HAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 10.—(INS)—Race tracks were another blow when M. Carson, Miami attorney, was granted a petition for an alternative writ of mandamus returnable Jan. 25 against S. F. Atkinson and W. Freedland as judges of the seventh judicial circuit by the Supreme Court today.

The petition asks that the two judges be removed from office and that the injunction against the race tracks be dissolved.

Carson, who is appearing as attorney, citizen and his own lawyer, is asking a superseas to an injunction granted Mr. Carson by the lower court.

The lower court returned the writ of mandamus to the operators of the Pompano race track from conducting a certificate selling, describing to be betting on the races.

The court Saturday set aside the writ of mandamus, and the case was set for trial on the 25th.

Chief Justice, who presided at the trial, denied all motions filed and to hear the case on the merits, and to decide whether superseas should be granted.

The court Saturday orally argued the case on the merits.

The court heard the case on the merits this afternoon, and the case was set for trial on the 25th.

Public Is Invited To See Printer Machine

A cordial invitation to the public to visit The Herald office to see the electrical printer-machine in operation was extended today. The machine, installed last week and beginning operation this morning, is a part of the service of the International News Service, which has installed a leased wire in The Herald office, applying this newspaper daily with eight hours of the latest news from the state, nation and abroad.

HERE'S HOW I. N. S. SENDS NEWS TO SANFORD HERALD

Detailed Story Of How Mysterious Printer-Machines Are Operated By A Master Sender, Furnished Readers

The printer-machines, installed by the International News Service in The Herald office, began operation this morning with the formal inauguration of the daily eight-hour wire service.

A detailed description of how the machines are operated is given here for the interest of readers of this newspaper.

The fascination of printer telegraphy comes with a realization that the human hand has nothing to do with decoding and transcribing a typewritten sheet—accurate, punctuated, paragraphed and ready for the type-setting machines in a newspaper office.

Electrical Typewriters

An installation includes two machines; one for regular operation and the other for emergency purposes. They are electrically controlled typewriters operating from what is known as the "opening and closing wire by magnet."

In Morse telegraphy the operator uses dots and dashes in his alphabet code. Printer machines use only dots. The sending machines are identical with receiving machines except that they have, in addition, sending key-boards, with the keys in almost the same arrangement as on the typewriter.

PINCHOT WONT SAY VARE WAS 'DULY ELECTED'

Pennsylvania Governor Has Refused To Designate New Senator In Certificate Of Election To Upper House

"Appears To Have Been Chosen," Used Announcement Of Pinchot's Action Creates Considerable Stir In Washington

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—(INS)—Gifford Pinchot, who will retire from the governorship of Pennsylvania Jan. 18, took a final slap at his political enemy, William S. Vare, United States senator-elect today when he made public a letter to the president of the Senate in which he refused to certify that Vare had been "duly chosen by the qualified electors" of Pennsylvania.

The letter embodied a certificate, required by law, informing the Senate of Vare's election on Nov. 2, last. A copy of the certificate was sent to the senator-elect.

Governor Pinchot, in making the required certification, departed from the customary practice of governors of the commonwealth by eliminating the phrase "duly chosen by the qualified electors" and using the words "on the face of the returns" and "appears to have been chosen."

Not Duly Chosen, Says Pinchot

Pinchot and Senator George Wharton Pepper, incumbent, were defeated by the Philadelphia congressman for the Republican senatorial nomination in the state primary election last May. At the general election, Vare defeated William B. Wilson, the Democratic nominee, who has contested the election in the U. S. Senate.

