FAR WEST HIT BY SNOWS AND HEAVY DELUGE

Heaviest Rainfall Is Recorded In Southern California In Citrus Fruit Region

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—With further rains and snows forecast for today California literally "dug out" so far as roads and railway lines were concerned from the havoc caused by storms of the past few days. Four deaths, three in traffic, were attributed to the storms. Some highways were closed by landslides as a result of the week-end heavy downpours. Southern Pacific train movements over the Sierra Nevada were hampered by snowfalls at two different places. One of the dogs was Gordon Hale, a noted New York painter, killed when his car plunged from a mountain road.

GRAFT CHARGES LODGED AGAINST VOLUSIA OFFICIAL

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—Governor Carlton today had under consideration charges that Dr. Davis J. Forster, of New Smyrna, member of the Volusia county commission, had accepted graft and used county employees to elect a municipal election. The charges were made and detailed at a public hearing on county proceedings against the commissionees held yesterday. Many Volusia county residents attended the hearing. The county official is charged with accepting $300.00 to allow the completion of a construction job in his district, with collecting $10.00 on two occasions from county bridge takers working under him, with paying a deputy clerk with county funds for stockpiling at polls during the New Smyrna city election, and with other irregularities in employment of county workers and expenditures of county money.

He enumerated some of his consolidation plans such as grouping under one head the government's educational activities, the transfer of the shipping board to the Department of Commerce, and combining public health efforts.

Evidence Is Presented To Carlton At Ouster Proceedings

The charges were made and detailed at a public hearing on county proceedings against the commissionees held yesterday. Many Volusia county residents attended the hearing. SCHEMLING WILL DEFEND HIS TITLE AGAINST WALKER

Fifteen-Round Battle Will Be Staged In Miami In February

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—(A.P.)—Max Schmeling will defend his heavyweight championship against Mickey Walker, the large Russian, in a 15 round bout at Miami, Fla., late in February.

Joe Jacobs, the German titleholder's manager, announced last night that articles for the bout would be signed on Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, with Madison Square Garden as the promoter.

While no exact date for the match has been fixed, Jacobs said it would be held the last week in February. At the same time he revealed he had sent a check for $500 to Gen. John V. Clinin, president of the National Boxing Ass'n., as guarantee that Schmeling would be signed for a title defense before Jan. 3. The N. B. A. through Gen. Clinin, threatened yesterday to vacate the title unless the German was signed by that date.

The Walker match will be the first of two title defenses by Schmeling this year if present plans materialize, Jacobs said. The second, in June or September, will be fought against either Jack Dempsey or Jack Sharkey, probably in one of New York's ball parks.

Jacobs said he was prepared to fight for this second match with the Garden provided the New York American's milk fund was a part of the contract.

"I want to fight twice this year," Jacobs said on Schmeling's behalf, "and if the Garden will agree to having the milk fund sponsor the second show we will sign for that too. I believe the Garden will not hesitate."

Looking past the Walker match which he evidently believes Schmeling will win without trouble, Jacobs said he wanted particularly to have the champion meet Dempsey in June or September. "Dempsey is the key figure in our plans for the second match," he said. "We would rather fight him than Sharkey because, frankly, we think he would draw more."

MIAMI, Dec. 21.—(A.P.)—Announcement that the Max Schmeling-Mickey Walker 15 round championship fight will be staged here under the auspices of Madison Square Garden was received with acclaim last night by local fight enthusiasts and business men.

Members of the Miami city commission and of the Miami Boxing commission, as well as prominent sportsmen who live in the Miami area during the winter time, have been angling for a Schmeling-Walker fight for some time as a climax to one of the greatest winter seasons of sport ever scheduled here.

Articles are signed for the bout this week, as announced by Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager, the affair will be the most important battle staged here since Tex Rickard laid the ground work for the first "Battle of the Palms" at Miami Beach in 1929 between Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling.

The next year, the Garden under direction of Frank J. Bruen, promoted the Sharkey-Phil Scott bout, but after reported losses of money on that fight Garden officials did not enter the Miami area with a battle in 1931.

