

School's proposed site deemed inappropriate

Lake Mary denies School Board's request to amend land use

LAKE MARY—Following proceedings that seemed more like a day in court rather than a commission meeting, members of the city's governing body Thursday decided an alternative school is not an appropriate tenant for Technology Park.

In front of a court reporter and several attorneys, City Commission unanimously voted to deny Seminole County School Board's request to amend the land use designation for property within the complex.

School officials want to relocate Excel Alternatives, a learning facility for expelled students, to the complex on Lake Emma Road — moving it from its current location in Sanford's Reflections shopping plaza on Lake Mary Boulevard.

Commission denied the request based on city staff's interpretation of its comprehensive plan, which states schools shall not be located in industrial sites. Staff also contends the school's proposed relocation is not consistent with the technology and industrial environment of Technology Park, which includes Cingular Wireless, Future Electronics and Wescoturf Supply Inc.

Although the city's comprehensive plan indicates schools are allowed in all zoning districts except conservation areas, the plan contains locational guidelines that should be considered when evaluating a location for a proposed public school, Lake Mary Community Development Director John Ormana said.

"It's important to note that the comp plan process serves as a vehicle to help address compatibility issues brought about in change of land use requests," Ormana said. "By definition, it is clear the proposed school is located within an industrial area. According to the comp plan, schools should

Woman leaves baby on doorstep

From Staff Reports

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department is investigating a case where a child was left on a doorstep early Thursday in the 3200 block of Howell Branch Road in Winter Park.

The residents of the home said shortly after 1 a.m. they heard someone "banging" on the front door. When they looked out the window they saw a dark-skinned female adult holding a baby seat with a baby in it. They said they had never seen the female before.

Once she left, they found the black female baby on the porch in a car seat along with a bag of the baby's belongings.

Officers said the baby appeared to be clean, wearing clean clothes and in good health. Child Protective Services took initial custody of the child.

After further investigation, authorities were able to identify the baby as 8-month-old Crystal Marie Alexander. The child's mother was also identified as AnnMarie Patricia Alexander.

During further questioning, the residents of the house, David Mitchell and Nichole Harrison, admitted that the woman had yelled "come take your baby" several times before leaving the baby at their residence and driving off.

Investigators opted not to charge the woman with child abandonment because it could not be proved the child was actually abandoned. She alleges she dropped off the child on the child's father's doorstep.

As of early Friday, authorities had not been able to talk with Mitchell beyond the initial report, to get a more detailed version from him. Authorities have no official verification that he may be the baby's father, other than what Alexander has said.

As investigators said Alexander was not truthful with investigators and first denied being the one who dropped the baby off. Given this, and given the extensive time exhausted in the investigation, Alexander has been arrested on a charge of making a false report, which is a misdemeanor.

The child has now been turned over to relatives.

Police nab drive-by shooting suspects

By Dan Ping

Police have arrested four men in connection with a double homicide that occurred last week outside Cowan Moughton Terrace apartments.

The Sanford Police Department, working in conjunction with the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, conducted a traffic stop Thursday night Interstate 4 that led to the arrest of three men. About four hours later, police made a fourth arrest on Lee Road in Orange County.

"We've had pretty much a 24-hour-day surveillance on all of the places we knew the frequenters," said Sanford Police spokesman Cleo Cohen. "A lot of these places were in the county, and we've worked closely with the sheriff's office to bring these guys in."

Police believe the suspects were staying with friends and family. In fact, the father of one of the suspects, Francis Troutman, 46, of Sanford, was stopped by police while driving his son and another suspect.

Cohen said Police stopped Troutman about 7:30 p.m. eastbound on I-4 just near State Road 46. In the car were Troutman's son, Albert Thompson III, 20, of Deltona, and Willie Fred Blake, 21, of Dunbar Street, Sanford. Both men are alleged to have participated in the Nov. 13 drive-by shooting that killed Kavi Williford, 17, and Cedric Williams, 22.

"We knew these guys (Thompson and Blake) had a fairly close relationship, but we didn't know if we would find them together," Cohen said.

Early Friday morning, police arrested Deangelo Jwan Williams, 16, of McKay Street. Williams was spotted near the Checkers on Lee Road in Orange County prior to his arrest.

Blake and Thompson were charged with homicide, shooting into an occupied vehicle and fleeing/attempting to elude law enforcement officers. The juvenile Williams was charged with first degree premeditated murder and shooting into an occupied vehicle.

Police don't think Troutman was involved with the actual shooting, but he is charged with

School Board modifies Seminole High School Gospel Choir rules

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — Seminole High School Principal Karen Coleman and Choir Director Bob Maquire have announced that the Seminole County School Board has issued new guidelines which will allow the Seminole High School Gospel Choir to sing at religious events.

The announcement followed a decision by Superintendent Paul Hagerty to bar the Gospel Choir from singing at a Sept. 11 memorial service conducted at Central Baptist Church in Sanford.

Seminole High School has several student singing groups, one of which is the Gospel Choir. It has been at the school for 12 years, and has received more than 150 singing awards. The Gospel Choir has been invited to sing at many places including Walt Disney World.

On the eve of the Sept. 11 event, Hagerty and Attorney Ned Julian made the decision that the choir should not perform at the church because of possible constitutional violations.

As part of the Gospel Choir's curriculum, members were required to attend out-of-class performances, some which occurred at religious events. Since choir members earn 4 credit hours toward graduation, school officials were concerned that such a requirement would violate the U.S. Constitution's separation of church and state clause.

"I don't see how you can require anyone to attend a church service as part of a prerequisite to pass a class," said school board member Larry Furlong.

The school board faced two options, Furlong said: take away the course credit and offer Gospel Choir as a club activity, or make attendance at religious events optional and allow students to earn credit.

"If the students are not required to perform at religious services and that has no effect on their standing in the group or their grade, then we have solved the potential conflicts," said Furlong, adding that he hoped other changes would be made to the Gospel Choir's class requirements.

"Performing is an important part of the curriculum, but I'd like to see some emphasis put on the history and origins of the music," Furlong said. "We're talking about one of the cornerstones of American music. Gospel music has an incredibly rich history, and it would benefit the students — all students — to learn about the role this music played not just in American music but American society as a whole."

Matthew D. Staver, president and general counsel of Liberty Counsel, has been vocal opponent of the September decision. Since learning of the plight of the Gospel Choir, Staver and the Liberty Counsel staff have been working

Four through Seminole History

Scattered throughout Seminole are 35 historical markers that tell the tale of the county's history. Some prominently stand in front of familiar buildings, seen daily by motorists and pedestrians. Others, however, are found in lesser-known spots, hidden away in the area's rural locations. Page 1C

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Dinner with W: For those times when being the starting shortstop for world champions just isn't impressive enough, dropping the name of the commander in chief is the next best thing.

Sanford's latest World Series ring bearer David Eckstein (Tim Lincecum was the city's first) ran into a bit of trouble last week. After helping the Anaheim Angels win the title, Eckstein spent three weeks in Japan touring with the Major League's best. He returned home to Sanford earlier this week, but his truck had not arrived. It finally showed up a week late, and the driver who hauled it across country was not apologetic. In fact, he was down right surly and demanded that someone meet him at the interstate rather than hauling the vehicle to the Eckstein home.

