BALDWIN QUIT CABINET AFTER BALLOT DEFEAT

King Accepts Resignation And Will Probably Summon Ramsay MacDonald For Duty

WINDSOR, Eng., June 4—(INS)—Premier Stanley Baldwin today tendered the resignation of his conservative cabinet to King George, and the King accepted it.

The conservative party had been in power for slightly more than four and one half years. The labor party will now come into control by virtue of the big gain in parliamentary power made by that party in Thursday's general election. While the laborites will not have a clear cut majority in the new House of Commons, they will have more seats than any other party.

It was expected the King would immediately summon Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the labor party, and commission him to form a new government, with himself as premier.

Mr. MacDonald was premier of the labor government that was ousted from power by the conservatives in 1924 when Stanley Baldwin was appointed prime minister.

It is confidently believed that there will be a woman minister in the new government, thus setting a precedent in British politics. Reports were current during the political campaign that if the laborites came into power, Miss Susan Lawrence might become England's first woman cabinet minister. She is stated, it was said, for the post of minister of health. However, another woman was mentioned with equal prominence. She is Miss Margaret Bonfield, long a prominent figure in labor circles and a member of the last House of Commons. She was re-elected in the recent general election.

There is much speculation as to the make-up of the new government. It is believed in some quarters that the post of foreign secretary will be offered to Arthur Henderson and the Philip Snowden will return to the post held in the previous labor government—the chancellorship of the exchequer.

The chief policies of the labor government are expected to follow more closely the principles laid down by Mr. MacDonald on election day to International News Service. They include:

Furtherance of world disarmament; Britain to sell, by the war debt agreement with the United States; speedy withdrawal of the British occupational troops from German soil and a general policy of world peace.

Veterans Of Civil War To Formally Open Their Reunion

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 4—(INS)—Legions of Gray, most of them here yesterday for the celebration of Jefferson Davis' birth, will formally launch their reunion at 8 o'clock tonight with a joint assembly of the United Confederate Veterans, the Confederate Southern Memorial Association, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Sons of the Confederate Veterans and all the sponsoring staffs.

There will be no first lady at the reunion this year, due to the diplomacy of General Harry Lee, chief of staff, who so astutely settled a question that threatened to start a genuine disturbance. There were five leading candidates for the honor, so General Lee chose all of them to be first ladies.

As a result the grand march of the reunion will be in columns of four. Miss Robine Webb, of Colorado Springs, Colo., normally the "first lady," will share honors with Mrs. A. T. Goodwyn, Mrs. Bob Graves, wife of the Alabama Governor, Mrs. O. Max Gardner, wife of the North Carolina governor and Mrs. W. C. N. Merchant, Chatham, Va., president-general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

NEW YORK, June 4—(INS)—Clearing house statement. Exchange, $1,475,000,000; balances, $173,000,000; federal reserve bank's credit balance $146,000,000.

Lindberghs Have Passed Their Honeymoon In Very Heart Of New York City

CLEARING HOUSE IDEA FOR CELERY IS BEING PUSHED

Preliminary Steps Are Taken In Organizing Co-operative Group

As a part of the program to stabilize the market for Florida celery next season in conjunction with the advertising campaign preliminary steps have been taken toward the formation of a clearing house. It was learned today.

Members of the executive committee in charge of the advertising campaign said that as a result of conferences between shippers and growers during the past few days a tentative plan for a clearing house has been drafted and is now under consideration by the various marketing organizations.

This plan, it was said, has for its object the regulating of the output of celery in the principal demand markets, the establishment of standard grades and the discouragement of shipment of practices which tend to retard the free flow of celery from the producer to the consumer.

Under the proposed plan, all growers, shippers and handlers would be eligible for membership in the clearing house. Working together they would endeavor to prevent the glutting of markets by the improper shipment of celery, secure a more stabilized return to the grower.

In many of the principal markets the practice of speculative buying has developed during recent years, which has worked to the disadvantage of both growers and shippers. A clearing house, it was stated, would enable the celery producers to overcome this objectionable marketing feature by having the supply regulated into the leading markets, greater results would be secured from the advertising campaign.

