

U. S. Is Reported Leaning To More Direct Action In China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some United States policymakers were reported today to favor limited military action directly against Red China if the Korean truce talks collapse.

This course, however, has by no means won general acceptance at top levels. In fact, there is understood to be considerable difference of opinion as to what policy should be pursued.

Some officials are reported holding to the view that the United States should avoid any wider conflict with the Reds in the Far East than that to which it is already committed in Korea. This is understood to be the policy favored by Britain and France and other United Nations Allies.

Consideration of what to do in event of a collapse of negotiations is going forward despite a moderate optimism here over the chances for getting an armistice. The optimism is based partly on a top level military estimate that the Reds want to get the war over with and partly on evidence in recent days that they seem to be willing to let the negotiations make progress.

Three big issues must be resolved before a cease-fire can be agreed upon.

Whether the prisoners of war held by each side are to be exchanged forcibly or voluntarily. The Reds have insisted on their forcible return. The United Nations have demanded a voluntary return.

Whether the United States position is that the U. N. is morally bound to protect those prisoners who surrendered on promise of protection.

Whether some formula can be worked out to prevent a buildup of air power in North Korea after an armistice becomes effective.

Whether a post-armistice political conference on which both sides now agree should deal with broad Far Eastern issues like the future of Formosa as the Reds propose, or be limited to purely Korean questions, as the United States wants.

Theoretically, any one of these issues could cause the talks to break down. Actually it is felt here that they will succeed or fail depending on whether the Communists, like the United Nations, are really trying to get peace in Korea or whether they have simply been buying time to mass strength for some new operation this spring.

In any event it is felt here now that a showdown may be reached in a few weeks.

Several lines of action are under study for possible use if efforts to get a truce fall through. They include:

1. Resumption of full-scale war within Korea. This, as officials now see it, would most probably amount in the long run to a building action on both sides. It is generally assumed here that neither the U. N. nor the Communist nations would commit the forces necessary to try for a complete victory in Korea.

2. Military harassment of Red China. This could take any of several forms. It could mean bombing of the Red air bases in Manchuria north of the Yalu, air strikes against military targets in China proper as well as Manchuria, and naval surface and air bombardments of military installations in China's extensive and vulnerable coastal area.

3. Naval blockade of the China coast, aimed at cutting off all trade and reducing coastal navigation to a minimum.

4. Taking the wraps off Chiang Kai-Shek. This would present Red China with the threat of an invasion of its mainland by Chiang's Nationalist troops on Formosa and some authorities believe, would cause the Reds to redistribute their military strength to protect coastal areas.

Tomorrow night at 8:00 the Navy Center is giving a Valentine Dance. The refreshment tables, with Mrs. May Lane as their head, are planning the dance. Music will be furnished by the center and dancing will last until midnight. Valentine refreshments will be served.

The Navy Center was formed by the City of Sanford, with the ladies backing it, for the Navy men stationed here. It takes money and work to provide this center for the men. The City is giving as much money as possible and many of the churches and ladies' clubs are giving every spare second that they can toward it. There is the work and the money. The only thing lacking now is you and me as sailors to support the center. Why don't you support the Navy Center?

The Navy Center is open every night of the week. There is dancing twice a week on Tuesday and Friday nights until 11:30 p.m. with ping-pong, cards, group singing, letter writing and many other things every night. The center is for navy men and the things that sailors want to do are done. Give the center a chance. You will have fun if you try. Remember that a person can only get out of something what he puts into it.

Let us see you at the Navy Center tomorrow night in the Valentine Dance. Don't miss it! The Sanford Navy Basketball Squad last Friday night with Compoite Squadron 82 in Jacksonville last Friday night with a score of 72 to 48. The game was evenly matched until the half when the score standing at 33-30, but in the second half, VC 82 steadily pulled away from our fighting five. High point Sanford man was Lee Wellington with 12 points, record while Charles Pearl was a close second with 11 points.

Sanford Navy will face Patrick Ah Force Base tonight at Cocoa Beach. This is the second game with Patrick. The team is in close and fast moving game since the station was edged out by only 8 points in their first meeting.

Tryouts for the station basketball team commenced the afternoon at the station on one of the former New York Giants' grounds. Lt. Robert W. Ramsey was in charge of the try-outs.

Friday's two men, saying goodbye to Sanford, left for duty at a short time. John Downes was ordered to duty at Weeksville, Elizabeth City, N. C., so he said to his fellow participants to M. A. S. A. F. LORNER, Gene Arnold, was transferred to the Naval Hospital in Jacksonville for a short time. I hope that it is truly a shame, for "Arnold" is back aboard with us.

Welcome aboard, Thomas Dent. Tom reported for duty from the school in Pensacola, and he is now at the station. With this Florida background, Tom should really enjoy his tour of duty here.

Do you know that the Navy was the career for him? Tom is a "sipped over" recently for another six year cruise. Jim built from Birmingham, Ala. and has a record of baby life already behind him.

Sunday afternoon Kay Hultz, daughter of Sanford became Mrs. Roger Schmidt. The wedding was beautiful with Kay, as the traditional bride, and a very nervous groom, Mrs. Don Reagan, the wife of a FASRON man, was the Matron of Honor and John Fey, a Quartermaster on the station, was best man. The ceremony of the First Baptist Church pronounced the wedding vows.

After the wedding reception at the Sanford Women's Club, the couple went on a short honeymoon. Congratulations, Kay and Roger, and I'm sure everyone will be looking forward to and welcome your return to Sanford.

Mr. Taylor spoke about rapid transportation and communication and its effect upon crime and the realization of the existence of crime. If there is graft in Louisiana, he said, "we in Sanford know about it immediately. Fifty years ago, we wouldn't know about it for months, if we knew about it at all." He also mentioned the effect of advertising to certain products as an influence toward evil among children.

Frank Evans laid the trouble to the present system of government to appoint people to government jobs on the basis of party loyalty rather than on personal ability.

Spencer defended the integrity of the courts against Mr. Pope's challenge and said that the legal profession has as high standards as any other profession in the country. He also declared that the courts are guided by the Constitutions of the United States and of the various states and commended Judge Medina for his handling of the recent Communist trials in New York City.

Self-Employed People Urged To Consult Social Security Office

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you're working and thinking of retiring, you may save yourself much of the rest of your life by first talking over your case at the nearest Social Security office.

That goes for two kinds of workers: People who are employed and the self-employed. Some of the self-employed, as you'll see now, will always be self-employed. There are a few points to keep in mind.

No one retiring before July 1 will ever get a Social Security pension larger than $68.50. Since a wife's pension is half that of her husband's, the maximum for a couple retiring before July 1 will always be $137.

If you retire after July 1, and are entitled to the maximum, you can get as much as $90. Since your wife at 65 will get half that much or $45, a couple retiring after July 1 could draw as much as $135 a month for life.

By law Social Security pensions until July 1 will range from a minimum of $20 to a maximum of $68.50. After that, the minimum remains, any retiring worker, of course, gets only the pension to which he's entitled. And that depends on several things. The number of quarters—a quarter is a three-month period—he's worked in a job covered by Social Security; his earnings; and so on.

So, although the present maximum pension is $68.50, the average worker retiring after July 1 won't be entitled to that future maximum of $90. The average pension for those retiring after July 1 will run much less than $80, perhaps a $50 or so a month.

Many workers now around 65—because they already have enough covered quarters to their credit since the Social Security law went into effect Jan. 1, 1937—could retire today and be entitled to some kind of pension.

But, since each worker's problem is just a little different from that of anyone else, each man thinking of retiring has a question to face. In my particular case, even though I can quit now and get a pension, will I benefit by waiting until after July 1?

