van G. Harding is contained in a suit filed with the Board of Tax Appeals by Louis H. Brush and Roy D. Moore, buyers of the former President's Ohio newspaper, the Marion "Star."

The suit also disclosed that the terms of the sale provided that Mr. Harding was to be employed for $13,300 a year as associate editor to write editorials and articles to be syndicated. Presumably, this was to start when Mr. Harding left the White House.

Mr. Brush and Mr. Moore contended that they paid to the estate $13,300 a year for ten years following his death. They charged that the Bureau of Internal Revenue erroneously assessed against them a deficiency totaling $2,350 for 1930 and 1931.

The petition said that Mr. Brush and Mr. Moore considered that no further liability rested upon them, since President Harding died before the formation of an employment contract, but that this view was not accepted by Mrs. Harding, the President's brother and sister, Charles D. Chaffner, executor of Harding's estate, nor by Messrs. Hoke Donithen and Richard Crisinger, attorneys for the Harding family and estate.

The petition added that the Hardings threatened suit against the Harding Publishing Company to compel payment of $13,300 per year and the guarantee therefor, and that to avoid the danger to its circulation and good-will from such a suit the publishing company, by its new owners, agreed to pay $13,300 annually for ten years to Mrs. Harding during her life, and after death to the President's brother and sister.

The potato crop in south Florida was cut down to the ground and in the Belle Glade section where bushes were large, these will be dug with a fifty percent sacrifice to the yield. Strawberries: All blooms were knocked off in all sections and it will cause a delay of a month to six weeks in the crop. Tomatoes: Dade county saved fifty percent of their tomato crop from the first freeze but a heavy frost Wednesday night finished them. Broward and Collier counties which are heavy winter plantings lost practically all acreage. Seedbeds are believed to have been saved and rearing past of the acreage will begin immediately.

The 26-year-old Earl of Aylesford was a companion of the police officer and also was roughly handled. Deputy Leader Nietman of the German front, the main organization in the Saar, called upon the Dutch member of the League governing commission and requested that the commission take measures "to prevent the recurrence of such incidents."

After the accident Justice alighted and apologized to the woman, who was treated at a pharmacy. A gathering crowd gazed the impression Justice and his companion sought to leave the scene and tried to restrain them forcibly.

Believing he was in danger, the official version said, Justice drew his weapon and fired a warning shot. The crowd then rushed him and tried to take away the revolver. The weapon was discharged, wounding a man named Neumann. Justice thereupon was badly beaten and was taken to Happersberg hospital.

Close investigation was pressed and Justice was under official suspension from duty. He had been in the Saar for several months, having been recruited with hundreds of other applicants for international police work. Officials described the incidents the courtesy of Mayor W. A. Lefler, and the unit is lighted from 8:00 o'clock to 11:00 o'clock each night.

Fire Sweeps Through W & L Building

LEXINGTON, Va., Dec. 17. — (AP)—Fire swept through Tucker Hall, law school building at Washington and Lee University here, early yesterday morning and destroyed the building and the law library it housed. College authorities set the loss at $85,000.

The Tucker Hall blaze was discovered a half hour after firemen and townpeople had subdued a stubborn lumber yard fire. Officials of the fire department said that sparks from the burning yard might have fired Tucker Hall. Three students and a Lexington resident were injured in the Tucker Hall fire.

as of minor importance which could easily have happened in any city where a foreigner is involved in an automobile accident. Justice was civilian clothes at the time of the accident. The comparatively few persons on the street in the early hours, when the accident occurred, prevented it from becoming a greater impediment, according to officials.

The officials were frankly relieved that justice is in no way connected with British officers here to make arrangements for the arrival of British troops. The postoffice at Anaheim, Calif., was forced to deliver an unaddressed, unopened "article" found in a mail box. It was a cat probably "mailed" by small boys. The feline was sent to the pound.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1934 BIBLE VERSES FOR TODAY THE PRINCE OF PEACE: For unto us a child is born...

SECOND COMING I wonder how St. Greco would have put Our city to the uses of his paint-Towers dorking through a canopy of soot...

We hope that the legislation to take the profits out of war work better than the NRA which was supposed to take the war out of profits.

It may interest local farmers to learn that, according to Louis I. Taber, master of the National Grange, within five years farm lands will be better property than municipal or industrial bonds...

The government is trying to get savings bank depositors to "lean up," that is, to make loans with their money, by cutting the interest rate they're paid by the banks from 3 to 2 1/2 percent.

