State Ready To Issue At Least 238 To County Residents

County OKs Second Concealed Gun Permit

By Brad Church
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Commissioners issued their second ever concealed weapon permit Tuesday, while the state has received 238 applications from county residents and predict all will be issued when the state takes over that authority on Oct. 1, 1987.

Edward Milan, who with his wife owns Casselberry Check Cashing Service, told the commissioners that although he will have to apply to the state to have the permit reissued, he wanted local authorities to issue the permit because they understand his need for it better than state authorities might.

Applicants for the new state permits will not have to be screened by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement if they already have local permits, as new applicants will have to be. The state takes over the issuance of weapons permits on Oct. 1 and all local ordinances governing the issuance of such permits become null and void.

The state had received 238 applications for concealed weapons permits from Seminole County residents as of Thursday and David Register, state licensing director, said he expects most of them to be granted.

Milan told the commissioners he needs the concealed weapon permit in order to obtain federal theft and robbery insurance. He said he often carries large sums of money to and from his place of business and a bank and, after checking with many Florida insurance agencies, found none would sell him theft insurance for the trips.

The federal government offers such insurance, called the FAIR Plan, based on the same principle as flood insurance, which is available for risks that cannot be insured otherwise. Milan said the federal insurance requires the person carrying the money to carry a weapon in order to be insured for amounts over $5,000.

Commissioner Bob Sturm said in his 30 years of experience in the insurance business he had written policies for such coverage many times and was skeptical of Milan's inability to find a company that would issue him one.

Sturm and Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff voted against granting the permit, and the motion passed 3-2. Both Sturm and Kirchhoff said they have never voted in favor of granting a concealed weapon permit in their time on the board. Both said they believe concealed weapons should only be in the hands of certified law enforcement officers.

Kirchhoff has said in the past that by issuing such permits the commission assumes responsibility for assuring that the person who wears the concealed weapon is not dangerous to innocent citizens.

Sturm pointed out that in his nine years on the commission, only one other concealed weapon

Catholics Mass To Greet Pope

Seminole County Faithful Join Throng

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

After a two-day whirlwind visit to Miami, Pope John Paul II was scheduled to move on this afternoon to the second stop on his U.S. tour, Columbia, S.C., while many of the Seminole County Catholics, who made the trip to see the Pope, headed home happy that they had been a part of the historic event.

Among those in the VIP section at the airport when President and Mrs. Reagan greeted Pope John Paul II on his 2 p.m. arrival Thursday in Miami was pro-life activist Jean Doyle, Maitland.

There were about 1,500 dignitaries at the airport waving paper Vatican flags and six small children selected to present him flowers. "Welcome to Miami, Your Holiness," whispered a little girl.

The Pope concluded the first day of his triumphal return Thursday with a parade down Biscayne Boulevard in the bubble-backed "popemobile." Police estimated 100,000 people lined the fence that guards the highway, shouting "We want the pope!" and bursting into screams of excitement when he slowly came into view.

Gary Morton of Sanford, associate editor of The Florida Catholic newspaper, reported Thursday night from Miami that the turnout along the 39 block route to watch the motorcade containing Popemobile was disappointing — much less than the 200,000 predicted. He blamed this on the fact that there was so much said ahead of time about the heavy security and traffic that many people were scared off. He said, however, the crowd was very enthusiastic.

He said the Pope's motorcade ran 30 minutes behind schedule after his meeting with President Reagan ran longer than had been expected and it passed Morton's hotel at 8 p.m.

Morton said a cool breeze kept the temperatures from being hot as predicted. He said traffic has been extremely light in the city, because so many thoroughfares have been closed off and even after the "parade" there was no traffic jam in the downtown

County-Sanford Road Agreement Proposed

By Brad Church
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County has made a proposal to the city of Sanford concerning bringing a county road within the city limits up to standards which, if approved by the city, could set a precedent for other county roads within city limits throughout the county.

The proposal, which was approved by county commissioners this week, would transfer that part of Bevier road within Sanford city limits to the city in return for the city bringing the road up to standard width and paving it.

It also calls for Sanford to agree to get sufficient right-of-way from developers of property along any county road within the city to enable the road to be paved to a standard 24-foot width.

The proposal, in the form of an interlocal agreement, must be approved by the Sanford City Commission to go into effect. Neither Sanford City Attorney William L. Colbert or Bill Simmons, director of Sanford engineering and planning, had seen the proposed agreement Thursday afternoon so could not say whether they will recommend its adoption by the city commission.

County Commissioner Bob Sturm said he thinks a similar agreement should be made with cities in the county concerning county roads within their city limits.

The proposal concerns that part of Bevier Road between State Road 46 and Jewett Lane. The road, like many other county and city roads, does not have adequate right-of-way to pave to the standard 24-foot width and also allow for adequate drainage.

The county proposes that the city obtain a 30-foot strip from LON Research, which owns land adjacent to the road, in order to pave a 24-foot wide roadway.

The agreement also sets time limits for this action. If approved as proposed by the county, Sanford would, within five days, obtain from the developer of LON Research the 30-foot right-of-way, and within 120 days pave the road according to plans approved by the county engineer.

The city would assume all responsibility for maintenance of Jeff Blake's arm will be vital to the Seminoles tonight against Titusville Astronaut.

Blake's Back; Tribe's Optimistic

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

The defense for Seminole High's football team should have been paid overtime last year. Time and a half accounts for the percentage it spent on the field due to an inoffensive offense.

One Seminole defender remembers it this way: "The defense just came off the field," he said. "I went over to the bench and picked up a cup of water. After I gulped it down, it was time for the defense to go back on the field."

Seminole's offense worked fast last year — too fast for the defense. Too fast for everybody. Two running plays, an incomplete pass and a punt. Which was good for the defensive statistics, but when the defense spends 67 percent of the game on the field, it eventually tires and the win column suffers.

Seminole suffered through a 4-6 season, with one victory coming via forfeit.

That was last year. Tonight, when Titusville Astronaut's War

Eagles swoop into Seminole Stadium for an 8 p.m. opening prep football date with the 'Noles, the 1987 offense swears it will be different.

And the defense agrees.

Last year, Jeff Blake, touted as one of the best quarterbacks to come through this county, had the misfortune of being on the wrong motorcycle at the wrong time at the wrong place on May 4, 1986.

Result: compound fracture to the right leg; broke right (throwing) arm; and 50-plus stitches to the right knee.

So long 1986 offense.

That was last year.

With the return of the 6-foot-2, 175-pound senior QB, optimism is running at an all-time high for the Tribe. "My main role is to get the offense across the goal line as many times as possible," Blake said. "It takes 11 players to

But the agent told the dealers he only had $700 and they would have to meet him at Denny's Restaurant, State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, to complete the deal.

The suspects followed the agents to the restaurant and accepted $700 from him. The arrests were made. Charges are pending against the man who introduced the agent to the suspects.

Pawned Silver Leads to Arrest

A Sanford police check of pawn tickets at Huey's Pawn Shop showed that sterling silver items stolen Aug. 1 from a home at 709 Briarcliffe St., Sanford, had been pawned there. That led to the arrest of a 25-year-old Sanford man.

The man who had lived for a short time at that home, from which sterling silver items valued at a total of $800 had been stolen, gave 709 Briarcliffe St., as his address when he was arrested on a grand theft charge at 7:45 p.m. Thursday. Jay Brian Zwicker was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond in the case. He was arrested at home.

Walter Jones, 51, of 1404 Lake Avenue, Sanford, reported to sheriff's deputies that a woman he gave a ride from Southwest Road to 18th Street, Sanford, at about 1:40 a.m., stole $200 from a cigar box in his car. Jones told deputies the money belongs to his brother, Lawrence Jones, 53, owner of Talk of The Town bar. The money was Tuesday's bar receipts, Jones reported. The woman fled with the cash and left her shoes behind in Jones' car.

Other actions investigated by the Sanford police include:

• William Douglas, 206 Lauren Ave., Sanford, told police that between 8:00 p.m. and 10:30 p.m., his 19" Sony black-and-white television was taken from his home while he was in back of the house Wednesday. Douglas said the front door was open and he did not see anyone during that time.

Area Team Ties 10-Year Record

Staff And Wire Reports
Okay, team, you finally did it! Tied at least. Everyone exhaled at the same time and the cumulative hot breath pushed the thermometer all the way up to 95 tying a decade-old record from 1977. Proud? Worked up a sweat on that one didn't you.

More of the same today. Hot: high humidity; no real rain likely. But maybe a record if you all breath hard.

About that rain. Alice, Bret and Cindy all pooped out but along comes Dennis. Maybe a menace. Anyway it popped up and is heading our way.

Satellite pictures indicate Dennis, which formed late Thursday, is becoming better organized and maximum sustained winds were estimated today to be 45 mph with stronger gusts in squalls, said forecaster Bob Case at the National Hurricane Center.

The storm's center this morning was located near latitude 11.0 north, longitude 27.5 west or about 325 miles southwest of the Cape Verde Islands.

Cindy, meanwhile, was downgraded Thursday to a tropical depression. Cindy's remains were centered near latitude 38.7 north, longitude 33.8 west, about 140 miles west southwest of the westernmost Azores.

Dennis is the fourth tropical storm of the Atlantic-Caribbean hurricane season, which runs from June 1 to Nov. 30. The first, Arlene, grew into the season's only hurricane on Aug. 20, but like Tropical Storm Bret, which formed Aug. 19, never made landfall.

Thunderstorms that swept through the southern Plains, toppling two 100-foot towers erected for the pope's visit this weekend in Texas, raked the region early today with high winds, rain and hail. Showers and thunderstorms were scattered early this morning across the high Plains and southern Texas, producing half the size of golfballs and 65 mph winds at Hobbs, N.M.

Severe thunderstorm watches were up for parts of south central and southeast Texas, where storms late Thursday tore through the area around Austin and produced gusts over 80 mph.

Storms were forecast today over much of the nation east of the Rockies, except in New England, with the heaviest rainfall expected from the upper Great Lakes, through the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys and into northern Florida.

Temperatures in the 60s were expected from northern Maine through Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska, and into Wyoming and the Dakotas.

Near San Antonio Texas Thursday, high winds ripped down the towers where the pope is to deliver mass Sunday, authorities said.

"It looks like a twisted hunk of metal out there," said Richard Hemberger, a spokesman for the San Antonio archdiocese. Work was expected to continue around the clock until repairs were finished, he said.

The platform where John Paul is to stand Sunday while saying mass for 500,000 people was only slightly damaged. No one was injured because up to 1,000 people, mostly spectators, were moved away from the towers just before they toppled, Hemberger said.

Less violent storms were scattered along a cold front that stretched from northwest Wisconsin through northwest Iowa and from Ohio through the Great Lakes to Minnesota.

Local Report

The high temperature Thursday in Sanford was 93 degrees and the overnight low was 70 degrees as reported by the University of Florida Agricultural Research and Education Center, Celery Avenue. There was no rainfall recorded. Mostly sunny today with expected high in the low to middle 90s and a 30 percent chance of afternoon showers.

Area Forecast

Today...partly cloudy with scattered mainly afternoon thunderstorms. Highs in the low to mid 90s. Wind variable 5 to 10 mph. Chance of rain 40 percent.

Tonight...partly cloudy with some isolated evening thunderstorms. Lows in the mid 70s. Light wind. Chance of rain less than 20 percent.

Saturday...partly cloudy with scattered mainly afternoon thunderstorms. Highs in the low to mid 90s.

Reagan Welcomes Pontiff To U.S.

MIAMI (UPI) — President Reagan welcomed Pope John Paul II to the United States Thursday with praise for the message the pontiff has carried to 68 countries and a vow of American resolve "to place our might on the side of human dignity."

Adding a political dimension to a visit that has stimulated no shortage of religious debate, Reagan hailed the Polish-born John Paul as a champion of peace whose "moral leadership" will be carried to millions of Americans over the next 10 days.

"Certainly, no one can speak with greater force to our own generation than you yourself," Reagan told the pope during a formal arrival ceremony at Miami International Airport.

"In Poland, you experienced Nazism and communism. As pope, you suffered a terrorist attack that nearly claimed your life. Still," he said, "you proclaim that the central message of our own time — that the central message of all time — is not hatred, but love."

The hot sun beat down through partly cloudy skies on bleachers filled with spectators and VIPs as Reagan and his wife, Nancy, greeted John Paul as he stepped off his red, green and silver Alitalia jumbo jet to cheers and applause at Miami International Airport.

Later, Reagan planned to devote a private meeting with the pope to a discussion of the important role the Roman Catholic Church may play in ending the civil war in Nicaragua and the brightened prospects for arms control and another superpower summit.

With Nicaragua and the four Central American democracies embarked on a peace plan aimed at a cease-fire by Nov. 7 — a goal the administration has eyed with skepticism — Reagan underscored the aims of a foreign policy that has brought him into frequent conflict with Congress.

"In Europe and elsewhere, we continue to place our might on the side of human dignity," he said. "In Latin America and Asia, we are supporting the expansion of human freedom — in particular, the powerful movement toward democracy."

Reagan spoke of America as a great melting pot — "the nation of citizens from all nations" — as the pontiff opened his second U.S. tour to assurances by the president that "all America applauds."

Noting the ecumenical nature of the huge crowds expected to greet the pope over the course of a visit that will include audiences with Catholics, Protestants, Jews, Muslims and others, Reagan told John Paul, "Today's Florida sunshine is no warmer than the affection you will meet."

Ultra-tight security was in place for a 45-minute private meeting of the two leaders — both victims of assassination attempts within six weeks of each other in 1981 — at Vizcaya, an Italian renaissance-style mansion along Biscayne Bay.

U.S. officials said Reagan welcomed the opportunity to explain his embattled policy in Central America in the face of widespread criticism that his administration, through its support for the Nicaraguan Contra rebels, has not placed enough emphasis on a diplomatic effort.

In the past, Reagan has pointed to government curbs on the Catholic Church in Nicaragua as evidence of the repressive nature of the Marxist-led Sandinista government.

Government-church relations have improved in Nicaragua since the signing of the Aug. 7 regional peace agreement, and White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Reagan had a particular interest in stressing the role Cardinal Miguel Obando y Bravo will play as chairman of the National Commission on Reconciliation, which will oversee internal implementation of the peace plan.

Although the administration has accused the Sandinistas of stacking the commission, the appointment of Obando y Bravo, a harsh critic of the Sandinistas, underlined the influence wielded by the church in Nicaragua, which is more than 90 percent Catholic.

Since Aug. 7, the government-controlled press has resumed referring to Obando y Bravo as "his holiness" and carrying his uncensored remarks. In addition, President Daniel Ortega, under pressure to demonstrate a sincere acceptance of calls for political reform, has permitted the return of two pro-Contra priests expelled last year.

On arms control, Reagan was able to convey a higher degree of optimism than was the case at a meeting in June at the Vatican, punctuated by what appeared to be gentle prodding by John Paul for a reduction in nuclear arsenals.

The then-stalled arms negotiations in Geneva have taken on new momentum in recent weeks with a softening of U.S. demands for verification and a West German agreement to scrap 72 aging Pershing I-A missiles if the superpowers dismantle their own medium-range weapons.

While talks on strategic arms and defensive and space weapons remain deadlocked, the movement on medium-range missiles has left U.S. officials hopeful of an agreement to be signed by Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev by the end of the year.

To that end, the White House formally announced that Reagan will meet Wednesday with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze, who will be in Washington for talks with Secretary of State George Shultz. Those discussions are considered key to nailing down the fine print of an arms agreement, though Fitzwater said there is no indication they will produce an announcement of a third Reagan-Gorbachev summit.

School Enrollment Up 2,167 Students

The Seminole County School District reported Tuesday that student enrollment in its 48 schools has reached 43,006 since classes opened Aug. 24. That figure shows 2,167 more students than the 40,839 enrolled on the first day of school.

Karen Coleman, a school spokeswoman, said the latest figure was compiled from the number of students enrolled in Seminole schools as of Tuesday afternoon.

"The 10-day enrollment figures are much more indicative of what the actual number of students will be at the beginning of the school year," Coleman said. She said that in many cases families have not returned from their summer vacations during the first week of school or didn't even know that school started as early as it did.

Coleman said the largest increase in enrollment size was seen on the elementary level, with 19,607 students counted Tuesday. There were 1,005 more students enrolled in school on the 10-day count than on the first day of school. The Tuesday count for middle school enrollment was 9,688, showing an increase of 381 students. High school figures were at 13,569 students, making for an increase of 740 students from the first-day count.

Last year's 10-day count totaled 41,342 students attending school in Seminole County. The last enrollment figure for the 1986-87 school year, taken on May 29, showed 42,968 students in the system.

School administrators expected an additional 1,500 students to enroll in Seminole schools this year.

Give Law A Chance

Even as U.S. immigration officials issue the first citations against employers of illegal aliens, numerous critics predict the effort will fail to stop many undocumented workers from entering the United States. Those predictions of failure are premature and potentially self-fulfilling. The penalties against employers are not a cure-all for the nation's immigration ills, but with hard work by enforcement officials and sympathetic monitoring by Congress, they can become an important tool for retaking control of the nation's borders.

