Eisenhower Thinks Court Seeks Means For Integration

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today he understands the Supreme Court is trying to find some sort of decentralized process for ordering race integration in the public schools.

Eisenhower told a news conference he believes the court, when making its final ruling, will take into consideration the emotional and practical problems involved in ending segregation.

He said it was his understanding the court was trying to work out the problem under some sort of decentralized process.

This seemed to indicate enforcement of the court's final decision on integration order might be left to regional authorities — perhaps to U. S. District Courts.

Several of the states whose present separate schools for Negro and white children would be affected by the final Supreme Court ruling have argued that the changeover must be fitted to local conditions with no absolute, universal formula for instant application everywhere.

Now in his second year on the air, Milland likes TV much better than the movies.

One reason is that since he's become accustomed to it, "things come much easier." But the more important reason is that his role as a drama professor in a good college is more to his liking than that of a movie actor.

'Giveaway' Shows Find Fertile Ground In Television Field

By WAYNE OLIVER
NEW YORK—The giveaway, which flourished and then withered on radio, has found fertile soil in television.

The giant jackpot, the milk coat refrigerator, the trip to Copenhagen or Capri, the 10-year supply of atomized cereal, the unsinkable kayak—all are blossoming on TV as they did a few years ago in radio, but with pictures as well as sound.

The Federal Communications Commission stands by helplessly to crack down, and performers on competing shows fume that "it's giving an audience," but the giveaways grow lusher and more numerous.

The FCC attempted to outlaw giveaways on both radio and TV five years ago but its ban was voided by a federal court decision that was upheld by the Supreme Court seven months ago.

In radio, the producers and sponsors of giveaways could point to high audience popularity ratings and say, "Nobody loves them but the public." But on TV, at least at night, the only show at the top 10 ratings that has a giveaway angle is Groucho Marx's "You Bet Your Life." But it serves mainly as a vehicle for his quips and is filmed in advance, with viewers aware the contestants have won or lost long before the telecast.

Network shows on which the giveaway angle is predominant include "The Big Payoff, On Your Account, Name That Tune, Strike It Rich, Dollar a Second, Beat the Clock, Two for the Money, Feather Your Nest, and video versions of two old radio standbys, "Stop the Music and Break the Bank."

The latest Shower of Stars from Hollywood on CBS-TV might more aptly have been described as "Shower of Cars." The show was an almost continuous commercial on the auto sponsor's new models. But the appearance on the program of Ed Wynn served to remind viewers that one of the great comics of our time isn't seen often enough on TV.

Florida Citrus Exposition Will Be Staged Jan. 15-22

WINTER HAVEN—Calling on all segments of the Florida citrus industry to cooperate with the Florida Citrus Exposition in staging a show "which will show our own people as well as the hundreds of thousands of visitors the importance of Florida citrus," Jack M. Berry, P.E. president, today described the annual event as "the show window of the state's greatest agricultural industry."

The exposition which is scheduled for showing Jan. 15-22, is not "a local event," but one which embraces the entire billion dollar citrus industry and is designated to show the public all facets of the growing, packing, processing and merchandising of citrus, he said.

For example, he cited the exhibits of the Florida State Plant Board which will demonstrate what is being done to eliminate or at least control pests and diseases which are common to all agriculture. The Florida Department of Agriculture will have exhibits showing what is done to insure quality fruit going to market in all its forms.

The plans for installing and operating a complete "Junior" packing house unit for the 1955 exposition have been completed. The Exposition will have its own label, using the theme of the 1935 show, "Florida's Golden Treasure," for fruit packed during the show. The various processes of canning and concentrating will also be graphically portrayed, Berry said.

"All of this is designed to give our visitors, as well as our own people, a bird-eye picture of what the Florida citrus industry means, not only to the economy of the State of Florida, but to the health and welfare of the entire nation," Berry said.

Top quality Florida fresh citrus fruits will be entered in the annual "Fresh Fruit Contest" which will give premiums and awards for the best commercial packs in all varieties from all of the seven citrus commission districts and for the best home pack.

Committees for the various special events, such as the parade on Monday, Jan. 17, the "Florida Citrus Queen" contest, "Governor's Day" on Jan. 20, and the "Treats-Breakfast" on Jan. 21 will be announced late this week, Berry promised.

Church Of England Assembly Demands New Methods For Appointing Bishops

LONDON—The Assembly of the Church of England has called for a change in the method of appointing its bishops and drawn a function in which Britain's Prime Minister has an important role.

A resolution approved by the Assembly recently said the present system "is open to objection and should be modified." It did not indicate what changes should be made.

A church spokesman said the resolution was considered at present only an expression of opinion and would not be pushed at this stage.

"The Church of England is Britain's state church. The sovereign now makes the appointments on the 'advice' of the Prime Minister. By custom, the Prime Minister first confers with the Archbishop of Canterbury, spiritual head of the church.

Like all prime ministers in the past 20 years except Neville Chamberlain, Prime Minister Churchill is a member of the church. Chamberlain was a Presbyterian.

The resolution objecting to the established appointment method was approved by the Assembly after Dr. Cyril Garbutt, archbishop of York, told members it was wrong for spiritual society to have its chief officers appointed by one who need not be either a churchman or a Christian.

