued support of the "Plans for a thorough and systematic publicity campaign for the city of Daytona and vicinity during the coming season were made by the board of governors of the Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting on Monday evening, the members of the board endorsing recommendations made by Gordon B. Hayward, chairman of the publicity committee, to make appropriations for advertising through various tourist publications; by means of high class posters for selective distribution; and for the employment of a press representative for six months of the winter season.

"The publicity committee was authorized by the board to contract for quarter page advertisements to appear for three months in Argus Steamship News, the official organ of the Clyde, Mallory, Porto Rico and Ward steamship lines. This trade publication is read by practically the whole traveling public of the winter tourist class and it is believed that substantial results will be realized from advertising through this medium.

On the recommendation of Mr. Hayward the board also authorized the purchase of 500 three color posters, 26 by 30 inches in size, to be printed on heavy water-proof cardboard. These posters will picture some striking scene of this city and will be distributed for display in Ask Mr. Foster travel bureaus, railway and steamship ticket offices and information bureaus.

"Following the policy that has been used with success by a number of other cities of Florida the board also endorsed the publicity committee's recommendation to employ the services of a press representative for six months of the winter season. Fredrick Booth, a member of the news and advertising staff of the Morning Journal during the past year was selected by the board for this position and will assume his new duties within the next few days."

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

FLORIDA'S BEST INVESTMENT.

No man's a fool who has not faith in himself. Self confidence or faith in oneself is the chief asset in character and the secret of a person's success. It is the foundation stone with the state.

It is a fact that may be ever so much in the interest of the state that it is the duty of the state to do it. Florida wants two million more people. Ponce de Leon, two million more his excess of this wonderful land of ours, this part of the continent.

Florida wants two million more people. Ponce de Leon, two million more his excess of this wonderful land of ours, this part of the continent. People go where they find other people prosperous. Florida is usually described and too often thought of as the winter playground of America. It is all that, but it is not merely that; we want it to be the great winter playground of America. It is being discovered as an equally good summer playground. Florida wants to be more than a playground because it is the work ground that always has been. Last place in the minds of men as a commonwealth of importance.

It is good that Florida is a great hotel land. But we want to be also the great home land. It is for us to tell the whole wide world that this is the land that Ponce de Leon sought, the land that every Ponce de Leon is seeking. It is the land of homes and happiness, of prosperity and peace; it is the land where work is easy; where work itself is play, where this work-play is the builder of prosperity.

The virtues of a state may be advertised as well as the virtues of a soap. The great economic truth which the twentieth century science of commerce has established is "It pays to advertise."

California has found it pays. California advertises more than any other state, more than any commodity the world has ever produced. That advertising has built more hotels and through those hotels has diverted hundreds of thousands of tourists into permanently invested citizens. That advertising has built homes, multiplied orchards, harrowed fields, standardized products, created trade and burst the bank vaults with bounty.

Florida is nearer the great markets than is California. Florida has a better year-round climate than California. Florida can, just so soon as she will, do so, do infinitely greater things than California. Great state as she is—has ever done. Florida has every advantage. Nothing in Florida's history is of greater significance to her future growth or ever promised more for splendid bank deposit show, lugs than the "advertise-Florida conference" to be held in Orlando.

This meeting called for November 9th by a group of prominent business men of the state contemplates the launching of a state-wide co-operative campaign to advertise Florida. The men whose names are attached to the call which the Florida Development Board puts out are: Telfair Stockton, Jacksonville; Ernest L. Hill, Jacksonville, president Florida Realtors Association; Willis M. Ball, editor of the Florida Times-Union; J. E. Ingraham, St. Augustine, vice-president of the Florida East Coast Railway; Frank B. Stoneman, editor Miami Herald; D. C. Gillett, Tampa; W. F. Stovall, publisher Tampa Tribune, and Richard Lloyd Jones, editor and vice-president of the Pensacola Journal.

Every individual, every financial institution, every bank and every corporation that can in any way profit through the promotion and development of Florida industry and enterprise and the multiplication of population should get behind an advertise-Florida campaign not with modest but with mammoth contributions. Florida should invest not less than five million dollars in this advertising campaign. It is the best investment that business in the state can make. It is the investment that will bring the greatest dividends. — Jacksonville Journal.