Under the Immigration Reform and Control Act, signed by President Reagan last November, hiring illegal aliens now is a crime. Employers can be fined from $250 to $2,500 per worker on their first citation and up to $10,000 per worker for repeat offenses. Those penalties are intended to attack the root cause of illegal immigration by weakening the lure of American jobs.

The enforcement problems facing the Immigration and Naturalization Service unquestionably are daunting. With more than 7 million employers in the United States, the INS has just 700 inspectors available to investigate compliance with the new law. Critics cite those statistics as proof that the new law cannot possibly work. But not all employers in all sections of the country will require close scrutiny. If 700 inspectors proves too few to monitor employers that do, Congress should respond with resources required to forcefully execute this important law.

A more basic concern is whether employer penalties can work in any circumstance. From disappointing results in other countries, some critics conclude that the concept itself is flawed. But the strength and consistency of enforcement, and the character of immigration problems, vary widely among nations that have tried employer penalties. Perhaps the only reliable message that U.S. authorities can take from other countries' programs is that enforcement will be difficult and must be vigorous to succeed.

Moreover, "success" needs realistic definition. Employer penalties cannot shut off 100 percent of the illegal-alien flow. But if they reduce that flow by even 25 percent, they will make an important contribution to renewed control of U.S. borders. At this early date, attention should focus on the difficult and lengthy job of making the penalty program work, not on foretelling its failure.

Davis-Bacon Limited

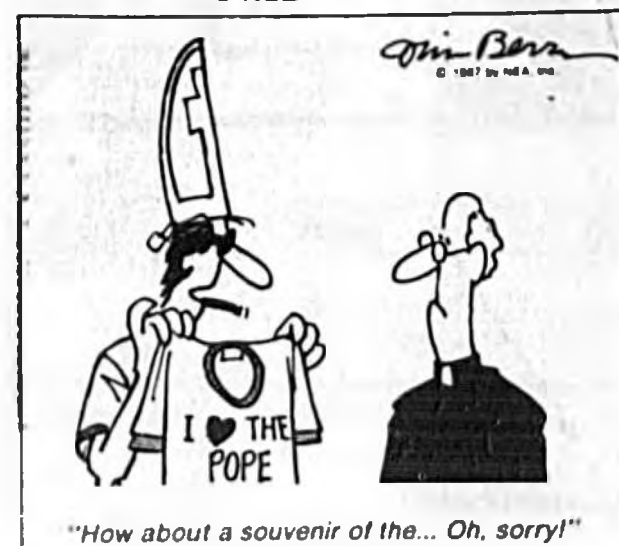

In a surprising interpretation of the Davis-Bacon Act, the Justice Department has held that the requirement to pay prevailing wage rates on projects financed by federal Urban Development Action Grants and Community Development Block Grants does not apply in all cases. By one estimate, the ruling will cut the cost of projects funded by UDAG and Community Development grants by 25 percent.

The Housing Act of 1974 states that the prevailing wage must be paid for "construction work financed in whole or part" with federal funds. When government funds are used expressly to pay construction costs, Assistant Attorney General Charles J. Cooper held, the requirement to pay the prevailing wage, which in reality means union wages, applies. However, Cooper drew a distinction between construction work and a construction project.

A project encompasses every aspect of an enterprise, he said, from acquiring the land and designing buildings to erecting them and equipping them. If the construction work is privately financed and the other aspects of the construction project are funded with UDAG or Community Development money, the prevailing-wage requirement does not apply to the construction workers, he held.

In all probability, this means that companies doing UDAG or Community Development projects will see that in their mix of private and federal financing, the private money is earmarked for construction, enabling them to evade Davis-Bacon.

Reagan Heads Down Stretch With New Team

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, who has always said he does not believe in holding on to anyone who chooses to leave government, has had three separate top teams of advisers during his two administrations.

As he heads down the home stretch of his presidency, Reagan is surrounded by new faces, aides brought on board in the aftermath of the Iran-Contra scandal to repair the damage and to serve as caretakers.

His first team had a California stamp, although chief of staff James Baker is a Texan and was campaign manager for George Bush, who sought the GOP presidential nomination in 1980 and settled for the vice presidential slot on the Reagan ticket.

Two others who made up the "troika" of key advisers from 1981 to 1984 were Edwin Meese, former counselor, now attorney general, and Michael Deaver, deputy chief of staff who went into public relations and is facing perjury charges as a result of lobbying activities.

At the start of Reagan's second term, Treasury Secretary Donald Regan and Baker decided to swap jobs. Then they told the president, which was the strongest signal to date that Reagan lets his staff make such decisions and then settles for being told about it later.

Regan then undertook a housecleaning, much to the chagrin of the Baker-Meese-Deaver holdovers, many of whom had made the long march from California with Reagan and felt that they were being pushed aside by intruders.

Regan, a take-charge man who ran the show, brought in his own team — men who became known as "the mice," an undistinguished, uninspired group whose stock in trade was loyalty to Regan.

When Regan was shoved out, with a push from Nancy Reagan after the scandal engulfed the White House, his band of loyal aides were also given their walking papers.

In the dramatic unraveling of the worst political crisis Reagan has faced, Vice Adm. John Poindexter, one of the major players chosen early in the second term, was forced to resign. Poindexter, who claimed he never told the president that money from the sale of weapons to Iran were diverted to the Contras, was replaced by veteran bureaucrat Frank Carlucci.

It was musical chairs for Carlucci, who had served for a time with the international trading division of Sears, Roebuck and Co., but whose career has included top positions in the CIA, the Defense Department and Department of Health and Human Services.

The present team was brought in to man the barricades. Former Senate Republican leader Howard Baker, who had aspired to the presidency himself, moved into the White House as chief of staff and brought on board his own close associates. Included was Kenneth Duberstein, who had headed the White House congressional liaison office, and left for a lucrative lobbying job. Duberstein became the deputy to Baker, taking on the paper work.

Baker also lured Tom Griscom, his former press secretary, who had been about to take a vice presidency with a public relations firm, into becoming White House communications director, replacing Patrick Buchanan.

Picking Money From Air

Ripoffs come in assorted sizes, and as ripoffs go, the one I have just come across is thus far only medium-sized. But it is already a pain in the neck to travel agents, and it has the potential of becoming a serious burden to commercial aviation and a major additional expense to every airline passenger.

In a nutshell: Three cities and one state have made the delightful discovery that they can impose an indirect tax on every passenger who flies out of their territory and require the airlines to collect it for them. As soon as the other 49 states and America's thousands of municipalities and counties with airports find out about this, they will proceed to impose similar taxes themselves, and the cost of airline tickets will zoom accordingly. The paperwork imposed on the airlines — collecting and remitting varying amounts to every city and state — simply doesn't bear thinking about.

"Airport taxes" are, of course, a familiar (and annoying) aspect of air travel to anyone who has flown in other countries. This surcharge, amounting to anything from two to 10 dollars, is imposed at many airports on departure and paid, in cash, by the passenger himself.

In this country, so far, the local taxing authorities have preferred to leave collection of the surcharge to the airlines, which in turn have rightly passed it along to the passengers — listing it separately, rather than including it in the overall price of the ticket, so the passengers will know whom to blame.

As a result, every passenger flying out of Logan Airport in Boston pays $1.00 to the city, allegedly as a fuel tax imposed on the airlines. People flying out of Las Vegas are hit by the city fathers for $7.50 apiece to help defray the expense of the new airport, designed along the lines of the Taj Mahal and costing several times as much. And the state of Florida is the first of the sovereign 50 to tap this handy source of revenue, charging airlines a $1.00 "fuel tax" for every passenger boarding a plane anywhere in the state.

But the prize for the biggest surcharge (so far, anyway) goes to Chicago, which imposes a tax of nine bucks for every passenger departing the Windy City.

How Nuclear Industry Buys Protection

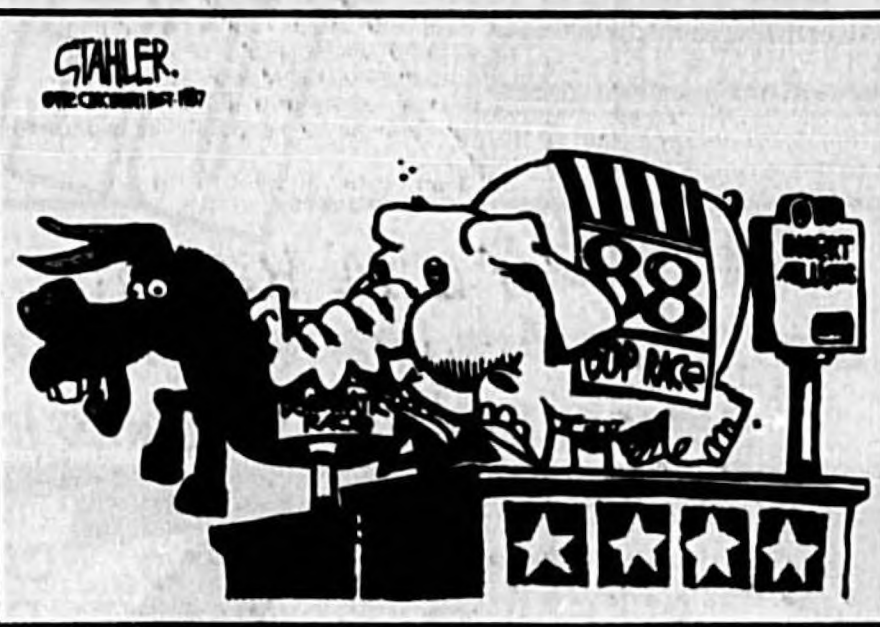

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — If a Chernobyl-style nuclear disaster occurs at one of America's nuclear power plants, victims and their families could suffer financially as well as physically, if Congress renews the existing limited-liability law.

The Price-Anderson Act, passed in 1957 and renewed in 1967 and 1977, limits a nuclear plant operator's liability to $700 million for a single accident. This ridiculously low sum wouldn't begin to cover the deaths, personal injuries and property damage that would result from a nuclear meltdown, especially at a plant located in the densely populated areas of the country.

In fact, the General Accounting Office estimated last June that a catastrophic nuclear accident would cause $15 billion damage under average weather conditions. Heavy weather that spread radiation over a wider area could increase the damage to as much as $150 billion, the GAO figured.

Despite these appalling possibilities, Congress is considering a renewal of Price-Anderson

TOM TIEDE

Today's Adjective

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The 200th commemoration of the signing of the Constitution is certain to provoke reflection. What, for example, would the framers think about the ramification of their creation, which is to say the U.S. government today?

The evidence is they would not be completely disappointed. The men in 1787 Philadelphia had, much in common with the men and women of 1987 Washington. They were prosperous, propertied and highly motivated people who believed in the rule of law and in the deliberation of the forms it should take.

They also were acquainted with politics, of course. Each of the framers had his own prejudices, even as officers in the House, the Senate and the White House do now, and the beliefs were not in every case enlightened. Alexander Hamilton, you'll recall, wanted to install a monarchy in the country.

Yet beyond this, the framers might very well be taken aback by the modern activities in the capital. For one thing, they might wonder about the current notion of prerogative. The government is supposed to have authority, that is the Constitution's intent, but Washington has become fascinated with "power."

No, not power as an abstract. Power as an adjective. Someone once wrote that power is a trust; in Washington it's developed into obsession. The city is said to be divided into power centers, where power discussions are said to take place in power offices, to decide the course of power agendas.

In short, the word has taken deep root. It has been borrowed from New York, where executives are alleged to have power lunches, and it's now distressingly chi-chi in government. There are power people in Washington, who have power titles, and who work on the power solutions to, God help us, power problems.

There are power couples who fall in love on power dates. There are also power failures who get power divorces. There are power automobiles (limousines), power writing instruments (Mont Blanc fountain pens), and there is even a power necktie, if you can believe it, yellow with soft gray geometrics.

Yes, power neckties. It's likely the men in Philadelphia would be amused. Also disturbed. They were not above privilege in their day, but the worship of force was something else: the framers worried mightily about the coveting of power, and/or its concentration in the federal government.

Did Benjamin Franklin have power spectacles? The men at the Constitutional Convention held important but modestly recognized positions. They roomed in pairs to save money, they suffered the discomforts of the time the same as everyone, and they went about their business without widespread approbation.

Only George Washington commanded serious deference. He was greeted in Philadelphia with fireworks in the harbor. But power? Not as it's thought of today. The general was soon to be taken for granted, and he was thereafter reduced to requesting seats at social gatherings in the absence of invitations.

Those gatherings are at present called power parties in Washington. Power officials get hundreds of power invitations from power hosts.

ANTHONY HARRIGAN

Call It Legal Blackmail

WASHINGTON — The U.S. public has yet to realize that legal blackmail is among the country's most serious problems. If there was widespread understanding of the problem, so-called tort reform would have been accomplished in Congress and the 50 state legislatures. At the moment, the trial lawyers and the Nader-type groups are holding up reform.

What's needed in order to bring about reform is increased public awareness of the problem so that Americans understand that it affects everyone. Awareness will result from informed discussion of the legal blackmail now taking place.

Paul E. Oreflice, chairman of Dow Chemical Company, recently described the dimensions of the problem in a speech at Hillsdale College. In remarks about "suing for settlement," he declared: "I call it blackmail because many suits are started, not in order to obtain a judgment but to pressure for an out-of-court settlement." He described a lawsuit brought against his company. The plaintiffs were willing to settle for $200,000. It would have cost Dow Chemical between $2 million and $3 million to defend itself, though it felt "98 percent sure" it would win the case. The financial realities forced Dow to settle.

Mr. Oreflice also reported that "the fastest-growing department in our company, without question, is the legal department ... Our fastest growing single cost is insurance."

Given the huge increase in frivolous lawsuits, insurance companies are forced to raise their rates and, in some cases, decline to provide coverage.

The cost to the public comes in other ways. Mr. Oreflice notes that important medical products such as vaccines and anti-nausea drugs have been withdrawn from the market because the companies that produce them couldn't afford to incur exposure to lawsuit. He cited one drug that Dow had manufactured, saying that at one point sales were $20 million a year but legal and insurance costs reached $18 million. As a result of the legal blackmail, he says, "Research and development in several fields has come to a grinding halt."

that, although greatly increasing the cap on liability, still wouldn't come close to raising it to a realistic level. The House passed a renewal bill July 30 that raises the single-accident liability to $7.4 billion. The Senate is expected to resume debate soon.

How does the nuclear power industry manage to maintain such clout on Capitol Hill? We'll give you a hint: The crucial factor may be cold, hard and green.

Nuclear power lobbyists outspent their opponents by roughly 6 to 1 during the six-month period from last November to April. According to Ralph Nader's Public Citizen, nuclear industry lobbyists spent $356,797, while environmental and public-interest groups spent $61,667. During the same period, the industry fielded eight times as many lobbyists as Price-Anderson opponents did.

Even more disturbing are the sizable sums that key members of Congress receive for speaking to nuclear industry gatherings. These "honoraria" go directly into the politicians' pockets, and often require the honorable member to do little more than clear his throat at the podium.

Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La., has been a recipient of the nuclear industry's largesse. As chairman of the Energy and Natural Resources Committee, Johnston is expected to lead the fight to renew Price-Anderson in the Senate.

Our reporters Stewart Harris and Jennifer Smith reviewed the senator's financial disclosure file and found that in 1986 he was paid a total of $11,000 for six appearances before nuclear-related groups. Among the companies that paid Johnston up to $2,000 were General Electric, Westinghouse, Edison Electric and Pacific Gas and Electric.

Johnston's predecessor as committee chairman, Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, was paid $4,000 last year for speeches to nuclear industry groups.

Nuclear utilities and their contractors have also plowed millions of dollars into the campaign coffers of sympathetic members of Congress through corporate political action committees.

The U.S. Public Interest Research Group, a vociferous and determined opponent of Price-Anderson renewal, analyzed the industry's campaign donations. Among other things, the researchers found that members of Congress who voted for renewal of the industry-subsidizing law routinely got two to three times as much in contributions from nuclear power PACs as those who voted against.

Not surprisingly, both Johnston and McClure are members of the nuclear power industry's "$100,000 club." Since 1981, the two pro-nuclear senators have each received more than $100,000 in campaign contributions from industry PACs, according to the Public Interest Research Group.

Footnote: An aide for Sen. McClure maintained the contributions and honoraria did not influence the senator's thinking. The country's energy independence depends on the stability of the nuclear industry, the aide said, and it needs the Price-Anderson Act to effectively plan for the future.

Sen. Johnston was not available for comment, but in the past he has argued that failure to extend the act could mean insufficient compensation for nuclear accident victims.

Tax Repeal Gains Momentum, Republicans Claim Votes To Kill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The momentum has shifted dramatically towards the repeal of the consumer services tax, but House leaders plan to do everything they can to save the levy they say is vital to Florida's future.

House Republicans claimed Thursday they now have the votes to kill the tax and do not expect any replacement levy, and Gov. Bob Martinez indicated he was thinking along the same lines.

House Speaker Jon Mills discounted the GOP claims, but Senate President John Vogt — his voice betraying weariness and frustration over the governor's shifting position — said he might give in and let the tax die.

