FOUR HUNDRED HOMES IN THE BOTTOM LANDS UNDER WATER OF FLOODS

MANY IOWA, NEBRASKA AND DAKOTA CITIES ARE SUFFERING PROPERTY DAMAGE

Resulting from Homes Being Washed Away and Rich Lands Ruined

(By The Associated Press) OMAHA, Neb., March 24.—Unprecedented ice gorges in the Missouri river and tributary streams near Vermillion, S. D., Sioux City and Onawa, Ia., and Dakota City, Neb., have precipitated conditions which present a flood menace for all lowland between Vermillion and Omaha flooding of thousands of acres of rich farm lands in three states and the destruction of farm homes and at least a partial inundation of Sioux City and several lesser cities and towns.

More than four hundred homes in the bottom lands of Sioux City are untenable and a two-foot rise in the waters of the Floyd river backing up from the Missouri river would, according to authorities, inundate an additional forty residential blocks. Residents of near the river section were driven out by the police last night when the swollen waters gradually crept up.

ROTARIANS MEETING TODAY AT ST. PETE

HAVE TWO BREAKFASTS FOR PRESIDENTS AND SEC. RETARIANS

(By The Associated Press) ST. PETERSBURG, March 24.—Rotarians of Florida and Georgia started work early today despite the fact that they were up late last night attending a ball and theatre. The program began with two breakfasts, one for club presidents and one for secretaries, were held to discuss methods for general exchange of ideas that may help each club in handling problems.

OLD POSEY'S LAST STAND TAKEN TODAY

RENEGADE INDIANS WILL FIGHT IT OUT TO THE LAST DITCH

(By The Associated Press) SALT LAKE CITY, March 24.—Old Posey, leader of the renegade Piutes has taken what presumably will be his last stand in Dry Wash twenty miles from Blanding, week's the storm center of the Indian troubles of South-eastern Utah. With this veteran of half a dozen former armed clashes with white settlers are less than a score of trouble-makers of the Piutes but with a few Utes recently joined to the band. Surrounding fastness of the rocky region where the Indians have taken refuge are poised led by Sheriffs acting under orders of United States Marshal Ward who has assumed command of the situation.

(By The Associated Press) Blanding, Utah, March 24.—Cowboy Charley, renegade Piute, and member of the warring Allen canyon band of redskins, was killed late yesterday in a fight with a posse of white settlers near Washcomb, north of here, according to word received by courier from Medicine Hat. The fight was a pitched affair and although Cowboy Charley's body was not found, five braves and four squaws who were taken prisoners, said he had been shot to death. But three of the original band of renegades—said to number twelve—are still at large and the end of the miniature uprising is believed in sight. Possesmen are reported to be hot on the trail of Old Posey, the reputed leader of the renegades, Joe Bishop, the tribe medicine man, and an Indian youth known as Dutch's boy.

