YOUNG COACH IS GLOOMY DESPITE PLENTY OF MEN

McLucas Greeted By 50 Players At 1st Practice Sessions

By PETER SCHAAL.

Despite the fact that almost 50 boys of all ages and sizes appeared for first football practice Monday afternoon and were equal to an anxious to prove their worth by appearing again yesterday afternoon, Coach Leonard "Whitely" McLucas, beginning his second year as athletic director at Seminole high school, does not appear to be elated, over his prospects after all.

The squad of 50, the largest ever to appear for opening day practice, contains, according to a careful check up of the preliminary which each man declared, 28 linemen, and 22 backfield candidates. Why so many of the boys want to see service as a local Red Grange or Chris Eagle has not been made known as yet. From all indications some of them are going to be quickly transformed into linemen, for there is the greatest need at the present time.

Yesterday afternoon the boys were issued training equipment in the form of sweat shirts, pants and similar articles. Another short talk on the fundamentals of the game and some of the important changes in styles of play occupied most of the two hour training period, although much time was devoted to limbering up exercises, concluding with a run around the park.

The most interesting observation concerning the attitude of the players who have so far answered the call to practice is that they are all anxious to get into action as quickly as possible. In marked contrast to opening practices last year, the players this year are going about their duties with less hilarity and time-wasting. The young coach's words are listened to with earnestness, for every man has long learned that he hardly ever repeats his advice, and that the boy who fails to listen is the loser when playing time comes.

Much is expected of the veterans of last year. Around them will be built what is believed to be a smooth-working machine capable of tackling and conquering even the class teams of this year's schedule, Andrew Jackson, Daytona, Leesburg, and Orlando.

Among the veterans who will see real service this year are Hendrix Lyles, Pete Higgins, Ralph Vincent, Milton Ware, Jack Hyatt, Woodrow River, Johnnie Courier, Stinson Kinlaw, H. B. Odham, Willie Preston, and young Coleman.

To those names may be added those of Usher Kanner, Fulton Foster, Ned Yancey, Dub Entzinger, Levi Brannon, Paul Biggers, Jr., John Stanley, Hudson Foster, and a world of other talent as yet undetermined, much of it being untried and coming to Seminole high school from junior high.

Practice sessions are held every afternoon starting at 4:00 o'clock at Municipal Park. The public is invited to attend each session.

ORLANDO OUTFIT BEATS SANFORD AT DIAMOND BALL

Crack Visiting Team Is Hard Pressed To Win Close Contest

By R. H. CULHAM.

In a hotly contested game, every inch of which was fought until the last man was out, the Orlando Orange Diamond Ball team defeated the home-made Orange Cleaners team Tuesday night 7 to 5.

The game revolved itself into pitchers duel from the start. Kinlaw was in the box for the Sanford team, and pitched five innings of the game, holding the lead hitting bunch from Orlando to three hits, for four runs, the first run being scored by Kinlaw on the part of his team mates. Orlando first two runs came in the second inning. Frank Yochum opened the inning with a single, being advanced to third on Urban Yochum's double to right field. Webster drew a walk, Schirard advanced to second in order to draw Yochum off third. The three runs were scored in the third inning. Martin musing the ball with the result that Yochum brought in the first run of the game. Martin, receiving the ball, threw to Schirard to catch Webster second.

In the fourth inning Frank Yochum after two outs, hit a pop fly between short and left field, coming in for the ball, let it drop out of his glove with the result that Yochum was safe. Urban Yochum doubled, scoring his brother, and Webster duplicated scoring Urban Yochum.

Kinlaw at his own request was relieved in the beginning of the sixth inning by Palmer. Palmer walked Chaner, the first man to face him; Murray popped out; Maynard hit to third who attempted to cut Chance off at second; both safe; Frank Yochum singled, scoring Chaner and Murray; Urban Yochum hit a line drive to right, good for four bases, bringing in Frank ahead of him. Total four runs in this inning. This ended the run getting for Orlando, but it was sufficient to win the game.

