PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two clouding labor disputes involving less than 7,000 employees are striking bitter blows to the economy of this industrial metropolis—the largest city in the nation.

A four-week old transit strike is keeping thousands of shoppers away from Pittsburgh's business district as well as harassing an estimated 200,000 commuters.

A second and much older strike of 12 AFL unions against the city's five biggest department stores has all truck deliveries and puts picket lines in front of the stores.

Adding to the complicated labor picture are current contract talks between the basic steel industry and the big CIO United Steelworkers.

Pittsburgh is the heart of the nation's steel business.

Current labor trouble dates back to Nov. 27 that's when the AFL General Teamsters Union walked off the job at five department stores.

Within a few weeks—as Christmas shopping reached a peak—11 other AFL-affiliated unions pulled members off the job at the department stores—idling 1,000.

On May 9 the trolley and bus stopped running.

The 2,700 bus and trolley operators demanded that Pittsburgh Railways Co. up their $1.98 an hour pay by 30 cents. The company refused on grounds it could not afford a 15 percent raise.

Despite hundreds of additional autos rolling into the city each day now, traffic moves smoothly—a little slower maybe, but smoothly.

An atmosphere of friendliness prevails along the highways leading to town. Motorists stop to pick up stranded commuters until their autos are filled.

The trolley company estimated the dispute is costing striking workers $200,000 a week in lost pay and the firm is spending $11,000 a day for maintenance without taking a cent.

Speakers for the five struck department stores admit business is off but decline to release figures.

A. H. Burchfield, president of the Chamber of Commerce, estimated the department stores' business was off about twice as much as in other big cities before the transit stop. He added:

"Since the transportation strike, it has gotten much worse. Strikes hurt everybody. The worker, the company and the city."

Several restaurants have quit serving evening meals. Managers say people who used to stay in the city after work now hurry home while rides are available.

One television station discontinued live programs and said unfavorable business conditions played a major part in the decision.

Crucial to the department stores' dispute seems to center around the General Teamsters demands to decide when delivery trucks need helpers and when stores shall use parcel post for deliveries.

The old contract, with such a clause, expired in November and management has refused to discuss the issue as part of any new contract. Pay and other monetary demands also are involved, but the union and management have never got around to discussing them.

There have been several incidents of minor violence—big store windows smashed, some officials' homes sprayed with paint and a

Florida Power & Light Plans Much Expansion

Official Says Plant Potential, Capital Set-Up May Be More Than Doubled

NEW YORK — The Florida Power & Light Co. expects to more than double its plant capability and its capital structure in the next eight years. This was revealed by J. C. Plant capacity at the end of 1953, Smith said, was 602,000 KW. and capitalization was $189 million. By 1961 the company expects plant capability to approximate 1,500,000 KW with capitalization of about $435 million.

Investigators Probe Mystery Man's Actions In Scheme

1. Sheriff Pat Gordon staged a fake abduction of one of the intended victims, Mrs. Byron Rutch of Lake Wales, 51-year-old blonde widow, to make the principals think their orders had been carried out.

2. Gordon arrested Emmett Donnelly, well-known Lake Wales attorney, and Willard Durkin, Orlando building contractor, on (Continued On Page Six)

TOKYO — A Japanese fishing boat captain released by the Russians yesterday said he had been beaten with a leather whip by Russian soldiers in the state of Kyushu, news agency said.

Two small fishing boats returned to Rausu in Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island. They were seized by the Soviets May 27. Twelve crewmen were aboard released boats. They reported they had been held on one of the Russian-held Kuril Islands, north of Hokkaido.

They said at least 10 Japanese fishing boats and crews still were held in the area.

Fifth Air Force Collects $4,600 To Assist 'Child Piano Prodigy'

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Tony H. (Tony) Han and a couple of friends plan to leave here today on a trip that will end with the young Korean in New York's famed Juilliard School of Music.

Tony, his friends say, is a child piano prodigy, and the 5th Air Force has put up some $4,600 to prove it.

Cuthshaw told Tony's story while Anderson modestly excluded himself from any part in the drama. Cuthshaw said he was really the general who started the ball rolling.

It happened this way, Cuthshaw said. Tony and his family lived in North Korea before the war began there. In 1948, the Russians confiscated all the family's furniture, including the piano.

The family moved to Seoul and later, when the fighting started, to Pusan. Tony's father, a musician, taught the boy to play the piano.

Last October, the manager of the 5th Air Force Theater in Seoul heard the boy playing the piano. He put him on the program.

Anderson heard the performance and was so impressed that he sent the 1st on a tour of Air Force installations.

Dulles Turns Down British, French Arguments On War

SEATTLE, Wash. — Secretary of State Dean Acheson today rejected British and French arguments that the United Nations should not act in Indochina while peace negotiations with the Communists are under way.

He appeared in effect for speedy action by the U.N. Security Council to send a peace observation commission to Southeast Asia, asserting that "knowledge has never yet been an impediment to honest negotiations."

Dulles did not mention Britain and France by name but U.S. diplomats in Washington said the nations have been the principal source of arguments which Dulles said have "little validity."

In a speech prepared for the international Rotary convention here, Dulles discussed major topics of American foreign policy with emphasis on these points:

1. Today there is perhaps "too much difference between the minds of the non-Communist world." Dulles deplored the lack of unity but said it is probably inevitable in the development of common policies among free nations. He pointed out that the Communists have been the principal about action to save Indochina from Communist rule.

2. He renewed his warning to Western Europe generally and Italy and France particularly that "there may have to be a basic shift in United States policy." (Continued On Page Six)

Governors Consider Sticking To Foreign Trade Program

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Governors and representatives of 15 states where schools are segregated voted to go into closed session today to consider the Supreme Court's ruling that the practice is violative of the United States Constitution.

Acting Governor Charley Johns of Florida objected to barring the press, and asked to be included as opposing the motion for a closed session made by Gov. Robert Kenyon of Louisiana.

"We believe in putting things out on the table and letting everybody hear," Gov. John said. He said that in the future meetings of the Florida pardon board would be open.

Eisenhower Says Sticking To Foreign Trade Program

JANEITE KREMER, 13, writes a letter home to Orange, N. J., using her first job as a typist. She was the first girl in the world to be employed by the White House. She is now a typist in the White House.

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Eisenhower said today nothing could be further from the truth than statements that he is backing away from his foreign trade program calling for a reduction of tariffs.

Eisenhower told his news conference the fact he has now asked for a simple one-year extension of the reciprocal trade act instead of trying to get an original extension in the next year is not a sign of weakness. He said 15 per cent of the total value of goods imported in 1953 was 15 per cent of the total value of goods imported in 1952.

These facts have been questioned by Democrats. But the President said he was having no more to do with the program without a deal.

The House Ways and Means Committee today unanimously approved the one-year extension of the President's authority to make trade agreements with other nations. The House is likely to act on it tomorrow and the Senate perhaps next week.

