A New Mystery

In the quiet country community that he pestered with his presence, everybody hated Eamillar Q. Glure—"Wall Street farmer," he called himself. Why shouldn't they? In the very first installment of "The Pest," a rattling new mystery story, starting next week in we find him ruining a near-by dairy, underselling the truck-growers, beating a beautiful collie dog, and threatening one of his neighbors at pistol point. So it was no wonder that—

But it wouldn't be quite fair to give away the story. All I can say is that the editors tell me it's a humdinger of a mystery—the kind everybody likes—by Albert Payson Terhune.

CHANDLER SIX $1795

This is the Chandler Motor Famous for Its Excellence

Chandler owners, and men generally who know automobiles, talk about the Chandler motor for its marvelous performance and endurance. It is exclusively the Chandler motor, of Chandler design and Chandler manufacture in Chandler shops. The only automobile hood you can find it under is the Chandler hood. It is not a stock motor. No other car has it. And this is the greatest of six-cylinder motors. The Chandler motor, with refinements and improvements from time to time but without radical change at any time, is now in its sixth year. Lift the hood of a Chandler car and see that motor. Even from its exterior view you know it is good. We wouldn't build and mount a motor with such care if it weren't an extraordinary motor inside. Chandler motor and chassis design are typical of the highest priced construction, yet Chandler is moderately priced. It offers greater value than other cars can give you for hundreds more. You can absolutely prove this to your own satisfaction if you will study the Chandler car, and put it to test on the road and compare it with other cars.

Mrs. J. E. Vaughn was the surprised but gracious hostess to a number of friends Saturday evening when they gathered there and every one enjoyed the evening very much. Shoe Prices and Leather

Why with some commodities falling in price we cannot escape the conclusion that shoe prices will remain at least on the present basis throughout the year.

The supply of cattle in the world, in ratio to population, has greatly decreased during the war. There is no surplus of hides, skins, leather or shoes, and in fact a shortage exists in a majority of the European countries.

Packer hides in this country are extremely scarce, and practically the same conditions apply to country hides. Other countries appear willing to pay higher prices for South American and other foreign hides than the United States Government has fixed.

There is no surplus of sole leather of good quality, and this also applies to upper leather. Kidskins are in short supply and evidently are going to advance in price.

Cost of production, including labor, is higher than ever before.

It would therefore seem that footwear being in short supply the world over that the present fair prices would continue. No nation on the face of the globe gives to its people for the equivalent of a day's wage the value in footwear you can get in America. Think this over and get Shoe Service from

Mr. and Mrs. Everson have returned to Atlanta, Ga., after a pleasant visit to their son and daughter, Mrs. C. L. West.

ONE THING that resulted from the restoration of peace among the fighting nations has been the emphasis given to "style" in clothes.

Everybody seems to want to show in clothes the reaction from the strict military sameness of appearance; the military features are not wholly discarded—good shoulders, slender waists, curved hip lines; but aside from these physical requirements, there's a call for special "smartness" of design. Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes offer just these things to you, in a way that you'll not find them in any other clothes. Just look at the welt-seam-waist type here shown; the pockets; the lapels. One look at that suit and you want it. We'll fit you in it; many variations in fabrics and colors; and prices.

A Chief is Among Ye Talking Notes and Faith, "He'll Print 'em".... So Says Saunterer.

I don't think much of P. H. A. in the Times-Union as a poem writer, but some of his adaptations are grand. For fear that some of my readers did not get this little squib about Mary and her — I'll just dash it off here. P. H. A. adapted this to suit the times, and he says it is the "up to now version":

Mary had an officer,
With mustache small and cute
And every where that Mary goes
The girls think he's a beaut.

Just the other day a general strike was called by the head dish-washer of a certain family—the man portion of the family refused to do such menial work longer. He became tired of his job and declined to wash another dish saying, "It is not a man's work." Not feeling disposed to lose all the help she had, and not having time to ask the War Labor Board for a decision on the case, she brought out the family Bible to convince him, the man, of his error and thereupon she read from II Kings 21:17: "And will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it up side down." Well, what would you have done under the circumstances? Needless to say that the prominent citizen is still doing the occasional stuff. Sometimes the Bible does a man good.

