Sanford Engineer Knifed By Would-Be Robber

By Deane Jordan
and Donna Estes

A Sanford consulting engineer was knifed by a robber in Tallahassee after he was abducted at knife-point near the University of Florida campus.

B.C. "Cal" Conklin, 56, was listed in fair condition today at the Tallahassee Memorial Regional Medical Center with five slash wounds, three of which required stitches, according to Tallahassee police.

Conklin, of the Sanford engineering firm of Conklin, Porter and Holmes, is also an engineering consultant for Seminole County, and the cities of Sanford, Casselberry and Winter Springs.

According to police, Conklin, who was in Tallahassee on business, could not sleep around 11 p.m. Tuesday and went for a drive to see what the university looked like.

At a stop sign, a man yelled at him and gestured to indicate that something was wrong with Conklin's car. The man then jumped in the car and after a short conversation asked Conklin if he were interested in homosexual favors, police said.

When Conklin refused the overture, the man pulled a small knife and ordered Conklin to drive to a house in a populated section of Tallahassee unfamiliar to Conklin.

Once at the house, according to police, the man demanded Conklin's wallet. Conklin refused.

Conklin, an athletic man who exercises often, fought with the would-be robber and during the tussle received cuts on his chest and arms. The robber fled without getting the wallet.

Conklin, bleeding profusely, then walked to a nearby fast-food restaurant and asked for help.

"We are working it as an attempted robbery," said Sgt. Ron Hunter of the Tallahassee Joint City Robbery Task Force.

Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said Conklin had told one of his partners that he intended to leave the hospital Wednesday night and drive back home. His colleagues then contacted his wife, Phyllis, and asked that she go to Tallahassee to "sit on him" until his doctors say he is ready to travel.

For the last 24 years, Conklin has been a consultant for Sanford on numerous engineering projects, primarily utility construction.

According to Knowles, Conklin began consulting work with Sanford in 1958 when the city began making improvements in the public water system. He said Conklin is a dedicated man whose sense of community service has at times prompted him to work on city engineering problems without mentioning his efforts to municipal officials.

Recount Today In District 1 Race

By Donna Estes
Staff Writer

A computer recount of the District 1 Sanford City Commission race between John Mercer and A.A. "Mac" McClanahan was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. today at the County Services Building office of Seminole Supervisor of Elections Sandy Goard.

City Clerk Henry Tamm requested the recount after McClanahan filed a "protest of the election" on the basis of the "few votes differential between the two candidates."

When the absentee ballots were counted by the Sanford City Commission Tuesday, the margin between Mercer and McClanahan narrowed to 12 votes.

Meanwhile, City Commissioner Ned Yancey, who came in third in a three-way contest for mayor, said today he "will not endorse either" Bettye Smith,

Mercer

McClanahan

the front-runner, or Thomas Speer, her opponent in the Dec. 18 runoff for mayor. He said both have asked for his endorsement.

"I release my supporters to use their best judgment in selecting the next mayor of Sanford," he said.

In the Mercer-McClanahan contested election, the results after the city commission acting as a canvassing board tabulated the absentees, showed that Mercer received 368 votes to 356 for McClanahan.

McClanahan, in a statement to the city commission said that persons who do not reside in District 1 were allowed to vote in the contest while others who do reside in District 1 were denied the right to vote.

Tamm said, however, before that issue can be investigated McClanahan will have to go to the circuit court and get a court order.

McClanahan said today he is reviewing voter rolls in Districts 1 and 2 in an attempt to verify what voters are listed in the wrong districts.

Whether he takes the issue to court "depends on how many discrepancies I find. If it is an overwhelming number, I'll probably consider going to court," McClanahan said.

Meanwhile, the mayor's race and the contest for District 2 city

Recount Puts Gunter In Runoff

A recount by hand of ballots in the three-man District 5 Longwood commission race showed David R. Gunter Sr. will be the one to face Larry Goldberg in the Dec. 18 run-off. Results of the recount, done today in the Sanford office of Sandra Goard, Seminole County Supervisor of Elections, showed Goldberg getting 665 votes; Gunter, 408; and the incumbent, William Mitchell, 403.

The hand count was necessary after a machine count Wednesday failed to register three of the votes originally tallied for the incumbent Bill Mitchell. The recounts were necessary for David R. Gunter Sr. and Mitchell because there was less than .5 percent margin between them as the result of Tuesday's election. The count Tuesday night for the District 5 race was Larry Goldberg.

Reagan Wants To Cut Pay Of Federal Employees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has proposed a one-year 5 percent pay cut for federal civilian employees, starting January 1986, as part of his drive to slash the deficit, administration officials said today.

Reagan also is proposing a one-year freeze of cost-of-living increases for federal retirees. Officials said the president has not yet decided whether to freeze military pay and pensions.

The president was to meet with Republican congressional leaders this morning to tell them of the specific cuts and get their reaction. First reactions late Wednesday from members of both parties were skeptical.

"It isn't going to fly," predicted Rep. Bill Green, R-N.Y.

Officials said that Reagan plans calls for the elimination of the Small Business Administration, the Export-Import Bank's program of subsidized lending in 1986 and the Legal Services Corporation which the president has long wanted to scrap but has been blocked each time by Congress.

Deep cuts also were proposed in spending on college student aid, farm price subsidies and urban development grants, including highway grants and mass transit subsidies including those for Amtrak.

Also proposed is a freeze on programs for the needy, including food stamps and aid to the aged, blind and handicapped, officials said.

Strong opposition is expected allowed to become effective, officials said.

Hours after a Cabinet meeting Wednesday, budget director David Stockman briefed House Republicans and a document indicating the scope of the cuts was obtained by United Press International.

According to Rep. Olympia Snowe, R-Maine, Stockman said military and civil service pay would be frozen next year and cost-of-living increases for federal and military retirees would be eliminated.

The document prepared by Stockman included a reference to an $8 billion "savings shortfall" from the $42 billion sought in spending cuts — an obvious allusion to the Pentagon budget that comes under the knife next week after Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger's return from Europe.

The brunt of the budget cuts would fall on many of the same domestic programs that were slashed in 1981, Reagan's first year in office, because he has exempted Social Security from reductions and so-called entitlement programs are required to go up if the number of people eligible for federal assistance goes up.

Many of Reagan's proposals could be accomplished only by changing the statutes that established the programs he wants to cut, and the entire package of reductions would have to pass Congress to go into effect.

Toll Free Service To Orlando Backed

Proposed toll-free telephone service to the Orlando area for north Seminole County received the unanimous support of Seminole's Council of Local Governments Wednesday night.

The group, at the request of Seminole County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff, adopted a resolution directed to both Southern Bell Telephone Co. and United Telephone Co. to implement toll-free service to Orlando as soon as possible and to report to the county when this will be done.

Kirchhoff said the toll-free service would benefit for the most part areas north of Lake Mary Boulevard, adding, however, there are scattered areas south of Lake Mary Boulevard, such as in Mandarin subdivision on E.E. Williamson Road which is served by Bell Telephone and thus must pay tolls for Orlando calls.

He said toll-free service would help commerce, the county government, Sanford and Lake Mary and their residents.

States Challenge Acid Rain Rule

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Outraged Northeastern states went to court today to challenge an Environmental Protection Agency decision denying their request for agency action to reduce sulfur emissions in the industrial Midwest.

New York and Maine officials said they filed suit today in the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington seeking to overturn the EPA's denial Wednesday of their petitions asking for a 30 percent to 40 percent reduction in sulfur emissions in seven Midwestern states, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and New Jersey are expected to join the suit.

The EPA said New York, Maine and Pennsylvania had not proved allegations in their petitions that sulfur emissions from the industrial Midwest and border states were contributing significantly to air pollution in the Northeast.

EPA officials also said allegations that the Midwest sulfur emissions were causing acid rain in the Northeast could not be addressed by the EPA because the petitions were filed under the federal Clean Air Act — which does not regulate acid rain.

Hijackers Threaten To Blow-Up Plane

2 Hostages Killed; 1 Escapes

KUWAIT (UPI) — Hijackers threatening to blow apart a loaded Kuwaiti passenger plane today killed two more hostages inside the aircraft at Tehran airport, but a third escaped despite the gunfire, Iranian officials said.

State-run Tehran radio said the two men were killed in a clash with the five hijackers of the jetliner, commandeered to Tehran with 161 passengers and crew aboard. The men were not identified.

The report, monitored in Paris, said a photographer was allowed to take pictures of the corpses through the door of the plane.

"They did not allow me to enter the plane. I saw only the heads of the corpses," the unnamed photographer told the Tehran radio reporter.

"I saw only two of the hijackers. In the hand of one of them was a Colt revolver, in the hand of the other, a grenade. They spoke in Arabic and English."

The radio report came shortly after Iran's state-owned news agency, IRNA, said shooting was heard from the plane as one of the hostages escaped and took refuge with Iranian officials.

The report said the man, a Pakistani, was taken to a hospital. It was not clear whether he was injured or just in shock.

The deaths brought to three the number of passengers killed since the Kuwaiti Airways plane was hijacked Tuesday.

A Kuwaiti government delegation arrived in Tehran today to negotiate with five hijackers who are threatening to blow up the airliner and 87 remaining hostages unless Kuwait releases 21 prisoners held for a wave of bombings against U.S. and French targets in Kuwait last December. Kuwait has rejected the demands.

The delegation, headed by a high-ranking Foreign Ministry official, arrived as the hostages began their third day locked up

NATION IN BRIEF

Veteran Negotiator Nitze Back In Arms Control Process

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Paul Nitze, who for a generation has represented the United States in arms talks with the Soviets, will be the chief adviser to Secretary of State George Shultz as the superpowers begin talking again.

Nitze, 77, who led the last round of talks with the Soviets that collapsed last year, was named by President Reagan Wednesday as Shultz's adviser in negotiations that start when the secretary of state meets Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Geneva, Switzerland, Jan. 7 and 8.

Nitze, who has served in Republican and Democratic administrations since Franklin D. Roosevelt, also could ultimately oversee the weekly negotiations on strategic arms and medium range missiles.

Nitze, who has served in the Pentagon and State Department, is regarded as an intelligent, skillful and tough negotiator not consumed by ideology, bureaucratic supremacy or excessive ambition.

He has unquestioned conservative credentials and has a hard view of the Soviet system. He was a critic of the SALT 1 arms control treaty signed by President Carter but never ratified.

More Food Aid Sent To Africa

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has designated another $125 million in food aid to be shipped to famine victims in Ethiopia and other African nations, tapping a 7-year-old humanitarian food reserve for the first time.

M. Peter McPherson, administrator of the Agency for International Development, said the United States and other nations have expedited 100,000 tons of aid over the last several days to meet the immediate crisis in Ethiopia.

Situation getting desperate, page 6B so the food pipeline is filled until February. The United States even diverted a ship bound for India to Africa.

But, McPherson said, "in no way would I suggest that the crisis is over."

The newest aid — likely to reach Africa in a couple of months — includes $50 million worth of wheat, 300,000 tons, drawn from a 4-million-ton food security reserve established in 1980 to provide a food aid buffer.

The reserve also was established to take wheat off the market when President Carter embargoed grain bound for the Soviet Union.

This is the first time wheat has been drawn from the humanitarian reserve.

CIA Booklet Violated Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A CIA booklet that instructs Nicaraguan rebels in guerrilla warfare broke a 1982 law that forbids any U.S. aid for attempts to overthrow the Sandinista government in Managua, the House Intelligence Committee concluded.

The committee also said Wednesday the use of language in the manual that appeared to suggest how to assassinate political figures was the result of negligence by the spy agency's managers.