For that reason many people who are self-employed could retire now at 65 and draw a pension based on the credits they acquired in those years when they worked as employees.

But a number of those now self-employed never were under Social Security until Jan. 1, 1951. They can't retire and get a pension until they have enough Social Security credits.

The period between Jan. 1, 1951—when the self-employed first came under Social Security—and July 1, 1953, is 18 months, or six quarters. A person with no previous coverage needs 18 months of it to get some pension but would make out better on the size of his pension if he waited until after Jan. 1, 1953, to retire.

That's another reason why a person now nearing 65 and thinking of retiring should go over his individual case with the people at his nearest Social Security office. It's one way of being sure you know what you're doing about retiring.

Joy Questions Right Of China In Peace Talks

By WILLIAM JORDEN

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The chief United Nations truce negotiator today questioned Red China's right to take part in a Korea peace conference and suggested that the problem of which nations should negotiate the peace be solved after an armistice is signed.

Rear Adm. C. Turner Joy also told the Reds, in effect, to give up any idea of deciding the fate of Formosa or settling other Asian problems at a Korean peace conference.

"If it is your view that the commanders must make inappropriate recommendations, then the U. N. Command delegation will be opposed to the appearance of foreign troops from Korea and peaceful settlement of the Korean question."

Joy's statement came during a one-hour and 35-minute session of the full armistice delegations on agenda item five—recommendations to governments involved.

He declared that by the Communists' own standards Red China is not eligible to take part in a post-armistice peace conference. Joy pointed out that Chinese troops fighting in Korea always have been labeled volunteers, both by Red China and North Korea.

He said the Communists have argued that the appearance of volunteer units in Korea was "completely unrelated to any official action on the part of their political authorities."

"Clearly," Joy said, "the People's Republic of China would not qualify under your criterion."

Joy was replying to Sunday's statement by North Korean Gen. Nam Il attacking an Allied proposal that recommendations for a peace settlement be sent to the United Nations as a whole. Nam argued that "many members of the U. N. are violently opposed to the war in Korea."

At a later staff officers' meeting the Allies offered conditionally to give up their demand that neutral teams interview displaced civilians to determine whether they want to live in North or South Korea.

The U. N. asked the Reds to spell out the exact details of the proposed committee on prisoner exchange and joint Red-Cross teams which would help with the program.

Both sides have agreed on the approximate composition of the two groups. The Allies want to give each specific tasks, while the Reds want only to outline their assignments.

For Irvin, said as far as he could determine today was the first time anywhere in the nation that a sampling of public opinion by a professional polling service has been used in an effort to change the scene of a trial.

The Roper service representatives said they tested public sentiment in Lake and Marion Counties, as well as Ocala and Jackson Counties 200 miles to the west in order to get comparative attitudes.

They asked 1,500 people, in all, whether they thought Irvin was guilty and whether a juror could "get away" with voting for his acquittal.

Circuit Judge Truman G. Futch refused to admit any findings except those from the poll in Marion County. He sustained a state objection that the sentiment in other counties was immaterial to the issue.

The Property Owners Association of Plantation Estates held its regular monthly meeting at the Club Rooms on Tuesday, Feb. 5, with Dr. Harry Whitaker, president, presiding. The invocation was given by the Rev. W. Fayette Kemper. Mrs. P. Foetacher, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting which were a summary of accomplishments for the past year.

We took in 76 new members and have seen many new homes, new roads, the hard surfacing of Delaney Drive and many new telephone lines. Mrs. J. Genoy, chairman of the entertainment committee, reported on the success of the card party and announced that there would be a buffet supper served by the committee at 6:00 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 21. There will be cards and dancing after supper.

The matter of drapes for the club rooms and improved parking at the shopping center were discussed. Miss Nella Hanks spoke of a compilation of do's and don'ts pamphlet to be given to new residents to help them in their adjustment to the community.

William Lutz gave an interesting report on roads and communications and among other things mentioned that he had been assured by the manufacturers that the new cars would be harmful to septic tanks. These matters were returned to committees for deposition. A motion was made and carried that a letter of appreciation be sent to Mr. and Mrs. George Griffin. They were all neighbors in Long Island.

Arnall Okayed As Price Boss By Senators

Vote By Entire Senate Comes Monday; Arnall Pledges To Push Price Studies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Banking Committee today unanimously approved former Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia to be the new price stabilizer.

It took the committee less than one minute to act after Arnall had discussed his qualifications and beliefs about inflation with the senators for an hour and a half.

Before taking office, Arnall must receive a vote of approval from the Senate itself. Chairman Maybank (D-S. C.) of the Banking Committee said he would ask for a Senate vote on Monday.

Arnall, in giving the senators his views, said he would continue studies already begun on taking control of some commodities.

"But we must not hasten headlong into decontrol," he told the Senate Banking Committee.

"When the facts are such that a segment of the economy can be decontrolled without affecting the rest of our production, of course that should be done."

"But I would not want to have that action on hearsay or what some trade association said. It would have to be based on facts."

The Banking Committee, considering Mr. Truman's selection of Arnall to succeed Michael V. DiSalle as head of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Maybank and Chairman Spencer (D-Ky.) of the House Banking Committee have introduced bills to provide for an extension of the Defense Production Act. President Truman asked Monday for a one-year extension of this law, which carries price, wage, rent and credit controls plus production and allocation powers for the stabilization agencies. Congressional action indicated passage of a one-year extension somewhat short of the President's recommendations.

In today's hearings, Maybank brought up the question of decontrol of commodities which are selling below price ceilings, pointing out that DiSalle already has indicated that he would support such a bill.

Maybank said that the extension legislation would start in his committee March 4. Spencer said the House group hearings would get underway about the same time.

ELLIS O. ARNALL, 44, former Governor of Georgia, has been nominated by President Truman for the post of Price Administrator. Arnall was named to succeed Michael V. DiSalle, who is resigning February 13 to seek the Democratic Senatorial nomination in Ohio.

Taft Forces Are Elated Over Vote In Oklahoma Race

12 Out Of 16 Delegates Expected To Support Sen. Taft

By The Associated Press
Cries of a "great victory" and "start fighting" spurred the backers of the Taft forces today in the Republican race for the presidency.

It was a day—the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth—when defense forces in Europe take stock and, in an election year like this, get primed for the back stretch drive.

In Oklahoma City, a field manager for Sen. Taft hailed the outcome of Oklahoma's Republican State Convention Monday as "a great victory for Taft." The session wound up with seven nominees for delegates leaning to Taft, seven to Dewey, Douglas, Eisenhower and two to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The delegates backing MacArthur, who has said he isn't a candidate, have promised secondary support to Taft.

Victor A. Johnson, delegate that 12 of the 16 Oklahoma delegates would vote for Taft on the first ballot at the National Convention in July.

In Washington, Sen. Alben (R-Vt.) said of Gen. Eisenhower: "Unless he starts fighting, he's a dead duck. He is going to have to come home and campaign if he wants the nomination. If he doesn't he will be leaving a lot of his promoters out on a very long limb."

Eisenhower, who heads mutual defense forces in Europe, has said he will accept the GOP nomination but will not seek it.

Alken has not said whom he favors.

Lincoln Day speeches were on his Northwest tour, and by two other GOP aspirants, Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, and Charles McNamara, former governor of Michigan, at a dinner gathering in Boston.

The Democratic race also was moving along. The only announced entrant, Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, made two appearances Monday in New York and repeats today in Chicago.

In the Chicago address, for delivery at a meeting of the Journal Daily Press Association, Kefauver said:

"The corrupt politician threatens our democratic system on one front just as Communism threatens it on another front."

"Political corruption has a prodigious record."