Frank Gannett, American publisher, returning from abroad, sees Europe's war scare as subsiding but that does not prevent Premier Mussolini, no fool himself, from taking elaborate precautions to prevent his people from being affected by gas attacks from the air in case of war.

More talk of unemployment is financed entirely by employers of labor through a three percent payroll tax. Unemployment compensation of this type will be reduced by the next session of Congress.

The Farmers' Market

In fitting ceremonies today Sanford is dedicating the Farmers' Wholesale Market, the fulfillment of a dream of many years standing among local farmers and other civic-minded individuals.

But it was not until the federal government came forward with a plan of paying for the labor costs of such a project and the State Department of Agriculture agreed to supply the necessary materials that a way was found for financing the construction of such a center.

While the freeze of last week may delay for a short time the full utilization of the market's facilities, since there were very few vegetables in Central Florida which escaped the frost, nevertheless we feel confident that before many weeks have passed a thriving business will be plainly evident at this market and that before the winter is over it will be recognized as one of Sanford's most substantial institutions.

We can readily visualize the day when farmers from all over Central Florida will bring their produce to Sanford for the purpose of selling it at our market. It will be the only market in this part of the state and practically the only place where farmers can dispose of their products on a wholesale cash and carry basis.

Newspapers, By Brisbane

Upon the occasion of his seventeenth birthday recently, Arthur Brisbane, the world's most famous newspaper editor, defined his conception of a newspaper.

"What is a newspaper?" Mr. Brisbane asks. "A newspaper is a mirror in which are reflected events and human beings. Don't break the mirror. If you don't like what you see in it, change the face as they do in the beauty parlor."

"Newspaper men make a great fuss about the little events in the lives of men. In newspaper work it is the little things that are the important things. You might have a million atoms in the corner of your eye and not know they are there."

"You may compare a newspaper to the rainfall. Nature distributes the water in drops. The rainfall comes down in quantities that the small flower can absorb. If it were dropped a cubic yard at a time, the flower would be washed away and there would be no irrigation."

"A newspaperman's work is forgotten, but everything in time is forgotten. The earth on which he lives will grow cold and old and die; and this entire corner of the universe that we call the Milky Way will disappear and be only a memory like some great actor of former times."

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Powers and their little son, Kinchen, left yesterday for the old home in North Carolina near Wallace where they will spend the Christmas holidays.

That President Woodrow Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury William McAdoo, Mrs. McAdoo and other close relatives and near connections of the President will spend the holidays in Miami in a cottage which has been secured and is being made ready for them.

Among the attractive affairs of the season was the charming little "George" party given by Mrs. Agnes White in the young hotel which has been named the George Hotel.

The oldest and largest jewelry store in Seminole County. Here Christmas shoppers will find a large assortment of suitable gifts for each and every member of the family.

Federal Activities Pushing Deeper In Nation's Daily Life

(Continued From Page One) This, however, did not satisfy the inflationary elements in Congress and before the session ended they passed a silver purchase law, calling upon the treasury to buy silver until the silver in the monetary stocks reached the ratio of 25 to 75 with gold.

(Continued From Page One) Millions of dollars were committed by the government during the year in an effort to bring back prosperity and to care for the needy. By the middle of the year the public debt passed the $27,000,000,000 figure, exceeding the wartime peak, and expenditures during the last half pointed to a big further increase.

(Continued From Page One) Most direct expenditures were in the public works program, by which it was hoped to revive the heavy goods industries. Other millions were advanced in loans to home owners, farmers, railroads, and industries generally.

(Continued From Page One) Relief expenditures averaged between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000 a month throughout the year. For the first few months they went largely to maintaining the Civil Works Administration, which aimed at employing anyone willing to work.

Miss McMullen Is Wed To Mr. Bradham

Attracting the interest of a wide circle of friends here is the announcement of the marriage Monday morning of Miss Lonnie Juanita McMullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McMullen of this city, to Harry Bradham of this city, son of Mrs. Ida Bradham and the late Mr. Bradham of St. Petersburg. The ceremony was performed at 11:00 o'clock by Dr. W. A. Cooper, pastor of the First Methodist Church, at the home of Mr. Bradham's sister, Mrs. Rosa Adams, 908 West Fifteenth Street, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

The bride wore for the occasion a navy blue dress of triple sheer crepe with a navy blue hat and other blue accessories. She was born in this city and has lived here all her life. She was graduated from Seminole High School in 1930 and is employed as cashier at Lovett's Groceries.