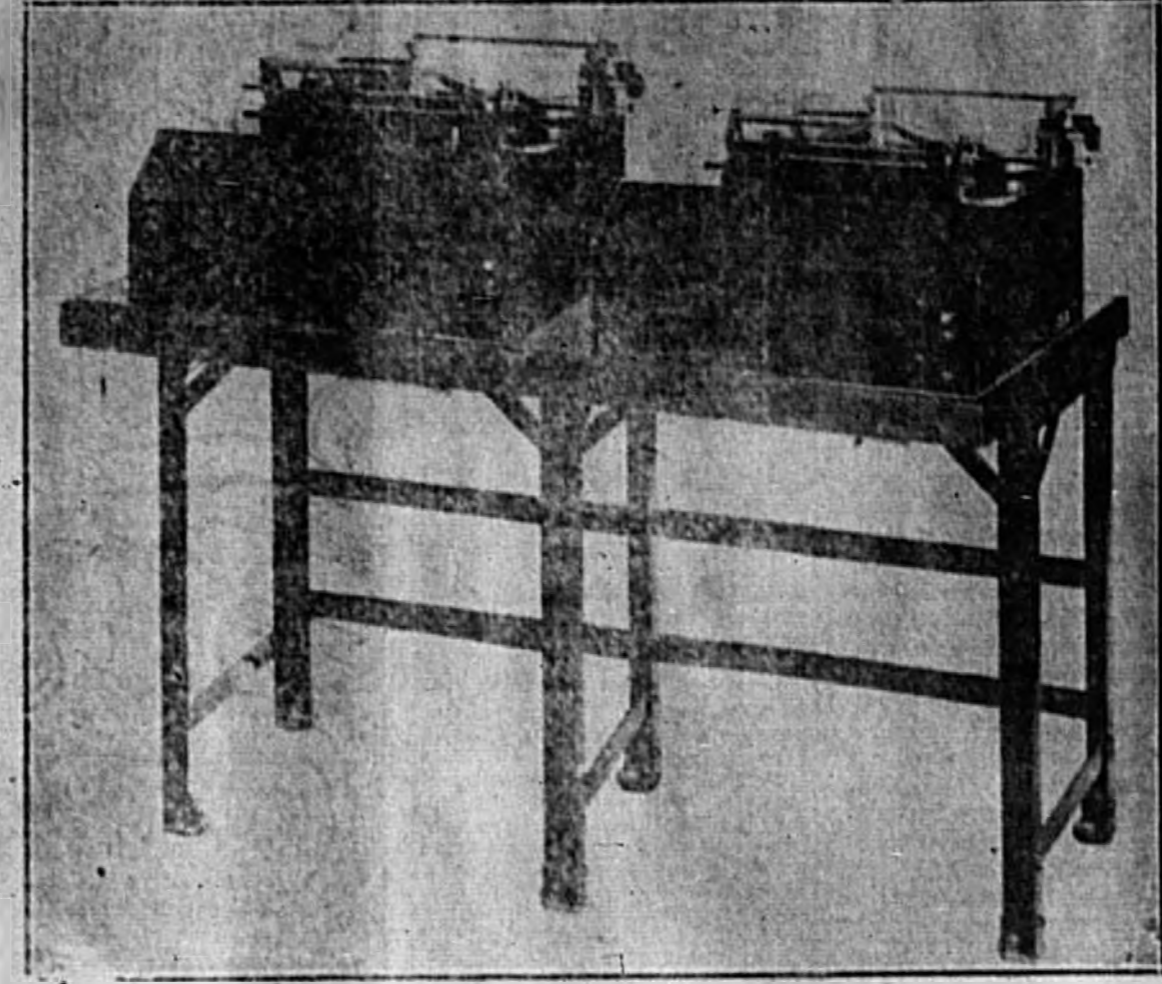

"I do not believe that Mr. Vare has been 'duly chosen,'" Pinchot wrote. "On the contrary, I am convinced, and have repeatedly declared, that his nomination was partly bought and partly stolen, and that frauds committed in his interest have tainted both the primary and the general election."

"Therefore, I have so worded the certificate required by law that I can sign it without distorting the truth."

Governor Pinchot's letter says in part: "This is to certify that on the face of the returns filed in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth of the election held on the second day of November, 1926, William S. Vare appears to have been chosen by the qualified electors of the state in the senate of the United States for the term of six years beginning on the fourth day of March, 1927."

The form of words customarily used for such certification by the governors of this commonwealth and the form recommended by the senate of the United States both certification that the candidate in question has been 'duly chosen by the qualified electors' of the commonwealth.

CIRCUIT COURT IS TO OPEN TUESDAY IN REGULAR TERM

Venue Of Thirty-Six Called This Morning; Grand Jury To Be Named At First Session Of Tribunal Tomorrow

Deputy sheriffs are today engaged in calling members of the jury for the opening of Circuit Court Tuesday morning. Thirty-six men have been summoned for duty as the first panel of the opening session but it is expected that at least 100 will have been called before the term is ended.

The grand jury is selected from among the first 75 at the opening of court tomorrow, the balance remaining for service as petit jurors, it is said.

How many indictments the grand jury will return is a matter of speculation this afternoon, authorities say, and the length of time the jury will require is also problematical. In the opinion of those following the court.

Judge Amos Lewis, of Marianna, is to be on the bench in place of Judge Wallace W. Wright, by order of Governor John Martin. Judge Lewis was disqualified on several of the most important cases at the coming session of Circuit Court in Marianna and for that reason the change for the term was made, according to authorities.

Four indictments charging murder are expected to be returned by the grand jurors. One or two of these may be changed to manslaughter, providing testimony before the jury does not justify a life.

Most prominent on the criminal docket will be the case of the state of Florida versus R. C. Pittman, confessed slayer of L. P. Hilton. This trial is expected to be rushed through without delay owing to the feelings of the citizens of the county. Serious trouble may result in case a continuance is sought and granted the defense, local authorities believe.

Twenty civil cases are to come up for disposal. Most of them are small suits of little consequence but several are of major interest, it is said.

The names of jurors drawn for Tuesday are as follows: F. W. Fortier, C. B. Bell, L. P. Hagan, J. D. Abraham, S. O. Chase, M. H. Hutton, S. H. Chalker, L. F. Chittenden, H. D. Roderberry, Edmund Moulton, A. J. Anlin, L. H. Goss, W. D. Richards, R. L. Robertson, Edward Higgins, George W. Huff, H. L. Powers, F. M. Foll, O. Lang, J. A. Hirtling, O. R. Brooks, E. I. Farnell, E. Carlett, W. C. DeCourcy, G. E. Parker, W. H. Hand, W. V. Dunn, J. D. Dossay, N. F. Lettice, R. H. South, G. M. Hall, H. A. Tate, S. F. Dettick, C. S. Lee, John G. Bender and George R. McCain.

Jack Frost To Visit Most Of Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 10.—(INS)—Most of Florida is going to get a slight whiff of Jack Frost's icy breath tonight and tomorrow, the government weather bureau here predicted today.

It's going to be colder generally all over the state with heavy frost and near freezing temperature in the northern section and a light to "heavy" frost in the mainland of the southern section, the official prognosticator stated.

However, he added consolingly, a bright sun will temper the chill breezes.

NICARAGUA WAR LAID TO MEXICO BY MR. COOLIDGE

President Defends Policies Of Administration In An Address Read Before Congress At Morning Session

By GEORGE B. HOLMES (International News Service Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Coolidge today assured the critics of his Mexican-Nicaraguan policy by sending to Congress a special message in which, after reviewing the events leading up to the dispatch of 15 American warships and 5,000 men to Caribbean waters, he virtually accused the Mexican government of fomenting the present Nicaraguan revolution.

"Consequently," his message concluded, "I have deemed it my duty to use the powers committed to me to insure the adequate protection of all American interests in Nicaragua, whether they be endangered by internal strike or by outside interference in the affairs of that republic."

Mr. Coolidge did not ask congress for any additional authority to meet the situation that has arisen below the Rio Grande. His message, in fact, asked for nothing more than a review of the situation existing there, the events leading up to it, and explained the administration's present policy.