UN Command Stands Firm In Truce Talks

Allies Reject Pressure To Make Further Concessions To Chinese Reds

By DON RUTH
TOKYO (AP) — U. N. Command truce negotiators are standing firm in refusing to grant further major concessions to the Communists.

But the Allies have shown a willingness to bargain on a give-and-take basis over secondary issues.

Those are concerned mainly with blueprinting the "ground rules" for a truce. The Allies appear to be getting about as much as they are giving.

The South Korean government, however, accuses the U. N. Command of going too far. In a statement, it viewed "with great concern continuing concessions" made by the Allies.

The Allied position at Panmunjom, the statement said, "appears to be one of a defeated command."

President Syngman Rhee has said he is considering an appeal to President Truman to order an armistice if Korea is left divided. He said his country would be at the mercy of the Communists.

The Allies said five weeks ago that the Chinese and North Koreans were writing most of the armistice terms. Since that time the U. N. Command has remained adamant on key issues.

These are:

1. Voluntary repatriation. The U. N. wants every prisoner on either side to decide for himself whether he wishes to be returned.
2. Construction of military airfields. The U. N. opposes the rehabilitation or construction of military airfields during an armistice but would permit development of a limited number of airstrips for civilian use.
3. Scope of the post-armistice political conference proposed under Agenda Item 5. The U. N. C. says it is willing to discuss withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea and settlement of peace in Korea. But it says those talks must be limited only to Korean problems and not include other Far Eastern issues.

The Communists have not budged on the Allies' 1948 points.

In the last seven months the U. N. Command has made what it considers these major concessions:

1. Agreed to relinquish islands it holds off the North Korean coast—valuable listening posts to insure stability of an armistice.
2. Dropped its demands for behind the lines inspection by Joint Allied-Communist military teams and accepted a Communist proposal for inspection by neutral nations.
3. Dropped its demands for aerial observation of rear areas—considered an important control for maintaining an armistice.
4. Agreed to accept the concept of limited rotation of troops during an armistice. No figure has yet been set.
5. Agreed to limited rehabilitation of North Korean airfields for civilian use.

F.P.&L. Co. Plans Contract Signed New Program Of Great Expansion

Over $300 Million To Be Spent On Plants In Next 10 Years

MIAMI (AP) — A $322 million dollar expansion program for the Florida Power and Light Co. in the next 10 years to meet the electrical needs of a mushrooming state population was outlined today by the board of directors Monday by President McGregor Smith.

He said it was reasonable to expect that the population of Florida, the nation's fastest growing state, would increase over the last 20 years, would swell to four million in the next decade from the present 2,991,000.

A business and industry will grow in proportion, Smith asserted, and electrical demands will increase to such an extent that FPL must virtually triple its output to keep pace.

The $322 million dollar outlay estimated by company engineers, which he called the biggest expansion program ever contemplated by a private company in Florida, will cover 10 major general engineering stations, new distribution lines and substations.

As an initial step, the board approved a $22,000,000 construction program for 1952. Smith said the engineers estimated that $27,000,000 would be spent in 1953.

Florida Power and Light plant now generate 503,000 kilowatts of electrical energy. Under the 10-year expansion estimate, this will be boosted to 1,405,000 kilowatts by 1962.

Such an increase, Smith told the board, will dwarf the expansion program of the active post-war years, when FPL spent $12 million to increase its output 25 times.

A new plant with a capacity of 75,000 kilowatts will be placed in operation this year at Collier, 10 miles south of Miami. Another 75,000 kilowatt generator will be added to the Riviera plant near West Palm Beach in time for the next winter season.

In making their expansion estimates, Smith said the FPL engineers figured that the Miami metropolitan area would have a population of 1,278,000 by 1965. By that time, they said, the West Palm Beach area will grow to 243,000, the Fort Lauderdale area to 256,000, the West Palm area to 32,000.

They estimated that the Fort Lauderdale area would show the fastest growth of 45.1 per cent, Miami 37.2 per cent, Key West 22.3 per cent, and the Jacksonville-Daytona Beach area 15.5 per cent.

Total Shortages Are Raised To 19 With More Than $5 Million Losses Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported today that two more grain shortage cases have been taken to the courts.

This raises to 19 the number of warehouse concerns or individuals who whose government has taken legal action in connection with alleged conversion of more than five million dollars worth of government-owned commodities to their own use, principally for speculative purposes.

The department said it has filed a bankruptcy petition against the Schroeder Grain Co., Dresden, Kan., in connection with the government's claim of $72,000 for wheat allegedly converted to the concern's use.

It also reported that William C. Harnberger, former treasurer and manager of the Page Milling Co., Luray, Va., has been indicted on a charge of having converted 19,264 bushels of government-owned wheat stored with that company. The company has already reimbursed the government in full, approximately $40,000.

Congress has authorized the armed forces with charges of "needless and useless waste" of money and called on military top brass to fix the responsibility.

A House armed services subcommittee continued its inquiry into armed forces buying practices Rear Adm. M. L. King, vice chairman of supply management, said in a statement today.

The House subcommittee sought to determine whether the purchase agent for the armed services was summoned as today's leadoff witness.

Rep. Lyle (D-Tex.) declared the United States has been "lulled more than its potential enemies by indulging in a military spending spree without regard to basic economic or economic capabilities."

He also stated in a statement in today's Congressional Record say will be eliminated from President Truman's $83,400,000,000 budget by a House committee.

Lyle suggested that particular scrutiny be given huge construction projects.

The House subcommittee sought particularly for a satisfactory answer to why the various services have no standard catalogue of items. This, the congressman said, causes confusion, duplication of services, resulting in duplication and clogged supply lines.

"We are not interested in generalities, propaganda alibis or excuses," Chairman Robert D. Taft said Monday. "We want it (continued on Page Two)

Rayburn T. Milwee, Lyman High School principal, today announced his candidacy for Superintendent of Public Instruction in Seminole County.

Rayburn T. Milwee Offers Candidacy For School Head

Rayburn T. Milwee, a resident of Lakeland and principal of the Lyman High School, today announced his candidacy for Superintendent of Public Instruction in Seminole County, subject to the Democratic primary on May 28.

Mr. Milwee, a resident of Seminole County for 13 years, has served for 10 years in the public school system, first as teacher and coach, and for the next three years as principal of Lyman High School. He holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Education and a Masters Degree in Elementary and Secondary School Supervision and Administration from Stetson University. He did post graduate work at Sam Houston State College in Texas and has taken additional work from the University of Florida.

Mr. Milwee is a member of the Secondary Principals' Association and is now serving as president of the Central Florida Athletic Conference and as Supervisor of Seminole State Convocation District. He is vice chairman of the Seminole District Boy Scouts of America.

Mr. Milwee is a veteran of World War II, having served overseas for 20 months in both European and Asiatic Theaters of Operation in the United States Navy. He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Lakeland, a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. He is 37 years of age, married to the former Aldine Lavigne of Longwood and has two young sons.

In making his announcement, Mr. Milwee provided his best of efforts for 20 months in both European and Asiatic Theaters of Operation in the United States Navy. Lions Induct Two New Members Into Club At Luncheon

The Lions Club inducted two new members at their weekly luncheon at the Yacht Club today.

Cub Lions Inducted into full Lions after a brief induction ceremony conducted by Henry Witt.

Nelle Williams, Jr., was designated by President Cecil Carlton as the Lions chairman of the 1952 Red Cross drive. Mr. Williams read a letter to the group from the Red Cross chairman, Gordon B. Frederick.

Mr. Williams stressed the importance of everyone contributing money to an ongoing organization simply because it is not controlled by the government. The money services the Red Cross performed for our servicemen is known to all.