A new poll showed 76 percent of the public wants the levy killed and 78 percent blamed Martinez for its existence. But while insisting he will not be ruled by polls, Martinez said the weight of opinion against the tax is probably too great to overcome.

Men Sought For Jeep Shooting

MIAMI (UPI) — Two men, one with a gun, fired four shots at a National Guard jeep Thursday three hours after Pope John Paul II rode nearby in his motorcade, but no one was hurt, police said.

Cori Zywotow, spokeswoman for the Miami police department, said the National Guard jeep was headed back to its compound about 11 p.m. when the men standing at 29th Street and Miami Avenue, opened fire, striking the vehicle with one shot. The site of the incident is about a half mile away from the parade route.

The men, described by Zywotow as Latin, fled into an apartment complex nearby and remained at large.

Services Program Chief Named

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Kingsley Ross, director of the Florida Association for Retarded Citizens, has been appointed to head the state's Developmental Services program.

Health and Rehabilitative Services Secretary Gregory Coler announced the appointment on Thursday. In his new job, Ross will oversee HRS' programs for the developmentally disabled.

Ross holds bachelor's and master's degrees in sociology from the University of Rhode Island. He has been in charge of FRAC for four years.

His appointment is effective September 14.

Crawford Next Senate Leader?

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Perennial Senate power Dempsey Barron says Bob Crawford of Winter Haven has the votes to succeed Senate President John Vogt.

Democrat Crawford may have the support now, acknowledges Sen. Dick Langley, a Republican candidate for the 1989-90 leadership post. But Langley questions whether Crawford will be able to hold his majority through next fall's legislative elections.

Langley, a Clermont lawyer, says he will be able to put together a coalition that will elect him Senate leader if the GOP picks up two additional seats next year.

Most senators concede Vogt's successor won't be picked finally until after the 1988 elections, even if they don't necessarily agree that Langley has a shot. Vogt, an engineer from Cocoa Beach, became president after several senators committed to Ken Jenne of Hollywood were unseated in last fall's elections.

Urge John Paul II To Act On Reconciliation

Jewish Leaders Meet With Pope

MIAMI (UPI) — American Jewish leaders praised Pope John Paul II today for opening "the long overdue process of reconciliation," but told him they remain concerned by the Vatican's refusal to recognize Israel, continued problems with anti-Semitism and a lack of Catholic sensitivity to the Holocaust.

The Jewish leaders, in their second face-to-face encounter with the pope in the last 10 days, bluntly told John Paul that "the differences expressed at last week's meetings have not been resolved."

Indeed, for some Orthodox Jews, the divisions remain so deep they felt compelled to boycott today's session with the pontiff as they remain outraged at the pope's granting of a papal audience June 25 to Austrian president Kurt Waldheim.

The Orthodox boycott forced the Jewish leaders to reshuffle their own ranks because Rabbi Gilbert Klapperman, current president of the Synagogue Council of America, the umbrella group of religious Jewish organizations organizing the interfaith encounter, was prohibited by his colleagues from giving the major Jewish speech to John Paul.

Instead, Rabbi Mordecai Waxman, a Conservative and immediate past president of the synagogue council, delivered the address.

Waxman, speaking on behalf of the Synagogue Council as well as the American Jewish Committee, the American Jewish Congress and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, lauded the Aug. 31-Sept. 1 Rome meetings as "an important confirmation of the progress our communities have made in recent decades."

Waxman's remarks came after the pope toured an exhibit of Judaica under the sponsorship of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

"We still have a long way to go because Catholic-Jewish relations are often filled with ambivalence," Waxman said. "Yet in a world of increasing interreligious, interracial and interethnic strife, the progress in Catholic-Jewish relations is one of this century's most positive developments."

Waxman also mentioned the Waldheim affair, which brought the most serious breach in Catholic-Jewish relations, in the more than two decades since the Second Vatican Council inaugurated a new era in relations between the two faith groups.

On his flight to the United States John Paul also, for the first time, spoke of the June 25 meeting with Waldheim, who is accused by some Jewish groups of concealing his complicity with the Nazis during while serving in the German army in World War II and who has been barred from entry to the United States.

Asked why he saw Waldheim, John Paul replied, "It was my duty."

He called the Rome meeting with the Jews "very good," but also said the meeting with Waldheim was "necessary to show the same appreciation and the same esteem for every people. He came as a president, democratically elected, of a nation."

Waxman, in his remarks, cited three major concerns of the Jewish community:

—The persistence of anti-Semitism and the slow pace of the condemnation of anti-Semitism in Catholic schools.

—"Recent tendencies" to "obscure the fact that Jews were the major target of Nazi genocidal policies."

—The absence of full diplomatic relations between the Vatican and the state of Israel.

"We strongly urge once again that full and formal diplomatic relations be established soon between the Vatican and the state of Israel," Waxman said.

The Vatican maintains that such relations cannot be established because Israel's borders, especially since the 1967 war and the occupation of the West Bank, have not been internationally recognized.

The Vatican also objects to Jewish occupation of the entire city of Jerusalem, and the status of the city — holy to adherents of Judaism, Christianity and Islam — remains a point of fierce contention.

Pope Reaffirms Church Policy On Celibacy

MIAMI (UPI) — Pope John Paul II had been in the United States less than three hours before hearing what may be one of the most important speeches in his 10-day visit — a careful but candid assessment of the state of the American priesthood and a plea for a wider role for women in the church.

The speech Thursday, by the Rev. Frank McNulty of Newark, N.J., was billed by fellow priests as an invitation to the pope to discuss such sensitive issues as the role of women in the church, priestly celibacy and academic freedom for church theologians.

John Paul, however, gave no indication he is ready to engage in a dialogue on such issues, leaving women and theologians unmentioned in his response to McNulty and reaffirming church policy on celibacy.

While the pope was given a long and warm reception by the priests and archdiocesan workers packed into St. Martha's church in downtown Miami, the crowd repeatedly broke into applause during McNulty's 11-page "look into the hearts of priests" in the United States.

McNulty acknowledged John Paul's position that the church continue to insist on priestly celibacy but added: "The celibacy question — as you so well know — continues to surface."

"Its value has eroded and continues to erode in the minds of many," McNulty said. "This is of great concern to us because it has serious implications for the church."

The most enthusiastic response from the priests came when McNulty departed from the subject of the male-only priesthood to raise the fractious question of women.

John Paul listened, without expression, as McNulty invoked "the bonds of close collaboration between priests and women in ministry."

"We would ... be greatly encouraged if the Holy See, together with the local churches, would continue to explore the range of service that women might appropriately offer the church. Our ministry tells us they are gifted, willing and needed," McNulty said. "The movement of women toward practical equality is a major dynamic of our time."

"Because of the complexity and urgency of this movement, especially as it relates to the church, there is need for study, reflection and, above all, more dialogue with women."

In an apparent reference to censured American theologian Charles Curran, McNulty urged the pontiff to be mindful of the gifts theologians bring to the church.

"They draw the traditions of faith into a fruitful encounter with contemporary realities and concerns," he said. "Our hope for them is for a free sense of inquiry and a loving fidelity to the wider mission of the church."

Curran, a moral theologian at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., was stripped of his credentials as a licensed Catholic theologian by the Vatican for his dissent from church teachings on such issues as abortion, birth control, homosexuality and divorce and remarriage.

John Paul, in a lengthy response devoted principally to the spiritual aspects of the priesthood, touched only on the celibacy issue and the need to encourage more vocations to the priesthood.

"It is truly necessary for the whole church to work and pray for this intention," John Paul said of encouraging young men to enter the priesthood.

He said the model of Christ and his celibacy remains the model for all priests.

"We need a deep, personal relationship with Christ, the source and supreme model of our priesthood," John Paul said. "Our love for Christ ... is at the foundation of our commitment to celibacy."

Warmth, Colors, Flags Greet Pontiff In Miami

MIAMI (UPI) — Yellow and white streamers, ribbons and flags fluttered across a city of tropical hues as Pope John Paul II opened his second U.S. tour amid unprecedented security for such a religious pilgrimage.

John Paul maintained a wearing pace Thursday, visiting two churches, meeting with President Reagan and riding in a nighttime parade before nearly 150,000 people.

At every stop, the pope found ribbons in the yellow and white papal colors. They fluttered from car antennas.

They appeared on blouses and business suits. They graced trees outside the home of Archbishop Edward McCarthy.

Navy and white police uniforms and the olive drab worn by National Guardsmen also dominated the streets as intense security marked the pontiff's first U.S. visit since a 1981 assassination attempt in Vatican City.

The pope also heard music, from the jubilant and thunderous sounds of a 3,500-pipe organ at St. Mary's Cathedral to the booming sounds of Sousa marches offered by an Air Force Band.

In a departure from tradition, the pope stepped off the ramp from his plane and immediately greeted Reagan, without bending onto his knees to kiss the tarmac.

A searing Florida sun and brilliant blue skies, occasionally dotted by billowing clouds, and a warm tropical breeze swept across the tarmac to greet the pope, ruffling his hair and prompting him to remove his white skullcap.

WUEZ-AM Changes Hands

By Deane Jordan

Changes are store for Sanford's WUEZ-AM radio but will not be effective until the new owners who purchased the medium Wednesday get their FCC broadcast license transfer approval.

Purchasing the station was Walter Bowen, 45, of Orlando. Bowen, who has been a newsmen for ABC radio and television and for Gannett news organization, produces the television show Church Street Station.

Sale price for the station was in the range of $300,000. Bowen said.

Bowen said he expected to get the FCC license in about 30 to 40 days. He said he will be a hands-on owner of the station and is planning to make some changes that will not be announced until after the FCC acts.

Bowen did say, however, that the station will be community orientated — "It is the only AM radio station broadcasting from Seminole County" — and that some of the changes planned are "exciting."

He said the station will not be boosting its power but will be checking out its equipment to "clean up" its signal to make sure everything is operating at peak efficiency.

Bowen, who once owned an

He said his show, Church Street Station, is set to go into syndication with 47 out of a desired 80 television stations signing up for the show. He said the radio broadcast of the shows have been picked up by 137 stations. He said he would like to have 175 stations airing the show.

Bowen, who attended Southern Illinois University, is married and has lived in Orlando

Secrets Of Poindexter Testimony Revealed By Investigators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Several top administration officials knew Lt. Col. Oliver North was secretly working to arm the Nicaraguan Contra rebels, ex-national security adviser John Poindexter told congressional investigators privately.

The account by Poindexter, which was not provided in his public testimony at the congressional hearings into the Iran-Contra scandal, supports North's assertion that his White House "superiors" and other senior officials knew of the secret supply operation while U.S. military aid to the rebels was illegal.

Poindexter offered that private testimony two months before telling his story publicly in July under limited immunity from prosecution. A transcript of the private account was made public Thursday by the congressional committees now wrapping up their investigation into President Reagan's worst crisis.

In the deposition, Poindexter said the possibly illegal activities of North, his subordinate on the National Security Council staff, were known to the late CIA Director William Casey, a top Casey aide and "probably" Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, Secretary of State George Shultz and Assistant Secretary of State Elliott Abrams.

Aid Request Sparks Outrage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional Democrats are warning President Reagan not to submit his announced request for $270 million in new aid for the Nicaraguan Contra rebels before a Central American peace plan takes effect Nov. 7.

The request amounts to a show of "bad faith" despite recent Reagan words of support for a peaceful transition to democracy, Democrats say — and what's more, it is likely to fail in a Congress now led by their party.

"I predict Congress would reject the request," said an angry Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., after Secretary of State George Shultz announced the intention of the administration Thursday.

Dodd, chairman of the Senate subcommittee that deals with Central American policy, told Shultz seeking aid while the delicate peace negotiations play out would be "the worst possible signal you could send" to Marxist Nicaragua.

Stufflebeam To Be Sentenced

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI) — Marine Staff Sgt. Robert Stufflebeam, acquitted of charges he had sex with Soviet prostitutes while a guard at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow, faced sentencing today for his conviction on lesser charges.

A military jury of five officers and three enlisted personnel deliberated for about 2 1/2 hours Thursday before returning an innocent verdict on the most serious counts against the 25-year-old Marine. He faced a maximum one year in prison from the sentencing today on two minor charges of dereliction of duty.

Stufflebeam was acquitted of having sex with two prostitutes, of failing to report the contacts to authorities and of lying about the incidents later to investigators. He could have spent 14 1/2 years in prison if convicted.

The jury found him guilty only of frequenting Moscow bars deemed off-limits to Marines during his tenure as the deputy commander of the embassy guards.

WORLD

Iranian Opposition Groups Say No Connection With Attacks

PARIS (UPI) — Iranian opposition groups are seeking to distance themselves from an obscure Marxist-Leninist group linked to attacks on the Iranian Embassy in Oslo and the Iran Air offices in Paris and Frankfurt.

Opposition groups said the Organization of Fedayeen Guerrillas of the Iranian People, a Marxist-Leninist group that carried out the apparently coordinated attacks, was practically non-existent in Iran and had few members.

"They are simply trying to make noise," said former Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, one of several exiled Iranian leaders living in Paris. "They know this will have no effect."

The anti-Khomeini group, known by the initials OGFPI, occupied the Iranian Embassy in Oslo, Norway, for 3 1/2 hours Thursday and OGFPI members or sympathizers also attacked Iran Air offices in Frankfurt.

U.S.-Canada Trade Threatened

TORONTO (UPI) — Voters handed Ontario Premier David Peterson a huge majority government and a powerful mandate to reject any Canada-U.S. trade deal that would threaten vital industries in the nation's most populous province.

After leading his Liberal Party to the election sweep Thursday, Peterson, 43, immediately warned Prime Minister Brian Mulroney "Ontario will be able to speak with a strong voice for a strong Canada" on the trade issue.

Peterson's victory, marking the first Liberal majority in Ontario in 50 years, threatened the free trade initiative launched by Mulroney and President Reagan, observers said.

Canada and the United States are negotiating toward a comprehensive pact to lower trade barriers and tariffs but many Canadians oppose a deal because they say it would cost thousands of Canadian jobs and threaten cultural and political independence.

More Philippine Resignations

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Central Bank Governor Jose Fernandez and several other officials offered to quit the government today in a "bandwagon" reaction to Cabinet resignations offered earlier this week, presidential spokesman Teodoro Benigno announced.

President Corazon Aquino would likely release her decision on which resignations she would accept in two or three installments, with the first announcement coming as early as this weekend, he said.

Benigno predicted the president would not say who would leave the government until she had decided on their replacements.

Fernandez, one of the few Aquino officials carried over from the regime of ousted president Ferdinand Marcos, has been the subject of harsh criticism in the Congress for having negotiated a debt restructuring plan with foreign creditors that is considered less favorable than other nations have achieved.

State Recovers $1 Million In Fraudulent Welfare Payments

Staff And Wire Reports

A special unit in Auditor General Charles Lester's Tallahassee office said Thursday it helped recover $1 million in fraudulently obtained welfare benefits during the 1986-87 fiscal year.

The Division of Public Assistance Fraud said it prevented the improper disbursement of another $896,000 by investigating suspicious applications for Food Stamps and other benefits.

The division head, Billy G. Davis, said administrative hearings found Seminole County residents responsible for 18 cases of Food Stamp fraud totalling $8,000. Those individuals have been disqualified from the Food Stamp program for an aggregate sum of 72 months, he said.

Although eight criminal cases of other welfare fraud, totalling $12,000 from Seminole County were referred to the state attorney, only seven of those parties had criminal charges filed against them, Davis said.

His division was established by the Legislature in 1972 in response to growing welfare fraud in Florida and criticism from federal officials that the state wasn't aggressively tackling the problem.

Davis said his office reported 1,247 cases of fraud involving $1,972,341 to various state's attorneys during the 12 months ending last June 30.

The cases included 703 in Aid to Families with Dependent Children, 1,039 in the Food Stamps program, 263 in Medicaid and 44 in the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance program.

Most of the violations involved illegal receipt of benefits from more than one program.

During the 12 months, charges filed by prosecutors throughout Florida produced 777 convictions and only eight acquittals. The usual sentence imposed was probation or restitution.

"The courts ordered restitutions totaling $1,012,827, fines totaling $24,189 and jail sentences for 51 of the individuals," Davis said.

The division also saved the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services $696,015 through fraud prevention investigations, and $1,531,203 in the Food Stamp program alone by providing information leading to the disqualification of recipients.

Davis estimated he saved the state $1.85 for every $1 spent on fraud prevention and said he is expanding this effort to all major Florida counties.

Iran, Iraq Report Attacks

MANAMA, Bahrain (UPI) — Iran and Iraq reported land, air and sea attacks in one of the fiercest days of fighting in their 7-year-old war, dampening hopes for U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar's peace mission to the region beginning today.

But Perez de Cuellar said on his departure from New York Thursday that he was optimistic his efforts would succeed despite the escalation in the Persian Gulf conflict.

"I am hopeful," Perez de Cuellar told reporters as he left U.N. headquarters for the airport and a supersonic Air France Concorde flight to Paris, where he was to board a chartered jet for Tehran today.

He was scheduled to meet with Iranian leaders Saturday and Sunday and Iraqi leaders Monday and Tuesday.

