Escapee Wins Parole

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) - An inmate who escaped from North Carolina's Central Prison here 10 years ago and made a new life for himself in Florida until his past caught up with nim, will be paroled.

John F. Dorman, who still had four to eight years left to serve when he escaped from prison in February, 1964, will return to Florida where his family has remained. His parole supervision will be by Florida authorities, a parole poard spokesman said Friday.

The decision came after Gov. Jim Holshouser asked the North Carolina Paroles Board to investigate Dorman's case and consider the alternatives of a pardon of forgiveness, commutation of his sentence, or a parole.

Foxx Takes Break

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Comedian Redd Foxx has left the country for a rest after missing the taping of NBC's "Sanford and Son" this week because of illness, his lawyer says.

Attorney Jim Tolbert said Friday that Foxx, 51, hopes to return next Tuesday to resume work on the comedy series. In the meantime he was written out of the last show and the next one planned for taping.

Mamie Eisenhower Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) - President and Mrs. Nixon honored former First Lady Mamie Eisenhower with a dinner at a Washington restaurant.

But Mrs. Eisenhower was snowbound at her Gettysburg, Pa., farm Friday and couldn't make it. The dinner for 14 was held in a private dining room at Trader Vic's and started around 7 p.m.

Congress To Face Energy

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate has decided to make another attempt at passing emergency energy legislation on Feb. 19, after it returns from a 10-day recess

The bill would roll back prices on some domestic crude oil and give President Nixon power to order gasoline rationing and other fuel saving measures. But before the bill can pass it must survive another attempt by Republicans and oil-state senators to return it to conference with the House to rework the controversial price rollback provision

Israel Wants Heights"

JERUSALEM (AP) - Israeli Premier Golda Meir says her country will not withdraw from Syrian territory on the Golan Heights held before the October war. Israeli setders in the area have expressed fear that some of the Heights would be returned to the Arabs as part of a troop disengagement pact with Syria. Mrs. Meir told the settiers on Friday that the Heights is an "inseparable part of Israel," said the Israeli state radio. Israel has expressed a willingness to return 300 square miles of Syrian territory captured when Israeli armored units drove beyond the Heights to within 22 miles of Dymascus last October.

Guerrilla Operations

ADEN, South Yemen (AP) - Nine pro-Palestinian guerrillas who launched terrorist operations in Singapore and Kuwait were in seclusion here today after flying from Kuwait aboard a Japanese DC8 jetliner. The aircraft crew spent the night in an airport guest house and were to leave for Tokyo later today. When the plane landed Friday, the gumnen were taken to an unknown destination. Five of the guerrillas had seized the Japanese Embassy in Kuwait on Wedneday and threatened to kill hostages if the other four guerrillas were not flown to Kuwait trora Singapore, where they had hijacked a ferry boat.

French-Iranian Trade Pact

PARIS (AP)- France and Iran signed a major trade and cooperation agreement today under which France will build a $1.2-billion group of nuclear power stations in Iran is one of France's major suppliers of petroleum

French oil imports from Iran were running at some $200 million annually before the recent price increases and may now level off at almost $1 billion per year. French sources said the various projects in the new agreement had a value of $4.5 billion to $5 billion. The largest single project will be the nuclear power stations.

Terrorists In Yemen

ADEN, South Yemen (AP) - Nine pro-Palestinian guerrillas who carried out terrorist operations in Singapore and Kuwait were in seclusion here today after lying from Kuwait aboard a Japanese DC8 jetliner. They were met Friday at the airport in Aden by officials of South Yemen's Marxist government. The nine gunmen were taken to an unknown destination.

The two officials of the Japanese Foreign Ministry and the 14 crew members from Japan Air Lines left Aden for Tokyo aboard the DC8 today.

Crisis Lurks Around Corner

The Crowd Is Growing Every Second

Copley News Service

WASHINGTON- Have you noticed how crowded it has become lately?

If you are a resident of some place like Coolidge, Ga. (pop. 177), the fact that the worlds lation has doubled in the last 50 years may not be as apparent to you as to someone who hangs his hat in a place like Calcutta, India. (pop. 7,055,362)

The enormous growth of the world's population during the last 50 years and the prospects for continued high growth in the future constitute one of the most formidable challenges confronting mankind.