I found a good thing when I went down after my mail Wednesday.

day. I have reference to the proposition for a road for Geneva and Chuluota. Seminole county has the best system of roads in dry weather that any county in the state has, but during the recent wet spell it was proven to the residents of the Chuluota and Geneva Districts that better roads had to be made. The road from Oviedo to Chuluota and from Oviedo to Geneva, and then the Geneva fill, during wet weather is next to impassable. Seminole county owes that portion of the county good roads and roads that they can use twelve months in the year, and if the new project goes through Seminole county will make good to its people of the East Side. Then too the Osteen ferry bridge—but ain't that a good idea. Well, it can be done and I think that the Osteen ferry bridge will be a benefit to the entire county and an improvement that Seminole should have had for time gone by. Let the good work go long.

The legislature meets within a few days and all the legislators are getting their bills all whittled up ready to introduce the very first time the chair calls for bills. Seminole county is interested in one or two bills this time and in all of them for that matter, but there are one or two that most vitally affect the people of this county. I think every man should advise himself on the question of the hog and cattle bills that undoubtedly will be introduced for Seminole county's benefit. Of course it is the understanding that bills of this nature will have what is known as the referendum in them—that is, to submit the question to the people before it takes effect. Then you might say that you would look after bills of that kind when they come to the polls. That is true, but Seminole county needs progressive legislation and something that would be progressive and effectual if carried at the polls. Seminole county does not wish to have to vote against a bill or a law that, if properly drawn and passed would be for the best of the county. Seminole citizens want to do the best thing. Therefore it is now time to look into this legislation and see what it's all about. I think that Seminole needs proper protection from the hogs and cows, and a bill giving that ought to be passed and then voted for by the people, but get the right kind of a law and then uphold it both at the polls and after it is carried. Don't let's have to defeat a law because it is drawn so as to not give the protection wanted and needed.

One of the greatest things that Sanford folk have ever started has been started by a man and a bunch of boys. The Boy Scouts have a friend in town and he has proven his friendship to them and the boys appreciate it. Not that this one man is the only friend the boys have but he is the first to come forward and say "Here boys, take this from me and enjoy it for yourselves." The Camp that has been donated to the Boy Scouts out on Silver Lake is a fine thing, and the man that made the donation ought to have a nice song written for him. The Scouts can do more for themselves out there and can keep out of the ordinary mischief that boys will get into in a much better way by being allowed to spend their spare moments in their Scout uniform at their camp. The Scouts have certain pledges to make and keep or they will be discharged and the fact that none except Scouts can enjoy the benefits of the fine camp will have great influence toward helping the boy to keep himself worthy of the Scout uniform. The Scouts now have good Scout leaders and every worthy boy should be a member of that worthy organization, and the leaders should lend their efforts to building up the organization so that every father and mother will want and will be glad to have their boy be a Boy Scout. While it is generally understood that the Scouts are for good boys, yet a great good may be done by making it a duty to the Scouts for each one of them to select some wild boy, give him good advice, lend him good books, arouse the spirit of true manhood and try to impress upon his mind that "It is not all of life to live, Nor all of death to die."

The prosperity of a town is not guarded by the wealth of its inhabitants, but by the uniformity with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. A man with a thousand dollars at his command and a love for his town in his heart can do more for the building up and improving of it than the millionaire who locks up his capital and snaps his finger at home progress. Sanford does not boast of the latter class, because Sanford does not boast of millionaires, but Sanford does have the least of the rule—Sanford has the men with the thousand dollars and boys of town—you can point them out on the streets. They mean something to the town and sooner or later they will show the world that Sanford is the best town—that in Sanford—life is worth living. The others who do not have the million but probably something near it and has long since forgotten or probably never knew the love of town, have seen the hand writing. Some of them are slipping and town-loving element is taking their place. Soon they will say to their wives—well, I could have done that, and it is such an improvement—but then the time will have elapsed. Sanford will have gone forward by leaps and bounds.