PRIZE WINNERS IN FISHING CONTEST ANNOUNCED BY BALL CO.

Annual event in sporting circles and especially among the disciples of Frank Walton is the prizes given for the largest fish caught with hook and line in Seminole county. These prizes are given by the Ball Hardware Co. and are good from April first to October first. In other words the fish must be caught between April first and October first. This takes in the local fisherman mostly and the Ball Hardware Co. are contemplating offering special prizes for the tourists in the winter season. MRS. WHITTINGTON WINS PRIZE AT LLOYD'S ON BEAN GUESSING

Lloyd's Shoe Store every month or so gets up a guessing contest and they never fail to arouse the public and the response is always far greater than Mr. Lloyd anticipates. During his recent sale he inaugurated another guessing contest on the number of beans in a small jar and the guessing were all close enough to make one think there are some mighty good guessers in Sanford. The number of beans in the jar were 1794 and Mrs. Whittington of this city guessed 1799 and many others were within twenty or twenty five of the number. Mr. Lloyd also announces that his sale will be successful and as usual the Daily Herald credit for getting the crowds.

MAKE ELECTRICITY SAVE YOUR WORK

How electricity can be made to lighten the average housewife's burdens will be demonstrated in the model house, owned by Miss Musson, Park ave, which will go on public exhibition October 9 to 14, in the Better Homes in America campaign, in which Sanford is taking part, together with hundred of cities and towns in the United States.

New electrical conveniences are being contrived by inventors as a substitute for manual labor in the routine home duties.

Among the most familiar electrical time savers are, of course, the electrical range, dish-washer, washing-machine, vacuum cleaner, and electric iron.

The percolator and samovar, for coffee and tea, are gaining in favor and use. The electric toaster and the waffle-iron are becoming almost a necessity. The chaffing-dish has long been the first lieutenant of the housewife who has unexpected caller at meal-time.

Strout Farm Agency, 113 Magnolia Avenue: A pick up for someone, about 30 acres heavy black loam, all in tillage, perfectly ditched and drained. This dirt would fertilize celery, avenue soil. Good five room house, 2 barns and a number of other out-buildings, poultry houses, etc., all in usable condition. 30 minutes drive to Sanford. Price $2,000, $800 cash, balance to suit. Let me show you a patch of cane growing on this place. 162-16c

TEN YEARS OLD AND LAYING RIGHT ALONG

PLANT CITY, Oct. 4.—Ten years ago last day and still going strong as an egg producer is the record of a brown Leghorn hen owned by J. G. Nettles, of this city. The hen was hatched in Cambridge, N. C., in May, 1912, and with two other chickens was shipped to Plant City, Fla., in August, 1912. One of the three roosters, hatched himself in a tree in which he was roosting the night after he arrived here while the other died a few years later.

"Corrie," as the aged Leghorn is known, lays during the regular periods for egg production, although with age the laying term is not as long as it was in her younger days. Mr. Nettles, declares, however, that she always has been a good layer.

A good laying hen will average 250 eggs a year and at this rate "Corrie" would have produced 2,700 eggs to date. During the last ten years, eggs here have averaged thirty cents a dozen and if Mr. Nettles had sold "Corrie's" output it would have brought him $81,750. The average cost of feeding a hen is estimated at $1 a year and if all calculations are correct, "Corrie" has turned in to her owner a net profit of $87,500.

BONUS FOES TO ATTACK MEMBER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A big drive by administration supporters to "kill" the so-called soldier bonus issue by the election of a new national commander opposed to "adjusted compensation" for ex-service men at the American Legion national convention at New Orleans two weeks hence was well under way today.

Hanford MacNider, present national commander, and his aides in the unsuccessful fight for the bonus at the recent session of congress, declared that the issue would unquestionably be fought all over again at the New Orleans gathering.

Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian and a world war veteran, who was renamed recently as Delaware's representative on the Legion's national committee, is expected to figure conspicuously at New Orleans among those urging the position of President Harding in vetoing the soldier bonus bill be sustained by the convention.

In addressing the convention of the Delaware department of the Legion at Washington while the bill was still before congress, Miller declared that it had resulted "in placing the ex-service men of the country in a false light before their fellow citizens for whom they fought."