He was joined by Lord Selborne, a prominent lay leader, who said there were fears that some future prime minister might not care about church appointments and might be open to bad service.

Fading Nazis

The imprisoned Nazi war criminals grow fewer. The release of the 81-year-old Konstantin von Neurath, Hitler's first Foreign Minister, leaves only seven in the prison fortress of Spandau, Germany. These are Rudolf Hess, Hitler's deputy, who made the mysterious flight to England during the war; Walther Funk, former Economics Minister; Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, all serving life terms. Sentenced to 20-year terms are Armaments Minister Albert Speer and Baldur von Schirach, head of the Reich Youth. Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, named by Hitler as his successor, is serving a ten-year term.

Neurath was an aristocrat, contrasting greatly with his successor, the bumptious Joachim von Ribbentrop, a former champagne salesman. He was luckier than Ribbentrop, merely getting a prison term, while Ribbentrop was hanged. Both were ruthless. Neurath's special offense was his cruelty as war governor of Bohemia and Moravia.

The Allies did not make the mistake of World War I, when the war criminals went free. The imprisonment visited on Neurath and the rest at Spandau, besides the executions and suicides of others, were a small price for the misery they caused.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Jesus Christ, who is the ruler of the earth—Revelation 1:5. When St. John wrote this, no earthly king regarded Christ as his ruler, but in time every kingly crown in all civilized lands the world round had Christ's cross at the top of his crown. Had they been sincere in accepting Christ's rulership their crowns would never have been

Timetables Alter In Iceland Cold

KEFLAVIK AIRPORT, Iceland (AP)—All that goes up has to come down.

But sometimes the international air tourist of today doesn't always come down where he planned to. The vagaries of wind and weather still influence the big, winged covered wagons he flies in, and on occasion they combine to land him for a free look at a country that wasn't part of the scheduled trip.

Your timetable tourist may get peeved at this and regard it as a conspiracy against his vacation program. Those who regard travel as a form of adventure in itself, however, will accept the situation as an unexpected bonus.

So I felt fortunate that strong headwinds—and a wheel broken in landing—gave me a chance to land at this northern U. S. airbase and see my first sunrise on Iceland.

Our big Sabena DC6 plane, after taking off from Brussels, was supposed to pause at Shannon in Ireland before proceeding to New York. But to avoid powerful Atlantic headwinds it curved northward to refuel here.

We skidded to a perfect landing, but as we rolled across the frigid field there was a sudden loud crack. It sounded as if we had merely crumpled a patch of ice.

But when we alighted the captain immediately went to one of the wheels and discovered it had snapped. As two big wheels are paired on each side against such an emergency, the danger, if any, had been slight.

A broken wheel on a covered wagon in the days when the West was being settled was often a real calamity. But this mishap to our plane was only a mild vexation.

Thanksgiving 1954

Thanksgiving has come to be a day of merriment, of family gatherings, of feasts and friendships renewed. That is as it should be. In the midst of our enjoyment of the holiday, however, we must not forget the higher purpose of the day, that it has been set aside by tradition as a day to express gratitude for blessings received.

There have been many changes in this land since the first Thanksgiving was celebrated here. Great cities stand where once there was only wilderness. Devices of communication and transportation have brought each part of the country within a few hours of any other part. The liberty the people of that day sought so stoutly has become the law of the land.

Yet with all the changes that have come about there are things that remain the same. Our future still requires courage and hope and there is still within us the need to express our gratitude to a Higher Power. These are good things to think about on Thanksgiving Day.

Fall Of Naguib

It seems just a short time ago that the people of Egypt hailed Mohammed Naguib as the man who had deposed the corrupt King Farouk and offered hope to the down-trodden people of Egypt. Now he is in official disgrace and Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, the new ruler of Egypt, has denounced him as a traitor and party to conspiracy with the Moslem Brotherhood and the Communists.

Once before Col. Nasser tried to strip Naguib of office and prestige. At that time a popular uprising prevented the move and Naguib was retained as President although Nasser became the actual head of the government. Now it appears that Nasser is strong enough to succeed where he failed before.

It may be that Naguib was "too ambitious" as Nasser has accused him of being. On the other hand it may be that his popularity is too great for Nasser to tolerate him. Those who wish absolute authority must constantly beware of men the public hold in esteem.

One thing is certain. A government where a man is a hero one moment and on his way to a possible prison sentence the next is unstable. The same forces Nasser has used so skillfully to depose Naguib may in time be turned against himself. The people of Egypt, who need leaders who want to serve them rather than leaders who seek personal power, are the real sufferers from the unrest.

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroad earnings have gone in one direction this year and railroad stock prices in another.

Net income of the 130 Class I railroads for the first nine months of the year fell 38.4 per cent below their net profit after taxes in the same period of 1953. But the 15 roads in the Associated Press stock price index are now riding 41.0

Down South

By THURMAN SENSING
(Editor's note: Thurmond Sensing's rather biased remarks do not necessarily reflect the opinion of The Herald. However, it is felt that Sensing's comments are thought-provoking, and for this reason, they are being published.)

There was a time in this country when the party label meant something. That is no longer true. Except as a matter of organization of the Congress, it made no difference which party won the November and elections.

At the present time, everything depends upon the individual elected. He may be a Republican and much in the South that is dominated by socialism under the leadership of both parties. Neither can we go along with that.