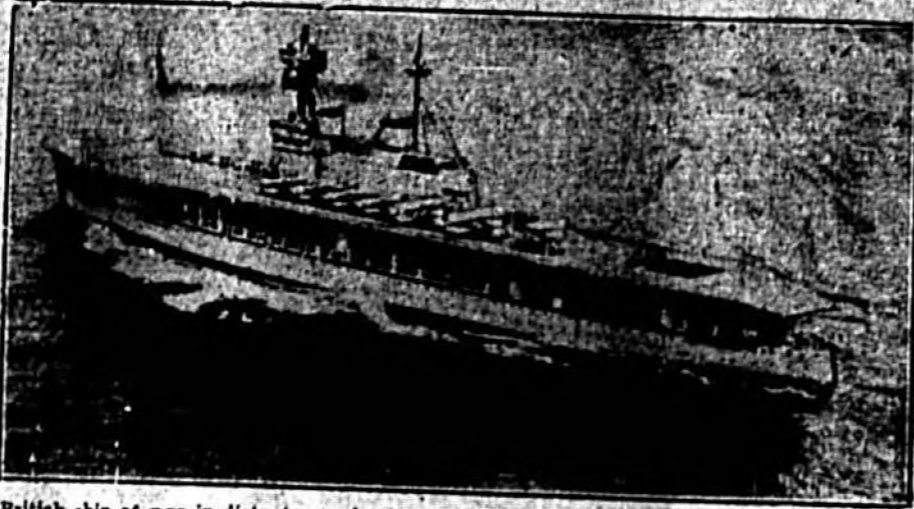

While Florida law prohibits a championship fight members of Miami boxing commission have assigned Madison Square Garden officials and managers of the two fighters that the commission would have no word in enforcing such a ruling inasmuch as the commission is a municipal body and not one of state origin.

GREAT OFFENSIVE SCRAP PREDICTED FOR ROSE BOWL

Tulane And Trojans Both Have Teams Of Attacking Strength

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 21.—(A.P.)—When the Green Wave of Tulane rushes in against the rugged walls of Troy here New Year's Day in the climactic contest of the intercollegiate football season, a great offensive battle is almost sure to result.

The University of Southern California, in winning the Pacific coast conference championship and otherwise defending its grid laurels, ran up a total of 3,996 yards and 332 points in 10 games. The Southern conference champions from New Orleans gathered in 338 points and 3,473 yards in 11 games.

With the Trojans it has been more a matter of power in running plays than any one other phase of gridiron warfare is concerned. Individual brilliance appears to be evenly distributed.

Of Southern California's more than two miles of pigskin packing since Sept. 25 only 578 yards were the result of aerial thrusts. This was due largely to the fact that the men of Troy did not need to resort to that element of chance which runs with passes. Coach Howard Jones has shown a preference to a cautious type of game.

Tulane, with three good passers, at least one of whom is brilliant, accounted for 823 of its yards via forward slips. Leon Zimmerman, Glover and Nellie Felts did most of the tossing.

Gains Shaver in Troy's triple threat. He punts and passes almost as well as he runs, which is something, for his total yardage for 10 games amounts to 831, an average of 83.1 yards at every start. Zimmerman's record for the invaders is not one bit less impressive.

The Flying Dutchman of the Green Wave carried the ball 166 times for 964 yards, which amounts to a 5.8 a try. Like Shaver, passing is only one third of his offensive getufes, for he punts as well as he runs and throws.

Both are well fortified with assistants. Next to Zimmerman comes Francis Payne, a fullback, who has contributed to the Tulane travels by 549 yards, a 4.9 average. Orville Mohler of the Trojans stepped off 787 yards for Troy, with an impressive average of 5.9 yards at every thrust.

An interesting fact concerning the two teams is that while Southern California has rolled up the greatest yardage Tulane holds the edge in first downs. The Greenies collected 204 in their 11 games whereas S. C. amassed 177.

This was a day of rest for both squads, but today toil will be renewed with the Rose tournament only four days removed.

Angered Elephant Goes On Rampage Wrecking Building

PORTLAND, Oregon, Dec. 21.—(A.P.)—Tusko, Portland's mad elephant, went on a rampage yesterday, wrecked the building which has been his winter quarters and all but escaped before several score workmen and handlers fettered him with steel-cable and chain.

Dozens of police kept rifles trained upon him to shoot had he escaped.

The 6-ton beast wrenched his front feet loose from the heavy steel chain which bound him and hurled his bulk against a wall of the building, sending timbers flying and smashing the wall. He then proceeded with thoroughness to demolish that side of the structure and pushed through to the out-of-doors.