Easy to Recognize.

Tempting.

For the first half of March the most popular indoor sport was filing income tax schedules.

Any one reading the income tax reports would form the opinion that there is still some money in the United States.

What if we should need the Monroe doctrine to use down in Mexico, and should go to the cupboard for it and should find the cupboard bare?

The prospect is that you will be able to buy a fine U. S. airplane which cost the government from $2500 to $3500 for $100. Just think how handy it would be to use in running errands!

The Sixty-fifth Congress has been pronounced by different unimpeachable authorities to be the very best and the very worst legislative body ever assembled since the beginning of time. How is a mere layman to decide?

Lethargia encephalitis or "sleeping sickness" is now prevalent in some parts of this country. Its symptoms may very often be observed in business men Sunday mornings between the hours of six and eleven o'clock.

We are anxiously awaiting the report of the committee on the proposed commission manager for Sanford. This matter should not be allowed to rest. If it is good let us have it. If it is bad let us find it out the better.

It looks as if Sanford, Florida, will soon be asked to contribute a matter of millions of dollars.
We are for good roads, but not at all the time, provided that they are built where needed and properly and economically constructed.

The committee and engineers on this matter will no doubt report soon and we will be able to consider the matter in an intelligent manner.
The people of East Seminole are certainly entitled to good roads and we have faith in the votes of the county to do the right thing when the time comes.

Do you know that Sanford has an institution which has loaned over half a million dollars for the purpose of building homes in and around Sanford in the past ten years?

We refer to the Sanford Building & Loan Association, an institution which has had more to do with the building of homes in Sanford perhaps than any other single agency during this time. The Building & Loan Association is a cooperative institution and the profits go to the members.

At this time when the slogan of the country is "Build Now", it behooves the people of Sanford to support this institution to the utmost.
It is not only a good way to build a home but it is a good investment for those who want to invest money or save money.

The failure to pass appropriation bills in the closing hours of the senate has given a most unfortunate turn to the employment question.
The bureaus formed to facilitate the employment of returned soldiers must not be given up for lack of funds, except in the few cases where they can be financed by large communities.

It becomes more than ever a pity that the draft boards were dismissed shortly after the close of the war.
They had done excellent service, knew the personnel and qualities of the individual soldiers, and had their confidence and respect. They would have been the most effective agency in returning the man to his job or securing him a new one.

We have no doubt that the members of the draft boards in their capacity as citizens will do their best they can through their interest in these young men; to secure the job for the man and the man for the job.

HOISTING THE RED FLAG

It seems rather soon after the distasteful showing they made during the war—proved pro-German—but the Democrats have decided that the wartime laws regarding the manufacture of their beer are unconstitutional and declare that they will go ahead just as usual. They adopt simply the anarchist attitude. One claim made is that the prohibition constitution was not part of the country against the will of the people, in spite of the fact that state after state voted for it and after years of struggle leading to a determination to drive out the infernal curse.

It is to the credit of the legislature of Florida that it has not with the usual of congress. It has come to the aid of those who oppose the brewers with his view that this can go ahead.

GETTING DOWN TO BRASS
TACKS

What the world needs now is PEACE!

And by peace we do not mean merely cessation of war, but a peace of definite boundaries, plainly defined rights, restorations, and cessation of a state of war and cessation of the conditions which make it possible.

Since the last gun was fired on the 11th of November, 1918, a great deal of water has run under bridges.
A peace conference has sat at Versailles, discussing alternately the various projects of national agrandizement. France wants an enormous indemnity from Germany and England, through fear of losing commercial advantages, has not consented to the course which will alone make Germany once more a producer and enable her to pay an inden-nity of any amount whatever.

Meanwhile, as the days pass Germany becomes more unsettled, more self extenuating and more sullen and resentful.

It is time for the peace conference to cease considering theories and begin on actualities—in other words, get down to brass tacks!

