

BOTH MURDER AND ARSON BESMIRCH IRELAND'S NAME MUCH RELIGIOUS PREJUDICE

Ulster is Terrorized by Armed Bands Who Burn and Slay EIGHT ARE DEAD

IN THE LIST OF YESTERDAY'S CASUALTIES AND MORE ARE TO FOLLOW TODAY

(By The Associated Press)
BELFAST, May 20.—Murder and arson inspired by religious prejudice continued to terrify Ulster today. Reports of number of deaths in yesterday's shootings in Belfast vary from five to eight dozen wounded. Incendiary fires caused thousands pounds loss. Three men were shot upon avowing themselves protestants, and died during the night. Two men entered a sawmill in York street district today, inquired the religion of various workers and shot dead a Catholic.

DUBLIN, May 20.—Strong rumors here today that an agreement has been reached between Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, and Eamon DeValera, the Republican leader.

BELFAST, May 20.—Agreement between free-state and Republican factions of Dail Eireann regarding the forthcoming Irish elections and other questions was reached today according to reports here.

CONFERENCE ALMOST OVER, LEAVE TODAY

DELEGATIONS STILL THINK THEY HAVE ACCOMPLISHED BIG THINGS

GENOA, May 20.—The dominant thought in Genoa last night as the delegations to the economic conference were leaving or preparing to depart seemingly was that, although the conference was a thing of the past, as far as Genoa is concerned, its achievements would live and contribute much to the pacification and reconstruction of Europe.

The officials of some of the smaller states undoubtedly will go home disappointed, perhaps angry, because their troubles have not been settled at Genoa. Lithuanian, for example, is chagrined that Genoa has not chased the Polish troops from Lithuanian territory; and the small Russian republics bordering the Caspian and Black seas are grieved because Genoa failed to free them from Bolshevik rule.

But as a whole the belief prevails that the Genoa conference despite disputes which almost pushed Europe to the edge of a precipice has resulted in the beginning of better understanding between the nations of Europe, including Russia. Even officials of France admitted that last night.

France, which came here reluctantly, almost suspiciously, goes away with more confidence. Louis Barthou, vice premier in the French cabinet, and France's chief delegate to the conference, in his final words to the press declared it was his conviction that the Genoa conference, which he called "the Child of Cannes" was today in good health, and that he saw no reason why the infant could not journey safely to the Hague and there thrive and prosper.

The question whether the Russian problem will so develop as to make possible later participation by the United States in its solution was the great subject of discussion last night. David Lloyd George, who has hurried back to England, has not accomplished everything he hoped for; but today found his mind rare good humor as the conference held its closing session.

Originally rich in timber, Holland now depends entirely upon importation to supply its needs.

MISS HUNT WAS NOT THREATENED SAYS HULLEY

ORLANDO, May 20.—Dr. Lincoln Hulley, president of Stetson University at DeLand, occupied the witness stand yesterday afternoon in defense of the suit brought against him and the University for damage by Miss Helen Hunt, of Jacksonville, for nearly three and a half hours, the cross examination conducted by E. W. Davis taking more than two and a half hours.

"I did not expel Miss Hunt," he said again and again. "I merely suspended her from the school because of her record during the last term she was there." As Mr. Davis promulgated the questions the testimony came in rapid succession and became not a little heated. He denied having told Judge Roy Hamlin of Tavares in any conversation with him that he would blacken Miss Hunt's name and character and bow her mother's head in grief if she dared to bring a suit against him or the university.

Dr. Hulley was questioned regarding the rules of the school which, being a Christian institution of the Baptist faith, prohibited many acts that are sanctioned in non-sectarian schools. He testified to many "pranks" of Miss Hunt while at the school, she then being seventeen years of age, and declared that she had an unusual capacity for trouble making. The tenseness of the court room caused by the volley of questions sent to Dr. Hulley, which were quickly and forcefully answered, was a little relieved when a bit of humor was injected into the testimony when Dr. Hulley told of an alleged "bear" dance started by Miss Hunt in her room which was located above the dining room at the time a Rev. Nelson who was conducting a protracted meeting at the university was seated at dinner. This he said was to annoy him. Dr. Davis at once very seriously requested Dr. Hulley to explain to the jury whether it was a "bare dance" in transform of the meaning, or whether the dance was that of the animal, also whether or not it was anything like the modern dance and if it was modest. Hulley replied that it was a "bear dance" all right, but a noisy affair.

In sending Miss Hunt to her home, Dr. Hulley declared it was only temporary and was for the fact that he could not control her. He also said she had remarkable ability for organizing and at one time it looked as though she would succeed in organizing the entire flock of dormitory girls against the dean of the girls.

ANOTHER ROW IN SENATE OVER TARIFF MEASURE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Newspaper editorials attacking the administration tariff bill caused another flare-up yesterday in the Senate during the consideration of that measure. The editorials were read by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, a Democratic leader, in the course of an address in which he attacked the bill generally and asserted that there was a growing revolt against it over the country and even among Republican senators.

In reply, Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, in charge of the measure, renewed his charge that the newspapers attacking the bill were influenced by advertisements of importers and asserted that reading of the editorials was for the purpose of delay. He was joined in his attack on the publications by Senator Gooding, of Idaho, chairman of the Republican agricultural tariff bloc who said the New York dailies were not going to permit tariff on farm products if they could help it.

Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, attacked the majority for approving what he termed high duties on paints, salt and other necessities of the farming population. He concluded with the declaration that the Republicans proposed to put a tax "on everything from the cradle to the grave."

In the course of his attack, Senator Simmons charged that the tariff bill was the product of a "deal" among the Republican Senators "which neither side to the trade is satisfied with."

"Protection on an agricultural products is obnoxious to the 'old guard'" he declared, "and duties on manufacturing products are equally as obnoxious to the agricultural interests."

AND STRANGE TO RELATE IT WAS IN PRINTING OFFICE.

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, May 20.—Robbers blew the safe in the office of the Florida Farmer and Stockman during the night. The loss is unknown as check had not been completed early today. The publication occupies a building adjoining the police headquarters and the safe was in a room against the wall separating the two buildings, but the robbery was not discovered until it was opened for business this morning. The robbers jimmied the outer door of the safe and blew the inner door with explosive.

In another part of the business district robbers broke into safe of Burwell Motor Company and escaped with $1,200 cash and negotiable securities. No clues to the identity of the robbers.

PROPOSED STEEL MERGER IS OFF FOR THE PRESENT

NEW YORK, May 20.—The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., yesterday withdrew from the proposed merger independent steel companies leaving only five of the original seven companies in the combine. The Lackawanna Steel Company withdrew last week upon the completion of negotiations for its purchase by the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

While a statement of Thomas L. Chadbourne, counsel for the interested companies declared that "conferences among the other five concerns are continuing to determine whether it is advisable to consider consolidation of all or some of these companies," it is generally believed in the financial district that the proposed merger is off at least for the present. Under the tentative plan agreed upon by Kuhn, Loeb and company, bankers, and the executives of the interested companies, J. A. Campbell, president of the Youngstown company and regarded as one of the ablest steel executives in the country, was to head the merger, having agreed upon as chairman of the board of directors and chairman of the executive committee. Neither Mr. Chadbourne nor Mr. Campbell would discuss the reasons for Youngstown's withdrawal. Mr. Campbell did state, however, that the action was decided upon after he had conferred with his board of directors and the principal stockholders who are in the city, and that the investigation of the department of justice into the proposed merger had nothing to do with it.

FLA. MUNICIPAL LEAGUE FORMED AT TAMPA SANFORD A MEMBER

(By The Associated Press)
TAMPA, May 20.—What will in all probability will become the most potential organization for the unification and promotion of the best interests of the individual sections of Florida as well as Florida, the state, the newly formed League of Municipalities, duly chartered and officered, celebrated the initiation of its actual functions with a seven course banquet at a local cafe here last night. Nineteen of the leading cities of Florida were the charter members of the league, including, Jacksonville, Miami, Orlando, Tampa, Bartow and Sanford and it is expected that every incorporated city and town in the state will eventually be associated with the body.

By a unanimous vote A. W. D. Hall, city manager of Tampa, with whom the idea of the league originated, was elected president, with six additional elective officers, these officers being: first vice-president, Colonel M. B. Herlong, city commissioner, Jacksonville; second vice-president, F. H. Wharton, City manager, Miami; third vice-president, C. W. Duckworth, mayor, Orlando; fourth vice-president, E. H. Green, mayor, Bradenton; fifth vice-president, C. P. Staley, city manager, Ft. Myers; secretary and treasurer, E. S. Jackson, city auditor, Bartow.

In order that technicalities of the constitution may be aligned as soon as possible, and that certain provisions relating to uniformity may be inculcated into the several city budgets, the meeting last night voted to convene the league in Jacksonville June 1, at which time any additional cities qualifying will be admitted to the association. Mr. Herlong, chairman of the evening, extended the invitation for Jacksonville in behalf of the citizens.

REMARKABLE GROWTH OF SUNDAY SCHOOL FOR FIRST BAPTIST

The growth of the Sunday school of the First Baptist Church an attendance of 495 five weeks ago to an attendance of 804 yesterday was announced last night by Dr. George Hyman, the new director of expansion of that church. Based upon this remarkable increase, a goal of 1,000 has been set for next Sunday.

Not only has the stimulated interest been manifest in the Sunday school, but also in other lines of church-work. Five weeks ago the mid-week service had an attendance of seventy-one; on Wednesday night last the total of 241 were present.

Dr. C. W. Duke, who is pastor of the church expressed his appreciation of this development of his services Sunday morning. He sincerely thanks Dr. Hyman and the workers who have been associated with him in increasing the registration.—Tampa Tribune.

RADIO

INSTRUCTIONS FOR TROUBLE SHOOTING

How to Detect and Remedy the Open Circuit, Short Circuit and Leakage.

Radio circuits are subject to the same ills that the ordinary power circuits are subject to. However, to cure them is not such a difficult task as might be supposed, especially if some logical procedure is used. If a receiver is well put together in the first place and all contacts and other parts gone over once in a while, there is no reason why there should be any trouble. But the human being is prone to err, so that for the "once in a while" that is liable to happen, this article will be devoted to the explanation of what might happen to a simple receiver and the best way to fix it.

The usual troubles of the receiver fall under one of the following three headings:

- 1—An open circuit.
2—A short circuit.
3—Leakage.