Largest Flag Will Be Used In Parade

WASHINGTON, June 4—(INS)—The largest flag in the world will be carried down Pennsylvania Avenue from Lafayette Square to the Capitol, next Saturday afternoon. Two hundred yards, a hundred on each side, will carry the huge emblem, while the United States Navy band will precede it. The parade will be a tribute to the vapor flag services of the United States Flag Division of the Capital, yesterday afternoon.

The boat, which is being sent from Detroit especially for the service, is 30 feet long and 165 feet high. It weighs 6,400 pounds. Barring the services, it will hang across the front of the Capitol.

Senators and Representatives in Congress from Michigan will ride in automobiles behind the flag.

Break In River Levee Is Reported Repaired

GREENVILLE, Miss., June 4—(INS)—The break in the Mississippi River levee at Land Park, two miles south of town, was reported under control by engineers today.

Two thousand men labored to check the breach which opened a wide area of land, including the river bed, yesterday. Those who witnessed the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Case, Jack Whiting and Mr. and Mrs. Weimer Wade, all friends of the bride and bridegroom, and Beth Sully, young Douglas' mother, the first wife of Douglas Fairbanks, Senior.

Fairbanks said he had told his father of his intentions before he left Hollywood, and that the latter had given his blessing. He proudly displayed a telegram of congratulations from the elder Doug."

The newlyweds plan to leave for Hollywood next week to film their picture work. Miss Crawford was emphatic in stating that she would retain her screen name in spite of her acquisition of one of the most popular novelties in filmdom.

FEMININE VOTE SEEN POTENT IN FEW YEARS

Ruth McCormick Predicts House Control By Women Members In Quarter Century

(Copyright 1929, International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 4—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, America's elusive bridal couple, took the advice of the late Dr. Henry, and lost themselves in a crowd. While the curious eyes of the world have been scanning sea and horizon for the missing honeymooners, they have spent considerable time in New York City.

In fact they have made their headquarters here in the town house of Ambassador Dwight Morrow in exclusive East Sixty-Sixth Street, International News Service was informed today.

Numerous reports that Lindbergh and his bride, the former Anne Spencer Morrow, daughter of the ambassador, had been glimpsed in the vicinity of upper Fifth Avenue had been received, but immediately as all the world is imaginative as it comes to women and Lindbergh, the reports were discounted.

However, the lad who drove Ambassador Morrow in a taxicab from Englewood to the Morrow town house off Fifth Avenue, today confirmed the story.

"I seen him—I seen him," he said with eyes as large as a herring's. "I drove Mister Morrow. They don't always call him Ambassador in his home town to Sixty-Sixth Street near Fifth Avenue and I seen Lindbergh. He was Lindbergh. I know him, but I don't tell nobody."

The "town house" of Ambassador Morrow is no listed in the directory. However, friends admitted the Ambassador frequently stayed at a house off Fifth Avenue where he was listed.

From another source, it was learned that Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh dined in New York City last Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Bolch of Englewood, N. J.

If the captain and the crew of the motor cabin cruiser "Mouette" consist of the Colonel and his bride, as reported from various points along Long Island Sound, it means apparently that sort of a sleep made from the Lindbergh town house in the newly acquired vessel.

The motor boat was bought by Colonel Lindbergh a week before his marriage, according to Fred Chase, general manager of a shipyard at Bayonne, N. J., who revealed how the aviator and his bride escaped on their honeymoon.

On the afternoon of the wedding to the "lonely spot" on the Long Island shore. After the marriage the bridal couple motored from Englewood to the "lonely spot" and boarded the boat.

Officer, Seamen Upon Vessel Are Released

(Copyright 1929, International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 4—(INS)—Because it was the duty of the Board of Officers and Directors to know that the 30 officers on the President Harrison, the American Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Red Cross were released from the service, the Board of Officers and Directors of the American Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Red Cross were released from the service.

The air compartments of the big boats were weighted with 722 bottles of liquor, it was found on Saturday and this, according to officials, might have endangered safety in the event of an emergency.

Captain William Blod, master of the vessel, was absolved from responsibility in the matter.

Young Fairbanks and Miss Crawford survived every one by one to the church a short while after they had obtained a marriage license here yesterday. Those who witnessed the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Case, Jack Whiting and Mr. and Mrs. Weimer Wade, all friends of the bride and bridegroom, and Beth Sully, young Douglas' mother, the first wife of Douglas Fairbanks, Senior.

