Capital Punishment Debate Causes Sharp Legal Split

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A sharp split has developed between Gov. Reubin Askew and the Legislature over Florida's attempt to become the first state to restore capital punishment since the U.S. Supreme Court rejected it. Askew, the blue-ribbon panel he appointed to study the death penalty, House and Senate committees and the Judicial Council of Florida all have voted to restore the death penalty as a deterrent to crime. But as the Legislature prepared to convene Tuesday in a special session Askew called to consider restoring the death penalty, a rift appeared over the method. Askew and his panel recom-

Doctors Need 'House Call'

By FRANK CAREY AP Science Writer CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The American Medical Association has urged to take strong action to protect the public against a "significant problem" of alcoholism, drug dependence and other psychiatric disorders among practicing physicians. The Council on Mental Health of the AMA's Board of Trustees made the call on Sunday to the AMA's policy-making House of Delegates at the opening of the organization's 26th clinical convention. The group suggested that the number of such emotionally sick doctors is relatively small, compared with the total number of doctors in the United States. But it said there is consistent evidence that such problems exist and that, occasionally, they jeopardize such doctors' accountability to the public. And it added that one study has reported that estimates of the incidence of narcotic addiction in physicians "varies from 30 to 100 times that in the general population"—indicating that such addiction is an occupational hazard for physicians. The council urged the AMA to approve a series of graduated guidelines, sort of disciplinary action, to get such sick doctors to concede their problem, seek professional help and possibly curtail or suspend practice voluntarily. But it also recommended

24 Youths Now On Trial

BURNSVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Twenty-four Florida youths charged with disorderly conduct in a July 3 raid at Briar Bottom campground in the North Carolina mountains will go on trial Monday. One youth was killed in the mid-summer incident, William Altland, 19, of Clearwater, Fla., died of wounds inflicted by a shotgun blast. According to a statement from the Yancey County Sheriff's department, the shooting was an accident which happened when a seven man force of deputies, answering "urgent" calls for help in dealing with disorderly campers, scuffled with young people who resisted arrest. The council pointed out that only two states—Florida and Texas—now have "six-doctor" statutes. Citing some other figures to illustrate the scope of the problem, the council said: "... In just a decade, 10 drug-dependent physicians have been brought before their disciplinary bodies in three of the smaller states... Arizona, Connecticut and Oregon... with an equal number of physicians appearing for alcoholism and a small, but significant, number of other mental illness."

The Sanford Herald

Tuesday, November 28, 1972—Sanford, Florida 32771
65th Year, No. 75 Price 10 Cents

For quite some time now... the past four weeks as a matter of fact, one of the toughest old folks I know has been going through a medical world of his own. You name the operation, and my colleague and teacher Fred Van Pelt has seemingly been thru them all. So... it's with a great deal of personal pleasure that I can relay the good news that he is progressing, and more than likely would be out of the hospital so much sooner if you dropped him a get well card at the Florida Hospital in Orlando.

Our thanks to the folks at Channel 6 (WDBO) and their popular Romper Room program. Understand that our page photo on our new Seminole Magazine... showing the youngsters at Thanksgiving time, received plaudits from the youngsters participating on this TV program.

What actually is the big disaster that hit Longwood and Altamonte Springs if federal money is not received for sewer plants or expansion? According to the regional office of the Environmental Protection Agency in Orlando, if Longwood does not get a sewer system and if Altamonte does not expand, high density development will have to stop while low density homes may continue building.

O.K., so who's the wise guy who stole the 300 pound, red iron kettle from the Salvation Army? For 20 years the pot has been a Christmas tradition outside Macy's on 34th Street in New York City, collecting the tossed coins of holiday shoppers. The darn thing is 5 feet in diameter and 3 1/2 feet high. Santa lets me to hope for another "Miracle on 34th Street", eh?

The other night there was a feature on the CBS-TV network about a high school basketball team which has the longest losing streak in the country, something like five years, or a total of well over 125 games? It's no secret that this year's Seminole High Football team had its share of problems, too. All the more reason for devoting this space to a letter which I received from Gray Boyles—athletic director at S.H.S. Dear John: It gives me great pleasure to write this open letter to the people of Sanford. The rap put on Sanford fans was that they would not support a loser. The fans this year have proved the rap to be unjustifiable.

Never have I been more proud of Sanford and the great people that make up the community. They have been truly great to a young and dedicated coaching staff and a young and inexperienced football team. Hats off to the people of Sanford and the outstanding communities. The Seminoles will bounce back and live up to the name of Fighting Seminoles. Sincerely, Gray Boyles Athletic Director

A 'Big Turnout' Is Talk Of City
By DONNA ESTES
WINTER SPRINGS—"Big turnout" in the Dec. 5 municipal elections is being talked up around the city, according to City Clerk Mary Norton. The general clerk, however, declined to predict the percentage of turnout that can be expected. She said in anticipation, she has ordered the printing of some 600 ballots for the election. Winter Springs is the only municipality of the five Seminole cities with elections next Tuesday which will not be using voting machines. Mrs. Norton said, "Winter Springs some years ago rented a machine at cost of $75 and considering the poor turnout found the cost to be expensive." So, paper balloting continues there. The polls with Mrs. Norton as clerk and Mrs. Norma Lang, Mrs. Helen Green and Mrs. Louise Owens as inspectors will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. at the city hall. On the ballot in order listed will be Granville Brown (1), E. A. Miller and Irene Van Eppol, mayor; Howard F. Allard and Victor Miller (1), group 1; Vicki Baker, Mildred Colburn, Betty J. Palmer and Charles E. Rowell (1), group 2; John Booth and Zetta G. LeBlanc, group 3; (2 years); Charles C. Brooks, Clifford Jordan, Roy E. McClain and Marvin M. Meeks, group 4 (one year); and Troy Pillard (1), group 5, (two years). Due to the new charter adopted by the city last summer, all members of the city government have to be elected this year. Winners will take office on the first Monday after the first day of the New Year, which presumably is Jan. 8, 1973.

Orlando School Boycott 500 Parents Protest Busing

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—About 500 white parents meeting to protest the busing of school children cheered a black spokesman Monday night who claimed Negroes also opposed busing. "The black people feel just as you do" about busing and neighborhood schools, said Jim Reed, state chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). Reed has long been an outspoken advocate of racial apartheid. The parents signed a petition demanding that Orange County school board superintendent Robert H. Hines call an emergency meeting today to consider the issue. Parents in predominantly white Pine Hills kept their children out of school Monday in a boycott to protest busing to achieve racial balance. School officials reported absences ranging from 310 to 53 per cent in eight elementary and junior high schools in the Pine Hills community, a suburb of Orlando. An estimated 1,500 to 2,000 pupils skipped classes in the demonstration against a recent court-ordered plan to integrate three predominantly black schools. The boycott was organized by a group calling itself People Power. The order called for busing an additional 3,800 pupils. Presently in Orange County some 35,000 are bused out of a public school enrollment of 95,350. "It just means the children will not have adequate materials," explained school board member Lee Davis, opposing the aims of the parental organization. State school funds are affected by the daily absenteeism rate. But board member Roy Berryman was sympathetic to busing. He called the plan "a national conspiracy." "It's done with the idea of taking your child out of your home," he said. Maintaining that the boycott idea was a bit premature, Berryman nevertheless said he stood behind "whatever manner they take to destroy this conspiracy."