Around The Clock

by Dan Ping

Dave and his mom, Pat, went to retrieve the vehicle, only to suffer more grief from the driver. Mrs. Eckstein had had about enough of the loud and told him to watch who he was being rude to. "Who is he," the driver said, pointing toward diminutive Dave, "the president of the United States?"

"Nope," Dave responded matter-of-factly, "but I'm having dinner with him Monday night."

After a half dozen you're-kidding-me's the nitwit finally got his act together and became a regular Miss Manners. Even asked for an autograph.

Dave's White House adventure is courtesy of George Will, the national political columnist and baseball aficionado. Will was so impressed with Eckstein's heart and hustle that he did a four minute editorial on ABC's "This Week ..." program. He also invited Eckstein to bring a guest and join him for a dinner with President George W. Bush and First Lady Laura Bush.

So who's Dave talking to the White House? None other than the First Lady of the Eckstein family, Pat. Dave's Dad, Whitey, would have seemed like the logical choice, since he has 16 years in the political arena as a city commissioner.

"It would mean more to my wife," Whitey said. "She's put up with me doing this stuff with the city for 16 years. Besides, what am I going to say to the president?"

Probably endlessly remind him about the recessions of 1987, 1989 and 1991 just like you do your colleagues on the city commission, Whitey.

Besides, Whitey's had his 15 minutes of fame. During the Angels Cinderella playoff season, Sanford's senior statesman was the darling of the New York press. The Times, the Post, and the Daily News all recounted Whitey's childhood association with Lou Carnesecca, the legendary St. John's basketball coach. Now it's time for Pat to enjoy some of the perks of being Dave's Mom.

"She's the glue that holds this family together," Whitey said.

As for Dave, he's taken all of this in stride. His life story has been turned into a children's book, which sold out in California in a matter of days. The Dairy Council has also inked Eckstein to one of those "Got Milk?" campaigns. In addition, the man Big League pitchers call The Pest has landed a spot on the television show "She Spies." No, he won't be playing some masked villain. Instead, Dave will join a couple of other Angels players in a bit part as emergency medical technicians (EMTs).

I betcha Dave's truck gets delivered on time next year.

City perks: Speaking of perks, anybody looked into how much the city spends on car allowances for city employees (excluding fire and police)? At $56,000 per year it's not a huge percentage of the city budget, but consider this: combine the annual salaries of the city commissioners — the men and women we elect to lead the city — and it totals only slightly higher than the money taxpayers are spending for employee car allowances.

City Manager Tony VanDerworp is tops on the list with a vehicle allowance of $488 per month. Deputy City Manager Roger Dixon is next on the list at $400 per month. The remaining 15 employees receive $250 per month.

It's a select group, but if you're a city employee and want to improve your odds of getting an extra $250 per month here's a tip: get transferred to the Parks and Recreation Department. Of the 17 employees who receive car cash, six are in Parks and Rec. Seven of the 17 are VanDerworp, Dixon and department heads. That means six of 10 — 60 percent — of employees receiving this perk are in the same department.

In addition, Parks and Rec. has four employees who are allowed to take home city vehicles. The only other employees allowed to take home a taxpayer financed vehicle — public works, utilities, and fire and police employees — are required to be on 24-hour call. I've asked the question before: is there a rash of park problems the city is experiencing late at night and on weekends that no one knows about?

Add it up. Ten employees in one department either drive a city car home at night or get good portion of their car payment paid for by taxpayers.

Carvings Stolen

Mark Rice, a local folk artist, has reported the theft of two four-foot high carvings that were on display at his property. The theft happened overnight this past Monday/Tuesday. It appears the thief or thieves, located the carvings onto a pickup truck. The works were a four-foot high American eagle with a fish in the right talon, and a four-foot high bear. They were on display along SR-434 near Tusawilla Road. Rice told Sheriff's deputies he had other artwork on display for years, and none have disappeared until now. He valued the carvings at over $1,000.

Rice specializes in chainsaw art. He said both items were made of cypress and had his name engraved on them. He plans to offer a reward.

Home Invasion Arrest

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office have arrested a man they believe to be one of two suspects involved in a home invasion, Monday, Nov. 18, on Starwood Drive near Oviedo.

The arrest came after Seminole and Orange County authorities located a black Lexus SUV believed to have been used in the crime. Orange County authorities chased the vehicle to SR-50 near Goldenrod, where both of the men fled on foot.

The driver of the vehicle was identified as Andrew Vasquez, 35, of Orlando, who was served a warrant at his residence. He has now been extradited to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility where he is being held on no bond.

Anyone with information on the second person is urged to call Investigator Bob Jaynes of the Seminole County Sheriff's Department at 407-665-6600.

Police Blotter

Stolen Vehicles

Eugene Boule, 18, of Avadaco Avenue, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Wednesday. A man reported his vehicle was stolen from a residence on Cedar Creek Circle, and after searching the area, located the vehicle in a parking lot. When police arrived, they said the vehicle fled, only to crash into a light pole at 20th Street and Highway 17-92. Both the driver and one passenger fled. A second passenger remained at the scene, but told officers he was only being given a ride.

The passenger who fled, identified as Aaron Richardson III, 21, of Borada Road, Sanford, and Boule were both apprehended by police. Each has been charged with grand theft motor vehicle, and resisting an officer without violence.

David Montanez, 27, of Greenwood, South Carolina, was arrested by sheriff's deputies Thursday. An officer checking license tags at the Eastbound rest area on Interstate-4, discovered the vehicle, a Volvo, had been reported stolen in Sanford in 2000. The sticker on the plate was also found stolen in St. Cloud. Montanez was arrested on charges of grand theft motor vehicle, possession of under 20 grams of marijuana, possession of narcotics equipment, having an altered plate not assigned and altering a license plate sticker.

Hit and Run

Stephen Wesley Joiner, 24, of Northlake Drive, was arrested by Sanford police Wednesday. Officers said he had been involved in a traffic crash in a parking lot near his residence, had left the area, then returned. He was charged with possession of a controlled substance, driving under the influence (DUI) of alcohol/drugs, two counts of DUI with property damage, reckless driving, hit & run leaving the scene, and having non current insurance.

A co-defendant, identified as Tracy Carmine Kessler, 23, of that same address, was also arrested in connection with the search warrant.

Perry Lee Robertson, 44, Wood Street, Oviedo, was arrested by CCIB agents during an undercover drug buy Wednesday in a parking lot at North Central Avenue, Oviedo. Robertson was charged with selling cocaine, possession of cocaine with intent to sell/deliver, and driving with a suspended license.

Thanksgiving thoughts

Thursday is the big day — Thanksgiving. Hopefully, with all of the special events held by various churches and clubs in the area, no one will have to be alone for that holiday.

Of course some couples will choose to go out for the traditional Thanksgiving meal, preferring to be by themselves. Many people however, will probably have a gathering of the family and friends, similar to the Pilgrims who reportedly invited a few Indians (Native Americans) to join them in celebration of a bountiful harvest. (So legend goes).

Historically, Thanksgiving is the oldest official holiday in our nation, having been proclaimed on Nov. 26, 1789 by President George Washington, (recommended by both houses of Congress), "... by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity to peaceably establish a form of government for their safety and happiness."