It is theoretically possible that CIA officials could be prosecuted for producing and distributing the manual but such a step is highly unlikely. The committee made clear when it issued its brief statement that it has all but dropped its probe into the matter.

The committee report laid little blame directly on CIA Director William Casey, but individual panel members, including Chairman Edward Boland, D-Mass., said that as top man Casey shared some responsibility for the pamphlet.

Mrs. Smith received 1,273 in the machine vote plus 36 absentee ballots for a total of 1,309 as the front-runner. Speer received 871 in the machine count plus 46 absentee votes for a total of 917 and Yancey received 764 machine votes plus 19 absentee ballots for a total of 783.

Mrs. Smith and Speer are in the run-off on Dec. 18. The runoff is necessary because neither candidate received the required 50 percent plus one of the votes cast to win as required by the city charter.

For the District 2 contest, Bob Thomas won handily with 435 machine votes, 4 absentees for a total of 439.

His opponents, Larry Blair received 165 plus 11 absentees for a total of 176. C.B. Franklin got 75 machine votes and no absentees.

Yancey said today he has enjoyed his four years as a city commissioner and feels he helped the city.

Girl Attacked By 4 Or 5 Young Men

Abandoned House Scene Of Rape

A 15-year-old Oviedo girl and a 37-year-old Winter Park woman reported that they were raped in unrelated incidents.

The girl approached Oviedo policeman Kevin Ogleby at an Oviedo High School girl's basketball game at about 6:20 p.m. Wednesday and told him she had been hit over the head with a hard object and raped by four to five young men about 20 minutes earlier.

The attack reportedly occurred in an abandoned house on Mission Road, Oviedo, just outside the city limits. Seminole County sheriff's deputies were called to take over the case.

The girl was transported to Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, where she reportedly identified three 17-year-old suspects from looking at photos in the Oviedo High School yearbook. Two of the suspects are brothers and deputies report the assaults were riding in a tan Datsun. No arrests have been made.

In the other rape, the Winter Park woman told deputies that the rapist entered her home through an open sliding glass door at about 3:30 a.m. today. The man, who spoke in broken English, woke her up, threatened her with a knife and ordered her into the yard where he raped her, deputies reported.

After the attack the man accompanied the woman back into her apartment where he rifled her jewelry box and dresser drawers before leaving. Nothing was taken, the report said.

CANINE TRESPASSER

A Lake Mary man reportedly shot his neighbor's dog after it jumped up on his wife, nipped at his dog and then chased his pet ducks. The owner of the attacking dog has filed a complaint with the Lake Mary Police Department, accusing the gunman of cruelty to animals.

According to a police report, Bob M. Ball, Jr. and his wife Baerbel, of 384 Terry Lane, were in their yard with their dog, which was leashed. They had just fed the dog and were preparing to feed their ducks when a dog belonging to Raymond Kroshnov, of 198 Ninth St., zipped out of its penned area and jumped on Mrs. Ball.

While she was screaming, the dog snapped at the Balls' dog and started chasing the ducks toward a lake on Ball's property. Ball then went into his house and got his shotgun, the report said.

Kroshnov, who was working on the other side of his house, was alerted to the commotion by his nephew and started chasing his dog, trying to catch him.

Ball got to him first and opened fire, wounding the dog in one of its back legs, the report said. Kroshnov called the police and took his dog to a veterinarian who removed over 30 pellets from the dog's leg.

It was the second time Kroshnov's dog attacked Ball's ducks, according to the report. The dog attacked and killed one duck Nov. 25.

JEWELRY HEIST

An unemployed Sanford man told police someone entered his home and took $7,000 worth of jewelry and money.

Harvey A. Goldstein, 45, of 107 Wilkens Circle, reported that between 1 and 5 p.m. Sunday, someone entered his home and took a $2,500 diamond cluster ring, a $1,500 woman's watch with diamonds, an 18-karat gold watch valued at $1,000, a $550 man's gold bracelet, a woman's gold wedding band with Hebrew inscriptions, a $300 man's watch, and $650 in cash.

RR TRACKS ROBBERY

A woman was robbed at knife-point as she walked along railroad tracks west of Elm Ave. in Sanford shortly before 10 a.m. Monday.

Patricia Ann Gilley, 23, of Sanford, told police a man armed with a knife took her purse and fled north on the tracks. The purse did not contain any money, she said. It was valued at $10.

ALMOST COLD CASH

A Sanford woman told police that someone took a wallet she had placed on the top of her refrigerator. The wallet contained $125.

Chinetta Schuler, 25, of 49 Lake Monroe Terrace, told police the theft occurred between 6 and 7 p.m. Sunday.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Fanny King, 85, of 23 Fern Park Mobile Home Park, Fern Park, gave sheriff's deputies the name of a suspect who may have taken $100 worth of clothes from her home on Nov. 25. The suspect also wrote a check for $180, threatened her and made her sign it, a sheriff's report said.

A thief took a $950 flute from the car of May Heller, 3439 Astoria Court, Winter Park, while the vehicle was parked at Butler Plaza, state Road 436, Casselberry, around 2 p.m. Tuesday, deputies reported.

George D. Griffin, 60, of Orlando, an Orlando city employee at the Iron Bridge sewage plant, reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that his wallet disappeared around 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and was later found in a trash can outside a woman's restroom at the plant. A thief had lifted $1,008 from the wallet.

Jose O. Martinez, 20, of Altamonte Springs, chased a thief who grabbed $700 from a cash box at Gary's Radiator, 104 Brewer St., Altamonte Springs, but the bandit got away.

Martinez told deputies that he was working in the garage section of the shop at about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday when he looked into the office and saw the thief take the cash which had been stashed in an unlocked desk drawer. The robber fled across state Road 436, deputies reported.

Tools and a tool box valued at $655 were stolen from the carport of Emory E. Jones, 58, of 394 Clemons Drive, Altamonte Springs. Deputies report the theft occurred between Sunday and Tuesday.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Thomas Francis Ford, 37, of Phillipaburg, N.J., was arrested at 2 a.m. Wednesday on U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park, after he was seen driving his pickup truck without its headlights on.

—Michael Douglas Donohue, 34, of Kissimmee, at 9:57 p.m. Tuesday after he was spotted driving with an expired license tag on Lake Mary Boulevard, Lake Mary. He was also charged with driving with a suspended license.

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following calls.

Tuesday

—11:43 a.m., 2469 S. Airport Blvd., rescue. A 58-year-old man who had a nose bleed was taken to the hospital.

Sports Editor Sentenced For Leaving Crash Scene

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Larry Alan "Sam" Cook, Evening Herald sports editor, was sentenced Wednesday to five years probation and ordered to complete 1,500 hours of community service for leaving the scene of an accident involving personal injuries.

The state had asked for a sentence of one year in jail.

Cook, 33, of Sheoah Boulevard, Winter Springs, was also ordered by Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. to surrender his driver's license for five years and participate in an alcohol abuse treatment program. Davis withheld adjudication of guilt so if Cook successfully completes his sentence he will not have a conviction on his record.

Cook, who could have been sentenced to five years, was arrested at 9:45 p.m. June 16 shortly after Tom Varner, 31, of 155 Fairway Drive, Sanford, was struck by Cook's car. Varner was cycling along U.S. Highway 17-92 at Button Road, Casselberry.

While Cook did not stop at the scene, the sound of the impact alerted witnesses who called police and emergency medical personnel. Varner, who attended the sentencing, was found on the shoulder of the road and transported to South Seminole Community Hospital, Longwood. Minutes later, police arrested Cook who was changing a flat tire on his car near the Casselberry police station. He told police he was changing the tire so he could return to the scene. Though he refused to take a breathalyzer test, a blood sample showed his blood alcohol level to be 0.15 percent. A reading of 0.10 is considered legally under the influence in Florida.

Cook was charged with DUI and leaving the scene of an accident with injuries but pleaded no contest to leaving the scene of the accident. In exchange for the plea, the state dropped the DUI charge.

At Wednesday's sentencing, nine persons, some of them school principals and some involved in sports, spoke on Cook's behalf, asking Davis not to sentence him to jail because of his history of working with youth in the community.

Assistant State Attorney Steve Brady asked the judge to sentence Cook to one year in the county jail. The state sentencing guideline recommended a sentence ranging from probation to one year. If Cook did not get some jail time, Brady said, he would be getting off "with nothing" for a sentence.

Brady said that since most of those who spoke on Cook's behalf worked with area youth, he asked them if it would be a good influence upon those youths not to give Cook jail time for severely injuring Varner and not stopping to give aid.

After Brady told those who spoke on Cook's behalf of Varner's injuries and that Cook left the scene without rendering aid, he asked if any of the men had changed their mind about their recommendation. None did.

In issuing the sentence, Davis also stipulated that Cook's community service utilize his writing abilities and that he study the incidents of people leaving the scene of accidents and write articles about the behavior.

Davis said Cook could apply for a business permit to drive only to and from work-related activities.

SEMINOLE COUNTY COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT APPLICATION

Seminole County is considering applying to the Department of Community Affairs (DCA) for a Small Cities Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) for up to $650,000. These funds must be used for one of the following purposes:

1. To benefit low and moderate income persons; or
2. To aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight; or
3. To meet other community development needs having particular urgency because existing conditions pose a serious and immediate threat to the health and welfare of the community and where other financial resources are not available to meet such needs.

The category of activities for which these funds may be used are in the areas of housing and neighborhood and commercial revitalization and include such physical improvement activities as housing rehabilitation, clearance, water and sewer improvements, drainage, and neighborhood facilities. Additional information regarding eligible activities will be provided at the Public Hearing.

For each activity that is proposed, at least 51% of the funds must benefit low and moderate income persons.

In developing an application for submission to DCA, Seminole County must plan to minimize displacement of persons as a result of CDBG activities and develop a plan to assist displaced persons.

The Public Hearing to receive citizen views concerning community needs will be held in Room W-120 of the County Services Bldg. 1101 East 1st St., Sanford, at 7:00 P.M. December 12, 1984. For more information contact the Seminole County Planning Office 321-1130 Ext. 371.

Mascotte Searches For Clues To Who Blew Up City Hall

MASCOTTE (UPI) — The investigation continues in Lake County into the explosion and fire that destroyed the Mascotte City Hall.

Meanwhile, a makeshift city hall has been set up in the sales office of a used-car lot in Mascotte, a town of less than 2,000 residents in west Lake County near the Sumter County line.

The blast leveled the city hall in the wee hours of Monday morning. The explosion followed three unsuccessful attempts in the past few weeks to damage the building.

So far, police in the Lake County community said they have no suspects.

The explosion and fire at the city hall apparently were set off by a bomb.

Nobody was hurt in Monday's blast.

No Jail For Naughty Card Seller

ORLANDO (UPI) — A store clerk convicted of selling obscene greeting cards to two teenage girls working undercover for the police is happy he will not be spending Christmas in jail.

Richard Rogers was fined $750 by Circuit Judge Ted Coleman, who also imposed a sentence of probation rather than jail time for Rogers.

In addition to the probation and fine, Coleman ordered Rogers not to work at the store — called the Infinite Mushroom — past Christmas, which is when the clerk said he plans to quit and go to college.

A jury found Rogers guilty in October. The following day, store owners Nancy Noyes and Wayne Wiener pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of displaying obscene materials to minors. Noyes and Wiener were placed on probation and fined $750.

Since Rogers was convicted and the owners pleaded guilty in October, the cards have been placed in an area of the store posted for adults only.

Pet Skunk Lands Woman In Jail

NAPLES (UPI) — Debbie Sizemore is in jail today because Stinky, her pet skunk, is roaming free.

