Blues In The News
By BOB ANTHONY

There was a very nice crowd at the Navy Center last night for the Easter's regularly scheduled Tuesday dance night. Coffee and cake were served and everyone there really seemed to enjoy themselves. Among those present were Arno Spritzer, Jim Meyers, John Louree, Jack Perry, Al Aldridge, Pat Cullen, Betty Cullen, and Margaret Von Herbulis, to mention only a few.

You certainly can tell spring is in the air around the corner and it won't be long until the "play ball" will be starting many a baseball game. The team here on the station has been practicing every day and they should be ready to go out and win a few games at that "play ball" cry. The team is being managed by Chief "Robbie" Robinson, a former all-navy catcher. The baseball diamonds previously used by the New York Giants are being put to good use for practice and an excellent string of games have been scheduled.

It must be rather cold in North Carolina these days. Yesterday the Marine baseball team from Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, came aboard the station for a two week stay in which they plan to practice their baseball under the Florida sun. Welcome aboard men, I'm sure you'll find the weather just what you need here in fine shape.

Kenneth Miller reported aboard yesterday from the Navy's Aviation Training School in Memphis, Tenn. Ken's home is Landisville, Pa. He You're off in a Swirl of Power!

We're willing to wager that not one person in a hundred knows what really goes on inside an automobile engine—so let's take this by easy stages. The instant you nudge Buick's Fireball 8 Engine into action—a whole string of things starts to happen. Right sparks begin to crackle in well-timed sequence. Right pistons start gliding up and down with rhythmic precision. Right pairs of valves dance open and closed—to let fuel charges in, exhaust gases out of cylinder after cylinder.

So—it's important to know that Buick uses a deep-breathing valve-in-head design that shoots a fuel charge in—cleans exhaust gases out—in a hurry. It's important to know that all the power released by the fuel concentrates its driving force right on the head of each Buick piston. (Everyone who has recently built "new" high-compression engines copied this "Buick first.") But most important of all—Buick adds one more twist which others still haven't copied.

Every charge of fuel rushing into a Buick engine becomes a twisting, swirling, high-compressed ball that flashes with sudden, consuming completeness the instant the spark sets it afire.

And to add this all up: clean, complete combustion—10,000 times per mile—is the heart of getting more power—more miles—from each gallon of gasoline.

So we're not simply using picture words when we tell you that Buick—and only Buick—has a FIREBALL ENGINE—or that you're off in a swirl of power with one of these high-powered performers under the hood.

1952 has brought a lot of sparkling new improvements which you'll want to see and admire when you come to our showrooms. But the thrill of thrills is still what you and a Buick—and a Fireball 8 Engine—can do out on the road. When do you want to try a sample?

Equipment, accessories, tires and wheels are listed in dealer window.

Herndon Discloses Plan To Run Again As County Clerk

O. P. Herndon, County Clerk of Seminole County since 1935, disclosed today that he will be a candidate for re-election in the May primary.

A native of Seminole County, Mr. Herndon attended local schools and the University of Florida. He has served as Justice of the Peace, State Representative from Seminole County and for 23 years in elective office.

Mr. Herndon owned and managed the old Star Theater in the silent movie days. He is a past president of Kiwanis Club, past exalted ruler of the Sanford Lodge of the Elks, and vice-president of the State Elks Association, past consul commander of the Woodmen of the World and president of the W.O.W. district, and a member of the Old Fellows.

Married and father of five children, he resides at 1800 Sanford Avenue. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church and currently a director of the Association of County Clerks.

In making his announcement Mr. Herndon said, "With a highly efficient and specialized office force, and catering to the best people in the world, we have, and will continue to render the best of public service."

sued a statement about the primary but he didn't say anything about the results.

Instead, he lauded the heavy vote turnout as indicative "of the basic strength of the Democratic Party" and congratulated Kefauver and Mr. Truman's supporters for putting on a "clean campaign."

In contrast to the personal exchanges which marked the Republican contest.

Sen. Duff (R. Pa.), one of the most ardent Eisenhower supporters, cried jubilantly: "Eisenhower won a magnificent victory in New Hampshire."

"Only the Old Guard and professional political manipulation now stand between Eisenhower and a complete victory for the party in November."

"The sweep in New Hampshire yesterday will begin a sweep throughout the country. I am confident Eisenhower will be nominated and overwhelmingly elected."

House Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts wouldn't comment on the Republican results but said Kefauver's victory was "the most striking" outcome. He said it was "almost unthinkable" that President Truman would lose to Kefauver.

Kefauver said, "I am entirely elated over the results. I don't think this is a protest vote against President Truman, because in general I agree with Mr. Truman." The senator added that he intends to enter as many primaries as possible.

In Key West, Fla., where he is vacationing, Mr. Truman declined to discuss with newsmen the outcome of the New Hampshire voting. Close associates, who could not be identified by name, said the result would not affect his decision on whether to seek re-election.

Sen. Taft said today he was "a little disappointed" about his showing. "We thought we would do better than that," he told newsmen covering his campaign tour through Texas. The Ohioan added: "Of course, I wasn't too confident. I was expecting a horse race."

Taft's campaign leaders conceded defeat shortly after 3 a. m.

local Pilot Club had had a part in winning the award since a number of newspaper articles and pictures portraying the club's participation in community programs and services had been sent to headquarters to be entered in the contest, and the award had been made on the basis of such material from all clubs.

Mrs. Al Hunt, chairman in charge of arrangements for the club's annual bridge party, announced that the party will be held on Mar. 21 at 3:00 p.m., the place to be announced at a later date. Tentative plans are to hold it in the Woman's Club, she said.

Mrs. Joel Field reported on the tea held on Feb. 28 at Azalea Lodge which had a large representation of the Federation of Women's Clubs present. The tea, an annual event, is given by the Federation each year for its "Scholarship Fund."

Mrs. McCoy and the cooperation of the Pilot Club in selling tickets for the recently organized Music Association which plans to sponsor five concerts in Sanford beginning in November. Miss Ramsey, secretary of the Seminole County Baseball Association, solicited the cooperation of the members in ticket sales this year. The contest was won by 27 members present at the meeting.

Despite the general's victory, there will remain some in his camp who will continue to pray for his return. Some think he could have won by an even wider margin if he had been here to campaign.

To Taft the loss of all of New Hampshire's delegates and his defeat in the popularity contest was a teeth-rattling blow at a time when he believed his vigorous campaigning was going to pan voting gold.

He had predicted the election of four of his delegate candidates and said he would make a horse race out of the preference test.

"Ohio senator has a chance to show his vote-getting prowess in the April 1 Wisconsin primary, but there he is matched with only minor candidates."

They are former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, whose poor showing in New Hampshire will hurt him elsewhere, and Gov. Earl Warren of California, whose popularity outside his home state is untested in 1952.

The real test for Taft will be his primary meeting with Eisenhower in New Jersey. In the meantime, he must continue to carry what he has plainly shown is the irksome burden of his opponents' assertions that he can't win an election outside of Ohio.

Eisenhower's New Hampshire victory may make it easier for some Republican leaders to abandon their fence positions and make up their minds. It will make it more difficult for Taft's forces to recruit them.

The results here will be seized upon by Taft's opponents as an indication they should press their fight on his foreign policy views. Gov. Sherman Adams, who led the Eisenhower delegate ticket, called Taft an "isolationist."

Vote On IRB Plan Expected Later Today

Tax Agent Tells He Was So Scared He Forgot All About $12,000.00 In Box

WASHINGTON (AP)—A veteran revenue agent told House tax investigators today he was so scared by their questioning he forgot until after that he had $12,000 cash in a box at home.

Albert Cohen, 52, who said he had been grilling taxpayers about their finances for 32 years as an agent, confessed:

"It's one thing to answer questions and another to ask them. I've been accustomed to asking the questions."

Cohen, 37,000-a-year internal revenue agent in the Second New York City Division, was questioned about spending approximately $25,000 more than his sworn income in the 3-year period from 1948 to 1950.

The House ways and means subcommittee investigating tax irregularities heard Cohen today as the final, and possibly most spectacular, phase of their long probe of internal revenue scandals.

Involved in the current inquiry are top tax administration officials in the New York area.

Cohen said under questioning by committee members that he had been "inaccurate" in telling investigators in July, 1951, no cash in excess of $300 at home or in a safe deposit box since 1945.

But two months later, he said he listed $12,000 cash in a safe deposit box at the start of the period. The latter assertion was in a sworn statement.

During his oral interrogation, Cohen said, he was "highly nervous" and his mind "went blank" at times.

"I'd never gone through anything like that before," he said, and grinned faintly.

Summoned before the subcommittee which is headed by Rep. Kinz (D-Calif.), were the first of half a dozen bureau employees whose answers to committee questionnaires King referred to as "unusual."

Indications were the roll call on the IRB reorganization plan would come about 4 p. m. EST.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), floor manager of the bill, said he would be able to muster the 40 votes necessary to defeat it. But he said the issue would be "nip and tuck."

Members of the House, including the opposition, would make any forecast. Those opposing the plan were counting on a combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats in defeat.

George Williams, 74-year-old veteran who carries great weight with Southern senators, made the major speech against the plan Wednesday. He had some acidity (Continued on Page Four)

Edward Higgins Terrace Will Be Dedicated Sunday

Project Includes 8 Buildings, 40 Units Costing $311,000

Named in honor of the late Edward Higgins, Sanford's first public housing project for war veterans, Edward Higgins Terrace, comprising 40 units and costing more than $311,000 will be dedicated Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Officiating at the laying of the cornerstone of the Administration Building will be Mayor W. H. Stepper and the Rev. J. E. McKinley, member of the Sanford Housing Authority.

George Williams, executive secretary of the RHA, today pointed out that it was largely due to the efforts of Mr. Higgins in 1949, that Housing Authority development since 1941, had been revived.

The project was started in 1941 while Mr. Higgins was mayor. Three projects resulted, the recently completed 125 unit Castle Howard project for Negroes, the 60-unit Negro project due for completion in May, and Edward Higgins Terrace.

The latter project of which Elton J. Moughtin is architect, comprises 12 buildings for living quarters and an administration building located in two city blocks bounded by Third Street, Pecan Avenue, Fifth Street and Avocado Avenue. Midway between Third and Fifth Streets a concrete paved street bisects the area. A large playground is located on the Third Street side.