Nick Pfeifauf

It remained on Nov. 26 until President Lincoln called for the holiday on the last Thursday in November. In 1939, President Roosevelt moved it to the fourth Thursday of the month.

It's a public holiday in all states. In Nevada however, it's called Family Day, which is also an excellent title.

Getting with the family however, can have its drawbacks. Several years ago, a woman I knew told me she dreaded going to her in-laws (out of state) for Thanksgiving. She said it was the only time of year they all gathered, and being of a certain overseas heritage, she said, "All they do is argue and yell at each other at the top of their voices, not only during the meal, but all day long." She added that no one got physically angry, "they just shouted all the time".

Pardon me if that's not the kind of Thanksgiving meal I would like to attend, nor wish upon anyone else.

Getting together for Thanksgiving should be just that — a time to give thanks for all the blessings received. A time to remember those who may not be at the table this year, or who have passed in previous years. A time to be kind to one another, and to ask the continued blessings of the Almighty.

Next to Christmas, Thanksgiving is probably my favorite holiday. (I hate Halloween, and there are too many drunks on New Year's Eve and some other holidays).

It is my sincere hope that you will be able to be with family members this Thursday, and for those you may not have seen in a long time — to renew old memories and show you still care about them, their families and their well-being.

Thanksgiving is a compound word. By all means — give thanks. But don't forget — the second part is "giving", and that can have a great deal of meaning if used properly.

Your View

Reader appalled by lack of help with car seat

To the editor, I was appalled when I went to three fire stations in the Sanford vicinity and even called another one in Lake Mary, and could not get help with having a baby car seat installed in my car. As a grandmother who never used a car seat for her children when they were young, I know the law now states every child under a certain weight and age limit has to be in a car seat. Since I would be taking my daughter and her son along with me to South Carolina for a weekend trip, I wanted to be sure the car seat was properly installed. I was told no one was on duty that was certified to install a car seat. At this one particular fire station the women told me the firemen had to attend training before being certified and if I wanted a car seat installed it would have to be on the dates and times provided in the handout. When I told her that unfortunately these dates were not until next month and I needed it installed now, she was not in the least bit concerned with my request. I did leave my phone number for someone to call me, but that request also was not fulfilled.

I finally went to the sheriff's sub station on Lake Mary Boulevard and 17-92 in the Albertson's Plaza and a very nice person from the sheriff's department was more than willing to help me. I didn't ask about whether or not he was certified, I was grateful that he took interest in my grandson's safety. To say the least, I was disappointed the fire department personnel had little concern for the safety of children unless it is on a designated date and time.

Sincerely
Paula Lindamoo

Why Johnny will never be able to read

By Bob Goff
Special to the Herald

Florida voters passed a Constitutional Amendment demanding smaller class sizes at the cost of billions of dollars. Legislators passed laws demanding the end of social promotion. Both either are or will be ignored, one by the Superintendents in 67 Florida counties, the other by the legislature and the governor. Both the Superintendent and the Legislature have long histories in ignoring what they don't want to do.

In the middle is the School Board. Trained by the Florida School Board Association, under the direction of Dr. Wayne Blanton, School Boards are taught to work together, mostly towards the common goal of getting more money from the Legislature, but never in developing educational excellence within the school system. In general, the average school board member is white, way above average in wealth, and does not have another paying job. Most came from the ranks of school volunteers and are not formally trained in education. Not all Board members are like this, but enough to maintain the voting majority in most counties. Add to this mix the elected School Superintendents at about half of Florida's 67 counties who have different bosses than those Superintendents who are appointed by a Board.

Having set the table, now on to the main course: why Johnny can't read? Schools are run by educators. Schools systems are run by educators who used to run schools. School Boards are run by ex-volunteers who are deliberately turned into lobbyists by the FSBA in order to get more money for the educators to spend. Given the fact that it takes 13 years (a student moving from kindergarten through graduation from high school) for any education program to be fully implemented, there is little chance that meaningful reform will ever take place. Only two superintendents in Florida have over 10 years service and both of them have announced their retirements. The average life of a school board member averages far less than 13 years. The only people who survive for longer are the "educrats" those educators who move up within the system from teacher to administrator. And few of them are in places powerful enough to effect change within the system for 13 years, given that most have their 30 years for retirement in by age 51 or 52.

So how do you change the system? First, require a five year education plan from the School Board and/or elected superintendent. They already have a capital plan to spend construction money, why not have one that details how they are going to spend the money to build students? It has to have goals and it has to have local reporting requirements at the middle and end of each school year. It also has to have consequences if the goals aren't met. For far too long, children have taken the brunt of adult failure within the leadership of local schools and school boards.

Second, separate the instructional from the non-instructional worker when it comes to salary negotiations. In Seminole County the non-instructional workweek is 35 hours. I would bet that you cannot find an elementary teacher in the state who works less than twice that amount. With teacher shortages looming, giving all workers the same salary increase, benefit package, and step increase is a guarantee for continued system failure when it comes to deciding how much emphasis is to be placed on effective teaching of children. By the way, administrators should not be considered educators any longer. The biggest salaries have to go to those who actually do the work in achieving student improvement. Let excellent teachers, easily verified by yearly pre and post testing in their classroom, earn the top dollar in the school system for what they do best? Teach! The time for giving the highest salaries to the longest tenure or to administrators is long past. Another idea that should be dead is that salaries can never go down. When two consecutive years of poor teaching almost guarantees a future high school drop out, there can be no excuse for failure in the classroom.

Last, the school system has to concentrate on providing a basic education to every child. The Constitution of Florida and the U.S. requires a free and public education. It does not guarantee band, computer labs, sports programs, honors courses, the school newspaper and yearbook, clubs and TV studios for the morning news. Only when children can read, write, and do math at grade level should school systems be allowed to increase their local taxes by voter referendum-like Sarasota County and others did this year to fund programs above the core educational offerings.

Will parents scream if the music program is threatened to be cut? Of course! Will educators wait that every child can't learn at the same speed as their classmates? Of course! Will the Unions fight tooth and nail to keep the salaries of their rank and file non-instructional members tied to that of the teachers? Of course!

So what! In Seminole County, one of Florida's highest ranked school districts, over 30 percent of last year's third graders could not read at grade level. At other districts the numbers were worse.

A school system that cannot teach, or will not teach, is a school system that must be changed. The A+ Plan has begun the process of publicly identifying substandard schools and school systems and providing the incentive for School Boards to budget more money for basic education. But as long as 30 percent or more of the States' third graders cannot read at grade level — the snail like creep of the process of change will cost too many children their future.

Bob Goff was a member of the Seminole County School Board from 1996 to 2000.

The Herald asks people what they think ...

On Thursday, many families will gather for Thanksgiving. We asked people if they have any holiday traditions and what their plans are for this year's celebration.

This year, I hope to bring the family together and enjoy the traditional dishes of Thanksgiving, both American and Italian. We end up having 12 courses and eat for hours.

Lissa Sansone

When I was younger, we would gather at a relative's house, and we had an adult's table and a kid's table. Now that we are older, my brother and I are taking our mother out for dinner.