An open circuit can most easily be detected by means of a series lamp. Nearly every one has available the ordinary 110 volt lighting circuit. Take an ordinary extension cord and cut one wire at any convenient place and use these two ends as test clips or tips. The extension cord is plugged into the house lighting circuit at any convenient outlet and when the two cut ends are held together the lamp will light as the circuit is closed. When the tips are held open the circuit is "open" and the light will go out.

Suppose it is desired to test for an open circuit in a tuning coil. Connect one tip to one end of the winding and the other test clip to the slider. As the slide is moved back and forth the light should remain lighted. If the light goes out at times there is an open circuit in the coil. If the light goes out when the coil is jarred the slider does not make good contact with the winding.

If a buzzer and battery are available they can be used in testing for an open circuit in the same way that the lamp can be used. Connect the battery and buzzer in series with the test clips or tips and any low resistance circuit can be tested.

The ground connections can be tested with a buzzer and battery, but do not use the house-lighting circuit to test for grounds because one side of the lighting circuit is already grounded and if the other side were connected to the ground a short circuit would exist and an excessive current flow.

If the ground wire is connected to the water pipe, connect one test tip to the ground and the other to the gas pipe, which is also grounded. The buzzer should buzz if one has a good low resistance ground.

Leakage usually exists between the antenna and the ground. An antenna should be well insulated from its support. The lead-in should be brought down to the point where it enters the wall of the station in such a manner that when the wind causes it to swing, it cannot touch any grounded material, and that rain and snow cannot cause a path along which the current can ground. In bringing the lead-in through the wall, insulate it well and inside the station use as short a piece of well-insulated wire as is possible to make good connection with the set.

To test the continuity of the circuit of a pair of telephone receivers, touch the tips of the cord phone to the tongue. If the receivers are in reasonably good condition a slight click will be heard. If the response in one receiver seems to be weaker than that in the other, examine the diaphragm of the receiver giving the weaker response and see if it is bent toward the pole piece. Try tuning the diaphragm over if such is the case. Be careful when the diaphragm of a receiver is removed that the leads of fine wire from the magnet spools to the connection blocks do not become broken in handling.

If the continuity of the circuit of a pair of telephone receivers is checked and no response is heard when the cord tips are touched to the tongue, try checking each receiver of a double head set separately.

The two receivers are connected in

TIPS TO THE RADIOIST

The higher the aerial the stronger the signals. An increase of five to ten feet in the height of the flat top aerial will increase signals.

Addition of a variable condenser to the secondary or to the primary of a loose coupler often helps to tune out the undesired signals.

The sliders on tuning coils often make poor contacts with the slide rod. Thus much of the signal strength is lost. You can overcome this by soldering a flexible wire to the slider.

Increase length of spreaders of two, three or four-wire aeri-als from six to ten feet for best results. Each wire should be from four to six feet from its neighbor. Two wires one or two feet apart are no better than one wire. Likewise four wires on short spreaders are no better than one wire.

series and to check either one separately, short circuit the tips of the cord leading to the other receiver just outside of the case. Should it appear that there is an open circuit in the cord, short circuit both receivers where the cord enters the case and with a buzzer or lamp connected to the tips on the end of the cord test for an open circuit.

Care should be exercised by the operator when adjusting a crystal detector to see that his fingers do not touch the surface of the crystal or the contact point of the little spring. The oil secretion that exists in the skin together with the dust that it collects will render a crystal detector inoperative by the insulating film that it will cause to form on the portion of the crystal surface that is touched. Should the surface of the crystal get dirty as evidenced by the received signals becoming weaker and weaker, try cleaning the crystal with alcohol and a little brush. Or if this does not seem to remedy the trouble, chip off old surface so that an entirely new surface is presented to the spring.

They have a real chief of police in Chicago. When the "crime wave" swept over to Chicago and hold-ups and robberies were a common occurrence and policemen were being shot down Chief Fitzmorris gave the orders to "shoot to kill" and the crime wave disappeared at once or almost to nothing. Now the gunmen have declared war on Fitzmorris but there ought to be enough good men in Chicago to see him through in spite of all the gunmen in the world.

It is never wise for a newspaper man to make any money or have a few dollars left over in the safe after paying off the debts. For instance the safe of the Florida Stockman and Farmer in Jacksonville, was blown last night and it is not known whether the robbers secured the fire insurance policies or the receipts for the paper bills. But at any rate the safe is wrecked and hereafter the Florida Stockman will probably leave the safe door open.

The Sanford Shrine Club wants to accommodate the big crowds here next Saturday and if there are any of the visitors who want to remain over and cannot get rooms at the hotels the residents of Sanford are asked to accommodate them if possible. The Shrine is not asking for anything—they never do—they are well able to pay their way but to our mind we should not let the visitors pay for a room in a private residence. That is not the Sanford spirit of hospitality.

Russia must give up the soviet or shift alone, say the big nations of the world. Russia saw this coming and hence, the secret treaty with Germany. They will not shift alone. They will hereafter shift with Germany and let the "rest of the world go by." The United States ought to send them twenty millions more in food supplies to keep their spirits up while they are making secret treaties to destroy the hand that feeds them. Our wonderful government can give these cut throats twenty millions, but the ex-soldiers nothing. The government can send millions to Russia but has nothing to spend on the improvements in Florida that would bring back many more millions and be helping Americans in America. It seems that it pays to be anarchists and Russians.