As crises go, the "energy crisis" is still very much on center stage and probably has another year to go as the main headline-grabber. But experts say a "people crisis" is just around the corner. World population grew to 1.8 billion in 1920 and doubled to 3.6 billion in the 50 years up to 1970. At 1970 growth rates, world population would almost double again to 6.6 billion in 30 years, by the year 2000.

How many human beings can our planet

This depends, say the experts, on our ability to harness natural resources of land, sea, and in the solar system. But there is very definitely a limit to the number of persons the earth can support—and we are racing toward that limit.

The population problem is getting attention on several fronts but it has not yet won "crises" priority. The United Nations General Assembly has designated 1974 as World Population Year. Activities will be highlighted by the Third World Population Conference in Bucharest, Romania. The word from Bucharest is that there has been such a population "explosive" among academic and governmental population experts in the last decade that the city's hotel rooms are "The aim of World Population Year is to arouse awareness of the global problems of population growth and build interest in finding answers to them," said United Nations Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim. He asked governments to prepare "the broadest and most comprehensive possible plans" for participation in the year's activities.

Many associations and institutions around the country are holding conferences to study the problem and to plan action programs. One reason that Americans are so unaware of worldpopulation pressures is that the evidence is more readily seen in other lands. The poor form the majority of the world's population and they are concentrated in the developing countries. In 1970, the developing areas of the world had a population of over 2.5 billion compared to 1.1 billion in the industrialized areas. With present population growth rates, the

"So severe is the situation for some suburbanites," said Dr. Leah Pendarvis, a staff psychologist at the Family Counseling Clinic in this Chicago sularb, "that it could result in increased divorces."

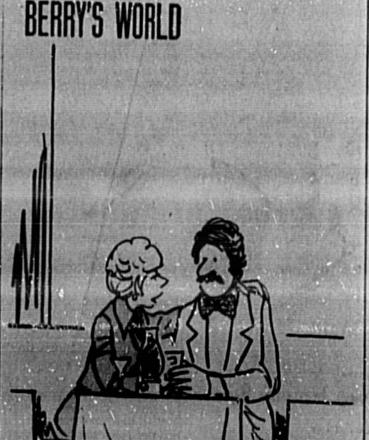

"I could foresee as a result the required hospitalization of many people now being served by our facility on an outpatient basis," said George Holmes, clinic director. Dr. Pendarvis says this particularly violent reaction to the fuel

Food For Peace Or Food For War?

War program in Southeast Asia. This sinister change has been manipulated quietly by the National Security Council. Of the $1 billion worth of food that is shipped abroad for the needy, the NSC has insisted almost half should go to bolster the military strength of Cambodia and South Vietnam, according to classified documents.

WASHINGTON- The Food for Peace program, established to feed the hungry of the world, has been perverted into a Food for Elsewhwere, the food is sold through regular commercial channels to alleviate shortages and prevent hunger. The United States foots the bill, treating it as a low-interest loan to be repaid

But in Cambodia, President Nixon gave the Lon No. 1 regime special permission to use up to 80 per cent of the proceeds from the sale of American food for "common defense" and "internal security." In South Vietnam, the Thieu regime is permitted to spend a full 100 per cent of the food proceeds on military

Classified documents show that the President started off this fiscal year with a reasonable request for $30 million to finance Food for Peace shipments to Cambodia. But bit by bit, the White House requests ballooned to $173 million and are likely to go

Even more food aid has been earmarked for South Vietnam, although the jump in the request has been less drastic.

While most food aid to the two embattled countries has been in rice, the documents show that 175,000 metric tons of wheat will be supplied by next July. Yet the wheat shortage at home has pushed up the price of bread to 50 cents a loaf and has forced the United States to import wheat at exhorbitant prices.

For years, the Fool for Peace program, along with the Peace Corps, has won friends for the United States among the world's poor. We have seen burlap bags of grain and boxes of cereal, with big "USA" markings, going into impverished villages.

But in the beseiged Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, one of our informants witnessed a different scene, not far from a camp where hundreds of refugees complained of food shortages. He counted 50 trucks filled with bags of U.S. rice lined up outside a military warehouse. Instead of feeding the starving refugees, it was going for Army rations.

ASTHMA BONANZA: A Senate subcommittee has found that a national fund drive for asthmathic children has raised almost $10 million, but spent only a miserly 14 per cent to help sick

The rest has gone for fat salaries and expenses for fundraisers, plus a promotion campaign to sell a book by a director of the Asthmatic Children's Foundation. In hearings beginning this week, Sen. Walter Mondale's

Children and Youth subcommittee plans to probe children's charity drives which use the sympathy of contributors for children to line fundraisers' p-ckets.