What Germany and Austria Hungary need is food and employment.
All blockades should be removed,
that these countries may receive food and raw materials. The central states, regardless of whether they deserve it or not, should be fed, given the chance to resume manufacturing, and so receive an opportunity for the restoration of normal conditions.

Meantime, while the peace conference sits formulating the principles and by-laws of a league of nations, Bolshevism raises its ugly head, uncomfortably near the door of the conference. It is a time for practical hard sense—not for dreams.

Why We Have No Band
Editor Sanford Herald:
Sanford, Florida.

Dear Sir:
This is in answer to an article in the "Curbsone Gleanings" in your last issue wondering why DeLand and other towns smaller than Sanford can keep a band together for years while Sanford cannot.

Until a few months ago Sanford had a band and the tax payers are paying taxes now for a director's salary and for a music fund. To be exact last year there was $1,000 put in the budget for the ensuing year $800 to be used for the director's salary and $200 to be used for the purchase of having music and for other incidental expenses. This appropriation was ample and a good band was being made but after several months of the tax payers' doubts as to the time permitted and the amount of the tax payers' contribution, the band was discontinued.

Mr. Gallagher, the director, received a summons to appear before the city council and was informed that there was no money in the treasury to pay for the band. He was informed that the city council was not going to pay for the band and that the tax payers were not going to pay for the band.

This spoke Benjamin Franklin, the great Apostle of Thrift. He also said, and it is proven: "Money can beget money, and its offspring can beget more," and "If you would be wealthy, think of saving as well as getting."
There are men in our community who are wealthy. Their wealth represents nothing so much as saving. They started like anyone else can start. Rockefeller started on one dollar a week—Schwab saved when he was earning a dollar a day. The saving ambition made him the highest salaried man in the world.

ELDER SPRINGS WATER

THOMAS D. BAKER, Ph. D. Analytical and Consulting Chemist - Professional of Natural Science Emeritus, Rollins College, Florida Private Laboratory of Rollins College Winter Park, Fla., Nov. 5th, 1918

Dear Sir: I have completed careful chemical analysis of the sample of water that you brought me early last week, and have obtained the following results:

Color—Clear Chlorine—1.75 parts per million Reaction—Neutral Total solids—3.04 parts per million Free ammonia—50 parts per million Hardness—23.03 parts per million Albuminoid ammonia—Trace Nitrate—Trace

The absence practically of free and albuminoid ammonia in this water and its very small amount of chlorine indicates its excellent quality for household purposes. In addition to the good quality characteristics of superior household water, it possesses special features of much value, especially those of excellent natural aeration and low degree of hardness.

The bacteriological analysis, resulting in an average total count, in four samples of the water, of 1 bacteria per cent, and in finding no coliform or other harmful bacteria, fully confirm its good quality indicated by the CHEMICAL analysis.

Of the many waters of this and other regions that I have analyzed, I have found none superior in all good qualities to that of the "Elder Springs Water." Yours very respectfully, (Signed) THOMAS D. BAKER

TO DESTROY CUT WORMS

By Killing these Worms Many Valuable Plants Can Be Saved

There is more than one kind of poisoned bait that can be used in destroying cutworms, but the so-called Kansas mixture is recommended by J. R. Watson of the University of Florida experiment station.

Prepare a mixture of 20 pounds bran, 5 pounds cottonseed meal, and 1 pound Paris green. Prepare another mixture of 2 1/2 gallons water, quarter molasses or syrup, and three or four lemons. The entire lemon should be grated or ground fine.

Pour into the dry mixture enough of the wet mixture to make the mass decidedly damp but not sloppy, and of such consistency that it will fall in the places when sown broadcast.

This bait should be put out after sunset so that it will be fresh and attractive when the worms come out to feed at the night. If the following day is cloudy the bait will remain attractive for the second night, otherwise it will have to be renewed if the cutworms have not been brought under control. If properly sown it will fall in such small flakes that they will not be blown away by the wind.