Concerning Mexico's relation to the situation, the message said: "As a matter of fact, I have the most conclusive evidence that arms and munitions in large quantities have been on several occasions since August, 1926, shipped to the revolutionists in Nicaragua. These munitions have been fitted out in Mexican ports and some of the munitions bear evidence of having belonged to the Mexican government."

"It also appears that the ships were fitted out with the full knowledge of, and, in some cases, with the encouragement of Mexican officials, and were in operation, at least, commanded by a Mexican Naval reserve officer."

The Cecil Arden concert to be presented tonight at 8:15 o'clock at the Woman's Club, is expected to draw a capacity house, it was announced today by those who have the affair in charge. The advance sale of tickets had been unusually large, it is reported, and in order that Miss Arden's audience may be provided for comfortably, an extra number of seats have been secured to give the club house a seating capacity of several hundred.

The program that Miss Arden will render will be one of the best of its kind ever given before in Sanford, it is declared. The singer has grouped her selections in five parts and the program includes several of the numbers which have brought Miss Arden nationwide fame. The singer's (Continued on Page 4)

Four Under Arrest In Probe Of Blaze Claiming 76 Lives

HERRIN OFFICERS TRY TO IDENTIFY VICTIMS OF FEUD

Sheriff Uses Process Of Elimination In Trying To Establish Identity Of Four Killed In Roadhouse Blaze

MARION, Ill., Jan. 10.—(INS)—Through a process of elimination, Sheriff Owen Coleman and other Williamson county officers today attempted to establish the identity of the four latest victims of the southern Illinois gang war.

Four charred bodies were found yesterday in the ruins of Shady Rest, embattled camp and roadhouse of Charles Birger, gang leader, which was dynamited and burned late Saturday night. It was the latest chapter of a gang war that has taken 13 lives within less than five months.

Officers attributed the affair to the Shelton gang, whose leader, Carl, with his brothers, Earl and Howard, are facing trial on a mail robbery charge. Carl has been released on bonds, but the brothers are in jail at Bloomington and Peoria.

With Birger and Art Newman, one of his lieutenants, missing, it was known only that Connie Ritter, another lieutenant, was not in the roadhouse. He telephoned his mother at West Frankfort that he was safe. There was no known witnesses to the destruction of Shady Rest.

Farmers living in the surrounding countryside reported hearing the explosion and seeing the flames, but none of them investigated. Sheriff Coleman received first information from an automobile driver. The driver found the bodies when he went to the roadhouse with Carson George, Earl and daughter. The only clue to the possible identity of the gangsters who destroyed the camp was given by a filling station attendant at Crab Orchard in the direction of Shady Rest, who reported seeing two automobiles loaded with men drive that way and return an hour later at high speed.

Steve George, known as carthorse at the place, and his wife were believed to be two of the victims and the theory was substantiated by signs of a struggle in front of the roadhouse and marks showing that an object had been dragged toward it.

The bodies remained in the courthouse here while Coleman prepared his message of information for submission to a coroner's jury.

Frances Pearson Is Injured In Accident

Frances Pearson, young daughter of John P. Pearson, Holly Avenue and Pinchot, was badly scratched and bruised this morning when she was struck by an automobile driven by Charles Beck, according to a report made to the police department.

Miss Pearson is said to have been riding a bicycle enroute to school when the accident in which she was injured occurred, near Park Avenue on Highway Street. She was taken to the hospital where her injuries were dressed.

Mr. Beck called the police department and reported the accident but was not held.

Many Children Were Admitted Without Escorts, Is Claim Of Police Officers

Hospitals Filled With Shock Victims

Firemen Forced To Cut Way Through Walls Of Theater

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—(INS)—As grief-stricken parents claimed the bodies of their children today, a thorough investigation was in progress into the disastrous fire in the Laurier Palace Picture Theater which yesterday caused the loss of 76 lives, mostly those of children.

The proprietor of the theater, Ameeu Law, 31, and three employees of the theater were placed under arrest and detained on bail early today.

Police claim they have evidence that many of the children were admitted to the theater without escorts, as provided by law.

Bodies of the victims of the fire were taken chiefly from a stairway, barely thirty feet long, leading from the east end of the theater gallery to the street. There was no evidence that the children were trapped here in panic when with not a few feet of the street and safety.

Many Suffered From Shock

In the hospitals, many of them suffering from nervous shock, were nearly a hundred children who had been caught in the panic, which resulted in a suffocating stampede at the first cry of "fire."

Police in removing the bodies of the children from the narrow stairway exit, found the bodies completely jammed, with the agency of futile struggle written on children's faces. Firemen had to chop away sections of the stairway, in order to remove some of the bodies, so tightly were they wedged.

The tragedy took its toll entirely from those who sat in the gallery—the cheaper section of the house—those sitting in the pit filling out in good order when the alarm of the slight fire was given.

About 1000 were in the theater when the fire broke out. Ninety per cent of them were children under 14.

Fire Breaks Out at Matinee

The fire broke out during the matinee. The feature picture was "Sparrows," with Mary Pickford in the lead. A comedy entitled "Get 'Em Young," was on the screen when the flames started in the balcony about 60 feet from the projection booth. With the appearance of the first tongue of flame a cry of "fire" sounded through the building.

Ten minutes later the cries of the struggling, injured and dying children could be heard a full block from the theater. The exits were so blocked by those trying to escape, and by those being rescued, that the firemen were unable to gain entrance. Thick black smoke filled the building and quickly suffocated the little ones unable to escape.

Major Jiggs, Dog Mascot, Died Today By American Marines

Major Jiggs, dog mascot of the 1st Marine Division, died today of a heart attack while on duty in the Philippines.

The dog, who was named Jiggs, was a member of the 1st Marine Division and was known to the men of the division as "Major Jiggs."

upon something not even fit for a dog, much less a "mascot."