Due to occupancy on or about Apr. 1, Edward Higgins Terrace includes eight buildings containing four apartments each and four duplex type. There will be available four apartments with one bed of 10 of two beds; 14 of three beds and six of four bed type.

The administration building will contain the office, repair shop and storage space. Lawn and landscaping work is now being completed by Payne's Landscaping Nursery of Lakeland.

Well Engineering and Contracting Co., Lakeland, are general contractors for the project. The building is being completed by Payne's Landscaping Nursery of Lakeland.

Including outside utilities, paving, landscaping and sidewalks, the project cost an average of $7,500 a unit.

Rentals will be based on the ability of the tenant to pay and will be an inspection. All members are ordered to be present.

Mason Randolph Marshall, 74, died at the Orlando Hospital on Mar. 10 at 1:15 a. m. He has lived in Sanford since 1923 and was formerly a railroad engineer. He was also a carpenter and was employed by an insurance agency at Sanford. He was born Aug. 25, 1877, in Charlottesville, Va. Graveside services were held yesterday afternoon at 4:00 at the Lake View Cemetery with Dr. W. P. Brooks, Jr. officiating.

Admiral Smith Denies Truman In Ship Deal

Former Maritime Head Admits Lawyer Was Throwing Weight Around In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. William Smith, former head of the old U. S. Maritime Commission, testified today he recalls no White House assistance to Newbold Morris in ship deals now under Senate investigation.

But Smith told Senate investigators he did remember Washington Lawyer Joseph E. Casey as "throwing his weight around" in some of the negotiations.

Smith was before the Senate investigations subcommittee which is looking into how ex-Rep. Casey, Massachusetts Democrat, and a group of financiers made $4 million dollars from ship deals into which they put only $101,000 of their own money.

Morris, now government corruption investigator, was drawn into the inquiry by disclosure that three oil tankers handled by Casey's group wound up (1) in the hands of a client of Morris' law firm, and (2) hauling oil to Communist China.

Morris, in two days in the witness chair, denied any wrongdoing and said he had received nothing from ship deals. However, he acknowledged his share of his firm's legal fees from the ships transaction might be $20,000 to $25,000.

At the close of his testimony of eight days of contentment Wednesday, Morris blasted what he termed the "diseased minds" of the senators investigating him.

As a result, there was some talk of citing him for contempt.

Also he faced a call to a new and possibly wider investigation.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), the main target of Morris' denunciation of what he called "character assassination" in congressional probes, said he would press for a full-scale Senate inquiry into accusations voiced in the House by Rep. Potter (R-Mich.) last month that Morris has a "sordid background" of activities in Communist front organizations.

Morris has denied the charges publicly and vigorously.

Chairman Morris (D-N.Y.) of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee told a reporter he believes Potter's statement should be explored further.

McCarran announced a Senate Judiciary subcommittee which he also heads would delay action on a White House request for subpoena powers for Morris on his cleanup job "until it is determined whether this man will be cited for contempt."

There was a different story on the other side of the Capitol. Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.) declared he was convinced of Morris' honesty and integrity and said his House Judiciary Committee would act "promptly" on a bill to give him full subpoena powers.

The Senate committee's examination reveals no wrong doing on his part," Celler said.

But back in the Senate, Sen. Nixon (R-Calif.) publicly called on President Truman to fire Morris from the cleanup job as a "smart aleck" who showed a lack of maturity and emotional stability.

WIFE INDICTED
BARTON (AP)—Mrs. Myra Gilbert, 41, was indicted by Polk County grand jury Wednesday for the fatal shooting of her husband.

The jury charged her with first degree murder in the death of Arthur Gilbert, 40, who at one time operated an automobile agency at Lakeland.

Gilbert was shot several times. She told officers she shot him when he threatened her.

Truman Aides Ask Congress For Full Foreign Aid Funds

Campaign Fund Law Held Legal By Tampa Judge

Candidates Are Told To Obey Law Pending Higher Appeal

TAMPA (AP)—Circuit Judge Henry C. Tillman today held legal the parts of the campaign spending law requiring gifts and expenditures to be made through a campaign treasurer.

This is exactly the opposite stand taken Saturday by Circuit Judge Ira A. Hutcheson, Bloomington, Ind., who ruled the sections which require candidates to contribute through a campaign treasurer unconstitutional and violated freedom of the press.

Attorney General Richard E. Byrd also today gave his opinion on the law Wednesday. The whole matter now will have to be decided by the State Supreme Court.

Attorneys on both sides promptly issued statements advising their clients and candidates to continue following the law until the Supreme Court rules on the conflicting lower court decisions.

Ervin, who defends the law, and J. Kenneth Hallinger, attorney for press and radio opponents, said they will cooperate to get the issue before the Supreme Court as soon as possible.

The general procedure for appeal, argument and consideration by the Supreme Court probably will take many of the 33 days remaining between now and the first primary election May 6.

The Tampa judge's ruling came in a test suit of the law brought by W. A. Smith, operator of radio station WFLA at Plant City.

The suit in this suit and the one which Judge Hutcheson ruled were identical, except the West Florida suit involved a newspaper.

The Tampa judge said "I can not see where the issue of free speech is involved at all, and if it is, the Legislature was justified in invoking the police power of the state to curb this ever-growing evil."

Judge Tillman criticized at length heavy campaign spending, but did not see how any thinking man could doubt that the Legislature was inspired to pass this statute because of the ever-increasing influence of money and power which were seeking through the use of money to rule in a way, and granting that there may be some curtailment in the right of free speech and in the right of free press or expression, the Legislature was justified in passing the law.

Judge Tillman said the act of the election law would be worth the money to the Legislature if it provided a way by which it could be ascertained by the people as to who were supporting and putting up the money for the candidate.

Blood Clinic To Be Held Next Thursday

Plans for another Blood Clinic for the Armed Forces to be held at the Episcopal Parish House next Thursday were made last night at a committee meeting at which A. B. Peterson, Jr., Red Cross chapter chairman of the program, presided.

E. T. Milnes, Longwood, was announced as the new rural chairman for the program.

The need of donors was stressed, said Mr. Peterson. Those who wish to make pledges are requested to telephone the Red Cross office at 80.

Acheson Says Slash Would Undermine Whole Economy Of Atlantic Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's top foreign strategists called on Congress today to vote every dollar of President Truman's $7,000,000,000 foreign aid program.

Four initial global planners went before a joint Senate House floor to urge their uphill fight for foreign aid funds in the face of congressional economy drives in the current year.

Before an overflow crowd which jammed into the Senate's biggest committee room, those points were stressed:

1. Secretary of State Acheson and a cut in foreign funds now would have "the immediate and destructive effect of undermining the whole economy" of NATO—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

2. W. Averell Harriman, director of national security, declared that a reduction in funds would represent "a decision to reduce the strength which is being built in the free world for our common defense against the threat of the Kremlin."

3. Secretary of Defense Lovell, emphasizing the Communist-led pact to the French in Indochina, called for "substantial increases in military assistance" to that country's Far Eastern front.

All the addresses stressed the necessity of the multi-billion dollar program to bolster this nation's defense against Communism.

Acheson developed the Western European countries against common good suggesting that they are not doing their full part in the defense buildup.

He gave his "considered judgment" that the present effort by Europe and NATO members, plus certain new commitments, "approach the limit of their capabilities."

"To go beyond these limits," he said, "would produce a strain on their political, economic and social structures that would endanger both their security and ours—and would result in a weak ally."

Where "reorganized" aid is the staff of the hearing which has been held before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees and the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

There was no action today on the suggestion by Sen. McMahon (R-Ill.) that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower be recalled from Paris to study the group.

McMahon indicated he would develop a formal motion that Eisenhower be brought back until the Senate Foreign Relations Committee meets separately, which would be today.

Sen. McMahon told the group it is essential that the U. S. top up its military aid to Indochina because that is in "the security interests of the free world."

If the situation in Indochina can be brought back until the Senate Foreign Relations Committee meets separately, which would be today.

The French have been fighting Communist-led insurgents in Indochina for years. Recently the French have been forced to surrender from their positions. Additionally, they are faced with a decrease in their own resources.

Sen. McMahon said foreign aid funds would enable all 20 divisions committed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to have the best in equipment and training.

"The NATO military position has improved appreciably during the past year," he said, "and it is essential that this improvement be accelerated for the next 15 months."

Other ranking administration officials were present.

Triple Trio Stars In Community Sing At Mayfair Inn

Local talent contributed much to the outstanding success of a community sing staged by Charles Morrison Tuesday night in the ballroom of the Mayfair Inn.

Appearing in costume of the gay 30s were the girls of the Triple Trio of the Seminole High School Glee Club, who were accompanied by Miss Jean Miller.

In introducing them, Mr. Morrison pointed out that the Glee Club is getting ready to go in Tampa for a district contest.

The audience after hearing "Sweet Violins" and "Make Believe," clamored for more numbers and the girls obliged with "One In Your Eyes," "Star Dust" and "Lady of Spain." He left this morning for two weeks leave in Lebanon, Pa.

Priz Ambrose, Mayfair Inn pianist and entertainer, accompanied Mr. Morrison led in group singing.

The audience joined in the program enthusiastically. Much fun was added by the crowning of Philip Doctor, former wideville star of the Orphan, Circuit, and guest at the hotel. Mr. Doctor is so pleased with Sanford that he intends to return next year. He can intimately recall the early days of his stay in Sanford, when Irving Berlin, Charlie Chaplin, and others of the entertainment world.

A British officer back from Korea says American tanks are not made for fighting, they are made for Hollywood, and adds,
 "One British tank is worth two to have to swallow, but we will have many similar comments from we do something about it?

Dr. Drew Pearson, an eminent

As this is written the vice council in New Hampshire is virtually completed and Eisenhower has 46,045; Taft, 35,251 and Stassen
 4,471. The margin of Eisenhower's victory is all the more impressive not only because he did not campaign personally in that state, while Senator Taft did, but also because, had Stassen not been in the race, Eisenhower would probably have received most of his votes.