I have to make three things for dinner. I have to make one certain pie, or my son won't let me in; a cabbage salad or my daughter-in-law won't let me in; and a chopped liver salad for my son's friend, or he will be upset.

The Way We Were: Sanford named official city song in 1986

Did you know that the city of Sanford has an official theme song? It is titled "Sanford on the Lake" and was written by Robert Carmie. Mr. Carmie was director of the Sanford Male Chorus during the 1960's and 1970's, and this song was always sung at the close of each of their performances. My dad, Martin Stinecpher, was a member of this chorus. Bettye Smith was pianist. The Sanford Woman's Club Chorus also performed this song many times, perhaps even when they traveled to Poland.

Football Memories
Many of you are aware that Boone and Edgewater high schools in Orlando had a 50 year reunion football game recently. The huge Orlando High School was split into Boone and Edgewater for the 1952-53 school year so their first football game was played in 1952; their rivalry had continued for 50 years.

I recall very well that Seminole High school for the first game of the year and get trounced, plus a number of Celery Feds would get injured.

This changed somewhat when the old OHS was divided. In 1952, the new Edgewater team did beat SHS 28-7, but the Salmagundi states that SHS had them tied 7-7 until the fourth quarter. Then in 1953, SHS beat Edgewater 14-6, the first time we had beaten an Orlando team in 21 years. I was a senior that year, and in the band. There was much rejoicing.

Coaches of that SHS team were Fred Ganas, Bill Fleming and John Angel. Some on the team were Bubba Bisbee, Jimmie Fox, Ross Hannum, Jimmy Whitley, Larry Bates, Johnny Jones, Jimmy Wade, Randy Reynolds, Jimmy Butler, Johnny Carter, Gerald Behrens, Harold Pate, Jimmy Krider, Edward McCall, Eugene Estridge and Jim Hawkins.

Brighten Up the Holiday Table With Beautiful, Homemade Candles

During Christmastime, the exterior of many homes are decorated in brilliantly colored lights, tinsel and animated figures. However, you also can "make every corner" inside the home "beautiful with simple ideas that say Merry Christmas," says Barbara Milo Ohrbach, author of "Tabletops" (Potter).

One of the easiest ways to brighten a table is with candles. "Candlelight on the table at holiday time creates a festive mood," says Ohrbach.

Whether on your holiday table, or as a gift for a loved one's home, making beautiful and unique candles is simple. The following holiday candles make use of everyday, normal items, like cinnamon sticks, cranberries and ribbons, to turn simple candles into something special.

CINNAMON STICK WRAP
3 inch cinnamon sticks (for around your candle)
2 inch pillar candle
Rubber band
Wired ribbon or natural raffia

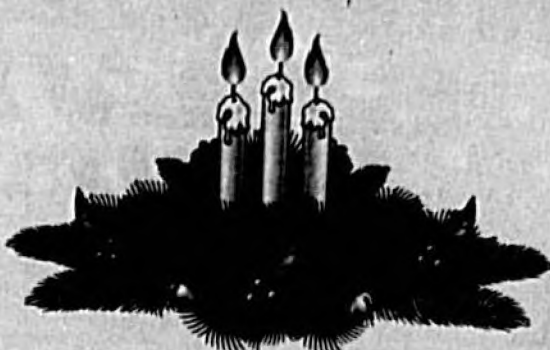

- Stand the cinnamon sticks next to one another halfway around the candle, and rubber band them tightly into place.
- Add the remaining cinnamon sticks, covering the rest of the candle.
- Tightly tie wired ribbon or raffia around the middle and bow.

CRANBERRY STAR
Bag of dried cranberries
12 inches of florist wire
18 inches of satin ribbon

- Thread the cranberries onto the wire through their center, leaving 1 inch of wire at each end.
- Twist both ends together securely, making a loop with the wire.
- Sharply indent the wire five times to make a star pattern.
- Tie a ribbon through the loop and onto a candlestick..

Indulge Your Sweet Tooth With a Tasty Tart

Molasses and Almond Tart
Serves 8

For a lighter flavor, leave out the molasses and use another 1/3 cup of dark corn syrup instead. Served warm with whipped cream or fresh vanilla custard, this sweet tart will enrich any winter's meal.

PASTRY

1 2/3 cups all-purpose flour
Large pinch of sugar
1/3 cup unsalted butter, chilled and cut
1 egg, lightly beaten
Drop of vanilla extract

FILLING

1/3 cup unsalted butter, melted
Juice and finely grated rind of one lemon
1/3 cup light molasses
1 cup ground almonds
1 1/4 cups fresh bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
2/3 cup sliced almonds, to decorate

Brush a 9-inch fluted tart pan with removable base with melted butter. To make the pastry, sift the flour, sugar and a large pinch of salt into a large bowl. Rub the cubes of cold butter into the flour with a fast flicking action of the thumbs across the fingertips until the mixture resembles fine bread crumbs.

Make a well in the center and pour in the beaten egg, a teaspoon of water and a drop of vanilla. Slowly mix the pastry together by hand, or stir with a round-bladed knife into a rough ball. If the pastry is slightly sticky, add a little more flour. Turn out onto a cool, lightly floured surface, and knead very gently for no more than 20 seconds so that the pastry is just smooth. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate for at least 20 minutes

YUMMY! This molasses and almond tart is sure to satisfy your holiday sweet tooth. Dessert will be even more special this winter with "Molasses and Almond Tart," courtesy of "Le Cordon Bleu Home Collection Winter" (Periplus Editions).

before using
Roll the pastry on a floured surface to about 1/8 inch thick. Line the tart pan with the pastry, pushing the pastry into the flutes of the pan with the help of a small ball of excess pastry. Trim off the excess. Cut a circle of waxed paper 1 1/4 inches larger than the tart pan, crush it into a ball, open it and put it inside the pastry so the liner comes up the sides.

Fill the pan to the rim with rice or pie weights, then press gently so they rest against the sides of the pan. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes. Remove the rice or pie weights and toss the liner. If the pastry base looks wet, bake for three to four minutes. When cooked, remove from the oven and cool in the pan. Reduce the oven temperature to 350° F.

To make the filling, combine all the filling ingredients except the sliced almonds in a large bowl. Stir briskly until smooth. Spread into the pastry shell and sprinkle with the sliced almonds. Bake for 15 minutes, or until the mixture feels light to the touch. Remove from oven, leave in the tart pan and cool before serving.

Bubba Bisbee later played for FSU: one of his teammates was Burt Reynolds. Jim Hawkins had a football scholarship to Stetson, but they disbanded football after his freshman year (1956-57). He transferred to a college in Louisiana where one of his football teammates was Ross Hannum.

The last time SHS had beaten Orlando was in 1932. The score was 6-0. The coach for that 1932 team was Leonard McLucas and his players included John Courier, George McClelland, Lawrence Harrison, Malcolm Higgins, Woodrow Riser, Ralph Vincent, Bill Preston, Wilson

Smith, John Stanley, Levi Brannon and Robert Young. During the 1960's, a much larger Seminole High was in the Metro Conference with all of the Orlando schools and did quite well against them. Jim Pigott was coach assisted by Jim McCoy and Dick Williams. I was teaching several of the players during those years, so attended the majority of the games.

