

Jack Must Battle Other Contenders, Says Tex Rickard

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Apr. 9.—(INS)—There is no reason why Jack Dempsey can't stage a "come-back" but he must meet Jim Maloney, Jack Sharkey, Paulino or Jack Deane before he can get a crack at Gene Tunney and the heavyweight champion, Tex Rickard, New York promoter, declared here today.

Rickard arrived here unheralded for what he said would be a quiet, three-weeks' vacation, with nothing but golf, fishing and ocean bathing on his program.

"It may be that Jack will have to fight several times before he can meet Tunney again," the promoter said. "On the other hand, he might show up well enough against Maloney or Sharkey to warrant an immediate bout with the champion. However, Jack will have to fight one or more bouts with others before I will match him against Tunney."

During the next four months Rickard said he plans bouts between Sharkey, Maloney, Delaney and Paulino, the winners meeting Dempsey and the winner in turn meeting Tunney.

"I will probably arrange a fight for Tunney sometime in September," Rickard stated.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON, April 9.—Filibustering in the Senate dates back at least 70 years and probably further.

Here is a diverting account of an incident in a filibuster taken from a Washington newspaper in 1858:

"During the protracted session of the Senate of last week, Senator Clark having the floor said 'If it be the pleasure of the Senate to adjourn now it would be very agreeable to me. I have had nothing to eat since 8 o'clock, neither bread nor anything else.'

"But the Senate wouldn't adjourn and he proceeded till 8 1/2 o'clock when during an explanation by Mr. Green, having spoken more than 3 hours and a half, he snatched himself of the opportunity to indulge in that beverage which cheers but not inebriates' with accompanying muffins and sandwiches, which gave his desk the social aspect of a cosy tea-table.

"The honorable senator retained his right to the floor, with a cup of tea in one hand and a huge sandwich in the other. The scene was novel, but a 12 hours fast had created an inexorable stomach. By the call of the yeas and nays he was afforded ample time to finish his request."

THE month's prize for diplomacy seems to go to M. Paul Claudel, the new French ambassador, if the facts are as stated.

The story is that Ambassador Claudel, who did not present his credentials to President Coolidge until the unusually long period of two weeks had elapsed, was delayed by the State Department, which, having looked over the little speech which the ambassador had prepared, asked him to put something in about the French debt.

Hence the delay. The speech as finally made didn't ignore the debt.

But if anyone could have been more diplomatic than was M. Claudel when he first drafted the speech without any reference to the debt, that person has not been suggested for the month's prize.

NOTHING can save this country—or Nicaragua—from a large crop of experts on the Nicaraguan situation in the next Congress. Heretofore Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut has been the leading expert who based his knowledge on contact with Latin-American countries. Now Bingham will have plenty of rivals.

Not because senators and congressmen are visiting Nicaragua. On the contrary they are keeping away from that country as from a pest house.

But there are hordes of our national legislators who have gone down into the Caribbean. Some time ago it was reported that a congressional party of 83 had entered Haiti. Cuba, Panama, Costa Rica, Porto Rico and other little countries have all been invaded.

Mexico shared the immunity of Nicaragua from such visits. And the Mexican and Nicaraguan situations are the most important in

Ban Johnson Back In Chicago Ready To Take Up Duties

CHICAGO, Apr. 9.—(INS)—Ban Johnson, 'President-on-leave' of the American League, was back in town today following a three-months' sojourn in the south in quest of health.

"I never felt better in my life," said Johnson. "I feel completely restored to health and am ready to return to my duties for three months. I was a very sick man. I did not realize it until I started on my period of rest."

Johnson's return to the executive offices of the American League is arousing interest in baseball circles. He is relieved of his duties by club owners last January after a bitter clash with Commissioner K. M. Landis over the 'Cobb-speaker case.'

At that time Frank Navin, president of the Detroit Club, was named acting president of the League. Whether further controversy between Landis and Johnson will develop over the latter's resumption of executive duties, is problematical.

Bold Bandits Are Making Northern Coast Of Africa Unsafe For Travel

CASABLANCA, Apr. 9.—(INS) Conditions alone.

Abdelkrim may be languishing in exile in Reunion Island; the native King of the Rifian Empire may be co-operating with the Spanish and French; but all of Northern Africa is not yet safe for tourists.