In Tehran, Iranian parliamentary speaker Akbar Hashemi Rafsanjani said "we see points that can be discussed" in a U.N. cease-fire resolution that earlier received conditional acceptance from Iraq.

But Rafsanjani repeated Iranian claims that identifying Iraq as the aggressor in the conflict is "the only key to solve the issue," Iran's official Islamic Republic News Agency reported.

Perez de Cuellar said he planned to hold talks in Tehran with Rafsanjani, President Ali Khamenei, Prime Minister Mir Hossein Musavi and Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati.

In Baghdad he said he expected to talk to Iraqi President Saddam Hussein and Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz.

Perez de Cuellar said he had received assurances that "some kind of a cease-fire" will be observed by the two warring nations during his visit.

But early Thursday, one day before his arrival in Tehran, two speedboats manned by Iranian Revolutionary Guards based at Abu Musa Island in the southern gulf fired rocket-propelled grenades and machine guns at the Cypriot-registered tanker Haven, Lloyd's of London and other shipping sources said.

The grenades set part of the 109,700-ton tanker's superstructure on fire and slightly injured two crewmen, but the crew quickly extinguished the fire and the ship dropped anchor near Dubai for repairs, the sources said. The Haven was carrying a full load of oil to Indonesia.

It was the first Iranian attack on gulf shipping in eight days, but was far from the central Persian Gulf area where U.S. warships were conducting training maneuvers in preparation for escorting the next convoy of re-flagged Kuwaiti tankers through the waterway.

The Iranian attack came one day after Iraqi jets struck deep inside Iran, reportedly killing scores of people. Baghdad said its warplanes returned to Iran Thursday, pounding oil and industrial installations. Iran's Islamic Republic News Agency said at least 63 civilians were "martyred" or wounded during the Thursday raids on Lorestan and Bakhtaran provinces.

Iran said its gunners pounded the southern Iraqi city of Basra and Iraq said eight people were killed in the barrage.

Diplomatic sources in the gulf said Iraq's latest resumption of attacks on Iranian oil installations and ships has had virtually no impact on Tehran's oil exports, making Iran's acceptance of the U.N. cease-fire unlikely.

One diplomatic source said Iraq "lost patience" after it saw Iranian oil exports increase sharply during a six-week suspension of attacks.

Seminoles Seek To Scratch Astronaut, End 7-Year Itch

RADIO: Mike Kirby and Jeff Deen will broadcast tonight's Titusville Astronaut-Seminole football game on Sanford's WUEZ AM (1480). Air time is 7:30 p.m.

By Sam Cook

Titusville Astronaut's War Eagles screech with success. The Brevard County powerhouse has played 15 years of varsity football. During that time, it has won 122 games, lost 38 and tied two. Every second Friday in September, Seminole High as been the victim. The Eagles are 0-7 in head-to-head competition.

It has become, for Class 3A Astronaut, the fitting way to open the season. A fundamental, disciplined, mistake-free juggernaut, the War Eagles methodically beat 4A Seminole year after year. Sometimes by a little, other times by a lot.

It's been a "7-Year Itch" the Tribe would like to scratch with a victory.

Jay Donnelly was the Head War Eagle during those championship years. In those 15 campaigns, Donnelly and staff, have compiled the best winning percentage (76 percent) in Florida prep history. Players like Chris Collinsworth ('76) and Wilber Marshall ('79) haven't hurt. But they are long gone, and the War Eagles are still winning.

Donnelly doesn't coach the War Eagles any more. He stepped down last year after a line 9-2 season.

Will that make any difference?

That's what new coach Benny Boyd and Seminole will both find out tonight. Astronaut and the Tribe kick off the prep football season at 8 p.m. at Seminole Stadium. Tickets are $3.50.

"I don't know if it (the coaching change) will make any difference or not," the 45-year-old Boyd said Thursday afternoon. "To tell you the truth, I've been too busy to think about it."

Although Donnelly definitely had his act together, don't expect the program to slip under Boyd. He has been Donnelly's right-hand man — defensive coordinator — for all but one of those seasons. Boyd was the

Vet, Kid Hold Open U.S. Hope

NEW YORK (UPI) — A veteran of 29 Grand Slam semifinals and a rising star playing her first represent the last Americans who can keep the U.S. Open finals from again being closed to the host country.

If both Jimmy Connors and Lori McNeil are eliminated, the United States will fail to produce an American-born finalist in the nation's most prestigious tennis tournament for the second straight year. In the previous 16 years, it only happened once.

McNeil, 23, of Houston, faces an almost certain exit today when she plays top-seeded Steffi Graf in the women's semifinals. The West German is ranked No. 1 in the world and has a 1987 match record of 60-1.

Defending champion Martina Navratilova faces Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia in the other semifinal with the winners squaring off Saturday in the final.

Graf was expecting a semifinal matchup with Evert, but McNeil stunned the six-time Open champion.

In the men's draw, top seed and two-time defending champion Ivan Lendl plays Connors, 35, of Sanibel Harbour, Fla., and Swedes Stefan Edberg and Mats Wilander meet in semifinal play Saturday. The final is scheduled for Sunday.

Among the men, Edberg, the second seed, and No. 3 Wilander advanced with quarterfinal triumphs Thursday. Edberg, who has yet to face a seeded player, ripped Ramesh Krishnan of India 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

The highlight of the match was the third game of the second set, which lasted 24 minutes and included 38 points and 16 deuces. Edberg finally won on his 10th break point.

"In that game he couldn't win it, I couldn't win it and then finally I won it," Edberg said. "After I got that game, he went down a little bit."

Wilander, the third seed, outlasted No. 5 Miloslav Mecir of Czechoslovakia 6-3, 6-7 (5-7), 6-4, 7-6 (7-0) in a match that took three hours and 37 minutes.

Wilander used 11 aces to avenge a four-set defeat to Mecir in the fourth round of last year's Open and break a three-match losing streak to the Czechoslovakian.

"I have had problems with Mecir before and I was trying a few different things," said Wilander, who ventured to the net more than usual. "It was a lot like last year but I served better."

Nelson Vs. Gergley: Rams Seek Revenge Against Winter Park

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

A pair of veteran coaches who have built a tradition of winning at their respective schools will go head-to-head tonight as Harry Nelson's Lake Mary Rams play host to Larry Gergley's Winter Park Wildcats in the season opener at Lake Mary High.

"I have a lot of respect for Harry (Nelson) and the program he has built," Gergley, whose Wildcats are traditionally among Central Florida's best, said. "We've both been around a while and I guess every once in a while the old guys have to go at each other."

It will be only the second time Winter Park and Lake Mary have met on the football field. In the regional playoff game in 1984, Gergley's team hammered Nelson's Rams, 33-0.

"We're going to try to make it a game this time," Nelson, entering his fifth year at the helm of Lake Mary, said. "Larry (Gergley) always has a solid, senior ballclub and I expect it to be a good battle."

The tough opener is nothing new to Lake Mary as the Rams tangled with Apopka on opening night the last two years. And it doesn't get any easier for both the Rams and Wildcats as both have rugged schedules lined up for 1987.

"If I could play Lee Junior High in the first game, I would, but I can't," Nelson said. "But we have played a tough opponent on opening night the last two years so we'll be prepared."

After the opener against the Wildcats, Lake Mary follows with tough Seminole Athletic Conference games against Lake Brantley and Seminole. Winter Park, which plays in the dog-eat-dog Metro Conference, follows with Orlando Oak Ridge and perennial state powerhouse Merritt Island.

"I would say the only tougher schedule than ours is maybe West Orange's," Gergley said. "We play both Apopka and Evans, both arch-rivals away and our nonconference games are against Lake Mary, Lake Howell and Merritt Island. Those are five teams with winning traditions so we have our work cut out for us."

Lake Mary returns most of its leaders from last year's team which finished with six victories in a row and a 7-3 record. The Rams have superb talent at the skilled positions including junior quarterback Carlos Hartsfield, senior running back John Curry and senior receiver Sheldon Richards. Additional strength in the backfield comes from junior Ray Williams and senior Richard Burkett while junior Calvin Davis gives Hartsfield another

Patriots Ride Crest Into Opener Vs. Oviedo

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

Fred Almon is as high as a helium balloon right now.

For the first time in his three years as head coach of the Lake Brantley High School football team, his unit is an a-roll.

The Patriots, who are coming off an impressive 7-3 win over DeLand in the fall jamboree, are hoping that their momentum will continue in tonight's season opener. Brantley will entertain Oviedo in the first Seminole Athletic Conference contest of the season. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

Almon said that although it is only the first game of the season, it is still crucial to his team. "We have got more spirit and confidence right now than we ever had," Almon, who has coached back-to-back 1-9 seasons, said. "I don't want a loss would do to us right now."

Oviedo coach Jack Blanton, whose team has dealt the Patriots opening game losses in each of the past two seasons, said that he feels the Pats are better this year than in the previous two.

"I think that they are one of the best teams in the county right now," Blanton said. "I was impressed with their performance in the jamboree and if I know Fred, he's going to have them ready."

Blanton likes to use trick plays, and he said that is probably going to reach into his trick bag against the Pats. Last year a hook-and-lateral late in the game gave the Lions a 16-14 victory. "We have been working on the trick plays," Blanton said. "We are not that big, and when you have some question marks on offense, its good to have a few tricks up your sleeve."

Almon said that he knows about Blanton's tricks. "We have been practicing against the trick plays all week," Almon said. "That is how we lost last season, and it won't happen like that again this time."

Football

The strength of Oviedo lies in its defense as inside linebackers Pete Lingard and Willie Paldo are two of the finest in the area. Andy Palmer, a 270-pound tackle, anchors the middle. Mike McCurdy, Chad Duncan and Karl Wright are the top hitters in the backfield.

"Their defense really has me worried," Almon said. "They have good linebackers and that one tackle (Andy Palmer) is a tough kid."

Oviedo's defense will face the task of stopping the Brantley wishbone. The Patriots backfield of halfbacks Johnnie Griffin and Jeff Bynum, fullback Mark Sepe and quarterback Clint Johnson meshed well in the jamboree.

"Those are four quality kids back there," Almon said. "They are going to run over some people this season." Almon also added that receiver Nigel "Hands" Hinds, who led the SAC in receiving last year but missed the jamboree with a separated shoulder, will be ready.

Sepe said that the Pats are oozing with confidence. "This is as confident as we have ever been," the three-year starter said. "Our goal is to win the district, and if we are going to do that, we are going to have start right here."

The Patriots defense, meanwhile, is led by safety Jeff Stanphill and tackle Matt Thornton. "I'm very enthused with the way our defense has looked," Almon said. "We have a good offense, and our defense can stop them in practice."

Blanton said that he is hoping his offense is up to the task. "I hope that we'll be ready," Blanton said. "We have got a pretty decent offensive line, but our backs are young. I'm just hoping that they come out and

One back that worries Almon is tailback Rodney Thompson. "He (Thompson) can really fly," Almon said. "We've got to contain him if we are going to win."

Almon said that he plans to put the ball in the air tonight. "We only threw three passes in the spring and fall jamborees," Almon said. "We haven't thrown the ball yet, but I'll guarantee you that we will."

Howell Drops Tribe Netters

CASSELBERRY — On the verge of coming unglued, Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks pulled together and put on a determined comeback Thursday night. Sparked by senior Tammy Lewis, the Lady Hawks shook off a loss in the opening game to claim a 14-16, 15-10, 15-8 Seminole Athletic Conference victory over Seminole High before 151 fans at Lake Howell High.

"We have a lot of faith in each other," Lewis said after the marathon match. "We were concentrating and communicating better tonight and we showed a lot more hustle."

Lake Howell snapped a two-game losing streak with the SAC victory while Seminole fell to 0-2 in the league. Lake Howell has a non-conference game Monday at home against Orlando Dr. Phillips while Seminole hosts DeLand in an SAC game Tuesday.

Seminole played inspired volleyball in the opening game as it came back from a 12-4 deficit, but 13 missed serves in the next two games contributed in a big way to the Lady Tribe's demise.

"We just handed it to them on a silver platter with all those missed serves," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "I was very happy with our movement and playing of the ball, but we just beat ourselves."

Led by the serving of Stormi Littrell and Susan Hayden, the setting of Lewis and Eva Miranda and the spiking of Carey Manuel, Lake Howell stormed to a 10-3 lead in the opening game and later had a

NFL Owners Vote To Feed Fans Leftovers

SCHAUMBURG, Ill. (UPI) — Faced with a threatened strike by the players union Sept. 22, the 28 NFL owners have voted unanimously to continue fielding teams using free agents, retired players and union members willing to cross picket lines.

The owners Thursday said their No. 1 priority was to "protect the integrity of the game." It remains to be seen whether the players union, which staged a 57-day strike in 1982, will call the owners' bluff and stage a walkout after the second week of the season.

"We just felt that we had to try something different," Jack Doulan, executive director of the league's Management Council, said after Thursday's two-hour, 10-minute meeting of owners. "No one is enthusiastic about this idea but we've got to do something."

In an effort to head off that possibility, Doulan said negotiations would resume with the union Saturday at an undisclosed site.

The two sides have met face-to-face for only 4 1/2 hours since Aug. 14 on a new contract to replace the five-year pact that expired Aug. 31. Gene Upshaw, the executive director of the Players Association, said the lack of progress forced the union to set a strike deadline on Tuesday.

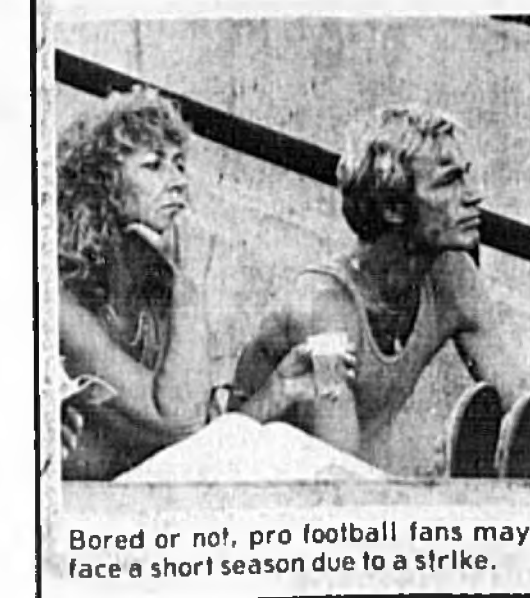

Dallas' Cowboys' President-General Manager Tex Schramm said even if the players strike, the NFL would be able to field good teams.

"We think we can field exciting football players," said Schramm. "These players played through the training camp and know the system."

The fans — and more importantly the networks — might disagree. The recently-negotiated TV deal provides the teams with $476 million a year in revenue. In 1982, the strike cost the owners an estimated $200 million.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who did not attend the meeting, conceded earlier this week some of the money may have to be rebated should the owners try to field non-union teams.

Bored or not, pro football fans may face a short season due to a strike.

Recovered Bell: Healthy Gators

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — With quarterback Kerwin Bell recovering quickly from a shoulder injury, the Florida Gators expect to get healthy in Saturday's home opener against Tulsa.

Last week, Bell was battered by the University of Miami defense for the second straight year, suffering five sacks, three interceptions and a slightly separated shoulder in a 31-4 loss that dropped the Gators out of the Top 20. Bell worked out in mid-week and has been named to start by Coach Galen Hall, who isn't looking past Tulsa to a Sept. 19 road date against Alabama.

"Tulsa threw for over 400 yards on a good defensive team in Oklahoma State," said Hall. "and their freshman T.J. Rubley had 386 yards passing in his first game."

Oklahoma State beat the Golden Hurricane 39-28 to spoil George Henshaw's coaching debut, but Tulsa rolled up 33 first downs and outgained the Cowboys 588-417. Rubley, 18, completed 27 of 36 passes for 386 yards and two touchdowns.

Football

finding fellow freshman Dan Bitson seven times for 161 yards. Tailback Derrick Ellison, a 1,000-yard rusher last year, opened with 87 yards on 13 carries.

"There's no comparison between our programs right now because of the quality of athletes Florida has," says Henshaw, who has instituted a pro set instead of last season's veer offense. "I'd like to have more bullets to shoot with Saturday. Florida's loss to Miami really surprised me. I picked the Gators to win the game straight up. They have some real men out there."

The Gators are 16-point favorites at Florida Field, where Florida has lost just once in the last 21 games against opponents outside the Southeastern Conference. Despite the apparent mismatch, outside linebacker Clifford Charlton — who had a quiet five tackles against Miami — is taking the Golden Hurricane very seriously.

Galen Hall, left, can breathe easier now that quarterback Kerwin Bell is recovered from a separated shoulder.

"Tulsa represents another challenge to our defense," he says. "They have an excellent aerial attack and we will have to rush the passer well to come out on top. They have a good running game also, so we will have to be mentally sharp when we step on the field Saturday. We want to use the Miami game as a motivator."

Florida tailback Octavius Gould (rib) remains doubtful and that could mean added playing time for freshman Emmitt Smith, who carried five times for 16 yards against Miami and caught two passes for 13 yards.