Buddy Lake, chairman of the Lions' Boy Scout drive, reported he and Mr. Duncan were progressing satisfactorily in collections for the Scout organization. He stated he would have a final report by the next meeting.

Mr. Witt announced that the Lions' district cabinet meeting will be held at the Mayfair Inn next Sunday afternoon.

Clyde Ramsey reported that the two Seminole County children, who were operated up for eye corrections at the Lions Club's expense, are recovering satisfactorily.

In the inducting ceremony Mr. Witt referred to the Lions Club as having 450,000 members in 9,000 chapters in 24 different countries on five continents.

Wine Causes Fire Gutting Automobile

A defective wire caused a fire which completely gutted the side of an automobile at Renda Sliding yesterday afternoon before firemen from the City could reach the crossing. Assistant Fire Chief R. T. Thomas announced today.

Charles Harper was driving the car, a 1934 Ford owned by Eugene Harper, when he stopped at the crossing to wait for a passing Atlantic Coast Line freight train. When he started up to cross the tracks after the train had passed, the automobile burst into flames, according to Assistant Chief Thomas.

No damage assessment has been made, but Assistant Chief Thomas stated the fire was completely contained at 4:30 p.m.

Earlier in the afternoon a grass fire was extinguished by the City firemen at 1817 Lake Avenue.

Heaviest Single Action In Weeks Occurs In Korea

By MILO FANNETT
SEOUL, Korea (AP) — United Nations soldiers today killed 96 Reds and wounded 129 in a night near the Mundung Valley on the eastern Korean War front—the heaviest single action in weeks.

A group of 420 Communist troops struck Allied positions near the valley in three places three minutes apart. In less than an hour the Allies had driven back both attacks.

A group of 150 Reds made the first attack. A band of 60 made the second. Part of the total 220 enemy casualties was from the balance of the great initial 420 men, observed earlier approaching down the Mundung Valley from the north.

The valley is just west of Heartbreak Ridge, a craggy range of mountains captured by American troops in a month-long fight last fall. West of the valley are other tall, snow-covered mountains.

Other Red probes were reported all along the 145-mile front in one of them, on the central front west of the Puhuan River, 11 men of an enemy platoon were killed in all other probing attacks, the Reds were beaten off or withdrew.

An overcast sky held down light- or-bomber attacks in North Korea. By noon only about 20 planes had gone out to attack Red supply lines.

A briefing officer said Eighth Army soldiers inflicted 2,874 casualties on the Reds in the week ended last Thursday. The figure included 861 killed, 1,366 wounded and 31 captured.

Allied casualties were not announced.

Fifth Air Force warplanes flew 585 missions Monday. Pilots said they cut trails in 57 hours and destroyed 100 tons of supplies, 100 road bridges, 100 trucks, 100 motorcycles, 100 trucks and one gun position.

Three Persons Hurt In Auto Accident

Three persons were injured yesterday in traffic accidents, it was reported by police and the Highway Patrol.

Robert Basore, 19-year-old seller at the Sanford Naval Air Station, received minor cuts and bruises when the motorcycle on which he was a passenger, collided with an automobile at Park Avenue and Twentieth Street last evening. He was taken to the Navy Dispensary for treatment. Paul E. Clark, driver of the motorcycle, escaped injury.

Mrs. George W. Weinbach, 32, a German war bride who had been in this country only a week, and her 12-year-old daughter, Marion, received minor injuries when their automobile driven by the husband, Sgt. George W. Weinbach, of Aberdeen, Md., collided yesterday at French Avenue and the Orlando Highway with an automobile driven by Tom G. Foster, 46 of Sanford. The mother and daughter were taken to Farnald-Laughton Memorial Hospital for treatment.

REYNOLDS DIES

A. A. Reynolds, 61, of 214 French Avenue, died shortly before 8:00 o'clock this morning. He was a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. W. E. Watson, justice of the peace, stated that no inquest was necessary as the death was from natural causes.

SERVICE OFFICER

Tom Dean, veterans division and service officer, will be at L. F. Boyle's office tomorrow morning from 8:30 o'clock until noon to advise veterans on their problems.

Program Launched To Beautify Beach, Lake Mary Parks

Sparked by a beautification committee headed by Lloyd Ledmon, Lake Mary has been engaged during the past six weeks in a campaign to beautify the community of more than 800 and to improve its parks.

A new beach has been pumped in on a 200-foot strip on the east shore of Crystal Lake where the Lake Mary Bathing Park is located. The beach, owned by Alfred H. Inman, Jr., who did this work free of charge.

According to Frank Evans, pioneer resident, this park and a new park are being developed by the County for park purposes by A. E. Bjorklin in 1920. The parkway extends from Crystal Lake eastward to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Trees are being planted in the small parks and grass is to be sown as part of the beautification program.

Major improvements in the bathing park include a leveling program and reduction of the slope and improvement of more than three acres for parking. Wooden posts block off cars from the bathing area proper.

About $800 in cash was contributed by citizens in the project, and others provided labor. The collection of cash and labor was made by William Leffer of Lake Mary.

County Commissioner O. E. Fourakis co-operated by having the parks surveyed. Thomas A. Vaughan of the Sherman Concrete Pipe Co., contributed 36 concrete posts as street signs to mark the corners of the parks. The O. Dea Sign Co., provided signs to mark the city limits of the parks.

The Lake Mary cemetery has been put into the best condition in years, and civic leaders report that the whole community has been spurred by the park improvements into a big cleanup and beautification campaign.

Among those most enthusiastic over the results is George W. Murray, president of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce.

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad is co-operating in the program by bulldozing and cleaning up 10 acre tract along the highway.

Citrus Exchange Repeats Its Offer Of Minimum Cost

LAKELAND (AP) — The Florida Citrus Exchange has repeated its offer to sell citrus fruit at a minimum cost to the consumer of any independent grower who wants to handle the citrus fruit himself.

The Florida Independent Citrus Growers Association has been calling for suspension of Federal Marketing Agreement orders during the present price slump as they can't handle fruit from the growers to other states without the cost of having it washed, graded and sent to a packing house. Members contend they could get a better price for their fruit that way and still make more profit than now.

As a result of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's new marketing agreement, citrus growers are getting public opinion on the Association's recommendation. S. H. Smith, director of the Fruit and Vegetable Branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Marketing Administration will direct the meeting. It will be held Wednesday and Thursday and in Orlando Friday and Saturday.

J. H. Pratt, Executive President of Exchange, challenged the independents to take up the offer of minimum handling at any of the Exchange's 42 affiliated packing houses.

Pratt added the following words of caution about expenses to "any of our rugged individualists (growers) who think you can do a better selling job than the cooperatives."

"You will, of course, furnish your own picking bags, ladders, clipper, fruit boxes, pay for hauling the fruit to the packing house, pay for the necessary labor, pay for hauling away the culls, and you will pay for any fines or legal difficulties incurred in selling fruit in communities that require a license."

Officials of several Southern states have said they would bar Florida citrus if the proposed suspension of regulations is adopted. The chief objection noted has been to the possibly dangerous effects of spray on unwashed fruit.

PAVING BID

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The State Road Department today called for contractors' bids on 15 highway projects throughout the state. The bids will be opened here at 10:30 a. m. Feb. 20.

KLAN ACTIVITY

ORLANDO (AP) — A city employee will have to explain to the Utilities Commission Feb. 19 his activities in the Ku Klux Klan.

Commission Manager C. H. Stanton said he would bring the matter before a board meeting but would not speculate on what action the commission might take.