The experience of the Uruguayans, Major Larre Borges and his companions, who were captured and held for ransom by hostile native tribes along the Mauretanian Coast, served to emphasize the fact that more campaigning is necessary before all of Northern Africa is pacified.

One thousand miles of Northwest African coast line, from d'Almeida to Port Etienne, is practically controlled by what are called the "Brothers of the Coast." So bold are they that occupants of the intermittent military outposts along the coast dare not venture more than 100 steps from their fortifications.

In 1918 an Italian transport ship the "Luigi" was torpedoed 125 miles south of Cape Juby. The 33 men aboard were captured by the "Brothers of the Coast," robbed and marched barefooted for 200 miles.

When it came to discussing ransoms, the "Brothers" first demanded that the World War be stopped, and in addition that they be paid five million pesetas, 600,000 Mauser rifles with 200 rounds of ammunition for each. They finally compromised on 1,000 pesetas per prisoner.

Seven pilots of the French North African airline had been captured and ransomed by the same "Brothers" before the capture of Major Larre Borges and his companions. Every French postal or passenger plane flying over the district carries a Moorish interpreter, to dicker with the hostile natives in case of a forced landing.

Aviation experts declare that these hostile tribesmen will have to be subdued before regular air service between Europe and South American can be profitable.

Judge Is Considering Chaplin Arguments

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 9.—(INS)—Superior Judge Edwin Hahn today had under advisement the arguments submitted by attorneys for Charles Chaplin and his wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, who is suing for divorce as to whether the comedian is within the jurisdiction of the California courts.

Mrs. Chaplin's attorneys contended that because they had not notice of the suit on the comedian by publication he was within the court's jurisdiction. Chaplin's counsel argued that cause an amended complaint be filed a few days ago, the suit by publication process would have to begin all over again.

FOR CONSTIPATION

Mississippi Man Says He Has Found Black-Draught So Satisfactory, He Has No Need to Change.

Wiggins, Miss.—Mr. A. I. Cone, a well known Wiggins resident, says: "I have used Theford's Black-Draught for constipation. I have never had to take a great deal of medicine, but for fully 30 years I have, by using it, known Black-Draught to be a great medicine, and when I found it so satisfactory, I haven't seen any need to change.

"When I get constipated, I feel all out of sorts and tired and sluggish and I take a few doses of Black-Draught. It regulates my bowels and I get all right. My wife takes more Black-Draught than I do. She is a great believer in it too, so we keep it in the house. It will cleanse the system and help you, if you use it as we have."

Constipation leads to a great deal of sickness among those who do not understand its dangers, and who neglect to treat it without delay.

Black-Draught, with the natural, prompt action of its purely vegetable ingredients, quickly relieves constipation and helps to drive out the poisons so as to leave the organs in a state of healthy activity.

Where Is That Safety Committee?

A busy industrial and commercial city must always be infested with numerous railroad crossings and Sanford can not expect to be any exception. Handling the freight of a distributing point, such as this, requires an enormous amount of freight-car switching and placing, on the part of the railroad. And while there may be no way to avoid the shifting of cars across some of the busy streets, everyone must admit that the condition which exists is a dangerous one.

In many instances of late, there have been trains pushed or backed across the tracks at busy crossings without a flagman first giving a clear signal to approaching automobiles. At times a switchman will run across the street with his lantern or arms extended as a warning while at other times he may merely stand on the step of a box car or engine and wave his arms. It has even been noticed that at times no signal whatever has been given to warn traffic that a train is approaching the crossing.

Undoubtedly the railroad company has issued instructions to its employees to exercise every precaution at these crossings for surely it must realize the danger of accident, but so often have the cars been switched with safety it is possible that the employees of the company fail to realize the possibility and likelihood of accident.

While it is true that the trains approach the crossings slowly every motorist, as is generally known, is not the safe and sane driver he should be. For that very reason if for no other, there should be a more careful observance of the laws regarding the protection of crossings.

If the proper warning cannot always be given by the railroad at all of the crossings within the city limits of Sanford, watchmen or the construction of such gates as are in use at important crossings in other cities should be insisted upon.

It ought not take a serious accident in the very heart of our city to bring the necessary protection to the public.