I happened to see a preview of the recent Boone-Edgewater game on TV and there were Holly and Dolly Harris, former Boone cheerleaders, class of 1967. I had taught them in fifth grade (1959-60) at Lake Silver Elementary School in Orlando.

This photograph was possibly taken in 1962 when H.L. Hunt, third from left, first opened his plant on South Sanford Avenue. It was listed as Hunt Properties in the 1963-69 Sanford telephone books, and as H.L. Hunt Products beginning in 1970. Easy target for abusive men needs to stay out of their range

DEAR ABBY: I am a 32-year-old single female. My past has been filled with physical, mental and emotional abuse that began when I was 5. I always believed that even though my past was bad, things would get better.

Well, two marriages and several bad relationships later, it seems I only attract men who are either physically abusive, emotionally unavailable, or both. All of my relationships are somehow abusive.

I am so sad and lonely that I have even considered suicide. I know I have something to live for, but I just don't know what. Could there be something in my character that tells me I am an easy target for them? Please help me.

LOST AND UNLOVED IN MILWAUKEE

DEAR LORI: There is nothing lacking in your character. You were brought up to believe that physical abuse, mind games and lack of emotional support were normal behavior that should be tolerated.

Dear Abby

Can this be overcome? Absolutely! However, you'll have to rebuild your expectations from the ground up. Until this is done, I'd advise you to abstain from romantic involvement. Professional counseling will speed the process. You have much to live for. But in order to reach your goal, you'll have to "unlearn" many of the things you have taken for granted as normal.

DEAR ABBY: I love your "no gifts" message for invitations:

"Your friendship is a treasured gift, and we respectfully request no other." I use it a lot.

Now I need a phrase or short note that will allow my 78-year-old mother to give treasured heirlooms to the person of her choice.

I would have loved to receive the banana pudding bowl that belonged to my dear late aunt. It elicited many cherished memories. It was faded and chipped, and I'm sure it was at some point thrown away.

Abby, you have a way with words, so I'm looking forward to your response. Thanks!

LORI RAMPEY, PIEDMONT, S.C.

DEAR LORI: How's this: "This () has been in my family for many years and is a treasured heirloom. May it bring as much enjoyment to you as it has to me and our family. With love, ..."

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I have been together for 10 years. We have decided to elope.

I want to let my family know about the marriage, but I'm not sure how to go about it. Are announcements OK, or do they seem like a request for presents? I am clueless about the proper thing to do. Thanks a bunch!

WONDERING IN SOUTH ELGIN, ILL.

DEAR WONDERING: Wedding announcements after your elopement are a perfectly acceptable way to let friends and family members know the happy news. Only those who accept wedding invitations are expected to give gifts. However, relatives and close friends will probably want to present you with a "token" gift of some kind to mark the occasion.

DEAR ABBY: I am facing my worst nightmare. While I was still dating my husband, I had an affair with a married man. I broke it off when my husband-to-be proposed. I never told my fiancé about the affair.

Last week, I learned that the wife of the man I was involved with found one of the "intimate" items I had given him. She has now gone to a lawyer and is seeking a divorce.

I am afraid I may be called to testify if the divorce proceedings go that far.

I am scared to tell my husband. I'm afraid he will leave me if he finds out.

I have been completely faithful my entire marriage — and plan to remain so.

What should I do, Abby? Confess to my husband that I cheated prior to marrying him — or wait and see if the attorney or the wife of my ex-lover contacts me? SCARED AND IN FLA.

DEAR SCARED AND IN FLA: How you have conducted yourself since your marriage is more important than any youthful indiscretion. As your "need" to confess, you now confessed to my readers and me. Let the past stay buried for now. If you need summons to testify in the divorce, there'll be plenty of time to tell your husband about this episode from your past.

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanne Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Write Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90069.

with the Choir to ensure its continued future and to assist in creating guidelines which will allow the Choir to sing at churches or other religious events.

Staver said he was pleased with the school board's decision.

"Once the matter came to the board, with broad support from the community, the issue finally was resolved," Staver said. "I am very proud of the students who sing in the Choir and am thrilled by this announcement as we approach the Christmas season."

Though the matter appears to be resolved, ill feelings still remain.

Staver says the incident was a plot by school administrators to "ban the Gospel Choir from singing at religious events." Furlong took issue with that attitude and the comments from Liberty Counsel supporters.

"We are the only school system in the state of Florida that offers school credit for a gospel choir group. All of the other gospel choirs are clubs not classes," Furlong said. "That already puts our necks on the line to begin with. So what's our reward for trying to be careful and make sure some court doesn't step in and ban the class altogether? We get called racists, bigots, cowards and satanic devil worshippers."

Excelsior School

be located away from these areas to avoid noise, odors, dust, traffic impacts and hazards."

The School Board and its staff, however, believe the city's comprehensive plan allows for the school to be located within Technology Park. In fact, they said the facility's environment is conducive to the alternative school, which models a business-like atmosphere.

Excel Alternatives, which has a contract with the School Board and has been in Seminole for more than seven years, serves middle and high school students that have been expelled from school. Instead of students remaining out of school for a semester or longer following their expulsion, the program offers an alternative. Individuals are selected for the program on a case-by-case basis.

Students, who along with their parents sign a contract to attend the Excel program, are referred to as associates. The school is operated like a business, with students clocking in and out at the beginning and end of the day.

Associates are required to wear business attire, including ties and dress shirts for males and skirts or dress slacks for females.

Average enrollment at the school is 140 students, with a maximum of 200. With low teacher-to-student and staff-to-student ratios, the school's goal is to improve their associates' behaviors and get them back on the academic track.

"One of the first students that went through Seminole County's Excel program was from my neighborhood," School Board member Larry Furlong told Commission Thursday. "He was one of my daughter's friends."

Furlong said his young neighbor became involved with illegal substances, including marijuana. He was expelled from school but given the option to participate in the alternative program.

"When he went through Excel, he turned his life around," Furlong said. "He is now on his way to completing a Ph.D. program."

Currently, the School Board leases the Sanford Excel building for $350,000 per year. When the lease is up this summer, school officials want to move the program, since purchasing a building will eventually save the school system money. The Board is looking to purchase the building at 450 Technology Park for about $1.1 million.

Numerous locations in Sanford, Casselberry and Lake Mary were considered for the school's new home, said Deputy Superintendent Dianne Kramer. The Technology Park site was the best choice based on accessibility, renovation requirements and cost estimates. She said the city's land use designation for the site was also considered when making the relocation decision.

According to School Board Attorney Ned Julian, however, a comprehensive plan amendment isn't even necessary in regard to the proposed alternative school site. He said, since the city's comprehensive plan permits schools in every land category except conservation, state law requires that the city automatically re-designate the property from industrial to public/semi-public. The plan's guidelines shall be considered, but aren't criteria in determining whether a school is allowed on a particular site.

Traffic and safety were also factors in Commission's vote denying the School Board's request. About 30 buses currently transport Excel Alternatives' students to and from the school, and according to Omana and Lake Mary Police Chief Richard Beary, the complex cannot handle that many vehicles lining up along the road.

"In a single stack scenario, the school buses would be lined up for a quarter of a mile," Beary said. "That's a serious potential for crashes."

"In my business, you have to look at the worst case scenario," he said. "I have a serious concern for the traffic situation at this site."