Four veterinarians and a nurse worked over Jiggs in a hospital here, but to no avail. He was to be taken today by airplane to the Quantico base, there to be accorded the highest honors ever known in the dog kingdom. Orders were out for the entire personnel, from commandant down, to stand at attention while the faithful 8-year-old mascot is lowered into his grave. Taps was to be sounded while a firing squad paid him the last honors of the military dead.

There are several relatives of Jiggs throughout the country, and the wariness probably will try to buy one of these to take his place. They also are talking of erecting a monument over his grave.

Jiggs was created a Sergeant by Brigadier General Hoadley Butler while he was in command at Quantico. He later was promoted to Sergeant Major by Secretary Denby. His service record is in hand quarters files here with the rest of the "Devil Dogs."

Sixty Youngsters Of Orphanage Are Guests Of Milane

Sixty youngsters from the Benson Springs Orphanage were the guests of the Milane Theater for the matinee performance of the Al G. Fields minstrels this afternoon.

The orphanage were brought to Sanford by members of the Sanford Shrine Club.

The minstrel company attracted hundreds of people to the downtown district this morning for the parade and the concert, which was staged at 12 o'clock through the business district.

It arrived early this morning over the Atlantic Coast Line in two private cars. Sixty-five men comprise the company, most of whom are members of the cast and of the band. Workmen were engaged throughout the morning in arranging the scenery for the stage effects.

The minstrels this year are better than at any time during the past three seasons, according to A. L. Marenette, manager of the Milane, who stated that he had interviewed a number who had seen the show in the north during the past few months.

"Al G. Fields' minstrels have never disappointed the public of Sanford and from the way the tickets for both the matinee and evening performances have been selling, the public appreciation is," Mr. Marenette said today.

Willie Hoppe Again Wears Crown After Losing It In 1924

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—The familiar figure of Willie Hoppe held forth as the top of the 182 ball line billiard world again today in the glory of a remarkable triumph.

Topped from the pinnacle two years ago by Jake Schaefer of Chicago, the 39-year-old veteran came back with a brilliant finish to pull the mantle from the shoulders of Eric Hagenlacher, defending final world champion, 1,990 to 1,387. The match ended early today after three nights' play.

For five hours the two players last night gave a masterful exhibition. It was not a battle for spectacular striking. But for sensational runs and high break averages, the match never had been equalled before. Hagenlacher fought to overcome the challenge of Hoppe's 100-point record break lead and Hoppe battled to hold on.

Only six innings were required by Hoppe to complete his triumph, but in those frames he crammed one of his greatest displays of tenacity and versatility in his 26 years as a star.

Twice Hagenlacher more than wiped out the advantage which Hoppe had piled up Thursday night with marathon spurts, and twice the veteran, refusing to be shaken off, went out again and won back his lead to close finally with a finishing cluster of 411 for the crown.

Harry Stutz Wins Weekly Gun Club's Shoot At The Oaks

MAITLAND, Jan. 8.—Harry Stutz of Winter Park won the gold medal for the individual high score at the weekly shoot of the Central Florida Gun Club at The Oaks.

With a stiff back wind throughout the afternoon, some exceptional trap shooting was displayed by the members of the club and their friends who turned out for the events.

Mr. Stutz finished the afternoon with a percentage of 85. Harry E. Johnson of Haines City was second with 81. Mr. Johnson was well on his way to 25 broken pigeons his last time up. He went 21 straight before a gust of wind foiled his chances. Joe Cook, state trap-shooting champion, finished third for the day with a percentage of 80.

J. H. Addison finished high man in the double shooting with 21 broken birds. The wind seemed to be unusually active in this event, causing the birds to take all sorts of freakish turns and twists.

Harry Stutz was elected president of the gun squad at the meeting for the election of officers. Harry E. Johnson was named first vice president and E. P. Pencher of Cocoa, second vice president. Other directors chosen were T. K. Appgar of Seabreeze and F. E. Guernsey of Orlando. Additional directors will be chosen from various cities later.

The date for the inter club shoot has been set for the first Thursday in February. At this time the squads will shoot for a silver loving cup. The city whose team scores the highest will gain possession of the cup. The winning team's members will then shoot for individual possession of the cup, according to the announcement.

BILLY EVANS Says

Much Abused Word "He's yellow."

That is a much-used expression in the world of sport. Never were three words more abused.

Being yellow is supposed to designate lack of courage, a tendency to quit in the pinches or mere failure to deliver, regardless of the reason.

Never was a word used more indiscriminately than the word "yellow" as applied to sport. I know a score of cases where it was tacked on some athlete and struck, despite the fact that said individual anything but deserved it.

The recent appointment of George Moriarty to manage Detroit and Donnie Bush to pilot Pittsburgh recalls a very interesting yarn that has the word "yellow" back of the story.

Coveleskie's Case

In the fall of 1908 there sprang into prominence a southpaw by the name of Harry Coveleskie. Fame came his way literally over night. In the short space of about a week he scored three victories over the New York Giants.

At the time the Giants were in a bitter struggle for the pennant, and the success of Coveleskie just about killed the chances of Moriarty's aggregation.

The Giants argued that Coveleskie was yellow, that he would quit in a tight race, that he couldn't stand the "riding" that is a part of baseball.

The fact that Coveleskie passed to the minors early the next spring made it seem as if the Giants had the right dope. A few years in the "minors" and he came back to the Cincinnati Reds for a second trial. He carried only a short time, but simply couldn't get the opposition out. That seemed to settle the question as to Coveleskie's courage.

Unique Suggestion

Some years later the Detroit club, in need of pitchers, decided to give Coveleskie his third chance to make good in the majors.

In the Detroit infield at the time were George Moriarty at third and Donnie Bush at short. These two players did all the "riding" for the Detroit club.

The pair always kept up an incessant chatter at the Tiger picnic, and often the comment was far from complimentary and decidedly caustic.

At one of the players' meetings, prior to the joining of the club by Coveleskie, his case was thoroughly discussed.