Mondale's investigators have already discovered that the Asthmatic Children's Foundation, whore main office is located in Mismi Beach, raised $9.9 million over the last decade, purportedly to aid youngsters who are wheezing and sometimes dying from breath-robbing asthma.

TOUCHING PLEAS The foundation's solicitations tell of the "many children in our residential treatment centers" and include touching pleas for funds to help those "who will not be at home this year."

Actually, the Mondale probers found only about 50 or so youngsters are under full-time care in the foundation's treatment centers. The same solicitation urges contributors to buy a three-dollar book by a foundation director, Dr. Harold Abramson.

What the solicitation does not say is that & per cent of the noney contributed for asthmatic kids has been used for "fundraising activities," mostly salaries and expenses. Over $7 million has gone to a Chicago fundraiser named V. H. Giesler & Co., a Mondale staff report shows. Giesler, when queried by Mondale's sleuths, explained that it takes money to

OTHER PROBES PLANNED The hearings this week will also include advice from well-run foundations on how costs can be kept to a minimum so that the children can get most of the contributions.

Mondale is also seeking ways to let the public know which charities are doing the best jobs. In coming months, Mondale, a former crusading attorney general in Minnestoa who exposed corrupt charities there, plans to probe more children's foundations.

Already, he has found evidence that donations to other harities have been used to buy luxury items for fundraisers, pay $50,000-a-year salaries, provide hidden compensation through insurance deals and pay for visits by fundraisers to sumptuous

The Arab nutions, and presumably Israel as well, are better armed and better equipped than they were before the October war, despite the fantastic expenditure of military wherewithal in that conflict. Miss Hearst, a 13-year-old coest, is the daughter of publishing magnate Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of the San Francisco Examiner. The group says it will kill the heiress if any attempt is made to rescue ier. Here is a story about her family's fabled mansion).

By MARGUERITE SULLIVAN

SAN SIMEON, Calif.—Imagine being a guest at his house.
If you had a toothache, there was a dentist in residence. You hair needed doing, downstairs was a hairdresser. You wanted to write a letter, on your desk was monogrammed paper.

Worried about meals? A precise menu for breakfast, lunch and dinner was delivered to your room each morning, along with a guest list in case you wondered who else was being entertained.

Bored? You could play tennis on one of two private courts.

There was the choice of swimming in either the hidoor of outdoor pool (always heated to 30 degrees) or watching a movie, exclusive private showing in your host's theater.

Or you could go horseback riding on your host's enormous ranch, tour his zoo (the largest private collection in the world,) sail from his harbor, or fly from his airstrip.

You wanted more excitement? There was just observing the "best-of-kind" private collections of topestry, pure silver, stone and wood carvings in the world. And certainly there was the "best-of-kind" in guests—Hollywood's stars, famous writers.

Of course, you would be visiting one of the world's most famous homes—"Enchanted Hill"—better known as the "castle" of William Randolph Hearst. His mansion is situated in California's Santa Lucia Mountains on Highway 1 at San Simeon, miles south of Monterey and 42 miles north of San Luis Obispo.

Today, your host will not be there. Hearst, the newspaper magnate, who started with one paper at age 22 and built his empire into 28 newspapers and 13 agazines, died at 88 in 1951.

But you can still be a guest at "Hearst's Castle" on one of

The fabulous mansion was presented by the Hearst Corp. to the state of California in 1958. With the exception of one guest house, still reserved for family use, it is open for visitors today. Hearst's home is a showcase of art and antiquities from around the world. In construction alone, the castle cost the sher at least $50 million.

It was built stone by stone and statue by statue. Whole rooms says. were designed to display a particular work of art—an antique "Seeing this place is like having 99 meals of pure pudding," ceiling, a fireplace, a tapestry, a door or window, or a Roman one answers.

of art history. Each room is a veritable museum in itself, with pieces from Greece and Rome through the late Renaissance eras and with Oriental, Persian and some Egyptian art thrown in.

Hearst had an unequaled appetite for art. He was only 10 years old when he started buying artifacts. He ended up collecting in 504 categories of art, covering 3,500 years and was considered the leading art dealer around the globe. By the 1930s, he was purchasing about one-fourth of the world's salable art.