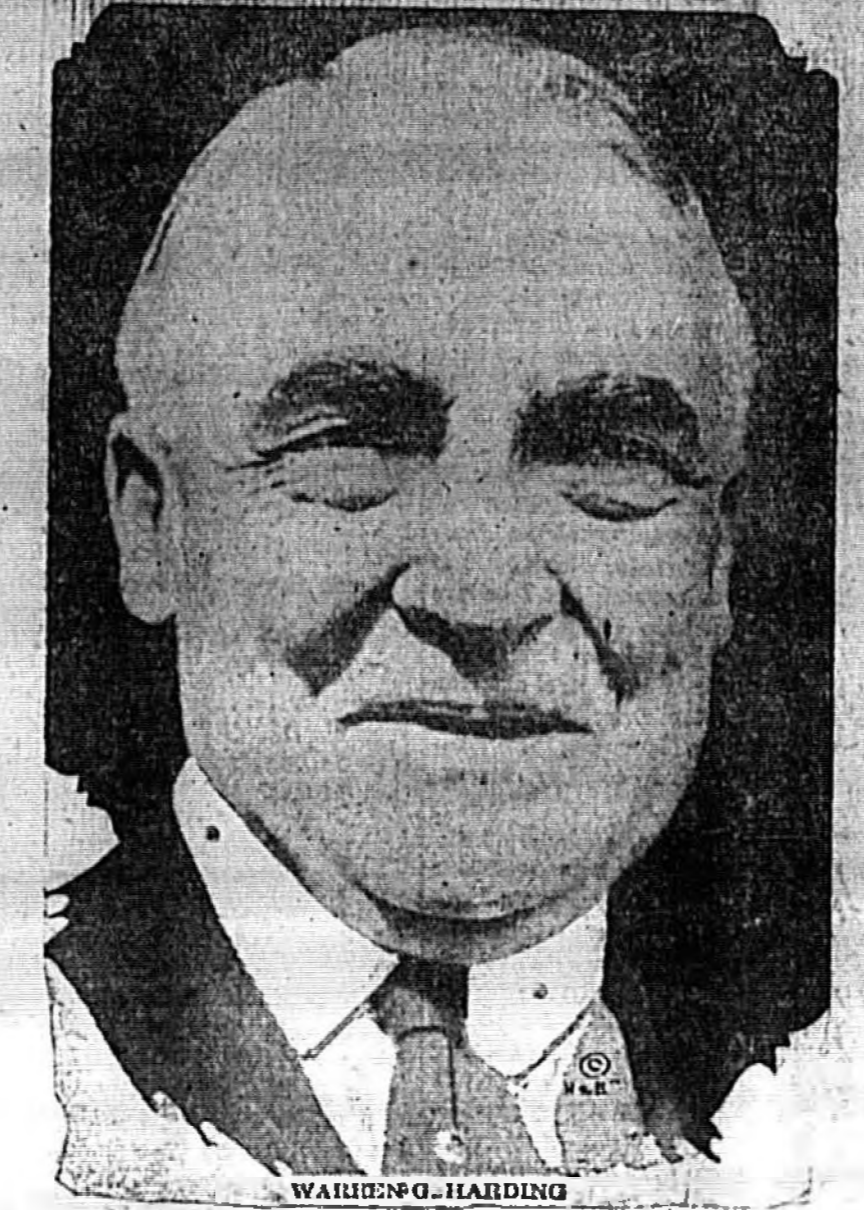

Another Record Is Established Speed Flight

Major Heffernan Covers 75 Miles in 18 Minutes

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 24.—Another record for speed has been established by the army service, according to an official report of the war department. The new mark was made by Major Heffernan on a recent flight from Nogales, Ariz., to Fort Bliss, Texas, a distance of seventy-five miles from Columbus, N. M., to Texas Post was covered in eighteen minutes, at an average speed of 250 miles an hour. The report said Heffernan and the observer made flight in the face of a blinding sandstorm.

WARREN G. HARDING

PRESIDENT HARDING ON WAY TO ST. AUGUSTINE WITH PARTY, WILL END THE BOAT TRIP

Expects to Meet Leaders of Party at St. Augustine for Conference

(By The Associated Press) DAYTONA, March 24.—President Harding and his vacation party last night neared the end of the houseboat cruise which has covered eighteen days and approximately 600 miles. Today, the President and Mrs. Harding and the other members of the party will arrive in St. Augustine and transfer their vacation home to the houseboat Pioneer to the hotel Ponce de Leon. After a week's stay in the old Spanish city, the presidential party will leave Florida for Washington, stopping enroute at Augusta, Ga., and possibly at one of the Carolina resorts such as Asheville. The Pioneer was anchored last night, about mid-way between Daytona and St. Augustine and is expected to reach the latter city some time this afternoon, probably in time to allow the presidential foursome to try out one of the golf courses there. The president, with Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, former Director Dawes of the budget and Edward B. McLean left the Pioneer yesterday morning at New Smyrna and motored up along the Halifax river to Seabreeze for a round over the Clarendon Golf course. In doing so he passed by Daytona where he had been expected to play golf. While the president was having his round of golf the Pioneer steamed up the river to Ormond, six miles above here, where he went aboard after the golf game.

On learning of the death of Milo D. Campbell, recently appointed member of the Federal Reserve Board, Mr. Harding sent a message of condolences to Mrs. Campbell. It was stated authoritatively that the vacancy on the board would not be filled until the president returns to Washington. Anxious inquiries were made here as to the condition of Mrs. Weeks, wife of the secretary of war who was taken to Washington yesterday on a special train after having become seriously ill during a houseboat trip. The President and Mrs. Harding had looked forward to having Secretary of War and Mrs. Weeks spend the part of the vacation at St. Augustine with them. The declaration of Senator Borah of Idaho, in his Akron speech Wednesday night that formation of a third party appeared "not probable," has in no wise disturbed the serenity of the president's vacation cruise. Newspapers containing accounts of Senator Borah's speech, which advised the Republican party leaders to quit a policy of "gun-shoeing" after scattered votes and to enunciate a set of forward looking principals, were received aboard the Pioneer Thursday after she anchored off New Smyrna, fifteen miles south of here.