Sizemore, 30, a divorced mother of two, was sentenced to 30 days in jail for refusing to immediately surrender Stinky to animal control officials investigating a possible rabies case. Stinky bit a neighbor in October and officials wanted to examine the skunk.

Sizemore, 30, of East Naples was sentenced Tuesday by Collier County Judge Eugene Turner who also fined her $459, and ordered her to pay the cost of medical treatment for the woman bitten by the skunk.

When animal control officers came for the skunk, Sizemore's daughter, Karl, apparently tried to hide Stinky in a treehouse and the animal escaped. It has not been seen since and its 'victim,' Dorothy Woods, was forced to have painful rabies shots.

Former Guard Jailed After Alleged Threats On Graham, 3 Others

PENSACOLA (UPI) — A fired prison guard who allegedly threatened Gov. Bob Graham and three other state officials had been under federal surveillance for months and was jailed without bond when he bought a silencer-equipped pistol.

Julian Gerald Richter, 55, of Cottondale was arrested Tuesday by undercover agents with the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

"Julian Richter was charged with illegal possession of a pistol with an attached silencer," DeWitt Fincannon, agent in charge of the Pensacola office, announced Wednesday.

The pistol was a .22-caliber Ruger automatic.

"This wasn't a surprise," said Fred Schneyer, a spokesman for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement.

The state corrections department had asked the federal agency to investigate Richter several months ago, Fincannon said. Richter once worked as a guard at the Florida State Prison in Starke, and at the Belle Glades Correctional Institution, but had twice been fired.

"It seems that Julian Richter was a former corrections officer who had lost his job and had made several attempts to regain employment," Fincannon said. "They were concerned that Richter posed a threat to the director, Louie Wainright, and also that he had made some threatening remarks regarding the governor and lieutenant governor."

Richter also allegedly threatened state Rep. Sam Mitchell, D-Cottondale.

"Richter came to Pensacola to meet with one of our undercover agents in order to obtain firearms and explosives," Fincannon said. "The meeting lasted about an hour and a half... during which time Richter discussed the weapons and how he might use them. Then he was arrested."

Fincannon described Richter's alleged threats as "vague."

He said before Richter was arrested, "there was some discussion about state officials, nothing real definite. We were concerned there was a potential threat to the governor, the lieutenant governor and Mr. Wainright."

Comparable Worth And Looney Tunes

Clarence Pendleton, at a recent news conference in Washington, D.C., called the comparable-worth concept "the looniest idea since Looney Tunes."

"Looney Tunes and Merrie Melodies" was the Warner Bros. cartoon series started in the 1930s starring Bugs Bunny, Porky Pig and Daffy Duck.

Pendleton is the man appointed by President Reagan to be chairman of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

Comparable worth is a reference to the effort by the women's rights movement to raise the pay of certain jobs traditionally held by women so that it would be comparable to the pay of certain jobs traditionally held by men.

As Pendleton said, equal pay for equal work is a principle well established in law and public policy. So is the principle of equal opportunity for qualified persons to be considered for employment to any job, without regard to sex, race, national origin or religion.

But comparable pay is a new concept of equity. It would require somebody to make the comparisons. And that somebody would most likely be a politician or a judge. If the courts and Congress are going to start comparing jobs across sexual lines, where will the process stop? Will they soon be telling us that prison guards should make as much as plumbers? Or that editorial writers are underpaid in relation to medical doctors?

These are deep judgments indeed. We would rather they were made by the impersonal laws of supply and demand, on the free market.

It would be easy, in our eager pursuit of absolute justice and fairness, to go over the edge and fall into a society in which all the most important decisions were made by judges, politicians, bureaucrats and other functionaries. Do we want these people telling us what we are worth?

Pendleton's pungent language was inelegant but telling. The comparable-worth idea is not loony but it is a little scary.

Dissent Squashed

Rumbles of repression are rolling northward from Chile, but the U.S. government, preoccupied with Central America, seems curiously deaf to it.

Focusing on political turmoil in one part of the hemisphere, in this case Central America, while ignoring it in another is shortsighted.

In his latest attempt at squashing dissent, Pinochet's troops rounded up thousands of alum dwellers and incarcerated them in a soccer stadium for interrogation.

Then, armed civilians, undoubtedly with the blessing of the regime, ransacked the headquarters of the Democratic Alliance, a center-left opposition coalition.

These were attempts to root out opponents of the military regime and to stifle a two-day mass protest that had been planned later this month.

That is the way Pinochet, who has ruled since he toppled the Salvador Allende regime in 1973, has chosen to stay in power.

Chileans have grown increasingly unhappy with Pinochet and his failed economic policies. The general doesn't want to hear their complaints. He has responded with force. He's made it clear he's no lover of democracy, or even, for that matter, opposing political parties.

Why should this matter to Americans? History has shown that in Latin America, lengthy, repressive dictatorships tend to create a breeding ground for communism. If the regimes last long enough, disgruntled business people and other moderate citizens become the political bedfellows of the extremists.

Just such circumstances helped Fidel Castro seize control in Cuba and the Sandinistas take power in Nicaragua.

The United States can't tell Pinochet how to run Chile, but its diplomats can surely express displeasure with his unwillingness to move toward democracy and his repeated human rights violations. It's in our own best interests.

BERRY'S WORLD

By Susan Loden

Thousands of Floridians are facing the holiday season with no hope of the traditional Christmas feast. Even a simple daily meal is a rare treat for many.

In an effort to brighten the season the 10,000 Sun Bank of Florida employees are joining together to collect non-perishable food for the needy in the "SunSanta" program.

Each employee of Sun Bank will donate at least one food item and the general public is also invited to contribute food to the program.

All food collected will be distributed through local charities and non-profit organizations.

More than 10,000 meals are expected to be provided through the service. Collection centers will be established in Sun Bank branch locations and donations can be made at any Sun Bank office.

"Sun Bankers can best help their neighbors if the donated foods are distributed within the town or city where each branch is located," said Phillip R. Searle, chairman of Sun Bank. "This is consistent with our creed 'Build your community and you'll build your bank.'"

The food collection program is an extension of Sun Bank employees' efforts to serve their communities through a program established this year and called "SunService to the Community."

"The food collection program is another way our employees can do something positive for their communities. Sun Bank's role is to help the employees organize a program," Searle said.

The food collected in Sanford will be distributed through the Sanford Christian Sharing Center in an effort to insure that it will feed the needy in our area. Sanford Sun Bank vice president Bob Douglas said.

The Sanford program has just kicked off and Douglas said as donations come in the bank will keep the Sharing Center informed as to what type of foods are being received and it will be up to the Center to determine how best to distribute the goods.

For information on the program call Sun Bank.

Famine Can Be Banished

SPRING, Texas (NEA) — Famine is spreading throughout sub-Saharan Africa, hunger remains a chronic problem in developing nations on other continents, and millions of people are undernourished even in the world's developed countries.

But only about half of the planet's arable land is being farmed in any fashion. Agricultural activity in many developing nations has attained only about one-third of its potential productivity because the requisite technical skills, supporting infrastructure and investment capital have never been made available to impoverished farmers.

Expanding the global food supply to meet the requirements of a constantly increasing population is not a simple task. But former Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman believes that goal can be attained through a partnership of multinational corporations and small farmers.

"Half a billion human beings are seriously malnourished in a world that could banish hunger," argue Freeman, now chairman of the Business International Corp., and Ruth Karen, a vice president of that New York-based firm.

"This situation is not only unnecessary, it is unacceptable — morally, socially and politically," they note in a paper presented at a 1982 conference here and incorporated in a newly published book titled "An Inquiry into the Nature of Sustainable Societies: The Role of the Private Sector."

The small farmer-big business partnership already has proven effective in a number of countries in Latin America, Asia and Africa. Some examples:

In the Philippines, Castle & Cooke contracts with individual farmers for the production of bananas. The company arranges for needed financing, supplies the growers with specially developed seeds, provides technical assistance and has developed irrigation and distribution systems.

At a centralized processing facility, Filipino laborers are trained to perform skilled and semiskilled jobs, while other local residents fill clerical, professional and supervisory positions.

In Nigeria, British American Tobacco has developed an agricultural operation which produces not only tobacco for export but also food crops — including maize, millet, yam and cassava — for local consumption.

The company provides mechanical equipment to clear and prepare the land, thus freeing the natives from the backbreaking task of clearing brush and trees by hand. The farmers then are responsible for cultivating individual plots.

Facts Confirm Charges Against Ky

WASHINGTON — Last March, I had a run-in with CBS's super sleuth, Mike Wallace, who challenged a column I had written about the Vietnamese under world.

I charged that some South Vietnamese generals, whom the U.S. Army had saved from the communists and had airlifted to the United States, are now operating a Mafia-like organization that is preying upon Vietnamese communities here.

"Some of the more ruthless members of the South Vietnamese hierarchy — the taste of power still in their mouths — were not content to retire to a suburban life, American style," I wrote. "They allegedly formed a subterranean network and continued the plundering that they had learned in their official capacities in Saigon."

I quoted from a confidential crime report, which alleged that they are "involved in extortion, drugs, loan-sharking, gambling, prostitution, smuggling, welfare fraud, assault and murder."

Wallace followed up my investigation with his TV cameras, viewing the goings-on through rose-tinted lenses. "All the Vietnamese we talked with," he told his vast "60 Minutes" audience, "agree ... that Anderson's story and others like it that focus on crime in the Vietnamese refugee community are distortions and ignore the fact that most Vietnamese are law-abiding, hard working and grateful to the United States for giving them a home."

In fact, I stressed that most Vietnamese refugees are not only good citizens but, indeed, are the victims of the Vietnamese underworld. I also added: "Though the vast majority of the refugees are law-abiding, they are reluctant to talk to police."

Apparently, they were also reluctant to talk to Wallace, who was a bit naive to expect them to confirm my allegations on coast-to-coast television.

The President's Commission on Organized Crime is more realistic. It recently produced a witness but kept him behind a screen and assigned a dozen federal marshals to guard him. This witness confirmed my story.

Meanwhile, an intelligence document on Vietnamese crime, stamped "For Official Use Only," has been distributed to a few key police departments throughout the country. My associates Donald Goldberg and Corky Johnson obtained a copy. Here are the highlights:

— Vietnamese criminals are subtle at the art of extortion. According to the manual, they rarely demand payments for protection. Instead, "individuals representing themselves as members of Vietnamese resistance organizations or political groups have approached businesses for donations to the cause, warning that refusal to cooperate will result in being denounced as a communist, or in direct violence."

— The Vietnamese fear Vietnamese criminals above all others, declares the manual, "because of a perceived potential for senseless violence." Often "the victim's entire family will be held at gunpoint and the house ransacked. In several noteworthy cases, the victims of such robberies have been killed or wounded even though they offered no resistance."

— "Prostitution is one of the most serious crime problems to afflict the Vietnamese community," the manual notes. Young women are often forced into prostitution and

Therapy Without Drugs

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Cognitive therapy — the use of therapy to think a person through his imagined problems and shortcomings — can be just as effective as antidepressant drugs in treating moderately to severely depressed patients.

That is the conclusion of a study at the Washington University School of Medicine conducted by Dr. George E. Murphy, who worked with 70 people suffering from depression.

Under cognitive therapy, a patient and therapist develop a list of the problems that trouble the patient. The therapist then guides the patient through the list, explaining the illogic and inconsistency behind his attitudes.

Cognitive therapy originated in the 1950s at the University of Pennsylvania, through the work of Aaron T. Beck. He found that depressed patients had a certain frame of thinking, often seeing the world in negative, even hopeless terms.