What Hearst couldn't bring to his castle, he had made. He attracted the country's top artisans. If a panel was missing from an ancient door, what was better than to hand carve another. Hearst carried this work to its perfection, even applying gold leaf

The publisher had a penchant for getting his own way. He wanted lovely trees and delicate foliage on his estate. So, the most natural thing was to truck in special soil to meet the individual requirements of every plant, tree and vine.

In roses, alone, there were 2,500 different bushes of 85 varieties. When the houses were constructed, rather than chop down an oak, trees were moved. The 123-acre garden was tended by 25 gardeners, who picked

In addition, there are three guest "cottages," each a mansion in its own right.

Hearst's father, George, a Missouri mining engineer, who was a U.S. senator from California for two terms, started to archase the land tordering San Simeon Bay in 1865. Buying old panish land grant at 60 cents an acre, he ultimately built his ranch into 275,000 acres along a coastline of more than 50 miles. "Willie" spent his vacations at "Camp Hill" as it was known

After his mother's death in 1919, Hearst, then 56, started nstruction of his castle as a memorial to Phoebe Apperson

Presumably it will take more than that one move to make reopening of the canal possible, particularly since largel is occupying a major enclave of Egyptian territory on the western bank of the canal too. That bridgehead could be cut off if the Egyptians gained control of the canal behind it.

But an Israeli puilback would bring a reopened canal very near and with it a mountain of accompanying problems.

and with it a mountain of accompanying problems.

The Stez Canal, first opened Nov. 17, 1869, extends from Port Said on the Mediterranean, Krough Lake Timsah and Great Bitter Lake to the shattered, ghostly and partly abandoned city of Suez on the Gulf of Suez at the northern tip of the Red Sea.

For more than a century it was a teeming water highway shortening the lanes of commerce by making direct passage possible between the Red and Mediterranean scas without the ong journey around the southern tip of Africa.

Then, in the third, 1967 outbreak of fighting between Arabs and Jews since the end of World War II, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Ne ser blocked the canal by sinking an undisclosed number of ships in the channel, as his armies were collapsing under a massive, six-day israeli onslaught.

Fifteen foreign ships were likewise caught and stranded in midpassage through the canal when the fighting broke out. They are still there, one in Lake Timsah and 14 in Great Bitter Lake.

In an ensuing, sporadic war of attrition between the two sides that followed in 1970 and 1971, artillery barrages rained down on the canal, filling it with oncre wrockage.

Fierce desert winds also lifted tons of red-tinged silt from the adjoining Sinai desert and scattered it daily over the canal.

And then finally after the most savage fighting yet broke cut in October, 1973, Israeli armies lunged across the canal to seize a major beachbead on the west bank — and built an earthen causeway across the canal in the process to insure their line of

New Jersey Rationing Gas By License Tags

New Jersey has joined states introducing a system for dis tribution of gasoline. The plan, involving license plate numbers, will take effect Monday and will be mandatory. Gov. Brendan T. All the states will be using the same plan, begun in Oregon, in which drivers with even-numbered license plates can purchase gasoline on evennumbered days of the month and vice versa.

The only other mandatory plan covers portions of Hawaii. Voluntary odd-even plans are to go into effect Monday in New York, Massachusetts, the State of Washington and Washington, D.C. Implementation in Maryland has been delayed at least until

Gov. Mills Godwin of Virginia announced Friday he has directed the state secretary to develop an Oregon-style plan for possible future use on a voluntary basis. Odd-even plans also have been instituted in parts of West Virginia, Florida and North Carolina.

Kusos To The Workers

All the people who made the Mayfair Open one of the best ever - and according to some pros who have been making annual migrations to the Sanford course longer than they would care to admit - deserve, once again, written plandits for their fine work at the open. Things ran smoothly, courteously and professionally. No more words of praise are needed. Everyone's looking forward to next year. As one pro said, "why not next month?"