On other matters the President had this to say at his news conference:

Communism — What he personally fears more than anything in the Free World's struggle against Communism is the possibility of a failure to look the danger squarely in its broad face. Eisenhower said sympathetically the United States cannot achieve its aims by military force alone. It must be the psychological, political and intellectual basis for the Free World in the battle against the forces of Communism.

Secret information — Eisenhower said the privacy and obscurity of the provisions of the Constitution should be beyond question in the case of any man holding a Commission as a reserve officer. He said he would not give out secret information without authorization.

Indochina — The President said the French Union forces in Indochina are in possibly better defensive shape than before the fall of Dien Bien Phu but undoubtedly could be made to hold by outside military help. He said he still does not believe this country should send a war boat to keep its military reserves highly mobile.

Politics — The President said he still feels the broad ground of responsibility that it is proper for him to embrace all Republican nominees for Congress as he did in the 1952 campaign.

He added with a grin, however, that he imagines someone could put something out of a hat that might be embarrassing to him.

In a round of laughter, Eisenhower asked his biographer whether the President in making that remark had anything specific in mind. He replied that he had hoped to do so.

A reporter then asked whether the President in making that remark had anything specific in mind. He replied that he had hoped to do so.

As for the possibility of getting a special session of Congress after the present session adjourns, probably sometime in August, Eisenhower said he had no intention of calling such a session. (Continued On Page Six)

Anti-American Feeling Bursts Into Open Riot In Mexico

CANANEA, Mexico (AP) — Anti-American feeling reportedly fanned by known Communist leaders of Mexico, burst into an open riot yesterday in which an estimated 3,000 persons forced the release of eight land squatters from jail.

Federal troops were rushed from the Sonora state capital of Hermosillo to this city, 45 miles south of the Arizona border. Late last night in an effort to prevent bloodshed.

Police Chief Teofilo Peralta, who freed the prisoners, said at least 100 soldiers were stationed here "until things become safe again."

Shouts of "Down with Yankee imperialism" and "Down the American flag" were heard from the crowd as they stormed the municipal building and city jail until Peralta opened the jail doors.

The cattle company, like the Cananea Copper Co., a division of Anaconda Copper Co., where many employ most of the population, is owned by citizens of the United States. There are approximately 200 Americans living here.

The eight men first went out the jail with papers which they claimed gave them ownership of the land. The Mexican Constitution of 1917 says "The papers were worthless." He notified Alberto Mayo, Sonora state attorney, and the men were arrested.

Tampa Wholesaler Kidnaped; Later Freed After Ride

TAMPA, Fla. — A Tampa fruit wholesaler told officers today he was kidnaped, threatened with death, robbed and stuffed in the trunk of his own car for five hours before being freed after a ride to a nearby town.

Problem Of Medical Schools

There are 79 medical schools in this country. And because of the mounting cost of medical education, they operate at a deficit of some $10,000,000 a year.

There are two ways by which that deficit can be made up. One is by government subsidy — which would inevitably lead to political domination of medical education, and would be a stepping stone toward socialized medicine. The other is by obtaining sufficient support from private business and businessmen to balance the books.

That is the job of the National Fund for Medical Education, which was formed in 1949, largely under the leadership of President Eisenhower when he headed Columbia University. A long list of distinguished citizens constitute its officers and trustees. It works closely with the American Medical Association and the Association of American Medical Colleges. It is now undertaking a nationwide campaign to show the nation how vital it is that the schools be adequately supported. The money obtained goes to fill faculty vacancies, to purchase badly needed equipment and, above all, to introduce new courses based on rapidly multiplying medical discoveries.

American medicine's achievements have been magnificent. During the first half of this century alone, medical science has added 15 years of life expectancy. And our medical schools are roots from which such triumphs came.

HAL BOYLE

Birthplaces Are Visited

By CHARLES MERCER
For Hal Boyle, New York City, this summer is nearly here. A lot of people are preparing for the rigors of touring by auto. Mosquito bites, sun burn, flat tires, dyspepsia—the hazards are familiar.

But let's not forget one. That is the pilgrimage to the historic shrines, especially the birthplaces of this and that President of the United States.

Many a father bent on fishing and many a mother determined to sun herself on a warm beach will drive many miles out of the way so the kids can see the birthplace of a president—just any President. And scarcely any of these Presidents was born beside a four-lane highway.

I know. I've visited the birthplaces of more Presidents than I can remember. That is because my father was an ardent fisherman.

Every summer he'd want to go fishing in a different part of the Northeast. To justify this frivolity he'd always hunt up a birthplace or two on the way. "It's adjacent," he'd say as we pulled up before another presidential birthplace. Perhaps it was though it never had any noticeable effect on my history grades.

Have you ever visited the birthplace of James Monroe? Well, neither have I. Monroe was born in Westmoreland County, Va., and there may be signs all over the place now telling you how to find the house. But in the Model T days there weren't any, or at least we couldn't find them. We drove all over the county and had a flat and the radiator boiled over, but we never found the birthplace of James Monroe.

It's in a presidential birthplace and you are around New York this summer. I recommend that of Grover Cleveland in Caldwell, N.J. This home lies on a main-traveled road and the last time I heard of anybody knocking at the door there was no response. But it's well marked and the kids can go back to school in the fall and write a neat composition on "My Pilgrimage to President Cleveland's Birthplace."

The point of all this nostalgic thinking is simply this: What is going to happen about the birthplaces of the Presidents of the future?

Everybody is born in a hospital these days. Are we going to have plaques placed in hospital delivery rooms marking the birthplaces of Presidents? Impossible. You can't let droves of kids go trooping through hospital corridors disturbing the patients. Just so they can see the birthplace of President Melvin McIntyre (1904-1908).

There's another possibility. An expectant mother who is certain her son will become President could have her little future President at home—if the doctor consents.

But this, too, raises difficulties. How's just aren't so permanent as they used to be. Or suppose the future President's parents live in an apartment? How will future occupants feel about all those tourists coming up in the elevator to gawk at the room?

It definitely appears from here that the birthplaces of future Presidents just don't have any future. That may be sad. Or it could be a great relief to generations of summer tourists yet unborn.

An organizational meeting was held Monday night at the City Hall with L. E. Guina, Scoutmaster and chairman of the troop committee, presiding.

Previously, the local Elks have done Crippled Children's Home at Umatilla, which is a wonderful project of the Elks on a nation-wide basis, while local Elks also have helped to make the Christmas season a bit brighter for underprivileged children.

The local Elks group indeed is to be commended for its interest in youth and the assistance it is giving to the younger generation.

RAMIE FIBER — Has the highest tensile strength of the vegetable fibres, absorbs water more readily than flax fiber, from which linen is made, and dries out more readily. It is resistant to decay and when well degummed has a soft, lustrous property equal to or exceeding that of silk. It does not have as much elasticity as silk nor does it withstand torsion as well, but it exceeds flax and hemp in those qualities and blends satisfactorily with other fibers such as wool, cotton, silk and rayon.