Seminole School Bus Operations Manager Julie Murphy said the school system has already considered the traffic situation at the site, and the number of buses transporting students to and from the school will be limited to seven vehicles.

"We are proposing a shuttle service for transportation," Murphy said. "The students would be transported to a centrally located site and then put on a shuttle bus."

In response, several city commissioners said they were concerned that 30 buses would still be needed to transport the students during their trip to and from school. Commissioner George Duryea said queuing of the vehicles would still cause traffic problems — only at another site.

Following the presentations from city staff and the School Board, several residents voiced their opposition to the alternative school's proposed location. In addition, Omana said the city's Community Development office received more than 100 e-mails from residents and businesses located in Technology Park protesting the relocation site of the Excel program.

One proponent of the relocation, however, is BCK Ventures, who owns the building the School Board wants to purchase. Paul Chipok, an attorney with BCK, told Commission the city is obligated to allow the school to be located in Technology Park.

Lake Mary City Attorney Simmons, however, said Mary staff members were in their interpretation of the comprehensive plan and following the public motion was made and to deny the School request.

"Our position is that it's a great program and a need for the city," Lake Mary Mayor Greene said. "But, we believe the wrong location — not suited for a Technology Park is an facility and trying to put there is not appropriate."

Nevertheless, the proposal has not been tabled by the Board. A special meeting is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. to consider the purchase of Technology Park property.

The Board will meet at the Education Support Center, located at Lake Mary Blvd., in San

Rams hit roadblock in Panhandle

SPRINGFIELD — A great season came to close Friday night as host Rutherford High School eliminated Lake Mary, 26-14, in an FHSAA Class 5A-Region 1 Quarterfinal game at Tommy Oliver Stadium in Springfield. The Rams finish the season at 10-2, while Rutherford, ranked No. 3 in the Florida Sports Writers Association Class 5A State Poll, improved to 11-1. The loss will be an even tougher one for Lake Mary to swallow when they get home, because a victory would have put them into the Regional Championship Game against Mainland, the only other team to have beaten the Rams this season. The No. 8 ranked Buccaneers again turned to their defense, which has allowed more than 10 points only once this year, in an 8-7 triumph over Pensacola Escambia at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium on Friday night. The defense also scored the only points as Mainland (11-1) advanced to take on Rutherford in Springfield next Friday night.

Rutherford eliminates Lake Mary from playoffs, 26-14

Friday night's game also marked the end of stellar careers for running back Reggie Campbell, who went over 1,000 yards rushing again this season despite missing the better part of three games and hobbling in two more after injuring an ankle against Mainland, and linebacker Keith Rivers, who will surely become a defensive star on the next level.

A recap of Friday's game will appear in Wednesday's Herald.

Eagles soar over Lions

Edgewater puts an end to Oviedo's title hopes

By Tony DeSormier
Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — For the second time this month, an Oviedo High School athletic team saw its season come to an end at Edgewater High School.

On Friday night, the Edgewater Eagles ripped the Oviedo Lions, 46-15, in a 6A-Region 1 semifinal football contest at Eagle Stadium.

Two weeks earlier, the Oviedo girls' volleyball team was eliminated from the state playoffs in the regional semifinals played in the Edgewater gym.

"We were one foot away all night," said Oviedo coach Greg Register. "Their defensive backs did a great job. All night long, it seemed like we were just one foot away from completing passes, but they kept knocking them down."

"That last onside kickoff attempt was symbolic of the whole night -- just a foot away from being perfect. Edgewater is a great football team. You need to play a near-perfect game at this level but we were just one foot short of it all night."

Oviedo's game plan Friday was to come out throwing with the hope of spreading out the Edgewater defense and perhaps creating some running room.

But for most of the night, the Eagle defensive backfield seemed to keep getting a hand to quarterback Lee Sloan's aerials at the last second and knocking them away.

Sloan finished the night 14-for-30 for 143 yards, most coming on short, quick routes.

See Oviedo, Page 3B

Herald photos by Jim Wentz

Oviedo's defense was as hard-hitting as ever (top), as a witnessed by a group of Lions gang-tackling an Edgewater runner, but sustained drives by the Eagles eventually wore out the strong Oviedo "D" as the hosts scored 32 second half points to easily dispose of the Lions, 46-15, in a Class 6A-Region 1 Semifinal game at Eagle Stadium Friday night. One of the few bright spots for Oviedo was Jason Raulerson's 90-yard kickoff return in the third period (right).

Raiders women finally at home

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

TAMPA — After three tough weeks on the road, the Seminole Community College women's basketball team will finally get to play before a friendly crowd when it hosts Tallahassee Community College this afternoon (Saturday).

The Raiders will be looking for vengeance over the Eagles, who used a definite depth advantage to defeat the locals, 72-55, on their home floor two weeks ago. Game time is set for 4 p.m. at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center and admission is free.

"We lost to them (TCC) last time because we ran out of gas," said first-year SCC head coach Lisa Nuxell, who will be coaching her first game on the home hardwood. "They played 14 people and we had seven that night. We were up at the half, but they ran us down in the second half. We will try to be ready for them!"

"The girls are glad to be home finally! Playing our first seven games on the road was tough."

The Raiders (3-4) come home on an upbeat, having broken a four-game losing streak (losing to 3-3 Chipola Community College, 65-66, in Ocala at the Central Florida Community College Classic last Friday and, 82-71, to 3-1 Palm Beach Community College in Lake Worth last Saturday) with a 63-52 over Hillsborough Community College in Tampa on Tuesday.

Center Danielle Richardson, a 6-foot-3 sophomore from Orange Park, had 13 points and 12 rebounds to lead SCC. Freshman point guard Natalie Emmanuelli from Lake Highland Prep also had a big night with 10 points and five assists.

Raiders celebrate ranking with win

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — It's been a long time in coming and the Seminole Community College men's basketball team was not about to let it slip away.

The "it" is the first state ranking in several years for the Raiders, who rewarded Tuesday for their good start with a No. 7 ranking in the first FCCAA (Florida Community College Activities Association) State Poll.

Coach Stan Cromartie's charges then went out and proved themselves worthy of the honor, holding off No. 10 ranked Polk Community College from Winter Haven, 73-62, Wednesday night at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

SCC was scheduled to wrap up its season-opening nine-game homestand by hosting unbeaten and No. 5 ranked Tallahassee Community College on Friday and then take off a week before opening a seven-game, three-week road trip by competing in the St. Petersburg College Classic next weekend.

On Friday, Nov. 29, the Raiders will face IMG at 6 p.m., with host St. Pete taking on Brevard Community College. On Saturday, SCC will face the host Trojans at 4 p.m. and BCC and IMG will square off at 6 p.m.

SCC will not play at home again until Saturday, Dec. 28th, when it hosts Monroe Community College from New York starting at 7:30 p.m., and then go back on the road for another month before hosting Central Florida Community College on Wednesday, Jan. 25th.

Wednesday night, J.D. Bracy, coming off a 38-point effort on Saturday, hit a three-pointer to open the game and the Raiders would never trail. In fact, it looked like the hosts might blow the Vikings out of the gym as Lyman graduate Josh Houston had a first 10 minutes that most people only dream about.