Look for the worms on the plants at a smaller rate for material if instead of being broadcast, the bait is sown in a small pan about the stalks of the plants, as scattered along the rows.

Instead of both cottonseed meal and bran, either may be used alone, in which case 25 pounds is used. Bitter molasses, such as New Orleans, stale bran or meal, should not be used in making this bait. The mixture must be made up fresh each day from sweet, fresh material.

Where there are but few cutworms the easiest, quickest and cheapest method of dealing with them is to walk through the patch in the early morning and look for plants which were cut off during the preceding night. By scratching the earth away from the base of the plant the worms will usually be found at a depth of not more than an inch.

Spray for Irish Potato Blight

By C. D. Sheahan, Asso. Plant Pathologist, Fla. Ex. Sta. This year, late blight of potatoes began to show up about two weeks ahead of its common appearance in the state. This means, of course, that if there is any more rainy weather before digging time, the growers stand a good chance to lose considerably on account of this blight unless the plants are protected against the disease by spraying.

The disease attacks the leaves, stems and tubers of the potato plant. On the leaves it produces spots usually near the margin or tip, or at the mid-rib, probably because rain or dew remains longest on these parts. The spots are at first water-soaked in appearance; later, if the weather is dry, they shrivel somewhat and turn brown, or if the weather is moist, turn black and become soft. Just outside of the affected part one can usually see a lighter green band. If the weather is moist, the fungus which causes the disease will produce on the lower side of the leaves and just inside the margin of the spots a downy growth composed of the spore stalks and numerous spores borne on the tips of the spore branches. If the weather continues moist, the spots will rapidly increase in size and run the course of a day's time. An entire field may thus be ruined in a few days.

To control this disease, spray the plants with 4-4-50 bordeaux mixture. The first spraying should be made when the plants are from 4 to 6 inches high, and it should be repeated every week if the weather is favorable to the disease—that is continuously rainy and cloudy. But if the weather is comparatively dry and clear, spraying once every other week will be sufficient. Spray thoroughly and with a pump that maintains high pressure so that the spray mixture will be applied in the form of a fine mist.

Water Hyacinth Has Value.

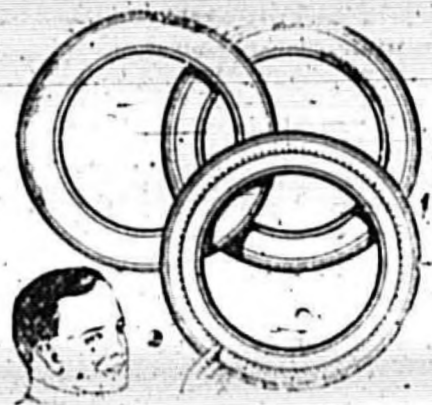

The water hyacinth, which so rapidly fills up certain streams, is found to have a high value as a fertilizer. On account of the large amount of water the green plant contains the material is partially dried before stacking and after becoming well rotted it proves to have about the same composition as farmyard manure, except that it is richer in potash.

Good Advice.

The man who doesn't worry when he ought to is as bad as the one who worries when he shouldn't. Worrying is bad for the health, but probably not as bad as letting things drift. In case of pain, run for an umbrella. Instead of saying "Don't Worry" the best advice to give a man in trouble is "Get Busy"—Thrift Magazine.

R. J. HOLLY IS BACK AGAIN

R. J. Holly arrived Wednesday from New York and expects to remain in Sanford about two weeks, while recuperating from a case of "flu" which he contracted in Liverpool, England.

He is in the Y. M. C. A. transport service and expects to return to this work at the end of his furlough.

The following letter was received on the day he reached Sanford, it being mailed at Liverpool on March 11th:

Liverpool, England, March 11.