Despite the New Hampshire upset, Senator Taft still has 59 convention delegates pledged to him compared with 25 for Eisenhower. But all of Taft's delegates were pledged before the New Hampshire primary, and of them only a change that came by the time the convention met. Taft has 17 of Florida's Republican delegates, but if it were left to the will of the voters there, he has no doubt Eisenhower would get them.

Mr. Morris, elected to the House, President Truman's first cabinet member, was elected on the eve of his inauguration. He has been a House member since 1937, and has served in the House for 11 years.

The New Hampshire Primary

It has never been said, so far as we know, that "As goes New Hampshire so goes the nation," but it is likely to be said a good many times during the next few months.

New Hampshire may not be a barometer for political weather throughout the entire country, but Tuesday's primary provided a straw poll certainly as reliable as any Dr. Gallup ever took on the way people are thinking and what they are going to do, come next November.

The sweeping victory of General Eisenhower over Senator Taft and Harold Stassen seems to indicate, we believe, that the people are not afraid of a military minded man in the White House, and rather prefer one who is a little more in the middle of the road, a little more of a compromise between extreme conservatism and extreme liberalism than Senator Taft.

The General's victory is all the more impressive because he did not campaign in the state, did not offer any encouragement to anyone to vote for him; whereas Senator Taft left no stone unturned in his effort to win. Naturally the General was pleased with the compliment paid him by New Hampshire voters, and has said so.

No less significant, it seems to us, was Senator Kefauver's victory over President Truman. In many respects it was another case of David slaughtering Goliath. Not only was Kefauver until recently a virtually unknown senator, but he is also from the South, from Tennessee, a state not likely to carry much weight in New Hampshire.

But Senator Kefauver, chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, which has done so much to expose graft and corruption all over the United States, and has embarrassed President Truman's administration in a score of ways, received 30,147 votes to Mr. Truman's 18,500. The people are thoroughly fed up with political corruption.

What would the result have been if the race had been between Eisenhower and Kefauver, or Taft and Truman? Hardly a fair test in New Hampshire, a rock ribbed Republican state. But one can hardly doubt that Eisenhower would take the measure of President Truman in a nation-wide election.

Undervaluing Americana

The taste of the American people is often undervalued, especially by movie directors. One firm conviction of these gentlemen is that Americana are not interesting as good books. To those of this opinion it must come as a shock to learn of the fortunes of James Boswell's "London Journal."

Boswell, 18th century London writer and man about town, is celebrated as the author of perhaps the best biography ever written in English of the life of Dr. Samuel Johnson. In the last few years an unsuspected wealth of unknown Boswell writings has turned up in British castles, in such unusual storage places as old lofts and croquet boxes. Enough has been found, it is estimated, to fill 50 volumes, to be published from time to time by Yale University, where the newly found manuscripts are now located. The first of the series, Boswell's "London Journal" is a diary of his early days in London.

How many copies might such a book be expected to sell? One optimist guessed 50,000. The actual figures are astounding. At least accounts this rather specialized piece of non-fiction sold 485,000 copies, and the end is not yet.

Raters of the public taste should revise upward their estimate of the American interest in literary matters.

Legitimate Exemption

A woman with a job often has to hire some one to look after her children. Should she not be allowed to deduct this from her income tax, just as business men are permitted to deduct expenses necessary to earning an income, such as business entertainment, travel, etc., and from her professional organizations?

Is not the bringing up of children a woman's business? If so, and few will deny it, surely she should be allowed to deduct from her tax the amount necessary to hire a housekeeper or baby-sitter. Representative Edna Kelly of New York thinks so, and has introduced into Congress a bill to this effect.

Such a bill has been introduced by Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, Tex., president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. A similar bill is pending in the legislature of New York, which has a state income tax.

Whatever Congress does, states with income taxes should give serious attention to what seems a reasonable exemption.

Scientists at the noted Battelle Memorial Institute of Columbus, Ohio recently developed a new fertilizer concentrate which is completely water soluble with 100% analysis. Most food with micro-nutrients added.

The new product is being manufactured by the Alco Fertilizer Company of Tallahassee, Fla., and is being marketed under the trade name of "Molinate."

It is a very fine, perfectly soluble, white powder that is completely water soluble and can be applied to plants with a spray or a watering can. U. S. And Turkish Troops Stop Red Attack In Tracks

No MIGs In Skies To Be Shot Down As Truce Talks Drag

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—American and Turkish troops stopped a Red assault in its tracks Wednesday night in the heaviest Communist attack in a month. The U. S. 24th division officer said today 300 of the 750 attacking Reds were killed or wounded.

The Communists struck behind a heavy artillery barrage against the 24th division and Turkish Brigade in the eastern mountains near Heartbreak Ridge. Assault waves came in three prongs along a 2 1/2 mile front. Another division spokesman said, "They got nowhere."

A curtain of Allied artillery and mortar fire halted the Reds 100 yards short of the ridge. Communist shells dulled back after a sharp 2-hour fight.

The entire 155-mile Korean front quieted today. The U. S. Eighth Army said it would patrol closely in the center.

American warships pounded the eastern end of the line in round-the-clock attacks. The Navy reported the cruiser USS Hines and the destroyer USS Hildegarde scored direct hits on Red troops, guns, bunkers and supply depots. Warships and planes combined to cut Red rail in 16 places, smash five railroad bridges and sink 30 small boats.

U. S. F-90 Thunderjets opened Thursday's air war with a sunrise attack on Hichon railway marshaling yards. They left the yards in ruins.

American F-86 Sabre jet pilots, who had shot down 11 Russian-type fighters in three days, did not find a single Red jet in the sky today.

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

MUNMAN, Korea (AP)—Allied troops negotiated the Red truce today, they were wasting time trying to get the unconditional repatriation of all prisoners we hold in exchange for a small portion of those now held by the Communists.

That's what the latest Red plan amounts to, said Rear Adm. H. E. Libby, and it is not acceptable.

The Communists insist that prisoners be turned over a "complete and bona fide" prisoner roster.

Libby said that's "putting the cart before the horse."

The Communists insist they must make the next move. The Reds said it's Libby's move.

Col. Andrew J. Kinney described as "a strictly a goose egg" a 2-hour officers' meeting on truce negotiations.

The Communists suggested last week that prisoners exchange discussions proceed on the basis of original lists traded last December. Libby demanded a complete list of prisoners in exchange for a list of missing South Korean soldiers. The Reds have agreed to release 100 at the front. The U. N. charges most were impressed into the Communist armies.

"We have been insisting that you account for the fate of the earth last year," Libby said. "The simple statement that you released all of them at the front to disappear from the face of the earth obviously is not a credible accounting."

North Korean Col. Chang Chun San lost his temper in the truce negotiation session while debating whether five or six ports of entry on each side should be opened to neutral inspectors.

Col. Kinney said six ports required Allied supply requirements and he could not certify Chang as a "qualified expert" who would determine U. N. needs.

"That made him angry and he delivered an obscenity for some time," Kinney said. "He declared our position was arrogant and preposterous."

Kinney accused the Reds of trying to restrict the number of ports as if he does those kitchen concoctions. Ain't science wonderful!

Truman Launches Bitter Attack On Power Interests

CHICAGO (AP)—President Truman lashed out today at opposition to the federal power program as "tyranny" and "obstructionist" and dangerous developments in many years.

His remarks were in a special message sent to the National Rural Electric Co-operative Association which secretary of the Interior, Chapman presented in a prepared speech.

Both the President and Chapman pledged to fight for continuation of the federal power program.

"I am determined to do everything I can to see that the policy of conserving and developing our priceless water power resources for the public benefit shall go forward," the President said.

"This campaign of obstructive federal power policy must not succeed," Chapman said.

The President said the power industry's "propaganda campaign" has switched from attacks on the valley authority idea to denouncing the public power program as "socialism."

Mr. Truman said the power industry seeks to "exploit" the nation's water power resources through private development. They are trying to prevent public bodies in the State of Washington, acting under laws supported time after time by the voters of that state, from buying power facilities that private companies are willing and eager to sell.

In his attack on "the power industry's campaign," Mr. Truman said an extensive advertising campaign by the power industry is largely paid for by taxpayers because the power companies can deduct the costs of the advertisements from income tax payments.

Wages Of Building Workers Increased

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board ruled today that pay rates covering between three and four million construction workers may be increased by 15 cents an hour during 1948.

The WSB announced a unanimous decision establishing a new wage policy for the industry. The policy had been recommended unanimously by the WSB's Separate Construction Industry Stabilization Commission, which handles wage stabilization for that industry.

Springtime is the customary period in which the industry and the various unions of the building and construction crafts (bricklayers, carpenters, etc.) enter new collective bargaining agreements covering the coming year's labor costs.

The ruling is merely permissive—employers are not required to give the 15 cent increase, but the government will permit it.

7 More Candidates For Delegates File

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Seven more aspirants for election as delegates to the Democratic National Convention today qualified with the secretary of state.

They are:

Mrs. M. B. Fuller, Bunnells, for delegates from the state-at-large; Albert T. Pascoe, Tampa, first district; Asher Frank, Tampa, first district; Fred M. Coss, Gainesville, eighth district; A. M. (Barney) Patton, Lake Park, sixth district; Mrs. Bertha Adams, Tallahassee, third district; Dorsey J. Prescott, Orlando, fifth district.

All except Frank and Prescott, who did not name their choice, pledged themselves to support Sen. Russell D. Ga. for the Democratic presidential nomination.

CONVICTS HELPED

APALACHEE (AP)—Eleven young convicts who completed their high school courses in the State Correctional Institution here today have diplomas that certify their first long step toward rehabilitation.

The boys, some still in their teens, are serving prison terms for offenses ranging up to murder. Some may go out on parole soon; others will have to stay in prison longer.

The graduation ceremonies were about the same as those that take place in many small high schools annually.

Brassiere Bandits Are Given Pardons By Pardon Board

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The three Miami girls who stole seven thousand dollars worth of quarters from the telephone company by selling them in their brassieres won't have to go to prison after all.

After hearing lawyers for Betty Cottigiani, Marie Orr and Billie Ann McCall, the pardon board had rehabilitated themselves and said back the stolen money, the Pardon Board granted all three conditional pardons, releasing them from their one-year prison sentences.

The board declined to commute the death sentence of George W. Story, convicted of killing his former wife's second husband, Thomas St. John. He also was charged with killing his ex-wife, Lucille St. John, but was not tried on that count.