Rumor Of Hospital Sale May Soon Be A Reality

By BILL SCOTT
It now appears that the projected sale of Seminole Memorial Hospital, in the rumor mill for nearly a year, ever since the county commission began an investigation of possibly disposing of the county-owned facility may soon be a reality. This was evident Monday from usually reliable sources, who disclosed to The Herald that "at least three of the five commissioners" would vote to sell the hospital's bonded indebtedness, while removing the burden from the shoulders of county residents living south of Big Tree Park. In attempting to ascertain more about the projected hospital sale, which may not come before the county commission until sometime in January, Rodney Loyer, county administrator, was contacted this morning and asked what new developments concerning the possible sale had occurred? Loyer advised he was asked by Richard Williams and J. M. Hattersay, two county commissioners, to prepare material about the hospital sale for their review. Loyer said he did not know how the commission would vote, when the matter came before the panel for action.

City Commission OKs Annexations

By DONNA ESTES
With only token opposition, the Sanford City Commission gave the "green light" to extending its boundaries on the west side of U.S. 17-92 in a solid block to Seminole Junior College. The east side limits will be evened with the Movieland Drive-In across the highway and is set to include several additional parcels fronting the thoroughfare on that side. Surprising was the fact that only three individuals, two representing commercial interests and one homeowner, opposed the proposed annexation. The Movieland Drive-In represented by Harold Speers of Floyd Enterprises could see no advantage to being annexed and insisted his business already has good police protection from the Sheriff's Department. Art Grindle Dodge representative said the auto dealership does not need city services and already has its own water supply. Blanton Owen, a home owner, said he could see no good in being included within the city and his taxes would be increased by the annexation. Speaking in favor of annexation, meanwhile, were Vernon Mize, attorney, for Lake Minnie Estates to be built on a 40 acre parcel on the south shores of the lake, Harold Hughes of Shenandoah Village which currently has 40 families in residence that want police and fire protection and utility service; Bonnie Johnston of Environmental Development Group representing Royal Line Builders to develop 20 acres on the east side of the highway and Sanford Kay, set to develop 40 acres near the Junior College. Jacksonville representative of another auto dealership indicated a willingness to annex because "growth demands it." In answer to a question, City Manager W. E. Knowles said the city has sufficient signatures on petitions to commence annexation proceedings immediately.

Fire At School; Possible Arson

By GARY TAYLOR
A blaze that principal Dan Pelham called an apparent arson-made fire, did an estimated $5,000 damage at the Sanford Middle School this morning. Two engine companies and a ladder truck from the Sanford Fire Department responded to the fire in the school auditorium at 9 a. m., according to Chief G. M. Harriett. The fire started on a stack of exercise pads and then the auditorium curtains, which were supposed to be fire-proof, caught fire. Harriett said a sample of the curtain material will be sent to the State Fire College in Ocala to be analyzed. A southwest churning up by cold arctic air pushing into the Southern Plains subsided today as temperatures in the region dropped into the teens. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 1 above zero at Butte, Mont., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

Citrus Industry Plans Big Day

ORLANDO—A full day, beginning with 8:30 a. m. breakfast and concluding with a tour of Tropicana Products, Inc., Bradenton, has been planned for bankers, growers, and others interested in the citrus industry. Commenting today on the nature of the Forum, FBA President Daniel S. Goodrum said: "As central to Florida's economy, citrus problems have long been recognized by the financial community as its problems. This Forum is a means for those interested in the future of citrus to discuss these problems for their mutual benefit and to work towards a satisfactory solution."

Sanford City Commission Starts Clean-Up Campaign

By DONNA ESTES

The resignation of William (Bill) Hutchison after 17 years service with the City of Sanford as city attorney was accepted by the City Commission with regret Monday night. Casting the only negative vote was Mayor Lee P. Moore.

First appointed to the post on Oct. 1, 1955, Hutchison by vote of the Commission last night is to be presented with an appropriate resolution and plaque when a replacement is found. The attorney has agreed to continue to serve until his successor is appointed and will represent the city in current cases in court until their conclusion.

In a letter to Mayor Moore, Hutchison stated, "The events of the last few months indicate to me that the direction and makeup of the Commission is such that I can no longer be effective and I am satisfied that in the best interest of the City of Sanford I should go on to more lucrative pursuits, no longer able to afford the financial sacrifice of time which represents the City in its present dilemma presents."

JOINT PARTICIPATION

Resolution authorizing the joint participation with the county government in the widening to 24 feet and the improvement of Airport Blvd. was unanimously adopted by the Commission.

Although funds are to be taken from the contingency account to pay the $10,000 cost of materials for the project, which the city is to furnish while the county supplies equipment and supervision, it is expected the moneys will be replaced from forthcoming revenue sharing dollars anticipated from the federal government.

City Manager W. E. (Pete) Knowles assured that programs of this nature are allowable under the revenue sharing program. Drainage is also to be provided on the road. The area to be improved runs from U.S. 17-82 to Sanford Avenue.

The city began working the area south of 25th St. from the east city limits to the west city limits on Monday and will continue throughout this week. Other parts of the city will be picked up in the following order: week of Dec. 4 — an area east of Park Avenue, bounded on the north by 13th Street and Celery Ave. and on the south by 25th St. and extending to the east city limits; Dec. 11 — an area west of Park Ave., bounded on the north by West 13th St. and McCracken Rd. and on the south by West 25th St. and extending to the west city limits; Dec. 18 — an area west of Park Ave., between West 13th St. and all the way to Lake Monroe and extending to the west city limits line of Persimmon Ave.; and week of Dec. 25 — an area east of Park Ave. and north of East 13th Street and Celery Ave. and all the way to Lake Monroe and extending to the east city limits line.

CLEANUP-CAMPAIGN

A city-wide cleanup has been begun by city crews providing free pickup of any large refuse items placed at the curbside or alley line, the manager said. This includes old stoves, refrigerators, mattress, limbs and similar bulky items.

The manager's report to the Commission showed the contingency account to be some $11,367.38 in deficit with the $10,000 expenditure.

Cost to the city for the service which is being extended to the citizens free of charge is $260, according to the city manager.

NOT ON CHRISTMAS

Establishments selling beer and wine on premises may open on New Year's Day from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m., the Commission agreed. But the same privilege is not being extended to Christmas Day. The owner of a small tavern, Cook's Corner, asked for the permission for Sunday Sales on the New Year's Eve holiday.

GASOLINE BIDS

Low bids on regular, hi test gasoline, and diesel fuel for city needs were accepted by the City Commission on recommendation of the city manager.

Candidates' Rally Held In Longwood

By ANN RILEY

LONGWOOD — Longwood Chamber of Commerce held a rally Monday night at the city park building for candidates for Council and Mayor in the upcoming Dec. 5 election. Around 60 persons turned out for the event.

The chamber had previously submitted four questions to each candidate concerning such questions as CALNO, historical restoration, annexation, and problems facing the city. Newly elected County Commissioner J. M. (Mike) Hartway was moderator.

Pardon our dust but... Grow We Must!

To: The First Federal Family of Savers

While construction is underway on our handsome new home office building in downtown Sanford, we hope you'll forgive two slight inconveniences:

- We do not have access to our night deposit box (postage is paid both ways).
- Our main parking lot is now torn up because this is where construction is taking place. However, our all new Auto Teller Facility, right next door, will serve you quickly and conveniently... and we still have plenty of parking at this Facility. The front and side entrances to our main building are also clearly marked for your convenience from street parking.

We're busy building for your future... come watch us grow!

Sincerely,
Dib Chiswick

Experts Predict Good Housing Year

What's ahead in housing in 1973? According to a symposium of housing forecasters, the year will be a good one although total housing starts will be down slightly from the record totals set in 1972.

Gary Fromm, of Data Resources, Inc., said that "it is clear that 1973 may be a softer year for housing than 1972, but it should still be an extremely good year by historical standards."

Fromm estimated that total private housing in 1972 "will be around 2.35 million."