Sanford is earning its right to the slogan of "The City Substantial" by voting a large bond issue for additional paving and sewerage.—DeLand News.

Bob Holly sagely remarks that it seems to be the open season on editors. We can believe him. Just as sure as somebody comes in to commend us for a certain article or editorial, we begin to shiver, for before night somebody else will crawl our collar about that same thing. The trouble about pleasing the public is just this: "There ain't no public; it's just a mass of individuals.—Leesburg Commercial.

The upper East Coast advocates and the Clyde Line officials—that is one of them at least—are afraid that cutting the canal into the Indian river would tend to make the St. Johns river shallow. This is their side of the story. The people on the inside know just why they endeavor to make this claim and it will all come out in the process of time. There are usually wheels within wheels and the people who try to stand in their own light now when they are needed will be allowed to stand in their own light later on when they are not needed.

We wonder why it takes the Sanford Herald longer to get here than it does the Jacksonville papers, when it does arrive. Perhaps we are too anxious for it and let our imagination run away with us.—Reporter-Star.

You might ask the postoffice department, the Treasury Department, the Department of Justice or the League for the Preservation of Starving Russian Bolsheviks. We have been wondering about the delivery of papers in Florida for the past twenty years and we are no nearer the solution now than we were then. Ask the Florida Post.

The Palatka News is asking "why not a curb market?" and probably the answer is that the average housewife would rather take a chance of getting the left-overs and odds and ends, by telephoning the grocer's than to trouble with a trip and a basket. The News tells that the curb market started a few years ago did not long survive—but hopes that it would be given another trial. That the grocers would be glad to be relieved of the trouble and expense of handling green stuff is said to be certain. In New England the farmer has a little stall at the edge of the big road, and sells vegetables within a short distance of the "patch." The curb market is the nearest to buying on the farm, and should be a success.—Times-Union.

SHOULD DEEPEN NEW SMYRNA INLET.

We are not trying to spring something on the people of our city, neither are we knocking the Bungalow Beautiful proposition which was carried on so successfully, but if the same amount of energy could be expended and the same amount of money raised to finance it, a proposition could be put over that would mean millions of dollars to New Smyrna instead of thousands; and that is deepening of New Smyrna Inlet to accommodate ocean going vessels. If this project is ever accomplished New Smyrna, Port Orange, and the Triple Cities of Daytona, Daytona Beach and Seabreeze must take the initiative in the work, not that these places will be the only ones to profit by the improvement what will be one of the best deep water harbors along the east coast of Florida, but like "charity" real work must begin at home. There are now many projects for water ways improvements along the east coast that are being sought for by the public spirited citizens of these sections interested, and some of them are, in a way, practical, and some are not, but in any event the success and the greatest benefits to be derived depends largely on the improvements of New Smyrna Inlet for ocean going vessels. Suppose Titusville and Sanford gets an appropriation for a canal from the Indian river to the St. Johns river; it would mean a water haul of one hundred and twenty-five miles from Jacksonville to Sanford, which it has now, and we fail to see what further benefit it would derive from the proposed project. It would mean a water haul of about one hundred and seventy-five miles from Jacksonville to Titusville, against a haul of about thirty miles from New Smyrna to Titusville. Seems like going around your elbow to get to your mouth. Seems as if the geographical situation was half way looked into that it would be readily seen that the logical solution of the water transportation problem would be the improvement of the New Smyrna Inlet. This, with the improvement of the East Coast Canal and the proposed canal from Titusville to Sanford would give a shorter railroad haul to a greater territory than any other section of the state; and then, if the cross state canal from New Smyrna to Port Richie on the Gulf coast is carried out the water transportation for East and Central Florida will have been settled for all time.

This is a progressive age, but if we want things we must go after them. With the co-operation of all the towns that this proposition would benefit it could be secured, but there must be a starting point, and the towns most directly interested should take the initiative in the move.—New Smyrna Breeze.

DISCRIMINATING AGAINST FLORIDA PRODUCTS

Why do Florida people discriminate against Florida products? The fact that they do is called to attention by a Western man now in the city who has had a singular experience of this kind which he reports to the Times-Union. Here it is:

He is very fond of Florida cane syrup and does not want maple syrup nor syrup of other kinds. He has tried restaurant after restaurant in Jacksonville and before sitting down has asked if they have Florida cane syrup and in every case has been told that they have not. He has been offered maple syrup but did not want it and walked out.

To help him out we telephoned to a number of restaurants and found only one which kept Florida cane syrup. The visitor who started all this racket is not the only one who knows that Florida cane syrup is the best in the world. It does not cost any more than the inferior stuff that is served in the restaurants so why is it not served?

A large amount of this syrup is made not simply in Florida but in Duval county. Two large farms, one east of Jacksonville and the other west of it, produce nearly enough syrup to supply the people of Jacksonville. If the restaurants refused to serve any other kind than Florida syrup it would not be surprising for there is enough made in the state to supply them all and it is vastly better than what they use.

The Times-Union has never advocated the purchase of Florida products where they were not as good or were higher priced than others, but there is good business sense in being patriotic enough to use our own products where they are as good as any. It should not take any patriotism to secure their use when they are better than any.