The 6-foot-2 sophomore, the brother of Detroit Piston star Chucky Atkins and the son of former SCC standout Ken Atkins, hit four three-pointers and scored 14 points as the Raiders raced out to a 25-9 advantage with 10:11 to go before halftime. See Men, Page 2B

Lyman graduate Josh Houston (No. 12) had the biggest game of his career at SCC as the sophomore guard hit six three-pointers and scored a game-high 22 points in the Raiders', 73-62, victory over Polk Wednesday night.

Cold weather likely to greet UCF

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — UCF wrapped up its week of practice Thursday in preparation for its Mid-American Conference showdown against the second-place RedHawks of Miami University in Oxford, Ohio today (Saturday) at 1 p.m.

Practices during the week were scaled back in terms of hitting to allow injured players to heal but UCF coach Mike Kruczek was still pleased with what he saw.

"I thought practice went well in preparation for a big game this week," Kruczek said. "We intentionally pulled out of pads because we have so many players banged up. We didn't think any kind of hitting would help the problem and we need to get healthy bodies in the ballgame."

Temperatures in the 70s most of the week during practice is a sharp contrast to the low 40s projected for kickoff.

"There's no way you can prepare a team for that kind of environment," Kruczek said. "It's just like a northern team coming down here and having to play in 80 degree weather. It's something you have to block out of your mind. The temperature will be in the 40s so it should be great football weather."

The Golden Knights have more pressing concerns than the chilly conditions. Miami boasts one of the top offenses and quarterbacks in the MAC.

Sophomore Ben Roethlisberger leads the Miami attack. At 6-5, 240 pounds, Roethlisberger is considered by many to be one of the premiere young quarterbacks in the nation. Like the Golden Knights, Miami is not afraid to throw the ball downfield, and as a result, Roethlisberger has thrown for 2,967 yards and 21 touchdowns.

"For a kid who is only a sophomore, he (Roethlisberger) is as mechanically sound as there is," UCF head coach Mike Kruczek said. "You're looking at a guy in two years who could be the number one pick in the country simply because of his athleticism and the way he delivers the football."

UCF (5-5, 4-2) has not fared well on the road in the recent past, but is looking for its third consecutive road victory in the MAC after winning at Western Michigan and Buffalo.

"Any time you go on the road you have to battle the rigors of travel," receiver Ivery Gaskins said. "We'll have to make sure he stay mentally and physically sound in the way we play."

Miami (7-4, 5-2) has had trouble defending its home turf with two of the RedHawks four losses this season coming at Yager Stadium. They have come at the hands of Big-Ten leader Iowa and MAC West leader Northern Illinois, though.

"This is a big game and this is a great opportunity for us to silence a lot of critics who don't believe in UCF football," Gaskins said. "We're not only playing for this season, but we are hoping to build a foundation for all the years after."

Sunshine Network will televise the game live in the Orlando and Tampa markets. The game will be replayed statewide at 8 p.m. Sunday. Locally, the game can be heard on 740-The Team, with Marc Daniels and Garry Parris announcing the play on the field and Jerry O'Neill reporting from the sidelines. Pregame coverage begins at 11 a.m.

UCF AND HAYNES RUN OVER KENT STATE

Alex Haynes rushed for a career high 149 yards and freshman kicker Matt Prater kicked three of his career high four field goals in the second half enabling UCF to overcome a sluggish start as they defeated Kent State 32-6 at the Citrus Bowl Saturday evening.

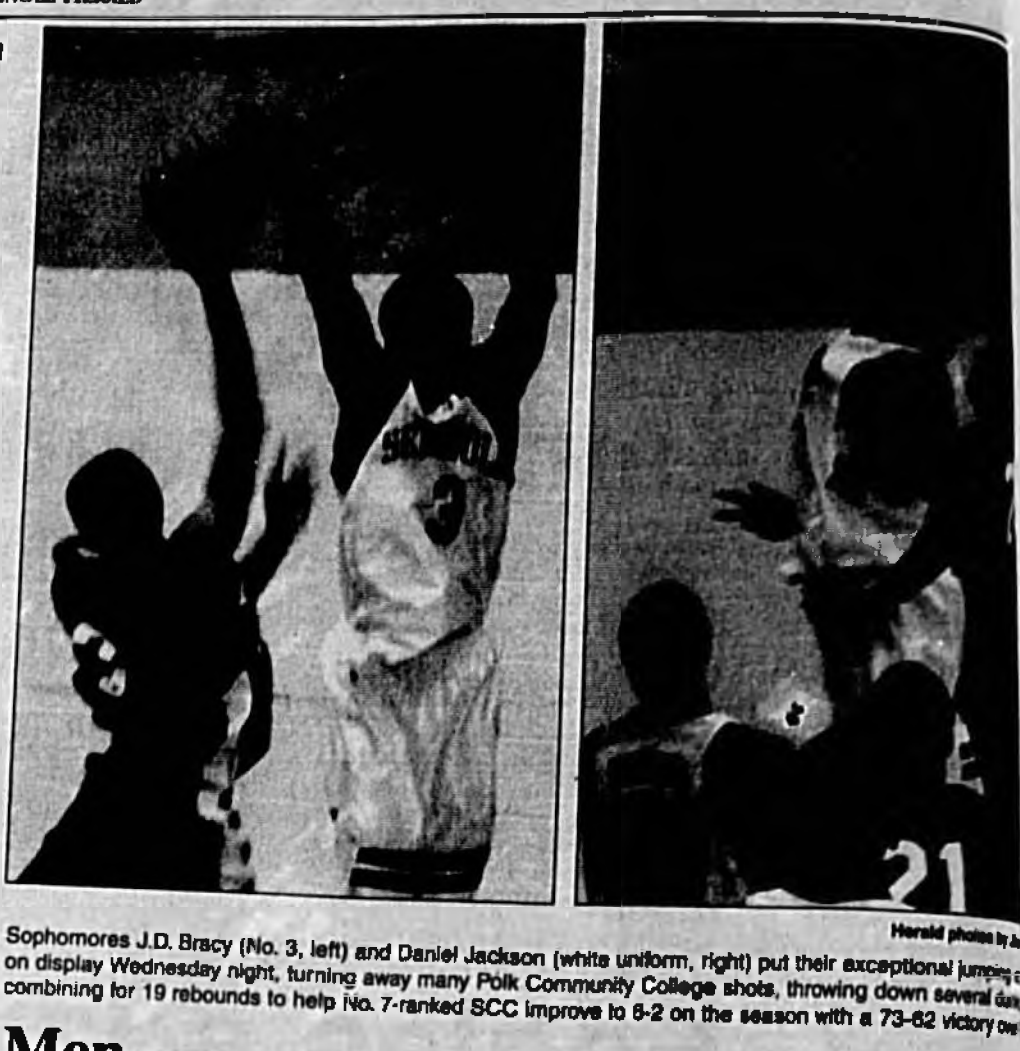

Prater's final field goal, a 25-yarder with 5:39 remaining in the game, provided the final margin of victory for the Knights who finally got their offense rolling in the second half scoring 22 points in the final two stanzas.