It is to be believed that the people themselves—and that means the Congressmen who represent their views—accede sounder than the political leadership of either party. It follows, therefore, that the leadership of the two parties cannot be and of itself force us into a welfare state and destroy our way of life. This will only happen when a majority of the people in this country decide they want a welfare state. We do not believe that time has come; neither do we believe that their voting for a candidate with the label "Republican" or "Democrat" has anything to do with the matter.

It is true that the Republican Party—generally considered the conservative party—has not lived up to its platform in the 1952 election. This was a good platform—just as was the Democratic platform of 1932—and it is highly disappointing to anyone who believes in the fundamental principles of our constitutional republicanism for a government that neither party kept faith with its promises.

So long, however, as we can elect a sufficient number of members of Congress who do believe in these principles to block the efforts of the leadership of either—or both—parties to destroy them, there is no reason for completely losing hope.

This is a great compliment to these Southern members of Congress. And particularly to the people of the South themselves, because the Congressmen are simply representing their views. It took courage for these Southern Democrats to vote against their own party sponsored measures all

Study Of McCarthy Could Go On

WASHINGTON (AP)—Failure of the Senate in 1954 to reach a vote on censuring Sen. McCarthy wouldn't necessarily end the matter. The Senate could resume study of the problem as soon as the Democrats took over Congress in 1955.

It could be done by a simple majority vote on a resolution next year to take up McCarthy's case again. No doubt McCarthy's Senate friends would fight it. But last week after McCarthy went to the hospital with a bruised elbow and Congress' official doctor said he would not be fit to return to the Senate for at least 10 days, the Senate recessed until Nov. 29. If he returns that day his friends, although he reportedly wants a vote, may filibuster to prevent voting before Christmas. If there's no vote by then, here can be none in 1954. Several of McCarthy's friends have said here will be no effort to prevent a decision this year.

It's anybody's guess what the Senate will do if McCarthy or a doctor says he can't return Nov. 29. This is why the Senate must vote by Dec. 24 or not at all in 1954. Any legislation—a resolution comes under that head—offered in a Congress, ends with that Congress. It does not carry over into the next Congress.

On Aug. 2 the present Senate approved a resolution—No. 301—setting up a select committee to consider charges that McCarthy's conduct should be censured. The committee was headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah).

Any action the present Senate took on Resolution No. 301 would have to be completed before the 84th Congress took over. If the 84th wanted to resume the McCar-

Turkey Could Be Your Table Throughout Year

Each day in the year may be turkey day, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent.

The modern turkey, an improved over the years that it is literally a new bird, comes both small and larger than its ancestors. It is also milder and more tender.

For the small oven there are small, young turkeys. Roasting a young tom turkey weighs from 8 to 15 pounds, ready to cook or fully drawn, hens from 5 1/2 to 8 pounds.

Drilled birds come higher priced than live ones, ready-to-cook, higher than dressed. But the actual cost per pound of ready-to-cook weight is just the same for all three.

Turkey parts, fairly new on the market are increasing in favor. Most widely known are half turkeys and quarter "turkey roasts".

Other popular parts are devilled pieces that result from cutting these roasts and boneless "meat" steaks.

Both whole turkeys and parts are marketed in new convenient forms—ready-to-cook, either frozen and packaged or freshly drawn. Turkey is also marketed in ready-to-eat forms—canned, frozen and smoked.

U. S. Popularity Reported On Skids Throughout Globe

WASHINGTON, (AP)—United States prestige and popularity have been on the skids all over the globe for about a year and a half. Today the trend appears to have leveled off.

President Eisenhower has produced a new concept of America's role in the free world to deal with the new situation—the role of the "good partner" instead of the more dynamic part of the former leader.

The job of working out details of the new partnership in relations with the free nations of Western Europe, the Middle East, Far East and Latin America will be one of the great underlying foreign affairs tasks of the administration during the next two years.

So far the idea has come into prominence only once—on Aug. 4 when Secretary of State Dulles described his work in getting a plan for West German rearmament as a symbol of America's partnership with the nations of Europe.

The downhill trend of America's ability to have its own way in developing the policies of the free world has occurred during the period in which many American diplomatic goals were being successfully achieved.

The box score for an 18 month period includes:

1. Settlement of the nine-year dispute over Trieste worked out between Yugoslavia and Italy, with constant British and American prodding.
2. Final agreement between the Iranian government and the British government which recently started Iranian oil flowing to world markets and foreign gold flowing into Iranian coffers. This came about after a near miracle in Iranian politics brought the overthrow of a government that was letting the country slide into communism.

3. The end of the long controversy between Britain and Egypt over stationing of British troops in the Suez Canal Zone. Britain agreed to get out.
4. The beginnings of a Middle East security system with the signing last summer of a pact linking Turkey and Pakistan.
5. Conclusion of a Southeast Asian defensive alliance designed to commit the strength of the Western Powers to stop the flow of Communist might in that quarter of Asia.
6. Final agreement on a new plan for rearming West Germany, giving it sovereignty and making it a full partner in the North Atlantic Alliance.

The box score on the other side—the record of things which went wrong includes these items:

1. The failure of Secretary of State Dulles against French uncertainty to get negotiations started on a Southeast Asia alliance in time to strengthen France's bargaining position at the Geneva conference on an Indochina peace last spring and summer.