I've never been one to take my life into my hands unnecessarily.

I mean, I avoid roller coasters like the plague and seldom venture off the high diving board.

Christie estimated that total housing starts in 1972 will be around 2.9 million units, including some 600,000 mobile units, but that 1973 production would be down somewhat with total shelter production estimated at 2.45 million units, including 550,000 mobile units.

Christie said that "the contract value of new residential building in 1973 is estimated at $38.7 billion, down 10 per cent from the 1972 peak of $43.1 billion—an amount which is likely to stand as the record for several years to come."

Half of Us Like Our Banks

At a time when business in general is taking lumps for its alleged lack of concern about community problems, bankers have heard some good news.

Polster Louis Harris turned his microscope on the banking industry recently and came up with the conclusion that the public sees bankers as having greater concern about life within the community than any other group of businessmen.

Part of the reason is a public acknowledgement that banks, because they are sources of capital, are in a better position than other institutions to influence their communities. But it is also due to a growing social consciousness on the part of bankers and new policies that thrust banks into community leadership roles.

Bankers should not become too satisfied, however. According to Harris, while 48 per cent of the public rates banks highly (compared to 32 per cent for business as a whole), more than half the public feels that there is room for improvement.

For example, the poll revealed deep questions on bankers' records in the areas of helping minorities and fighting pollution.

Good News

No Market For Good Things

By TOM HORTON Copley News Service

What we all feared to be a practical truth became a fact of life the other day. Good news was declared bankrupt.

Roy Anderson, 40, one of three partners in "The Good News Paper," was wearing regular, not red-colored, glasses as he slumped into the witness box in federal bankruptcy court in Sacramento, Calif., and swore to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help him God. He said he wrote quickly to sell good news.

It was a sad scene, but not a surprising one. Realists have always known that good news doesn't sell. Good news is good to shout about and to be in favor of, but not to pay the price of a good conduct medal, but it simply does not pay the rent.

Good news can complement a good newspaper full of bad news, but good news cannot stand by itself. It is like feeding someone sweet desserts and nothing else — the diner soon tires of all the sweets and hungers for something substantial.

Anderson said he became business manager and general manager of "The Good News Paper" several months after it was started — amid much ballyhoo and the sweet sound of angels singing on high — by Bill Bailey of Sacramento on Nov. 7, 1970. Publisher Bailey became an instant oddity and a hero to millions of shut-ins because he was giving America what it was supposed to be crying for: Good news!

Bailey advertised his paper, first called the Aquarian Times, as "the world's first good news newspaper" and promised, "All the news that's fun to read" once a week (40 weeks for $4).

He vowed to look only at the bright side of life and offered

Coattails No Sure Pull at the Polls

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

You get into some pretty unsettled depths when you search for reasons why a man can win the White House big, as President Nixon has just done, and not pull a lot of his party's contenders for Congress along with him.

In a prior report, I cited the record of the last 40 years, involving 21 general elections, to show that no Republican presidential winner in that span, including the fabled Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, has had much luck with his coattails.

If anyone wants to argue that it's different with the Democrats, the answer is that even there it's a mixed bag and the record reveals erratic results.

London Johnson's 1964 sweep over Barry Goldwater did add 38 more Democrats to the party's already commanding U.S. House majority. But Republicans in the Senate were so near their irreducible minimum that Democrats picked up only a single new seat.

Four years earlier, John F. Kennedy edged out Mr. Nixon for the presidency but actually lost 21 House seats and two in the Senate. Obviously, one might say, "Narrow winners don't have coattails."

Oh! Harry Truman beat Thomas E. Dewey in a 1948 squeaker complicated by two other candidates. But with only 40.5 per cent of the total presidential vote, Truman brought in 75 additional House Democrats to produce one of the biggest turnovers in modern times.

The presidential coattail theory probably got its great boost from Franklin D. Roosevelt's days. His first victory in 1932 added nearly 100 Democrats to the House and brought the party's era of ascendancy. By 1936, he had helped lift the total number to nearly 200.

Yet even Roosevelt's magic diminished with passing time. Republicans regained 80 House seats in off-year 1938, and FDR could pick off just five of those in winning his third term in 1940. Again, his party lost 45 seats in 1942, and he got back just 21 in 1944.

Clearly, it's risky to link in simple terms of coattail effects. The jumble of evidence suggests many factors must be at work.

It's easy, and historically accurate, to say Republicans fell deep into minority status in the crisis of the Great Depression and have never really recovered. But despite all the reapportionment of districts in recent years, a high proportion of House seats probably are relatively "safe" for one party or the other—mostly for Republicans.

It is often contended, furthermore, that the voters, growing in education and sophistication, are consciously using one party as a check upon the other, and one branch of government to balance off the other. This tendency has heightened, some say, as distrust of all government has mounted staggering heights.

Analyst Walter DeVries' studies of voters' widening habit of ticket-splitting support the notion that Americans are hopping all over the ballot list on big election days.

Libell supplies a fresh rationale for this. He sees the voter as, in effect, acting on several elections at once, picking and choosing out of a mood of massive distrust and a desire to protect himself—mostly against what he perceives to be the monumental and still enlarging power of the presidency—the real managerial center of today's society.

One Man's Opinion Equal in Marriage, Equal in Ministry

By REV. DAVID POLLING

The church has never been without the team ministry. We read in the New Testament that Jesus sent out his followers "two by two." Over the centuries, Christian ministry has frequently involved entire families who journeyed around the world to serve the faith. Many congregations today would falter if left to the devices of one pastor or clergyman—looking to the lady of the manse or paragon for support and guidance.

Yet a really new twist in Christian ministry today is the leadership being given to local congregations by ordained husband-wife teams. In the November edition of A.D. (published by the United Church of Christ and the United Presbyterian Church) we have the story of Barbara Gerlach Mack and John Mack, a married couple serving as copastors of Trinity Congregational Church in Scranton, Pa. This 600 member parish is enjoying the preaching talents, counseling skills and pastoral concerns of a unique and lively pair.

The Macks met and married in their first year at Union Seminary in New York. John had been a Marine Corps captain in Vietnam, following graduation from Princeton University. Barbara was aimed toward the teaching profession, following her four years at Hood College. But a summer at Ghost Ranch, N.M., opened to her the options of ministry in the 20th century. Since 1971 they have been copastors of the Scranton congregation, alternating in preaching and teaching, sharing funerals and weddings and widening the concepts of the Christian ministry today.

Commenting on the shared pastoral duties, John Mack says, "Although we split 50-50 most of the work that involves us publicly, there are areas where we follow our own interests."

For John this is an abiding interest in prisoners and prison reform. This means encountering groups at the county jail and pastoral concern for people behind bars. In the case of Barbara, her real special interest is in problem pregnancy counseling and reform of the Pennsylvania abortion law.

Such was the history of the rise and fall of "the world's first good news newspaper." Everybody cheered from the sidelines, but when the chips were down, the clouds parted and the silver linings all turned into red ink. Publication stopped in April of this year after former editor complained to the State Labor Commission about unpaid salaries. After 17 months, "The Good News Paper" was $45,000 in debt.

"It was doomed to failure," Anderson said of the nothing-but-good-news policy. A cynical newsmag suggested to him that the cause of death was simple: Good news just doesn't sell. Anderson pointed to a pulping briefcase carried by his attorney and said, "I've got a $5,000 list of indebtedness that says you're right."

Donna's Deliberations

By DONNA ESTES

Municipal officials of Altamonte Springs and Longwood traveled to Atlanta Monday to meet with officers of the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in the effort to pry loose federal money (some $3 million) for sewer treatment plants.