This Westerner set an example that the people of Florida should follow. If every man who desires syrup in a restaurant would call for Florida syrup and walk out if he couldn't get it, it would not take forty-eight hours to have it in every restaurant. This ought to be done. Our people should at least have enough local pride to break up this discrimination against a home product especially as it is superior to the products substituted for it. We should not have waited for a man from the West to teach us this but now that he has taught it we should act on it. We do not say our people should always demand Florida products, but we do say that they should insist that the hotels, the restaurants and the stores in Jacksonville should be made to quit discriminating against them.—Times-Union.

ON THE DOLLAR BASIS

Our good friend Willis B. Powell celebrated secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce and acknowledges authority in almost everything connected with Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade work, writes some comments on an editorial appearing in the Telegram on "The Value of a Settler." The question is open to debate, estimates varying in accordance with peculiar local conditions. In the editorial in question the point was made that using Mr. Powell's figures as a basis, namely $2,500, this or any other community is justified in spending a reasonable amount of money in publicity that will result in attracting new people and that it is poor policy not to take advantage of the good that comes from wise publicity.

Secretary Powell comes back with the following so full of useful information that it is a pleasure to give it space in full:

"I have just read the enclosed editorial from the Lakeland Telegram in the Sanford Herald wherein I am quoted as saying that each new settler is worth $2,500 to the community, etc. And, taking this figure as a vehicle for your lucid expression, you have woven a splendid story.

"I seldom rush into print to defend myself or my utterances, but as your paper is so widely quoted, I beg to correct the error, which I first noticed in another paper when it was not dignified with editorial comment. 1,000 units of 1,000 each, scattered over the United States, spent an average of $206,270 for boots and shoes, dry goods, bake stuffs, meats, poultry, farm products, butter, cheese, honey, canned goods, flour, agricultural implements and hardware, building materials and other necessities. The compilation was based on wholesale prices. It does not include tobacco, gasoline, gum, moving pictures, automobiles, face powder, and other luxuries. It is therefore assumed that the total spent by the 1,000 people is $500,000 or a per capita expenditure of $500.

"These same 1,000 people figure in insurance policies, life and fire and auto, and in bank clearances, freight and passenger receipts, gas, telephone, electric light, water, etc., as circulating another $3,194,530, or a per capita of $3,194.

"The census figures also reveal that the increased valuations in progressive communities as against increased population that each newcomer possibly is worth $1,000 to that community.

"Therefore we have a total of $4,694 per capita.

"But there are certain items which have been turned over a number of times. The newcomer has to pay railroad fare to pay freight on his household goods and things he eats and wears, the clearance house figures probably totals his money six to ten times a year. So we make our deductions as follows, and allow for expenditures for every person $500 a year. These figures are substantial by a survey made in the state of Oregon where the average expenses to sustain a farm family of three people was $1,247.

"Next we take the per capita of bank clearances which is $1,831, plus $500, and this makes a total of $2,331. Now we shall account for the increased value of lands which population and cultivation bring about and add another $500 per capita, which totals $2,831. With an average family of three, we say that each new family is worth $8,493 to that community.

"It has always been roughly stated that each family secured to a community was worth $10,000. And I believe this figure is about correct.

"But—that newcomer is generally a fixture for the community.

"His value to the community expands.

"How many are there in your own community that came to you with a few dollars and are now worth $100,000 or more?

"Figure your own per capita wealth as attested by total assessed valuation divided by total population—this gives your tangible wealth.

"It will probably be about $1,000 per capita—but the intrinsic value would be more like $10,000, for whoever heard of a grove selling at $3,000 an acre being assessed at even $2,000 per acre—more likely $200 an acre. How many automobiles are assessed within a fourth of the value—and of the intangible wealth in the state, which probably amounts to $100,000,000 and some say a half billion—not a cent appears on any assessment roll.

"But the tangible wealth is not all—the land has to produce, the factories have to function, the stores have to exist. Money is turned over and over, time after time.

"So, taking any angle of the question, the commercial secretaries cannot reconcile themselves to any other statement than a new family is worth $10,000 to the community the moment they settle in that community—and as many more in thousands in years to follow as their activities, and their good business sense accurate."—Lakeland Telegram.

NEEDED BOARD OF TRADE

At the hearing at Titusville Tuesday a certain city on the east coast was not represented on account of not having a board of trade and they depended upon other cities to do their talking for them. It was actually pitiful and there was not a man present whether a member of a board of trade or not that did not begin to think more of his own chamber of commerce or board of trade. No city, no town, no hamlet, no community can do anything in the constructive citizenship of that community without a live chamber of commerce or board of trade. Sanford has seen it and Sanford will maintain a live chamber of commerce despite the fact that there are half a dozen people here who will not belong to it.

BOTH CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES FOR A DEEPWATER CANAL.

U. S. engineers in ship canal hearings play no favorites. In Titusville on Tuesday Major Lemen invited Senator MacWilliams (congressional candidate) to address the meeting. And the next day in West Palm Beach he gave Joe Sears (another congressional candidate) the same opportunity. But the Senator had the best of it. While West Palm Beach is the largest city, Titusville had the largest meeting.

Both candidates endorsed the proposed canal improvement, and government ownership. The senator said, "If I am elected, no matter which route is recommended by the engineers, Sanford or Daytona, I will do my best for it." And Congressman Joe said practically the same thing.—Titusville Advocate.