District Cage Tourneys Set

Local baseketball fans will have all the cage action they can ever want soon as the local district competition in both Four-A and Triple-A classes will be held inside the county, Seminole High will host the bigger school battle for regional honors, including cross-county rival Lyman High School, which has already upset the Tribe this season, and Joe Mills' crew is vowing revenge Lake Brantley which has the newest and perhaps one of the best cage playing surfaces in Central Florida will host the Triple-A ourney, including Oviedo, which just look a first place slice out of

"We have some close games," said New York Roach Red Holtzman, but Friday night wasn't one of them as the Celtics trounced the Knicks

These old playoff rivals were rarely more mismatched than Friday night, as Jo Jo White had 30 points and Don Nelson 18 points and 10 "Nelson was unreal," said Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn. "The last three games, we've been playing like we did at the start of the season. Everybody's running." Boston's victory improved the Celtics' firstplace margin over New York in the NBA Atlantic Division to seven games.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Buffalo Braves best the Chicago Bulls 106-101; the Philadelphia 76ers trimmed the Atlanta Hawks 104-84; the Milwaukee Bucks stopped the Capital Bullets 105-96; the Houston Rockets ripped the Cleveland Cavaliers 120-106; the Kansas City-Omaha Kings defeated the Portland Trail Blazers 104-99 and the Detroit Pistons beat the Phoenix Suns 99-94. White and Nelson powered Boston to a 30-point lead in the third period to make the Celtics-Knicks game a "laughter." The Celtics accomplished this with star center Dave Cowens on the bench in foul trouble. Nelson, normally a forward, took over the center spot. "Everyone who has been a pivot man doesn't forget how to play," said Nelson, referring to his college days at Iowa. "You get rusty but you

Yanks 'Skied Out'

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP) - The mood hit a low point in the American Alpine Ski Team after the women's slalom on Friday, and Cindy Nelson, 18, of Lutsen, Minnesota, said "All of us are ready to go home. We are skied out."

There are two more races to go in the week-long 1974 World Alpine Skiing Championships at this fashionable Swiss resort, but it will be tough for the Americans to win a medal in them. The races are the men's downhill Saturday and the men's slalom Sunday.

GALLERY ENCIRCLES GREEN ... At Brookline's final hole

The U.S. National Open Golf Championship has attracted 170 of the finest golfers in the world for this 1913 tournament. Naturally, the British golfers are the ones to watch, particularly Harry Vardon, the world-famous golfer who has won this tournament before and who has wor the British Open five times.

No American professional can compete with the likes of Var-don. Yet, as the qualifying rounds begin a 21 year old amateur from Boston named Francis Quimet does just that before falling behind at the end of the round.

At the end of the first day of the final round, Vardon is tied for the lead with a countryman, Edward Ray. The final day begins and it seems certain that one of the two Britishers will take the crown. But as the final hole is played, one of the most startling stories in golf history begins to emerge. Remember Francis Cuimet, the youngster from Boston? He finished the final round in a three way tie for the lead with Gray and Vardon.

Now a three way playoff is necessary to find a champion. Can the American amateur upset these two world class professionals, or is his presence in this playoff a fluke.

The three of them battle for thirteen holes, and amazingly Ouimet is not cracking under the pressure. In fact he begins to build a lead. Playing with great poise he finishes the round two under par at 72. Vardon has a 77 and Ray a 78.

It's a cold wet day here at the country club in Brookline, fassachuseets, where Francis Ouimet has just won the U.S. National Open from Harry Vardon and Edward Ray of England in a golf match that people all over the world are having a hard time will probably never forget their first deer hunting trip.

Jim, who lives in Longwood, and Bob, a Casselberry resident, had everything it takes to make a trip memorable good hunting, cold wet weather, and even trapped on an island for four days due to high water in the woods.

The two novices journeyed to Anniston, Ala, where they were met by four local hunters for their week in the big woods. Luckily, on the first day out, one of the men bagged a spike buck before the water got so high they could not return to town. With the provisions they had brought and fresh venison to eat, they fared extremely well, and after four days the water subsided enough to bring in fresh supplies. The six hunters downed nine deer including four does,

(Alabama having a three day open season on does) three spikes, a three point, a five point, and an eight point. Mullins accounted for a doe and a spike buck and Carter got the five pointer which is now being mounted at Dove's

(After all, Roy, we should show our guests a good time.) SALT WATER SCENE

Barry Schreiber at the "Fishin' Hole" Tackle Shop in Daytona told of a huge run of drum hitting at the Main Street Pier Wednesday. One man with the unlikely name of Jack Frost got five of them which doesn't sound like much, but the total weight was 146 pounds.

The Seabreeze Bridge is yielding trout and weakfish with an occasional snook and big pompano continue to bite for suri fishermen south of Daytona in the area from the Old Timers Saloon to the inlet. Merel Keller, manager of the Main Street Pier, confirmed the report on drum and added that everyone on the pier that day managed to land some of them. Sheepshead from two to six pounds have been common for the past two weeks along with whiting, blues, and a few channel bass.