Payne Murray pitched for Orlando, and for two innings held the Cleaners scoreless. In the third inning he walked Schirard and Martin in succession; Ravenel sacrificed, Schirard going to third and Martin to second. Pittman connected with one of Murray's fast ones and lifted it out of the park over center field for the circuit, scoring Schirard and Martin. In the fifth inning the Sanford team put over two more, one a single by Martin, a double by Ravenel and a triple by Pittman.

The Sanford team made another serious threat in the last inning, with good prospects of tying up the score. However, with two out, and the bases choked, Peters popped out to short to end the game.

The Orlando team that was here last night recently won the district tournament championship, and is considered one of the best, if not the best team in the state. Last week they defeated Bartow, South Florida Champions, 13 to 3, and the Sanford team did well to hold them as close as they did. In fact if it hadn't been for the errors in the early innings, Sanford would have come out on the long end of the score.

Pittman for Sanford not only starred in the field but also had a perfect night at the bat. Don't forget the girl's game to-morrow night.

What Have You To Swap?

It Has Come To This!

The United States and Brazil have recently consummated a deal whereby Brazil agrees to SWAP some of her surplus coffee for some of our surplus wheat. When two wealthy nations find it beneficial to use the ancient system of BARTER, while the world is suffering from financial ills, why shouldn't you take advantage of the same method to accrue personally?

Perhaps you have a radio you would like to trade for an ice box, or perhaps you have a dog, a cat, a piano, a piece of furniture you would like to exchange for a cow, a canary, a victrola, or a farm implement. Everyone has some article about the home or farm which is not being used but which would be serviceable to someone else.

The difficulty is in finding out what the other fellow has and of telling him what you have. You cannot use television yet, to peer inside of homes, nor can you go from house to house and inform each owner you have something you would like to swap. But you can attain the same end, and without any effort, by using The Herald Swap Column.

You Don't Have To Be Subscriber To Secure This Special Rate

The ad will appear not less than three times thus receiving full publicity which should be conducive of some mighty snappy swapping. The Herald is making a special low price of .45 cents for the three insertions (regular rate .72 cents).

Naturally no names will be signed to the ads. Upon their receipt they will be given a key number and all replies will be sent in to our Swap Department where you may call and ask for same—the entire transaction will be a strictly confidential one.

Just because you are not accustomed to writing an ad don't let that stop you. Simply fill out the coupon below, put it in an envelope, hand it to the newsboy when he delivers your paper, or mail it to The Herald, and an experienced ad writer will write it up for you. If there is insufficient room on the coupon use any size sheet of paper. All we want is information regarding what you have and for what you would like to swap. The Health Of The Nation

Interesting, indeed, was the report of Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming two weeks ago in which President Hoover at his own request was informed that the general health of the nation is satisfactory, in fact, is excellent.

Attempting to determine the amount of national charity which will be necessary next winter in order to take care of unemployment problems, President Hoover had asked how the health of the nation in this period of depression compares with that of 1928 and 1929 when practically everyone was well employed.

Among other things the report said: "The general mortality, the infant mortality, the sickness in the country was less in the winter of 1931 than in the winters of full employment of 1928 and 1929. The public health has apparently never been better than it has been over the past six months. It is a most creditable showing of the effort which the country made last winter and one for which the voluntary organizations and local officials are entitled to a very great deal of credit."

The present high degree of public health indicates two very potent factors: first, that the seriousness of the unemployment situation is being materially relieved through the regular charity organizations; second, that, while during hard times and are apt to make themselves sick, such evil influences are to a large extent counteracted by the fact that in hard times people do not eat too much and that such moderation is more likely to be good for them than the usual inclination to over-eat.

This, at least, is the conclusion the President reaches after reading the report of Dr. Cumming. We hope that the health of the nation can be preserved through another winter and that those who do not starve to death, do not succumb to death, and perhaps next summer their health will still continue good.

Trade Can Be Stimulated

The present need of aggressive salesmanship is lamented by the Manufacturers Record which declares that never before in the history of this country have the American people, particularly the merchants and industrial leaders, taken their hard times with such composure and apparent willingness. Sitting still waiting for business to pick up, will not get them anywhere, the Record insists. There is plenty of business for those who go after it, the success of some businesses would seem to indicate.