THE GREATEST WORD IN ENGLISH

Ask a hundred men to choose the greatest word in the English language and it is hardly likely that any two will agree. And yet if we scan the present horizon of political, economic, social and moral problems, domestic or foreign; if we approach the language with the idea of selecting the greatest word in it as adapted to present needs, this one word naturally rises from all the other thousands and stands out supreme. It is the one word which, functioning in its fullest sense, would set at rest the world's problems, and it is because of its tremendously vital import to the needs of the present that it becomes, to my way of thinking the greatest word in the English language.

It isn't Love, it isn't Brotherhood, it isn't Friendship. It is the word that embodies the spirit of all these words.

The word is Service. Not the service that serves only self, but the service that labors for the interest of others, and thus becomes the finest and best service to ourselves.

Scale the word as you like, let it run the whole gamut of life in all its phases, and it holds its highest place in the lives of men.

Naturally, as on it goes up the scale, the word assumes a more vital and far reaching import. The greater influence of man who serves, the greater the extent of service. And so, when a man reaches the peak where his life and his life work influences others, or molds the spirit of others, the word takes on a significance of incalculable value. Edward W. Bok, in the Mentor.

RAILROAD RATES

Shippers and consumers—and that means nearly everybody—have much to hope from the conference that President Harding is to hold with a score of big railroad executives tomorrow.

The conference is called to consider a "railroad policy." This term is taken to mean specifically rate policy. As far as the public is concerned—and evidently also the administration and the Interstate Commerce Commission—the situation is ripe for a rate reduction.

There was a reduction of the first of the year, on certain agricultural and meat products, by agreement between the carriers and the administration. That agreement expires the end of next month. The law under which the carriers were promised rates equivalent to a six per cent increase expired March 1. The stage therefore is set for a new deal.

Popular pressure for decrease all around has been great. It has been felt that freight rates should be deflated along with the freight itself. Many transportation authorities, too, have held that a considerable rate decrease could be taken by the railroads without any loss of income, because it would greatly stimulate their volume of traffic and increase their gross earning power. The roads have been making money again recently, and so may be in a more tractable mood.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is said to have worked out a lower rate schedule, but to be doubtful about its authority to put it into effect without the acquiescence of the railroads themselves. The present law requires that any rates that must permit a "fair return" to the carriers, and it remains to decide what is "fair." Perhaps that is the "policy" which the president has summoned the railroad executives to discuss. It is hoped that the latter will see the situation as the public and the government see it and, if the decision really rests with them, will take a broad and liberal view and a sporting chance on deflation.—Tampa Tribune.

Tampa Tribune's False Editorials Exposed

W. F. Stovall, of the Tampa Tribune, has for five months been printing false statements relating to organized labor, particularly the Typographical Union and railroad organizations. It is quite a task to dispassionately and calmly expose this vilification campaign which he has heaped upon men who have done him no wrong, but we deem it proper in justice to ourselves that it is time to expose the unreliability of this man and his paper.

The Tribune failed to tell its readers that the Typographical Union has never broken a contract in 72 years of history. That it provides in its contracts for the elimination of strikes by an arbitration agreement. It fails to tell its readers that it had such an arbitration contract with the Typographical Union, signed by W. F. Stovall, and that he willfully violated that contract, for no other reason than he thought he could conduct an "open shop" cheaper, but which has proven more expensive. Is the contract-breaking proprietor any less to be trusted than the contract-breaking employe? Your fairness will answer that question.

In its campaign of vilification against union men The Tribune has called them the vilest of names. It failed to tell its readers that it had in its employ men who were Masons, Shriners and other fraternal societies, men of better moral standing in Tampa than Stovall; the aggregate property of the men he has vilified and poisoned the minds of the public against, owned assessed property in Tampa valued at $260,000.

In a recent editorial The Tribune deliberately tried to mislead its readers by stating that 80 per cent of the daily newspapers in Florida had followed into the open shop column.

There are six papers printed in Tampa, five of them employing union men only, and are satisfied with their loyalty and competency. They are:
Tampa Times, Tampa Sunday Citizen, Free Press, Daily La Prensa (Cuban) daily, El Echo (Cuban), while more than half of the printers employed in job offices in Tampa are union, notwithstanding The Tribune's utter unreliable statement that 95 per cent of Tampa's shops are non-union.

This is what The Times thinks of its union employees:

THE TAMPA DAILY TIMES
Chas. G. Mullen, General Manager

Mr. Joe Lyles, Times Composing Room,

Dear Mr. Lyles:

A comparison of our composing room costs with that of other dailies in the South furnishes cause for high commendation of the individual members of your force, who are giving to the paper splendidly efficient service.

I have found that our cost per page was lower than of any daily with which I have made comparisons and which publishes as many pages per month as we do. The cost of producing display advertising was shown as slightly lower in a few instances—which may be due to difference in cost systems—and a slightly lower cost per page is reported by a number of smaller papers—but no paper in our class shows the general efficiency and cost economy that The Times shows.

All of which bespeaks the unusual competence and loyal and faithful service of the men of The Times chapel.

I wish to congratulate and thank you for your entire force for holding up your end in such splendid fashion.

With all good wishes, individually and collectively, I am

Yours very truly,

CHAS. G. MULLEN,
General Manager.