Arrived here on the good ship Adriatic on the 16th and have been here ever since waiting for a ship to carry me to Brest and from there to the U. S. A. with the troops. The Adriatic left New York with the idea of taking back American troops and had she done so I would have been home now but she was switched here to Canadian troops which meant that I had to get off with all my supplies and wait for another ship to come along that had no secretary. I would have been to Brest the first week but had some complications regarding getting my supply of cigarettes and candy and moving pictures through the customs and by the time I had wandered all over this blooming place looking for the man who could clear my stuff the boat on which I was to sail had left and I had to wait for another ship to come along. There are five of us on board here at the same time all from the White Star lines and naturally we were glad to be together but now there are only two of us left and we expect to get out next week. Being war here under orders is something different from being at home where you can get on a train and go where you want to go and when you want to go. Over here you are governed by orders both Y. M. C. A. and military and you cannot get on a ship unless you have the proper orders or unless you are needed at Brest or some other port where ships are sailing. But it is all in the day's work and while I am tied up on this climate I will soon be sailing for God's country where you can get real coffee and plenty of sugar and where the pinch of war is not felt so keenly. England and her people have suffered in this war and the people of Liverpool responded nobly to the call and many homes here have been made desolate by the war and you see it on every hand. There is a big military camp here built originally for American troops and there are thousands of men there now most of them Canadians and they have been over here a long time and all are anxious to get home.

Last week a big bunch of Americans came here from France and they are to attend the English universities. As there is a big university here some of them will probably go to school here, others to Oxford and other schools for a few months before they are sent back home. I have seen much of England while over here and while it is a great country in many ways I must confess that to a Florida cracker the climate is rotten. It rains 355 days in the year and the days it is not raining it is foggy or cloudy. Steam heat in the hotels is an unknown quantity and only a small grate fire is in the rooms and you are lucky to get that. We actually stole some coal the other day to have a little blaze in the room so we could gather around it and feel cheerful. Sometimes I think the English are sober minded and stern on account of the dark and dismal weather that they have and believe me it would get my goat to stay here another month. It is good Florida sunshine for mine and I will never find it too warm again for it seems to me that too much Florida sun could not be absorbed by me in my natural life time after I return.

But with all that there are many points of interest in old England and since a many of us sprang from English or Irish stock it is natural to wander through the country and gaze on the old cathedrals and ancient castles of all kinds. London is filled with all of this and the Tower and Westminster Abbey and other points are a week's wonderment and I am glad of the opportunity of being over here and getting a glimpse of the old world. But I wouldn't give an acre of Florida and all its sunshine for the entire British possessions and before I leave here I will be having about half of the population coming to Florida for I have been telling them something about our country and if they believe half of it England will lose some of her population soon. Will write you something of sunny France later, although they say that funny France is a joke as far as Brest is concerned and if I get any sunshine in this part of the world it will have to be imported from Florida and I can well believe it. However I have not signed any contract to remain over here and am only expecting to be in France on this trip long enough to get the American doughboys and get back to where the Statue of Liberty is awaiting me, so the climate will not bother me any in France this trip. I have been here two weeks longer than I ever expected to be and will be glad when the boat sails that will carry me back. In Hoboken I will probably take an American ship that will carry me direct to Brest and back and the trips will be made in record time and but little time wasted lying till the weather gets better and then I will probably take a trip through France and if my boy has not returned I will try and find him and what a great thing it would be to bring him home on the same ship. We have everything to keep them in good spirits on the trip home and even give them a fine moving picture show on the boat. I will probably get a good job with Osborne Herndon when I get back to Sanford and it is beyond the comprehension of my friends to imagine me giving moving pictures and giving lectures with lantern-slides and all this entertainment stuff. But that is just what you do and the position of a secretary on the transport is full of activity and when I get back to Sanford I will be ready to tackle anything from the newspaper business to raising celery. And the best of it is that I have learned much from experience and much that will be of benefit and the greatest thing is that I have found out what a great comfort the Christian religion is to a man when he is out in the world absolutely upon his own resources and if I have gained nothing else I have gained a better knowledge of religion and of what God means to a man in the world. Regards to all my friends.

HOLLY.

Small Blaze Wednesday

The fire department was called to extinguish a small fire at the A. C. L. shops on Wednesday morning. No serious damage was done as the department arrived before the fire had gotten started. It was extinguished in about five minutes and the fire department returned to the station.