The board denied the clemency appeal of Frederick J. O'Connell, a year-and-a-half convict in the slaying of his wife at their home in Cocoa.

Civil rights were restored to Mrs. O'Connell.

FILES TO MEXICO

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cuba's deposed President, Carlos Prío Socarras, left for a Mexican Airlines plane today for exile in Mexico City.

He and his party, including government ministers loyal to him, were given safe passage by Fulgencio Batista, Cuba's strong man who pushed Prío from office Monday and Wednesday became Prime Minister of the revolutionary government.

FRATERNIZATION

BONN, Germany (AP)—Occupation soldiers in West Germany—mainly Americans, Britons and French—were ordered to attend a "Fraternalization" children and the German Parliament with the Allies will pay their trip.

The parliament instructed the government Wednesday night to start negotiations with the Allied High Commission for help.

A Parliamentary report said a 1946 census revealed there are 3,000 multilingual among the illegitimate youngsters.

LEESBURG (AP)—State Rep. J. A. (Pat) Boyd, Leesburg furniture dealer, said Wednesday he is a candidate for delegate to the National Democratic Convention and favors Sen. Russell D. Ga.

Suggs had been sentenced by a Louisiana Federal Court to serve six months for embezzlement and had thought his civil rights were automatically restored when his prison term expired. Marriage Of Miss Clark Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John Lester Clark announced the recent marriage of their daughter, Louise Lester, to Raymond Hollis Catlett, son of Mrs. Belle C. Black of Commerce, Ga. and of the late Mr. Thomas Gibson Catlett. The wedding, marked by quiet simplicity, was held in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends at the Druid Hills Methodist Church in Atlanta, on Dec. 22, 1933. Dr. Rufus Wicker, pastor of the church, officiated. Mrs. Catlett chose for her wedding costume a suit of russet and brown which was trimmed with brown beads. Her accessories were russet with russet and beige accents. She carried a white prayer book which was topped with a brown orchid and ribbons of brown, russet, and beige.

Miss Barbara Sue Johnson, of Jefferson City, Mo., Catlett's only attendant. She wore a suit of beige wool, accented with brown accessories and a corsage of rust chrysanthemums. David W. Smith of Cordele, Ga. served the groom as best man. The bride, a native of Sanford, attended local schools and was graduated from Seminole High. She is also a graduate of Georgia State College for Women in Billingsville, Ga.

Mr. Catlett is a native of Commerce and attended schools there. He also attended the University of Georgia where he received his M. A. degree. He is employed by the U. S. Air Force during World War II and during the Korean conflict. Mr. and Mrs. Catlett are making their home in Atlanta, Ga. where they will be employed by the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

Methodist Society Holds Regular Meet

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Monday afternoon in McKinley Hall. At the board meeting which preceded the regular business and program, Mrs. J. C. Davis, president, presided. The board recommended that the W. S. S. serve light refreshments in the congregation following the evening service on Mar. 23, in order for the members to become better acquainted with new members and winter visitors. This might throw the studio publicity minds into a turmoil. For years they've been working on the theory that a starlet must do cheesecake photos to make a name for herself.

"Nonense!" exploded Diana. "The facts prove otherwise. A good number of the most successful dramatic actresses on the screen have never gone in for leg art. Take Marie Dressler. She appeared in most of her screen roles well covered. And no one has been able to exude more sex on the screen than Dietrich."

"Greta Garbo is another. Her pictures were among the sexiest ever made. And yet she wasn't the kind to pose in bathing suits at the beach."

Diana argued that it was possible, in fact easier, to promote sex appeal in clothing than in nudity. "After all," she said, "seven veils are much more intriguing than no veils at all."

She observed that most of the successful dramatic actresses on the screen get by that way without aid of cheesecake. The current Academy award nomination appears to bear out her contention.

"Vivien Leigh, who was nominated for 'A Streetcar Named Desire,' has never fit the usual sexlet pattern," she said. "But her role in 'Gone With the Wind' was one of the sexiest ever put on the screen."

"Katharine Hepburn played an old maid in 'The African Queen' and Jane Wyman became an old woman in 'The Blue Veil.' Neither has come in for cheesecake, nor has Eleanor Parker, who is up for 'Destiny's Story.'"

"It is significant that Shelley Winters, who has been played up as a sexy dish in pictures, got her Academy nomination by playing a drab housewife in 'A Place in the Sun.'"

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — Diana Lynn comes up with the unique notion that a girl doesn't have to bare her legs to get ahead in the movie selling business. In fact, she argues that it's better not to without this might throw the studio publicity minds into a turmoil. For years they've been working on the theory that a starlet must do cheesecake photos to make a name for herself.

"Nonense!" exploded Diana. "The facts prove otherwise. A good number of the most successful dramatic actresses on the screen have never gone in for leg art. Take Marie Dressler. A past president of the Sanford Kiwanis Club, he has a perfect attendance record of 10 years. He is secretary of Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital. Active in community affairs he is a member of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and of the Jaycees.

Mr. Doudney is a member of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, is married, has two children and lives at 2550 Melrose Avenue. FEC TAX SUIT
JACKSONVILLE — Trustees for the Florida East Coast Railway are seeking to get back more than a million dollars the firm has paid in federal taxes.

In a suit filed Wednesday, trustees Scott Luffin and John W. Martin contend the collector of internal revenue erred in denying FEC certain deductions involving interest due on a defaulted $5 million bond issue.

John L. Faha, collector of internal revenue for Florida, is named defendant in the suit filed in Federal District Court. It asks refund of $1,103,186.08.

BREVARD CANAL
JACKSONVILLE — Deepening and widening the Intracoastal Waterway south to Haulover Canal Cut in Brevard County is to be advertised for bids soon.

Work already is under way to deepen the channel to 12 feet and widen the waterway to 125 feet from Flagler Beach south to Oak Hill. The new project will go another 15 miles southward.

Col. H. W. Schull Jr., district engineer, said bids will be asked about March 27 and opened about April 20.

MURDER CHARGE
HATTIESBURG, Miss. — A man and a woman are being held here without bond, charged with murder in the slaying of two policemen during a gun battle.

Warrants were issued here Wednesday charging Luther Cary Wheeler, Jacksonville, Fla., and Elaine Forman, East Lake City, with murder in the pistol slaying of Patrolman M. W. Vinton Jr., 38, and Jesse James Everett, 27.

Tampa Sheriff To Quit Office After Kefauver Attack

TAMPA — Sheriff Hugh Culbreath, who made two appearances before the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee last year, is retiring from public life.

He announced Wednesday he will leave the sheriff's job at the end of 1952 after 12 years in that office. Before taking over as sheriff he was a constable and deputy sheriff here for eight years.

Culbreath has been in the middle of politics and controversy over gambling for years. He long has been recognized as one of Hillsborough County's political powers.

He says it's time for him to get out and see more of his friends and family. He defended his record on enforcement of gambling laws, saying gambling has been "far less in volume than during any previous 10 years of the county's history."

It went on: "Not only was evidence received of direct and regular payments of protection by gamblers, but there was also evidence of Culbreath's business associations with 'Red' Italians, the 'boss man' of the racketeers in Tampa."

At the Tampa hearing Culbreath testified he had kept large sums of money in a strong box at his home. He said then he had $33,426 on deposit in five banks. The committee placed his wealth at $100,000.

Last spring he was indicted on five counts but was acquitted on one after four charges were quashed.

In 1929 when he was a deputy sheriff, Culbreath was accused in a grand jury indictment of malpractice in office. He was acquitted in three minutes by a Court of Crimes jury.

Then nine years later while serving as a constable, he and eight other officers were indicted for nonfeasance. Those indictments were quashed.

EUSTIS — Willis V. McCall, a central figure in the Groveland rape case, will campaign for a third term as Lake County sheriff.

McCall once saved Negro defendants in the case from an angry mob. Later he killed one of them, Samuel Shepherd, and wounded another, Walter Lee Irvin, when the sheriff said they tried to escape.

Irvin said the attack was unprovoked, but a coroner's jury decided McCall shot in self-defense.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People sought McCall's removal from office but failed.

Irvin, his first conviction set aside by the U. S. Supreme court, was convicted again last month and sentenced to death. A third defendant on the charge of raping a young white farm wife was sentenced to life.

The fourth suspect was killed in West Florida by a posse that included Sheriff McCall.

A company spokesman in Chicago said operations on the railroad's main line should be back to normal by mid-afternoon.

Paul Bushong, night general yardmaster, said 1,200 cars were stacked up in the Elkhart yards waiting to be assembled into trains.

Elkhart members of the engineers, conductors and firemen brotherhoods were the last to give in to the back-to-work orders.

The case was expected to go to the jury late today.

Blues In The News

The student council from Seminole High School visited the station yesterday and seemed to enjoy every minute of the sight-seeing tour. Lt. C. L. Sullivan, John Greer, Bill Brennan and I met the group at the main gate and proceeded to direct them to some of the more interesting spots on the base. Our first stop was the gallery where Arthur Carpenter showed the group through the storage rooms, kitchen and mess hall.

From the gallery we walked over to one of the barracks and saw the quarters in which the enlisted men on the station live.

A complete tour of the Fire House was next which included an Inspection of the five department's vehicles and equipment.

At the parachute rigging first class parachute rigger H. E. Lane demonstrated the technique of packing a parachute correctly and explained some of the many safeguards and precautions taken before a parachute is ready for use.

The last stop, and the one in which the ceremony seemed most interested, was the hangar, air strip and control tower. After watching our navy mechanics at work on the plane in the hangar we moved out onto the line where the group stopped long enough to pose in front of a plane so Photographers Mate Waldon could snap their picture.

The trip was concluded with a visit to the control tower where the group watched a jet practice carrier landings by landing and

Where Does "Security" End Under Regime Of Military Censorship?

By JAMES DEVLIN
NEW YORK — Military censorship poses the question of where security ends and the coverage of mistakes begins, particularly on the home front and newspaper thinking.

It is when "security" is invoked to cover up something that appears to have no connection with security that friction arises.

Here is an actual example of how military and newspaper thinking can conflict:

Suppose you are a sports fan and you turn to the baseball standings. You see this list:

Chicago.....
Another Team.....
Philadelphia.....