The split between Dulles on one hand and Britain's Foreign Secretary Eden and France's Premier Mendes France on the other over the kind of peace which could be made in Indochina. Dulles washed his hands of the settlement which gave northern Viet Nam to the Reds, although he was compelled to use it as a basis for trying to build new strength in the areas of Indochina which remain non-Communist.

3. A loss of United States influence in Saudi Arabia following the death of old King Ibn Saud and the succession of his son, King Saud. This usually is attributed to a kind of moral break-down in the Saudi ruling group with increasing concern for personal profit and decreasing concern for national interest. But it has been aggravated by American support for the state of Israel, a sore point with Arab countries.
4. The growth of neutralism in South Asia. Prime Minister Nehru's visit to Red China symbolized the faith of many Indians and people in countries like Indonesia and Burma that they can live safely in a middle position between the Communist bloc and the bloc led by the United States. American officials think these Asians are playing a dangerous and deplorable game.

5. The growth of the idea of coexistence in Western Europe. Contrary to the view of American officials, many Europeans appear to be convinced that they can live and trade with the Russians without too much difficulty in a condition approaching normal peace.
6. Anti-Americanism in Japan and highly critical attitudes toward the United States in other friendly Far Eastern countries notably Korea.

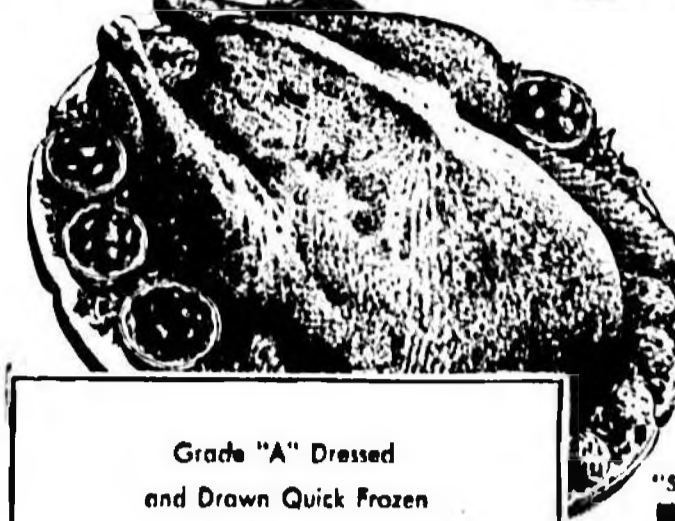

The total effect of all these events and forces has been to impose new restraints on what the United States can do and to give greater power and influence to capitals which once looked to Washington for the lead in every crisis.

Your family will love carrots if you prepare them this way. Slice about six good-sized carrots and cook them in a small amount of boiling salted water just until they are tender-crisp; drain off any small amount of water remaining in the pan. Now heat a couple of tablespoons each of honey and butter or margarine along with a teaspoon of grated orange rind; and the drained sliced cooked carrots and simmer until piping hot. Add salt to taste and serve at once.

These do-it-yourself fans often get paint or varnish on their work clothes. While the stains are still fresh, soften them with turpentine, lard or oil, then wash in warm soapy water.

COULD SAY'S NEW HOME—The new residence (above) Saturday of the Echols Building Co. will be the old Thorne Bldg. at Second St. and Magnolia Ave. which according to Bud Hamberger, manager of the local concern, was purchased from I. W. Hickey, of Windsor. The transaction was handled by the Semmes Realty Co. It will feature the very best in bedding at factory prices, plus well-known pieces of furniture, according to the manager. The old site, which has been located at a very low price, will be discontinued and all transactions for this area will be conducted at the new one after Saturday. (Staff Photo)

McCarthy Puzzles Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) planning to attack the House on Thursday, will be ready to face some sort of resolution designed to censure charges pending against him as the Senate.

Senators grumbled over this question since they thought McCarthy was not the man to be brought to the National Broadcasting Co. for an interview on Thursday. McCarthy would like to indicate a willingness to make some amendments to the bill, but he has assailed the bill in the past.

On the other hand, Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, top Democrat on the McCarthy army in inquiry group, speculated that McCarthy may want to rally his friends and assure them he plans to fight the censure movement in the latter end.

A six-man special committee, headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), recommended that McCarthy be rebuffed for alleged contemptuous treatment of a Senate elections subcommittee and for what the group called "abuse" of Irig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, a witness before McCarthy's investigations.

Miss Leaves Pen Early This Morning

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Alger Hiss will leave Northeast Federal Penitentiary about 8 a.m. Saturday.

Warden Fred Wilkinson said he will be met at the main gate by members of his family in an automobile, probably to drive him to New York.

Wilkinson said it will be up to Hiss to determine whether he will submit to photographs and interviews at the gate.

Sen. Sumner State Department official commented on Hiss's connection with answers he gave before a congressional committee on Communist activity, served 3 1/2 years of a five-year sentence. He was given time off for "meritorious good time."

Wine Harvest Good Despite Weather

RONN, Germany (AP)—Despite the worst summer for 30 years, German vintners expect this year's wine harvest to be good in both quantity and quality.