Among The First Ten

"Which are the brainiest and most successful of America's huge enterprises?" ask B. C. Forbes, prominent business commentator. Mr. Forbes, who has made a long study of business and industrial conditions of this country, answers his question with the following list of ten businesses:

General Motors, General Electric Company, J. P. Morgan & Company, U. S. Steel Corporation, Standard Oil, American Telephone and Telegraph Company, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, National City Bank, Eastman Kodak Company and Woolworth's.

To most of us the selections attract chief attention not for what they include but rather for what they omit. Obviously there is something missing. Perhaps the omission of the Ford Motor Company is the most notable thing about Mr. Forbes' list. Certainly most of us will wonder why this huge industry has been overlooked as one of the largest and most successful of American enterprises.

It is hard to understand how a business started scarcely more than two decades ago and now leading the automobile field in production and sales, could not be included in the list. We wonder how Mr. Forbes could have overlooked the Ford Motor Company as one of the brainiest of American Corporations when that concern has made its owner one of the richest men in the world and America's first billionaire. If it isn't one of the most successful, can Mr. Forbes explain why Mr. Couzens' nine hundred dollars worth of stock in 1901 sold for thirty-four million dollars in 1923.

We should not pretend to say which of the firms mentioned in the list should be left out, but we believe that the Ford Motor Company should be included. The automobile industry ranks second only to the moving picture business in the United States and when the outstanding concern in that particular field is omitted from the list of the ten brainiest and most successful enterprises, we wonder what could be the reason.

At any rate the question would make a good subject for debate—whether Ford's great and profitable business should be in the first ten, and if not, why?

THE WORLD HAS never yet come to the point where there was nothing to be done. In the most 'idle' times, when shops are closed and men are out of work, there is always much that should be done. There is a mystery:—With so much to be done, why should there be idle times? Solve this riddle and you will create a new earth.—Dearbon Independent

READ THE NEWSPAPERS PHILADELPHIA RECORD

Young men and boys have been contemplating the commission of crime are advised to read the newspapers carefully. They would learn there that a large part of those indulging in hold-ups, the theft of automobiles, etc., as a means of securing a little easy money, are caught, and the trifling fines in comparison with the penalties often involved. When the youthful criminals are mere tyros in the game and become so rattled and nervous in the perpetration of a hold-up that they begin shooting, even when no resistance is offered, murder is often added to the original offense. Then the electric chair looms as a dreadful possibility.

We fear that the excellent advice thus proffered was not read by Frank Raleigh and John Myers,

SENTIMENT VERSUS SOCIETY TALLAHASSEE NEWS

During the proceedings yesterday of the State Pardoning Board Governor Martin took occasion to state that the average person probably does not realize the tremendous responsibility the law places upon the chief executive in the matter of pardons.

No pardons can issue without the affirmative vote of the Governor. Consequently the chief executive judgment that the ends of justice be not defeated through the instrument necessarily exercise rare mentality of sentiment.

It is unfortunate that it is necessary to deprive any human being of liberty, but society has decreed for its protection and preservation that the criminal element be segregated in penal institutions.

It is the law and as chief executive Governor Martin is sworn to uphold the mandates of the people of the commonwealth.

The law, however, takes cognizance of extenuating circumstances, as well as the frailties of human nature in connection with crime committed in passion, or in the defense of life or principle. For this reason pardon boards were created for a calm dispassioned review of ascertaining whether, in their opinion—justice erred, either in passing sentence upon the innocent, or in the harshness of the sentence upon the guilty.

In speaking specifically of human life, the Governor said it was not a chattel which could be returned, and it was a serious matter for a pardoning board—through sympathy—to turn loose upon society those convicted of murder committed with premeditation and in cold blood.

Are Billions Burning? Not Gold Alone. Prohibition on the Air. Wireless Seeing, Hearing. By ARTHUR BRISBANE Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

CHINESE SPIDERS have shot Japanese soldiers. Eighty per cent of Christian missionaries have left China. All Americans are ordered to leave.

CHINESE HAVE SEIZED papers in the Russian embassy, egg-ed ca, it would seem, by representatives of foreigners, anxious to diminish Russian influence in China.

Russian newspapers talk of punishing China, but China represents another Russian problem. "The farther you go into the country, the more you smother." It is like striking into a feather bed, face down. Wisdom says: "Get out of China, and let her settle her own affairs. A few months, or years and she will call the Westerners back. She needs them, although they do charge high prices."