GEORGETOWN VICTOR IN RIFLE CONTEST

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 24.—A marksmanship victory for Georgetown university over Boston university was announced yesterday by the National Rifle association in a statement containing a remarkable competitive achievement by teams of both institutions. The plans for the match called for determination of the winner by scores of the first five men on each team of ten, but when the bulls eyes were counted and it was found all of those men had perfect marks. Then it was agreed to count the hits of the sixth and seventh men of both teams, and the score still remained a tie, without a miss. The eighth and ninth men had a score of 99, but Georgetown's 10th man had turned in 99 to his opponent's 98 out of a possible 100 and Washington institution was given the victory by one.

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, March 24.—Attorney General Buford has refused to permit the use of his name as Attorney General by certain gasoline retailers in St. Petersburg who operate filling stations on their private property in action to restrain the "sidewalk" dealer from operating, it was learned yesterday. Certain dealers in St. Petersburg who operate stations on sides set apart for the purpose, contemplated action against the curb tankers and sought the attorney general's endorsement of their complaint that the little fellow constituted a public nuisance. The attorney general replied that he did not think the nuisance existed and that it appeared to him to be an effort to push the small dealer out of business.

WHO ARE CONSIDERING TURKISH COUNTER PROPOSALS GAVE HIS VIEWS

Concerning Various Financial Clauses and That of Angora Government

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, March 24.—Former Premier Venizelos, of Greece, appeared before the financial subcommittee of Allied Delegates who are considering Turkish counter proposals to the Lausanne peace treaty draft and gave the Greek government his view concerning various financial clauses and the Angora governments reiterated the request for indemnification for damage caused in Anatolia by the Greek army. It is understood Venizelos said if the Turks refused to renounce claims for indemnity Greece would ask war indemnity for Smyrna and cost of Smyrna occupation which was undertaken by Greece at the request of the Allies.

Higgins Enthusiastic Over New Models Shown at Jacksonville

Sanford Ford Representative Looked Them Over at Auto Show

Edward Higgins, Sanford's able representative in Sanford, upon his return from the automobile show in Jacksonville, was enthusiastic over the exhibits of Lincoln and Ford cars shown there. The Lincoln car display of the Ford Motor company, were, without a peer, and attracted the attention of everyone interested in cars of quality. He said. The Lincoln cars are showing remarkable advance in the construction of fine motor-car body work and are distinguished by superior finish. Mechanically the cars present a number of refinements and a new conception in finish of the working parts of the motor itself. All developments in the Lincoln tend toward the ultimate perfection in automobile design and construction.

Mr. Higgins drove back a seven passenger sedan for S. O. Chase, which was one of the cars eliciting the admiration of those who attended the show. This makes the second Lincoln purchased by Mr. Chase within the past five months. Since Mr. Higgins has had the contract for the sale of Lincoln cars he has sold over five in Sanford and states that he has prospects for several more. Discriminating users of high grade cars, according to Mr. Higgins, are recognizing that the Lincoln is the same of perfection in motor, and is proven conclusively by the phenomenal sales being made.

New improvements in the Ford cars, both open and enclosed models, are attracting much favorable comment. The finish is of a high quality aspect. The planting introduced on the open models add to the general attractiveness of these popular cars and persons interested in the enclosed types remark upon the choice of fabrics used in the upholstery. The high excellence of Ford performance is, of course, universally recognized. Reports coming in at the Jacksonville branch of the Ford Motor Company show rather astonishing sales of Ford cars and indications are that a shortage will come soon. Sales for ten months now have exceeded 100,000 a month so that absorption is about neck and neck with production at the factory. There is no question but what the prospective purchaser of a Ford car will act wisely if he places his order immediately. Then he will be assured of having his car when he wants it and will not have to wait.

The Republican clans are gathering in St. Augustine and will plan the campaign for the next big election. Well, they will have a lot of explaining to do when the time comes.