It will not be an outstanding vintage year such as 1947 and 1949, say experts of the Food Ministry. But they anticipate quality will be slightly above that of 1951.

Not since 1903 has there been so little sun in the summer on the terraced vineyards of the Rhine and Moselle. But the spring was warm and then hot and unusually sunny autumn days have helped dry out the water in the grapes.

The yield is estimated at 50 million gallons.

Much of it will be sparkling, made from grapes picked in November. The later the grapes are harvested, the better the wine. But the vintner who harvests late runs the risk of disastrous frost damage.

Steeplejack Dies As Line Snaps After Eight Hours

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 36-year-old steeplejack died last night eight hours after a rescue line snapped and sent him plunging 100 feet from the top of a water tower.

Frank Jenkins, 36, being hoisted down and let into the tower. He was on the tower and a rope snarled around one leg, held him fast above the 100-foot Annapolis Sea-land building here.

The crowd which gathered to watch the attempts of firemen to rescue Jenkins moaned and screamed when the steeplejack fell to earth. One woman fainted.

Jenkins died of injuries that included a fractured skull, breaks of both arms, several ribs, bones in the lower body and a deep gash in his head.

A safety belt was buckled around Jenkins' waist by two firemen and a rope fastened from a block-and-tackle to a hook on the safety belt. When a third fireman cut the belt, Jenkins fell. The steeplejack's body struck the end of the tower and he fell to the ground.

The mechanism of the steeplejack and the tower pulled the belt hook and the rope snapped on falling, sending Jenkins sprawling to the ground.

Vishinsky's Death Seen Blow To Russian Propaganda Plans

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Foreign News Analyst

The death of Andrei Y. Vishinsky is a blow to Moscow's propaganda drive. To the Soviet people and the Communist world, Vishinsky was Mr. Peaceful Coexistence.

At this stage of the current global tug of war, Vishinsky was a symbol of the Soviet drive to convince the world Moscow alone was the bulwark of peace. With talents peculiarly suited to the task, he succeeded in convincing many.

Soviet policy was transmitted to him and announced by him as chief delegate to the United Nations, creating the impression that the U.S.S.R. intended to make the world organization the principal arena of its political war with the United States.

For many reasons it will be difficult for Moscow to replace Vishinsky. The Kremlin has nobody at the moment of his caliber and talents.

Our, unsmiling Andrei Gromyko might be regarded as the logical successor, but some factors could rule him out. Though a veteran of U.N. debates, he is known to be in extremely poor health and gossip has it he suffers from an inoperable ailment. In addition, he is believed to be a protégé of Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, which might be enough in current high-level Soviet politics to keep him from rising higher. At present he is a "third deputy" Foreign Minister, the same rank Vishinsky held. His present status is in the Moscow Foreign Office.

There is no question Gromyko now ranks highest in the Foreign Ministry under Molotov. But there are others in the Ministry's collegium to choose from, able diplomats who have proved themselves abroad.

Prospective candidates include Deputy Foreign Minister V. A. Zorin, a tough negotiator and dedicated diplomat who helped engineer the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia, and Jacob Malik, who has headed the Soviet U.N. delegation in the absence of Vishinsky or Gromyko and who is now ambassador to Britain. It is even possible that there will be a general diplomatic shift to permit the appointment of someone like Gen. G. Zarubin, now ambassador to Washington.

It is unlikely, in any event, that the Soviet regime can come up with a diplomatic shift to permit the appointment of someone like Gen. G. Zarubin, now ambassador to Washington.

General Motors Makes Golden Car

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—General Motors made industrial history today as it assembled its 50 millionth automobile.

The car, a gold-plated and gold-painted Chevrolet Bel Air sport coupe, was assembled in the Chevrolet Flint assembly plant 40 years after GM built its first car.

Production of the car was the signal for the start of a nationwide celebration. In 125 plants and training centers in 25 different states throughout the United States, GM held open house and was host at luncheons for civic and business leaders.

In Flint, schools were closed. A parade with floats of the nation's top college bands was scheduled. The 50 millionth car, riding on a float, was given a place at the end of the procession.

It took General Motors a little more than 10 years to build its first million vehicles. Between 1918 and 1929 it built nine million more. The 25 millionth vehicle was assembled in January 1940.

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, said the next 50 million will come within another 14 or 15 years.

NAAS Men

The NAAS men have taken over the pleasant task of preparing turkey dinner for each child, plus providing for a planned visit from Santa Claus, who will swoop from the blue in a Navy helicopter to visit the little party-givers. Appropriate movies will be shown in the station auditorium following the distribution of gifts, rides on an "honest to goodness" fire engine will be an added thrill arranged by the station.

Photographic Squadron 62 has charge of all important toy department due to the fine showing of the squadron made in this category last year. A committee of handymen from VJ-62 has donated its spare time and skill to repairing the mendable toys contributed by men of the entire base. At the present time, the squadron's chairman, Photographer Mate First Class Jerry Grava reports a total of over 100 toys on hand and more being brought in all the time and placed in the large green boxes adorned with red Santa Claus tags. These containers can be found at strategic points about the base, such as the main gate, Navy exchange store and immediate squadron areas. To complement this toy drive, the departments of VJ-62 have entered into competition with each other for the highest percentage of individuals in their respective divisions donating three dollars or more. The photographic squadron has set a $100 goal to shoot for. With over a month remaining, the unit has struck over one third of this mark, making the $100 figure a virtual certainty.