In Murphy's study, one-fourth of the group received cognitive therapy alone, and another fourth received only antidepressants. A third group received both treatments, and a fourth had cognitive therapy and a dummy drug.

Study results showed that cognitive therapy patients had the same rate of improvement as those treated with drugs. And the dual therapy groups responded about the same as the single therapy groups.

The most commonly prescribed antidepressants today — tricyclic antidepressants — relieve depression but also often produce sleepiness, lightheadedness, dry mouth, constipation and stimulate the appetite.

"Not everyone wants to take medication for their depression," Murphy said. "They may have had unsatisfactory results with drug therapy or they may just not be psychologically disposed to accept medication as the appropriate treatment."

He added that antidepressants are potentially dangerous to patients with certain cardiac problems or suicidal tendencies.

An even more promising footnote to the study, Murphy said, is the indication that patients who receive cognitive therapy may stay undepressed longer than those who receive drug therapy.

Murphy said therapy may not be the answer for all depressed patients, because of the time and high cost involved, but has been proven effective for those who would rather help themselves or cannot tolerate the side effects of antidepressants.

JEFFREY HART

CIA-Watergate Link

The possibility of CIA involvement in the Watergate affair is not a new idea. Sen. Howard Baker touched on it in his Ervin Committee minority report. Minority Counsel Fred Thompson and H.R. Haldeman raised the possibility to a probability in their books on Watergate. But the nature of such CIA involvement remained murky.

Now comes Jim Hougan, the Washington editor of Harper's with "Secret Agenda: Watergate, Deep Throat and the CIA" (Random House), a book that is both startling and persuasive. His case is largely circumstantial and based upon inference and it might not stand up in a court of law. After all, much of the evidence was immediately destroyed, Nixon being just about the only person involved who did not resort to destroying his tapes. But Mr. Hougan has built a formidable case nevertheless. He has thrown a whole new light on Watergate. He is also a virtuoso of the raunchier aspects of Washington life, the sex both straight and kinky, the multiple spy rings both government and private, the pervasive corruption.

Until Hougan, the reason for the Watergate break-in, or break-ins, has never been very clear. To the question of why anyone would want to bug Larry O'Brien or the Democratic National Committee the answer was never very clear. It has been vaguely assumed that Liddy, Hunt and the rest were after "political intelligence," or perhaps after something linking Nixon to Howard Hughes, or maybe evidence of a connection of some sort between the Democrats and Fidel Castro.

Nothing like that. According to Hougan, Hunt and James McCord never really retired from the CIA, which continued to provide them with a broad range of "institutional support." The offices of the Democratic Committee were never bugged. The CIA, however, was interested in a call-girl ring operating out of the Columbia Plaza Hotel, and bugged its phones. This call-girl ring had many important clients from both political parties, foreign political figures including Koreans, and so forth.

Just why the CIA was interested in all of this sexual activity is not altogether clear, though one section of the CIA was involved in constructing "psychological profiles" of important people. Presumably these profiles would allow the agency to estimate or predict modes of political behavior. Who knows? They could even be used for blackmail purposes.

The CIA had little affection for the Nixon administration. Its establishment was furious that Director Richard Helms was being replaced and reassigned to Teheran. But the CIA could not anticipate the disastrous "cover up" that would eventually burst into the headlines and bring Nixon down.

Hougan shows convincingly that both the Democrats on the Ervin Committee had the media, notably Woodward and Bernstein, had powerful motives for ignoring the pervasive CIA presence.

The reader will have to make up his own mind about the credibility of Hougan's evidence. The sheer quantity of material he has uncovered is staggering. The Washington he depicts sometimes appears to contain more plots than people. But he has done a tremendous job of investigative reporting, and I believe that he has found the truth about Watergate.

NOW's Goldsmith: Abortion Clinic Bombings Are Terrorism

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president of the National Organization for Women says FBI Director William Webster's decision not to consider abortion clinic bombings as terrorism is wrong because the attacks try to intimidate patients.

Webster, in a breakfast meeting Tuesday with reporters in his office, said he did not consider the bombings — 20 of them this year alone — to be acts of terrorism and investigations of the attacks would not be given priority consideration.

"We have to be pretty careful about defining terrorism in the same way you have to be pretty careful about defining obscenity or pornography," he said.

But he left open the possibility of classifying the bombings as terrorism later if the FBI finds there is an organized group or groups responsible.

"The objective of the anti-abortion cases is social and while you could make an argument that a social objective could be an act of terrorism ... It does not really meet the definition of acts of violence committed in furtherance of an attack on a government or a government program," he said.

The FBI later provided a definition from an FBI manual that said a terrorist act is the "unlawful use of force or violence against persons or property to intimidate or coerce the government, the civilian population or any segment thereof in furtherance of political or social objectives."

Webster said that while bombings of abortion clinics fail for the time being to meet his test of what constitutes terrorism, bank robberies for political ends do qualify.

"There is a political aspect to bombing a bank to protest ... a government-protected function," Webster said.

NOW President Judy Goldsmith disagreed with Webster's interpretation.

"I cannot imagine anything that would more appropriately fit," she said, adding that abortion clinic bombers use "vigilante and terrorist tactics ... to intimidate and coerce the population into not exercising their constitutionally protected right to safe, legal abortion."

"It's clearly aimed at accomplishing something that can't be accomplished legally," she said. "Whether they have a name of a group that's doing it or not does not undo the reality that clinics are being bombed or burned at the rate of one every two weeks."

Feminist groups, complaining bitterly that the administration does not investigate abortion bombings aggressively, earlier this year staged protests outside the White House.

A spokesman for the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, which has been investigating the bombings, said there have been 20 abortion clinic bombings this year.

The spokesman said five people have been arrested for eight of the attacks.

Sanford Man Facing Year In Jail For Coke Deal

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A Sanford man who was arrested after police officers watched a drug deal from a rooftop, has pleaded guilty to possession of a controlled substance.

Ray Alan Chestnut, 30, of 219 W. 17th St., entered the plea Monday before Seminole Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. who set Feb. 1 for sentencing. Chestnut could receive up to a year in the county jail.

According to court records, Sanford detective Mike Ansley reported seeing Chestnut approach a suspected drug seller in front of Franklin's Rooming House on 13th Street, Sanford, on July 27. The two men apparently negotiated a drug sale and Ansley saw the seller go into the hallway of the rooming house, take a foil packet from a power switch box, and hand it over to the buyer, the report said.

Chestnut opened the packet beneath a street light and Ansley said he saw him smell and taste its contents. He then placed the pack in his shirt pocket and ran east on 13th Street to Hunter Ice Company where officer David Semones caught and arrested him. During a search, a foiled packet of cocaine was found in his pocket, according to a police report.

When Semones approached the boarding house, the seller reportedly ran out the back door but Semones caught up with him in Pearl Brown's Bar, 516 E. 5th St. and arrested him. Eight packets of cocaine and $113 were confiscated, the report said.

The alleged dealer, Kermon Lee Jessie, 25, of 11 Carver Court, Sanford, is scheduled to be tried this month.

Other pleas heard recently by Mize:

—Anthony Natoli Jr., 32, also known as Howard Jay Kolins, of 604 Endsley Circle, Altamonte Springs, pleaded guilty to fraudulent use of a credit card. He was arrested June 19 after reportedly using two stolen credit cards to purchase gasoline and food. He is scheduled to be sentenced Feb. 1. He could receive up to a year in jail.

—Kevin Lee Sweeney, 20, of 134 Lemon Lane, Longwood, pleaded guilty to resisting arrest with violence. He was arrested Oct. 11 after he punched a police officer who stopped him for a traffic infraction. He then fled but was caught by the officer he assaulted. Mize scheduled sentencing for Feb. 1. Sweeney could receive a year in the county jail.

—Minas Michael Candaras, 30, of 200 Maitland Ave., #202 Altamonte Springs, pleaded no contest to possession of a controlled substance (cocaine). Candaras was arrested with two other men July 12 after reportedly buying cocaine from Seminole County Drug Task Force agents. He could receive up to a year in jail when sentenced Feb. 1. The other men, Charles M. Sawyer, 42, of Orlando, and Dean Steven Leibowitz, 31, of 1053 Spring Garden St., Altamonte Springs, are scheduled to be tried this month.

—Stephen Dale Hunter, 27, of 2438 S. Yale Ave., Sanford, pleaded guilty to aggravated assault in connection with a June 22 incident in which Hunter threatened to blow a man's head off with a shotgun. Mize set sentencing for Feb. 15. Hunter could receive up to a year in the county jail.

—Randolph Washington, 23, of 519 E. 5th St., Sanford, pleaded guilty to burglarizing a Casselberry business around midnight Sept. 17. He was captured with the help of police dogs in Gulfside Supply, 415 Plumosa Drive. Deputies responded to the scene following the tripping of a silent alarm.

—Joseph Serafin Barbieri, 46, of 348 Tartan St., Longwood, pleaded guilty to violating probation for a 1974 crime by beating a woman with a wooden toy soldier. The beating occurred July 29. According to reports, Barbieri hit a Longwood woman — his roommate — with the toy soldier, then kicked and punched her. Mize scheduled sentencing for Jan. 4.

In sentencing cases before Mize, a Sanford man who pleaded guilty to sale or delivery of marijuana was sentenced to 2 years in prison.

Jeffrey Hunter, 26, of 1401 W. 14th St., was also ordered by Mize to pay the Public Defender's Office $150.

Hunter was arrested Aug. 17 after selling marijuana to an undercover officer in Sanford. When he was arrested, he reportedly had four bags of marijuana in his possession.

Within a few days after his arrest, Hunter was sentenced to 5 years in a separate case for selling cocaine to an undercover agent in January. The 2-year sentence is to follow the 5-year sentence. Mize ruled, Hunter has appealed the 5-year sentence but no decision has been issued by the 5th District Court of Appeal.

In other sentencing action: —Jerry Arthur Barnes, 22, of 242 Orienta Point, Altamonte Springs, arrested March 29, was sentenced by Mize to 2 years probation and fined $250. He was also ordered to be screened for participation in a drug abuse program and to complete 80 hours of community service. He was stopped by Altamonte Springs police after running a traffic light.

—Ronald David Rhinhart, 34, of Lake Markham Road, Sanford, was sentenced by Mize to 2 years probation. He was also ordered to pay a $250 fine, complete 80 hours of community service, spend 10 consecutive weekends in the Seminole County Jail and be screened for drug abuse treatment. He was arrested March 24 after police officers saw what appeared to be marijuana in his car's glove box during a routine traffic check.

Seminoles Shoot For No. 3 Tonight

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Coach Chris Marlette's Seminole cagers go after their third straight victory tonight at 8 when the Titusville Astronaut War Eagles invade Bill Fleming Gymnasium. Junior varsity action begins at 6:15 p.m.

The Marlette men subdued Titusville High and Apopka last weekend in the first Seminole Sunrise Kiwanis Invitational and nothing would make the third-year Tribe coach happier than to pick up some steam heading into Tuesday's big Five Star Conference opener with Seabreeze.

"We've played two pretty good ballgames," said Marlette Thursday morning. "The only thing I can find wrong is that we let down with our intensity a few times defensively. Otherwise, I'm real happy."

Marlette has gotten good mileage out of his starting five of seniors James Rouse, Ken Gordon and Rod Alexander along with junior Alvin Jones and flashy sophomore Rod Henderson.

Gordon has been in double figures both games and has been a hard worker on the boards and defensively. Although the Tribe front line is just 6-2, 6-3 and 5-10, it has outrebounded both opponents.