Is there something wrong with our form of City government? Why should it be possible for the Mayor to cast the deciding vote on an issue in which he is vitally interested and is naturally prejudiced? HE BECOMES THE JUDGE

IN HIS OWN CASE

Ethics demand that any commissioner disqualify himself from voting on an issue in which he is interested and will receive benefits or privilege.

Basically there is nothing wrong with our form of city management, it is in the abuse of the privileges granted the commissioner.

PHILADELPHIA (U.S.)—John and Theresa Ciccone received blood transfusions yesterday to be ready for high school graduation exercises next week.

For John, 20, it was his 45th transfusion. His 15-year-old sister received her 10th.

The Ciccones were born with a rare blood disease known as Mediterranean anemia which hampers the production of red blood cells. The only known cure for the disease is blood transfusion.

Welch Attacks McCarthy, Weeps

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—Joseph N. Welch, 64-year-old special counsel for the Army, walked out of the Army-McCarthy hearing and wept. He had just found he was playing in a league too rough for him.

He had been a Boston trial lawyer 35 years. But even experience like that, it seemed now, had not prepared him for a Senate hearing like this or an encounter with Sen. McCarthy.

Only a moment before he had provided the emotional high moment of the hearing with a denunciation of McCarthy in a voice so choked he seemed like a man speaking through tears. He held the tears until he got outside the room.

McCarthy had just attacked him and a young lawyer, Frederick G.

Fisher, who works for Welch's firm. The audience in the hearing room gave Welch unrestrained applause. What the television audience thought is unknown.

That was the emotional side of what happened. But looked at coldly, as an experienced trial lawyer like Welch himself might look at it if someone else had been sitting in his place, what was the practical side of this memorable moment?

The people who like McCarthy will probably remain undisturbed by Welch's grief and go on liking the senator. The people who dislike him will probably dislike him even more.

There was a central question which may have been obscured under the emotion: Did McCarthy have a purpose in his attack on Welch and Fisher? And did Welch fall for it?

Welch was cross-examining Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel of McCarthy's staff. Time and again in the past when Welch was pressing Cohn hard, McCarthy had come in to tackle Welch.

Each time it happened McCarthy that the source of all is the state itself.

"When we ask our Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts and other young people, who take the pledge of allegiance to the flag more than do adults, we should remind them that it is not only a pledge of words but also of belief."

Let us take this pledge of loyalty to God and country with full dedication of mind and heart that this Republic shall be passed on to our descendants as the citadel of liberty "under God."

"... and in Thine hand is there no power and might, so that none is able to withstand Thee..."

Let us not be dismayed by reason of this great multitude; for the battle is not yours but God's." (2 Chronicles 20:15)

The one thing needed for the perpetuation of this Republic, our liberty and our prosperity, is to seek and follow God's guidance—to co-operate with Him.

We have added the words "under God" to our National Pledge. Let it be not a mere matter of words, but the expression of a dedication which should govern our lives.

McCarthy himself is an expert hand at keeping a witness pinned to the chair. He did this to Stevens and to Army Counselor John G. Adams for days. His pressure paid off.

Adams disclosed for the first time high officials in the Eisenhower administration had advised the Army in its dealings with Mr. McCarthy. McCarthy made quick capital of it and kept the hearings attention focused on this episode for a week.

The McCarthy attack went this way: he accused Welch of trying to "foist" off on the Senate subcommittee conducting the hearings, a former member of the National Lawyers Guild — Fisher.

Welch said he did not find out until after he brought Fisher down here to help him in this case that the young man had been a member of the guild at Harvard Law School and a few months thereafter. Then, Welch said, he sent Fisher back to Boston so this matter would not get dragged into the hearing.

The Lawyers Guild has denied charges it's a Communist front. Let it be not a mere matter of words, but the expression of a dedication which should govern our lives.

It's Up To You

By Howard E. ...

The communist worst is striving to eliminate worship and a belief in God from the hearts and minds of the millions of people under its control. In America our devotion to religion leaves much to be desired, but our people increasingly recognize the presence and power of God by joining churches and worshipping in greater numbers.

Hereafter, every time we pledge our loyalty to our flag and country, we shall reaffirm our belief in God as being higher than the nation itself.

In seeking senate approval of the resolution to add "under God" to the pledge of allegiance Ferguson said:

"We are asking that only two words be added to the pledge of Allegiance, but they are very significant words."

"I have felt that the pledge of allegiance to the flag which stands for the U. S. of America should recognize the CREATOR who we really believe is in control of the destinies of this great republic of ours."

"We are now living in a world divided by two ideologies, one of which affirms its belief in God, while the other does not. One just of the world believes in the inalienable rights of people under the CREATOR. The other part of the world believes in materialism and

Powdered Milk Is Nutritional As Well As Good

Without plenty of milk in some form it's hard to keep well nourished. Milk offers top-notch protein, B vitamins, minerals, particularly calcium, needed for strong bones and good teeth, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent.

Many nutritionists now agree that adults of all ages, as well as children, benefit by getting more calcium than just barely enough for immediate need. One can get this extra calcium by adding a little calcium to his diet. If the amount of milk given below are used: children five to seven quarts a week (3 to 4 cups a day); adults: two quarts a week (about three cups a day).

Dry milk—whole and non-fat. Dry milk products are excellent foods that can help families get enough milk for quarts of whole milk. Dry milk products are put up in two forms: nonfat dry milk solids commonly called non-fat dry milk and whole dry milk. These powdered milks are made respectively from skim and whole milk with just the water removed.

Nonfat dry milk has all the nourishment of free skim milk. It has the calcium and other minerals and B vitamins, natural sugar, and high-quality protein that make liquid skim milk such valuable food. While dry milk has, in addition, the fat and the vitamins. A value of the cream portion of whole milk. In some places nonfat milk powder may be the least expensive milk product available.

Milk powder is handy. Dry milk products are easy to carry home and take little storage space. A pound package, about four cups equals about four quarts of whole milk. Milk powder is convenient to have on hand and save many an emergency trip to the store.

Easy to measure and mix: When opening the container, stir powder with a spoon and lightly take up the amount wanted. Don't pack down the powder. Level with a spatula or straight-edged knife. In most instances milk powder can be used right out of the container mixed with dry ingredients for cakes and breads, stirred into flour for gravy or sauce, or mixed with marshmallows and sugar for puddings.

Try a different sauce with fish. Add a couple of tablespoons each of catchup and chopped dill seeds to white sauce. Use 1/4 tablespoons of butter or margarine and the same amount of flour to a cup of milk for the sauce, and season with salt and pepper.

Ethel Root Circle Gathers At Home Of Helen Witte

The Ethel Root Circle of the Sanford Christian Congregational Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Helen Witte. The meeting was opened and conducted by the circle president, Mrs. Herbert Thurston. Devotions were led by the chaplain, Mrs. Edward Simpson.