Trickery was employed in recapturing the animal while thousands of persons looked on. Steel cables were fashioned into nooses, one end attached to heavy trucks. Hay was spread over the nooses, and Tusko was persuaded to step into them. The trucks were started and the animal found himself fettered once more.

SCREEN STARS OF YESTERDAY LEAD DIFFERENT ROLES

Many Brilliant Names Have Sunken Into Paths Of Obscurity

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 21.—(A.P.) They were the screen stars of yesterday, flaming brilliantly for a time, then fading beyond the horizon of popularity.

Margaret Clark, the dainty heroine who was romance itself; Ruth Roland, queen of the thrilling serials; Theda Bara, the vampire; Francis X. Bushman, and J. Warren Kerrigan, handsome but two-faced heroes. They were names spelled brightly in electric lights around the world. But where are these stars today?

Many of them who have retired are living in Hollywood, not far from studios which brought them fame. Others have gone into business, turned to vaudeville, to roles on the legitimate stage, or are content to get occasional small parts in films.

Ruth Roland is dealing in Los Angeles real estate and has made a fortune at it. Marguerite Clark is happily married and living on a plantation in the South.

These Bara lives in Hollywood with her director husband, Charles Brabin. J. Warren Kerrigan, who made a brief return to the screen a few years ago in "The Covered Wagon," also is living in Hollywood, having retired. Francis X. Bushman is with a stock company in Chicago.

King Baggot, former star and director, plays occasional small parts in the films. Crane Wilbur has become a successful actor and playwright in the East.

Elsie Hammerstein, Ruth Stonehouse, Mae McAvoy and Florence Vidor are among those who have become "domesticated" and are living in or near Hollywood. Rosemary Theby is the wife of Harry Myers, film comic, and lives here, as does Catherine MacDonald, "the American beauty." Mae Marsh has made a comeback in the talkie version of "Over

ENCYCLICAL OF POPE TAKES UP VARIOUS TOPICS

Unification Of Protestant And Catholic Churches Urged

ROME, Dec. 21.—(A.P.)—Unification of the Protestant and eastern Catholic churches with the Roman Catholic Church under the authority of the papacy was urged by Pope Pius XI in a 7600-word encyclical issued yesterday. The pope called for unity in all christendom that present-day immortality and unbelief might be combated.

The encyclical, published in Latin and Italian, and broadcast in Latin from the Vatican city radio station, reasserted papal supremacy and infallibility, exalted the virgin Mary, and reaffirmed the doctrine of man and God in the one divine nature of Jesus Christ.

Exalting Mary, the pope condemned and appealed to modern mothers who violate the duties imposed by children and by the bonds of matrimony.

"It is necessary," the encyclical said, "that all good men unite in Jesus Christ and in his mystical spouse, the church, with a single uniform and sincere profession of faith because everywhere so many men try to shake off the light yoke of Christ, reject the light of his doctrine, stamp on the sources of grace, and finally repudiate the divine authority of Him who has become, according to the gospel, 'the sign of contradiction' on earth."

The encyclical, entitled "lux veritatis" (the light of truth) commemorated the 1500th anniversary of the council of Ephesus, which condemned the Heretic Nestorians, patriarch of Constantinople, who denied that Mary was the mother of God.

Addressing himself to Protestants and eastern Catholics alike, the pontiff said:

"We are confident that they, becoming convinced by history, life's teacher, will be able to feel at least a longing for one fold under one shepherd and for a return to that true faith which is jealously conserved, ever secure, and inviolate in the Roman church."

"We recall to those who govern flocks separated from us that the fifth which their ancestors solemnly professed at the council of Ephesus, is conserved unchanged and is strenuously defended at present as in the past, by this supreme cathedral of truth."

The pope urges the veneration of Mary for everyone, especially mothers and most especially "those mothers of modern times, who, annoyed by children and the marriage bonds, have vilified and violated the duties which these impose."

Such mothers, he said, "will find it particularly useful to lift their eyes to Mary and seriously consider to what height of dignity she has elevated the very heavy task of mothers."

"Then," the pontiff continued, "one can hope that through the grace of the queen of heaven the may be induced to blush at the ignominy inflicted on the great sacrament of matrimony, and that they may be inspired to follow with all their strength her admirable virtues."