Moriarty held to the belief that Coveleskie was anything but yellow and could be made into a great pitcher if properly handled. He advanced the idea that a sensitive nature rather than a weak heart was the trouble.

The Detroit club agreed that Coveleskie could pitch and that the best way to get results from him was to constantly put him on the back. The task of making Coveleskie believe in himself was put up to Moriarty and Bush.

Theory Succeeded

I worked many ball games in which Coveleskie figured as the Tiger pitcher and never once during his connection with the club did I hear a single player make any adverse comment as to his ability.

I have, however, heard both Moriarty and Bush talk to themselves in a whisper expressing a contrary opinion to the words of praise they had just showered on the southpaw, but Coveleskie didn't get it.

Under such treatment Coveleskie thrived, became one of the best southpaws in the American League. No spot was too tough for him.

Any time the Tigers were hard pressed Coveleskie would invariably request Manager Jennings that he be permitted to pitch the game.

The word yellow was applied to Coveleskie was most undeserved, yet for years he worked under that handicap. Sport is filled with similar cases.

Four Youths Stage Holdup In Interest Of Science, Is Claim

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Holdup in the interest of science, should the police theory prove correct, are the latest thing in Philadelphia.

The action of four young men, wearing fur coats and traveling in an expensive motor car, in holding up two pedestrians yesterday and relieving one of them of his overcoat led the authorities to believe that the youths were college students seeking first-hand knowledge of the reactions of bandits and victims during a robbery, as an aid in their research work.

According to William Burns, two of the men stepped from their automobile, greeted him with a cheerful "Good morning" and demanded his overcoat while their two companions in the car, with fountain pens and notebooks, made notes. Burns at first hesitated, thinking the men were joking, but when one of them displayed a pistol, he quickly handed over the coat.

"Really, very sorry, old man, but don't worry, you'll get your coat back," the quartet shouted as they drove away. Burns was still without his coat today.

Assistant Secretary Of Agriculture Will Visit Florida Shortly

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—E. W. Hunsley, assistant United States secretary of agriculture, will visit Florida sometime in January, he has written H. H. Simmons, of Jacksonville, chairman of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board.

Mr. Hunsley, in his letter, expressed interest in the work the board is doing in the state, and stated that he was desirous of seeing those actively engaged in the work of tick eradication and promotion of a standard of better livestock.

Mr. Simmons has invited Mr. Hunsley to be present at a meeting of the board at Jacksonville, Jan. 6.

Tunney Has Hardest Opposition, Declares Trainer Of Sullivan

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Gene Tunney has more worthy opposition than any previous world heavyweight champion, says William Muldoon, 81-year-old boxing authority, who trained John L. Sullivan.

He opposed the opinion that Jack Sharkey, Jimmy Maloney, Jack Remond and several others probably could have beaten the old time champion under present ring conditions. Few of the titleholders in the early history of American pugilism had any worth-while opposition, he said.

"A present-day fight crowd wouldn't stand for the type of bouts that were the custom years ago," he continued. "They would fight around for five or six rounds without a blow being struck. The crowd today would insist on them being tossed out of the ring."

Hornsby Meets New Bosses In Gotham

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby, traded by the St. Louis world champions because he could not agree with the management on salary questions, is here to see if his new employer, the New York Giants, and he can reach a meeting of minds on the same subject.

The former manager of the Cardinals conferred last night with Manager John McGraw.

Hornsby's contract with St. Louis called for $30,000 annually, but it was predicted that the figure would be revised upward in New York. Hornsby plans to leave for St. Louis tonight.

Unusual Privilege Is Allowed Belgian Pug By Referee In London

LONDON, Jan. 8.—(AP)—There is some discussion in boxing circles over an unprecedented privilege which was granted the Belgian boxer, Van Maroey during a recent bout here.

In the second round of his fight with "Benny" Bird, the Belgian was captured for betting. Almost immediately afterward Bird did the same thing, putting Van Maroey out of action temporarily. Instead of disqualifying Bird, the referee allowed Van Maroey a five-minute respite in which to recover, a decision never before given in England and for which, experts say, no justification can be found in British boxing rules.

Bird was declared the winner in the sixth round, when Van Maroey was unable to continue.

McGraw Wins From Morgan Last Night

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion boxer, was convinced today that he could not give Phil McGraw, aggressive Detroit battler, those pounds advantage in weight and score a victory.

A judge and referee agreed that McGraw won from the Seattle titleholder at Madison Square Garden last night while the other ship was involved as the bout was at catch weights and both contestants were over the limit, McGraw at 134 1/2 and Morgan 131 1/2.

Harvard Gets Dunne As Head Line Coach

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Harvard again has turned to the Midwest for gridiron staff material and the Crimson line of 1927 will have the coaching that last fall gave Northwestern a forward wall of Big Ten championship caliber.

Arnold Horween, himself a Chicagoan but a graduate of Harvard football, who last year became head coach at Cambridge, announced last night the signing of E. G. "Duke" Dunne to leave Northwestern and become head line coach for the Crimson.

Harween said that Dunne, who has coached at Northwestern, had helped produce the eleven that led Michigan for the Western conference title. His resignation immediately following that of Head Coach Thistlethwaite

FLORIDA SINGERS LAKELAND TO BE WILL BEGIN TOUR SCENE OF SCHOOL ON NEXT TUESDAY LINKS TOURNEY

Organization of forty well-trained voices has planned extensive itinerary which includes entire Southeast.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, Jan. 8.—(Special)—Under the guidance of Director John W. DeGray, the University of Florida Glee Club is rapidly coming into top form and will be ready for the official opening of what is expected to be its most successful season in Jacksonville on Jan. 18.

An organization of 30 well-trained voices, headed by J. J. McManis, Jacksonville, will carry Florida songs and the classical compositions throughout Florida and the Southern states if the plans of the club president, Robert H. Ferguson, materialize.