The department will now start a "sugar probe." All of those who think it will amount to anything hold up their hands. Like other probes it will whitewash the guilty and make the price of sugar go up.

Those folks in Dakota who are taking up the case of the boy who was whipped to death in a Florida prison camp are certainly getting Florida in bad. The latest is a booklet telling all the details of the killing and it certainly casts a black stain on the officials of Florida and the name of Florida. If the assertions are true, somebody in Florida ought to go to jail for life.

Many new business blocks, many new homes and many municipal improvements are planned for this summer, but it will take many thousands of dollars of outside money to build enough houses to take care of the people who want to live here. Sanford needs a million dollars of capital right now and the men who have money to loan can find their best investment in Sanford. If you know of any folks who have money to loan get them to come to Sanford, the fastest growing city in the south.

BETTER NOT SAY IT!

Bad news travels faster than good news. There is an old saying, "No news is good news." Let a man be converted at a church service and there is not much of a stir, but let a resident be convicted of some crime and the news leaps by word of mouth from one end of the community to the other.

How thoughtlessly unkind we sometimes are when neighbors of ours suffer misfortune! Troubles are bound to come to us all in some shape or form and what we say about our friends and acquaintances today may apply to us tomorrow. News is no respecter of persons.

We are prone to consider the ways of others not our ways when we should be watching our own step. What folks say of one another sometimes hurts more than anything could have done. News, either good or bad, grows and becomes exaggerated and distorted with peddling. When the news is good it makes no material difference how it is exaggerated or distorted—it can never do anyone positive harm. But bad news, given wings, may bring sorrow and ruin upon people who certainly are not deserving of a punishment beyond the penalty of their mistake.

More charity for others will mean more charity for ourselves and we will gradually come to take a keener delight in reporting something good of some person than something bad. Good is constructive, bad is destructive. Just before you are about to let out a bit of "bad news" stop and think a moment. See if you can't think of something good to say in place of it. The chances are ten to one that you can, and that you will.—Exchange

THE Y. M. C. A. IS FOR ALL

Some people have peculiar ideas about the great work of the Y. M. C. A. As for instance, a contributor in the Tampa Tribune writes that the Y. M. C. A. building cannot be built on the campus of the University of Florida on account of its being a religious sect. The Tribune rightly answers:

"Mr. Ohlinger, the Tribune's esteemed controversialist of Haines City comes back on the question of the students' activities building at the State University which he recently declared could not be constitutionally erected or maintained on state property, because it will be under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. The Tribune ventured to suggest that the Young Men's Christian Association could not be considered a 'sect' within the meaning of the Constitution. Mr. Ohlinger refers to Webster, who defines 'sect' as 'those following a particular leader or authority, or attached to a certain opinion; a company or set having a common belief or allegiance from others. In religion, the believing in a particular creed; or upholding of a particular practice.'"

The Websterian definition confirms the Tribune in its opinion that the Young Men's Christian Association is not a "sect." We are speaking of sects in religion and that is the kind of "sect" the constitution means. The Y. M. C. A. does not believe in a "particular creed" or uphold a "particular practice." It embraces all Christian creeds and all Christian practices. No court, state or federal, will ever hold that an institution conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., located on the grounds of the State University, violates the Constitution of Florida. Such an institution—and, in fact, this building will not be an institution but a part of the University—will be as open and available to all as the university itself. It will not teach or support any denomination or sect, but will be for all the students of the university, regardless of creed or faith, to give them the inspiration of clean living, clean thinking, making better men, better citizens."

The editor of the Herald who has long contended that too much stress is laid on the particular kind of religion of a man does not give Christians as a body the right kind of assistance and the right kind of community spirit and we are of the same mind as the Tribune. The Y. M. C. A. makes no exception to the rule but attends to the wants of people of all religions regardless of creed or sect or nativity. This should be set straight in the minds of all the people now and forever.

MUST HAVE THEIR GOLF

It has come to pass that a resort town without a golf course is a "has been" or worse, a "never was." For the tourist must have his golf. If he plays like a bull calf chasing a dog, he still must have his clubs and carry them out to the course and practice "putting and approaches" and "improve his stance." No traveling outfit nowadays is complete without the golf bag; otherwise somebody might mistake one for a business man out representing some mercantile house—unthinkable to some and undesirable from any angle when one is out on a vacation trip. Half the vacation pleasure comes from acting the part and talking about it afterwards.