Mr. Bradham lived most of his life at St. Petersburg and came here a year ago. He was graduated from the Mont Verde Industrial School in 1922. He is employed as a carpenter.

Ornamental Trees and Palms

BY MRS. FRED P. STRANGE

Editor's Note: This is the first installment of a serial read by Mrs. Strange at a recent meeting of the "Bird Gardeners' Circle" of the Garden Club.

Most landscapes are in a large measure dependent on the trees arranged for dimension profile and perfection and for this reason trees may well be considered as an indispensable element in landscape composition. Other plants, of course, are required for completeness, but theirs is a minor role. Without the compliment of trees, it is seldom that a scheme of plantings, whether it be street, roadside, urban home or farmstead, has achieved the fullest objective. Through the influence of trees a residence, street or other site is set apart and given an individuality and since trees are in themselves the most permanent of plants, they impart to their immediate surroundings a sense of permanence and stability, not to speak of the beauty alone.

Numerous and varied advantages are derived from ornamental trees and plants. It is mainly a question of variety and adaptability, for in Florida, the number of available

Of the 1184 issues listed on the stock exchange, 553 or 46.6 percent were on a dividend basis, against 461 or 63 percent in 1931. There were 222 dividend changes in the year. Of these 212 were increased payments; 72 initial or resumed payments; 19 reductions and 10 omissions. In 1932, the worst of the depression years for dividends, 147 declines and 184 omissions.

Many individual companies ordered larger dividend payments than at any time in their history. Homestake mining, highest priced active stock on the board, paid $7,534,800 on the basis of $30 a share, its best, compared with $4,269,720 or $17 a share in 1933. U. S. Smelting, leader of the silver group, also set a new high mark with $4,758,885, or $9 share payment, against $793,147 or $1.60 a year ago. International Nickel, another silver leader, paid $8,750,415 or 60 cents a share, after omitting payments in 1932 and 1933.

Several companies declared stock dividends with Monsanto Chemical the most prominent. It ordered a 100 percent stock dividend and paid shareholders $1,080,000 a gain of $216,000 over 1933. Mesta machine declared a 66 1-3 percent stock dividend and increased its payments $900,000. Industrial Rayon was split three for varieties is so great that the choice is not a simple one. The adaptability of a species for use in a specified location is of paramount importance and must be given consideration for climate and soil vary so that a tree wholly adapted to one location may be entirely unsuited to another.

Tender varieties planted in an area subject to low temperatures can but ultimately prove a disappointment, as will many species from colder regions when planted in the most tropical sections. Soil type and particularly soil moisture, also has an important role since many species naturally adapted to high dry lands, do not find low undrained soils conducive to vigor and growth.

Neither can all varieties that in nature are found on moist soils be expected to thrive in dry sandy locations, even with regular fertilization and irrigation. However, as a general rule plants may be transplanted with moist situations to drier locations with much better success following than in the case with dry land plants that are moved to poorly drained areas.

Utilities made the poorest showing. Dividends were omitted on Laclede Gas common and preferred, Columbia Gas and the Standard Gas preferred shares, a total loss to shareholders of $7,644,001.

Oil companies had a good year, notably the Standard Oil group. Socony-Vacuum paid 60 cents a share or $19,024,999, against 35 cents or $11,007,916 in 1933, while Standard Oil of New Jersey distributed $32,298,213, on the basis of $1.25 a share, compared with $26,838,578, or $1 a share in 1933. Coppers improved with Kennecott paying 60 cent, the first since 12 cents was paid in 1932. Magna paid $2, against 12 1-2 cents in 1933.

Members of Sanford Lodge No. 62 F. & A. M. are scheduled to hold their final meeting of 1934 at the Maxonte Temple at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Worshipful Master A. L. Betts has announced that refreshments will be served and that all visiting Master Masons have a special invitation to attend.

Officials of the Church of God at Sanford and Geneva Avenue announced today that they have just closed the red, white, and blue contest and that a supper will be served at the Church tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. Money raised will be spent on the church building soon to be erected, and the public is invited to participate.

Officials also announced a drawing for Christmas Eve, and all persons who attend church tomorrow night are expected to register the names of children up to 12 years of age.

"The public is showing a wonderful spirit of co-operation this year in mailing their Christmas packages early," said Postmaster R. J. Holly, Sr., this morning. "They are wrapping them more securely and are otherwise assisting the postoffice force in keeping up with the Christmas rush. Incidentally, the amount of business coming into the postoffice shows a much better business this season than last, and it looks like it will be a big Christmas for everyone in the county."