Gordon is very aggressive on the boards while Jones is a great leaper and Henderson is a smart position boardman. Henderson belied his tender years by taking over offensively against Apopka and finishing with 23 points.

Marlette said the area which has surprised him the most has been the Seminole's free throw prowess. Seminole, usually a notoriously poor free-throw shooting school, converted 18 of 22 against Titusville and 27 of 33 against Apopka for an eye-popping 46 of 55. That's a startling 83.6 percent.

"There's no telling why we're shooting better," said Marlette. "But we have worked on it more than ever in practice. We shoot under pressure (of laps), too. That may be the difference."

Marlette said tonight's opponent has some very good shooters but Astronaut isn't very tall or quick. "Their biggest guy is 6-4, so we should be able to rebound with them and press them."

The Tribe's combination of presses has been a key ingredient in the attack, too. The 'Noles have intertwined a 1-2-1-1 with a gambling 2-2-1 to harass the first two foes into numerous turnovers.

In tonight's JV opener, coach Tom Smith will start Todd Kniebe, Mike Franklin, James Denard, Rod Fossitt and Craig Dixon. Stephen Hathaway, Mike Edwards, Joe Holden and Pete Courlas provide the bench strength.

Walker Leads Frosh To 2nd Win

Craig Walker scored 16 points, grabbed 14 rebounds and blocked six shots as Seminole blew away Lake Mary in freshman basketball Wednesday night at Lake Mary High School. Seminole is 2-0 and the Rams are 0-1.

Despite the victory, head coach Bill Klein wasn't satisfied. "We played terrible defense and we didn't have a lot of offense," said Klein. "But we did beat them on the boards. We were awesome on the offensive boards."

Lake Mary broke to a 4-2 lead which caused Klein to switch to a man-to-man defense. The

Basketball

Seminoles then ran off 12 straight points with Jeff Blake and Andre Whitney leading the fastbreak for a 14-4 lead.

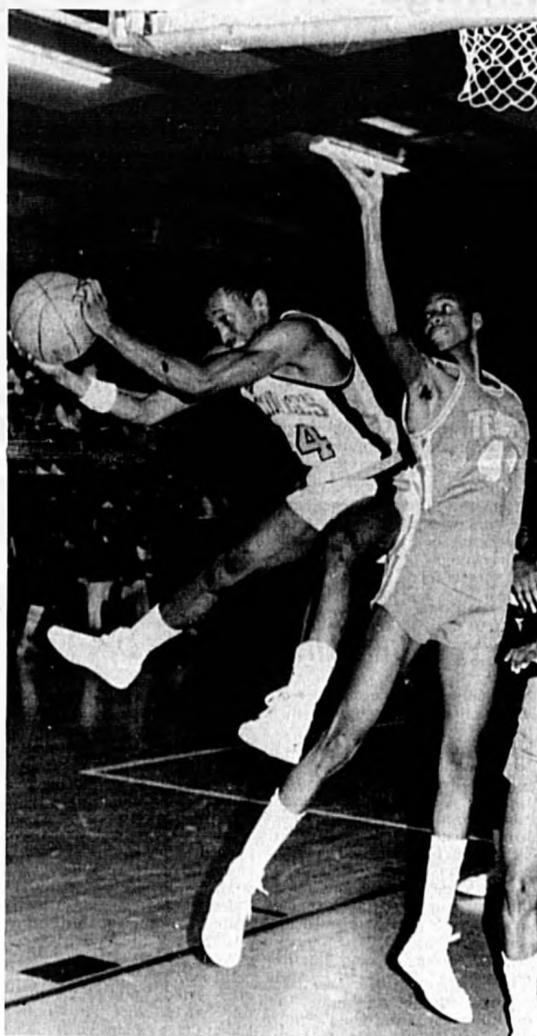

Lake Mary, led by Kelly McKinnon's 20 points, never got any closer. Seminole extended its lead to 38-19 at halftime and emptied its bench in the second half.

Whitney tossed in 18 points to lead the 'Noles and Blake added 11. The 6-6 Walker and Walter "Stuck" Hopson dominated the glass. Hopson chipped in 10 points. Blake handed out four assists and chipped in four rebounds.

40 Shots Fell King

Forty shots should be enough to fell any king. Lake Mary's Rams needed just about every one of them Wednesday night to knock Oviedo's Gordon King from his throne in the net and pull out a 2-0 victory over the Lions in prep soccer action at Lake Mary High School.

"We outshot Oviedo, 40-8," said Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle. "But it certainly didn't come easy. King had 20 saves and three or four of them were great ones."

The victory was the second straight for the Rams in as many attempts while Oviedo is 0-1. Lake Mary travels to DeLand Friday for two matches. The junior varsity, which whipped Oviedo, 7-0, begins play at 5 p.m.

Although the Rams blattered King time after time, they couldn't get past him until 63 minutes into the game when Jerry Meyers beat King on a penalty kick with a low liner to King's right.

"Of the 40 shots, we only had five or six legitimate chances," said McCorkle. "We had three shots hit the post, but King kept them in the game. Oviedo played us a lot tougher than we expected."

Less than a minute after the first goal, Meyers stole a pass and fed Andre Sanders who beat King to the far (King's right) post for a 2-0 lead.

McCorkle cited his keeper, Greg Griffing, for another strong effort. "Greg had a good game but he wasn't tested too badly," said McCorkle about his three save effort. "We were unsettled early in game and Greg Brick sophomore broke through a couple times and kept us unsettled."

McCorkle, however, said defender Peter Kinsley shadowed Brick the rest of the game.

In the JV game, Steve Sapp, Lee Alexander and Ernie Broenne kicked home two goals each while Scott Betalinger added one as coach Larry Betalinger's Rams rolled to an easy win.

St. John's Tops Fordham, 47-46

United Press International
No one has to tell St. John's that New York is a hard town.

The Redmen, the No. 3 team in the country, may have a tough time claiming to be the No. 1 team in their city after Wednesday night.

Thanks to two free throws by Chris Mullin with 15 seconds left and two misses by Fordham in the final seconds, St. John's escaped 47-46 in the local streetfight — the Redmen of Queens against the Rams of the Bronx.

Playing at the St. John's gym, Fordham led 46-45 on a jumper by Steve Samuels with 34 seconds left. Mullin, at better than 90 percent the nation's third best foul shooter last year, was fouled and hit both shots.

Fordham called time with 11 seconds to go. St. John's, which was not over the limit, fouled Tony McIntosh with seven seconds left, forcing the Rams to inbound again. Samuels then missed his shot and Frank Williams' follow at the buzzer was blocked by center Bill Wennington.

Mullin had 16 points and Walter Berry 15 for the Redmen, 3-0. For Fordham, 2-2. Samuels and McIntosh scored 14 each.

Elsewhere, No. 1 Georgetown defeated St. Leo 76-56. No. 2 DePaul beat Illinois State 84-71. No. 4 Duke ripped Appalachian State 98-64. No. 6 Memphis State took Middle Tennessee 90-77. No. 10 North Carolina State blasted North Carolina A&T 101-54. No. 11 Louisiana State stopped Mississippi 89-64. No. 15 Alabama-Birmingham downed South Carolina State 73-56 and No. 16 Oklahoma routed St. Mary's of Texas 88-55.

At Landover, Md., the Hoyas, 4-0, outscored St. Leo 16-8 in the final five minutes of the first half to break it open. Scott Thatcher paced St. Leo of Florida with 20 points. Georgetown committed 20 turnovers.

"We just did not seem to concentrate the way we should have," Hoyas coach John Thompson said. "I am just going to forget about this game."

At Normal, Ill., Dallas Comegys scored 20 points and DePaul survived a second-half scare to run its record to 4-0. Lou Stevanovic had 27 points for Illinois State.

Moore Wants 20 More Lake Mary Coach Optimistic Despite Losses

By Chris Piater
Herald Sports Writer

In its first three years of existence, the Lake Mary High girls basketball program compiled a 62-20 record, winning 20 or more games in each season, winning a pair of district championships (1981-82 and 82-83) and making the district finals last season.

All but one of the starters from those teams are gone, but coach Bill Moore, who started the program and molded it into a winner, believes a 20-win season is not out of the question for the 1984-85 edition of the Lady Rams.

"It's a possibility," Moore said. "We have to get some breaks and the kids have to keep working hard. There will be a lot more toss up games this season."

The first big test for the Lady Rams in the early going of the season is 2A powerhouse Eustis. Lake Mary hosts the Lady Panthers Friday night at 8 (junior varsity 6:15).

"Eustis is one of the top 2A teams in the state," Moore said. "We'll have an interesting year if we can get by Eustis. If not, we may be in for a struggle all the way."

Lake Mary goes into Friday's game with a 2-1 record including victories over Jacksonville Bishop Kenny and Oviedo and a loss to 3A power Titusville Astronaut.

The Lady Rams also go in without Andrea Fenning, one of the top players in Seminole County. Fenning injured her knee in Physical Education class. "We really don't know if she'll be back," Moore said. "It's a matter of when the doctor thinks she's ready to try it with a brace. We're hoping she'll be back by Christmas (Lady Hawk Tournament)."

Fenning developed a deadly outside shot last year and improved her all-around skills in AAU play over the summer. She averaged 9.2 points per game and was second in the county in free throw percentage (68 percent) as a junior last season.

Fenning's absence leaves senior point guard Kim Averill as the only returning starter. Averill, a four-year starter for the

Prep Basketball

Lady Rams, averaged 7.4 points and 4.5 assists per game in 1983-84. "Kim has a lot more range on her shot," Moore said.

Starters lost include 6-2 twins Laura and Peggy Glass (now playing for South Carolina) and Lisa Gregory (West Point).

Starting along with Averill in the backcourt is 5-4 senior guard Larra Hall. The forwards include 5-7 junior Karen DeShetler and 5-8 senior Aileen Patterson and the center is 5-10 senior Courtney Hall, the top player off the bench a year ago.

"We're a different type of club than last year (21-7 record)," Moore said. "We rely more on speed and conditioning. We'll try to put pressure on early and wear the other team down."

"Averill, Larra Hall and DeShetler are excellent shooters and Patterson and Courtney Hall are very mobile and quick on the boards."

The top guards off the bench include 5-3 senior Liz Stone and 5-3 junior Anquetette Whack. "Liz plays as much as any other starter," Moore said. "And Whack has become a more consistent ballhandler and good shooter."

Additional depth at guard comes from 5-6 junior Heather Leckie and 5-7 senior transfer (from Michigan) Sloan Stewart.

The top inside player off the bench is 5-9 senior Terri Reynolds who Moore said is very strong fundamentally and has improved a lot since last year. Adding depth inside are 5-7 junior Latasha Carter and 5-5 junior Tina Wade.

Lake Mary's junior varsity, which won the district last season, looks strong again in 1984-85. Moore said there are 17 players on the JV roster, 15 of which can play with anyone in the county JV wisc. The JV Lady Rams opened the season with a victory over Oviedo.

Wilcox-Pepsi Challenge Attracts 489 BMX Riders

The Larry Wilcox/Pepsi Southern BMX Challenge race was held last Saturday and Sunday. About 489 racers showed up to compete for National Double Points and Big trophies.

On Saturday, each class ran its first and second motos. The motos finished up at about 4 p.m.

Sunday dawned as bright and clear as Saturday did, and racing started promptly at 11 a.m. The third moto, semis, and mains were all run by 3 p.m.

In between the third motos and semis, the MCS Magnum force trick team put on a spectacular half-hour freestyle show. The team, consisting of three members, performed intricate ground tricks, and different maneuvers on a half-pipe for the excited crowd.