SKILL BEING RESTORED TO JAP PINBALL

TOKYO (AP)—This city moved today to restore skill to Fachine, the pinball machine craze. It banned "machine-gun" types that fire four or five balls at once in favor of the old "single shot" style.

Police say there is one machine for every 100 inhabitants. Winners get merchandise prizes which can be sold.

Bids North American Representative Leaves For Further Training

Following the suggestion of Police Chief Roy G. Williams, the commissioners designated one parking space as a loading zone on Second St. for the Echols Building Co.

The request for a street light at E. 10th St. and Hay Ave. was referred to the City manager for investigation.

Marion Harman was appointed City Director of Safety Driving Day, Dec. 15.

An official complaint, lodged by A. C. McNeely with regards to new sewer lines at 25th St. and Sanford Ave. was referred to the City's engineer for possible action.

The City manager was ordered to write a letter in answer to a protest on the water and sewer rates to D. L. Harper.

A petition to open the alley east of block No. 6 in 8th Air subdivision and close the existing drainage ditch was referred to the City manager to see what type of agreement could be worked out with George G. Harden. It was reported that Harden uses the present ditch to drain his pasture.

A resolution supporting the City commission's stand against obscene literature was received from the Parent-Teacher Assn.

With Police Chief Williams concurring, a license for the sale of firearms was granted to Stepler's Grocery Mart on W. 13th St.

The City manager was ordered to attempt to work out some plan with the construction company to bypass or delay work on the 2nd St. interceptor line until after Christmas, when it was learned that work would be in the business district during the Yule shopping season.

An attempt to work out commercial reductions in the sewer tax was deferred until more facts and figures were available.

A five-year lease was granted to Mrs. McClelland for the operation of the concession at the City Zoo.

A signed contract was exhibited from the Richmond, Va., baseball club to train in Sanford.

British Extend U. S. Servicemen

LONDON (AP)—There just aren't enough American soldiers, airmen and sailors here to absorb all the Christmas hospitality the British are offering.

About 71,000 airmen compose the largest group of American servicemen who are in Britain on temporary assignment— which in some cases may be as long as three years. And every man—jack of them, so far as Air Force headquarters at South Huisin knows, has a date for Christmas.

The appointment may be with a turkey, a girl friend, a British family, a session of ale, a church or even for some a duty assignment.

"We are grateful for the Christmas invitations flowing in, but we just can't cope with any more," says an officer at the U. S. air headquarters. "There are a real enough of us."

The announcement was regarded necessary because it was feared an impression might get about that Americans didn't want to share Christmas with the British.

FOUR ARE KILLED IN FIRE DESTROY HOME

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 45-year-old mother and three children burned to death last night in a fire that destroyed their two-room home near here.

Three other children were hospitalized with severe burns. Their father, John Everett Dean Sr., 45, escaped with minor burns.

The fire apparently started from a kerosene stove.

Mrs. Pansy Dean and three sons, John Everett Jr., 17, Henry, 12, and James, 8, were overcome by smoke and flames as they appear to have sought to reach a rear door.

HE TALKS TURKEY FOR HOLIDAY

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER laughs heartily as he reads recipes for cooking a Thanksgiving turkey to a group gathered at the White House. The 43-pound bird appears to find little reason for mirth. President Eisenhower called it "the big bird" as the big bird has been named. It is being prepared under the supervision of the National Turkey Federation. A box of cranberries went with the gift.

It was given by Joseph P. Kamp, president of the International Corporation of America, at the Hotel El Comodoro in Palm Springs. The banquet was held on Nov. 18, and was attended by a number of show and stage actors, including Edith, who was the guest of honor. The banquet was a success, and the tycoon was well-received by the show and stage actors.

Harvard Astronomer Says Life Exists Elsewhere In Universe

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK — Is there life like ours on other planets? For ages men have wondered. Now from astronomers comes the answer. "Yes, probably," they are not alone in the universe, says Dr. Harlow Shapley, Cornell University astronomer, for probably there are 100 million planets which could support life in such forms.

He has made what he calls a skeptical or low estimate this way. Our sun is a star, and it has planets. You can't assume every sun or star has planets. So, on the safe side, assume that only one in every million stars has any planet or family of planets.

Next, assume that only one of every thousand of all these families of planets has one planet with the right conditions to support life. That means not being too close or too far from its sun, having the right kind of orbit and rotation, and of course an atmosphere.

So now you're assuming only one in every billion stars could have the kind of planet to support life. Then suppose that life actually develops to high forms on only one in every thousand of these.

That's saying there could be life like ours on pretty high forms, or even higher forms, for only one of every one thousand billion stars in the universe.

Well, there are still enough stars, there would be 100 million of the suitable planets, Dr. Shapley estimates. Our sun and earth are part of a huge family or galaxy of stars, the Milky Way, estimated to contain 100 billion stars. There are billions of other "milky way" galaxies, each with billions of stars.

The implications are that "the life phenomenon is widespread and of some significance," Dr. Shapley has written. And, he adds, there's no reason to assume that man in the animals or birds on earth "are the only life on earth, and star life can be produced."