The Golden Knights (5-5, 4-2) went up 29-6 with just under nine minutes remaining in the game when Haynes scored from 14 yards out. UCF then recovered the ball on the ensuing kick off to set up the offense at the Kent State (3-8, 1-6) 46-yard line, which eventually led to Prater's career-tying effort.

UCF scored on its opening drive of the second half moving 54 yards on seven plays. An eight-yard pass from Ryan Schneider to Doug Gabriel capped off the drive. The Knights did not convert the extra point, but still held a 16-3 lead.

On their next drive the Golden Knights were able to cut their deficit to six after Travis Mayle connected on a 42-yard field goal to trail 16-6.

Late in the third quarter UCF took over on downs at the Kent State 38-yard line after the Golden Flashes failed to convert a fourth and one. The final play of the third quarter saw Jimmy Pryzel make an acrobatic 34-yard catch, setting See UCF, Page 3B

Sophomores J.D. Bracy (No. 3, left) and Daniel Jackson (white uniform, right) put their exceptional jumping eye on display Wednesday night, turning away many Polk Community College shots, throwing down several dunks combining for 19 rebounds to help No. 7-ranked SCC improve to 8-2 on the season with a 73-62 victory over Men

Men

But the initial rush of adrenaline seemed to wear off and the shots quit falling for SCC as PCC's Jeff Street got hot and led the guests back into the game.

The 6-foot-6, 220-pound freshman from Niagara Falls, New York dominated the inside play and scored 12 points and the normal charge of energy, especially on defense, that the Raiders get from its bench never came.

After going several minutes without scoring and its lead in jeopardy, SCC went back to Houston, who pumped in two more 'three's' in the final two minutes to give him 20 first half points and restore order as the hosts finished the half with an 11-point bulge, 39-28.

The Vikings continued to cut into the lead after intermission behind Marcus Neal and Ayyub Ali and the score eventually got as close as four points, 48-44.

That's when Bracy, who had not scored since the opening basket of the game, came alive. The 6-foot-3 FSU transfer from Kissimmee hit back-to-back two-point baskets to kickstart the home offense and later pumped in two three-pointers from the corner to open the lead back up.

Center Kitus Witherspoon, who was held to two points in the opening half, also started to make his presence felt inside, mostly on nice feeds from Bracy and Jamaal George, scoring seven second half points.

Polk kept trying to get back into the game, but the Raiders refused to wilt and converted 12-of-18 from the free throw line to keep the visitors at bay.

McEnery had an assist for the Saints (1-1) and Conti made six saves in posting the shutout. Carter scored both goals and O'Rourke made eight saves as Oviedo edged Lake Brantley, 2-1.

Oviedo quarterback Lee Sloan (No. 3, above) finished the night 14-for-30 for 143 yards, but most were for short gains as Edgewater's quick defense got its hands on numerous throws to disrupt the Lions' offense and eliminate the SAC team from the playoffs, 46-15, at Eagle Stadium Friday night.

Oviedo

 He only completed one pass for more than 20 yards and had one pass intercepted (which was returned for a touchdown).
 What the Lions wanted to do was quickly replaced by what they were forced to do as the Eagles controlled field position and the clock with a very efficient offensive attack.
 Of the six offensive touchdowns scored by Edgewater, five came on drives of 60 yards or more. The Eagles had three offensive series of 10 plays or more. In the third quarter, the Eagles ran 21 offensive plays to Oviedo's two as they turned a 14-0 halftime lead into a 27-7 advantage heading into the final stanza.
 The only points the Lions scored came on a 90-yard kickoff return by Jason Raulerson in the third quarter and a 30-yard scoring pass from Cliff McGrew to Joey Cameron in the final minute of play.
 Oviedo attempted an onside kick after Cameron's touchdown, but the kick failed to travel the necessary 10 yards by a foot.
 After forcing the Lions to punt on the opening series of the game, the Eagles constructed a 13-play, 61-yard drive capped by Mike Blackman's 2-yard touchdown drive with 2:45 remaining to take a 7-0 lead.

 Early in the second quarter, Mike Walker took a little swing pass from quarterback Derrick Schirm and turned it into a 50-yard touchdown jaunt and a 14-0 Edgewater lead.
 Blackman added a pair of touchdown runs in the second half while Walker caught another touchdown pass. Defensively, Jarek Thomas and Bobby Rauh each returned an interception for a touchdown. Thomas had to travel all of 14 yards while Rauh sprinted 95 yards for his score.
 Oviedo ends its season at 10-2. Edgewater advances to play Jacksonville-Ed White (which eliminated Winter Park Friday night) for the Region I championship next Friday and a berth in the state semifinals.

 the Knights offense up at the KSU four-yard line. After a penalty and not being able to punch the ball in the end zone, UCF settled for another 25-yard Prater field goal giving the Knights a 22-6 advantage.
 Kent State used the game's first turnover to set up its first scoring drive in the opening quarter when Schneider fumbled the snap from center. The Golden Flashes recovered the ball at the UCF 27, but could only move the ball five yards as the UCF defense held its ground, forcing a field goal. Mayle connected on a 39-yard field goal at the 9:55 mark to give Kent State a 3-0 advantage.
 The Golden Knights finally got into the scoring column at the 3:58 mark of the second quarter on a 44-yard field goal by Prater. It was the first time all season that UCF was held scoreless in the first quarter.
 Late in the second quarter, freshman linebacker Dee Williford recovered a Kent State fumble at the KSU 35-yard line to set up the Golden Knights. The fumble recovery was Williford's first of his career in his first start as a Golden Knight.
 The UCF offense took full advantage of the turnover, as the Golden Knights scored with just 27 seconds left on a two-yard touchdown pass from Schneider to Darcy Johnson to give UCF a 10-7 lead.
 The reception for Johnson was the first career catch for the freshman from Palatka.
 Schneider, who became the fourth UCF quarterback to throw for 3,000 yards in a season (3,071), finished the game hitting 23-of-43 for 269 yards with two scores and two interceptions. With his 149 yards Haynes eclipsed the century mark for the second time this season. Fryzel led the Knights in receptions and yardage with seven catches for 126 yards, his third consecutive week with over 100 yards receiving.

 The Flashes were led on the ground by Antonio King who ran for 50 yards on 20 carries. Quarterback Darryl Polk threw for 58 yards hitting 10-of-21 passes. Joshua Bostick led KSU with 28 yards on four catches.
PRATER NAMED SPECIAL TEAMS PLAYER OF THE WEEK
 Freshman placekicker Matt Prater was named Special Teams Player of the Week in the Mid-American Conference Monday as a result of his performance in UCF's 32-6 win against Kent State Saturday, when he tied a school record with four field goals in the game. Trailing 3-0 late in the first half, Prater tied the game with a 44-yard attempt and then extended UCF's lead with three second-half field goals (26, 25, 25). He went four-for-four on the day and also kicked a pair of extra points for a total of 14 points.
 Prater leads the team in scoring with 74 points. He has connected on 14 of 20 field goal attempts this year, including a 53-yarder in front of a crowd of 103,029 in his college debut at Penn State. Of his six misses, three were as a result of a block.
 He is the fourth different player from UCF to earn player of the week honors in the MAC this year. Cornerback Asante Samuel has earned the honor twice, while defensive end Elton Patterson and quarterback Ryan Schneider were each named once.