There was also a big wheel race between "Strawberry Shortcake" and the "Cabbage Patch Kid." The "Cabbage Patch Kid" emerged the victor.

With Barnett Park being the Seminole County riders home track, it was only natural that they would do well in the races. They weren't disappointed.

Seven-expert Jay Staley doubled this weekend with a first place in the 7-expert class, and a first in the seven-open.

Darby Brown didn't do too badly either this weekend. He brought in a second place finish in the 7-expert class.

Brothers Dusty and Shawn Cummins had a fair amount of trouble last weekend.

Dusty, who races 8-expert, did well on Saturday. It was in his third moto Sunday that he got into an unfortunate pile up, and couldn't transfer to the semifinals.

Shawn was mixed up in about the same thing, except in the 14-expert class. Shawn had a third, and fifth place in his two motos, but due to the wreck, he couldn't transfer to the semifinals.

First place in the 10-novice class went to Tim Fink. It was a real good weekend for Tim, he dominated his main event.

Darby's older brother, Colby, was competing in the 10-expert class. He placed fourth in his main event.

Seminole County riders made up the majority of the 13-novice class. Here's how they finished in the main. Danny Lombardi led them with a score of fourth, Todd Hunt was right behind him in fifth, and Scott Lucia placed eighth.

Todd Hunt also raced in the open class. Where he placed sixth.

Third place in the 12-expert class went to Stacy Johnson.

Thirteen-expert Ronnie Brewer placed fifth in his class. Ron also raced in the open class, and placed first.

Poor 2nd Half Kills SCC

COCOA — Seminole Community College's Lady Raiders broke to a two-point halftime lead against Brevard Wednesday night, but then fell apart in the second half to drop a 77-56 decision in women's junior college basketball.

It was the Lady Raiders second straight loss after three wins. Coach Ileana Gallagher's girls try to get back on track at Edison Friday night before returning home to host Manatee Saturday.

Pam Lee, who tossed in a career high 21 points, led a first-half charge which put the Lady Raiders in control at halftime, 34-32. In the second half, however, Pam Silkatrom and Pam Wells led a blistering attack which buried SCC.

Rubin, Miller Load Up South Seminole Attack

By Mickey Norton
Special to the Herald

The Inter-County Basketball Association is off and running on its third season of play. There will be four divisions of play this year with teams competing from southeast Seminole County as well as various parts of Orange. League play will begin after the holidays with a pre-Christmas tourney kicking things off the week of Dec. 17.

In addition to the regular league play in January and February, there are numerous preliminary games scheduled for ICBA teams before college games at Rollins, Stetson, UCF and SCC as well as high school games at Oviedo, Lake Howell and Luther. ICBA cagers will perform before the prep game and then stay and watch the action.

There are also five tourneys that will be entered by ICBA all-star teams at the end of the season, a trip to Florida's west coast, hosting teams from New York and Philadelphia — both boys and girls, and participation in "Junior Prep" tourneys in Puerto Rico and New Orleans. All in all, quite a season coming up for the ICBA.

Over the next few weeks, previews of the Seminole County teams in the ICBA will be forthcoming. This week a look at the South Seminole teams:

Basketball

The eighth grade boys' varsity team at South Seminole is loaded. It has back all 10 of last year's seventh grade JV champions and has some strength. Heading the list are three-year veterans Danny Rubin and J.J. Miller.

Rubin is a 6-2 scoring and rebounding machine who has "stuffed" on defense. Miller is a smooth ballhandler and scorer and tenacious on defense. Joining them are highscoring Willy Daunic, rebounding-touch Larry "Murdoch" Watkins and Delmon Simpson plus hotshot Brad Bolton.

Other vets are speedy Ron "Peewee" Roux; fast-growing, fast-improving Mark Kaiser and hustling Billy Slegrist. Newcomers are slick Curtis Robbins, big men Luis Diaz, Herb Pardo and Jim Eustace and speedsters Jim Nance, Dave Anderson and Gordon Kimbrough.

The South Seminole sixth and seventh grade JV will be led by veteran Robbie Crager. He stands at 5-9 and will be surrounded by pint-sized youngsters. It looks like Gulliver and the Lilliputians. Crager is a seventh grader. Mike Fields is sixth and the rest of the young South Seminole Tomcats — who really will be scratching on D — are fifth graders Rhys Daunic, Seth Rubin, Ken Kroog, Bryan True, Cade Reaves, Chuckie Atkins, Paul Klaus and Peter Terry.

The South Seminole girls — "The Kittens" — are led by three year vets Shannon Freeman and Erica Cain. Hustling Tanya Lewis, a sixth grader who played last year will be joined by newcomers Brigitte Szobar, Kelsa Woodie, Jennifer Waters, Stella Chestnut, Mayla Reed, Petrina Kimbrough, and part-timer last year Regina Hayward.

SPORTS

IN BRIEF

Lyman Opens Wrestling Season With 44-15 Rout Of Winter Park

Lyman's wrestling team successfully opened the season with an easy 44-15 victory over Winter Park at Lyman High School Wednesday night.

Football coach Bill Scott, who helped Lyman built a strong program in the early 1970s, made a triumphant return to the mat wars. When wrestling coach Skip Pletzer was promoted to athletic director earlier this year, Scott again became the wrestling coach. Paul Thomann continues as assistant.

Chad Dubin (107) picked up Lyman's first win with a 14-2 decision over Randy Lott. Freshman Gregg Hunziker (114) began his varsity career with a 6-2 decision over Walt Lassiter. Senior Pat Bell (121) put the Greyhounds ahead to stay when he pinned Joe Mullally in 4:33.

Juniors Matt Hughes (128) and Randy Mathis (157) each picked up wins by decisions while senior standout Derek Smith (167), sophomore Benny Glenn (187) and sophomore James Smith (unlimited) had pins. Smith stuck Harold Ganson in just 31 seconds. Junior Pat Perkins (222) won by forfeit.

Lyman hosts Seminole Friday.

Toney's Jumper Melts Bucks

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — With snow falling outside the Spectrum in Philadelphia the 76ers saw their lead melt inside.

After blowing a 19-point halftime lead, the 76ers won their fifth straight when Andrew Toney hit an 18-footer with 18 seconds left to lift Philadelphia past the Milwaukee Bucks 112-111.

"We made them (the fans) stick around and treated them to an exciting finish," said Philadelphia's Julius Erving. — It didn't look as if the fans would have to stay long as the 76ers played what Coach Billy Cunningham said "may have been our best half of basketball this year," building a 68-47 lead. The frontline of Moses Malone, Erving and Charles Barkley led the assault, combining for 45 points.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Boston beat Denver 123-107, the Lakers downed New Jersey 104-93, the Clippers edged Dallas 110-106 and Kansas City clobbered Atlanta 121-100.

McKenna's Hat Trick Ties Bruins

By United Press International

For the first time in his NHL career the Buffalo Sabres' Sean McKenna got three, but what he wanted was two.

McKenna scored his first hat trick Wednesday night, however, Mike Milbury's goal with 20 seconds remaining allowed the Boston Bruins to tie the Sabres 3-3.

Elsewhere, the Rangers tied Calgary 4-4, Pittsburgh topped St. Louis 7-4, Detroit downed Toronto 4-2, Hartford beat Montreal 5-3, Chicago and Los Angeles tied 5-5 and Edmonton defeated the Islanders 6-4.

Farrar's Buzzer Shot Lifts FSU

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Joe Farrar sank a 30-footer at the buzzer Wednesday night to lift Florida State to a 61-60 victory over Jacksonville.

The shot by the senior guard followed a tip-in by the Dolphins' Rod Kittles that gave Jacksonville a 60-59 lead with four seconds remaining.

The Seminoles, 3-1, were led by Randy Allen with 22 points and 13 rebounds and Alton Lee Gipson with 18 points.

For the Dolphins, 2-2, Oviedo's Ronnie Murphy had 12 points, Kittles 11 and Otis Smith and Willie McDuffy 10 each.

Johnsons Too Much For Lyman

DAYTONA BEACH — Terry and Pat Johnson combined for 28 points as the seventh-ranked Seabreeze Sand Crabs drilled the Lyman Greyhounds, 69-50, in prep boys basketball action Wednesday night at Seabreeze High School.

Terry Johnson, who scored 16 points, and brother Pat, who had 12, led a first-half barrage which put the Sand Crabs up, 37-28, at halftime.

Seabreeze, 1-0, steadily pulled away in the second half. John Parks added 10 points for the Crabs.

Lyman placed three players in double figures, led by T.J. Scaletta with 12 points. Sophomore Robert Thomas and junior Brett Marshall each tallied 11. Ralph Philpott and George Smith were next with six points each while Reggie Douglas chipped in five.

Lyman, 1-2, travels to Lake Mary for an 8 p.m. game Tuesday. Lyman's junior varsity suffered its first loss after two wins, 78-46. Coach Norman Ready's cagers play at Lake Mary Monday at 8 p.m.

Knights Claim 1st Division I Win

TALLAHASSEE — The University of Central Florida Knights posted their first victory over a Division I opponent as they upended Florida A&M, 67-62, at the Galther Athletic Complex before 1,138 fans.

UCF, 1-3, fell behind, 11-0, in the early going but scrambled back to within 30-27 at halftime. The Knights ran off 10 unanswered points with five minutes to play to ensure the victory over the 4-2 Rattlers.

Dan Faison tossed in 22 points to lead the Knights and Sam Alexander added 18.

UCF again played without 6-8 center John Friday, whose eligibility is still in question with the NCAA. UCF coach Chuck Machock said he hopes Friday will be declared eligible for tonight's game against powerful South Alabama at Mobile.

Yankees On The Run To Obtain Henderson

Baseball

HOUSTON (UPI) — Fast. That's how Rickey Henderson runs and that's how the New York Yankees must act if they are to complete the biggest trade of the winter meetings.

The Yankees reached an agreement Wednesday to acquire the Oakland A's speedy center fielder.

New York has a 48-hour period, ending Friday at 5 p.m. CST, to finalize details with Henderson and his agent Richie Bry.

"There's a long way to go before it's a reality," said Yankee owner George Steinbrenner. "We reached agreement in principle, but we have to meet with his agent."

Henderson could be asking for a 5-year deal worth between $8-10 million. Steinbrenner sounds as if he's willing to listen.

"I think he's a superstar," said Steinbrenner. "If he did come to New York, he'd turn the city on. I think there are very few players who can do as many things as he can."

When and if the deal goes through, it would be a multi-player trade. The Yankees would ship right-hander Jose Rijo, left-handed pitching prospect Tim Lincecum, righty prospect Eric Plunk and outfielder Stan Javier. Oakland would send another player, probably a minor-leaguer, to New York.

"In the best interests of the Oakland ball club and because Rickey Henderson was looking for a multi-year contract, and the economics therein involved, we have made this deal," said A's executive Sandy Alderson. "It is also in the best interests of Rickey Henderson though we know our fans will miss him."

Baseball

It was the second trade of the day for the Yankees and their third of the meetings. They have been involved in all three significant deals at the convention.

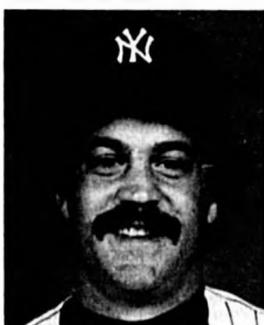

Earlier, they sent catcher Rick Cerone to the Atlanta Braves for righty Brian Fisher, considered one of the top pitching prospects in baseball.

Action is expected to turn to free agents today. Ace reliever Bruce Sutter is said to be in Atlanta, supposedly to "look around."