"Then if our desires are fulfilled, if domestic society—the principal foundation of all human life—the Ethel Clayton has a part in a recent production, "Hotel Continental." Grace Cunard, Clara Kimball Young, Florence Turner, Edna Bennett, Mae Marsh, Alice Lake, V. La Vah, Helen Gibson and Kathryn Williams still are seen occasionally in the films. Mae Bennett was seen as the mother in "Shipyard and Sooty."

She is Finch, who was featured in comedy roles with John Barrymore, returns here recently and announced she would attempt a comeback. Betty Blythe, famous for her "Queen of Sheba" characterization, made a picture in Europe and appears internationally in vaudeville. Jacqueline Logan plays in English films.

Alice Joyce who reprised in pictures a short time ago, recently has been in vaudeville with her former husband, Tom Mary. Blanche Sweet was in vaudeville not long ago.

Lillian and Dorothy Gray are seen frequently in Broadway shows. Allie Marguerite and Allen Gray, two former film stars, are now touring on Broadway in "Morning Becomes Evening" and "The Sign of the Cross." Edna Bennett appeared in the production "The Sign of the Cross" in New York. She is now in the show "The Sign of the Cross" in New York.

society—is brought back to such a very worthy standard of probability, undoubtedly we will be able to confront and finally to crush a defense against that frightful mass of evil which weighs us down."

Opportunities Now

We are in receipt of a valued communication which points out to us the wisdom of home buying on the present low market. Everyone in Sanford realizes that despite bond troubles, taxes, and hard times, good property in Sanford is slowly turning over...

It has reached the point already where with few exceptions, only the poorer class of homes remain for sale or rent, and unless we are mistaken in Sanford's future, the day is not far distant when the demand for better homes will so make itself felt that steady consistent building, not boom time construction, will be called upon to supply the actual needs of the community.

"When times are hard," says the Ladies' Home Journal, "the solemn advice is always to save and not go into debt. But money that is hoarded during hard times, when prices are low, will diminish in value, for when prices advance it will buy less."

So there are some advantages in a depression. To the man who is wise enough to take advantage of them, there are many opportunities open during hard times which are not available when property rules.

"Depression has its tragedies, but it is not all gloom. From many readers of the Journal are coming letters that tell of contentment newly found in adversity. My husband's salary was cut, and we thought that the end of the world had come."

"America has never been beaten. We are far from beaten today. The same courage that has always pulled us through other adversities will pull us through this one, in spite of the calamity howlers, the hand-wringers, and the timid souls with one-way pocketbooks."

Old Age Pensions

We are hearing many schemes advanced these days for the benefit of those who are unemployed or otherwise financially embarrassed. Many a candidate is swept into office on the promise of some new pension law for the poor.

"State aid to the needy aged in California," points out the Miami Herald, "is expected to total $3,500,000 for the present 1931-33 biennium, as compared to $2,318,000 for the previous two fiscal years."

"That, it would seem, is a modest estimate, if the population of the commonwealth continues to grow, the number requiring help will unquestionably increase still more rapidly."

"The existence of an old age pension law will also tend to boost the number needing aid. Thrifty people save for the proverbial rainy day, and that day is foreseen in age. They buy endowment life insurance, they put money in savings banks and in other investments, with the idea of using that money when they can no longer work."

"If that state stands pledged to provide regular pensions to the aged needy, the incentive of necessity will be removed. Many a person will reason that it is better to spend now, to enjoy today what they earn rather than put it off for the tomorrow that may never come."

CONVERTS TO CITRUS JUICE

Orange and grapefruit juice at five cents a glass is becoming common in Miami this year. As never before and those thousands of residents and visitors who stroll about the streets will do well to take advantage of the offering. Fresh citrus juice as well as the canned juices which have been brought near perfection in the last two years form the most delightful of beverages but people generally are slow to utilize them as they might. Most of us associate grapefruit with breakfast and a modicum of orange juice in a dining glass with the same occasion, but we need education in the delights of taking a deep drink of grapefruit juice, slightly sour, in the middle of a hot day, or sitting down with a tall glass of iced orange juice and a bit of reading matter, or stopping to refresh ourselves with one or the other through a busy working day.

THIRD EXTRA SESSION

There is a possibility that another—the third if it is called—extra session of the 1931 legislature, may be necessary if tax revenue measures passed at the spring sessions of the solons fail to their purpose—to put sufficient money into the general fund of the state to pay operating expenses.