Ocean fishing has been at a standstill, all the boats confined to port because of the high winds and rough seas. The "Snow White 2" ran last Saturday and has not been out since. That trip accounted for 150 snapper, three amberjacks, and black sea bass by the bushel. — LET'S GO but so far I've managed to stay pure. I recently met a fellow [24] who told me that I am the kind of girl he would like to marry, but before he gets serious with me I will have to have sex with him because sex is important to him, and he wants to be sure I can satisfy his sexual demands.

I like this fellow more than any I've ever dated, but I don't want to give in. On the other hand, I'm afraid if I don't, he'll drop me. What should I do? SAVING MYSELF DEAR SAVING: Tell him you have a few demands that have to be satisfied, too. One of them is your own selfrespect. And feeling as you do about saving yourself for marriage, if he doesn't want to accept it, he's not for you. I have an idea he may not drop you. But if he does, you could be lucky.

DEAR ABBY: I own an apartment building. One of my, tenants is a retired school teacher. He is a proper gentleman and if anyone says "hell" in front of him, he raises his eyebrows and says, "Please, I do not tolerate profanity."

Well, a young newlywed couple has the apartment next to this old gentleman, and they use a lot of four-letter words in their conversations. Naturally, it's a source of great annoyance to this gentleman, and he complains to me daily about it.

I have told the newlyweds not to talk so loud, and to cut out the four-letter words, but it hasn't done any good. The newlyweds claim this old man must have his ear to the wall because they talk in normal voices and do not shout. try to go back on responsibilities

So what should I do! DEAR LANDLORD: YOU be the judge. Ask the complainer if you may visit his apartment and learn for your-self whether the neighbors are out of line-or ir HE is.

Are you pouring money down the drain?

If you have all your savings dollars in a passbook account, even one of our highearning passbook accounts, you could have a money leak. You could be earning more if you invested a portion of your savings in our "big yield" savings certificates. Sure, we know everyone needs the instant availability of passbook savings, but you also need to work out a long-range savings program that earns maximum interest. Build your passbook account up until you have enough for a savings certificate, and with our low $1,000 minimum, that doesn't take long—then start rebuilding your passbook account so you can buy more. Come to FIRST FEDERAL OF SEMINOLE and let us help you stop the money leak.

Growth Is Predicted

> The latest available propulation growth figures for Florida come from Senator Robert Graham of Miami Lakes. He indicates that Florida is growing at the rate of 43 persons per hour or 1,032 per day or 7,224 per week. Close to home, predictions indicate that the 51,000 population of West Volusia County will jump to 108,000 within 20 years. We figure it'll do that much sooner.

What effect will the energy crisis have on tourism in Florida? The Florida Department of Commerce says the general feeling is that once the initial impact of the gasoline shortgage is over tourists will again take to the roads and airways enroute to Florida and the attraction capital of the world, central Florida.

During the year 1973, construction inside the city limits of Sanford was down from that of 1971-72. During 1972-73 the city building department issued 2,355 building permits as compared to 2,811 permits for the previous year. However, permits during 1972-73 had a valuation of slightly more than $17 million compared to a little over $12 million during the previous year. The probable reason for the increase in valuation was due to the fact that during the 1972-73 year 32 permits were issued for multi-family residences which includes the numerous apartment buildings started during the year.

Saxbe Names Realtor

The 1973 president of the National Association of Realtors. J.D. Sawyer, of Middletown, Ohio, has been named associate attorney general of the United States by Attorney General William Saxbe. Sawyer managed Saxbe's successful 1969 Ohio campaign for a U.S. Senate seat.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has asked Realtors throughout the nation for early input on the development of preliminary housing insulation standards to reduce energy consumption. Very shortly HUD expects to finalize insulation standards for homes with FHA insured loans. There are preliminary suggestions that homes in some parts of the There is also a possibility that existing homes will be required to

You might not believe this, at first, but luncheon tickets for the January 24 meeting of the Orlando-Winter Park Board of Realtors were being scalped. The tickets normally go for $4 each. The Board had 325 of them available for the meeting held at the downtown Howard Johnson's. However, the program for this particular meeting featured one of the country's most baffling and most popular mentalists, Kreskin. The 325 tickets went like hotcakes and before it was all over the ducats were being scalped for-we heard-as high as $10. We got our tickets early and let me tell you it was worth it! The amazing Kreskin is, well, amazing!