The employee, N. T. Lashley, head of the commission's auto maintenance division, admitted his participation in a Klan meeting here Saturday night in which Florida Grand Dragon Bill Hendrix urged "a few hangings" around the state to maintain "100 per cent segregation."

TERMINAL MEETING

Plans for reaching an agreement with the City in regard to securing 40 acres of lakefront property as the site of a privately financed port terminal, will be made at a meeting tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Albert Pitts, acting chairman of the terminal committee.

Two groups will be present, one of which will include Commissioner John T. Weaver, City Attorney Edwin Shinnholtz, Howard Montleth and H. M. Pearce, representing the City, and the five man port terminal committee including Mr. Pitts, G. W. Spencer, W. A. Farick, T. E. Tucker and J. M. "Pat" Higgins.

(From Kaleidograph)

To see the ballet of the Lac des Cygnes.

Three graceful, swanlike
dancers spin

With fluted-out plumage in the moonlit scene

In thin-fawn sweetness of the violin.

The second voice speaks, pleading and alone.

As though it were a lute below
The jasmine balcony, a tenor sings.

Plaintive, hoping the loved one's face will show.

To see with mind, the intellectual sight.

To know the forms of rocks, as quartz and gneiss,

Viola's graver nurse, the cold

Of science on fantastic fields of Tivoli's villa with its crystal falls

And eye-beguiling silver axial

They have had enough airplane accidents at the Newark Airport, it seems to us, to warrant the grounding of all planes there, and the use of bicycles by the travel-pretty rugged training for the next war.

Something new in eyeglasses is reported by Dr. William Feinblom at a meeting of the Brooklyn Optometrical Society Sunday. It is a contact lens no bigger than a drop of water and weighing less. It fits over the iris and is supported by a natural layer of tears. It has been used for one to three years by boxers, baseball players, and actresses, and in 93 percent of the cases was said to be successful.

Our old friend Slim Norwood dropped in to see us the other day from Gainesville where he is now working on the Sun, and gave us his slant on the political situation. He doesn't think much of Truman, and believes Taft is on the "other side". He likes Eisenhower, but doesn't quite know where he stands. And he would like to see someone get elected that we could all cheer for during the first few days at lot of money when one compares it with what the people were making in 1940, or 1935, but when taken into consideration with taxes, of what everyone makes now as

then, and with the fact that taxes now have left after paying taxes only about half as much as before, it doesn't mean too

Uncommon Commonness

No hero in American history is more honored and revered than Abraham Lincoln. His common touch, the stories of his gentle but penetrating wit, the simple and beautiful eloquence of his speeches, have assured him a place in American history that is secure and unique. Washington is called the Father of His Country; Lincoln is sometimes called its savior.

Admired and unswerving in time of peril, he was generous once the victory was won. He proposed terms for reconstructing the South, which were intended to help "bind up the nation's wounds," but his untimely death at the hands of an assassin changed all that. Instead of a policy of "justice toward none," the vengeful factions in the Northern states insisted on punishing the South and years of bitterness resulted.

In times of great peril America has always produced leaders who could summon up the courage of all the people to meet the test. Lincoln was such a leader. Yet he was a simple man who could find the time to stop and discuss with a small girl, whether his appearance might be improved by a beard. In the rush of affairs of state he found time to write to Mrs. Bixby, bereaved by the reported death of her five sons, a letter which is a masterpiece of simplicity, sincerity and sympathy.

Lincoln once remarked that God must have loved the common people because he made so many of them. Lincoln loved them too, and even when he had risen to uncommon heights he thought of himself as one of them. God loved the common people indeed, when he made Abraham Lincoln one of their number.

A Hand For Jonesy

When Dr. Takao Tsumekawa registered as a student at Western Reserve University recently he was fulfilling a dream he had cherished for a long time. But the dream might never have been realized had it not been for the generosity of a group of American soldiers stationed at the Yokohama Ordnance Depot in Japan. The man, who dubbed Tsumekawa
"Jonesy" because they found his name difficult to pronounce, raised over $2,500 to help finance the cost of his schooling in America. An officer stationed at the depot offered him room and board in Cleveland if he decided to study at Western Reserve.

Jonesy is a graduate of Tokyo Medical College and is a licensed physician in Japan. But for nearly five years for the Americans at the ordnance depot and came to realize that his training was inadequate. His devotion to his studies sometimes kept him on the job 18 hours a day. This impressed the soldiers and when they heard of his desire to study in America they passed the hat to help him.

Those who befriended this young Japanese were not making a conscious effort to better international relations.
They were merely extending a helping hand to someone they liked and respected. If this desire to help individuals, this respect for their efforts to help themselves could be the basis of our dealing with all the peoples of the world, expenditures for foreign aid would not be wasted.

Help From The Hairless

That rugged American symbol the bald eagle stands in danger of becoming extinct within ten years. A lumber dealer, himself almost bald, has started a campaign among his associates and friends to do something about the eagles' plight. He has called for donations for bald headed men, and men whose locks have turned white, for a program of conservation to keep the American eagle on the American scene.

If this country there are only about 700 pairs of the birds. In Alaska the bald eagle is regarded as something of a threat to the fur breeding and salmon fishing industry.
The bald supporter of the eagles, however, claims that this fear is unjustified and he will seek repeal of the bounty which Alaskan authorities have placed on the eagles. He will urge sporting men in this country to discourage shooting of the birds and ask taxidermists to report those who bring in bald eagles for mounting.

The idea of protecting and conserving this national symbol is a good one. If the men with receding hairlines can devote as much energy to saving the bald eagle, as some men do to saving their remaining hair, success seems likely for their efforts.

People Of Britain Pay Final Tribute To British King

Thousands Standing In Line As Doors Of Westminster Open

By ERNEST AGNEW

LONDON — Through the hushed dignity of great Westminster Hall, the somberly clad people of Britain shuffled softly in reverent homage today past the body of King George VI.

Silent men bowed before the coffin and passed on. Silent women curtied to the sovereign in death as they would in life.

The first to bare his head beneath the freezing wind and walk solemnly into the big stone and tiled hall was A. Pugh of Liverpool. He had waited on the steps for 13 hours to lead the mourning procession.

This 47-year-old citizen said he was "one of His Majesty's loyal subjects of the old type—not one of the moderns."

By the time the doors opened at 11 a. m., more than 2,000 were waiting in patient line to pay respect to the King who walked among them in wartime and encouraged them to stand fast through the troubles of uneasy peace.

The throng that stood for hours was a mixture of the common folk of England. There were earthenware workers wrapped in trench coats against London's ever-present damp. There were professional men in bowler hats, carrying umbrellas and brief cases. There and there stood a woman in a pink Most others, including charwomen who stayed their home-going from nightly cleaning work in offices, wore the red and blue uniforms and caps that mark Britain's austere life.

One of the quiet London bobbies, on duty at the door, said the mourning subjects were being admitted at the rate of 120 a minute.
He predicted the 200-yard line outside the door would lengthen through the day as the steady streams of Londoners came off the north side of the Parliament subway that runs past the hall.

He recalled, though, that when George VI lay in state, the queue of mourners waiting on the first morning stretched "all the way to Battersea"—two miles away.

Later in the day the line at times stretched as much as 900 yards along the north side of the Parliament buildings. It included sailors on shore leave, school children in groups led by teachers and nuns, and visitors from the princes and dominions, some in Oriental attire.

The coffin body they came to bow in lay on a purple-covered catafalque, the color of the royal let carpeted steps. Six candles in gold holders flickered at the movements of passing mourners.

On the closed coffin the imperial crown returned the candles' flicker with flashes of fire from the vast wealth of diamonds, rubies, emeralds and sapphires.

The oak coffin was draped in the red and gold royal standard, and at the head, was a single wreath of snow-white flowers from the dead monarch's widow,
the Queen Mother Elizabeth.