Should the "Glee" songsters meet with the kind of a reception they are looking for in their state engagements, it is expected that a larger tour up the Atlantic seaboard as far north as Boston and including the cities of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York City. Negotiations are already well under way for this trip, the looking agents only waiting for the assurance that the Florida club is a first-class organization before they sign the final papers.

The schedule at present is as follows: Jacksonville, Jan. 18; Ocala, date undecided; St. Augustine, Feb. 1; Daytona Beach, Feb. 5; Lakeland, March 4; Orlando, March 5; Tallahassee, May 5; Dothan, Ala., May 6; Montgomery, May 7.

A week-end trip including Valdosta, Macon and Atlanta has been arranged for March, and also a trip to Miami. The proposed northern tour would be in May.

The programs of the Florida Glee Club are arranged so that there will be some parts of it enjoyed by all; the first half being made up of sacred and classical numbers and the second part being devoted to popular and collection songs and will feature the orchestra.

High School Stars Compete In Two-Day Meeting, January 14-15; Many Entrants Have Announced Thus Far

LAKELAND, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Southern College again will host to a Florida interscholastic event, with the maturing of plans now under way for entertainment of the Florida amateur high school golf tournament, which will be played off on the Cleveland Heights course January 14 and 15. Coach Alderman of Cleveland Heights is completing final arrangements for the tournament.

This will be the first competition of the kind ever to be held in the state.

Fort Lauderdale, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Winter Haven, Jacksonville, Bradenton, Sarasota, Clearwater, and several other schools have signified their intention of sending representatives from their student bodies. A field of at least 50 golfers is expected to be on hand when the pairings are made for the first flight on January 14.

Out of town contestants will be housed and fed by Southern College.

Lakeland's chamber of commerce will furnish the prize for the event. The championship ten cup will be awarded permanently to the school which wins it three times.

The names of the winners each year will be engraved on the trophy, along with the time, place and other interesting data. Members of the winning team and runnerup will be awarded individual loving cups. Low medalist for the tourney will be presented with a gold golf ball for his watch charm.

The tournament will get away at 1:30 Friday afternoon, January 14, with qualifying rounds. U. S. G. A. rules will apply, except for the practice clause.

Here's How To Spell Name Of Mrs. Ross

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Gov. John W. Martin would like to see the name of Gov. Nellie Ross, of Wyoming, spelled correctly during her visit to Florida next month.

The middle name of Gov. Ross has invariably been printed as "Taylor" instead of "Taylor."

The full name of the outgoing governor of Wyoming, Gov. Martin recalled, is "Nellie TAYLOR Ross, instead of Nellie Taylor Ross."

"There is only the matter of a small 'e' involved. The Florida governor said, 'but many people feel badly if there is the slightest deviation in spelling their names.'

GERBERT-KANNER NUPTIALS TO BE SOLEMNIZED IN JACKSONVILLE

The following account from the Jacksonville Times-Union will be of much interest to the many friends of Israel Herman Kanner of this city:

The marriage of Miss Pauline Lea Gerbert to Mr. Israel Herman Kanner of Sanford will be an interesting event of January 18, at 8:30 o'clock in the parlor of the Windsor hotel.

Rabbi Israel L. Kaplan will perform the nuptial ceremony, which will be witnessed by relatives and a large number of friends of the couple.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. Harry Gerbert and will be attended by Miss Gertrude Grunthal, maid of honor, Mrs. Isadore Macey of Camilla, Ga., matron of honor, and Miss Laurine Goffin, Miss Anne Kanner of Sanford, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Pearl Levinson of Atlanta and Miss Rosa Finkelstein of Asheville, N. C., bridesmaids.

Mr. Kanner will have as his best man his brother, Mr. A. O. Kanner, of Stuart, the groomsmen to be Mr. Joseph E. Berman of Atlanta, Mr. Morris Solomon of Orlando, Mr. Aaron Kanner of Orlando and Mr. Elkin Gerbert of this city, brother of the bride.

Ushering will be Mr. Eugene Braash, Mr. Herman Rosenblum, Mr. Adolph Weil and Mr. Maurice Rosenberg.

Little Miss Nathalie Weiner will be flower girl, while Master Morris Macey will act as ring bearer.

Following the ceremony a reception will be held and a buffet supper served in the Japanese room of the hotel.

Prior to her marriage Miss Gerbert is being much feted, numerous social affairs being given in her honor.

Local Church Plans Complete Program For Various Departments

The various organizations of the Congregational Church have planned a busy week, with the following affairs scheduled.

On Monday evening at 7:15 o'clock the choir will meet with the director, Martin Stinecpher, at the church, for special practice for music to be sung at the annual meeting of the church.

Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock the Girls' Athletic Club will meet at the parish house under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Bolly.

The annual supper will be given Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the parish house. There will be no charge, and the church has asked the choir and members of the cast of the recent pageant, "Adoration of Kings and Shepherds," to be its special guests that evening.

The supper committee is composed of Mrs. Henry Dickinson, chairman; Mrs. Harold Jones, Mrs. William Jachman, Mrs. Edwin Randall, Mrs. Henry Nickle, Miss Nelda Van Ness, Mrs. Sheridan Jewett and Mrs. Jennie Munson.

After the supper a program will be given in the church auditorium. There will be singing, a short business meeting, election of officers, and appointment of committees.

There will be a report from each society and club. After the business meeting there will be an anthem by the choir, special solo numbers by Mrs. Julius Takach and Mr. Stinecpher, as well as a short lecture by Dr. Charles Pursey of Orange City.

The Men's Club will hold its regular meeting Thursday at 7:45 o'clock at the parish house.

On Friday afternoon the Juniors will meet with Mrs. Root at the parsonage.

The Pioneers will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Henry Shoemaker and Edward Bender at their rooms in the parish house.

Mrs. Claire Everette is expected to return home Monday afternoon from Long Island, where she was called by the death of her mother, Mrs. Edward Pettibonnet.