"Florida is a lot better than they looked last week," says Henshaw, who didn't tell Rubley he was going to start ahead of freshman Kirt Griffin until minutes before kickoff against Oklahoma State. "Florida showed it can move the ball against Miami, they just couldn't sustain. We have no illusions."

East Carolina Eyes Second Stunner

Football

GREENVILLE, N.C. (UPI) — Art Baker played the role of the professor last week and enjoyed the results. He can only hope he'll receive the same satisfaction as the pupil.

Baker coached East Carolina to a 32-14 upset victory over North Carolina State last week. N.C. State is coached by Dick Sheridan, an assistant to Baker when the two were toiling at Furman.

Baker's Pirates host No. 11 Florida State and Bobby Bowden Saturday night. Baker was Bowden's associate head coach in 1984. A sellout crowd of 36,000 — a record attendance for Ficklen Stadium — is expected to see Florida State's first visit to East Carolina. The Seminoles are the highest ranked team ever to play in Greenville. Then-No. 15 Miami defeated the home-standing Pirates in 1985.

"I just finished preparing my team to play a great friend in Dick Sheridan and his N.C. State team," Baker said. "And now we must go against Bobby Bowden, who is a great friend and one of the best coaches in college football."

Florida State opened its season last week by drubbing Texas Tech 40-16. Quarterback Danny McManus, whom Baker coached during McManus' freshman season, enjoyed his best statistical game against the Red Raiders. He completed 19 of 34 passes for 275 yards and two touchdowns.

Quarterback Travis Hunter leads the Pirate attack. East Carolina had five ball carriers to accumulate more than 50 yards on the ground against N.C. State. Anthony Simpson picked up 67 yards and Jarrod Moody had 57 on just five carries, including two touchdowns, one on a 39-yard run. Hunter drew Baker's praise for his quick decisions on option plays.

Florida State leads the series 4-0. Only once have the Pirates kept the score close, when they lost 47-46 in 1983. Otherwise, they've fallen by scores of 63-7, 56-17 and 48-17.

But Bowden maintains that Baker can work magic.

"When I hired him at Florida State, it was after the kind of offense he had built at East Carolina (as an assistant to Ed Emory)," Bowden said. "And now they've opened their season with a huge win. Beating N.C. State is like us beating Florida. I'm not real excited about having to play up there. The people at Miami said it was one of the toughest places they had to play."

But Baker was equally complimentary of the Seminoles.

"They have an explosive offense and excellent skill people all around," he said. "Coach Bowden has told me he thinks this is his best team in 11 years there and I feel they'll make a strong run at the national championship."

CARTER STARTS — Sophomore tailback Dexter Carter will start for the 11th-ranked Florida State Seminoles Saturday against East Carolina, coach Bobby Bowden announced Thursday.

Carter gets the starting berth over Sammie Smith, who missed last week's season opening win over Texas Tech with a knee injury. Carter gained 60 yards rushing against the Red Raiders, and caught four passes for 24 yards.

"We're going to start Dexter," Bowden said. "Sammie is ready to play. We'll play it by ear."

Bowden also said that injured tailback Victor Floyd and fullback Keith Ross will not make the trip to Greenville, N.C. Quarterback Danny McManus and fullback Dayne Williams round out the FSU backfield.

IN BRIEF

Doctors: Next 72 Hours Will Determine Guerrero's Chances

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Doctors Thursday agreed the next 72 hours will play a key role in determining race driver Roberto Guerrero's chances of recovering from a practice crash that left him in critical condition with head injuries.

Guerrero remained unconscious and in critical but stable condition today after crashing into a wall during a practice run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, officials said.

Guerrero, who requires the aid of a ventilator to breathe, was admitted to the neuro-critical care unit at Methodist Hospital after smashing into the second-turn wall Thursday afternoon. He suffered a blow to the head but there were no cuts or other injuries, officials said.

"His brain has been shaken," said Michael Turner, a Methodist neurosurgeon. "He has suffered a blow to the head. The next 72 hours will be critical. The best thing right now is that he is moving all of his extremities. There is no bleeding enough to require surgery at this time."

Guerrero, 29, crashed on the final lap of a Goodyear tire testing session at the 2 1/2-mile oval. The right front tire of his car came loose and struck the Colombian driver in the head, leaving tracks on Guerrero's helmet, said Vince Granatelli, owner of the team for which Guerrero drives.

Ueberroth Fines Texas $250,000

DALLAS (UPI) — Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth Thursday fined Texas Rangers owner Eddie Giles $250,000 because the team called up repeated drug abuser Steve Howe from the minor leagues. The Dallas Morning News reported Friday.

The News, quoting an unnamed ownership source, said the penalty is the maximum Ueberroth can impose on an owner, and it is the second largest ever levied against a franchise.

The fine was issued during an executive session of major league owners in Toronto, the newspaper said.

Howe, who has been suspended from baseball several times for drug abuse, was promoted to the Rangers' roster on Aug. 6, the day after Chiles and club President Mike Stone met with Ueberroth in New York to discuss their plans.

That meeting has been described as hostile. Ueberroth threatened Howe with a suspension and Chiles with a fine if the Rangers promoted the pitcher to the major leagues from the team's Oklahoma City farm club, the newspaper said.

Strange, Mahaffey Share Lead

SUTTON, Mass. (UPI) — Curtis Strange and John Mahaffey entered the $500,000 Bank of Boston Classic with opposite perspectives and concluded the opening round in a first-place tie.

Strange, winner of three PGA tournaments in two months, fired a 6-under par 65 to tie Mahaffey and Ray Stewart for the lead. While Strange hopes to add to his earnings, Mahaffey is returning from a month's layoff.

The trio held a one-stroke lead over crowd favorite Lee Trevino. Seven players finished two strokes behind the leaders, including Paul Azinger, No. 2 on the money list. George Burns III, Sam Randolph, Wayne Grady, Lou Graham, Jay Haas and Dennis Trixler also shot 67s.

Escambia Footballer Paralyzed

PENSACOLA (UPI) — A 15-year-old high school football player from Pensacola was in serious condition Thursday after being seriously hurt during a practice session.

George Blackmon, a defensive back on the varsity squad, was at a scrimmage with teammates at Escambia High School Wednesday when he was paralyzed following a tackle against another player.

Blackmon, a sophomore, was taken to Baptist Hospital. Officials would not provide details about the extent of Blackmon's injuries, but he was being treated in the surgical intensive care unit.

Sides Clash Over Drug Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The opposing sides in the NFL's contract talks aired part of their disagreement before Congress, clashing over a management proposal requiring all players to submit to random drug testing.

UCLA Beefs Up For Cornhuskers

United Press International

No. 3 UCLA, which routinely batters Big Ten teams on Jan. 1, finds the going much tougher against Big Eight teams in September and October.

Judging from recent history, UCLA should be far greater than a touchdown underdog for Saturday's game against No. 2 Nebraska at Lincoln, Neb.

The Bruins have won three Rose Bowls since 1982, defeating a different Big Ten team each time. But in three of the last four years they have played a Big Eight team early in the season and were crushed. Nebraska beat UCLA 42-10 in 1983 and 42-3 in 1984 and Oklahoma belted the Bruins 38-3 last season.

"When you play Nebraska, you play smashball," UCLA Coach Terry Donahue said. "How do I define smashball? It's primarily an emphasis on the running game, ball control and physicalness."

Since losing to Oklahoma, UCLA has added 305-pound tackle David Richards from Southern Methodist and emphasized an off-season weight program. Now Donahue hopes his team can play in the trenches with the Cornhuskers.

"Maybe the day at Oklahoma served as a motivator," Donahue said. "It was so apparent that we had to work harder."

Nebraska's Memorial Stadium is sold out for a record 151st time and the game will be telecast nationally.

"This early in the year it's unusual to have a game like this," Nebraska Coach Tom Osborne said. "We've had a lot of them toward the end where Nebraska and Oklahoma have been ranked very high. And I know we played Penn State a few years back where we were ranked pretty high and they were ranked pretty high."

The Cornhuskers smashed Utah State 56-12 and UCLA routed San Diego State 47-14 in their opening games last week.

In other Saturday games matching ranked teams, No. 1 Oklahoma is home against No. 19 North Carolina. No. 9 Penn State is home against No. 17 Alabama, and No. 8 Michigan is home against No. 16 Notre Dame.

Defending national champion Penn State receives its first and perhaps sternest test of the season Saturday.

The Nittany Lions committed three turnovers and were penalized 11 times, but still were able to destroy Bowling Green 45-19 in their opener last week. Alabama began its season with a 38-6 trouncing of Southern Mississippi, to open Bill Curry's tenure as head coach.

"We're a little behind where I thought we'd be," said Penn State Coach Joe Paterno, who lost 17 starters from his championship squad.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., Notre Dame begins its season by meeting the same opponent that started the Fighting Irish on its close-loss trend of 1986.

The Irish opened last season with a 24-23 loss to Michigan. That was the first of five defeats by five or fewer points Notre Dame suffered in Holtz's first season as Irish coach.

"I have no idea how good a football team we are, none whatsoever," Holtz said. "We will be a good football team. It's just difficult to evaluate at the present time."

In other games involving ranked teams, it's Kansas at No. 4 Auburn, West Virginia at No. 5 Ohio State, Fullerton State at No. 6 Louisiana State, No. 10 Clemson at Virginia Tech, No. 11 Florida State at East Carolina, No. 12 Arkansas at Mississippi, Purdue at No. 13 Washington, No. 14 Arizona State at Illinois, No. 15 Tennessee at Mississippi State and North Carolina State at No. 18 Pittsburgh.

Seminoles Place 8th In Opener

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High's harriders did not compete in last week's preseason jamboree and they had not been put through a time trial. Coach Ken Brauman was not sure what to expect in Thursday's Astronaut Invitational.

Brauman was certainly pleased with the outcome, though, as the Seminoles took eighth place out of 23 teams in the season-opening meet at Dunn Airport in Titusville.

"It was a real good way to open the season," Brauman said. "The kids were pretty happy with their performance and they still know that they can run better."

Junior Jason Kaiser led the way for Seminoles as he finished 14th overall with a personal record time of 16:25. Kaiser took over one minute off his best time of a year ago.

Freshman Dalvin Davis also turned in a solid performance as he finished 37th at 17:11. Following Davis in the top five were Rufaro Matipano (43rd at 17:26), Brent Posey (63rd at 17:55) and Alan Seward (64th at 17:55). Also running for the Tribe were Joe Peoples (18:14) and John Herberger (18:52).

"Jason (Kaiser) ran a very strong race and Dalvin (Davis) ran tremendous for his first time running the three mile," Brauman said. "Rufaro (Matipano) also ran well and Brent (Posey) dropped about a minute off his best time of last year."

The Astronaut Invitational also marked the meeting of some of the strongest teams in the state in both Class 4A and Class 3A. The race was combined so all classes ran against each other and it was second-ranked (Class 4A) Largo which took first place with an impressive time score 34. Top-ranked (4A) Tampa Leto was next at 66 followed by 3A powers Orlando Bishop Moore Shownda Martin, left, ran a 12:47 to place fourth at the Astronaut Invitational. Jason Kaiser, who finished 14th, led the boys to an eighth-place finish.

(104) and Rockledge (150), fifth-ranked (4A) Palm Bay (150), Titusville High (213), Orlando Oak Ridge (223) and Seminole (224).

In the junior varsity race, Seminole's top finisher was Jeff Smith who came in 41st at 19:07.

MARTIN LEADS GIRLS

Seminole senior Shownda Martin turned in a strong early-season performance Thursday as she finished fourth in a strong field with a time of 12:47 at the Astronaut Invitational in Titusville.

Seminole High finished 11th in the 20-team meet with a team score of 317. Class 3A power Titusville Astronaut ran away with first place while sixth-ranked (Class 4A) Palm Bay was second, unranked Tampa Leto finished third, fifth-ranked (4A) Boca Raton Spanish River was fourth and number one (4A) Largo was a disappointing fifth.

"Shownda (Martin) ran real well for the first meet," Seminole coach Nate Perkins said. "She was right up there with three of the best runners in the state (led by individual champion Teresa Smith of Leto)."

Dorchelle Webster also ran well for Seminole as she finished 19th with a time of 13:35. Completing the Lady Tribe's top five were Nadrian McGill (83rd at 16:24), Viola Posley (98th at 18:01) and Michelle Pearson (103rd at 18:30).

"We did improve from the jamboree and that's the main thing we're looking for," Perkins said. "All we have to do now is get the girls who haven't been working out much in shape."

Lake Mary Opener Will Provide Insight

By Mark Blythe
Special to the Herald

With the cross country season just beginning, Seminole County coaches are using Saturday's Lake Mary Opener as a meet to gain experience and see where they stand among the early-season competition.

The meet will begin with the girls varsity race at 8:30 a.m., followed by the boys varsity at 9 a.m., the girls junior varsity at 9:30 a.m. and the boys junior varsity at 10 a.m.

Ten 10 girls and 11 boys teams make up the competition from Seminole and Orange county schools. The only county team not entered is the Seminole girls.

A few county runners saw action in the jamboree held this past Saturday at Seminole Community College and have their first race under their belt.

In the jamboree, though, a few teams ran runners on their team who have completed high school, so the opener will give coaches a better understanding of where their runners rank.

Lake Mary coach Mark McGee said Lyman is labeled as the pre-race favorite. Orlando Bishop Moore also brings in a strong runner in Saul Laird.

"Lyman did not run in the jamboree, but we know they're tough," McGee said. "They have two runners (Ted Mitchell and Nick Radkewich) up front and a strong group right behind them."

Brad Smith and Eric Petersen are leading the way for Lake Mary and form a competitive tandem. With the addition of two transfers, McGee hopes to pull closer to the top than his team's fourth place finish Saturday.

"This is the first time we'll race against strictly high school teams and we'll see where we stand and where we need to improve," McGee said. "There will be a variety of good teams and good individuals making the meet interesting for everyone."

Lake Mary girls coach Mike Gibson would like nothing better than to win the meet. "We're going into every meet this season with the idea that we can win it," Gibson said. "We've never finished higher than third in our own meet and we like to change that and win a trophy this year."

Gibson has an experienced squad with four seniors dotting the varsity roster. Senior Heather Heikkila is leading the way followed by sophomore Allison Snell. Seniors Tara Braheny, Christine Adamson and Tabatha Gano form the top five followed by Kim Blackadar and Debi Smith.

"The course is in immaculate condition," Gibson said. "The only thing that will slow the runners down is the hill and that has been filled with clay as opposed to the loose sand."

Both Lake Brantley teams will be making their debut at the opener and both teams are taking the meet as a warm up for things coming up in the future.

"The boys have many first-year runners with only two returning varsity runners. Darren Tugman and Ron Gardener will be looked to for leadership on the young Patriot team."

"We're taking a very relaxed attitude into this meet," Brantley coach Charlie Harris said. "We just want to get some experience and learn how to compete."

Although they're listed as one of the co-favorites with Lake Howell, the Lady Patriots are planning to just get their feet wet. "It's the first meet and we just want to get back into the swing of things," coach Mary Littlebrant said.

Leading the way for Brantley will be Kristen Longmire and Heather Camino. Another runner gaining the attention of Littlebrant is freshman Joy Tullis. "She's up and coming," Littlebrant said. "We just hope she keeps improving and will help us out."

Hawks Plan To Settle Up With Blue Darters

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

Even though the Lake Howell Silver Hawks went 9-1 last season, and dominated the area in a fashion that no other team has in recent years, the Silver Hawks' fate last season was decided by one team.

Apopka. Lake Howell came into its game against Apopka with a perfect 3-0 record. And it appeared as though the Hawks were going to make it 4-0 as they held a narrow 7-0 lead midway through the final period. But Apopka rallied for 10 points late in the game to edge Howell, 10-7. It was the only setback the Hawks would suffer all year.

Following the regular season, Howell, Winter Park and Apopka finished in a three-way tie for District 5A-5 title. A playoff was held at Apopka. After disposing of Winter Park, Howell got a chance to avenge the earlier loss to Apopka. But it wasn't to be as Apopka escaped with a 7-3 decision and a trip to the state playoffs.

This season, the teams are not in the same district, but Howell coach Mike Bisceglia has scheduled none other than Apopka for tonight's opening game, which begins at 8 at Lake Howell High. "Our kids are fired up for Apopka," Bisceglia said. "We are looking for revenge, but I don't think that it is going to be easy to achieve it."

Apopka coach Chip Gierke said that his team is anxious for a competitive game. "It seems as though whenever we play, it is a pretty close game," Gierke said. "I respect Mike (Bisceglia) and I know that his team will be ready for us."

Howell is coming off a 10-0 loss to rival Lake Mary in one half of last week's jamboree. Bisceglia said that he was glad to have gotten the chance to take on the Rams. "We made a lot of mistakes," Bisceglia said. "But I think that we got the kinks out."

Apopka edged Winter Park, 8-7, in its jamboree. Bisceglia said that he is expecting a tough game from the Blue Darters. "I saw the film of their spring and fall jamborees," Bisceglia said. "They are a big team. Their defensive tackles are almost as big as our offensive tackles."

That is saying something considering that Howell offensive tackle, Mike Schaefer and Jack Benedict weigh 266 and 294 pounds, respectively. "The game will be decided in the line," Bisceglia said. "We plan on keeping things on the ground for the most part. We will put it up a few times, though."