For 14 hours a day, from 8 a. m.
to 10 p. m., until Thursday night, the citizens may pass before the

Korean War

important point last week when they got the Communists to agree to discuss recommendations to governments concerned for final settlement of the Korean problem while negotiations continued on other truce issues.

Since the armistice talks began,
the Communists have given in on these generally accepted important points:

A cease-fire line be located along a militarily defensible point. The Reds dropped their demand for a cease-fire line along the 38th Parallel, Korea's prewar political boundary. They accepted the U.N. principle that the line be drawn along the actual battle front—almost all of it north of 38.

The Red negotiators also permitted a look behind the Bamboo Curtain when they agreed to allow inspection by neutral observers behind the lines. But they did place limitations on the extent of inspection from its stand.

The talks were bogged down through most of January over deadlocks on the airfield issue and voluntary repatriation of prisoners.
Neither side was willing to budge from its stand.

Then on Jan. 25 the Allies proposed that the airfield problem be shelved. Three days later the Reds agreed to have staff officers continue work on the supervising blueprint. Discussion began Jan. 29.

Meanwhile, in the prisoner of war discussions slow progress on secondary points began appearing.

The subdelegates from both sides furnished requested additional data on prisoners.

The Reds agreed to consider returning prisoners as quickly as possible after an armistice. They also agreed that neither side could settle civilians in defense positions.

The Communists conceded that there may be need for further points of exchange of prisoners other than Panmunjom. They clar-ified their position on parole of

All of these concessions have not brought the U. N. C. and Communists any nearer agreement on the unresolved major issues. But they have been short steps in the direction of an eventual armistice.

once the repatriation and airfield stumbling blocks can be removed, quick agreement can be reached on other armistice details.

Senior Class Play To Be On Friday

The Senior Class Play, "Men Are Like Street Cars", a comedy in three acts, from the book by Genevieve and Sarah Louvier, will be presented Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and Friday night at 8:15 o'clock at the Seminole High School auditorium. Mrs. Boyd Coleman, director, announced today.
According to Mrs. Coleman, the story revolves around Maudie, played by Bobe Fisher, who, after being a party, but tongue-tied, comes, Jay, played by Ivan Wilson, whom Maudie decides to help, and her sister, Sylvia, played by Ann Whitaker, whom she decides will be out of her front married off. Maudie starts "fixing things".
Even Maudie's "friends", played by Joe McClung, is alienated and there is a continuous series of unfortunate misadventures, with a seemingly serious situation involving her father, played by Freddie Wilson, which is resolved in a wholly satisfying conclusion, said Mrs. Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Johnson, who are the couple mentioned in the text.

"San Sems" Zoom Into Naming Contest Lead With 317 Votes

The "San Sems" name surge into the lead of the baseball naming contest passing four monikers with a record single day vote of 317 yesterday. The "San Sems" total is now 1,111. The Celery Feds continued running in second place by passing the "Sluggers" with a rush of 89 ballots for a total of 286.

The "Sluggers", the week-end phenomenon, dropped from first to third by picking up only 24 more ballots for a total of 280. The "Fliers" moniker received 75 votes yesterday but fell in fourth place from third spot with a total of 202 ballots.

The "Seminole Blues" dropped from contention as only one vote came in yesterday to give that name fifth place with 111 votes. The seventh ranking name the "Brown Sox" didn't receive a single vote and remained in eighth spot with 60.

Presiding the "Brown Sox" is the "Seminole" with 68 in ninth place.

The total vote reached 1,111 for eight days of balloting or nearly 200 votes per day. Yesterday's balloting set a single day's voting record with 136 ballots being cast.

Only one new name was entered in yesterday's voting that was the "Generals". It garnered 16 votes. Marlon Hartman, chairman of the contest committee, warned all voting participants to be sure that names and addresses of the voters were included on the ballot.

The "San Sem" big push yesterday was highlighted by two votes from St. Petersburg.

The baseball naming contest has turned into an out-and-out battle. A huge 256 votes piled onto our desks for a hitherto untried name, the "Sluggers", during the week-end and from what we have already counted for today it has at least 280. Through an oversight we failed to list the names "Fliers" and "Sluggers" in our final eligible list. However, we corrected this error in yesterday's listings.

We have thrown away nearly 10 votes for different names, so far because the fans have not included their names and address on the ballot with the name of the team. Any duplications of names for different teams will be likewise thrown away. The "Celery Feds" lost five or six votes this way at Faust Drug Store alone on Saturday.

Floyd Palmer, self-professed campaigner for the "Seminole Blues" is not a member of the Seminole County Baseball Association's board of directors. He says if he wins, the free ticket will go to a crippled child. This is a noble gesture on his part. Mr. Palmer told this writer that it would take over 1,000 ballots to beat his "Seminole Blues". At the last look at the balloting the "Seminole Blues" were 170 votes off the pace setting "Sluggers". As the old saying goes: "He who laughs last, laughs best."

The last few weeks have brought many major sporting figures to this region. Florence Chadwick, famed Channel swimmer, George Barr, ex-National League pitcher and manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, and Mrs. John J. McDraw, wife of the famous giant manager, Jimmy Nichols, famed one-armed professional golfer and Art Flynn, New York giant public relations chief all have been here and the list goes on and on. Sanford is becoming quite a sports center. The interest in local basketball is lagging but from reports it is even increasing in prestige. The more fact that over 1,000 votes were cast in the middle of the cage season for a baseball name in only one week is proof enough.

There is a sad tale of what false rumors can do. An elderly lady who submitted the name of the "San Sems" was found at home terribly upset one day by her daughter. It seems some of the lady's friends told her that her campaign tactics were illegal. All she was doing was asking her friends to vote for their submitted names. There is nothing in the contest rules which prohibit this; in fact, we hope more people will get out and have their friends vote for their submitted names. We assured her it wasn't and the daughter was quite relieved.

The daughter explained that her mother was probably the greatest Sanford fan of any. "Why, mother commuted to every Sanford home game from Ocala several years ago and saw all the DeLand and Gainesville games with Sanford in those towns," she explained.

May we wish her the best of luck in the "San Sems" and may we vote for the old lady as the "outstanding Sanford ball fan" in the history of the club.

DATA: Genial George Barr assures all baseball fans are cordially invited to attend any of Mr. Barr's field sessions in Longwood. We would advise some of our "crustacean managers" to attend in order to sharpen up on the rules of the game. Jimmy Nichols gave quite a skilled golfing demonstration on how you can shoot with one-hand the way you should shoot with two . . . how, if we had three hands we wouldn't improve. Sanford will have a chance to see a new entry in the F.R.L. circuit come opening night in the new Memorial Stadium Apr. 15. The club will be St. Augustine. We predict the local fans will rack the past. It was in 1950 when Sid Hudson was the star Sanford Lookout hurler that the local nine win its last F.R.L. pennant. Let us hope the luck number will be 1949 for Sanford this year. . . .

VAGUANCY CHARGE
 ST. AUGUSTINE (U)—A young Michigan man shot by a sheriff's deputy last week is charged with vagrancy and possession of an automatic rifle. Sheriff L. O. Davis reported Monday.

He said the youth's father, Lambert Dykstra, arrived and confirmed his identity as Kenneth Dykstra, 22, Route 1, Hudsonville, Mich.

At the time he was apprehended the sheriff said the youth was under suspicion of being a Michigan and charged for a double killing.

Sheriff Davis said he was contacted last Friday. The deputy said he fired when Dykstra was seen carrying a rifle. Dykstra was taken to the jail.

The tallest man on the Florida baseball squad is Eddie Black, 7 feet tall.