Leesburg is more fortunate than most of her citizens know in having such a course as the one at Silver Lake thrown open to those who want to play and as an attraction for those who want to spend a season in Leesburg and must have their golf.

The other day when we were in a meeting to discuss the feasibility of a nice tourist hotel on the shores of Lake Harris, the hotel man insisted upon including the cost of acquiring land and making a golf course. He did not know we had done as near as Silver Lake and he was so intent on his own plans that it took several minutes and several repetitions to get it into his head that guests would be able to play at Silver Lake and that taxis would be ready to run them out there in ten or twelve minutes at any hour of the day. When that finally percolated through his head he cut off about $60,000 to $75,000 expense in a couple of shakes. One of the big questions had been solved.

All of which is brought to mind very forcibly by the following editorial from the Melbourne Times: The people of Melbourne now realize more than ever how valuable an asset a golf course is to a town. Some have thought in times past that a project of this character was largely for

CONDITIONS IN MOUNTAIN STATES

BAHSON LISTS ASSETS OF RUGGED WEST

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Mich. 24.—Today Roger W. Babson issued his report on conditions in that section of the country which extends from the agricultural states through to the Pacific coast states. This group consists of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona and a part of Texas and Oklahoma.

"I am very fond of this mountain section," says Mr. Babson. "It is the section which develops those manly and robust qualities which are the backbone of American civilization. This is the west, which developed Roosevelt spiritually, mentally and physically. Rugged character of both country and people, freedom from artificial conventionalities and the custom of judging men solely by what they are; characterize these mountain states. This was very forcibly bro't to my mind last month when, on my way south, I stopped in Philadelphia to call upon George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, a man who it is said has the greatest potential influence of any man in America. When urging Mr. Lorimer to visit me in the South he replied: 'Babson, the South is all right for those who want to live in big hotels and play golf—but give me the Grand Canyon of Colorado where I can ride up and down the trails. There is something about that mountainous country that inspires me as well as rests me.' Similar statements have been made to me by many of America's greatest captains of industry. They may go to other sections of the country for amusement and diversion but when they desire real recreation, to be re-built and re-created, they go into the Rocky Mountains."

"Yet," continues Mr. Babson, "this mountain section has its struggles. The same difficulties, which meet the traveler when climbing the hills and crossing the deserts, seem to confront those who have settled down to develop the country. Not only has this section suffered more than any other, but its problems are more difficult of solution. The chief industries are cattle and sheep raising, mining, lumbering and a certain amount of agriculture including the raising of very fine fruit in certain irrigated sections. All of these lines have suffered during the past few years and are only now beginning to look better."

"Re-adjustment in this section has been severe and prolonged, but I believe that 1923 will go down in history as a year of local improvement. Although sharp upturn is likely, those doing business in these states will note a gradual broadening of purchasing activities and a diminishing volume of overdue accounts. From a mining standpoint 1922 was one of the worst years on record. Poor market conditions and the unusually low prices for copper, lead and zinc resulted in the closing of many mines. The value of the leading mineral products taken out of the ground in Montana in 1921 was only $16,212,000 compared with $65,573,000 in 1920. Greatest activity was noted in the mining of silver and silver-lead ores. The market for all of the non-ferrous metals is quiet, but the fundamental tendency is toward a better demand and strengthening prices. Already a number of the larger mines and refining plants have resumed operations. Progress along these lines may be slow for a few months, but it the benefit of a few. They could not always see clearly that what was a benefit to the community as a whole was a benefit to every individual, whose prosperity depended upon the prosperity of the town. It must be remembered, too, that in the case of the Melbourne golf links the men and women who use them most have had to bear the trials and difficulties incident to making the Golf and Country Club what it is today.

During a conversation with Brigadier General Sawyer, the personal physician of the president, while on the links last Thursday, after he had inspected the club house, he remarked to the editor of The Times: "You people are doing things here. You have attracted the President of the United States to Melbourne. If you can do that you can attract others." The truth of the matter is our golf links have already attracted a very appreciable number of tourists, who would not have come to Melbourne but for the opportunity afforded to play golf. Golf is the one big attraction we have for that class of tourists who come to Florida to play in the great outdoors—and they belong to the class whose influence will be far reaching in our efforts to attract others to Melbourne.