Mrs. George Rice Is Hostess At Bridge In Honor Of Mrs. Rucker

Unusually enjoyable was the lovely bridge party given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. George Rice at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Key, the affair being in honor of Mrs. H. W. Rucker, a recent bride.

Pink and white sweet peas, baby breath and roses combined with feathery sprays of asparagus ferns were used in decorating the rooms where the card tables were placed.

The unique tallies were little bags of sweet lavender tied with pastel-tinted maline, and after several interesting games, scores were counted and the prize for high score, a set of dainty guest room powder puffs, was won by Mrs. Fred Daiger.

For holding second high score, Mrs. John W. Sneed received a fan-shaped vase filled with sweet peas. Low score prize, a bouquet of sweet peas, went to Miss Ollie Johnson. The guest of honor was presented a pink fan-shaped vase, filled with pink sweet peas.

At the conclusion of the game, refreshments of chicken salad, saltines, olives, coffee, mint ice cream and wafers were served by Mrs. Key assisted by Mrs. Daiger.

The players were Mrs. H. W. Rucker, Mrs. John W. Sneed, Miss Ollie Johnson, Miss Emma Owen, Mrs. A. C. Fort, Mrs. L. P. McCuller, Mrs. Fred Daiger and Mrs. Rice.

Dinner Party Given Saturday Evening For Mr. Mrs. M. B. Smith

A lovely social affair of the past week was that of Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Volie Williams entertained at dinner at their home on Magnolia Avenue, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bartow Smith, whose marriage was a recent event at Roanoke, Virginia.

The lovely home was attractively decorated with quantities of cut flowers and ferns. In the living rooms calendulas and ferns were used, while in the dining room the color scheme of pink and green was emphasized by exquisite pink radiance roses. The dining table was laid with a handsome linen cloth, and was centered by a large crystal bowl filled with pink roses and sprigs of asparagus ferns. Placed about this were crystal candlesticks holding lighted tapers. The places of the guests were designated by cards done in bridal design. At 7 o'clock a delicious six-course dinner was served.

During the dinner toasts were given by the guests, and after dinner they were entertained with monologue numbers by Robert E. Herndon.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. J. H. Colclough and Mrs. F. J. Colclough.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bartow Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fort, Mrs. L. P. McCuller, Mrs. Fred Daiger and Mrs. Rice.

Mrs. Ish Hall left Saturday for Valdosta, Ga., where she was called by the death of her sister.

Industrial Property Worth The Money

We have secured the exclusive sales contract on the industrial subdivision recently opened up by the American Fruit Growers—placing in our hands the sale of one of the very finest industrial properties ever offered in Sanford—

Rather a broad statement to make but we actually believe that seekers of industrial property will not, in a long time, find anything equal to it—no where will you find, or does there exist, property with the same distinctive advantages—

Here you have close in property, approached by two paved streets, one leading to south end of the city—a direct route to Paola, and North and West—to Lake Mary and Orlando—East to DeLand and Coast—every mile covered by a splendid paved road—

Lots are of unusual size—96x260—Atlantic Coast line Trackage at the rear of the property—lights—water—and special siding serving property.

The price is $25.00 per front foot—$2 400.00 per lot—one fourth cash and balance 1-2-3 years. On payment of one third cash Company will take subordinate lien, giving building lien right of way.

We want to show you this property—telephone 588—a conveyance and sales representative will be placed at your disposal.

Blackface Eddie Is One of Popular Men in Field Minstrels

To know Blackface Eddie Ross, the principal comedian of the Fortieth Edition of Al. G. Field Minstrels, in "whiteface" or off stage, is to know one of the real men of the theater. Thousands know him on stage, when he acquaints them with his family, his brother Skunkton, his sister Asthma, and his father, who wasn't "really drunk." His peculiarly droll voice and manner, his roving and expressive eyes, and his sweet-toned old-fashioned banjo from which he draws such appealing music, have won him a place in the hearts of his audiences, so much so that when they see him again, they want to hear exactly the same monologue with no changes.

But know Ross in private life is to know a serious minded, educated young man, with an appealing personality. His droll humor is a part of his personality and has won him legions of friends. He has the same smile off stage, although it is not surrounded by a face of burnt cork. He can talk about any subject you mention, and with real knowledge and interest. In fact he is a gentleman of the old South, who has donned the make-up of a blackface comedian and stepped onto the stage to make others laugh and smile.

Ross does not think, as many comedians that wit is necessarily humor. He believes that a laugh and a smile is the one thing in life worth while and that it isn't what you do, but how you do it. So that it will never matter how many Skunktons Eddie adds to his famous family, just so long as he puts his monologue over in the same droll, serious and yet laughable style, minstrel lovers will flock to hear him, for it is to Eddie Ross himself that they are paying the tribute.

Hagen Praises Golf Course of Sanford After Sunday Game

That the links of the Sanford Golf course are in better condition than those he has played over in Florida this winter was the statement made here Sunday by Walter Hagen, famous professional, who also said that the Sanford course was one of the sportiest in the state and in excellent condition.

Hagen and John Ganzel, president and general manager, respectively, of the Walter Golf Products, Inc., Longwood, were paired against Bob Harlow, Hagen's manager, and L. P. Voorhees, Sanford pro, in a special match which ended all even at the Sanford country club Sunday afternoon.

Voorhees and Harlow finished the first round of the 36 hole match two up on their opponents. The score was reversed in the afternoon round of 18 holes. Hagen turned in a card of 69 for the final round, one under par, which is considered an excellent score. In the ball, sweepstakes, Lloyd Boyle, with a gross of 91 and a net card of 70, captured first place. R. Melting, with a gross of 96 and a net of 76, was second to Boyle.

County C. of C. Tour To Move From This City On January 24

The motorcade, or "good will tour," of the County Chamber of Commerce, is to leave the courthouse in Sanford at 9:30 o'clock on the morning of Jan. 24, according to an announcement made today by J. C. Bebout, who stated that the officials of the chamber hope to have 100 cars in line.