These handsome trophies, which have been on display in the Yovell Company's store window, will be presented as prizes for the winners of the Third Annual Men's Golf Tournament of the Mayfair Inn and Seminole Country Club next Sunday afternoon. The trophy will get under way tomorrow when the metal play qualifying rounds will be played, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday will be devoted to match play to determine the top four winners in the different flights. They will play Sunday for the flight championships and consolation prizes. The tournament was launched last Sunday with the annual pro-am event.

DeLand Twin Bill Is Re-scheduled For Wednesday

The Seminole High School basketball teams have postponed their doubleheader with the DeLand Bulldogs tonight until tomorrow evening when they will stage a triphender with the local Navy five and Florida Southern College. Seminole High coach Fred Gans announced yesterday.

The three-game card will get underway at 6:00 p. m. with the Celery Fed JV's tangling the DeLand Bulldog Junior Varsity. At 7:00 p. m. the varsity Fed eagles will meet the first string Bulldogs quintet. Beginning at 8:15 p. m. the Sanford Navy men will engage the Florida Southern hoopsters.

The Fed five continued their excellent practice today in order to be in top form to the DeLand tilt. The Bulldogs will face an improved Seminole cage five tomorrow evening even though the record doesn't prove it.

The local basketballers will employ the Gans version of the "fast break" from a zone defensive setup for the first time against DeLand. The varsity fell in the season's opener last December in the Bulldogs 42-10 at DeLand in a thriller.

The JV Flemingmen will attempt to avenge its 32-16 licking in the DeLand tilt with the Bulldog junior varsity.

PUBLIC HEALTH

JACKSONVILLE—Septic tank sewerage disposal is reported creating public health problems in at least two Florida counties.

Jacksonville's suburban areas are spreading so rapidly that septic tanks in some areas are inadequate to do the job. Dr. Thomas Morgan, Duval County health officer, held a conference of county health officers here Monday.

Dr. Frank Chappell, Hillsborough County health officer, said the same problem was noted at Tampa.

GUN TESTING

SAUSALITO, Calif.—Two veterans of some of the bloodiest fighting in Korea tested their war prize—a Russian machine gun—on the range.

The men complained. But they said they wouldn't protest until they got Raymond Saltonstall, U. S. Army sergeant, to test it. He says he'll accept a medal if he can't get the machine gun to work.

Junior Feds Win Sixth In Row By Slaughtering Parkers 27-6

The Junior High School Feds continued to roll on as they registered their sixth straight victory in a slaughter Winter Park Junior High by a 27-6 score in Winter Park last Friday afternoon. The "winless" Seminole High Freshmen quintet dropped its fourth consecutive tilt as the Parker Fresh ran up a 38-19 triumph in the second contest of the twin bill in Winter Park.

The scoring of Jim Hawkins and Jim Taylor spearheaded the Gardlemen attack as the two eagles contributed 14 points of the 27 Sanford markers. Hawkins tallied 10 and Taylor added eight.

The scrappy local machine held the Parkers to only six points the entire game. Howie Howden, forward on Winter Park, made the lone bucket of the game for the host team. The other four points for the Parkers came on free throws.

The Gardlemen, by defeating the Parker Junior High, extended its season's record to six wins and only one loss for the current season. This is the finest basketball record in Seminole County.

The hapless Sanford fresh quintet was outscored 2 to 1 in its effort to break into the win column for the first time this season, as the Parkers ripped through the local eagles' defense for 38 total points. The Seminole county fresh couldn't imitate the Parker bucket spree as they rattled off only 19 points. Guard Joe Hunt paced the losing attack with eight markers with Johnny Jones and Larry Bates garnering only four points apiece.

The Sanford fresh record now stands at 0-4 in four tilts.

The Sanford Junior High organization will next engage Winter Park five here Feb. 10.

Challenging New Design

NEW FUTURE FEATURES

NEW FORERUNNER STYLING

• This is the car that's stirring up the whole automobile world. This is today's challenger that took 10 years of research in metal engineering, in skillful styling. This is the design that is 'bring—yet keeps you always in mind. You get a sweeping view of the road . . . not just ahead, but close-up down front, and to the fenders. You get "Space-planned" interiors with real keep-your-but on lividness, relaxing stretch-you-feet-out leg room. Every inch of steel, every inch of space has been put to work to serve you. It's beautiful like weight, not dead weight. It's your first look at tomorrow in cars—the most challenging new car of this or any year on the American Road.

Challenging New Performance

NEW POWER-PACKED ROADABILITY

NEW 125 HP HIGH-COMPRESSION V-8

• Year after year, it's Mercury that sets the records for skyrocketing popularity; it's Mercury that takes the top prizes in official economy runs. And this year Mercury's sure-fire hustle is yours in even fuller measure. For there's even more horsepower—advanced, V-8, high-compression power—by the maker of more V-8 engines than all others combined. Wait till you feel its silken smoothness teamed with Merc-O-Matic Drive*. It's a car whose new design and new performance challenge the automotive world. Don't wait. See it today. And drive it.

The Most Challenging New Car You'll See for Years—and Years!

3 GREAT TRANSMISSIONS—Your choice of three performance-proved drives: silent-easy standard transmission, Huffy Touch-O-Matic Overdrive* and Merc-O-Matic*, greatest of all automatic drives. *Optional at extra cost.

Said suit is for divorce, custody of child and settlement of property rights, the property rights being to certain real property located in Lee County, Florida, a more accurate description of which is unknown to the plaintiff.

time by flying lighter-than-air craft. Bob Weldon accompanied him down to Key West but returned to NAAS Saturday, two days before Chief Haynes.

NAAS's Thomas W. Long is leaving the station tonight for an eight day leave. Tom's parents are coming to Florida from his hometown in St. Paul, Minnesota. Tom is planning on showing them some of the sights and also introducing them to Miss Rue Snyder of Orlando. The most important reason for the get-together is the wedding of Tom and Sue, which will be held this Saturday in Orlando.

Between the time I wrote this column Friday and the time the Herald went to press, there was such a big change in the Baseball Naming Contest that my first paragraph was somewhat out of place. Right now, the "Seminole Blues", which is the name this column is going to take for, is in a lowly fifth position. Of course everytime I mention this fact to any of the men in the Station Personnel Office, a twinkle comes to their eye, a sly grin is formed by their lips and they only answer, "Just you wait; the contest is far from finished". It seems Fred Wood and Floyd Grisham have something up their sleeve. Good luck men. From a look at the standings right now, you'll need it.

The Stock Car Team is scheduled to play host to Florida Southern on the Seminole High School hardwood Wednesday night as a highlight in a triple-header basketball game. Lee Yelvington, Jim Barnes, Bob Moore, John Jones and Owen Seymour will be the probable starting five for the navy team and after their road duty to Patrick AFB cancellation of the Navy-Patrias game last night, the men should be in top shape. For a real evening of good basketball, don't miss the triple header at Seminole High School this Wednesday night.

The stock car race at Daytona Beach seemed to be the talk of the town over the weekend and Ken Jones, Wayne Bakken and Floyd Grisham, being very sensible, all went to Daytona and watched them. On the other hand, Ralph Casman and I, not being so very sensible, decided we would rather go to see the Florida State Fair at Tampa.

Ralph and I, accompanied by Margaret and Bob Von Herlitz, left Sanford about 10:00 a.m. Sunday morning with great anticipation about seeing everything at the fair. It was quite a let-down to us when we arrived at the fairgrounds in Tampa only to discover that nothing is open at the fair on Sunday EXCEPT the featured 100 mile stock car race. Ken, Wayne, and Floyd are still laughing at our blunder. Oh, well, it was a beautiful day for a drive to Tampa, wasn't it Ralph?