"The anti-bonus forces in the New Orleans convention are depending for a great addition to their ranks from the delegates from the southern states where opposition of the bonus has developed because of what is described as the proposal 'distribution of a large sum among negro ex-service men.' The argument is being advanced by anti bonus speakers in the south that the payment of a bonus to the negro ex-service men would cause him to suspend his labor in the cotton field and tobacco plantation 'until his money was all spent.'"

FIRST FLORIDIAN KILLED IN WAR WAS C. S. SPARKMAN

(By The Associated Press) DAYTONA, Oct. 4.—Charles S. Sparkman, youngest brother of Hugh Sparkman, publisher and editor of the Daytona Morning Journal, is believed to have been the first Floridian killed in the World War. Charles left his home in Palmetto, Manatee county early in 1915, went to Jamaica and few weeks later enlisted with a British West Indian regiment. After a period of training he was sent to Egypt where he served a year before going to the French front. He was killed at Ypres on July 29, 1917, just after the United States declared war.

Mr. Sparkman has just received from the British government a memorial scroll and bronze plaque which are being sent to the next of kin of all members of the British forces who lost their lives during the conflict. A note from King George which accompanies the memorials follows: "I join with my grateful people in sending you this memorial of a brave life given for others in the Great War."

ORANGE AVENUE MOST CONGESTED STREET IN FLORIDA

(By The Associated Press) ORLANDO, Oct. 4.—Motorists who park their cars on Orange Avenue in the business district, believed to without an exception the most congested street in Florida with automobile traffic, will not be permitted to leave their machines there more than one hour under a parking ordinance which the police began to enforce today. During the summer the police were lax in enforcing the demand of citizens that it be adhered to the letter from now on, prompted the announcement that if one wishes to keep out of municipal court, his car must not be parked on the avenue more than one hour.

One traffic policeman will be detailed to patrol that part of the avenue affected by the ordinance and all such times will be tagged with the time of arrival at a parking place as soon as the officer reaches it.

FIRES OUT OF CONTROL

(By The Associated Press) DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 4.—Heavy winds have driven the forest fires in Duluth out of control and the situation was so serious this afternoon that the combined forestry and military forces were concentrating all efforts on removing settlers and protecting towns, according to G. M. Gouffette, forestry administration expert.

GIANTS WIN FIRST GAME OF SERIES

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The day dawned slightly cloudy and cooler but there was every indication at 7:00 o'clock this morning that the first game of the World's Series would be played under a fair sky.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—In the horse-shoe shaped stadium, under the lee of Logan's Bluff, John McGraw's National pennant winners were ready to engage with Miller Huggins' American League Champions, the Yanks, in the first game of the series for World Series honors. This makes the second consecutive time that these two Manhattan teams have met to battle for this title.

McGraw's relentless fighting machine braced aside the trim Yankee and after getting away to a poor start last night, the Giants were then the favored side came through, although the battle lasted through eight games. This year, however, because of the great putting staff, composed of Gehrig, Shanks, Hoyt, Mays and Jones the Yankees are rated the best.

Art Neff, the Giant's left hander, in a New York shape for mound duty today. Huggins announced that he would use Neff. Schang will pitch for the Yankees and Snyder for the Giants.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A detailed writup of the first game of the world series games... The attendance is estimated at 25,000. The home plate umpire is E. J. Murphy. The first base umpire is Hildner. The second base umpire is... A second conference was held prior to the call.

FIRST INNING
The first half of the first inning was quiet and sweet, three balls were pitched. Witt, the Yankee, struck out on one ball and two balls were pitched to fly out to center. The mighty left fielder, Groh, did not note to the right.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
In the Giant's half, for they made things look easy. Baneroff, first up went to the plate. Then Gros after a short rest, went to left short, and Frisch's single to center. Frisch takes second. The pitcher ended the agony, but to catcher and to first.

SECOND INNING
Pipp, the first man up for the first half of the second, grounded to first, who touches the base, and R. Meusel, fanned. Schang grounded to left, but died on first. Ward went out, third to first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
The pitcher from run Kelly walked to the plate. His mighty club and proceeded to strike out. Stengel sent a hard fly down the third base line, second to first. Snyder knocked out and Frisch made a great stop and threw him out at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
THIRD INNING
Yanks up. Three up and three down. Scott popped out to third. Bush knocked a short Texas leaguer back of short but Baneroff made a wonderful catch by catching the ball on the run with his back to the ball. Witt grounded out, second to first.