REPRESENTATIVES of various Christian Mission Boards in China agree that missionary work among the 400,000,000 Chinese has reached the vanishing point. The good missionaries wonder what will become of China's millions, with Christian workers driven out.

THE WORLD AT LARGE will wonder with the missionaries. What used to happen to the Chinese before the missionaries went in? Is it conceivable that they all went to hell? 400,000,000 going to hell every day would make a terrific population in "the City of Suffering." Billions of Chinese must be there now, even scores of billions, to say nothing of other heathen. It is a solemn problem, that may well worry the missionaries. It is safe, fortunately, to assume that Providence has some solution that does not involve burning so many ignorant people, forever.

BANKERS IN convention at Washington say our national prosperity is due to the gold standard. Bankers well know, however, that the standard of intelligence is more important than the gold standard. Give all the gold in the world to fools of idlers and they would not keep it. Prosperity is due to ambition, work and intelligence. Other things are comparatively unimportant.

BANKERS "DEPLORE the institution buying mania." Which is wise if such buying be unground, extravagant in cost or beyond the buyers' means. But bankers should remember that it is the moving, revolving, working dollar that makes prosperity, not the dollar asleep in the bank.

AND THE PEOPLE take life more seriously, as well as more eagerly when they enjoy the results of their work now instead of waiting until they are too old for enjoyment. If a man wants a house, or anything else, reasonable and desirable, he ought to get it now, and enjoy it, as he earns it. That is the American plan.

YOU COULD HEAR through the air last night Senator Borah and Dr. Butler of Columbia university debating the question, "Should prohibition be taken out of the constitution?" The rush for seats to hear the debaters reminded Boston of a Harvard-Yale football game.

The question about taking prohibition out of the constitution is meaningless, for prohibition will stay in the constitution long after those that now discuss it are dead. The thing to discuss is the Volstead act, whether light wine and beer, made legal, would be better than unlimited bootleg whiskey.

SOME HOPE that prohibition will be kept out of the 1928 campaign. They might as well hope to keep the Presidency out of the campaign. But the two important platforms will ignore prohibition, or skate around it very cautiously in 1928, will see us going along, about as usual.

WHAT MEN can imagine, they can do. They travel under water, fly above the earth, send messages around the world, by wire, and without. And now in a private exhibition, Mr. Gifford, head of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company shows a mechanism that makes it possible to see a man talking hundreds of miles away, and to hear his voice.

But other things, more important, men can imagine and will do. They will, in time, abolish poverty, worry, disease and ignorance. The achievement may be far off. But it will come, as generous emulation takes the place of selfish competition.

RAMSAY MACDONALD sails for this country today, bringing his oldest daughter, Miss Isabel Macdonald. They will be welcomed by Miss Macdonald, old-fashioned, "unbobbed" girl of 24 wants to study our child welfare methods and city planning. She will stay with Miss Lillian Wald at New York City.

MR. MACDONALD, Britain's only labor premier, will interest the intelligent in our capitalist class. Many of them do not yet understand how the British Empire could survive a labor government.

Can you imagine the agony and wild alarm if there were serious talk of a labor government here?

Oh, Yes, He's Willing All Right, But—

SANFORD FORUM

THE FISH BILL April 9, 1927 Editor The Sanford Herald Dear Sir:—

If you will kindly permit me, I will make a few suggestions to the case now under consideration. Let me say that I am not a fisherman, but have been a citizen of Seminole County for most fifty years. I note in your editorial of the seventh instant you seem to think that a majority of the citizens favor the bill now advocated by the Walton League. I think this is an error. In the last few days I have seen a petition signed by about a thousand citizens for a law of a different nature.

As to the league bill, I think it quite defective and would largely defeat the object for which it is drawn. It permits the taking of fish from the waters only by hook and line. How about shad and mullet, they never bite a hook, and still the St. Johns river is the breeding grounds for shad for the eastern part of the United States. The Forrest Lake Hotel is in the midst of these grounds, still we are informed that during the two seasons it has not served a shad caught in Seminole County; yet we all know that the shad is a most excellent fish. Don't you suppose many guests have already been disappointed in this?

In the past we are told that the shad fishing brought from twenty-five to forty thousand dollars per year to Sanford, and that the whole industry has amounted to about one hundred thousand dollars per annum. Does Seminole County need any of this just now?