Mr. Holly also announced that the office will be open all day Saturday Dec. 22 and Saturday Dec. 23 for the convenience of all customers.

A feature of the holiday lighting arrangements in this section this year is the 25-foot tree which tops the Florida Power and Light Co. steam-electric station near Lake Monroe. This tree was erected under the supervision of J. A. Young, plant superintendent, and it was turned on for the first time last night. One hundred colored lights are strung through its branches and a single two foot high is at its top. The tree, first of its kind ever erected at the plant, can be seen from a distance in every direction, and if the weather is clear, it can even be seen from the lakefront near the Band Shell.

The thoroughness of the Chamber of Commerce's Christmas Lighting Campaign is convincingly told to any persons walking or riding through the downtown business district at night. There are at least 45 lighted trees in the

The rooms of the annex were decorated for the occasion with quantities of Christmas festoons, two lighted Christmas trees, palm-trees, and other shrubs. They were arranged by the pupils of Mr. Chapman's class.

Entertainment for the evening consisted of Christmas games conducted by Mrs. R. U. Hutchinson. At a late hour refreshments were served by the members of Miss Florence McKay's class.

Commissioner Mayo Principal Speaker At Ceremonies Near New $30,000 Market

(Continued From Page One) intended to Governor Sholtz, the State Marketing Board, the Chamber of Commerce, FERA officials in and out of Florida, and the growers and business men of Sanford and Seminole County whose constant efforts had been rewarded with the award to Sanford of the first of the markets also were heard during the program.

The speakers included W. R. Smith of Tallahassee, representing Governor Sholtz; State Treasurer W. V. Knott; State Marketing Commissioner L. M. Rhodes; Congressman Joe Sears of Jacksonville, and others.

Before the out-of-town speakers were presented to the audience, Chairman Papworth introduced several of the persons who are associated with the plant as its managers, assistants, or cooperating officials.

This group included members of the Supervisory Board, Market Master J. G. Michael, Secretary-Treasurer S. M. Lloyd, Architect E. J. Moughton, Seminole County FERA Administrator T. K. Appgar, Peter Thurston, and E. B. O'Kelley of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Commissioner Mayo's opening remarks were in reference to his present motor tour of the state viewing the effects of last week's freeze. "My heart is too full of sympathy for the thousands of citrus, fruit, and vegetable growers upon whom has been visited the worst calamity since 1895," he said.

"When you take into consideration what the grower has lost in his crops, the set back of his trees, the shortage of production for the next several years, to say nothing of the loss to the laboring class in gathering these crops, the crate factory for crates, the packing houses for packing, the transportation companies for transporting, this freeze will run into unestimable millions of dollars lost to our people," he continued. "I was wondering if the opening of this market would not be postponed to a later date." Mr. Mayo continued, "but when I called the Chamber of Commerce here by telephone, I was informed that everything was ready and would go off on schedule. I want to congratulate you people upon having such an organization assisting you and such an energetic citizenry backing it up."

"I am here today to join you folks in celebrating and rejoicing with you over the first State Marketing warehouse," he continued. "The success of this one will decide whether more are to be built in other sections of the state, and to this end I trust we will have the fullest co-operation of every agency in this section to make this one a success."

Continuing, he said that "if this market is successfully operated it will prove a great benefit to our farmers and to business in general for when the farmers make money, all other interests are helped by their success."

Before concluding, Mr. Mayo stressed the part which the county and city played in donating the market site, the FERA for its donation of labor in the erection of the market, and the Coast Line railroad for its contribution of the side track on the northern edge of the property.

"The State has done its part by contributing the funds for its construction," he said, adding that "many of our citizens and various organizations have put their shoulders to the wheel in their fine effort to bring about the market's erection."

"It stands here today, nearly completed," he concluded, "and I now appeal to you growers of Central Florida that you use it in grading and marketing your crops. It is yours, yours to make a success or yours to make a failure. I am happy to say that I have never been congealed with a failure, and I know that with your full co-operation this project will maintain my past record. Again let me repeat, it is yours, and its success and its future is up to you."

Mr. Papworth declared that "it is a great honor to have the privilege of thanking Governor Sholtz, Commissioner Mayo and Commissioner Rhodes for what they did to bring the Market to Sanford."

Recalling the freeze of 40 years ago and the general belief that Florida would never recover, Mr. Papworth stated that the recent freeze would have but little effect upon the progress of Florida.