A history of Altamonte's growth since it acquired its water system was enumerated by City Engineer Harold Radcliffe at a meeting with EPA last week. The engineer pointed out in 1960 Altamonte issued 34 building permits and with the advent of the water system in 1964 issued 103. In 1965 some 1160 worth $14 million were issued and in 1966 with beginning of the sewer system $120,000 worth while 1969 saw $10,456,000 in new building. This year through October, some $37 million worth of new construction were issued building permits.

Altamonte Mayor Lawrence Swofford said the city's current 1.2 million gallon per day capacity of its city's new sewer plant is being reserved for use by the Orange County City of East Lake, County agents being served, in addition, are overloading the capacity of the plant, the mayor said. He continued that $20 million in development that he knows is currently planned for the city and an addition to the sewer plant is essential to keep up with growth.

Harlan Hanson, Altamonte and CALNO Council of Local Governments planner, called the South Seminole section one of the most phenomenal growth areas in the nation.

Whether the Florida Legislature will consider ratification of the women's rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

It was interesting to hear Longwood Mayor Ken Brown's estimate that his city now has a population of 6,000. Only a few months ago, Ken in answer to a question from this reporter estimated the city's population at 4,500. Apparently the city is growing much faster than any one thought.

Also represented at the meeting, in addition to Swofford, Brown, EPA officers and aides of U. S. Sen. Ed Gurney and Layton Cates and U. S. Reps. Williams, Chappell and Bill Guter were Councilmen Helen Keyser and Dan Dorfman of Altamonte; Councilmen Bill Kloskey, E.E. Williamson and Eugene Jacques of Longwood; Mayor Homer Hough and City Mgr. David Johnson of Maitland; an aide of Mayor Carl Langford of Orlando; State Rep. Bill Fulford and the Pollution Control Board, both county and state.

The full house for the meeting at First Federal Savings and Loan, Altamonte Springs branch, was very impressive.

Sanford City Commission Monday night considered the resignation of long-time City Atty. Bill Hutchinson. Hutchinson has resigned due to the press of his private practice.

Anyone who has ever attended the Sanford city meetings and seen variety and mass of business knows what a big job being legal advisor to the governing body is. Hutchinson without doubt is an excellent lawyer and will be missed.

Councilman Harry Sambrook in his race for the mayor's office in Casselberry is certainly having his trials and tribulations. Some 60 of his political signs have been removed from their posted spots.

Buying posters the first time is pretty expensive without having to replace them.

Speaking of political signs—When are the successful and unsuccessful candidates in the November general election in Seminole going to remove their posters from trees, lawns and wherever? They can certainly be a blight on the landscape. The former candidates have a responsibility to take care of this matter.

According to Herald reporter Bill Scott, John Angel, defeated in his bid for re-election as school superintendent, will become either assistant superintendent under his successor, Bud Layer, or return as principal of South Seminole Middle School.

Scott said as well, don't be surprised in new school board member, Dave Sims, is elected vice-chairman at the re-organizational meeting Jan 2.

In Longwood, the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a rally Monday at the city park building to acquaint the voters with candidates in the December municipal election and their views.

Each candidate was requested to limit his or her talk to five minutes with one minute rebuttal to state views on previously submitted questions.

Questions concern the candidates' opinions on ideas of city growth and annexation, probably the biggest problem facing the city today; improvement of city services, the proposed new charter; the CALNO Council of Local Governments of which the city is a member, and the city's historic restoration program.

The Chamber has done a good job in formulating the question of most interest and controversy in the community. Newly elected County Commissioner J. M. (Mike) Hattaway served as moderator.

Candidates in the Dec. 5 municipal election include Eugene Jacques, Donald Schreiner and Sandra Thompson for the office of mayor; Kenneth Dewitz and B. H. Ferrell, district 3 Council and B. L. Helms, Norma Jean Hennigan and Percy White, district 5 Council seat.

Got back from Atlanta Wednesday after seeing and meeting my first granddaughter. Tina is every bit as beautiful as I anticipated and a welcome addition to the Estes clan.

I found on return that dear friend, Stafford Derby, The Herald's editorial page editor has passed away. Staff always had a good word for everyone, never felt anything but great and was a fine example of a Christian, who practiced his faith every minute.

He is and will continue to be sorely missed.

Opening Session

Interest On Women

By JOHN VAN GIESON Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)

The full house for the meeting at First Federal Savings and Loan, Altamonte Springs branch, was very impressive.

Whether the Florida Legislature will consider ratification of the women's rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Male legislators have been subjected to intensive lobbying on the women's rights amendment, some of it coming from wives, daughters, girlfriends and mothers.

Audrey Tobiasen, wife of Rep. Tom Tobiasen, R-Pensacola, has been roaming the halls of the House, urging members to defeat the amendment.

Twenty two of the required 38 states have ratified the amendment so far. Gov. Reubin Askew said he wants Florida to ratify it to put the amendment in the Constitution.

But Senate President Mallory Horne, D-Tallahassee, has said there has been an outpouring of opposition from women who don't want equal rights. He said the drive has sparked a reaction in the Senate to postpone consideration of the amendment.

Askew was scheduled to address the session later today, presenting his list of nine items he wants enacted at this time.

In addition to women's rights, the list includes: —Restoring the death penalty in Florida.

—Creating a $10 million loan fund for cities required to improve sewage treatment.

—Increasing state school spending by $9 million.

—Providing $9 million to complete the University of South Florida Medical School.

Fighting South Florida droughts by early implementation of water use controls.

—Allowing cities to contribute funds to public defenders, who must represent indigents charged with jail term misdemeanors in city courts.

—Restoring an exemption for churches from city utility taxes.

—Providing nearly $1 million to hire 91 new technicians to assist cities facing a sewage treatment improvement deadline. However, the House Select Appropriations and Environmental Protection committees Monday slashed Askew's request for 43 new employees and $474,000.

Simon Travis, esquire, will be guest speaker at the noon luncheon meeting, Thursday of the Federal Bar Association at the Officers Open Mess, Orlando Naval Training Center.

Lisa is general counsel of Legislative Operation of the U.S. Savings and Loan League, executive assistant to the chairman of the Federal Land Bank and president-elect of the Federal Bar Association.

Illness Worse; Pope Bows Out

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—For the first time in 24 years, the old state capitol in Tallahassee won't echo with the roaring oratory of "The Lion of the St. Johns" when the Legislature convenes today.

Verle Pope, 68 and ailing, has bowed out of the political battlefield he stalked for so long.

A fixture in the State Senate for nearly a quarter of a century, Pope fought the "Park Choppers" small county philosophy while getting along with them individually.

He kept getting elected by maintaining close personal contacts with his constituents although his ideas were sometimes ahead of the times as northeast Florida voters saw them.

"The Lion of the St. Johns" is ill. He says a back ailment which contributed to his habit of strutting about the Senate floor as he spoke, has become much worse this year.

He will be 69 on Dec. 12. The nickname, carried out by the "Lion Country" sign on his Senate office door, came from the St. Johns County senator's habit of tossing his flowing white hair as he stalked about the floor and punctuated his debates with roars of anger, sometimes serious and sometimes ferocious.

In bowing out, Pope left his mark on the Florida law although he isn't a lawyer himself but an insurance and real estate man. He is a skilled parliamentarian and often innovative in his approach to a problem.

The argument over what a man's property is worth has caused trouble ever since property taxes were invented. It was

But Rep. Robert Johnson, R-Sarasota, said the vote indicated that Askew's proposal was gathering momentum and had a good chance of passing the special session.

Johnson is sponsoring the governor's bill.

compounded in Florida by the required full value assessment. Pope found a unique approach.

He authored a bill that lets a man put his property up for sale, with the assessment decided by the true market value sales price. It called the Pope Act.