FOURTH INNING
Yanks up. It was this frame that the Yankees had their first real chance to break the ice, when Duggan, first man up, singled to left center. The mighty Ruth grounded a hot one to second, Ward fielding the ball and throwing Duggan out at second, leaving Ruth perched safely on first. Pipp went down on three strikes, and Ruth was thrown out, catcher to short as he tried to steal on Pipp's third strike.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
Giants up. E. Meusel, the first man up, went out, short to first. Young after attempting a bunt, after one strike was called on him, rolled foul, and then struck out. Kelly, in order to redeem himself for striking out the first time up, proceeded to get a clean single to left. Stengel, however, left him stranded there by knocking out a pop fly to second.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
FIFTH INNING
Yanks up. R. Meusel, first man up in the fifth, after one ball and one strike was called on him, hit a sharp grounder, which short knocked down but couldn't field. The score keeper gave Meusel a hit. Schang, sacrifice, pitched to first while R. Meusel went to second. Neff gave Ward a free ticket to first, via the four ball route, but Scott couldn't produce, knocking a fly along the right field line, Young making a wonderful catch as he fell, throw the ball while still lying flat on the ground and doubled Meusel at second.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
Giants up. Snyder had one strike called on him and then went out, short to first. Neff popped out to second and Baneroff after knocking three foul balls, went out short to first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
SIXTH INNING
Yanks up. And this was the frame when the Yanks broke the ice. Bush, went out, short to first. Witt, after attempting to bunt, that went foul, hit the second ball along the left field line to the fence for three bags. Duggan grounded to short and went to second while they were running Witt down between third and home. Ruth singled to right center and while the right fielder was juggling the ball Ruth went to second and Duggan scored the first run of the game. Pipp went out to first, Kelly making the play unassisted.

One run, two hits, one error.
Giants up. Groh, with two hits already to his credit, drew a walk. Frisch fouled out to the catcher. E. Meusel was at the bat with one ball called on him when the umpire in chief walked out to the box and warned Bush about taking his foot off the rubber before pitching the ball. Groh was caught trying to steal second and E. Meusel fanned out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
SEVENTH INNING
Yanks up. And then the Yanks scored another. R. Meusel singled to left. Schang grounded to the pitcher who threw wide to second to catch R. Meusel and Meusel went to third. The ball rolled to short right center and while the center fielder was juggling the ball Schang went to second. Ward went out on a long sacrifice fly to center, scoring R. Meusel. Schang was held on second. Scott fled out to center and Bush grounded to third who touched Schang as he tries to reach third.

One run, one hit, two errors.
Giants up. The Giant sluggers got busy this go round but fell by the wayside. Young flew out to right. Kelly grounded towards third and Bush running over to take the play fell down. It was a hit. Stengel singled to left. Kelly stopping on second. Snyder singled to deep short and filled the bases. Smith, pinch hitting for Neff, knocked one into the right field stand just about two inches foul. Carl Mays then began warming up in the bullpen, but Smith relieved the Yanks' agony by grounding to short, forcing Snyder at second and Smith was doubled at first.

No runs, no hits, no errors.
EIGHTH INNING
Yanks up. Ryan goes to the box to take Neff's place, and started off by striking out Witt. Duggan fled

HERALD TO COVER SPORTS THROUGHOUT WINTER SEASON

Will Cover National Events of Interest as Well as All Local Sports

Beginning with today's issue in which the first game of the world series will be given play for play in full, the Sanford Herald will endeavor to keep the Sanford people posted on all sports and athletics in Sanford, throughout the state and throughout the country.

This coming season Sanford will be well represented with sports of all kinds and it is the Herald's earnest desire to instill and keep up interest in all these events, to give the public all the details of the different games, matches and tournaments, and for that reason has given up valuable space in the Daily to be devoted to this cause.

Everything of an athletic or sporting nature will be thoroughly covered, and in order that this can be carried out fully, full co-operation with the Sporting Editor is asked by the Herald. The High School athletic instructor, coach and members of the different teams have agreed to assist in this matter and all the foot ball games, boys' basket ball games, girls' basket ball games and track work will be written up in these columns.