George Montgomery Lilly's LITTLE THINGS about the STARS

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"Portia Faces Life," for 12-years one of radio's top daytime serials, has come to life on television Monday through Fridays (1-15 to 1:30 p. m., EST) via CBS-TV. Versatile actress Frances Reid is the television "Portia." A veteran of numerous Broadway productions, Miss Reid, has shared the stage with such notable names as Maurice Evans in "Shakespearean Works and starred herself in Roger Blavain's hit production of "Twelfth Night." Other outstanding credits include "Rosalind in 'A Midsummer Night's Dream,'" "Cyrano de Bergerac," "Disciple," "Heartbreak House" and a role in Chekov's "The Bear." Texas-born, Miss Reid is married to an actor, Phillip Bourneau, and lives in a suburban haven of actors, New Hope, Pa., where she spends her spare time gardening and working on a cook book for prospective publication.

Mona Kent, who wrote "Portia Faces Life" for 10 years on the radio, is doing the television script.

"JUSTICE" COMES TO TV

Another dramatic addition to television screens is a hard-hitting true-to-life thriller Thursday nights (in most cities) via NBC-TV titled "Justice." Based on authentic material from the files of the National Legal Aid Society, the National Association for Probation and Parole and other documented sources, this one strikes home with moving realism brilliantly dramatized by a roster of name stars and top video writers, among the latter—Earl Hamner, Jr., H. Richard Nash, Ted Muesel, Robert Alan Arthur and Irving Korman. "Justice" is produced by John Houseman and telecasts weekly while Dan Petrie, a graduate of the realistic "Chicago" TV period and since then assigned to numerous top shows, is the director. Westbrook Van Veenke is the narrator.

What Do You Know About Safe Driving?

Here is a driver test that you can play real easy and if you can answer all of the questions correctly it is pretty certain that you're a good and careful motorist. The Florida Highway Patrol wants you to take this test and better the same, if you're not right the first time, by learning important safety rules of the road.

- Which of the three choices best completes the statement? Underline your choice. Correct answers are given under the test.
- When approaching a curve on the highway, you should: (a) slow down going into the curve and speed up going out of it, (b) continue into the curve at the speed the car was going and apply the brakes only if necessary, (c) slow down before reaching the curve depress the clutch and coast around the curve.
  - You are driving on a slippery surface and have to stop quickly. The best way to do this is: (a) pump the brake pedal, (b) slam the brakes on hard, (c) shift into low gear.
  - When a car's speed is increased from 35 to 75 miles an hour, the potential damage it can cause when striking another car is greater by: (a) twice, (b) four times, (c) three times.
  - The pleasure and satisfaction a driver gets from his car depends on: (a) how he drives and maintains it, (b) how fast it can go, (c) how much power it has.
  - The kind of driver you are depends mostly on: (a) the speed with which you reach the car, (b) the kind of car, (c) how you learned to drive.
  - When the school bus in front of you makes a stop to discharge passengers, you should: (a) slow down and pass if no children are crossing, (b) sound your horn and pass, (c) stop behind the bus and proceed when it does.
  - Night accidents occur relatively more frequently than day accidents because: (a) visibility is reduced, (b) drivers are tired at night, (c) people drive faster at night than during the day.
  - A driver should realize when driving on a bumpy road that his (a) braking distance will be shorter than usual, (b) reaction time will be longer, (c) braking distance will be longer than usual.
  - When you "overdrive" your headlights: (a) you blind other drivers with your lights, (b) you are being very courteous, (c) you cannot stop within the distance you can see.
  - When approaching the crest of a hill: (a) increase speed to make up for speed lost on the grade, (b) slow down, (c) continue at the same speed.

Father's Day Dish Created By Famous Chef Of U. S. Lines

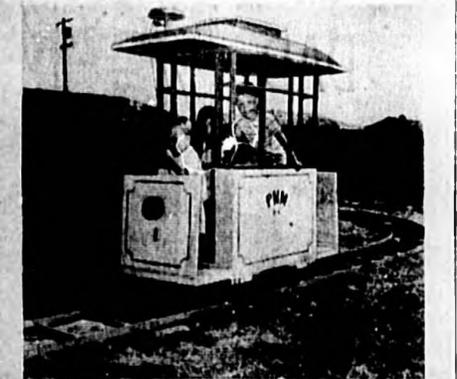

Ocean breezes and creative cookery whet the appetites of passengers and crew of the SS United States, flagship of the United States Lines, to such an extent that each person aboard consumes almost a pound of chicken a day, Board reports.

Recognizing this fact, "Poularde a la SS United States," or roast chicken, will be served on this auspicious day as a Father's Day feast, June 20, with a very special stuffing which will add to the enjoyment of wearing the uniform.

The recipe for the stuffing was created by Otto Bismarck, famous chef des cuisines of the S. S. United States. If you are not among the 2,000 passengers dining on the "fastest ship afloat" on Father's Day, you and the family can imagine yourselves aboard by consuming "Poularde a la SS United States" in your own home.

For a family of three or four use a broiler-fryer chicken weighing three to four pounds, ready-to-cook weight. Stuff with the following recipe created by Mr. Bismarck and roast until done. With this exciting Father's Day dish you can experience part of the pleasure of being aboardship and home-bound.

- CHICKEN STUFFING FOR 1 "POULARDE A LA SS UNITED STATES"
- 2 slices bacon, diced
  - 4 large green onions or shallots, chopped (1/2 cup)
  - 1/4 cup chopped chives
  - 3 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
  - 2 egg yolks
  - 2/3 cup cream, light or heavy
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon ground pepper
  - 1/2 teaspoon brown sugar

Riding their own backyard trolley brings a thrill to Peter, Nichole and Mark Weibens. Their dad, Peter, built the PNM Railroad for them in Gregory Gardens, near Walnut Creek, Calif. Based on a lumber framework of pine, the trolley has a top of maulin, sides of durable Masonite Tempered Plywood, rails of pine lumber. A free plan of the trolley as it was presented by Mechanix Illustrated may be obtained by writing the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2017, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

Children May Run Own Trolley Cars In Back Yards

Trolleys may be an outmoded form of transportation for grown-ups, but a backyard trolley for the kiddies—that's something else! Peter Weibens built one in his back yard in Gregory Gardens, near Walnut Creek, Calif. He calls it the PNM railroad after his youngsters, Peter, Nichole and Mark.

Homemade from the maple wheels to the main roof, the trolley runs on 1 1/2 feet of pine lumber rails. One of the boys "makes it go" by sitting on a bicycle seat and pumping on the bike pedals, which are hooked up in a convenient way to the trolley.

The lumber was used for the framework of the trolley car, which has sides of Masonite Tempered Plywood, an all-wood panel material that's especially suited for grueling wear of the kind the kiddies will give it. Besides, Masonite panels have no splinters, so they're particularly safe around boys and girls.

The trolley was gaily painted: red for the upper half, trimmed with yellow; bright yellow for the lower half, with black lettering.