If the league bill passes we could never have another shad. The shad is a tourist fish, it comes in December and January and leaves in May and June. He is taken in all rivers north of us up to Connecticut. This bill would prevent catching him where he spends most of his time. Wouldn't it be great to live in a county where for forty years they have annually sold around a hundred thousand dollars worth of fish and not be able to have or sell one. How many of our eighteen thousand people go fishing? The most liberal estimate that I have heard, puts it about three hundred. If the others could not go, then they could not eat fish.

The other or citizens bill asks for an open and closed season under State inspection with a four inch mesh. Providing positively for the season to be closed during a six months breeding season. This naturally would automatically sort the fish, leaving the undersize and taking the large ones. You would not need your pocket rule, to tell when you were a criminal, also those liberated would not die for being hooked. Then too the natural enemies of the good fish are taken in large quantities, the cat, gar, stink shad and sucker, all who prey upon the spawn of the edible fish and in turn are not disturbed by them. Thus the fisherman by removing the enemies of the fish, protect their business. I am reliably informed that one large catfish will destroy more fish in a night than a fisherman with a hook and line could catch in a week. They eat spawn like a hog eats corn. The fisherman with nets catch more cat than all other fish, save probably the stink shad, and he also is a destroyer of other fish.

The league bill further prohibits the only method of taking the catfish outside of the seine and net—the trot line and set hook. Now as to bass, all fishermen know that comparatively few are taken with a net, they jump over. It strikes me that one of the greatest evidences that the open closed season is best for all, is that ninety five per cent of the citizens that have lived in the county for from ten to thirty years are in favor of it, and if there is anyone who doubts this let them make a canvass of the people in this question.

After it all, it seems to me that it would be best and a most proper thing to do for sportsmen, fishermen and citizens to get together, prepare a proper bill that would represent, protect and conserve the best interests of all, without injuring anyone element, and could be supported by all; and submit same to our representatives to be passed. Surely there is an adjustment that can be reached harmoniously by all interested.

Yours for unity, M. M. Lord.

GUNMEN FLORIDA BOUND? TAMPA TRIBUNE

Mayor-elect Thompson of Chicago claims: "I am going to drive all the gangsters and crooks out of the city—to New York, to Cleveland, to St. Louis, and elsewhere."

Interesting if true. He may have the good intention, and he may even have the power to drive out most of them. But he made a slight mistake in mentioning New York as their destination. Our understanding of New York's criminal laws is that the state is far from being a mecca for crooks nowadays. Chicago's departing gangsters will go anywhere but to New York. Reliable news from the metropolis is that since the Baumes Law was adopted last year, there has been a great exodus of professional criminals from Manhattan, and records prove a notable decrease in crimes there. Many handits moved into New Jersey, so that state in self-defense has to adopt more drastic crime laws.

We are not sure whether they will go to Cleveland and St. Louis. Business no longer detaining them in Chicago, a number will naturally migrate to Florida, bringing along their machine guns. That is, they will come here if they think the law and the enforcement of laws are safe for gunmen or any other crooks. Our present laws have not been any too effective. Several legal changes are before the Legislature now, for the purpose of extending justice to the public as well as to the criminals.

Possibly when the Legislature gets through, the Chicago emigrants will decide against coming to Florida.

"I Am Dead And Intend To Stay Dead," Asserts Denver Man In Refusing Wealth

DENVER, April 11—(INS)—"Tell them that I'm dead—and that I'm going to stay dead, and buried."

That is the message John J. Shackelford sent his kin in Hardin, Mo., when he was notified of his inheritance of $2,500 and a share in the family homestead, left him by his mother.

Twelve years ago, Shackelford's father died. When his estate was settled, John was left without a cent. The years of toil he had sacrificed on the 40-acre farm had been ignored by his father.

Angry and bitter, John departed from the parental roof, telling his grief-stricken mother and sister that he was going away "to die."

Years Of Search

Years of search by private detectives revealed no clue to the living dead man's whereabouts. The death came frequently to the waiting reports of John Shackelford's mother and sister. In San Francisco, a man had died—he was thought to have been John J. Shackelford. The bullet-burn bodies of unknown Americans doughboys were identified as Shackelford. A wreck victim in Pittsburgh was thought to be the missing man.

But the living Shackelford was in Denver, earning a meagre pittance, staying at a little hotel where derelicts of industry spend their winter grubstakes in near penury and envy the luck of Rockefeller and Henry Ford.