NL Cy Young Award winner Rick Sutcliffe and his agent Barry Axelrod are expected to meet Chicago Cubs GM Dallas Green.

Also, Commissioner Peter Ueberroth received increased power to deal with the issue of TV superstations. And Lee MacPhail of the Player Relations Committee reported a good tenor to the negotiations with the players.

Cliff Johnson became the second free agent DH within 15 hours to sign a contract, hooking up with the Texas Rangers. Andre Thornton had previously re-signed with the Cleveland Indians.

Hoping to add some offensive punch, the Atlanta Braves traded for Yankee catcher Rick Cerone Wednesday for rookie pitcher Brian Fisher.

Johnson spent two years in Toronto but wanted a longer contract. He received a 3-year deal from the Rangers at $600,000 a year. This season he hit .304 with 16 homers and 61 RBI.

Another thing the Rangers can offer Johnson is a chance to hit every day. In Toronto, he often sat against right-handers.

"Larry Parrish is our right fielder full-time and Cliff Johnson is our DH," said Rangers GM Tom Greve.

"I just found out about that," said Johnson. "I'll have to get mentally re-adjusted to playing every day."

Sukova Shocks Martina

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Martina Navratilova was deprived of the most glamorous burden in tennis today by a 19-year-old with a powerful serve and rising ambitions.

Helena Sukova's big serve and strong forehand shots defeated Navratilova 1-6, 6-3, 7-5 in the semifinals of the $1.5 million Australian Open. Navratilova drove a forehand service return wide on the final point, bringing to a close several streaks.

Sukova's victory halted Navratilova's 74-match winning streak that covered nearly 11 months, stopped the defending champion's bid for a record seventh straight Grand Slam title and ended her attempt to post a Grand Slam within a calendar year.

Navratilova was last beaten in Oakland, Calif., in January by fellow Czechoslovakian Hana Mandlikova. Sukova is also from Navratilova's native Prague.

"I always get excited when I get close to losing, but I have been able to come through in most three-set matches this year," Navratilova said. "I made a great comeback but I didn't quite finish it off."

"The pressure was there, especially when I knew I had to hold serve from love-15, five-all in the final set. I thought that the pressure might get to Helena too, because she has never reached this stage of a grand slam event before."

"But I don't think the pressure is the reason I lost. I've been under tremendous pressure for a long time, so it's just one of those matches when I didn't make the shots I could have made."

The first two sets were one-sided, but the final turned dramatic when Sukova broke Navratilova in the opening game. Two games later, she broke again to lead three-love.

Navratilova then rallied to tie 4-4 with a brilliant stretching forehand on the run to break Sukova. But the challenger recovered to break and forge ahead 6-5.

In the deciding game, Navratilova saved three match points with blistering winners, but finally bowed out when she hit a forehand service return wide.

"I think the key was I returned Martina's serve really well," Sukova said. "During this whole tournament, I was trying to play my matches calmly and cool and try to concentrate on every point and I think it has helped me a lot."

"I really didn't get nervous or anything."

The victory propels Sukova into the final Saturday against second-seed Chris Evert Lloyd who downed Australian Wendy Turnbull 6-3, 6-3.

Heathrow Turns Back Calendar For Opening

The Country Club at Heathrow, a billion-dollar luxury community being developed by the Paulucci family, will inaugurate its championship 18-hole golf course by turning back the calendar about a century.

Heathrow is located at Lake Mary Boulevard and Interstate 4.

On Saturday, 72 golfers will participate in a unique "hickory stick" invitational tournament, circa 1860, on the 7,103-yard course designed by Lakeland links architect Ron Garl.

The first known tournament of its kind in over 100 years, participants will bring no equipment to the course other than their shoes and skills. Seventy-two complete sets of hickory stick clubs (a masher, a niblick, a mid-iron, a brassie, a putter, a spoon and an iron-masher) will be provided, along with turn-of-the-century golf balls and tees for each player. Golf rules of the 1860's will govern play.

The nine-hole morning will begin with breakfast of tea and crumpets with play to begin upon the signal of musket fire from British Redcoats at precisely 9 a.m.

An exhibition of antique and classic British motorcars, featuring Jaguars, MGs, Austin-Healeys and Rolls Royces will decorate areas around the new country club.

Country Club at Heathrow members will begin regular golf play on Sunday. For further information, contact Shelley C. Safran at 851-8568.

Gas Leak Death Toll Tops 1,600

BHOPAL, India (UPI) — Vultures kept vigil over Bhopal today and search teams hunted for bodies as technicians tried to assess the long-term effects of a gas leak that killed more than 1,600 people and injured more than 50,000.

Some survivors filtered back to their homes in the shanty towns around the Union Carbide pesticide plant where methyl cyanate gas leaked from a storage tank Monday, unleashing a deadly white cloud that enveloped 15 square miles.

The gas leak at Bhopal — 360 miles south of New Delhi — was the worst chemical industry disaster in history.

Bodies were still being collected in house-to-house searches — especially in the mud huts and hovels around the plant — and vultures could be seen hovering about the city. Reports compiled by the Press Trust of India put the death toll at more than 1,600.

Delayed effects of the gas continued to claim victims. More than 1,000 people were still hospitalized for eye injuries, seared lungs and vomiting.

More than 50,000 people treated for less serious injuries have been released and others continued to seek help at overflowing hospitals, which had to set up makeshift treatment centers outside.

Health experts were trying to determine the long-term medical implications of the gas leak. They expressed fears that hundreds of victims would be left blind and that others could suffer permanent paralysis and neurological disorders.

Student aid would also be capped under the proposal, she said, and farm subsidies would be focused on small farmers.

"David (Stockman) clearly said there is no sugar-coated way to cut spending," Snowe said. She said most House Republicans attending the meeting "liked the concept of a freeze but would like it to be as even-handed as possible."

"I think this is a trial balloon," she said of the overall budget proposal.

Green said mass transit subsidies, including those for Amtrak, part of the impact aid to schools program, funding for the Export-Import bank, sewer grants, revenue sharing and Urban Development Action Grants were on the list to be eliminated.

The Stockman document was titled "Freeze-plus" Savings Proposals — listing options for freezing or cutting — and among the popular programs listed that could be frozen were railroad retirement, black lung benefits, food stamps and Supplemental Security Income.

Reagan, warned that without the cuts his 1986 budget would top a record $1 trillion, said he wanted the overall budget to remain the same as this year's at $968 billion.

662; Gunter, 407; and Mitchell, 405.

Longwood City Clerk Don Terry said the discrepancy was caused by absentee ballots which were not properly punched out so the computer failed to register them. He said the machine count was identical each time for the regular ballots, but varied in the absentee ballots. Disallowed were 30 "no vote" ballots and five "double vote" ballots.

After the election Gunter and Mitchell each agreed to throw their support to the other depending on the result of the recount.

Meanwhile Gunter has filed a complaint with the Longwood Police Department and the State Ethics Commission against a group called "A Group of Citizens for Better Government," which he said Tuesday night had distributed libelous material against him that had cost him votes. He said the brochure was put out by a Goldberg supporter and distributed to 1,800 Longwood residents Sunday. The flier was in support of candidates Goldberg and Perry Faulkner, who won over Mayor J.R. Grant, for the District 3 commission seat and he said it contained other statements that libeled him as well as a political cartoon that appeared in another newspaper.

City Clerk Don Terry said he had contacted the author of the flier to notify him of the requirement to file a disclosure if there was an expenditure or contributions of $100 or more. He said that Bernard Linton, 301 McClintock St., Longwood, claimed that he was personally and solely responsible for the flier, which was printed by Action Center Printers, Longwood, at a cost of $98.50, therefore he did not think he was required to file.

Gunter said the group's action was "illegal and immoral and a first degree misdemeanor" because it had failed to file the necessary disclosure papers.

Goldberg has disclaimed prior knowledge of the brochure.

Protesters Arrested

Two congressmen, a Catholic bishop and a Nobel Prize winner have joined the ranks of those arrested during nationwide protests against South Africa's racial separation politics.

In Washington Wednesday, the beleaguered South African union movement said its leaders will try to meet with Jesse Jackson during his February trip to the white-ruled nation.

Language Labels Pair Party Poopers

DEAR ABBY: Without knowing the facts, you sided with "Fed Up in Frankfort, Ky.," saying, "People who speak a foreign language in the presence of those who can't understand it are rude, insensitive and offensive."

Abby, if Schatzl and Joe normally speak to each other in English when they are alone, I might have agreed with you, but if they usually communicate in German, and are speaking only to each other in a group situation, why shouldn't they speak in German? Perhaps they were making a few side remarks such as, "This party is boring. It's time to go home." Or, "Your zipper is down."

Anyone who would consider this to be insensitive is entirely too sensitive for his own good.

OFF MY CHEST

DEAR OFF: According to "Fed Up," the German-speaking couple did not limit their conversation to a few "side remarks."

I maintain it's all right for Schatzl and Joe to speak German to each other in a group situation in Frankfurt, Germany — but in Frankfort, Ky., they should speak English.

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column you were asked if a tomato was a fruit or a vegetable, and you said it was a fruit. Wrong!

Originally the tomato was considered a fruit, but now it is classified as a vegetable. Please set the record straight.

OKLAHOMAN

DEAR OKLAHOMAN: Read on for more on the anatomy of a tomato:

DEAR ABBY: In the book titled "The Story of Our Fruits and Vegetables," by Dorothy Crispo, I learned that it took the Supreme Court to establish the tomato as a vegetable. In 1893, an importer argued that the tomato was a fruit, and therefore not subject to duty. Then the Supreme Court later reclassified the tomato as a vegetable because it was served in soup, with soup, or with the main meal.

JIM ARNOLD,
FORT WAYNE, IND.

DEAR JIM: Although the Supreme Court may be legally empowered to reclassify a fruit to a vegetable, my common sense tells me that horticultur-ally speaking, a fruit is forever a fruit and a vegetable remains a vegetable regardless of how it is served or with what.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law insists on calling me by my first name ("Joan"). I don't like it. I think it shows a lack of respect. After all, we are not contemporaries.

When she first started to call me Joan, I asked her to please call me Mom or Mother, as my son does. She told me that she has only one mother, and her mother would resent it if she were to address me by that title.

Abby, I feel that I have earned that title, and out of respect to me — and her husband — she should call me Mom or Mother.

What do you think?

A NAME PROBLEM

DEAR NAME PROBLEM: I think how your daughter-in-law addresses you is not the problem. The real problem is how she feels about you, and how you feel about her.

Since it irritates you to be addressed by your first name, you were wise to tell her. But since she is uncomfortable calling you Mom or Mother, you shouldn't insist on it.

DEAR ABBY: When a person is invited to ride with someone and share auto expenses, do you feel that paying just for one-half of the gas used is sharing expenses? That, in my opinion, is not sharing. Operating an automobile is very expensive, excluding the gasoline.

I would like to have your opinion on this. Thank you.

A FAIR SHARER

DEAR FAIR: To be absolutely "fair," all expenses pertaining to the automobile should be shared. But my mail tells me that most automobile owners would be tickled pink if their riders offered to go 50-50 on the gasoline.

FCC Preparing For Deregulation Of Cable TV Industry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission, under an April 30 Congressional deadline to implement a new cable TV law, has proposed standards to ensure fair rates when most local regulation ends in two years.

The agency also terminated eight proceedings Tuesday made unnecessary by the Cable Communications Policy Act of 1984, which, among other things, will limit to 5 percent of gross revenues the amount a city may charge for franchise fees, set new Equal Employment Opportunity guidelines in the cable industry, and restrict ownership by regular TV broadcasters and phone companies.