Radio Dealers Gather In Windy City For Their Fifth Annual Convention

CHICAGO, June 4—(INS)—Chicago today is the center of the radio world, all radio dealers, distributors, manufacturers and announcers gathered in the Stevens Hotel for the fifth annual convention of the radio manufacturers' association.

More than $1,000,000 in equipment was rushed from one railroad station to another during the day welcoming the incoming delegates. Special trains brought visitors from Los Angeles, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Buffalo, New York and the New England states. The Texas delegation, one of the largest, arrived in a special train yesterday.

Although the show is for the radio world alone, admission is being by card only, the public will "sit in" Wednesday evening when $10,000 worth of talent is broadcast during the annual convention banquet.

This action opens the way for the signing of a general armistice, and confirming the decisions reached in the reparations conference, Belgium's acceptance was not absolute. TREASURY STATISTICS OF U.S. GOVERNMENT ARE ISSUED TODAY GIVING PROBABLE SURPLUSES

WASHINGTON, June 4—(INS)

Indications of a surplus of over $100,000,000 were seen at the Treasury today with the publication of statistics for income and expenditures for the first 11 months of the year.

The treasury may be called upon to make a payment of $15,000,000 following the decision of the Supreme Court to increase maximum compensation for carrying on trials. In this case the surplus probably would run much over $100,000,000. Otherwise officials estimated the excess of receipts over expenditures for the first 11 months would be $100,000,000.

Preparations were made for collection of the June installment of income and corporation taxes. The sentencing of a number of persons who had pled guilty to charges in their arrangement of the British elections in which women candidates for Parliament scored tremendous gains, and the commencement of a fight in Pennsylvania to elect Mrs. John Lewis Singleton, colored youth who had plead guilty to forged checks on his father's account over a five year term at the suggestion of his employer, the Bank of Radford, and his wife, Anna McCormick, who is the only member of the House "feminine bloc" to represent an entire constituency.

MASON DAY TO BE JAIL COMPANION OF OIL MAGNATE

His Visit Will Be For Four Months For His Part In Jury Fixing

By George E. Durso
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The "oil block barge" is going to toll up to the district jailhouse about a month from today and unload some company for Harry E. Sinclair, pharmacist-extraordinary to the institution. The visit is to be a four-month affair.

For that, "Mason Day," fortune, Henry Mason Day, is going to join his barge. It will take 25 days, not counting Sundays, for the Supreme Court mandate to reach the court that originally sentenced him.

Day will have company as far as the marshal's office in the person of W. Sherman Burns, who is to be relieved of $1,000 under the same mandate, but he will have to get along without the presence of William J. Burns. The Supreme Court ruled the 15-day sentence on the elder detective out on the ground no evidence had been adduced he actually participated in the jury-shading episode that resulted in the downfall of Day and Young Burns.

And by taken of the privilege of his lieutenant's company, Sinclair's own stay in the jail is going to be increased by a matter of from four to six months, depending upon the court's interpretation of the verdict. He was to have gotten out on July 29, but Thanksgiving turkeys will be on sale before he sees the unblanched light of day again.

It all grew out of Sinclair's over-anxiety when he and former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall were standing trial for criminal conspiracy in connection with the leasing of the naval oil reserves. The oil baron called in Day and instructed him to have the jury shade off Day put the William J. Burns Detective Agency on the job.

Messrs. Roberts and Palmer, the federal prosecutors, found it out, and almost simultaneously a newspaper reporter came forward and told of a conversation he had had with one of the jurors in a local courtroom in which the baron inculcated the possibility of getting an auto block barge out of the case.

Justice F. J. Siddons, immediately declared a mistrial and U. S. attorney for Roger Clegg fully prosecuted them for criminal contempt of court. Sinclair drawing six months, Day four months, W. J. Burns, 16 days, and Sherman Burns a fine of $1,000. Yesterday, the Supreme Court upheld all except the sentence imposed on the elder Burns.

It may be that his new vigilance already has kept in jail-month for contempt of the court, and because it will be another month before the new judgment comes down, this could

"rap" actually will be a 12½ less than four months. Justice Siddons' sentence read that his term was to begin "the day he enters jail," and that was the 6th of last May. However, one sentence was for contempt of court, and legal opinion differed here today as to whether the sentences would run concurrently or consecutively.