In the two years Pope was president of the Senate and Claude Kirk sat in the governor's chair, there was almost constant friction between the two men who enjoy verbal battle and can hold their own in it.

Russian Food Shortage Soviet Union Facing Hungry Winter

By ALAN DEAN Copley News Service

Despite massive grain imports from the United States and other Western countries, the Soviet Union is beginning to feel heavy repercussions from this year's abysmal harvest.

Weather-caused failures are also hitting the East European countries, notably Poland and Czechoslovakia.

As Soviet housewives are being told to slice their bread thinly, nationwide fears of winter food shortages have led to attempts to hoard potatoes and other vegetables in many areas.

The government has already ordered investigations into collective farm management where produce is being siphoned off into a growing black market. Meat, always short in most parts of Russia, is being sold in Moscow at over 75 per cent its normal price, say observers.

At the same time there are unconfirmed reports of several managers of state-run farms being arrested. They are to face trials in provincial capitals, say the reports, for "political shortcomings"—a euphemism for balk marketeering.

But finding a scapegoat down on the farm may not help Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev out of trouble. Although he can safely assume that there will be no food riots similar to those in Poland two years ago, he may find himself battling tough opposition in the Kremlin.

Since the late Nikita Khrushchev was purged eight years ago,

Brezhnev has been publicly and prominently identified as the key figure behind Russia's agricultural policy.

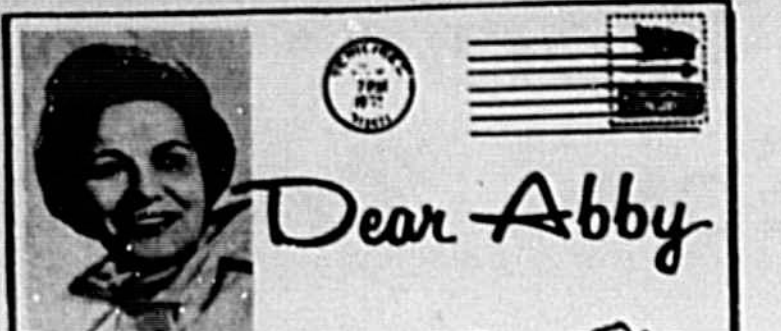

The current crop crisis cannot have enhanced his standing among his more conservative colleagues in Moscow. It was Khrushchev's agricultural delusions a decade ago that ultimately led to the leader's ousting. Brezhnev has enough challenges in the Politburo waiting for him to exert.

A cold winter could give him food for thought, say diplomatic observers.

At Brezhnev's insistence, the Soviet Union has switched its economic priorities for 1973 to favor agriculture. Economic planners have allocated an extra $24 billion to the agricultural budget.

Widower wants widow to take holiday cruise

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Widowed five years after a long and happy marriage, I've found a widow I desperately want to marry. And that's my problem. She refuses to marry me. I am about average in all respects except one. Financially, I am very well off, but that doesn't seem to influence her. We both have married children who are independent. I never knew this lady's husband, but understand there was a good marriage, so I know she's not soured on marriage.

She says she wants her "freedom." I have tried everything to change her mind. My last attempt was a two-carat diamond, which she refused to wear, even on her right hand because of the "implications" [whatever that means]. I want to take her on a cruise in December. She said she would go—sans marriage, but how proud and happy she would make me if she would accompany me as my wife.

How can I persuade her to marry me by December? If any of your ideas are successful, I will send you a postcard from Rome—the first stop on the cruise. HOPING

DEAR HOPING: My advice to you is to go on the cruise alone. Send me a postcard anyway, if you have time to write one, which I'll bet against. No man should have to beg or bribe a woman to marry him, so get off your knees and survey the market. Your only chance at winning this woman is to play the field and show some dignified independence. And if that fails, you could be lucky.

DEAR ABBY: Is there any way a woman can buy insurance on her husband's life without letting him know about it? I know he would have to take a physical and there's no way of tricking him into doing it. My husband has a real hangup on this score and we can't even discuss the matter intelligently. I can't shop around in my hometown for an insurance company that might have an angle on how to accomplish this as I have too much pride to admit to the world that my husband doesn't want to provide for his wife and children in the event of his death.

Please answer this in your column as I'm sure other wives must have the same problem. ASHAMED AND NOT PROTECTED

DEAR ASHAMED: There is no way you can accomplish this without your husband's signature. Discuss this with your own insurance agent and ask him to suggest an approach that will be effective and inoffensive to your husband.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good chance is present today and tonight for you to cooperate with others so that your joint projects can reach a successful conclusion. A fine time for fudging the apparel necessary to improve your appearance. Use appropriate accessories.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Talk over with associates your plans for having more abundance in the near future. You can engage in civic work and accomplish a great deal, provided you get the help of experts.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can make your surroundings more charming and gain the approval of friends. Find the right articles of apparel to make you look more attractive. Attend that you don't forget to get your hair cut.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You get some strange ideas about changing your appearance, so forget it and be yourself. Attend to important tasks ahead of you. Your mate requires more affection at this time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There is a fine opportunity for you to improve conditions at home and show what a well-knit family you have.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get in touch with associates and outline your plans for the future. You can gain their full cooperation. You can benefit from their ideas also. Entertain them at home later in the day.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show your fine ability at practical affairs and you can accomplish a great deal. Plan those repairs to home that are necessary. Avoid having clutter around you. Relax tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Look to good friends for the assistance you need now for launching new projects. Engage in social activities and become a more popular person. You have good ideas now, so express them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You are able to get at the truth now of whatever has been most puzzling to you in the past and become a happier person. The evening can be most delightful from a romantic standpoint.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A good time to visit friends you haven't seen in a long time. Make this a most delightful day. You are able to achieve a personal aim that has been difficult in the past.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to please higher-ups who have considerable power over your affairs. You can get ahead faster by becoming more interested in civic affairs. Show that you are a dynamic person.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Forget that humdrum existence and look into new and fascinating outlets that can add much to your present income. Discuss the future with financial experts for best results.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do those things that make you at home or place of business more operative and efficient. Find new items of apparel that will make your wardrobe more attractive. Strive for happiness.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those delightful young people with a particular charm and can easily influence others, provided the smile is used more. Direct the education along lines that require cooperation with others and there can be great success in this chart. There is an abundance of fine talent here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

POLLY'S POINTERS

'Tea Formation' Is Diner's Pet Peeve

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is that tea drinkers are treated like second-class citizens in most restaurants. Coffee drinkers have their cups re-filled over and over, but tea drinkers are given a little pot holding a few swallows more than a cupful, plus one tea bag. By the time it reaches the table the water is no longer hot enough to make good tea. Later, the waitress may ask if you want more hot water but expects us to use the same well-drained tea bag again. Only one restaurant I know (L.A.) brings a big thermos jug and several tea bags so one can make tea and keep it hot for the duration of the meal and also have as much as we want. Why don't more restaurants do this or serve tea the way they do coffee?—R. T. N.

DEAR POLLY—My suggestion is for Mrs. J. P. who wants to clean and whiten her white marble busts. My grandma had two white marble busts and several tea bags to run out dust rag over them. Of course, the wax on the cloths turned them yellow. She washed her busts with warm water and a mild soap. Try that even though there is no guarantee—MRS. M. R.

DEAR POLLY—I live in a nursing home and give some pointers for those who plan on giving holiday gifts to such patients. Please look around our rooms and see how limited the space is. A thoughtful friend of mine carefully chose a small poinsettia for me. It was less than 12 inches tall and in a 5-inch pot but had a bright pretty bloom and could stand on my windowsill where it was a joy to all who came in. Others have since done the same thing. Space is something we live without so I suggest small articles of interest. A big chrysanthemum plant is beautiful but we cannot stand and hold such a plant—ADELAIDE

False-Cader Is a Giveaway

East said nothing on the theory that it never pays to educate your opponent. The South's false-card of the spade ace had been a dead giveaway. East knew that West had not led away from king-queen-jack so that the king played South with at least the king.