Supt. Lawton at Tallahassee

Hon. T. W. Lawton, superintendent of public instruction returned last Friday from a three days' trip to Tallahassee where all the members of the state were invited in connection with the state superintendent's conference. This conference was called for the purpose of having suggestions from the various superintendents and school officials and suggestions for needed legislation along educational lines. While at Tallahassee the superintendent and Mrs. Catts at the governor's mansion and also were dinner guests of the Florida State College for Women.

Special Program Baptist S. S.

The superintendent of special occasions, Mrs. W. E. Betts announces that there will be a special program given at the Baptist Sunday school next Sunday morning. Mrs. Betts has arranged for many delightful numbers for this program and all the school will take part. Mrs. Betts is noted for her good work along this line and the fact that she is conducting the program is sufficient evidence that it will be good. The time for having the Sunday school next Sunday will be ELEVEN o'clock by the clock.

The Time o' Day

The daylight saving law should have been repeated before congress adjourned, but was not. Accordingly, as good citizens, subject to what is just now a needless, deplorable, and somewhat irritating legislation, we are to put our clocks ahead one hour next Sunday morning at two o'clock. It will not be a crime, however, if one does not sit up all night in order to make the change at the moment.

Congregational Church Time

Services will be held at this church the coming Sunday at the usual hours; that is, set your clocks according to the new time, and then come to church when they say eleven o'clock. Come to Sunday school at 9:45. For the evening the same will hold true; that is, come to Christian Endeavor at 6:30 and to evening service at 7:30.

Morning worship, beginning at eleven, theme of the sermon, "The World in Chaos, and Our Relation to the Situation." Evening worship beginning at 7:30, theme of the sermon, "True Views of Salvation."

In connection with the evening service Mrs. Takach will sing a selection from one of the great oratorios.

The Wednesday evening meeting will be held at 7:30, and at 8:30 Mrs. Takach will give a number of solos from the oratorios. These religious recitals are of unusual interest and excellence. They are entirely free.

Honors for Red Cross Workers

Those of the Red Cross workers who have put in 500 hours or more in service to the Red Cross are entitled to service bars that can be obtained through the local chapter. The worker herself or himself will have to determine and compute the time of service and report to Mrs. David Speer, Director of Woman's work for Seminole County Chapter A. R. C. The bars will have to be paid for by the applicant.

The pins are very attractive and carry with them ribbons designating the time of service.

Spray Cucumbers for Rust

By C. D. Sherbakoff
Asso. Plant Pathologist, Fla. Ex. Sta
I have found from personal observation of cucumber fields in central Florida, that the "rust" or downy mildew is beginning to show up, and I understand that this is also true in other sections as well. Truckers should not overlook the matter of giving such affected fields the proper attention before it is too late. This disease is known by different names, such as rust, blight, fire blight and downy mildew. The first three are misnomers being properly used for entirely different diseases from the one discussed here. The name "downy mildew" should be used because the disease is due to the fungus Peronosporaspora cubensis, belonging to the downy mildews. The disease affects the leaves of cucumbers, cantaloupes, squashes and some other related plants, on which it produces characteristic spots most evident on the older leaves. The spots are at first pale green or yellow and somewhat angular. When the spots are older they turn pinkish brown to brown and become papery-dry.

Timely and thorough spraying with a good fungicide will control the disease. Spray first when the plants are very young, that is, when they first begin to form the third leaf. The spray should be repeated once a week or at least once every two weeks, depending on the weather conditions, rate of plant growth and the severity of the disease. The best time to spray is in the evening, and the mixture when applied to the leaves will dry rapidly, before rain is much more effective than after rain.

Don't lose the glory of Florida scenery

WHEN you clear up the land for a home or grove! Too often a Florida place is left so barren of shrubbery and trees that it repels rather than attracts. Even if you should be living on such a property, there is no reason why it should remain unattractive. A very few dollars spent for the right selection of plants, shrubs and trees will transform it.