"Some concerns are getting ahead because they are showing energy and determination in salesmanship," the Record continues. "They have developed new ideas and thus have stimulated trade. The need is for a more progressive sales spirit to overcome the lassitude of the buying public. There is need for directing boards and banking groups in control of great corporations to provide the men on the firing line—executives and managing heads—with the means to promote business."

"This depression differs from those of the past, not alone in its world-wide aspects, but also in the apathy which has been manifested in the let-down of American aggressiveness. A supine attitude will not overcome the evident determination of buyers to purchase nothing until present supplies completely run out, or until positive need drives them into the market. Granted that such a position on the part of buyers is discouraging, it is nevertheless true that their need will be made more apparent and their requirements be more quickly filled if they are urged to buy and shown why they should buy."

"Fortunately for industry, supplies are running low. Shelves in many stores are more nearly bare than for a long time; empty boxes preserve the appearance of real goods as we approach the fall season. It is timely to point to the great need of a definite aggressive policy in increasing demand. This driving power is essential to the restoration of prosperity."

Co-operating With The Press

Last June most newsmen in Washington were surprised and delighted with the extraordinarily free and frank way in which Acting Secretary of State William Richardson Castle kept them posted on the diplomatic negotiations which led up to the acceptance of President Hoover's debt moratorium. Last week the State Department's Correspondents' Association presented him with a silver cigarette box to show their appreciation of his candor. Declared Mr. Castle gratefully:

"I said to the President: The negotiations are going to be very difficult and pretty technical. With your permission, I would like to keep the Press very fully informed. The President said: 'Tell them everything. You have carte blanche to keep them fully informed of everything that's going on.'"

"That I tried awfully hard to do and I must say that all that enormously increased my respect for the Press. Many of the things were very technical and I was terribly shaky on them myself. I tried to express what I thought was true but I must admit I read the press reports the next morning to find out what was true, because you took my rather vague words and interpreted them into what was actually true."—Time.

KARL LEHMANN, who recently resigned as secretary of the Orange county chamber of commerce after nine years of most effective service, has accepted the secretaryship of the Seminole county chamber of commerce, effective September 1. This is one of the best pieces of news to break lately. It was feared that Mr. Lehmann's activities might be moved to another state. Florida's fortunate in this. Seminole county is especially so. There have been many secretaries of chambers of commerce in Florida—some of them good, some indifferent, some downright poor. Karl Lehmann belongs in the first class, with superlative rating. He is a live wire, and knows Florida and really appreciates and loves it. The constructive work he has accomplished during his Orange county connection is beyond valuation.—Tampa Times.

DISADVANTAGES OF THE "DOLE"

The National Association of Manufacturers made public yesterday a pamphlet presentation on compulsory unemployment insurance. The result of an analysis of reports, discussions and viewpoints collected within the last four months from manufacturers, executives, university professors, economists, industrial personnel and others who are making a study of the subject. The committee believes that the following are the disadvantages of the proposed compulsory unemployment insurance: 1. Compulsory unemployment insurance is a tax on industry and the consumer. 2. It is a burden on the employer. 3. It is a burden on the worker. 4. It is a burden on the state. 5. It is a burden on the nation. 6. It is a burden on the world.

THE NEW FASHION

The new mode in women's clothing, characterized by naive historical inaccuracies that with equanimity describe a given hat as "Empress Eugenie," "1890" and "First Empire"—all three, when in fact it is not even any one of these—of a sudden has thrust itself into the American scene. And women, apathetic to the historical truth of their attire, but mightily concerned with its looks, are in a great-to-do acquiring hats that aspire with widely varying success to achieve a stately downward tilt over the right eye.

It is all very thrilling indeed—for women. Men, for a considerable part, are engaged in their traditional role of again inveighing fruitlessly against this strange thing that is called fashion. They are, however, generally intelligent creatures should uncomplainingly—may, even gladly—heed the whims and dictates of courtiers, do not do such things—at least, so hurriedly. So far so good.

It is only the starting link in a contemplated complete scheme of social insurance to be paid for by national and state governments and which ultimately will include insurance for industrial accidents, non-industrial accidents, industrial diseases, ill-health, disablement, maternity, old age and death.