If South had simply won the first spade with his queen, East would have had a really tough decision. The queen play might well have been from king-queen-small in which case the spade return would have been the winning defensive play.

ASK A WAKE #12 AKQJ
What do you do now?

A—If your partner plays his bid as a no-trump raise you should pass. You have no extra values. If he plays the ace as Blackwood, bid five hearts to show your two aces.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding four no-trump over your two, your partner has bid three hearts. What do you do now?

Shower Honors Marilyn Rudd

Mrs. Phil Stanley Jr., was hostess for a recent-ice white shower honoring bride-elect Marilyn Rudd at the Stanley home, 553 Plumosa Drive.

The bride's chosen colors of yellow, green and white predominated in decorations overlaid with a white cloth with yellow and green floral border.

Lime sherbet punch was served from a cut glass punch bowl along with chicken salad, ham salad and pimento cheese sandwiches made with yellow, green and white bread; date nut and cherry nut cookies, green jellies, butter mints and mixed nuts.

Mrs. Stanley presented Marilyn with a white carnation corsage to complement her multicolor dress with white trim and a hand mixer as a hostess gift.

Invited guests included, Mrs. Leland Rudd, and Mrs. Roy Wright Jr., mothers of the bride and groom; Mrs. Marjorie Rudd and Melanie and Marcia Rudd, Tampa; Mrs. Donald Freedman and Jan Thomas, Lake Mary; and Mrs. Gerald Higgins, Longwood.

Also Mmes. Sandra Wilson, S. J. Brooks, Lottie Wood, E. C. Harper Sr., R. F. Cooper, Burke Steele, Robert Hodges, William Fuhr, Marion Roberts, Ed Alderman, Holly Piercy, Benny Austin, Robert Brown, Walter Cook, C. S. Sheppard, C. B. Rudd, Pamela Rudd and Miss Carr Chapman.

Last Call For Champagne Ball!

Reservations are still being accepted for Semiole Mutual Concert Association's glittering gala, the eighth annual Champagne Ball. Mayfair Country Club will be the site of the affair, on Saturday, Dec. 2. The price includes a champagne hour, from 7 to 8 p.m., followed by dinner at 8.

Dancing begins at 9 p.m. to the music of Skip Brown and his society orchestra.

DOWNTOWN SANFORD

THURSDAY NIGHT 7:30 P.M.

JESSE LEE THOMAS, 22, of Groveland, apparently didn't see flashing warning lights as he approached a railroad warning on East Dixie Avenue in Leesburg, Monday. His 1970 Mack truck and trailer, loaded with sand, was a total loss, valued at $20,000 (below) after slamming into the side of a Seaboard Coast Line Railroad engine (above). Damage to the train was estimated at $25,000 by Sgt. Paul Morrot of the Leesburg Police Department, J. W. Proctor, 49, of Summerfield, was the engineer of the train. The train was partially derailed by the impact. The accident happened at 3:15 p.m. and the wreckage was all finally cleared at 2:30 a.m. this morning. (Rupert Chastain Photo)

Florida Heroes Receive Carnegie Medal Honors

Two Florida men who gave little thought to endangering their lives in order to save a drowning child and a young man trapped in his flaming car have been rewarded with Carnegie Hero Hero Fund awards.

Another Floridian who sacrificed his life to save another was awarded the hero medal posthumously.

The two living recipients were notified of awards by mail and will receive the same way.

George V. Knoblock, 45, of Clearwater was honored with a bronze medal for persistent dives into the murky waters of the Pithlachascotee River to rescue Barbara Ammons, 2, from an auto that plunged off a road into 15 feet of water in February, 1971.

George Sells, 31, of Jacksonville won his bronze medal for pulling John W. McKenney, 22, from a burning car on Beach Boulevard East of Jacksonville on July 8, 1971. Sells' brother Neville of Louisville, Ky., visiting him at the time, also participated in the rescue and received a Carnegie medal.

The posthumous medal honored Russell Edward Madison, 23, of Jacksonville. He drowned last Jan. 1 while helping save Phyllis J. Black, 9, in Nassau Sound near Jacksonville.

This gave Florida residents three of the 14 awards made throughout the nation.

MEXICO CITY HAS STRAY DOG PROBLEM MEXICO CITY (AP) — The number of stray dogs in Mexico City has risen from 300,000 to 800,000 in the past 10 years, according to an official of the Health Ministry.

The official said that if appropriate steps are not taken, soon there will be as many dogs as people in the Mexican capital.

Knoblock, then city manager of New Port Richey but now a real estate salesman at Clearwater, said he was "totally surprised" at the award.

"It's a high point of my life, something to frame and cherish," he said. "Truly I don't feel worthy of such a tribute. They needed help and I was there."

Sells, who operates a Jacksonville clothing store, said he and his brother reacted in an emergency.

"You can't help but know there is a chance of the car blowing up," he said, "but it was a case of being involved or suffer later. We could do something or watch the guy burn to death. We honestly didn't have a choice to make."

Sells said he was incensed that several persons stood around watching but didn't go to McKenney's aid.

Madison's widow said her husband was "always the type to do things for people. I'd never think for a minute he wouldn't try to help someone in trouble."

"I'm very proud of him," Mrs. Madison said.

Madison was a machinist. He was fishing at the time the child — a stranger to him — got into deep water and was caught in a strong tidal current.

Lakefront Land Bid Deadline Announced

A deadline of 7 p. m. Dec. 11 has been set by the Sanford City Commission for all those groups and individuals interested in purchasing and developing two city owned parcels on the lakefront to get their bids and firm construction plans before the governing body.

Bill Kirk, a local real estate man, was a bit disconcerted about what he termed the sudden interest in the city's small parcel on the southeast corner of Seminole Blvd. and Myrtle Avenue. The property fronts on Lake Monroe and is presently the site of an old log cabin used by the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Delay of consideration of a deal discussed by Kirk with the commission earlier of purchase of the lot for construction of a two-story office building was brought about by letters from Howard H. Hodges, chairman of the Bankers Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, and from realtor, Herbert Stenstrom.

Hodges' letter continued, "We respectfully request that you consider not making firm commitments to sell the city land until the Bankers Committee has had a reasonably short time to meet with the prospective investors to develop its original total project in connection with this land."

Stenstrom advised in his communication that his agency has a client who is interested in submitting an offer.

The Old Legion Building project was appraised on orders from the city at $2,400. Although Kirk said the appraisal was a little high, he would be willing to buy at that price and forego taking title until construction begins sometime in April on the 38,000 square foot office building.

Commissioner A. A. McLaughlin suggested it may well be very difficult for anyone to acquire all the lakefront property which is currently in diverse ownership.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer said the board is trying to be fair to all just as it was concerning the sale of the 14 acre city site on French Avenue some months ago. "We are interested in seeing the property developed to its highest use to return the largest number of tax dollars," he said.

Appraisal of another city owned parcel on the lakefront was set at $36,675.

Thefts Reported From Four Construction Sites

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department is investigating at least four instances of theft from construction sites.

Walter Abernathy of Evers Construction Company, reported a swimming pool water filter, valued at $250, missing from lot 23C, Sweetwater Boulevard, Sweetwater Oaks.

Kuron McMinn, of Winter Park, reported the theft of 72 sheets of drywall and seven cases of metal form beams, total value $37, from a lot at 464 Plumosa Drive. Deputy I. M. Ford turned the investigation over to Detective Jerry Capshaw.