Space travel may, some day permit us to visit other planets in our own solar system to see if there is life on Mars, or elsewhere. But to learn whether other stars have planets like ours, or planets with life on them, is quite another thing.

Even the stars which are nearest to us are so distant that it takes years for their light to reach us. Yet light travels 186,000 miles a second, in a year it light can travel about six thousand billion miles.

The very nearest star to us is 43 light years away. That's a long round trip even if space rockets could travel at the speed of light.

Present techniques in astronomy can't answer whether nearby stars have planets of about the earth size. The stars are too bright, and any small pull by planets on their motions is difficult to measure. But evidence has been found for a huge planet circling around a star, named 61 Cygni, which is about 11 light years away.

The speculations are called to mind by Dr. Shapley's latest description to the National Academy of Sciences of the galaxy which is nearest to our own Milky Way. This is the large Magellanic cloud, visible only from our Southern Hemisphere, and the small Magellanic cloud are about 170 thousand light years away from us.

Many galaxies are spherical, or spiral shaped, or have star arms like pinwheels. The large Magellanic cloud, though, has an irregular shape.

From various studies, Dr. Shapley now thinks the large Magellanic cloud is a very young or embryonic galaxy. In time, he says, these irregular galaxies tend to become spiral shaped, then spherical.

Our own Milky Way has spiral arms, and seems to be a middle-aged galaxy. The large Magellanic cloud is perhaps only a few million years old as a galaxy.

The age of our universe, by the way, now is estimated at about five billion years. The large Magellanic cloud has one big claim for fame and attention—it possesses the brightest star known to man in the universe, Dr. Shapley says. The star is S Doradus. It is one million times brighter than our sun.

And S Doradus is apparently only about one million years old—about the same length of time that man has lived on earth, the astronomer adds.

Is there some planet, at a respectable distance from S Doradus, which is straggling with life, on which life like ours will develop? We can only wonder.

Owens, Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway and Sheriff J. L. Hobby. The sheriff said he was led to the articles by a 13-year-old Lake Mary youth, who, he said, confessed to taking part in the theft. ## Youth, 18, Charged With Theft

Eugene Greenleaf, 18, Lake Mary, is in the county jail today, charged with grand larceny, following a theft at a Lake Mary home Monday night. No charges have as yet been pressed against his 13-year-old companion, who, Sheriff J. L. Hobby said, made a complete confession and directed the sheriff to where some stolen articles were hidden in woods near Lake Mary.

Greenleaf had been from the North to the Lake Mary home Monday, and hired Greenleaf and another youth to help unload their car. Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway said the second youth is not apparently involved in the theft at the present time.

Crime Reconstructed

According to Galloway's reconstruction of the crime, Greenleaf and his juvenile accomplice went to the Melville home after the couple had come to Sanford to spend the night, forced an entry and took the missing articles.

Sheriff Hobby said that when Chief Deputy Sheriff O. L. Owens and Constable J. Q. Galloway yesterday afternoon, they discovered a sledge hammer and a screw driver believed to be the tools used to enter the home and later break open the safe in Greenleaf's car.

The safe, containing approximately $150 in cash, was discovered in a hunter in a field yesterday. It had been battered open by heavy blows and the locking mechanism had been pounded out.

Sheriff Hobby said all stolen goods except some jewelry, watches and a suit of clothes have been recovered.

Over 125 Youths Pinched At City

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—More than 125 youths from 15 to 21 years old were arrested and taken to a city hall in Compton, Calif., today for a "pinch" on a city street.

Some 60 officers in 16 patrol cars converged in a mass raid on the "pinch" area, which is a city street between a highway and a residential area.

Several of the hop-top autos took off across bunny fields, with police cars roaring in pursuit. Races up to 80 miles an hour developed.

However, officers said few if any of the hot rods escaped. Officers had prepared their trap very carefully.

Ben Wiggins Attends Convention Of Soil Conservation Society

By BEN WIGGINS, Soil Conservationist, USDA
The annual convention of the Soil Conservation Society of America was held at the George Washington Hotel in Jacksonville recently, and members and guests for the occasion came from all parts of the United States, Canada, Australia, Columbia and South America.

Colin D. Gunn, State conservationist from Gainesville, presided over the opening sessions on Monday. After the invocation and pledge of allegiance to the flag, Charles E. Bennett, member of the U. S. House of Representatives, welcomed all members and guests to Florida.

Following the welcoming talks and introduction of notables from all parts of the country, the president's message was presented by the president of the society, H. Y. Bailey, Auburn, Ala. At noon, box lunches were presented to each member and guest at the hotel for a tour of the timber and ranch lands northwest of Jacksonville.

An excellent demonstration on the forestry phase of conservation was presented by the Florida Forestry Service. The vital importance of the forestry and Naval stores industries for continued growth and strength of this nation was also pointed out by the forestry personnel. Following the forestry demonstration a tour was made of the W. H. Clark Ranch north of Callahan.

Upon arriving at the ranch, each person was presented with a land use map of the ranch showing the various fields, the number of acres in each field, the type of pasture grasses in each field, woodland areas, ditches, roads, buildings, etc. The various pastures were established according to land capability—that is each field was planted to the type of grass that the land was best capable of pro-

Prosecution Hacks Away At 2 Episodes In Physician's Tale

CLEVELAND (AP)—The prosecution punched today at two episodes in Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's account of the night his wife was murdered.