2. Successful advocacy of public unemployment insurance will lead inevitably to the establishment of a continually extending system of public doles.

3. When a nation starts with one kind of public social assistance or contributions or doles, it is difficult, if not impossible, to prevent unwarranted increases in expenditures in the particular field and a wide spread of similar increasing public expenditures in other fields.

4. The experience of foreign countries demonstrates clearly that if one form of public social insurance is obtained, others follow inevitably.

5. It is a presumptuous and prospectively fatal policy to overburden the efficient and self-supporting by reducing their possibilities for bettering themselves, in order to maintain the inefficient and dependent.

6. All large masses of people who have really progressed industrially have done so by practicing the economic virtues of industry, thrift, foresight, economy and mutual helpfulness. This is the economic gospel taught by Benjamin Franklin and the genuine friends of the poor.

7. Laws establishing doles from the public treasury against the social insecurity, resulting from old age, sickness and unemployment, will almost certainly result in a weakening of incentives to reliability and job-steadiness. The regular receipt of money for which no equivalent in work is rendered makes against everything that is good in the receiver's life; the innate ill of idleness are increased.

8. Claims of the social reformers who advance the "compulsory wage reserve" to correspond with the "dividend reserve," as means of compulsory public unemployment insurance, are plausible but false. The real desire of the reformers seems to be to use this indirect method to achieve general redistribution of wealth; this aim should be brought out in the open and argued upon its own merits, instead of being camouflaged in the cloak of indirection.

9. Vastly important from the point of national economy is the effect of mounting tax burdens upon the larger accumulations of capital which are necessary to provide for industrial replacements and expansion—if these savings are curtailed then industry will decline and unemployment increase.

WILLS IS LEADER OF REVIVAL NOW BEING CONDUCTED

Orlando Evangelist Seeking To 'Build Up Kingdom Of Christ'

By E. C. WILLS

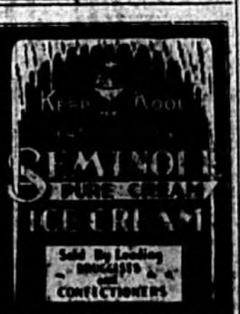

The entire citizenship of Sanford is cordially invited to the Faith Gospel Tabernacle to hear the evangelist from Orlando who is preaching straight Gospel messages to professing Christians on the practical ethics of every-day living and exemplifying Christ to a lost world.

This work is inter-denominational in its plans, co-operates with every good church of Jesus in building up the Kingdom of Christ. It is not here to tear down but to build the Kingdom of Christ, to preach Christ in all His fullness and love to meet the needs of a chaotic world when men's hearts are failing them for fear, looking after the things which are coming on the earth. Thus as the church people are revived and the Holy Ghost works upon the hearts of men, will the work of the church prosper and souls be brought to Jesus.

No wild fire, fox fire, fool's fire or false fire is tolerated upon the altars of the Lord here, but as God's people tarry before God, erect an altar, lay on the offering, does the Holy Ghost come with fire and burning to consume the dross and destroy the work of the devil.

Wednesday evening the Evangelist's text was in Prov. 5:11 to 13. And the theme was "THE TERRIBLE END OF A MIS-SPENT LIFE." He said in part, "Man's chief end is to glorify God and enjoy Him forever. God never intended man to be miserable but endowed him with intelligence and reason, opened to him resources of happiness and gave him the right to choose good or evil.

"Fatalism is an error dishonorable to God. Universalism is a lie damning to man, and we are responsible for the choice we make. If we pursue the right it leads to happiness and Heaven. If we choose the evil and hold on to it, it leads to misery and perdition. The lost condemned men living in sin, the worldly-minded begin with bright hopes but ends in despair. The lustful and licentious abandoned to vice, lost to principle and dying in despair is the victim of remorse the horrible to

Wills is leader of revival now being conducted.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 3.—(A.P.)—A mass of information concerning missing persons and the past of Harry F. Powers was scanned by authorities yesterday while Powers' attorney appeared to defend him on charges of slaying two women and three children.

The officials said they were receiving mail and telegrams from hundreds of persons throughout the United States who have friends or relatives missing. They said they would investigate the cases to determine whether Powers, who corresponded with many women through a matrimonial agency, was responsible for any of the disappearances.