A can was used for the headlight, and an old school bell re-surfaced from a neighbor's use-it-some-day-pile became the gong on top. The maple wheels were turned by another neighbor; they run on tracks 1 1/2 inches apart.

Made for three riders, the trolley has been known to accommodate as many as seven youngsters. It's the talk of not only the neighborhood, but the entire community.

A free plan of the PNM backyard trolley, as it was presented by "Mechanix Illustrated," a prominent how-to-do-it magazine, may be obtained by writing the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2017, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

Shriners' Hospital Movement Anniversary To Be Observed

The thirty-third anniversary of the Shriners' Hospital Movement, which has ministered to more than 250,000 crippled children will be commemorated next Sunday with the inauguration of a National Shriners Hospital Day, Imperial Pontentia Remmie L. Arnold announced recently.

As part of the day's program, each of the 17 Shriners Hospitals in the U. S., Canada, Hawaii and Mexico will invite the public to view the work being done for crippled children, regardless of race, creed or color, and without one cent of cost to any child or parent.

To date, these thousands of children have been cured or materially benefited in Shriners' hospitals, and additional thousands of "outside" patients have been immeasurably helped by clinical treatments, braces and other artificial aids.

Sponsored by 165 Shrine Temples with a membership exceeding 700,000, the Shriners' hospital movement was launched June 12, 1921, in Des Moines, Iowa, at the Imperial Council session of the Shrine Temples of North America, which elected a national board of trustees of the Shriners' hospitals for crippled children.

Under this seven-man committee, the first Shriners' hospital unit opened its doors on Sept. 15, 1922, at Shreveport, La., to welcome and admit crippled children of the region whose parents could not afford medical services.

Today, in the Shriners' hospitals, the children not only receive necessary medical treatment, but enjoy education as in local public schools, Sunday school, manual training, sewing, knitting and weaving, and facilities for reading, singing and games.

The hospital budget, running into millions of dollars, is met by an annual assessment of members of the Shrine-sponsored events such as the East-West football game, Charlotte and Norfolk game, and Kansas City basketball game; by income from growing endowment funds, and by voluntary gifts and bequests from friends of both Shrinedom and crippled children.

Morocco Temple, Jacksonville, will hold open house Sunday from 4 to 6 p. m. The public is cordially invited.

Jailer Levi Carter said Stanley Keith, 17, and Lewis Hall, 22, tried three times to set fire to the jail.

They ignited paper twice and after the paper was removed from the cell, they ignited their mattress. Each time the flames were put out without serious damage.

Communists Express Confidence

(Editor's Note: William L. Ryan spent six weeks in southeast Asia, traveling to Indochina and the nearby countries endangered by the Communist sweep southward. He then went to Geneva to check his findings at the Geneva conference. This is the first of four articles this week on the prospects in "The Battle for Asia.")

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

GENEVA.—There is not the slightest indication at the Geneva conference that the Communists will accept anything but surrender of the West in Asia.

Apparently, they are sure communism is on a victorious march with the decisive battle for Viet Nam, all but certain. The Russians are calling the tune here, even preparing the speeches of the Communist Vietnamese representatives in the Russian language.

After a month of talk, there seems no prospect of anything but obstruction and deadlock. The Russians exude confidence that they hold the trump cards.

Communism is relying heavily on Asia to turn Asian nationalism and Asian fears into potent weapons against the West in a long-term struggle for domination of a continent.

The United States has been losing battles in this propaganda war, though it has not yet, by any means, lost the war. Asian distrust of the West, after a century of colonial domination, is being twisted and turned against the United States in a political-psychological offensive designed to win cheap victories.

The Communists are not concerned with masses now. This war is for the intellectual, the educated layer of Asians from whose ranks come the raw materials for government and leadership.

In those ranks, America has been losing friends. They are not going over to the Communist side, but in frustration are retiring into a neutral shell. And that serves the Communist cause.

For one who has just returned from Asia there is an atmosphere almost of fantasy here in Geneva. Talk of "united action" in Asia seems removed from reality.

At the moment, prospects seem dim for any southern Asia defense system under United States inspiration or protection. That may yet change as the Communist breath gets hotter on southeast Asian necks. If so, the United States hopes to have the framework of an alliance which those nations can join if they choose.

But in an extensive tour of that vast, underdeveloped, poverty-ridden area I found that, with few exceptions, Asian leaders cling to the view that any involvement in a bloc—however defensive it may be—will make Asia the cockpit for World War III.

With the understanding they would not be quoted by name, Asian leaders spoke frankly of their fears and frustrations in trying to build new nations in an area whose unplumbed riches and geographical position make it a tempting target for Red expansion.

Those who want to be friends of the United States are falling silent now. "An elderly pro-American statesman told me sadly: 'It is becoming just as politically unwise in this part of the world to take the side of the United States as it is for you in the states to take the part of Red China.'"

Asian leaders are alive to the internal Communist threat and have been fighting it consistently. They fear Communism. But first of all they fear a new general-war. Because of this, however militantly they hate the United States, they do not believe Americans have any aggressive designs on them. But they have a dread that actions of the United States in

Cardinals Defeat Longwood, 12-11; Sixth CFL Win

Late Inning Rally Helps Cards Win In 14 Innings

By TOMMY KUHN
Bill Crabtree singled with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 14th inning last night to bust up the deadlock between the Sanford Cardinals and the Longwood Blue Caps. The final score was 12-11. The Cardinals now have a firm grip on third place with a 6-4 record and are not far away from second place. Sanford, the loss placed Longwood below the .500 mark. They now have a 5-6 record.

The Cardinals came from six runs behind to tie the game at 11-11 in the bottom of the ninth. From then to the bottom of the 14th it was a tight pitchers' duel. Longwood did not score in the middle innings and were themselves out trying to win.

The Blue Caps were not able to get started until the top of the 13th. From then on, they were in a death struggle with the Cardinals.

In the top of the 13th Longwood scored the first run of the game with a single, an error and a walk. They increased their lead to 5-0 in the top of the fourth.

Bill Crabtree, Buddy Lake off two hits and two errors. The Cardinals scored their first runs in the bottom of the fourth on a single and a triple by Fulton Haxley.

Longwood slipped into the Cardinals for three more runs in the top of the fifth and there were leading 8-2. The runs came off a walk, single, and a triple.

Hugh Carlton finally broke his hitting slump with his first home run of the year over the left field wall. The big blow came when there was nobody on base. The hit was a tremendous clout that cleared the wall by about 10 feet.

Longwood struck for more blood and increased their score to eleven runs. They scored three runs in the inning. Sanford outlied them in the bottom of the eighth. The score was now 11-5.

Longwood was retired in the top of the ninth inning without scoring a run.

Sanford got stronger with every pitch and they scored six runs off a hit, one error, and one walk in the bottom of the 11th. Gene Pennington started the inning off by walking. Bill Crabtree then tripled and drove Pennington in to score. Two more singles followed and then Bill Hardin popped out to the catcher for the first out. Then a single and a double came and Sanford was only two runs away from tying the game.