In vilifying all union men, The Tribune forgot that President Harding is a member of the Typographical Union, and employs only union men on his Marion (Ohio) Star; that Secretary of Labor Davis is a union man. In its desperate fight to fool the public and poison the minds of its readers against a class of men who are better moral citizens than Stovall, it neglected to state that the United States Chamber of Commerce, headed by a committee composed of New York bankers and big business men have mapped out a plan to stop the unnecessary and unfair fight being made against labor and declared in favor of "peace between capital and labor" to bring the country back to prosperity.

Refuting its falsehood about the papers of Florida following it in the open shop column, let us say that every daily paper in Florida, of any consequence, except The Tampa Tribune and Times-Union, is manned by union men.

It failed to state that The Florida Post of Winter Park tried some of the same class of workmen as The Tribune now has, and found them so incompetent and unreliable that it employed a portion of the union men formerly employed by The Tribune, who not only proved themselves more competent, but actually reduced the payroll. So well pleased was the management that it wrote a letter of hearty commendation to its new union employees—the same men whom The Tribune had been vilifying and lying about.

Managing Editor Griffin, of The Florida Post, has the following to say of these men whom the Tribune vilifies:

Mr. E. B. Landfear, Foreman Florida Post:

My Dear Sir:—The Florida Post composing room is one of the "smoothest running machines" that I have seen in nearly twenty years of newspaper work.

Contrasting conditions now with those that prevailed during the first few days after the daily was started, I can draw but one conclusion—proper co-operation and efficient workmen who came after the plant was unionized are responsible.

After the change was made the nerve-racking days of late editions and poor workmanship passed into history and now The Florida Post is published promptly on the minute, and in typographical makeup, as well as in other ways, is in my judgment, one of the best newspapers I have ever served.

I take pleasure in giving this testimonial and in giving credit where credit is due, to the men and to the organization that have been responsible for this remarkable change.

W. H. GRIFFITH, Managing Editor.

JUST A WORD ABOUT THE TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

Its members are not allowed to strike. They did not strike on the Tribune but were locked out by W. F.
Stovall in violation of a sacred arbitration contract. This union maintains the finest tubercular hospital in the world for its members at Colorado Springs, Colorado. It requires a five-years' apprenticeship—its members therefore being competent.
It is the oldest union in America.
It buries its members and pays its dependents $500 at death. It pensions its old and incapacitated members at $8.00 per week. It has on its membership rolls some of the greatest men in America. It teaches its members loyalty to label, or trade mark, which emblem, when appearing on your stationery represents an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. We have nothing else to offer the public except average decent citizenship, and a proud record of having never broken a contract, like The Tribune, or lied about a proprietor, as the Tribune has about its former employees.

Papers of Orlando, Sanford and

SPANISH WAR VETS TO SPEND GLORIOUS FOURTH IN OLD CITY

Arrangements for the convention of the United Spanish War Veterans are proceeding and the Board of Trade entertainment committee will co-operate with the local camp in making the convention a success. The Department of Florida, United Spanish War Veterans, will convene here July 3rd, 4th and 5th, and it is expected that many of the delegates will be accompanied by their wives and children. An excellent program of entertainment will fill in the hours not demanded by the business sessions and the Glorious Fourth will be appropriately observed.

An interesting feature of the business session will be the annual election of the department commander, a post now occupied by Frank Dale of Key West. Mr. Dale has proved a very energetic and capable commander, making an enviable record as an organizer. In recognition of his exceptional qualifications the St. Augustine organization, Captain Frank J. Howatt Camp No. 12, Department of Florida, at a recent open meeting expressed its high appreciation of Commander Dale by adopting resolutions, endorsing him for re-election.

It is customary to honor the city in which the convention is held by nominating a man from the host city but the local camp waived this custom and went on record by unanimous vote as favoring the nomination of Commander Dale. This endorsement will no doubt be supported by the convention.

Many of the delegates and members of the organization will come from inland cities and they will undoubtedly enjoy their stay on the coast especially the surf bathing.—St. Augustine Record.

Commander R. A. Terheun of the local post is a candidate for Department Vice Commander at the convention and will no doubt be the successful man for the place.

TROOP NO. 3 OF BOY SCOUTS ENTERTAINED

Master Cecil Dorsey delightfully entertained the Boy Scouts of Troop No. 3 at the home of his parents on the East Side last evening.

Many games were indulged in, after which delightful refreshments were served, consisting of ice cream and cake.

There were twenty-eight Scouts present, besides Scout Master Had-dock and Assistant R. C. Carraway.

SPAULDING CIRCLE MEETS
 The Jennie Spaulding Circle met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ashley Kelly. The Bible study topic was "The Light of Life." The program was very interesting and inspiring, and a good attendance of members. The meeting next week will be with the chairman, Mrs. A. Lossing at her home on the Orlando Road. This will be an all-day meeting to be spent in sewing. All the members are urged to meet promptly at the appointed hour.

"THE RETURN OF MILES O'ROURKE"

Last night in the K. of C. hall, the Irish Comedy, "The Return of Miles O'Rourke," was presented for the first time on any stage.

It was a big success from every angle. Space will not permit a detailed account of the individual triumphs of the players. Suffice it to say that for an amateur performance it was an agreeable surprise to all who witnessed the three acts.