Land Use Compensation

Very few people can quarrel about land use plans. There has been some talk about a national land use plan as well as the use of Federal funds to encourage state land use plans. Seminole County's Board of Commissioners may seek legislation to enable it to establish a land use plan in cooperation with the county's seven incorporated municipalities. However, governmental bodies will have to take into consideration that they may be subject to having to pay fair compensation to persons whose property interests may be adversely affected by land use regulations. Now that is a switch and may be something to seriously think about!

One of Central Florida's most active and best known Realtors is O.C. Halyard Jr., of Winter Springs. Formerly with Atkins, Green, Stauffer & Co., and now vice president of Belle Riggs Inc., Orlando, Halyard was recently elected secretary of the Orlando-Winter Park Board of Realtors, He's a native of Tennessee but grew up in Kentucky. He has a degree in Radio and Journalism from the University of Kentucky. He came to Central Florida in 1964 and entered the real estate profession in 1967. He was his Board's "Realtor of the Year," in 1972. Halyard teaches Florida Real Estate Commission courses at Rollins College and since 1971 he has served as his Board's orientation instructor.

It could be smart to buy a home now despite high interest rates. For example, a house worth $40,000 today could easily be worth $46,000 in two years. If you were to buy that house today on a $5,000 down payment and a $35,000 mortgage at 9 percent you'd pay $7,032 in two years for interest and amortization. If you could uy the same house today for the same price at only 8 percent and on the same terms as above, you'd save only $552 in interest costs. But the same house, two years from now, could cost you $6,000 more. In addition, look what you'd save with your income tax deductions for interest and taxes. Also, even if interest rates were to come down the appreciation of the house will make up for any lasses. No matter how you slice it, now seems the best time to do

Airport Improvements

Did you know that during the past two years new facilities and related construction at the Sanford Airport has exceeded a half million dollars? Also, according to Airport Authority Chairman John Y. Mercer, the Authority has submitted a request to the Federal Aviation Administration and the State of Florida for participation in a $2 million project, for construction of new taxiways, overlay of the present cast-west runway and present taxiway, new lighting for all runways and taxiways, visual approach indicator for all runways, new fire rescue vehicle, perimeter fencing and other related safety items. Let us hasten to point out that no City advalorem taxes will be allocated for these items. Sanford's perticipation in this project will be from revenues generated by the airport itself. Any net revenues from airport operations are required by the FAA to be plowed back into

However, upon publication of your letter and the litor's reply, only your initials will be used.)

Is there any truth to a rumor making the rounds that a new bank to be located in Sanford is being organized?

It's not a rumor. It's a fact. A legal notice recently appeared in The Herald Feb. 1 announcing the intentions of a group of people to seek a national bank charter. Should you need any further information we refer you to this notice. The rotice includes the names of those persons intending to organize and make application for the charter.

Is it true that Jeno Paulucci has written a book on how he became a multi-millionaire? If so, where can I obtain a copy of it?

Yes, it's true that Jeno Paulucci wrote a book on his fantastic successes in the business world. It's good reading, too. The book is entitled, "How It Was to Make $100,000,000 in A Hurry." It's the story of Jeno and the bean sprout, dealing with the free-wheeling adventures of the Italian immigrant's son who marketed Chinese food in his own unorthodox style and made a fortune doing it. I have an idea that you can probably find a copy at the Sanford Public Library. If you can't, get in touch with me and I will see to it that you get a copy. I guarantee you that you'll find it good

Is it true that a qualified individual can purchase an FHA insured home for a down payment of less than is normally equired by the Federal Housing Administration?

Yes, it is true. Under the regular FHA program of insured loans a buyer of an FHA insured home would be required to pay three per cent of the first $15,000 of the cost of a home, 10 per cent of the next $5,000 and 20 per cent of any amount over $20,000. Using a sales price of $21,000, the FHA required down payment would be $450 for the first $15,000, $500 for the next $500 and $200 for the final $1,000 of the sales price. This totals $1,150. This is known as the PHA 203B program. However, the program you are referring to is known as the FHA 221D2 program whereby a qualified buyer can purchase a home and fluance 97 per cent of the sales price provided that the loan amount on a 3-bedroom home does not exceed $21,000 or $22,000 on a 4-bedroom home. a uz men ar ou ex onal information we suggest you see your real