Last year, the aged mother died. Half the estate now increased in value, was bequeathed to the faithful sister, half went to the man who never was believed dead by his mother.

Again the search for Shackelford was renewed. The Rev. H. E. Corbin, pastor of the Hardin Methodist Church sent to Denver in quest of the strayed member of his flock.

Intends To Stay Dead

Shackelford was located in the mean little hotel where he was confronted with the news of his inheritance.

Anger blazed in the little man's eyes as he recalled his elavetaking.

"I've been dead for twelve years," he said. "And I intend to stay dead."

The information that his inheritance would, if unclaimed, go to the county school, fund did not shake his determination to spurn the request. His cronies at the hotel, to whom the news spread like wildfire, gaped open-mouthed at the man who would reject an opportunity to live a life of ease.

And so John J. Shackelford lives on—a dead man by choice. But his former friends in the little Missouri town are trying to bring him back from his self-imposed demise.

WOMAN OFFERS NEW REPORT ON "MYSTERY" STAR

Miss Dorothy Applegate Of University Of California Has Made Extensive Study Of Planet, Beta Doradus

BERKELEY, Cal., April 11—(INS)—A "mystery" star 2,940,000,000,000 miles, or 500 light years, from the earth, has been studied and additional data concerning it obtained by Miss Dorothy Applegate graduate student at the University of California, it has been announced.

The star, Beta Doradus, is classified as one of the unsolved mysteries with which astronomy has to deal.

Miss Applegate, from studies at Lick Observatory, was able to furnish accurate data concerning the star's movements and suggested that it may vary in brightness.

Previous to her discoveries, no evidence of light variation had been noted.

"A considerable number of stars observed under the spectroscope," said Miss Applegate, "are found to have velocities toward or away from the earth which varies with the time of observation.

"In most cases this variation is sporadic and usually is explainable by the hypothesis that they are double stars, revolving about each other, and at such a great distance from the earth that they appear to motion is such that it cannot be a single body.

"In some cases, however, the explained as purely orbital. This is true of the class of stars known as Cepheid variables.

"Stars exhibiting variable velocities of this kind usually vary in brightness also. But a few possessing these peculiarities in motion have no discoverable light variation. Beta Doradus falls under this general class."

If further observations support Miss Applegate's finding, the mystery of the star may be somewhat cleared up, it was said at the university.

"Paradise Without Forbidden Fruit" German Envoy's Impression Of State

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11—(INS)—"Paradise without the forbidden fruit" is the impression of Florida and the south that Baron Ago Maltzan, German ambassador to the United States, brought back to Washington from his first visit to the south, he told International News Service today.

The Ambassador, who has just returned from a swing through the south and southwest plans to set out again just after Easter for another tour that will take him to the Pacific coast. He and the Baroness Maltzan are taking advantage of this, their first opportunity since coming here two years ago to see America.

The touring will be for business as well as pleasure. The Baron told International News Service he wished to become as well acquainted with the commercial and industrial life of America as possible and he will devote much of his time to establishing commercial contacts. Every city where there is a German consulate will be visited.

The southern tour just completed took the Ambassador first to Florida with visits to Miami and Tampa, then by steamer across the Gulf of Mexico to New Orleans, across Texas as far as San Antonio with a stop at Houston; up through Texas and Oklahoma to Kansas City; thence to St. Louis and back to Washington.

The proverbial southern hospitality impressed both the Baron and the Baroness. The Baroness was enthusiastic in voicing her appreciation of the hospitality she encountered; the beauty and culture of the southern women and particularly how impressed she was with their charm of manner and their taste in dress.

Baron Maltzan said that no where on his trip did he encounter any suggestion of a survival of the war time animosities against the German people. He said that everywhere he found business men eager to resume and extend the old commercial relations with Germany that prevailed before the war.

In Florida the Baron was impressed with the quick recovery made in Miami and vicinity from the hurricane damage of last September.

GERMANY OPENS FIGHT ON FILMS COMING FROM U. S.

War To Bitter End Decried By U. F. A. On Hollywood Control Of Films; Europe Menaced By U. S. Methods

PARIS, Apr. 11—(INS)—War on American films to the bitter end is declared by Fritz Lang, one of Germany's foremost producers. He is said to be the instigator of the great U. F. A. directors. His latest picture, "Metropolis," is now being presented and enthusiastically acclaimed in London. Returning to Berlin from the picture's English premiere, he lingered in Paris several days to confer with leaders of French film production.