The hall was crowded to capacity and many were standing.

The scenery and stage settings were very beautiful as was evinced from the congratulations of every-one.

From the enthusiasm of the large audience it is thought that the play will be repeated this fall.

Thanks are extended to the Sanford Furniture Company who loaned the furniture of the parlor and garden scenes; to the Hintermister Piano Company, who loaned the fine toned piano and Gillen & Fry who installed and arranged the lighting effects with such artistic skill.

MYSTER STORY BASIS OF A REMARKABLE PHOTOPLAY

"Footfalls," the super-feature produced by William Fox which will be shown for the last time at the Princess Theatre tonight is a screen version of the magazine story of the same name by Wilbur Daniel Steele—a story which was awarded first prize for the year 1920 by the O. Henry Committee of the Society of Arts and Sciences, New York City. As the central theme of the story is based upon the extremely acute sense of hearing developed by a blind cobbler who listens by day and night through years for the footfalls of a murderer returning to the scene of his crime, its presentation in "the silent drama" was a difficult feat indeed. It was achieved by William Fox and Director Chas. J. Brabin in a manner which New York critics have declared to be highly ingenious.

The O. Henry Committee was formed on April 18, 1918, at a banquet in honor of the memory of America's most famous short story genius. It provided for prizes of $500 and $250 for the best two short stories published in the year 1919 and each year thereafter, as a permanent memorial to William Sydney Porter (O. Henry).

In 1919 the committee of award read hundreds of magazine stories, and finally selected a number from which the two prize winners were to be chosen. Of these, three were by Wilbur Daniel Steele, two by Anne D. Sedgwick, and one each by Fannie Hurst, Margaret Prescott Montague, Ben Ames William, Albert Payson Terhune, Edison Marshall and Melville D. Post. Miss Montague won first prize and Steele won the second with "For They Know Not What They Do." In 1920 first prize was awarded to Steele's "Footfalls."

The leading roles in the photoplay "Footfalls" are taken by Tyrone Power, Estelle Taylor, Tom Douglass and Gladden James.

LEXINGTON SALES INCREASING.

"The new Series 22 Lexington at $1745 has taken the country by storm" said Perry Jernigan of the B. & O. Motor Co., local distributor for the Minute Man Six, in an interview this morning.

"And judging by local conditions, I can readily credit the reports reaching me from the factory," he continued.

"Since April twenty-third, the date of the first published announcement of the new Series 22, my salesroom has been crowded with prospects. It looks like the halcyon days of 1919!

"Our big plants at Connersville are working to their utmost capacity to fill orders that continue to pile up in an ever increasing flood. In my humble opinion, no car has sever been accorded wider and more instantaneous public acceptance than this new Lexington.

"Without exception, the people to whom I have demonstrated the new Series 22 Lexington have been enthusiastic in their comments regarding the exceptional performance and riding ease.

"It is the factory's unqualified claim that 'it rides easier than any car that does not weigh more, cost more, or have a longer wheelbase!'

"I stand ready and willing to justify this board claim at any time.

"Ever since Labor Day, 1920, when two Lexington specials, powered with strictly stock Ansted Engines, swept to a double victory in the Pike's Peak hill-climbing race, this 'miracle motor' has been breaking performance records from coast to coast.

"The Ansted Engine has proved itself supreme in every vital phase of stock motor performance: endurance, hill-climbing, economy and speed.

"At $1745, the new Series 22 Lexington is selling for $240 less than the lowest previous price on a Lexington equipped with the Ansted Engine! And at $1745 it is more than $1,000 lower in price than any comparable Lexington Motor car one year ago!"

THE OLD PLANTATION WAS WELL RECEIVED AT THE PARISH HOUSE

The girls of the Westminster Club of the Presbyterian church put on a very ambitious program of entertainment last night when they attempted one of the most difficult stunts in minstrelsy—that of a mixed minstrel—boys and girls—but they got off with it and made it a huge success. The curtain went up on a typical circle of black faces, the girls on one side and the boys on the other and even the interlocutor—Tom Meredith—was in black face. The girls were great with their red bandanna handkerchiefs wrapped around their heads and they looked and acted the part. The boys of course were expected to be good and they were there with the goods. The songs and the jokes were all good and well received and the first part, which by the way is always a most difficult part was carried out without a hitch and showed the work of Mrs. R. C. Hower, Mrs. Claude Howard, Buddy Allison and others who only rehearsed two nights before the performance. The following boys and girls were in the circle. Misses Lettice Caldwell, Zita Davison, Allie Gillen, Mary Howard, Cora Lee Tillis, Fern Ward, Mesdames John Smith, D. C. Marlowe, J. C. Hutchinson, Donald Smith, Messrs. Buddie Allison, Helston, Reg Holly, Leslie Hill, Culp, Sherman Moore and Tom Meredith as interlocutor.

The specialties were solos by Mabel Bowler and Mildred Holly, readings by Mrs. R. C. Maxwell and song and dance by little Evelyn Smith the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith.

After the show the folks were seated in cabaret style at small tables in the Parish House and were served with sandwiches, salad and coffee or ice cream as they wished and the cats and show all went for one price of admission and the Westminster Girls made a nice sum of money as well as giving the public a fine entertainment.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.—Adv.