My wife and I have a real problem. We'd like to purchase a three bedroom home now that we have three children. We went to a local real estate office and a saleslady checked into our income and our monthly installment contracts and told us that we would not qualify to purchase a $22,000 home because our income was not sufficient. The payments on the house we would like to buy would be $192 per month including principal, interest, taxes, insurance and the mortgage premium. She says we are not qualified, yet, my wife and I are paying $230 per month in rent on the two-bedroom apartment we lease. I don't understand it. Can

Since you did not give me your income figures and your monthly installment account payments I can only assume that the real estate saleslady you mentioned told you the truth. I'm sure of that because I'm certain she'd like to show you the home you'd like to buy. What she did was to take your annual income and deduct your annual installment payments. She divided the an-swer by four and added a zero. This told her what price home you would qualify to purchase. Apparently this "rule of thumb" figure did not get you into the ball park er else she would certainly have tried to get financing for you through a mortgage company. Even though you're paying more for rent than the house would cost you in monthly payments, you still do not qualify for home ownership. It's a shame, too. But until Congress produces a housing bill to provide housing for felks like you and your family you're just going to have to remain in your two-bedroom apartment. I do have one suggestion. Write to your Congressman about it. Send copies to Senators Childs and Gurney. It may not help you but it

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) If born Nov. 12-16, you are likely to feel tensions but nature will work things out if you're patient. Week is above par for most Scorpio persons. Tuesday, Wednesday test. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Don't hesitate. Experiment with life. A time for discoveries. Thursday, Friday, your top days. Push plans. Have confidence. Horizons are clearing, opening up.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Show willingness to co-operate. Listen to new ideas and proposals. Coming weekend favors you. New and old contacts can show promise for future. Forge ahead.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) The green lights are on. Background general favorable through much of next week. Objectives within easier reach Novideas, concepts seem to be practicable. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) You can work into a better position. Sentiments seem more valid. Legal matters favored. Creative forces are at work. Romantic, educational possibilities look much better.

DEAR POLLY—I am one of your do-it-yourselfers and recently installed wall-to-wall carpeting. The instructions did not work nearly so well as my own idea. I ran a chalk line at the bottom of the baseboard and then when the carpet was in place pressed it along this crevice with the handle of my shears. This left a well-marked chalk line on the rubber backing that I followed while cutting. The same should work on hemp backing.—ANOTHER POL-

Destruction Ordered After Rocket Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) - An $18 million Titan Centaur rocket was blown up in space today when its upper stage failed to ignite after it blasted off from the Kennedy Space Center.

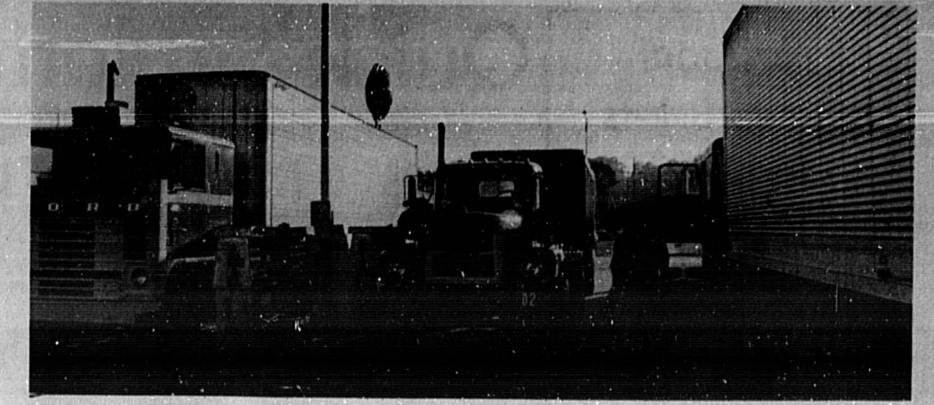

Space agency officials said the center's safety officer destroyed the unmanned rocket about eight minutes after it was launched at 9:38 a.m. EDT.

The new Titan-Centaur combination, which will be used in 1975 to send two unmanned Viking spacecraft to land on Mars, was on a test flight when the upper stage failed to respond to signals that would have fired its rocket motor. When the rocket failed to respond to a second signal and started to veer off course, it was destroyed

The new rocket is a marriage between the Air Force Titan rocket and the space agency Centaur upper The operational version will cost about $28 to $30 million, although today's rocket only cost $18 million The Titan-Centaur is scheduled to launch two West German satellites called Helios into orbit around the sun late this year and in 1975.