An attorney for the prisoner, accompanied by a physician who examined Powers, spent an hour in the man's cell. The authorities claim they obtained a confession from Powers last Saturday.

Chief of Police C. A. Duckworth said Powers' wife had changed her attitude of faith in her husband's innocence. He quoted her as saying she was "through with Harry Powers—I wouldn't have him turn loose for a hundred million dollars."

The bodies of Mrs. Abta Fisher and her three children, found near the Quiet Dell garage, that Powers built on his belt, were examined yesterday in Pittsburgh. The bodies were to be sent to their former home in Park Ridge, Ill. Charles Flemming of Northboro, Dorothy P. Lamb, advised a local undertaker he would leave home for Clarksville last night to claim his wife's body.

There was no indication when Powers would be arraigned on the murder charges.

Mae Holly Becomes Bride This Afternoon

Of interest to their friends throughout the state is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Etta Mae Holly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Holly, to Dr. John Beach Hazard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hazard, of Jacksonville and Miami, Fla. Thursday afternoon, Sept. 3, at 3 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few friends by the Rev. Harvard Hooper at the Unitarian Church at Hingham, Mass. The Unitarian Church at Hingham is considered the oldest church in New England.

The bride is a graduate of Central High School. After attending the Florida State College for Women for three years, she entered the Massachusetts General Hospital and was graduated from there last March. Since that time she has been connected with the Community Health Department at Boston.

Dr. Hazard was graduated from the University of Florida with a B. S. degree in 1924 and received an M. D. degree the following year. He then attended the School of Medicine of Harvard University and received his M. D. degree there in 1930. Since that time he has been engaged in pathological research work at Boston City Hospital.

After a wedding trip to points in Florida, the couple will return to Boston, Mass., where they will reside at 28 Slidell Road.

I insist I have not violated the federal corrupt practices act first, because the provision in that act concerning the election of presidential electors is unconstitutional, the Supreme Court has so decided, that presidential electors are state officers and if so, Congress is not empowered to legislate concerning the election of such officers.

"Second, nevertheless, a full report of all money expended by the headquarters committee of anti-Smith Democrats was made by the treasurer to the clerk of the House of Representatives.

"Third, all other money placed in my hands for campaign purposes was expended by me personally in the state of Virginia for the defeat of the Smith Democratic presidential electors.

"Fourth, no proof can be presented that one dollar was expended by the headquarters, or by me personally, for the election or defeat of congressmen or senators.

"Fifth, I did not apply one dollar to personal uses from the campaign funds placed in my hands. The personal notes which, it was testified before the committee, I paid in 1928 were paid out of my personal resources, just as I had been paying for many years similar obligations incurred to maintain the Richmond Virginia, our prohibition daily. All campaign contributions deposited in Richmond, and the Blackstone personal accounts, were checked out for general and Virginia campaign purposes."

ACCOUNT IS GIVEN BY BISTLINE OF SQUAB INDUSTRY

Breeder Of Chickens And Pigeons Is Winner Of Many Prizes

Central Florida's champion breeder of squabs, pigeons, and Silver White Wyandotte chickens, J. A. Bistline, pioneer Longwood resident, is still receiving compliments on the comprehensive radio talk he made at Gainesville several days ago in which he described the squab industry, its beginning and its development.

Mr. Bistline, who is nationally known as the breeder of prize-winning Silver White Wyandotte chickens which have won prizes at important shows throughout the country, including the annual Madison Square Garden show in New York City, in his radio address, had the following to say concerning the industry:

"The squab industry of Florida was started many years ago, yet for some reason it has not grown to the extent that it deserves.

"There were successful squab breeders in this state as early as 1850. I have been operating a squab farm of my own for over 2000 breeders at Longwood for the past 20 years. During that time there have been numerous changes in ways of feeding, kind of feed, and marketing conditions.

"The big handicap to the pioneer breeders was the marketing. For three or four months during the winter they could find a good market at almost their own price, but the fashionable hotels and clubs. But, they had no market for their squabs during the remaining eight or nine months.