Civic clubs and fraternal organizations in all sections of the county are expected to be represented in the motorcade. Automobile dealers and merchants are also expected to have entries in what is said to be one of the largest affairs of its kind ever held in the county. The route is to be as follows: From Sanford to Lake Monroe and then to Lake Mary; to Ocoosa, by way of the Geneva bridge and back to the town of Geneva, where a winter roast is to be held at the plant of the Geneva Packing Company; Geneva to Driedo, then to Chabot; Altamonte, by way of Matland, is next on the route. From Matland is next on the route. From Matland the line goes to Longwood by way of the San Lando Golf Club and then to Sanford. A banquet at the Hotel Forrest Lake is to wind up the day.

Speakers from every section of the county are to be on the program at the hotel.

Their escape before the panic began. It was on the two stairways leading from the balcony that most of the children were killed. The balcony itself, shaken by the hundreds of stampeding feet, finally collapsed, crushing to death many of those below.

Firemen Chop Through Walls
Firemen finally chopped holes through the brick walls, and entering, cut away the stairs so that at last they could untangle the struggling heap of humanity. The little victims were passed from hand to hand out to the street.

The buildings in the vicinity were converted into emergency hospitals and morgues where practically all the doctors and nurses of the city ministered to the injured. Priests stood by the exits and blessed the bodies as they were to be called at 10 o'clock this morning, but it was believed this would be adjourned to give the investigators time to examine the scene of the tragedy by daylight.

Ameen Lawand, owner of the theater, was arrested and held for questioning. Defective wiring was believed to have been the cause of the fire.

All through the night and early today parents trudged through the snowy streets from hospital to hospital, and from morgue to morgue, seeking news of missing children.

Many of the panic-stricken children died standing up, caught inextricably in the crush and suffocated by the press of bodies and the swirling, pungent smoke. One girl who died in the street after being carried out of the building had all her fingers crushed from her hands. A 7-year-old boy in the General Hospital had both ears torn from his head.

One of the ushers of the theater, W. Par, gave the following version of the tragedy after being carried from the smoke-filled balcony:

Shouted Warning to Audience
"I was on the ground floor when I saw smoke coming from the floor of the balcony, and I saw the ushers throwing water. I realized the fire was gaining headway and I shouted to the audience that there was a fire in the house and to walk out quietly."

"In a few moments everyone on the ground floor was going out through the four exits and I climbed to the balcony by the west side stairway. The people were coming down slowly because a stout woman was blocking the way. I gave her a push and told the people to walk down quietly."

"They obeyed, and in a short time I was able to run to the east side stairs and there I found a terrible scene."

"Dozens of children were apparently held up in an inextricable mass. I saw the window over the canopy and threw the children out as fast as I could. I got up to them out, but when they were all dead. Then the smoke got me and I just managed to crawl to the window and fall through it myself. Firemen came to me and carried me down to the street by a ladder. I was carried from the building, while police lines held back hundreds of frantic parents whose children were in the building."

The Greeks and Turks used the neck of the horse's chestnuts for curing glanders, and other ailments of horses; hence the name in police court.

Case Against Mrs. McPherson To Be Dropped By Keyes

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—(INS)—The entire Aimee Semple McPherson case was officially dropped by District Attorney Asa Keyes today.

Keyes appeared before Judge Albert Lee Stephens and dismissed the charges against Mrs. McPherson and her co-defendants.

At the same time he officially announced that he would not file any information against the other defendants in the case—Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, the evangelist's mother, and Mrs. Lorraine Laisman-Sellaf.

While Keyes did not dismiss the charges against Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Wiseman, his act in refraining to file information in the case means that the charges will die a natural death.

Police Chief Strikes Editor, Then Resigns

FORT MYERS, Fla., Jan. 10.—(INS)—An alleged controversy between Chief of Police Stroup and the Fort Myers Daily Palm Leaf, the city's newest newspaper, reached a climax today when Stroup struck at Captain Jack Delvalle, publisher of the newspaper, with a chain of police court and immediately after handed in his resignation to City Manager C. P. Stary, by observing the city temporarily without a police chief.

The police chief, who was Stroup with incompetency and unbecoming conduct, today's climax came while Delvalle was testifying in police court.

Earl Carroll Loses Appeal To Set Aside U. S. Prison Sentence

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, lost his appeal today from a sentence of a year and a day in Atlanta penitentiary for perjury committed in connection with grand jury investigation of a "bathtub party" in his theater. The United States Circuit court of appeals today affirmed both the verdict of guilty and the sentence imposed by the lower court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(INS)—"Isn't that too bad? I'm so sorry," said Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, when informed here today by International News Service that the New York court of appeals had upturned his contention in the famous "bathtub" case. Carroll said he was not prepared to say whether the case will be further appealed to the United States Supreme Court. This will be left to his legal representatives in New York, it was indicated.

Additional Society Members Literature Department Planning An Unusual Program

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club will hold a meeting of unusual interest next Wednesday which will include an all-day program. Beginning at 10 o'clock a sale of handicraft will be conducted by Mrs. Anne Mutell Lane, showing the handwork of the mountain folk of Georgia and North Carolina. This has been brought here by Mrs. W. M. Scott, who will be assisted by Mrs. Mrs. Anne Van Ness Brown, department chairman, and other members of the Department.

The afternoon meeting will begin at 2 o'clock this week instead of 3:30 o'clock. After the transaction of important business, a delightful literary program will be given with Mrs. E. D. Brownlee, as chairman, assisted by Mrs. K. S. Dutton.

The topics discussed will feature Japanese characteristics and family life and modern impressions of their principal cities. Mrs. Lane will also give a brief talk on the articles displayed after which tea will be served by Mrs. Brownlee and her committee.

It is hoped there will be a large attendance of club members from all departments.