Stand by the Golf and Country Club. It is one of our biggest assets and deserves the support of everyone who has the welfare of the city at heart.—Leesburg Commercial.

BERLIN, March 24.—The Prussian government has decided to dissolve the German nationalistic party as a result of an investigation into the activities of former Lieutenant Rosbach, who was recently arrested on suspicion of being connected with the plans for a reactionary putsch, it was announced in the diet by Minister of the Interior Servering.

JOHNNY J. JONES' EXPOSITION BECOMES A FLORIDA INSTITUTION

While on a special mission of "covering" the Loyal Order of Moose Convention festivities at the Orlando Sub-Tropical Fair Grounds last January the Herald representative met Ed. R. Salter, universally known as Johnny J. Jones' hired boy, who in his dignified moments answers to the more highfaluting title of publicity manager of Johnny J. Jones' Exposition. Asked to what preparations his organization was making, Salter in his natural urbane manner, suggested to the scribe a stroll through the winter quarters which was compiled with after the Moose entertainment was finished and right here let it be recorded that the city of Orlando evidently does not realize the full extent and magnitude of this great amusement enterprise and what a big financial gain it means to the city, the making of its winter quarters at this objective point. Since the arrival here of the Jones Steel Flyer, December 11th over one hundred men have been steadily employed, building new paraphernalia and repairing other property. Many new wagons have been built, new wood carved fronts designed, many new "tops" as the tents are termed, as well as repairing the old ones. The first to catch our view: was nearly one hundred wagons of ponderous size, some new and with bodies made of steel, all gaily painted a bright red with orange color trimmings. Then came the blacksmith shop with many grimy "smithies" at work. There is a good sized planing mill in operation where all sorts of fancy scroll sawing is accomplished. The paint shop, under the direction of William Sturgis, a noted scenic artist, with a corps of helpers, is very large and commodious, enabling the artists to employ their time at many different angles of the work in hand without one discommoding the other. Mr. Sturgis informed the writer that in the few years he has been in Mr. Jones' employ, they have expended over $25,000 for one item alone—Gold Leaf.

Next we met Johnny J. Jones himself and his secretary-treasurer, Mr. R. H. Cooke, busily engaged in the specially constructed and magnificent office wagon. Captain Sigsbee, owner and teacher of that remarkable horse known as "The Captain" was found in one of the large buildings, where all the trained animals are domiciled. It was training hour and Capt. Sigsbee was busily engaged putting a huge Gorilla through some stunts. This human looking beast is a late addition to the Jones aggregation and the Captain explained his crankiness to lack of acclimation. In another part of the building the elephant trainer was putting his herd of pachyderms through a routine of marvelous and almost unbelievable tricks. In the machine under Supt. C. Frank Stillman had under construction a new fun house, as yet unnamed. The Whip, Carroussel and Ferris Wheel have all been thoroughly over-hauled, decorated and painted, with a new organ for the Carroussel and all three are apparently new. Mabelle Mack's Military Maneuvering Mules have been taught some new business and the members of both sexes attached to the Wild West Hippodrome were busily engaged "rehearsing" their more or less daring acts of the plains. The Great Water Spectacle with aquatic sports and a bevy of devine diving venues, as at Habana Park, Havana, Cuba, where Johnny J. Jones had a large number of attractions, playing since December first.

The latest and most sensational of all trick fun houses, the Catapillar, was also at Havana, but all of the Jones attractions then playing the Cuban city have returned and are now with the Florida contingent.

There was a cafe on the grounds, managed by Isidore Fireside and just as we reached it a bell was sounded calling and then came the horde of workmen, mechanics, animal trainers and performers of all descriptions, also some of the executive staff and Johnny J. Jones himself with his "hired boy" and the scribe, sat down to a most sumptuous meal of wholesome food. Incidentally the Chef informed us that the meat bill alone for one week was about $300. We missed the Midgets, but Mr. Jones informed us they had gone home to France for their vacation, to return here this spring. Mr. Jones had just received a cablegram from O. Marchal, his European agent, advising that he is now negotiating for two more little people, which will increase the troupe to nine.