You might be inclined to wonder who "another team" is.

Yet that was the situation confronting the sports editor of the Beloit, Wis., Daily News.

He reported that the 10th Air Force radar station had decided to enter a team in the Central Wisconsin Baseball League, whereupon the commanding officer demanded that his name be known simply as "another team."

The officer's idea, no doubt, was to conceal knowledge that the radar station existed. The newspaper's position was that this hardly could be concealed because the station's antenna was easily visible to anybody in the area.

The Navy conceded recently that "too often newspapers are met with evasiveness, double-talk or outright refusal to co-operate."

It sent a public relations newsletter to responsible officers reminding them that "the Navy belongs to the public" and urged them to give whenever possible "frank, honest answers to questions from newspapers and wire services."

The letter declared truth is the best policy "even when the truth hurts."

The Air Force changed its regulations on photographing air crashes this month after a campaign waged by James S. Pope, chairman of the American Society of Newspaper Editors' Freedom of Information Committee.

Pope was aroused by incidents of Air Force police prohibiting news photographers — sometimes by physical measures — from taking pictures of crashed planes on non-military property.

He argued Air Force regulations ignored civil authority and gave the military a favored right to declare martial law on civilian territory. He contended this right could be granted only by civilian authorities.

The Air Force no longer "prohibits" the taking of pictures outside military reservations.

But if a photographer takes pictures of secret equipment and refuses to surrender them, he will be warned that under federal law he can be fined $10,000 and imprisoned for 10 years. If he still refuses, the FBI will be called in.

When no secret equipment is exposed to view "consent" will be given for the taking of photographs by civilian photographers under the new regulations.

Pope contended the old regulations purported to give authority to officers and enlisted men to "forbid" photographs even when no secret items were involved.

He stressed that "no newspaper wants to risk breaching military security" but that military officials wish to see the military approach on civilian authority in the guise of security considerations where none existed.

Pope had become aroused on the subject when Air Force police seized film from a photographer's camera at a Minnesota crash scene.

Declaring no security was involved, he threatened a damage suit against the Air Force.

He made similar complaints when Air Force "over-zealous" and "physical force" were resorted to with coverage of a crash near Portland, Ore., and when they "rotted up" photographers at Honolulu covering Gen. Douglas MacArthur's return from Japan.

An example of how officials and the press differ on what constitutes security cropped up at one of President Truman's recent news conferences.

A reporter wanted to know why maps showing atomic installations were hung on airport bulletin boards.

He said such questions only attracted attention to the maps. The maps are intended to guide pilots so they won't fly over such installations.

Was security jeopardized in displaying on maps of bulletin boards in the first place, or in asking how come?

It depends on the point of view. Tomorrow, The President stirs a controversy.

Sympathy Over His Client's Plight Is Cause Of Stroke

TALLAHASSEE — A lawyer who was so overcome with sympathy by a convicted woman's plea for a pardon that he was taken to a hospital died today of a brain hemorrhage.

He was John Henry Harrell, 56, Tallahassee. His doctor said the attack apparently started during the State Pardon Board hearing Tuesday.

When Harrell's name was called to present the pardon application of a client, he said he couldn't make the appeal.

He explained to members of the Pardon Board that he had given his regular turn for presentation to Mrs. Gladys Diebert, who made an eloquent plea for release from probation for forgery conviction in Pinellas County.

Harrell told the board his sympathy was so great for the woman he became overcome and couldn't present his own case. Shortly after wards, he was taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Diebert insisted she was innocent of forgery and tearfully told the board she wouldn't want to see the sun rise again if she is not released from probation.

She said a son in the Army in Korea had asked for transfer from the band to a combat infantry unit in hope he would be killed and his insurance would provide money for her to continue her efforts to clear her name.

Harrell did not represent her. He was there to ask a full pardon for Alex Barnes, who is now out on parole from a 5-year Pinellas County sentence for assault with intent to commit second degree murder in 1947.

Governors Confer With Federal Men On Tax Problems

WASHINGTON — With taxpayers' wallets sagging mid-March flat, a group of governors and local officials met with congressional leaders to discuss new ways of splitting future tax dollars.

The state officials included such politically potent figures as Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Gov. Walter J. Kohler Jr. of Wisconsin, but there were no indications of possible early action to remove overlapping, duplication and even triplication of existing levies.

A House ways and means subcommittee headed by Rep. Doughton (D-N. C.) arranged a round-table discussion of multiple taxation of such things as gasoline, tobacco, admissions and estates.

So everybody could throw their ideas forward without inhibition, the conference met behind closed doors.

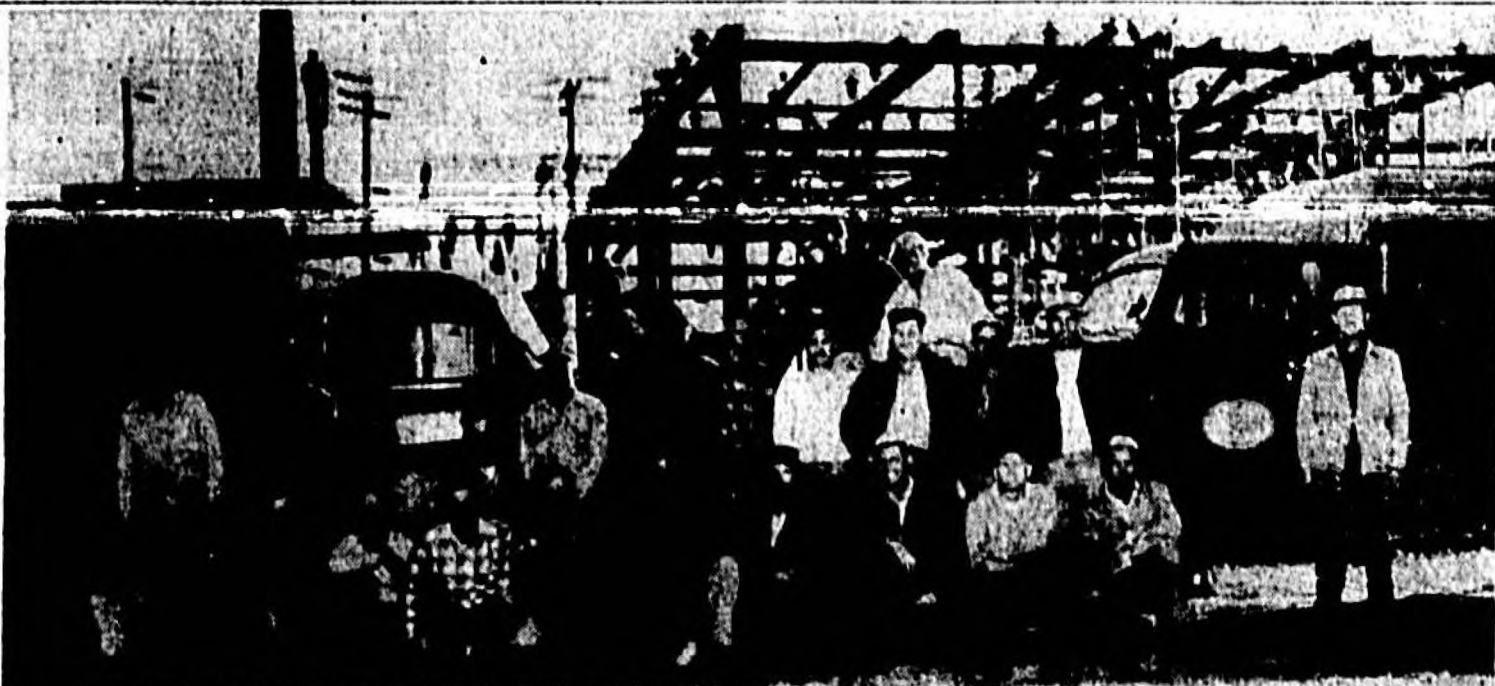

Doughton, who also is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee itself, made no bones about the difficulty of persuading any government division to give up any source of revenue at this time.

"All jurisdictions are hard up, and all of them would be very reluctant to relinquish any source of funds," he told a reporter.

In separate interviews, Doughton and Rep. Reed (R-N. Y.), ranking Republican member of the committee, agreed that the average taxpayer couldn't expect any relief if a new split-up should be agreed upon.

"If the federal government reduced its gasoline tax, or any other tax such as the one on admissions, the states would immediately add the same amount to their levies," Reed predicted.

Sanford Transmission And Distribution Personnel

The responsibility of constructing, maintaining and operating all overhead power lines in the Sanford district of the Florida Power and Light Co., as well as the lines between Titusville and Deland is handled by the above group. In background is the Sanford substation where power is reduced from 66,000 volts to lower voltages for distribution throughout the territory. In front row, left to right are K. L. Hittell, George Carver, C. W. Turner, Sr., V. W. Newsome, B. F. Bullard, Moody Hardin, A. Cameron, Ralph Dean, D. H. Pierey and V. P. Roton, foreman. Left to right, second row: R. J. Liver, J. H. Phillips, R. L. White, J. A. Taylor, C. F. Rabun, J. L. Atkinson, J. W. Carter, C. W. Turner, Jr., E. E. Clements, J. C. Johnson, George T. Pittard and H. C. Moore, supervisor. On top of truck, left to right are J. T. Hardy, J. C. M. Gray and J. E. Hall.

Father Uses Phone To Locate His Son Missing For Years

ARLINGTON, Va. — A father who made a town-to-town telephone search for his son, whom he hadn't seen in 30 years, enjoyed a happy reunion here today.

"The calls I made from here were person-to-person so it wasn't as expensive as it sounds," explained Frank Sobolewski, 61.

There was no charge for most of the calls.

Little Frankie was only two when his father last saw him in Pensacola, Fla., April 1, 1922, and sent him off to Texas.

He was a strapping man of 22 when he arrived by plane Tuesday from Portland, Tex., where he is a welder.

The son had taken the name of Frank Crawford, for the foster parent, Hodie Crawford, who reared him, in Hochheim, Tex.

Lack of money and illness, Sobolewski said, kept him from seeking his son before now. For six years a clarinetist with the Army band, he has been completely disabled since 1934.