FRAZIER INDICTED
MIAMI (AP) — W. O. Frazier, AFL union leader of striking Miami and Miami Beach bus drivers, today stood indicted by a Dade County grand jury on a charge of violating the Public Utilities Arbitration Act in the 12-day bus strike.

TWO KILLED
MIAMI (AP) — Joseph K. Rusl, 31-year-old Fort Lauderdale painter, was free under $2,500 bond today on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the deaths of two Miami brothers struck by an automobile early Sunday.

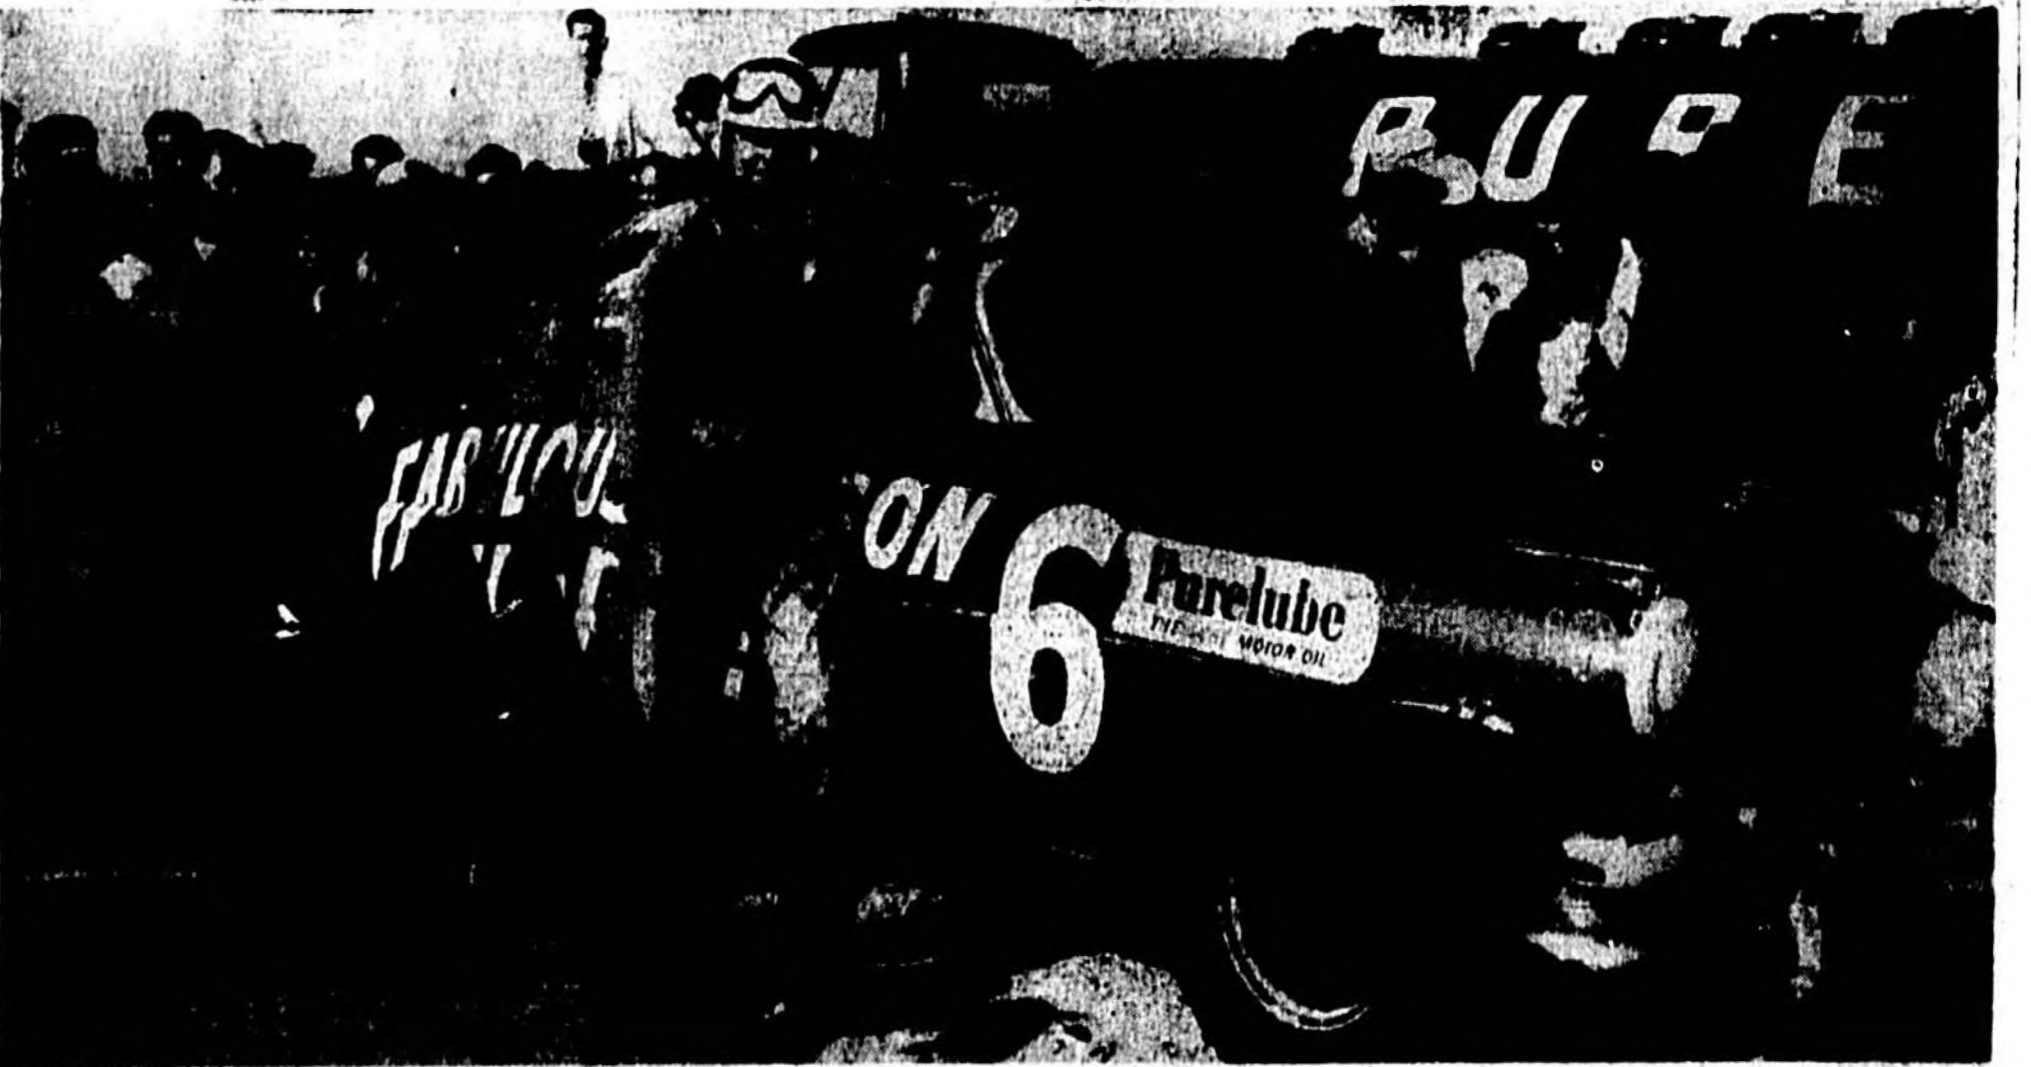

GAMBLING TAX