Apopka is led by quarterback Dan LaForest and running back Shawn Monroe. "We are a lot more of an experienced team," Gierke said. "I'm anxious to see what we can do against them."

Bisceglia is hoping that Cornel Rigby, who ran for 740 yards last season will have a big game. "Cornel has got a tender ankle," Bisceglia said. "But I'm still hoping that he has a strong outing. We need to keep the ball away from them."

Gierke said that his team's goal is to stop Rigby. "Mike will keep on running the veer until it doesn't work anymore," Gierke said. "We have got to go in there and stop their running attack."

Rigby, a hard-running senior, said that is looking forward to taking on Apopka. "I've been anxious to play them since the first day of practice," Rigby said. "They are the team that stopped us last season, and we owe them something this season."

Lake Howell's defense, which lost most of its starters last season, will be the question mark for Howell tonight. "I am confident in our defense," Bisceglia said. "We have got a good game plan, and I think that we will do a good job."

Gierke said that the rivalry seems to get better every year. "It has been a great rivalry for a long time," Gierke said. "The year shouldn't be any different." Bisceglia said that his team can't wait for Apopka. "They've really been looking forward to it," Bisceglia said. "I hope we come out and do the kind of job that we are capable of."

Howell FG Nips Tribe JV, 3-0

After squandering three golden opportunities in regulation, Seminole High ended up dropping a 3-0 overtime decision to Lake Howell Thursday night in the junior varsity season opening football game at Lake Howell High.

In regulation, Seminole had one touchdown called back by a penalty, a pass play to the one-yard line called back by penalty and also fumbled at the one-yard line.

In overtime, Seminole ran four plays and failed to score and Lake Howell's Peter Logan kicked a field goal on its first play of OT.

"We moved the ball well and had our chances but we couldn't get the score in regulation," Seminole coach John McNamara said. "We'll be better organized and better prepared for our next game (home this Thursday against Edgewater)."

Ralph Anderson led the Seminole offense with 94 yards rushing on 18 carries while Derrick Fritton, Lester Cobb, Jimmy Franklin and Dave Hulker all contributed interceptions to the defense. McNamara said Willie McCloud, Bernard Eady, Robert Aimee and Duck Grayson also played well on defense. Coach Harry Drivas' Silver Hawks host Oviedo Thursday.

Lyman Eyes Quick Start For Opener

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

If the Lyman Greyhounds are going to have a successful football team this season, they are going to have to win the games that they are supposed to win. In the past Lyman has played good teams on even terms, only to flounder against the underdogs.

They face one of the state's Class 5A weaklings in tonight's season opener at Orlando Boone High School. Coach Chris Bounnell's Braves were 0-10 last fall.

Lyman coach Bill Scott said that his team, which nipped Boone, 7-6 last season, is expecting a tough encounter. "They have played us tough for as long as I can remember," Scott said. "I think that it is going to come down to whom wants to win more."

And nobody wants to win more than Bounnell. "We have got to win a football game early in the season," Bounnell said. "Lyman is a good team, but I'd like to do it against them."

Lyman's strength is its defense. Defensive back Johnny Luce and Scott Radcliff are two of the equity's tightest hitters. Linebacker Mike Whitaker has also proved to be a tough block.

"I'm very happy with the way that our defense is coming around," Scott said. "They are a bunch of kids who aren't afraid to hit you."

Whitaker said he feels the defense will improve every week. "I think that we will get better as we go along," Whitaker said. "We have a lot of intensity, and I think that we will be ready for Boone."

Luce said that he is anxious to hook up with the Braves. "They always seem to play us tough," Luce said. "I am looking forward to playing them."

Scott went on to say that he is fearful of the Braves. "I saw them play in their jamboree," Scott said. "And they are a big football team. They are bigger than us, and I think that they are a little quicker." In a quarter of action, Boone and Edgewater played to a scoreless tie before the Braves lost to Orlando Dr. Phillips, 6-0.

Bounnell said he will be counting on the play of defensive backs Todd O'Donnell and Ed Flores. "Those are our defensive leaders," Bounnell said. "I'm not real sure about our offense. I'm curious as to what we can do, and I'll find out Friday."

Scott will probably be without starting tailback Victor Farrier. Farrier severely bruised his ribs in Lyman's 3-0 win over Oviedo in the fall jamboree. "His status is questionable," Scott said. "Having Vic out of the lineup certainly won't help our offense at all."

Steven Jerry and Mike McNamee have shared the quarterbacking position. Scott said he feels comfortable with either at the helm.

Bounnell said that this is a rebuilding year. "We are rebuilding off of a rebuilding year," Bounnell chuckled. "I do feel that we are a much better football team that we were last year, though."

Scott said that he is hoping for a more encouraging offensive performance. "We are just trying to get people in there with the cohesiveness that it takes to win football games," Scott said. "I'm hoping that we come out and play hard."

"The attitude of the kids has been super," Scott continued. "And we need to get off to a quick start this season."

Scott is looking for tackle John Spolski and center Shawn Martinson to lead the way up front. Whitaker will also be called on to throw a block or two.

head coach at Cocoa for three years prior to joining the Astronaut building program.

The former Georgia Bulldog/Dallas Cowboy lineman was the likely successor.

"We are a little younger than we have been in the past," Boyd said. "We had 29 seniors graduated. It's kind of a reverse role of what Sanford faced last year. This year, they have the seniors (25), and we don't."

Seminole head coach Roger Beathard, however, doesn't expect anything to change from Donnelly to Boyd. "It's a typical Astronaut team," Beathard, who will be head coaching his first Seminole game, said. "They're going to do all phases of the game well. They can throw and they can catch. They have good skill positions. They have a good punter."

The most skillful War Eagle is Hubie Williams. The 180-pound senior burned the "Noles two years ago by catching two bombs for touchdowns. Last year, he wasn't as effective as a quarterback but has good shifty, open-field moves. He shifts to the halfback slot this year, where Boyd counts on him and 6-foot-3 185-pound fullback Mark LeBlanc to carry the load.

Seth Adams, a three-year starter on the offensive line, opens the holes.

Astronaut will employ two quarterbacks — Jimmy Jones and Brett Gadapee. "Jones throws pretty decent and Gadapee is more experienced," Boyd said. "Bruce McKinney is the tight end. He's a good one."

On defense, tackle Scott Benton (5-11, 195) and linebackers Tim Boyd (185) and Larry Shuler (180) are the hitters. Boyd, a junior, is the third of the coach's son to star for the War Eagles. The secondary is headed up by Williams and Theotis Ray.

Beathard has studied a jamboree and film. "The two inside linebackers are the strength of the defense," he said. "We're going to attack their perimeter and their secondary. They had some problems in those areas in the jamboree. Of course, they may have them corrected by now."

The Seminoles will attack with quarterback Jeff Blake. The rifle-armed senior missed his junior year with an injury, but he threw for over 1,000 yards as a sophomore. Curtis Rudolph, a three-year starter, will be at fullback. Jerod Jones, a junior, completes the backfield. Both can catch the ball swinging out.

The deeper threats are Dwight Brinson, Jerry Governal, Walt Hopson and Terrance Eady. "Hopson and Eady are 6-3 and 6-4," Beathard said. "We will make use of their height."

Although the skill players are capable, the big question for Seminole is the offensive line. Can it open the holes and give Blake the time to live? Three of the linemen — guard Wilton Hooks, center Randy "Pork" Bryant and guard Kevin Straub — are returning starters.

capable pass receiver. The offensive line is anchored by brothers Eric Birle and Alex Birle along with returning starter Chad Gay.

Defensively, Lake Mary does not return as many starters, but the Rams are optimistic after coming off a 10-0 win over Lake Howell in the preseason jamboree. Linemen Manny Sapien, Dan Ferris, Dustin Simms and Matt Kefert all looked good in the jamboree as did linebacker Lance Stewart. The secondary is a veteran crew with returning starters Terry "The Cat" Miller, Richards and Hartsfield.

"The defense looked very good on the film of the jamboree," Nelson said. "We missed a few tackles, but the positioning was very good. Offensively, I think we'll have to come up with the big play more this year. I don't think we'll be able to run through many people."

Gergley did not get a chance to see Lake Mary's jamboree performance in person or on film, but he did send some scouts to the jamboree. Winter Park was edged by Apopka, 8-7, in its preseason jamboree.

"The people I sent to the jamboree said Lake Mary was the best team there," Gergley said. "They are very aggressive and have the big play potential offensively."

While Lake Mary returns a number of starters, Winter Park returns only five starters from last year's Metro Conference Champions. The Wildcats were Beathard said he has confidence they can do the job. Bryant, however, will not start tonight because he missed practice Monday, necessitating Straub's move to center. Beathard said Bryant will play, though. Earnie "Sackman" Lewis and Paul Newell, defensive stalwarts, will share one tackle spot opposite junior Sean Boudreau.

The defense, too, will be without a starter. Middle linebacker Steve Warren will not play. He missed Monday's practice, too. Beathard said he won't play because it was not the first practice he missed.

Ron Cox, who was a starting linebacker in the spring, replaces Warren. He joins Lewis, a first-team all-stater, and Bernard Burke. The defensive backfield is the strongest area with monsterback Ron Blake, safety Leonard Lucas, Castello and Myriel Reid. Upright, Newell and three-year starter Ardine Daniels play tough ends while returnee John Starkey and Ralph Hardy are the tackles. J.J. Partlow gives Seminole a potent kicking game.

Beathard is confident. "Two weeks ago, we had some question marks with Hardy and Newell," he said. "Those questions have been answered. They have done the job for us."

"This is a key game. It will set the tone for the whole season. We're coming together. The offense is supporting the defense. It would be great to get off to a good start."

And scratch the "7-Year Itch" with a victory.

9-1 a year ago with their only loss to Lake Howell.

The Wildcats' top returning players on offense include linemen Darrell Davis and Clint Noles and quarterback Robbie Gergley. The younger Gergley started at receiver last year but was also the backup quarterback. In the backfield, Gergley said Ed Simmons and Scott Wilson have looked good in the preseason. Returning starter Mark Rankin anchors the defense from his linebacker position.

"We don't have a lot of starters returning because we are usually a senior-oriented team," Gergley said. "If the program is solid, you should have a mostly senior team every year."

"We had a good spring and preseason and we feel we're ready to go," Gergley added.

14-6 lead when Seminole began its comeback.

Cindy Bengie served five points, one an acc, to pull Seminole within 14-11 and the Lady Tribe got a side out on a Lake Howell missed serve. Adrian Hillman then came on and served six points in a row to give Seminole a 16-14 victory. Liz Long's block, one of four in the game by the 6-2 junior, highlighted the rally.

The Lady Noles kept the momentum going into the second game as they built an early 4-0 lead but Manuel came back to serve five points to get Lake Howell back on track. Lewis sparked the rally with a pair of spikes and set up Heather Brann for a spike on the fifth point. Lake Howell got the serve right back on a spike by Littrell and Brann served the Lady Hawks to an 8-4 lead.

Lake Howell again took a big lead at 11-6, but the Lady Seminoles fought their way back within 11-10 as Hillman and Heather Brown served two points each. Lewis stopped the Seminole rally with a well-placed dink and the Lady Hawks took a 14-10 lead on Littrell's rocket serve. Seminole failed to score on its next serve and Hayden then served the final point as Lake Howell evened the match.

"Tammy (Lewis) gave us the spark we needed in that second game," Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano said. "And we got some good, consistent serving from Stormi (Littrell) and Susan (Hayden)."

HOWELL JV SURVIVES

In the first of two marathon matches on the night, the Lake Howell junior varsity opened the season with a 15-13, 13-15, 15-0 victory over the JV Lady Seminoles.

Seminole, behind the serving of Amy Fossbender, took a 12-1 lead in the first game but could not hold on as Lake Howell came back led by the play of Carolyn Dewar, Leslie Barton and Raquel Ortiz.

Jennifer Bengie, Kelly Epps and Kim Allen all served well in game two as Seminole evened the match but Lake Howell dominated game three. Barton served the first six points of the game and Heather Ray served nine in a row to give the JV Lady Hawks the victory.

Fall Season Heralds Annual Invasion Of Sod Webworms

Those small, dingy brown moths flying around your shrubbery and lawn, especially after mowing, herald the arrival of our annual invasion of sod webworms. They have the knack of seeking out the greenest, most succulent grass and therefore are most likely to show up in well-fertilized, lush lawns preferring Bermuda and St. Augustine grasses to Bahia grass.

Although there are several kinds of caterpillars which cause damage to turf, the most damaging caterpillar is the tropical sod webworm. The larvae are greenish with many black spots. Adults are dingy brown moths with a wingspread of about 3/4 inch. Eggs are deposited on the grass blades and hatch in about a week. The larvae feed on the grass and cause noticeable injury within two weeks. There may be extensive damage within the next two weeks until pupation. The adult moth appears about a week later. They complete their life cycle in 5-6 weeks and have several generations each year. In Central Florida, sod webworms are usually not present in sufficient numbers to damage grass before July or August but reach their peak in September and October.

The webworms feed primarily at night and remain in a curled position on or near the soil surface during the day. This habit makes them difficult to find. Newly-hatched caterpillars cause little visible damage to grass. But when they are almost full grown, their feeding becomes noticeable and it seems like their damage appears to show up almost overnight. This, in conjunction with their nocturnal feeding habits, explains how extensive damage can occur before the webworms are noticed.

Injured grass has notches chewed along the sides of grass blades. Grass blades are also eaten back unevenly. The foliage may be almost completely stripped off in patches, and these close cropped areas soon become yellowish first then brown. In addition, the sod webworms produce fine webs across the surface of the grass where they feed. This webbing can be very obvious in the morning when the dew is still present.

Healthy grass that is not under stress can usually recover from even a large population of sod webworms. An application of a pesticide is recommended. Products like Diazinon are effective if used properly. Always follow the directions on the label. If you choose a spray, it is important to apply the insecticide in a large amount of water. Remember, the webworms are at the soil surface and the spray must penetrate the grass and thatch. If granular materials are used, irrigate after applying with 1/2 inch of water.

The sod webworm may reinfest your lawn within one to three weeks after treatment. Continue to examine the lawn and retreat if necessary. For those of you with lawn maintenance services, the damage can occur between normal maintenance checks, so if you notice webworm damage, contact your pest control service.

Florida Arts Council Elects New Officers

Secretary of State Jim Smith announces that William T. Nolan, an Ormond Beach businessman, has been elected chairman of the Florida Arts Council.

Smith also announced that Chris Millotes of Orlando has been elected to serve as the Council's vice chairman, and Suzanne Teate of Jacksonville was chosen secretary.

"In recent years, the Florida Arts Council has attracted national attention for its contributions to the growth of the arts in Florida," said Smith. "I am confident that these officers will provide strong leadership that will allow the Council to continue its tradition of excellence."

The Florida Arts Council serves as Secretary Smith's advisory body on arts-related matters. The Council's 15 members are appointed to 4-year terms, serve without pay and meet quarterly at locations throughout the state.

The officers were elected unanimously Aug. 28 in Tallahassee during the Florida Arts Council's quarterly meeting. Their 1-year term as officers will begin Oct. 1.

Nolan, a vice president of Cardinal Industries in Sanford, has been on the Council since 1984. He has served as chairman of the Council's Education Committee and its Ad Hoc Committee on Cultural Facilities. Nolan has been active in the recent effort to establish an arts council in Orlando, and serves on the board of the Orlando Public Broadcasting Corporation.

Millotes, a member of the Council since 1985, has chaired the Council's Planning and Evaluation Committee.

A member of the Florida Arts Council since 1984, Teate heads the public relations division of West and Company, a marketing and advertising firm.

Parents: Don't Knuckle Under To Teens

DEAR ABBY: We have two daughters, 12 and 14. The 14-year-old hates to go anywhere with us — even to the corner store. I usually let her stay home, but we're planning a long weekend trip, and she's begging me not to make her go. Frankly, I would just as soon stay home than have her complaining about the long drive and whining all the time because she's bored. She says she can stay with her girlfriend if I let her stay home. It would make a more pleasant trip for me. I'm torn both ways. I keep telling myself: "Why should I give in and let her stay with her friend? I don't know the friend's parents that well, and she's only 14. I'd worry about her."

On the other hand I say to myself: "If she is forced to go with us and sulks, whines and complains, I could ignore her. But why should I have to suffer and have my trip ruined?" Please help me, Abby.

GOING CRAZY IN SANTA ANA

DEAR GOING: Your daughter is manipulating you. She whines and complains so you will not want her around. Lay down the law. Insist that she go with you and refuse to put up with her childish tantrums. When she knows her scheme is not working, she'll make the best of it and lighten up. If you let her win, you will be sending her the message that all she has to do to get her way is be obnoxious and you'll knuckle under.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 33-year-old woman who has been married four times. None of my marriages lasted over a year (two divorces and two annulments). I'm beautiful, intelligent, rich (Daddy's money) and miserable. I've experienced both alcohol and dope addiction, been hospitalized twice, but I'm clean now. So why am I writing to you?