The agency proposed deleting several rules that contradict the bill, including its 3 percent franchise fee cap and a directive against obscene programming.

The cable bill's definition of obscenity is much more broad, forbidding obscene shows on regular cable TV channels and "lewd, lascivious or filthy" material on channels that are leased to the public.

Although the FCC cannot regulate cable rates, under the law signed Oct. 30 by President Reagan, the commission must within 180 days define "effective competition" and set standards for rate regulation in cable markets with limited or non-existent over-the-air TV service.

Markets with adequate competition will be deregulated in December 1986, but cities will still set rates in areas without competition.

One method of gauging a competitive market, the FCC said, would be if a cable system carries at least four different local over-the-air TV signals, including those of the CBS, ABC and NBC networks. But the agency asked for comment from the television industry and the American public on other ways of defining competition.

If an area is found to be non-competitive, the FCC suggested that cable systems and city governments examine the rates in cities of similar size where there is competition and then set their rates either 10 percent above or below that figure.

"This is the core of the proceeding, the most important piece," said FCC Chairman Mark Fowler.

A final vote is expected early next year.

Because the cable bill changed the definition of cable TV, the FCC must now alter some of its definitions to conform to the specifications of the new law.

The FCC proposed adopting all the new definitions, and asked for comments on how to regulate commercial channels that cable systems are required to lease to whoever wants them.

After a federal court rules on complaints about lack of access to the channels or too-high rates, the FCC becomes an "appeals court" where the petitioner could seek special relief.

The agency also suggested that cable systems be allowed to offer two-way services such as home banking and home shopping without letting the commission know what they are charging. In the future, however, the cable operators might be required to file the "informational tariffs," the commission said.

Holiday Anti-Drinking Ads Spark Controversy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Association of Broadcasters is transmitting 26 public service announcements to radio and TV stations nationwide to help them campaign against drunken driving during the holidays.

The NAB effort comes amid a push from state, local and national groups to ban wine and beer advertising on the nation's airwaves — a proposition the lobbying group is fighting because a similar ban on cigarette advertising more than 10 years ago has cost broadcasters billions of dollars.

NAB officials refused to comment on any connection between the ads and the antibooze thrust. But at one point in a Tuesday news conference to publicize the public service campaign, Andrew Ockershausen, executive vice president of WMAL radio in Washington, D.C., and the head of the group's recently created Drug and Alcohol Task Force, leveled criticism at Capitol Hill.

Asked if the public service campaign was aimed at Congress, which has held several hearings during the past year to investigate the impact of wine and beer ads on radio and TV, Ockershausen said, "I'd like to aim a lot at Congress."

"I'll tell you one thing, that's where we should start cracking down on drunken drivers. There is a drinking problem on the Hill."

An NAB spokesman quickly stepped in and said, "We don't purport to be social scientists," adding that the public service effort is merely part of a broad movement nationwide to do something about drunken drivers.

The campaign centers around the public service announcements — starring such public figures as first lady Nancy Reagan, basketball star Bob Lanier and characters from the hit movie "Gremlins" — which were being transmitted via satellite to the stations, including the worldwide Armed Services Network.

The 10- to 60-second messages were contributed by groups ranging from Mothers Against Drunk Driving to the Ad Council to the National Football League. One ad was prepared by the NAB.

The spots, for use next week in local holiday safety campaigns, also coincide with Drunken and Drugged Driving Awareness Week, which was created by a joint resolution of Congress and President Reagan.

The Center for Science in the Public Interest, which has coordinated the push against alcohol ads, had quick praise for the NAB campaign.

But Michael Jacobson, executive director of the group, added, "Hopefully ... the campaign will be a first step towards equal time throughout the year for a variety of health messages and ultimately an end to beer and wine commercials."

Victim Of Hacker Abuse: 'It Can Happen To You'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Newsweek magazine reporter, being harassed by angry computer hackers for an article he wrote about how they penetrate security systems, says they can invade almost anyone's privacy.

After Richard Sandza wrote an expose in the Nov. 12 issue of Newsweek about how amateur computer operators can plug into various computer systems, the hackers called his San Francisco home hundreds of times, put him on "teletrial" in their computer-to-computer conversations and mangled everything from his prose style to his manhood on electronic bulletin boards across the nation. One suggestion was to "kill the duc."

Then the hackers broke the law. They crashed into a TRW Information Services Computer, obtained a list of Sandza's credit card numbers, address, wife's name and his Social Security number. Then they posted the information on a computer "bulletin board."

The hacker who did it may have known his computers better than his English. "I'm sure you guys have heard about Richard Sandza (sic) ... He's the guy who wrote the obscene story about preaking in NewsWeek (sic). Well my friend did a credit card check on TRW ... try this number, it's a VISA ... Please nail this guy bad ... Captain Quleg (sic)."

Although TRW, the nation's largest credit rating organization, has indicated a willingness to help prosecute Sandza's tormenters, the reporter noted that what happened to him could happen to anyone. Sandza said he checked with the local TRW office and found an inquiry was made Nov. 13 purportedly from the Lenox (Mass.) Savings Bank, an institution that would have no reason to check his accounts. Sandza concluded a hacker had used the bank's password to get into the system.

"He (Captain Quleg) has violated the Credit Card Fraud Act of 1984," Sandza said Wednesday. "The law provides a $10,000 fine and up to 15-year prison term for 'trafficking' in illegally obtained credit card numbers. His 'friend' has committed a felony violation."

He said that "the major problem this illustrates is TRW. They have files on half the population of the United States and information that we would not allow the government to keep on us. They made $100 million last year selling credit reports that we allow them to keep for their confidentiality."

He said what makes the security problem at TRW so difficult is that tens of thousands of customers can buy its services. Hackers have a variety of sources for passwords into the system, including the trash of automobile dealerships and the discarded printouts of banks.

While admitting that his fight with the hackers has been "pretty hectic," Sandza said he will hold out a little longer before he trades his reporter's objectivity for legal action.

"At this point they have threatened me somewhat and have done some damage," Sandza said. "And I may decide that I can live with that unless they do anything that physically threatens me and I get any madder. "I'm not a cop. I'm a journalist."

Sandza said of the hackers, "Most of these people traffic in illegal information: Credit card numbers, dial-up access numbers for long distance phone service, how to do this or that, everything from picking locks to making nitroglycerin."

Food Shortage Critical; Death Rate May Rise Again

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI) — No food or medicine has been received in more than two weeks at the Korem refugee camp, which houses about 50,000 people seeking aid to survive Ethiopia's famine.

"I have just returned from an inspection tour of Korem ... and no food trucks or supplies of any kind have come in for at least the past 15 days. We are facing a crisis," Catherine Damesin of the Medecins Sans Frontieres said Wednesday.

"Our food stocks are now critically low," she said, and that food supplies were down "to a few days."

Doctors and other relief officials held an emergency meeting Tuesday night at the camp 250 miles northeast of Addis Ababa.

Officials feared the daily death rate could go up again after dropping to about 30 a day this week. Ten days ago, it was at 50.

It was unclear why Korem was not getting supplies. Food has been flown into Alamata, the nearest airstrip located about 40 miles away down a winding mountain track.

A spokesman for the British Royal Air Force said the RAF had first flown grain supplies nine days ago to Alamata, which has also been turned into a famine camp, with hundreds of people arriving daily searching for food.

There was speculation much of the food went to refugees at Alamata and never reached Korem, which is in Wallo Province, where guerrillas of the Tigrean Peoples Liberation Front have been fighting the Marxist government army in a bid for regional autonomy.

Ethiopia, with a population of about 40 million, has been described by the United Nations as the hungriest nation on Earth. About 250,000 people have died of famine in the past nine months because of the drought sweeping the whole eastern section of the country.

Officials of the government relief and rehabilitation commission and the United Nations warned repeatedly last month that the death toll will rise if no more food comes in to the main port of Assab.

U.N. and relief officials said only 80,000 tons of food aid were due to arrive this month compared with 114,000 tons in November but U.N. Assistant Secretary General Kurt Jansson said more aid was due to arrive shortly.

Attractive Women Less Likely To Land Corporate Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Beautiful women with "feminine traits" are less likely to be hired as corporate executives and tend to be shuffled off to "pink collar" clerical jobs instead, the author of a new study says.

Thomas Cash, writing in the December issue of Psychology Today, said studies show that when women tried for corporate management jobs — a male-dominated field — "the more attractive women were discriminated against relative to less attractive women in those managerial applications."

Cash, associate professor of psychology at Virginia's Old Dominion University, said that attractive women are "at a real disadvantage when they aspire to occupations in which stereotypically masculine traits — such as being strong, independent and decisive — are thought to be required for success."

The flip side, said Cash, is that beautiful women more often get the "pink collar" jobs, ones traditionally dominated by females.

"When the job was non-managerial ... a clerical position, nursing, receptionists, teaching — in that case, when it is perceived as requiring feminine traits for success — attractive women are at advantage," he said.

Cash, who wrote the article with fellow professor Louis Janda, said their studies showed the same held true with appearances and grooming, which contribute to gender role stereotyping.

Cash said an attractive woman "acting tough or competent" may get the job over a less attractive candidate because she would "violate expectations, stereotypes."

Cash and Janda, who are writing a book on the psychology of physical appearance, concluded "sadly" that if "a woman wants to succeed in a man's world, she had better not look too feminine."

"Beauty — at least in a woman — doesn't always pay in the workplace."

Christmas Programs Planned For Downtown Sanford

The Christmas holidays in Sanford will officially begin Friday at 7 p.m. with a lighting ceremony in downtown's Magnolia Mall of a large home-grown Christmas tree decorated with handmade ornaments created by the school children of the Sanford area.

Kathy Kinney, president of the Downtown Business Association, which is sponsoring the event, said more than 1,000 ornaments for the tree were made by elementary students at Hamilton, Goldsboro, Pine Crest, Wilson, Idyllwild and Midway schools.

One student from each of the schools will hang an ornament on the tree which was grown in Geneva and is being donated by former Seminole County Commissioner Edward Yarborough.

City crews will erect the tree in the mall and decorate it.

Entertainment for the lighting ceremony will be provided by the Longwood Chorallers and Minutemen Cloggers from Longwood Elementary School. Ms. Kinney said Santa Claus may make an appearance.

In addition to the tree, huge red bows will decorate the street lights on First Street from U.S. Highway 17-92 to Sanford Avenue, Ms. Kinney said.

Beginning Dec. 14 when downtown stores will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., a different Christmas program will be presented each night at the mall until Dec. 23.

Among those to appear are: the New Beginnings, Judy and Trina Rogers with contemporary gospel music; Central Baptist Church Choir; Longwood Elementary Tumbling Tornadoes; the Wilson Ensemble, a women's choir group; First United Methodist Church and First Baptist Church.

Schedules of activities will be posted in downtown store windows.

Suing Over Spilled Milk

A Sanford supermarket is being sued by a woman who says she slipped on spilled milk in the store.

The Winn-Dixie at 419 E. First St. is being sued by Diane Drummer.

The suit asks for an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000.

According to the suit, Ms. Drummer states that on Jan. 25 she entered the store to shop. She states she slipped on some milk and then fell to the floor, landing in the liquid. She states the milk was there for a sufficient length of time that it should have been cleaned up.

Ms. Drummer states that she was injured in and about her body and extremities, that she suffered pain, suffered physical handicap and her working ability was impaired and that she is unable to lead a normal life.

She asks for a trial by jury.

The case has been assigned to Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick J. Saffi. No trial date has been set. —Deane Jordan