In Lang's present frame of mind he is intensely in favor of combating to the limit the Hollywood output insofar as European distribution and exhibiting are concerned.

His opinions of American films were unsparingly critical. Herr Lang's chief fear was that his indictment of American films would not be sufficiently complete. He described the motion picture industry in the United States as a "dreadful octopus" fabulously capitalized and controlling all exhibiting of its pictures through chain ownership of theaters. "It menaces, and seeks to destroy European competition," he said.

Turn In Road

"But they have come to the turn of the road in Hollywood, they still have their dollars, but they have exhausted their artistic resources. With America's new culture and civilization, they cannot develop further their inadequate artistic background. They cannot create anything new that is satisfactory so they must fall back on Europe."

"My motto is Europe for the we have here in the old world for we have here in the old world for ourselves."

Mass production and standardization were other faults in American films indicated by Lang. "They make pictures like they make cigarettes and automobiles," he said.

"The sudden death of an American film star, with only a few exceptions, would make no difference. He or she could be replaced as easily as an automobile part is replaced. American films have not developed any great artists as has the stage. They have all standardized, pretty faces with no character."

CANADIAN LINE NO LONGER BAR TO U. S. INDIANS

Hundred Thousand Members Of Six Nations Affected By New Ruling In Effect

MALONE, N. Y., Apr. 11—(INS)—The Canadian boundary does not exist for the American Indians, who may go to and from Canada as often and as freely as they did when the Six Nations were a power on the North American continent.

This was the ruling of a decision announced in Philadelphia by Judge Oliver B. Dickinson of the United States District Court. While effecting more than 100,000 members of the Six Nations, it will have a direct bearing on the 1,500 members of the St. Regis reservation at Hogansburg, half of which is in the United States and half in the Dominion of Canada.

Several Cases Pending

At present several cases are pending in courts growing out of the situation which the Federal Court ruling seeks to clarify. The decision means that the Canadian and American Indians are immune to the quota laws and immigration restrictions, and this is expected to create a still further tangle in the litigation affecting the Indians in the border reservation. The work of the immigration, customs and Federal prohibition enforcement bureaus will be hampered to a considerable extent.

The ruling made in a test suit instituted by Paul Diabo, an Iroquois Indian deported to his reservation in Canada effects the entire population of the Six Nations. The entire confederation supported Diabo in the legal battle with the government over the efforts of the immigration authorities to class them as aliens. Diabo was deported on the grounds that he was an alien, and had come into this country to follow his trade of structural iron worker without visa of entry.

The Jay Treaty

Immigration authorities contend that the Jay Treaty between the United States and Great Britain in 1794, recognizing the right of American Indians to unrestricted travel across the Canadian border was abrogated by the war of 1812. Judge Dickinson held that the Jay treaty did not affect the Indian status because "it made no division of their country."

ONTARIO RUSHES LIQUOR SURPLUS TO THE BORDER

Brewers And Distillers Are Working Overtime To Be Ready For Big Spree When Americans Arrive May 15

WATERSTOWN, N. Y., Apr. 11 (INS)—With the grand opening less than a month away, brewers and distillers in Ontario are already hard at work striving to get up a surplus stock that will take care of the expected rush of thirsty Americans across the line this summer.

A present the famous old Winc Distillery and the McCarthy Brewery are already piling up kegs after kegs of liquid guaranteed to refresh the thirsty "aliens" from this side of the line.

"Ferguson's Foam," the loudly touted 4.1 beer provided by the Premier's bill two years ago, proved such a flat failure in Ontario that the "real stuff" legal after May 15 according to new legislation at Toronto, is expected to go like wildfire, for a short time at least.

To cope with the "home consumption" every little hamlet will have its government store, while the larger communities will be well supplied with stores.

Boom Is Coming

"But it isn't the home boys who will fill our strong boxes," a prominent Canadian distiller said.

His idea of the coming "boom" was obtained as he showed an interested reporter about his big establishment.

"Figures compiled by the province of Quebec vouch for the fact that Americans buy a good share of all liquors produced in that province," the distiller declared.

"We therefore take it for granted and the first two months' business will doubtless bear me out that American dollars will pour into our tills, just as they have in the Quebec dealers."