A new motor drome then being constructed is more massive and of a different pattern than the one used last season. Two very large side-shows nearly completed are not like the ordinary old-fashioned "pit" show but are said to be copied more on the character of those seen in European Expositions. Mr. Jones reiterates his determination not to exhibit any human monstrosities and this is an innovation that will commend itself to all intelligent people.

Johnny J. Jones' Exposition is the one out-door amusement enterprise never allowing so-called "girl shows" and gambling and the new decision relative to unsightly freaks will be received in the same high favor. There is to be a Jungland attraction and it will contain animals and birds from all parts of the world. Some twenty-five attractions are listed for appearance this season and each of them is of an novelistic or interestingly instructive nature and out of this wondrous array of attractions, Mr. Jones advises only two of last year's features remain, practically making the 1923 Johnny J. Jones' Exposition an entirely new organization. The train will consist of some thirty odd cars, part of them Pullmans. The baggage, stock and flat cars are all 70 feet in length and composed entirely of steel. It's the only "all steel" train utilized for out-door amusement transportation and are "The apple of the eye" in Johnny J. Jones' estimation.

Well, Orlando may not be fully appreciative of this big aggregation, but she should be mighty proud of the distinction placed upon her by being the home of the largest, greatest, cleanest, most meritorious out-door entertainment in this or any other country and Orlando business men should wake up and understand the stupendous amount of free advertising they and the entire state of Florida attains through the Johnny J. Jones' Exposition medium. The Jones route takes them to all the important exhibitions, state fairs, Canadian Expositions, home-coming celebrations, etc., and when messages through the form of newspaper notices, are received, stating "Johnny J. Jones Exposition beat all records here," why the news to his intimate friends throughout Florida is as refreshing as the Mr. Harding had signed a bill allowing "light wines and beer."

This excellent organization will be seen here at Sanford all next week with continuous daily performances from 2 p. m. until midnight.

With favorable weather the grading job should be about completed by the first of July, it is stated.

Bill Johnston Richards' Jinx in Net Matches

By VINCENT RICHARDS Famous Tennis Star

Out from the west each year emerges William M. Johnston, Pacific coast champion.

"Little Bill," as he is familiarly known, travels 3,000 miles across the continent every summer and never fails to leave the east without a "bag full of titles" when he starts again for Los Angeles after a strenuous period of tournament play.

There isn't a player in the tennis game who is more popular today than Johnston. His personality has a big bearing in this regard, but when one sees Bill in action he never forgets his performance and always welcomes the opportunity to get a second glimpse of the champion.

"I was, and am convinced, that no pitcher as good as Smith was in 1920, could be ready for the minors two years later. I refused to waive on Smith on the form he showed in the big series, and I feel that I made a wise move.

"Smith is going to work regularly and win a lot of ball games for me. He has plenty of stuff, but best of all has control, a fault, so prevalent with all southpaws."

Now what you think of "Quincy Adams Sawyer?"

It pleased some large crowds at the Princess last night.

Just as big a crowd will be just as pleased again tonight.

We would say to the man, woman or child that is not at the Princess tonight, that it's your hard luck—you will miss one of the best.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hoy will see "Quincy Adams Sawyer" from the best seats in the house tonight as Osborne's guests.

And then we can look forward to a big week next week. A copy of the program will convince you that something good awaits the movie fans all week.

Florida legislators will be asked by the board of trade to prohibit the shooting of fish or use of nets under any circumstances in Highlands county lakes, the board of governors decided and the secretary was instructed to take steps to have the county's lakes repopulated from the government hatcheries. Bass and perch were suggested as the most desirable specimens.

Both Miami and Palm Beach number some of the best amateur swimmers of the country who are spending the winter in Florida in order to keep in training, and the 'Gators defect in coping with such talent does in no way lessen their ability. In addition they were severely handicapped by the long automobile ride down the East Coast and were unable to swim two days prior to the first meet.

Every effort is being made to schedule meets with the Jacksonville "Y" and Jacksonville Red Cross for some time during next month, either in Jacksonville or Gainesville. They are also booked to meet the Tampa "Y" men with the combat to take place during the middle of April.

The Tech affair will be the first inter-collegiate water meet ever engaged in by the University of Florida and marks a new era for the water sports which have been increasing in popularity with leaps and bounds during the past few years.

Sherrod Smith Wins a Regular Place on Staff

LAKELAND, March 24.—Contrary to the belief in some quarters, Sherrod Smith, secured from Brooklyn, is not to be used merely as a relief pitcher by Cleveland.