George Wicks, 180 Alhambra Avenue, reported a theft from a construction site at the corner of Bear Lake Circle and Ardle Court, Forest City. A concrete mixer, 12 bags of cement and four rolls of plastic, valued at $25, was taken.

A mortar box, wheel barrow and other tools, valued at $60, was reported missing from a house under construction in the Woodlands, by Ellis Harris of Orlando.

Deputy Scott Grant was called to investigate the theft of a turntable and two speakers from the residence of William Ricke, 3426 East Forest City Road, Forest City. They were valued at $400.

Four light fixtures, valued at $70, were taken from the driveway of Judge Dominick Saffi's residence off Markham Woods Road.

A radio, vase, cigarettes worth $50.65, were taken from the residence of Mrs. Jane Goldsmith, 1843 Puritan Avenue. Eastbrook Entry was ingained through a sliding door. Robert Pichard, 835 Highlands Street, Mt. Dora, reported a 1973 Honda missing from the residence of a friend where he was visiting. The motorcycle was taken from 116 Orienta Drive, Altamonte Springs.

William Hogan is investigating a forgery. A check, passed as a payroll check and written on a business that has been closed for two years, was passed at Fox's Store in the K-Mart Plaza in Fern Park.

Sanford Police are investigating the theft of a date and case worth $223.35 from the music room at the Sanford Middle School. The musical instrument belonged to Elizabeth J. Erickson, 13, of 538 Valencia Street, Sanford.

At The Shoe Tree New Styles Are Exciting

By ANN SIECKOWSKI

Folks down at the Shoe Tree in Seminole Plaza are really excited over their great new selection of shoes now in stock and just in time for the holidays ahead. And judging from the crowds we encountered milling around in the other day, a lot of other folks are just as excited.

Greg Kazmir, associate and manager of the facility for owner Harrison Taylor, says that the big item in the store now is the Minnetonka moccasin line and he really does have every style anyone could ask for—no matter what the age or the size of foot.

The most popular women's styles are the fringe boots. Each is available as a softsole or with a thin composition outsole and all are smartly styled with soft suede leathers with comfortable cushion in soles. There are beads, buttons and fringes decorating them and they feel so good on the foot. They're great for those treks in the outdoors with the kids or for just moping around the house when you need a little more on your feet than the slip-on house slipper. And don't overlook the thunderbird moccasins—some hand-laced and hand-beaded. All styles are in stock for immediate delivery so there's no need to worry about whether there will be enough time for Christmas shopping.

The soft, supple tannage of the deerskin and buffalo leathers offers the utmost in comfort and beauty in the softsole or crepe sole for infants as well as ages in between and adult sizes. Some of the most interesting new Minnetonkas we saw were knee high fringe boots in soft suede leather fashioned into a variety of beautiful styles, including the popular ankle-high "Tramper Boot."

And for those cold days ahead, why not consider the moccasin with the warm and luxurious pile lining in the most popular styles for the whole family in suede leather with cushion insoles, hand-laced, with fringes fancy stitching or beads.

Shoe Tree in Seminole Plaza offers the very finest in moccasins and casual footwear. The name to remember is "Minnetonka"—where quality is the foremost—shoes cut from only the best glove tanned leathers; styles fashioned into the most popular and best-selling styles, with comfort through construction for best fitting qualities and comfortable long wear.

AMONG THE items at the Shoe Tree in the Seminole Plaza is a complete line of Minnetonka Moccasins, shown in this display. Check with them today for all your shoe needs.

Gwaltney's Jewelers Is The Place To Go

By ANN SIECKOWSKI

That time is here again. You know what we mean — it's "Christmas be nice" time — "cause Christmas is just around the corner.

Looking for a special gift for a special someone is a lot of fun, though, in spite of the hustle and bustle. And the search is especially nice when there is a place like Gwaltney's Jewelers so handy located.

Gwaltney's Jewelers, located at 204 South Park, is owned by Margaret Gwaltney, who is an expert in what is good quality. And she is also extremely capable in repairing jewelry, engraving and diamond setting.

You can be assured when you go to Gwaltney's, that the diamond you select will be of the very highest quality — all have been carefully selected for color, clarity and freedom from imperfections. All diamonds are electronically checked for carat weight. And at Gwaltney's there is a wide selection of wedding, engagement and dinner rings, as well as fine jewelry for the younger set.

Something new is the Calibri brand of cigarette lighter. Its electro-quartz butane lighter has no flint, no battery or spark wheel — a simply fantastic gift idea and prices begin as low as $12.95.

And for the person with discriminating taste, you should consider the Eternic-sonic timepieces. These will keep pace when seconds are important. Eternic-sonic electronic watches have a balanced tuning fork which eliminates position error caused by gravity. The result is a guarantee of accuracy to within one second a day.

Gwaltney's has the franchise for the fabulous Wyler watches. For your changing times, Wyler has created two Dynawind models because your world is constantly on the move. Each timepiece has the famous in-calf balance wheel for protection against crack for the life of the watch and there is an automatic day date with instant reset.

B. E. Billon Isn't Worried

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The mutual fund industry is experiencing a bad year, not so much in respect to investment choices, but because of the decision of so many fund holders to redeem their shares.

The redemption plague that began in May 1971 seriously hampers the investment style of funds. If they have to pay those who redeem their shares, it leaves that much less to invest in stocks and other securities.

Sometimes a fund might even have to sell some of its holdings, and this in turn, it is feared, can cause a depression of stock market prices.

One firm that isn't worried is Blyth Eastman Billon. From their research department there came during the past few days a report entitled: "Mutual Funds and The Stock Market: Debunking a Myth."

The report claims that the ability of mutual funds to grossly overstate. "It is a tribute to the funds' press agency," says BIED.

Last year, it notes, the total transactions of mutual funds amounted to about $50 billion, or barely more than one-sixth of the $284 billion in purchases-sales on the New York Stock Exchange.

An even better indicator of the inability of funds to affect prices, says BIED, has been witnessed from a Dow Jones Industrial Average of 790 last November to a high of 970 this year.

"This entire rally phase has been accomplished while the fund redemptions for the first time in history."

The truth of the matter, says BIED, is that even if the funds were forced to liquidate their entire holdings over the next five years their selling would equal only 6 per cent of NYSE volume.

"If the Dow Jones Industrial Average hits 1,000 soon it is a signal to beware," says Albert Sindinger, whose continuous telephone surveys show a marked relationship between consumer confidence and the stock market.

"Recent findings have not turned up the economic support needed to propel the market past the 1,000 barrier and sustain it in new high ground," Sindinger told his investor clients recently.

Market turns, he said, generally lag changes in the consumer confidence level by about eight weeks.

After Much Discussion Pay Hike Is Approved

By BOB ORRELL

CASSELLBERRY — After much discussion, the Casselberry City Council unanimously voted to accept the new pay schedules governing all civil service employees.

The main point at issue was a difference in salaries between the police and fire departments, but after explanations by Acting Mayor Dr. Edith Duerr and Ron Bergman, City Manager, the motion passed.

Two bids for drilling a new well were read by Acting Mayor Duerr who suggested that it be submitted to the city engineer for his recommendation. This was put in the form of a motion and accepted.

A letter of resignation from George Schrader, planning and zoning board member, was accepted with regret.

The possibility of allowing the fire department to send their rescue truck outside city limits in case of accidents was tabled for its first chief time to work out a satisfactory plan.

Most of the work session was consumed by A. M. Buckley, President of Lake Kathryn Estates Mobile Home Park, in his effort to have Casselberry annex his development.

Many problems came to light in this annexation request, including maintenance of water and sewer lines if the city...