Sobolewski said he sent the boy and his wife to Luling, Tex., in 1922 to await his discharge from the Army in Pensacola. Before he arrived in Texas the boy had been sent to his wife's grandparents, Luling and Sobolewski's wife joined him in setting up a music shop in Lubbock.

Sobolewski went broke and decided to make his way to Washington, D. C. He hitchhiked across the country and re-enlisted in the Army in late 1922. After hitching with the 3rd Cavalry Band and a tour at the Army Music School, Sobolewski joined the Army Band.

Meanwhile, young Frank's great-grandmother died and he was placed with the Crawfords. Sobolewski paid $10 a month to help support the lad until 1927. Then he lost track of the boy.

If you want pancakes to brown evenly, choose a griddle made of a material that distributes heat well and is heavy enough not to warp. Cast iron, heavy sheet aluminum, and magnesium alloy are all excellent materials for griddles.

If you want to hard-cook egg yolks without whites, drop the yolks into water that is simmering and cook ten to twenty minutes—just until the yolks are firm.

duced its gasoline tax, or any other tax such as the one on admissions, the states would immediately add the same amount to their levies," Reed predicted.

Road Approaches To Be Beautified In Week Of Mar. 17

JACKSONVILLE (Special) — Highway approaches to a hundred or more Florida towns and cities will be planted in beautiful trees and shrubs during the week beginning Mar. 17, in a statewide movement to augment the state's eye-appeal, the program stemming from garden clubs and county committees working in cooperation with the beautification committee of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, which committee has the wholehearted support of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs.

Harold Cole, executive vice-president of the State Chamber, and Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Jacksonville, who is chairman of the organization's beautification committee, announced today that, in compliance with a proclamation by Gov. Fuller Warren specifying the week beginning Mar. 17, an "Beautification Week," the committees of many of the 67 counties had entered enthusiastically in the movement, and that plants and shrubs would also be set out on the grounds of public buildings.

In addition to contributing two camellia bushes to be planted on each court house lawn in the memory of the late State Senator William C. Hodges of Leon county, Fred Mahan, Monticello nurseryman, has sent to each county through cooperation with the State Road Department, two Pauls scarlet roses, two oak leaf hydrangeas, and two red bud, two Ericoides and one Mahan tree.

To be planted at the same time on capital grounds and on state road department building grounds at Tallahassee will be two camellia bushes, honoring Gov. Warren and Road Department Chairman Alfred McKeon, respectively.

Reports received by Cole and Mrs. Jennings, and by Mrs. Halle Cohen, president of the garden club federation, indicate that Hernando, Marion, Sarasota and Clay counties have already begun their planting, and that on their annual beautification day the citizens of Vero Beach cleared underbrush from the grounds of a hospital, and began the beautifying of 30,000 square feet of streets and public grounds. Surveys are under way in Hernando.

Marion county commissioners have established a fund for the building of a nursery. A Sarasota garbage dump has been screened by Australian pines. Biggest project to date in Clay county has started at Penney Farms where 2,000 worth of shrubbery and ornamentals have been planted. Clay's beautification committee is undertaking a program which will be countywide in scope.

When you are baking a layer cake put the pans into the oven so that they do not touch each other or the oven walls. A good way is to arrange them diagonally on a shelf. If two shelves are used for baking the cake the pan on the lower shelf should be placed in the opposite direction from that on the top shelf. A layer cake pan should never be placed directly below or above another.

Rural Customers Of F. P. & L. Co. Doubled Over '45

An outstanding record in rural electrification in this district has been set by Florida Power & Light Company, according to H. H. Coleman, division manager, who announced yesterday that the company during the past six years has almost doubled the number of rural customers it serves here.

"In our Sanford district, comprised of Seminole County and parts of Volusia County," Mr. Coleman said, "we now serve 1,787 rural customers. This is an 80 percent increase over the 992 rural customers served at the end of 1945."

During the past six years the power company built more than seventy miles of rural lines to make electric service available to 2,784 additional persons.

Figuring each of its 1,787 rural customers represents 3 1/2 persons, on the average, this means that Florida Power & Light Company now serves a rural population in the Sanford trading area totaling over 6,265 persons.

"We are proud of this achievement," Mr. Coleman said, "because electric service contributes greatly to the prosperity of our back country."

"Besides operating home helps such as refrigerators, ranges, water heaters and vacuum cleaners, electricity lightens farm labor. It pumps water, grinds feed, saw wood, and does dozens of other backbreaking tasks."

"A very important service rendered by electricity is that it enables the rural resident to operate on his own farm several kinds of business formerly restricted to the city. For example, with electricity available, a rural resident may operate a fruit or vegetable processing plant, a pasteurizing plant and many other

ARMORED VEST
SEOUL, Korea — American infantrymen in Korea are testing a lightweight armored vest that is all nylon. It weighs only seven or eight pounds, about half the weight of metal alloy vests, the Army said today.

Last February the Army tried nylon vests that contained protective inserts of lightweight metal.

The latest vest is designed to protect against mortar, grenade and shell fragments. These normally account for 60 to 80 percent of combat wounds.

Revolt in Cuba
 A revolution in Cuba has been accomplished and Fulgenio Batista, with the support of the Cuban Army, has seized power. Constitutional guarantees have been suspended for a 45-day period although Batista promises that constitutional government will eventually return. The Cuban strong man is no stranger to Cuban politics. In 1933 he staged a revolt which kept him in power for over 10 years.

Cuba is a troubled country where political activity and gangsterism are too frequently one and the same thing. Assassination and armed revolt have changed Cuban governing powers almost as frequently as free elections. Batista claims that his latest revolution resulted from knowledge that President Carlos Prio Socarras was planning to become dictator.

It would be difficult for anyone except a Cuban to maintain that the government there did not need to be changed or reformed. That is an internal matter best settled by the citizens of that country. But whether any reform that is accomplished with guns and intrigue is advisable or safe is another matter. Batista appeared in the role of liberator in 1933. It was ten years before he left office.

The new dictator maintains that he will hold power only as long as is necessary to assure the possibility of honest free election. He may be sincere and the rest of the world certainly hopes so. It cannot help but remember the number of countries in which constitutional liberties were suspended, supposedly for brief emergency periods, never to be returned again.

British Help in Asia
 The United States is not the only nation which has a foreign aid program. The British Commonwealth has a $4,000,000,000 aid program, known as the Colombo Plan to help improve living standards in Asia. Under this program Australia and New Zealand have joined to launch a 15,000-acre research farm in Pakistan, which is designed to provide arable farms and homes to 25,000 farmers as well as to increase the Pakistan food supplies.

Mechanical methods will be used to produce fodder crops. Special projects will be devoted to animal husbandry, poultry breeding and pasture management. Located in the Thal Plains, an immense tract of land devastated by strong drying winds, it will be equipped with pools of agricultural machinery with mobile workshops to service it. The Thal Development Authority, established by the Pakistan government, has already built a 40-mile canal from the Indus River to irrigate a region of some one and one-half million acres. In addition to agricultural experiments, the farm will also include secondary industries such as fertilizer and textile plants.

A project like this will do more to stop "stomach-Communism" than an arsenal of guns, tanks and planes. It is designed to help an impoverished nation improve its living standards. The Thal Plains project is an indication of what can be done.

Value of The Classics
 There may be hope for Greek and Latin yet. These subjects, once the cornerstone of an education and still occupying that position in Great Britain, have been steadily abandoned by American schools and colleges. It is rare to find Greek taught, outside of the large universities, and Latin is falling into like disrepute. Few colleges, if any, require either for admission, and those students who have had a chance to learn either in high school drop them as soon as they enter college.

The reason for this lack of interest in the language of great civilizations and great literatures is their alleged want of practical value. The argument that knowledge of these dead tongues is an aid to the better use of English leaves most students cold. Yet Wellesley College in Massachusetts, through its placement director, Mrs. Joan Bishop, reports that seniors who are majoring in Greek and Latin are in demand for certain government positions requiring aptitude in learning the more unusual languages. Acquaintance with these ancient tongues makes infinitely easier the acquisition of the related languages, as Russian, now especially useful.

If they looked into the matter, students would find other advantages accruing from knowledge of Greek and Latin. Coming years may make this plain.

Korean Peace Talks Bog Down On POW Exchange
War Front Is Quiet After Heaviest Red Artillery Barrage

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
MUNSAN—Prisoner exchange talks neared a dead end today and U. N. truce negotiators suggested turning the whole problem back to staff officers.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said the negotiations are at a virtual standstill and "progress will be at best extremely slow."

The Communists promised to think it over. They may reply Saturday. Libby didn't indicate how he thought staff officers might crack the apparently hopeless deadlock. Less than three weeks ago staff officers bogged down on the issue of voluntary repatriation and handed the problem back to Libby and other U. N. negotiators on the truce subcommittee.

A second group of negotiators working on armistice supervision met for almost 4 1/2 hours, their longest session. Kinney said the Communists hit a "dizzy new high in intransigence and illogic," bringing the negotiations to a "dismal new low."

Kinney said the Communists apparently are ready to bargain on the scope of a clause banning naval blockades during an armistice. The Reds indicated they would approve insertion of "Korea" in the clause. This would allow U. N. Command fears that the armistice might have possible naval action along the China coast or in Formosan waters.

SEOUL, Korea—The Korean War quieted today after the heaviest Red artillery operations in weeks, including shell bursts uncomfortably close to four American warships.

Adams Announces His Platform In Governors' Race

TALLAHASSEE—Reorganization of the executive branch of Florida's government and no new taxes are pledged in the platform on which Alto Adams asks support of the voters in his campaign for governor.

The former Supreme Court justice, who seeks the Democratic nomination in the May primaries, Thursday issued the formal program for which he will work if elected. Most of this platform contains pledges already made in his campaign speeches.

He proposes to modify the governor's powers to appoint administrative officers by naming appointments directly in the hands of the Cabinet or by requiring "abinet approval."

Adams would abolish the Improvement Commission as a bond issuing agency and combine its other functions with those of some appropriate state agency. The Improvement Commission now issues self-liquidating bonds to finance such projects as toll bridges.

Adams calls in his platform for "realistic cost-of-living adjustment" in teachers' salaries and asks a minimum retirement pay of $100 a month for teachers with 25 years service.

He promises continuation of present citrus laws "with such adjustments as may be necessary to insure a stable market and profitable returns."