Another session of the 1931 legislature on the eve of the 1932 primary election campaign would result in little good for the state. The political complex would be so thick around the capitol that you could cut it with a knife; the hickocking and antagonisms that flared up during the regular and two extra sessions in the spring of 1931 wouldn't be a circumstance to what would take place in Tallahassee next year with the campaign only a few weeks off.

It has been known for some time that tax measures passed to take the place of the ad valorem levy going into the general fund would fall short of expectations, just how far short Governor Carlton has made known in his statement. With the chain store tax law in litigation, the corporation tax law held unconstitutional in circuit court and the documentary stamp tax falling short of expectations, the general fund, set at $4,500,000, all of which was to be raised by new tax measures, is showing a deficit of more than $1,000,000, according to the governor.

RELIEF NEEDS ARE PICTURED TO SENATORS

Costigan, who is a member of the subcommittee, opened the hearing with a statement that "distress will have exacted an incalculable toll unless emergency relief on national lines is promptly enacted by Congress."

Answering objections that his bill proposed a "dole," Costigan said "Americans must not starve while we quibble over words." Goldsmith said there are 1,100,000 unemployed in Illinois, and 97,000 families are being aided by charity in Chicago. He estimated the number of families would reach 150,000 by March.

Goldsmith estimated that Chicago would need $25,000,000 in 1932 whereas it has only $5,000,000 available and a possible $10,000,000 additional from the State legislature. In contrast with his estimate of a relief need from $60,000,000 to $700,000,000, Goldsmith said all community chests combined had raised only $75,000,000.

"You can see the terrific difference and the little part charity will play in this situation," he said. Hodson estimated 200,000 families or unattached persons in New York were in need, of whom only 100,000 were getting help. The $45,000,000 available for relief is inadequate, he said, though no one will starve to death.

Murphy said a federal appropriation of from $125,000,000 to $200,000,000 would do much to encourage raising funds which would not otherwise be forthcoming. Clarence E. Pickett, secretary of the American Friends service committee of Philadelphia, testified funds with which it is feeding undernourished children in which was afforded a view of the gardens and the Halifax River. Children had one end of the long porch for their tables and refreshments. With the opening of the store Christmas rush as the youngsters shouted delight at their gifts and tossed the wrapping paper about.

IT'S NO JOB FOR AMATEURS

Lubricating an automobile—and doing it right—is no job for amateurs. It takes trained, experienced men—men who "know their stuff." Just for example, half a dozen different kinds of grease are required for the average motor car. Because we make modern lubrication car specialty—because we have trained men and the latest equipment—we feel justified in taking you for your business. Especially since our prices are no higher.

The casements lent itself admirably to the semi-religious Christmas celebration. It was designed by a retired clergyman and his wife in ecclesiastical style. Wood work in abbey style and the clustered windows resembled the leaden ones of old world structures, with their tiny rectangular panes.

Steadying his aim on the arm of the man who was arbitrating their financial dispute, John Ragonetti, 45, yesterday shot and killed his business partner, George A. Colgan, Jr., 37, and then casually wounded himself. James G. Shaw, the arbitrator, tried vainly to brush away the revolver.

Be it said to the honor of the governor and members of the state board whose unpleasant duty it is to pare down the expense of state government that but for the strictness of the legislature, and the proficiency of that body as a whole in summing the capitol with their relatives and friends as attaches, there would not be such a lamentable deficit in the general fund to threaten the welfare of the state.

JOHN D. STAGES HIS ANNUAL PARTY AT HOME

(Continued from Page 1) all receive some toy or trinket. Over the doorway hung a great, shining star, symbolic of that star which guided the Three Wise Men of the east to the manger where the Christ child lay, 2000 years ago.

Many of the guests came in formal attire, but there were many who wore their street clothes. Decorations in the quaint, old mansion carried out the spirit of Christmas. Long-stemmed poinsettias, holly wreaths and other holiday floral decorations were used.

The central room, domed with a stained glass skylight, a gift long ago of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was the center of the celebration. The inside of the dome was a masterpiece of the decorators' art. Workmen labored a week to prepare it, with its effect of looking into a starlit sky with twinkling Christmas lights peeping through.

From this dome, with its balcony, many of the musical numbers, particularly those of the quartet, were given. Chairs were set inside the dome room and along the sun porch to the west from bituminous coal areas would be exhausted by May 1.

He said, however, there was no reason why Illinois and Pennsylvania could not finance their own problems through their state governments.