With men on second and third, John Keeling singled into right field and the game was tied up.

For the next four innings neither team was able to score and the game still remained tied at 11-11 at the end of the 15th inning. Longwood was not able to score in the top of the 16th.

In the bottom of the 16th Sanford won their ball game with a bases loaded single. The first Cardinal batter grounded out, then the next one walked. A single and an out followed. Then hit a sharp single into left field, the run came home to score and the game was over. The final score 12-11.

CARLTON CAPERS: Carlton got another extra base hit. He won his second CFL contest. Carlton got his first home run of the season. Haxley hit his first triple of the year. The game lasted over three hours.

Sanford won its first Central Florida League baseball game last night when it defeated the Longwood Blue Caps 12-11. It was the Navy's third loss of the year. They now have a 6-4 record and are in second place in the CFL. Longwood now has a 5-6 record.

The game had to go into extra innings, but in the bottom of the 11th Longwood combined two singles and a double to score the winning run of the game.

The Navy nine started out as though they were going to win their ninth game of the season, but at the end of seven innings the score was tied at 3-3. Clermont struck for two big runs in the bottom of the eighth and led by 5-3. The Sanford Navy rallied and scored four runs in the top of the ninth, but Clermont struck back in the bottom of the ninth to tie the game up at 7-7. Then in the bottom of the 11th Clermont scored a run and won 8-7.

Six players who were with the Cleveland Indians when they won the 1904 American League pennant and World Series are still with the club.

OHLAND—Dorothy R. Ray of Sanford believes that fishing doesn't belong in the class labeled "for men only." To prove her point, she snagged an 8 lb 10 oz black bass in nearby Lake Jessup to be the first woman to enter a fish in the third annual $5,000 Central Florida Bass Fishing Contest, sponsored by the Orlando Chamber of Commerce.

OHLAND—Pete Armstrong, the 15-year-old Ocala fisherman, who made headlines when he entered over 200 black bass in the Orlando CoFC fishing contest last year, is out after them again. According to Guy Neff, official weighmaster at Lakeview Lodge at Winter Garden, Pete's first entry this year was a 5 lb 4 oz bass pulled out of Deep Lake with a fly rod.

OHLAND—To date, the largest bass entered in the third annual $5,000 Central Florida Bass Fishing Contest has been caught by an out-of-stater, John M. Folker of Cleveland, Ohio. Folker's 9 lb 10 oz catch came out of Lake Apopka and was officially weighed in at Tom's Fishing Camp at Montverde.

OHLAND—Fisherman's Lure, operated by George Davis on Highway 32 in Auburndale, has become an official weighing station for the Central Florida Bass Fishing Contest. This makes the right-of-way station to be set up in Central Florida. For further information regarding the contest, fishermen should contact H. Stuart Johnson, manager Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 1913, Orlando, Florida.

Players Like Looks Of Record Books Sometimes

NEW YORK.—It is a proud feeling a baseball player gets when he sees his name in the record book—sometimes.

Later he may look back, turn the pages and point a forefinger at some figures of his past feats—but his grin may waver when he hurriedly flips over those pages with wary a remark.

The reason is there are some records a player would rather not remember.

The famous "Big Train," Walter Johnson, set many a record pitcher may never surpass. He led the American League four years in both win-loss percentage and earned run average (1912 '13 '14 and '15). He led the American League in strikeouts 12 years, pitched the most shutouts (42), pitched the most consecutive shutouts (26) and he holds many other records.

But the speedballer also threw the most wild pitches in one season, 21 in 1910, and the most in one inning, 4 in 1914.

Joe McGinnity was quite a pitcher too. Three different times in 1907, he pitched—and won—two complete games in one day. Twice in 1901 he pitched two complete games on the same day although he did not win both.

But he probably did not like to mention the fact he also held the record for most hits off a pitcher for one season, and for both leagues at that. He was tagged for 401 hits in the American League in 1901 and then, just to show he played no favorites, gave up 392 in the National League in 1903.

At times, old Iron Man was generous with runs too. He gave up 211 in 1901, also a record. And how about John Wadsworth of Louisville in the National League, who presented Philadelphia with 36 hits in one game in 1901?

McGinnity liked to pitch often, hence his nickname. It is doubtful however, batters particularly liked to bat against him, even if they were hitting with base hits. For when they weren't being hit, he was bolting them. He hit 41 batsmen in 1900, a record of course.

Sport Selections

LEGION BASEBALL: With summer here and school out, it's that time again when the American Legion sponsors baseball for youngsters throughout the United States.

Sanford Legion post, Campbell Lossing 53, has already had some boys trying out for the team.

This year the local post selected Red Hires to be the coach of the team. Red replaced Al McMillan at the job. McMillan is now head of the District tourney. He will decide where the district tourney will be.

Red has been doing a wonderful job with the young lads and he is doing his best to turn them into baseball players. Already the team has played one exhibition game. They took on the mighty Titusville Terriers the other night in Titusville. The game went to the local Terrier team by a score of 4-3. During that game, Sanford committed errors which caused them to lose. The Sanford team came within only two outs of defeating Titusville. They had them 3-2 in the bottom of the last inning and with one out the Terriers rallied and won the game.

So far three boys have been the standout players, and they are Robert Samuel, Ralph Farina, and Jimmy Hawkins. Don't get me wrong now, every boy has been improving greatly as every practice session. As a matter of fact this team will probably advance just as far, if not farther, than last year's team did. (Last year's team went to the state tournament.)

SPORTS FROM THE AP.—Tiny Bob Toksi was making his first golf tour in 1930 and had shot a 65 to take a temporary lead in the third round of the Rio Grande Valley tour at Hartington, Tex. He had already had some boys trying out for the team.

"Will you tell me about your round?" the writer asked. "Gee, I ain't used to this!" he exclaimed as he hastened to give the first interview on his prowess as a golfer.

Bob hadn't changed a bit five years later although he had come here to play in the Colonial National Invitation at the hottest golfer on the tour with three first places and the most money won.

Toksi, now weighing 127 pounds and one of the smallest men in golf, told how he developed into a top golfer through hard work, what his marriage meant to him and how one little change in his swing had meant a vast difference at the pay window.

"I had no responsibility before I married this girl," Bob said, looking fondly at his pretty wife across the dining table at Colonial Country Club. "I certainly have it now and she has been the incentive and the inspiration."

A bride put on the tenth green at the Miami Open started the romance. The future Mrs. Toksi was in the gallery and was attracted by the enthusiasm of Bantam Bob as he sank that putt. She told a girlfriend that Toksi had more color than any of the other golfers. Shortly afterward they met formally and a year to a day later—on Dec. 11, 1931—they were married.

Bob has been playing golf 22 of his 27 years. When he was only seven he caused a sensation at the Northampton, Mass. Country Club by shooting a 50 for 9 holes. His brother, Ben, an assistant professional at the club, and another brother, Jack, also a golf pro, helped Toksi develop the game that made him into a money winner.