"My advice to you is that you dig in and not be discouraged," he said. "Prosperity will come back again and this latest freeze may prove to be a God-send. Florida never will be ruined until the sky and the earth meet on God's great judgment day."

In his two minute talk, Mr. Dorney emphasized his appreciation and that of the members of his Association to "those who have seen the dawn of a new day for growers and farmers." He pointed out that "this is a new type of co-operation abroad at this time, all directed at the betterment of our growers. On behalf of the Association, let me thank those who contributed their time and efforts to make this Market possible."

State Senator Parrish expressed himself as happy to have had a part in approving the act which made funds for the Market possible. As he concluded he remarked that "we sometimes do not appreciate our state officials enough and what they do in our behalf, and for them I bespeak greetings and congratulations."

Mr. Smith, speaking for Governor Sholtz, declared that "only an illness in his immediate family prevents Governor Sholtz' appearance here today. He requested me to say, however, that he will come to Sanford at his earliest convenience so that he may inspect the Market and note its progress. May I wish you the best of success in this pioneering in a wholesale market in Sanford and Central Florida."

State Treasurer Knott congratulated the "community and Commissioner Mayo in accomplishing and attaining this fine Market you will dedicate today." He referred to the recent freeze as "a light one" in comparison to the one of 40 years ago, and concluded with an extension of congratulations to those who made the market possible.

Congressman Sears' words were addressed at Commissioner Mayo and the other officials who made this market experiment possible for your people in Central Florida.

"The erection of markets of this type," he said, "has been a dream of mine for over 20 years and I believe that today's dedication marks the dawn of a new day for our growers and shippers. This trucking center of Florida has the privilege of presenting Florida its golden opportunity. I feel sure that you growers will grasp it and make it a success from the start."

Commissioner Rhodes opened his short talk by declaring that "we have met today to celebrate the opening of the . . . Market, and to dedicate it to the services of the people of Central Florida and the buying public."

"This market," he said, "is destined to perform a very important function in marketing food products of this and other counties in Central and South Florida. We have arrived at a period in the life of our state and nation when food marketing is one of our largest and most necessary vocations or industries."

After citing the rapid growth of production and marketing in the nation Commissioner Rhodes said that "since 10 percent of the fresh fruits and vegetables produced in the United States are grown in Florida, and from 25 to 35 percent of that is produced within 80 to 100 miles of Sanford, we feel fully justified in building a market here to assist in more efficiently and profitably selling the 25,000 to 45,000 carloads of perishables shipped from Central Florida territory."

Concluding with a reference to the "abundant production" within a 100 miles of Sanford, Commissioner Rhodes said "we bespeak for this Market a useful service and great success." Commissioner Mayo's short talk included his reference to the fact that "this is certainly one bright spot in Florida at this time for their are more green vegetables growing here than in any other section of Florida."

Congratulating the "people of this county and its Chamber of Commerce upon their successful efforts to bring the Market to Sanford," Commissioner Mayo also credited Seminole County, the City of Sanford, the FERA, and the Coast Line Railroad as having contributed "something definite and valuable to the success of the enterprise."

In conclusion he declared that "this market is now the property of the growers of Central Florida. Its success and its future is up to them."

(Continued From Page One) piece of land. Today railroad tracks have been constructed, hard surfaced roads have been built, buildings have been erected, and the Farmers' Market which we have visualized for a long time is an actual reality. My experience over a number of years is that we have some of our most profitable seasons following unfavorable weather. The market will provide a common trading ground for our farmers and buyers. It will add to the prosperity of our people. To those who have had an active hand in the conceiving and execution of the market, we extend our congratulations. The Market is now a reality, and its completion is a source of satisfaction to those who have given their time and efforts to it."

Japs Finally Denounce Old Naval Treaty

Move Opens Way For Unrestrained Competition In Armaments For Navies

TOKYO, Dec. 19.—Japan yesterday denounced the Washington naval limitation treaty. The move opens the way for unrestrained world competition in naval armaments and clears the way for the United States to fortify her territory in the Pacific. Final action was taken by the privy council—highest advisory body to Nippon's youthful, bespectacled emperor.

War Vets Warned About Applying For Certificates

The final date on which World War veterans may file applications for adjusted compensation certificates has been set for Jan. 2, 1935.

Any veteran who had more than 90 days service in the World War or any independent of a veteran who is dead, who have not applied for "bonus" certificates, is requested to see Mrs. A. W. Knox, chairman of Seminole County Chapter of the Red Cross, on or before Jan. 2, with proper honorable discharge, so that an application may be filed.