Meanwhile another internal revenue agent from New York City refused to tell House investigators today whether he had ever accepted a bribe or whether his sworn statement of net worth was correct.

He was the second agent in two days to turn back questions of a 1934 ways and means subcommittee on the grounds his answers might tend to incriminate or degrade him.

Today's reluctant witness was Charles Vesce, 41, who admitted his resignation Feb. 13 as state deputy collector for the Third New York District. Vesce, a Brooklyn agent, staged a similar performance Thursday.

After half an hour's unproductive questioning, the committee, headed by Rep. King (D-Calif.), told Vesce to stand down and took a brief recess.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
 Our faith is either eternal truth or no truth at all. There is no medium ground, let your life be based on eternal truth. Let us hold fast to the profession of our faith without wavering.—Heb. 10:23.

The Boeing Airplane Company has been awarded a contract for a new super bomber to be powered with atomic engines. This is the plane that will fly so fast it will require two pilots, one for the take-off and one for landing, both at the same time.

Citrus trees are taking no part in the fiscal foolishness which sees oranges and grapefruit bringing ridiculously low prices and putting out an abundance of new bloom the area of which inspires our faith and renews our hope for better things to come.

It must have been quite a thrill for President Truman to see one of his Administration measures get through Congress. But what do you suppose it was? A bill to reorganize the Internal Revenue Bureau so as to eliminate graft and corruption. It passed the Senate yesterday by 53 to 37. We hope that it will accomplish its purpose.

Florida's highway toll is running way ahead of this time last year and bids fair to break all records for killed and injured in automobile accidents. Last month 47 persons were killed, 709 injured on the state's highways, as compared with 39 killed, 530 injured last year. So far this year there have been 96 killed, 1,009 injured as compared with 84 last year, 1,089 injured as compared with 1,089 last year. When will Floridians wake up and do something about this growing highway menace?

Cigarettes are not medical expenses, neither is liquor, and as such are not deductible from your income for tax purposes. So rules the Internal Revenue Bureau. Sometimes it is a hard job to decide just where medicine ends and alcohol begins. Sometimes a forty or fifty percent beer is just what the doctor ordered for this people needing to put on a little weight, but it is not deductible from your income tax. But a certain brand of widely advertised medicine which is about 80 percent alcohol, 20 percent water, is. We live in a strange world, and the strange part about it is the income tax law.

Sanford's first public housing project for white people will be dedicated Sunday at Third Street and Pecan Avenue. There the construction of the administration building of Edward Higgins Leveson will be laid with appropriate ceremonies. The project is named in honor of the late Edward Higgins, who as former Sanford mayor initiated several public housing projects over ten years ago and revived them after his death. Mr. Higgins was also mayor of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and has played a large part in the growth and development of Sanford and the resulting prosperity which everyone is now enjoying.

Kirk Landon, chairman of the Florida for Eisenhower club, says "The Eisenhower victory in Tennessee is yet another indication that the rank and file of Americans want Dwight D. Eisenhower for their next president. The interest in the New South primary among the Democrats has been tremendous and I feel certain that when the election starts in Chicago, Eisenhower will have a tremendous lead in the South."

 by L. E. Jordan, chairman. Attorney Fred R. Wilson submitted a quit claim deed in favor of the State of Florida to such portion of school property as may be needed for the widening of French Avenue under the proposed plan of the State Road Department.

Mr. Lawton read an article from the Florida State Department School Lunch News, commending the lunch room program at the West Side Primary School.

R. E. Karna was thanked for literature on driver education which he presented to the board, and was assured that this material would be used to good advantage in drivers training courses in the schools.

Permission was granted to the American Legion to use the lots owned by the school on Mellonville Avenue for the Legion Fair, March 24-29, provided that it is carefully supervised and no immoral or questionable shows are permitted to operate. Schools, white and colored, were ordered closed at noon on March 23 in order that pupils might attend the matinee of the Fair.

Radio Briefs

In cooperation with the Office of Civilian Defense, WTRR is presenting a series of programs called "On Guard America". Heard on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 6:45 and 11:30 a.m. and at 4:45 p.m., these programs include messages of great importance to every citizen.

Barney Huxton's Orchestra plays for dancing Saturday night from 10:00 to 11:00 o'clock. Originating in the room of the Mayfair Inn, "The Dancing Party" is a Saturday night feature over WTRR.

The "Voice of America" has been primarily a name to most listeners for many months. Listen to the story of this important part of America's service to the world over WTRR every Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

There's no such thing as "Blue Monday" on WTRR's "100 Club", "Seven O'Clock Club", "Blue Parade" and "Monday Matinee". Fun with music, along with time, temperature, and saucy chatter, is a daily musical menu at 7:00 a.m., 9:15, 10:00 o'clock, 1:30 and 4:00 o'clock.

Music lovers will be delighted at 5:30 Sunday afternoon when WTRR broadcasts the weekly half hour "Five Centuries of French Music".

Don't forget that Dorothy Holloway and Coleen Emphreton, the two teenage emcees of the "Children's Classic Hour", will be on the air tomorrow morning at 11:00 o'clock with another half-hour of delightful music.

SEMINOLE III BY BEVERLY GRAY

One week from this Friday evening, on Mar. 21, the Trio will present three one-act plays. These will consist of two very humorous ones, "The Happy Family" and "All in a Saturday Morning", there will also be a tragedy entitled, "No Greater Love". The admission will be 50 cents for students and 75 cents for others. This certainly will be worth your money and time.

And right afterwards, down at the Cafe, will be a square dance that everyone is invited to.

The Triple Trio from S.H.S. performed at the Mayfair Inn last Tuesday evening and were accompanied by Jean Lane Miller. During the evening they sang "Sweet Violets" and "Make Believe", incidentally we have a mighty fine Triple Trio this year with nine girls: Linda Leonard, Mary Lou Bowen, Caroline Melina, Gretchen Kirchhoff, Sylvia Egan, Donna Kille, Sandra Lattie, Barbara Riggs, and Norma Fayt Harvey.

Good to hear that Bud Boyle, an alumnae, has been elected to one of the top four women's officers of the Woman's Student Government Association at Duke University.

Another alumna, Garnett White, has been injured, while stationed at Key West, by a depth charge which broke his arm during maneuvers. Here's hoping he's well soon.

The Seminole High School Band and Orchestra Association has really been working hard this year and their recent idea is a sale of various articles. Anything from ladies' hats to cabbage and don't miss out on this. It will be held tonight at the Farmer's Auction.

Our Couple of the Week this time is none other than Chester Harper and Dora Lee Richardson. Here's wishing you'll have lots of luck in the future.

That's all for now! Be seen!

Frederick Renews Appeal For Aid To Red Cross Drive

The people of Seminole County and Sanford have responded generously to the American Red Cross' plea of "answer the call," said Mr. P. J. ... Chairman, announced.

Workers in the residential areas have expressed appreciation for the warm welcome which they have received at almost every home, he added.

The advance gift division, he stated, has completed most of its collection.

The Red Cross Chapter, he pointed out, has been most fortunate in having Col. W. F. Ittner appear before various civic groups to give first hand information regarding the Red Cross and its work in Korea, particularly concerning the blood donation program which, he said, is responsible for the low mortality rate in the Korean conflict.

The business division of the Red Cross fund campaign has recently gone into action, said Mr. Frederick, and it is hoped that a substantial number of Sanford businesses will fall into the 100 percent category by having all employees become members of the AHE.

"I should like to express my appreciation to the volunteer workers," he declared, "who have

Blues In The News

A big St. Patrick's Day Dance at the Navy Center tonight will start a week of celebrating the "wearing of the green." The Irish theme will be carried out throughout tonight's dance with music, games and refreshments. Prizes will be given for the couples judged best in dancing the waltz and the "Irish Jig." So just put an 'X' in front of your date open because, according to the Navy Center, the dance will be held on the 21st of your calendar and next Tuesday night the Navy Center will have another special dance in honor of St. Patrick which will be staged with the help of the Sanford Garden Club. It'll be able to tell you more about that dance in Monday's column but keep the date open because, according to Mrs. Ed Lane, it will be an enjoyable evening for everyone attending.

Are you wondering what that circle is around the 21st on your calendar? Earlier in the month I asked you to put it there to remind you that that is the date of the "Vagabond" big dance to be held at the Sanford Yacht Club. The "Vagabond" and John Lourey are planning to bring along fine and the floor show will include return engagements by the personalities that entertained you at their dance last month.

There will be another unannounced sing at the Mayfair Inn this Monday night which will be followed by a talent show. Charles Morrison, director of the show, has announced that, following the talent show, there will be a highly commendable job.

The Red Cross fund and membership campaign will continue through March, and it is hoped that every resident of Seminole County will be given the opportunity to "answer the call," he said.

New special chairman for outlying districts in the campaign include Mrs. R. U. Hutchinson and Mrs. J. L. Jackson of Cameron City; Mrs. A. C. Benson, South Sanford Avenue; Mrs. S. G. Harrelman of Loch Arbor and Mrs. W. W. Linz in the Lake Oona Section.

Prof. J. N. Croston is chairman of the Negro workers group in the drive.

Constance Smith embraces Richard Widmark in a scene from 20th Century-Fox's "Red Shoes Of Montana." Color by Technicolor, showing Sunday and Monday on the Ritz Theater screen.

Mistrial Results For Man Charged With Killing Niece

BRADENTON (AP) — The state is right back where it was four days ago in the case of Daniel W. Smith, charged with murdering his pretty married niece.

A Circuit Court jury reported itself hopelessly deadlocked after deliberating four hours 15 minutes Tuesday and Wednesday. The jurorman declared a mistrial.

Smith, a 50-year-old packing house worker, walked out of the little courthouse free under $7,000 bond. He and his wife, who sat near him throughout the trial, appeared happy.

One jurorman said it members wanted to acquit Smith, but one held out for manslaughter. Smith had been indicted on a first-degree murder charge, but Judge Thilman told the jury the verdict would have to be guilty of second-degree murder, guilty of manslaughter or innocent.

Mrs. Nellie Burgess, 31, mother of two children, was found drowned last week in a shallow pond near Bradenton Beach with Smith. A resident of Columbus, Ga., she was visiting her parents in nearby Palmetto.