"Along about the year 1910, W. R. Healey, of Longwood conceived the idea of a returnable refrigerator shipping box, which carried the dressed squabs to northern cities in the best of condition during the warm months. Thus a year round market was obtained. These same type refrigerator boxes are used by us, and most breeders at the present time, and, without that way of disposing of the surplus squabs to northern markets, the squab industry of Florida would not be on a paying basis today.

"To make a success of squab production, one should like pigeons and like to work with them. He should build a good, dry, convenient loft or house, with plenty of ventilation. He should acquire good breeding stock from a reliable breeder. He should acquire early hatching birds, such as King, King and Carneau. If you have a moderate price hotel trade, the Homestead is best. If your trade wants the larger squabs, the Kings and Carneau are the most desirable. The average weight of the home squabs dressed is 12 ounces, while the Carneau and Kings will average about 15 ounces.

"Feed and the way it is fed is very important, as this is the cause of at least 90 per cent of all pigeon mortality. The feed is dry, well seasoned, and free from any mold, or musty smell. Feed in hoppers well protected from droppings. Best results are obtained by feeding twice each day, giving them all they will clean up from one feeding to the next. The feeders should be so built that they cannot throw the feed out on the floor. Never feed in fly pens.

A good health grit should be fed at all times, and as it contains different minerals in powder form it should be fed most so that the fine minerals will adhere to the large particles, otherwise they will not eat the minerals. Do not neglect the green feed, as birds confined need this to keep them toned up. Feed them greens, such as collards, rap, lettuce, and such vegetables, twice each week, in flypens.

"Squabs are much less work to care for than poultry, as the parent birds build their own nests, hatch and feed their young until market age. Pigeons only lay two eggs at one setting. It takes 17 days to hatch, the male sitting in the nest from about 9:00 o'clock in the morning until about 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon, and the female setting the rest of the time.

"The first week they feed the young partly digested food known as pigeon milk. After the first week they feed the whole grain, seeds and female both feed the young. After about four weeks they are ready for market and should be fully feathered at that time.

"In preparing squabs for market they should be taken from the loft early in the morning before being led. Killing is done by inserting a sharp knife in the mouth, cutting the jugular vein and striking the brain, which causes them to bleed freely, and die quickly. After they are bled, they are then washed clean, and placed on an until thoroughly chilled, when they are ready for shipment, packed in crushed ice, with the birds packed head downward.

"It is very important that breeders be kept properly mated, that is the same number of males as females. If you have an extra male in the pen, he is going to steal some other bird's mate, and then there is a fight which results in broken eggs, or crushed little chicks. As a rule pigeons select their mates for life. Yet we find some divorces, and some bigamists. Whether the pigeons acquire these bad traits from the human race, or the human race from the pigeons, I don't know. But at any rate, they are very much alike in this respect.

"A good breeding pair of pigeons will consume about 100 pounds of feed a year. The large commercial flock of pigeons will produce an average of one dozen squabs per pair, each year. Some individual pairs will produce as many as 18 squabs in a year, but they are very few. With good breeding stock, proper care, and careful marketing, nice profit can be made on breeding squabs for markets in Florida."

LAKE MONROE

By Mrs. S. H. Buchanan

Harry Raburn has returned to his home at Lake Monroe after a long absence. He is now at West 17th Street.

A little girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edna Swaggerty, Friday, Aug. 21st.

Friends of Mrs. Raburn of West East Street, are glad she is rapidly recovering from the effects of several broken ribs received in an automobile accident when returning from New York Beach.

Miss Ruth Humphrey, of Perry, Fla., is visiting Miss Marantha Boyette.

In spite of the bad weather conditions, the chicken supper given at the Lake Monroe school Friday evening under the auspices of the Athletic club, proved a success. A large crowd of young people and the older folks too, were there to partake of the chicken, rice, salads, pickles, cakes, pies, coffee and other good things so bountifully served later in the evening cakes and pies were raffled off and a nice little sum was realized in this way.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Vaughn have returned from Georgia and North Carolina where they spent the summer.

Miss Boyette and Miss Mattie, the Boyette and Eddie have returned from a visit to relatives at Perry, Fla.