It got witnesses to say his house was ablaze with light and the lake outside was rough.

A Sheppard neighbor, Mrs. Jay L. Bender, testified she saw lights upstairs and down at 2:15 a. m. on the murder morning. Sheppard has said he chased his wife's killer through a darkened house.

John Tront, a dark, burly fisherman, said he had to quit fishing in Lake Erie near Sheppard's home that morning because the water was "bad" and lashing at most the entire beach. The state claims Sheppard's account of a struggle with Marilyn Sheppard's killer at the edge of the water is phony because it says he would have been drowned after being knocked out.

But Sheppard's lawyers hit back on a fingerprint expert's testimony that he found only one left thumbprint—Sheppard's—on Marilyn's bed.

Defense Counsel William J. Corrigan suggested Sheppard could have pressed his thumb against the bed while kissing Marilyn good night before she was murdered.

Furthermore, defense counsel William J. Corrigan theorized while questioning a fingerprint expert, his client had two chances to press his thumb against the bed five and eight days after she was bludgeoned to death.

Corrigan was questioning Cleveland fingerprint expert Jerome C. Poelking. Poelking said yesterday he found only one print—of Sheppard's left thumb—on the murder bed.

Glenn Date
But he said he discovered it on July 21—10 days after Marilyn Sheppard, four months pregnant, was beaten to death in bed.

Corrigan also asked, "Did you know Sam Sheppard had been in the room after July 1 on two occasions, July 9, July 12?"

"No, I did not," Poelking replied. In resuming his cross examination of Poelking today, Corrigan almost immediately went to the subject of the bedroom thumbprint.

"Did you know there were a great many people out that room before July 23?" the defense attorney asked.

"I didn't know of my own knowledge," replied Poelking. "I heard rumors."

Officer Testifies
The officer testified that he went to the Sheppard home on July 2 specifically "looking for any fingerprints in the death room."

"Yes, I did," Poelking told him. "I found some palm prints belonging to some detectives on the scene on a door leading into the bedroom."

Other fingerprint men from Cleveland police headquarters had testified they did not examine the bed closely on the day of the slaying for fear they might disturb it, and thus hinder the process of the investigation.

The Sheppard trial, now in its sixth week, currently is concerned with expert testimony on fingerprints, blood stains and footprints in the sand.

Police Report Missing Box Mystery Solved

MIAMI (AP)—The mystery of the missing F. O. S. box, the "Lucky" box, has been solved. The box, which was reported missing last week, has been found in a garage in Miami.

Charles called head precinct yesterday to report the disappearance of a large box from his home shortly after it was delivered by a downtown department store.

"Send police please," the little boy begged Sgt. Charles Blackwell. The officer was puzzled and asked the mother to repeat the request.

"You come here," the small boy insisted. Blackwell followed the child to a garage in the rear of the house. The boy said the box was there.

"You wait and I'll call you," the small boy said.

Mrs. George Vran came on the line and explained her son was worried about the disappearance of a large box. He stated the operator when in one of his homes and asked for police headquarters.

She said the package contained a large box and then she stepped to the door and called the boy. "We carried the box to this house," she said.

Pedestrian Injured When Hit By Truck

J. L. Lattimore, 50, Santa Fe, was injured today when he was struck by a truck driven by Willie Harris, 40, Santa Fe, on the highway near the intersection of the highway and the highway.

The woman, according to the report, had been drinking and stepped into the path of the truck from behind another vehicle. The accident was covered by Officer C. J. Hodson.

Farm Plan

A conservation farm plan, for this ranch, was worked out by W. H. Howell, ranch foreman, and technicians of the Soil Conservation Service approximately four years ago. Howell has followed and carried out each practice according to the plan and as a result a higher quality forage is being produced, which in turn gives more pounds of a higher quality beef per acre and greater profits.

Some of this high quality Florida beef was served to the group in the form of delicious barbecue at the fair grounds in Callahan following the tour.

Herman E. Talmadge, governor of Georgia, gave the keynote address of the meeting. The title of Mr. Talmadge's address was "The Land—The Source of Our Strength." Talmadge told the group that the present Internal Revenue Bureau policy of taxing expenses for restoring woodlands "is an unrealistic attitude which threatens our economy in the South." He stated that tax relief for timberland improvement programs in the long run will afford the Federal government a greater source of future income, but present policy if pursued "will be another case of killing the goose that lays the golden eggs."

Points Out
Talmadge also pointed out the need for immediate installation of conservation practices on our remaining fertile lands and dwindling water resources, and gave many examples of the conservation measures now being carried out in the small water sheds of Georgia, in an effort to provide ample food and water for the present and future generations.

Several certificates for boxes of delicious Central Florida fruit were presented by Frank Chase of Sanford, Jim Sargent, Carl Lind and myself were members of the society attending from Sanford.

Cost Of Living Continues Down Government Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today reported that living costs continued to decline in October for the third straight month.

The drop of two tenths of one percent from September will bring the annual average down to 1.2 percent, the lowest since the war.

The report, which is based on the price index for all urban consumers, is the most comprehensive of its kind.

The report also shows that the price index for all urban consumers fell 0.1 percent in October from 99.5 in September.