John L. Fahn, collector of internal revenue for Florida, said today returns can be filed up until midnight Monday, March 17, without being delinquent.

The reason, he explained, is that if deadline falls on a holiday or non-work day, it goes over to the following work day.

Although Saturday is classified a non-work day the tax agency's office here will be working full force. It will stay open Monday until midnight.

But more than usual are running for the Republican governorship nomination. Three have entered for a nomination that usually has gone almost oppositely to the Republican candidate. They are Bert Acker, party nominee in 1944 and 1948, Elmore (Tim) Miller and Harry S. Swan.

Noon Saturday also is the deadline for qualification of candidates for State Railroad Commission, Democratic Party offices and the informal presidential preference primary. The deadline for other contests passed Feb. 1.

The popularity contest to determine the choice of Democratic voters for the party presidential nomination was assured Thursday when Carroll S. Shaw, Miami, unknown in Capitol political circles, said the $100 to get his name on the ballot for President.

Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia previously had entered the preferential primary, but he needed an opponent to get his name on the ballot. The law provides that no names of unopposed candidates shall be printed on the primary election ballot.

Nation Warned Of Danger To Defense From Steel Strike

Industry Begins To Shut Down Tomorrow With Deadline Set Sunday Night

WASHINGTON (AP)—Production Administrator Manly Fleischmann today said that if the threatened steel strike occurs, it would have "disastrous" effects on the atomic energy and other vital defense programs.

Some of the industry will start shutting down tomorrow in anticipation of a strike at midnight Sunday.

Fleischmann told a news conference that if the strike should occur, "the most drastic possible controls would have to be imposed at once."

There is some "caution" against a shutdown in many munitions industries because of steel stocks on hand, but a number of important programs lack such protection.

"In many areas like atomic energy, the completion of projects is wholly dependent on steel items which are in current production," Fleischmann said.

Some loss of steel, sorely needed for both defense and civilian industry, would be inevitable because their blast furnaces were emptied of hot metal in advance of any stoppage.

Philip Murray, head of both the CIO and the steelworkers union, withheld action until Thursday on a request by the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) for a new strike postponement.

Murray already has pulled off a strike plans three times since Jan. 1. Government officials said they believed he will do so again.

Thursday is the same day the WSB has filed its latest recommendations for settling the complex dispute involving Murray's demands for an 18 1/2 cent hourly pay boost and a score of other items.

Brailey Odham's Campaign Comes To Sanford Tonight

Senators Dayton And Johnston To Speak On Odham Program

Keynoting J. Brailey Odham's street campaign tonight at 8:00 p.m. will be addresses by Senators Joe Johnston, Brooksville, and George Dayton, Hialeah City.

The "Odham for Governor" demonstration will be staged on Magnolia Avenue between First and Second Streets.

Senators Odham will speak to his home town audience from the back of a truck over a public address system. Mr. Odham's Orange county campaign manager and prominent Orlando businessman, Walter Menzies, is also slated to talk in behalf of Sanford's first gubernatorial candidate.

Record music and a string band will furnish entertainment for the audience, who will be seated in the street on benches in the town off area of Magnolia Avenue between First and Second Streets.

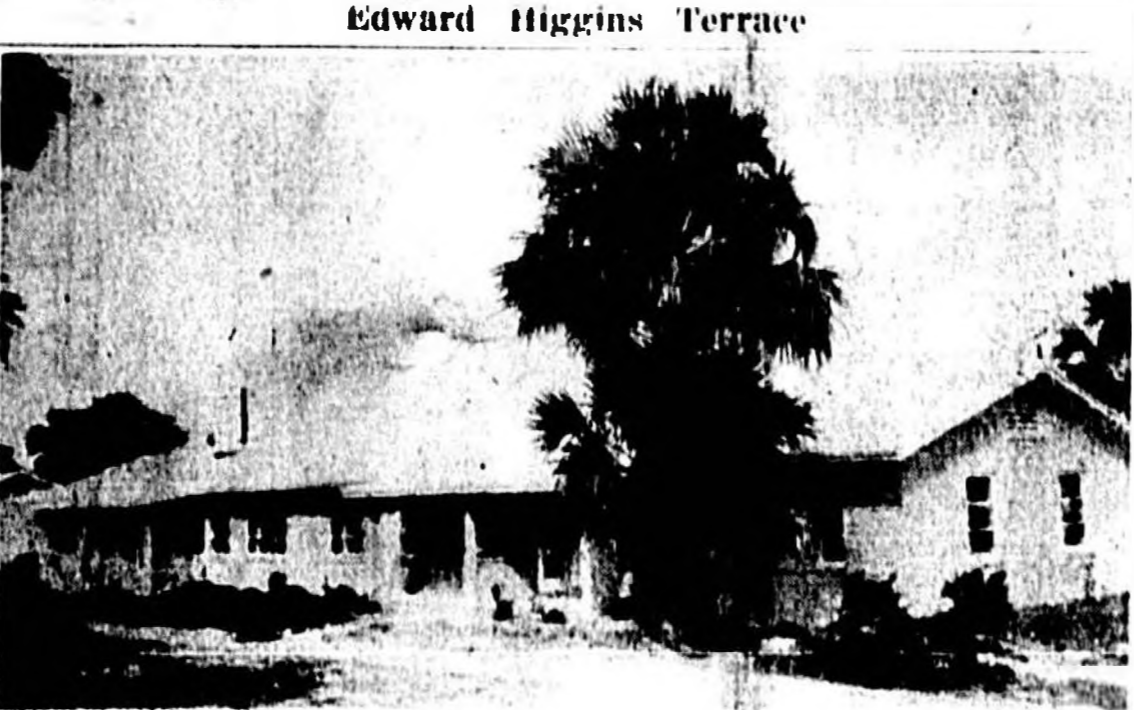

Mr. Odham just completed a successful stump-speaking tour of west Florida last week, his campaign manager, Volpe Williams, said.

Returning Thursday night in Miami, Mr. Odham will attempt for the first time a marathon 24-hour radio speaking broadcast over the station in Miami.

The broadcast will continue on Tuesday night at 8:00 p.m. and continue without let-up until Friday night at 8:00 a.m.

Mr. Odham will go to Bayfront Park to give an open air address.

The precedent shattering radio marathon will be repeated in Tampa and Jacksonville soon, Mr. Williams said.

Edward Higgins Terrace, which was dedicated Sunday afternoon, includes eight buildings containing four apartments each, and four of the duplex type. Completion is near future by white tenants. The project includes an administration building and a playground. The average cost of each apartment was $7,500. The whole area is being landscaped.

Edward Higgins Terrace Dedicated Sunday At Impressive Ceremonies

For County Clerk

Mayor W. H. Stemper of Sanford qualified shortly before the deadline Saturday for the office of county clerk of Seminole County.

The dream of the late Mayor Edward Higgins for public housing for white, as well as colored, tenants was fulfilled yesterday afternoon by the dedication of Edward Higgins Terrace, a 32-unit project comprising four buildings at West Third Street and First Avenue.

The cornerstone of the Administration Building was laid, and the dedication was attended by more than 100 citizens, was the Rev. J. E. McKinley, member of the Sanford Housing Authority, Mayor W. H. Stemper, and John Higgins, son of the late Edward Higgins.

The dream of low cost housing was deposited in his fertile brain in 1911, but shortly thereafter national and world affairs became such that public housing had to be looked for in long years.

Mr. Higgins, he stated, had the cooperation of City and County officials, and gathered about him a group of resourceful men who succeeded in cutting red tape to the extent that the Sanford project was given priority by federal officials.

He referred to Castle Brown Court, recently occupied by colored tenants, and William Clark Court, another Government project now under construction, and also to two projects in the county area now being considered.

Telling of the many obstacles that had to be overcome before the project could be completed, Mayor Stemper called forward Ralph A. Cowan, and pointed out that the latter had assumed the Housing Authority and facing a gigantic task, had practically lived in the project.

Senator Smathers Urges Support Of U. S. Civil Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) today urged strengthening the Civil Service system to support the gains made in adopting a plan for reorganization of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

The Senate last week assented to changes in the tax collecting bureau which Smathers said takes the agency out of politics and puts it under Civil Service. Smathers voted in favor of the plan offered by President Truman.

Smathers said in a statement that adoption of the plan "would mean a thing unless we clean up every government agency."

Co-author of a six-point "clean government" bill which has been introduced in the Senate, Smathers said the 1941 revision was one part of the proposal.

Smathers said he understands the clean government bill has considerable support in the House and that plans are underway to introduce it on that side of the Capitol.

"As desirable as it was the step to organize Internal Revenue," Smathers said, "it will mean nothing unless we go further."

He referred to Castle Brown Court, recently occupied by colored tenants, and William Clark Court, another Government project now under construction, and also to two projects in the county area now being considered.

Decision On Calling General Eisenhower Home Is Postponed

Approval Of 5 Point Plan On Ports Of Entry Is Praised

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today put off a decision on whether to ask Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to fly home and testify on the $7,000,000 foreign aid bill.

After an hour of committee discussion on the aid bill, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) announced it had been decided to delay action on a motion by Sen. McMahon (D-Calif.) to request testimony from Eisenhower.

Connally said this was done because "several" committee members were absent. As far as reporters could see, only Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.) and Brewster (R-Me.) were not present.

Connally refused to say whether the committee took any formal vote.

However, Sen. Lodge (R-N.H.) told an AP reporter that a 7 to 5 vote rejected a motion by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) that the committee "invite" Eisenhower to testify but leave the final decision to him. Wiley's motion was offered as a substitute for McMahon's motion that the committee "summon" Eisenhower.

Lodge said that Lodge voted by proxy against Wiley's motion. Connally listed as approving it were Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Smith (R-N.J.), Brewster (R-Me.), and George (D-Ga.) Sparkman (D-Miss.).

Lodge said that Sparkman was not recorded on the vote. McMahon announced in reporters that he would bring the matter up in the Senate for discussion.

McMahon told the Associated Press the effect of today's session was to postpone any invitation to Eisenhower until after his chief deputy, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, has left.

Some Eisenhower supporters have been urging the general to return to the United States to speak out on current issues.

Those who have been opposing this have argued the Senate committee should get information if needed from Gruenther.