I've kept a daily diary for 17 years, and I'd like to send you my diaries so you can tell me if you think my life's story would make a good television series. (My psychiatrist thinks it would.)

Dear Abby

I don't expect you to read the entire 17 years' worth, but how about if I sent you the last 10 years?

Before I send these diaries, I need to be sure you will return them — registered mail, of course, at my expense. Thank you.

MY SIGN IS LEO

DEAR LEO: Please don't send me your diaries. I'm sure they would make fascinating reading, but I am not qualified to evaluate material for possible use as a television series. You need a literary agent.

DEAR ABBY: I had my purse stolen for the second time. The first time, when I stopped for a stop sign, a man jumped into my car and grabbed my purse. Yesterday, my purse was stolen because of my own stupidity. I left it on the floor of my car, half under the seat, for less than two minutes when I picked up my daughter at the day-care center.

Please print this so purse snatchers will know how much heartache and inconvenience they cause when they steal a purse. It's bad enough to lose cash, but here's a list of things I lost:

1. Prescription glasses. No use to the thief, but precious to me.
2. Date book. Absolutely useless to the thief, but important to me.
3. Book containing addresses and telephone numbers of friends and relatives. Useless to the thief, but a terrible inconvenience to replace.
4. Identification, driver's license, credit cards, savings account book, Social Security number and insurance identification card. A real hassle to stop payment on credit cards and replace identification and license.

5. Pictures. The only ones I had of my children when they were babies. Some of my parents, too. All irreplaceable.

Abby, I suppose it's useless to suggest that a thief might have the decency to mail back (with no return address) all these items to the person who was ripped off. They are no good to the thief, but are worth much more to me than the money I lost. I feel better just writing this. Do you think there's a chance some thief might see it and have a heart?

RIPPED OFF

DEAR RIPPED: Doubtful, but it's worth a try. Attention all thieves: Keep the loot, but return everything else.

DEAR ABBY: I was invited to a friend's home for an evening. Upon entering, I was asked to remove my shoes. I was extremely offended. How about you?

DIRTY SHOES

DEAR DIRTY SHOES: I think people have the right to ask their guests to remove their shoes if that is customary in their home.

In Asia, it's customary, and it makes sense to me because the soles of shoes are indeed dirty.

In any case, when in Rome, do as the Romans do. And if you don't like it, don't accept a second invitation.

Keep Tabs On Your Vitamin Level, Diet

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had some tests done because of abdominal discomfort. All results were OK except for one: The doctor told me I have twice the normal amount of vitamin A in my system but gave me no information about what to do about it.

I do not take vitamins and I eat a balanced diet, so I am confused about the cause of my vitamin overload.

DEAR READER — Vitamin A is stored in the liver. A well-nourished adult who received no vitamin A would take about 200 days to use up half his reserve. Vitamin A toxicity does not usually produce abdominal discomfort; more commonly, it causes loss of appetite, anemia, drying of the skin, increased brain pressure, headache, muscle and joint pain and hair loss.

Look to your diet as a possible source of excess vitamin A. The foods richest in this substance are: liver, whole milk products, carrots, spinach, turnip greens and palm oil.

Try cutting down on these foods. Let your body use the vitamin A you have already stored. Have your vitamin A blood level checked in a few months. If your abdominal symptoms diminish as the vitamin level falls, fine. If not, it's back to the drawing board for your doctor.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I consulted a urologist concerning my frequent bouts of bladder infection. X-rays showed that I have a very enlarged bladder, and tests show a loss of elasticity.

The urologist suggests surgery to remove what he calls "excess" and tighten the bladder. What is the success rate for this type of operation?

DEAR READER — Bladder atony (loss of normal muscular tension) results in incomplete emptying of the bladder. When a residual amount of urine is retained in the bladder after voiding, the bladder can become infected because it is dark, warm and wet — an ideal culture medium for certain bacteria. Rather than rushing to operate, I'd be more interested in determining why your bladder has lost its elasticity. For example, bladder atony can be caused by diseases of the nerves that control bladder contraction. Chronic obstruction of the bladder outlet, as seen with prostate enlargement, also will cause stretching of the bladder wall.

Ask for a referral to another urologist for a second opinion.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

If the vulnerability were favorable, West should have bid five clubs. However, with unfavorable vulnerability, West feared being set 500 points. Also he rightly felt that he had reasonable defense against four hearts. Although the sacrifice would have been cheap (West can make 10 tricks in clubs), defending turned out better. On the club king lead, South ruffed, drew trumps and then led the 10 of diamonds and passed it. It's no surprise that East found the shift to the jack of spades after winning the diamond king. Declarer ducked once, hoping that West held A-Q alone in the spade suit. Of course East played a second spade, and three spade tricks plus the king of diamonds set the contract one trick. You sharp-eyed readers have no doubt already seen declarer's remedy. The concept in this deal is that of avoidance. South should play in such a way that East cannot gain the lead to come through the king of spades. There are two ways that this can be accomplished: Declarer can simply discard a diamond on the opening king of clubs lead, or declarer can ruff the opening lead, draw trumps ending in dummy and then lead the club queen and discard a diamond. Declarer will subsequently play the diamond ace and take a ruffing finesse, and East will never gain the lead to play that spade jack.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

By Bernice Bede Osol

YOUR BIRTHDAY SEPTEMBER 12, 1987

Your possibilities for a financial accumulation look better for the year ahead than they have for the last couple of years. Begin a savings program so that you can salt a little away each week.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The good news you have been anxiously waiting for may now be on its way. Check your mailbox, and don't ignore the phone when it rings. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH, 44101-3428.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Someone who loves you considerably, but is not especially demonstrative, may do something extra special for you today in his or her own, quiet way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The impression you'll make on a person you'll meet for the first time today could have enormous impact on you. He or she will be eager to get to know you better.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The reason you will succeed in situations where others fail today is because you'll be more strongly motivated. Your will gives you the edge.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your popularity is presently at a high point with your peers. In fact, you are much more admired than you may realize.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) An impromptu get-together at your place with a very select group of friends could turn out to be fun today. Make some calls and see who is available.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your skills as a mediator today are rather exceptional. If pals have an altercation, you'll be the one who can smooth things over.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Owing to your recent thriftiness, there should be a little left over at this time. It should enable you to obtain a small luxury item on which you've long had your eye.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You're apt to be unduly restless today unless you break out of your shell. A night on the town or a social activity with friends could fill the bill.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There is opportunity hovering about you today in an unexpected area. Something propitious could develop for you through the auspices of a loved one.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This should be an exceptionally pleasant day for you socially. You'll be especially noticed and admired by members of the opposite sex.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You are on the same wavelength now as people who have clout. It's a good day to press bigshots for a favor if you're in need of one.

Stocks Open Higher

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened higher today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues after the government reported the U.S. trade deficit widened to a record $16.47 billion in July.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which rose 26.78 Thursday, was up 13.39 to 2589.44 shortly after the market opened.

Gainers led losers 697-287 among the 1,361 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 13,877,000 shares.

Stock prices rose despite the dollar's negative reaction to the trade figure, which was slightly above the market's median estimate. Though the dollar and bond prices steadied quickly, the trade report initially sent the dollar below the key levels of 142 yen and 1.80 West German marks. Bond prices also slipped.

The stock market moved broadly higher Thursday in active trading.

Dollar Opens Lower

By United Press International

The dollar was lower in active trading on the major world money markets today following the Commerce Department's report the U.S. trade deficit widened to $16.47 billion in July from an unrevised $15.71 billion in June. Gold was mostly higher.

In early New York trading, the dollar opened lower and fell rapidly against key foreign currencies in reaction to the Commerce Department report.

Traders in New York noted the trade report was higher than the median expectation and confirmed a negative trend.

In earlier trading in the Far East, the dollar closed out the week at 142.53 Japanese yen, down 0.12 from Thursday's close of 142.65 yen in light trading.

In Europe, the dollar declined in Frankfurt, opening at 1.805 German marks, down from Thursday's close of 1.8053.

In Milan, the dollar began the day at 1,308.50 lire, down from 1,308.70, in Paris at 6.0385 French francs, down from 6.043, and in Brussels at 37.69 Belgian francs, down from 37.73.

In London, the pound gained ground, opening at $1.6475, up from Thursday's close of $1.645.

The dollar rose slightly in Zurich, opening at 1.4935 Swiss francs, up from 1.493, and in Amsterdam, the dollar opened at 2.0325 Dutch guilders, up from 2.031.

Wholesale Prices Same

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Falling food prices offset a jump in energy costs to keep wholesale prices unchanged from July to August, the Labor Department reported today.

It was the best showing in the Producer Price Index since November 1986, when the Bureau of Labor Statistics' index also registered no change.

Wholesale prices increased 0.2 percent in both July and June after rising at a slightly higher rate earlier in the year.

For the first eight months of 1987, wholesale prices have increased 3.6 percent. Producer prices rose 3.2 percent during the 12 months from August 1986 to last month, the department said.

Deficit Now $16.5 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's merchandise trade deficit soared to a record $16.5 billion in July, the Commerce Department announced today.

The shortfall grew from June's $15.7 billion because imports total $700 million to total $37.5 billion while exports dropped by $100 million to total $21 billion, the government said.

About $600 million of that $700 million rise in imports came because of increases in the volume and price of energy. The nation imported 243 million barrels of oil in July at $19.13 per barrel, 41 cents a barrel above June's average.

The $16.5 billion deficit was the highest ever — beating July 1986's $16.05 billion shortfall. It was close to what experts were expecting.

Japan accounted for $5.1 billion of the deficit, the Commerce Department said. Other contributors were Western Europe, $3.9 billion; Taiwan, $1.8 billion; OPEC nations, $1.7 billion; Hong Kong, $700 million; and Canada, $600 million.

...Permit

permit has been granted. In 1982, the commission approved a permit for Harvey Morse, a private investigator who operated Locaters International in Longwood.

Sturm said that the commission has received few applications for concealed weapons permits in recent years and those applications it has received have been rejected on 3-2 votes, with Commissioners Fred Streetman voting in the opposition along with Sturm and Kirchhoff.

Streetman said, in voting in favor of Milan's permit, that Milan had talked to the commissioner about his problem in obtaining insurance, and that Streetman was convinced that the permit was justified.

County records indicate no applications other than Moran's have reached the commissioners for more than a year. Although a few applications have been filed out, applicants either dropped their applications or the applications were not forwarded to the commission for approval because the investigation required revealed something that would make the applicant ineligible for a permit.

State law requires that applicants for concealed weapons permits furnish the granting body the brand, model, caliber and serial number of the weapon they intend to carry.

Milan told commissioners he did not want to purchase the weapon until he was sure he would get a permit, so could not furnish a serial number. However, he said he knew the brand, caliber and model of the gun he intends to purchase.

Commissioners then voted 3-2 to issue the permit, pending Milan furnishing the county attorney's office the weapon's serial number.

make an offense work. This year, we have those 11."

Blake has support all around. Fullback Curtis Rudolph, a 192-pound three-year starter, and halfback Jerod Jones, a 185-pound junior powderkeg, add more fuel to the optimistic flame. Four capable wide receivers — Dwight Brinson, Jerry Governall, Walt Hopson and Terrance Eady — stoke the flame a little higher. Offensive line veterans Wilton Hooks, Kevin Straub and Randy "Pork" Bryant plan to move the bodies in the way.

"All of us have played together for three years," Hooks said. "That makes it easier. We knock we can give Jeff enough time to complete the pass."

"And that will make the defense put more people back. Last year, we had too many people to block."

The optimism has affected the coaches, too. "We will be a big-play team," Seminole offensive coordinator Emory Blake said. "We can open up with the bomb. We want to intimidate the defense. But we also have the running backs to control the ball, too. We will put points on the board."

Head coach Roger Beathard agrees. "We have the kind of offense that can take what the defense gives us," Beathard, who replaced Dave Mosure, said. "We don't have to say, 'We're going to do this, and we're going to do that.' We are strong enough to run the ball and throw it."

Which should make the defense, which returns eight headhunters from last year, that much better.

"I am going to love to watch the offense this year," Earnie "Sackman" Lewis, a first-team all-state linebacker, said. "With Jeff throwing those bombs, the offense is going to be awesome."

for the city's U.N. Day program, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 24 at the Lake Mary Community Improvement Association building. The city commission has approved the program, as well as a motion officially proclaiming Oct. 24, as United Nations Day in Lake Mary.

Lauderdale, also president of the CIA, said most of the incidents involving homeless people in Lake Mary are caused by transients migrating from the northern part of the country during the winter.

"The typical story is that people come down here with the promise of work and it doesn't pan out," Lauderdale said. Many of such people have nowhere to go and no money, he said.

One reason why Lake Mary attracts such individuals is because of the city's nearness to I-4 and its reststops just west of the city limits. "Some people get this far and then their cars break down," Lauderdale said. "This is the only place they have to go."

One area transient have been known to frequent is the proposed site for a park honoring the United States Constitution. Evidence of bedding and make-shift shelters around the property was seen when Lauderdale took a tour of areas within Lake Mary used by the homeless. "It's real easy to build a shelter down here," Lauderdale said. "You really don't need much shelter in Florida."

Although Lauderdale said the number of homeless people drifting in and out of the city, as well as the few homeless who stay here, is not large, he feels something should be said about it. "I'd like people to be aware that Lake Mary is not all $150,000 houses," he said.

As Lauderdale conducted the tour of shelter areas transients use, he said many people would not like the media to see those places. "The Chamber of Commerce would prefer you guys not see this," he said.

Lauderdale said he has encountered only 12 cases of people in severe need of food since he's been with the department. He said that in those cases either a police officer or minister took a mother to get food or diapers for her baby. When police officers gave assistance to people needing food, they did so out of their own pockets. "The officers never gave the people they helped money," Lauderdale said. "There's no telling what they would spend it on."

The city does not have that many residents that Lauderdale would call poverty-stricken. "But there are certainly some on the edge of it," he said.

Lauderdale hopes that during the U.N. Day events, people will see a need for a unified effort to aid those with no homes and those who are hungry. "I realize there are organizations to do that kind of thing, but they're fragmented in my opinion," he said.

Whether churches or the police department leads the way in that effort doesn't matter, Lauderdale said, "as long as somebody takes a leadership role."

The CIA building, 260 North Country Club Road, will be the site of the program's activities.

Ben Levy, chairman of the Lake Mary U.N. Day committee, said the program will feature a 30-minute film on the anniversary of the world organization. The film describe the history and work of the international body.

A panel discussion on finding solutions to the problem of the hungry and homeless in Seminole County also will be presented during the program.

Bob Norris, Lake Mary city manager, the Rev. Paul Hoyer, pastor of Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Lake Mary, and Lauderdale have consented to be some of the panelists for the discussion.

The city commission has agreed to consider contributing $1,000 annually to the Public Service Fund for the Needy.

area. Within 30 minutes it was all dispersed, he said.

Many Seminole Countians were among the 500,000 packed into Tamiami Park for the Papal Mass this morning. The Rev. Edward Zukowski, associate pastor of Church of the Nativity, Lake Mary, was one of the priests selected to meet with the Pope Thursday afternoon, and was scheduled to concelebrate the Mass today. Rosemary Kronenberger, a member of All Souls Church, was one of the 20 Eucharistic ministers invited to distribute the Communion to the handicapped at the open-air Mass. The Paul Murphy family of Sanford was among those invited to sit in the VIP section at the Mass.

Pope John Paul II, his U.S. tour beginning in a mixture of pomp, adulation and confrontation, turned today from priests chafing at celibacy to Jews distressed over the Vatican's attitude toward Israel.

The pontiff began the second of his 10 days in the United States with a ceremonial visit to the Vatican Judaica exhibit and a meeting with representatives of some Jewish groups — those who are not boycotting it.

The Jews meeting, in doubt since John Paul's reception of Austrian President Kurt Waldheim, threatened to be a major blemish on his tour. Most Jewish groups decided to go through with the meeting, but Orthodox Jews forbade their leader, Rabbi Gilbert Klaperman, to attend. Klaperman had been scheduled to make the official Jewish statement to John Paul.

The pontiff, in his first comment on the June 25 state visit of the Austrian president accused of hiding his Nazi past, said on the flight to the United States Thursday that it was "necessary."

"He came as a president democratically elected of a nation," John Paul said.

Jews are also disgruntled over the Vatican's failure to recognize Israel diplomatically, and say an early Vatican meeting on the subject was unsatisfactory.

The pope said the Jews "have their freedom to do what they wish or want. I was personally very, very satisfied with the meeting with the rabbis."

John Paul said he has no fears of protests during his American tour. "I am accustomed to that," he said. "I could say it would be not quite normal not having that, especially in America."

In fact, he has already encountered pickets on every subject from AIDS to Central American politics.

After the meeting at the Metro-Dade Cultural Center John Paul heads for the open-air mass at Tamiami Park, where the first celebrants began staking out their spots early Thursday, hours before the pope arrived.

Police arrested a day laborer in the park when they found a handgun hidden under a long overcoat as he collected plants Thursday. The man was charged with possession of a concealed weapon and was held in the county jail.

Florida, Stetson University and Rollins College. She also has 10 years' experience in management, budgeting and sales with an architectural firm which designs schools in three states.