Full and complete records will be kept by the Herald and published in these columns of the Sanford Herald.

CELERY SEED

And the Herald is going to give its patrons a full account of the sports throughout the season.

And it is going to tell you every time Bill Moye fumbles that old pig skin.

And whether or not Bolding, Amann or Doc Bower is the best bowler.

The Herald will cover the championship tennis match between R. R. Deas and Sam Younts.

The Herald representative is going to check up on Deane Turner and Bart Herndon and see if they are giving out the correct dope on those good golf scores they are making.

And he is also going to keep a check on Arthur Yowell and Ed Higgins and see whether or not they go to the golf links every morning at six o'clock.

First Golfer: "I'd rather play golf than eat."

Second Golfer: "What does your wife think of that?"

First Golfer: "Oh, she's satisfied, she'd rather play bridge than cook."

Are you attending the base ball game this evening? The Sanford High school football squad is rounding into shape fast. They will have something good to show the fans this season. Watch for the announcement of their opening game.

And speaking of golf we know of several players that visit the links regularly that should not have to pay a cent for a green fee, because it is so well known that they are the best. They should all their time out of the hole.

Two men, enjoying a two some of golf seemed to be in a great hurry to finish their round and one would walk in front of the other while his partner was making a shot. Finally the man in front was hit by a fast, hard, green ball, which the other man had just selected to announce the balling game out the first ball, officially starting the game.

Here, young man, let me tell you some thing for MY OWN GOOD. When you shoot, yell "fore!"

All of which reminds us of two of Sanford's fair golf friends who were playing on the links the other day and following about two hundred yards behind the other players when one was heard to halloo "fore". One of the players, a brutal he-golfer, in front looked at his partner and winked, with the remark, "I know she is trying to string some one now, because I saw her miss that ball at least six times."

BASE BALL MATINEE

Every Day During Series, Commencing at 2 P. M.

There are always a faithful few who are going to see it that the Sanford fans are given a chance to witness the world series games over a leased wire and this game few have made arrangements, through the courtesy of the city manager, C. J. Ryan, to use the top floor of the city hall, where the game will be given play by play.

Every fan is invited to attend these games and a small charge will be made to defray the expenses. And if you are not able to get to these matinees, get a copy of the Herald each day—you'll get the dope hot off the wire.

HUGGINS AND MUGGSY BOTH FEEL SURE

Both Managers Claim Good Chance—Claim Ruth is in Better Condition Now Than Ever

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4. Miller Huggins of the Yankees, and John J. McGraw of the Giants, insist stoutly that the first game for the Yankees will be a better one than last year, and when he is hitting they all but I am not making any predictions about the length of the series. I aim to give a good account of our selves, you may be sure of that," said McGraw. "We have a lot about the first game for the Yankees, and we are going to win it in high respect, but we are not going to give up through to the National League pennant and they will hold up their end against the Yankees."

"I've got a lot of smart ball players and we'll be out there fighting all the day," McGraw said. "I've got a lot of smart ball players and we'll be out there fighting all the day," McGraw said.

It had previously been announced that Governor Miller would throw the first ball, but the state executive will be unable to attend the opening game.

He will toss the ball which will open the second game Thursday.

FAIR WEATHER PROMISED

NEW YORK, Oct. 4. Fair weather for the first two games of the world series and probably the third, with little change in temperature and moderate north winds, was promised by the local weather bureau last night.

to center and Babe Ruth fanned out three more.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants up. It was right here that Bush went up. Ryaneroff singled to right, Groh, singled, to right and Frisch singled to right filling the bases with no one out. E. Meusel singled to center scoring Baneroff and Groh, leaving Frisch on third and Meusel on first. Hoyt was then sent in to relieve Bush, and Young the first man to face him, knocked a long sacrifice fly to center, scoring Frisch. Meusel was held on first. Kelly again struck out, while Etengel did likewise.

Three runs, four hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING
Yanks up. Pipp revived the Yanks hopes for a minute by singling to left center. R. Meusel out, line fly to second and Pipp was doubled off first. Schang went out, second to first.

No runs, one hit, no errors.