BUCKLEY offered to give the lines and lift stations to the city but was adamant in refusing to post a performance bond to assure proper maintenance.

The next major concern of the council was the installation of a weir at the end of Lake Kathryn to control the water level. Buckley offered to donate land for the city to build this water level control device but stated he thought the same thing could be attained by the use of a small dam which he has already built.

Mayor Duerr's statement stating that the weir would have to be constructed properly so so many people would be affected by flood or drought conditions.

Dr. John Zacco, councilman, remarked, "Either Mr. Buckley builds the weir as required or the city will have to build the weir through long enough without getting anywhere."

The question of annexing Lake Kathryn Estates was placed on next week's agenda and the meeting adjourned.

Florida Land Buyers Misled

Retiree Tells Examiners House Will Not Be Built For Eight Or Nine Years

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—"I probably was a schnook," a retired song writer testified Tuesday night, explaining that he bought a tract of land in west Florida and made a down payment, only to learn his house probably wouldn't be built for eight or nine years.

"Maybe my grandchildren will be around to enjoy it, but it's a long time to wait for somebody who's retired," Pinky Herman told federal examiners probing land sales abuses at a public hearing here.

Herman said he moved to Florida eight months ago from New York City and made a $55 down payment on a lot near Holiday for a retirement home.

The property was in Rutunda West Development in Charlotte County, he said.

Herman inspected the property and said development appeared to be coming along fine. He signed a contract.

Only then did he learn that his lot probably wouldn't be developed for another eight or nine years, he testified at the hearing called to air complaints of interstate land sales.

About a dozen persons testified before the four member federal panel in the nationwide series of meetings by the federal office of Interstate Land Sales Registration, a division of the U.S. Department of Housing and urban development.

After making the first payment, Herman said he asked the seller to resell the lot to someone else, but claims he was told he had to keep making the $56 monthly payments.

"I was probably a schnook to permit myself to be taken, and I hope this case this body will look into and perhaps take me off the hook," said Herman.

The panel heard complaints about misrepresentation in land purchases—such as failure by the developer to carry through on promises to develop tracts and developers failing to register land with the federal government as required by law.

A spokesman for Florida Attorney Gen. Robert Shubin told examiners there were many complaints on file. Of some 100 complaints Shubin's office has received, three fourths dealt with misrepresentation of value of land bought or its location, according to Linda Williams, an administrative assistant.

She said among the complaints, nearly all of them from people out of state, were allegations that developers failed to make refunds as promised or mistating resale possibilities.

She said many complainants were lodged against three corporations: Gulf American Corp., General Development Corp., and Cavanaugh Communities Corp.

Commissioner Kimbrough Challenges PUD Zoning

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

It happened during the period allotted for the report to the county commission by the zoning director. Upon the inquiry of the commission chairman, Greg Brannaman, as to any questions by any of the Board members, Commissioner John Kimbrough did indeed have remarks to make.

"Mr. Chairman, I would like move to adopt a resolution requesting and directing the planning and zoning commission to further review and reconsider the appropriateness of PUD zoning classification for that development known as Wingfield Reserve.

These around the table all looked toward Kimbrough and listened as he explained his reasons for the motion. He said that the request was made because of possible inappropriateness of the existing classification and planning and zoning should take into consideration before making any recommendation with regard to this property the following factors: whether the existing PUD classification provides appropriate population density for the location; whether some other classification might provide more appropriate densities; whether the existing PUD classification or some other would be more appropriate in light of the problems of traffic flow and congestion; whether PUD or some other would be more appropriate in terms of the school burden; availability of fire protection; whether there is excess of land in Seminole County zoned PUD in light of housing demands and growth and development of county. Two other questions included whether the existing PUD is consistent with the general character of the area where presently located and the possible ecological and water recharge impact on the area.

Kimbrough recommended R 1-AAA or R-C1 zoning for this area and County Attorney Howard Marsee said that if an attitude of "reasonableness" is determined and "I assume that is your attitude," then the Annexation of the Radloff parcel on the west side of SR 427 would create another pocket of city territory surrounded by county property. Councilman E. E. Williamson insists to the Longwood City Council, pointing to a map Radloff in just as vehement manner contends the parcel is contiguous by virtue of its being across the highway from city territory. (Donna Estes Photo)

Councilman Fights Annexation Plan

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD — Harsh words flowed between developer Tom Radloff of Altamonte Springs and Councilman E. E. Williamson last night when Radloff immediately following adoption of second and final reading of an ordinance creating mobile home park zoning asked for annexation of a parcel with the new zoning designation.

The Radloff tract is on the west side of SR 427 across the highway from the Lake Ruth Subdivision. Williamson, who had opposed the new zoning, insisted from first discussions of the category that the district Radloff parcel would create another pocket or gap in the city limits on the west side of 427.

As Radloff insisted the land was contiguous and would not create the pocket, Council recessed and several members went into the clerk's office to study an aerial photo of the area.

Radloff continued to point to continuity by virtue of its being across the road from Lake Ruth while Williamson was discussing the non-contiguity on the west side.

The builder's remark that Williamson's position did not make sense brought a storm of protest from the councilman. "I have as much sense as you have, I resent your statement. As far as I am concerned you are so linear welcome here, you are so linear welcome here, you are so linear welcome here, you are so linear welcome here."

Williamson declared. With tempers flaring, Councilman Williamson Klossky moved to table the matter until "everyone cools down." Council Chairman Eugene Jaques, meanwhile, on a query from Radloff said the item would be placed again on the agenda for next week's meeting.

Jaques earlier advised Radloff the proper place to take his preliminary plans for the development was the zoning board.

Radloff over several months was sent to the zoning board who declined to take action on his proposed zoning request for the parcel he wants annexed until a proper category were created by the Council. The Council at the same time refused to consider Radloff's request until the zoning board made a recommendation.

Christmas Store Hours Extended

Beginning Thursday, Sanford Merchants kick off the Christmas selling season under the banner of "A Wonderful World of Christmas Shopping," according to Leonard Francœur, President of the Downtown Business Association.

In anticipation of increased business, he added, many merchants have extended store hours, boosted sales help, and increased stock on hand in their stores.

The number of early shoppers coming downtown, Francœur said, points to a prosperous and thrilling holidays for Sanford.

Look for your Sanford Merchants in Section B of today's Herald he concluded.

Dead Boy's Parents To Face Trial

MIAMI (AP)—The parents of a little boy who doctors said apparently consumed nothing but chocolate milk for five months before he died of malnutrition have been ordered to face trial on manslaughter charges.

Judge John Tankley ruled Tuesday that Michael and Lois Nozza be held for trial after relatives testified the boy "looked starved" and shed weight constantly for months before his death.

Dean, 3, weighed 35 pounds when his father took him to a hospital two weeks ago. Medical examiners testified Tuesday that young Dean died of malnutrition on Nov. 13.

Dolores Stinson, the wife of Michael Nozza's brother, testified that she saw Mrs. Nozza only try twice to feed the child—once a piece of bread and once a piece of candy.

Lakefront Sales Prompt Meeting

By BILL SCOTT

The recent upsurge by various groups wanting to buy portions of a 10-acre tract in the so-called "Sanford Tank Farm" along the lakefront, Tuesday prompted the Sanford Chamber of Commerce bankers committee to meet at luncheon to hear a proposal by Howard Hodges, Sanford Atlantic National Bank president and chairman of the committee, aimed at bringing together the owners and prospective owners of the various properties to discuss a total development concept.

Hodges said today the session will be scheduled possibly later this week or early next week. The chairman also pointed out that the bankers committee had for "over a year" attempted to develop a plan to re-make the area in question into a project, which might be utilized into an apartment complex or office area.