The big left hander, who was waived out of the National league, is reckoned as a regular by Speaker. The leader of the Indians feels that Smith will fill a long felt want on the Cleveland ball club, a southpaw able to deliver.

"There wasn't a chance to send Smith to the minors when Brooklyn asked for waivers," said Speaker in discussing the case.

"The very mention of the name of Smith always took me back to the 1920 world series and the trouble he made for us. I never saw better pitching than Smith put on display in that series.

"I was, and am convinced, that no pitcher as good as Smith was in 1920, could be ready for the minors two years later. I refused to waive on Smith on the form he showed in the big series, and I feel that I made a wise move.

CELERY SEED

Pat Moran now begins his weeding out.

The first to go from the Orlando camp are Alan Clarke and Jim Hardgrave, two rookie pitchers who have been given their unconditional release.

Mike McTeague has accepted Carpenter's offer to fight but no decision has been arrived at as to whether the fight will be in America or Ireland.

Roy Chittenden will represent Sanford in the State golf tournament at Jax next month. Bart Hornum will buy his golf balls if he consents to go. H. R. Stevens will buy him a new set of golf clubs if he ends up in as good at fifth place and Ralph Stevens will buy him a new car if he brings home first honors.

Sisler, who has been laid up with illness announces that he will be able to join his club at Shreveport, La., on April 2nd or 3rd.

Time for Sanford high baseball team to get into action. Orlando is all set and their high school team beat Eastis yesterday 6 to 4.

The latest dope has it that Sanford, if she should have some baseball this summer, has another pitcher. Young Thompson is the lad and has made a name for himself at college. He went to school and played on the same team that Joe Sewell did, the same Sewell that is going big for Cleveland.

A baseball park and just a fair amount of push, would put a fairly good semi-pro club in the field to represent Sanford with but darned little cost. If

The experienced motorist today is concerned mostly about the mechanical design of the car he intends to buy. Useless ornamentation has been eliminated from the GRAY, but no expense has been spared or no detail neglected in perfecting the mechanism. The remarkable gasoline consumption record established officially by the sanction of the American Automobile Association, by the Gray of 33.8 miles is due to its splendid designing and fine engineering. As near a straight line drive as is possible has been incorporated in the GRAY. There is a minimum loss of power from friction and consequently a smaller quantity of gasoline is required to drive a given distance. The low first cost, low operating cost and reliable motor, these are features that are pleasing GRAY drivers. Many GRAY drivers tell us they have spent, nothing in driving 5,000 miles except for gasoline and oil. Every GRAY has mechanical features that assure big mileage. Its engine is so perfectly balanced, so finely machined throughout, that it gets the maximum power from gasoline. The car is so well designed and has such frictionless bearing that a five-year-old child can roll the touring car along the pavement. This easy operation, with its reserve power, assures economical operation to its owner.

High School Students 'Will Earn Money For Their Equipment

The students of Sanford High School have chosen a business-like method of earning money with which to purchase athletic equipment which the school wants very much. They have launched the course in salesmanship provided by The Curtis Publishing Company, of Philadelphia, which gives them training in salesmanship, and at the same time provides them with a method for earning this money through securing subscriptions for the Ladies' Home Journal outside of school hours this week. This course has been conducted thru more than 6,000 schools and has the endorsement of some of the country's leading educators and foremost business men. H. A. C. Smith, vocational director for this district, delivered a very interesting lecture to the students, explaining the present-day need for a knowledge of salesmanship and giving the principles of selling. He followed this with a little two-act play: "How Not to Sell" and "How to Sell." Some very worth-while instruction in salesmanship was gained, which is to be followed up by the students in their practical sales work this week. The school is divided into two teams, the Pinks with Miss Maude Carraway, as leader, and the Whites with Bill Moye as leader. Silver pencils will be awarded by the school to the boys and girls making the best record in salesmanship. Keen rivalry has developed between the opposing sides. The Daily Herald, 15c per week.

THE WEIGHT AND QUALITY OF OUR BREAD IS RIGHT!

You will find that our bread is just right. The tastiness of it will make your appetite sit up and take notice and the weight of it will make you feel that you're getting the food-value of your money. It's important that you should remember the name of our bread and that you impress it upon the groceryman.