"Were you anywhere near the Canadian border when 'Ferguson's Foam' became legal two years ago," the distiller asked the reporter.

When the newspaper man replied he was the distiller offered him a sample of the product he will soon put on the market.

Government Officials Put Under Extra Guard

WASHINGTON, April 11. (INS)—Extraordinary precautions have been taken to guard high government officials because of the death sentence in the Sacco-Vanzetti case in Massachusetts.

Whether actual threats have been made against their lives was not divulged, but an armed guard was assigned to protect the house of Secretary Kellogg, and other precautions have been taken.

The government has had nothing to do with the Sacco-Vanzetti case, at a world-wide sympathy has been stirred up in their behalf. This has resulted in a number of demonstrations at American embassies and legations abroad.

Traces Of Ancient Man Found In Ruins Of Old City Of Corinth

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Apr. 11—(INS)—Traces of the well-known middle-man have been found in ruins of ancient Corinth, according to Prof. T. Leslie Shear of Princeton University, who has directed the underground exploration for several years. The wealth and luxury that was an outstanding feature of the legendary city gleaned by the inhabitants from handling goods that entered Corinth and passed on to other cities of Greece, he said.

Professor Shear was a speaker before the Syracuse Chapter of the Archaeological Institute of America on "The New Excavations of Corinth" at the University Club.

His talk was illustrated with slides of the work being conducted in the Grecian city.

Among the pictures were views of fine bowls of statuettes that adorned the great Corinth Theater, which he exhumed from 40 feet of accumulated debris. Strangely enough, most of the heads showed that their subjects had worn red hair, so it probably was believed in the eleventh century before the Christian era that "gentlemen prefer blondes."

By using colored slides Professor Shear portrayed clearly the fresco painting around the wall which bounded the arena and stage of the theatre. The theatre was often the scene of wild and exultant gladiatorial feasts, he explained.

Bombardment Of Blazing Oil Begins In Illinois Against The Corn Borer

By International News Service KANAKEE, Ill., Apr. 11—(INS)—A bombardment of blazing oil has been launched in this country, the only locality in the state of Illinois where a specimen of the European Corn Borer costly crop pest, has been found. The attack is expected to wipe out completely all threats of the borer to cause trouble in this section of the state.

The Frank Love farm near here, is the scene of the battle.

Oil tanks, with air compressors mounted near the driver's seat force the oil at a pressure of about 350 pounds per square inch through long lines of rubber hose to the burners. The burners are light carriers, made of gas pipe, through which the oil coming through the hose is forced. The rear end of the burner frame, about 20 feet across, is studded with jets like burners on a gas stove. From these jets, seething flames shoot downward, applying an intense heat to the corn stubble or whatever vegetation exists.

No living organism can withstand the flame, it is claimed.

Carroll Pays Visit To Grave Of Mother

PITTSBURGH, Apr. 11.-(INS) -Friends of Earl Carroll, New York theatrical producer, today learned why he asked the courts for a 10-day extension of the date on which he was to begin his year-and-a-day sentence in Atlanta penitentiary for perjury.

Carroll, unheralded and unknown to his friends, paid his annual pilgrimage to the grave of his mother here as he has done since she died, April 10, 1921.

Carroll laid a floral offering on the grave, and hurried back to New York, where he is on journey to Atlanta.

Many Millionaire Incomes Forecast For Present Year

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.-(INS) -A bumper crop of millionaire incomes is being grown this year in the fertile soil of national prosperity, according to all advance indications marked down by the United States Treasury.

Unless the dollar needs of the treasury are for off in their predictions, the number of persons who have just paid taxes on incomes of more than a million dollars during 1926 will reach the astounding total of 250. The number of people paying taxes on incomes ranging downward from quarter of a million is expected to one million dollars a year to a correspondingly increase.

The treasury does not know, and has no means of knowing, just how many millionaires and multi-millionaires there are in the country. It does know, however, that 207 persons "confessed" to incomes of more than $1,000,000 in 1925, the last year for which complete figures are available; that 138 persons admitted and paid on incomes between $500,000 and $750,000, and that the astonishing number of 8,873 paid on incomes between $100,000 and $500,000 annually.

The treasury prediction of an even greater crop of millionaire incomes for the year 1926 is based upon the proven fact that '26 was a better all around business year than '25. The advance indications for 1927 are that it will exceed 1926 in prosperity.