She said she is declaring her candidacy early in order to meet as many people as possible and to get an understanding of the county's problems from a precinct level.

The Fifth District includes the Sanford and Longwood areas. Kirchhoff has served in the Fifth District seat since 1976.

The terms of Commissioners Fred Streetman, who represents the third district; and Barbara Christensen, who represents the First District, also expire next year.

Jail Guard Fired

A Seminole County jail guard has been fired for not telling the Seminole County sheriff at the time he was hired that he was facing a battery charge in Orange County.

Sheriff John Polk fired Frankie Harris, 31, of Mount Dora. Harris is charged with grabbing a woman in a convenience store in Zellwood when she tried to buy gasoline and cigarettes. The alleged battery occurred July 7. Harris worked for the convenience store at the time.

Harris was hired by the sheriff's department July 28. The day before he was hired he was charged in Orange County with battery, a misdemeanor. The woman, from north Orange County, has accused Harris of grabbing parts of her body, making lewd comments, and propositioning her. Harris has pleaded not guilty to the charge and is set for trial Sept. 28 in Orange County.

The arrest turned up during a routine background check of Harris by the Seminole County Sheriff's Department.

Polk said he fired Harris violating a department rule of not telling his superiors that he had been charged with a crime.

According to sheriff's records, Harris has been a good employee since his hiring July 28 and had previous correction experience in North Carolina.

that portion of the road and the city and county would jointly apply to the Florida Department of Transportation to classify that part of the road as a city street.

The agreement further calls for the city to then obtain a 35-foot right-of-way from the developers of any property abutting Bevier Road.

The further implications of the agreement are that the city obtain right-of-way from developers of property adjacent to any other county road within the city to enable the road to be paved to the standard 24-foot width.

Although the city would require the dedication of the needed right-of-way from the developers, the right-of-way would be deeded to the county, since the roads would remain county roads.

In return, the county promises to obtain sufficient right-of-way from developers of land along city streets outside of city limits, such as on a city boundary.

The proposal says the intent of the agreement is not to change the jurisdiction of either the county or the city over any roads except Bevier Road.

These Web-Footed Water Waders Symbolize State

Story And Pictures
By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Non-Native Lottery Logo

When Lt. Gov. Bobby Brantley picked the flaming pink flamingo as the symbol of the new Florida state lottery he created a flap among some who say this trendy bird isn't a native of the state and shouldn't be so honored (or dishonored, depending on your view of the lottery.)

But with flamingo fanciers it seems Brantley was on target in plucking the flamingo from its flashy pedestal as a tourists' favorite, which stands alone on long spindly legs — frequently with one leg lifted, making the stance even less secure — and says Florida in a way no other symbol can.

It's a symbol that needs no interpretation. Natives, transplants, tourists and outsiders seem to see that the flamingo does make a statement about the state. It's truly hot and tropical, and more than a bit beyond the ordinary.

Although in nature flamingos may be perfectly respectable, and gracefully beautiful birds, the image they have as lawn ornaments, or designs on boxer shorts, make them more an object of fun to some.

Some snicker when they see these gangly plastic birds poking among the pansies in yards far north of the Florida border, where too they are certainly not native, but are icons of camp. Some say if you own more than one flamingo adorned item you've gone too far. One flamingo may soon attract a flock of others of its kind.

With their hot pink feathers, with just a touch of black on the wing quills, these long-necked, webbed-footed water waders, with downturned broad white bills, look like something born of the 1950s era. And it's in that time that the love affair with the flamingos began for some.

Geneva's Kathie Hieronimus said she's loved flamingos for as long as she can remember. And about a decade ago when she moved from New York state to Florida this grandmother imported her collection of flamingos, which she continues to update.

Her front yard is graced with a couple of the traditional flamingo statues. "I brought them with me. There's just something about them. They're colorful and pretty."

In a softer tone, Hieronimus has a pale pink painting of graceful flamingos, which graces her home. And with a closer look many, many more decorative flamingos come into focus.

Bette Hall, who deals in flamingos at her Longwood gifts shop, said within the last six months flamingos have been the in and trendy item for teenagers decorating their own rooms, as well as with decorators who want to add a true Florida touch to a model home.

Their appeal is beginning to fade a bit with those two groups and that has brought a 30 percent markdown in the value of Hall's stock of flamingo-shaped pillows, stuffed flamingos, flying flamingos, flamingos in endless pursuit of other flamingos around the base of a coffee mug, flamingo T-shirts — flamingos in all sizes, but only one shape and only one color — pink, pink, pink.

A passion for pink is part of the appeal of flamingos for some, like Apopka's Angela Nastasi. "I love the color. I think it says flamingo," Nastasi said. "They are beautiful birds, so free, so peaceful. I love them. I don't know why. I love the look."

But Nastasi only has a couple of small flamingos in her livingroom. "I'm thinking of expanding and may decorate my bathroom with flamingos," she said.

Her interest in flamingos is shared by her daughter-in-law, Barbara Nastasi of Longwood. But Barbara, who moved to Longwood from New York about one year ago, said so far she's collected no flamingos for herself.

"The only reason I've held off is because everybody else is getting them. They would be something I would send up North as gifts, because they are indicative of Florida. If there's one bird I associate with Florida it's the flamingo," she said.

Hall has resisted any temptation to collect flamingos herself. She said that a California man spent $200 in her shop on flamingo adorned gifts for his girlfriend. "That's the kind of boyfriend I'd like to have," she said, although she admitted she really wouldn't want to have to live with all those flamingos.

It all a matter of taste,

Kathe Hieronimus admires her large painting of courting flamingos.

trend or even campy tradition when it comes to development of a love or hate relationship with these web-footed feathered friends to some.

Hot Films Prod Fall Movie Momentum

By Vernon Scott

UPI Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Movie-makers plan to keep the torrid box-office flames fanned right into autumn with dozens of hot new films slated for the coming fall season.

Studios and theater owners hope the momentum of an exceptionally prosperous summer will carry on during the crisp months.

At the end of August all movies released in the United States and Canada had compiled a dazzling gross of $2.7 billion, compared to $2.3 billion last year and $2.5 billion in 1985.

The stellar 1987 financial showing is attributed to a handful of blockbusters and a healthy backup of second-ranking films.

Leading hits of the year have been "Crocodile Dundee," "Platoon," "Beverly Hills Cop II," "The Untouchables," "The Secret of My Success," and "Lethal Weapon," all of which have earned more than $50 million.

New releases should please mature audiences with fewer vacation-type potboilers and fewer pictures appealing to the primary motion picture audience — high school and college students who will be back in classes.

For instance, "Castaway," starring Oliver Reed and Amanda Donohoe, examines the man-woman relationship of a couple who purposely strand themselves on a South Sea island, each for his own purposes.

Another drama calculated to please older audiences is "Fatal Attraction." It involves an impulse sexual encounter that provokes a pathological obsession, starring Michael Douglas, Glenn Close and Anne Archer.

Here are some of the pictures in store for September, October, November and December:

 THE GREAT AMERICAN INVESTMENT

Fabulous Fall Season

By Mark Schwed
UPI TV Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Finally, the curtain has dropped on the summer rerun season and television sets are about to sizzle with the magic and mayhem of the fabulous new fall TV schedule.

Unlike last season, which produced the clear-cut breakout hit "L.A. Law," there is no barnburner show this fall. But there are cops, Texas tycoons, baby boomers, comic book heroes, beasts, soldiers, private eyes, a refugee maid, detectives, an undercover mob buster, a New Orleans embalmer and a Creole cook, one surgeon, several new bizarre scramblings of the American family, two "comedydramas," a Cosby in college, more cops, and Dolly Parton.

And that takes care of just a few of the shows debuting in the next few weeks on the networks.

Faced with increased competition from Fox Broadcasting Co., cable and independent TV stations, and a new "people meter" system that changes the way audiences are counted, the big three networks — ABC, CBS and NBC — are regaining some long-lost gusto this season and taking a few chances.

The biggest gambles come on Thursday and Sunday nights. NBC has moved the top-rated sitcom "Family Ties" from Thursday to Sunday to make room for the Cosby spinoff "A Different World." Now "Family Ties" takes on CBS's "Murder, She Wrote."

And CBS is counter-programming the warmth of "The Cosby Show" with "Tour of Duty," a gritty, bloody drama about a platoon in Vietnam.

ABC is also getting into the act by pumping $40 million into a Dolly Parton variety show on Sunday night.

Only one thing is certain about the fall season. Most of the new shows will fail in their mission to attract mass audiences for advertisers.

Let's start with the best of the bunch:

"Tour of Duty," Thursday, 8-9 p.m., CBS — The $3 million pilot, filmed in Hawaii, captures the essence of what it was like to be a combat soldier in Vietnam by following a platoon around the killing fields. The battle scenes are spectacular and the subject matter is provocative. It is violent — you never know who's going to die — but the producers believe the time is right for a weekly drama about Vietnam.

"Frank's Place," Saturday, 8-8:30 p.m., CBS — Tim Reid from WKRP in Cincinnati is a Boston professor who inherits a lounge in New Orleans, along with all the folks who work there. The characters are exquisitely crafted, and you can almost taste that Creole cooking. Also, there's no laugh track.

"Hooperman" Wednesday, 9-9:30, ABC — This quirky comedy-drama comes from the creators of "Hill Street Blues" and "L.A. Law." Fine ensemble cast, but John Ritter is the show. He plays a cop by day and landlord by night. It is funny, intelligent and risky.

"Thirtysomething" Tuesday, 10-11 p.m., ABC — Baby boomer couple finds out how difficult it is to raise a child. Excellent script, with just a tad too much whining, and appealing characters.

"Private Eye," Friday, 10-11 p.m., NBC — Slick private eye series set in Los Angeles in hip 1950s that dances to the beat of rock 'n' roll. Created by the man who gave us "Miami Vice."

Some shows have potential by the very nature of the cast. ABC's "The 'Slap' Maxwell Story" brings Dabney Coleman back to television as a sarcastic sportswriter. ABC's "Dolly" could be very entertaining if she stays away from "hee haw" corn. NBC's "A Year in the Life" shuns the usual glitz associated with nighttime soaps and tells it like it is for an average middle class family living in Seattle. Stars Richard Kiley.

Then there's CBS's "Beauty and the Beast," (Friday, 8-9 p.m.) about a beautiful district attorney whose protector is a man-beast living beneath New York City. Sounds kind of dumb, but it will tingle the toes of those who are romantically inclined.

Now for the worst of the bunch: "Everything's Relative," Monday, 8:30-9 p.m., CBS — This lousy sitcom features two brothers, one a divorced wimp and the other a stud, who rarely say anything funny. Their big-mouth mother makes occasional appearances. We've seen it all before.

"A Different World," Thursday, 8:30-9 p.m., NBC — Denise Huxtable (Lisa Bonet) heads to college, where the Cosby magic begins to wear thin. She bounces checks and flunks classes, but even worse, Bonet muffs her lines.

"J.J. Starbuck," Tuesday, 9-10 p.m., NBC — Texas tycoon decides to become a detective. He solves cases coast-to-coast. Boring.

United Way

In ABC's "Bluffing It," Dennis Weaver stars as a factory foreman who hides the fact that he is illiterate. The movie airs Sunday, Sept. 13.

Did Gene Autry Marry His Leading Lady?

Dear Dick: I have been watching the series of Gene Autry movies on "Melody Ranch Theater," on the Nashville Network, for several weeks. We never missed one when my children were younger and now it is refreshing to see these excellent shows again. Would like to know if Gene married one of his leading ladies and does he have a family? Who is Jackie Autry, listed as executive producer — his wife or son or daughter? — H.K., South Williamsport, Pa.

Dear H.K.: Jackie Autry is Gene's second, and current, wife. He and Ina Mae Spivey were married for many years, until she passed away. He and Jackie were married about five years ago. Neither of the Mrs. Autrys was a leading lady.

Dear Dick: I would like to know why there are so many reruns and commercials. I have cable but it seems like all the stations have reruns, even the new shows. Have had the Disney Channel for some time and all they have is reruns. When my time is up I will drop it. Can you find an answer for me? — Mrs. H.K., Kimball, Neb.

Dear Mrs. H.K.: The answer to this, as to almost any question you can ask, is economics. The Disney Channel people tell me that, since they are on 24 hours a day, seven days a week, there is no way to avoid reruns. And they also say they do program some reruns deliberately, to give people a second chance to see shows they might have missed. All the channels, network and cable, must rerun programs to fill the time. They simply cannot afford to make new programs continually. Economics.

Dear Dick: Several months ago, the TV series "Fame" had an episode in which one of its cast members died. The actress was Nia Peeples, in the role of Nicole Chapman. Did she actually die in real life? — J.H., Houston.

Dear J.H.: Nia Peeples, who recently appeared in the film "North Shore" with Gregory Harrison, did not die. Her character was written out of the show for dramatic purposes.

Dear Dick: Please help settle a dispute. I saw a sports program about 1967 hosted by Howard Cosell on ABC. His guests were the late Rocky Marciano and Muhammad Ali. I remember seeing the two champions get into the ring to demonstrate their boxing skills. It got out of hand and Rocky knocked Ali down. My friend at work does not believe it. Is there any way you could prove that it really happened? I know it did. — F.W.C., Reading, Pa.

Dear P.W.C.: I'm a sports fan and I don't remember it. I checked with ABC to make sure, and they checked their files — and, also, they tell me they even called Cosell to ask him about it. Nobody remembers that incident happening. One ABC spokesman said, "It sounds like smoke to me." And I'm afraid that's all I can tell you. Nobody will say, flatly, that it never happened. But they do say that they can't find any record of it and nobody remembers that it ever happened.

Dear Dick: When I was a teenager in Europe, during the '30s, I saw a German movie ("Atlantis") starring a well-known actress, Brigitte Helm. To me, she was the most beautiful girl I ever saw. Could you by any chance find out if she is still living, or anything about her? — A.H., Hollywood, Fla.

Dear A.H.: Not very much. According to what I can learn, Brigitte Helm is still alive, and she is 81. She was a major star in the 1930s, but confined her work to Europe, so that most Americans (including me) never saw her or heard of her.

Duane Eddy:

Pure Country With A Trans-Atlantic Twist

By Jim Lewis

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Duane Eddy figures somebody up there had to be pulling strings for his latest, self-titled album to come out the way it did.

The famed "twangy" guitarist, whose style crosses all dimensions of music, came to Nashville several years ago to produce country music records and land himself a contract with a major label.

"But as soon as I got here, things took a big jump in another direction," Eddy said in an interview. "It was unbelievable. It was like God sat up there and pulled the strings and said, 'Well, you do an album and I'm going to help you out here and run these people across your path.'"

"I got a call from England and it was The Art of Noise and they wanted to do Peter Gunn. That did very well," said Eddy, who got a Grammy nomination for best rock instrumental in 1986 for that effort.

That led to his first Capitol album which is unique in its production. Eddy had instrumental help from guitarists James Burton, Ry Cooder, Steve Cropper, John Fogerty, George Harrison and David Lindley.

Paul McCartney wrote, produced and played bass on "Rockestra." ELO's Jeff Lynne produced three songs, including "Rockabilly Holiday," which he wrote and can be heard playing all the instruments except lead guitar.

Eddy, Anne Dudley and J.J. Jeczalik of The Art of Noise and Cooder all produced selections.

"The concept came about because I figured people wouldn't have time to do a whole album because of the time involved," Eddy said. "So I got several different producers and had them do a couple of the songs each so it wouldn't take a lot of time out of their lives and to get the benefit of the best of their single thinking."

"It sort of worked out that way. It's a new idea. I guess there are people who have different producers on an album but I hadn't run into it before," Eddy said.

Eddy said he started with The Art of Noise, doing all the tracks in Nashville and then sent them to London for their special effects.

"I went to California and got with Ry Cooder, who is a great guitar player in his own right," he said. "He thought I was going to have a deal here and he wrote some songs that I included in the album.

"I went to London and got over there with Jeff Lynne of ELO. I ran into him at a rock festival in Switzerland. He was helping George Harrison with an album. He called me a couple of days later and said George wanted to put his album on hold so Jeff could help me do my thing."

In England, he also ran into McCartney, who wanted to produce "Rockestra." Upon his return to California, Eddy stayed at the same hotel as Fogerty, and he also wanted to help on the album.

In addition to performing, Eddy is also wearing a producer's hat and is looking for a label for an album he worked on by singer Denise Draper, which follows a traditional vein.

"I experimented on one song with an old time rock 'n' roll lick in the background," he said. "It's stuff that country folks will like, too. That's where rock 'n' roll came from. Real rock 'n' roll is what Elvis, Fats Domino, Roy Orbison and the Everly Brothers did."

He said country music today is in transition.

"It seems like it's going through a transformation. It's all mixed up. I don't hear enough country music, or what I consider country music," he said. "I guess I'm more traditionalist when it comes to country music. I think it's going to open up."

"Every few years people rediscover country music. I think the record companies have taken notice of the fact that Randy Travis has two platinum albums. It's the true direction that country music should go," he added.

"I think we should always keep it open and experiment and do new things, but let's have the good, pure country music."