Mr. R. D. Hester and son, Richard, will leave in September for South Carolina where they will join Mr. Hester and later move to Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Hard have gone to California where they will make their home.

Mrs. A. W. Davis and daughter, the Misses Ruby, Jean and Ruth Davis are visiting in Macon, Ga.

When the right one comes along...

You wonder why you wasted time on the others!

This been-waiting-all-my-life feeling has hit millions of smokers, men and women both... when they broke open their first Chesterfield package and caught its more pleasing aroma... when they lighted their first Chesterfield and knew, that minute, that it was milder—not sharp or biting.

Here were the cigarettes that satisfy! Satisfy—that's the word that "fits."

The Giants made a clean sweep of their five game series with the Braves as they stepped out and won a double bill yesterday. Reibold was the victim of the first game which ended 9 to 2 in favor of the Giants.

Believe it or not, the last place Reds whipped the Cubs in one day! Johnson at the plate on their last day, hitting seven hits in the first game which the Reds won, 7 to 4.

In the American League, the Senators made it two straight from the Athletics when General Alvin Crawford held them to six hits to win 5 to 2.

Babe Ruth's 28th homer of the year aided the Yanks in beating the Red Sox 7 to 6 in a hard fought game. The Yanks got 10 runs and Combs, while the Sox got eight hits, with Warfield, Welch and McManus leading the parade.

The Browns earned an even break in their double bill with the Tigers when Blasholder started off a sixth inning rally in the second game which almost spelled defeat for the Browns.

MCLUCAS FINDS TWO PROMISING BOYS IN OUTFIT

Odham And Vincent Seen As Among Most Outstanding Backs

By PETER SCHAAL. Although it is never his policy to indicate just what preferences through practice sessions preparatory to a football season, Coach Leonard McLucas, casting a quick glance among the 50 or more boys assembled at Municipal Park yesterday afternoon in the third week of the season, made them show promising efforts.

These two players are Skinner Vincent and H. H. Odham, the first a square shouldered, square jawed, squarely built machine, hard as nails, and possessing a pair of legs which, from the speed he has already shown in running about the field, indicate that he is to be the fastest man on the squad this year, as well as one of the best.

The second of the two is a tall, lanky, cotton-topped boy with a smile which betrays a stern, purposeful, and energetic nature which an observer can see behind his mask of youthful exuberance.

As Coach McLucas continued his survey of the material he has in hand, he appeared to be interested in the preliminary work of Hub Entminger, his best leading candidate for fullback honors; Dan Kanner, the ball center who declares that he will make local football fans forget there was ever such a person as Dan Hansell; the side of the Browns, who made out nine hits off Hognett, Goslin, Kross and Hatten-court did the heavy hitting for the Browns, in fact, they did all of it.

After the lowly White Sox had beat them 3 to 2 in the first game, the Indians got going and managed to earn a 4 to 1 tie in the second game, which was halted in the sixth on account of darkness. Both Faber and Harder gave up eight hits in the first game. Watwood and Tate did the big hitting for the Sox, but Sullivan's single, scoring Faber in the seventh, gave the Indians the tie score. It was his second hit of the day off Thomas, who gave up nine hits as compared to the seven up by Hudlin.

Paul Biggers, Jr. whose stocky build and powerful legs may find him serving as a first string player from the start; Willie Preston, that quiet and modest midget who never gave an inch of ground at his corner last season; Pete Higgins, the tiny guard and tackle, who might be shifted to center this year; and Lyles, Hester, Kinlaw, and Conner, four at his "W" backfield candidates.

A CHALLENGE

"Inasmuch as the Seminole try Cleaners Diamond ball team have the second half, and as most of their players leave within the next two weeks for college, the Chase team, winners of the first half hereby challenge the Cleaners to a three-game series to set the record for the best in the state."

Girls Diamond Ball Team Will Play Boys

The girls diamond ball team will play the junior boys team tonight on the lake shore front. The boys have one of the best teams of their size in this section of the state, and it will take extraordinary playing on the part of the girls to defeat them. On the other hand it is believed that Sanford has the greatest girls team in the state and will give the boys a battle for supremacy. Anyway you look at it, it will be a good game and worth anyone's time to attend.