Toksi has been a professional since he was 17. His first tournament victory was the Insurance City Open at Hartford, Conn. in 1931. This year he has landed first money at Baton Rouge, La.; Wilmington, N. C. and the Eastern Open at Baltimore. But he's usually in the money in any tournament.

He changed his swing when he realized he was sweeping the club head away from the ball and getting it out of position at the top of the swing. He just changed to a flatter swing. But he says that isn't the most important reason for his progress. A real driver was responsible for one lapse although Toksi says "I was my fault; I should have made him go straight to the course instead of allowing him to pick up another fair out of the way," and Bob didn't let the pairings get properly the other time. Sam Sneed told Toksi to "keep your head down and your feet together."

Bob that's all over, he vows; Bob doesn't intend to be late again. Toksi is confident almost to the extent of cockiness.

"I believe I have a wonderful chance to win the Open," says one of the game's new young stars.

OLYMPIA: Olympia, Greece.—For the lack of a few million drachmas—a paltry sum when translated into dollars or pounds—a modern sportsman has a partial idea of what went on here, 1000 years ago in this birthplace of the Olympic Games. A drama, like "The Fall of Troy," a collection of silt from the River Alpheus covers most of the world's first known sports field.

The Directorate of Excavations at the Greek Ministry of Education is doing a fine job of clearing the site. The blocks at Olympia doubtless are the fastest ever devised. They are made of Archæologists believe the stadium held between 10,000 and 15,000 Greeks. In those days women were not allowed near the place, either as competitors or spectators.

Direct enhancements on the west, east and south held both sitting and standing spectators. The far side of one of the banks also served as a arena.

The stadium was about 214 yards long and only 35 yards wide. In the early days of Olympic Games the only activity was that involved in defense or war—such as running, jumping, spear throwing, boxing, wrestling and riding.

The running track was approximately 210 yards and in a long race a runner had to go back and forth several times.

A nearby gymnasium—strictly an open air place—was used for practice and training.

The Hippodrome, in which chariot races and equestrian events were run off, is now definitely defined. It is covered except by silt.

Cardinals Meet Pinecastle Team Tomorrow Night

Sanford Cardinals will meet the Pinecastle team tomorrow night at Memorial Stadium at 8:00 p. m. The contest will be a make-up game. The Cards were supposed to play the Arden team Wednesday night, but were not able to because of rain.

This game will be a Central Florida League event. So far this season Pinecastle has compiled a 10-10 record, while Sanford has a 6-4 record. Pinecastle is now in first place and has only played the Cardinals once in a league game.

Sanford has come the closest to defeating the Arden of any of the other teams that have played them so far. Sanford was defeated by a 4-1 score and had team tied at 1-1 during the game.

Buddy Lake has not yet said who would pitch, but it is possibly going to be Jimmy "Boss" Knicker. Former star Seminole High School player.

Joan Foster, Bride

By Alice Ross Colver

CHAPTER NINETEEN

JOAN gave a short laugh, tore mother Hunter's note into little pieces and let it fall slowly into the red scrap basket. Then she walked through to the living room and dropped down on the rocker there.

"I can't take it any more," she thought. "I can't be tied to her the way she wants me to be. I can't report to her every time I go out and where and what for and when I'll be back. I can't do it! Why—I'll get to hate her if I keep on. I really will. And she is so good. . . she means to be kind, I know."

A sorrowful voice behind her interrupted her thoughts.

"Well, Joan, dear, you really did let me down, didn't you?"

Joan sprang up and whirled about. Mrs. Hunter stood there in her morning dress of gingham and her worn comfortable bedroom slippers.

Shocked, Joan exclaimed, "Oh, didn't you go?"

Mrs. Hunter shook her head. "How could I? You weren't here."

"But I thought—I mean, didn't you telephone someone? Mrs. Dunlop or someone? When you found I wasn't—"

Mrs. Hunter had advanced into the room and was now in the rocker Joan had offered her.

"By the time I realized you weren't going to get here, it was too late. Everyone had gone."

"Oh, I'm terribly sorry! Truly I am. I completely forgot today was the day for that luncheon."

"I don't see how you could. We spoke of it just yesterday. There was patience and martyrdom rather than resentment in Mrs. Hunter's voice."

Mrs. Hunter had advanced into the room and was now in the rocker Joan had offered her.

"By the time I realized you weren't going to get here, it was too late. Everyone had gone."

"Oh, I'm terribly sorry! Truly I am. I completely forgot today was the day for that luncheon."

"I don't see how you could. We spoke of it just yesterday. There was patience and martyrdom rather than resentment in Mrs. Hunter's voice."

"I see. Well, you really should have come back for me, Joan. I probably could have helped you. I know a great deal about antiques, having lived with them all my life."

Joan was silent. There was not a thing she could say in reply. All the words that clamored for utterance in her mind never be spoken. At her silence, Mrs. Hunter said slowly, "Unless you don't want me to go with you. Unless you don't want my help."

Still Joan was silent, the denial that Mrs. Hunter sat there longing to hear, choking in her throat. At this moment the door from the long corridor into Joan's hall opened again and Todd's father came through. At the sight of his tall, spare figure, topped by his long, sandy hair, Joan felt a rush of wild relief and she sprang quickly to her feet.

"Oh, Daddy! Oh, I'm so glad to see you! It's been a long time."

"Yes, quite a long time," he advanced into the room and helped himself to one of the two straight chairs. "Almost two weeks. But you know we agreed to let you do your own thing. We agreed we would wait until we were invited"—again that slight accent on the word—"before we appeared here. However, when I heard Mama come down this way I thought to myself, 'Well, Joan, dear, you really did let me down, didn't you?'"

"But you see," she went on, "at breakfast Todd told me to go out and shop around for some antiques we're going to get and I guess I was just so excited about that, that everything else went out of my head. Thank you ever so much for clearing up my breakfast things," she added, as she said.

Mrs. Hunter waved away this gratitude. "Antiques, did you say? For this room, I suppose. But my dear, why didn't you ask me to go with you? I would have minded missing the luncheon for something like that. I love riding. Besides, I'm very much interested in antiques, as I'm sure you must know."

"It was just a spur of the moment idea, Mother Hunter. Todd asked me to drive him to the station because he was a little late and—well—I just thought I'd go on from there."

"Or would it heal, and, in the healing, would Mrs. Hunter take care not to expose herself to another such thrust? Joan could not guess. And how much did the doctor actually know of his wife's unwanted visits here? Was it an accident that he had discovered her today?"

All this revolved ceaselessly and tumultuously in Joan's mind. Only one thing was clear to her. Ahead lay a crisis. Tomorrow, when she met Todd's mother again, she would either follow through with a determined stand for independence, indicated clearly enough by her rebellion today, or she would give up.

"The worst of living," she told herself, as she was getting Todd's dinner ready that night, "is that you have to live with yourself. You make yourself into something you don't like and then you have to live with yourself. Now, me—I'm weak in the point of stupidity. And I know it. And I hate myself for it. But how can I be tough and at the same time not cruel?"