Veterans eligible for the "bonus" certificates must have served more than 90 days during the war period—Apr. 6, 1917-Nov. 11, 1918—and have been honorably discharged. Certain high ranking commissioned officers, civilian employees of the Army and a few other similar classes are not eligible.

Dependents of veterans who died in the service, or since, who failed to apply for the certificate, should make application before it is too late. Widows and children have preference over dependent parents. If there is no widow or child, dependent mother may file, or if neither is not entitled, dependent father may file. Dependency of parents is presumed after age 60, and before that the age evidence of dependency must be presented.

Roosevelt Still Faces Huge Job In Renovating Business

Industrial Employment And Payrolls Up But 17,000,000 Still Are Indigent

Ed. Note: This is the second in a series of 12 articles presenting water developments during the year drawn to a close.

By JOSEPH L. MILLER (AP)—President Roosevelt still faces a tremendous job in his attempt to rehabilitate the nation's business and industrial machinery. As 1934 comes to a close, government figures show industrial employment and payrolls are a great deal higher than they were when the President took office. Similar figures, as well as reports on dividends show business generally is in a healthier condition. But, more than 17,000,000 persons still are dependent on relief for at least part of their food, clothing and shelter. The American Federation of Labor estimated that at the state of winter there were 10,671,000 unemployed workers, 500,000 more than a year before.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Senator Clark, Missouri Democrat, said today he would move for a quick discussion in Congress on Army plans which he asserted would authorize the President to license all business in wartime and permit a complete censorship of the press.

Dern Proposes World's Finest Rivers System

War Secretary Would Spend 8 Billion In Development Of Nation's Waterway

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—Picturing a United States with "the most magnificent system of improved inland waterways in the world," Secretary Dern announced yesterday the Army Engineers Corps is spending $343,274,000 on them and has plans to spend $5,000,000,000 more, if approved.

A descriptive travelogue of improvements was given in Dern's annual report on civil activities of the engineers.

He reviewed projects which he said would provide a nation-wide network of waterways employing thousands, help business recovery, and make cheap transportation possible. The $343,274,000 he said is being spent on 126 projects.

An actual expenditure of $153,149,798 on river improvement work was reported for the 1934 fiscal year.

The department has studies, Dern added, providing for 1,400 other projects to cost $5,000,000,000, if and when approved.

The work, he said, also means navigation and flood control improvement "which will be of continuing benefit to the economic life of the nation."

Setting forth that the liquor was for her own use and for her family and guests and was not brought here for sale, Mrs. Hoffman attacked the validity of the old state law which prohibits such shipments into dry territory. The court took the case under advisement.

The new $10,000 State Farmers' Wholesale Market around which state and national markets yesterday gathered to participate in its dedication, also was opened officially for business, it was announced this morning by Harry M. Papworth, chairman of the Advisory and Supervisory Board.

In a statement addressed to the growers of Sanford and all Florida, Mr. Papworth established the immediate policy of operations at the market when he said, "The market was officially opened yesterday, and it will be open for business from now on. However, it is Commissioner Mayo's wish that from now until Jan. 15 we permit the use of the market's facilities to any grower or shipper desiring to transact business. There will be no charge for the use of platform space until Jan. 15."

"On that date," Mr. Papworth stated, "we expect that there will be a large supply of fruits and vegetables available, and that the market building will be completed. We will not begin to collect stall rents until Jan. 15 and until that date the growers and shippers of this section are invited to use platform space which is available."

Market Manager J. J. Michael will be on the ground every day, Mr. Papworth stated, to assist growers and shippers and to discuss any and all questions relating to the physical and financial aspects of the market.

A telephone already has been installed and Western Union wire men will announce that the branch office, located in the main building, will be ready for use in a few days. Despite the cloudy rainy weather it attracted a fair trade.

Any City Can Borrow If Possibility Of Low Operation Cost Can Be Established

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt is ready to loan federal funds to New York or other cities for the construction of municipal power plants if investigators prove they can be operated cheaper than by private companies.

The President took up the question today with Mayor LaGuardia of New York and City Commissioner Davidson. They have refused bids of private companies to supply next year's power on the ground that they are exorbitant.

And grumbling from the industry and new threats of municipal power operation, President Roosevelt's power policy committee yesterday arranged for a meeting to determine how much farther the government should travel down the power production path.

The question of the constitutionality of Tennessee Valley authority, raised by Edison Electric Institute, still simmered as the summons went out for the power policy committee to meet today.