Whether Sinclair will greet Day with open arms is a matter of conjecture. Durso rummaged that the two came to a parting of the ways shortly before Sinclair went to jail.

When Major William L. Peak, warden of the jail, will do with Day is a problem. Up to recent days, Day has been vice president of the Sinclair Exploration Company, that subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company, which has its principal office in the oil field. Day is a soldier of fortune fashion, delved into the mysteries of the desert, the Orient, and other far-off parts of the world, and usually comes back with oil specimens. Major Peak is wondering what will be his at the end of his trip.

Decidedly defeated in the Senate, last week, and beaten in the House in the last Congress, he arrayed against reappointment the argument shown in the 1920 census raised a cry that the Fair bill will transfer ownership of the West and South to the cities.

"I do not believe in considering sex differences in politics," Washington, June 4—(INS)—The eight of 6,000,000 aliens to representation in the American Congress yesterday became the first voter of the tenth in the house over the Fair bill providing for a reapportionment of membership of that body to meet the varying shift in population in foreign countries.

The first case on the criminal docket to be tried was that of Allan Blackshear, arrested with Willie Young for "hooligan" and entering the state of C. A. Anderson, who plead not guilty. The case was argued before the Judge throughout the morning, and adjourned upon the admission as evidence of a signed confession by the Negro. Judge Wright allowed it to be used by the State, following which H. S. White, defense counsel, requested the court that the plea not guilty be changed to guilty.

"I do not believe in considering sex differences in politics," Washington, June 4—(INS)—The eight of 6,000,000 aliens to representation in the American Congress yesterday became the first voter of the tenth in the house over the Fair bill providing for a reapportionment of membership of that body to meet the varying shift in population in foreign countries.

A final vote is set for tomorrow.

Under the bill, the House membership would be retained at 435, but it would be reapportioned among the states on the 1920 census, and the state would then divide the congressional districts according to population.

The inevitable result, it is decided, is to greatly increase the representation of the cities in congress, which has been decided despite the constitutional mandate for reapportionment every 10 years.

"There are about 6,000,000 aliens in the United States, who have never become American citizens, so far as the record shows," said Rep. Rankin (D) of Mississippi, leader of the opposition. "Yet the advocates of the Fair bill propose to give them representation in Congress and take away from the agricultural states such as Kentucky, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Mississippi."

It is estimated that there are possibly 6,000,000 of these aliens who are here unlawfully. They have only violated our immigration law to get here, but from them we recruited the gunmen and gangsters constituting the worst element of criminals in the United States.

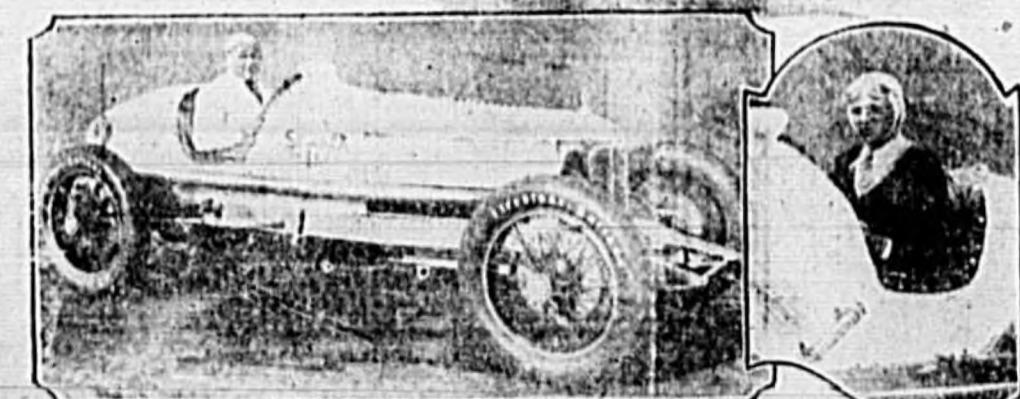

The criminal aliens, it is decided, would be entitled to 10 additional members in the American Congress and would be represented by the same number of states in the electoral college.

The states of California, Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio and Texas are the most members of the states under representation were Missouri, Mississippi, Iowa and Tennessee would be among the first to be affected.