Todd, of course, was to know none of this. It was still her problem. But to her surprise, he guessed it.

She was telling him of her discoveries in the antique shops that day when he suddenly interrupted her.

"What's the matter?" he asked. "Nothing. Why?"

"You're not as enthusiastic about all this as you ought to be."

"Oh, Todd, I am!"

"No, you're not. Are you tired?"

To her dismay, from his big eyes, blinking them back, she nodded. "A little—maybe."

They had finished dinner. Now he pushed his chair away from the table and rose to his feet, stretching his long arms and his head.

"Come here."

He drew her with him to the big rocking chair. The next moment she was on his lap, his arms were tight about her, her head was down on his shoulder and he was saying, in a voice that held a mixture of gentle coaxing and loving firmness, "now tell me all about it."

"Todd, it's nothing. Really, it isn't."

"Yes, it is something. Too. Don't think you can fool me."

"I mean it's—it's nothing I can't work out."

"You've been trying for two weeks or more to work it out. Ever since we got back here. Is it Mother?"

She gasped and sat up, wide-eyed in her astonishment. "How do you know?"

"Well, after all, honey, I've lived with her for over twenty-five years."

Compliments Solon On Appointment

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, of Texas, has expressed "great personal satisfaction" over the appointment of Senator George Smathers, of Florida, to the Senate Finance Committee.

"This appointment places upon the Committee a splendid young statesman whose thinking is cut from the same pattern that produced the respected and venerated Senator George, of Georgia," Senator Johnson said. "I believe that that was one of the thoughts which dominated Senator Smathers' colleagues in nominating him to this committee."

The appointment was made by the Senate Democratic Steering Committee which is headed by Senator Johnson, and included Senator Holland, of Florida.

"In making this appointment, we had in mind Senator Smathers' outstanding knowledge of the fields of social security, veterans, international tax problems, small business, and the transportation field," Senator Johnson said. "These are all areas in which the Senate Finance Committee has a special interest and Senator Smathers has already demonstrated his ability to make an outstanding contribution to the Committee's deliberations."

Television Spreading

NEW YORK, (AP)—Television is beginning to spread around the globe, with 74 stations and five million sets in operation in 24 countries outside the United States.

An Associated Press survey shows a slow but steady growth of TV in other parts of the world, with the economic factor being the chief drawback—particularly the lower purchasing power of the average household.

But despite steady expansion, the picture still is dominated by development in the United States with 379 stations and approximately 30 million sets.

Great Britain, which started television on a regular basis in 1936, three years before this country, remains a strong second with seven stations reaching 95 per cent of the country, and nearly 3 1/2 million sets in use.

Canada, a late comer that did not get into TV until mid-1952, is moving up fast and now has nine stations and approximately 750,000 sets. It is scheduled to have 23 stations by late autumn and with set sales going at a good clip, soon may challenge Britain for second place.

From the standpoint of numbers alone, the United States has 85 per cent of the world's 450 stations and 86 per cent of its 35 million sets.

Latin America has 24 stations in six countries, with more on the way. Ten are in Cuba, and Havana, with five, tops any city in the world outside the United States. In this country only Los Angeles and New York, with seven each, have more. Cuba has close to 150,000 sets in use.

In Europe, TV is virtually all government operated. Great Britain may change that pattern next year to permit privately owned stations in competition with the government-sponsored British Broadcasting Corp.

Of Canada's nine stations, five are operated by the government-sponsored Canadian Broadcasting Corp. and four are privately owned.

Latin America leans to private ownership.

TV still is "too new in Asia for a pattern to take shape but of Japan's two stations at Tokyo, one is privately owned and one government operated; the lone station in the Philippines is privately operated and one in Thailand is government sponsored.

The Russians have stations in five cities and about 250,000 sets in use, according to latest word through Soviet Censorship, and hope to have a million more sets within a year. The Moscow station operates six hours a day, six days a week. With all entertainment under government control, Russian TV on occasion is permitted to pick up top plays, ballets and first run movies.

Other from Curtin countries that have TV, largely on an experimental basis, include Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany with a single station each.

West Germany is developing at a fast pace with nine stations in operation and 27 in the works, and 200,000 sets scheduled for production this year.

Big Land Reforms Proposed In India

MADRAS, India, (AP)—The Madras state government proposes big land reforms at the next session of the legislature.

A government spokesman said this week the program will limit ownership of cultivable land to 100 acres and, in the case of smaller farms not worked personally by the owners, transfer titles to the tenants. The state will pay for the land.

Carpenter Buried Under Concrete

DENVER, (AP)—Arthur Pittman, 44-year-old carpenter, was recovering yesterday after being buried under a cubic yard of concrete.

Pittman was working at the basement level yesterday when a bucket of cement being lifted in a new 23-story building tilted at the 14th floor and cascaded upon him. Co-workers dug him out. Hospital attendants said his injuries were not serious.

LAW CHANGE SOUGHT

BRUSSELS, Belgium, (AP)—Belgian law provides that "the husband owes his wife protection and his wife owes the husband obedience."

A bill to knock out the obligation for wifely obedience has been presented in the house of representatives. The sponsors are six Socialists—three men and three women.

Competition Is To Tighten In Auto Sales

DETROIT, (AP)—Competition tougher than any the auto industry ever has known is yet to come.

That may come as disheartening news for some new car retailers. Many have been losing money in the present competitive market. But most of them have figured the present battle for customer preference as something that would vanish in a few months.

Top industry experts don't figure it that way. They see nothing immediately ahead to create shortages which would stimulate demand. They see General Motors and Ford determined to retain the increased volume of business they have captured this year. They see Chrysler making the biggest fight in its history to retain sales volume lost in the latter part of 1953 and early 1954.

More than that, they visualize a Chevrolet-Ford fight for first place in industry output and retail deliveries at a decision stage. Ford had a brief hold on that spot early this year, but it took everything Ford had to climb up there.

The smaller companies, individually and collectively, also can be counted on for renewed efforts to improve their position. Presently they account for only about four per cent of the total output and sales.

Obviously they need more than their present share of the market to operate on a parity basis.

Eight months ago it was quite generally predicted some of the smaller companies would be hurt in the competitive drive of 1954. The smaller companies have been hurt; they lost well over half of the volume of business they had early in 1954.

Chrysler also lost heavily in the fight. Its 1953 production volume was 20.3 per cent of the industry total. Right now it is around 12 per cent.

International Court Hearings Start

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, (AP)—Hearings started in the International Court of Justice today on a question of compensation for 21 Americans freed from forced labor in the United Nations secretariat.

The Americans lost their jobs after invoking the fifth amendment when questioned by a U.S. congressional committee. A U.S. tribunal awarded them damages totaling $197,000. Washington protested.

The eighth general assembly added the issue for an advisory opinion. The question: Has the assembly the right to back the award?

Alexander Grigoras, 49, was a teacher of the law before he invented the telephone.
